

_____

Class No.....

[illegible]

SELECTIONS

FROM THE

LETTERS, DESPATCHES, AND OTHER STATE PAPERS

PRESERVED IN THE

BOMBAY SECRETARIAT.

---

HOME SERIES,

VOL. I.

---

EDITED BY

GEORGE W. FORREST, B.A.,

ELPHINSTONE COLLEGE,

FELLOW OF THE BOMBAY UNIVERSITY.

Bombay:

PRINTED AT THE GOVERNMENT CENTRAL PRESS.

1887.

PREFACE.

---

THE last volume of the Selections from the State Papers preserved in the Bombay Secretariat comprised all the documents regarding the history of the Maráthas from their founder Shiváji to their defeat at Assaye. The present volumes comprise all the important documents regarding the internal administration of the Bombay Presidency from the foundation of the Factory at Surat to Wellington's great victory which made the English masters of India. In the letters and narratives of the chief actors we have here related the earliest domestic history of our Indian Empire. In these volumes we can trace the gradual change in the servants of the Company from factors to soldiers and rulers of men. The papers have been printed, letter for letter, exactly as they are in the original manuscript; and each proof has been carefully collated with the original to see that no change has been made. Occasionally words have occurred not easily to be accounted for, and hence it is also likely to occur that, when a reader thinks he has alighted on a blunder, he has on a word that has been transferred from the manuscript with unusual care. In a country like India, where manuscript records are liable to so many perils, something approaching to facsimile was thought desirable. Owing to the decayed state of the paper and to the ink having spread, considerable difficulty has been experienced in deciphering the early documents. Some leaves unfortunately crumbled to pieces the moment they were touched. Considering that these documents have lain neglected for a century in a small damp room, it is a matter of congratulation that so many have escaped destruction. Even where the dangers just adverted to have been escaped, the difficulties presented to a modern reader by manuscripts no doubt perfectly intelligible to those for whose perusal they were intended, are by no means inconsiderable. An average specimen of the early correspondence is given in facsimile at the beginning of the Surat Letters.

At the end of the second volume are published the earliest treaties made with the Portuguese. The treaty of marriage between King Charles II and the Infanta Catherine of Portugal, dated 23rd June 1661, by which the Crown of Portugal ceded and granted to the Crown of England the Island and Harbour of Bombay in full sovereignty is given together with the Secret Article, regarding which there has been a considerable amount of unnecessary mystery. From the eleventh article of the treaty it will be seen that Bombay was not given merely as part of a dower, but granted to the English Crown to enable the two nations to guard their respective dominions and interests against the aggressions and encroachments of the Dutch. By the secret article of the treaty the King of England bound himself to "exert his whole strength and power in order to establish a solid and lasting peace between the most serene King of Portugal and the States General of the United Netherlands," and, if the States General refused to make peace, Charles bound himself "to defend and protect the possessions of the Portuguese in the East Indies," and to obtain restitution to the Crown of Portugal of such Portuguese settlements in the East Indies as the Dutch might, subsequent to the treaty, obtain possession of. In the appendix is also published the treaty or articles on which Antonio de Mello e Castro delivered up the island of Bombay to Humphrey Cook, 14th January 1665. After the Portuguese treaties is now printed for the first time the famous convention made and entered into between Gerald Aungier and the people of Bombay.

After the papers relating to our first connection with Bombay will be found "Selections from the Bantam Letters." The earliest letter is dated Syam, Nov. 15th, 1679. The writer states—"They now make gr<sup>t</sup> quantities of porcellain in Japan. I have seen some p.ticul<sup>r</sup> pieces comparable to any made in China of late yeares, but generally 'tis not altogether soe good, & an extraordinary abundance y<sup>t</sup> came y<sup>s</sup> last year rendered it very cheape." The Bantam letters are followed by the Journal of Nadir Shah's residence at Carmania, which gives a vivid picture of the atrocities committed by that cruel and capricious tyrant. The writer Mr. Graves describes the greatest warrior Persia has ever produced as "about five foot ten inches high and very well set, and notwithstanding his age and fatigue of life he has gone through, walks very strong and upright, and to appearance, if no accident happens to him, may live this twenty years." The last document printed in the second volume is a Diary of Transactions on an Embassy to Borneo Proper by order of John Herbert, Esquire, Chief, Balambangan (1774). The island of Balambangan off the north of Borneo was granted to the English in 1761 by a Sultan of Sulu and remained in their possession till 1775 when the Council and establishment moved to Labuan. The notes to the Diary have been kindly supplied to me by the Hon. Mr. Treacher, Governor of the possessions of the British North Borneo Company.

In order to make the Selections more intelligible to the general reader I have thought it advisable to prefix to them a short historical introduction. In the introduction I have supplied gaps in the Records by information derived from old books of travels from which the most accurate and complete picture of manners and the state of society can be drawn.

It affords me much pleasure to offer my best thanks to Mr. Javerilál Umiashankar for his notes on the land tenures of Gujarát, and to again acknowledge the valuable assistance rendered me in the preparation of these volumes by Mr. Purshottam Bákrishna Joshi, whose services were placed at my disposal by Government.

G. W. FORREST.

Secretariat, Bombay, }
August 1887.

CONTENTS.

---

	PAGES
I. INTRODUCTION ...	i—lii
II. SELECTIONS FROM THE SURAT LETTERS, 1630—1700	3—116
III. SELECTIONS FROM THE BOMBAY LETTERS, 1677—1742	117—176
IV. SELECTIONS FROM THE SURAT DIARIES, 1660—1781	177—450
V. INDEX ...	i—vi

INTRODUCTION.

---

AFTER roaming over the Indian seas, English enterprise first furlled its wandering sail at the port of Surat, and there founded a small factory, which afterwards grew into that stately fabric our Empire in the East. The province of Gujarát, of which Surat is one of the chief towns, has, on account of its natural advantages for both agriculture and commerce, from the earliest times occupied an important position in the history of Hindostan. "Goozerat," says the renowned Italian traveller, "is a great kingdom. The people are idolaters and have a peculiar language and a king of their own, and are tributary to no one." Gujarát, according to the permanent boundaries indicated by natural formation and the language of the people, is about equal to Great Britain in extent and somewhat resembles a horseshoe in shape. The Gulf of Cambay forms its inner boundary and Surat is one of its most ancient ports in that part of the coast; how ancient, it is impossible to decide, for on that point the historians are not in accord. The local histories, however, are agreed in fixing the establishment of Surat as a modern city in the last year of the fifteenth century, and in 1514 the Portuguese traveller Barbosa describes it as "a city of very great trade in all classes of merchandize, a very important seaport, yielding a large revenue to the King, and frequented by many ships from Malabar and all parts." The countrymen of Barbosa were, however, for many years the greatest enemies to the growth of the prosperity of the town. Two years before his visit they had burnt it, and subsequently in 1530 and 1531 they again laid waste the city. In order to protect it from their frequent attacks the King of Ahmedabad commanded the present Castle to be built, and, in spite of the efforts of the Portuguese, who tried by force and bribery to prevent its construction, the fortress was finished about 1546.

In 1572 the fertile fields and park-like lands of Gujarát attracted the attention of the great Akbar, and he appeared with overwhelming forces and received the submission of the province. For nearly two centuries after this, Gujarát continued to be one of the provinces subject to the house of Tamerlane, and Surat was ruled by Governors appointed by the Emperors of Delhi. Akbar, always willing to encourage foreign enterprise, concluded a treaty with the Portuguese, which made them virtual masters of the Surat seas. The example set by Portugal was not lost upon the other nations of Europe. The Dutch began to turn their attention to the Eastern trade, and rapidly to supplant the merchants of Lisbon. The great Elizabethan mariners took up the tale, and the first Charter of the "Governor and Company of Merchants of London trading with the East Indies," which, after various renewals, amalgamations, and changes of title, retained through all its vicissitudes a traditional identity, was granted on December 31st, 1600.

In 1608, or just about a century after the arrival of the Portuguese, Captain Hawkins of the good ship Hector brought to anchor the first English vessel in Gujarát waters. He tells us that he was kindly received by the natives "after their own barbarous manner," but was much harassed by the Portuguese. At this time Surat is described as of considerable size, "with many good houses belonging to merchants," and "a pleasant Green having a Maypole in the middle, on which at high festivals were hung lights and other decorations." The city was very populous and full of merchants. The people were "tall, neat, and well clothed in garments of white calico and silk, and very grave and judicious in their behaviour." The coast in the neighbourhood witnessed many hard-contested struggles with the Portuguese before they would permit the English to share in the lucrative trade of the city. The English in these contests proved that they could not only hold their own, but even defeat the hitherto irresistible Portuguese. Their courage won so much respect that their rights of trade were at last formally recognised by the Viceroy of Gujarát, and in the year 1613 a Charter was granted by the Great Moghul, which confirmed the privileges granted to the English by his representative. In 1615 Sir Thomas Roe was sent by James I. as Ambassador to the Court of the Moghul Emperor, and three years later he succeeded in obtaining certain further privileges for his countrymen. He also made a separate treaty with the Emperor's third son, Prince Khurram, afterwards the famous Shah Jehan, to whom had been assigned by his father the Government of Surat. By this treaty the English gained the rights of building a house, bearing arms, exercising their own religion freely, and settling their own disputes among themselves. The modest house at Surat was the first permanent connexion of the English with India, and the rapid growth of the Surat Factory forms an important and interesting chapter in the history of our Indian Empire.

Twelve years after the English got permission to build a house, the President received the high-sounding title of Chief of the Honourable Company of English Merchants trading in the East. The title of President was given in 1616 to Thomas Kerridge the first Superintendent by his own subordinates, and he was succeeded by Thomas Rastell, whose signature is attached to the oldest document in the Record Office that has escaped the ravages of fire, neglect, and time. It is a letter dated "Surratt ye 30th September 1630," and is addressed to the factors at Agra. It is partly commercial and throws but little light on the history of the time. It informs the factors that instead of making Surat the last port of the fleet's "finall dispeed for England, we are determynd, for this yeare only, to alter that course by appointing Persia for their last porte, and to that end shall wth all conveniencie possible indeavo<sup>r</sup> the p<sup>r</sup>sent lading of these our Indian investm<sup>ts</sup> p<sup>r</sup>vided and appointed for the acco<sup>nt</sup> of the first voyage; and by that meanes will hope to give them their dispeed from hence by the 25th or last November at the furthest, and wth them also our letters and accomp<sup>ts</sup> for England; w<sup>ch</sup> may serve for advertisem<sup>t</sup> unto you, that you be nott backward in the like yo<sup>r</sup>selves, or behind in ought elce that might concerne that present expedition." (Vol. I. p. 3). The factors at Agra are also told that in England "there is little alteration since the last yeares ffeet, only that the treaty of peace wth Spaine was in agitation by reciprocall embasies from each King to other, w<sup>ch</sup> yet by their non-cessation of armes, the successe is somewhat to be doubted, and soe not remembering ought elce att p<sup>r</sup>sent, wee commend you to Gods mercies and with friendly salutes rest, your very loving ffrinds." (Vol. I. p. 5). The second letter is addressed to the factors at Gombroon, where a factory had been founded sixteen years previously. The President writes, "Your relation of the Persian warrs in defence against the Turke, and the others progresse therein, together wth the Portuigalls pettie p<sup>r</sup>parations in those p<sup>tes</sup> was acceptable unto us. Advice by the way of Mocha since doth seeme to ascertainne that the Turke hath received a fatall overthrow. And of the Portugalls p<sup>r</sup>ceedings in these p<sup>tes</sup> you have already heard our discourse, their supply out of Europe this yeare being onely a Car-rack and one Gallion, w<sup>ch</sup> will very much disappointe the Vice Kinges designes, by the want of men, money, and useful p<sup>r</sup>visions, w<sup>ch</sup> intelligence tells us are things he greatly stands in need of. That wth wee here most dread are his stratagemes by fire in Swally, and his ffriggatts intercepting of your boates in Gombroone; the Ckauns assistance therefore soe freely promised unto yo<sup>r</sup> would be further solicited to your aids as well by sea or land, namely by boats or ffriggatts of that countrye to be maned p.tely wth his and p.tely wth some of o<sup>r</sup> choicest shott, occasion soe requiring." (Vol. I. p. 9). In the next letter, dated the 25th October, we have a graphic, quaint description of an engagement with the Portuguese, who were doing their utmost at the time to use their influence with the Moghul to expel the English and Dutch from his dominions. After a sketch of the formation of the troops, we are informed, "But such was the undauntednes of our English, being stirred up to a high measure of furie by the hourly vexations and braveings of the enemy, as being now come wthin shot wth a generall resolution rejoyceing att the occasion, after a shot or two rec<sup>d</sup> first from the Portuigalls pushed on in the verve face & mouth of all their ffriggatts and p.ceaveing that but 3 of them could use the advantage of their prowes against them, and that some of the rest were brought aground, and had only their Harquibuses acrooke to gall them advanced forwards still plying their small shot wth very good discipline, and the Portuigalls noe lesse valliently replying wth their double forces, as well from their ffriggatts at sea, as the squadrone on shore, but not able it seems to endure the obstinate rage of o<sup>r</sup> people they began to give grounds, and our most fiercely following, entered pellmell amongst them, even into the water, wthin lesse then pistoll shot of their ffriggatts; in wth intrim the Vice Kings sonne was conveyed aboard but soe narrowly escaped that the party who p.vided for his safety was himselfe taken prisoner in the accon: many of the English not feareing to runn up to the chin in water, even to the very sides of their ffriggatts pursuing the victory wth great slaughter both at shoare and at sea, and at length returned wth 27 Portuigalls prisoners taken alive, wthout the losse of any more than one ancient man (a corporall), not wounded but suffocated only wth heate and the wounding of 7 more of o<sup>r</sup> people. This they happily p.formed in sight of Meirza Baker, and divers of these country people to their great admiration and o<sup>r</sup> nations great<sup>r</sup> hono<sup>r</sup>, to that good God that led them by the hand be the glorye." (Vol. I. p. 11). To revenge this defeat the Portuguese Admiral made an effort to destroy the English ships, which proved disastrous to his own fleet. The President writes in the postscript to his letter, "At this very instant is come newes from y<sup>e</sup> Commanders below that the last night (being Sunday againe) about 8 of the clock, the Portuigalls put in execution their maine stratagem soe much depended on by them, and not wthout cause much feared by us, in firing of their 4 prepared vessells chained together for the intended destruction of our fleet, but the vigilancie of our people directed by the Divine Providence of that greate protector that hath allwayes hetherto bestowed innumerable blessings uppon us hath p<sup>r</sup>vented the end of that great mischeife intended. O<sup>r</sup> boats well manned on head of the headmost ship haveing wth their grapnells ready for the purpose fastened on the boats so fired, and towing two of them (still burning) on the shoare, and the other two on the sands gave happie cause of great joye in o<sup>r</sup> people for soe happie diliverance, and shame enough to our malicious enemy that hath thus basely in that kinde endeavoured ruines." (Vol. I. p. 12). A traveller who visited Surat at this time conveys to us a favourable impression of Thomas Rastell. Della Valle informs us that the President spoke Italian with fluency and was very polite, showing himself in all things a person sufficiently accomplished and of generous deportment, according as his gentle and graceful aspect bespoke him. The President invited him to the English Factory, but Della Valle objected to take his bride, a young Marionette lady of extraordinary beauty, to a dwelling where there were only men. The Dutch

President, however, by stratagem and force secured the illustrious visitor. The English President was sorely wrought at this, but an apology from the traveller appeased his anger, and he asked him to supper and treated him "very splendidly, & everything ended in jollity & friendship as at first."

Six years after this (1636) we find that a certain Methwold was President and that having repaired to Goa he there arranged a convention with the Viceroy on the basis of a treaty which had been concluded between England and Spain. During the tenure of office of Methwold, Surat was visited by John Albert de Mandelslo, who writes: "The places about this city are the most delightful of any in the world. For, besides the fair gardens, where they have all sorts of fruit trees, all the Champion seems to want nothing that might recreate the eye." Mandelslo gives us an account of the life at the Factory which was not devoid of pleasure. He writes: "At the entrance of the house I met the President, with his Second, that is to say, he who commands under him, and in his absence, whose name was Mr. Fremling, who received me with extraordinary kindness, and very civilly answer'd the complement I made them, upon the freedom I took to make my advantage thereof. The President, who spoke Dutch very well, told me I was very welcome; that in the country where we then were, all Christians were oblig'd to assist one another, and that he was the more particularly oblig'd thereto as to what concern'd me, in respect of the affection I would have express'd towards some of his nation at Ispahan. He thereupon brought me to his chamber, where there was a collation ready. It consisted of fruits and preserves, according to the custom of the country. As soon as we were set, he asked me what my design was, and understanding that I intended to return for Germany within twelve months, he told me I was come too late to get away that year, by reason no more ships would come that way, but that if I would stay with him five or six months, till there were a convenience of passage, he would take it kindly: that during that time he would contribute all he could to my divertisement: that he would find out a means how I might see the most eminent places in the country; nay, that he would send some of his own nation along with me, who should find me those accommodations I could not otherwise hope for. This obliging discourse soon prevail'd with me to accept of these proffers, so that he shew'd me all the house, that I might make choice of a convenient lodging, which I took near his Second's chamber. In the evening, some merchants and others, belonging to the President, came and brought me from my chamber to supper into a great hall, where was the Minister with about dozen merchants, who kept me company, but the President and his Second sup'd not, as being accusom'd to that manner of life, out of a fear of overcharging their stomachs, digestion being slowly performed, by reason of the great heats which are as troublesome there in the night time as in the day. After supper the Minister carried me into a great open gallery, where I found the President and his Second taking the coolness of the sea-air. This was the place of our ordinary rendezvous, where we met every night; to wit, the President, his Second, the principal merchant, the Minister and myself; but the other merchants came not but when they were invited by the President. At dinner he kept a greate table of about fifteen or sixteen dishes of meat, besides the desert. The respect and deference which the other merchants have for the President was very remarkable, as also the order which was there observed in all things, especially at Divine Service, which was said twice a day, in the morning at six and at eight at night, and on Sundayes thrice. No person in the house but had his particular function, and their certain hours assign'd them as well for work as recreation. Our divertisement was thus ordered. On Fridayes after prayers, there was a particular assembly, at which met with us three other merchants, who were of kin to the President, and had left as well as he their wives in England, which day being that of their departure from England, they had appointed it for to make a commemoration thereof, and drink their wives' healths. Some made their advantage of this meeting to get more than they could well carry away, though every man was at liberty to drink what he pleas'd, and to mix the sack as he thought fit, or to drink Palepuntz, which is a kind of drink consisting of Aqua vitæ, rose-water, juice of citrons and sugar. At our ordinary meetings every day, we took only Thé, which is commonly used all over the Indies, not only among those of the country, but also among the Dutch and English, who take it as a Drug that cleanses the stomach, and digests the superfluous humours, by a temperate heat particular thereto." Mandelslo states "that the English President, Mr. Methwold, who had resign'd his charge in the Indies to his successour, Mr. Fremling, having taken all requisite order for our voyage, went the first day of January, 1639, to take his leave of the Sulthan, who receiv'd him very kindly, and presented him with a vestment of Brocadoe, the collar whereof was made of two Martins skins with sables, which he then had about him; as also many other rare things, which he entreated him to keep for his sake. At our coming out of the Sulthans Palace, we were received into a Shallop, which brought us aboard the "Mary," then lying in the road, two leagues from the mouth of the river. The new President, and the chiefest of the English Officers, accompanied us into the ship, where they stayed three dayes entertaining and treating one another, and drowning in good wine the affliction which was to ensue upon so long a separation."

Fremling was succeeded by Francis Breton. The inscription on his monument at Surat states that after he had "for five years discharged his duties with the greatest diligence and strictest integrity he went unmarried to the celestial nuptials on the 21st of July in the year of Christ 1649." When Breton was President, John Baptista Tavernier, Baron of Antone, paid a visit to Surat, and judging from his account the town at that time could not have been in a very flourishing condition. "Suratt," he writes, "is a city of an indifferent bigness, defended by a pittiful fortress, by the foot whereof you must pass, whither you go by land or by water. It has four towers at the four corners, and in regard there are no platforms upon the walls, guns are planted upon wooden scaffolds. The Governor of the fort only commands the souldiers in the fort, but has no power in the city, which has a particular Governour to receive the Kings customs and other revenues, through the extent of his province. The walls of the town are only of earth, and the generality of the houses like barns, being built of reeds, plaistered with cow-dung, to cover the void spaces, and to hinder them without from discerning between the reeds what is done within. In all Suratt there be but nine or ten houses which are well built: whereof the Cha-bander, or chief of the merchants has two or three. The rest belong to the Mahumetan merchants; nor are those, wherein the English and Hollanders dwell, less beautiful; every President, and every Commander, being careful to repair them; which they put upon the account of their Companies. However, they do but hire those houses; the King not suffering any Frank to have an house of his own, for fear he should make a fortress of it. The Capuchin Friars have built them a very convenient convent, according to the model of our European houses, and a fair Church for the building of which, I furnish'd them with good part of the money. But the purchase was made in the name of a Maronite merchant of Aleppo, whose name was Chelebi, of whom I have spoken in my Persian relations."

In 1651 Captain Jeremy Blackman was appointed President at Surat. Former Presidents had been allowed to indulge in private trade, but this was now held to be inconsistent with a proper discharge of their duties, and as a compensation Captain Blackman was given a salary of £500 per annum, for five years, to commence from the day of his leaving England, and to continue till his return. In 1653 tidings reached Surat of the war between the English and the Dutch in Europe, and the Dutch factory formally declared war against England. The English factors sent an Agent to Delhi to claim the protection of the Moghul, but he refused to interfere in the quarrels or war between Europeans trading in his dominions. The war with the Dutch was brought to a close the next year by the treaty of Westminster. During the time of the Protectorate Remington and Nathaniel Wyche presided over the factory. The latter was succeeded by Andrewes. The first Consultation of Government which we have recorded was held on Swally Marine, 17th January 1660, and is subscribed Matthew Andrewes. There are also several Commissions given to Commanders of ships signed by him. On the 9th February 1660 a Consultation was held in Surat to take into consideration the conduct of Mathewe Gray who "did on the second day of this present month willfully absent himself from the Comp<sup>as</sup> service by departing from Swally Marine to Suratt, on a suspition to be sent second of the ffactorye of Persia, and hath ever since behaved himself proudly and scornefully towards us the said Presid<sup>t</sup> and Councell, wee therefore for the reasons afors<sup>d</sup> have discarded him from the place of Secretary, and if he continue refractorye, wee shall also the Comp<sup>as</sup> service." (Vol. I. p. 185). Two days after this another Consultation was held and the President and Council "did therefore call M<sup>r</sup>. Gray before them, and aske him whither he did acknowledg himself the Comp<sup>as</sup> serv<sup>t</sup>, and to be disposed of by them in their service, whose answeare was he was; then uppon consideration that none in the ffactorye was soe fitt to be second of Persia as himselfe, or to succeed in the Agency the second question was putt with<sup>r</sup> he would serve the Comp<sup>a</sup> in Persia or noe, he knowing the necessitie, his answeare was I will not goe; therefore wee knowing y<sup>t</sup> example is more apt to encouradge the same practice in others, did conclude and acquaint him that if he would not goe to Persia, where hee knewe his aid and assistance was required, he must not only leave the Companyes service, but their house, that he might not give encouragment to others soe to act, and consequently every person that was not well pleased with his employment, or that his employment did not correspond with his designs, to answeare I will not accept of it, this being the opinion of y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> and Councell and of the whole familie, that for his disobedience he was to be sent home, and soe this meeting was dissolv<sup>d</sup>." (Vol. I. p. 185). Life at the factories did not always run smooth. Grievous complaints are made by the factors of the intolerable injuries sustained by them from time to time from the Governors of the town. Discontent was also rife among themselves, for in the proceedings of a Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 3<sup>d</sup>. October 1661 we read "the murmerring & uncoward behaviour of some discontented spirritts, occationed by their hopes of a new President coming out, was some monthes past too obvious not to be taken notice of; the President therefore desirous to remove all doubts, that wee might live lovingly, & heartily act our Masters business, assembled all the Comp<sup>as</sup> servants in this Presidency, & did read unto them the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> confirmation of him in their most eminent employm<sup>t</sup> of President, requiring all subordinate ffactors to be conformable to such orders as shall from time to time be commaunded them by their said President and Councell, . . . . . Having fully imparted the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> commaund, wee demaunded of each man particularly, if hee was willing to submitt to the commaunds of the P<sup>r</sup> etc<sup>a</sup> Councell as the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> had required. Their answeare was generall & to content. The P<sup>r</sup> then proposed to them y<sup>t</sup> if any man could object again him, why his commaunds as P<sup>r</sup> should not be observed & obeyed, that hee should declare his mind. There was no objection made. Wee then exhorting them to love & amity dismissed them: & wth M<sup>r</sup> Lambton proceeded to Councell, where two things were concluded on." (Vol. I. p. 69.)

The Factors had much to endure in the early days. In 1662 they state that "our last years imprisonment and restraynt from food, the attempt of our deaths with many other sordid abuses, cryes vengeance on these infidells. And because our complaynts at home for justice cannot be heard, therefore are wee y<sup>e</sup> scorne of those people & o<sup>r</sup> privelleges and honour trampled under by force in y<sup>e</sup> absence of o<sup>r</sup> shipping." A more prosperous time, however, ensued when Matthew Andrewe was succeeded by the brave and energetic Sir George Oxinden, who deserves to rank with Clive and Hastings as one of the illustrious founders of the Indian Empire. His defence of Surat was as gallant an affair as Clive's defence of Arcot. Now for the first time is given an account of the defence of the factory in his own modest manly words. He informs the Company in London that "on y<sup>e</sup> 6th January 1664" was brought a hott allarum y<sup>t</sup> Sevagy y<sup>e</sup> grand rebell of y<sup>e</sup> Deccan was within 10 or 15 miles of y<sup>e</sup> towne. The President sent for forty men from the ships to aid him in the defence, with (Vol. I. p. 24) "w<sup>om</sup> wee your Ffact<sup>rs</sup> servants joined and having drawne y<sup>m</sup> out in ranke and file with drum and trumpett yo<sup>r</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> in the head march<sup>t</sup> through y<sup>e</sup> body of y<sup>e</sup> towne to y<sup>e</sup> Greene before y<sup>e</sup> Castle where y<sup>e</sup> Governour was ready to pop in upon the first notice of their approach. Wee past close by him and so marcht on taking a great circle round that y<sup>e</sup> ennemy was at the gates before wee could reach our house." (Vol. I. p. 24). A Mr. Anthony Smith coming from Swalley was taken prisoner and came to Shiváji, who took 300 rup<sup>s</sup> "ransome of him, and sent him y<sup>e</sup> next day to menace us, but before that we had rec<sup>d</sup> many threats. But wee still bidd him keepe his people out of y<sup>e</sup> reach of o<sup>r</sup> gunns, elce wee would shoote them. Hee returned answere wee were fr<sup>ds</sup>, wee replied if soe, why did hee detaine an English man, take a horse out of our stable and make fences of your goods y<sup>t</sup> lay before y<sup>e</sup> coustume house; and also suffered them to bee plundered; all these things spoake him an ennemy, & therefore y<sup>s</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> returned answere wee would not trust him or admitt of any further treaty and therefore hee should send us noe more messages, and if hee did wee would kill y<sup>e</sup> messenger." (Vol. I. p. 25). Shiváji also sent messengers to demand homage "and y<sup>t</sup> if we refused it hee would raise our house to ye ground, and not spare a life." "Wee replied wee were here on purpose to maintaine your house to y<sup>e</sup> death of y<sup>e</sup> last man & therefore not to delay his coming upon us; by y<sup>e</sup> time he had broken Hodjy Saed Beagues house open, and had one nightes entire plunder out of it, w<sup>ch</sup> being so very neare us, as one wall to part both houses, wee feared they would strengthen y<sup>t</sup> place & afterward annoy us, and by their multitudes force their way or undermine and blow us up and y<sup>t</sup> seeing they did begin with their horse and foote to surround us, some then standing under our eaves for noe good, wee caused a p<sup>ty</sup> of foote to sally forth y<sup>e</sup> house and fight them; in w<sup>ch</sup> scufell we had 3 men slightly wounded, ours sleu a horse and man, some say two or three, but wee routed them. Y<sup>s</sup> good success animated us yet further to clear our quarters of y<sup>m</sup>, and hearing they had taken their randevous in a Muskett or Moore Church joining close to our house, and also in Hodgy Saeds house warehouses, having out of feare of us not done him y<sup>e</sup> quarter of y<sup>e</sup> mischiefe they intended him. Whilst our men were clearing y<sup>e</sup> Muskett they in y<sup>e</sup> houses and warehouses opened y<sup>e</sup> doores and fled, soe wee shutt up y<sup>e</sup> doores and barracadoed them, and made a passage from our into his house, and kept a garrison in a belcony that cleared all y<sup>e</sup> streat and garded y<sup>e</sup> other house of y<sup>e</sup> Hodgies. When y<sup>e</sup> rebell had heard what was past of y<sup>e</sup> killing & routing his guards hee falls a threatning M<sup>r</sup>. Smith, some time with y<sup>e</sup> loss of his head and some times to cutt of his hand, & at last causes him to write a noate to y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> that if wee persisted in fighting against him hee would race our house to y<sup>e</sup> ground and bee our destruction. By y<sup>e</sup> time wee had more assistance from y<sup>e</sup> ships, wherfore y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> wrote M<sup>r</sup>. Smith, wee would prosecute w<sup>t</sup> wee had begun, and not at all moved at his threate requiring him to save the labour of his serv<sup>ts</sup> running to & fro on messages, and come himself with all his army." (Vol. I. p. 25). The approach of the Moghul army caused Shiváji to return from the town which he had plundered and laid waste. "He hath carried away in gold, silver and pearle, precious stones and other rich goods to the vallue of many hundred thousand pounds, and burnt of other goods and houses to y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>t</sup> of as much more, so y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> towne is utterly ruin'd and very little left either of riches or habitation. Y<sup>e</sup> rogue was very cruell; M<sup>r</sup>. Smith in y<sup>e</sup> time of his imprisonmen<sup>t</sup> was present when hee cutt of more y<sup>n</sup> 26 hands in one day and many heads; who ever hee was y<sup>t</sup> was taken & brought before him y<sup>t</sup> could not redeeme himself lost either his hand or his head, and his manner was first to plunder & then to cause y<sup>e</sup> own<sup>r</sup> of his house to give him some thing over and above to redeeme his house from being burnt, and yet y<sup>e</sup> p<sup>f</sup>idious villaine would fire it afterwards, although hee had obliged himself to y<sup>e</sup> contrary. Wee are now endeavouring to emprove this skirmage of ours to yo<sup>r</sup> profit, by acclamations of y<sup>e</sup> townes people, as well they y<sup>t</sup> are sufferers as those whose houses were preserv'd, who laying aside their owne losses cry out in thousands for a reward from y<sup>e</sup> King to y<sup>e</sup> English y<sup>t</sup> had by their courage preserved them, when those to whom they were intrusted as the Governor et<sup>ca</sup> dared not shew his head." (Vol. I. p. 25-26). On the arrival of the Moghul army Sir George Oxinden received from the Commander "great thanks for y<sup>e</sup> good service we did y<sup>e</sup> king and the country; whereupon your President having a pistoll in his hand layed it before y<sup>e</sup> Chiefe, saying y<sup>t</sup> hee did now lay downe his armes, leaving y<sup>e</sup> future care and protection of y<sup>e</sup> citty to them, which was exceedingly well taken; telling y<sup>e</sup> President hee did accept it and in reward of y<sup>e</sup> good service hee must give him a vest, a horse, & girt a sword about him; but you<sup>r</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> told him these were things becoming a souldier, but we were merchants, and expected favour from y<sup>e</sup> King in our trade." (Vol. I. p. 26).

After having described the siege Sir George Oxinden discusses the internal economy of the factory. Gerard Aungier is their "humble supplyant" that they would please to consider him "in his sallery, as his quality doth merrit, and y<sup>e</sup> place wherein hee officiates as ware-house keeper, that hee may receive y<sup>e</sup> same incouragem<sup>t</sup> from you as you have thought good to allow others y<sup>t</sup> have serv'd you in his quality, and hee promised none shall exceed him in duty and ffaythfull service," (Vol. I. p. 28). The case of Mr. Sam Salsbery was certainly deserving of consideration, for "hee had not rec<sup>d</sup> any sallery for these 2 yeares that he had continued in y<sup>e</sup> imploiment." The President also informs the Company that they had "seperated a place apart for Gods wors<sup>hp</sup> & decently adorned it, wherein stands yo<sup>r</sup> Library, & amongst them those severall volumes of y<sup>e</sup> holy bible in y<sup>e</sup> Languages w<sup>ch</sup> is much esteemed by those y<sup>t</sup> are learned amongst these people; y<sup>t</sup> if any eminent p<sup>son</sup> come to your houses his greatest desire is to see the Chappell; wherfore wee entreate you for further ornament, to send us out a large table in a frame, gilded and handsomely adorned with Moses and Aaron holding the two tables containing the ten Commandements, the Lords Prayer & the Creed, written in letters of gould, & in y<sup>e</sup> midst at y<sup>e</sup> topp in triangles, Gods name writt in as many of these easterne Languages as Arabick Persian &c<sup>a</sup> as can be procured; which if you please to honno<sup>r</sup> our Chappell with, it will bee a glory to our religion, as y<sup>t</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> is more taken than anything that they shall read beside, and yet our meaning is y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Commandements &c<sup>a</sup> be wrot in y<sup>e</sup> Eng<sup>s</sup> language." (Vol. I. p. 31). At the close of the letter we have the earliest list of the Factors at Surat. The name of one unfortunate has been sent down to posterity with a stigma attached to it. The entry runs, "Val. Hurse, drinking sott."

The next letter dated Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 20th February 1663-64 is addressed to Ffort George and contains a briefer account of the attack made by Shiváji on the city. Sir George Oxinden informs the factors at Madras that "although wee have but little Europe neuse y<sup>t</sup> is come to our eares since y<sup>e</sup> ships left England, yet wee are very willing to impart it to you. It is this: our letters at y<sup>e</sup> 30th Nov<sup>r</sup>, were arriv'd in England in May. The King was very much troubled at the actions of y<sup>e</sup> Viceroy of Goa, and was resolved to have full satisfaction from y<sup>e</sup> Crowne of Portugall. The Consull of Aleppo adviseth y<sup>t</sup> by letters from London of y<sup>e</sup> 12th June, all things were in a peaceable condition in Church & State & a right understanding and good correspondence between his Maj<sup>ty</sup> and his two houses of Parliamen<sup>t</sup>. That a Dutch ship was run away wth a cargo of Turkey goods, and y<sup>e</sup> Consulls at Smirna, Aleppo, etc., secur'd untill they rendered satisfaction in 100000. This is w<sup>t</sup> at pres<sup>t</sup> wee have notice of; w<sup>n</sup> wee receive our overland advices wee shall imp<sup>t</sup> w<sup>t</sup> further neuse as conveyance shall offer for y<sup>r</sup> party, untill y<sup>n</sup> wee take leave and remaine." (Vol. I. p. 35). However we are further informed in a postscript that before the letter was dispatched a Dutch ship arrived from Persia "w<sup>ch</sup> brought us advices from o<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employ<sup>rs</sup> dated the 10th August." The Consull from Aleppo writes of a "gr<sup>t</sup> victory obtained by y<sup>e</sup> Portugalls agst the Spanyard, occasioned chiefly by 5000 Eng. viz<sup>t</sup> 3000 foote & 2000 horse then in y<sup>e</sup> Portugalls army w<sup>o</sup> by relation foug<sup>t</sup> desperately, not giving nor taking quarter. The Spanyard is said to have lost (of 15000 his army consisted) 12000, amongst w<sup>om</sup> very many Don<sup>s</sup> and persons of great quallity. Don Joa the Gen<sup>ll</sup> is said also to have bee' shott in y<sup>e</sup> head wth two bulletts & could not bee found, all y<sup>r</sup> baggage and ordinance taken. They write further y<sup>t</sup> the Lord Geo. Digby had charg'd y<sup>e</sup> Lord high Chancell<sup>r</sup> Hide wth 15 articles of high treason and presented y<sup>m</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> house of Lords, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Judges have give' their opinion y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> p<sup>t</sup>iculars in y<sup>e</sup> charge amo<sup>t</sup> not to high treason but to high misdemeano<sup>rs</sup>. The Parliament is adjourned untill March next, also y<sup>e</sup> further consideration of y<sup>e</sup> charge referred untill y<sup>e</sup> Parliaments next meeting." (Vol. I. p. 36.)

The next letter is written to the Company vid Aleppo and is dated Swally Marine y<sup>e</sup> 4th Aprill 1664, and was an answer to the despatches received by the Dutch ship. The President regrets that he cannot procure the "400 tuns of Quilean Pepper, & 300 bales of Cassia Lignum, neither of which wee shall be able to furnish you with, y<sup>e</sup> Dutch having (as formerly wee advis'd you) engrossed and appropriated to themselves y<sup>e</sup> whole Mallabarr Coast, from North to South, prohibiting both these commodities to all, enjoyning y<sup>e</sup> Natives of y<sup>e</sup> Countrey by threats and menaces not to sell to any but themselves." (Vol. I. p. 37). Three years later (1667) a firman was granted by Aurangzeb to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company by which the custom duties were considerably reduced.

By the eleventh article of the treaty of marriage between King Charles II and the Infanta Catherine of Portugal, dated 23rd June 1661, the Crown of Portugal ceded and granted to the Crown of England the Island and harbour of Bombay in full sovereignty. The article ran as follows:—"That for the better improvement of the English interest and commerce in the East Indies and that the King of Great Britain may be better enabled to assist, defend, and protect the subjects of the King of Portugal in those parts from the power and invasion of the States of the United Provinces, the King of Portugal, with the assent and advice of his Council, gives, transfers, and by these presents grants and confirms to the King of Great Britain, his heirs and successors for ever, the Port and Island of Bombay in the East Indies, with all the rights, profits, territories, and appurtenances whatsoever thereunto belonging; and together with the income and revenue, the direct, full and absolute dominion and sovereignty of the said port, island, and premises, with all their royalties, freely, fully, entirely and absolutely. He also covenants and grants that the quiet and peaceable possession of the same shall with all convenient speed be freely and effectually delivered to the King of Great Britain or to the persons thereto appointed by the said King of Great Britain for his use. In pursuance of this cession, the inhabitants of the said island (as subjects of the King of Great Britain, and under his sovereignty, crown, jurisdiction, and government) being permitted to remain there and to enjoy the free exercise of the Roman Catholic religion in the same manner as they do at present, it being always understood, as it is now declared once for all, that the same regulations shall be observed for the exercise and preservation of the Roman Catholic religion in Tangier and all other places which shall be ceded and delivered by the King of Portugal into the possession of the King of Great Britain, as were stipulated and agreed to on the surrender of Dunkirk into the hands of the English: and when the King of Great Britain shall send his fleet to take possession of the said Port and Island of Bombay, the English shall have instructions to treat the subjects of the King of Portugal throughout the East Indies in the most friendly manner, to help and assist them, and to protect them in their trade and navigation there." From this article it will be seen that Bombay was not given merely as part of a dower, but granted to the English Crown to enable the two nations to guard their respective dominions and interests against the aggressions and encroachments of the Dutch. By the secret article of the treaty (App. A.) the King of England bound himself to "exert his whole strength and power in order to establish a solid and lasting peace between the most serene King of Portugal and the States General of the United Netherlands," and if the States General refused to make peace Charles bound himself "to defend and protect the possessions of the Portugese in the East Indies," and to obtain restitution to the Crown of Portugal of such Portuguese settlements in the East Indies as the Dutch might, subsequent to the treaty, obtain possession of. To gain possession of Bombay Charles II. in March 1661 despatched a fleet of five men-of-war, under the command of James Ley, third Earl of Marlborough, an eminent mathematician and navigator. On board the fleet were five hundred troops commanded by Sir Abraham Shipman, who was appointed to be General on shore, and a Viceroy of the King of Portugal authorised to deliver the ceded island and its dependencies to the King of England accompanied Marlborough. On the 18th September 1662 the King's fleet arrived at Bombay and Marlborough demanded the cession of the island and its dependencies. The English Admiral considered that the Islands of Thána and Salsette were included in the dependencies of Bombay, but the Portuguese Viceroy interpreted the treaty to signify the cession of only Bombay and on this ground the Portuguese Governor of Bombay evaded giving effect to the treaty. The Earl of Marlborough then demanded the cession of Bombay itself, which was admitted to be within the terms of the treaty, but the Portuguese Governor refused on the pretext that Sir Abraham Shipman, the Commander of the troops, had not arrived. A month later Sir Andrew Shipman reached Bombay, and, having produced his full powers, requested the Governor to yield the Island. The latter then raised the technical objection that the form of the Letters, or Patent, of the King, did not coincide with the usages observed in Lisbon. He however offered to retain the island for the King of England till he should receive authority from Portugal. The Admiral and the Commander now asked the permission of Sir George Oxinden to land the troops at Surat, but he refused, owing to the fear that such a step would give offence to the Moghul Emperor. The Earl of Marlborough then determined to return to England for further orders and to leave the troops at the Mauritius. He was however unfortunately compelled to land them at the small island of Angidiwa, twelve leagues to the south of Goa.

Charles II. on hearing that the Portuguese Governor had refused to cede the Island ordered a Memorial to be presented to the Portuguese Ambassador, in which he requested that the Court of Portugal should refund the £100,000 for the expenses of the late expedition and should send orders to the Viceroy of Goa to immediately cede the island of Bombay and its dependencies the islands of Salsette and Thána to the King's forces which had been left behind. The Portuguese Court replied that by the treaty the island of Bombay was intended to be ceded but not its dependencies. The English however contended that the island of Bombay alone was a worthless gift and not of sufficient maritime importance to carry out the main object of the treaty the protection of the Portuguese possessions from the attacks of the Dutch. But while these negotiations were being conducted, the majority of the troops who were cooped up in the island of Angidiwa near Goa perished from sickness and want of food. This induced Sir Abraham Shipman to offer to cede the right to Bombay to the Company, if the Viceroy of Goa would consent to the arrangement. Sir George Oxinden and the Council at Surat however after mature deliberation declined the offer. Sir Abraham Shipman himself now fell a victim to the unhealthiness of the island and his Secretary Mr. Cooke, to preserve his own life and the lives of the few troops left, was compelled to accede to a treaty drawn up by the Viceroy of Goa.

By this treaty (Appendix D.) it was agreed that the island of Bombay only should be delivered to the English gentlemen, and that the Portuguese or others might freely come, sell, buy and trade at their islands and countries through the port of Bombay and be free of all payments. That the English should not "compell the inhabitants of the said island of Bombay neither directly nor indirectly to change their Faith or to go and attend their Sermons." "That the fleets and boats of Bombay and Portugal were to have free egress or regress without asking leave, because part of the Bay belongs to them in respect of their other islands and countries. That no inhabitants shall lose their rights either patrimonial or what is held from the Crown unless they forfeit according to the laws of Portugal." Charles II. on hearing of the treaty made by Mr. Cooke wrote to the Viceroy of Goa on the 10th March 1676-77, that it was his intention shortly to elucidate and explain the eleventh article of the marriage treaty conjointly with his brother the most serene Prince of Portugal "by whose justice we doubt not our sovereign rights in the Port and Island of Bombay and their Dependencies will be vindicated from that very unjust capitulation which Humphrey Cook was forced to submit to at the time when that place was first transferred to our possession, which capitulation neither he, Humphrey, was empowered to come into, nor any one else to impose upon him, in contravention to a compact framed in so solemn and religious a manner. We therefore are determined to protest against the said capitulation as prejudicial to our Royal dignity, and derogatory to our right, which we hold in the higher estimation for coming to us in part of the dowry with our aforesaid dearest Consort." The King further informed the Viceroy that he had forbidden his subjects of the East India Company "to submit to such arbitrary and unjustifiable exactions as paying the tribute at Tannah and Carinjah, which are not less inconsistent with our Royal sovereign right, than contrary to the laws and customs of all nations. For not even in the streight called the Sound on the coast of Denmark is any tax or toll imposed in an arbitrary manner, a moderate sum only being paid for lighthouses and beacons erected for the security of navigation; nor was this even levied before treaties and stipulations had been made between Princes for that purpose; while our subjects are willing and ready to pay the customary port duties and charges respectively settled in different places, which they refuse not to do when they trade in any part of the Portuguese dominions, we do not see with what right anything further can be demanded of them."

The King now appointed Sir Gervase Lucas to be Governor of Bombay. The new Governor after careful perusal of the documents which had been sent home told his Royal Master that it would be necessary for him to take out four hundred men and provision and stores of every kind to supply the garrison for eighteen months. He also pointed out that the cost of the garrison would be upwards of seven thousand pounds, and that £2 per day was hardly sufficient salary for a Governor on such a distant station. The report of Sir Gervase Lucas was referred by His Majesty to the Secretaries of State, who replied that it would "be improper to incur any great expense upon Bombay." They considered that a reinforcement of sixty men under the command of a Lieutenant would be sufficient troops to send. Sir Gervase Lucas embarked on board the Company's ship "Returne" and reached Bombay 5th November, 1666. On assuming charge of the Government he immediately proceeded to institute enquiries into the conduct of his predecessor. He discovered that Cooke had extorted a large sum of money from the inhabitants and had behaved in a fraudulent manner with regard to the estate of his old Chief, Sir Andrew Shipman. Sir Gervase Lucas commanded that Cooke should not be permitted to leave the Island till he had returned the money dishonestly obtained. Sir Gervase Lucas brought out a letter of credit for £1500 which he caused to be presented at Surat, and requested "that the money should be accompanied to Bombaim by some trustie persons appointed by us, declaring the risque to be ours untill y<sup>e</sup> money be safely delivered him. To which wee demured for y<sup>e</sup> following reasons. Ffirst, by reason of an error in y<sup>e</sup> calculation of the Dollors, w<sup>ch</sup> hee computeth thus, the Seville to bee worth 215 rupees p. 100, the Mexico 213; when by the standard of this place the Seville be of valew but 214 and the Mexico 211 rupees per 100 Dollors. Secondly, our inabilityie to procure so many dollors in specie, none being permitted to pass y<sup>e</sup> Mint without coinage into the currant money of the country rupees. Lastly, our running the adventure of the money to Bombaim, for w<sup>ch</sup> wee have no order from the Company, and in case of miscarriage the loss may fall upon our owne heads. Wherefore wee made our addresses by letter of y<sup>e</sup> 16th of said month, desiring Sr<sup>t</sup> Gervase to take the aforesaid reasons under consideration, and in respect to the want of dollors to accept of rupees or chequeens, and in case he shall still impose the adventure on us, y<sup>t</sup> the moneys may be drawne from us at severall times, y<sup>t</sup> if a loss happen it may be the less considerable. To w<sup>ch</sup> wee having now by this letter of the 24th of the past month received his possitive answere to furnish him with the afores<sup>d</sup> summ upon our adventure without further dispute by changing y<sup>e</sup> specie, or by exchanges as wee should best contrive, wee conclude it requisite to prevent misunderstandings between us, and such ill consequences as may from thence arrise of prejudice to the Companyes affaires, to ensure said money unto him on the Comp<sup>as</sup> accompt, and to procure what exchanges wee can to Bassein at y<sup>e</sup> easiest loss," (Vol. I. p. 210).

A dispute arose between Sir Gervase Lucas and Sir George Oxinden as to the issuing of passes for vessels. The former insisted that all passes should be issued by him in the King's name which the latter considered to be an infringement of the Company's right. Sir Gervase Lucas seems to have shown a considerable want of tact and discretion in the matter, for in a Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup>. 31st July 1668 we read—"Our passes were indeed sommond by him the last yeare, when wee let him know (what before hee well understood) how prejudiciall it would be to the Comp<sup>as</sup> affaires here, yet wee would be so observant as not to contradict His Majesties orders, and declared then to relinquish our right to them if hee had His Majesties Commission for it, but untill hee had such, wee entreated him to forbear troubling us. But hee to shew his owne grandeur, and to lessen our esteeme with these people, not only renewes his demands of the passes from us but (unknowne to us) hath wrote letters in Persian to the Governour, Shawbund<sup>e</sup>, and all the merchants in the towne who are owners of Jounks, commanding them to fetch their passes from him, in whome the supreme power resides; that His Maj<sup>tie</sup> intended to make the Port of Bombaym the flourishingst port in India, and that hee is setting out an Armada to scour the coasts from pirat's. These his letters have put the towne in an uproare, and raised such jealousies in the Kings Ministers, that wee have been often sent for by y<sup>e</sup>. Governo<sup>r</sup>. and upbraided, that wee who had received such signall favours and immunities from the King, and enjoyed a peaceable and flourishing trade in this his port and other his dominions so many yeares, were now destroying this port to set up one of our owne. Telling us how ill the King would resent this business, wondering very much y<sup>t</sup>. hee should set out an Armada to scour their seas, who never desired any such kindness from him. Nor would the Governour believe, but hee was revolted and set up for himselfe; and those his Armada were pirat's intended to robb the Jounks of the Kings port. But the President did assure him hee had no such intentions, nor could such a thing be. To w<sup>ch</sup> the Governour hastily retorted what (saith hee) cannot bee? Did you never heare of a sonne who put his ffather in prizon? Hee was very inquisitive after the seituation of the island, its bigness; what townes and howses; how inhabited, but more especially after the fortifications: being tould by the man who brought the letters that they had built a castle, w<sup>ch</sup> wee would not understand, but palliated the business what might be. And after y<sup>t</sup>. the President had urgently prest him to let the merchants fetch their passes from thence, telling him that hee being the Kings Minister, it would be rather safer for them then if they rec<sup>d</sup>. them of us. Hee dismist us for y<sup>t</sup>. time, telling us the business was of no small consequence, and would highly incense the King. And not being satisfied with our evading his discourse about their building fortifications, hee sent the Pattamarr that brought his letters wth his Broker home to our howse to justifie it." (Vol. I. p. 215-216.)

A month after this Consultation the ship Constantinople arrived at Surat bringing a copy of a royal charter according to which his Majesty agreed to transfer the Island of Bombay to the East India Company. It was to be held by the Company of the King "in free and common Soccage as of the Manore of East Greenwich, on payment of the annual rent of 10£ in gold, on the 30th September in each year." To the Company were conveyed all the stores, arms, and ammunition which were upon the island, and Sir George Oxinden was directed to engage any of the Kings troops who might be disposed to enter into the service of the Company. The President and Council at Surat determined to assume at once the Government of Bombay and sent three of their number to assume charge of the island. The next year Sir George Oxinden himself visited Bombay, and during a short stay framed a set of regulations for its administration. The Court of Directors, in order to consolidate the management of their factories and trade, now vested the government in a President and Council of eight, five of whom were constantly to reside at Surat.

On the 14th July, 1669, Sir George Oxinden died in harness at Surat. In the inscription on the monument at Surat which is designed to commemorate him and his brother Christopher he is styled "a great man," and few men have a better right to the title. The Council provisionally appointed Sir Gerald Aungier to be his successor, an appointment in which he was subsequently confirmed by the Home Authorities. In a letter dated Swally Marine, 10th January, 1671, we find—"Your Presid<sup>t</sup> had determin<sup>d</sup> with some Councell to take his passage on those ships for your Island Bombay having many matters of no meane importance to act there; but as circumstances now stand with this new feirce Gov<sup>r</sup>, who hath already begun to trouble our neighbours & p.ticularly the Ffrench, whom he threatens to turne out of the towne, we doe not judge it prudence to offer him occasion of offence by leaving the towne so imediately on his arrivall, but rather to stay till matters are little more quiet, intending God willing to goe downe by the 'Advance', by w<sup>ch</sup> time we trust yo<sup>r</sup> concerns here will be best in a fair posture in order to yo<sup>r</sup> next years invest<sup>mt</sup>. However, we have now sent a good supply downe to Bombay of goods and treasure for the defraying yo<sup>r</sup> great charge there at present." (Vol. I. p. 46.)

For two years Gerald Aungier was prevented from visiting Bombay, and taking this fact into consideration the Governor and Council offered to the Company their humble advice "that it seems now consistent with your interest to settle your Cheife Govern<sup>t</sup> on your Island Bombay & to that end you would please to order yo<sup>r</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> to reside there constantly, except extraordinary emergencys may require his repair to Surat or elsewhere; & this wee presume yo<sup>r</sup> may doe without any discomposure to yo<sup>r</sup> affairs at Surat w<sup>ch</sup> will be well supplied by M<sup>r</sup> Mathew Gray & your present Councell." (Vol. I. p. 50.) By the same ship Gerald Aungier also sent home proposals touching the Island of Bombay. The inutility of legislation against usury was not in his time an economic maxim and the Governor "for the encouragement of trade" proposed "that Interest be settled and reduced to 9 p. c<sup>t</sup> and that all manner of extortion be prohibited on severe penalty." He also desired that encouragement be given for artificers and handicraftsmen of all sorts to come out and live on the island with their families. "The handicraftsmen w<sup>ch</sup> are cheifly wanting are Husbandmen & Gardners, who understand planting and improving of grounds, the ground of Bombay being apt to receive and bring forth any seed or plant whatsoever when the times & seasons of planting are sufficiently understood; weavers both of silke & cotton &c., who in short time may procure to themselves a very comfortable livelyhood, Carpenters for building of houses as well as ships who are much wanted & much esteemed, Smiths, who also are much wanted, Gun Smiths & Locksmiths, Armorers, Bakers, Cooks, Shoemakers, Talors, Diers, Barbors, Button makers, Ribbond weavers, Butchers, Haberdashers of small ware &c." (Vol. I. p. 53). Gerald Aungier also desired that the Courts would also send out "some Ffishmongers with their ffamilys with rules for erecting a company of Ffishmongers that better order may be observed thereon." The Governor had evidently a belief in sumptuary laws, for he proposed—"That for the encouraging good husbandry, by preventing the vaine and imoderate excess of apparrell, as also for y<sup>e</sup> greater consumption of our owne native manufactures, a standing law be established by y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> that no apparrell or outward garments, to witt, Tunicks, Vest, Doublet, Breeches, be used or worne by any Christian inhabitants on y<sup>e</sup> said Island, those of y<sup>e</sup> Easterne Church excepted, of what quallity, nation & condition soever, but such as are made of English manufactures or brought out of England in our owne shipping whether of silke, wooll, or cotton." (Vol. I. p. 53.) He also added "That for the greater decency of the millitary order all the soldiers, as well officers as others, be required to weare red serges or perpetuanoes only in the summer time, or red cloth in the winter, w<sup>ch</sup> shall be afforded them at reasonable and cheap rates from y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup> ware-house, to w<sup>ch</sup> end that the Gov<sup>r</sup>. Deputy Gov<sup>r</sup>. & the rest of y<sup>e</sup>. Councell be advised to give the soldiery encouragem<sup>t</sup>. by their owne example." (Vol. I. p. 53-54). Gerald Aungier informs the Court that for want of properly qualified Englishmen the judicial offices had been filled by Portuguese "w<sup>ch</sup> is not only dishon<sup>ble</sup> in its selfe but also exposes the Govern<sup>t</sup>. & proceedings of s<sup>d</sup>. Courts to many inconveniencys, where for y<sup>e</sup>. preventing thereof it is indispenible necessary that all proceedings in s<sup>d</sup>. Courts of Judicature be don altogether in y<sup>e</sup>. Eng<sup>s</sup>. language, for y<sup>e</sup>. better managem<sup>t</sup>. whereof, y<sup>t</sup>. the Comp<sup>a</sup>. would please to send out yearly a convenient number of p.sons well qualified for said offices whose charges & sallarys must be paid out of the ffees, fines & amerciaments, w<sup>ch</sup> shall arise from the said Courts, w<sup>ch</sup> will be a good livelyhood for y<sup>m</sup>, so that they not be any charge to y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>a</sup>, having freedom to trade to improve their stockes to y<sup>e</sup>. most advantage; this will be a means to strengthen the Eng<sup>s</sup>. interest on the Island w<sup>ch</sup> at pres<sup>t</sup>. is low & weake & consequently not so much esteemed by the natives as it ought to be." (Vol. I. p. 55.)

In 1672 Gerald Aungier made an attempt to reach Bombay. The Governor of Surat however demanded "a round sum of money for his license to y<sup>e</sup>. Pr<sup>r</sup>. departure." Gerald Aungier replied that he was "a free merch<sup>t</sup>. & no slave or preson<sup>r</sup>. and he was determined to goe without this consent." The Governor then sent "about 2000 souldiers horse & foot about 3 of the clock y<sup>e</sup>. same day, being y<sup>e</sup>. 19th curr<sup>t</sup>., whereof pte. entred & possessed y<sup>m</sup> selves of y<sup>e</sup>. house, y<sup>e</sup>. rest guarded all y<sup>e</sup>. streets & lanes about it; forbidding wood, wat<sup>r</sup>. & all mann<sup>r</sup>. of provisions from comeing in; abusing & beating o<sup>r</sup>. minist<sup>r</sup>. who accidently being abroad was comeing in, afterwards he sent for all o<sup>r</sup>. small armes & o<sup>r</sup>. trumpett w<sup>ch</sup> were sent him, & to all this force wee shewed not y<sup>e</sup>. least returne of violence, but suffered all patiently treating y<sup>e</sup>. Command<sup>r</sup>. of y<sup>e</sup>. soldery wth much civillity." (Vol. I. p. 61.) The Governor, we are informed, growing ashamed of his conduct, after a lapse of a few hours withdrew the soldiers and "returned all y<sup>e</sup>. armes and y<sup>e</sup>. trumpet." "Y<sup>e</sup>. next morning y<sup>e</sup>. Pr<sup>r</sup>. sent Mr. Gray wth y<sup>e</sup>. rest of y<sup>e</sup>. Councell to y<sup>e</sup>. Shabund<sup>r</sup>. & y<sup>e</sup>. eminent merch<sup>ts</sup> of y<sup>e</sup>. towne to declare to them y<sup>e</sup>. force w<sup>ch</sup> was put upon us; shewing y<sup>e</sup>. lett<sup>r</sup>. w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup>. Pr<sup>r</sup>. writt y<sup>e</sup>. Gov<sup>r</sup>. & wthall gave y<sup>m</sup> to understand y<sup>t</sup>. as wee were in noe fault, so if any evil did ensue thereupon they must not blame us. The merch<sup>ts</sup> did all beare wittness of o<sup>r</sup>. innocence & cryed shame of y<sup>e</sup>. Gov<sup>rs</sup> injustice; since w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup>. Gov<sup>r</sup>. seemes sorry for w<sup>t</sup>. is past, though he is outwardly civill, yet he will not hear of y<sup>e</sup>. Pr<sup>rs</sup> goeing downe." (Vol. I. p. 61.) Instructions were sent from Surat "for the tryall of those notorious mutiners y<sup>t</sup>. tore y<sup>e</sup>. Proclamation & opposed y<sup>e</sup>. execution of Justice on y<sup>e</sup>. wench you caused to be shaved and sett on an ass, lett a Jury be empannelled, whom if they finde guilty of mutiny lett them be sentenced, condemned, & executed according to y<sup>e</sup>. 3<sup>d</sup>. article of y<sup>e</sup>. Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>. lawes for y<sup>e</sup>. preservation of y<sup>e</sup>. peace & suppressing of mutiny, sedition and rebellion." (Vol. I. p. 64.) In May, 1672, Gerald Aungier succeeded in leaving Surat and after a stormy voyage reached Bombay on the 7th of June. In a letter dated the 21st June we read—"Wee then began to dispaire of yo<sup>r</sup>. safety; but it pleased God to comfort us; y<sup>e</sup>. next day being Sunday, as wee satt at dinner, wee rec<sup>d</sup>. his Hon<sup>rs</sup> lett<sup>r</sup>. to o<sup>r</sup>. infinite contentm<sup>t</sup>. wth y<sup>e</sup>. comfortable newes of his safe arrivall on y<sup>e</sup>. Island y<sup>e</sup>. 7th curr<sup>t</sup>. After such eminent & great dangers as he encountred, for w<sup>ch</sup> wee rend<sup>r</sup>. thanks to Almighty God, and as in such cases wee ought to signifie also to y<sup>e</sup>. world o<sup>r</sup>. gladness, the next day the whole family remembered so great a blessing at Mirza Mosums garden." (Vol. I. p. 67.)

The unsettled state of the Government compelled Gerald Aungier to reside at Bombay for three years. John Fryer, M.D. Cantabrig, who was in Bombay in 1673, tells us that "these three years he has regulated affairs with that prudence, that whereas he found a disaffected and incongruous Council, he has now knit them into a bond of at least seeming friendship; and does daily study to advance the Company's interest and the good safety of the people under him." Fryer describes the town as a full mile in length: "the houses are low, and thatched with oleas of the socoe-trees, all but a few the Portugals left, and some few the Company have built, the cotton-house and ware-houses are tiled or plastered, and instead of glass, use panes of oister-shells for their windows (which as they are cut in squares and polished, look gracefully enough). There is also a reasonable handsome Buzzar." The Governor of Bombay even at that early date kept considerable state, for Fryer informs us—"The President has a large Commission and is Vice-Regis; he has a Council here also, and a guard when he walks or rides abroad, accompanied with a party of horse, which are constantly kept in the stables, either for pleasure or service. He has his chaplains, physician, chyrurgeons, and domesticks; his linguist, and mint-master: at meals he has his trumpets usher in his courses, and soft musick at the table; if he move out of his chamber, the silver staves wait on him; if down stairs, they guard him. If he go abroad, the Bandarines and Moors under two standards march before him: he goes sometimes in his coach, drawn by large milk-white oxen, sometimes on horseback, other times in Palenkeens, carried by Cohors, Musslemen porters: always having a Sumbrero of state carried over him: and those of the English inferior to him, have a suitable train."

Aungier during his stay at Bombay improved the fortifications of the place and laid out the town. He also quelled a formidable mutiny and organized the administration. On the 16th July 1674 he made his famous convention, now printed for the first time, with the inhabitants of the island (Appendix C). From this document we learn "that the people thought fit of their own free motion, by mutual assent, in a public declaration and manifesto to propose to the Governor in Council that they would pay a yearly contribution or compensation of twenty thousand Xeraphins per annum to the Honourable Company including the present quit-rent or Foros, provided that the present possessors of their respective lands and estates may be confirmed and established in their possessions and thereby be secure from all doubts & scruples that may arise thereafter; and that the lands generally seized may be restored to the pretenders thereunto." "On this the Governor and Council did think good to appoint a general assembly of the chief representatives of the said people to be held at the Castle of Bombay." On the 4th October 1673 the representatives of the people presented the Governor and Council a paper containing twelve articles, but as a debate arose concerning them, "it pleased the said Governor & Council to appoint a General Assembly, whereunto all the people in general interested in the affair were invited to appear." The General Assembly met at Bombay Castle on the 1st November, where the said declaration and articles presented by the people were publicly read and the convention was signed by "one hundred and twenty of the eminents of the Povo (or parishioners) on behalf of the whole Povo of the isle. On the following July Gerald Aungier caused another General Assembly to be held in Bombay Castle.

"Whereas the Governor and Council have been given to understand that several inhabitants of the Isle did give out divers words tending to the dishonor and discredit of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company's Government on this Isle, saying that the above contract made between the Governor or Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company and the Povo was unjust and aforesaid contract, whereupon the Governor summoned all the Povo to meet at a General Assembly in Bombay Castle this day, where being assembled accordingly, the Governor declared the cause of their assembly here this day desiring them to declare their minds freely without the least apprehension of fear concerning their sense of the said contract and whether they owned those exclamations against it, declaring further that they were at their own liberty whether it should be disannulled and made void or be confirmed, whereupon the Povo in general said they never exclaimed against the said contract but were thoroughly satisfied therewith and with the justice thereof, it being an affair of their own request and seeking after, and desired that the Governor and Council would be pleased to ratify and confirm the said contract unto them, which was unanimously on both sides agreed on, and signed and confirmed by both parties in Bombay Castle the 16th July 1674. 26, Caroli Secundi, Regis Angliæ, &c.”

In September 1675, Aungier returned to Surat. In December we find him writing—“As to y<sup>e</sup> Judges salary, having respect as well to o<sup>r</sup> M<sup>rs</sup> orders as also to his present condition & y<sup>e</sup> quality of y<sup>e</sup> employ<sup>mt</sup>, wee have ordered y<sup>t</sup> his salary be 120 pound, to be paid him quarterly, and to begin from his entrance into office, and y<sup>t</sup> he be allowed a horse or pallankeen with a Sumbrera boy, as also a gowne yearly at y<sup>e</sup> Com<sup>as</sup> charge, & he is req<sup>red</sup> to keepe an exact acco<sup>t</sup> of all monys rec<sup>d</sup> and fines, and having thereout discharged w<sup>t</sup> is layed out for y<sup>e</sup> sessions dinners, officers fees and public expences, y<sup>e</sup> remaind<sup>r</sup> he is to pay into y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Com<sup>as</sup> cash.” (Vol. I. p. 73.) The Presidents also laments “y<sup>e</sup> frequent mortality of o<sup>r</sup> countrymen and doe with you impute it to their grosse and scandalous irregularitys in their sickness, w<sup>ch</sup> we judge would be much prevented if we had an Hospitall, wherefore wee have determind God willing to erect soe necessary a building wth all speed without attending further order from England, and wee doe hereby desire you to prepare materials w<sup>thout</sup> further delay on y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> charge, or if you want wee will supply you from hence.” The new hospital proved a success, for in a letter from Bombay written next year, we read—“Our soldiers, thanks be to God, continue very healthfull, for whereas last yeare from October to Febr<sup>y</sup> there died above 100 men, this yeare wee have not lost 15, most of w<sup>ch</sup> of imposthumation in y<sup>e</sup> liver much of w<sup>ch</sup> benefit we must attribute to o<sup>r</sup> new hospitall, wee having taken y<sup>e</sup> old Court of Judicature for y<sup>t</sup> use, it being a thing so highly necessary, for the souldiers doe not die by any such fatality concomitant to y<sup>e</sup> clime as some vainly imagine, but by their irregularitty & want of due attendance when sick. For to persons in a flux & . . . w<sup>ch</sup> is y<sup>e</sup> country diseases, strong drink & flesh is mortall, w<sup>ch</sup> to make an English souldier leave off is almost as difficult as to make him divest his nature, nay though present death be laid down before him as the reward of y<sup>e</sup> ill gratifying his palate. This is the true cause our Bombay bills of mortallity have swelled so high, whereas in y<sup>e</sup> Hospitall nothing can come in or out w<sup>thout</sup> passing y<sup>e</sup> Doctours eyes, y<sup>t</sup> wee have great confidence this Hospitall will save yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> some hundred pounds yearly w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> transport of soulders exacts.” (Vol. I. p. 120.) Though a Judge was appointed, the administration of justice in the island of Bombay continued to cause considerable anxiety to the President at Surat, for in a letter dated 8th February, 1675-76, we find—“And as wee desire that justice may be don soe we would have you take care y<sup>t</sup> vexatious suites, and contrivances layed by common Barristors* to disturb y<sup>e</sup> quiet of * Barrator or Barretor, Lat. barractator, Fr. barrateur. A common mover of suits and quarrels, either in courts, or elsewhere in the country, that is himself never quiet, but at variance with one or other. Lambard derives the word barretor from the Lat. balatro, a vile knave : but the proper derivation is from the Fr. barrateur, i. e. a deceiver, and this agrees with the description of common barretor in Lord Coke's Reports, viz. that he is a common mover and maintainer of suits in disturbance of the peace, and in taking and detaining the possession of houses or lands, or goods by false inventions, etc. 8 Rep. 37.

good people, may be discouraged and prevented. And let y<sup>e</sup> Judge know from us that wee expect he maintaine the gravity, integrity, & authority of his office; and that he doth not bring a disrepute on the Court of Bombay by lightness, partiality, self-seeking, or countenancing common Barristors, in w<sup>ch</sup> sort of vermine they say Bombay is very unhappy." (Vol. I. p. 81.)

In March 1675 "a large Mallabar vessell bound from some porte on y<sup>e</sup> Coast to Broach off Diu encountred with a Portugues vessell who would have made prize of her. She resolutely resisted and fought them four dayes together. At length finding them too powerfull for her, she was forced to disburthen herselfe of some part of her lading, and came into Bombay under the Command of the ffort, the Portugues vessell persuing her as far as Caranjah, where he went in his boat to Bombay and from thence took a handole and went to Bassein, acquainting the Cap<sup>t</sup>. Generall of all that had passed, who immediately in a hot passionate humour raises 500 or 600 men (and orders the raising more) and comes as farr as Bandora, sends word to y<sup>e</sup> Dep<sup>tie</sup> Governour that the Mallabarr vessell was their prize and requires her speedy delivery or he would invade the Island, to w<sup>ch</sup> the Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup>. replied that it was contrary to all law and justice, and that he could not answeare it to his Superiours if he should deliver her up, and as to invading the Island they should make such convenient provision to withstand him, as they judged most necessary, let him come when he would, and since it is reported he is returned very calmly without atchieving any thing but reproach, and shame, being mightely dispised by the Portugalls in general for his rashness." (Vol. I. p. 84-85). Gerald Aungier would himself have returned to Bombay at this crisis but was prevented owing to "this Gov<sup>r</sup>s jealousyes". However, he had no great dread of the Portuguese, for he writes, "Though they barke frequently, yett we know they dare not bite, wee little concerne o<sup>r</sup> selves for anything they dare doe, and wish they would begin to quarrell". The Portuguese did not begin the quarrel, and for two years longer Gerald Aungier conducted the Government of Bombay and Surat with great skill and judgment. In a letter dated Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 30th June 1677, we read—"It hath pleased God to our great sorrow after a tedious sickness to take out of this life o<sup>r</sup> worthy Presid<sup>t</sup>. Gerald Aungier, who dec<sup>d</sup>. this morning between four and five of y<sup>e</sup> clock, of w<sup>ch</sup> wee thought good to give you this timely notice, y<sup>t</sup> you might prevent all innovations or disturbances upon y<sup>e</sup> island." The Bombay Council in acknowledging the receipt of this sad intelligence remark—"Wee cannot rightly expres y<sup>e</sup> reallity of our grief wee conceived at y<sup>e</sup> perusall of y<sup>e</sup> deplorable news of the death of our late noble Presid<sup>t</sup>. Multiplicity of words may multiply y<sup>e</sup> sence of our loss, but cannot depaint its greatness & y<sup>e</sup> knowledge wee have of y<sup>e</sup> true worth and integrity of his successor, & it shall be our continuall prayers for a blessing on your great affairs." (Vol. I. p. 133).

After staying a short time at Bombay, John Fryer, M.D. Cantabrig, proceeded to Surat, and he has given us a glimpse of the social life of the Factory and how the public business was conducted. "The President," he writes, "has spacious lodgings, noble rooms for counsel and entertainment, pleasant tanks, yards, and an hummum to wash in; but no gardens in the city, or very few, though without they have many, like wildernesses, overspread with trees. The English had a neat one, but Seva Gi's coming, destroyed it: it is known, as the other factories are, by their several flags flying. Here they live (in shipping-time) in a continual hurly-burly, the Banyans presenting themselves from the hour of ten till noon; and then afternoon at four till night, as if it were an exchange in every row; below stairs, the packers and warehouse-keepers together with merchants bringing and receiving musters, make a meer Billingsgate; for if you make not a noise, they hardly think you intent of what you are doing. Among the English, the business is distributed into four offices; the Accomptant, who is next in dignity to the President, the general accompts of all India, as well as this place, passing through his hands; he is Quasi Treasurer, signing all things, though the Broker keeps the cash. Next him is the Warehouse-keeper, who registers all Europe goods vended, and receives all Eastern commodities bought; under him is the Purser Marine, who gives account of all goods exported and imported, pays seamen their wages, provides waggons and porters, looks after tackling for ships, and ships stores. Last of all is the Secretary, who models all consultations, writes all letters, carries them to the President and Council to be perused and signed; keeps the Company's seal, which is affixed to all passes and commissions; records all transactions, and sends copies of them to the Company; though none of these, without the President's approbation, can act or do any thing. The affairs of India are solely under his regulation; from him issue out all orders, by him all preferment is disposed; by which means the Council are biassed by his arbitrament. The whole mass of the Company's servants may be comprehended in these classes, viz., Merchants, Factors, and Writers; some blewcoat boys also have been entertained under notion of apprentices for seven years, which being expired, if they can get security, they are capable of employments. The writers are obliged to serve five years for £10 per annum giving in bond of £500 for good behaviour, all which time they serve under some of the forementioned offices: after which they commence Factors, and rise to preferment and trust, according to seniority or favour, and therefore have a £1,000 bond exacted from them, and have their salary augmented to £20 per annum for three years, then entering into new indentures, are made Senior Factors; and lastly, Merchants after three years more; out of whom are chose Chiefs of Factories, as places fall, and are allowed £40 per annum during their stay in the Company's service, besides lodgings and victuals at the Company's charges.

These in their several seigniories behave themselves after the fundamentals of Surat, and in their respective factories live in the like grandeur; from whence they rise successively to be of the Council in Surat, which is the great Council; and if the President do not contradict, are sworn, and take their place accordingly, which consists of about five in number, besides the President, to be constantly Resident. As for the Presidency, though the Company interpose a deserving man, yet they keep that power to themselves, none assuming that dignity till confirmed by them: his salary from the Company is £500 a year; half paid here, the other half reserved to be received at home, in case of misdemeanor to make satisfaction; beside a bond of £5,000 sterling of good securities. The Accountant has £72 per annum, fifty pound paid here, the other at home: all the rest are half paid here, half at home, except the writers, who have all paid here. Out of the Council are elected the Deputy-Governor of Bombaim and Agent of Persia; the first a place of great trust, the other of profit; though, by the appointment from the Company, the second of India claims Bombaim, and the Secretary of Surat the Agency of Persia, which is connived at, and made subject to the will of the President, by the interest of those whose lot they are; chusing rather to reside here, where consignments compensate those emoluments; so that none of the Council, if noted in England, but makes considerably by his place, after the rate of five in the hundred, commission; and this is the Jacob's ladder by which they ascend. It would be too mean to descend to indirect ways, which are chiefly managed by the Banyans, the fittest tools for any deceitful undertaking; out of whom are made Broakers for the Company, and private persons, who are allowed two per cent. on all bargains, besides what they squeeze secretly out of the price of things bought; which cannot be well understood for want of knowledge in their language; which ignorance is safer, than to hazard being poisoned for prying too nearly into their actions: though the Company, to encourage young men in their service, maintain a master to learn them to write and read the language, and an annuity to be annexed when they gain a perfection therein, which few attempt, and fewer attain. To this factory belongs twenty persons in number, reckoning Swally Marine into the account; a Minister for Divine Service, a Chirurgion, and when the President is here, a guard of English soldiers, consisting of a double file led by a Serjeant. The present Deputy has only forty Moor-men, and a Flagman carrying St<sup>t</sup> George his colours swallow-tailed in silk, fastened to a silver partisan; with a small attendance of horse with silver bridles, and furniture for the gentlemen of the house, and coaches for ladies and Council. The President besides these has a noise of trumpets, and is carried himself in a Palenkeen, an horse of state led before him, a Mirchal (a fan of ostriches feathers) to keep off the sun, as the ombraks or great men have, none but the Emperor have a Sumbrero among the Moguls: besides these, every one according to his quality has his menial servants to wait on him in his chamber, and follow him out."

On the death of Gerald Aungier the administration of the Presidency devolved on Mr. Rolt, the Agent at Gombroon, and the Government of Bombay on Mr. Henry Oxinden. The Home authorities now determined on a considerable reduction in the expenditure. It was decided in case of the death of the President or his departure for Europe that his successor should have the title of Agent and that the salary of the post should be reduced to £300 per annum. The salary of the Second in Council was reduced to £80 per annum and the emoluments of the remaining members of the establishments proportionally diminished. The pay of the Deputy Governor of Bombay was lowered to £120 per annum as the strength of the military establishment was reduced to two lieutenants, two ensigns, four sergeants, four corporals and one hundred and eighty privates. All further improvement in the fortifications was stopped and only two gunners and four matrissees allowed for the batteries. All the armed ships were sold except one small frigate and a few boats to defend the fishery. The Bombay Government also stated that they did not "see y<sup>e</sup> absolute necessity of allowing 120 pounds to a Judge, not that wee would have y<sup>e</sup> Island destitute of a person invested wth authority to determine y<sup>e</sup> weightiest causes, but y<sup>e</sup> very name sounds too great for y<sup>e</sup> place. It looks like y<sup>e</sup> great Gate of litle Pendus that made Diogenes affraid y<sup>e</sup> citty would runn out at them. Those who come to these parts are commonly mean persons or young men but very little skill'd in our law, and y<sup>e</sup> name of a Judge does fill y<sup>m</sup> with such a pride that they loose y<sup>r</sup> reason in y<sup>e</sup> contemplation of their greatness and think no man y<sup>r</sup> superiour, scarcely y<sup>r</sup> equal; and if he, that is y<sup>e</sup> principal Justice, be invested by y<sup>e</sup> same power and act by a full Commission, why is it not y<sup>e</sup> same thing." (Vol. I. p. 140.)

Two years after the reductions had been made in the military and naval establishments, the island of Kenery was occupied by the troops of Shiváji, and the Deputy Governor had neither the ships nor the men to compel them to retire. This event was followed by the seizure of the island of Henery by the Sidi. The Home authorities on hearing of the seizure of these islands resolved, that, if they could not be recovered by negotiation, no attempt was to be made to recover them by force. But for the greater security of Bombay Captain Keigwin was sent out in command of a reinforcement of seventy English soldiers and eighteen pieces of small ordnance. He was ordered to assume the command of the whole military force and militia of the island, and for this responsible command his pay was to be six shillings per day, but no allowance for diet and lodging. A Mr. Smith was also sent as Assay-Master to manage the Mint at a salary of £60 per annum. In 1681 Rolt the Governor died, and two years later an altercation having taken place between Keigwin and the Deputy Governor on the subject of military retrenchment the former raised the standard of rebellion. On the 27th December 1683, Captain Keigwin assembled the troops and militia and proclaimed the Island of Bombay to be immediately under the government of the King. He seized and confined Ward the Deputy Governor and such members of Council as adhered to him. He also took possession of the Company's ship "Return" and the "Hunter" frigate. Keigwin then addressed letters to the King and the Duke of York expressing his determination to maintain the Island for the King till His Majesty's pleasure should be known. The King on hearing the news of the revolt at Bombay sent a mandate under his sign manual to Keigwin requiring him to deliver up the island. On the 19th November 1684 Keigwin on promise of pardon handed over the island to Admiral Sir Thomas Grantham. During the time he ruled Bombay he proved himself to be a man of considerable administrative capacity. When the revolt was quelled Sir John Childe became Governor with John Vause as Deputy Governor, and after ruling for five years he was succeeded by Sir John Wyborne. In a letter dated Bombay, "August y<sup>e</sup> 13th 1686," we read "that wee deferred y<sup>e</sup> giving possession to S<sup>r</sup> John Wyborne some few days was rather y<sup>e</sup> better to p<sup>r</sup>forme, then in opposition to yo<sup>r</sup> orders, for wee rec<sup>d</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> Ex<sup>cy</sup>s &<sup>ca</sup> letter y<sup>e</sup> 18th June (being Ffryday). Wee had not time to doe it wth y<sup>e</sup> decency sutable to one of his quallity till y<sup>e</sup> ffollowing week, and soe soone y<sup>e</sup> R<sup>t</sup> Honob<sup>le</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> estate could not be examined, wthout w<sup>ch</sup> he could not rec<sup>e</sup> y<sup>e</sup> charge nor give a discharge to y<sup>e</sup> late Dep<sup>t</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup>; besides noe such oath to be found, and he is unwilling to take one of o<sup>r</sup> fframing, for w<sup>ch</sup> reasons and y<sup>e</sup> all matters might be settled in a more ample mann<sup>r</sup>, it was unanimously agreed by y<sup>e</sup> approbation of S<sup>r</sup> John Wyborne y<sup>t</sup> it would be more advantagious to putt it off till y<sup>e</sup> 30th June, not imagining wee had been stinted to soe short a time since o<sup>r</sup> predecesso<sup>rs</sup> have taken much longer." (Vol. I. p. 142). On the 30th August Wyborne wrote to Surat and informed them "of y<sup>e</sup> arrivall of a French man of war." Y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> sayes that all things are in peace and quietness in Europe amongst y<sup>e</sup> Christians, and that our King is a fitting of shippes of warr to sea, and y<sup>e</sup> French King is a doing y<sup>e</sup> like. He likewise says that he was in England not many days before he came on this voyage and at our Kings Court at Whitehall where he observed these alterations. Lord Keeper North removed from y<sup>e</sup> seale and L<sup>d</sup> Chief Justice Jeffery made L<sup>d</sup> Chancellor of England, Lord Marquess Hallifax commanded to his country house and some others placed and displaced."

In a letter to the Right Honorable Company the Bombay Government state that during the year the mortality has been very great "and cheifest reason y<sup>t</sup> can be given is y<sup>e</sup> absolute want of good Europe medicines y<sup>t</sup> should have been yearly sent out fresh. Here has been none from y<sup>r</sup> Honor<sup>es</sup> since y<sup>e</sup> yeare 1682—3, w<sup>ch</sup> puts us to use y<sup>e</sup> country Physick, w<sup>ch</sup> serves only to augment y<sup>e</sup> charge of y<sup>e</sup> garrison and does men more hurt than good." (Vol. I. p. 148). The Bombay Government also state that they consider a dry dock would be of great service. They protest against the order for the reduction of the pay of the soldier and that all should be dismissed who did not acquiesce in the reduction. They write, "if y<sup>e</sup> Right Honourable Comp<sup>as</sup> should but begin wth one private sentinell to casheir him on y<sup>e</sup> account, they would possibly leave but few, but what has allready repented of their coming out, and would be glad of such an occasion to quitt their service, for most part of what now come out are able seamen and will not be yoaked unless it be easier to y<sup>m</sup> y<sup>n</sup> y<sup>e</sup> sea, and considering y<sup>e</sup> circumstances our nation lyes under here in India, not knowing how soon we may be in action for y<sup>e</sup> honour and good of our nation, we humbly offer it as our opinions not at this juncture to effect that, but rather labour und<sup>r</sup> an incouragem<sup>t</sup> y<sup>n</sup> a discouragem<sup>t</sup> to men that must stand by us, and no doubt but will when their pay is encourageing and all they fight for." (Vol. I. p. 155). The last letter written by John Wyborne informs the Council at Surat that there has "happened a business of very ill consequence, y<sup>e</sup> Portuguese Padree of Bombay, by name Ffrea Jn<sup>o</sup> D<sup>e</sup> Gloria, did in his own Parrish church christen or receive into y<sup>e</sup> Romish religion one Nathanaell Thorpe, sone to Lieu<sup>t</sup> Thorpe deceased." (Vol. I. p. 157). He proceeds to inform the Council that the offence "by severall statutes is made high treason," and "this being a weighty thing to be considered and much more to be suffered, have legally apprehended y<sup>e</sup> said Padree and is now in safe custody untill your Ex<sup>cy</sup>s &c<sup>a</sup> further orders about him. We presume your Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> will have y<sup>e</sup> mater stated according to the Cannons of our Church by our Padrees here and remitt y<sup>e</sup> same by this conveniency. The Padree was committed prisoner to y<sup>e</sup> County Goale in y<sup>e</sup> Bazzar by Judg Vaulk on the 11th instant and layd in y<sup>e</sup> room where M<sup>r</sup> Thorburne was, and yesterday by y<sup>e</sup> earnest intercession of y<sup>e</sup> Padree of Mahim and a strange Padree y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Governor M<sup>r</sup> Stanly & M<sup>r</sup> Jessop ordered him to be removed from y<sup>e</sup> Common Goale to his own Parrish Church of Bombay, where he is confined with a guard over him to see that he does not escape nor act in y<sup>e</sup> Church untill your Excellencies pleasure be known what shall be done in this matter." (Vol. I. p. 158).

In 1686 the Court of Directors appointed Sir John Child their President or General at Surat to be the Governor General of all their possessions in the East. He was to proceed for three months to Fort George, and, if necessary, to go to Bengal to consolidate the administration. The seat of Government was also ordered to be transferred, and on the 2nd May 1687 Sir John Child and the Council having quitted Surat arrived at Bombay. In September of the same year, in order that the Government of the Company might assume the rank of an Indian Power, Bombay was elevated to the dignity of a Regency with unlimited sway. A high-sounding title is however of little use unless supported by arms. The year after being elevated to the dignity of a Regency Bombay was attacked by the fleet of the Sidi : the greater part of it was taken, and the Governor besieged in the town and castle. The Sidi army amounted to 25,000 men, while the English force did not muster more than 2,500. J. Ovington, M.A., Chaplain to His Majesty, who visited Bombay in 1689, the year after the siege, informs us that "notwithstanding which odds the English kept them warmly in play, and for all that disadvantage, repuls'd them with such vigour, that for some months they were unable to approach the fort, though they landed not very far from it. The English were buoyed up with a strong opinion of their own valour, and of the Indians pusillanimity, which carried them on to such bold adventures, that they promised themselves victory in the most dubious engagements; and had they not been betray'd by renegades, who discover'd their weakness, and smallness of their numbers, might have hoped to have repelled that numerous host, with that weak force they had to resist them. But the enemy being taught the art of mineing, and sheltering themselves in their trenches and basket-works, (which they learnt from the deserters) came at length so near, that they bombarded our fort with massive stones instead of iron bullets, whilst our shot from thence was scarce able to annoy them, they were so defended by the moulds they cast up. Our fort was well flanked with bastions, having the sea on one side, and encompassed on the other with a broad and deep ditch, and had mounted on all sides very large guns: but the decay of powder and ammunition, which the constant firing had produced, and the Mogal's army close investing of the fort, made it advisable in our General to think on a peace, which was in a little time concluded upon; upon which the Siddy left the Island." On the 4th February 1690 Sir John Child who "was a quick and expert merchant, and totally devoted to his masters service," died and was succeeded as President of Surat and Governor of Bombay by Bartholomew Harris. He was at the time in prison, having been confined with the other factors by the Governor of the town because Child had seized some Moghul vessels. It was not till April 1690 that Harris and the factors were released from prison, and then for more than a year they were closely confined to the factory.

From the imprisonment of the factors dates the decline of English interest in Surat, for the Company now determined to increase their efforts to make themselves an independent power at Bombay. "The Moghul," they wrote, "should see that the English Company were no longer dependent on him for help and countenance in Surat. There were other markets where his power do not reach. Ships laded at Calicut and Karwar should sail from Bombay to Europe, and let the Surat traders see that goods were to be found in other parts of India besides Gujarat." Vause, who had been book-keeper for Sir Josiah Child in England, was appointed Deputy Governor. After he had filled the office for two years, he was suspended from the service and was succeeded by Cook, who died the same season, and Weldon was appointed to the post. Samuel Annesley was made President of Surat. In 1694 Sir John Gayer was appointed Governor of Bombay with the revived title of General. "In Ffeb<sup>y</sup> y<sup>e</sup> 11th, 1695, he wrote to the R<sup>t</sup> Worsp<sup>l</sup> Sam<sup>l</sup> Annesley that three French ships came about Mallabar Point, & at sunset anchored off the point of Old Womans Island, where they yet remaine." Four days afterwards he writes to the President at Surat—"Yesterday about 11 o'clock the three Ffrench ships formerly advised you of that lay att anchor off Old Womans Island weighed and betook themselves to a light pair of heels, haveing, as we are informed by our return boat, sight of the ships that went in quest of them off Dunda Rojapore." The French ships however returned, for March 13th, 1695-96, we read—"Wee have kept the Cossetts till this morning, that we might advise y<sup>e</sup> what more we could concerning the Ffrench, and now we have onely to add that all five are at anchor in the Bay between Old Womans Island and Mallabar Hill." (Vol. I. p. 162).

In September 1695 tidings reached Surat that a pirate whose vessel carried English colours had plundered a ship belonging to one of the principal merchants of the town; and the news so incensed the inhabitants that the Governor had to place a guard in the factory to prevent the inmates from being plundered and massacred. Immediately afterwards news arrived that the same pirate had attacked a vessel belonging to the Emperor and plundered the pilgrims that were on board, and this so enraged the populace that the Governor had to put the President and all the English in irons so as to prevent their being torn to pieces by the inhabitants. Sir John Gayer as General of the Company's affairs at Bombay wrote to the Governor and Emperor and complained that the servants of the Company had been made to suffer from the acts of those who not only did not possess the license of the Company but who acted in direct violation of the laws of England, and who, if taken, would be liable to capital punishment. The memorial to the Governor of Surat and the Emperor had some effect, for an answer came from the Imperial Court that the English, French, and Dutch should put to sea in search of the thieves, but the embargo on all trade must continue till the innocence or guilt of the English Company should be proved.

The imprisonment of their servants transferred the trade of the Company at Surat to their rivals, and at Bombay it was killed by heavy transit duties. In 1697 Sir John Gayer solicited permission to resign on a proper successor being appointed; but protested against Mr. Annesley as having mismanaged the Company's business entrusted to his charge. President Annesley was dismissed under the Court's orders and Mr. Colt appointed President of Surat.

The London East India Company, which had for a century created and preserved the trade between England and India, which had founded factories and surmounted many difficulties, in 1698 found itself brought to the brink of ruin by the establishment of a new Company called the English Company. In January 1700 Sir Nicholas Waite, the English Company's President for Surat, arrived off Bombay, and notified to Sir John Gayer his appointment to be the King's Minister and Consul General for the English nation. On these grounds he demanded compliance with his orders. Sir John Gayer however refused to acknowledge that he had any authority over the servants of the London Company. Sir Nicholas Waite finding he could make no impression on Sir John Gayer and his Council at Bombay sailed for Surat. On reaching that port he notified his Royal Commission of appointment to the President and Council and required them to strike the St. George's or Company's flag, as he bore the Commission of Vice Admiral and would allow no other flag than his own. The President and Council refused to comply with his request. The Governor of Surat also informed Sir Nicholas Waite that the Commission or "Phirmaund" of the King of England was of no authority at Surat unless the Emperor chose to regard it as valid. He also added that the flag of the London Company flew by the permission of the Moghul. Sir Nicholas Waite now tried force and he landed two of the Commanders of the ships with fifty men and ordered them to strike the flag. The Governor on hearing that the flag had been struck issued orders that it should be re-hoisted. Sir Nicholas Waite finding that force did not answer used baser arts to gain his end. By bribery, by suggesting that the old Company were in league with pirates and by hinting that they might any day leave Surat with debts unpaid he undermined its power. Sir John Gayer also committed the blunder of leaving the fortifications of Bombay and going to Surat to counteract the influence of his rival, for when he was there orders arrived from the Imperial Court to seize him. From a Record which has almost crumbled to pieces we learn that the Governor's son "secured S<sup>r</sup> John and his Granaders and then entered y<sup>e</sup> lodge obliged the Lady Gayer out of the bed, carryed her, M<sup>r</sup> Somaster and others to accompany y<sup>e</sup> Generall to Suratt before y<sup>e</sup> 'Tavistocks' people had notice or could come ashore to their rescue, and being brought over the river in an open boat y<sup>e</sup> Lady was putt into a hackery covered wth a cloath and carryed to the Govern<sup>rs</sup>, where wth S<sup>r</sup> John and others were confined to one roome and some hours after the Governour sent for Presid<sup>t</sup> Colt who goeing wth two of his Councill accompanied S<sup>r</sup> John in said prizon, w<sup>ch</sup> tryumphant act as its esteemed of the Meer was wrote that night to the Emp<sup>r</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> noe small dishonour of y<sup>e</sup> old Comp<sup>as</sup> Generall of India." (Vol. I. p.227). In a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 7th Jan<sup>y</sup> 1701-2 we read—"This day y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> doubled his guards about y<sup>e</sup> ffactory & debarred us from all manner of correspondence wth Europeans or Natives, and from all necessarys & conveniences of life, because we would not consent to pay Hosson Ammadan three hundred thousand rupees, for w<sup>ch</sup> sume he is willing to quit his unjust claim for w<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> pyrates robbed him & his ffreighters of in y<sup>e</sup> year 1698." (Vol. I. p. 231).

The Chief and Factors were confined for twelve weary months within the walls of their Factory, but neither threats nor starvation would force them to yield to the unjust demands of the Imperial Court. The following does credit to the English name—"The Gov<sup>r</sup> sent us word y<sup>t</sup> he must obay y<sup>e</sup> Kings orders: w<sup>t</sup> did wee designe to do? Did wee designe to starve ourselves? why did wee not deposite goods & he would write to y<sup>e</sup> King, & wee might do y<sup>e</sup> same & y<sup>e</sup> goods should ley till y<sup>e</sup> Kings orders came abo<sup>t</sup> them. Wee returned answer, wee robbed not Hosson Ammadan nor nobody & would not pay or deposite anything; if y<sup>e</sup> Kings orders are to kill us, let him come & do it quickly, wee w<sup>d</sup> sell our lives as dear as wee could. Our people on board y<sup>e</sup> ships at y<sup>e</sup> rivers mouth and likewise those in y<sup>e</sup> ffactory wee could not longer restrain from attempting something extraordinary for y<sup>e</sup> support of life, therefore he would do well to consider where it would end." (Vol. I. p. 233). A change of Governors put an end to the captivity. In the diary for March 17th, 1702, it is stated—"The Gov<sup>r</sup> having given us assureance of his favour by taking off all our guards but five, and having given us larger promises under his seal mentioned y<sup>e</sup> 14th ins<sup>t</sup> following 13 upon his request, y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>l</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & Council went to give him a visit, at w<sup>ch</sup> meeting he was pleased to give us assureances of his favour; desireing y<sup>t</sup> wee would forget y<sup>e</sup> injuries y<sup>t</sup> had been done us by his predecessors by means of our long & severe imprisonment & y<sup>t</sup> wee would open the Port, w<sup>ch</sup> wee promised to doe. Att our coming away he gave y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>l</sup> a horse & severall peices of silk, and to y<sup>e</sup> Presd<sup>t</sup> & Council y<sup>t</sup> was wth him several pieces of silk likewise." (Vol. I. p. 236).

On the 29th of October 1792 the following declaration was publicly read by "y<sup>e</sup> Sec<sup>y</sup> in y<sup>e</sup> Chappel" after the Minister had concluded his sermon—"Whereas it has pleased Almighty God to call to his mercy our late Sovereign Lord King William y<sup>e</sup> third of blessed memory, by whose decease y<sup>e</sup> Imperial Crowns of England, Scotland, Ffrance & Ireland are solely & rightfully come to y<sup>e</sup> High & Mighty Princess Ann of Denmark, wee the General Presid<sup>t</sup> & Council for affaires of y<sup>e</sup> R<sup>t</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Gov<sup>r</sup> and Com<sup>rs</sup> of Merch<sup>ts</sup> of London trading into y<sup>e</sup> East Indies (as y<sup>e</sup> Lords spirituall & temporall of our Realm, being assisted wth those of his late Majestys Privy Council &c., numbers of other principal gentlemen of quallity wth y<sup>e</sup> Lord Mayor, Aldermen and Citizans of London, have done), do therefore now wth one full voice & consent of tongue and heart, publick and proclaim y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> High & Mighty Princess Ann is now, by y<sup>e</sup> death of our late Sovereign of happy memory, become our only lawfull and rightfull Liege Lady Ann, by y<sup>e</sup> Grace of God Queen of England, Scot<sup>l</sup>, France & Ireland, defender of y<sup>e</sup> ffaith &c<sup>a</sup>, to whom wee do acknowledge all ffaith & constant obedience; wth all hearty & humble affections, beseeching God, by whom Kings and Queens do reign, to bless y<sup>e</sup> Royall Queen Ann wth long and happy years to reign over us," (Vol. I. p. 244).

There were now two English factories at Surat. The President of the factory of the English Company was Sir Nicholas Waite, Kn<sup>t</sup>, Publick Minister and Cons<sup>l</sup> Gen<sup>l</sup>, Will<sup>m</sup> Proby and Jeremy Bonnell were Members of Council: there was also one merchant, the Minister, two Factors, nine Writers, a Surgeon and his mate, a trumpeter and an English cook. In January 1703 the servants of the old Company were Sr<sup>r</sup> John Gayer, Kn<sup>t</sup> Generall, Hon<sup>ble</sup> Stephen Colt, President, Worship<sup>l</sup> Ephraim Bendall, Member of Council, Mr<sup>r</sup> Bernard Wyche, Accompt<sup>t</sup> and Purser Marine, Mr<sup>r</sup> Epiphanius Holland, Chaplain, four senior Factors, five Junior Factors, six Writers and a Doctor. The jealousy and rivalry between the two factories was great. When the army of Shivaji set all the villages and Surat on fire, Sir John Gayer sent to Sir Nicholas Waite and asked him to spare "ten Englishmen for to assist us," but he refused to let them have any men. At this grave crisis the Writers of the English Company's factory declared "their resolution not to stand sentinells or doe further duty the y<sup>e</sup> merch<sup>ts</sup> & ffactors." They were summoned before the President and he severely reprimanded them. Two who persisted in their refusal were "discharged the Comp<sup>as</sup> service and immediately expelled the ffactory, w<sup>ch</sup> example induced y<sup>e</sup> rest of y<sup>e</sup>. Writers begging pardon, offering a punctual compliance wth such orders as shall from time to time be given them for y<sup>e</sup> defence & security of the ffactory." The second attack of the Maráthas on Surat does not seem to have been so successful as the first, for we read—"The Sevajee being disappointed of his hopes of plundering & destroying y<sup>e</sup> city by y<sup>e</sup> continuall ffiring of y<sup>e</sup> great guns from y<sup>e</sup> walls night & day, & some of his principall officers being killed and severall of his spys taken, began to wthdraw his army, plundering, burning and destroying all townes and villages round y<sup>e</sup> same." (Vol. I. p. 252).

In 1700 the English Company proposed that the two Companies should be united, but the London Company refused the offer. However, two years later, the two Companies agreed to amalgamate, and they wrote to their servants that their mutual disputes should cease, but Sir Nicholas Waite was not the man to allow disputes to fall under the shadow of oblivion. In June 1703 news reached Surat of the amalgamation, but because the papers first reached Sir John Gayer he refused to acknowledge their validity. At this time the factors were in rigorous confinement and suffering great hardships, for we read—"Sep<sup>r</sup>. 8th, 1703. Our guards continuing their severity towards us in so barbarous a manner that wee could in no wise persuade y<sup>m</sup> to lett us have y<sup>e</sup> least mouthfull of refreshm<sup>t</sup>, our provisions being almost spent & our men begining to fall sick & not able to eat w<sup>t</sup> wee had, by reason wee were forced to make use of saltpetre to preserve y<sup>e</sup> . . . . . instead of salt, it was resolved to fling over y<sup>e</sup> following letter to y<sup>e</sup> chief of y<sup>e</sup> guard for him to carry it to y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup>." (Vol. I. p. 260). The letter reminded the Governor that "y<sup>e</sup> old Comp<sup>a</sup> settled their ffactory in this city by virtue of y<sup>e</sup> Emp<sup>rs</sup> Phym<sup>d</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> granted that their serv<sup>ts</sup> sho<sup>d</sup> carry on their trade without being molested, notwithstanding w<sup>ch</sup> though wee have done no manner of wrong or injury to any of y<sup>e</sup> subjects of y<sup>e</sup> Emp<sup>r</sup> or any other person w<sup>t</sup>soever, your guards have surrounded our ffactory to prevent us being supplied wth w<sup>t</sup>soever is necessary for y<sup>e</sup> support of life, so y<sup>t</sup> wee, our women and children must inevitably perish except you are pleased to relax your orders. Therefore wee desire that you will take y<sup>e</sup> premises into your consideration & order y<sup>t</sup> wee may be allowed victuals, y<sup>e</sup> use of our serv<sup>ts</sup>, & such other necessarys as wee want for our support; for y<sup>t</sup> wee have no designe to injure any one or to desert y<sup>e</sup> ffactory, as it may be falsely suggested to you, as it is, that Abdull Goffores ship is taken by one y<sup>t</sup> came out from Bombay, w<sup>ch</sup> falsehood may soon be proved if letters were wrote to any Moormen inhabiting there, or to y<sup>e</sup> Portuguess near that place." (Vol. I. p. 260).

The Factors of the old Company were greatly hurt that Sir Nicholas Waite should hoist the English flag upon his house, "notwithstanding y<sup>e</sup> miserable circumstances y<sup>e</sup> Dutch & wee ley under, w<sup>ch</sup> was an addition to our misery to see y<sup>e</sup> Union fflagg fly so near us without any hopes of assistance from those that presume to wear it." (Vol. I. p. 261). On the 20th December 1703 Sir John Gayer and his party were delighted to hear "y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> King had displaced this Govern<sup>r</sup> for his mismanagem<sup>t</sup> and spoiling the trade of the Port, and that there was a new Govern<sup>r</sup> upon the road coming to succeed him, wee sent Moandass Durbarr to meet him with a complimentary letter, and he found opertunity to make known our greivance to him." (Vol. I. p. 263). One of the first acts of the new Governor was to send and demand from the English Company "our best State horse, w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> President att first refused, being dead stock could neither sell or present him, upon w<sup>ch</sup> the broker declared if he should be denied such a favour at this criticall juncture might cassually occasion such a resentment, now matters seem to be at a crisis accomodateing these late troubles wth the inhabitants as well as Europeans, as might bee very prejudiciall to the Companys affaires, w<sup>ch</sup> the President in conjunction wth the Councill takeing seriously into consideration, was accordingly sent this evening." (Vol. I. p. 265). In the instructions sent to Surat after the amalgamation it was stated that Sir John Gayer was to be General and Governor of Bombay and Sir Nicholas Waite President at Surat, but it was provided that, should Sir John Gayer be a prisoner when the instructions arrived, Sir Nicholas Waite should be provisionally General. The Governor of Surat now naturally became anxious to know which of them was the real representative of the English nation and chief officer of the United Company. Sir John Gayer wished to send an agent from each Company to explain the real state of affairs, but Sir Nicholas Waite refused to entertain the proposal. He sent his own broker Rustom to the Governor to tell "him y<sup>t</sup> all the old Comp<sup>as</sup> servants were turned out; y<sup>t</sup> S<sup>r</sup>. Nicholas Waite was made Chief. That the ship arrived at Bombay was consigned to him, as that y<sup>e</sup> old Company had given the Queen of England one or two lack of rup<sup>s</sup>. to make their peace." Rustom also told the Governor that "he must secure S<sup>r</sup>. John Gayer and the old Companys servants to be answerable for the security paper and the many lacks of rup<sup>s</sup>. the towne merchants had been robbed off by the pyratts, and all demands or debts y<sup>t</sup>. any people may make upon the old Companys factory, he must make y<sup>m</sup>. give satisfac<sup>n</sup>., for his master would not be answerable for any thing." (Vol. I. p. 267). Next day a Factor of the old Company and their Broker were sent to the Governor's house to answer such questions as might be put to them relating to the settlement of the United Trade. There they found the representatives of the English Company, Mess<sup>rs</sup>. Bonnell and Crowe. The Dewan asked, "Who was Presid<sup>t</sup>. of Suratt then? Answered S<sup>r</sup>. Nich<sup>s</sup>. Waite. M<sup>r</sup>. Bonnell in Portuguese bid Rustom tell the Dewan S<sup>r</sup>. John Gayer was Generall, but it was but for 3 months, and if he did not cleare all the demands that was upon the old Company in that time S<sup>r</sup>. Nich<sup>s</sup>. Waite was Generall, and must go downe to Bombay. W<sup>m</sup>. Mildmay was asked if that was true. He answered that if it pleased God S<sup>r</sup>. John should dye or any unforeseen accident should happen to him in that time so that he could not go to Bombay, then S<sup>r</sup>. Nich<sup>s</sup>. Waite was Gen<sup>l</sup>.; but as to clearing all the old Comp<sup>as</sup>. acco<sup>ts</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>. before he went there was no occasion, for there would be those of the old Companys servants left that would take care to pay what any one co<sup>d</sup>. justly demand of them." (Vol. I. p. 267-268). The representative of the English Company now "pul'd out of his pocket the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Eng<sup>s</sup>. Companys seal, and laid it before all the company, and asked if W<sup>m</sup>. Mildmay could deny that to be the Companys seal, and whether y<sup>e</sup>. letters y<sup>t</sup>. now came was not sealed with it." William Mildmay said "he could not denie but that it was, and the letters were sealed with it, as by agreem<sup>t</sup>. between the two Comp<sup>as</sup> in England when they united. Then M<sup>r</sup>. Bonnell opened the Indenture of Union in a page turned downe, clapt his hand upon it, and asked if we could deny the old Comp<sup>as</sup>. being turned out and the trade brought under the management of the new, wth that and the seal testified. W<sup>m</sup>. Mildmay said he did not deny any thing contained in those writeings, neither had he any orders to answer to such questions, and asked the gentlemen the reason of their bringing these things upon the stage. At this time wee had been sufficiently deprest already, had they a mind to bury us quite underground. They were then all carryed before y<sup>e</sup>. Govern<sup>r</sup>." (Vol. I. p. 268). On hearing what had taken place at Surat, Mr. Burniston the Deputy Governor of Bombay, and Harland, Commodore of the men-of-war, declared to the Governor of Surat that Sir John Gayer was in fact the General of the United Company in India, and demanded his release. The Governor afraid that the men-of-war might act on the offensive, insisted on a bond from Sir Nicholas Waite that he would immediately proceed to Bombay and in the event of any Surat ships being taken he would deliver them up. Sir Nicholas

Waite asked the Commodore for a passage, but he was so indignant at his conduct that he refused the request. Sir Nicholas Waite was therefore obliged to go to Bassein and from thence proceeded in a country boat to Bombay (1704). He described it as "this beggarly, ruined but fertile island." He also implored the Court to have his "sonn to be settled in y<sup>e</sup>. Bay rather y<sup>a</sup> in this place of mortallity wthout shiping or as yet trade."* There were then on the island but eight Covenanted Civilians including Members of Council, two persons more who could write and two youths taken from the ships. The army consisted of six commissioned officers and not quite forty English soldiers. Civilians and soldiers all were suffering from illness. "It will be morally impossible," writes one of them, "to continue much longer from going under ground, if we have not a large assistance out before October." For three years Waite ruled the "very unhealthfull island," when his services were discontinued and the Company acknowledged the zeal that he had shown for their interest and thanked him for his services. It has been stated that Waite was dismissed, but the following extract from fragments of a letter which has crumbled to pieces shows that he resigned the Governorship of Bombay. After solemnly protesting that he left Surat the poorest President, he adds, "and I have not gott twelve hundred pounds in near three years under these clouded circumstances upon this island, besides sallary not yett rec<sup>d</sup>, not but that I very well understand the traditional methods of accumulating suitable to the consciences of each person, for w<sup>ch</sup> I never will incur the curse of heaven upon myselfe or posterity. I humbly intreat, whenever it may suit wth your interest, and avoid further heals betwixt you and the old Company, please to appoint a successor, who if not a compleat merchant, not overhasty to be rich, and something acquainted wth the laws of England and Europe, and not altogether ignorant of agriculture, but see and hear wth other mens eyes & ears will never answer the end of your great charge to settle this island, I hope you'l doe me the hon<sup>r</sup>. admitting me going off Gov<sup>r</sup>, or the old Company will have their end, as has bin asserted to disgrace me in India, will lay a perpetuall obligation, w<sup>ch</sup> upon all occasions shall be greatfully acknowledged."

Five years after Waite left Surat the English, no longer able to endure the annoyances and exactions which they had to endure at the hands of the Governor of the city, withdrew from the town and their factories was closed for three years. In 1715 an embassy was sent from Calcutta to the Emperor at Delhi and it was accompanied by a medical gentleman of the name of Hamilton. The Emperor, who was suffering from a disorder, was advised to make trial of his skill and a cure was the speedy consequence. The Emperor commanded his benefactor to name his own reward: and the generous Hamilton solicited privileges for the Company. The Emperor not only gave the embassy the privileges they required for Bengal, but also granted them a new Firman for the factors at Surat. By this charter all duties on the Company's imported goods were commuted for an annual tribute of ten thousand rupees. Forty acres of land were granted them wherever they might choose to establish a factory and all vessels wrecked on the coast were ordered to be protected from plunder and exorbitant demands for salvage. On the receipt of this charter the English returned to their factory (1716) and enjoyed quiet for a few years when the old game of extortion was again begun and continued for many years. In 1733 the Governor ill-treated some of the English dependants of the factory, and, as no redress could be obtained, the English Chief and his friends left Surat and remained on board their ships at the mouth of the river. They established a blockade of the port which caused the price of provisions to rise, and so great became the discontent of the city that the Governor was forced to yield to all the demands of the English. In 1735 the guards were removed from the English factory and the native merchants and brokers were told that they were again free to trade with the English. The trade of the factory again became prosperous. In 1741 the factors wrote—"Our business goes on without impediment, & we will not be otherwise as we shall only confine ourselves to our own sphere, & not the least interfere with any transactions to Government, further than supporting your Honours privileges when called in question." But in Surat, as in all parts of India, the English found it impossible to confine themselves to their own sphere. In 1748 they had to take part in the faction fights that took place between the supporters of the different claimants for the Governorship of the city. (Vol. I. p. 283). Three years after this skirmish the Sidhi sent some cruisers to Surat to recover the subsidy paid him annually for the protection of the Moghul fleet and which the Surat Government had allowed to fall into arrears. The Commander of the fleet, Sidhi Masud, while at Surat found an opportunity of seizing the Castle. The Sidhi and the Dutch now united in recalling Safdar Khan the Governor, whom the English had aided in expelling and in ousting Mia Atchand their protégé. The English now entered into a treaty with the Marathas for dividing the government of the city between them. They were to attack it from the river, while a force of Marathas under Raghunathrav was to attack it on the land side. The plan broke down utterly. The Maratha army on account of being urgently needed in the Deccan was recalled and the English had to retire to Bombay. The factors were once more placed in confinement and their gardens and cattle taken from them. The President made a treaty with Safdar Khan and the Sidhi Masud by which he bound himself to send from Surat all the soldiers in the Company's service, European as well as Native. The Bombay Government repudiated the treaty, and the President so keenly felt their censure that he committed suicide. In 1752 a fresh treaty was drawn up by which the English had their property restored and £20,000 granted to them for the losses they had incurred. During the next few years Sidhi Masud was the virtual Governor of the city. On his death the Dutch and his son had a severe struggle with the English and Safdar Khan as to which party should be supreme. In 1758 Mia Atchund returned to Surat, and by the aid of the Sidhi again made himself Governor of the Castle. The factors at Surat however complained that he had no control over the dependants of the Sidhi, "and the Sciddees son being most commonly in liquor, no inquiry is made into things or satisfaction given though frequent murders are committed in the streets. From these and other interesting considerations it is that the whole body of merchants are desirous the Castle should be in our hands." The request came at an opportune moment, for a squadron of men-of-war were at the time in the harbour, and the Bombay Government determined to reinforce the Company's armament with two ships and to despatch guns and troops to capture the Castle. On the 7th March 1759 came in an express boat "with a letter from the Chief and Factors at Surat, dated the 5th inst<sup>t</sup>, advising that they had the evening before acquired possession of the Castle and Tanka for the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company with the Sciddees fleet bundar, and everything belonging to the Mogul in the Castle or elsewhere." In the Diaries there is no detailed account of the capture of Surat, but in "An Account of the War in India by Richard Owen, Cambridge," printed in 1761, we have the following particulars—"Captain Maitland of the royal regiment of artillery being appointed to take the command of eight hundred and fifty men, artillery and infantry, and fifteen hundred sepoy, was sent on board the Company's armed vessels, commanded by Captain Watson, who sailed on the ninth of February, and landed them the fifteenth. When Captain Maitland approached the town, he found some of the Siddee's people had taken post in the French garden, from whence he dislodged them after a hot dispute of four hours, in which he lost twenty men. He then directed the Engineer to look out for a proper place for a battery, which was erected in the night, and the next day, and also the three following, a brisk fire was kept up from two four and twenty pounders and a thirteen-inch mortar. The enemy had taken possession of the English garden and Siddee's Bunder and had secured them with works and strong palisadoes. After this continued firing without any apparent effect, Captain Maitland called a council of war, composed of Military and Marine officers, when they concerted a plan for a general attack and resolved to carry it into execution the next morning. In pursuance of this plan the Company's grabs and bomb ketches warpt up the river in the night and anchored opposite the Bunder early in the morning, and then a general attack began from the vessels and a battery, with a design to drive the enemy from their batteries and to facilitate the landing of the infantry who were embarked on board the boats. The firing lasted till after eight, when upon a signal made, the boats put off, and landed under cover of the vessels, the military being greatly assisted by the conduct and gallant behaviour of Captain Watson. They soon put the enemy to flight, and took possession of all the outer town. There still remained the inner town and the Castle. In order to attack them both at once, three mortars were planted at the distance of about seven hundred yards from the Castle and five hundred from the inner town. About six in the morning the mortars began to play very briskly and continued to do so till two the next morning. The cannonading and bombardment put the besieged into such a consternation that they never returned one gun." Negotiations were now entered upon between Mia Atchund and the English for the surrender of the town, and it was agreed upon that Faris Khan, whom the English wished to make Governor, should be appointed Deputy Governor, Mia Atchund should continue as Governor, and the English should have the Castle and be paid the Tanka or annual subsidy for the protection of the fleet. As soon as these articles were executed, Atchund immediately opened the inner town gate, and ordered a party of men to assist in bringing the Sidhi to terms, who on hearing of the union that had taken place became convinced that it was impossible for him to hold out against their combined force and the general voice of the people. After considerable negotiation, it was at last granted that the Sidhi's people should have liberty to march out with their arms and accoutrements, and also be permitted to take away all their valuable effects and even the common furniture of their houses. This was done with the greatest regularity, and the English were peaceably put in possession of the Castle and Tanka. . . . .

---

* Note.—The letter of Sir Nicholas Waite is in such a state of decay that it is impossible to decipher the whole of it and print it as a consecutive letter.

"The number of killed and wounded did not amount to a hundred Europeans, but the loss by desertion was greater. Thus was accomplished a revolution of general benefit: peace and good government was restored to the city, and the English acquired a valuable and most necessary possession, to the universal satisfaction of the inhabitants, and also with the concurrence of the people in power." From the capture of the Castle dates the supremacy of the English in Surat. There was a Native Governor, but "the English give law to all others," wrote Stavorinus, Rear Admiral in the service of the States General, "and neither Europeans nor Indians can do anything without their special approbation. The Governor of the city, or Nabob, does not, in this respect, differ from the lowest inhabitant, he must obey their commands although they show him externally some kindness, and he will not, in public, allow that he is subservient to them."

From the time that the English became masters of Surat dates the decline of the power of the countrymen of Stavorinus. In 1759 the Dutch were the most powerful of the European settlers in Surat, but three years afterwards we read—"The Nabob blocked up the Dutch in their Factory and Bunder, having for some time past received several insults from them, particularly in two instances within these few days, viz. their beating and otherwise maltreating some workmen and Seepoys employed by his orders in stopping a window (by building a wall up close to it) they had lately knocked out and which proves a nuisance to Sewram Bushie Desay of Sundivie, concerning which Mynheer Kelly had applied to the Chief some days before, who sent to the Desay and endeavoured all in his power to settle the dispute amicably, but the Desay returned for answer that he was determined never to return to his house again till that window was stopped up; also their forcing from his Seepoys a Gentoo woman whom he had ordered to be apprehended for causing her mother's body to be burnt, notwithstanding she had professed herself a Mahometan for nigh seven years and keeping both her and the Seepoys in their Factory." (Vol. I. p. 341). The Dutch appealed to the English to mediate between them and the Nabob and they consented, but their mediation was a very hollow affair. The unfortunate Dutch were starved into submission and compelled to send away their cannon (Vol. I. p. 364), pay a fine of £9000, and move their head-quarters from the old factory within the city to the wharf known to the present day as the Dutch Wharf. Castor Niebuhr, the famous geographer, who about this time visited Surat, writes—"Of foreign nations, the Dutch have next, after the English, the most considerable establishment at Surat. They have here a director, several merchants, a number of writers and servants, and a few soldiers. Their trade has, however, declined till it has become trifling. The affairs of this nation in India seem to be rather in disorder since the English obtained possession of the citadel." In 1776-1777 the establishment of the Dutch at Surat consisted of thirty persons in the Civil Service of the Company, one clergyman, two surgeons, four mariners and twenty-five sowars, in all sixty-two Europeans." The Dutch Director used in former days to live in great pomp. He had for daily use services of gold and silver and a large number of horses, one or two elephants, chariots of ceremony, and palanquins of gold and silver were kept at the charge of the Company. "But this is now all set aside," wrote Stavorinus, "and the ornaments of gold and silver, the service of silver plate &c., to the value of thirty thousand rupees were all carried on board of my ship to Batavia, and very little or no appearance of pomp is at present kept up in Surat." Two years after Stavorinus visited the city a correspondence was intercepted which showed that the Chief of the Dutch factory had engaged in a plot to assist the Marathas to surprise the Castle, and measures were taken to prevent him from doing any mischief. In the following year the President at Surat received the following order from Bombay—"A war having taken place between Great Britain and Holland, and the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Company having sent out orders to their several Presidencies to act offensively against the Dutch settlements in India, we hereby direct that you forthwith take the necessary measures for dispossessing the Dutch of their factory in the city of Surat, and that you take possession thereof for the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, making prisoners of war of all Dutch servants, civil and military, belonging thereto." (Vol. I. p. 442.) The Dutch factory was seized and the Dutch factors made prisoners. The Dutch President and Council warmly protested against the proceedings of the English (Vol. I. p. 404) and pointed out that Surat was a Moghul city and "the Moghul colours the Noble English Company hoists since they took possession of the Mogul Castle till this very day in that Castle." The English replied that if the Dutch considered Surat a neutral city they ought to have protested against the seizure of the French factors "as it would certainly have been their duty to do everything in their power to preserve the neutrality from violation, and therefore their neglecting to protest on that occasion was a tacit acknowledgment that Surat was not a neutral city, and we may justly conclude therefrom that they wished either to consider the neutrality as expired, or at least to let it remain in an equivocal state, in order that they might avail themselves thereof in case of a favourable opportunity of acting hostilely against Surat as they attempted to do against Bengal in the year 1759." (Vol. I. p. 446.)

Like the Dutch the French had a factory at Surat and like the Dutch the influence and prosperity of their factory began to decline when the English became masters of Surat Castle and the virtual rulers of the town. In 1777 the French Director made the modest request that they should be allowed to land at the French Garden outside of the city walls twenty-four pieces of cannon and three or four thousand balls, but the English refused it. The Nawab also complained that the French used a flight of steps at these gardens for the purpose of smuggling, and the President desired that the Nawab would "take proper measure for the staircase being pulled down." It was destroyed much to the indignation of M. Anquetil DeBriancourt, the French Consul, who declared that the staircase had "been destroyed and broke in a thousand pieces contrary to the right of mankind." Next year a greater misfortune happened to Anquetil DeBriancourt than the destruction of the staircase, for on the 2nd November 1787 the following order reached the Surat Board—"Judging it highly improper in the present state of open hostility with France that the factory of that nation should be permitted to continue at Surat, we direct that you take proper measures, with the necessary secrecy, to arrest the persons of the French Consul and all other Frenchmen in that city and send them down to Bombay, where we shall allot a proper place for their residence." (Vol. I. p. 416). The order was carried into execution though M. Anquetil declared that in case of war he had received "an order to assert the neutrality that has always been respected and observed at Surat." The French Consul, however, was not always strictly accurate in his statements. He asked the Surat authorities what was the necessity of seizing the papers belonging to a certain M. Charleval. "He is a French gentleman who practises in engineering and travels for his private instruction. He is with me as a passenger, and intended to return to France when his family recalls him; therefore his writings and papers have nothing at all to do with this Consulate" (Vol. I. p. 420). M. Anquetil also requested that a certain M. LeRoy should not be sent to Bombay and separated from him. "He is an old man who kept me company these 5 years past and whom we love and esteem much." The Consul's requests were not complied with, for in the record of a Consultation held on the 13th November 1778 we have the following—"With respect to his request to have M<sup>r</sup>. LeRoy continue with him, the Board cannot by any means comply therewith, as it is notorious that M<sup>r</sup>. LeRoy is here in the capacity of a spy who M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil sends to different parts of the country, Poonah, Demaun, and even Pondicherry. As to M<sup>r</sup>. Charleval, so far from his being a gentleman travelling solely for his own amusement and improvement, it appears from his papers that he is an engineer, and that M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil has taken advantage of his knowledge to employ him as a spy, as amongst his papers was found a sketch of a plan of Surat Castle." Among M. Anquetil's papers was found a correspondence in his own handwriting which he had been conducting with M. De St. Lubin, whose presence at Poona was at the time a grave menace to the safety of our power in the East. In a letter dated Surat 30th September 1778 M. Anquetil wrote as follows—"Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil presents his compliments to Mons<sup>r</sup>. le Chevalier de St. Lubin, and begs he will give from him the following information to Nana Furnese & Succaram Bapoo. The intention of the English is to fall upon Bassien if the French Squadron does not appear in a month or two &<sup>ca</sup>. To prevent this stroke it is necessary that Nana, Furnese and Succaram Bapoo throw more forces into this place, the attack of which is resolved on at Bombay, and which the English will certainly take, if the Ministry of Poonah does not make use of the present information." (Vol. I. p. 426). M. Anquetil was removed to Bombay and the French factory at Surat ceased to exist.

After the English became masters of Surat the prosperity of the town quickly increased and the trade developed owing to the abolition of numerous petty imposts. Under the Moghul Government every cart of grain which entered the town had to pay from 10 to 15 rupees and every cart of firewood from  $\frac{1}{2}$  to 1 rupee. In addition to this, monthly and annual presents had to be made to the Castle. (Vol. I. p. 114). The passage boat farmers paid a tax of  $22\frac{1}{2}$  Rs. per month, carpenters and bricklayers also paid a small sum in order not to be obliged to bear a share of the gratis work. The woodcutters were obliged to split the Castle firewood, which in time became a great oppression, and attempted in vain to escape it by paying a tax. All fish, whether fresh or dry, that came into town paid some small perquisite, and milksellers, betel shopkeepers, grain brokers, all had to satisfy the demands of the Castle authorities. The general statement of the Revenue of the Castle of Surat is an instructive document because it keeps in remembrance the ills now so liable to be forgotten which men suffered under native rule. The next twenty years of English in rule in Surat were years of considerable prosperity. Forbes, who visited the city in 1771, declares that the riches and splendour of Surat reminded him of the description of Tyre by the Prophets. "The bazars were filled with costly merchandise and with picturesque and interesting groups of natives on elephants, camels, horses and mules from all parts of the globe in their respective costume, Turks, Persians and Armenians on Arabian chargers, European ladies in splendid carriages, Asiatic females in hackeries drawn by oxen crowded the streets." Vessels were building on the stocks and the river was covered with ships of different nations. In the next ten years a great change took place in Surat—"Neither Hindoo nor Mahomedan pageantry now enlivened the public streets, and the war which had so long raged in Europe and India affected the Asiatic commerce in general, but was most sensibly felt at Surat. Her dock-yards, store-houses, and bazaars indicated little of that life and spirit formerly likened to the glowing picture of ancient Tyre; all was now comparatively silent and forsaken. The usual calamities of war had been heightened by the dreadful storm which happened a year before on the western shores of India. The effects of its ravages at Baroche have been mentioned; at Surat it was still more tremendous. The tottering mansions of the Moguls, long out of repair, the slighter Hindoo houses, and the mud-built cottages of the lower classes, alike gave way, and buried many of their inhabitants in the ruins. Extensive parts of the outer walls and towers of the fortifications, long in a dilapidated state, fell down; and the whole city exhibited a scene of desolation. In the surrounding country, whole villages, with the peasantry and cattle, were swept away. Every ship at the bar, with yachts, boats, and vessels of all descriptions in the river, either foundered at their anchors, or were driven on shore. Three ships richly laden, belonging to a Turkish merchant, were entirely lost; their cargoes exceeded five lacs of rupees. The "Revenge," the finest cruiser on the Bombay station, foundered and every soul perished, together with the "Terrible," "Dolphin," and several of the smaller armed vessels. The ravages of this storm extended along the coast for upwards of six hundred miles on the west side of India; but it was felt most about the latitude of Surat and Baroche, and added no trifling effect to the sombre appearance of this once animated emporium." The President at Surat forwarded to the Government of Bombay a vivid description of the destruction caused to the town and neighbourhood by the hurricane

(Vol. I. p. 274), and he prayed that the inhabitants should be granted a remission of the rent they owed the State. "The scenes of distress that are around us call for every aid of pity and commiseration, and I hope to that only you will attribute my present intercession." His prayer was granted. The double Government which existed in Surat was attended with many inconveniences. The English were supreme, but as long as a Nabob existed they could not interfere to a sufficient extent in the details of administration. In 1799, when the Nawab Nizam Odeen died, the Government were compelled to interfere in the appointment of a successor in order to put an end to the exactions, oppressions and corrupt administration of the Nawab's Durbar. On the 13th May 1800 a treaty was concluded with the new Nawab by which "the management and collection of the revenues of the city of Surat, and of the territories, places, and other dependencies thereof, the administration of civil and criminal justice, and generally the entire government of the said city and its dependencies, shall be vested for ever wholly and exclusively in the Hon<sup>ble</sup> English Company." (Vol. I. p. 448). The Chiefship and Council were abolished and a Lieutenant Governor of the Castle was appointed. The administration was entrusted to a Judge who was also Magistrate, and a Collector of Revenue and a Collector of Customs. Three years later the title of Lieutenant-Governor was changed into "Agent of Government at Surat." Surat from being the seat of power and government had become a mere district of Bombay.

After the resignation of Sir Nicholas Waite Mr. William Aislabie became Governor of Bombay. During his tenure of office the foundation stone of the Cathedral was laid (18th November 1715). The previous year Richard Cobbe had been sent as Chaplain to the island and he found that services were held in a room in the fort. In a sermon preached on the first Sunday after Trinity he impressed on his congregation the necessity of a suitable church. "Well, Doctor," said the Governor after the services, "you have been very zealous for the church this morning." "Please y<sup>r</sup> honour," he replied, "I think there was occasion enough for it and I hope without offence." "Well, then," said the Governor, "if we must have a Church, we must have a Church. Do you see and get a book made and see what every one will contribute towards it, and I will do first." Charles Boone, who was afterwards Governor, gave Rs. 3,918 and Mr. Cobbe Rs. 1,427. Cornelius Sodington gave "For my wife when I have her R<sup>s</sup>. 20," and Mr. Richard Waters Rs. 11 paid him for doing the service in absence of the chaplain. "A fine upon Bhundaries contributed R<sup>s</sup>. 18," and "A commutation from penance corporal at Surat was R<sup>s</sup>. 150." The total amounted to more than fifty-three thousand rupees.

Aislabie, with whose rule the title of General ceased, left Bombay in 1715, and for a year Stephen Street, the Deputy Governor, discharged the duties of the office when Charles Boone was appointed. He was the first styled "President and Governor in Council." Shortly after he assumed office the Court of Directors ordered that the ground rent within the city should be improved by instituting quit-rents or by letting leases renewable on the payment of fines. "The consideration of our prodigious change," they stated, "and the peoples protection and liberty, are very cogent arguments, if rightly managed, to convince every one why that ground ought to be valued higher than it otherwise would." In 1718 the Company resigned their feudal claims upon the landholders of the island for military service, on condition that a tax should be imposed upon all who resided within the town walls. On Christmas Day of the same year the Cathedral was consecrated. The Governor went in procession and was met at the entrance by the Chaplain in his canonical dress. During the service a child was baptized: the Governor, Mrs. Parker, the Deputy Governor's wife, and Mrs. Crommelin

"standing gossips". When the service was concluded, the Governor, his Council and the ladies repaired to the vestry, where they drank success to the new church in a glass of sack. The festivities in honour of the consecration of the Cathedral must have been on a somewhat extensive scale, for we read—"The Steward delivers in an acco<sup>t</sup> of his extraordinary expense for Christmas and New Years days amounting to R<sup>s</sup> one thousand one hundred & seventy and eighty-five reas, which is examined and approved." Much of the time of the Council was occupied in investigating charges brought against Mr. Parker, the Deputy Governor, by the President; and he was unanimously condemned by them for erasing the signature which he had attached to a Minute, and they would have suspended him, but Mr. Braddyll, member of Council, dissented, because, although Parker had committed an error, his intentions appeared to be pure. On the 13th May 1720 it was proposed that the Portugals be removed from the island owing to their "stirring up the Roman Catholics to sedition, especially when we have any dispute with the Portuguese," and it was proposed supplying their place with "an Italian Bishop & some priests of the Carmelite Order now on the Island, on their swearing allegiance to his Majesty King George & that they will not directly or indirectly teach, preach, or practice any thing contrary to the interest or dignity of the Crown, or prerogative of the R<sup>t</sup>. Hon<sup>ble</sup> Com<sup>a</sup>, and that they will in all respects pay a due obedience to the Gover<sup>nr</sup> and Council for the time being." Three days afterwards the Italian Bishop and the Carmelite priests took the following oath before the President—"I, Don Frey Mauritio of Sancta Teresa, Bishop of Anastatiopolis, Vicar General on the Empire of the Great Mogull, of the Island of Bombay and the jurisdiction thereof, do swear upon the Holy Evangelists (in which I have placed my right hand) to obey his most serene Majesty of Great Brittain, and that I will never, directly or indirectly, teach, preach, or practice anything contrary to the honour and dignity of the Crown of his said most serene Majesty, or to the interest of the Right Hon<sup>ble</sup> the English Company and you. I will pay all obedience to the orders of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Gov<sup>r</sup> for the time being and exercise the Roman Catholic religion according to its primitive institution without any alteration" (Vol. II. p. 12.)*

Since the time of Pope Gregory XV and the establishment of the 'Sacred Congregation of the Faith' in 1622, it has been decreed by the Popes to send missionaries direct to India. These missionaries were to be subject to Bishops, who under the title of 'Vicars Apostolic' were placed immediately under the authority of the above mentioned Congregation in Rome, usually called the 'Propaganda'.

Among the first of these Vicars Apostolic were missionaries of the Carmelite order, and to them the Pope assigned the care of the Indo-Syrian Christians on the Malabar Coast and of the Catholics in the dominions of the Great Mogul.

Peter Paul a S. Francisco, nephew of Pope Innocent XI and son of a duke of Palma in Italy, was appointed in 1696 to the office of Vicar Apostolic in the dominions of the Great Mogul, where since 1580 Jesuit missionaries from Goa had been engaged in the sacred ministry. In 1699 he went to Surat and died there the next year in the monastery of the Capuchins.

Peter de Alcantara a S. Theresia was his successor and died in 1707.

Mauritius a S. Theresia followed him. He was consecrated Bishop and nominated to the office of Vicar Apostolic in the dominions of the Great Mogul on 12th May 1708. In coming to Bombay at the invitation of the English in 1720, he and his successors had the approval of the Pope, as Pius VI declared in an apostolic letter (1798) to Fr. Manoel de S. Catharina, Archbishop of Goa. Pope Pius VI wrote: "Ab anno 1718 cum inde (ab insula Bombaina) Angli Lusitanos omnes presbyteros, Jesuitas primum, deinde Franciscanos, postremo vero ipsos Metropolitanos vicarios, ejecissent, miser ille catholicorum grex, cum ducem et pastorem nullum haberent in via salutis aeternae, ad hanc universalis pastoris cathedram manus tetendit, aliquem efflagitans, qui panem evangelicum sibi frangeret,

The conduct not only of the Portuguese priests but of their own zealous chaplain, Mr. Cobbe, was a source of anxiety to the Bombay Government. Mr. Braddyll, Member of Council, complained that Mr. Cobbe had "affronted him at the Communion Table when he was going to receive the Holy Sacrament, & he had likewise affronted him publicly several times before." From Mr. Braddyll's letter (Vol. II. p. 21) it can be gathered that Mr. Cobbe had frequently complained about his employing workmen on Sunday, "to which (to the best of my remembrance I never made any other answer,) tho' his violent passion & heat in which he expresses himself might have required it more than that I was sorry it should so fall out, & that necessity obliged me to it, for if the rain season should commence before I had covered my house, it would inevitably be washed down, & that I hoped he could not think I did amiss in securing it by so timely prevention. However, all I could urge in my behalf only served to strengthen his zeal, & at last he was pleased to burst out & say he did not care if my house & all the houses in town were washed away, provided no work was done on Sundays. Some days after this discourse happened, I undesignedly fell into his company at Mr. Wyches, where he took occasion to tell me he could be glad to see I got my money honestly, for I wrought on Sundays." (Vol. II. p. 21). Shortly afterwards they met at the house of a common friend when the Member of Council having expressed an opinion regarding the satisfaction of getting money—"Yes," the Chaplain remarked, "there is a satisfaction in it I don't doubt, especially if it be gotten honestly." "Why, Doctor, don't you think then that I get my money honestly?" replied Mr. Braddyll. "Yes," said the Chaplain, "but not by working Sundays". The Member of Council rose and withdrew. Shortly afterwards, however, he intimated to a friend that he was ready to forgive the Chaplain. "He forgive me," said Mr. Cobbe, "I shant forgive him till he has done working a Sundays." Then took place the following occurrence—"After the congregation of which I happened to be one had placed themselves at the altar in a posture for receiving the Communion, Mr. Cobbe having consecrated the elements turned himself towards me & spoke with a loud voice & said 'Mr. Braddyll'; to which I made no answer, thinking him to be out of his senses, but he repeated it a second time & said 'Mr. Braddyll, have you done working on Sundays, unless y.<sup>t</sup>, I cannot administer you this Sacrament.' To the best of my remembrance I told him I had. He went still further & said he would not give me communion unless I would promise him & the congregation then present that I would work no more on Sundays. I told him I would not unless necessity obliged me, upon which he condescended to treat me like y.<sup>e</sup> rest of the community." (P. 22). The Board demanded an explanation of his conduct from the Chaplain, and he replied "that he was ac tunc, ipsis non abnuentibus Anglis, ab hac apostolica sede impertita est facultas vicariis apostolicis in Imperio Mogal degentibus, ut catholicos in Insula Bombaina pascere, donec, dissidiis ibidem inter Anglos Lusitanosque compositis Archiepiscopo Goano pristina sua jura exercendi facultas fieret." (Bullarium Pontificium S. Congr. de Propaganda Fide, t. IV, p. 255. Romæ, 1841). In 1723 a coadjutor was appointed for him in the person of another Carmelite, Innocentius a S. Leopoldo, a Hungarian count, and brother of the Archbishop of Vienna and a missionary who for many years had distinguished himself in Bombay and on the Malabar Coast. He was consecrated in 1723, and survived Bishop Mauritius a S. Theresæ, who died in Surat and was buried there in 1722.

---

Since then a long series of Carmelite Bishops held the same office for Bombay where they resided. The last Carmelite Vicar Apostolic of Bombay was Dr. Whelan, who died in 1854. He was succeeded by three Jesuit Vicars Apostolic, Drs. Canoz, Stein, and Meurin, the last of whom was recalled to Rome in 1886, and with the establishment of the regular hierarchy in India in 1887 Dr. Porter, S.J., was created by Leo XIII Archbishop of the newly established Archdiocese of Bombay.

sorry to find that a person in M<sup>r</sup>. Braddylls station should, instead of being ashamed, make it a matter of complaint for a reproof of a sin so exceeding sinfull, but is God Almighty less in India than he is in England? Or has he given any man license to sin? Is the violation of this holy day become the less enormous, because it is so frequently and irreligiously profaned, or must it out of good manners be past by unobserved, connived and winked at, especially when it comes from so eminent a quarter." The Board came to the conclusion "that the 2<sup>d</sup> Rubrick" from which the Chaplain based his defence did not apply to the case, as it referred only to "an open and notorious evil liver," and they "ordered M<sup>r</sup>. Richard Cobbe to ask M<sup>r</sup>. Braddyll pardon publicly in the church on Sunday morning next immediately after in the following words—"Whereas on Sunday the 3rd instant, through mistake, I did affront M<sup>r</sup>. Braddyll at the communion table, I do hereby notify to this congregation here present, that on more mature consideration I find myself to be in the wrong, and do hereby beg M<sup>r</sup>. Braddylls pardon for the injury done him and the offence given him to the other communicants." (Vol. II. p. 25). Mr. Cobbe refused compliance with the Council's order for two reasons: firstly, because according to the rubric after the Nicene Creed nothing is to be proclaimed during the time of Divine service "but what is prescribed in the rules of the Book of Common Prayer or enjoined by the Queen or by the ordinary of the place"; and secondly, because such compliance "would not only give encouragement to them by lessening too much the credit of reproof, but inevitably draw contempt upon the clergy and wound even religion through the sides of the ministry." He concluded the letter with these words—"For this therefore I hope, gentlemen, you will pardon your servant in that I cannot, I dare not, yield my assent without declining that duty, without betraying that trust for which I am accountable to a more and full tribunal." (Vol. II. p. 29). Mr. Cobbe, however, offered to give Mr. Braddyll any satisfaction he could except what the Board had ordered. But the Board refused to listen to any compromise, and proceeded to review his past conduct. Notice was taken of a sermon that he had preached at the members of the Government from the text, 'Tho' hand joyn in hand, yet the wicked shall not go unpunished,' and the Board declared that it was "but too notorious and usual with him to draw odious characters in the sermons and apply them to such persons with whom he has any difference." "In order, therefore, to secure this Government against the evils which such seditious, sermons, and discord may possibly have on the minds of some people especially at this time of actual warr with one enemy and an apprehension of a rupture with our neighbours the Portuguese, when there is all the need imaginable of union & firm resolution, it was resolved that M<sup>r</sup>. Richard Cobbe, Chaplain, be suspended from the Right Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys service and from officiating as their chaplain, receiving a further salary or other allowances of the Right Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company from this day." The Board also ordered "that M<sup>r</sup>. Thomas Waters reading well he officiate in reading prayers and sermons instead of M<sup>r</sup>. Cobbe and allowed the usual salary for the same." The usual salary for the Minister at that time was £50 and another £50 a gratuity if found deserving. The Governor's salary was £300 per annum; the Deputy Governor, who was also Accountant, received £100, and Lawrence Parker received another hundred pounds as Chief Justice; the third in Council got £70; the fourth and fifth £50 each; the sixth, seventh and eighth, each £40. A physician and two surgeons received £36 each. (Vol. II. p. 22). The salaries seem small in the present day, but it must be borne in mind that all the servants of the Company were engaged in trade on their own account. The Government also remunerated their servants for special service. In the year 1720, having received Rs. 9,05,000 by the payment of some debts which had been long due to the factory at Surat, they ordered that five per cent should be presented to the Governor and two per cent be divided amongst the Members of Council. Governor Boone's share amounted to more than forty thousand rupees, and that of each Member of Council to more than two thousand.

Charles Boone was succeeded by William Phipps. To him Angria sent a letter of "congratulation, but the Governor pointed out to him that he was rather late in doing so as two years had lapsed since he had begun to govern in these parts for the powerful English nation." The Governor then proceeded to give him some moral advice regarding the drawbacks of war and the advantages of peace and trade. "It is observed that greatness pursued after and obtained by these means is of short duration, whereas a State improving and flourishing through trade is of a much longer continuance, and never decays but through corrupt Councils. Had your Honor in the begining of your rise in the world (with which I am well acquainted) cultivated in your territories a correspondence that is peculiarly necessary for merchants, and employed that power Providence has by degrees blessed you with, to protect trade, instead of quite the contrary practice you have made use of, the territories your Honor now governs might by this time have been equal in some measure to vie with the Great Port of Surat, your Honors power esteemed to be raised on justice, and yourself become revered from your virtues, whereas now your Hon<sup>r</sup> is more terrible to your friends than enemies." (Vol. II. p. 38). The Pirate King sent a reply not wanting in sarcasm nor dignity. He told the Governor that his experience of the English had taught him that "as touching the desire of possessing what is anothers I do not even find the merchants exempt from this sort of ambition, for this is the way of the world, for God gives nothing immediately from himself to any, but takes from one to give to another. Whether this is right or no who is able to determine." He also added—"Your Excellency is pleased to say if I had any regard to the weal of the people and favoured the commerce, my power would be much augmented, and my port become like that of Surat; but I never have been wanting to favour the merchants trading according to the laws of this country, nor of chastizing those transgressing the same, as your Excellency well knows. The increase of power depends on the Divine will, in which human diligence little availeth. Until this day I have kept up the power that was necessary; whether I shall continue it or go for the future who can tell, but that will be as God is pleased to determine. Your Excellency was pleased to write that war proves most fatal to those whom the use of the sword is not understood, but in the Government of His Excellency Charles Boone, nobody can say there was not loss on both sides, for victories depend on the hand of God, and for this reason great men take little notice of such losses. Your Excellency is pleased to write that he who follows war purely thro' an inclination that one hath thereto, one time or another will find cause to repent, of which I suppose your Excellency hath found proof, for we are not always victorious nor always unfortunate." (Vol. II. p. 40-41).

Two years after William Phipps became Governor, letters patent were issued establishing a new Court in Bombay. Up to this time justice had been administered in the island by a Civilian styled Chief Justice, and in important cases by the President and Council, who were the only Justices of Peace for the city. But neither the Chief Justice nor the President and Council had any opportunity of knowing law, as the Court of Directors admitted that "from want of thorough knowledge of our laws slips in the execution of them had sometimes been made by His Majesty Justices of the Peace." To remedy this the natural step would have been to have appointed trained lawyers to the new tribunal, but the Court of Directors knew that the men with legal training that had been sent to Bombay in the early days had taken with them the traditional independence of English Courts and had been staunch opponents to the arbitrary acts of the Company. The Court had therefore used its influence with the Crown to have no lawyers in the new Court. By the letters patent it was decreed that it should consist of a Mayor and nine Aldermen, eight of whom including the Mayor were required to be naturalised subjects of the British Crown, but the other two might be subjects of a friendly nation. The Aldermen were selected from the principal inhabitants of the place and they chose one from among their number to be Mayor. The latter office was annual, but the former was for life. The Government, however, had the power to suspend for grave misconduct. An appeal to the President in Council lay in all suits and in civil suits involving a certain amount to His Majesty's Privy Council. On the 18th of February 1728 the new Charter was read at the new pier to a large concourse of Europeans and leading natives. The President and Council, Sheriff, Mayor and Aldermen then took the oaths of allegiance and the President made a speech pointing out the value of the new privileges.* Neither the Government nor the public seem to have set much value on these privileges, for they treated the new Court with scant courtesy. We find "the Mayor acquainting the Bench that he had lately been informed several ill-disposed persons had given themselves great license in discoursing of the Court, even in such a manner that they did not only turn into jest and ridicule the form of their proceedings, but had the great presumption openly to arraign both the justice and judgment of it in a very extraordinary manner, and as he doubts not but every member will show a just resentment to this usage at not only themselves but every one bearing office in inferior degree about the Court ought to be preserved from all the unjust reflections of the vulgar which if continued will tend to the diminution of the Courts authority and consequently be a great impediment to the justice of it, and therefore propose to the gentlemen that they will allow of his representing the matter to his Honour the President that he may apply such remedies as he thinks proper for suppressing their licentious discourse in future, which is unanimously agreed to." On the 23rd of April 1728, Captain Rich, said to be the author of a scandalous and malicious libel against the Court and private characters of the members, made his submission, and was absolved after he had appeared at the bar and asked for pardon on his knees.

Considering that the only knowledge of law which the Court possessed was derived from a manuscript book of instructions sent them by the Court of Directors, it is not surprising that the public arraigned both its justice and judgment. The justice dealt in these days was severe. We read that "on the 1st of February 1726-1727 the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Governor & Council having recommitted the punishment of Ignatio De Livere duely convicted of a robbery & an attempt to murder to the Justices of this Bench, after due consideration his tryal being read, it is ordered that he receive thirty-nine lashes three several Court days, being tyed to the gallows with a halter about his neck, with a paper over his head denoting his crime, & after condemn<sup>d</sup> to hard labour during pleasure, being first marked with an iron in the cheek as a public testimony of the notoriety of his offence." (Ap. E). Joana, a Christian woman, for having returned to the island after being expelled with her husband "without any crime of hers specified save conniving at her husbands practices, the Court are willing for this time to favour her and only give her a small chastisement, fifteen lashes, but upon this condition that she return no more; and if she do, then to suffer the full penalty ordered by the Government to lose one ear & upon repeating the crime both: the punishment for all women of ill-fame for returning after legal expulsion from the Island." (Ap. E). A certain woman called Gungay was indicted for petit treason in aiding and abetting in the murder of her husband, and the jury having found her guilty she was sentenced to be burnt. (Ap. E).

---

*Note.—After considerable search the Consultation Book containing an account of the day's proceedings was found, but the pages of the book have crumbled through damp into so many pieces, that it is impossible to reproduce them.

The revenues of the island were at this time small, and to increase them all the ground along the Back Bay was made over to five persons to plant with cocoanuts; and the whole of Malabar Hill was let on a lease at a yearly rent of one hundred rupees. In 1728 Robert Cowan succeeded William Phipps, and he ordered that all persons who did not within six months produce an authentic lease should be dispossessed of their houses. It was also agreed by the Board "that the Secretary in framing such leases grant a term of 41 years, renewable on the partys paying a fine of half a years rent of the said house or tenement, according as the same shall be valued by the Second in Council and the Collector of the Revenues for the time being & the possessor." After holding office for a short time Governor Cowan was dismissed for having permitted the Portuguese ship 'Europa' to sell her cargo at Bombay and for having a pecuniary interest in the matter. In his defence he states—"I do hereby solemnly declare and swear on the Holy Evangelists, so help me God, that I was not ever interested or concerned, directly or indirectly, originally or latterly, in any respect whatever, nor was I any ways profited or gainer by the said ship 'Europas' voyage, or by her touching at this port, otherwise than by a present of six hams, eight dozen of French Oporto wine and a pound of snuff made me by the Commander of the said ship on his first arrival, and the usual perquisite allowed the President of one per cent. on the silver belonging to the said ship 'Europa' coined in the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Mint." (Vol. II. p. 63.)

His successor was John Horne, to whom the merchants and other principal inhabitants of Bombay presented a petition against having to pay the ground-rents & quit-rent which the Court of Directors had ordered to be levied. They represented that the order was contrary to the convention made with Governor Aungier. "Your petitioners also beg leave to represent to your Honour &<sup>ca</sup> that in the first agreement between the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company and the inhabitants of this Island it was stipulated that in consideration of the annual payment of twenty thousand Xeraphins (which Pension is now collected) the land that had been taken from any of the inhabitants should be restored and their estates ascertained, when your petitioners conceive it was intended they should not be subject to further taxes on estates, notwithstanding which they now pay quit-rent for all houses built on their own ground, also that when they made a voluntary gift of thirty thousand rupees (besides the two per cent) towards building the Town Wall, they humbly hoped they should not be liable to any further charge for such ground belonging to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company as they might obtain liberty to build upon, though they are now obliged to pay the heavy duties on both grounds and quit-rent." (Vol. II. p. 65).

In the year 1739 the Bombay Government sent an expedition against Angria, and Commodore Bagwell gives an account of the engagement with his fleet, and the Commander of the "Harrington" supplies a quaint graphic description of the battle. He writes—"As soon as I see the three grabs bear down to our fleet that was to leeward of me, I bore down after them and chased them without gunshot of our ships and then hauled up in order to meet the three Admirals, who began to fire at a great distance before their shot could reach us. I could not fire in vain, and waited till they were come within short gunshot of us, and then returned their compliments in quickest and best manner they deserved. I was engaged with the three best grabs about one hour and a half and then the three leeward grabs came up and joined the other three grabs ; and then the 'Harrington' had all six on her broadside, and gave them such welcome they did not like. About ten the three grabs and one of their Admirals found it so warm that they drew off. The high Admiral and his second continued abreast of us till twelve, and received several broadsides of double round and cartridge as fast as the 'Harrington' could give it them, and then made signals for his gallivats to come and to . . . . off to windward, where I could not follow him, and soon got out of gunshot. They drew up in a line and held a consultation. I then lay and consulted what powder remained for the third engagement, and found I had only seven round of powder left. I went on board on Captain Sutton and borrowed two barrels. The other two ships had none to spare: they said they had but two barrels each." (Vol. II. p. 75.)

Three years after this engagement the Government made some considerable reductions in the strength of their army and navy. The reduced marine establishment consisted of a superintendent, eight commanders, one of whom was styled Commodore, three first lieutenants, four second lieutenants, four third officers, and six masters of gallivats. The salary of the superintendent was two hundred and twenty pounds per annum, a handsome salary in those days, and only fifty pounds less than the emoluments of the Governor. There was, however, a vast difference between the salary of the Superintendent and that of the other officers of the Marine. A commander drew from sixty to eighty rupees per mensem; a first lieutenant from thirty-two to forty; a second lieutenant twenty-four; a midshipman twelve; a surgeon from thirty-one to forty; a gunner or boatswain twenty-two; a carpenter twenty-six; an able seaman nine, and a lascar five. The ships which ranked first were "the fighting vessels" and two grabs called the "Restoration" and "Neptune's Prize" were first in this class. The former was manned by eighty Europeans of all ranks and fifty-one lascars, the latter by fifty Europeans and thirty-one lascars. On each of the privateers there were usually thirty Europeans and twenty lascars, but these numbers were now diminished. The result of the false economy was quickly and grievously felt. Merchantmen daily fell a prey to the pirates who infested the coast. The merchants of Bombay petitioned the Government that unless more cruisers were provided the trade of the city would be ruined. In consequence of the risks which ships now ran the bankers would not advance money on the security of the cargo. They brought to the notice of the Government the fact that though the stormy season had passed, not a boat had been equipped for the transport of merchandise. They urgently requested a small increase of the Company's marine. A striking event which occurred in 1747 also demonstrated the necessity of the Company having sufficient ships to guard its coast. War had been declared between England and France, and one morning the inhabitants of Bombay were startled and terrified by seeing two French privateers at anchor between Colaba and Malabar Point. The two French vessels were the "Appolo" of fifty guns and the "Anglesea" of forty, and the Bombay Government had no ship capable of fighting them. Grabs and fishing boats were sent in all directions to warn vessels from approaching the harbour. Next morning at dawn an English ship was seen bearing down upon the French vessels. The grabs did their best to signal to her the danger and stop her course but all in vain. That afternoon the inhabitants of Bombay viewed from Breach Candy an engagement between the East Indiaman the "Anson" and the French privateer "Apollo." The former was overmatched, but for two hours with great gallantry kept up the contest, and it was only after all the sail had been shot away and the masts torn to pieces that her flag was struck. During the contest the Home Despatches and eleven chests of treasure were placed in the fishing boats and carried in safety to the shore. The "Anson" inflicted such injuries on her foe that the French privateers were not again seen near Bombay. This contest caused the Honorable Court of Directors to see the necessity of increasing their naval force. The fleet they ordered should now consist of three ships each of which carried twenty guns, from six to twelve pounders; five ketches carrying from eight to fourteen guns from four to six pounders; eight gallivats, and one prahim. Two other ships were employed alternately as guard-ships at Gombroon. Each ship or grab was manned with fifty to seventy Europeans; each ketch with six to thirty, and gallivats with two or three. The roll of officers was increased by two commanders, one first, six second, and three third lieutenants. In 1761 a petition was presented by the officers of the Marine to the Governor in Council that they should have an uniform, and they were ordered to wear blue frock-coats turned up with yellow, dress-coats and waistcoats of the same colour fashioned after a regular pattern. Large boots, sleeves and facings of gold laces was the regulation for the superior grades; while midshipmen and masters of gallivats were not allowed the privilege of facings and were permitted to wear only small round cuffs. In all but name the Bombay Marine was now a navy, and by many a deed of valour it proved itself a navy of which any nation might be proud.

A European regiment and a body of native militia was the germ of that army which served to lay the foundation of our Empire in the mango groves of Plassey and to make us masters of India at Assaye. The European regiment consisted of a captain, nine lieutenants, fifteen ensigns, a surgeon, two serjeant-majors, eighty-two serjeants, eighty-two corporals, twenty-six drummers, and three hundred and nineteen European privates. Attached to the regiment were thirty-one Indo-Europeans, nine hundred topasses, two native paymasters, a linguist and an admiral. The native regiment consisted of seven hundred sepoys including native officers. It possessed neither discipline, uniform, nor arms of one pattern. Swords and targets, bows and arrows, lances or matchlocks were the early weapons of the Bombay army. They were never drilled and seldom mustered. They spent their time in taking messages and running with the carriages and palanquins of the senior merchants. In fact they were peons who were enrolled as soldiers. It was not till 1752 that the names of such sepoys as were in attendance on official persons were struck off the military rolls and their pay charged in the ordinary accounts of the respective offices. The pay of the topasses did not then exceed five rupees a month, and the Court did not think it necessary to increase it, because the natives would not submit to be organized on the European system. The officers were illiterate adventurers. When Captain Inchbird resigned the post of Commandant at Sion the President and Council appointed Lieutenant Stirling, who had behaved well when in command of the troops at Tellicherry, to be his successor. "Stirling," they however remarked, "though a good and trustworthy man, has the misfortune to want that necessary qualification of writing, which might be inconvenient on any emergency when the necessary intimations or orders may require secrecy." The President and Council in order to escape the difficulty decided that Lieutenant Stirling was to command and Lieutenant Thomas Andrews was to wield the pen. Inchbird's resignation had caused the command of the Grenadier Company to become vacant. The President required a European butler and he was desirous that he should be paid from the public purse. He had a precedent to guide his course of conduct. During the rule of Presidents

Phipps and Cowan a certain Mr. Hollamore had catered for the gubernatorial table, and his services had been rewarded with an ensign's commission and the command of Butcher's Island. The President now proposed that Hollamore should be restored to his function and in order to compensate him for the loss of the command of Butcher's Island that he should receive a lieutenant's commission and the command of the vacant company. Two years after this event the Company were roused to the importance of improving their native army by the commencement of hostilities with France. The French had disciplined their sepoys after the European model and so made them a formidable force and the English felt they must do the same. In 1746 the President and Council raised at Surat a force of two thousand men consisting of Arabs, Abyssinians and Indian Musalmans and Hindus. They also sought for a competent officer to command the garrison. Their choice fell on Goodyre, a major of artillery in the squadron of Admiral Boscawen. He was appointed not only to the command of the forces but was also made Third Member of Council with a salary of £250 per annum and allowances for diet, servants, and palanquin. A local company of artillery was also raised which consisted of four serjeant-bombardiers who drew two shillings a day, four corporal-bombardiers who had one and six-pence each, two drummers, and a hundred gunners who had one shilling per diem. The officers consisted of a second captain with a salary of £150 per annum, a captain-lieutenant and director of the laboratory with £100, a lieutenant fire-worker with £75, a second lieutenant fire-worker with £60, and an ensign or third lieutenant fire-worker with £50. A regiment of European infantry was also raised and placed under the command of a Captain. It consisted of ten companies and each company was commanded by a captain-lieutenant who drew the salary of 5 shillings a day. Attached to each company was an adjutant drawing the same salary as the captain, an ensign drawing four shillings a day, four serjeants drawing one and eight pence each, four corporals, a drum-major and two drummers. The pay of a private was ten pence. The Company found it difficult to get good men to form their army. Their recruiting agents sent them the aged, the blind, the maimed and the halt. Many of the recruits had passed forty and one who had come to engage in active service had been treated in two English hospitals for dropsy. Despairing of getting good men at home the Court of Directors tried the experiment of recruiting men abroad, and in 1752 a Swiss company, commanded by Captain Alexander De Zeigle, arrived at Bombay. The experiment however proved a failure. Many of the men died and others deserted to the French. In August 1753 Major Sir James Foulis, Baronet, was sent out from England to command the Bombay troops and he proved himself an able and zealous reformer. He put a stop to the scandalous favouritism which had prevailed in the matter of promotion, and advanced officers according to seniority, and he persuaded Government to build barracks for them as they were compelled to live in "public houses." He also did his utmost to improve the discipline of the troops and the extension of the Mutiny Act to India caused his efforts to be attended with success. In February 1754 the Bill for introducing the Mutiny Act to India was introduced into the House of Commons and met with considerable opposition. There was a feeling among a small number of able and energetic men that it might in course of time be regarded as a precedent for the Mutiny Act becoming a perpetual instead of an annual enactment in England. It was also argued that the Crown would by the extension of the Act to India to some degree become responsible for the army of the Company and so liable to become involved in disputes with the Native States. These arguments had not much force with the House, for the bill was carried by a large majority and passed the House of Lords without a division. The Act was proclaimed on the 1st of October 1754 at the Fort gate by the Secretary to Government in presence of the Governor and Council. The officers and soldiers were asked if they were willing to serve the Company on the terms specified in the new Articles of War, and with three cheers gave their assent. From the reading of the Mutiny Act dates the formation of the Bombay army. Before that time it was an ill-organised militia. Three years after the passing of the Act a company of Bombay sepoys, which had gone with troops from Madras to Bengal, were present at the battle of Plassy. Clive's great victory first revealed the value of our mercenary army if it were properly disciplined and led by European officers, for at Plassey three thousand foot, two thousand of whom were sepoys, defeated Suraj-ud-Dowlah with his forty thousand foot and sixteen thousand horse. Three years after Plassey it was decided by the Bombay Government that a corps of five hundred sepoys should be trained according to the European system, and a separate corps of peons should be organised for attendance on gentlemen at their homes and offices.*

John Horne was succeeded by Stephen Law, who on assuming office took measures for preventing the town being surprised "whether attempted from open and public force or secret treachery, which last method it is well known the Maharattas are but too prone to, & by means of bribes often successful." It was determined that "the hour for shutting the Town Gates should be fixed, namely, the Apollo & Church at sunset and the Bazar within half an hour after sunset. A large bell to be placed over the Bazar Gate to be rung about a quarter of an hour after sunset and continue ringing a quarter of an hour, when all the inhabitants living within the town are to repair home, and those living without are to go out before the bell has done ringing, and that the signal may be still better heard the Fort and Church bell to ring at the same time. But as at present there is not a bell at each gate, until they are provided a drum may begin beating at the time pre-mentioned and continue the like space." (Vol. II. p. 76). The Binjarras on whom the trade with the interior then mainly depended threatened to leave the port unless they could find protection for themselves and their property within the walls. With regard to them therefore an exception was made, and in course of time the order became a dead letter.

On the 11th September 1742 Bombay was visited by a cyclone which wrought great devastation. The Records state that the gale was so excessive, "as has not been exceeded in the memory of any one now on the spot." Together with the wind, there was rain which poured down in torrents. All the ships in harbour were forced from their anchors. The royal ships 'Somerset' and 'Salisbury' running foul of each other were much damaged, and a large vessel belonging to a Mahomedan gentleman was driven ashore. The front house at Mazagon was unroofed by the force of the wind, and a battery called the Drive, the walls of which were of stone, and several small guard-houses were blown down. Three months after the cyclone William Wake arrived from England and assumed the Governorship of the island. During his tenure of office no events of any great importance occurred. He issued some humane orders regarding the treatment of the Madagascar slaves. A particular regard was to be paid to their diet to preserve their health and to render them fit for effective service, and positive orders were to be given "to the land and sea officers that they be treated with the greatest humanity, carefully instructed in their respective professions, and on no account whatever made either servants or drudges." On the 17th November 1750 Richard Bouchier, who had reached the advanced age of sixty-one, succeeded Wake. Two years after he became Governor Edward Ives, Surgeon, visited

Bombay and described the island to be "for its size perhaps the most flourishing of any this day in the universe. Though the soil is so barren as not to produce any one thing worth mentioning, yet the convenience of its situation will always make up for that defect." It may be fairly styled "the grand store-house of all the Arabian and Persian commerce." He proceeds to relate that "on this island are many hill forts and batteries, as Dungaree, Massegon, Mahee, Mendhoms Point and Sion-Hill. Some guns are mounted on each of them, but the principal fort which defends this place has above one hundred. This building is a regular square, and the materials thereof are very good." Mr. Ives is one of the very few men who has described the Bombay Cathedral as "a very handsome edifice." He informs us that horses were very scarce and oxen had to be used in their stead. The admiral himself had to use them in his chaise "for an afternoon's airing to Malabar Hill, and to the end of Old Woman's island, to Fruadmulla, and many other places." The sanitary condition of the town however at this time was so bad that it became necessary to take some measures to remedy it. The Board having come to the conclusion that the "unsanitary condition of the town was in a great measure owing to the little regard the inhabitants in general pay to the Scavenger, on account of his being always a junior servant; agreed that a member of the Board be appointed to that office, and that all houses within the town be proportionally taxed for maintaining a sufficient number of labourers, carts, & buffaloes for keeping the town clean." (Vol. II. p. 93.)

On the 1st December 1759 the "Phirmand from the Moghul Emperor granting the Castle of Surat to the English was read by the Secretary mounted on horseback to all the European inhabitants who attended on the occasion, and the Codgee likewise published the originals to the Natives when they were ordered to be deposited in the Treasury; the troops then fired three volleys and gave three huzzas which was followed by a discharge of the cannon round the walls." (Vol. II. p. 108.)

At this time it was not the Great Moghul whose power had decayed but a Mahommedan soldier in Southern India who chiefly attracted the attention of the Bombay Government. Hyder Ally had risen from being the head of a body of troops to the supreme power in the State of Mysore. He had also extended the boundaries of his kingdom by the conquest of the States which surrounded it. He had formed no political alliance with any State and all alike dreaded his growing power. It must therefore have been a matter of extreme gratification for Mr. Crommelin, who had succeeded Mr. Bouchier, to receive a friendly letter from the renowned Hyder Ally Caun. He informs the President—"I conquered this coast of Mallabar purposely to see the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company supplied plentifully with pepper & sandalwood in a most advantageous manner in order to have the friendship between us daily increased & firmly preserved." (Vol. II. p. 130.) The friendship was however of short duration. In a letter dated the 1st February 1768 we read—"In consequence of the situation of affairs in the Carnatick we have come to the resolution of setting on foot an expedition against Hyder Ally's fleet and possessions upon this coast." (Vol. II. p. 134.) In March tidings came of the capture of Mangalore and a month later of the fort of Onore (p. 143). Fortified Island which guards the mouth of the Onore river was also taken with trifling loss. The English did not hold these places long. In May of the same year the Mysore troops appeared in considerable force before Onore and it was abandoned. Hyder made overtures of peace both to the Bombay and Madras Government, but the latter received them with great haughtiness as they despised their foe and hoped to conquer his realm. Hyder informed their envoy that he was sensible that he could not oppose them in the field "and therefore would not attempt it, but that he would give us much trouble, and as he was forced to quit his own country he was determined to enter the Carnatick, & do all the mischief he could, and if all reasonable terms were refused him, he would come to the gates of Madras to make peace." (Vol. II. p. 158.) And to the surprise of the Madras Government he appeared before their capital at the head of 6,000 cavalry and compelled them to agree to his own terms. A treaty was concluded on the 4th of April 1769 consisting of two main conditions: first, a mutual restitution of conquests; and secondly, mutual aid and alliance in defensive wars.

After he had governed the island for seven years Charles Crommelin retired and Thomas Hodges became President. His rule was unimportant and of short duration, and in 1770 he was succeeded by William Hornby, who by his foresight and courage has won a high rank among the great men who have built up our Indian empire. Shortly after he had assumed office an expedition was sent against Broach whose Nawab had behaved with scant courtesy towards our representative. A force was sent from Bombay and Broach was taken by storm on the 15th November 1772.

In 1777 the Civilians addressed a letter to the Governor and Council as to "the inadequacy of their salary to their unavoidable expenses." Four years previously they had addressed the Honourable Court of Directors on the same subject, but no answer had been received to their letter. They argued that a writership was meant as a term of probation; a kind of apprenticeship, and for this reason the salary was fixed at thirty rupees per mensem and that "young men must look to their friends for assistance during that period." (Vol. II. p. 197.) That the writership led to posts of trust and "from the emoluments of these offices a senior servant of the Company could acquire a decent maintenance until his arrival at Council, when he could be enabled to acquire that independent means of subsistence in the latter part of life, and in our native country: the hope of which brings us all to this." (Vol. II. p. 198.) They pointed out that by the number of servants sent out and the contraction of the system there was a block in promotion and after twelve and fourteen years of service men were left without adequate means of subsistence. They noted that the pay of the military increased as they advanced each step in rank, "whilst by a contradiction to common sense without the supposition above alluded to the subsistence of a Civil Servant continues the same through every rank, whether a Writer or a Senior Merchant, whether he has served the Company one, four, or one-and-twenty years, whether he is fresh arrival and without acquaintance, or whether his first wants are increased by a worn constitution, a decent regard of appearances, and a degree of conformity to the manners of the place requisite to preserve acquaintance and the good opinion of the world: in short, whatever may be his situation, his diet money, which was never thought of as an adequate subsistence and is below the salary of the lowest clerks of the offices in England, these thirty rupees per month and his trifling salary are to be the sole dependance of an unemployed Civilian for all the necessaries of life." The Directors, it is true, had attempted to remove the block in promotion "by permitting five & twenty of their servants at the Presidency to be removed to the Bengal Establishment as Writers of the year 1773." The offer was generally refused, because "the distinguished character which the Honourable Company maintain in this part of the globe renders their servants an object of attention to the first men of it; quite inconceivable to those who have never been in the way to observe that attention. But, gentlemen, it was not this pride alone that occasioned our non-acceptance.

We have learnt that to every junior servant without a very prevalent interest, Bengal does not afford those great advantages to compensate for our loss of rank. From our information the service there is so overloaded in the junior part of it, that a person ranking only from seventy-three cannot reasonably hope in the present state of things to attain the higher offices by course of service in less than thirty-five years." (Vol. II. p. 199.) They drew attention to the assertion that there was some secret benefits in the service which rendered it not so unprofitable as it seemed to be. "Besides the emoluments of the service, there is no certain mode of acquiring a rupee. For as to trade, gentlemen, we believe you will allow from the observation of many years that it is in general a much more probable mode of sinking a fortune than by acquiring one." (Vol. II. p. 200.) To support their statement the petitioners annexed a particular statement of the Company's Civil Servants from 1755 to 1777 and gave the following summary of what it proved—"In the course of twenty-two years, from February 1755 to the present period three gentlemen have gone to England with fortunes acquired in the service; of the seventy-five gentlemen that belonged to the establishment in 1755, forty-eight have died in India: of these, eight had acquired, or had a prospect of fortunes; but twenty-five died positive bankrupts; and amongst these, were those who had served the Company from twenty-four to thirty-three years and were of the Council at Bombay, the remaining fifteen died possessed of very little more than was sufficient to defray their burial charges, although many of them had been from twelve to twenty years in the service. Previous to the year 1755, and until the year 1767, the general rise to Council was from eleven to fifteen years: from that period it has become more tedious; the two gentlemen who are at present next to Council have been twenty-two years in the Company's service; and those who entered the service of late years have little prospect of gaining that station under thirty years." (P. 179.) The claim of the Civilians to an increase of pay was strongly supported by the Governor, and the Board unanimously agreed to allow the senior merchants who signed the address a share in the Dewani Fund from Bengal equal to that of a Lieutenant-Colonel, being about 3,600 rupees per annum; and they resolved also, that the same allowance should be made to the Chaplain, Secretaries, and Deputy Accountant in addition to their other salaries. "This," wrote a Junior Civilian of the day, "rendered our situation comfortable, until we obtained an appointment at a subordinate settlement and enjoyed the emoluments annexed to such a situation."*

After having granted the prayer of their own servants for an increase to their emoluments, the Government had to consider a petition from the merchants praying that the export duty on silver might be removed. They stated that "the hardness of their situation in being obliged to pay a duty of 3 per cent on all silver coins exported from this settlement to the southward, which silver in general is the produce of goods, on which a custom of  $6\frac{1}{4}$  per cent has been already collected, or is meant to purchase merchandise with, which will pay this duty hereafter. Your petitioners trust that your Honor &<sup>ca</sup> will deem  $6\frac{1}{4}$  p. cent as much as trade can possibly bear at the very low ebb it is at present, and that near 10 p. cent. which this additional duty brings it to is more than any trade can support, even when the markets are far more advantageous." (Vol. II. p. 224.) The Government allowed that the merchants did suffer some hardship in paying the duty on the exports to the Malabar coast, "yet as we can find no remedy which will not admit of abuse, as under cover of exporting money to the coast it might be carried to China and Batavia, from whence it never returns, it is therefore resolved that the duty be continued as at present." (Vol. II. p. 223.) Another request the Members of Council found more difficult to refuse. The President requested the loan of six hundred candies of cotton from the Company's stock in Warehouse "which I will either pay at the medium price this may sell for, or return the like quantity in new cotton, for which I request the Board's concurrence." Though the President was allowed to deal in cotton it was "resolved agreeable to the Committees recommendation that all Companys servants, Civil, Military or Marine, their servants or dependants, as well at the Presidency as the subordinates, be strictly prohibited from dealing directly or indirectly in grain except on the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys account, and that this prohibition be publickly made known to the servants and to the Army in General Orders as also the Officers of the Marine." (Vol. II. p. 259.)

---

*"At the time, I can safely affirm, I lived in the most sparing manner, a writer's income altogether not exceeding sixty-five pounds per annum. I never drank wine at my own table, and often went supperless to bed when the day closed, because I could not afford either supper or candle: as the dinner hour was one o'clock, and a writer's age generally between sixteen and twenty-one, the abstinence was not occasioned by a want of appetite. During the bright moonlight evenings, I indulged myself in reading on the flat roof of the writer's apartments at the bunder; where, through the medium of cloudless atmosphere, I could peruse the smallest edition of Shakespeare without inconvenience." (P. 165 For. O. M.)

On the 1st January 1784 William Hornby embarked for Europe after having governed the Presidency with great ability and judgment for eleven years and by his courage guided it through the perils by which the Maráthas beset it. (Vol. II. p. 279.) He was succeeded by Rawson Hart Boddam. The English were now at war with Tippoo Sultan. His father Hyder Ally had once more burst through the passes of Mysore and brought the British Empire in Southern India to the verge of ruin, when his progress was arrested and our national honour retrieved by the cool courage of Hastings and the military genius of Coote. At the end of 1784 death calmed the restless spirit of the daring freebooter. The war was continued by his son, who proceeded to the Western coast to oppose an invasion by General Mathews who had been sent with a small force from Bombay. The orders were that the fort of Bednore in the tableland of Mysore should first be captured. The citadel was situated on the crown of a lofty hill and the path which led up to it was considered to be impregnable. The Highlanders who formed part of the force, however, gallantly carried by assault the defences and the town was surrendered. The English were not suffered to retain undisturbed possession of their conquest. Tippoo Sultan proceeded by forced marches to Bednore and invested the fort. The little garrison for five months gallantly defended it. Then the stock of provisions became scanty. There seemed no hope of relief and they capitulated. The terms were that "the garrison should march out of the fort with the honors of war, & pile their arms on the glacis; that all public stores should remain in the fort; that all prisoners taken since the siege began should be delivered up; that after being joined by the garrisons of Cowladroog & Annantpore (who were included in these articles) the whole should have full liberty to march unmolested with all their private property to Sadashagur,* from thence to embark for Bombay." (Vol. II. p. 282.) These terms were shamefully violated by Tippoo. Nothing in history or fiction surpasses the tale of woe recounted by his prisoners to their Government. The document published now for the first time cannot be read after the lapse of a century without a feeling of indignation and horror. The officers plundered and stripped were "chained two and two by the hands." During the day they were marched fifteen miles. "Several of the gentlemen who were ill & much fatigued by the intense heat of the sun and the want of water, attempting to rest themselves under a tree were beaten in a most unmerciful manner by the enemy with swords & sticks, while others were driven on with the butts of their firelocks, spit upon, & abused in the grossest manner." Several were released from their sufferings by death, and the living remained chained to the dead for several hours. After fifteen days' marching they reached Chittledrug, a strong and almost impenetrable fortress one hundred and twenty-eight miles east of Bednore. Here they were confined in two separate houses and their handcuffs knocked off and irons put on their legs. Their daily allowance was one seer of the coarsest rice, wood for cooking it and two pice to purchase additional food from a market "supplied with every article except butchers meat." In a short time they were compelled to purchase wood, which "additional expense deprived us of half of our paltry daily allowances. Then the market was removed and nothing brought for sale but sour milk, salt, chillies, tamarind and tobacco." "About midnight Sergeant Dobbins of the 102nd Regiment, who had been ill of a fever some days, departed this life: & when the doors of the prison were opened in the morning, we made the Wurdee Wollah acquainted with the circumstance, & requested the corpse might be immediately taken away and decently interred, for we feared the putrid stench that arose from it might occasion some infectious distemper; but instead of complying with our request, he told us we must dig a grave in the prison & bury him there. We then represented to him the offensive inconvenience of such a measure, and likewise the impossibility of doing it, having no tools for that purpose, to which he replied, 'Dig it with your nails.' However, after many humble entreaties, we at last gained our point & the funeral service having been read, the corpse was tied up in a mat, and carried out of the prison by our servants; after which the enemy tied a rope about the neck, and took it away. On the 20th they deprived us of the sour milk, so that we had then nothing to subsist on but rice alone without any other vehicle than water to carry it down. The daily insults we received from our cruel tyrannical enemy, joined to the rest of our treatment, when compared with our former situations in life, at times depressed our spirits and hurt our feelings so much, that words cannot do justice to our sufferings. But on reflection, recollecting we were Britons, & how shameful it was to yield to gloomy despair, we resumed our usual gaiety of mind determined by the help of Providence to surmount every difficulty in hopes of future revenge." After a year of execrable cruelty endured with fortitude, one morning the prisoners had the glad tidings brought to them that peace was concluded and they were free men. One incident alone relieves the tragic monotony of the tale of barbaric cruelty related by the prisoners. They wrote:—"Our sepoys were equally oppressed in every prison, all of them having been employed as coolies, carrying mud, stones, & chunam the whole time of their confinement, with no other allowance than one seer of rauggy & one pice each; & having been daily punished with stripes & threatened to be hanged for refusing to enter into the Nawaubs service. This hard usage caused numbers of them to die. The circumstance with which we were made acquainted by some of the European soldiers so much redounds to the honor of the sepoys that it cannot pass unnoticed. In some of the prisons where the Europeans & sepoys were confined together, the latter saved money out of their daily allowance & purchased meat for the former, at the same time telling them they well knew the customs of Europeans, & that they could not do without it: also, when on their march, they would not suffer the Europeans to carry their knapsacks, but the sepoys took them & carried them themselves, telling the Europeans they were better able to bear the heat of the sun than they were, the climate being natural to them."

---

* The 1st volume of the Selections from the Records gives a detailed account of the dealings of the Maráthas with the English.

From Bednore Tippoo proceeded to Mangalore with his whole army, at least 100,000 strong. The defences were weak, the garrison consisted only of 700 English and 2,800 Native soldiers, but for many months they kept at bay their foes. The besiegers erected numerous batteries around the town and made huge breaches in the walls through which Tippoo's host led by Frenchmen often attempted to enter, but the little garrison manfully stood their ground and many a bloody contest took place. After a few months' continuous fighting a flag of truce brought the English commander news of a peace having been concluded between Great Britain and France and that a cessation of hostilities had in consequence taken place on the Coromandel Coast. An armistice ensued. Tippoo bound himself to establish a market where the garrison might purchase ten days' provision of every kind. General Macleod had an interview with the sovereign of Mysore, who expressed a sincere desire for peace with the English. The General replied that the best proof he could give of his sincerity would be to release the English prisoners. Shortly after General Macleod's return to the head-quarters of his army at Tellicherry he learnt that Tippoo had broken the convention and was attempting to starve the garrison into submission. He promptly gathered together a force to march to their aid. His route lay through Canannore, whose Queen had seized and confined some shipwrecked officers, and he determined to punish her for the outrage. After a long and fatiguing march of fifty-eight hours he arrived within three miles of Cannanore where he halted. Next morning he advanced to the sea, communication with which was essential. He found a large body of the enemy drawn up behind a high breastwork, who received the English with a brisk fire. The sepoys however rushed on with great impetuosity and the enemy gave way and fled without stopping to the fort. Batteries were now erected and the guns being served with unceasing fury and marked precision, a breach was quickly made which was thought practicable, but it was necessary to sound the ditch to ascertain the length of the ladders necessary for the descent. This was performed by a Light Infantry Serjeant of the 52nd Regiment "who being furnished with a plumbline, ran across the esplanade in open day, stood under a smart fire from the walls on the bank of the ditch, dropped his lead and returned unhurt." Next morning the fort was captured by storm. The town had however still to be taken. It was girdled by a wall and earthen breastworks flanked with many towers and forts. The General thought that by an instantaneous vigorous attack delivered by our troops in the flush of victory the lines of defence might be captured. He therefore ordered the whole of his force to advance. The stormers under a mass of fire moved over broken ground to the lines, but the destructive musketry, the strength of the earthworks and the valour of the enemy who fought with the courage of despair rendered all their efforts nugatory. At this time occurred an act of gallantry which has never been surpassed in the annals of England. "Lieut. Col. Barry at the head of the British division had stormed one of their strongest redoubts. It was thought necessary to evacuate it. Its importance was soon recollected, and he determined to repossess it. Having crossed the ditch and standing on the brim, with his Serjeant only, he saw his troops for a moment at a stand. Being a little man and much fatigued, he begged the Serjeant to take him in his arms and throw him amongst the enemy, and he was sure his brave men would follow him. They did follow him, and swept everything before them. This gallant officer was in this attack shot in the head with a musquet, wounded in the leg by a pike, & bruised by a cannon bullet discharged from the hand; but he is happily out of danger." (Vol. II. p. 297.) Next morning the English brought their heavy guns to bear upon the town and it surrendered. Tippoo Sultan wrote to the General and remonstrated against the capture of Cannanore because the Queen was his ally. The General replied that he never knew she was his ally till after he had taken the place, and if he had known he would still have taken the place because the Queen had begun the war. He also added: "Your Highness has a custom of calling all the Malabar princes, who are allies of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, your servants. Every one is your servant: I don't understand this. I have the greatest & most perfect respect for your Highness, next to my own great King I desire your prosperity more than that of any other Prince, but I must not give up my conquests because you say every prince on the coast is your servant." Tippoo now consented to negotiate a treaty which was signed on the 11th of March 1784. The terms (Vol. II. p. 316) were a mutual restoration of all conquests and by a severe struggle of four years neither of the contending parties gained any advantage.

Four years after the treaty was signed the Honourable the President attended by the Council, the Covenanted Servants and the principal European and Native inhabitants went from the Government House to the Dockyard, where he delivered the keys of the garrison to his successor Andrew Ramsay, Esq. Brigadier-General Nilson protested against Mr. Ramsay assuming the powers of the Commander-in-Chief during his provisional tenure as Governor. His main argument was not very cogent: "Although the Company have annulled my former Commission of Commander-in-Chief of the Forces under this Presidency, and appointed me Second-in-Command of the Army, it was done at a time when they appointed another Commander-in-Chief, and it is natural to suppose that when such Commander-in-Chief resigns his office, that the next superior of the military officer succeeds him in such command unless another has been appointed by the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Court of Directors in his room." The Council decided that "the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company in their commands of the 12th April 1786 having been pleased to alter the constitution of this Government, expressly declaring that they judged it expedient to unite the offices of Governor and Commander-in-Chief at this Presidency in one person, and constructed the commission accordingly; we cannot entertain a doubt of their intentions that the same powers on the departure of Rawson Hart Boddam, Esq<sup>re</sup>, should devolve upon his successor, we therefore cannot, consistently with our idea of the present constitution, admit the validity of the Generals pretensions. But agreeable to his request, ordered that a copy of his letter be forwarded in the packet to our superiors." (Vol. II. p. 341.) The only measure of importance carried out during the provisional Governorship of Mr. Ramsay was the establishment of a bi-monthly post between Madras and Bombay. The charge for a single letter was Rs. 2 and it was delivered in twenty-five days. On the 6th September 1788 Major-General William Medows landed at Bombay and "the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President having been introduced by the late President, and the usual oath having been previously administered to him, takes the chair." After holding the Governorship for two uneventful years General Medows was succeeded by General Sir Robert Abercromby, who in 1793 became Commander-in-Chief in India. For two years the office was held by acting incumbents after which Jonathan Duncan became Governor of Bombay. From his accession to office all traces of the mercantile element are obliterated from the State papers which hence forward become the archives of a large and prosperous realm. Four years after Jonathan Duncan became Governor of Bombay was fought the battle of Assaye. The wild mountain tribes which Shivaji welded into a nation had destroyed the power of the Moghul and exacted tribute from every corner of the wide empire founded by Baber. The Maráthás were lords of India when the victory of Wellington dealt a deathblow to their supremacy, and from that time dates the political ascendancy of the English in the East. The Factory at Surat, whose origin and rise we have traced, became in less than a century an Empire which in extent of territory and in multitude of subjects rivalled the dominion of Rome.

G. W. FORREST.

Secretariat, Bombay, }
August 1887. }

---

---

SELECTIONS

FROM

THE SURAT LETTERS,

1680-1700.

---

S E L E C T I O N S

FROM

THE SURAT LETTERS

(1630—1700).

---

Our good freinds M<sup>r</sup>. Fframbin Esq<sup>s</sup>

The fleet out of England (whose names and Commanders you shall find in the inclosed page) setting sayle out of the Downes the 19th March last past and voluntarily missing of the Cape most happilie met first wth the home bound "Charles" and "Jonas" att S<sup>t</sup>. Lawrence,* and afterwards wth the "Discovery" and "Reformation" at Johana† wth whom in Comp<sup>as</sup> together (to God be the praise) wee arrived here the very instant day of the date hereof. And by the inclosed coppie of such clauses as in the Comp<sup>as</sup> letter are thought fit to communicate unto you for the present, you will perceave how they have disposed of their affaires in these p<sup>ts</sup>, and uppon whom they have conferred their power and authorytie for the ordering thereof, that soe from hence forth you may addresse yourselves for directions accordingly. And in the meane while take tymely knowledge, that for the better forwarding of our dispatches this yeare for England and to p<sup>r</sup>event the wintring of our shipp by the way, which is now most inconvenyently happened to the "Charles" and "Jonas" att S<sup>t</sup>. Lawrence, through usuall custome of awayting of our shippes backe retourne from Persia, to make this the last porte of their finall dispeed for England, wee are determynd, for this yeare only, to alter that course by appointing Persia for their last porte, and to that end shall wth all conveniencie possible indeavo<sup>rs</sup> the p<sup>r</sup>esent lading of these our Indian investm<sup>ts</sup> p<sup>r</sup>ovided and appointed for the acco<sup>ts</sup> of the first voyage; and by that meanes will hope to give them their dispeed from hence by the 25th or last of November at the furthest, and wth them also our letters and accompt<sup>s</sup> for England; w<sup>ch</sup> may serve for advertisem<sup>t</sup> unto you, that you be nott backward in the like yo<sup>r</sup>selves, or behinde in ought elce that might concerne that present expedition.

To Ag

The aforesaid coppies of such severall clauses in the Comp<sup>as</sup> letter as doe concerne that ffactory, shall till further occasion hereafter excuse our insisting on the particulars, who doe rather in respect of our long discontinuance of being conversant in these affaires, and as yet haveing had but little conference wth the factors heere, expect to receive from you a relation of the present estate of yo<sup>r</sup> p<sup>r</sup>ticular employm<sup>ts</sup>, as what goods you have there in a readynes,

---

* The 22nd of July we discovered the great island Madagascar, commonly called St. Lawrence, we being then betwixt it and the African shore, which has almost every part of it under or without the southern tropick.—Terry's Voyage to East India (1665), p. 31.

† The island of Johanna is one of the four isles of Comora: their names are, Comora, Monilla, Johanna, and Mayotta. Johanna lies near the foot of St. Lawrence, between that and the main land of Africa, in about 12½° of south latitude, by our observations we made no more than 12° and 6 minutes. 'Tis guessed to be stretched in length about thirty miles and in latitude half the number. Its fertility invites all the Europe ships tending towards Suratt, and the northern parts of India, to refresh themselves there.—Ovington's Voyage to Surat (1689), p. 108.

what yet to provide by any former order, yo<sup>r</sup> severall ingagem<sup>ts</sup> if any, the price and quantityes of Indico, as well of old as new at this instant to be had, and what corrinals wth you their in the buying thereof, together wth yo<sup>r</sup> opinions of its likely rising or falling, or what elce you shall thinke fit to participate unto us, whether in the p<sup>r</sup>ises, or ought that is heere unmentioned.

On the contrary you may expect wth all expedition from hence such fitting sumes of supplie by exp<sup>o</sup> as by collection out of your former advises to this ffactory, may suite wth the nature of yo<sup>r</sup> p<sup>r</sup>esent occasions, and shall be agreeing wth our owne designes, for another investment to be downe before the reynes, w<sup>ch</sup> by o<sup>r</sup> next, very speedily intended, wee shall more at large God willing advise you.

If of the com<sup>o</sup> now brought out of England especially broad clothes, Devonshire kersies or perpetuities w<sup>ch</sup> are dyed into collours sorting wth the humor of these people, you shall encourage us to send you any p<sup>te</sup> for tryall wee will indeavor the same if not otherwise disposed of in the interim, and that there be fit conveyance to effect it wth conveniencie.

The above written hath beene detayned by us ever since the 12th p<sup>r</sup>esentt (w<sup>ch</sup> was the day of our arrivall before the wall of Suratt), p<sup>thly</sup> through the interuption of ffriggatts that hindred o<sup>r</sup> landing for many dayes, and p<sup>thly</sup> since by other dispatches for Bantam and Coromondell, as also some tyme taken upp in vissits of these people to us, and wee to them, as the necessitye of such usuall cerymonyes required.

Our ffleet wee sent out againe to sea at the request of these cheifes, both in quest, as for the safe garding in of their shipp the "Shawhee"; the forsaid friggatts lyeing in wayte to surprize her, and are further bent by stratagem of fire (haveing vessells fitted for the purpose) to practise some mischeifes uppon o<sup>r</sup> shippis in the hole of Swally*; for, without they dare not attempt it.

And now in answe<sup>r</sup>e to yo<sup>r</sup> last of the 10th August rec<sup>d</sup> the 14th p<sup>r</sup>esent, it will very much concerne yo<sup>r</sup> repute in the seasonable sending downe of your accompts, as well those for the old joynt stocke as those other for the first Persian voyage, w<sup>ch</sup> not arriving before the first November as above said will come too late for their this yeares convayance, and some tyme you must remember to allowe for their entry heere into o<sup>r</sup> generall bookes, whose not sending home this yeare would be imputed to the neglect of o<sup>r</sup> men, if any in that kinde should be backward.

You will p<sup>ceave</sup> by that clause of the Comp<sup>a</sup> letter w<sup>ch</sup> concernes the buying of salte-peeter howe they doe now restraine us to such sorts as are onely double refined, and for as much as the charge from thence is extraordinary great, and that in England, it is very much fallen in price, wee shall hence forward confine ourselves to the ffactory Amadavad for the p<sup>vision</sup> of that commoditie, where wee will not doubt of sufficient to accomplish the quantityes now required, w<sup>ch</sup> are not to exceed a convenient p<sup>portion</sup> only fitting for Ballast of the shippis retournable for England; soe as you shall be quit from all further troubles w<sup>ch</sup> wee p<sup>ceave</sup> to be incident in the procuring of these p<sup>visions</sup>.

* Swally, Swally Roads, Swally Marine, Swally Hole.—Suwali the once familiar name of the roadstead north of the mouth of the Tapti where ships for Surat usually anchored and discharged or took in cargo.—Colonel Yule's Hobson-Jobson.

As also passing by Balsore (Balsar) eight Ships riding at Surat River's mouth, we then came to Swally Marine where were flying the colours of the three nations English, French, and Dutch.....who here land and ship off all goods without molestation. To this place belong two sorts of Vermin, the Fleas and Banyan, the one harbouring in the sand fasten upon you as you pass; where it is some pastime to see what shift the Banyan makes, being bit by them he dare not kill them, for fear of unhousing a Soul according to their notion of Transmigration. The other Vermin are the Banyans themselves that hang like Horse-leeches till they have sucked both Sanguinem & Succum (I mean money) from you.—Fryer's Travels, p. 82.

Wee should be glad to heere that that which you have provided allready were well onward on the waye, for its tymely arrivall here, if it were possible to be sent home in the retourning shipp yeare, w<sup>ch</sup> otherwise must be turned over, and ap.priated to the acc.<sup>o</sup> of this second voyage.

You are to take further knowledge that as the Comp.<sup>s</sup> are some what restrained in the requires of callicoos of all sorts, soe doe they inlarge the more in their demaunds of both Cerques* and Agra indico,† and seeing the former to be unreasonably inanced in price, also a scarcetye thereof, and many buyers, wee must endeavour the greater quantityes of those richer sorts there wth you, wherein for the more expedit p.formance and attayning of our full desires and that the investment of this yeare may have its full accomplishment, to be downe at Suratt before the begining of the reines wee doe send you here wth all a bill of Exp.<sup>s</sup> for 25000 rupees made payable their unto you a...dayes accustomed by Vimjukicca‡ the Vakill of o<sup>r</sup> ancient acquaintance Vergee Vora§ who hath also furnished us with a letter of credit to the amount of 25000 Rupees; for your further supplie uppon all occasions, and for addition thereunto likewise wee intend to goe still remitting either by the waye of Amadavad, or imeadiattly from hence, or from both, fully to inable you to the purchaseing of 4 or 5000 of those mands to be p.vided, and sent downe within the lymitted tyme aforesaid, wherefore wee pray you to be very frequent in your advices, and be resolute to lay hold upon all opportunities for the effecting of those o<sup>r</sup> imunitions; and for your better assistance in the p<sup>r</sup>misses wee intend very speedly, God willing, a supplies of one or two ffactors from hence, for the businesse may well deserve it.

Let us have a word or two of the prices of suger and suger candy, as also of the quantityes there p.vidable, and the seasons when most cheapest, that against another yeare wee may make a fitting provision thereof for Persia.

Upon o<sup>r</sup> shippes retourne againe into porte, w<sup>ch</sup> wee doe expect within 8 or 10 dayes at the furthest, wee will send you yo<sup>r</sup> p.ticular letters, if any out of England, where there is little alteration since the last yeares ffeet, only that the treaty of peace wth Spaine was in agitation by reciprocall embasies from each King to other, w<sup>ch</sup> yet by their non-cessation of armes, the successe is somewhat to be doubted, and soe not remembering ought elce att p<sup>r</sup>sent, wee commend you to Gods mercies and with freindly salutes rest

Suratt ye 30th September 1630.

Your very loving ffreinds,
 THOMAS RASTELL.
 JOHN SKIBBOW.
 JOSEPH HOPKINSON.
 RICHARD BARBER.
 JAMES BICKFORD.
 ARTHUR SUFFEILD.
 JOHN HORRIS.

---

*Chircies or Chirchees, is a small town about a league and a half from Ahmedabad. It has a great number of tombs of the kings and princes of Guzerat, whence the Indians believe that it was, in ancient times, the capital of that kingdom; but it is more probable that it was only the burying place of their kings, and that Ahmedabad was always their capital. The factory which the Dutch had here was established for the sake of purchasing indigo,—Stavorinus's Voyages to the East Indies, Vol. III., p. 109.

† Indigo comes from several parts of the great Mogal's Empire; and according to the diversity of the places it differs in quality and consequently in price. In the first place, it comes from the territories of Biana, Indona, and Covesa, a day or two's journey from Agra, which is esteemed the best of all. It is made also eight days' journey from Surat, in a village call'd Sarques, two leagues distance from Amadabad".—Taverner's Travels in India, p. 128.

‡ Kimji Kika.

§ Virji Vora.

Worp<sup>h</sup> and our very loving freinds Mr. Burt Esq<sup>r</sup>.

But first you may take a knowledge that the "James William" and "Blessing" dep<sup>ting</sup> England the 19th March last, and passing by the Cape, arrived att S<sup>t</sup>. Lawrence the 14th Julye, where they founde the "Charles" and "Jonas" intending to make that their place of wintring, for the more seasonable arrivall upon the coast of England; and proceeding thence for Johanna they as prosperously met there the "Discovery" and "Reformation," in whose comp<sup>a</sup> together they all safely arrived at the Barr of Surratt the 22 passed, to that God that guided us hether be the glorye.

Heere at our very first appearance wee were confronted by a ffeet of about 30 saile ffrigats and smaller vessells who had awayted, as well the Junckes* of this place as o<sup>r</sup> owne shippes neare upon 20 dayes before o<sup>r</sup> coming, and in that intrim had made seasure, and carried hence y<sup>e</sup> Mussahee of this port wth a very great wealth of treasure. Our landing heere for certayne dayes they also hindred, for untill wee had conference wth the ffactors here residing wee held it not safe to adventure into the hole of Swally, not knowing what hindrances might have been p<sup>r</sup>pared to indanger us upon the Barr by the sinkeing of some vessells o<sup>r</sup> other materialls to that purpose, and dureing this delaye they hesitated not to make more daring approaches about o<sup>r</sup> shippes, then became either their safety or discretiones to adventure, for by that meanes wee shattered one of their ffrigatts in peeces wth our great ordnance, and a smaller vessel wee likewise surprized with our Barges, whereby haveing examined the Portuigalls et<sup>ra</sup> that were in her, wee beccame privye to their mischeivous designs against us, aymeing cheifely by the fireing of certayne ffriggats filled up wth combustable stuffe, and chained together for the purpose, to attempt the ruine of o<sup>r</sup> Admyrall and Vice Admyrall, or one of them if it were possible, w<sup>ch</sup> wee conceave to be now deferred for execution untill o<sup>r</sup> entering into that narrow poole of Swally, albeit that beefore wee had taken that vessell it seemes they had otherwise resolved.

Whilst wee were thus in expectation of this their stratagem, our freinds Mr. Skibbow and the rest were gotten aboard, who participating unto us the extraordinary importunitye and (as wee may say) petitions of the Governo<sup>r</sup> and Merchants of this towne, that wee would now take their cause into our p<sup>r</sup>tection, by sending out o<sup>r</sup> shippes againe to attend the waseting(?) of their expected "Shawhee" most richly fraught from Mocha, Mr. Rastell (yo<sup>r</sup> newe President) with the rest new come, convayed themselves on shoare, and after great hono<sup>r</sup> done him by these cheifes at his first reception condescended to their request (though first concluded on by a generall Consultation helde aboard before his thence dep<sup>ture</sup>) and instantly sent off the whole ffeet together in quest of their Jouncke to the great contentment of this people.

Since w<sup>ch</sup> by letters from Damon is advised that seaven of their ffriggatts, following the ffeete and taking advantage of the seperation of one single shipp from the rest, very boldly attempted her wth fireworkes et<sup>ra</sup>, but shée (prepared wth the like) both acquitted herselfe of danger, and even by their owne ellement of fire directed by the just hand of God consumed 5 of the 7; the rest of the ffeet haveing also by this tyme incompassed them round, and, as is guest, might with their ordnance (and nott solely by fire as aforesaid) helpe to make up the full period of that destruction, many dead bodyes (some saye two boats lading) being brought on shoare, and interred, at Damon, but the body of the Vice Kings sonne who it seemes perished also in the action not found to accompanye the rest of his fellowes.

---

* Junk is a large eastern, especially (in later use) a Chinese ship. This is one of the oldest words in the Europeo-Indian vocabulary. It occurs in the travels of Friar Odorico, written down in 1331, and a few years later in the rambling reminiscences of John de' Marignolli. The French translators of Ibn Batuta derive the word from the Chinese schonen (chwen). The old Arab traders must have learned the word from Malay pilots, for it is certainly the Javanese and Malay jong and ajong a ship or large vessel. In Javanese the Great Bear is called Lintang jong "The constellation junk".—Colonel Yule's Hobson-Jobson, p. 360.

By these disturbances, the interchangable vissits of the Moores to us, and wee to them, together wth the necessitye of p<sup>r</sup>fering our generall directions, and advices for Bantam and the coast of Coromondell (where our letters will finde the "Starr" for conveyance to the southwards), our settling of the ffactoryes to their severall employm<sup>t</sup> and inordering of supplyes to all, and every of the ffactories, for the more expedit p<sup>r</sup>formance of the many businesses that are now commended to our cares and direction, yo<sup>r</sup> Pattamar* hath been a few dayes longer deteyned then had been otherwise fitting or desired.

By the inclosed copie of the Comp<sup>as</sup> this yeares letter unto you, whose originall wee intend to send you by the shipp, you may perceave how they have disposed of their affaires both heere, there and the other p<sup>ts</sup> of India, and as they have given you a taste of their next yeares intention touching the manner and order of their designed supplies for those p<sup>ts</sup> of Persia, soe may you now assuredly depend on their certaine p<sup>r</sup>formance therein; inasmuch as the very day before my dep<sup>t</sup>ure out of London, the booke of subscription for the third voyage was fully compleat, shut up, and not a man after that day admitted to underwrite much lesse afterwards, when they shall understand of yo<sup>r</sup> endeavo<sup>rs</sup> and good successe in p<sup>r</sup>curing of a new contract wth that Kinge.

But that w<sup>ch</sup> will maynely conduce to the p<sup>r</sup>fecting of the Comp<sup>as</sup> contriveings for a more seasonable dispatch every yeare of their home-bound shipp from this place, namely by appointing of their outward bound ffleets to joyne forces wth those already in India, and to make Persia their first port must be your care and industry to meet them there wth yo<sup>r</sup> silke at the tyme prescribed by the Comp<sup>a</sup>, though to their charge extraordinary to accomplish it, or elce if not possibly to be done, to advise us tymely thereof that wee may governe ourselves accordingly and alter the rendevous appointed, or otherwise contrive as the nature of o<sup>r</sup> busines shall require.

And now retourning to the needfull points of yo<sup>r</sup> letter, wee doe finde that for the Red earth of Ormnz here is soe little use in this country, as that from hence forth you may excuse the paynes of yo<sup>r</sup> endeavours therein, and forebeare to send any more of that com<sup>o</sup>.

Wee will not doubt but rather rest confident of yo<sup>r</sup> good integrities and care in the exact collection of the Comp<sup>as</sup> p<sup>ts</sup> of customes in that place; and albeit, that wee are not unsensible of the many bywayes that may be practised (and in some sort as yet unpreaventable) to defeat you of yo<sup>r</sup> right; neverthelesse wee cannot but admonish, and stirr up your intentions to the finding out such likely remedies, as either the situation of the place for the erecting of a Custome House or the constituting of fitting Ministers may to your more experienced Judgments therein seeme necessary, and to that end, for the former, (if as aforesaid necessary) wee pray you both to consider well the charge, and to taste the Kings inclynation how farr hee may be drawne to contribute to the same, for of o<sup>r</sup>selves wee dare not undertake it, nor till advice from yo<sup>u</sup> doe wee give assent thereunto, and for the latter as it would require an English of some experience and language there in the country to be constantly resident, and to have no relation unto any other employment but only that of the Customes, so were it also requisite that hee be furnished with an able Persian writer either one of yo<sup>r</sup> owne choice there whom you may confidently trust, or a Hindoo from hence of our owne selecting, who being a stranger there and haveing his dependance merely on the English may give us the more assurance of his loyaltie. M<sup>r</sup>. Banggam now with us would be a very fit man wee know for the imployment, but so great is our want of ffactors in this place, as wee cannot for a while dispense with his absence.

---

* "The Indians in sending their letters abroad have not learnt the convenience of the quick despatches of our posts: A Pattamar or a foot messenger is generally employed to carry them to the remotest bounds of the Empire."—A Voyage to Surat in the year 1689, by J. Ovington, p. 251.

What course you have hetherto held wth the Dutch in takeing notice at least of their goods and treasure imported and the ..... thereof exported yearly from thence, wee shall gladly understand, and for as much as the Comp<sup>a</sup>. are yet in treaty with the Dutch Commissioners in England, for the compounding of all differences betwixt both Comp<sup>as</sup>., and for that amongst divers other important demaunds of o<sup>rs</sup>., that one of their customes most earnestly from tyme to tyme denyed us, being a matter of worth and waighty consideration, it would behove your greatest dilligence and inquisition truely, or as neare as may be, to informe yourselves out of the registers of that princes officers a neerest vallowation of the p<sup>r</sup>.mises, and thereof to procure us certificates from of the foresaid officers and the same to gett authentiquated either under the hands of Christians or otherwise, as may give itt credit<sup>e</sup> & vallidity in England, and gett double coppies thereof, that by severall conveyances wee may send them home to the Comp<sup>a</sup>.

Wee p<sup>r</sup>.sume that in the matter of want of waight in the silke formerly sent home you have not been faileing in your reasons to the Comp<sup>a</sup>., to wipe away all sinister doubts and constructions, wth such breake in waight hath begotten, neverthesse it will not be improper but rather convenient that you make us also privye to the same, where unto as in all things elce concerning the generall affaires, wee doe rely on yo<sup>r</sup>. discreet performance and conformities.

The Comp<sup>a</sup>. are very instant, as well with us as you, about the 35 Bales of silke w<sup>ch</sup> long since you delivered in barter of private mens goods, to know who were the p.prietors and to give reason why you advised not thereof at the first.

The freight that is due uppon the goods of "Sir Orland," wee intend not to excuse uppon any fayned p<sup>r</sup>.tence whatsoever.

And for the sufferings of M<sup>r</sup>. Bouthbye, wth the severall passages reciprocally accusations, and invectives twixt him and M<sup>r</sup>. Wilde Esq<sup>r</sup> wee will leave them to the impartiall censures of o<sup>r</sup>. employers at home, and will silence o<sup>r</sup>. owne opinions there uppon, leaving them to stand or fall as their severall attention shall deserve.

The losse of the "Charles" and "Jonas" their Monsoone this yeare for England, hath begotten a resolution in us to avoyd the like inconvenyence for the p<sup>r</sup>.sent, by making Persia the last port of dispatch to the home bound shippes "Discoverye" and "Reformation"; yo<sup>r</sup>. acc<sup>o</sup>. of the old joynt stocke therefore, together wth that of the new should be in a readyness, namely one coppie of each to be sent to the Comp<sup>a</sup>. by that conveyance, and the others to bee dispeeded unto us, wherein if any remaynes of either, you may have recourse to the Comp<sup>as</sup> orders heere wth all, appointing how you shall governe yo<sup>r</sup>.selves in its vallowation and transport from one acc<sup>o</sup>. to another.

Wee will not fayle to correspond wth yo<sup>r</sup>. desires in sending the p.ticular accompt of mens freights from hence together wth their entryes in Custome House if possibly to be p.cured, and on the contrary shall expect like in you to compare the same wth their entryes there; and for whatsoever goods landed over and above the specified, though they should endeavo<sup>r</sup>. to passe them under the name and tytle of surplus of p<sup>r</sup>.visions you exact for the same freight and custome, that from thence they may cease pester o<sup>r</sup>. shippes wth unnecessary timber, whereunto they are incited out of some conceived assurance of injoying the same wth out pay<sup>mt</sup>. of either freight or customes as aforesaid; the repartition wth you made of the freight from thence last yeare, hath been justly rectified here according to the coppie of M<sup>r</sup>. Clements accompt here inclosed, it not being reasonable that either acc<sup>o</sup>. should allowe itselfe any greater p<sup>r</sup>portion thereof then was the amount of such freight as the shipp belonging to each stock were capable of, especially when all of them were full and goods left behinde for want of roome to stow them.

And heere properly it is fit wee give yo<sup>u</sup>. knowledge how that by reason of an extraordinary drowth, bringing wth it an unyversall dearth over all this country, the like whereof not knowen either in the memorye of man or historye, as of all sorts of graine, soe of Cerques Indico in p<sup>r</sup>ticular wee shall finde an exceeding greate scarcitie; that of the last yeares growth being wholly bought upp allready by those merchants, who the last yeare takeing passage in our shippes from you, are inforced to make their retournes, for the most p<sup>t</sup> in that com<sup>o</sup>. by reason of the warrs wth Decan hindring the free recourse thither for the investing of their monyes into these finer goods; by w<sup>ch</sup> meanes Indico is now risen to 18 and 18½ rup. per mand, nor of the new next yeare is there much expected, or can wee promise ourselves other then a very poore share of that, unlesse that wth you there be some discreet preventions or restraints of passengers on o<sup>r</sup>. retouring shippes from thence this yeare, w<sup>ch</sup> wee have thought good to p<sup>r</sup>advise, that you ingage not yo<sup>r</sup>.selves too farr by promise in that kinde except uppon great necessitye constrayning.

Your relation of the Persian warrs in defence against the Turke, and the others progresse therein, together wth the Portugalls pettie p<sup>r</sup>eparations in those p<sup>tes</sup>. was acceptable unto us. Advice by the way of Mocha since doth seeme to ascertain that the Turke hath received a fatall overthrow. And of the Portugalls p<sup>r</sup>ceedings in these p<sup>tes</sup>. you have allready heard our discourse, their supply out of Europe this yeare being onely a Carrack* and one Gallion, w<sup>ch</sup> will very much disappointe the Vice Kinges designes, by the want of men, money, and useful p<sup>r</sup>visions, w<sup>ch</sup> intelligence tells us are things he greatly stands in need of. That w<sup>ch</sup> wee here most dread are his stratagemes by fire in Swally, and his ffriggatts intercepting of your boates in Gombroone; the Ckauns assistance therefore soe freely promised unto yo<sup>u</sup>. would be further solicited to your aides as well by sea or land, namely by boats or ffriggatts of that countrye to be maned p<sup>t</sup>.ely wth his and p<sup>t</sup>.ely wth some of o<sup>r</sup>. choicest shott, occasion soe requiring.

The Comp<sup>a</sup>. (as well as wee) will take notice noe doubt of the complaint you make concerning the badnes and ill condition of yo<sup>r</sup>. last yeares cloth, w<sup>ch</sup> to speake truth may be imputed onely to the unseasonable tyme of yeare, unto w<sup>ch</sup> the necessity of their affaires had then straightened them for itt<sup>s</sup> p<sup>r</sup>vision, but wee hope that that newes come by this fleet will make amends for the former, to yo<sup>r</sup>. greater ease and contentm<sup>t</sup>.

Of the esteeme of gould and distinctions of coynes their vendible, wee take knowledge, but doe intreat notwithstanding a more exact satisfaction of all other sorts in p<sup>r</sup>ticular; and that more especially touching the intrinsicall vallew of uncoynd gould, whether in ingots or other formes; and whether in yo<sup>r</sup>. payments or bartar wth the King the same would not passe as current as other specie, or part in that and p<sup>te</sup> in Ryalls et<sup>ra</sup>. as may best arise to the highest p<sup>r</sup>fitt of the Comp<sup>a</sup>.; it is a subject that hath begotten great dispute at home, therefore wee pray you not to passe it over slightly, the rather also in regard of the scarcity of Ryalls not to be purchast now under 1<sup>s</sup>. 10<sup>d</sup>. the Ryall of ready monye.

---

* Carrack. A kind of vessel of burden from the middle ages down to the end of the 17th century. The large cargo-ships of the Portuguese in the trade of the 16th century were generally so styled, and these were sometimes of enormous tonnage with 3 or 4 decks.—Yule's Hobson-Jobson.

“After that we embarked at Venice on board a certain carrack and sailed down the Adriatic Sea.”—Friar Pasqual in Cathay, 232.

Wee will not be wanting to any such Armenyans as shall seeke it at our hands, to complie wth them in all civill courtesies, befitting either our repute or their condition and quallietie, whether it bee for transport of their p<sup>sons</sup> or goods as tyme and occasion shall administer.

And ffor Gunny Ropes et<sup>ra</sup> for imbaileing, together wth such other provisions as you have demaunded for the supplye of p<sup>resents</sup> and house entertaynments, expect to be duely furnished, God willing, by the fleet, not doubting of the like care in you to accomplish wth us in the same kinde for Xiras wine, wine vinnager, Accharr* of grapps, Pistachees, Rose watter et<sup>ra</sup> all of them alike needfull unto us. But above all let us not come behinde the Dutch for some of yo<sup>r</sup> P<sup>sian</sup> horses of noate, to content this warrlike prince et<sup>ra</sup>; and herein that the Comp<sup>a</sup> may be preferred before their servants, wee doe praye you to prohibit the libertie w<sup>ch</sup> our Sea Commanders or other inferiours doe yearely presume on in that kinde for themselves, rather by way of Merchandize then any other needfull accommodation.

Yo<sup>r</sup> list of Indian Com<sup>o</sup> befitting P<sup>sia</sup> though itt satisfie in their p<sup>ticular</sup> denominations, yet it leaves us ignorant altogether as well in their prices, as their severall quantities requisit, w<sup>ch</sup> defect wee pray to rectifie more punctually for the future, and soe not conceaveing ought else at p<sup>resent</sup> necessary for enlargem<sup>t</sup>, wee commend unto you our loving respects and salutes and leaveing you to the blessed direction of the Almighty Rest

Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 6th October 1630, dispeed
by their owne Pattamars y<sup>e</sup> 6th ditto, 30 M<sup>s</sup> being paid them besides their dayly allowance in consideration of the generall dearth at p<sup>resent</sup> in those p<sup>ts</sup>.

Yo<sup>r</sup> very loveing ffreinds,
THOMAS RASTELL.
JOHN SKIBBOW.
JOSEPH HOPKINSON.
RICHARD BARBER.
JAMES BICKFORD.
ARTHUR SUFFEILDE.

---

Our very loving freinds M<sup>r</sup> Mounteny Etc<sup>ra</sup>.

With our last of the 12th p<sup>resent</sup> wee sent yo<sup>u</sup> lists @ directions for the p<sup>vision</sup> of such goods as are intended for the southerne supplyes, and this succeeding yeares returne for England; since w<sup>ch</sup>, viz<sup>t</sup> the 14th ditto o<sup>r</sup> whole fleet returned, and (the ffriggats then absent) got into the hole of Swally the same night, but the next daye were vissited againe by their olde disturbers, reduced then to only 10 ffriggats and two smaller vessells, and whilst wee were landing of o<sup>r</sup> treasure, they were embouldened (the ffollowing day) to land divers of their souldiers, wth seeming intent to intercept the same w<sup>ch</sup> wee soone p<sup>vented</sup> by the advancing forward of o<sup>r</sup> Court of guard to incounter & confronnt them; but for that tyme they avoyded that occasion. The next day being Sunday (ourselves all this while aboard) the Vice Kings sonne, and Cap<sup>t</sup> Moore wth about 150 souldiers, and colours flying, came the second tyme on shoare, approaching somewhat neerer to our tents then before, and in that brave manner that soone invited us to send an answerable strength of our bouldest Musketteirs, comaunded by Cap<sup>t</sup> Moorton, M<sup>r</sup> Wills, Cap<sup>t</sup> Greene, and M<sup>r</sup> Morres themselves in person, who in very good order, and wth calm, also displayed, marched up towards the enemy. Haveing divided themselves into three squadrones, appointed onely one to appear in sight of y<sup>e</sup> enemy, towards the water side, and the other two to wheele about behind the sand hills, that soe inviting their foe to incounter wth the lesser number they might (when drawne wthin the distance of Musket shot) rejoyne their full strength againe as they did; when as the Portugals who lesse cautiously had opened and spread themselves in good order the full length of all their ffriggats, as they purposely had contrived themselves close alongst the shoare, as well for the safety of their owne people as to terifie o<sup>rs</sup> not to dare any further for dread of their great ordnance, w<sup>ch</sup> wth their Harquibuses a crocke usually mounted on their ffriggats sides, was y<sup>e</sup> refuge it seemes they maynely depended on. But such was the undauntednes of our English, being stirred up to a high measure of furie by the hourly vexations and braveings of the enemye, as being now come wthin shot, wth a generall resolution rejoyceing att the occasion, after a shot or two rec<sup>d</sup> first from the Portugalls pushed on in the veye face & mouth of all their ffriggats and p<sup>ce</sup>aveing that but 3 of them could use the advantage of their prowes against them, and that some of the rest were brought aground, and had only their Harquibuses a crocke to gall them, advanced forwards still plying their small shot wth very good discipline, and the Portugalls noe lesse valliently replying wth their double forces, as well from their ffriggats at sea, as the squadrone on shoare, but not able it seemes to endure the obstinate rage of o<sup>r</sup> people, they began to give grounds, and our most fiercely following, entered pellmell amongst them, even into the water, wthin lesse then pistoll shot of their ffriggats; in w<sup>ch</sup> intrim the Vice Kings sonne was convayed aboard but soe narrowly escaped that the party who p<sup>ro</sup>vided for his safety was himselfe taken prisoner in the accon: many of the English not feareing to runn up to the chin in water, even to the very sides of their ffriggats pursueing the victory wth great slaughter both at shoare and at sea, and at length returned wth 27 Portugalls prisoners taken alive, wthout the losse of any more then one ancient man (a corporall), not wounded but suffocated only wth heate and the wounding of 7 more of o<sup>r</sup> people. This they happily p<sup>er</sup>formed in sight of Meirza Baker, and divers of these country people to their great admiration and o<sup>r</sup> nations great<sup>r</sup> hono<sup>r</sup>. To that good God that lead them by the hand be the glorye.

---

*. Achár, adopted in nearly all the vernaculars of India for acid and salt relishes.—Yule's Hobson-Jobson.

The next daye to their great shame they were constrained to leave the porte; in w<sup>ch</sup> intrim by the extraordinary favo<sup>r</sup> of this Governo<sup>r</sup> assisting us wth his owne cammells and mules wee got ashoare the rest of o<sup>r</sup> treasure, and some goods of vallue, but were fane ourselves to remayne still aboard for the Govern<sup>rs</sup> coming downe to the Marine, who haveing rec<sup>d</sup> such fitting entertaym<sup>t</sup> as became his quallitie returned againe contented.

Wee gave you hopes in o<sup>r</sup> last letter of a greater convoy both of men and monye then the condition of o<sup>r</sup> affaires w<sup>ch</sup> now att p<sup>re</sup>sent affoord you. The sly importunyties of credito<sup>rs</sup> being a hedge betwixt o<sup>r</sup> first designe and yo<sup>r</sup> necessary supplye of fitting meanes desired. All you can expect for the p<sup>re</sup>sent, not being above.....rupees intended to be sent you in that specie, by John Willoughby, Thomas Robinson and halfe a score of other English in their comp<sup>as</sup> for its better guard, whom wee hope to dispeed hence in 4 or 5 dayes at the furthest.

Our former order therefore of furnishing Agra by Ex<sup>o</sup> from thence, more then what you have already p<sup>er</sup>formed before the receipt<sup>t</sup> hereof, wee doe hereby annihilate, intending by Gods blessinge to accomplish the needfull from this place wee hope in as ample manner as was at first designed from thence.

The backwardnes of our bussines this yeare may put yo<sup>u</sup> in mynde to be in y<sup>e</sup> more forward preparednes wth carts to dispatch away yo<sup>r</sup> goods, even upon the arrivall of o<sup>r</sup> freinds aforesaid, w<sup>ch</sup> we highly recommend to yo<sup>r</sup> greatest care and expedition.

And in as much as at Baroch there is greate doubt made by M<sup>r</sup> Norris Esq<sup>re</sup> that they shal be much p<sup>er</sup>plext in the procureing of fitting carriage from thence in any convenyent tyme, for the transport of both yo<sup>rs</sup> and other goods from thence to this place, wee could wish if possible, that yo<sup>u</sup> would oblige the carter of Amadavad to passe the river of Baroch and to attend the goods as farr as Rannell, though yo<sup>u</sup> purchase the condition wth whatsoever allowance extraordinary.

By advice from Musilapatam there is little hopes of the Dutches arrivall here till the last or 20 of November att the soonest, by w<sup>ch</sup> meanes wee are likely to abide the single brunt of the Vice Kings expected forces o<sup>r</sup>selves, if not otherwise carefully p<sup>r</sup>vented; and soe haveing been sufficiently large in our former, yet unanswered, we shall not need to insist on any other p<sup>r</sup>ticulers at p<sup>r</sup>sent, but commending you to God, Rest

Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 25th October 1630.

Yo<sup>r</sup> very loving ffreinds,
THOMAS RASTELL.
JN<sup>o</sup> SKIBBOWE.
JOSEPH HOPKINSON.
RICHARD BARBER.
JAMES BICKFORD.
ARTHUR SUFFEILD.

Amadavad.

Postscript.—At this very instant is come newes from y<sup>e</sup> Commanders below that the last night (being Sunday againe) about 8 of the clock, the Portuigalls put in execution their maine stratagem soe much depended on by them, and not wthout cause much feared by us, in firing of their 4 prepared vessells chained together for the intended destruction of our fleet, but the vigilancie of our people directed by the Divine Providence of that greate protector that hath allwayes hetherto bestowed innumerable blessings uppon us hath p<sup>r</sup>vented the end of that great mischeife intended. O<sup>r</sup> boats well manned on head of the headmost ship haveing wth their grapnells ready for the purpose fastened on the boats so fired, and towing two of them (still burning) on the shoare, and the other two on the sands gave happie cause of great joye in o<sup>r</sup> people for soe happie diliverance, and shame enough to our malitious enemy that hath thus basely in that kinde endeavoured ruines.

Worp<sup>ll</sup> etc<sup>r</sup>.

You cannot be unprivy to the universall callamytie of this countrye, by reason of dearth and famine, now growne to such an extreme, that wee o<sup>r</sup>selves are become behoulding for corne even to supply o<sup>r</sup> househould p<sup>r</sup>visions, how destitute therefore wee are of all meanes and hopes to furnish you wth either bread, or rice from hence, let this next complaint of o<sup>r</sup> informe you, and make you sensible of the miserye. It remaynes that you therefore put yo<sup>r</sup> people to a shorter allowance of bisket, though you inlarge the more in flesh.

You may not expect any more then one Butt to be sent you before your departure hence for Persia, what we shall be able to p<sup>r</sup>vide in yo<sup>r</sup> absence wee cannot promise, the distillers being all of them, or the most part, wth their famylies departed into the p<sup>r</sup>ts of more hoped plenty, as are many thousands besides as well weavers, dyers etc<sup>r</sup>, that puts us allmost into dispaire of a competent lading for the succeeding yeares home retourne, and yet these are but the begining of greater woe yet to come, soe beseeching God to wthould his further wrath and vouchsafe a blessing on yo<sup>r</sup>, and o<sup>r</sup> endeavo<sup>rs</sup>; wee comend you to His gracious favour @ rest

Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 17th Novemb<sup>r</sup> 1630.

Yo<sup>r</sup> very loving ffreinds,
THO: RASTELL.
JN<sup>o</sup> SKIBBOWE.
JOS: HOPKINSON.
RIC<sup>o</sup> BARBER.
JAM: BICKFORD.
AE: SUFFEILD.

Worp<sup>ll</sup> Et<sup>ra</sup>.

Yester night being to meet this Governor now returned this second tyme from Belsara, where he hath made a finall conclusion of peace wth the Portuigalls; besides divers discourses occasioned by himselfe, wee had afterwards private conference wth the Shawbander* and Herniassee (who were actors wth him in the treaty) and though we ascertained from their severall informations (haveing visited them each apart) that the strength of Rinfrero doth consist only of 8 frigats and 2 fustoes from Muscat, and 14 others of the former rout, yet Herniassee a man of secret intelligence wth the Portuigalls, dit not let wth double itteration to importune and recomend a carefull watch a board your shippes, especially by night, as if he would seeme to intimate some practise intended, w<sup>ch</sup> himselfe was loath to utter, and makes it still doubtfull the conjoyning of greater forces with the Vice Kinge himselfe in p.son, yet still affirms them to be very weake and miserable but that w<sup>ch</sup> wee are behoulding to him for advertism<sup>t</sup> is, that amongst yo<sup>r</sup> prisoners a board there is one of especiall noate and quallity, and for whose escape there is a plot already contrived, or at least now a hatching by the meanes of some Parseis or Muccadams there about Swally, who haveing correspondency wth some of yo<sup>r</sup> owne people, have devised by their assistance and connivance either by one of yo<sup>r</sup> own lesser boate, or a small Almaded of the Portuigalls under some feigned pretence to convoy him out of yo<sup>r</sup> custody, and to this purpose here is a Portuigall Padree last night arrived, who it seemes is the man that must manage and order this procect.

Hereof it concerned us soone to forwarne you, that you not only take a course herein for prevention but likewise to use some way, either by threat or p.mise to get the knowledge of this person for whose deliverance such care extraordinary is taken; and to this end if all yo<sup>r</sup> prisoners were brought face to face, that each might know other by view, wee are of opinion you might finde him out, who might prove to be of greater consequence unto us, then any of us yet do imagine.

It will behove you likewise to be very circumspect in the lading of our goods now daily sending downe, namely that you suffer not any more bales at once to be unladen at the Marine then you are able to transport a board before night, and to that effect wee think it necessary that the carts do first stopp att Swally, and there abide till you frequently enorder their coming downe according to yo<sup>r</sup> daily dispatches, and as wee from hence shall give direction to the carters, that they conforme themselves to this order, so on your p<sup>te</sup> let there be some of care appointed to attend at Swally for the performance of this o<sup>r</sup> direction.

In the flooring of yo<sup>r</sup> shippes "Discovery" & "Reformation" with pepy, wee pray that you spread it to such a thicknes only, as was once determined by Consultation there a board, for wee must put you in mind againe, that y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> requires not pepy at such high rates from hence, that should take up any stowage in the lieu of better goods, for that would redowne them greatly to their damage, and when you are so floored, wee pray to guesse by the p.portion you shall have then taken in, what farther quantities may be requisit for both shippes, to the filling up only of the quentings, where no other goods can be put. Likewise for Saltpeter uppon the lading of 2 or 300 bales let us have instant notice before any more be sent downe, what quantity also will be farther necessarye to accomplish only a fitting proportion for ballast, for more then that would likewise p<sup>r</sup>judice the Comp<sup>a</sup> by the leaving out of * Shabunder, from Pers. Sháh-bandar, literally 'King of the Haven,' Harbour Master. This was the title of an officer at Native ports all over the Indian seas who was the chief authority with whom foreign traders and ship-masters had to transact business. He was often also head of the Customs.—Colonel Yule's Hobson—Jobson, p. 618.

---

The Shawbunder has his grandeur too as well as receipt of Custom for which he pays the King yearly 22,000 Thomands.—Fryer, p. 222.

better goods in its stead, soe desireing yo<sup>r</sup> careful dilligence, and p<sup>r</sup>formance in the p<sup>r</sup>ises, wee commend both yo<sup>r</sup> and yo<sup>r</sup> indeavo<sup>rs</sup> to the blessed direction of the Almighty resting

Suratt, y<sup>e</sup> 23<sup>d</sup> November 1630.

Yo<sup>r</sup> very loving freinds,

THO: RASTELL.

JN<sup>o</sup> SKIBBOW.

JO<sup>s</sup> HOPKINSON.

RIC<sup>o</sup> BARBER.

JAM: BICKFORD.

AR<sup>e</sup> SUFFEILD.

POSTSCRIPT.

The vessail y<sup>t</sup> caried these unto you though ready to saile fro' date of y<sup>e</sup> preceeding part hereof, hath been here thus long retardated giving us oppertunity to acquaint you that y<sup>e</sup> ships "Loyall Merchant" and "African" had their dispatches, and sailed hence for England, y<sup>e</sup> 29th of y<sup>e</sup> passed month, whose late dispeed hence, hath been occasioned by y<sup>e</sup> devastation of this citty of Surrat lately by Sevagy, as prementioned in, obstructing all trade for many dayes and Caphalas from bringing downe our goods, and since our former date upon a rumour y<sup>t</sup> Sevagy was returning thither againe, the people all fled out of y<sup>e</sup> towne in a greater flight then at his first coming, securing their mony & goods in y<sup>e</sup> Castle and Castle ditch, & vessells in y<sup>e</sup> river. His cruelty hath been so great in cutting off hands & heads, that the terrour of his name is become so great to these people, y<sup>t</sup> upon every rumour of his coming the people will bee apt to leave y<sup>e</sup> towne, if y<sup>e</sup> King take not care to secure y<sup>m</sup> with an army.

The "Royall Wellcome" is now lading and coming towards you. By her wee shall write you at large of what may further concerne our Masters affaires, and by her send our advices towards them, so that at present wee subscribe

Your assured loving Friends,

Swally Marine, y<sup>e</sup> 4th Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 1663
64

GEO. OXINDEN.

JOHN GOODIER.

HENRY GARY,

GER. AUNGIER.

Right Wor<sup>sh</sup> & our Hono<sup>d</sup> Friends.

Y<sup>e</sup> Ship
Loyall M<sup>r</sup>ch<sup>t</sup>
& "African."

Our humble service presented to yo<sup>r</sup> acceptance etc<sup>a</sup>, our last unto you was of y<sup>e</sup> 14th November past sent hence in a vessail of y<sup>e</sup> Country to Persia recommended to yo<sup>r</sup> ffactors there to forward to Aleppo, copie whereof goeth herewith, to w<sup>ch</sup> bee pleased to bee referred, whilst wee shall according to our promise then made you proceed in responding to y<sup>e</sup> sever<sup>ll</sup> clauses of your l<sup>re</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> 24th March by y<sup>e</sup> "Loyall Merchant" and "Affrican."

Wee read in the front of yo<sup>r</sup> letter y<sup>e</sup> great expectations you have of being better dealt with in Persia grounded upon a Letter from Gombroone of y<sup>e</sup> 3rd May subscribed by M<sup>r</sup> Cradocke and M<sup>r</sup> Cranmer, that y<sup>e</sup> King had commaunded the Shawbunder to pay you y<sup>e</sup> full moyety of y<sup>e</sup> Customes and that both hee and the other officers were more then ordinarily respective to them. Sure wee are there hath been nothing of reall p<sup>r</sup>formance in any one particuler and wonder they so litle understood y<sup>e</sup> temper and dispositions of those people as to thus highten your hopes, w<sup>ch</sup> certainly they would not have done had they thouroughly conversed wth the perfidious practises of y<sup>e</sup> nation all along wth yo<sup>r</sup> serv<sup>ts</sup>, who think themselves not at all obliged in honno<sup>r</sup> to make good what they engage to you in verball expressions by way of complement. And of this Mr. Cradock hath since felt y<sup>e</sup>. sad experience in y<sup>e</sup>. dishonours and affronts put upon our people, the Shawbunder lately commaunding to seize upon yo<sup>r</sup>. Broker and in his presence to bee most grievously beaten y<sup>t</sup>. hee was caried away doubtfull of life. And yet y<sup>s</sup>. was not suffittient, whilst hee was in his cure of y<sup>e</sup>. brusses hee had received, hearing there was hopes of recovery, sent for him againe Ruffins y<sup>t</sup>. dreg's him out of his house adding to his sores & afterwards laded him wth irons and kept him close prisoner untill hee had satisfied his covetuous desires with some hundred of Romans, all this while Mr. Cradock not being able to helpe him in y<sup>e</sup>. least, soe insolent they are, being as it is said animat'd by y<sup>e</sup>. Dutch, who are in great esteeme derived from their power, having 3 or 4 great ships yearly in y<sup>e</sup>. Road fro' y<sup>e</sup>. Bay and Coast y<sup>t</sup>. come richly laden wth all sorts of commodities, as well from those parts, as Spices, Copper, Tinn & <sup>ca</sup> from Battavia, Japon and Samatra, w<sup>ch</sup> makes them esteemed, but wee a dispised people. Wherefore since it is soe, and y<sup>t</sup>. in o<sup>r</sup>. oppinions nothing but a visible power can possibly redeeme and bring us to our former repute, wee would not that those large expences should outlive our liberties, wherby it is made yet a. greater loss to you, your composition for y<sup>e</sup>. last yeares cust<sup>o</sup>. was 650 tomans which is not so much by some hundreds of pounds as hath been spent in y<sup>e</sup>. solliciting for it. For other bussiness they have none, now y<sup>t</sup>. you have forbidden us to trade for yo<sup>n</sup>. in y<sup>t</sup>. or any other parte in India; wherefore whilst yo<sup>r</sup>. bussiness is soe small there, there will need only a factour or two to be sent yearly at y<sup>e</sup>. latter end of y<sup>e</sup>. Monzoones to demand the Customes as formerly adviced, but because it may be conclud<sup>d</sup>. doubtfull whether any thing will bee paid when they shall see y<sup>e</sup>. ffactory drawne off, wee are resolved to enorder them at y<sup>e</sup>. time of heats and pestirouss aires to retire up into the Country some 15 or 20 miles and there reside and to goe no more to Spahaun, especially since it hath been so very expencive wthout any frutes, for although Ettamon Doulett should consent y<sup>e</sup>. K<sup>g</sup>. should grant a mandate upon his serv<sup>ts</sup> at port in your favour, y<sup>e</sup>. procury whereof hath been both too frequently and suffittiently expencive to you wee doe not find it regarded, w<sup>ch</sup> makes us beleieve there is private contradictions given out in such cases, elce would they not dare to disobey them so publicly. All this considered & weighed nothing can possible bee done to y<sup>e</sup>. purpose, unless you express your dislike in a hostile way, w<sup>ch</sup> Mr. Cradock hath often sollicitated us too, giving his opinion y<sup>t</sup>. with small force it is very facile to bring them to a speedy sence of their wronges done you, and doubts not of a conclusion to consent, but wee doe differ from him in judgment conceiving it to bee much more difficult then hee opinn's it, for wee doe conclude it may involve you into these following inconveniences and bee likewise expencive. Ffirst, it may bee very reasonably suspected whither y<sup>e</sup>. King will so suddenly conclude an article with you, nay wee beleieve if there bee any demands of moneies for arreares, hee will stand out it may bee two three or more yeares, for hee hath no shipping and y<sup>e</sup>. merch<sup>ts</sup>. that resort thither are generally natives of y<sup>e</sup>. country, and yet a ffeete must bee maintained if you once engage to block up his port that no bennefitt bee made off. Secondly, your force must bee considerable that y<sup>e</sup>. Dutch may not baffle you, which their insolency and pride will undoubtedly attempt to doe to make themselves appeare great and to ingross the whole trade, for if so strong they will transport all merch<sup>ts</sup> goods, and then what need of amity with our nation. Thirdly, it may cause a breach betwene these dominiones and you, when this King shall bee acquainted with y<sup>e</sup>. obstructing his merchants in their trade and ruine of his port, w<sup>ch</sup> for a while will certainly happen, and therefore must bee provided for if y<sup>s</sup>. King should bee by their meanes incensed, w<sup>ch</sup> the Dutche will forward what possible to a breach leaving noe stratagemes unattempted to bring their ends about, and also to keep us out when they have done, which will bee very destructive, when it shall bee considered that you have no manner of footing or settlement here in India, soe y<sup>t</sup>. your trade out and home may bee stopped for a time, w<sup>ch</sup> having well considered had wee (as wee have not) shipping &<sup>ca</sup> sufficient for such an enterprize, we should not presume to engage you in a bussiness of so great moment as things may succeed without first having yo<sup>r</sup> possetive orders for it, and so much wee have adviced Mr<sup>r</sup> Cradock etc. wishing them to informe you in all matters which wee hope hee hath or will doe. As also will bee able to maintaine his charge against Mr<sup>r</sup> Andrewes in y<sup>e</sup> abuse done you in giving his ship y<sup>e</sup> start off y<sup>e</sup> "Hopewell" so much to your prejudice. Y<sup>e</sup> ffreight y<sup>t</sup> hee made of your pepper laden aboard y<sup>e</sup> "Ormous" you will find entred in folio 33 in your Journall P; for which hee is accountable to you and likewise y<sup>e</sup> ingrossing y<sup>e</sup> freight backe, but here not having y<sup>e</sup> copie of Mr<sup>r</sup> Cradocks l<sup>re</sup> to yo<sup>u</sup> wee know not w<sup>t</sup> furth<sup>r</sup> to ans<sup>r</sup>.

What you write us of Mr<sup>r</sup> Revington we have in a form<sup>r</sup> longe since spoake to, and by w<sup>t</sup> wee can gather there was more of passion then reason in y<sup>e</sup> differences y<sup>t</sup> did arise, but death hath parted them and therfore have onely this to say y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> surviveing p<sup>son</sup> hath y<sup>e</sup> advantage as uncontrould, wheras if God had pleased to spare y<sup>e</sup> other by what wee cann learne hee would have approv'd himself deserving your service, those surviving as Mr<sup>r</sup> Rand Taylor, Mr<sup>r</sup> Richard Taylor, Mr<sup>r</sup> Gyffard and Mr<sup>r</sup> Fferrand, wee have since redeemed. The condition of Rajapore and y<sup>e</sup> Inland Marcs being now in a confused manner in y<sup>e</sup> possession of Rebells and daily new commotions in y<sup>e</sup> land doth diswade us from engaging ourselves in comearce for wee can have no other assurance then y<sup>e</sup> word of a Chiefe or a Rebell, and soe wee leave them untill wee shall have a further occasion to speake of those people and the condition they are in at present.

The next clause is the decearting yo<sup>r</sup> two ffactories of Agra and Ahmadavad, y<sup>e</sup> latter is neare to us wherfore wee may safely undertake to fullfill your commaunds, but y<sup>t</sup> of Agra being remote, and y<sup>e</sup> goods required for y<sup>e</sup> Europe Marketts to bee more exactly sorted, as also y<sup>e</sup> cure to bee different, if but only in this for Persia, Bussora and Mocha if not starcht slikt and beat soe as they appeare as slikt paper they are not vendeable, besides they looke not y<sup>t</sup> they should bee of an equall sortement either in goodnesse or lengthes or breadths, but carry onely these distinctions 16, 18 & 20 coveds* and by y<sup>t</sup> they are sold, whereas y<sup>e</sup> linnen drapers with you, except if over starcht over beat, or against any peece y<sup>t</sup> shall want of its pretended goodness length or breadth, w<sup>ch</sup> is not observed here, wherfore you must have them bought peece by peece browne and nombred before they are delivered to y<sup>e</sup> washers, for w<sup>ch</sup> reasons wee doe declare it impossible to furnish you from Surrat as you require in your l<sup>re</sup> by your President of y<sup>e</sup> 19th March 1661, nor can you contract for them att a sett price as you require, except to such disadvantageous termes as in reason wee ought not to subscribe in yo<sup>r</sup> behalf; and yet this wee say doth not tend to y<sup>e</sup> putting yo<sup>u</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> charge of a ffact<sup>o</sup> but that you would please to permitt us to runn a common adventure with other Merchants, for wee have from y<sup>e</sup> time of our first coming made strickt inquisition but never could purchase one hundred pounds worth of either Mercoles or Diareabands in y<sup>e</sup> towne of Surrat since wee have binn here, and if we had not made y<sup>e</sup> breach of your order in timely bespeaking what wee have procured for you (for which wee begg pardon) you had not had a peece of neither this yeare, and wheras you propound in yours of y<sup>e</sup> 25th August, and againe minde us in these yo<sup>r</sup> last advices in case wee cannot provide the two aforesaid sorts to cause our weavers to receive cloth of y<sup>e</sup> dimentions they use to bee off, which wee have propounded to them, but none will undertake it except wee will first pay for y<sup>e</sup> altering of their loomes and also their owne rates w<sup>ch</sup> are soe extravagant y<sup>t</sup> wee were quite discouraged especially in regard there were but a very few y<sup>t</sup> would undertake it, they being full of other employm<sup>t</sup>.

* Measures of Surat are only two (1) the Lesser Coveld, and (2) the Greater Coveld. The former is of 27 inches and the latter of 36 inches. By the first are sold all things (except Broad-cloth, Velvet, and Satin, which are sold per English yard); by the other, the foressaid goods in all other places,—Fryer's Travels, 206.

in weaving sundry sorts of goods for y<sup>e</sup> Marketts of Mocha, Persia, Bussora, Acheene &c<sup>a</sup> that if wee doe not engage them by impresting moneies before hand, wee should not gett halfe the Callicoes wee send you.

Wee have since our coming hether heard sad complaints of the scarcety of moneies, and y<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Andrewes could not procure at some times sufficient to pay Butcher and Baker y<sup>t</sup> serv'd the house, or your household servants w<sup>ch</sup> was occasioned a great deale by dispearing your estates in voyages and building, but chiefly by his ill usage of those y<sup>t</sup> deale in exchanges and his unmarchantlike behaviour to all y<sup>t</sup> had any dealings with him; but those complaints are over by your large suplies to us, w<sup>ch</sup> wee doe not doubt but in a very shorte time to make appeare much to your profit, promissing our observance of yo<sup>r</sup> commands in keeping yo<sup>r</sup> stock together for y<sup>e</sup> improvement of yo<sup>r</sup> investm<sup>ts</sup> in the inland ffactories, when wee shall bee happied wth yo<sup>r</sup> orders overland, and not imbeazle it contrary to your express commands. But now y<sup>t</sup> wee p<sup>r</sup>ceive wee shall have some considerable stock remayning, although wee have endeavoured and used y<sup>e</sup> best meanes wee can to returne your ships with considerable cargoes y<sup>t</sup> wee have not left any thing remaining in towne proper for y<sup>e</sup> Europe marketts, noe not a booke of Bafcaes, Diareabands, or Mercollee, whose scarcety as said, hath left remaining with us more y<sup>n</sup> wee are willing to keepe from you, and yet our care shall bee you be no looser, for wee are intended soe soone as your ships have their dispatches to commence our investments for y<sup>e</sup> next yeare in all places and for all commodities, knowing y<sup>t</sup> you have a yearly occasion for some of every sorte especially those y<sup>t</sup> are procurable most remote as Agra for Diareabands and Mercollees, and y<sup>e</sup> rather because wee could not possibly procure y<sup>e</sup> quanteties you enorder'd y<sup>e</sup> last yeare.

The differences betwixt M<sup>r</sup> Gary and M<sup>r</sup> Widdrington &c<sup>e</sup> wee have examined and find y<sup>e</sup> allegations in y<sup>e</sup> major part pretences of w<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Gary would have done rather y<sup>n</sup> affirmations w<sup>t</sup> hee actually did, what in right belonged to you hee hath here made satisfaction for w<sup>ch</sup> is brought into yo<sup>r</sup> cash as also w<sup>t</sup> moneies hee had taken over and above y<sup>e</sup> thirds of sallary due to him, y<sup>e</sup> other being but objections they charge him with maliciously exhibited through differences y<sup>t</sup> did arrise amongst them. M<sup>r</sup> Widdrington returned thence whose time being expired was by us granted upon his petition and request to returne to you by way of y<sup>e</sup> Coast, the other Clapton by name remaines still at Acheene whether yo<sup>r</sup> ffrigatt "Vine" is voyaged upon acco<sup>t</sup> of ffraught where one is M<sup>r</sup> Scrivener and M<sup>r</sup> Nurse wth orders to receive acc<sup>ts</sup> fro' M<sup>r</sup> Cobb, and bring all away. As for Clapton hee is none of yo<sup>r</sup> servant, yet having been entertained as one by M<sup>r</sup> Andrewes and soe officiated some yeares wee have permitted him to remaine in y<sup>e</sup> house and returne with them. This is y<sup>e</sup> only adventure now standing out in India, w<sup>ch</sup>, if wee once graspe, wee againe promise not to part wth but in observance to your orders.

M<sup>r</sup> Gary hath desired us to joine with him to bee humble suters to you to consider his condition, having at times served you upwards of 19 yeares in w<sup>ch</sup> time hee never received more then a third of his sallary, by which meanes y<sup>e</sup> severall stocks and voyages made are greatly indebted unto him, wherfore they being all cleared off (and a new subscription and company established by Charter whose servant hee now is) his request is y<sup>t</sup> hee may have his full sallary satisfied to his assignes for his past service; & y<sup>t</sup> rather in regard his ffamily is here in y<sup>e</sup> Country soe y<sup>t</sup> hee cannot returne to demand it, w<sup>ch</sup>, if you please to grant, he promises to deserve it in his future service.

In observance of yo<sup>r</sup> Commands wee shall here proceed to give you an acco<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> monies M<sup>r</sup> Buckeridge paid in to your stocke belonging to Collonell Rainsfords estate, which is thus, at y<sup>e</sup> Collonells going for Muskatt hee had severall sumes of moneyes paid unto him out of your cash by order, Two thousand Rupees wherof was invested in goods by Hodgee Gossee, who voyadging with him was p<sup>r</sup>mitted to put in for his p<sup>e</sup> Rup<sup>s</sup> 715: 00 p<sup>s</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> with all charges amounted to rup<sup>s</sup> 832-2½ p<sup>s</sup>, and y<sup>t</sup> it did really belong to him doth appeare by y<sup>e</sup> Collonels last will and Testament said to bee in M<sup>r</sup> Andrewes custody, which least hee should not produce its copie, was taken here attested, w<sup>ch</sup> wee now send you. As to what belongs to you wee have stated y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup> in yo<sup>r</sup> gen<sup>ll</sup> bookes to which wee referr you, and also y<sup>e</sup> invoice of y<sup>e</sup> goods now recd<sup>d</sup> from the said Hodgee Gossee in English, and a certificate under M<sup>r</sup> Buckeridge hand declaring y<sup>e</sup> said Gossees right, w<sup>ch</sup> hee humbly beseeches you for, the monies not being his owne but taken up at interest for which hee is at present in great trouble. Dealdas pretendeth to Rupees 4870½ as by an Inclosed Invoice and an Attestation here with sent doth appeare, and last of all there is one Bimgee that hath a bill of Collonell Rainsfords for 5976:00 Ms.* makes ru: 265600, which bill was sent to your President S<sup>r</sup> Geo Oxinden by Cap<sup>t</sup> Robert Browne supposing him to bee in England, which the said Cap<sup>t</sup> Browne can produce if you please to require it of him, and these are y<sup>e</sup> present debts to satisfie w<sup>ch</sup> you will find him to have creditt in your bookes rup<sup>s</sup> 6695: 34 pice cleare, yo<sup>r</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup> and demands satisfied, y<sup>e</sup> disposure whereof wee shall waite & observe your order. It is very well knowne to all y<sup>e</sup> people by y<sup>e</sup> sev<sup>ll</sup> declarations hath from time to time been sett up at y<sup>e</sup> custome-house dores & other eminent places in y<sup>e</sup> citty both in Banian & Persian, wherby you disengage yourselves from being responceable for your servants particular debts, yet wee doe feare at one time or other your bussiness will bee obstructed upon some neck of time for such their unwarrantable sending, as it was very lately in M<sup>r</sup> Andrews time, when yo<sup>r</sup> Amadavad Caphala was stopt, and y<sup>e</sup> goods not suffered to bee laden on the carts untill satisfaction was made out of your Cash for a particuler bill of debt M<sup>r</sup> Anth<sup>o</sup> Smith left unpaid w<sup>n</sup> he voyaged to Mocha for w<sup>ch</sup> hee is still your debtour, but wee shall shortly account with him having stopt some monies to preserve you undemnified. However it is to our great concent that you are pleased to give yo<sup>r</sup> selves the trouble of endeavouring y<sup>e</sup> Natives right, whose credulity hath undone many of them. Wee are joyed your resolutions to supply your ffactories with plentifull stockes and therby to have no further occasion to use your creditt, w<sup>ch</sup> wee doe not in the least doubt but wee shall find as good as ever when tryall shall bee made; for y<sup>e</sup> further satisfaction you will find in folio 9 & 10 of y<sup>e</sup> Journall y<sup>e</sup> Muskatt Voyage acc<sup>t</sup> cleared w<sup>ch</sup> ever since 1659 hath remained in your books unaltered, though it was well knowne to your former serv<sup>ts</sup> where y<sup>e</sup> money lay, w<sup>ch</sup> with interest is put to y<sup>e</sup> deceased Henry Rainsfords acco<sup>t</sup>, of w<sup>ch</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Andrewes might have given you timely advice in Anno 1661, but wee suppose hee loves to see himself paid first, but of these and other his unwarantable actings wee have much more to say and therfore shall leave it to an aft<sup>r</sup> clause.

It pleased God to arrive your Surrat Frigatt from Bantam the 4th of December. Shee hath had a tedious voyage being upwards of 3½ monthes upon y<sup>e</sup> way. Coppie of their letter and abstract of her cargoe accompany these. Wee are in y<sup>e</sup> provition of another carg<sup>e</sup> answerable to that sent last yeare by y<sup>e</sup> "Convertine" w<sup>ch</sup> they advice us is very proper for those marketts. Wee doe use all possible dilligence for an early dispatch hence that if possible shee may give a Maccassar voyage.

Your ffactories of Carwarr and Porquatt are continued but to very litle purpose to you. The first hath had in Lead, Broad-cloth, Brimstone & <sup>ca</sup> upwards of 6000<sup>lb</sup> lodged * Mamoodoes are current only in Surat, and parts adjacent; they are worth somewhat less than an English shilling, but are so accounted in the Company's books; and among merchants in the country, 2½ mamoodoes is reckoned a rupee. Yet to change mamoodoes into rupees, there is sometimes given three, sometimes 8 or 10 mamoodoes on the 100 rupees, according to their plenty or scarcity, or as the Governor or Banyans please to advance the Cambis, which is called among them Vattan. In Anno 1663 was given 20 Mam. per cent.—Fryer's Travels, ch. viii, p. 205.

there y<sup>e</sup> last yeare, designed in expectation of large quantities of pepper, Cardamons and dungarees, but, as in our last, y<sup>e</sup> gener<sup>ll</sup> commotions all y<sup>t</sup> Coast along hath not only impeaded trade, but strucke such a terrour into all merchants, that they were constrained to provide for their safety by flight up remote in y<sup>e</sup> country. But in hopes it may bee better for y<sup>e</sup> future by y<sup>e</sup> sessation of warrs and reconsilliation of differences amongst them, y<sup>e</sup> ffactory is continued. That of Porquatt is yet worse, whose acco<sup>t</sup> wee expect more fully in a few daies, and then wee shall give it you at large in an after sexion.

Wee respectively take notice of yo<sup>r</sup> commaunds to us on what tearmes you would have y<sup>e</sup> exchanges for moneies taken into your Cash, drawne on you, w<sup>ch</sup> shall bee punctually observed in y<sup>e</sup> conditiones that they who shall require such bills undergoe y<sup>e</sup> adventure home upon such ships of yours as shall then voyage for England.

Wee have already by y<sup>e</sup> "Convertine" given you an acco<sup>t</sup> of your servant Bladwell, who is for his denying to bee accountable to us, together with his other misdemean<sup>r</sup> in running away and wronges done you returned a prisoner hoping you will make him an example and therby deterr others from such insolencies and knavish practices for the future.

Wee observe you are pleased to gratefie yo<sup>r</sup> serv<sup>t</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Geo. Oxinden in his request to you from the Madera Islands concerning your sending out no more ffactors, wee being at present plentifully suplied, and shall make it o<sup>r</sup> care to give you timely information when any shall bee wanting to you.

Wee doe most humbly thanke you for your spirituall care of our soules in supplying us with a Minister, hee hath now lived some monthes amongst us to our great comfort, his comportment being sober and becoming his function and call to devine and holy orders that wee doe not att all question our future comfort and happinesse from his piety and sollid behaviour.

A Butt of Arracks shall bee sent for S<sup>t</sup> Helena and indico seed, but wee cannot by any meanes procure a black to sow it; the sheeps wee have wrote to M<sup>r</sup> Cradocke to procure male and female from Persia of those y<sup>t</sup> have curld wooll, w<sup>ch</sup> shall bee sent by y<sup>e</sup> next shipp, and deare also, but by Cap<sup>t</sup> Millet in y<sup>e</sup> "Loyall Merchant" wee doe now send severall seeds of roots and plants for food.

In our last to Persia unto M<sup>r</sup> Cradock &<sup>ca</sup> copie wherof being herewith sent you will find y<sup>t</sup> wee have prest yo<sup>r</sup> commands on them, and sent them y<sup>e</sup> copie of your objections against their exorbitant and extravagant expences, requiring more frugallity, w<sup>ch</sup> indeed hath been our discourses to them all along from y<sup>e</sup> time that wee your President and Councill have arrived hither, being much amazed at y<sup>e</sup> totall of their disbursments of all kinds, which have amounted to upwards of 2000 lb. by Annum, having no more y<sup>n</sup> 4 or 5 in family, and considering y<sup>t</sup> their journeing up and downe from port to Spahaun and backe againe is a great cause thereof and y<sup>e</sup> fruitless sollicitation y<sup>t</sup> have binn made to y<sup>t</sup> King and Court, who stop their eares to every thing y<sup>t</sup> may never see litle bee disadvantageous to them, or at y<sup>e</sup> best if heard, nothing of reallity in its performance was ever granted, wherfore wee have propounded to yo<sup>r</sup> ffactors there in y<sup>e</sup> time of heates and pestelentions to remove some 15 or 20 miles where it is more temperate and agreeing wth their constitutions, and there to reside untill y<sup>e</sup> time of repairing to porte againe, which put in practice a yeare or two, w<sup>n</sup> the King and Court shall find y<sup>t</sup> their delaies and p...fidious dealings hath cast us into despaire of reaping any favour and y<sup>t</sup> they are neglected, wee say p...chance it may move y<sup>e</sup> King and Court to a sence of our sufferings, and also bee more cordiall in removing our grievances and if not it will save you money in your purse, which, as now matters stands, is but flung away upon them; for if you will have our oppiniones what they doe in affronts and abuses to your servants is, but to weary you out and to begett a difference therby to raise a Just pretence to out you of your Royalty of customes, which must bee seriously weighed and considered when you shall think good to make your claime by force of armes, and not bee to adduluous y<sup>e</sup> a yeare or a few monthes will doe the bussiness, that is there to bee brought about.

Wee have acquainted our friends at y<sup>e</sup> Coast concerning Samuel Croplyes Estate and sent them y<sup>e</sup> clause of yo<sup>r</sup> letter for their observants of your commands.

Mr<sup>r</sup> Edward Fflyers estate what was remaining here was in the custody of Mr<sup>r</sup> Mathew Gray which hee hath paid in to Mr<sup>r</sup> Ffrancis Ellaby Purser of y<sup>e</sup> "Convertine" being empowered therunto by vertue of a letter of Attorney grant<sup>d</sup> by his Execut<sup>r</sup> Mr<sup>r</sup> Ralph Fflyer.

And thus wee have responded to y<sup>e</sup> severall clauses of your letter, excepting some wilfull omisions, w<sup>ch</sup> will fall into y<sup>e</sup> tract of what wee have further to discourse in your bussiness, wherein first wee shall beginne, and speake to y<sup>e</sup> Cargoe now consigned you by your "Loyall Merchant" and "Afffrican," observing y<sup>e</sup> method and order you sett downe in yours of the 25th August.

40 Tunns seedlack you require, w<sup>ch</sup> wee have been in the provition of ever since y<sup>e</sup> arivall of your letter to us, but can purchase no more then 25 Tonns or thereabouts.

Stick lack wee send you 63 Tonns or thereabout, wee have made it our care y<sup>t</sup> the Spike-nard now sent you being 85 bales bee thoroughly Garbled and y<sup>e</sup> flags dust and trash taken out, for soe wee acquainted our Broker who promised compliance to our orders and y<sup>t</sup> hee bought none but such as was new and bufted.

Tincall wee could procure none good at y<sup>e</sup> price you sett us and therefore not any.

Alloes Sockratina wee have procured about 11 tunns, wee have seene it, and doubt not but it will answeere your approbation, it being very good and much cheaper then you commissionate us to buy it at; this not standing you here above 9<sup>d</sup> p. lb. wee have made up for tryall 10 parcells in raw hides w<sup>ch</sup> doth binde and keepe it close together, and so is much better of stowage, and wee opine there will bee lesse losse of waight then y<sup>t</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> is put up in chests, w<sup>ch</sup> is not only very chargeable, but y<sup>e</sup> nature of it being to turne liquid and runne at the change of ayre and climats it is impossible to keepe y<sup>e</sup> skinns apart, so that as to this particuler (which wee know is esteemed in England but not to bee prevented) it is all a case whether in Chest or.....wherefore wee desire your Judgments herein for the future, in regard the stowage of Chests is nothing neare soe good.

Here being a parcell of Alloes Hepatica or Gebelly extraordinary good of y<sup>e</sup> kinde and as very cheape wee were persuaded to buy it for your Acco<sup>ts</sup>. It is made up in 33 parcells skin'd.

Shell Lack notwithstanding our utmost diligence wee could gett noe more made then 19 tunns or thereabout.

Turmerick is very scarce, wee could procure no more then 55 bales in y<sup>e</sup> towne and is all in the country hereabout.

Cowryes wee have enlarged upon, for y<sup>e</sup> supply of Kintedge saltpeter not being to be had at y<sup>e</sup> rates sett us.

Sena you require if fresh and greene, and meeting with such much under y<sup>e</sup> price you limitt us w<sup>ch</sup> is 35 p. cent, this not standing you in above 23 p. cent, garble from y<sup>e</sup> stalkes y<sup>e</sup> best we can, w<sup>ch</sup> haling soe cheape did persuade us to enlarge y<sup>t</sup> quantety to 61 bales.

Coho Seed 20 tunns or therabout wee send yo<sup>r</sup> fresh and good procured at Mocha by a person wee contracted with, it is reasonable cheape, but you might have had it under, could wee with safetie have adventured for you, but you possitively command y<sup>e</sup> contrary.

Mirh is sent you twixt 7 and 8 tunns, it is the best and all procurable in Towne.

Camphier refined wee have sent you over and above y<sup>e</sup> quantity you required being necessitated therto, otherwise could wee have sent you none; y<sup>e</sup> merchant that had it declaring y<sup>t</sup> hee would not sell any part of it but the whole parcell together.

Wee have had answer from Mr Cradocke & y<sup>r</sup> Ffactors in Persia who advice Goats wooll not to bee procurable but att farr greater rates then you advice to us, w<sup>ch</sup> is 8<sup>d</sup> of the best sorte, wheras 10<sup>d</sup> will not purchase it besides charges.

Cinnamon of any sorte is not by any meanes to bee purchas'd nor can you expect any from henceforward now y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Holland<sup>r</sup> is Master of Cochin.

Wee account ourselves fortunate in yo<sup>r</sup> behalf y<sup>t</sup> wee have this yeare procured for you a hundred and thirty or fourty tunns of pepp<sup>r</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> if Batticolla had failed us, would have been impossible to gett all y<sup>e</sup> coast along from North to South; it cost you first quality neare 6<sup>d</sup> p. pound soe strangely is y<sup>e</sup> price of pepper risen already all these places over, y<sup>t</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> was formerly in this towne for 9-10 and when at y<sup>e</sup> deerest 11 <sup>ms</sup> p. maund is now at 18 and 20, and supposed to bee at a farr greater rate within a few yeares more, for y<sup>e</sup> Dutch intend to make it their owne, as absolute as the spices of nutts and mace, and to y<sup>t</sup> intent have in their passes they give to y<sup>e</sup> vessaills that trade to and fro prohibited all cotton and ophium to bee transported downe y<sup>e</sup> coast y<sup>e</sup> two great commodities vendable up<sup>n</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Coast of Mallabarr, and all pepper and Cassia Lignum to be broug<sup>t</sup> thence, y<sup>t</sup> wee leave you to Judge w<sup>t</sup> expectations you can have of yo<sup>r</sup> serv<sup>ts</sup> ever hereafter procuring any of these goods for you, and therefore it is our duties to acquaint you thus much y<sup>t</sup> you make provition accordingly in your Charter parties to endemnifie you, for wee declare it two to one y<sup>t</sup> you gott any pepper this yeare, and y<sup>e</sup> odds is more y<sup>e</sup> next, for if y<sup>e</sup> Dutch doe concontract with y<sup>e</sup> King of Batticolla for his magazines of pepper it is impossible for you to have any in the future.

Salt peter wee could procure yo<sup>n</sup> no more then 56 bales cont<sup>a</sup> twixt 8 and 9 tunns at y<sup>e</sup> rates you confine us to, and this was accidentally purchased, wherfore it is needfull wee advice you so much, in regard you doe usually oblige yourselves in Chart partie to lade a considerable quantety of these two commodities pepper and peeter, w<sup>ch</sup> when wee faile of, causeth y<sup>e</sup> sev<sup>ll</sup> command<sup>rs</sup> of your freighted ships to give us much trouble by y<sup>e</sup> discontent they express to us, when as our obedience is to you in y<sup>e</sup> observing your orders; wherfore it would very much reconcile us to them if you would bee pleased to nominate in Charter p<sup>ty</sup> what goods they are w<sup>ch</sup> you acc<sup>t</sup> for kintaledge, for they will understand none to bee accounted kintaledge but such as are reckoned at 20 hundred to y<sup>e</sup> tonne.

Cotten yarne wee send your desired quantety; wee have been nearest 10 mo<sup>ths</sup> buying it, in keeping a dayly markett for y<sup>e</sup> buying of it in by small p<sup>cells</sup> as it was brought in from y<sup>e</sup> villages, y<sup>t</sup> wee hope our care and paines will appeare in its goodness and well sortements, persuading ourselves it will prove better y<sup>n</sup> what yo<sup>n</sup> have received hence in former yeares which you will wonder at when you are informed y<sup>t</sup> cotten 80 p. cent dearer y<sup>n</sup> usuall and all corne at double y<sup>e</sup> rate here, very litle raine falling y<sup>e</sup> last yeare not sufficient to produce corne except in some particuler places and there not more then halfe and quarter crops; and yet wee presume from our endeavours and y<sup>e</sup> honest dealings of those y<sup>t</sup> have bine implied in your service not only to recommend y<sup>e</sup> yarne but the Tapsells broad and narrow to bee better both in goodness, coulours & condition, then those were wont to bee sent you, and yet notwithstanding y<sup>e</sup> dearness of cotten and dearth of corne &<sup>ca</sup> they are also considerably cheaper, besides they are full lengthes and breadthes w<sup>ch</sup> you were not wont to have, that by calculation wee reckone you have in y<sup>e</sup> whole p<sup>cell</sup> for nothing 45000 cont<sup>ts</sup> cloth over and above the dimentions of those formerly sent you; the like in all respects are y<sup>e</sup>.

Brawles, Birds eyes, Necanees, Gunny stuff, &<sup>ca</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> please to lett y<sup>e</sup> drapers bee advised of and wee doubt not but they will advance accordingly.

Wee were necessitated to bespeake y<sup>e</sup> cloth y<sup>t</sup> made the Chints and Quilts broad and narrow at Amad<sup>a</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> wee are encouraged to by y<sup>e</sup> p<sup>ty</sup> unto whose care they were committed; yo<sup>a</sup> will like them not onely in their lengthes & breadthes but also in their cure, and being done according to your directions in sm<sup>a</sup> flowers p<sup>te</sup> white p<sup>te</sup> red grounds as exprest in y<sup>e</sup> Invoice; they exceed some thing in lengthes and breadthes of w<sup>t</sup> you advised.

Wee have had a continued investm<sup>t</sup> in all places round where weavours inhabit y<sup>t</sup> wee might comply with y<sup>e</sup> quanteties you require of us, in broad and nar<sup>o</sup>. Bafcas* and Sonugure Bafcas, settling buyers, at Neriad, Brodra, Daboy, Baroach, Uncleseare, heere in Surrat, Nunsary, Gundavy etc<sup>a</sup> and yet cannot attaine to y<sup>e</sup> quanteties you write for, one great obstacle is our stricktnesse and severity to y<sup>m</sup> in keeping them to their true lengthes & breadthes, which they would with less trouble have been brought to, were it not for other buyers y<sup>t</sup> stand not so much upon it as wee doe, especially our never failing obstructers y<sup>e</sup> Dutch w<sup>o</sup> looke neither to thick or thin, broad or narrow, and they want not above halfe or three quart<sup>r</sup> of a y<sup>d</sup> in lengthe and two or two and half inches in breadth, w<sup>ch</sup> makes us thinke sometimes that they doe it on purpose to wary us out and hinder our buying any. What of these sortes wee could get together, wee dare recommend, not doubting of yo<sup>r</sup> approbation if yo<sup>a</sup> are but pleased to allow us measure for y<sup>e</sup> necessitous times wee now labour in, wheras if it had pleased God to have opened y<sup>e</sup> heavens y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> earth might have been refresht with those fruitfull showers, w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> season did require y<sup>t</sup> the earth might have yielded her increase as usuall, wee had certainly exprest our service in a more acceptable manner in y<sup>e</sup> cheapness of your goods, w<sup>ch</sup> notwithstanding what hath bine said wee maintaine to bee better and cheap purchas'd for you then in former yeares. Besides you have many thous<sup>d</sup> of cont<sup>s</sup> of cloth in y<sup>e</sup> addition of lengthes and breadthes y<sup>t</sup> cost you nothing, and therefore wee hope they will sell the better.

You propound the contracting with a p<sup>son</sup> herein Surr<sup>t</sup>, with whom you would have us make a sett bargaine for y<sup>e</sup> quanteties of Dieriabands† and Mercooles, w<sup>ch</sup> wee have endeavoured wth out success; for here is no body y<sup>t</sup> will oblige himself to such performance, their objections are y<sup>t</sup> goods are not allwise at one price, oft times they rise by y<sup>e</sup> scarcety of cotten or corne, and likewise goods bought are obstructed in their transport by y<sup>e</sup> mortallity of princes, when the people rise to robb and plunder not only upon y<sup>e</sup> road but great townes and villages, and many more objections. Besides they demand 20 or 30 thousand rup<sup>a</sup> in hand to binde us to receive y<sup>e</sup> goods, soe y<sup>t</sup> they will not undertake it except they are sure to make a certaine profit, and y<sup>t</sup> soe considerable y<sup>t</sup> were there goods brought out of y<sup>e</sup> country as in former times, wee should buy them much cheaper then they will contract with you here, for from y<sup>e</sup> time of our arrivall to this day wee could not buy a hundred peeces of Dieriabands or any other Agra cloth, which wee suspected by w<sup>t</sup> wee found last yeare, and therfore continued y<sup>e</sup> provition of w<sup>t</sup> wee now send you of Dieriabands broad and narrow, Mercolleese, Echbarees, else had you not had a peece; but this was not done without some adventure, w<sup>ch</sup> wee were constrained to undergoe in yo<sup>r</sup> behalves, although wee were very seencible where y<sup>e</sup> loss would have fallen, since you told us a way y<sup>t</sup> none will undertake except to such disadvantage to you as wee may not suffer, whilst wee may prevent them. Wee hope y<sup>e</sup> successe wee have had, and y<sup>e</sup> profit y<sup>t</sup> will arise to you in y<sup>e</sup> sale of these goods in Europe will persuade with you to give us some more liberty for y<sup>e</sup> future in leaving to us to contrive y<sup>e</sup> best meanes for the procury of such goods as you shall require from us, for had we followed the letter of your comission wee could not have done w<sup>t</sup> wee have, although y<sup>e</sup> rises on your or our sides was not great, for wee ensured them from place to place, untill they arrived to us w<sup>ch</sup> hath somewhat hightened their prices, wee have p<sup>u</sup>sed y<sup>e</sup> goods and are satisfied they are a quality worth y<sup>t</sup> would make you gain<sup>er</sup> were wee to sell them to y<sup>e</sup> people of y<sup>e</sup> country for these marketts as proper for Persia &c<sup>a</sup>; only thus much wee shall desire you to take notice of as well in these as all other goods of Ahmadavad, Neriad, Brodera, Daboy, Baroach, and Unclaseer y<sup>t</sup> all y<sup>e</sup> charges y<sup>t</sup> ever you have bene at is included in y<sup>e</sup> price of the goods, w<sup>ch</sup> if not understood may make them seeme deare compared with goods formerly sent you, w<sup>ch</sup> never bore their reall charges of y<sup>e</sup> factor<sup>s</sup>. y<sup>t</sup> were imploied to provide them; but was charged a p<sup>t</sup> in a p<sup>t</sup> of books kept, that were afterwards brought into your generall bookes under y<sup>e</sup> heads of charges of Merch<sup>a</sup>, House expences, Acco<sup>t</sup>. presents, acco<sup>t</sup>. Interest, sallery, w<sup>ch</sup> had they bine put into y<sup>e</sup> cost of y<sup>e</sup> goods Invoiced to you as here wee now have done on all y<sup>e</sup> goods of y<sup>e</sup> above said places y<sup>e</sup> very charges exceeded y<sup>e</sup> investments as wee found to our sorrow at our arrivall here, and wee are persuaded did also deceave your expectations at their sale, you supposing yo<sup>r</sup> selves greater gainers then you really were if all had been charged, whereas you have no more to add to these goods then y<sup>e</sup> customes and fraught and those other ordinary disburcem<sup>ts</sup> at home with you.

*Bafcas for Baftas. A kind of calico made especially at Broach from the Persian Bafta woven.—“Broch Baftas broad and narrow”. Fryer 86, Yule's Hobson-Jobson.

†“Nearly every village in India under the Company's monopoly manufactured piece-goods and these commonly were called after the village where they were made.” Sir George Birdwood's Report on the Miscellaneous Old Records of the India Office, 1879. Colonel Yule writes:—“Nothing is harder than to find intelligible explanations of the distinction between the numerous varieties of cotton stuffs formerly exported from India to Europe under a still greater variety of names; names and trade being generally alike obsolete.”—Hobson-Jobson.

And thus having spoke to y<sup>e</sup> goods now sent you, wee shall speake to y<sup>e</sup> list wee send you of what is vendable with us, wheron you will find wee have enlarged in consideration of y<sup>e</sup> trouble you have in procury of silver there, as also y<sup>e</sup> losse you sustaine wheth<sup>r</sup> by y<sup>e</sup> knavery of these sheroffes or y<sup>e</sup> high prices it cost in England. As for these people y<sup>t</sup> buy it wee use all possible meanes to prevent them by making private assayes, as adviced in our last overland, wheras y<sup>e</sup> following goods will advance if well bought being here vendable viz<sup>t</sup>,

Lead you may send us 20000 m<sup>ds</sup> whose price at pres<sup>t</sup>. 5 rupees p. maund and soe much wee hope will sell.

Copper 10000 m<sup>ds</sup> will vend; y<sup>e</sup> prices twixt 20 to 22 rup<sup>a</sup> p. m<sup>d</sup> of those unwrought plates sent out last by y<sup>e</sup> "Rich:" and "Martha" in 1662.

Broad cloth but 1000 ha<sup>s</sup>. peeces wherof 600 reds but noe stamells, and 400 greenes may yield you 5 rup<sup>a</sup> p. yard, and if you please 500 Herb<sup>l</sup> in sup fine scarlets and popinjary and grass greene.

Corrall if to be had y<sup>e</sup> best rates at Levorne of Gressio Recadutty Teraglia Barbarisco here may sell to y<sup>e</sup> amount of 40000 rupees but it must bee well bought.

Allum 2000 m<sup>ds</sup> that sent out y<sup>a</sup> yeare wee have sold already at 4 $\frac{3}{4}$  rup<sup>a</sup> p. md. so much will vend but pray cause it to bee better made up for y<sup>e</sup> barrells are slight and wth y<sup>e</sup> drigt of y<sup>e</sup> hould y<sup>e</sup> hoopes falling of the barrells fall asunder wherby yo<sup>r</sup> sustaine loss in weig<sup>t</sup>.

Brimstone some 2000 Rup<sup>a</sup> wourth will bee as much as will vend and that at 2 rup<sup>a</sup> to 2 $\frac{1}{2}$  rup<sup>a</sup> per maund.

Quicksilver 300 m<sup>ds</sup> may sell from 85 to 90 rup<sup>a</sup> and soe wee have sold all y<sup>t</sup> you now sent out and y<sup>t</sup> which was sent us fro' Bantam; it comes all rated to us at 4 p. pound but wee hope it did not cost yo<sup>r</sup> so much and then your profit will bee better.

Vermelion 500 m<sup>ds</sup> may sell at y<sup>e</sup> rate y<sup>e</sup> quicksilver doth.

Ellaphents Teeth.....rup<sup>s</sup> wourth will sell at y<sup>e</sup> rate of 25 to 28 rup<sup>s</sup> p. md.; wee adviced you of y<sup>e</sup> mann<sup>r</sup> how they are sold in our letter to you y<sup>e</sup> 6th March last, to witt, y<sup>t</sup> they make 3 distinctions all over and above 16 & 16 s<sup>h</sup> w<sup>t</sup> are at 40 sear to y<sup>e</sup> ma<sup>d</sup> those fro' 10 to 16 are 60 s<sup>rs</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> m<sup>ds</sup> and those of 10 s<sup>h</sup> and under are allowed 80 seare to y<sup>e</sup> mand w<sup>ch</sup> please to take into yo<sup>r</sup> consideration when you buy any.

Tynn 10000 m<sup>ds</sup> will readily sell at 15 rup<sup>s</sup> p. m<sup>d</sup> if such as hath now bene sent us from Bantam in yo<sup>r</sup> Surratt Ffrigatt, w<sup>ch</sup> they Invoice to us at 17 Ryals y<sup>e</sup> Cw<sup>t</sup>; they come in long narrow thin pecees y<sup>t</sup> would bend or bow any way and crockle at the bending w<sup>ch</sup> is y<sup>e</sup> prooffe they make of its goodness, it was stamp<sup>t</sup> wth y<sup>e</sup> Rose and Crowne, this is a very ready commodity.

Anchours 10 or 15 for suply of y<sup>e</sup> Kings Jounckes, they must bee of 110 m<sup>ds</sup> each of thereabouts for w<sup>ch</sup> you receive 8 rup<sup>s</sup> p. md.

Yellow Amber cannot bee valued and its prices being both there and here according to its wourth both in bigness etc. Of this wee beleeve to y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>t</sup> of 10000 rup<sup>s</sup> may vend to profit if boug<sup>t</sup> at the best hand.

All these above said goods thus inlisted unto yo<sup>r</sup> & inlarg'd upon for your better satisfaction, will if provided at y<sup>e</sup> severall places of their grouth and product where you may certainly have them at 15 & 20 p. cent. cheap then at y<sup>e</sup> second or third hand, wee say these said goods thus bought will all vend suddainely and to considerable advance, and take of y<sup>e</sup> trouble fro' you of procuring plate by w<sup>ch</sup> you are alwise certaine loosers for wee compute y<sup>e</sup> above said list to amo<sup>t</sup> to twixt fifty and sixty thousand pounds starling.

Just as weehad proceeded thusfarr, being y<sup>e</sup> 6th Jan<sup>y</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> day appointed for our going to Swally to hasten y<sup>e</sup> ships despatcht, some 3 or 4 howers before our intentions to proceed on our journey, was brought us a hott allarum y<sup>t</sup> Sevagy y<sup>e</sup> grand rebell of Decan was within 10 or 15 miles of y<sup>e</sup> towne. This suddaine surprise stricke such a terrour into all, both men, women and children, that this Governo<sup>r</sup> and y<sup>e</sup> rest of the Kings Ministers and eminent merchants betooke themselves to y<sup>e</sup> Castle; w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> townes folkes perceaving, left their houses and whatever belonged to them and fled with their wives and children, some upon y<sup>e</sup> river in vessails and boats some to the out villages, y<sup>t</sup> in a few howers y<sup>e</sup> whole towne was dispeopled, excepting y<sup>t</sup> parte of y<sup>e</sup> towne about us, in hopes of our protection. Wee presently sent for 40 men from ye shippes to our assistance, y<sup>t</sup> came to us y<sup>e</sup> next morning early, with w<sup>om</sup> wee your Ffact<sup>rs</sup> servants joined and having drawne y<sup>m</sup> out in ranke and file with drum and trumpett yo<sup>r</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> in the head march<sup>t</sup> through y<sup>e</sup> body of y<sup>e</sup> townetoy<sup>e</sup> Greene beforey<sup>e</sup> Castle, wherey<sup>e</sup> Governour was ready to pop in upon the first notice of their approach. Wee past close by him and so marcht on taking a great circle round that y<sup>e</sup> ennemy was at the gates before wee could reach our house. The next neuse was the rebell had sent two men and a letter requiring y<sup>e</sup> Gover<sup>r</sup>. Hodgee Saied Beague, Virgy Vora and Hodgee Cazum the 3 eminent merchants and monied men in towne to come to him in p<sup>er</sup>son immediately and conclude with him else he immediately threatend y<sup>e</sup> whole towne with fire and sword, which hee presently put in practise not receiving a present answere; and y<sup>t</sup> day being the 5th, at night uninterrupted comes before y<sup>e</sup> Castle and entrencht himself and with his musketeers begari to play upon ye Castle, wee beleeve wth noe expectations to take it, but to keep in, & frighten y<sup>e</sup> Governour and y<sup>e</sup> rest y<sup>t</sup> had gott in, as also y<sup>e</sup> sould<sup>rs</sup> of the Castle from sallying out upon them, whilst y<sup>e</sup> others plundered & fired. In this interim Mr. Anthony Smith coming from Swally was mett with and caried to Sevagy (for it is certainly believ'd it was hee in person), who tooke 300 rup<sup>s</sup> ransome of him, & sent him y<sup>e</sup> next day to menace us, but before that we had rec<sup>d</sup> many threats. But wee still bidd him keepe his people out of y<sup>e</sup> reach of o<sup>r</sup> gunns elce wee would shoote them. Hee returned answere wee were fr<sup>ds</sup>, wee replied if soe why did hee detaine an English man, take a horse out of our stable and make fences of your goods y<sup>t</sup> lay before y<sup>e</sup> coustume house; and also suffered them to bee plundered all these things spoake him an ennemy, & therfore y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> returned answere wee would not trust him or admitt of any further treaty and therfore hee should send us noe more messages, and if hee did wee would kill y<sup>e</sup> messenger.

We had almost omitted to lett you know amongst these Embassies hee sent to us to demand homage, w<sup>ch</sup> wee presently concluded was to surrender all wee had, and y<sup>t</sup> a part would not serve his turne, and y<sup>e</sup> if wee refused it hee would raise our house to y<sup>e</sup> ground, and not spare a life. Wee replyed wee were here on purpose to maintaine your house to y<sup>e</sup> death of y<sup>e</sup> last man & therfore not to delay his coming upon us; by y<sup>e</sup> time he had broken Hodgy Saed Beague's house open, and had one nightes entire plunder out of it, w<sup>ch</sup> being soe very neare us, as one wall to part both houses, wee feard they would strengthen y<sup>t</sup> place & afterward annoy us, and by their multitudes force their way or undermine and blow us up and y<sup>t</sup> seeing they did begin with their horse and foot<sup>e</sup> to sorround us, some then standing under our ewes for noe good, wee caused a p<sup>ty</sup> of Foote to sally forth y<sup>e</sup> house and fight them; in w<sup>ch</sup> scuffell wee had 3 men slightly wounded, ours sleu a horse and man, some say two or three, but wee routed them. Y<sup>e</sup> good success animated us yet further to cleare our quarters of y<sup>m</sup>, and hearing they had taken their randavous in a Muskeett or Moore Church joyning close to our house, and also in Hodgy Saeds house warehouses, having out of feare of us not done him y<sup>e</sup> quarter of y<sup>e</sup> mischiefe they intended him. Whilst our men were clearing y<sup>e</sup> Muskeett they in y<sup>e</sup> house and warehouses opened y<sup>e</sup> doores and fled, soe wee shutt up y<sup>e</sup> doores and barracadoed them, and made a passage from our into his house, and kept a Garrison in a Belcony that cleared all y<sup>e</sup> streat and garded y<sup>e</sup> other house of y<sup>e</sup> Hodgies. When y<sup>e</sup> Rebelle had heard what was past of y<sup>e</sup> killing & routing his guards hee falls a threatning M<sup>r</sup>. Smith, some time with y<sup>e</sup> loss of his head and some times to cutt of his hand, & at last causes him to write a noate to y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> that if wee persisted in fighting against him hee would race our house to y<sup>e</sup> ground and bee our destruction. By y<sup>e</sup> time wee had more assistance from y<sup>e</sup> shippes wherfore y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> wrote M<sup>r</sup>. Smith, wee would prosecut w<sup>t</sup> wee had begun, and not at all moved at his threate requiring him to save the labour of his serv<sup>ts</sup> running to & fro on messages, and come himself, with all his army.

Y<sup>e</sup> next day he sent M<sup>r</sup>. Smith upon his parould with an Armenia y<sup>t</sup> hee had plundered and another of his serv<sup>ts</sup> wth another message to us and y<sup>e</sup> Dutche, with offers of peace promising to accept of what wee shall present him with, which if wee shall not accept, first hee will plunder and fire y<sup>e</sup> towne and then sett upon us, to w<sup>ch</sup> wee returned answere that M<sup>r</sup>. Smith belonged to us, and y<sup>t</sup> wee would not p<sup>t</sup> with him now y<sup>t</sup> hee was in our custody, and that there was neither faith or trust in him but hee was a perfidious Rebelle, and therfore wee would not trust him. Fro' that time none of his party dared to come neare us, but continued a great deale of tyranny and cruellty to y<sup>e</sup> townes men, cutting of some hands and other heads; day and night robbing and burning downe y<sup>e</sup> citty, that untill y<sup>e</sup> 11th, w<sup>ch</sup> day hee made a generall fire round about y<sup>e</sup> towne, w<sup>ch</sup> had like to have destroyed y<sup>e</sup> Dutch house it standing amongst tilde and thatcht houses more then yours doth, in as much that they were surrounded with flames, but they escaped, now standing quasy alone, with but a very few houses neare it; but our quarters are all preserv'd neare a quarter of a mile round, soe fearfull were y<sup>e</sup> villaines of comeing neare our house againe after y<sup>e</sup> first loss they sustained. Soe y<sup>t</sup> you may please to take notice y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> greater part of y<sup>e</sup> towne is burnt to y<sup>e</sup> ground but y<sup>t</sup> wee kept, for w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> inhabitants are very thankfull in their acknowledg-
m<sup>ts</sup> blessing & praising our nation, asscribing all to y<sup>e</sup> valour of our companies who now and then salied out even to y<sup>e</sup> gates of y<sup>e</sup> Castle.

Y<sup>e</sup> 12th by y<sup>e</sup> coming in of his spies y<sup>t</sup> brought him intelligence of an approaching army hee left y<sup>e</sup> towne and returned y<sup>e</sup> way hee came, garding his spoile from y<sup>e</sup> p.suite of any y<sup>t</sup> should follow him. He hath caried away in gold, silver and pearle, precious stones and other rich goods to the vallue of many hundred thousand pounds, and burnt of other goods and houses to y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>t</sup> of as much more, so y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> towne is utterly ruin'd and very little left either of riches or habitation. Y<sup>e</sup> Rogue was very cruell; Mr. Smith in y<sup>e</sup> time of his imprisonm<sup>t</sup> was present when hee cutt of more y<sup>n</sup> 26 hands in one day and many heads; who ever hee was y<sup>t</sup> was taken & brought before him y<sup>t</sup> could not redeeme himself lost either his hand or his head, and his manner was first to plunder & then to cause y<sup>e</sup> own<sup>r</sup> of his house to give him some thing over and above to redeeme his house from being burnt, and yet y<sup>e</sup> p.fidious villaine would fire it afterwards, although hee had obliged himself to y<sup>e</sup> contrary. Wee are now endeavouring to emprove this skirmage of ours to yo<sup>r</sup> profit, by acclamations of y<sup>e</sup> townes people, as well they y<sup>t</sup> are sufferers as those whose houses were preserv'd, who laying aside their owne losses cry out in thousands for a reward from y<sup>e</sup> King, to y<sup>e</sup> English y<sup>t</sup> had by their courage preserved them, when those to whom they were intrusted as the Governour et<sup>ca</sup> dared not shew his head.

Wee were with y<sup>e</sup> noble men of y<sup>e</sup> army that came to our reliefe, from whom wee receed<sup>d</sup> great thanks for y<sup>e</sup> good service wee did y<sup>e</sup> King and the country; whereupon your President having a pistoll in his hand layed it before y<sup>e</sup> Chiefe, saying y<sup>t</sup> hee did now lay downe his armes leaving y<sup>e</sup> future care and protection of y<sup>e</sup> Citty to them, which was exceedingly well taken; telling y<sup>e</sup> President hee did accept it and in reward of y<sup>e</sup> good service hee must give him a vest, a horse, & girt a sword about him; but yo<sup>r</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> told him these were things becoming a souldier, but wee were merchants, and expected favour from y<sup>e</sup> King in our trade. Hee replyed what hee spoke of was intended fro' himself as a souldier, and y<sup>t</sup> hee did not doubt but y<sup>e</sup> King, when he should bee adviced of y<sup>e</sup> service wee did him, would gratefie us to our content; whereupon yo<sup>r</sup> President hinted to him his expectations to have y<sup>e</sup> Custome remitted you as a signall of y<sup>e</sup> Kings grace and favour; and it would annimate us to be yet further serviceable to him upon all occasions; this wee have in a petition sent up to y<sup>e</sup> King backt with y<sup>e</sup> affirmations of the Generall of y<sup>e</sup> Army; y<sup>e</sup> Kings, publique and private intellegencers, for he maintanes both in Towne: y<sup>e</sup> Shawbunder &<sup>ca</sup>, and also taken care y<sup>t</sup> it bee inceased from y<sup>e</sup> Governo<sup>r</sup> of Amad<sup>a</sup> who is this Kings uncle; besides severall letters yo<sup>r</sup> President hath wrote to his ffriends at Court as Mustafa Chaune, Rozon Zemeir et<sup>ca</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> being furnished and sent away y<sup>e</sup> 16th, wee repayred to y<sup>e</sup> Mareene for y<sup>e</sup> dispathe of y<sup>e</sup> Europe ships who lade very slowly notwithstanding y<sup>e</sup> goods lay ready upon y<sup>e</sup> Mareene; but indeed they were hindered some time for want of their men, w<sup>ch</sup> they sent to our rescue, wherein they were very forward and liberall w<sup>ch</sup> will deserve not only to bee gratefied, but a particul<sup>r</sup> acknowledgment in Court to y<sup>e</sup> Commanders for their future encouragment, whenever your occasions shall require their compliance in this nature; for if they had confined themselves to Charter party, and spared us no more men than these they contract to spare, you might have been great sufferers, you having y<sup>n</sup> in cash in your warehouses upwards of 100000 rup<sup>s</sup>, all yo<sup>r</sup> Ellephants teeth, all your Broadcloth though sold returned againe, w<sup>ch</sup> wee thought it as good to receive, as that Merch<sup>t</sup> y<sup>t</sup> bought it if plundered or burnt might breake and runn away, a cargoe of 40000 rup<sup>s</sup> from Bantam, Vermillion, Perpetuanas, and a great many other goods, as well for sale as bought for Europe, that wee cannot compute yo<sup>r</sup> house to bee less wourth to you then four score thousand pounds ster<sup>l</sup>, besides yo<sup>r</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & Councill, which wee intended should be dead corpes, knowing hee would value us at more y<sup>n</sup> wee and all our families are wourth, but blessed bee God y<sup>t</sup> hath delivered us and you from soe great sufferings. And yet your loss will amo<sup>t</sup> to neerest 1000 pounds in Mercollees y<sup>t</sup> lay before y<sup>e</sup> Custome house to bee sent downe & lead y<sup>t</sup> was intended to bee waighed out to y<sup>e</sup> King, all w<sup>ch</sup> wee have advic'd of to Court requiring satisfaction.

The 14th your frigatt "Vine" arrived fro' Acheene in safety to Sw<sup>a</sup> hole, blessed bee God shee will make yo<sup>r</sup> very neare if not 3000 full fraught, soe y<sup>t</sup> wee hope yo<sup>n</sup> will not repent y<sup>e</sup> charge wee put you to y<sup>e</sup> last yeare in doubling, y<sup>t</sup> hath made her a firmme ship for as long time as she hath already served yo<sup>u</sup>, with a very little yearly charge. Wee intend her y<sup>e</sup> same voiage againe if goods can bee procurable, being very much to bee doubted, y<sup>e</sup> townes loss hath bene so great by y<sup>e</sup> grand Rebelle but it is our comfort y<sup>t</sup> none will bee accepted before your "Vine" if any voyage bee a foot thither.

The Queene of Acheene is very respective to yo<sup>r</sup> servants y<sup>t</sup> voyage thither and is very desirous our Nation would undertake y<sup>e</sup> whole trade of her dominiones, shee is in great thoughts w<sup>t</sup> the Dutch, they having now lately sent a sloupe fro' Mallacca with a Mustira* Portugall in her, under pretence to sell Arracke, but it was to draw of their Chiefe and y<sup>e</sup> rest of their factor they had residing there, that stole away in y<sup>e</sup> night. It is thought they intend a warr against y<sup>e</sup> Queene & y<sup>e</sup> other princes of y<sup>e</sup> Island of Samatra to oblige them not to admitt y<sup>e</sup> English into their ports or sell a corne of pepper unto us, and this is certainly their drift; it is a rich Island and affords many brawe commodities y<sup>t</sup> yield great advance, as you may perceave by these merch<sup>ts</sup> allowing you y<sup>e</sup> quarter p<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> produce of all y<sup>e</sup> goods laden aboard your "Vine" to bee taken out in kinde upon their returne hither, w<sup>ch</sup> makes yo<sup>r</sup> "Vine" make so good a hand of it. The Queene hath wrot your Presid<sup>t</sup> a very kind letter, wherein shee makes large proffers if you would undertake y<sup>e</sup> whole trade, but y<sup>n</sup> shee will expect you protect her from y<sup>e</sup> Dutch, but yo<sup>u</sup> are not in a condition to doe one or y<sup>e</sup> other; however wee shall hold her in expectation, and acquaint her wee have adviced you of it & waite yo<sup>r</sup> order. Mr. Andrews rece<sup>d</sup> some yeares since a present and letter from her to our Sovereigne Lord the King, whose answere shee is much inquisitive after, please to order yo<sup>r</sup> enquiry after it.

With what difficulty wee have procured yo<sup>u</sup> y<sup>e</sup> pepper now sent you, and its dearness wee have already advic'd. Wee are now to confirme to you w<sup>t</sup> wee y<sup>e</sup> last yeare oppin'd would come to passe y<sup>e</sup> Dutches laying claime to all y<sup>e</sup> coast from north to south, prohibiting all vessails to deal or carry downe y<sup>e</sup> coast, either cotten, opium, or any other commodity vendable, and all vessells y<sup>t</sup> come to y<sup>e</sup> Norward that they bring not either pepp<sup>r</sup>, Cardamon, Cassia Lignum or any other goods y<sup>t</sup> they use to sell here, declaring y<sup>e</sup> whole coast and its trade to bee theirs by their conquest of Cochine & y<sup>t</sup> it shall bee confiscation for any vessail wherein the aforesaid commodities shall bee found.

Wee continue your Factors at Porcatt still to keep your propriety and claime to y<sup>e</sup> port, but y<sup>e</sup> "Hopewell" was not suffered to lade a corne of pepper or Cassia Lignum, notwithstanding your Ffactors had contracted two yeares since for a p.ccell, and all for feare of y<sup>e</sup> Dutche, y<sup>t</sup> have the natives in such great awe that they threaten them if they sell a pound of these Commodities to any but y<sup>m</sup>, they will presently ruine them. The whole story yo<sup>u</sup> have in Mr. Harington & Mr. Grigsnies letters to us copy whereof wee herewith send yo<sup>u</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> having perused please to advice w<sup>t</sup> wee shall doe as to y<sup>e</sup> continuance or drawing of those Ffact<sup>rs</sup>, for except y<sup>e</sup> people can bee protected from y<sup>e</sup> cruelty of y<sup>e</sup> Dutch you must expect nothing there and in a shorte time no where elce.

You having ordered y<sup>e</sup> drawing of y<sup>e</sup> Fuland Ffacto<sup>rs</sup> and also forbid that any adventures bee made for yo<sup>r</sup> acco<sup>t</sup> hath enduced Mr. George Cranmer having continued a yeare here without any considerable imploiment to desire our leave to returne unto his country, rather y<sup>n</sup> to wast more idle time, being a persone industrious and willing to improve himself some other way. Hee hath behaved himselfe deservingly in your service, and therefore hopes for your favour when any thing shall present wherein hee may bee further serviceable unto you. W<sup>t</sup> hath bine p<sup>d</sup> him on acco<sup>t</sup> of his sallery is entred in y<sup>e</sup> books, y<sup>t</sup> cleares him of y<sup>e</sup> Ffactory, hee having noe dependances here in India, wherby wee conceive you can bee prejudiced, wherfore you may please to pay him of y<sup>e</sup> remaines due to him; wee have paid him no more than y<sup>e</sup> 3<sup>ds</sup> of the wages you made him out of England, but hee affirms Mr. Andrews made him 50 R<sup>s</sup> p. ann<sup>m</sup> which hee refers to you.

* Mustira is probably a corruption of the Portuguese word Mosteiro, which means a big gun.

In your Surratt Frigatt came Mr. Rich<sup>d</sup> Mohun your quondam second of Maccassar, who having fairly & honestly discharged his duty in y<sup>e</sup> Ffactory, hath brought y<sup>e</sup> Agent of Bantam et<sup>as</sup> Councells recommendations, being desirous to take his passage from hence w<sup>ch</sup> wee have in compliance wth the Agent et<sup>as</sup> and his owne request gratefied him in, and appointed his accomodation in y<sup>e</sup> "Loyall Merchant." Hee hath lately bine to acquaint us that not finding any thing in towne, wherein hee could invest some few monies that was laying by him to y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>t</sup> of 7000 Rup<sup>s</sup> hee had resolved to cast himself upon yo<sup>r</sup> clemency by investing it in yo<sup>r</sup> commodities, promising and obliging himselfe to deliver them up unto your custody and wholly refer himself to you, hoping the good caractour hee bringes with him will prevaile with you to favour him herein, and so wee leave him to y<sup>e</sup> merritt of his good service done you, this wee thought good to acquaint you with since hee had divulged it to us.

Wee doe renew our request of y<sup>e</sup> passed yeare y<sup>t</sup> you would bee pleased to make provision in Charter p<sup>ty</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> changing 10 men yearly with us out of every ship, for y<sup>e</sup> people of the "Surratt" frigatt and "Vine" are very clamourous, nay to a mutinous condition that they are forced to serve here as slaves, and not suffered to returne to their country after 5 and 6 yeares service, for wee can hardly perswade a Commander to carry home a man, they pretending they have there complement, and y<sup>t</sup> it is a loss to y<sup>e</sup> owners, for besides his lumber they must lay in water & provisions y<sup>t</sup> takes up so much tunadge, and thus they argue.

Wee are now to petition you for our selves, amongst whom John Goodier humbly desires you would please to consider his great paines, having laboured more extraordinarily in the settling and stating y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> were both erronious and false, that y<sup>e</sup> confusednesse of them did constrainge him to goe backe to Anno 1658, that you first began your acco<sup>ts</sup> heer, and so to unravell all comparing y<sup>e</sup> generall bookes acco<sup>t</sup> by acc<sup>t</sup> and paper by paper rectefying y<sup>e</sup> errours as hee went along y<sup>t</sup>. You will find in these bookes now sent you many folioes hee hath been forced to add for y<sup>e</sup> stateing all things aright by w<sup>ch</sup> his indifatigable paines hee hath cleared every acco<sup>tt</sup>. That now your bookes are true and perfect, for w<sup>ch</sup> his good service hee hopes you will confirm on him the sallary you have ever thought y<sup>e</sup> place and degree of second and trust of y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>tt</sup> doth meritt, for his encouradgment to goe on chearfully and honestly in your bussinesse.

In y<sup>e</sup> next place Gerard Aungier is yo<sup>r</sup> humble supplyant that you would please to consider him in his sallary, as his quality doth meritt, and y<sup>e</sup> place wherin hee officiates as warehouse keeper, that hee may receive y<sup>e</sup> same incouragem<sup>t</sup> from you as you have thought good to allow others y<sup>t</sup> have serv'd you in his quality, and hee promised none shall exceed him in duty and ffaythfull service.

Your Presid<sup>t</sup> had in a letter to y<sup>e</sup> Governo<sup>r</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Thomas Chamberlaine advic'd concerning certaine p.cells of Indico sent home in Anno 1659 by ships "London," "Constantinople," "Merchant," et<sup>as</sup>, and therefore thought not to have mentioned it heer, but y<sup>t</sup> the owner of one of y<sup>e</sup> parcells is come out of y<sup>e</sup> Country and clamers on us for his goods unto whom wee know not w<sup>t</sup> answer to make y<sup>e</sup> bussiness is soe foule; as thus, when yo<sup>r</sup> "Wellcome" went to Bussorah in Anno 1658 a Moore Merchant lades aboard upon Acco<sup>t</sup> Ffraug<sup>t</sup> 46 bales who wanting monies to defray y<sup>e</sup> charges takes up an acco<sup>t</sup> of Bottomaria 7000 rupees (a thing accustomed in these Partes) of M<sup>r</sup> Wich et<sup>as</sup>, merchants of y<sup>e</sup> cuntry, whereof M<sup>r</sup> Wiches part and adventure was rup<sup>s</sup> 4000 at 27 p. cent profit; when y<sup>e</sup> ship arrived to Bussora y<sup>e</sup> owner had leave to proffer and make sale of his Indico for y<sup>e</sup> paym<sup>t</sup> of the monies hee had taken up, but y<sup>e</sup> marketts proving bad, and y<sup>e</sup> Indico worse, for report spoke it false or at best naught, and therefore would not sell, therefore for y<sup>e</sup> security of y<sup>e</sup> debt it was brought back againe and y<sup>e</sup> owner with it. But in y<sup>e</sup> voyage y<sup>e</sup> owner died, and also M<sup>r</sup> Wich, M<sup>r</sup> Andrews succeeding, at y<sup>e</sup> shippes returne takes the Indico ashore into your yard. The deceaseds serv<sup>t</sup> soe soon as hee could gett ashore, left all and hasted up to Agra, where his Masters sonne was. In the interim, M<sup>r</sup> Andrews compounds wth y<sup>e</sup> other Merch<sup>ts</sup> that had wth M<sup>r</sup> Wich given out their monies to receive their principall, shewing them y<sup>e</sup> Indico was returned unvendable, soe y<sup>t</sup> they were in election to loose all. Soe hee paid them of, allowing M<sup>r</sup> Wich his principall also in acco<sup>ts</sup>, and paies it not in towards extinguishing his debt with you, & thus he buyes out and makes himself m<sup>r</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> whole bill, and consequently own<sup>r</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Indico w<sup>ch</sup> when hee had done hee caused it to bee weighed of to yo<sup>r</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup> as bought of a Merchant or Broker, at his owne price, and soe repossesses himself and gaines not only all y<sup>e</sup> Bottomaria of 27 p. cent, but also an overplus; for y<sup>e</sup> goods was of more value then y<sup>e</sup> monies imprested upon them, w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> sonne makes demand of proffering to satisfie y<sup>e</sup> bill and demands his goods but here is neither the one or the other. Hee exclames against our Nation, saying wee have rob'd him of his goods. He hath been severall times with y<sup>e</sup> Governour unto whom he hath brought Lres of recommendation from Court, that truly wee are at a non pluss what to answer to such a durty action. That man is enraged, saies hee will go to y<sup>e</sup> King for Justice. If a small matter of 1000 rup<sup>es</sup> will stop his mouth wee hould it better to part with it, then y<sup>t</sup> further trouble should ensue; wherefore wee hope you will acco<sup>ts</sup> with M<sup>r</sup> Andrews for these his illegall proceedings, soe dishonest in it selfe and dishonourable to y<sup>e</sup> Nation, and yet y<sup>e</sup> is not all; in point of Indico y<sup>t</sup> p.ccell bought of an Armenian Cojah Minaus by name, wherin you are yet more wronged then y<sup>e</sup> attestation makes out, as carying a just suspition, as first hee entered upon it against your positive order and prohibition, w<sup>ch</sup> was to send noe Indico home y<sup>t</sup> yeare which clause of your Lre hee answered but a litle before with a promise not to send you any. Secondly hee bought it without the consent of his Councell. Thirdly hee bought it without a Broker a thing never practised in these countries by w<sup>ch</sup> you yet further suffer in his ignorance not to make those due dimentions accoustamary w<sup>ch</sup> hee was not verst in. These three reasons considered, w<sup>t</sup> can any man suggest, but that there must bee some sinnester ends in this man for his actings in this nature, against order, against consent of Councell, and against custome, and yet it is yet wourse, for if you please to looke into y<sup>e</sup> Leadg<sup>r</sup> of Anno 1659-60 fol<sup>o</sup> 38, were these 3 p.ccells Indico wee are now treateing of, distinctly as if bought from Brokers & merch<sup>ts</sup>.

There are severall other p.ticulers y<sup>t</sup> concerne y<sup>e</sup> clearing of yo<sup>r</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup>, wherin are found many neglects and willfull omissions, which are too long to inheart in y<sup>e</sup> bookes, wherefore wee have drawne out a paper apart, for y<sup>e</sup> more p.fect explaining of y<sup>m</sup>, which goeth here inclosed y<sup>t</sup> speaks to all y<sup>e</sup> errors committed, and now rectefied since y<sup>e</sup> Infancy of this stocke w<sup>ch</sup> finding to be too tedious to bee discourst heer, have concluded it more prop<sup>r</sup> to bee thus seperated as what will more immediately concerne your Accountant and Auditour. It beares y<sup>e</sup> title of remembrances concerning y<sup>e</sup> rectefied acco<sup>ts</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> new Generall stock from Anno 1658 to M<sup>r</sup> Andrews departure home Anno 1662-3, & speaks to every place or Ffactory wherin you have had any dealing, & how they are now adjusted in your generall books, and soe with them and alsoe what wee have here acquainted you with, wee have for the present done with M<sup>r</sup> Andrews.

The Cap<sup>t</sup> of Surat Castle, wee have found upon generall occasions to bee our freind, and a freind to o<sup>r</sup> nat<sup>on</sup>, hee hath delivered us severall musters of sword blades and knives, shaped in wood; of w<sup>ch</sup> shapes hee desires us to procure for him two or three hundred blades of each, or as many as can be made, to bee sent by y<sup>e</sup> next shipping. This his request, wee recomend to your Worp<sup>rs</sup> desiring you would not faile him in his expectations; the case of mustars, is marked with yo<sup>r</sup> marke, and delivered unto Cap<sup>t</sup> Millet; this wee press, in regard M<sup>r</sup> Andrews rec<sup>d</sup> shapes from him formerly, blades of w<sup>ch</sup> shapes came out for p.ticular men, & hee neglected, w<sup>ch</sup> hee sent & acquainted us wth to our sorrow, that one of his quality, passing his word to such a person, should not comply better.

Wee have had second alarmes of Sevages retourne to Surrat, w<sup>ch</sup> did soe feare y<sup>e</sup> all inhabitants, y<sup>t</sup> they all fled, some in boats and some into inland villages, to p.serve themselves and their families from his cruelty; y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> flight was worse then at his first plundering and burneing y<sup>e</sup> towne, & hee become soe terrible, y<sup>t</sup> report of his approach is sufficient at any time, to dispeople y<sup>e</sup> small remainder of y<sup>e</sup> citty. Y<sup>s</sup> hath againe caused your goods from Agra and Luckno, some of w<sup>ch</sup> Caphala were even within a mile or two or three of y<sup>e</sup> citty, and others not more then a day or two journey hence, who hearing of y<sup>s</sup> rumour, drove backe 4 or 5 daies journey, before they could come to any towne or village where they could secure the goods, w<sup>ch</sup> hath yet further retarded your shipping, and also constrained us to send you the goods packt up as they came out of y<sup>e</sup> country, by w<sup>ch</sup> meanes wee feare, you will find them not soe well sorted, our intentions being if wee could have had time for their repacking, to review them, and soe sorted them into numbers, but wee have had only time to put them aboard as they are. Wee hope y<sup>s</sup> wee have done, will meet wth yo<sup>r</sup> acceptance better then if wee had detained them by us: there is in them a great deale of browne packing stuffess w<sup>ch</sup> if they had been here opened, the procurer had taken back, and so eas'd y<sup>e</sup> cost, w<sup>ch</sup> please to give order y<sup>e</sup> best may bee made of them.

There is in your Factory here an ancient sober man of good breeding, that wee found Steward of yo<sup>r</sup> house by name M<sup>r</sup> Sam<sup>a</sup> Salsbery. Wee find him very well qualified for y<sup>e</sup> imploiment, as his good husbandry in your expences since wee arrived will make it appeare, and therfore as wee conclude him deserving in his thrifty care and diligence wee recomend him to your favour, that you would please to settle some competent stipend of sallery, that may encourage him to continew his paines, and that, from y<sup>e</sup> time of his first being employed by M<sup>r</sup> Andrews and Councell hee then being entertain'd by Consultation, hee hath not rec<sup>d</sup> any sallery, for these 2 yeares, that hee hath continued in y<sup>e</sup> imploiment.

Newes is arriv'd from Ahmad<sup>a</sup>, Mohobed Ckaun that Governour, who is the Kings uncle, and Lord of all these provinces, wee heare, is much troubled at y<sup>e</sup> ruine of y<sup>s</sup> Citty, as the choicest flower in his Garden. Hee made what expedition possible after hee heard Sevagyes approach. His Army hath been herd these three daies, but hee himself hath not reacht further then Broach, its thought will come no furth<sup>r</sup>. Second freight is over, wherfore wee have sent M<sup>r</sup> Goodier M<sup>r</sup> Aungier & M<sup>r</sup> Rolt, fittingly accomodated to him, to p.cure his letter to y<sup>e</sup> King, for a reward for our good service done him, which wee are much encouradged to beleieve wee shall obtaine, his Grandees heer being all soe thouroughly possest of our good service in preserving, not only y<sup>e</sup> greatest, but y<sup>e</sup> best and richest part of the towne, that wee hope by our next to give you a good account of this bussiness.

Amongst the papers now sent yo<sup>u</sup>, there is a declaration by Thomas Rolt, wherin you will find y<sup>t</sup> the late P<sup>r</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Mat<sup>o</sup> Andrews hath charg'd him with severall sumes in y<sup>e</sup> Mareene Bookes, w<sup>ch</sup> he utterly disownes, and says are only fictions put upon him by said M<sup>r</sup> Andrews, notwithstanding his request to said Andrews that his name might not bee us'd in matters wherin hee was totally ignorant, w<sup>ch</sup> his request was highly displeasing to M<sup>r</sup> Andrews, for w<sup>ch</sup> hee was displac'd with a reply, y<sup>t</sup> hee would use y<sup>e</sup> Kings name if hee pleased; and indeed wee cann soe farr vindicate M<sup>r</sup> Rolt, as to say, it was his practise, to use y<sup>e</sup> names and y<sup>t</sup> for great sumes, of those y<sup>t</sup> never had the least knowledge of it; besides wee find M<sup>r</sup> Rolt of y<sup>t</sup> sober tem<sup>p</sup> and soe punctuall in his bussiness, that wee cannot think him guilty of any the least neglect.

Wee send you all books and papers of y<sup>e</sup> transactions of your affaires with y<sup>e</sup> letter Bookes & Consultations contracted since dispeed of y<sup>e</sup> last years shipping, wherein you will find many things materiall and wourthy yo<sup>r</sup> serious debate, as y<sup>e</sup> letters of Cali Velha & Porqua, that will acquaint you with y<sup>e</sup> losse of y<sup>e</sup> trade of this coast, wherby (besides many other considerable advantages) you will find yo<sup>r</sup> expectations for pepper in y<sup>e</sup> future totally frustrated; and wee must acquaint you (though not for neuse) y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Dutch make no accompt of y<sup>e</sup> Articles of Peace so lately conclud'd betweene our two Nations, wherein it is concluded & agreed that wee should have commarce & trade, in y<sup>e</sup> same freedome, one with another, y<sup>t</sup> each respective Nation hath, or is grant'd and allowed to y<sup>e</sup> Natives y<sup>t</sup> are Inhabitants with all amity and ffriendship, wheras on y<sup>e</sup> contrary they prosecute us (where they have noe reall pretence) in other Kings jurisdictions, and by threats & mennaces of y<sup>e</sup> people, if they shall at any time either furnish, or suffer us to have y<sup>e</sup> least trading or commerce with them.

Our first arriv<sup>le</sup> and the change of Governo<sup>rs</sup> hath wasted what wee brought out from you for presents, wherfore having already bespoake of you y<sup>e</sup> finest Scarletts and Greenes, there will further bee wanting to us, a p<sup>ce</sup> of red & a p<sup>ce</sup> of Greene Sattin, some knives of all sorts, those of amber halfts without pictures, great, and small, silver halfts, silver enameld & t<sup>ca</sup> and what other rarities yo<sup>n</sup> may light upon, such things often times being better accepted y<sup>n</sup> those of greater value, of all w<sup>ch</sup> pray furnish us by the next shipping.

Wee were in good hopes you would have yearly sent us a suply of paper, inck, quills, and a few black lead pennis, of all w<sup>ch</sup> wee are now totally destitute, having expended y<sup>e</sup> whole quantety, in employing yo<sup>r</sup> serv<sup>ts</sup>, wherof wee brought out a considerable number, besides those wee found in y<sup>e</sup> country; wee confesse wee might have been better husbands had it not been meerly to have kept y<sup>m</sup> from idleness.

Wee have made our Surgery Chest to last us two years, with y<sup>e</sup> helpe of such medicines as are here p<sup>curab</sup>, what is immediately wanting to us y<sup>e</sup> inclosed list will acq<sup>t</sup> yo<sup>n</sup> with, please to enorder their sending by y<sup>e</sup> next.

Wee have seperated a place apart for Gods wors<sup>p</sup> & decently adorned it, wherein stands yo<sup>r</sup> Library, & amongst them those severall volumes of y<sup>e</sup> holy bible in y<sup>e</sup> Languages, w<sup>ch</sup> is much esteemed by those y<sup>t</sup> are learned amongst these people; y<sup>t</sup> if any eminent p<sup>son</sup> come to your houses his greatest desire is to see the Chappell; wherfore wee entreate you for further ornament, to send us out a large table in a frame, gilded and handsomely adorned with Moses and Aaron holding the two tables containing the ten Commandements, the Lords Prayer & the Creed, written in letters of gould, & in y<sup>e</sup> midst at y<sup>e</sup> topp in triangles, Gods name writt in as many of these easterne Languages as Arabick Persian & c<sup>a</sup> as can bee procured; which if you please to honno<sup>r</sup> our Chappell with, it will bee a glory to our religion, as y<sup>t</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> is more taken, than any thing that they shall read beside, and yet our meaning is y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Commandements & c<sup>a</sup> be wrot in y<sup>e</sup> Eng<sup>s</sup> language.

The Swally Pinnacle is retourn'd to us againe, by w<sup>ch</sup> our amicable conclusion; wee have made to us friends of y<sup>e</sup> Batticolla* & c<sup>a</sup> Rajahs, w<sup>ch</sup> wee may say was very seasonably concluded, it being y<sup>e</sup> only place for pepper left, but how long it will continew wee are doubtfull; only thus much wee are certaine, yo<sup>n</sup> had not had any pepper this yeare had it not been for that port: the vessaill is no way fitt for any service of yours, wherfore think to sell her and give the Mallabarr Acco<sup>t</sup> credit for the money.

---

* Batticolla:—Bhaktul or Susagade twenty-five miles south of Honavar. In 1637 the English attracted by the amount of pepper to be procured in the adjoining country opened a factory at Karwar and Bhaktul. About 1670 the factors were murdered by an infuriated mob because a bull-dog belonging to one of them killed a cow. In 1673 Fryer writes—"Outstretching the Malabar Coast we sailed along by Batticalai on the Canatick Coasts; and the next morning between two Islands we saw sculking six Malabar Proes waiting their Boats; but making use of their oars as well as sails soon outstripped us. The day after we came to an anchor at Onor."—Fryer, p. 57.

There are your two old servants Chout Tocynner and Somjy Chitta both whose houses and all y<sup>t</sup> was in y<sup>m</sup> are consum'd with the flames, that wee beleve they are now become very poore men; wee have not as yet made any conclusion wth them, or debated y<sup>e</sup> abuses and wrongs done you, but wait yo<sup>r</sup> order; in y<sup>e</sup> meane time you are considerably indebted to them both, for w<sup>ch</sup> moneies they daily clamour on us; something considerable wee shall certainly wrest fro' them, and on y<sup>e</sup> other side, they have y<sup>e</sup> like expectations fro' you. Chout layes y<sup>e</sup> charge of y<sup>e</sup> Consultation, drawen up by M<sup>r</sup> Andrews against him, to bee the fictions of his owne braine, and it appeares no lesse, for M<sup>r</sup> Gray your then Secretary, doth avouch, they appeared soe unreasonable to M<sup>r</sup> Lambton & M<sup>r</sup> Fforster that they refus'd to signe, notwithstanding a great deale of passion hee exprest at their refusall, and further in some few monthes after being scencible y<sup>t</sup> what hee had drawne up against Chout was not y<sup>e</sup> reall truth, hee ordered M<sup>r</sup> Gray to cutt y<sup>e</sup> Articles (for it beares not y<sup>e</sup> name of a Consultation) out of the booke, after it was registred, w<sup>ch</sup> considered wee find you have but small pretence against him, M<sup>r</sup> Andrews having made Cojah Minas come in and accuse him wrongfully, wherfore Chout expects yo<sup>r</sup> ans<sup>r</sup> in favour of him; Somjy Chitta also declares y<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Matthew Andrews was consenting to y<sup>t</sup> abominable abuse put upon yo<sup>n</sup> in over-rating y<sup>r</sup> goods, for w<sup>ch</sup> his connivance, the same Somjy did receive from him in Tynn, Gold and oth<sup>r</sup> goods of his owne, at an extraordinary rate, over and above their reall wourth, by w<sup>ch</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Andrews very well knew hee must bee a very greater looser, and y<sup>t</sup> hee had no way to fetch up this losse, but by over-rating yours twice as much; and y<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Andrews was his unhappy Councillour, when hee had y<sup>e</sup> dispute with yo<sup>r</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> to take away all y<sup>e</sup> goods hee had bought for you, supposing yo<sup>r</sup> shippes could not bee laden without them, but wee found other meanes, gratefying him in y<sup>e</sup> taking away y<sup>e</sup> goods, w<sup>ch</sup> were all remaining to y<sup>e</sup> Instant of Savagees arrivall, & by him together with his house all burnt, this ingenious confession hee hopes will plead with you for some mercy.

Wee find great damage in yo<sup>r</sup> cloth that came out in your "Loyall Merch<sup>t</sup>," whereof there was 60 peeces out of sever<sup>ll</sup> bales, that were some more some lesse rotten, w<sup>ch</sup> acquainting Cap<sup>t</sup> Millet with, wee agreed to appoint 4 persons, 2 in behalf of him & y<sup>e</sup> ships owners, and 2 for yourselves, to adjust and settle w<sup>t</sup> the reall damage did amount to, w<sup>ch</sup> they give in under their hands to bee rup<sup>s</sup> 748: 34, & more for a bale of perpetuanas 100 rupees, so y<sup>t</sup> you are damaged by y<sup>e</sup> ship rupees 848: 34, w<sup>ch</sup> wee have invoiced back, charging it to y<sup>e</sup> ships accompt it being desired to have it referred home, w<sup>ch</sup> please to take notice of.

Wee are very sorry to see y<sup>e</sup> ships here thus late, & shall make it our harty prayers, that the Almighty would please y<sup>t</sup> they might redeeme their time by faire and prosperous gales, y<sup>t</sup> they may both seasonably and in safety arrive to yo<sup>n</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> is all att present, but the tender of our most humble service, wth w<sup>ch</sup> wee close these, under the subscription of

Swally Mareene the 28th Jan<sup>y</sup> 1663
64

Yo<sup>r</sup> most Faithfull Serv<sup>ts</sup> at Comm<sup>d</sup>
GEORGE OXINDEN.
JOHN GOODIER.
HENRY GARY.
GE<sup>R</sup> AUNGIER.

List of Factors in Surrat.

S <sup>r</sup> Geo. Oxinden, P <sup>r</sup>	Charles Smeaton.	Charles Bendish.
M <sup>r</sup> John Goodier.	Rob <sup>t</sup> Sainthill.	John Pettitt.
M <sup>r</sup> Henry Gary.	Streins <sup>m</sup> Master.	Robert Barber.
M <sup>r</sup> Anth <sup>o</sup> Smith.	Ralph Lambton.	Charles James.
M <sup>r</sup> Ge <sup>r</sup> Aungier.	Val Hurse, drinking sott.	Henry Chownes.
M <sup>r</sup> Nich: Scrivener.	Thomas Hoskins.	John Liscaletins.
Matt <sup>h</sup> Gray.	Richard Taylor.	Rob <sup>t</sup> Ward Chury.
Ran <sup>d</sup> Taylor.	Richard Hardress.	Sam Salsbery Stret.
Thomas Rolt.	Richard Francis.
Francis Cobb.	Henry Oxinden.

Right Worp<sup>l</sup> et<sup>a</sup> our Respect<sup>d</sup> Ffriends,

Yours of y<sup>e</sup> 21<sup>o</sup> November, was delivered us y<sup>e</sup> 20th of Jan<sup>a</sup> a tedious passage; by w<sup>ch</sup> we find our last to you had a more nimble conveighance. The safe and seasonable returne of y<sup>e</sup> "Madrass Merch<sup>t</sup>" from Siam, wee hope hath crowned your expectations, but are sorry to heare of the death of her Commander, thanking you for the care yo<sup>n</sup> have taken for y<sup>e</sup> bringing away M<sup>r</sup> Coats from thence. The place is not only remote from us, but what doth more discourage us is, that y<sup>e</sup> commodities of these parts are not soe propper as are those with you and the places there adjacent; wee leave you and y<sup>e</sup> Agent at Bant<sup>n</sup> to dispute your right to it, wishing that either you or they, may have soe good encouragement, from y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>t</sup> you shall receive thence, y<sup>t</sup> the Company may bee invited to settle there. Wee are sure the Dutch make great advantages by y<sup>t</sup> trade, which why it may not bee as profitab<sup>l</sup> to our Company wee know not; wee shall not say more of Peircaun, then y<sup>t</sup> wee are satisfied with your good intentions, ingeniously confessing, that hee is a person of such a plausible tongue, as mig<sup>t</sup> deceive us, as hee hath you, were hee as great a stranger to us, as hee was to yourselves.

To Ffort S<sup>t</sup>
George.

Wee likewise thank you for y<sup>e</sup> care you have p.mised in forwarding our l<sup>res</sup> to M<sup>r</sup> Travers with all speed, & yo<sup>r</sup> p.mised care of y<sup>t</sup> Ffactory, w<sup>ch</sup> wee find you have already entred upon in your intentions to send a vessail thether y<sup>e</sup> passed Jan<sup>a</sup>; soe y<sup>t</sup> wee shall from y<sup>a</sup> time wholly give them up to you to bee disposed of according to your orders and commaunds.

The "Affrican" God bee thanked came in y<sup>e</sup> 12th of October, but wee were forced by unexpected distractions, to make it the 29th of January before wee could give her, & y<sup>e</sup> "Loyall Merch<sup>t</sup>" their dispatches hence for Europe, the causes y<sup>t</sup> obstacle there more speedy dispatch wee shall acquaint you with in an af<sup>t</sup> sexco.

Wee must very much commend yo<sup>r</sup> prudence, in that you have resolved to take y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> consent, for y<sup>e</sup> Agents going up to Gulcondah. Were they as settled a body as formerly they have been, such a thing might have been done wth less caution; but as they now stand, and y<sup>e</sup> time expired for y<sup>e</sup> drawing up their acco<sup>ts</sup> according to y<sup>e</sup> preamble and subscription, it is doubtfull how many goe off, though others may come in, in their places, that although you may gaine some priviledges and immunities to y<sup>e</sup> nation, the w<sup>ch</sup> wee beleeve, will not bee attained without y<sup>e</sup> disbursing of a considerable summe in presents to y<sup>e</sup> King and those hungry nobles about him, w<sup>ch</sup> will yet bee increas'd in the maintaining y<sup>e</sup> porte and grandeur of such a p.son as y<sup>e</sup> Agent is, sutable to him as y<sup>e</sup> representative of y<sup>e</sup> nation, in y<sup>e</sup> quallity and dignity of his place, w<sup>ch</sup> charge and expences will not possibly rellise wth those y<sup>t</sup> shall withdraw their stocks now upon y<sup>e</sup> making up of y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup>.

M<sup>r</sup> Widdrington hath neither complied with you, nor us, nor indeed his obligation and petition, that perswaded us to suffer him to travell into those parts; therin is incerted his obligation to submitt himself to you to bee sent home on this yeares shipping, but he hath againe practized his accustomed in slighting all orders and comm<sup>ds</sup> & wee are told by some in y<sup>e</sup> house, that hee hath according to his wonted custome sett y<sup>m</sup> at variance at Meslep<sup>a</sup>, & left them to quench y<sup>e</sup> flames of those hellish fire brands of contention, that hee hath flung among y<sup>m</sup>. Wee hope if hee come y<sup>t</sup> way againe, you will not permitt him to come at his owne leasure but by y<sup>e</sup> seizure of his p<sup>son</sup> comm<sup>d</sup> him to yo<sup>u</sup> & take fro' him y<sup>e</sup> 50 role w<sup>ch</sup> hee hath so knavishly cheated y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> of.

Wee are hartely sorry, yo<sup>u</sup> have soe potent an ennemy incamp<sup>d</sup> soe neare yo<sup>u</sup>, his pretences and demands are snares to draw you into subjection, and to devest you of y<sup>e</sup> power of Govern<sup>mt</sup>, and will in a shorte time cut you & in you y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> of all their priviledges and immunities, wee know not w<sup>t</sup> to advice yo<sup>u</sup>, and therefore offer up our praier to Almighty God to direct you in all yo<sup>r</sup> Councells, and give yo<sup>u</sup> a happy and Honourable conclusion wth them, w<sup>ch</sup> would bee better in our oppiniones composed by a present, though it bee more considerable then w<sup>t</sup> hee seemes to demaund of 500 Pag<sup>s</sup>, though you doubled y<sup>e</sup> sume, rather y<sup>n</sup> y<sup>t</sup> you condescend to pay them any annuall tribute, although his demands were never soe small.

To all admiration & wond<sup>r</sup> Sevagy, that grand Rebell of Decann, hath so privately conveighed himself into those p<sup>ts</sup> wth a force of 6 or 7000 horse and foote, so neer as Gundavee, y<sup>t</sup> it is not above 20 miles from hence, before y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> or any of these townes people had y<sup>e</sup> least inckling of his approach, w<sup>ch</sup> sudden newes y<sup>t</sup> he was to come to y<sup>e</sup> Gates of y<sup>s</sup> towne the next day, instantly drove y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> and all his retinue together wth y<sup>e</sup> eminenses most considerab<sup>l</sup> p<sup>sons</sup> y<sup>t</sup> were inhabitants into y<sup>e</sup> Castle, y<sup>e</sup> other more inferiour people, all of y<sup>m</sup> forsook their houses and fled with their ffamilies, some by water and others by land, leaving their houses & w<sup>t</sup> ever of estates & fortunes they had exposed to the cruelty of this rogue, who put so great a terrour into them, through his tiranny to those y<sup>t</sup> were taken by his scouts in their flight, by cutting of y<sup>e</sup> hands of many, & the heads of some, that y<sup>e</sup> terrour of him rained to y<sup>s</sup> day in y<sup>e</sup> hearts of y<sup>e</sup> people, that notwithstanding here is now left by Mohabut Ckaun y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> of Ahm<sup>a</sup> an army of 1000 horse & 500 foote, yet are y<sup>e</sup> Inhabitants soe feare stricken, that hee may returne againe, that y<sup>e</sup> greatest p<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> townes people, are since fled. From y<sup>e</sup> 1st of y<sup>s</sup> allarme (w<sup>ch</sup> was y<sup>e</sup> 6th Jan<sup>a</sup>) wee sent downe to y<sup>e</sup> severall Commanders in y<sup>e</sup> Roade and y<sup>e</sup> next morn<sup>g</sup> had 50 or 60 of their seamen sent to our aid well armed for o<sup>r</sup> assistance: y<sup>t</sup> day being y<sup>e</sup> 7th entred y<sup>e</sup> towne with fire and sword, hath robb'd and plundered Virgy Vorah, Hodge Said Beague, those gr<sup>t</sup> and emin<sup>t</sup> Merchants, of y<sup>e</sup> greatest p<sup>t</sup> of their riches, with many more, though inconsiderable to y<sup>m</sup>, yet of great estate and fortunes, all lying in gold, silver & jewells, dugg all their houses; and when they had possest themselves of all, fired their houses downe to y<sup>e</sup> ground, all but Hodge Saeds our Neighbour, & y<sup>t</sup> wee preserved in defence of our owne. Hee sent many messages to us, y<sup>e</sup> 1st was, that hee demanded a Liberall gift from us towards y<sup>e</sup> maintenance of his army, having been at great expences to come so farr, w<sup>ch</sup> as hee was a rebell & a thiefe, for our owne safeties hee expected wee should beare in some measure, this allarm'd us to stand upon our Guards, concluding y<sup>t</sup> less y<sup>n</sup> y<sup>e</sup> whole would not satisfie him, whereupon wee got to us a second suply of men, that wee were (the Companies servants Included) neer one hundred & three or foure score strong, till when wee demured our ans<sup>r</sup>, and then sent him word by another messenger hee sent y<sup>e</sup> next day, y<sup>t</sup> wee knew no obligation wee had to give him any thing or hee any reason to demand it, and y<sup>t</sup> wee were resolved to maintaine our owne wth our lives. Hee replied y<sup>t</sup> if hee had not w<sup>t</sup> hee expected, hee would raise o<sup>r</sup> house to y<sup>e</sup> ground & not leave a man alive, at w<sup>ch</sup> wee sent away his messenger, & bidd him assault us if he dare, wee were ready to oppose him, & y<sup>t</sup> hee send no further message, or messenger, resolving to treat no further with him, w<sup>ch</sup> if hee did, wee would shoote y<sup>e</sup> messeng<sup>r</sup> dead in y<sup>e</sup> place, requiring him &

all y<sup>t</sup> belonged unto him, not to come wth in y<sup>e</sup> reache of our gunns. Y<sup>e</sup> next day or y<sup>e</sup> day afterw<sup>ds</sup> hee sent a party of horse and foote, wth combustib<sup>le</sup> stuff to fire y<sup>e</sup> severall Bania houses, y<sup>t</sup> were joining to ours, hoping thereby to doe as much to us; y<sup>t</sup> they might not bee discovered, they kept und<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> eves of y<sup>e</sup> houses that wee could perceive only y<sup>e</sup> blades of their lances, wherup<sup>n</sup> wee sent a p<sup>ty</sup> out to fight them, y<sup>t</sup> in a shorte time routed y<sup>m</sup> out fro' thence, in w<sup>ch</sup> conflict there fell of theirs to y<sup>e</sup> ground a horse & horseman, & one of their foote, beside w<sup>t</sup> wounded, our people coming of againe, with one wounded deeply in y<sup>e</sup> shoulder, & another shott in y<sup>e</sup> legg with an arrow, after which they came not more nere us, but minded their plunder & firing y<sup>e</sup> towne at distance, untill said rebell had heaped to himself vast riches to y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>t</sup> of many hundreds of thous<sup>d</sup> pounds, w<sup>ch</sup> hee had got together by y<sup>e</sup> 13th in y<sup>e</sup> morning and martcht away without any opposition, or any ones lifting their hands agst him except ourselves in y<sup>e</sup> whole time of his ransacking y<sup>e</sup> towne. Since here hath arrived severall armies out of the country, who served to no other end then to behold y<sup>e</sup> ruine and desolation y<sup>t</sup> hee hath made, the greatest part of y<sup>e</sup> towne being burnt downe & laid in ashes, & this is y<sup>t</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> hath obstructed our ships & detained them so much longer, then their usuall time of dispeed; our severall caphalaes of y<sup>e</sup> goods being at y<sup>e</sup> time of y<sup>s</sup> devastation, nere y<sup>e</sup> towne, were for y<sup>e</sup> security of y<sup>e</sup> goods forced to drive back againe, some d<sup>a</sup> journey to preserve themselves. Wee had almost forgott to tell you y<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Ant<sup>o</sup> Smith in y<sup>e</sup> time of troubles, was so inconsiderate as to come from Swally hither alone, and was snapt coming through y<sup>e</sup> towne and carried to y<sup>e</sup> said Sevagy, who after hee had threatned him wth the loss of his head, caused him to bee bound with his armes behind him amongst y<sup>e</sup> rest of y<sup>e</sup> prison<sup>ers</sup> demaunding 300000 rupees for his ransome, but by y<sup>e</sup> friendship of an Armenian y<sup>t</sup> was of his acquaintance, of w<sup>om</sup> Sevagee asked his quallity & condition, w<sup>o</sup> assured him, y<sup>t</sup> hee was a comm<sup>n</sup> man, y<sup>e</sup> next day tooke 300 rup<sup>s</sup> & sett him free, sending him to us upon his paroll, wth a message full of threats & menaces, but having him in our possession, wee were resolved not to suffer him to returne, but sent our ans<sup>r</sup> by thos<sup>e</sup> y<sup>t</sup> came wth him, y<sup>t</sup> hee was a rebell and a thiefe, and therefore valewed not his threats, and y<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Smith was our serv<sup>t</sup> & wee would keep him; and y<sup>s</sup> is w<sup>t</sup> hath passed wth us here, to y<sup>e</sup> astonishm<sup>t</sup> of all, as well sufferers as those that came from other parts.

Although wee have but little Europe neuse y<sup>t</sup> is come to our eares since y<sup>e</sup> ships left England, yet wee are very willing to impart it to you. It is this, our letters at y<sup>e</sup> 30th Nov<sup>r</sup> were ariv'd in England in May. The King was very much troubled at the actions of y<sup>e</sup> Viceroy of Goa, and was resolved to have full satisfaction from y<sup>e</sup> Crowne of Portugall. The Consull of Alleppo adviseth y<sup>t</sup> by letters from London of y<sup>e</sup> 12th June, all things were in a peaceable condition in Church & state & a right understanding and good correspondence betweene his Maj<sup>ty</sup> and his two houses of Parliam<sup>t</sup>. That a Dutch ship was run away wth a Carg<sup>a</sup> of Turkey goods, and y<sup>e</sup> Consulls at Smirna, Alleppo, etc., secur'd untill they render satisfaction in 100000. This is w<sup>t</sup> at Pres<sup>t</sup> wee have notice of; w<sup>n</sup> wee receive our over land advices wee shall imp<sup>t</sup> w<sup>t</sup> further neuse, as conveyance shall offer for yo<sup>r</sup> party, untill y<sup>n</sup> wee take leave and remaine

Surr<sup>t</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> 16th Feb<sup>y</sup> 1663
64

Your assured l<sup>o</sup> friends,
GEO OXINDEN.
JOHN GOODIER.
HENRY GARY.
GER. AUNGIER.

P. S.—Attending some daies for y<sup>e</sup> Cossett, y<sup>t</sup> we mig<sup>t</sup> have delivered our Lett<sup>rs</sup> a Dutch ship arived from Persia, w<sup>ch</sup> broug<sup>t</sup> us advices from o<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employ<sup>rs</sup> dated the 10th August by w<sup>ch</sup> we unders<sup>d</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> arrivall of their shipping viz<sup>t</sup> the “London” from Bantam y<sup>e</sup> 10th Aprill, the Earle of Marleburgh wth y<sup>e</sup> “Dunkirke”, “Leopord”, “Mary Rose”, y<sup>e</sup> “Richard and Martha”, the “Junes”, the “Mary Gold” & “Goodhope” y<sup>e</sup> 26th June, y<sup>e</sup> “Royall Charles” & “Discovery” y<sup>e</sup> Augst, at w<sup>ch</sup> time no neuse of y<sup>e</sup> Coronation or sterling adventure. The Dutch had arrived 9 ships from Battavia and 1 from Cochin.

The Consull from Aleppo writes of a gr<sup>t</sup> victory obteyned by y<sup>e</sup> Portugalls agst the Spanyard, occasioned chiefly by 5000 Eng. viz<sup>t</sup> 3000 foote & 2000 horse then in y<sup>e</sup> Portugalls army w<sup>o</sup> by relation foug<sup>t</sup> desperately, not giving nor taking quarter. The Spaniard is said to have lost (of 15000 his army consisted) 12000, amongst w<sup>om</sup> very many Don<sup>s</sup> and persons of great quallity. Don Joa the Gen<sup>ll</sup> is said also to have bee’ shott in y<sup>e</sup> head wth two bulletts & could not bee found, all y<sup>r</sup> baggage and ordinance taken.

They write further y<sup>t</sup> the Lord Geo. Digby had charg’d y<sup>e</sup> Lord high Chancell<sup>r</sup> Hide wth 15 articles of high treason and presented y<sup>m</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> house of Lords, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Judges have give’ their oppinion y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> p<sup>t</sup>iculars in y<sup>e</sup> charge amo<sup>t</sup> not to high treason, but to high misdemeano<sup>rs</sup>. The parliament is adjourned untill March next, also y<sup>e</sup> further consideration of y<sup>e</sup> charge referred untill y<sup>e</sup> Parliaments next meeting, for other newse referr you to y<sup>e</sup> papers accompanying and wee shall againe subscribe

Yours,

Surratt, y<sup>e</sup> 20th February 1663-64.

GEO OXINDEN.
JOHN GOODIER.
HENRY GARY.
GER : AUNGIER.

Right Worp<sup>ll</sup> Worp<sup>ll</sup> &<sup>ca</sup> our hon<sup>d</sup> freinds,

To y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>rs</sup> via Aleppo.

Our humble service presented. Our last beares date y<sup>e</sup> 28th January, by y<sup>e</sup> “Loyall Merchant,” & “African,” y<sup>e</sup> cause of their detention here so long yo<sup>r</sup> were then acquainted with, together with what else had to that time occurred in your affaires; wee remember but little of what was then omitted to advise you, which wee shall here supply.

One thing is y<sup>e</sup> Indico, whereof you required 300 Bales of y<sup>e</sup> best Lahore, if procurable, at 2 maun<sup>s</sup> per lb. & 100 bales of flat Cirqueeze, if procurable at 1 mams p. lb. neither of which you will find wee have sent you any, by reason of their extraordinary dearenesse and scarcity here, the Lahore now sold in Surat town at 67 rup<sup>s</sup> y<sup>e</sup> maund of 37 lb.; a price never heard of, which is occasioned by the great want of raines the last yeare, that of all that was sown there came but very litle to perfection.

There succeeded an unhappy accident y<sup>e</sup> last yeare to M<sup>r</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Jones, who passing over y<sup>e</sup> River, sitting carelessly on y<sup>e</sup> boate side, was by y<sup>e</sup> reeling of y<sup>e</sup> boat cast into y<sup>e</sup> River, & could not by all the endeavours of those in the boat be recovered, but sunk, and disappeared for 4 days, when he was found dead upon y<sup>e</sup> shoare some two miles up y<sup>e</sup> River, which as soon as wee were informed of, wee sent & interr’d his corps in our common buriall place.

The 15th of y<sup>e</sup> passed Feb<sup>ry</sup> by a Dutch shipp y<sup>t</sup> came from Persia, wee were happied with yours of y<sup>e</sup> 10th of August 1663, which wee shall here reply to. Wee returne our thanks to Almighty God for the safe returne of the severall shippes, and make it our prayers that you may allwayes have the like successe. Wee also thank you that you would take notice of our advices for y<sup>e</sup> early dispeeding your l<sup>rs</sup> to us, which hath had a like successe, by which meanes wee doubt not but to answere your expectations in y<sup>e</sup> procury of your desired quantities of goods, which wee are now in provision of, & hope to get them timely together, y<sup>e</sup> Almighty favouring us with seasonable showers, else through the drought of the last yeare, if it should againe so happen, would utterly dispeople all these parts, it being their manner to forsake their habitations, and with their families to travell into other countries, where they heard corne is cheape, to preserve them from famishing; there are more then 500 families of weavours that are allready fled, & the rest will certainly follow, if the famine should increase, that wee shall not dare to intrust them as accustomed, & without it wee may not expect any goods, but wee hope the Almighty will be mercifull to this land, and restore them their wonted plenty.

There is in your required list 400 tuns of Quilean Pepper, & 300 bales of Cassia Lignum, neither of which wee shall be able to furnish you with, y<sup>e</sup> Dutch having (as formerly wee advis'd you) engrossed and appropriated to themselves y<sup>e</sup> whole Mallabarr Coast, from North to South, prohibiting both these commodities to all, enjoyning y<sup>e</sup> Natives of y<sup>e</sup> Countrey by threats and menaces not to sell to any but themselves. Here is a merchant of quality in this town, who lately sent a shipp down this coast, who had procured towards her lading upward of 200 tuns of pepper, & a considerable quantity of Cassia Lignum, which the Hollanders understanding, sent, and tooke it all away, allowing him a slender price for it; & this was at y<sup>e</sup> very first at their taking Cochin; since they have publiquely declared their claime to the whole Coast, by right of conquest. Those severall papers wee sent you, accompanying our last, that wee rec<sup>d</sup> from Porcat, together with a letter now lately rec<sup>d</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> goes here inclosed, will further acquaint you of their insolent behaviour: wee have further continued your factors there, untill your order for the drawing them off, in regard wee shall not be able to procure any goods there, so long as the Hollander is suffered to rule & Gouverne, which he doth most tyrannically, to the dread & terrour of all those petty Princes: all which considered, wee shall be at a losse for as much Tunnage as the said Cassia Lignum & Quilean pepper will amo<sup>t</sup> to, that must be supplied according to your order, by y<sup>e</sup> addition of such goods as you have here inlisted to us, which wee shall use our best endeavours to comply with.

Indico wee find you are positive for 100 bales of Lahore, & 50 of Cirqueze, wherefore wee have allready sent up to Agra to have it bought at the cheapest season, and allso that of Cirqueze, upon both which wee have imprested money.

Wee have likewise employed persons for y<sup>e</sup> procury of your Deriabands, & Mercolees, & imprested many of them allso—the Sovaguzzes wee shall procure neerer hand, & for y<sup>e</sup> Dangarrees, & Eloes Dutties, wee are dispeeding one to Batticolla: for Raibag, & Colloppore from w<sup>ch</sup> you were formerly furnished wee dare not trust, so long as Sevagee that grand rebell reignes; that now the said port of Batticolla is the only place left free, & unmolested, to which you can trade upon y<sup>e</sup> coast of Mallabarr, whence wee must allso expect the 200 tuns of pepper you require. It hath been in our thoughts some times w<sup>t</sup> you would conclude concerning the dearenesse of that commodity now of late, which is occasioned by the Dutches encroaching the Coast along, that allready pepper is risen in this town from 9 to 10 mand<sup>s</sup> the maund, to 18 mand<sup>s</sup> the maund. They have now in this road 3 shippes, great & small from Cochin, that have brought up good quantities of pepper & cassia lignum, w<sup>ch</sup> they sell here at strange unusuall rates.

The other commodities which you require of Chints, broad & narrow; Quilts great, & litle Tapseles; Neccanees; blew Baftas; Salecs; Brawles; Guinea stuffes; Baftas white, broad, and narrow, all which being goods made neare, and about our residence, wee doubt not but to furnish with.

You mention in a premention packet, wherein you enclosed severall patterns of Chints, was allso a pattern of Guinea stuffes, which were commonly 12 yards long, 3 peices in one, striped with red, & white, which pattern was with that packet lost, and that you now send another which wee doe not find among the other patterns of Chints &<sup>ca</sup> except it be a remnant of stuffe striped red, and white, which is woven throughout in one peice, and doe containe y<sup>e</sup> lengths & breadths you mention, which are not procurable here, but at Metchlepatam, wherefore in our next l<sup>res</sup> thither wee shall advise them to procure, & send you the quantities you write for; likewise the Batelias you write were sent from hence by the "Constinople Merch<sup>t</sup>," which in y<sup>e</sup> perusall of y<sup>r</sup> bookes of accompts wee find to be remaines came from Persia, of such goods as were sent from the Coast of Cormandell, & not procurable here, wherefore shall advise so much, desiring them to furnish you thence; and thus having advised what you may expect from us, & what we cannot in any wise procure, considering the tunnage that you intend us, there will be at least 250 tuns wanting for the impleating your shipping, wherefore wee shall be necessitated to enlarge if possible upon all those procurable, strictly observing your order to send nothing of what you have prohibited.

Your Presid<sup>t</sup> returns his humble thanks for your acceptance of that small service performed by him at his first arrivall, in his treaty with y<sup>e</sup> Govern<sup>r</sup> and the rest of the Kings Ministers: wee have ever since lived free & unmolested, excepting some small rubs at the new Govern<sup>r</sup> first comming which was suddenly remov'd, that wee have uninterrupted proceeded in the management of your affaires, without being obstructed in any wise.

Wee take notice of the indemnity granted us in Court, for our deviation from your g'rall orders, in sending down y<sup>e</sup> "Hopewell" to Porcat, to fetch thence those, & the Calevelha goods, since which wee have been constrained to fall into the same errour, through the necessity that was upon us; but now that you have signified your wills in that nature, wee doe promise all punctuall observance to such your g'rall commands, since you conclude that such liberty may be very destructive to you, accounting it our happinesse that you have so good an opinion of us, which wee shall study to preserve, and manifest upon all occasions: we confesse the extravagant practices, and ill contrivances of late yeares, may well make you cautious of giving such liberty, & therefore wee are satisfied, and will to our utmost observe, & persue such orders, & directions as you shall from time to time give us.

What Broad cloth came in the "Loyall Merch<sup>t</sup>" & "African," you will find by our l<sup>re</sup> by said shipp was againe sold at a lump, though it was somewhat under the price of that came on the "Richard & Martha;" it was the most wee could procure, & thought it better to part with it, considering the quantity was as much more then that of former yeares, then to keep it by us, and sell it by retail: wee also take notice of what you writ by those ships, concerning the putting it of at 5 or 20 p. cent more or lesse, conditionally by that meanes great quantities may be disposed off, which wee have well weighed, & debated amongst ourselves, & are perswaded y<sup>t</sup> should you lower the prices, that you make not more then 5 p. cent advance, yet shall not wee be able to dispose of more then what you annually send, and therefore it will be your interest that wee hold up the prices to betwixt 4 & 5 rup<sup>s</sup> the yard since the other way which you propound will not take effect, for wee can experimentally tell you, that in the time of y<sup>e</sup> open trade, when cloth was sold for 10 & 20 p. cent losse, yet would it not vend, but lay upon our nations hands, from yeare to yeare, untill M<sup>r</sup> Wyche came out, who bringing but a small quantity for your accompt & a restriction of all others, rais'd its esteeme. Our endeavours in moderating our house expences, and charges on the Marine, hath not been fruitlesse, for you may please to examine those accompts gone home in the "Loyall Merch<sup>t</sup>" you will find how thrifty wee have been on your behalfe, to which if you please to add our good husbandry for you in other perticulars; which cannot so well be seen, being involved in the generall bookes of accompts, wee can with assurance say, that you now sit at some thousand pounds lesse charge, then you have done since your first uniting.

Wee shall write to the coast p. next conveyance for the dissolving y<sup>e</sup> factory at Calevelha, they being best drawne of to them, as nearest, so may soonest repaire thith<sup>r</sup>.

Wee hoped to have sent you sufficient attestations, & testimonies, to make M<sup>r</sup>. Andrews liable to the satisfying you that debt of Tulcidas, made by M<sup>r</sup>. Wyche, for as in our former, so wee againe declare, that he was, & could not be ignorant of it, & ought to have made it good unto you, out of a great estate then he had in his possession of M<sup>r</sup>. Wyches, which he afterwards paid out to Banians.

Wee are very sorry you are not satisfied wth the sending home M<sup>r</sup>. Andrewes, if his detention here would any wayes have advanced you, wee should certainly have detain'd him; wee had thought the reasons given in ours that accompanied him, had been sufficient, wherein wee declare his utter deniall to be accomptable to us; besides wee did not think he was returned so slightly, for wee did make strict enquiry, & gathered together what possible wee could, which were put into attestations, and the truth thereof confirmed, w<sup>ch</sup> wee did conclude did ipso facto forfeit not only his former bonds, but this latter which wee tooke from him for 10000 lbs. ste', & againe wee were acquainted with the bill of Exch<sup>a</sup> which was drawne on you, which wee were assured by M<sup>r</sup>. John Lambton, then living, & others, would be stopt, whereby wee concluded you would have sufficient in your hands to satisfie for whatever demands yo<sup>u</sup> could make upon him; more over he began to be very factious, & troublesome here, where before he went away he did the ill office of setting S<sup>r</sup>. Abraham Shipman, & your Presid<sup>t</sup> at variance, besides other mischeifs that he was a hatching, that wee feared when he would have obstructed us in our businesse, for wee were informed he was tampering with divers to that purpose: wee cannot think you beleive wee did it in favour to him, to whom wee owed none, either in respect to you, or his behaviour towards us, & wee hope our late l<sup>re</sup> per the "Loyall Merchant," & "African", copy whereof goth herewith, will testifie for us, wherein wee have detected him of all whatever wee can gather, wherein he hath either falsified his trust, or acted to your prejudice, for wee doe assure you wee have so much indignation against him for his perfidious breach of trust, that wee shall conceale nothing that shall come to our knowledge, wherein he hath wronged you, but wee shall make you acquainted wth it: Bladwell & he were copartners in y<sup>e</sup> trade, both to Macasser, & Siam, but so private they were in the managing of it that although it be sufficiently known, yet cannot wee prove it against him—the said Bladwell was sent unto you p. the "Convertine", long before this your last order, else would wee have detained him a prisoner, & not have sent him, although he did positively deny to give any answer, or accompt to any question wee demanded of him.

Your Presid<sup>t</sup> is much concerned, & indeed troubled that the good Lady Lambton should give herselfe that trouble to procure the Kings Maj<sup>ties</sup> letter, & also petition you concerning her deceased sonnes estate, & the 2 surviving brothers, the accompt of all which hath been misrepresented to her, by some unworthy person, who hath been sent home, as not meriting your service, who having no other way to be revenged, hath sought thus to defame him, & trouble the Lady; your Presid<sup>t</sup> having not done any thing but what is warrantable from your orders, by which he hath acted; as first M<sup>r</sup>. Lambton dying suddenly, his 2 brothers being then at Surat, & your Presid<sup>t</sup> upon the Marine, M<sup>r</sup>. John Goodier being present, was enordered upon notice given of the death of s<sup>d</sup> Lambton, to repaire immediately to Surat, & taking the Steward with him, to his chambers, lock, & seale up the doores, where was his 2 brothers, who lay in the deceaseds lodgings, by which meanes M<sup>r</sup>. Goodier was necessitated to lock in severall things of theirs, that were mixed with the deceaseds, untill a convenient time might be appointed for y<sup>e</sup> seperating of them, which was accordingly done at the opening the doores, when Richard & Ralph were both called to make claime, to receive their own.

which was all at the same delivered them, in the presence of M<sup>r</sup>. Gerald Aungier, M<sup>r</sup>. Robert Barber, & the Steward, the like was all papers & accompts belonging unto them, that there was only in dispute a chest, which contained certaine monies, part whereof belonged unto yourselves, & others, that it could not then be decided to whom properly it did belong, & therefore that no losse might ensue thereon, it was put to interest, untill the right owners could more clearely be made out, whether or no M<sup>r</sup>. John Lambton might not have some part or portion thereof, belonging to his acco<sup>t</sup>, which being afterwards decided, was paid in unto Ralph Lambton, long before this your l<sup>r</sup>e, or the Ladys petition came to hand; & so farr was your Presid<sup>t</sup> from keeping back any thing whereto the surviving brothers had a just pretence; & whereas the petition declareth that S<sup>r</sup>. George Oxinden had gotten all the estate of the said John Lambton into his hands, and thereupon gives out that the said deceased was indebted to him 3000 R<sup>s</sup>, which he denieth ever to have spoken, as a thing falce in itselfe, & therefore he is confident cannot be proved by sufficient testimony, and that the said S<sup>r</sup>. George Oxinden never laid claime to more then 300 & odd pounds, which appeares to be due by accompts between them, which it seems in the voyage home is multiplyed to 3000 l<sup>s</sup>, and indeed holds proportion with what the Lady Lambton hath heard, & set forth to you in her petition. Further wee doe all testifie, that neither Ralph, nor Richard, ever were denied to view all, or any of their brothers bookes, & papers, but on the contrary wee doe affirme by our subscription to this l<sup>r</sup>e, that no acco<sup>t</sup> concerning their brother John was made up without communing with them, especially Richard, who, 'tis believed was wholly acquainted with his businesse; & that there might be all faire dealing, to the satisfaction of them at home, as well as abroad, there hath been appointed M<sup>r</sup>. Gerald Aungier, & M<sup>r</sup>. Charles Smeaton, for the perfecting the acco<sup>t</sup>s which were indeed in peece meales, and broken loose papers, hard to be understood, and that your Presid<sup>t</sup> (as the Lady pretends) hath not medled at all with them, or the estate of her sonne John, who was but bare of necessaries when he died, and put to that necessity that he knew not where to borrow 100 rup<sup>s</sup> to pay his servants wages, being to all so vastly indebted, that none would trust him further. Nor hath your Presid<sup>t</sup> (as the Lady pretends) sent her sonnes to any remote places. Indeed Ralph is lately gone to Mocho, upon his request, & petition, & allso desires to continue in y<sup>e</sup> Countrey doubting his condition at home may not be so good, which makes it appeare that your P<sup>r</sup> is not so potent an adversary to her surviving sonnes, as her petition would make the world believe and thus your P<sup>r</sup> hath answered the Ladys petition in every perticuler which he hopes will be to your, & her satisfaction, it being the plaine truth of what hath passed betwixt her sonnes, and us, since the decease of their brother. Indeed wee did endeavour to prevent the owning M<sup>r</sup>. John Lambtons estate for their own, which they have all along endeavoured to doe, having been detected in the very act, which wee have great cause to suspect, when you shall be informed that Richard, who was but a few yeares since a young lad, raw, and unvers'd in anything, whose sight is so weake that he can hardly see to write, should be now master of an estate of 2000 or 3000 l<sup>s</sup> and his brother John, that lived so many yeares in your service, should die indebted 7000 or 8000 l<sup>s</sup>. St<sup>r</sup>. whose failing condition was so generally known to all, for some yeares before he died, that it became common discourse in England before your P<sup>r</sup> came over this last time, & therefore no wonder as the Lady seemes to make it, who reckons his estate by the many yeares he hath served you in India.

Wee take notice of your aversnesse to have any shipping detained in India, which wee shall use our utmost endeavours to prevent, & in case there shall, to observe your directions in giving her credit for what freight she shall make, & making her D<sup>r</sup> for all her charges, & expences made on her whatsoever, allso the Purser of the Marine is advised to expresse in his bookes of seamans wages, & c<sup>ca</sup> in what shipp. & service those to whom he payes any part of their wages were employed in, and how long in such imployment, expressing it in their acco<sup>ts</sup> that shall be sent home.

Wee have considered of what you write concerning your factory of Persia, making your 2 propositions you there incert unto them, enordering M<sup>r</sup> Cradocke to repaire to us by the next Bussora shipp that shall call there, and M<sup>r</sup> Fflower, M<sup>r</sup> Swinglehurst to continue, but not to journey up to Spahawn; & this course wee have at last thought the best, for a yeare, two, or three, & not to draw them totally of, lest it cause a dispute of that small pittance wee now receive from them; conditionally those remayning factors now that the grandeur is taken off, will be more moderate in their expences, which if you shall approve of, rather then to leave the port void of any English, be pleased to confirme by your next.

Wee have by a Jounk that arrived from Acheen rec<sup>d</sup> another l<sup>r</sup>e from the Queen, confirming her former promises in granting you the whole trade of that Island, as that of Tecoo, Priaman, Porah, Baroose, & severall other ports & places, on the west coast, all yeilding great store of commodities, proper for this place, Persia, Bussora & Arabia; as Tin, pepper, Benjamin, Camphire, Agalá Sapan wood, Gold, &c<sup>ca</sup>. This her proffer proceeds from her feares of the Dutches tyrannizing over them, being very jealous that they intend this yeare to block up all these severall places, not suffering any trade or commerce to be admitted of but their own & that at their tearmes: wee confesse if you might not be impeded by the Hollander it might afford you as great & greater profit then the dealings you now have out and home for great quantities of goods of the product of this place, allso of Metchlepatam & the Coast; but it is in vaine to think the Dutch will suffer us quietly to enjoy any trade thither except some conditions could be made with them at home.

Here is sent the Shawbunder of Acheen to us, with these overtures, whom wee have treated civilly & are now sending your serv<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Henry Gary with some other of your factors on your shipp "Vine" with our answer, which is to the purport of what wee wrote you by the "Loyall Merch<sup>t</sup>", how that 'tis a businesse of great weight, & wee may not undertake it without first advising you, which wee should by the next opertunity, & wait your answer to proceed accordingly: the Queen is further very earnest with us to setle a factory there, which in regard to the great respect and civillity shown to our nation in generall, & people in perticuler, wee have thought convenient to doe it, especiall at this nick of time that wee appeare to have an intereste in y<sup>e</sup> trade, wherefore M<sup>r</sup> Cobb and M<sup>r</sup> Hardresse are appointed to be left there, and M<sup>r</sup> Gary to returne.

It was the 19th of the passed month before wee could dispatch your Surat Ffrigat for Bantam, occasioned by y<sup>e</sup> late disturbance that befell us in Surat, by that Rebell Sevagee's approach: she hath laden on her for your acco<sup>t</sup> according to the invoice, & bill of lading rup<sup>rs</sup> 55705: 71 pice, in such goods as they required, which wee wish may arrive in safety to our fellow servants.

Here hath been this yeare 5 shipp of the Hollanders viz<sup>t</sup> 1 from Persia, 2 directly from Cochín, 1 from Batavia, & 1 from Japan, which latter brings the newes of a sad losse they have sustained, by foule weather, in those seas, for of 6 sail that were richly laden from Japan this yeare, there are but three saved, whereof one arrived hither, one for Persia, a third for Bengala, the other 3 cast away by violent stormes; that they saved not any thing; further wee are informed that the great noise they made of a fleet of 25 sail of shipp that went against Tywan, is come to nothing, but are return'd without being able to doe any thing against it; only in their voyage they met with 2 China Jounks, which they tooke, & made prize of, a third they met with, & lam'd, but she got into Japan, where they made theyr complaint to the Emperour, who 'tis said was much offended, & hath detained 70 chests of silver, to make satisfaction for what further roberies shall be proved against them.

M<sup>r</sup>. Cotes who was left at Siam by M<sup>r</sup>. Bladewell, is returned here, who acquaints us that the Hollander (taking advantage of the King of Siam's sending abroad 12 Jounks, which are expected to returne very richly laden from China, and Japan) have pickt a quarrell with y<sup>e</sup>. port & blockt it up, intending to make prize of y<sup>e</sup>. vessells.

This King hath taken very heavily y<sup>e</sup>. plundering and burning of his town, & port of Surat, and hath vowed revenge upon the Rebell. Our last acquainted you how that wee were then in action, by solliciting y<sup>e</sup>. severall Commanders of armies that came down (though too late) upon notice given them of Sevagees approach; allso that wee were then writing a petition to the King, for a reward for our good service done him, which since wee are informed was by our freinds in Court (to whom your President wrote) delivered into the Kings hand, wherein wee hinted our expectations that he would remit us all your Customes; whereupon the King after he had taken it into his most gracious consideration, hath sent down an order, that the whole Customes of all merch<sup>ts</sup> should be remitted for one entire yeare, the benefit whereof wee hope you will reape in your next yeares shipp's out & home; & Mohobut Ckaun the Governour of Ahmadavad, & Gen<sup>ll</sup> of the province of Guzzerat, adviseth your P<sup>r</sup>. that upon his request to the King, in lieu of our good service, on our behalves, and y<sup>e</sup>. sollicitation of freinds at Court, it is resolved upon the expiration of the yeare, the King will give us the  $\frac{1}{4}$  part of all your Customes free; & this when by our endeavours wee shall effect, wee shall hope for a suitable reward from you our masters, whilst the thing it selfe shall remaine as a lasting memoriall of our active willingnesse to promote your interest.

Your President is yet further thankfull, for y<sup>e</sup>. liberty he hath given him for the employing of his 2 shipp's in India, for his own acco<sup>t</sup>. from port to port, & promises that he neither will directly, nor indirectly, wrong you of any part of your Persian Customes, or suffer such abuse to be done by others, in as much as in him lieth: He did y<sup>e</sup>. last yeare at times send them both to Persia, wholly laden with freight goods, without the value of 6<sup>d</sup>. stock of his own, but the goods put into the Customes House, from whence you had your part of Customes; the whole lading of the shipp's belonging to these countrey merch<sup>ts</sup>, which arriving thither were no small reputation to our nation, & allso advantage to yourselves, for now that you have no shipping, or commerce in India, were it not for these 2 shipp's, it would be much more difficult for you to procure that pittance of Customes now paid you, wherefore whenever your P<sup>r</sup>. sends them to that port, (or indeed to any other) they goe allwayes consign'd to your factors, & reputed to belong to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>ys</sup>, which as said is not only some credit that you have not totally deserted yo<sup>r</sup>. egresse & regresse to that port, but allso a meanes that your duties are the more readily paid.

At M<sup>r</sup>. Garys returne from Acheen, that Queen delivered him a l're, & present for his Maj<sup>tie</sup>, viz<sup>t</sup>. a peice of lignum Aloes, a peice of Collumback, a Bezar stone* of a porcupine &<sup>ca</sup> expressed in the letter, the copy of said letter was there taken by M<sup>r</sup>. Gary, which goeth here inclosed, which l're &<sup>ca</sup> was delivered unto M<sup>r</sup>. Andrewes, to be tendered to the Governour of the * Bezar or Bezoar, a medicinal stone formerly in high repute as an antitode. — [Persian pa = against; zahar = poison]. Tavernier writes — "There is another stone in great esteem, that is called the Porcupine's stone, which that creature is said to carry in its head, and is more precious than Bezoar against poison. If it be steeped in water a quarter of an hour, the water becomes so bitter, that nothing can be more bitter. There is also a stone sometimes found in the belly of that creature of the same nature; and as good as that which comes from the head; nevertheless with this difference, that being steep'd in water, it loses nothing of its weight nor bulk, as the other does. I have bought in my time three of those stones. One of them cost me 500 Crowns, and I exchanged it to advantage. I paid four hundred Crowns for the other, which I keep: the other was sold me for 200 Crowns, which I presented to a friend. — Tavernier's Voyages, Part II, page 154.

East India Comp<sup>a</sup>, to be presented to our Royall Sovereigne. Wee have formerly spoke of this in our last l<sup>r</sup>e by the shipp which please to enquire into, that her Maj<sup>tie</sup> of Acheen may have an acco<sup>t</sup> thereof, being very inquisitive concerning it.

M<sup>r</sup> Matthew Fforsters acco<sup>t</sup> hath some yeares depended upon Ballance, in expectation whether he might not be indebted unto you since his residence in Persia, but finding by their acco<sup>ts</sup>, & further examinations, that all things stand cleare between him and the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>, be pleased to pay the Ballance of his acco<sup>t</sup>, as it shall appeare in your gen<sup>ll</sup> bookes, to that p<sup>son</sup> y<sup>e</sup> shall have right to demand it.

All rumours of warrs are at present over with us, wee hope wee shall continue in peace, and unmolested this ensuing winter. If any thing of commotion shall happen, wee promise you our utmost endeavours to preserve yo<sup>r</sup> estate, according to our obligations.

Yesterday by a Dutch shipp from Persia, wee rec<sup>d</sup> transcript of your Wor<sup>ps</sup> letter of the 20th August, via Legorne, and Aleppo, with the patterns enclosed, and other papers inlisted.

Ffor want of acco<sup>ts</sup> from Porqua & Calvelha, & other summes that are dubious upon Ballance of the generall bookes, wee are uncapable to give you an exact calculate of your quick stock, or to bring it nearer then the ballance of the bookes sent you by the shipp "Loyall Merch<sup>t</sup>", cobby whereof wee now againe send you, with ballance of the Carwarr & Acheen bookes.

Wee have likewise sent you an accompt drawn up by the Purser of the Marine, of severall summes due to seamen employed upon the Surat Ffrigat, more then the Pursers accomp<sup>ts</sup> sent you home p. the shipp "Loyall Merch<sup>t</sup>" doth mention.

You were advised in a remembrance of the rectified accompts sent you home by the last shipp, that wee supposed some other things would be found out to be added to M<sup>r</sup> Andrewes acco<sup>t</sup>. In the bookes ballanced by M<sup>r</sup> Andrewes, and sent home on y<sup>e</sup> "Richard & Martha," he hath charged M<sup>r</sup> Gary with 200 rup<sup>s</sup> for a horse, paid for out of your cash, both in Scinda and Surat, which mony was both times rec<sup>d</sup> by M<sup>r</sup> Andrewes, of M<sup>r</sup> Scrivener, & your sheroffe here, who testifie the same, yet by him but once made good to M<sup>r</sup> Gary, whose horse it was, wherefore M<sup>r</sup> Andrewes is to make good 200 rup<sup>s</sup> to yo<sup>r</sup> acco<sup>t</sup>. M<sup>r</sup> Rolt stands charged in your bookes ballance for 500 rup<sup>s</sup>, which summe Trickum proves he paid him and further declares, that the said summes by M<sup>r</sup> Andrewes order was by him brought, & delivered to M<sup>r</sup> Rolt in Surat, who carried it to Umbra, for paym<sup>ts</sup> of the "Wellcomes" men, but M<sup>r</sup> Rolt denies to have received any such summe, or to remember any such passage, & upon examination of accompts, wee find the "Wellcomes" men were paid with other mony, delivered the Purser of the shipp. There is allso 2000 rup<sup>s</sup> remayning upon your Ahmadavad factories acco<sup>t</sup> being so much remitted hence upon bill of Exchange, which summe is not acknowledged to be received in the Ahm<sup>a</sup> bookes, as y<sup>e</sup> may please to read in the ballance of our last bookes now sent, & that the aforesaid Trickum who hath credit allso for this 2000 rup<sup>s</sup> in acco<sup>t</sup> affirmes that M<sup>r</sup> Andrewes licenced Jo<sup>n</sup> Lambton to take the said summe out of your cash, who upon his perticuler acco<sup>t</sup> remitted it to Ahmadavad; wee desire you will please to enquire of M<sup>r</sup> Andrewes concerning these 2 summes and advise us how wee shall cleare them from ballance. Wee conclude with the presentation of our most humble service, as wee are

Your most faithfull & obliged servants,

Swally Marine y<sup>e</sup> 4th April 1664.

GEORGE OXINDEN.
JOHN GOODIER.
HENRY GARY.
GERALD AUNGIER.

The* 23<sup>d</sup> December imported here a ship belonging to the King of Bantam called the "Blessing," Cap<sup>t</sup> Anderson Commander; she touched at Bombay in her coming up; she is bound for Mocha & Bussora and to returne hither, & from hence to lade for Bantam next yeare so that we feare the markets will be some what overcharged with goods especially at Bantam.

The 31st X<sup>ber</sup> the Ffrench fleet commanded by Mons<sup>r</sup> La Hay set saile from the rivers mouth, but there is no certainty whither they are bound; they shaped there course towards Goa, where 'tis believed Mons<sup>r</sup> La Hay will stay some time to treat with Viceroy of Goa about some private designes between y<sup>m</sup>, and also to supply his Ffleet with provitions w<sup>ch</sup> he much wants; they have laden on board their ships at Swally Marine a great quantity of timber for plat-formes of a ffort & sparrs for pallizadoes, they have also laden quantitie of bricks & tiles, so that 'tis certaine they designe some settelm<sup>t</sup>, but where is not yet discovered. Some ffancy it to be on the Mallabar Coast neer Cocheen, others on y<sup>e</sup> Island Banca or some other place on y<sup>e</sup> South Seas; others also weighing their want off all sorts necessary for such a designe doe conceive they will returne to English for rest; & there stay till they are better supplied; but it will not be long before this misterious designe is discovered & then we shall not faile to advise yo<sup>u</sup> overland. They have gained a very light name here by their lightness, ill Govern<sup>t</sup> of their owne people, and worse dealing with the natives whom they have kept long out of their monys to their small credit.

The noise w<sup>ch</sup> the Ffrench fleet made in the Court at Agra caused y<sup>e</sup> Mogull to send downe another Gov<sup>r</sup> with 2000 horse, being the same was Gov<sup>r</sup> 5 years since by name Ghiasty Caun. He formerly was a great freind to us, & promises fair now, but we expect some trouble from him in regard that some ill disposed officers of the towne last year turned out, failing the great presents from us w<sup>ch</sup> they exected, have given the King strange informations concerning your Island Bombay, so that we judge it necessary to temporise a little at pres<sup>t</sup> & make as little noise of Bombay as may be, that we may the better prevent a storme w<sup>ch</sup> otherwise may be raised; for though we little concerne ourselves for any danger as to your Island, where the Mogulls force cannot come neer us, yet we know 'tis in this Gov<sup>r</sup> power to bring great disturbance to y<sup>e</sup> body of your trade w<sup>ch</sup> lyes in this country w<sup>ch</sup> we judge most safe & consistent with your interest to avoide by all prudent & lawfull ways wee can contrive, as the state of your affaires stands at present. Wee take due notice of y<sup>e</sup> wise caution w<sup>ch</sup> you give us to keep a fair understanding with the Govrm<sup>t</sup> of Suratt & not to thinke of leaving our settlem<sup>t</sup> here; we declare unto you that we are so farr from having any thoughts of leaving Suratt, that we judge it your interest to continue as firme a settlement & large a trade as ever, notwithstanding your Island Bombay; for seing your trade is so much enlarged of what it was there will be a necessity not only to continue these goods ports wherein we are settled, but also to find out more, for the better vent of the great quantitys of goods w<sup>ch</sup> you send out, & provitions of the Cargazoons w<sup>ch</sup> you enordered for Europe; & though our eyes & thoughts are as sincerely fixed on the raise of your Island Bombay as becomes us, yet we doe not approve of over hasty proceedings, nor shall we ever advise you to use force, or engage in fatall quarells with your neighbours to attaine that end; w<sup>ch</sup> though they may in the beginning be successfull doe seldome end wth a blessing: thus much we have thought fitt to write on this subject for yo<sup>r</sup> satisfaction, assuring yo<sup>u</sup> that as we are resolved to doe no wrong, nor give any just occasion of misunderstanding, so we shall not easily submitt to unjust force but in such case shall governe ourselves as God shall direct us, for the best security of your interest & trust committed to us. Now we are on discourse of yo<sup>r</sup> Island Bombay we humbly recommend to yo<sup>u</sup> certaine rude proposalls w<sup>ch</sup> have offered themselves to our thoughts tending as we hope to render y<sup>e</sup> Colony usefull in some measure to England; & in a condition to beare its own charge; we intreat yo<sup>r</sup> to receive y<sup>m</sup> under your debate & what part thereof yo<sup>r</sup> shall in your wisdoms determine worthy to be put in practise please to strengthen us with sufficient power & instructions that your orders may be the more fully obeyed. Your ship "George" & "Charles" y<sup>e</sup> former whereof we expect suddenly from Queda; the latter now lying in on freight for Persia are weakly mannd having lost most of their men by mortallity w<sup>ch</sup> we have supplied from Bombay; but for the better maning of your shipping as also y<sup>e</sup> Brignadines or frigats to be built; & hoighs & <sup>ca</sup> hereafter, we humbly propose y<sup>t</sup> 'twould be necessary to require all y<sup>e</sup> Commanders of the shipping yo<sup>r</sup> send to these p<sup>ts</sup> to bring out supernumerary men according to their respective burthens at y<sup>e</sup> owners charge, y<sup>t</sup> so they may leave some spare men behind y<sup>m</sup> by w<sup>ch</sup> meanes yo<sup>r</sup> ships will be y<sup>e</sup> better supplied without charge to yo<sup>r</sup>, there will also want some mates and masters for such frigats w<sup>ch</sup> shall be designed to be built for y<sup>e</sup> use of yo<sup>r</sup> Island Bombay. We are in want of a trumpeter & wish yo<sup>r</sup> would please to send us one out that is able, for that these great men doe often fancy the sound of our trumpets & send to us for them when wee have one, & in regard the Ffrench have two, & the Dutch one, 'twill not be seemly for us only to be without; we at present serve ourselves for fashions sake of a young man who hath little or no skill; if yo<sup>r</sup> please to favour us therein we intreat y<sup>t</sup> care may be taken that he be orderly & well disposed in his conversation. There is one Jn<sup>o</sup> Simpson a matross on your Island Bombay who hath desired that you would please to give leave for his wife and family to come out on the next shipping, touching w<sup>ch</sup> matter we humbly refer yo<sup>r</sup> to his owne petition w<sup>ch</sup> will be presented to yo<sup>r</sup>.

* Many pages are wanting in the MS. volume and there is a gap of seven years between this letter and the previous one.

Cap<sup>t</sup> Henry Young hath paid into yo<sup>r</sup> Cash R.....for w<sup>ch</sup> we have given him our bills uppon yo<sup>r</sup> for £.....pay<sup>a</sup> to.....at days after arrivall of ship.....w<sup>ch</sup> bills we pray yo<sup>r</sup> to Honn<sup>r</sup> with acceptance & due payment. Wee have laboured under much trouble and thoughts of heart in gathering together ladings for these ships from the sev<sup>ll</sup> Ffactorys by reason of the frequent disturbance of Caphilaes; by Armys passing to & fro w<sup>ch</sup> have much retarded our goods & is the reason that many of those goods w<sup>ch</sup> you ordered are left behind & in p.ticular your Chints with broad branches; none of w<sup>ch</sup> are as yet arrived, nor can we now keep y<sup>e</sup> ships for y<sup>m</sup>, or any other goods, but being full laden with such goods as we have in readines we thinke good to dispatch them to you, all w<sup>ch</sup> goods we trust you will find cheap & good in their severall species; the Comanders of the ships complaine exceedingly for want of kintlage & of the quantitys of light goods laden on y<sup>m</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> hath caused some discontents, but the great quantitys of pepper they have all taken in makes y<sup>m</sup> amends. Invoice of the sev<sup>ll</sup> goods laden on these ships goe herewith the abstract whereof is as followeth:—

On ship "Ffalcon" Cap<sup>t</sup> Seaman the amo<sup>t</sup> of Rupees.....; on ship "Massingbird" Cap<sup>t</sup> Westlack y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>t</sup> of Rup<sup>s</sup>.....; on ship "Antelope" Cap<sup>t</sup> Goldborough y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>t</sup> of Rup<sup>s</sup>..... Totall.....All w<sup>ch</sup> beseech God in his good providence send safe unto you. On ship "Ffalcon" we send yo<sup>r</sup> a box 1 p. our gen<sup>ll</sup> books of acco<sup>ts</sup> with sev<sup>ll</sup> other books of subordinate Ffactorys, as also our consultation Books & <sup>ca</sup> all w<sup>ch</sup> we humbly recommend to your judicious & candid consideration, beseeching yo<sup>r</sup> to receive our services with a favourable acceptance, to pardon such errors w<sup>ch</sup> through weakness of our capacitys or want of judgment or experience you shall discover us to have committed, for as to willfull faelts acted to your prejudice or open breach of your orders we hope yo<sup>r</sup> will find none; & in case your auditor shall make any scruple against any of y<sup>e</sup> proceedings or contracts, we humbly begg they may be timely advised while matters are fresh in our memorys & may be well answered for y<sup>e</sup> better clearing of the truth: yo<sup>r</sup> are pleased to require your President to signe yo<sup>r</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> books; he humbly offers that as a thing unaccustomary he might reasonably wave it; & the rather for that y<sup>e</sup> extraordinary weight & pressure of your Gen<sup>ll</sup> affairs cannot allow him leisure to examine one side thereof, yet to manifest his obedience to your order & the great confidence w<sup>ch</sup> he hath in your Justice & honourable proceedings with all your servants he hath comply<sup>d</sup> with your Commands, assuring himself, that yo<sup>u</sup> will not take advantages thereof, to offer him the least prejudice, or call him to answer for any thing but what in Justice ought to be laid to his charge.

Your Presid<sup>t</sup> hath proposed to Cap<sup>t</sup> Henry Young in the presence of yo<sup>r</sup> Councell that y<sup>e</sup> difference between y<sup>m</sup> might be referred to & ended by arbitration either of your Councell or y<sup>e</sup> Command<sup>rs</sup> of your ship, or any else whom he himselfe would thinke good to chuse & notwithstanding he much p<sup>s</sup> waded wth him, on prudent considerations as well in respect to y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> service as their owne mutuall satisfaction, yet Cap<sup>t</sup> Young doth positively refuse it; whereupon yo<sup>r</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> thinks good in all humble manner to give yo<sup>u</sup> notice that he cannot with any ground of reason consignee any shipp or goods for his owne acco<sup>t</sup> to Gombroon while that Cap<sup>t</sup> Young is there, but must be forced hereafter to freight them for Cong Bunder, Reague or Bussora, or send them on other voyages for reasons w<sup>ch</sup> your wisdom will justify him in; whereof he thought it his duty to acquaint yo<sup>u</sup>. A list of what p<sup>mission</sup> goods are laden on the ships goeth in the Gen<sup>ll</sup> packet together with what encomdoes the merchants have laden on board, whereof your Presid<sup>t</sup> doubts not your wonted favour in granting him his part.

The 8 Curr<sup>t</sup> the "Advance" Cap<sup>t</sup> Bennett arrived from Gombroon, laden with some goods for yo<sup>r</sup> owne acco<sup>t</sup> & also some on freight together with 240000 shahees in ready money; most of the goods are designed for Bantam excepting 100 sacks of Carmania wooll w<sup>ch</sup> will serve for your next years ships; we shall dispeed the ship away with all hast possible; of w<sup>ch</sup> & what else relating to Bantam we shall advise in our overland letter the Gen<sup>ll</sup> from Persia w<sup>ch</sup> the invoice goes herewith.

It having pleased God to deprive us of M<sup>r</sup> Powell your Chirurgeon at Bombay & his mate; & being wholly distitute there at present, we thought good to entertaine Bennet Chirurgeons mate of your ship "Antelope" with y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> consent for the supply of the Island at.....per month. M<sup>r</sup> Robert Ward who hath so long served Chirurgeon of your house in Surrat, hath much importuned for his discharge and having proposed M<sup>r</sup> Tho. Peirce Chirurgeon of ship "Ffalcon" to supply his place, the Cap<sup>t</sup> also giving his consent, we have thought good to gratify M<sup>r</sup> Wards desires, in granting him passage on ship "Falcon."

Your Presid<sup>t</sup> had determined with some Councell to take his passage on those ships for your Island Bombay having many matters of no meane importance to act there; but as circumstances now stand with this new feirce Gov<sup>r</sup> who hath already begun to trouble our neighbours & p<sup>ticularly</sup> the Ffrench, whome he threatens to turne out of the towne, we doe not judge it prudence to offer him occasion of offence by leaving the towne so imediately on his arrivall, but rather to stay, till matters are little more quiet, intending God willing to goe downe by the "Advance", by w<sup>ch</sup> time we trust yo<sup>r</sup> concerns here will be best in a fair posture in order to yo<sup>r</sup> next years Invest<sup>mt</sup>. However we have now sent a good supply downe to Bombay of goods and treasure for the defraying yo<sup>r</sup> great charge there at present.

The Mahagen or cheife Councell of the Banians have been much satisfied wth the answer w<sup>ch</sup> you were pleased to give to their petition sent you by ship "Samson" touching their priviledges on Bombay, and it seems they have determined once more to trouble yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>as</sup> wth a letter w<sup>ch</sup> they have ordered your Broker Bimgee Parrack to write, representing their desires, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> priviledges may be confirmed to y<sup>m</sup> under yo<sup>r</sup> great zeale, for w<sup>ch</sup> their request they give yo<sup>u</sup> their reason & ground in their owne letter w<sup>ch</sup> they have sent us to be transmitted to yo<sup>u</sup> & now goes in yo<sup>r</sup> packet by ship "Falcon."

The argument they use to strengthen their request seems to have some weight; for they say y<sup>e</sup> Honn<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>rs</sup> are perpetuall & their ordinances always of force, but their Presid<sup>t</sup> & Councell are mutable & the succeeding Presidents & Councells doe often alter what their predecessors have granted, on wh<sup>ch</sup> score they hope yo<sup>r</sup> Honu<sup>rs</sup> will be pleased to grant their petition. As to our Judgm<sup>ts</sup> hereon, we humbly offer that we cannot see any detrim<sup>t</sup> can accrew to yo<sup>u</sup>, thereby rather a considerable advantage may follow; & as to the latitude & extent of what priviledges yo<sup>u</sup> shall afford y<sup>m</sup> it must be totally referred to yo<sup>r</sup> owne wisdoms, however yo<sup>u</sup> shall please to determine in this matter; we judge if your Honu<sup>rs</sup> would please to favour them with a line in answer to their letter it would be a great comfort to them & no disadvantage to your interests.

The Ffrench fleet being still on the coast of India & now as its thought at Goa, we have thought good to oblige the Commanders of these ships in their Commissions to keep Company not only so long as they are on the Coast India but also to S<sup>t</sup> Hellena, & from thence also to joine themselves with what strength they can meet with of your shipping for their greater security in case of any rupture in Europe w<sup>ch</sup> God divert, to whose gracious providence and protection we recomend yo<sup>r</sup> estate & trade in these & all other p<sup>ts</sup> of India & in all obsequious address wee remaine

Sw<sup>a</sup> Marine, 10th January 1671.

Your honour humble Serv<sup>t</sup>,

GERALD AUNGIER.

MATTW GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

ALEX<sup>R</sup> GRIGBIE.

May it please your Honours,

Our most humble services in all obsequious manner tendered & <sup>ca</sup>: though we have wrott yo<sup>u</sup> at large by your last years under the 10th January w<sup>ch</sup> we trust will anticipate any overland advices, yet this opportunity presenting we have esteemed it our dutys to tender yo<sup>u</sup> the breife heads of an overland letter.

Your ships arrived seasonably at your Island Bombay on y<sup>e</sup> 17th and 22<sup>d</sup> August but it was the 23<sup>d</sup> September before they were all at an Anchor in Swally hole; from hence "Phoenix," "Antelope," "Falcon" & "Massingbird" were dispeeded downe y<sup>e</sup> coast to their sev<sup>l</sup> stations while yo<sup>ur</sup> owne ship "London" took in her lading for England; but some impedm<sup>t</sup> interveening it was y<sup>e</sup> 9th of November before she sett saile from Swally hole. The "Phoenix" designed for Bantam had a teadious voyage to & from Battacalla, she returned the 16th November & was dispeeded from Bantam the passed m<sup>o</sup> December with stock amo<sup>t</sup> to Rup<sup>s</sup>.....The other three ships "Falcon," "Massingbird" & "Antelope" returned seasonable unto us & set saile in comp<sup>a</sup> full laden on the 13th January, being enordered to stay in the road of Bombay 48 hours in their way downe; & so to proceed on their yoy<sup>a</sup>, & to keep comp<sup>a</sup> together for greater strength. Abstract of what cargoes are consign'd to your Honn<sup>rs</sup> by s<sup>d</sup> ships goe herewith. We beceech God to conduct them safe unto yo<sup>u</sup>.

Your ship "George" is not as yet arrived from Quedah but we expect her every day; your "Little Charles" after some though small service done you in bringing goods from Carwar hath now taken freight goods for Persia after 3 months stay in port; freights being now very dead, & no merchants caring to lade their goods on so little ships when there are neer 20 great Jounks ready whose owners take in any goods at any rate rather then let their ships lye by the walls. Your Island Bombay, your Ffactory of Carwar, Billiapatan, Calicut &<sup>ca</sup> are, blessed be God, in an happy & orderly posture; the latter eased at pres<sup>t</sup> of those disturbances w<sup>ch</sup> of late discomposed y<sup>m</sup> & already furnished us with sufficient stock for provition of y<sup>e</sup> next years investm<sup>t</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> they are in hand, with a promise to gett ready against y<sup>e</sup> ships arrivall.

The "Advance" is now with us, with M<sup>r</sup>. Hanion Gubbon & Albmus Willoughby supra cargoes, by whose advise we keep her in Port some days for the provition of quilts designe for Tywan, but shall send few other goods besides what they have brought from Persia; the Bantam markets being already over charged having issued out our directions for a large investm<sup>t</sup> of goods, to be sent thither in October next, in pursuance of your orders to us of the 23<sup>d</sup> June & 17th July rec<sup>d</sup> by the said ship via Aleppo. Wee have now by us, in pepper & goods ready embaled, about 200 tuns for the next ships, & have already sent out our instructions to all the inland ffactorys for provition of the cargo you have enordered, & trust God to have them in a faire forwardness, if unhappy accidents doe not interveene to disturbe our course. We fear all sorts of goods for Europe will rise, for our neighbours have their brokers in all places where they have any settlem<sup>t</sup>, & buy some quantity of goods, & whereever we make any new discoverys they soon follow us to your no small detriment; Broad cloth continues very low being sold in Towne at 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  rup<sup>s</sup> p. yard & 3 $\frac{1}{2}$  is deemed a good price. Corral is also in little demand, by meanes of the great quantitys brought in; the greatest part of your owne Corral lyes still by us unsold. Wee have already advised yo<sup>r</sup> Honn<sup>rs</sup> y<sup>e</sup> arrivall of Mons<sup>r</sup>. La Hay with his men of warr and their departure from this rivers mouth y<sup>e</sup> last of X<sup>br</sup>, in their passage downe they stayed two days at Deman & three days at Vessava a small port on y<sup>e</sup> Island Salsett, neer yo<sup>ur</sup> port Bombay, in w<sup>ch</sup> time they spent great quantity of powder according to their custome. Mon<sup>sr</sup> La Hay sent a Shallop with 80 men by way Maym & Bandora to your Ffort at Bombay wth a complem<sup>t</sup> to your Deputy Gov<sup>r</sup> for liberty to buy some fresh provitions, w<sup>ch</sup> being granted, the master of the Shallop putting a Lieut<sup>t</sup> & some few men on shore put of into y<sup>e</sup> Bay & went for the Island of Carajyaw \* sounding the Bay as he went, & at night returned, & tooke y<sup>e</sup> Lieut<sup>t</sup> with what provitions he had bought, who doubtless was sent on designe & will not faile to give Mon<sup>sr</sup> La Hay an acco<sup>t</sup> in what a warlike posture he found your Govern<sup>t</sup>, all the guards being duple manned & the millitia in arms; from Vissava, La Hay set saile for Goa (none of his ships putting into Bombay), where we here he is arrived, & that the Portugall fleet is ready consisting of 12 small frygats & two ships comanded by Antoino DeMello one of y<sup>e</sup> late Gov<sup>rs</sup>, but whether these two fleets are to joine or noe, or what either of their designes is, as yet we cannot certainly informe yo<sup>u</sup>, nor shall we trouble your Honn<sup>rs</sup> with our opinions thereon, till we have some more assured light there into. This only we humbly conceive, that wether it be against Muscat or against Cocheen or elsewhere, there is little probability of their p<sup>r</sup>forming any great actions this yeare, for, besides from many circumstances w<sup>ch</sup> are obvious from their owne insufficiency to attempt any designe of remarque, the noise they have made hath so awakened all who have the least jealousy of them, that they cannot but be well prepared to receive y<sup>m</sup>, as 'tis said both y<sup>e</sup> Dutch & the Arrabs are.

The Ffrench Directors for their East India Comp<sup>a</sup> here have sent one ship called the "Dauphin" for Ffrance, being little more then halfe laden, her cargo consisting of Saltpeter, Indico, * Carajyaw or Karanja is the present Uran Island. It is about eight miles long and four broad and lies in the south-east of the Bombay harbour. In the sixteenth century it was a populous island with two forts one on the east in the present town of Uran and the other on the top of the southern peak.—Bombay Gazetteer, Vol. XIII, 192

some Agra, Ahmadavad & Nundrabaud cloth; great quantitys of Cuttanes & Allejahs, and also Drugs of sev<sup>ll</sup> sorts with some pepper; she set saile wth the Ffleet to Goa, from whence she is to be dispeeded for Ffrance. They have a ship now intended in few days for Bantam called the "Vulture" whose cargo consists of the same goods w<sup>ch</sup> yo<sup>u</sup> have enordered; & we fear will doe yo<sup>u</sup> much prejudice in y<sup>e</sup>. sales of your goods there.

The Dutch have had but two ships here this yeare as yet, one whereof returned for Zeilon, y<sup>e</sup>. other went for Persia, & 'tis believed they will have no more come to this Port this yeare except y<sup>e</sup>. Japan ship w<sup>ch</sup> is expected in March.

Wee have in our last advised that our beame and Troy weights for weighing of silver are defective, & desired yo<sup>u</sup> would please to order a new supply, the same we must now also begg for Averdupoiese weights being in great want of beames & weights for all yo<sup>r</sup>. Ffactorys & for Bombay; wherefore we intreat yo<sup>u</sup> to send us at least eight beams with weights proportionable great & small, for those w<sup>ch</sup> we have in your warehouses here are not to be trusted to; in your Ffactorys they have none at all, for want of w<sup>ch</sup> they & wee cannot be so exact in our weights as otherwise we might be.

M<sup>r</sup>. Thomas Rolt hath communicated to us the small success he hath found in his troublesome attendance on the Persian Court; declaring to us his judgm<sup>t</sup>., that unless yo<sup>r</sup>. Honn<sup>rs</sup> shall please to vindicate & maintaine your right by open force, the King of Persia will soon defeat yo<sup>u</sup> of that small stipend of Customes w<sup>ch</sup> they have hitherto allowed yo<sup>u</sup>, for that dayly they impose on yo<sup>r</sup>. priviledges & by the continued molestation w<sup>ch</sup> they put upon the merchants doe endeavour to distroy y<sup>e</sup>. Port of Gombroon that they may set up Bunder Reague or some other Port of their owne. This affaيرة soe neerly concerning yo<sup>u</sup> we have taken under our debate, Cap<sup>t</sup>. Young being here with us in Councell; & doe thinke it our dutys to advise yo<sup>u</sup> that if you resolve to preserve your right of Customs at Gombroon it is necessary for you to let the Persian know that you risent their proceeding, and wee doe joyne in opinion wth M<sup>r</sup>. Rolt & y<sup>e</sup>. it is high time for yo<sup>u</sup> to put in execution what hath bin so long threatned, y<sup>e</sup>. suspence whereof hath made the Persian so bold to presume on yo<sup>r</sup>. goodnes; but as to the way & method how force is to be applyed; the computation of the charge necessary thereunto; what ships & boats, what number of men, what sorts and store of amunition & what time will be required to carry on this designe thoroughly, is a subject of much weight & so neerly touches your Gen<sup>l</sup> trade & yo<sup>r</sup>. Hon<sup>rs</sup>, that we dare not offer our raw & indigested thoughts; but wee have desired M<sup>r</sup>. Rolt and Cap<sup>t</sup>. Young to advise seriously, & we also having rec<sup>d</sup>. their results, shall maturely deliberate thereon, & by returne of your next ships for Europe shall humbly offer our judgm<sup>t</sup> of the whole affaيرة to yo<sup>r</sup>. wise determination.

Since departure of y<sup>e</sup>. Europe ships your accountant & purser maryne examining the remains of goods and Invoices of what goods laden have discovered an error in the "Massingbirds" cargo of ten bales of Cardimoms over Invoiced there, being charged in Invoice & bill of laden & there were but sent up from Billiapatan or laden on the ship, wherefore we pray yo<sup>u</sup> not to charge the Comander Cap<sup>t</sup>. Westlack nor the ships Comp<sup>a</sup>. therewith; for wee have rectified y<sup>e</sup>. mistake & doe yo<sup>u</sup> right here; wee find also a loss in weight in the lead & copper but in regard we know not how much was taken a shore at Carwar and Billiapatan being rec<sup>d</sup>. by Calculation and not weighed we can give yo<sup>u</sup> no certaine acco<sup>t</sup>. thereof; but shall advise hereafter y<sup>e</sup>. difference.

Your Presid<sup>t</sup>. had prepared himselfe to take his passage on the "Advance" Ffriggo<sup>t</sup>. for Bombay & had in a maner taken his leave of the Gov<sup>r</sup>. of Surrat who was well consenting thereunto; when on a suddaine news came that Sevagee was neer us with an army of 15000 men w<sup>ch</sup> put y<sup>e</sup> Citty in a great fright & made us prepare for defence; this new Gov<sup>r</sup> also hath bestirrd himselfe more prudently then any of his predecessors, beating downe all houses without the wall, w<sup>ch</sup> before was a shelter for the enemy, & ordering strict watch at the gates to keep in the inhabitants who were running out of the Citty; he also sent a Civill message to your Pr<sup>r</sup> desiring that he would lay a side y<sup>e</sup> thoughts of going to Bombay at present; for that he could not answer his departure as things now stood nor would it be well taken by the King; his argum<sup>t</sup> being reasonable your Presid<sup>t</sup> thought good to condescend thereunto & the rather for that yo<sup>u</sup> have a considerable estate under o<sup>r</sup> charge, w<sup>ch</sup> he cannot leave in danger; wherefore wee have determined to send away the "Advance" with all speed possible, hoping to dispatch her in few days after the "Charles". And for that it hath unfortunately happened that for two years together yo<sup>r</sup> Pr<sup>r</sup> hath bin hindred from going to Bombay to his owne trouble & no small detrim<sup>t</sup> to your Island, we have thought it our dutys upon serious consideration of yo<sup>r</sup> affairs to offer you o<sup>r</sup> humble advice, that it seems now consistent with your Interest to settle your Cheife Govern<sup>t</sup> on your Island Bombay & to that end you would please to order yo<sup>r</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> to reside there constantly, except extraordinary emergencys may require his repaire to Surat or elsewhere; & this wee presume yo<sup>u</sup> may doe without any discomposure to yo<sup>r</sup> affairs at Surat w<sup>ch</sup> will be well supplied by M<sup>r</sup> Mathew Gray & your present Councill, & as to Bombay we judge it will be an assured way to confirme yo<sup>r</sup> interest and increse y<sup>e</sup> trade more speedily for all strangers will be y<sup>e</sup> sooner Invited to live with us; & y<sup>e</sup> English freemen at Bantam & Metchlep<sup>a</sup> will be the better p<sup>a</sup>waded to settle their with their ffamilys & estates, many on yo<sup>r</sup> Pr<sup>r</sup> invitation being prepared to goe thither; whereunto we intreat that yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> would also please to enjoinne all freemen in the said places to repaire with their ffamilys thither.

Your ship "George" arr<sup>d</sup> to Swally hole y<sup>e</sup> 29th past from Quedah being  $\frac{2}{3}$  laden with freight goods, w<sup>ch</sup> yet will make no inconsiderable freight, though not neer w<sup>t</sup> she made last yeare; but as to your owne estate, we have no acco<sup>t</sup> as yet nor doe wee hear of any goods laden for your acco<sup>t</sup> more then 14 pigs Tyn, nor doe we know certainly w<sup>t</sup> goods are sold & what remaining for we have no Gen<sup>l</sup> from your Ffactors. The reason of this neglect and estate of yo<sup>r</sup> affairs there is caused by the unhappy deaths of M<sup>r</sup> Geo. Davies and M<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Portman, the latter dyed before the ship came away, of whom we have so good a character from the merchants & natives there that we much lament his loss. M<sup>r</sup> George Davis intended to take his passage on ship "George" unto us as he was ordered, but dyed the next day after he came on board ship; sometime before his death he had totally lost his memory being unsensible & uncapable of any business, caused by drinking of strong Arrack as 'tis supposed: we have not as yet rec<sup>d</sup> what papers & acco<sup>ts</sup> he hath left behind him, nor can we now keep the "Charles" longer; but intreat your patience till our next letter when we shall informe your Hon<sup>rs</sup> fully w<sup>t</sup> we can learne & also what wee shall resolve touching the ship; concerning w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall have a surr-veigh.

The difference formerly advised between your Pr<sup>r</sup> & Cap<sup>t</sup> Young is composed to their mutuall content, w<sup>ch</sup> we therefore advise yo<sup>u</sup> that yo<sup>u</sup> may expect the concurrence of their joint endeavors to advance your interest in Persia. There being a ship lately arrived from Siam, we have advice from some of our correspondents there, that cloths of sev<sup>l</sup> collours are in very good esteeme, wherefore for a tryall we intreat yo<sup>u</sup> would please to send 60 halfe P<sup>s</sup> of the following collours & we pray let them be of the finer sort from 10 to 20<sup>R</sup> p<sup>r</sup> yard viz<sup>t</sup>

Purple 10 p <sup>s</sup>	Darke olive 5 p <sup>s</sup>
Violet 10	Light sky 5
Muske 10	Russett 5
Cinamon 10	Sky 5

Wee are also advised that Amber in large peices are in great esteeme, and Corroll in large branches, w<sup>ch</sup> being the needfull at press<sup>t</sup>, we respectfully remaine

Your honours humble Serv<sup>ts</sup>,

Suratt, Ffebruary 3<sup>d</sup>, 1671.

GERALD AUNGIER.

MATT<sup>w</sup> GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

ALEXANDER GRIGBIE.

Proposals Touching Bombay Island.

Recommended to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>. by their Pr<sup>r</sup> & Councell at Surrat.

1. That in regard the Gen<sup>ll</sup> charges of the Island are great & doe far exceed the revenew, now that the Customs are given free & the seized lands restored; wherefore to the end that the sole burthen of y<sup>e</sup> charge may not light on the Comp<sup>a</sup> only, seeing they reap no benefitt there by, it seems reasonable that a Gen<sup>ll</sup> tax or assessment be enordered on the respective Inhabitants over and above the present foro;* w<sup>ch</sup> is only a kind of quit-rent and very inconsiderable.

2. That the s<sup>d</sup> Tax be proportioned not only towards defraying the charge of the Garrison but also all other Gen<sup>ll</sup> charges of what nature soever, to witt,

Drawing a line of Fortification for the new towne to be built.

Building a mold & Docks for shipping when it shall be thought fitting.

Building a fair Common house, wherein may be also appointed chambers for the Courts of Justice, wearhouses or Granarys for corne, amunition, &<sup>ca</sup>, as also prisons for severall offenders.

Sallarys or wages for Publick officers, to witt—

For the Governour

For the D. Govern<sup>r</sup>.

For y<sup>e</sup> Treasurer

For y<sup>e</sup> Accountant

For the Councell

For the Secretary & his Assistants.

For y<sup>e</sup> Judge of y<sup>e</sup> Courts of Judicature and his officers.

For a Porcurator Gen<sup>ll</sup> & his Clerks.

For a Publick notary.

} & his Assistants.

* "Foras" is derived from the Portuguese word "fora," (Latin foras, from foris a door) signifying outside. It here indicates the rent or revenue derived from outlying lands. The whole island of Bombay fell under that denomination when under Portuguese rule, being then a mere outlying dependency of Bassein. Subsequently the term foras was, for the most part, though perhaps not quite exclusively, limited to the new salt batty ground reclaimed from the sea, or other waste ground lying outside the fort, native town, and other the more ancient settled and cultivated grounds in the island, or to the quit-rent arising from that new salt batty ground and outlying ground. The quit-rent in Governor Aungier's convention called foras also bore the still older name of pensio (pensao, pension), and since that convention has been chiefly known by the name of pension. It was payable in respect of the ancient settled and cultivated ground only. Bombay High Court Reports, Vol. IV, 1866-67.

For a Sheriff or Cheife Constable & so many officers under him necessary.

For such other officers as shall be upon serious consideration thought necessary.

Building of 6 Gallys or Brigandines for the guard of the Port and for Convoys.

3. That the s<sup>d</sup> Tax or assessm<sup>t</sup> be appointed & Comanded by publick order from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> to their Gov<sup>r</sup> & Councell, who must be required to levy & proportion it in such nature as may be least burthensome to y<sup>e</sup> people and may not discourage strangers from coming to live with us; that it be levyed only on land, & not on any goods or merchandise, and the rather for that the land bears no charge at all, nor hath don since it was in the Eng<sup>s</sup> possession, notwithstanding the great security & freedome they have enjoyned; whereas formerly under the Portugall Govern<sup>t</sup> they were forced to make often subsidys & free donations towards bearing the publick charge of the State of India, & as an example hereof, the year before the possession of the Island was granted to y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>, Cap<sup>t</sup> Gary then Gov<sup>r</sup> did demand supply of the Povo: or inhabitants, who willingly offered 12000 R<sup>s</sup> towards the building frygats and other charges, w<sup>ch</sup> it seems was not received.

4. That a publick Register or Chamber of acco<sup>ts</sup> be appointed wherein all the prest<sup>t</sup> revenues & profits of the Island shall be entred; as also y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>l</sup> charges of y<sup>e</sup> Govern<sup>t</sup>, & y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup> be committed to y<sup>e</sup> trust of certaine Commissioners, men fearing God & of honest reputation for preventing of any fraud or imbazlem<sup>t</sup> of the publick stock, and that a true & exact Ballance be drawne every yeare of the s<sup>d</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup>, & y<sup>t</sup> whatsoever the income or revenew of the Island fall short of the Gen<sup>l</sup> debts or disbursm<sup>ts</sup>, be levyed on the people in such a manner as may be best accomodated to their ease and satisfaction.

That an excise be sett on all drinke & strong liquor.

For the Encouragement of Trade.

1. That Interest be settled & reduced to 9 p. ct., & that all manner of extortion be prohibited on severe penalty.

2. That liberty be granted as a p<sup>t</sup>icular priviledge to those that inhabitt on the Island Bombay to trade not only to all these parts of India; but also to the Ports & Islands of the South seas, Bantam not excepted; provided that no Engl<sup>s</sup> freemen doe settle their familys & trade in those places where the Comp<sup>a</sup> Ffactorys are settled nor deale in any of the Comp<sup>a</sup> Comoditys.

3. That Companys or fellowships be erected for the better & more able carring on of any trade, and that certaine priviledges & immunitys to the s<sup>d</sup> Societys for their greater encouragem<sup>t</sup>.

4. That for the greater advance of trade the Comp<sup>a</sup> would please to give order for the lending out certaine sums of mony to the said societys & other honest merchants, they paying interest for the same; & giving suffittient securitys either in land pawnes or otherwise for making full satisfaction; this course & pollicy was practised formerly by the Dukes of Fflorence with very remarkable success, to y<sup>e</sup> raising the trade & much enriching the Port of Leghorne & consiquently to the great increase of his customs and revenus.

Of Trade.

5. That for the greater security of Port against Mallabars, Savgonas & Arrab pirates, certaine sea laws be established for encouragem<sup>t</sup> of privateers, to goe out in search of s<sup>d</sup> pirats, to whome the Comp<sup>a</sup> may lend the frigate, or other vessails w<sup>ch</sup> they build on certaine conditions, viz<sup>t</sup>, the said vessaile or frygat to have so many shares of what prises shall be taken & the rest to be divided among the adventurers according to their respective proportion.

The ship  $\frac{1}{3}$ . provition  $\frac{1}{3}$ , the men  $\frac{1}{3}$ .

6. The encouram<sup>t</sup> be given for Artificers & Handicrafts men of all sorts to come out & live on the Island wth their Familys, who must be bound to settle on y<sup>e</sup> Island, or at least to continue so many years there, to whome for the first year or two the Comp<sup>a</sup> may allow whole pay for their prest<sup>t</sup> maintenance, till they are settle in their way of trade, & that afterwards the Comp<sup>a</sup> may allow y<sup>m</sup> but halfe or quarter pay, they having meanes to live & maintaine their familys by their trades, and in case Englishmen are not to be p<sup>a</sup>waded their, y<sup>t</sup> the Comp<sup>a</sup> would please to invite & encourage artificers & handicraftsmen of all other nations to settle there with their familys, provided they be of the reformed religion. The handicraftsmen w<sup>ch</sup> are cheifly wanting are Husbandmen & Gardners, who understand planting and improving of grounds, the ground of Bombay being apt to receive and bring forth any seed or plant whatsoever when the times & seasons of planting are sufficiently understood; weavers both of silke & Cotton &<sup>ca</sup>, who in a short time may procure to themselves a very comfortable livelyhood, Carpenters for building of houses as well as ships who are much wanted & much esteemed, Smiths, who also are much wanted, Gun Smiths & Locksmiths, Armorers, Bakers, Cooks, Shoemakers, Talors, Diers, Barbors, Button makers, Ribbond weavers, Butchers, Haberdashers of small ware &<sup>ca</sup>.

7. That there be encouragem<sup>t</sup> for the building of ships and vessails, that is, a particular priviledge in the Customes or otherwise for so many years, provided that after being built they be not suffered to be sold to other place, but to be employed in voyages for ten years or more, & y<sup>t</sup> when any such vessails are sold to other parts double Custome be paid for them according to the vallue of the ship.

8. That no Eng<sup>s</sup> freemen be suffered to leave the Island but with the licence & consent of the Gov<sup>r</sup> & Councell, & that if he designe to make voyages abroad, he give in security to returne at such a time to the Island after expiration of the voyages, otherwise a fine to be forfeited to y<sup>e</sup> Company.

9. That for the encouraging good husbandry, by preventing the vaine and imoderate excess of apparrell, as also for y<sup>e</sup> greater consumption of our owne Native manufactures, a standing law be established by y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> that no apparell, or outward garments, to witt, Tunicks, Vest, Doublet, Breeches, be used or worne by any Christian inhabitants on y<sup>e</sup> said Island, those of y<sup>e</sup> Easterne Church excepted, of what quallity, nation & condition soever, but such as are made of English manufactures or brought out of England in our owne shipping whether of silke, wooll or cotton.

The grounds & reasons for establishing this so necessary an order, & the good consequences & advantages w<sup>ch</sup> will accrew therefrom are so obvious as well to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> as to y<sup>e</sup> inhabitants, that they need not be enlarged on. And for the better supply of the Island wth Eng<sup>s</sup> manufactures that the Honn<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> would please to send out yearly such quantitys of serges, perpetuanoes, shaloons & other light and cheape stuffs, such as are usually worne in England in y<sup>e</sup> summer times, as also all sorts of fashionable silks, according to the mode of England w<sup>ch</sup> may be sold at reasonable prises for y<sup>e</sup> greater encouragem<sup>t</sup> of the inhabitants to weare them; & for the better confirmation & continuance of this law, that certaine fines and penaltys be inflicted on any whomsoever, whether English or other, that shall attempt to make breach thereof.

10. That for the greater decency of the millitary order all the soldiers as well officers as others, be required to weare red serges or perpetuanoes only in the summer time, or red cloth in the winter, w<sup>ch</sup> shall be afforded them at reasonable and cheap rates from y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> weare-house, to w<sup>ch</sup> end that the Gov<sup>r</sup>, Deputy Gov<sup>r</sup> & the rest of y<sup>e</sup> Councell be advised to give the soldiery encouragem<sup>t</sup> by their owne example.

11. That in regard the seas adjacent & belonging to y<sup>e</sup> Island doe afford great quantittys of ffish not only for the supply of the Island but for trade into the neighbouring ports, whereof neither y<sup>e</sup> Govern<sup>t</sup> nor the inhabitants in generall receive litle or no benefit by reason of the evill management thereof, at present being committed wholly to the Coolys, that y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> would please to enorder some ordinance to be established for the encouragem<sup>t</sup> of shipping, either by free customs for a certaine time or some other priviledges, and also would please to send out some Ffishmongers with their ffamilys with rules for erecting a company of Ffishmongers that better order may be observed therein.

12. In order to preserve the Govern<sup>t</sup> in a constant regular method free from that confusion w<sup>ch</sup> a body composed of so many nations will be subject to, it were requisite y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> severall nations at pres<sup>t</sup> inhabiting or hereafter to inhabitt on the Island Bombay be reduced or modelled into so many orders or tribes, & that each nation may have a Cheif or Consull of the same nation appointed over them by the Gov<sup>r</sup> and Councell whose duty & office must be to represent y<sup>e</sup> greivances w<sup>ch</sup> Moors of any of the s<sup>d</sup> nation shall receive from y<sup>e</sup> Christians or any other, as also to answeere for what faults any of said nation shall committ, y<sup>t</sup> the offenders be brought to punishm<sup>t</sup> & that what dutys or fines are due to the Comp<sup>a</sup> may be timely satisfied; his office may be also to arbitrate and determine all controversys w<sup>ch</sup> may arise between said nation, in case the partys are so agreed, otherwise they are to be brought before the Judge of the Courts of Judicature. Ffurther, the duty of said Consull must be to make an exact toll book or register of the said nation, 1 p<sup>e</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> number of Sinay<sup>s</sup> p.sons inhabiting & settled with their increase as also the voyages coming in & going out; together with what arms or amunition they bring in or carry out w<sup>ch</sup> toll book or register must be yearly be sent into the Gov<sup>r</sup> or his D. Govern<sup>r</sup> & Councell as well for security as for an orderly exact knowledge how the Island increaseth or diminisheth in trade & inhabitants. Now as to the choice of these Consulls, it seems necessary that they bee chosen yearly or at most every third year; that at their Election they take an oath of fidellity, in such tearms as the Honn<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> shall please to impose on them, that such who meritt well from the Honn<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> by good service, advancing of trade, inhabitants or shipping, or bring any considerable proffitts, & emoluments to y<sup>e</sup> Island, be rewarded by some p<sup>t</sup>icular Honours & speciments of the Honn<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> favour towards y<sup>m</sup>, that others also may be invited to deserve in the same nature.

13. Ffor the more constant & secure supply of the Island with corne, graine and provisions of all sorts, that a stock be employed yearly, either of y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> or of y<sup>e</sup> Islands, for the supplying y<sup>e</sup> Island with wheat, rice, butter, oyle, wood, &<sup>ca</sup> provisions, w<sup>ch</sup> being bought at the best hand & in y<sup>e</sup> cheapest times, may be, as occasion serves, be disturbeted & sold to a reasonable proffitt, reserving always such a store as shall be judged necessary to supply the garrison in case of danger for 3 years at least; to w<sup>ch</sup> end sufficient & secure granarys must be built in sev<sup>ll</sup> places to reserve s<sup>d</sup> store from loss, embezlem<sup>t</sup>, putrefaction, and therefore ought to be entrusted to able & conscientious men who may be obliged to render a strict acco<sup>t</sup> thereof to the Gov<sup>r</sup> & Councell every month or at most every 3 months on severe penalty to be inflicted in case of default.

14. That p.sons of honest report be appointed to visit the shops of the moodys or victuals w<sup>ch</sup> sell all sorts of provisions by retaile to oversee & examine the quallity of s<sup>d</sup> provisions of what sort soever it be, y<sup>t</sup> it be good & wholesome in its kind, & if on examination it proveth not good to take it away & burne it; & also lay some severe fine on the offender, and further y<sup>t</sup>. set prises be appointed on all provitions regulated in weight & measure according to justice & y<sup>e</sup>. publick good and encouragem<sup>t</sup>. of y<sup>e</sup>. inhabitants.

15. That English weights & measures be appointed by publick authority to be only used on y<sup>e</sup>. Island, & all others prohibited, to w<sup>ch</sup> end that standing weights & measures be sent on purpose out of England by y<sup>e</sup>. next ships.

16. Whereas hitherto for want of sufficient number of Englishmen able quallified thereunto, we have been forced to serve ourselves of the native Portugese for Justices, Constables and other publick offices, especially in the lower Courts of Judicature, who not understanding English language, the proceedings of y<sup>e</sup>. said Courts, as also of upper Courts, have been hitherto on necessity don in the Portugese language, w<sup>ch</sup> is not only dishon<sup>ble</sup> in its selfe but also exposes the Govern<sup>t</sup>. & proceedings of s<sup>d</sup>. Courts to many inconveniencys, wherefore for y<sup>e</sup>. preventing thereof it is indispenible necessary that all proceedings in s<sup>d</sup>. Courts of Judicature be don altogether in y<sup>e</sup>. Eng<sup>s</sup>. language, for y<sup>e</sup>. better managem<sup>t</sup>. whereof, y<sup>t</sup>. the Comp<sup>a</sup>. would please to send out yearly a convenient number of p.sons well quallified for said offices whose charges & sallarys must be paid out of the ffees, fines & amerciaments w<sup>ch</sup> shall arise from the said Courts, w<sup>ch</sup> will be a good livelyhood for y<sup>m</sup>, so that they not be any charge to y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>a</sup>, having freedome to trade to improve their Stockes to y<sup>e</sup>. most advantage This will be a means to strengthen the Eng<sup>s</sup>. interest on the Island, w<sup>ch</sup> at pres<sup>t</sup>. is low & weake & conse, quently not so much esteemed by the natives as it ought to be.

17. Whereas, for want of Eng<sup>s</sup>. women, many of the English & others protestant soldiers sent out, doe marry with Portugese mestise women, natives of y<sup>e</sup>. Island who are Roman Catholicks, by w<sup>ch</sup> means the children of the s<sup>d</sup>. protestants are through their fathers neglect brought up in the Roman Catholick principles to the great dishonour & weaking the protestant religion & interest, wherefore for the preventing the evill consequences w<sup>ch</sup> may in time accrew therefrom, that the Comp<sup>a</sup>. would please not only to encourage the sending out of English women, but also to establish a standing order y<sup>t</sup>. the children of all protestant fathers be brought up carefully in the protestant religion, though the mothers thereof be Roman Catholicks, & that severe penaltys be inflicted on all offenders, especially on the Padrees who shall endeavour to Baptise the s<sup>d</sup>. children or any way attempt to Inveigle or intice them away from the protestant faith.

18. That the Comp<sup>a</sup>. would send out some men who understand the making of red lead w<sup>ch</sup> being of great expence in these parts would turne well to acco<sup>t</sup>., not only in consumption of great quantitys of lead, but reducing the manufacture thereof only to the Island Bombay, where it might be sold much cheaper & employ Englishmen thereon; the Government of Surat is so jealous hereof that, notwithstanding all our endeavours for these three years we cannot procure any person that understands the making red lead to goe to Bombay nor can wee gett any from other places, & therefore it were necessary they were sent from England.

19. That for the greater encouragem<sup>t</sup>. of manufactures either of silke or cotton on the Island, publick liberty be granted to all persons to bring in cotton weavers & silke weavers on their acco<sup>ts</sup>, for the employing their owne private stocks, & that what goods they shall make propper for Europe markets, the Comp<sup>a</sup>. may buy y<sup>m</sup> at certaine reasonable rates to be agreed on whereby they may have a competent livelyhood, & that in case the providers of s<sup>d</sup>. goods shall desire rather to dispose of s<sup>d</sup>. goods abroad, & can have a better price from others then from the Comp<sup>a</sup>, that they be left at liberty to dispose of them to their most advantage.

20. That all Englishmen whatsoever, whether in the Comp<sup>a</sup> service, freemen, as also al others of the reformed religion, marrying on the Island Bombay, doe bind themselves on their marriage to live on Bombay ten or seven years at least, during w<sup>ch</sup> time they must not be suffered to transport themselves for England on any pretence whatsoever, unless immediate orders shall come from the Honn<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> in England to licence their departure, & this on the forfeiture of a considerable penalty on all who shall offend herein.

21. For y<sup>e</sup> more strict observation of all laws & ordinances already made, or hereafter to be made by the Honn<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> for the Island Bombay, & for the more regular & exact paym<sup>t</sup>, keeping an acco<sup>t</sup> of all fines, forfeitures & amerciaments due to the Honn<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> on any acco<sup>t</sup> whatsoever, that a certaine person be appointed of honest reputation having the power & office of a Recorder, whose duty must be to take care that all penall laws are put in execution & all forfeitures, fines & amerciaments rec<sup>d</sup> from all without respect of p<sup>ersons</sup>, & to keep an exact register thereof to be sent y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> every yeare, the s<sup>d</sup> Recorder also may have the office of an Escheater to Escheat, condemne & seize to the Comp<sup>a</sup> use all lands, houses & tenem<sup>ts</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> in time either by the failing of y<sup>e</sup> lives of the present incumbents or possessors or otherwise, shall accrew by right in law to the Honn<sup>ble</sup> Company.

---

Worshipfull S<sup>r</sup>. &<sup>ca</sup>

Respected Freinds,

The President intended to take his passage on this ship "Advance" for Bombay, but by a sudden allarum of Sevagys army, is againe prevented, the towne being much affrighted & wee forced to stand upon our defence; & in regard the Comp<sup>a</sup> hath a great estate here, the Pres. cannot thinke of leaving it in danger; wherefore though at first we had thoughts of detaining the "Advance" a few days here for the Presidents accommodation, we doe now dispeed her as fast as we can to you, the disturbance of the towne by reason of this news having hindred us in our business neer a weeks time. Here enclosed goeth abstract of ship "Phoenix" Cargo with Invoice of the few goods sent yo<sup>r</sup> on this ship; also a letter for our Honn<sup>ble</sup> Master w<sup>ch</sup> we send open for your p<sup>ersonal</sup> use; desiring yo<sup>r</sup> to enclose it in your packet by the first ship you dispeed from yo<sup>r</sup> Port for London.

Your affectionate freinds,

GERALD AUNGIER.

MATT<sup>w</sup> GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES,

ALEX<sup>a</sup> GRIGBIE,

Surat, 5th February 1671,

---

Worshipfull &c<sup>a</sup> Respected Freinds,

To Bombay.

Having this good conveyance p. ship "Advance" whom we have ordered to touch at yo<sup>r</sup> port in her way to Bantam, wee shall answer your of the 25th Jan<sup>y</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> wee rec<sup>d</sup> last night. We are sorry to hear the loss of the 'Hoigh,' unhappily taken by the Mallabars, being sensible of the dishon<sup>r</sup> it will reflect upon the Comp<sup>a</sup> Port & the damage w<sup>ch</sup> hath befallen p<sup>articular</sup> men. We desire yo<sup>r</sup> to send us a more large acco<sup>t</sup> how she was taken & what English they were that forsook her, for wee are much dissatisfied therewith. We well approve of your sending downe the two boats with y<sup>e</sup> Mallabar Coaster in search of her, & hope they will not returne empty, and we desire you also to write effectually to Mr. Petit &<sup>ca</sup> Ffactors at Calicut to enquire after her, & endeavor her recovery, & give yo<sup>u</sup> a speedy acco<sup>t</sup> where she is, that care may be taken for her. Wee congratulate your success against the two Mallabars that were at Tull. Let Ensigne Adderton know from us that wee esteeme of his good service well, & shall encourage him accordingly. Wee confirme your promise made to those that went out against the Mallabars of allowing them halfe, although y<sup>e</sup> Custome is but  $\frac{1}{3}$  p<sup>te</sup>, & for that wee know not what to determine concerning the slaves; only would have them vallued & remaine on the Comp<sup>a</sup> acco<sup>t</sup>, & let the moyety of their vallue be p<sup>d</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> adventurers, & let the slaves be made to worke at the ffort care being taken that they doe not runn away. And for encouragement of the soldiers hereafter, we have made it a standing order, that whatever one-third part thereof shall be allowed y<sup>m</sup>; & this is to continue till further order from the Comp<sup>a</sup> unto whome we have writt effectually concerning this matter, & hope in very few months to send you downe a fine Ffrigatt for the greater security and credit of the Port; & if you can build a frigatt or 2 at Basseene at any reasonable rates we would have yo<sup>u</sup> procure y<sup>m</sup>, concerning w<sup>ch</sup> pray advise us with all speed possible. The Pr<sup>y</sup> having understood of Cap<sup>t</sup> Shaxtons unwillingnes to meddle with y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup>, being sensible of the great prejudice y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> may sustaine if no better care be taken then hitherto hath bin, we require that the books be offered to Mr. Henry Chowne, the keeping thereof committed to his charge, provided he declare himselfe able to undertake it, and promises to goe through with their ballancing in due time: but if he doe not declare himselfe thoroughly sufficient he should not undertake them, & in such case wee desire they may be committed to Mr. Jas<sup>es</sup> Addames of whose abillity therein we have had some experience, but whether y<sup>e</sup> one or y<sup>e</sup> other undertake y<sup>m</sup>, wee desire yo<sup>u</sup> to advise with all speed, y<sup>t</sup> we may determine accordingly. Touching the Jesuits demands of the warehouse by the Customhouse, we desire you give y<sup>m</sup> notice y<sup>t</sup> we cannot surrender up any ground or house to y<sup>m</sup> untill further order from the Comp<sup>a</sup>; wee are sensible of w<sup>t</sup> streights y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> serv<sup>ts</sup> are putt to for want of roome, & therefore we would have yo<sup>u</sup> build a convenient house or two between the Customhouse & y<sup>e</sup> ffort equall with y<sup>e</sup> Customhouse, to w<sup>ch</sup> end yo<sup>u</sup> may draw of workmen from y<sup>e</sup> ffort untill the s<sup>d</sup> houses are finished. We would have y<sup>m</sup> built conveniently fair and large, & we pray take care y<sup>t</sup> they stand y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> in as little as may be. As to y<sup>e</sup> widdow Coats, concerning whome y<sup>e</sup> Dy<sup>y</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> desires, advice we consent y<sup>t</sup> she continue in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> ffort untill she can be better provided for, having respect to her quallity and comfortless condition. We would have the accomptant, whoever he be, live in the house where Mr. Addames formerly kept the acco<sup>ts</sup> & that small rooms be built neer thereunto for accomodation of Ffactors & under-writers belonging unto y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup>.

By ship "Advance" we send you the powder we have in readines, w<sup>ch</sup> is the needfull at prest<sup>t</sup> from

Surratt, Ffe<sup>r</sup>. 1671.

Your very Loving Freinds,
GERALD AUNGIER.
MATTHEW GRAY.
CHARLES JAMES.

Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>

Yours of the 16th instant we rec<sup>d</sup> yesterday and take due notice of what yo<sup>u</sup> advise us therein, & shall according to your promise expect a speedy relation of Ensigne Addertons &<sup>ca</sup> success against y<sup>e</sup> Mallabars, w<sup>ch</sup> we pray God may be such as may deterr those pirats hereafter from attempting anything to our prejudice. Your delivery of the acco<sup>ts</sup> to Mr. Chowne upon his declaring himselfe capable to keep y<sup>m</sup> we approve of, as likewise of Mr. Addams settlem<sup>t</sup> at Mahim. What we wrott concerning the Jesuits pretences we still confirme, & cannot allow of the delivering them up their houses untill further order from England. What was surrendred up to other people was on examination & due probation of their titles by the Comiss<sup>rs</sup> authorised to y<sup>t</sup> purpose, but they refusing to appear before them protesting & appealing home to the Honn<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> for justice, we cannot determine or make any end wth y<sup>m</sup> until wee hear further from our Masters having sent home all papers relating to that busines. Seeing the first Comission is fallen by reason of the death & departure of the Comm<sup>rs</sup> nominated, wee shall not trouble ourselves to erect any other Commission to humour the Padrees unreasonable & subtle designes. Wee doe not meane that yo<sup>n</sup> should take all the workmen off the Fort but some few; & if you want more, that you would entertaine them being wee suppose procurable; it being highly necessary y<sup>t</sup> some houses be built for accomodation of y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> serv<sup>ts</sup> & such strangers as shall come.

Wee doe not understand y<sup>t</sup> wee are any ways obliged to furnish Cap<sup>t</sup> Burges wth a house, & therefore wonder he should expect it; the accomptants house was spared him for his pres<sup>t</sup> accomodation untill he could provide himselfe wth another, is his owne fault w<sup>ch</sup> wee cannot remedy, in fine the Comp<sup>a</sup> occasions must be served, so therefore let M<sup>r</sup> Addams as formerly have y<sup>e</sup> house, & Cap<sup>t</sup> Burges have a convenient place allotted him to build on.

You may entertaine Doctor Bird in the quallity the Comp<sup>a</sup> sent him out, allowing him the same wages the Comp<sup>a</sup> allotted him, w<sup>ch</sup>, if he is unwilling to accept of, let him officiate untill the P<sup>r</sup> coming downe, and then he shall be considered of.

Wee wish L<sup>t</sup> Ustick good success in his journey to & treaty wth Sevagy, & would his going kept as private as possible, & give it out that he is to treat about nothing but the recovery of our losses received at Rajapore and y<sup>e</sup> redemption of y<sup>e</sup> Hoigh, that no jealousy may possess this Kings ministers to our prejudice. Wee add not more at pres<sup>t</sup>, but remaine

Surat.....pm<sup>e</sup> March 1671.

Your very Loving Friends,

GERALD AUNGIER.

MATHEW GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

ALEX<sup>a</sup> GRIGBIE.

to Bombay.

Yours of the 7th we rec<sup>d</sup> yesterday, w<sup>ch</sup> gives us an acco<sup>t</sup> of Ensigne Addertons success agst the Mallabars as likewise his taking a vessell off of Rajapore, w<sup>ch</sup> hee himselfe wrott us of, hinting as if she belonged to Mangalore, w<sup>ch</sup> on their arrivall enquire strictly into, & if you find she really belongeth unto s<sup>d</sup> Port, take great care that nothing in her be imbezled or made away with but kept intire for the proprietors, for although we will encourage o<sup>r</sup> soldiery in the pursuit of Mallabars & others pirates, yet we must not make ourselves odious to our neighbours with whome we hold a faire correspondence, & in whose ports we trade with Honn<sup>r</sup> & respect, & faile not on the Ensignes arrivall to give us a p<sup>t</sup>icular acco<sup>t</sup> of this busines together with a list of the vessells lading & what she is. You complaine of the coursenes & shortness of the Tanna sent yo<sup>n</sup> downe, it is made so course on purpose y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> cloth might not be too fine for the Comp<sup>a</sup> use y<sup>t</sup> being a fault in it formerly, but we have given strict order to Sungasa, who buys it, y<sup>t</sup> what he sends downe be of due lengths, w<sup>ch</sup> you may in y<sup>e</sup> future expect, & this being w<sup>t</sup> needfull at pres<sup>t</sup>; we rem<sup>an</sup>

Surratt, 18th March 1671.

Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>

Yours of y<sup>e</sup> 13th and 26th March came to o<sup>r</sup> hands, y<sup>e</sup> former y<sup>e</sup> 31st passed month & y<sup>e</sup> latt<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> 2nd Ins<sup>t</sup>, to both w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall answere in their due place. As wee did formerly soe wee likewise now againe approve of yo<sup>r</sup> delivery up of those lands to y<sup>e</sup> procurator for Japan; & for y<sup>e</sup> thorough ending of y<sup>e</sup> Jesuits & other pretenders affaires wee have drawne up another Commission & appointed new Comissio<sup>rs</sup> (some whereof are in Surat & suddainly shall be dispeeded towards you) in ord<sup>r</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> due administration of Impartial justice between y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> and y<sup>e</sup> sev<sup>ll</sup> pretend<sup>rs</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> seized lands.

To Boml

We were at first dissatisfied in yo<sup>r</sup> beginning to build y<sup>e</sup> trench about y<sup>e</sup> ffort in regard of y<sup>e</sup> great charge it will put y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> unto, & y<sup>e</sup> hindrance it will put y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> to other necessary works, & therefore would have you desist from goeing on wth it, untill y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> comeing downe, & imediately goe in hand wth y<sup>e</sup> houses for accomodation of y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> serv<sup>ts</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> wee enordered to be built & to y<sup>e</sup> effect sent you downe y<sup>e</sup> Bricklayers. The ffront curtaine wee judged by w<sup>t</sup> you writt to have bin defensible enough against y<sup>e</sup> Enemy; & for y<sup>e</sup> wee are at peace wth all & have noe reason to feare Savajee, wee would have you desist from raising it at present till y<sup>e</sup> worke more necessary are finished. Wee would have you be very circumspect in yo<sup>r</sup> buying y<sup>e</sup> Ffrigotts of y<sup>e</sup> Portugalls least they deceive you wth old decayed ones; if you cannot gett good, strong & well built ones buy none. The Presid<sup>t</sup> will bring downe with him 5000 R<sup>s</sup> you desire, as likewise a recruite of limewater & liquor for y<sup>e</sup> Fforts use. Wee observe y<sup>e</sup> Estanque of Tobacco is fallen this yeare 1000 X<sup>s</sup> & are unsatisfied therewth. Y<sup>e</sup> reasons w<sup>ch</sup> you alledge for it seeme to carry little force wth y<sup>m</sup>, & therefore wee are apt to conjecture some designe hath bin layd by y<sup>e</sup> farm<sup>rs</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> prejudice, w<sup>ch</sup> pray enquire into and let us know those y<sup>e</sup> bought y<sup>e</sup> monopoly thereof.

Wee are glad at Serj<sup>t</sup> Addertons safe arrivall and his good success against y<sup>e</sup> Mallabarrs, lett y<sup>e</sup> vessell w<sup>ch</sup> he hath taken be secured, & y<sup>e</sup> goods taken out of her and kept under lock & key in some warehouses, & y<sup>e</sup> prison<sup>rs</sup> kept in durance untill y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> comeing downe, when they shall be tryed; in y<sup>e</sup> Interim endeavour by as many circumstances as you can finde out to prove her a Mallabarr, as also to know who sett her out.

You have write M<sup>r</sup> Hill hath this yeare monopolised y<sup>e</sup> Taverne rents of y<sup>e</sup> Island, advancing 300 X<sup>s</sup> more then formerly paid, but y<sup>e</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Bandarines were dissatisfied wth proceedings, in making y<sup>m</sup> pay an exaction more then they ever yet did. As wee are glad to here y<sup>e</sup> rent is raised so considerably, so on y<sup>e</sup> other side wee would by noe meanes have him abuse y<sup>e</sup> Bandarines in exacting an extraordinary duty from y<sup>m</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> if he continue to doe, lett him know y<sup>e</sup> on y<sup>e</sup> first complaint he shall be dispossess thereof.

Wee are sorry to read both in yo<sup>r</sup> & y<sup>e</sup> Billiapatan lett<sup>rs</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Irregularitys y<sup>e</sup> soldiers committed there, w<sup>ch</sup> being returned you on y<sup>e</sup> Mallabarr Coast, lett y<sup>m</sup> be kept close prisoners in y<sup>e</sup> hole untill further order, y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> intending on his arrivall to affliet exemplar punishm<sup>t</sup> on them such as shall deterr others from such mutinous practices in y<sup>e</sup> future; and soe wee recommend you to y<sup>e</sup> Almighty protection, & rest

Yo<sup>r</sup> very Loving Freinds,

GER<sup>a</sup> AUNGIER,

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

Suratt, 6th April 1672.

Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>.

To Bombay.

These goe p<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> "Phenix" Ketch & new Ffrigott, on whom wee have sent downe y<sup>e</sup> file of soldiers y<sup>t</sup> were remaining here, as alsoe laden on them wth Tannah cotton yarne & other provitions you wrot for, an Invoyce whereof goeth enclosed. On y<sup>m</sup> takes passage alsoe M<sup>r</sup> Sam<sup>l</sup> Walker & M<sup>r</sup> Ffran<sup>s</sup> Day, two of y<sup>e</sup> Commissio<sup>ns</sup> y<sup>t</sup> are to examine y<sup>e</sup> Jesuits & other pretenders titles; y<sup>e</sup> Commission is drawne out & their instructions w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> intends to bring downe along wth him hoping to Enbarque on y<sup>e</sup> "George" w<sup>thin</sup> those 4 or 5 dayes at furthest. On y<sup>e</sup> "Hunt<sup>r</sup>" Ffrigott goes one Jn<sup>o</sup> Hallewell form<sup>ly</sup> mate of ship "George" who is und<sup>r</sup> restraint occasioned by an information delivered in unto us by M<sup>r</sup> Christ<sup>o</sup> Robson M<sup>r</sup> of s<sup>d</sup> ship & signed by one Charles Gould who belonged unto her, whereby wee are given to understand y<sup>t</sup> by accident he was y<sup>e</sup> occasion of drowning of one Ffranc<sup>s</sup> Peck in Quedah River. Wee have taken y<sup>e</sup> depositions of those who were pres<sup>t</sup> when y<sup>e</sup> accident hapened w<sup>ch</sup> wee send you inclosed. Y<sup>e</sup> Deponents likewise goe downe on y<sup>e</sup> Ffrigott whose depositions on oath you must retake & proceed in y<sup>e</sup> case according to forme & y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> orders, calling a Court & trying s<sup>d</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Hallewell by a Jury of 12 men, who if found not guilty you may dycharge; if otherwise keep him in durance untill y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> coming downe. Lett him be tryed wth all convenient speed in regard he is intended to voyage to Siam this yeare, and wee would by noe meanes be his hindrance in case he shall be found by y<sup>e</sup> Court to be guiltless of wilfull murther. Since writeing y<sup>e</sup> above wee have thought good to send you enclosed y<sup>e</sup> Commission for y<sup>e</sup> Commission<sup>rs</sup> and their instructions. The Commission you must seale wth y<sup>e</sup> seale of Bombay, & deliver y<sup>m</sup> y<sup>t</sup> they may gett things in a readiness to sett against y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> come downe, & send for Leiu<sup>t</sup> Ustick wth all speed y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> business may goe on, and so recomend you to y<sup>e</sup> Almighty, wee remaine

Your very Loving Freinds,

G. A.

M. G.

C. I.

Surat, 16th April 1762.

May it please your Honours,

To Company.

Our last unto you was of y<sup>e</sup> 6th Cur<sup>t</sup> when wee advised y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> intentions to goe to Bombay & y<sup>e</sup> jealousy wee had of some hott service from this young & furious Gov<sup>r</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> hath succeeded according to o<sup>r</sup> expectation, for y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> by six and severall messages sent in most civill mann<sup>r</sup> by y<sup>e</sup> Vockanavise Shawbund<sup>r</sup> Cheife Custom<sup>r</sup> & other p<sup>sons</sup> of quality represented to him y<sup>e</sup> effects of yo<sup>r</sup> ord<sup>r</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> unreasonableness of his pretended jealousy, y<sup>e</sup> just grounds of y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>ts</sup> desire, wth all declaring y<sup>t</sup> he would returne in 7<sup>ber</sup>, & no argum<sup>t</sup>, reason, or intercession prevail wth him; & having understood by y<sup>e</sup> Broker y<sup>t</sup> he demanded a round sune of mony for his Licence to y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> departure, where upon takeing into consideration y<sup>e</sup> injustice of his demand & y<sup>e</sup> evill consequence would accrew to your affaires should wee consent there unto, wee resolved only not to give him any money; but also y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> should write him a lett<sup>r</sup> (for he will not be visited by any of y<sup>e</sup> Christians) & in y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> lett<sup>r</sup> give him leave to understand y<sup>t</sup> in regard he was a serv<sup>t</sup> & under obedience to ord<sup>r</sup> he must obey, y<sup>t</sup> he is a free Merch<sup>t</sup> & no slave or prison<sup>r</sup>, & y<sup>t</sup> he discharged y<sup>e</sup> part of a freind in giveing him so often freindly advise & desireing his consent, w<sup>ch</sup> seeing he would not grant he was determined to goe wth out it. To this effect y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> wrott him a lett<sup>r</sup> but couched in civill tearmes of w<sup>ch</sup>

yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> will judge, when you see y<sup>e</sup> copy w<sup>ch</sup> is entred in y<sup>e</sup> consultation booke. In answer to this lett<sup>r</sup> he sends about 2000 souldiers horse & foot about 3 of the clock y<sup>e</sup> same day, being y<sup>e</sup> 19th curr<sup>t</sup> whereof pte. entred & possessed y<sup>m</sup>selves of y<sup>e</sup> house, y<sup>e</sup> rest guarded all y<sup>e</sup> streets & lanes about it, forbidding wood, wat<sup>r</sup> & all mann<sup>r</sup> of Provisions from comeing in; abusing & beating o<sup>r</sup> minist<sup>r</sup> who accidently being abroad was comeing in, afterwards he sent for all o<sup>r</sup> small armes & o<sup>r</sup> trumpett w<sup>ch</sup> were sent him, & to all this force wee shewed not y<sup>e</sup> least returne of violence, but suffered all patiently treating y<sup>e</sup> Command<sup>r</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> soldiery wth much civillity. About 6 at night hee sends y<sup>e</sup> broker Bimjee Parrack to demand money from us to compound y<sup>e</sup> business. Wee sent him answer y<sup>t</sup> wee had given him at present already more then wee had given to any Govern<sup>r</sup>, y<sup>t</sup> wee were not in any fault & would pay him none, whereupon he forces from y<sup>e</sup> broker Bimjee Parrack 500 Rup<sup>s</sup> threatening to seise his house, estate, wife & children, if he did not pay it; y<sup>e</sup> broker being affrighted pays him y<sup>e</sup> money declaring wth all it was his owne not y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup>, at length it seems y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> being ashamed of w<sup>t</sup> he had done, betwixt 8 & 9 at night recalls all his souldiers returne all y<sup>e</sup> armes & y<sup>e</sup> trumpet, & leaves y<sup>e</sup> house free. Y<sup>e</sup> next morning y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> sent M<sup>r</sup> Gray wth y<sup>e</sup> rest of y<sup>e</sup> Councell to y<sup>e</sup> Shabund<sup>r</sup> & y<sup>e</sup> eminent merch<sup>ts</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> towne to declare to them y<sup>e</sup> force w<sup>ch</sup> was put upon us; shewing y<sup>e</sup> lett<sup>r</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> writt y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> & wthall gave y<sup>m</sup> to understand y<sup>t</sup> as wee were in noe fault so if any evill did ensue thereupon they must not blame us. The Merch<sup>ts</sup> did all beare wittness of o<sup>r</sup> innocence & cryed shame of y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>rs</sup> injustice; since w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> seemes sorry for w<sup>t</sup> is past; though he is outwardly civill, yet he will not here of y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>rs</sup> goeing downe. Y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench & Dutch are in y<sup>e</sup> same case wth us, to whom he hath not shewed so much open violence but forces money from y<sup>m</sup>, a few days since haveing taken 40 md<sup>s</sup> copper from y<sup>e</sup> Dutch besides their great present, before he would suffer their Commander to goe downe to Swally; to all y<sup>e</sup> merch<sup>ts</sup> in Gen<sup>ll</sup> in y<sup>e</sup> Towne he useth also much tyranny, insomuch y<sup>t</sup> they are much discontented y<sup>t</sup> 'tis beleived upon so gen<sup>ll</sup> a discontent he will not long stay. We know not yet w<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> issue of this business will be, but we trust in God no evill but much good will accrue to yo<sup>r</sup> settlem<sup>t</sup> both here & at Bombay, in y<sup>e</sup> conclusion; but it will be effect of time, patience, resolution, & a provident care to provide for unexpected accidents, in all w<sup>ch</sup> wee begg Gods gracious assistance to direct & prosper us in all y<sup>e</sup> difficultys w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall encount<sup>r</sup> in your affaires, & remaine

Suratt, 23<sup>d</sup> Aprill 1672.

Yo<sup>r</sup> very humble Servants,

GERALD AUNGIER.

MATTHEW GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>

Yours of y<sup>e</sup> 9th & 14th Curr<sup>t</sup> came to o<sup>r</sup> hands y<sup>e</sup> 16th & 21st ditto, to y<sup>e</sup> materiall p<sup>ts</sup> whereof wee answer in y<sup>e</sup> following lines. Wee take due notice of w<sup>t</sup> you write concerning y<sup>e</sup> building y<sup>e</sup> houses of accomodation wee enordered & to y<sup>t</sup> purpose sent you downe bricklayers, & in regard you make soe great difficultys in y<sup>e</sup> matt<sup>r</sup>, and y<sup>t</sup> there is present accomodotion in y<sup>e</sup> Hospitall for Ffactors and also warehouse roome, you may deferr y<sup>e</sup> building of s<sup>d</sup> houses untill y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> comeing downe, w<sup>ch</sup> he doubts not but to contrive their fronting to y<sup>e</sup> sea without any irregularity or impedim<sup>t</sup> to other buildings so y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> N. El<sup>t</sup> Bastian shall command some streets & likewise y<sup>e</sup> wat<sup>r</sup> side; wee shall take care to supply you wth yo<sup>r</sup> desired recruite of moneys.

To Bombay.

Wee likewise observew <sup>t</sup> you write concerning y<sup>e</sup> prize taken by Ensigne Adderton. Wee would have y<sup>e</sup> Councill sitt on her, & if on due examination & debate they finde her to be a pirate (whether she be a Mallab<sup>r</sup> or belonging to y<sup>e</sup> Rajah of Canar<sup>s</sup> ports) wee would have her according to Custome condemned & then lett y<sup>e</sup> coconutt be sold & y<sup>e</sup> other goods kept by untill further ord<sup>r</sup>, then likewise lett a deck be built on her, & she fitted wth all things necessary for to goe out y<sup>e</sup> next monsoone against y<sup>e</sup> Mallabarrs. You write you cannot buy a Ffriggett at Basseen nor build one at Cullean & therefore desire ord<sup>r</sup> to build a shibar wth a Deck. Wee had rather, if possible you could procure timber, you built a small Ffriggett wth an Eng<sup>s</sup> head though less then y<sup>e</sup> "Hunt<sup>r</sup>," for y<sup>e</sup> bett<sup>r</sup> effecting whereof wee have sent you downe an Eng<sup>s</sup> Carpenter by y<sup>e</sup> "Hunt<sup>r</sup>," but if y<sup>t</sup> cannot bee, then wee give leave y<sup>t</sup> you build a substantiall large shibar who may be capable of doeing y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> good service both against Mallabars, as also in y<sup>e</sup> lading & unlading of ships & vessells. Wee according to yo<sup>r</sup> promise expect an acco<sup>t</sup> of Ensigne Addertons expence in his voyage out against y<sup>e</sup> Mallabarrs.

What you advise concerning y<sup>e</sup> trench gives us satisfaction at pres<sup>t</sup>, & hope wth you y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> at his arrivall will approve of wth you have done therein. Wee are glad to here y<sup>t</sup> the ffront Curtaine & N<sup>o</sup> E<sup>t</sup> Bastian is in such a forwardness, & hope y<sup>e</sup> next monsoone will goe very nere to compleat y<sup>e</sup> Ffort.

The P<sup>r</sup> aft<sup>r</sup> many civill applications made to y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> for his consent to his going to Bombay on y<sup>e</sup> "George," w<sup>ch</sup> proved fruitless, he declaring y<sup>t</sup> wthout a round sune of money he would not suffer his departure, sent y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> word y<sup>t</sup> he would goe wthout his leave, seeing he could not obtaine it, w<sup>ch</sup> so nettled him, y<sup>t</sup> in a passion he sent a guard of 1000 men to watch about y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> house, who remained from 4 o'clock in y<sup>e</sup> afternoone untill 8 at night, when he repenting him of his rashness wth drew them, nevertheless he will not as yett here of y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> going to Bombay, so y<sup>t</sup> wee cannot judge how affaires will goe, but are in hopes stil to obtaine his consent; nevertheless it being late in y<sup>e</sup> yeare have dispeeded y<sup>e</sup> "George" & "Recovery" on their voyages to Acheen & Quedah, wee have thought good to advise you thereof, y<sup>t</sup> you may not be disturbed at any uncertaine news you here, but still expecting y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> arrivall you keep all things in their due ord<sup>r</sup>, for wee are resolved not to lett y<sup>e</sup> prosecution of o<sup>r</sup> intentions rest go wthout any effect. There is a report here y<sup>t</sup> Sevajee intends to build a Castle on Henry Kenry w<sup>ch</sup> the Gov<sup>r</sup> makes one of his argum<sup>ts</sup> for his not letting y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> goe (pretending he will helpe Sevajee), w<sup>ch</sup> if true it concernes us more then y<sup>e</sup> Port of Suratt to hind<sup>r</sup> it, & therefore advise us if you here of any such thing, & this being at present y<sup>e</sup> needfull, wee rest Suratt, 23<sup>d</sup> April 1672.

Yo<sup>r</sup> very Loving Ffreinds,

G. A.

M. G.

C. J.

Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>

Our Respected Freinds,

Whereas wee given to understand y<sup>t</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Burgees hath of late behaved himsef wth much rudeness & disrespect to y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Gov<sup>r</sup>, & hath uttered sev<sup>ll</sup> descourses tending to y<sup>e</sup> great dishon<sup>r</sup> & contempt of y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> authority & Govern<sup>t</sup> as appears by y<sup>e</sup> attestations of sev<sup>ll</sup> credible persons sent unto us. Upon due consideration of y<sup>e</sup> evill consequence w<sup>ch</sup> may accrew from such disord<sup>rs</sup>, wee doe hereby for y<sup>e</sup> present desanull & make void the Commission w<sup>ch</sup> wee have given y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> Burgees as Cap<sup>t</sup> of one of y<sup>e</sup> foot Comp<sup>s</sup>, & doe suspend him from all command over y<sup>e</sup> soldiery & from his office & place in Councill, & doe further require you y<sup>e</sup> D. Gov<sup>r</sup> & y<sup>e</sup> rest of y<sup>e</sup> Councill y<sup>t</sup> you cause y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> Burgees to be committed a prison<sup>r</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> Marshall, & thereto be kept till y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> shall arrive, or till ord<sup>r</sup> shall come for his tryall, & for y<sup>e</sup> bett<sup>r</sup> preventing any disord<sup>r</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> may happen among y<sup>e</sup> soldiery wee require you to keep it very private & to take a convenient time to put it in execution; to witt when Cap<sup>t</sup> Shaxtons Comp<sup>a</sup> hath y<sup>e</sup> Command of y<sup>e</sup> watch; when summoning y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> Burgees to Councell, you may then publish and put in execution this ord<sup>r</sup>, causeing y<sup>e</sup> guards to be ready to prevent any mutiny y<sup>t</sup> may arise, & aft<sup>r</sup>wards you are to publish this o<sup>r</sup> proclamation w<sup>ch</sup> wee here send you, for y<sup>e</sup> bett<sup>r</sup> reduceing y<sup>e</sup> soldiery in good ord<sup>r</sup> & govern<sup>t</sup>. Dureing y<sup>e</sup> suspension of Cap<sup>t</sup> Burgees his Commission wee ord<sup>r</sup> y<sup>t</sup> Lieu<sup>t</sup> Langford doe command y<sup>e</sup> said Comp<sup>a</sup>, requiring him wth Ensigne Adderton & y<sup>e</sup> rest of y<sup>e</sup> officers y<sup>t</sup> they keepe y<sup>e</sup> soldiers und<sup>r</sup> their command in due obedience and respect to y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Govern<sup>r</sup>. Wee have advised you in a gen<sup>ll</sup> pt<sup>e</sup> what necessary, & therefore conclude these, remayning

Suratt, 23<sup>d</sup> Aprill 1672.

Yo<sup>r</sup> Loving Freinds,
GERALD AUNGIER.
MATT. GRAY.
CHARLES JAMES.

Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>

Wee thought somew<sup>t</sup> strange y<sup>t</sup> by y<sup>e</sup> arrivall of y<sup>e</sup> "Charles" who touched at your Port, in her way from Persia, wee rec<sup>d</sup> noe Gen<sup>ll</sup> lett<sup>r</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> makes us againe recomend unto you y<sup>e</sup> adviseing us w<sup>t</sup> necessary by all conveyances, from w<sup>ch</sup> lett noe pretence divert you, for it is absolutely necessary for y<sup>e</sup> bett<sup>r</sup> ordering of affaires w<sup>ch</sup> now seeme to be in a dissettled posture wth you.

The "Little Charles" wee againe returne you, to wint<sup>r</sup> there, whom when the monsoone is quite spent lett be haled a shore in a convenient place, & a surveigh taken of her deffects by y<sup>e</sup> Mast<sup>r</sup> Carpenter & others, w<sup>ch</sup> send up to us, y<sup>t</sup> wee may resolve w<sup>t</sup> to doe wth her. She hath proved so leaky in her voyage to Persia, y<sup>t</sup> she hath damaged much goods of y<sup>e</sup> merch<sup>ts</sup>, who are resolved to lade no more on her, & therefore we thinke wholly to consigne her to y<sup>e</sup> use of your Island; from Persia she brought us a recruit of provisions, p<sup>te</sup> whereof wee offerr to yo<sup>r</sup> participation, they are reladen on y<sup>e</sup> "Charles" & y<sup>e</sup> enclosed invoyce will give you y<sup>e</sup> particulers thereof; there is likewise a p<sup>cell</sup> of Redd yearth on board her, w<sup>ch</sup> by reason of y<sup>e</sup> lateness of y<sup>e</sup> yeare wee could not unlade here, it is continued on board her w<sup>ch</sup> you may take on shore & pack up in chests, if procurable, if not in Guney, & keep it in readiness to be put on board such ship as we shall hereaft<sup>r</sup> enord<sup>r</sup>. The Gov<sup>r</sup> of Suratt haveing positively manifested & declared his resolutions of not suffering y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> to embarque for Bombay untill he hath rec<sup>d</sup> ord<sup>r</sup> from Court, w<sup>ch</sup> cannot arrive time enough for him to goe downe before y<sup>e</sup> raines w<sup>ch</sup> are at hand, wee thinke good to enord<sup>r</sup> y<sup>t</sup> you give us a large acco<sup>tt</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> posture of affaires wth you, y<sup>t</sup> wee may give such necessary instructions as may tend to y<sup>e</sup> well governing of y<sup>e</sup> Island untill it shall please God y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> can wth safety to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> affaires leave Suratt; for y<sup>e</sup> effecting whereof no oppertunity shall be omitted, for we are very sensible his presence is very requisitely necessary for y<sup>e</sup> promoting y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> interest on y<sup>e</sup> Island, wee have wrott you sev<sup>ll</sup> by y<sup>e</sup> "Ketch" and by an "Express" of y<sup>e</sup> 23<sup>d</sup> Aprill an answer unto what wee are in expectation of when wee shall write you againe, in y<sup>e</sup> Intrim wee remaine

Suratt, y<sup>e</sup> 9th May 1672.

Yo<sup>r</sup> very Loving Freinds,
GERALD AUNGIER.
MATT: GRAY.
CHARLES JAMES.

To Bombay

Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>

Yours of y<sup>e</sup> pr. mo. May came to o<sup>r</sup> hands y<sup>e</sup> 10th by y<sup>e</sup> arrivall of y<sup>e</sup> "Phenix" Ketch who had a tedious passage to us, makeing it 11 daies ere she anchored in Suratt River. In yo<sup>r</sup> s<sup>d</sup> advises wee are to o<sup>r</sup> trouble given to understand y<sup>e</sup> unparrelled affront used to y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> authority & likewise y<sup>e</sup> seditious practice committed by these irregular speritts, y<sup>t</sup> like flyes will never leave fluttering about y<sup>e</sup> candle till they have burnt their wings, and leave a noisome stinck behinde y<sup>m</sup>, to redress w<sup>ch</sup> and many other exorbitancys y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> was so desireous to pass some time wth you, but it pleasing God to divert his well grounded resolutions by the untimely arrivall of this avaritious Govern<sup>r</sup>, who by noe meanes will here of his goeing to Bombay untill he heres from Court. Wee have thought good to give you w<sup>t</sup> instructions wee have concluded at present necessary for yo<sup>r</sup> Govern<sup>t</sup> expecting an answer to o<sup>r</sup>s of y<sup>e</sup> 9th ins<sup>t</sup>, a large acc<sup>o</sup> of affaires wth you y<sup>t</sup> wee may further debate thereon. And in y<sup>e</sup> first place, in respect wee find yo<sup>r</sup> Councell is not compleat according to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> ord<sup>r</sup> wee have thought good to enord<sup>r</sup> y<sup>t</sup> there be of Councell y<sup>e</sup> ffollowing p.sons viz<sup>t</sup>.

The worsp<sup>ll</sup> Phillip Gyffard D. Gov<sup>r</sup>.

Cap<sup>t</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Shaxton.

Henry Chowne.

James Addames.

Stephen Ustick.

George Wilcox, who being at pres<sup>t</sup> heer wee have thought necessary to appoint to his assistance M<sup>r</sup> Sam<sup>ll</sup> Walker intend- ing he shall succeed him in a short time, have designed s<sup>d</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Wilcox for anoth<sup>r</sup> employ<sup>t</sup>, & y<sup>e</sup> Councell being thus settled wee doubt not but by Gods blessing & yo<sup>r</sup> prud<sup>t</sup> managem<sup>t</sup> of affaires things will be kept in due ord<sup>r</sup> in y<sup>e</sup> future. Wee observe w<sup>t</sup> you write concerning Cap<sup>t</sup> Burgees, whose charge wee would have drawne up & deliver him, requireing his answer in writing thereunto, w<sup>ch</sup> if he deliver in lett be sent up to us; togeather wth yo<sup>r</sup> opinions in y<sup>e</sup> case, y<sup>t</sup> wee may pass a definitive sentence therein, and as to y<sup>e</sup> Marshll Pett<sup>r</sup> resume his case & lett him rec<sup>e</sup> such punishm<sup>t</sup> as you shall thinke fitting to inflict on him.

For the tryall of those notorious mutiners y<sup>t</sup> tore y<sup>e</sup> Proclamation & opposed y<sup>e</sup> execu- tion of Justice on y<sup>e</sup> wench you caused to be shaved and sett on an ass, lett a Jury be em- pannelled, whom if they finde guilty of mutiny, lett them be sentenced, condemned, & executed according to y<sup>e</sup> 3<sup>d</sup> article of y<sup>e</sup> Honble Comp<sup>a</sup> lawes for y<sup>e</sup> preservation of y<sup>e</sup> peace & suppressing of mutiny, sedition and Rebellion.

M<sup>r</sup> Geo Wilcox hath informed y<sup>t</sup> he hath drawne up a forme of Legall proceedings w<sup>ch</sup> he intended to present him wth on his arrivall at Bombay, w<sup>ch</sup> forme wee would have him send up hither y<sup>t</sup> wee may debate & consider thereof.

In regard you have satisfied us y<sup>t</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> present there is accomodation enough in y<sup>e</sup> hospitall & other places for y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> serv<sup>ts</sup>, wee thinke good y<sup>t</sup> you totally desist from building those houses formerly enordered this yeare, & goe imediately in hand wth y<sup>e</sup> build- ing of two large stone warehouses behind y<sup>e</sup> Customhouse or in some place nere it, such as may be capable of receiveing into y<sup>m</sup> 3 to 4 good ships lading of goods. Lett y<sup>m</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> present be covered with tiles & if possible finish y<sup>m</sup> by 7<sup>ber</sup> next, for y<sup>e</sup> effecting whereof let yo<sup>r</sup> utmost industry be employed & no pretence hind<sup>r</sup> it, for there will be great occasion for them, & this doe wth as little noise as possible.

Call<sup>o</sup> Herman Baxe is at present wth us wth whom wee are advising concerning y<sup>e</sup> living out of a towne & other affaires who shall be dispeeded back to you in a short time.

The Presid<sup>t</sup> is intended to dispeed y<sup>e</sup> "Loyall Oxinden" in few days downe to you to wint<sup>r</sup> there. for y<sup>e</sup> great<sup>r</sup> creditt of y<sup>e</sup> Island, and therefore desire you would take care to pilott her in: as likewise y<sup>t</sup> you would take advise together & consider w<sup>ch</sup> place in y<sup>e</sup> bay is y<sup>e</sup> fittest & most convenient for her to wint<sup>r</sup> in; & this being at present y<sup>e</sup> needfull wee recomend you to y<sup>e</sup> Almighty's protection & remaine

Surat 16th May 1672.

Yo<sup>r</sup> very Loving Freinds,

GERA<sup>u</sup> AUNGIER.

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

Honourable &<sup>ca</sup>

The last night arrived here an "Express" wth many letter<sup>s</sup> directed to you concerning y<sup>e</sup> affaires of y<sup>e</sup> Island; w<sup>ch</sup> wee hope yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> safe arrivall there will soone give dispatch to supply all their wants & compose all their differences. Wee have little of Gen<sup>ll</sup> business to acco<sup>t</sup> for in this short time of yo<sup>r</sup> absence from us; only there is about 500 m<sup>ds</sup> of olibanum bought, som at 2 rup<sup>s</sup> but y<sup>e</sup> greatest p<sup>ts</sup> at 2<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub> p<sup>r</sup> m<sup>d</sup> and about 225 m<sup>ds</sup> of alloes at 22<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub> Rup<sup>s</sup> p<sup>r</sup> m<sup>d</sup>, which is all their is in Towne. Wee have advised wth Bimgee about w<sup>t</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> did propose of supplying y<sup>e</sup> Ffactorys of Nundrabund and those p<sup>ts</sup> with money. Rup<sup>s</sup> not being procurable wee find it will be as advantagious to y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> to supply with pice & have accepted of y<sup>e</sup> sheroffs contract to furnish us with 42000 rup<sup>s</sup> in pice at 33<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> great pice to y<sup>e</sup> Rup<sup>e</sup>. Y<sup>e</sup> advance upon y<sup>e</sup> pice in those parts will defray y<sup>e</sup> charge of ensurance & carriage, w<sup>ch</sup> now y<sup>e</sup> raines are come in must be transported upon oxen; when y<sup>e</sup> sheroff desires o<sup>r</sup> bills for y<sup>e</sup> money wee shall give it. Bimgee Parrack hath spoke to Sied Mahmud about y<sup>e</sup> lead money, who promiseth to put y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> in mind of it, but wee much doubt the sincerity of their promises. Wee add not more, but subscribe

To Bombay.

Suratt, 24th May 1672.

Yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> &<sup>ca</sup> Affect: Freinds & Servants,

MATTHEW GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

Honourable &<sup>ca</sup>

We wrott you a breife lett<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> 24th passed month of w<sup>ch</sup> wee now transmitt a copy that wee trust in God found his Hon<sup>r</sup> &<sup>ca</sup> freinds safely arrived on y<sup>e</sup> Island, wee haveing now another conveyance presenting by a pattamar y<sup>t</sup> arrived here wth y<sup>e</sup> D. Gov<sup>r</sup> & Councells lett<sup>r</sup> the 1st Ins<sup>t</sup>, shall rend<sup>r</sup> you an acc<sup>o</sup> of o<sup>r</sup> transactions in y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> affaires since our last.

To Bombay.

Wee have delivered all y<sup>e</sup> cloth & rashes y<sup>t</sup> was remayning on y<sup>e</sup> Marine unto Mirza Mosum, w<sup>ch</sup> he houses at Raneale, being 330 bales besides w<sup>t</sup> he hath remayning of this yeares p.cell in Suratt. Wee have prest him very hard for his reception of it; and are glad it is now in his possession, y<sup>t</sup> wee make up y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>t</sup> and he have no further pretence of damage upon us, then w<sup>t</sup> allready to y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> great loss wee have found reason to allow him y<sup>t</sup> is in y<sup>e</sup> whole 2030 Rup<sup>s</sup> whereof 1500 falls upon y<sup>e</sup> London Cloth for sea damage, but y<sup>e</sup> great<sup>r</sup> part was damaged in y<sup>e</sup> Ketch in y<sup>e</sup> storme & raine she mett wth between y<sup>e</sup> ship &

y<sup>e</sup> rivers mouth in 7<sup>ber</sup> of w<sup>ch</sup> wee made surweigh in 8<sup>ber</sup>, & found y<sup>e</sup> damage to have fallen cheifly upon y<sup>e</sup> fine cloath. In y<sup>e</sup> delivering of y<sup>e</sup> cloth to Mirza Mosum there is found 3 bales of serges, 1 scarlett, 2 mixt colours w<sup>ch</sup> is housed wth his goods at Raneale. If wee can, wee will dispose of y<sup>m</sup> to him. The perpetuanoes in o<sup>r</sup> house wee could not hitherto prevaile wth him to receive, but in a day or two hope he will take y<sup>m</sup> home; here are remayning in y<sup>e</sup> house 50 and odd of those Potcas y<sup>t</sup> were provided at Caranjaw & whited at Mowa, y<sup>t</sup> in y<sup>e</sup> looking over were found unmerchantable, being torne & rotten; besides wee know not how many y<sup>t</sup> were sent on board y<sup>e</sup> ships before in haste before wee made y<sup>e</sup> discovery. These goods wee think in reason ought to be turned on y<sup>e</sup> brokers hands though he & others will have y<sup>e</sup> damage be at y<sup>e</sup> washers, yett wee may think it may be as well before it came to y<sup>m</sup>, but if wee grant it be done by y<sup>e</sup> washers yett ought not y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> to suffer, but y<sup>e</sup> washers ought to pay for y<sup>e</sup> damage, w<sup>ch</sup> was y<sup>e</sup> brokers concerne to look aft<sup>r</sup> when he rec<sup>d</sup> y<sup>e</sup> cloth from y<sup>m</sup>, to this p.ticuler we desire your Hon<sup>r</sup> & <sup>ca</sup> to pass a final sentence.

Wee have sold 80 maund of Tynn at 14 $\frac{1}{4}$  Rup<sup>s</sup> p<sup>r</sup> maund at 3 p.c<sup>t</sup> discount for brokeridge & time, & hope by small p.cells to dispose of y<sup>e</sup> rest at s<sup>d</sup> price.

We have also sold 2 chests Correll to those pore men who in y<sup>e</sup> raines spend their time in makeing beads, viz<sup>t</sup>

1 Chest of y<sup>e</sup> lower prized Gresio at 7 $\frac{3}{4}$  R<sup>s</sup> y<sup>e</sup> sear 2 $\frac{1}{2}$  p. c<sup>t</sup> discount.

1 Chest of Teraglie at 37 Rup<sup>s</sup> per maund, w<sup>ch</sup> are y<sup>e</sup> highest prices wee could bring y<sup>m</sup> to, & wee find no hopes to find out other merch<sup>ts</sup> these raines. According to his Hon<sup>rs</sup> direction wee have sent downe to Swally w<sup>t</sup> goods were embaled, & are now getting y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>rs</sup> leave for y<sup>e</sup> chopping 51 Bal<sup>s</sup> Ahm<sup>a</sup> Indico & 5 Ba<sup>s</sup> Tapseile & <sup>ca</sup> at Raneale, wth 50 Ba<sup>s</sup> lately packed up here, w<sup>ch</sup> wee hope to doe before y<sup>e</sup> raines sett in, w<sup>ch</sup> wee may expect in a few dayes.

The cowrees & seedlack remaines here because of y<sup>e</sup> great charge of transport by land, W<sup>t</sup> cloth was whited at Raneale & Dion wee have embaled & sent downe, & all o<sup>r</sup> warehouses will be filled wth cloth embaled before y<sup>e</sup> Raines end; the Dyers and washers bringing it in dayly. Wee have furnished Sungasa wth moneys to imprest y<sup>e</sup> cotton yearn merch<sup>ts</sup>, it being now time to buy in y<sup>t</sup> comodity.

Yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> & <sup>ca</sup> presence at Bombay wee conclude hath answered y<sup>e</sup> Dep<sup>tie</sup> Govern<sup>rs</sup> & <sup>ca</sup> lett<sup>rs</sup> now rec<sup>d</sup>, it consisting but of two p.ticul<sup>rs</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> one yo<sup>r</sup> ord<sup>r</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> executing of a murtherer convicted thereof by a Jury and sentenced, y<sup>e</sup> other about p.mitting y<sup>e</sup> natives to put dry ffish to y<sup>e</sup> roots of trees, buried underground deep. To y<sup>e</sup> form<sup>r</sup> wee know no reason why y<sup>e</sup> sentence should not be put in execution; to y<sup>e</sup> latt<sup>r</sup> Matthew Gray, in y<sup>e</sup> time of his abode on y<sup>e</sup> Island, remembers not any offence given by y<sup>e</sup> stench of dry ffish* buried at y<sup>e</sup> ffoots off trees, w<sup>ch</sup> being benefitiall to y<sup>e</sup> Natives, and offensive to y<sup>e</sup> people as to p<sup>r</sup>judicing their healths, wee thinke it may continue till his Hon<sup>r</sup> upon bett<sup>r</sup> information or his owne experience this season find to y<sup>e</sup> contrary. And this is w<sup>t</sup> prest<sup>s</sup> to this time. Wth o<sup>r</sup> respectfull salutes wee conclude, & remaine

Yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> & <sup>ca</sup> at Command,
M. G.
C. J.

Surat, 4th June 1672.

* "But for all this gallantry, I reckon they walk but in charnel houses, the climate being extremely unhealthy; at first thought to be caused by Bubsho, rotten fish; but though that be prohibited, yet it continues as mortal: I rather impute it to the situation, which causes an insecurity in the earth, and a putridness in the air, what being produced seldom coming to maturity, whereby what is eaten is undigested."—Fryer's East India and Persia, p. 68.

Honourable &c.

After many a sad thought wee had for yo<sup>r</sup> safety heareing no newes of yo<sup>r</sup> arrivall on y<sup>e</sup> Island in so many daies, & y<sup>t</sup> confirmed by y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Gov<sup>r</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> 4th June, wth extraordinary stormes on y<sup>e</sup> Coast, and y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>l</sup> Curr<sup>t</sup> newes in towne of the ships loss, y<sup>e</sup> apprehension of w<sup>ch</sup> danger dayly increaseing as wee rec<sup>d</sup> no advices from y<sup>e</sup> Island of yo<sup>r</sup> arrivall, & greater Damp on o<sup>r</sup> speritts was occasioned by a lett<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Dutch Director rec<sup>d</sup> from Broach y<sup>e</sup> 15th Curr<sup>t</sup>, whether newes was brought by a small vessell from Diu, in two dayes passage, y<sup>t</sup> sev<sup>ll</sup> men were driven on shore there by y<sup>e</sup> sea & a boat built aft<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> English manner & had English Rigger, & this newes was confirmed by our Broach broker. Wee than began to dispaire of yo<sup>r</sup> safety; but it pleased God to comfort us. Y<sup>e</sup> next day being Sunday, as wee satt at dinner, wee rec<sup>d</sup> his Hon<sup>rs</sup> lett<sup>r</sup> to o<sup>r</sup> infinite contentm<sup>t</sup> wth y<sup>e</sup> comfortable newes of his safe arrivall on y<sup>e</sup> Island y<sup>e</sup> 7th Curr<sup>t</sup>. After such eminent & great dangers as he encountred, for w<sup>ch</sup> wee rend<sup>r</sup> thanks to Almighty God, and as in such cases wee ought to signifie also to y<sup>e</sup> world o<sup>r</sup> gladness, the next day the whole family remembered so great a blessing at Mirza Mosums Garden. Wee accounted wth you o<sup>r</sup> occurrences, hereto y<sup>e</sup> 4th of this month; since w<sup>ch</sup> wee have sold 4 chests of y<sup>e</sup> Grezia Correll at 7½ Rup<sup>s</sup> p<sup>r</sup> seer ¾ p. c<sup>t</sup> discount for time, & 1 chest of y<sup>e</sup> Jeraglia at y<sup>e</sup> form<sup>r</sup> price of 37 Rup<sup>s</sup> y<sup>e</sup> maund. On y<sup>e</sup> 11th Curr<sup>t</sup> this Towne was strongly allarmed by y<sup>e</sup> neare approach of Savagees forces und<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> conduct of Moro Punditt, who hath taken Joar from y<sup>e</sup> Cooleys w<sup>ch</sup> is wthin 57 Course of this place, but since haveing left a man Garrison there is retired back. In the heat of this newes the Gov<sup>r</sup> calls all y<sup>e</sup> eminent, both Moores & Banians, & propounds to y<sup>m</sup> y<sup>e</sup> collecting of 45000 Rup<sup>s</sup> to raise 500 horse & 3000 ffoot to defend y<sup>e</sup> towne for two months; y<sup>e</sup> Moores readily subscribed to it, knowing y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> burthen of y<sup>e</sup> Tax would fall upon y<sup>e</sup> Banians; they stood off a little to pause on y<sup>e</sup> business but have also subscribed. Wee here off no soldiers raiseing; but there are officers employed in takeing an acco<sup>tt</sup> of every Banians house in Towne, of w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> no doubt will make good employm<sup>t</sup> to his p.ticular benefitt.

Wee have well employed o<sup>r</sup> time in drawing out a list of goods y<sup>t</sup> wee have here & at y<sup>e</sup> Marine in a readinesse for y<sup>e</sup> expected shipping being upwards of 700 Tunns (besides y<sup>e</sup> red earth carried to Bombay on y<sup>e</sup> "Charles" & "Oxinden") & by y<sup>e</sup> nearest calculation amounts to Rup<sup>s</sup> 450535, also an acco<sup>tt</sup> of w<sup>t</sup> goods are remaining here for sale w<sup>ch</sup> wth y<sup>e</sup> Govern<sup>rs</sup> debt for lead amo<sup>ts</sup> to Rup<sup>s</sup> 210210, wth an acco<sup>tt</sup> of w<sup>t</sup> moneys wee are engaged for y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> at interest amo<sup>ts</sup> to 695777:36 pice, but if you please to take a view of y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>tt</sup> curr<sup>t</sup> you will find its credit in mony, goods remaining, debts & moneys imprested the 31st May in y<sup>e</sup> sev<sup>ll</sup> Ffactorys (the returnes whereof wee expect to receive) to y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>tt</sup> of 1248009 Rup<sup>s</sup>.

The 25th Curr<sup>t</sup> wee rec<sup>d</sup> advices from Ffort S<sup>t</sup> George a copie whereof goeth here inclosed, w<sup>ch</sup> confirmes y<sup>e</sup> newes rec<sup>d</sup> from M<sup>r</sup> Mohun of y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench their settlem<sup>t</sup> on Ceilon wthin sight of y<sup>e</sup> Dutch Ffort at Trinconomalla; there being a Cossett now returning to Golcundah wee have in a few lines owned y<sup>e</sup> receipt of their lett<sup>r</sup>, copie whereof goeth herewith.

By y<sup>e</sup> "Loyall Oxinden" was sent an invoyce but all p.ticulars were not incerted; wee have now sent one more at large, yet there wants y<sup>e</sup> red Earth to be added for want of y<sup>e</sup> invoyce from Persia w<sup>ch</sup> is carryed downe wth you. Wee entreat you to cause y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>tt</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> red earth to be included & to returne us y<sup>e</sup> invoyce. Cursett y<sup>e</sup> carpent<sup>r</sup> hath bin wth us about y<sup>e</sup> dimentions of y<sup>e</sup> Ffriggett building for y<sup>e</sup> Island; wee understand her to be built Pinck fashion, like to y<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Kings built last yeare & of y<sup>e</sup> same dimentions w<sup>ch</sup> is—Coveds 30 long.

7½ broad by y<sup>e</sup> Beame

4½ in y<sup>e</sup> Ffloor

2½ Depth in hold.

The Kings Ffrigott carrys 75 tun in hold. Now if yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup>. & <sup>ca</sup> will admitt of halfe a more in breadth &  $\frac{1}{2}$  a Coved in depth she will carry 100 tuns in hold, & so may be the more servisable to y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>, and this he saith will be no hinderance to her sayling. Hee desires also y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> "Ketch" may have a head made & 3 masts & a falce keele to make her keep a bett<sup>r</sup> wind. This charge he computes about 500 Rup<sup>s</sup>, but wee consider if she have a head & 3 masts she is no more serviceable to lade and unlade our ships; and will be useless to us here and her charge of men will be soe great y<sup>t</sup> wee cannot thinke any ffreights she can make will defray her charges; wee approve of a falce keele, though she will draw soe much water y<sup>t</sup> she will often ground in y<sup>e</sup> river & doe thinke y<sup>t</sup> her mast cutt short<sup>r</sup> will keep her from rowling so much; & she will keep a bett<sup>r</sup> wind. But wee shall forbear o<sup>r</sup> orders untill wee here from his Hon<sup>r</sup>, & wth tend<sup>r</sup> of o<sup>r</sup> salutes, remaine

Suratt, 21st June 1672.

Yo<sup>r</sup> Honours & <sup>ca</sup> faithfull Freinds,

MATTHEW GRAY,
CHARLES JAMES,
ALEX<sup>a</sup> GRIGBIE.

Honourable & <sup>ca</sup>

To Bombay.

The 26th curr<sup>t</sup> wee wrott you by Matteus the Cooly, whose transcript is herewith sent. Y<sup>e</sup> last night y<sup>e</sup> Carwar Cossett brought us yo<sup>rs</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> 19th wth y<sup>e</sup> Carwar books; but neither y<sup>e</sup> Copys nor originall Lett<sup>rs</sup> whereby wee might have learned y<sup>e</sup> state of y<sup>t</sup> Ffactory, of w<sup>ch</sup> wee are wholly ignorant. Wee impute this neglect to him who made up the paquet, who hath left them out.

When Cap<sup>t</sup> Burges arrives, wee shall put him in command of the Ffrigott; since you have upon his submission thought him worthy of y<sup>e</sup> charge; wee know him able and sufficient for it, & hope his future comportm<sup>t</sup> to his superiours will be such as may meritt their countenance. The Ffrench have certainly taken S<sup>t</sup> Thoma from the King of Golcundah: this is wthout question. The story is thus, two ships were sent hither for provitions, they sent about 20 men to y<sup>e</sup> Citty who were there abused and could procure none; upon w<sup>ch</sup> they landed their Guns & a considerable quantity of their men marched against it; battered downe y<sup>e</sup> Gate & possest themselves of y<sup>e</sup> place; w<sup>ch</sup> is of very ill consequence to o<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Mast<sup>rs</sup>, the Citty being in sight of Ffort S<sup>t</sup> George, beautifull & very strong & many brass gunns on y<sup>e</sup> walls. Wee beleive y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench Padries in Madrass put y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench on y<sup>t</sup> designe by giving y<sup>m</sup> to understand how weak they were wthin, not above 200 men (as wee here); if upon this news their Admirall shall come thither wth his forces from Ceilon & reinforce it, 'twil be for ever their owne; otherwise we beleive y<sup>e</sup> King of Golcundah will regaine it, Our freinds at Madrass are surely amazed at it; otherwise we could not think they would be so uncivill as not to lett you into months time here aft<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> ships arrivall there y<sup>e</sup> least news thereof, & of other affaires in Europe, w<sup>ch</sup> seems a wonder to y<sup>e</sup> nations here, although to us, who have for some years bin accustomed to it, is not strange.

Yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> not adviseing how you intend to dispose of y<sup>e</sup> ships when they arrive, nor give us any ord<sup>rs</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> provition of any thing here for y<sup>e</sup> supply of y<sup>e</sup> Mallabar Ffactorys, wee have taken into consideration y<sup>e</sup> loss M<sup>r</sup> Petit writes they have by y<sup>e</sup> sale of the Gold sent them downe last year; & since Checqueens are more Currant & little or no loss by them, wee have ordered Bimgee Parrack, now while they may be had, to buy 50,000 Rup<sup>s</sup> worth; and this we thinke wil be sufficient stock in money to send y<sup>m</sup> the remaind<sup>r</sup> to be supplied in goods especially in Copper w<sup>ch</sup> will here sell to loss. Vermillion is risen to 60 Rup<sup>s</sup> the maund at w<sup>ch</sup> price to buy it here there will be loss on it on y<sup>e</sup> Mallabar Coast.

Wee have concluded to advise yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> in regard to the despicable price Broad Cloth is at here & y<sup>e</sup> dangers wee are in to send up no more then

50 bales Reds & Greens	no Perpetuanoes
1 bale Scarlett	no Corral
1 bale fine Greens	500 Plates Copper
10 bales rashes

And y<sup>t</sup> we may be y<sup>e</sup> bett<sup>r</sup> enabled to discharge o<sup>r</sup> great Debt at Interest you l<sup>w</sup>il please to send up all the treasure, reserving of y<sup>e</sup> Gold so much as you shall thinke will be necessary for Carwarr & of the silver for y<sup>e</sup> supply of y<sup>e</sup> Island.

Wee have now consigned to you by y<sup>e</sup> "Phenix" Ketch in moneys, stores &<sup>ca</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> use of y<sup>e</sup> Island to y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>t</sup> of Rup<sup>s</sup> 24503 : 44 the cost of y<sup>e</sup> "Hunt<sup>r</sup>" Ffrigott included ; for all w<sup>ch</sup> be pleased to give o<sup>r</sup> acco<sup>t</sup> credit. Wee should have sent you now y<sup>e</sup> Cost of the Ketch w<sup>ch</sup> being more serviceable for y<sup>e</sup> use of y<sup>e</sup> Island, then for o<sup>r</sup> occasions here, wee have by yo<sup>r</sup> ord<sup>r</sup> turned her over to y<sup>e</sup> Island acc<sup>o</sup>. By next conveyance y<sup>e</sup> Invoyce shall be sent. M<sup>r</sup> Child wee hope to dispatch to you this night who hath made y<sup>e</sup> great<sup>r</sup> hast y<sup>t</sup> he may be wth you before y<sup>e</sup> new moone when bad weather may be expected. The Mast<sup>r</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Ketch M<sup>r</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Norgrave hath petitioned us for y<sup>e</sup> raising his wages ; haveing served long for very mean pay considering y<sup>e</sup> charge he hath had being mate of y<sup>e</sup> "George." But in regard y<sup>e</sup> Ketch is now belonging to y<sup>e</sup> Island where his service will be, we especially recommend him to yo<sup>r</sup> consideration as a person well deserving.

The last year when y<sup>e</sup> Hoigh came into Swally hole in her voyage to Cambay on freight, there was disburst for provisions for her men 61 Rup<sup>s</sup> 21 pice w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Marine Purser hath now taken acco<sup>t</sup> of & 'tis herewth sent, w<sup>ch</sup> please to give us credit for ; and we call not elce to mind at present, but remaine

Yo<sup>r</sup> Honours &<sup>ca</sup> Ffaithfull Freinds, Suratt, 29th August 1672.

MATTHEW GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

ALEX<sup>A</sup> GRIGBIE.

Honourable &<sup>ca</sup>

Our most humble services premised &<sup>ca</sup> the 17th Curr<sup>t</sup> wee rec<sup>d</sup> advices from y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & his Councill in Bombay directed to yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> accompany these. They have discoursed to you in brief y<sup>e</sup> state of yo<sup>r</sup> Island ; w<sup>ch</sup> we assure you in y<sup>t</sup> short time w<sup>ch</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> P<sup>r</sup> hath resided there is very much improved, Courts of Judicature, and many other important affaires settled, & y<sup>e</sup> Almighty blessing his endeavors w<sup>ch</sup> are wholly bent to make y<sup>t</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> Collony happy and flourishing ; we shall find w<sup>t</sup> further time he shall spend there will be very advantageous to yo<sup>r</sup> Interest in y<sup>e</sup> farr great<sup>r</sup> improvem<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>t</sup> place ; in y<sup>e</sup> mean time during his absence we entreat yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> to have y<sup>e</sup> opinion of us here y<sup>t</sup> nothing shall be wanting in o<sup>r</sup> care of yo<sup>r</sup> merchantile affaires in these parts, & if we are not obstructed by

To the Company via Persia
and Aleppo.

y<sup>e</sup> unsettled condition of the Countrys whose troubles rather increase then debate, we shall hope to have in a readiness sufficient Cargoes to lade home yo<sup>r</sup> ships although all y<sup>e</sup> stock you have sent out y<sup>e</sup> year will not now clear o<sup>r</sup> debts for you at interest. On w<sup>ch</sup> subject we have been so large wth you in former lett<sup>rs</sup> wherewth yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> are satisfied of o<sup>r</sup> integrity & y<sup>e</sup> necessity have been on us for y<sup>e</sup> takeing up of s<sup>d</sup> moneys we shall now forbear o<sup>r</sup> furth<sup>r</sup> discourse of it. Only whereas you were wont to make a calculation, y<sup>t</sup> when you sent us out a stock it would advance you soe much by y<sup>e</sup> sales of yo<sup>r</sup> Broad Cloth & other goods here, we must now make another acco<sup>t</sup>, the markets being soe overlaid by y<sup>e</sup> great quantitys of o<sup>r</sup> Native Comoditys you have sent out those 3 years past y<sup>t</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> loss will be very considerable this year.

All yo<sup>r</sup> lead lies dead it being y<sup>e</sup> Kings Comodity, & he such great supplys of it y<sup>t</sup> he wants it not; & it was y<sup>e</sup> last month before wee could procure any money from this Govern<sup>r</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> last years lead; for w<sup>ch</sup> there is yet remayning 35000 Rup<sup>s</sup> due; & all o<sup>r</sup> Broad Cloth & other woollen manufactures not at all in request here; no march<sup>ts</sup> adventuring on y<sup>m</sup> there being of y<sup>e</sup> last years remayns here, up at Agra & other places quantitys sufficient to supply these Countrys y<sup>e</sup> year; in so much y<sup>t</sup> finding it to bear soe mean a price &c<sup>a</sup> soe much to yo<sup>r</sup> loss by its sale Ingross, we had concluded to keep yo<sup>r</sup> warehouses open & retaile it, but since yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> hath sent out but little treasure this year, & yo<sup>r</sup> other goods unvendible, necessity together wth yo<sup>r</sup> ord<sup>r</sup> will force us for yo<sup>r</sup> reputations & hon<sup>r</sup> to dispose of y<sup>m</sup> y<sup>e</sup> best we are able, to clear as much of o<sup>r</sup> debts as we can, to prevent y<sup>e</sup> spreading of y<sup>t</sup> cancer w<sup>ch</sup> insensible eats out y<sup>e</sup> proffitts of yo<sup>r</sup> stock; and if wee shall alsoe add to these yo<sup>r</sup> losses w<sup>t</sup> considerable sums yo<sup>r</sup> Island Bombay hath drawne from us & still doth, since y<sup>e</sup> delivery & restoration of y<sup>e</sup> Lands, yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> will conclude y<sup>t</sup> from such stocks as you send us, wee shall never be able to clear you from interest, bear y<sup>e</sup> charges of your Island & Ffactorys, & return yo<sup>r</sup> ships full laden wth such Comoditys as you require. And wee are sencible of an insupportable burthen, should any miscarriages happen w<sup>ch</sup> God divert; and in regard wee are thus farr engaged for yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> Interest, & know not w<sup>t</sup> event y<sup>e</sup> warr may produce when we have procured goods sufficient for y<sup>e</sup> lading home yo<sup>r</sup> this years shipping, we shall advise wth yo<sup>r</sup> President & putt a stop to yo<sup>r</sup> investm<sup>ts</sup> untill wee shall hear further from you per via Aleppo.

Wee have been continually allarumed by Sevagees forces y<sup>e</sup> whole year excepting y<sup>e</sup> months of August & Septemb<sup>r</sup>. The Towne Gates & all passages stopt up for sev<sup>ll</sup> months, those of greatest quality who could prevaile wth y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> for money gottt permission to send their familys out and secure y<sup>m</sup> in other parts farr distant. In these troubles wee were apprehensive of y<sup>e</sup> danger of y<sup>t</sup> estate wee had of yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> in this Towne; the greatest part whereof we sent to Swally before y<sup>e</sup> raines were sett in & afterwards to Raneale as y<sup>e</sup> weather did permitt, w<sup>ch</sup> hath put you to some charges extraordinary, yett not to be avoided in such exigencies. This markett hath been soe overloyd wth Corral by reason y<sup>e</sup> places for its rent have been ruynd by y<sup>e</sup> warrs and w<sup>t</sup> hath been brought in from other ports, y<sup>t</sup> by w<sup>t</sup> we have sold of it this year being 24 Chests of Gregio, there is upwards of 20 p. c<sup>t</sup> loss w<sup>ch</sup> wee were necessitated to by reason of o<sup>r</sup> great debts and also apprehending y<sup>e</sup> Danger it lay in here; 35 Chests of Ditto Corral we sent downe this & y<sup>e</sup> last year, to supply y<sup>e</sup> Coast Ffactorys, and wee have remayning here 26 Chests; w<sup>ch</sup> now there is so little imported, we hope to dispose of to some proffitt. Rettaduty & Teraggia are in noe request at all, of y<sup>e</sup> former wee received 24 Chests and sold none, only 7 have been sent to supply the Malla-barr Ffactorys, of Teraggia wee have remayning about 70 Chests haveing sold not above 2 Chests these 3 years; & also w<sup>t</sup> Barbarisco hath been sent us 3 years past lies on o<sup>r</sup> hands.

Wherefore wee desire yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> to send us out noe sorte but y<sup>e</sup> Gregio & y<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> best Copper hath been very low; y<sup>e</sup> Dutch selling their parcell 18000 maunds in August last at 17 Rup<sup>s</sup> p<sup>r</sup> m<sup>d</sup> 6 months discount; it is now risen to 9 & will yett more; you may please to send out a large quantity of this Commodity for wee are encouraged from y<sup>e</sup> great expence of it in this Country y<sup>t</sup> it will hold up its price & bear its charges; & Quicksilver grows againe into request little haveing been imported of late, it is now worth 60 Rup<sup>s</sup> y<sup>e</sup> maund, & likely to rise.

The 5th Curr<sup>t</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> four ships arrived from Bombay to Swally barr & came into y<sup>e</sup> hole next day, where noe dilligence was wanting in takeing out their goods, & lading such others as we thought necessary to supply yo<sup>r</sup> Factorys downe y<sup>e</sup> Coast wth; the 24th wee delivered their dispatches w<sup>ch</sup> might have been aday or 2 sooner, but y<sup>t</sup> being injoynd to keep company, they stayed for y<sup>e</sup> "Mediterranian," w<sup>ch</sup> ship haveing dangerous Leaks her men would have left her, had she not been haled on shore, and they found out, & wee praise God are now stopt and she a thight ship. They sayld over y<sup>e</sup> barr y<sup>e</sup> 15th w<sup>ch</sup> is late considering they sayle together, & must stop at Carwar to deliver on shore y<sup>e</sup> stock appointed for y<sup>t</sup> Ffactory for carrying on y<sup>e</sup> next years investm<sup>t</sup>. It consists in Broad Cloth, Corral, Lead, Copper, & Allome to y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>t</sup> Rup<sup>s</sup> 54000 & in Chequeens about 30000 Rup<sup>s</sup> besides about 15000 Rup<sup>s</sup> more will be sent off to y<sup>m</sup> from Bombay in moneys. From thence they proceed to Billiapatam, & so low as Callecutt, where haveing received in what pepper & cardamons those Ffactorys have to lade on board they are to return againe to Carwar to receive in y<sup>t</sup> Ffactorys investments & to proceed to us.

Wee have not thought it necessary to send any great stock to y<sup>e</sup> Mallabarr Ffactorys considering y<sup>e</sup> difficulty we may encounter y<sup>e</sup> next year in bringing off their Pepper, w<sup>ch</sup> lies so near the enemies port; nor can wee tell w<sup>t</sup> attempts they may make upon those Ffactorys or worke upon those unfaithfull Mallabarr by their monies to undermine & betray y<sup>m</sup>; yet y<sup>t</sup> they may bear up y<sup>e</sup> repute of y<sup>e</sup> Ffactorys & may have herewth to be trading, wee have consigned them from hence to y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>t</sup> of 10,000 Rup<sup>s</sup> in Lead, & 10 Chests of Gresio Corral they will receive from Bombay amo<sup>ts</sup> to 20,000 Rup<sup>s</sup> more, w<sup>ch</sup> will keep them doeing.

Wee trust in Gods good providence over y<sup>m</sup> y<sup>t</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> ships will all return to us before Christmas to receive in their Europe Cargoes.

By advices to y<sup>e</sup> 27th August from yo<sup>r</sup> Govern<sup>ts</sup> Agent & <sup>ca</sup> Councell at Fforte S<sup>t</sup> George wee understand y<sup>t</sup> Rickloff van Goens was then at Nogapatam wth a Ffleett of 20 saile of men of warr; 6 whereof were newly joynd to him from Batavia; wth said advices wee rec<sup>d</sup> a pacquett for yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> wee herewth send you, haveing advice also of yo<sup>r</sup> ship y<sup>e</sup> "Barnadiston" being arrived to yo<sup>r</sup> Fforte y<sup>e</sup> 24th of said month.

Wee have brought up yo<sup>r</sup> treasure, & agreed for y<sup>e</sup> sale of it at 12 daies time, for y<sup>e</sup> ingotts, wee have not yett beat y<sup>e</sup> price, haveing not proved y<sup>e</sup> Assayes to know their intrinsick value; we have given orders to yo<sup>r</sup> Broker Bimgee Parrack to find a Merch<sup>t</sup> for your Ellephants Teeth, Broadcloth, & Allome, for wee will convert y<sup>m</sup> into money soe soon as may be; & we are encouraged to beleive wee shall dispose of about 4000 p<sup>s</sup> of yo<sup>r</sup> Broadcloth, at as good a rate as y<sup>e</sup> last years w<sup>ch</sup> was Rup<sup>s</sup> 3<sup>1</sup>/<sub>6</sub> p<sup>r</sup> yard; & wee hope for less tyme. Wee here inlarge not, but humbly desire yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> to accept to y<sup>e</sup> sincerity of our endeavours, who are

Yo<sup>r</sup> Humb<sup>e</sup> Faithfull Servants,
MATTHEW GRAY.
CHARLES JAMES.
ALEXAND<sup>R</sup> GRIGBIE.

Suratt, 22<sup>d</sup> October 1672.

Honourable &<sup>ca</sup>

To Bombay.

The 28th late at night yo<sup>r</sup> nimble Jellipdar brought us y<sup>r</sup> pacquett wth advises of y<sup>e</sup> 18th, 22<sup>d</sup> and 23<sup>d</sup> Currant.

Since o<sup>r</sup> last of y<sup>e</sup> 25th wee have been strongly alarmd by Sevegees forces especially on y<sup>e</sup> 24th at night, news being brought y<sup>e</sup> Govern<sup>r</sup> y<sup>t</sup> they were on their way hither, & advanced soe farr as Chickley, w<sup>ch</sup> is but 6 course beyond Gundavee, & might verry well have been here next morning, w<sup>ch</sup> put us to some trouble in making up all y<sup>e</sup> treasures againe in handy Chests, w<sup>ch</sup> wee had sold, but y<sup>e</sup> sherroffs would not take it away; wee had also sent for 100 bales of Cloth up in y<sup>e</sup> Hoigh, w<sup>ch</sup> by reason of these troubles, wee dared not bring up hither, but kept y<sup>m</sup> in her at Umra; but wanting y<sup>e</sup> Hoigh to secure o<sup>r</sup> treasure, wee ordered y<sup>e</sup> Broadcloth to be put on board y<sup>e</sup> "Tho: & Matthew", & y<sup>e</sup> Hoigh to come up hither; wee sent downe alsoe to M<sup>r</sup> Grigbie to send us up some of y<sup>e</sup> souldiers y<sup>t</sup> came to conduct y<sup>e</sup> new Ffrigott downe; & laid in provisions and Powder for y<sup>e</sup> defence of o<sup>r</sup> house & y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> estate, here being then all y<sup>e</sup> Allome, most of y<sup>e</sup> Ellephants Teeth, many Chests of Corral, all y<sup>e</sup> treasure, &<sup>ca</sup>

The next morning y<sup>e</sup> news cooled, they proveing but a party of y<sup>e</sup> enemies horse, w<sup>ch</sup> came to try y<sup>e</sup> fording of y<sup>t</sup> river, & are returned againe to y<sup>e</sup> maine body w<sup>ch</sup> lie on this side Ramnagur, & may be here at their pleasure; these contynned troubles are verry prejudiciall to y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> Affaires, for now noe Merch<sup>ts</sup> will lay out their moneys in Goods, y<sup>t</sup> they must lie on o<sup>r</sup> hands, w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall endeavour to dispose of y<sup>e</sup> best wee can.

The Allome will not off at 30 p. c<sup>t</sup> loss; there are soe great Quantitys of it in Towne brought in from Persia, w<sup>ch</sup> exceeds ours in goodness.

The teeth are not enquired aft<sup>r</sup> at present nor o<sup>r</sup> Broadcloth; w<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Hoigh brought up is now landed at y<sup>e</sup> Custome house, & as soon as rec<sup>d</sup> here shall d<sup>e</sup> out 300 p<sup>s</sup> y<sup>t</sup> wee sold at 3½ rupees per yard before y<sup>e</sup> troubles.

Wee have y<sup>e</sup> same report here y<sup>t</sup> you rec<sup>d</sup> from Ffort S<sup>t</sup> George y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Dutch have routed y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench from their settlm<sup>t</sup> on Ceilon & to y<sup>t</sup> added their takeing of 4 Ffrench ships, how true we know not. But to yo<sup>r</sup> Portugall newes y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench have 20 men of warr arrived there wee give noe credit; were it true wee should hear itt loud enough here; yo<sup>r</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> lett<sup>r</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> together with y<sup>e</sup> Coast Pacquett & yo<sup>r</sup> advices to Persia wee have rec<sup>d</sup> but they came to late to be sent by y<sup>e</sup> "Welcome," on w<sup>ch</sup> wee sent yo<sup>r</sup> former advices & y<sup>e</sup> Pacquett alsoe w<sup>ch</sup> wee rec<sup>d</sup> from Ffort S<sup>t</sup> George of w<sup>ch</sup> you have advice. Wee here of noe other ship at present laid in for Persia nor any peece Goods yett brought into Towne; when there doth, wee shall take y<sup>e</sup> advantage to forward yo<sup>r</sup> said advices.

The 4 Papers you sent us, about y<sup>e</sup> error in y<sup>e</sup> weight of y<sup>e</sup> "Hanniballs" Pepper, the report of y<sup>e</sup> Suratt Committee, the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> lett<sup>r</sup> to S<sup>t</sup> Hellena, & y<sup>e</sup> clauses of lett<sup>rs</sup> about Chous Tocquer & Somge Chitta, wee have rec<sup>d</sup> y<sup>m</sup> all; & shall at o<sup>r</sup> leisure send you o<sup>r</sup> sence thereof. M<sup>r</sup> James hath found out y<sup>e</sup> errors in y<sup>e</sup> Pepper to be as M<sup>r</sup> Colliers papers make it appear; occasioned by y<sup>e</sup> care of y<sup>e</sup> Baggs, he hath drawne out in a paper in answer thereto w<sup>ch</sup> goeth herewth w<sup>ch</sup> if yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> thinke fitting may be incerted in y<sup>r</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> lett<sup>r</sup>. And notwthstanding there is soe many pounds of Pepper invoiced home on y<sup>e</sup> "Hanniball" more then was laden, yet when M<sup>r</sup> Gray ballanced y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>tt</sup> of Pepper hee found none remayning by y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>tt</sup> over & above, w<sup>t</sup> wee really should have had according to y<sup>e</sup> weight of it y<sup>t</sup> was taken aft<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> ships were gone, w<sup>ch</sup> was y<sup>e</sup> next year laden on y<sup>e</sup> "London," soe y<sup>t</sup> he could not give advice of y<sup>e</sup> error, as he would have done, had he discovered it; but to prevent such mistakes hereaft<sup>r</sup> he will keep an acco<sup>tt</sup> of every Ffactorys pepper apart.

The Ffrigott is now getting in her masts & they are fitting carriages for her Gunns; wee will send you on her some tymber & provisions.

Wee detain here y<sup>e</sup> Madrass & Agra Cossetts in expectation of Hon<sup>rs</sup> advices; wee have rec<sup>d</sup> Duplicates from Tho. Roach at Agra; but noe addition to y<sup>e</sup> form<sup>r</sup> wee sent you by o<sup>r</sup> last express soe reserve y<sup>m</sup> by us. Wee add not more, but render you our due respects and remayne

Yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> & <sup>ca</sup> most Humble Serv<sup>ts</sup>,

Suratt, y<sup>e</sup> 31st October 1672.

MATTHEW GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

Worship<sup>ll</sup> & <sup>ca</sup>.

Our last unto you was off y<sup>e</sup> 9th inst<sup>t</sup>. Since wee have rec<sup>d</sup> yo<sup>rs</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> 4th Disso and having To Bombay. had a small leasure, wee shall answe<sup>r</sup> and give you o<sup>r</sup> directions of affaires formerly omitted.

As to y<sup>e</sup> Judges salary, having respect as well to o<sup>r</sup> M<sup>rs</sup> orders as also to his present condition & y<sup>e</sup> quality of y<sup>e</sup> employm<sup>t</sup>, wee have ordered y<sup>t</sup> his salary be 120 pound to be paid him quarterly, and to begin from his entrance into office, and y<sup>t</sup> he be allowed a horse or Pallankeen with a Sumbrera boy, as also a Gowne yearely at y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> charge, & he is req<sup>red</sup> to keepe an exact acco<sup>t</sup> of all monys rec<sup>d</sup> and fines, and having thereout discharged w<sup>t</sup> is layed out for y<sup>e</sup> sessions dinners, officers fees and publike expences, y<sup>e</sup> remaind<sup>r</sup> he is to pay into y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> cash.

As to M<sup>r</sup> Sterlings estate wee desire you to make strict enquiry thereunto of Girderdas and others, wth whome he had acco<sup>ts</sup>; wee here knowing nothing further thereof y<sup>n</sup> y<sup>t</sup> either he or Girderdas were fully sattisfyed in y<sup>e</sup> proceed of his adventure wth Mohangundy on y<sup>e</sup> ship "Meyolsy." Wee never heard he had any adventure wth y<sup>e</sup> sd<sup>d</sup> man. If he had wee judge nothing will ever be recovered thereof.

Wee observe yo<sup>r</sup> answer to our objection as to yo<sup>r</sup> late sale of Europe manufactures wth you, and doe in y<sup>e</sup> maine approve thereof, onely wee desire you to advise us at w<sup>t</sup> price you have sould y<sup>e</sup> said goods, and hereafter wee would have you make firme bargains with yo<sup>r</sup> merchants at y<sup>e</sup> best price you can to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> advantage, and not depend on y<sup>e</sup> uncertaine Rule of y<sup>e</sup> Price Curr<sup>t</sup> of Surat. Yet with all wee advise y<sup>t</sup> you have due respect to y<sup>e</sup> encouragement of y<sup>e</sup> trade of y<sup>e</sup> Island and y<sup>e</sup> speedy vent of all Europe commodities and especially English manufactures, which wee would have you turn into mony, soe soon as you can, y<sup>t</sup> you may be y<sup>e</sup> better enabled to carry on those investm<sup>ts</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall require of you for y<sup>e</sup> ensuing yeare.

Wee observe w<sup>t</sup> you advise touching y<sup>e</sup> ship "Hunters" freight and doe approve of yo<sup>r</sup> endeavours for her employm<sup>t</sup>, and seeing you declare she will stand us but in 300 Rup<sup>s</sup> p. month wee are contented y<sup>t</sup> you let her out for 500 Rup<sup>s</sup> p. month, w<sup>ch</sup> is as little as wee can reasonably take; if you can advance more you will doe y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> good service, yet wee advise y<sup>t</sup> you have regard herein alsoe to y<sup>e</sup> encouragem<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> merchants and y<sup>e</sup> good of y<sup>e</sup> Porte.

Wee heartily lament y<sup>e</sup>. frequent mortality of o<sup>r</sup>. countrymen and doe with you impute it to their grosse and scandalous Irregularitys in their sickness, w<sup>ch</sup> wee judge would be much prevented if wee had an Hospitall, wherefore wee have determined God willing to erect soe necessary a building wth all speed without attending further order from England, and wee doe hereby desire you to prepare materialls wthout further delay on y<sup>e</sup>. Hon<sup>ble</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup>. charge or if you want wee will supply you from hence.

Wee have considered of y<sup>e</sup>. two modell w<sup>ch</sup> in y<sup>e</sup>. maine wee like well off, but it seemeth to us y<sup>t</sup>. they are too narrow, and not soe much yard roome left as there ought to be, nor is there roome enough for y<sup>e</sup>. Chyrurgeon and his family and other attendants as there ought to be. Wherefore wee have ordered here another modell to be drawne out more large and airy, and consequently more healthy for y<sup>e</sup>. sick people, according to w<sup>ch</sup> wee would have you govern yo<sup>r</sup>. selves; but first of all wee would have you advise y<sup>e</sup>. place where it is to be built, for wee are not much inclined to y<sup>t</sup>. place formerly designed by Collonell Bake fearing y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. aire is not soe good there and it is too neere y<sup>e</sup>. sea. Wherefore doe you chuse out another place more convenient, having with all regard to y<sup>e</sup>. line of y<sup>e</sup>. ffortification, and alsoe to y<sup>e</sup>. line designed for y<sup>e</sup>. Christian Towne, and w<sup>n</sup>. you have pitcht upon a convenient place, and appointed a place for a garden adjoyning thereunto advise us thereof. Let y<sup>e</sup>. foundation be of good stone and lime, and let y<sup>e</sup>. ground be raised at least 3 or 4 foot high; y<sup>e</sup>. walles may be built of sand stone and lime, and raised to a convenient height. For other matters wee referr unto you, as alsoe wee doe y<sup>e</sup>. disposall of y<sup>e</sup>. Chyrurgeon, and of their chests of medicines desiring you to avoid and prevent all occasions of just complaint, either from their Chyrurgeons or their patients.

Wee have considered y<sup>e</sup>. request w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup>. Gentlewomen have made to you touching their allowance for 1 yeare, and y<sup>e</sup>. reason they alledge concerning it, and though wee are very willing to gratifie y<sup>m</sup> in any thing y<sup>t</sup>. lyes in o<sup>r</sup>. power, and doe beleive w<sup>t</sup> they say concerning M<sup>r</sup>. Lewis to be probable, yet wee declare wee cannot dispose of o<sup>r</sup>. M<sup>rs</sup>. estates without their order, and therefore they excuse us if wee doe not gratifie their desire; but whereas you say some of y<sup>m</sup> are in soe meane a condition y<sup>t</sup>. they cannot subsist without it, in such case and noe otherwise, wee in order y<sup>t</sup>. you allow either 6 or 8 p.doos a month those y<sup>t</sup>. are in reall necessity, y<sup>t</sup>. they be p.served from want, which withall they must understand as an act of charity from y<sup>e</sup>. Company in respect to their want; but those who are able wee expect should p.vide y<sup>m</sup>. selves, and wheras you give us notice y<sup>t</sup>. some of y<sup>e</sup>. women are growne scandalous to o<sup>r</sup>. Nation, Religion and Gov<sup>r</sup>. m<sup>t</sup>. wee require you in y<sup>e</sup>. Hon<sup>ble</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup>. name to give y<sup>m</sup> all faire warning y<sup>t</sup>. they doe apply y<sup>m</sup>. selves to a more sober and Christian conversation, otherwise y<sup>e</sup>. sentence is y<sup>s</sup>. y<sup>t</sup>. they shall be confined totally of their liberty to goe abroad and fed wth bread and water till they are embarqued on board ship for England.

Wee take notice of y<sup>e</sup>. Dep<sup>ie</sup>. Gov<sup>r</sup>. request, for y<sup>e</sup>. taking up 1000 Rup<sup>s</sup>. on y<sup>e</sup>. house and land w<sup>ch</sup> he hath bought hee says on his arrears of salary, in persuance of y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup>. order, wherein wee have thought good to gratifie him, req<sup>r</sup>.ing y<sup>e</sup>. said 1000 Rup<sup>s</sup>. be charged to his debt, and y<sup>t</sup>. he give a writing wherein he is to bind y<sup>e</sup>. s<sup>d</sup>. house and land over to y<sup>e</sup>. Company for their security till he hath cleared acco<sup>t</sup>. with y<sup>m</sup>.

Wee have p.used y<sup>e</sup>. petition of y<sup>e</sup>. souldiers w<sup>ch</sup> came on y<sup>e</sup>. "Ann," and esteem it unjust and unreasonable, and therefore cannot allow y<sup>m</sup> any pay till from their arrivall on y<sup>e</sup>. Island.

Wee herewth send you y<sup>e</sup>. Hon<sup>ble</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup>. Directions touching your regular and legall proceeding in y<sup>e</sup>. lands and estate belonging to Alvaro Pires De Tavora, and req<sup>r</sup>. you to per- forme y<sup>e</sup>. same accordingly, except you have reasons sufficient prompting you to y<sup>e</sup>. contrary, w<sup>ch</sup> wee would have you well consider with y<sup>e</sup>. Judge before you begin, and advise us his opinion ; and in regard there are sev<sup>ll</sup> pretenders to some p<sup>te</sup> and stipends out of said estate, viz<sup>t</sup> Christovar de Sourza, and others who have been with us to demand their right, wee would have you cause strict examination to be had of their respective titles, and let y<sup>m</sup> be proved in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> Court of Judicature in a legall way, and y<sup>n</sup> see if you doe y<sup>m</sup> all justice and allow to each person w<sup>t</sup> of right belongs to y<sup>m</sup> reserving to y<sup>e</sup> Companys use w<sup>t</sup> onely belongs to y<sup>e</sup> criminall Alvaro Pires De Tavora, in w<sup>ch</sup> be carefull y<sup>t</sup> you be not abused by y<sup>e</sup> false suggestions and pretences of y<sup>e</sup> sev<sup>ll</sup> claimers, but as you are to doe y<sup>m</sup> right and justice soe be circumspect y<sup>t</sup> they doe y<sup>e</sup> Company noe wrong.

Wee expect suddenly to receive y<sup>e</sup> goods w<sup>ch</sup> you have provided for England which fayle not to send us with all speed by some secure conveyance, for wee shall want y<sup>m</sup> very much ; and y<sup>e</sup> sooner wee receive y<sup>m</sup> y<sup>e</sup> better. In regard y<sup>e</sup> ship wee fear cannot y<sup>s</sup> yeare touch at Bombay, wherefore hasten Girderdas w<sup>t</sup> you can possible, and let y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> goods be laden on y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> owne shipping, and in failure thereof on their owne Shibarrs well guarded wth Souldiers to defend y<sup>m</sup> from y<sup>e</sup> Mallabarrs, who wee heare are numerous and very daring y<sup>s</sup> yeare, w<sup>ch</sup> being y<sup>e</sup> needfull as present, wee comend you to God's protection and remaine

Your very Loving freinds,

GERALD AUNGIER.

MATTHEW GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

Surat, 18th Decemb<sup>r</sup>. 1675.

Honored Freinds,

It is long since wee rec<sup>d</sup> any l<sup>res</sup> from you, but by o<sup>r</sup> advices from Fort St<sup>t</sup> George we understand of your good health, w<sup>ch</sup> pray God continue. Y<sup>e</sup> bearers hereof are y<sup>e</sup> Rev<sup>erend</sup> Padrees Cardo Sevim Abate, and Pedro Gefrard, who being dessigned for Metchlepatan, and from thence to Syam and Tonqueene, have thought good to value y<sup>m</sup> selves on o<sup>r</sup> l<sup>res</sup> of recommendation w<sup>ch</sup> wee have been y<sup>e</sup> rather p<sup>s</sup>waded to afford y<sup>m</sup>. In regard wee have rec<sup>d</sup> worthy charecters of their quality, discreet Comportm<sup>t</sup> and Pious conversation from y<sup>e</sup> Consull of Aleppo, and others our good freinds, and wee intreat you to favour y<sup>m</sup> with your freindly countenance and assistance in w<sup>t</sup> they shall reasonably desire from you, wherein you will doe right to our freindship, and confirme y<sup>e</sup> good esteeme these gentlemen doe entertaine of y<sup>e</sup> knowne civillities of y<sup>e</sup> English nation.

By a ship lately arrived from Persia wee rec<sup>d</sup> some private l<sup>res</sup> from England w<sup>ch</sup> advise y<sup>e</sup> safe arrivall of y<sup>e</sup> 2 ships "Ffaulcon" and "Mary" on y<sup>e</sup> 30th June. Our last l<sup>res</sup> are dated y<sup>e</sup> 19th July, and y<sup>n</sup> none of yo<sup>r</sup> Coast ships were arrived but were expected every day. Y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys auction was valued at 240 per cent. In England blessed bee God all was well ; his Ma<sup>tie</sup> not onely enjoying a universall peace with all his neighbours, but to his owne great Hono<sup>r</sup> and y<sup>e</sup> repute of y<sup>e</sup> nation he holds y<sup>e</sup> ballance of Europe in his hands, being declared mediator of y<sup>e</sup> generall peace now treated off betweene y<sup>e</sup> house of Austria &<sup>ca</sup> confederates and y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench King, w<sup>ch</sup> treaty is now held at Nemigan Holland, whither all y<sup>e</sup> Princes concerned have sent their Ambassadors. In y<sup>e</sup> meantime y<sup>e</sup> war is violently prosecuted in all p<sup>ts</sup>, but y<sup>e</sup> success of y<sup>e</sup> Campania seemed more favourable to y<sup>e</sup> confederates y<sup>n</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> French, for y<sup>e</sup> Sweedish Army w<sup>ch</sup> had entered y<sup>e</sup> territories of y<sup>e</sup> Duke of Brandenburg in favour of y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench had rec<sup>d</sup> a notable repulse, and y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench Army in Germany commanded by Marshall Turine had fought a most bloody battell wth y<sup>e</sup> Emperors Army, wherein y<sup>e</sup> victory was a long time disputed and neither side will yeild it to y<sup>e</sup> other ; but y<sup>e</sup> Consull of Aleppo writes y<sup>t</sup>. it is certaine y<sup>e</sup>. Ffrench have lost many brave men, and y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. General Turine* was killed by a great shot; and y<sup>s</sup>. is all y<sup>e</sup>. newes of moment wee hitherto rec<sup>d</sup>.

To Ft<sup>t</sup> St<sup>t</sup> George to Metchlepatan.

Inclosed wee send you w<sup>t</sup>. Gazzets are as yet come to hand, w<sup>ch</sup> after p.usall wee desire you to send forward to y<sup>e</sup>. Agent and Councell of Ffort S<sup>t</sup>. George together wth o<sup>r</sup>. L<sup>rs</sup> here inclosed.

The ship "Returne" arrived here on y<sup>e</sup>. 6th December from Syam having left M<sup>r</sup>. Hammon Gibbon and others settled in y<sup>t</sup>. Ffactory, whome y<sup>e</sup>. King treats with all civillity, expressing great kindness to y<sup>e</sup>. Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup>. and Nation.

The "Unicorne" set sayle from hence on y<sup>e</sup>. 13th December full Laden for Bantam; y<sup>e</sup>. other 4 ships are now taking in their lading for England but shall be in exceeding streight to find goods for y<sup>m</sup>.; w<sup>ch</sup> being at present w<sup>t</sup>. wee calle to mind worth yo<sup>r</sup>. notice, with all kind salutes wee remaine

Your very loving Freinds,

GERALD AUNGIER.

MATHEW GRAY.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Swally Marine, December y<sup>e</sup>. 29th, 1675.

Wors<sup>ll</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>.

To Bombay.

Seeing you apprehend soe great a disappointm<sup>t</sup>. by y<sup>e</sup>. ships not touching at Bombay wee shall soe contrive it y<sup>t</sup>. one ship shall certainly call upon you, and therefore you may order yo<sup>r</sup>. affaires accordingly.

Wee take notice w<sup>t</sup>. you write touching y<sup>e</sup>. Prizes taken by y<sup>e</sup>. "Hunter" Ffrigatt belonging to y<sup>e</sup>. Capt<sup>ns</sup> Chaule & Dabull, touching their surrender of w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup>. Cap<sup>tn</sup> of Chaule hath already sent his l<sup>res</sup> of Intersession, & seeing you declare y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. vessell and goods are of soe little value y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. detainne will be of little or no profitt to y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>y</sup>. & y<sup>e</sup>. surrender will turne much to y<sup>e</sup>. Reputation of y<sup>e</sup>. Porte, and seeing alsoe wee are sensible of y<sup>e</sup>. Capt<sup>ns</sup> of Chaule & Dabull may have frequent occasions to doe y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>y</sup>. service, wee doe consent to gratifie y<sup>m</sup> soe far as to relinquish y<sup>e</sup>. share y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. Company may pretend to in y<sup>e</sup>. said Prizes, but they must understand it as a peculier respect wee have for their p.sons, and y<sup>t</sup>. it shall not be brought into example for y<sup>e</sup>. future; but wee declare alsoe y<sup>t</sup>. wee cannot Relinquish y<sup>e</sup>. Just & Right pretence as belongs to y<sup>e</sup>. men who were engaged in y<sup>t</sup>. service, whome wee will have allowed a Reasonable share according to y<sup>e</sup>. custome of y<sup>e</sup>. sea, w<sup>ch</sup> wee leave to you there to adjust, in such manner as you shall conclude will most conduce with encouragement of o<sup>r</sup>. People & wth sattisfaction to y<sup>e</sup>. persons concerned.

Wee take notice of y<sup>e</sup>. Reinderos of Bussein Pollicy, to invite merch<sup>ts</sup> to y<sup>t</sup>. porte by abating halfe customes, wherein wee can noe wayes Blame him but commend him as a prudent actor, & y<sup>e</sup>. better to prevent any inconvenience y<sup>t</sup>. may accrue to o<sup>r</sup>. Porte thereby, wee would have you call a Councell, & advise wth y<sup>e</sup>. most knowing merch<sup>ts</sup> of y<sup>e</sup>. Island, whether it may conduce to y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup> Interest to allow any freedome or abatement of o<sup>r</sup>. customes to such merch<sup>ts</sup>

---

* Turenne fell in the battle of Sasbach, 17th July 1675. "Temple repaired to the Hague in July 1674. Holland was now secure, and France was surrounded on every side by enemies. Spain and the Emperor were in arms for the purpose of compelling Louis to abandon all that he had acquired since the treaty of the Pyrennes. A Congress for the purpose of putting an end to the war was opened at Nimeguen under the mediation of England in 1675 and to that Congress Temple was deputed. The work of conciliation, however, went on very slowly, the belligerent powers were still sanguine, and the mediating power was unsteady and insincere." Macaulay's Essay on Sir William Temple.

as pass to & fro without discharging on island; & send us yo<sup>r</sup>. opinion thereof, y<sup>t</sup>. wee send such orders as shall be necessary for such affaires.

The Mallabarr Coaster returning to us from Cambaya with about 100 Candy of corne wee have unladen her, & Returned her to Cambaya, to bring y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup> goods from thence; and wee have sent downe y<sup>e</sup>. s<sup>d</sup>. corne by y<sup>e</sup>. "Good Neighbour" to be delivered to those to whome it does belong.

By y<sup>e</sup>. "Happy Rose" lately arrived from Persia, wee rec<sup>d</sup>. some private l<sup>res</sup> from England, w<sup>ch</sup> advise y<sup>e</sup>. safe arrivall of y<sup>e</sup>. two ships "Faulcon" & "Mary," on y<sup>e</sup>. 30th June: o<sup>r</sup>. last l<sup>res</sup> are dated y<sup>e</sup>. 19th July, & y<sup>n</sup>. none of y<sup>e</sup>. Coast ships were arrived but were expect<sup>d</sup> every day. Y<sup>e</sup>. Honorable Comp<sup>as</sup> auction was valued at 240 p. c<sup>t</sup>. In England blessed be God all was well; his Mat<sup>ie</sup> not only Enjoying a universall Peace with all his neighboures, but to his owne great hono<sup>r</sup>. & y<sup>e</sup>. repute of y<sup>e</sup>. nation he holds y<sup>e</sup>. ballance of Europe in his hands being declared mediator of y<sup>e</sup>. Gen<sup>ll</sup> Peace now treated off betweene y<sup>e</sup>. house of Austria &<sup>ca</sup> Confederates & y<sup>e</sup>. Ffrench King, which treaty is now held at Nemigan in Holland, whither all y<sup>e</sup>. Princes concerned have sent their ambassadores. In y<sup>e</sup>. meane time y<sup>e</sup>. war is violently prosecuted in all p<sup>ts</sup>, but y<sup>e</sup>. successe of y<sup>e</sup>. Campania seemed more favourable to y<sup>e</sup>. Confederates y<sup>n</sup>. to y<sup>e</sup>. Ffrench, for y<sup>e</sup>. Swedish Army w<sup>ch</sup> had entered y<sup>e</sup>. territories of y<sup>e</sup>. Duke of Brandenburge in favour of y<sup>e</sup>. Ffrench had rec<sup>d</sup>. a notable Repulse, & y<sup>e</sup>. Ffrench Army in Germany commanded by Marshall Turine had fought a most bloody battell with y<sup>e</sup>. Emperours army, wherein y<sup>e</sup>. victory was a long time disputed & neither side will yield to y<sup>e</sup>. other; but y<sup>e</sup>. Consull of Aleppo writes y<sup>t</sup>. it is certaine y<sup>e</sup>. Ffrench have lost many brave men, & y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. Gen<sup>ll</sup> Turine was killed by a great shot; & y<sup>s</sup>. is all y<sup>e</sup>. newes of moments wee hitherto have received.

On y<sup>e</sup>. ship "Good Neighbour" Cap<sup>t</sup>. Adderton, take their passage to you M<sup>r</sup>. Weatherden who hath since altered his Resolution of going home, & now is willing againe to live on y<sup>e</sup>. Island, alsoe Parum y<sup>e</sup>. musitian, whome wee have sent downe supposing he will be more useful to you y<sup>n</sup>. he can be any wayes to us; to both w<sup>ch</sup> wee would have you be kind assisting y<sup>m</sup>. in w<sup>t</sup>. you may.

This is w<sup>t</sup>. wee call to mind at present worthy advice, soe remaine

Your very Loving Freinds,

GERALD AUNGIER.

MATHEW GRAY.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Swally Marine, y<sup>e</sup>. 2<sup>d</sup> January 1675-76.

Wee inclosed send you Inv<sup>o</sup>. of what provisions laden on the "Good Neighbour" amounting to R<sup>s</sup>. 825 : 40 pice, also the invoice of what wee sent you on the "Fleece" w<sup>ch</sup> amounting to R<sup>s</sup>. 2833, for both which we desire you to give o<sup>r</sup>. account credit.

As for y<sup>e</sup>. drugg & garden seeds wee desire you to reserve us some of each sorte and send us by y<sup>e</sup>. first opportunity.

Your Loving Freinds,

GERALD AUNGIER.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

MATTHEW GRAY.

Swally Marine y<sup>e</sup>. Xth January 1675-76.

To Bombay.      Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>

Wee are now in answer of yo<sup>r</sup> by y<sup>e</sup> "Hunter," whome wee have unladen, alsoe y<sup>e</sup> Shibarr with y<sup>e</sup> Bombay goods, w<sup>ch</sup> are not soe great quantityes as wee expected to have rec<sup>d</sup>, neither have wee rec<sup>d</sup> any cloth from Goga for acco<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Island, & doe very much blame Girder y<sup>t</sup> he hath not his goods sooner y<sup>t</sup> wee might have had time to overlooke y<sup>m</sup>, & give you o<sup>r</sup> opinion of their goodness, but now wee are forced to ship y<sup>m</sup> off soe soone as landed. The wooden Maulls wee have rece<sup>d</sup>, and shall be sent for England accordingly.

As to advising you y<sup>e</sup> Price Curr<sup>t</sup> of Europe goods in Surat y<sup>t</sup> you may adjust yo<sup>r</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup> with y<sup>e</sup> Merch<sup>ts</sup> to whome you sould yo<sup>r</sup> goods, wee desire yo<sup>r</sup> patience till after dispatch of y<sup>e</sup> Ships, w<sup>n</sup> wee shall be more at leasure.

The seituation of y<sup>e</sup> place whereon to erect y<sup>e</sup> Hospitall all wee leave totally to yo<sup>r</sup> judgem<sup>ts</sup> to act therein as you shall thinke most convenient; & wee would have you soe neere as possible you can comply with o<sup>r</sup> desires in y<sup>e</sup> modell wee sent you downe; as to the length and breadth & all other dimentions; those openings out of y<sup>e</sup> wards & Chyrurgeons lodgings are dessigned for windowes and not for doores, and y<sup>e</sup> Chyrurgery roomes must be one story high; wee shall be mindfull on all occasions to supply you with large quantities of Chynam, being sensible of your great expences thereof, & wee only want boats to carry it downe.

To Erecting y<sup>e</sup> Church, & y<sup>e</sup> place where, wee shall have time enough to consider thereof, seeing wee cannot get in hand wth it till wee have answer from y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>; & alsoe of y<sup>e</sup> overflowne lands, to whome wee have referred o<sup>r</sup>selves for their approvall and directions.

Concerning y<sup>e</sup> Dutch Commander's request to you wee would have you use y<sup>e</sup> accustomed civillity of y<sup>e</sup> Porte y<sup>t</sup> is used to F<sup>r</sup>ench and other & nations in y<sup>e</sup> like nature, but be very cautious in letting them pry into y<sup>e</sup> strength and force of y<sup>e</sup> Island.

The sev<sup>ll</sup> copies sent up wee have rec<sup>d</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> shall be sent home to the Hono<sup>ble</sup> Company.

Of Lieut<sup>t</sup> Becks Peticion wee shall say nothing to at present, but referr him to o<sup>r</sup> answer w<sup>n</sup> wee have duely considered of it and are more at leasure.

O<sup>r</sup> Goods come downe soe slowly, y<sup>t</sup> wee feare there is noe probability of any of y<sup>e</sup> ships touching at y<sup>e</sup> Island, wherefore wee would not have you depend thereon.

The "Hunter" Ffrigatt wee shall dispatch to you very suddenly laden with iron and other goods; w<sup>ch</sup> being y<sup>e</sup> needfull at present, wee remaine

Your Loving Freinds,

GER: AUNGIER.

MAT<sup>t</sup> GRAY.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Swally Marine y<sup>e</sup> 11th January 1675-76.

To Bombay.      Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>

Wee are now in answer of yo<sup>r</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> l<sup>res</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> 6th 10th and 12th January, having already acknowledged y<sup>e</sup> rec<sup>t</sup> of yo<sup>r</sup> Bookes, w<sup>ch</sup> wee had not time to examine but made y<sup>m</sup> up in o<sup>r</sup> box y<sup>e</sup> very same Day wee rec<sup>d</sup> y<sup>m</sup>; yo<sup>r</sup> Pacquetts were alsoe enclosed in o<sup>r</sup> owne and wee have recommended what wee found necessary to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> relating to y<sup>e</sup> Island.

Wee observe w<sup>t</sup> you write in yo<sup>r</sup> l<sup>re</sup> and Consultation touching y<sup>e</sup> quarrell and duell fought between Cap<sup>t</sup> Minchin & M<sup>r</sup> Hornigold, w<sup>ch</sup> is y<sup>e</sup> usuall effect of y<sup>t</sup> accursed Bombay Punch, to y<sup>e</sup> shame, scandall and ruine of o<sup>r</sup> nation & religion. Wee thought M<sup>r</sup> Hornigold and Cap<sup>t</sup> Minchin had been persons of a more sober and regular conversation; and y<sup>t</sup> they had more regard to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> authority, y<sup>e</sup> observation of y<sup>e</sup> lawes and Governm<sup>t</sup>, & to their owne reputation, then to rend<sup>r</sup> themselves soe scandalous as they have done first in besotting y<sup>m</sup>selves with drunkenness, and afterwards in breaking y<sup>e</sup> lawes. Wee doe very well approve of w<sup>t</sup> you have done in suspending y<sup>m</sup> from their offices and confining y<sup>m</sup>, & doe discommend y<sup>e</sup> ridiculous policy of y<sup>t</sup> Gentleman who was of y<sup>e</sup> contrary opinion; and wee doe req<sup>t</sup> you hereafter to be very strict, & severe in y<sup>e</sup> execution of y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> lawes without respect of persons w<sup>t</sup>soever. Wee had resolved as a just punishm<sup>t</sup> for their offence not only to have continued y<sup>e</sup> suspension of y<sup>e</sup> said criminalls from their offices, but alsoe to have expressed further demonstration of o<sup>r</sup> just displeasure against y<sup>m</sup>; but you having interceded soe much in their behalves, all y<sup>e</sup> Command<sup>ers</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Europe shipping alsoe having become their mediators, and they also having expressed a sence of their ffault, and promising never to be guilty of y<sup>e</sup> like againe, not having knowne y<sup>m</sup> formerly subject to such irregularities, wee doe thinke good to restore y<sup>m</sup> againe to their places, only for their better remembrance sake wee doe req<sup>r</sup> y<sup>t</sup> they be fined 50 Xeraphins a peece towards y<sup>e</sup> building y<sup>e</sup> new Hospitall w<sup>ch</sup> wee require you to see performed.

Wee doe much resent y<sup>e</sup> ffoolish Imprudent proceeding of M<sup>r</sup> Stephen Vatick in discovering y<sup>e</sup> secrets of y<sup>e</sup> Councell in declaring y<sup>e</sup> sence of any member thereof in cases of justice; wherein he hath discovered himselfe to be of a nature either ill disposed, or incapable of soe weighty charge, wee doe in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> name severely check him for it and req<sup>r</sup> him to forbear such practices as he values his owne Hono<sup>r</sup> & his future good.

Wee are sorry to understand y<sup>e</sup> Death of Cap<sup>t</sup> Leif<sup>t</sup> Ponting; and require y<sup>t</sup> Leif<sup>t</sup> Beck (who is now y<sup>e</sup> ancient officer on y<sup>e</sup> Island) doe supply his place and Command y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>rs</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup>, it of right belonging unto him; and y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> other Comp<sup>y</sup> be called y<sup>e</sup> Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>rs</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> & be commanded by Leif<sup>t</sup> Ffletcher, for wee shall not make any new officers being willing to ease y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> charge soe much as possibly wee may.

We would have you put to sale y<sup>e</sup> Publik Revenues at y<sup>e</sup> usual time & to use all just and prudent meanes to raise y<sup>m</sup> as high as you can; y<sup>e</sup> customs alsoe wee would have farmed out; for wee Judge it will ease y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> much of their expences; and if you doe find it will prove to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> advantage to let it out for 2 or 3 years wee leave it to you, only be careful y<sup>t</sup> you take good security for all yo<sup>r</sup> Farme. According to y<sup>e</sup> usuall Customes wee shall not limit you any price to bid the Comp<sup>as</sup> acco<sup>t</sup> or any other Particular, but leave it to yo<sup>r</sup> care & prudence. Act therein as you shall thinke most consistent with y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> Interest and the Publicke good.

Wee shall supply Cap<sup>t</sup> May with 1500 Rup<sup>s</sup> if he shall want it.

As to y<sup>e</sup> quarrelle betweene May and Wrightington wee shall let y<sup>m</sup> both know o<sup>r</sup> sence of their Rashness and Imprudence; let them beware how they give us such another occasion of offence; but as to their Proceedings at Law wee doe not thinke good to stopp y<sup>e</sup> course of Justice upon an idle suggestion of y<sup>e</sup> Judges Partiality whome wee have a better opinion off y<sup>n</sup> to thinke he will fforfeit his creditt, and it may be his office also, by an unjustifiable sentence.

The Commd<sup>rs</sup> of ships as well as all others ought to be subject to Law, in case of Justice and Common Right, nor are they more free from arrests y<sup>n</sup> any others; but if you find y<sup>m</sup> prosecuted on triviall causes by vexatious suites at their departure, w<sup>ch</sup> may tend to y<sup>e</sup> loss and hindrance of their voyage, and loss and prejudice to y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Company, you ought not to admitt of such proceedings, and y<sup>e</sup> officers off y<sup>e</sup> Court to forbear prosecuting y<sup>m</sup>, till their returne, and y<sup>n</sup> they may take their course at last.

When y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> was at Bombay he made noe question to procure freights and voyages for y<sup>e</sup> "Mayboome," "Hunter" & "Revenge," w<sup>ch</sup> would have bourne their charge, but wee are sorry to find in yo<sup>r</sup> Lr<sup>e</sup> y<sup>t</sup> you cannot procure y<sup>m</sup> a freight from y<sup>e</sup> Island. It is o<sup>r</sup> earnest desire y<sup>t</sup> those vessels may be employed to & from y<sup>e</sup> Island, as well for y<sup>e</sup> security of y<sup>e</sup> Port as encouragement of Merch<sup>ts</sup> trade, & wee would have you by all meanes endeavour it, though you let y<sup>m</sup> out on cheape Freights, to Mocha, Muscat, Persia or Bussorah. Be serious and earnest in y<sup>e</sup> affaire. And tell y<sup>e</sup> Broker Girderdas wee would have him encourage y<sup>e</sup> Merch<sup>ts</sup> what he can, for whome wee Judge it far safer to trade on y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>ys</sup> ships paying reasonable Freight y<sup>n</sup> adventure their estates in Little Grabs which are subject every day to y<sup>e</sup> surprisall of Mallabarrs. Wee would alsoe have you encourage y<sup>e</sup> Merch<sup>ts</sup> to trade to Pattah on y<sup>e</sup> coast of Melinda, and alsoe Sinda on y<sup>e</sup> the coast of Pumenea, and if you can ffreight any of y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> vessels y<sup>t</sup> way wee would have you doe it.

The Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> did lately send y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> a bill of Exchange drawne by Sevajee Rajah upon his correspondent in Golconda, being on acco<sup>t</sup> of money due to some Merch<sup>ts</sup> on Bombay & paid for corne and other goods sold to Sevajee's Soobedarrs by his owne ord<sup>r</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> Remainder of y<sup>e</sup> money was to be invested in corne for Sevaje's owne acco<sup>t</sup>. Y<sup>e</sup> said bill was accordingly sent up, but is againe Returne unto us, y<sup>e</sup> Person on whome it was drawne being departed from Golconda before its arrivall. Y<sup>e</sup> bill wee now Returne you here inclosed, seeing the Company y<sup>m</sup>selves are concerned in y<sup>e</sup> business as well as their Merch<sup>t</sup> whome they are bound to protect agst any violence of their neighbours. Wee thinke good that you owne y<sup>e</sup> cause publikly as y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>ys</sup> concerned, and in order to y<sup>e</sup> speedy recovery of said money y<sup>t</sup> you send up y<sup>e</sup> chiefe Broker Girderdas together with Narran Sunay and one or 2 able English men who in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> name are to deliver y<sup>e</sup> letter herewith sent to Sevajee and Moropunditt together with another Letter from y<sup>e</sup> Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> & in y<sup>e</sup> said name to demand satisfaction for y<sup>e</sup> said money together with interest and other damages and they are not to depart till they have satisfaction. But if they see noe probability of sattisfaction y<sup>n</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Englishmen are first to make protest in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> name agst their proceedings, and declare y<sup>t</sup> if any damage or breach of friendship doth acrew thereby, they are y<sup>e</sup> cause thereof; & y<sup>n</sup> they are to returne and having given you an acco<sup>t</sup> of their proceedings, you are to signifie y<sup>e</sup> same to us, and wee shall take such course therein as shall consist wth o<sup>r</sup> Masters. Hono<sup>r</sup> Interest and security of their Merch<sup>ts</sup> and trade hereafter in those p<sup>ts</sup>. All w<sup>ch</sup> wee heartily commend to yo<sup>r</sup> observance & remaine

Swally Marine, 24th Jan<sup>y</sup> 1675-76.

Yo<sup>r</sup> very Loving Friends,

GER<sup>r</sup> AUNGIER.

MATHEW GRAY.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

May it Please yo<sup>rs</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup>,

To the Company.

The "E. I. Merch<sup>t</sup>" set sayle from y<sup>e</sup> Barr y<sup>e</sup> 18th Curr<sup>t</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> "Ann" y<sup>e</sup> 19th, y<sup>e</sup> "London" the 20th Ditto. Wee pray God send y<sup>m</sup> a prosperouse voyage to you. By y<sup>m</sup> wee sent you o<sup>r</sup> bookes of acco<sup>ts</sup> & all necessary papers, and in o<sup>r</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> wrote you at large touching all yo<sup>r</sup> affaires, copy whereof wee now send you and thereunto referr.

It was y<sup>e</sup> 30th January before y<sup>e</sup> Caphilaes from Ahmadawad, Kelyvely & Agra were all arrived, w<sup>ch</sup> goods wee reserved for y<sup>or</sup> "Massingbird," having emptied y<sup>or</sup> Marine Warehouses of all other goods w<sup>t</sup>soever in lading of y<sup>e</sup> other 3 shippes. Since wee knew India wee never observed such an universall obstruction in trade from all p<sup>ts</sup> as y<sup>e</sup> yeare hath produced, in delays, stopping, plundering of Caphilaes, noe way being secure from danger.

The Coolys Rashpoots appearing in bodyes of 2 or 3000 and carry whole Caphilaes away, yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> have suffered much in y<sup>t</sup> common calamity. For besides y<sup>e</sup> detainee of yo<sup>r</sup> Ships soe long for wants of goods, w<sup>ch</sup> is noe meane prejudice, one of yo<sup>r</sup> Caphilaes hath been totally plundered, for recovery whereof wee have made o<sup>r</sup> application to all y<sup>e</sup> Kings Gov<sup>rs</sup> of those p<sup>ts</sup>, demanding sattisfaction by virtue of y<sup>e</sup> Kings Phirm<sup>d</sup>, but finding not y<sup>t</sup> redresse wee expected, & hearing y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> of Ahmedavad, Mamud Emy<sup>n</sup> Kaun is come downe with a great army to punish those theevish rebels, wee have thought necessary to send M<sup>r</sup> Isaac Reynardson to meet him with a convenient present, the better to perswade him to procure satisfaction of your losses; & M<sup>r</sup> Reynardson having by his very prudent and ingenious comportment, gained reputation & interest with y<sup>e</sup> said Gov<sup>r</sup> and other Officers, wee promised o<sup>r</sup> selves restitution of said goods through his good management, and alsoe y<sup>t</sup> care be taken to secure yo<sup>r</sup> Caphilaes better hereafter.

Wee advised you formerly y<sup>e</sup> ill successe of yo<sup>r</sup> factory at Dungom neare Brainpore where M<sup>r</sup> Samuell Austin was taken prisoner, plundered of all he had to y<sup>e</sup> very clothes on his back, & yo<sup>r</sup> factory house burnt, all y<sup>e</sup> goods therein, & as y<sup>e</sup> weavers destroyed by Savajees flying Army. Touching w<sup>ch</sup> wee thought fit to send up M<sup>r</sup> Austen himself to Savajee Rajah, to complain & expostulate y<sup>e</sup> great violence done us when we were at peace with him, whose narrative wee send you herewith. Sattisfaction could not be procured, Savajee declaring y<sup>t</sup> he was not lyable to make good any losse wee sustained in his enemyes country agst whome he prosecuted a just war; he blamed y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> his Army much for y<sup>e</sup> violence don us; & to y<sup>e</sup> end wee should not be subject to such injuries hereafter he gave us his coles or paseports for y<sup>t</sup> place as also for many other factoryes; but wee know not how farr they may be trusted unto, and therefore wee shall adventure noe more y<sup>a</sup> y<sup>e</sup> necessity of yo<sup>r</sup> affairs force us unto, for y<sup>e</sup> better procuring of goods for England. M<sup>r</sup> Austin hath in y<sup>e</sup> affaire don you good service and behaved himselfe prudently; his Losses were great and bespeake yo<sup>r</sup> favorable eye towards him.

Yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> most humble Servants,

Swally Marine, February y<sup>e</sup> 2<sup>d</sup> 1675
76

G. A.
M. G.
C. J.
C. C.

Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>

Respected Freinds.

O<sup>r</sup> last unto you was of y<sup>e</sup> 24th January since w<sup>ch</sup> wee have received yo<sup>rs</sup> of the 17th & 27th January to the materiall part whereof wee now answere. To Bombay.

As to y<sup>e</sup> Pursur of the "Mayboome," wee understand that he ran over board of himselfe in a violent fit of a frenzy, but y<sup>e</sup> "Mayboome" being now bound for Bombay, wee Judge it convenient and doe require that the matter be examined in y<sup>e</sup> Court of Judicature at Bombay according to Law, y<sup>t</sup> being a proper place for such cases, and y<sup>t</sup> the said custome be held in all cases of y<sup>e</sup> like nature. And as wee desire that Justice may be don soe wee would have you take care y<sup>t</sup> vexatious suites, and contrivances layed by common Barristors to disturb y<sup>e</sup> quiet of good people, may be discouraged, and prevented. And let y<sup>e</sup> Judge know from us that wee expect he maintaine the gravity, integrity & authority of his Office; and that he doth not bring a disrepute on the Court of Bombay by lightness, partiality, self-seeking, or countenancing common Barristors in w<sup>ch</sup> sort of vermine they say Bombay is very unhappy.

As to Madam Shaxtons request of leaving y<sup>e</sup> Island and going to Rojapore, wee doe most unwillingly receive such applications to us, because they tend to ill consequence, and are a breach of ord<sup>rs</sup> and good Government; but seeing Madam Shaxton is a person to whose prudence and virtue wee have regard, and knowing y<sup>t</sup> her desire doth proceed not from a vaine affection of change, but from a reall distemper of health, wee thinke good to condescend thereunto provided y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> be not put to any charge for her transport or returne or stay at Rojapore; and y<sup>t</sup> you write to M<sup>r</sup> Child to take care y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Company be allowed for the extraordinary charge of y<sup>e</sup> Gentlewomen there during their stay, & y<sup>t</sup> they doe not stay there longer y<sup>n</sup> necessity as to their health requires.

As to y<sup>e</sup> Soape it is already ordered to be y<sup>e</sup> Companys Commodity, and wee would have you soe continue it. To w<sup>ch</sup> end whatsoever is brought in from abroad must pay 9 p.c.<sup>t</sup> custome and if y<sup>t</sup> will not discourage y<sup>e</sup> Merchants from bringing of it in, you must raise y<sup>e</sup> custome higher to 12 p.c.<sup>t</sup> till they be totally discouraged. And wee would have you study all just & prudent meanes to improve y<sup>t</sup> commodity y<sup>e</sup> most you can to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> advantage; and if you want any materiall from hence to be bought at the best hand, advise us thereof and they shall be sent you.

Wee approve what you have done touching y<sup>e</sup> theives condemned, but hereafter wee have thought good to make y<sup>e</sup> standing ord<sup>r</sup> that whatever theives are condemned in Court shall be kept in chaines and at constant worke in Bombay till they can be transported to S<sup>t</sup> Helena, and if they be slaves, and doe belong to any proprietor on y<sup>e</sup> Island the Company shall allow y<sup>m</sup> 30 Seraphins p. head; and y<sup>e</sup> wee doe require you to observe as a standing ord<sup>r</sup> amoungst you.

As to y<sup>e</sup> Ffreight of y<sup>e</sup> Corne sent downe on y<sup>e</sup> Mallabarr Coaster, it was agreed that y<sup>e</sup> owner should pay the accustomarry Ffreight betweene Surat and Bombay, which you are to demand for all goods hereafter laden, or to be laden on y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> vessells.

Wee doe allow y<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> John Pettit take up 1000 Rup<sup>s</sup> on arrers of wages, but req<sup>r</sup> you take care y<sup>t</sup> you see y<sup>e</sup> monyes layed out in building, & let y<sup>e</sup> Dep<sup>tie</sup> Governour and M<sup>r</sup> Pettit signe bonds to y<sup>e</sup> Company for y<sup>e</sup> monyes soe taken up, and make over said houses for their security.

Wee are sorry to heare y<sup>e</sup> Mallabarrs are soe bold as to disturb yo<sup>r</sup> Porte, and wonder you doe not send out y<sup>e</sup> Shibarrs well manned to drive y<sup>m</sup> away. Y<sup>e</sup> "Revenge" is bound on a voyage to Persia. Wee now send y<sup>e</sup> "Mayboome" downe, who will alsoe be employed as you will heare hereafter. But you will have y<sup>e</sup> "Mallabarr" Prow there, and Shibarrs well provided and such as you can well mann; it is a shame for you to affraid of y<sup>e</sup> Mallabarrs and suffer y<sup>m</sup> to domineer. Nor shall wee allow that as any just reason for y<sup>e</sup> lessening yo<sup>r</sup> Customes, seeing it lyes in yo<sup>r</sup> power to cleare the Porte when you will.

Wee take notice of y<sup>e</sup> Report of Savajees death w<sup>ch</sup> is alsoe confirmed here. Wee pray be carefull to recover that mony which is due to y<sup>e</sup> Company and the Merchants on y<sup>e</sup> Island for the last goods sould, and trust noe more of the Companyes Estates in any of y<sup>e</sup> Soobedarrs hands till that debt be firste satisfied, and then be as weary as you can, how can you trust those people till they keepe their words better with us then hitherto they have done.

Wee have more Chinam ready for you and shall send it downe by y<sup>e</sup> first opportunity; and shall ord<sup>r</sup> Mr. Reynardson to send y<sup>e</sup> salt boates from Broach hither to be laden with Chinam bricks and tyles to be provided for them.

Wee have already sent you directions touching y<sup>e</sup> sale of y<sup>e</sup> publicke rents and of the settling the 2 Companyes w<sup>ch</sup> wee require you to follow. Y<sup>e</sup> Pursur in y<sup>e</sup> "Mayboomes" place wee have settled on M<sup>r</sup>. Selater newly come from Bantam who hath promised to behave himselfe soberly and dilligently in y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup> affaires and setting the acco<sup>ts</sup> of y<sup>e</sup>. ship, which if he deth not performe advise us thereof y<sup>t</sup> wee may ord<sup>r</sup>. accordingly.

Wee take notice of yo<sup>r</sup>. proceedings touching Alvaro Pires his case and presuming it is according to law and y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup> Directions wee approve thereof.

M<sup>r</sup>. John Child having advised us that the Soobedarr of Rojapore hath a great quantitie of coconutts to be laden for account of freight, to be sent for to Suratt, w<sup>ch</sup> coconuts wee are to dispose off thereout to pay the Compay y<sup>e</sup>. first payment of what agreed on, per contract, wee have thought good to ord<sup>r</sup>. the "Mayboome" downe thither as well to lade soe much as she can bring her selfe, as to be Convoy to such other vessells, as wee would have you hire at Bombay for Transport of said goods from Rojapore to Surat. Wee enclosed send y<sup>e</sup>. contract made betweene M<sup>r</sup>. Child and the Soobedarr of Rojapore and would have you not to fayle to send downe boates sufficient for y<sup>e</sup>. bringing up the said goods, to w<sup>ch</sup> end you may imploy the Mallabarr Coaster and y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup> Shibarrs, if not otherwise disposed, & in want of y<sup>m</sup> you may hire a good large Grab or 2 at Mahim, Bandora and Bombay at as cheape rate as you can and send them downe with all speed to Rojapore either together with y<sup>e</sup>. "Mayboome" or before her to y<sup>e</sup>. end noe time may be lost, for y<sup>e</sup>. sooner wee get that money into o<sup>r</sup>. hands y<sup>e</sup>. better. As to y<sup>e</sup>. "Mayboome," y<sup>e</sup>. Cap<sup>t</sup>. tells us there is a necessity of haling her a shore at Bombay, and by a surveigh held upon her here wee understand y<sup>t</sup> she is in a very ill condition and doth not deserve any more charge to be layed out upon her; wee therefore give you this order concerning her, that if what worke the Cap<sup>t</sup>. doth require be done unto her be a small charge and will make her serviceable y<sup>s</sup>. voyage you may disburst it; but if y<sup>e</sup>. charge be extraordinary and noe probability of making her serviceable wee would have you keepe her in port as a guardship soe long as she can swim and y<sup>n</sup>. breake her up; in y<sup>e</sup>. meane time using her soe much as possible you can, and in such case fayle not as before to hire y<sup>e</sup>. vessells and send to Rojapore for y<sup>e</sup>. bringing up the said goods soe soone as may, and advise us speedily whether you can send downe any vessells on said designe or noe.

Seeing it is o<sup>r</sup>. duty to use all prudent means can be contrived for y<sup>e</sup>. retrenching the great charge of y<sup>e</sup>. Island and Garrison we thinke good to recommend to you here enclosed, certaine proposalls w<sup>ch</sup> wee concluded on in Councell before y<sup>e</sup>. late warr the 4th December 1672; but y<sup>e</sup>. Warr then falling soe unexpectedly could not be put in execution; now it pleasing God to give us a peace w<sup>ch</sup> wee hope will be lasting wee req<sup>e</sup>. you to put the said ord<sup>e</sup>. in execution soe soon as conveniently you can, and advise w<sup>t</sup> difficulties or Inconveniencies you apprehend therein.

Wee alsoe desire you to send us up monthly y<sup>e</sup>. rolls of y<sup>e</sup>. sould<sup>rs</sup> inlisted, in both compaynes together with y<sup>e</sup>. Commission and Staffe officers.

The "Massingbird" sett sayle for England y<sup>e</sup>. 5th Inst<sup>tt</sup>, wee pray God send her a safe and seasonable passage to o<sup>r</sup>. Hono<sup>ble</sup> Masters. Wee call not ought else to mind at present soe Remaine

Surat y<sup>e</sup>. 8th February 1675-76.

Y<sup>r</sup>. very Loving Freinds,
GER. AUNGIER.
MATT: GRAY:
CHARLES JAMES.
CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Mr. Samuell Austin hath againe earnestly intricated us to Remind you of his concerne with Sevajee, wee desire that you would use yo<sup>r</sup> endeavour for y<sup>e</sup> procuring him speedy sattisfaction seeing he is fearefull should Sevajee be dead as it is reported, he would never recover a farthing for his losse.

By the "Seodapore Merchant" newly arrived from Persia wee have rec<sup>d</sup> a Paquet from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company w<sup>ch</sup> confirms the safe arrivall of the "Faulcon" and "Mary" and all the last yeares shipping from the coast. O<sup>r</sup> latest advices are to the beginning of August, w<sup>ch</sup> say the Ffrench have rather lost than gained this last Campania, that the confederates have overthrowne them and the Swedes in 3 battells, and that there is a Rebellion broke out in Ffrance w<sup>ch</sup> may cause the Ffrench King to look nearer home.

Mr. Adames now takes his passage on y<sup>e</sup> "Mayboome" to Bombay in ord<sup>r</sup> to settle his acco<sup>ts</sup> with y<sup>e</sup> Company and others before he goes to Persia whither he goes on ship "Returne". He desires us to bespeake yo<sup>r</sup> assistance in doing him right against those, who he sayes detaine it unreasonably from him; he referrs himselfe wholly to yo<sup>r</sup> Justice, and desires you would determine whatever differences that may arise betweene him and any other in accounts. And wee desire y<sup>t</sup> you alsoe deale impartially, doing Justice without favour or affection to either side, for in soe doing none of them can complaine of you and wee shall well esteeme yo<sup>r</sup> proceedings. Multiplicity of business hath made us hitherto forget to write you o<sup>r</sup> opinion about the coynes you sent us wee like well of the new stamp with Pax X Deo on one side and the proceed in minting y<sup>e</sup> remaining silver of the same stamp, and the copper wee would alsoe have of the same stamp. As to the Finnyes or Bugeroocks wee like well the new stampe and weight, and hope now they will passe current, and desire to know how many seraphins or rupees per maund Bombay they yeild the Company over and above the losse of weigh in melting, and the charge; and likewise fayle not to send us an exact acco<sup>t</sup> of yo<sup>r</sup> silver mint as also of the copper, what the charges of minting each are, w<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> profit hereby. Of y<sup>e</sup> affaire send us as particular acco<sup>t</sup> as you can.

Comp<sup>as</sup> armes on y<sup>e</sup> other side, but not with the Comp<sup>as</sup> mark

And would have you

The Governor of Surat Sied Mamhud and sev<sup>ll</sup> Eminent persons have desired us to send for some good water mellons, and of the best black and white grapes especially black grapes of y<sup>e</sup> Long sort together with whatsoever excellent fruite procurable in Bombay, Bandora &<sup>ca</sup> places adjacent w<sup>ch</sup> wee find are very acceptable here. Fayle not therefore to send us some good quantities of said mellons and grapes, &<sup>ca</sup> by every boate that comes up and when you have noe boates bound y<sup>e</sup> way hire a boate on purpose and send y<sup>m</sup> up to us and passe y<sup>e</sup> charge to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> acco<sup>t</sup>, in regard nothing can better please those great men y<sup>n</sup> such sort of fruite,

Mr. Mansell Smith &<sup>e</sup>

Our Loving Freinds,

To Mallabar
Coast.

Since o<sup>r</sup> Last unto you of the 15th Ffebruary per the ketch 'Phenix' wee have rec<sup>d</sup> none of yo<sup>rs</sup>: yet having advise that there are 2 vessells bound from Broach to yo<sup>r</sup> port wee have to advise you that a large Mallabarr vessell bound from some porte on y<sup>e</sup> Coast to Broach off Diu encountred with a Portugues vessell, who would have made prize of her. She resolutely resisted and fought them four dayes together. At length finding them to powerfull for her, she was forced to disburthen herselfe of some part of her lading, and came into Bombay under the Command of the ffort the Portuges vessel persuing her as far as Caranjah, where he went in his boate to Bombay and from thence tooke a handole* and went to Bassein, acquainting the Capt Generall of all that had passed, who immediately in a hot passionate humour raises 500 or 600 men (and orders the raising more) and comes as farr as Bandora: sends word to y<sup>e</sup> Dep<sup>tie</sup> Governour that the Mallabarr vessell was their prize and requires her speedy delivery or he would invade the Island, to w<sup>ch</sup> the Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> replied that it was contrary to all law and justice, and that he could not answere it to his Superiours if he should deliver her up, and as to invading the Island they should make such convenient provision to withstand him, as they judged most necessary, let him come when he would; and since it is reported he is returned very calmly without atchieving any thing but reproach and shame, being mightely dispised by the Portugalls in general for his rashness.

At their first Comming into y<sup>e</sup> Port, the Dep<sup>tie</sup> Governour sent a boate off to know what she was, but the Mallabarrs would not let them come on board; then he sent two or three more boates well manned carrying English Collours, w<sup>ch</sup> soe soon as they knew themselves to be under the English protection, they forthwith surrendred, weighed and came nearer under the ffort, where they now remaine; and thus having advised you the needfull at present, wee rest

Your very Loving ffreinds,

Suratt, y<sup>e</sup> 23<sup>d</sup> March 1675-76.

GER: AUNGIER.

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Wors<sup>ll</sup> & <sup>ca</sup>

O<sup>r</sup> last unto you was of the.....Instant, since w<sup>ch</sup> wee have received yo<sup>rs</sup> of the 12th and 16th March, wherein wee reade the whole story of the late controversy betweene you and the Portuges touching the Mallabarr vessel, & cannot but observe the ridiculous pride and vanity of y<sup>e</sup> Portuges in threatning and mustering forces for warr on soe light and unjust an occasion, and the seasonable, prudent, and couragious opposition w<sup>ch</sup> you made against them, w<sup>ch</sup> as wee doe well commend and approve of, so wee doe declare had you done otherwise, or yielded in the least to y<sup>e</sup> Portuges in their unjust demands, you would have been brought under severe censure. And therefore wee require you boldly and manfully to oppose all such proud, vaine glorious and malicious attempts w<sup>ch</sup> the Portuges may designe against you, retorne words with words, designe with designe, violence with violence, embargo with embargo, and let them and all yo<sup>r</sup> neighbours know publickly that wee value not their ffreindship nor feare their enmity; and in regard wee understand that some Padrees were more busy then became them in this affaire in casting out evill slanderous reports to the encouragement of the inhabitants, wee require you to give us a strict acco<sup>nt</sup> what Padrees they were and what they did and particularly of that Jesuite Padree at Parrell, and the Padrees at Mahim, that wee may give such directions as are necessary therein for the preventing the mischeifes they may doe us.

And if you know any of the inhabitants that did seeme to side with the Portuges in this affaire, give us notice of their names, and if any thing of prooffe can be made against them wee would have you proceed severely with them.

Wee are sorry for the death of Serg<sup>t</sup> Southerland, inhumanly murthered by the Portugese in cold blood in their owne countryes. Wee require you still to demand satisfaction and Justice for the sayd murther, and send word to the Padre Superiour of the Colledge of Bandora that seeing the said murther was committed in their Jurisdiction wee expect Justice from them, for such bloody violencyes cannot be put up without sattisfaction.

* Handole, a corruption of the Portuguese word andov, which is a kind of palanquin.

As to the Mallabarr vessell you must declare to her Commander and officers that they are free to goe and come or dispose of their goods how and where they please; and by a Publicke Declaration make knowne to all that the Port is free to all ships whatever in amity with His Maj<sup>tie</sup> of Great Brittain, and shall be secured and protected against all violences whatsoever to the utmost of o<sup>r</sup> power.

As to the Portugall vessell, if she desires to ride there amicably she is free as other Nations are, but if they lye there as an espie to watch over the Mallabarr vessell, wee require you not to permitt it, but to give notice to the Cap<sup>t</sup> of the Portugall vessell to be gone, for you must not endure any thing that may seeme an affront to His Majesti's Porte; but this you may manadge with such prudence and civillity as may not give a disgust, and yett signifie yo<sup>r</sup> resolution.

Wee shall give the Company in o<sup>r</sup> l<sup>r</sup>es overland an acco<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>s</sup> affaire, what ill neighbour wee have, and that they must expect noe better correspondence with the Portuguese, with whome the lesse you have to doe, or the lesse trade you have to Goa the better; and give instructions to all vessells belonging to the Company that if they meet with any Portugall vessells at sea they doe not trust them, nor suffer them to come on board, for wee must expect noe good from them.

Amoung the idle articles made by the Portugues wee observe one is that wee take custome and anchorage on Portugall vessells. Wee desire to know upon what acco<sup>t</sup> they make that Complaint, for wee understand by letters rec<sup>d</sup> from Cap<sup>t</sup> Gary, that the Viceroy of Goa complains of it as an Innovation and threatens to make our vessells to pay anchorage at Goa, which before they did not; wherefore wee desire to be certified touching y<sup>s</sup> matter that wee may give such directions as are necessary.

Wee heartily lament the Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>rs</sup> sicknesse, and pray God restore him to his perfect health, to whose protection wee commend you, and remaine

Your very Loving Freinds,

Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 27th March 1676.

GER<sup>r</sup> AUNGIER.

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

P.S.—Since wee closed the above, wee are given to understand that the Portugues continue their hectoring threats against you, and that the Armada is lately arrived from Goa & that they muster men at Basseen and at Bandora. Wee understand alsoe y<sup>t</sup> the Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> continues very ill and that the people of Bombay are much disheartened, wherefore wee have thought it o<sup>r</sup> dutyes to take y<sup>s</sup> affaire under serious consideration & thereupon seeing the P<sup>r</sup> cannot come himselfe in person in respect of this Gov<sup>rs</sup> jealousyes Mr<sup>r</sup> Matthew Gray hath freely offered himselfe to serve the Comp<sup>y</sup> on y<sup>s</sup> occasion, and in regard the ship 'Returne' is engaged with y<sup>e</sup> Merchants on Freight and cannot well be taken off, wee have thought good to hire the ship "Happy Rose" for this employment, whome together with the "Revenge," suddenly expected from Persia, we intend to dispeed towards you soe soon as they can be fitted, on whome wee shall send downe all y<sup>e</sup> English wee can spare. In the meane time if you are any wayes apprehensive of further danger or design from the Portugues, or want any thing for the necessary use of y<sup>e</sup> Garrison, fayle not speedily to advise thereof.

Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 28th March 1676.

GER<sup>r</sup> AUNGIER.

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Mr. Thomas Rolt & <sup>ca</sup>.

O<sup>r</sup> Honored Ffreinds,

Wee have wrott you sev<sup>ll</sup> letters of late by the "Ryhme," "Revenge" & "Good Neighbour," and now shall answer y<sup>e</sup> materiall clauses of yo<sup>r</sup> l<sup>res</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> wee have till now deferred.

To Persia.

By y<sup>a</sup> shipp "Returne," wee have consigned to you a considerable stock in fine and coarse cloth of sev<sup>ll</sup> colours as alsoe in sev<sup>ll</sup> goods for presents according to these particulars w<sup>ch</sup> you enlisted to us, all amo<sup>t</sup> unto Rup<sup>a</sup> 28977 : 33, invoice and bill of lading whereof goes enclosed, whereunto wee referr ; and seeing wee have afforded you such large supplies of all things you have desired from us, wee doe expect that you will not faile to furnish us alsoe with y<sup>e</sup> quantities of Carmania Wooll, Lapis Tutia & <sup>ca</sup>, enordered by the Company to whome it would prove a great sattisfaction if by the sale of y<sup>e</sup> Cloth now sent you they might be encouraged to consigne you y<sup>e</sup> like quantity yearely, wherefore we pray you fayle not to use yo<sup>r</sup> best endeavours therein, and advise us thereof, & you shall be yearely supplied with y<sup>e</sup> quantities and qualities w<sup>ch</sup> you desire.

Wee take notice of yo<sup>r</sup> want of tymber, and would gladly furnish you therewith if wee know how, for noe ships will carry itt, but at excessive rates, such as would make it unreasonably deare, its prime cost being 50 p. c<sup>t</sup> dearer y<sup>n</sup> formerly, and therefore wee desire you to supply y<sup>t</sup> defect y<sup>e</sup> best you can there.

Wee observe what you write about the Carpetts formerly desired for y<sup>e</sup> "Appollo", and have reason to consider why you make soe great a difficulty of things soe feizable but seeing it is a trouble to you wee shall ease you of it.

Wee have furnished you with Europe wine and other refreshments for y<sup>e</sup> Padrees & yo<sup>r</sup> selves according to yo<sup>r</sup> desires.

And as to John Ffloats slave boy, it was very ill done in Cap<sup>t</sup> Clarke to part with him to the Padrees. If you can recover y<sup>e</sup> money for him you may, if not you must give John Ffloate creditt for y<sup>e</sup> value of him, and charge your acco<sup>tt</sup> of presents therewith, for it is not reasonable he should suffer.

You write of John Ffloates debt to y<sup>e</sup> Company, but you do not tell us how it hath been contracted nor what it amounts unto nor have wee any of yo<sup>r</sup> bookes to specife y<sup>e</sup> particulers ; thereof wee can only say y<sup>t</sup> it will concerne you to secure y<sup>e</sup> Company what you can, for they will not approve of such irregular debts ; what wee received here for his account is sould, and the proceed thereof brought to his credit in our bookes.

Wee observe what you write touching y<sup>e</sup> very imprudent carriage of M<sup>r</sup> Johnson and Ffeild w<sup>ch</sup> tended soe much to y<sup>e</sup> prejudice of y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Company & Nation, touching w<sup>ch</sup> wee called y<sup>m</sup> here to a severe examination, before the Commanders of y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> ships and others, and caused Cap<sup>t</sup> Clarke, M<sup>r</sup> Limbery & <sup>ca</sup> Englishmen to deliver their depositions on oath. But they declaring their ignorance thereof as to their owne knowledge, and saying they only heard it from you, and you alsoe not sending us any other attestations of y<sup>e</sup> English there with you y<sup>t</sup> were of any weight, and Johnson and Ffeild utterly disavowing whatever you alledged against him, wee durst not undertake any rigorous proceedings against y<sup>m</sup> without sufficient evidence, but have referred the case home to y<sup>e</sup> Company to whome wee have sent y<sup>r</sup> charge, together with their answeerr, & y<sup>e</sup> depositions taken, coppies whereof wee herewith send you, and wee desire that you employ yo<sup>r</sup> utmost power & authority to forbid such naughty practices in y<sup>e</sup> future, for they are of dangerous consequence & ill practice and may tend to y<sup>e</sup> utter losse of o<sup>r</sup> priviledges in y<sup>t</sup> Port. According to yo<sup>r</sup> desire y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> doth now write to yo<sup>r</sup> Ckaune & Shawbunder about it expressing his resentment thereof, and demanding sattisfaction, w<sup>ch</sup> letters we herewith send together with its copy open that upon perusall thereof you may governe yo<sup>r</sup> selfe accordingly.

Wee have rec<sup>d</sup> noe meane trouble from y<sup>e</sup> complaints of M<sup>rs</sup> Young presented us in sev<sup>ll</sup> petitions by her brother Lewis Gerverida, touching which wee have had sev<sup>ll</sup> meetings, & upon the maine doe conceive y<sup>t</sup> you might have adjusted all those differences without giving us further molestation; wee have perused y<sup>e</sup> particulars of overcharges w<sup>ch</sup> you have taken out of Captain Youngs Bookes, which wee now againe retorne unto you, for seeing you have rec<sup>d</sup> sufficient ord<sup>rs</sup> from y<sup>e</sup> Company touching that affaire and are best Judge what charges are to be allowed and what not, wee leave y<sup>e</sup> determination thereof wholly to you desiring you to doe Justice to y<sup>e</sup> Company as alsoe to y<sup>e</sup> widdow and orphans surviving.

Wee now supply you with paper, ink & quills, as much as o<sup>r</sup> small stores will admit of.

Wee are sorry for y<sup>e</sup> death of Leny y<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> Linguist who wee judge was a good servant to them & wee hope that Agga Donde and Issa Ckaun will well supply his place whome wee recommend unto you.

Wee observe what you write about Tockerseys refusall to make good y<sup>e</sup> united stockes demand. According to yo<sup>r</sup> desire wee doe now confirme their said demand, & you would have done well to have let us knowne what answer he made you, & what he hath to say in his owne vindication, for it is not enough barely to deny, but he ought to give in answer to every article, w<sup>ch</sup> if he hath not done you will doe well to press him unto it, that these worthy gentlemen concerned may be y<sup>e</sup> better sattisfied with y<sup>r</sup> proceeding.

M<sup>r</sup> Samuell Carleton Chyrurgeon hath made his applications to us for sev<sup>ll</sup> months pay due to him, w<sup>ch</sup> he sayth was retained by you upon y<sup>e</sup> apprehensions of some unkindnesse you thought good to conceive against him, as if he were a sider or partaker in the irregularities of Cap<sup>t</sup> Young of w<sup>ch</sup> he declares himself totally innocent; & that he hath and ever had a true honour & respect for you & to y<sup>e</sup> utmost of his power did serve you in yo<sup>r</sup> voyage outward bound and since in your dangerous sickness, & never was wanting to doe his duty in obedience to such commands as you thought good to lay upon him. He much laments his hard fortune y<sup>t</sup> notwithstanding all his labours and services you should take soe severe a displeasure against him; he hath therefore desired us to intercede with you that he may againe be readmitted into yo<sup>r</sup> favour and y<sup>e</sup> Companys service there, for w<sup>ch</sup> he was appointed by y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> generall order at 50 R<sup>s</sup> per month as appears by the clauses of their Gen<sup>ll</sup> letters herewith sent you. Now seeing that y<sup>e</sup> said Doctor Carleton doth soe earnestly desire yo<sup>r</sup> excuse for what is past, & doth solemnly promise to behave himselfe to yo<sup>r</sup> consent hereafter, and seeing the Comp<sup>y</sup> have continued him in their service, and that he was chosen for yo<sup>r</sup> factory, and that noe other Chyrurgeon can be procured, wee have thought good to recommend him againe unto you, and desire that you would receive him into y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> service, and make good his wages to him from y<sup>e</sup> time of his first entrance at 50 R<sup>s</sup> per month; for during y<sup>e</sup> time of his continuance here he hath been always serviceable either in Surat, Bombay or Rojapore; for to such persons who have noe livelyhood to depend upon but their wages it is not allowable by Law or Justice to detaine them from it provided they doe performe their duties to y<sup>e</sup> best of their abilities of y<sup>e</sup> failure whereof wee doe not remember that ever you complained; and as to other faylings or indiscreet heats it will become yo<sup>r</sup> prudence & charity on his submission to passe them by, w<sup>ch</sup> alsoe wee shall take kindly from you if you receive him affectionately into yo<sup>r</sup> favour upon o<sup>r</sup> recommendation.

In a former letter wee advised you  $y^t$  in obedience to  $y^e$  Comp<sup>as</sup> express orders wee have appointed M<sup>r</sup> James Adames to assist as second in their Ffactory of Persia who now takes his passage on ship "Returne," and wee desire you to receive him in said quality & to deliver the Comp<sup>as</sup> bookes unto him; wee have alsoe appointed M<sup>r</sup> Samuell Darnelly to be third, and would have M<sup>r</sup> James Adames and him to signe the Gen<sup>ll</sup> letters and have cognizance of all their affaires it being their expresse order, and seeing there will offer little buisnesse in Persia this yeare, &  $y^e$  ship "Returne" being bound to Bussorah with ffreight goods and will require an able person for  $y^e$  mannadgement of  $y^t$  affaire, wee have thought good to appoint M<sup>r</sup> James Adames for that service & at his returne from Bussorah to stay at Gombroone as before. We desire you to furnish him with all things necessary for his voyage and stay at Bussorah with bridle and sadle, semeanoes, canatts, what disbursements are made thereon must be charged to  $y^e$  ships acco<sup>t</sup>.

Wee have endeavored to procure some old ffashion silver lace for  $y^e$  Ckaune of Larr but none could be found in all  $y^e$  towns, if any can be got by  $y^e$  next ships it shall be sent you.

The "Sied Pore" Merchant hath stole away without taking o<sup>r</sup> passe, w<sup>ch</sup> is a slight and disrespect wee shall not admitt off; wee therefore desire that in case any of o<sup>r</sup> ships be in Port when she is there  $y^t$  you order some Englishmen to make a pretended seasure of her, & threaten to make her a prize; but upon their submission, and acknowledgem<sup>t</sup> of their ffault, you must surrender her againe, and take care that noe damadge in the least be done unto her by o<sup>r</sup> men. This wee designe onely to preserve o<sup>r</sup> repute & respect with these Merchants, who otherwise will neglect & grow bold and despise o<sup>r</sup> nation and the Comp<sup>as</sup> authority.

According to yo<sup>r</sup> desire wee have examined the bales of Carmania wooll sent  $y^s$  yeare & found amoungst them parcells to be black wooll w<sup>ch</sup> in compliance to  $y^r$  directions wee have marked R, but wee were at a great losse how to invoice them as well as  $y^e$  others, you having not sent us any invoice of either, w<sup>ch</sup> wee doe not a little wonder at, &  $y^e$  Company cannot be well pleased with such omissions, nor can they or wee approve of yo<sup>r</sup> neglect in not sending us the bookes of your ffactory. It is now 4 yeares since wee received any from you and therefore wee desire you not to fayle to send us yo<sup>r</sup> accounts by  $y^e$  first ships; the excuse you make for want of Paper is noe wayes to be admitted off, for surely you might have been supplied for yo<sup>r</sup> mony at  $y^e$  Dutch house or  $y^e$  Ffrench, for yo<sup>r</sup> bookes are but a small bulke, & will not require much. Wee are frequently disappointed of Paper from the Company but should be ashamed to make that a pretence not to send home their bookes of acco<sup>ts</sup>. Wee are necessitated to mind you of  $y^s$  particular in regard the Company doth severely chide us when they have not the bookes of each ffactory yearely sent home, wherefore wee desire you not to fayle us hereafter.

The Hono<sup>ble</sup> Company have enordered us to send some 400 bales of Carmania and have ordered it to be picked very cleane & well packed, w<sup>ch</sup> wee desire you to provide and send us by ship "Returne" or "Selymony," for wee shall want that full quantity for  $y^e$  lading of o<sup>r</sup> ships home for England, and therefore doe expect that you will not fayle us therein.

The Hono<sup>ble</sup> Company having strictly required of us to send o<sup>r</sup> opinions touching the present state of their affaires in Persia, & to propose some meanes whereby the King of Persia may be brought to allow a more equall share of  $y^e$  customes of Gombroone to them, wee have thought good to communicate to  $y^m$  o<sup>r</sup> Judgement, thereof in a paper, w<sup>ch</sup> wee have sent them by the last shipp, copy whereof wee herewith send for yo<sup>r</sup> perusall, & wee desire that you will afford us yo<sup>r</sup> sence, whether or noe what wee have proposed be practicable or noe, or any wayes prejudicial to  $y^e$  Hono<sup>ble</sup> Company.

In case that y<sup>e</sup> "Selymony" or "Returne" should not returne from Bussorah timely enough to bring the Comp<sup>as</sup> wool to be laden for England on y<sup>e</sup> yeares expected Fleet, y<sup>e</sup> wee would have you send it on y<sup>e</sup> first ship that presents for y<sup>e</sup> port the beginning of next Moonsoon.

Wee are at present in greate want of horses having disposed of o<sup>r</sup> 2 best to y<sup>e</sup> Governour. Wee therefore doe desire you to provide & send by y<sup>e</sup> returne of y<sup>e</sup> ship 5 very good horses as well for presents to y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> and others as for o<sup>r</sup> owne use.

Wee had once contracted a bargain with some Armenians here for all y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> perpetuannaes to be delivered in Gombroone free of all charges, but since they have broke off wee desire you to satisfy us whether they are in request in Persia and whether you would have us send you any, & upon rec<sup>t</sup> thereof wee shall supply you with what quantities, & colours you desire.

The enclosed Gen<sup>ll</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Company wee desire you after perusall to send forward to y<sup>e</sup> Consull of Aleppo, together with y<sup>e</sup> list of Europe commodities vendable here, commending them to his particuler care for furtherance; soe committing you to y<sup>e</sup> Almightyes protection wee remaine

Yo<sup>r</sup> very Affectionate Ffreinds,

Swally Marine, y<sup>e</sup> 7th Aprill 1676.

G<sup>R</sup> AUNGIER.

MATT. GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

---

May it please your Honours,

To the Company. The above is copy of o<sup>r</sup> Last unto you overland. On the 8th Ffebruary wee received yo<sup>r</sup> of the 21st July rejoicing much to understand y<sup>e</sup> arrivall of Ships "Mary" and "Ffaulcon".

Wee doe punctually observe yo<sup>r</sup> ord<sup>rs</sup> soe far as in us lyes in y<sup>e</sup> disposall of yo<sup>r</sup> goods to your best advantage and clearing of yo<sup>r</sup> engagements, in w<sup>ch</sup> two good workes wee are most seriously and industriously disposed, having already cleared yo<sup>r</sup> warehouses of the most part of yo<sup>r</sup> Europe goods, & hope wee shall have but little left on o<sup>r</sup> hands at y<sup>e</sup> arrivall of yo<sup>r</sup> next ships. It only troubles us y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> prices are not soe encouraging as wee could desire but wee must herein governe o<sup>r</sup> selves according to y<sup>e</sup> necessities of y<sup>e</sup> Marketts. We have alsoe cleared off a great part of yo<sup>r</sup> debts soe far as o<sup>r</sup> stock would goe, for though y<sup>e</sup> cargo you sent out was very large and gained you greate repute and would be sufficient to cleare of yo<sup>r</sup> debts, yet there would not be any thing left to begin yo<sup>r</sup> new investment, w<sup>ch</sup> requiring ready money in all yo<sup>r</sup> ffactories without w<sup>ch</sup> not a peece of goods can be bought, doth inforce necessity of continuing some part of yo<sup>r</sup> debt, w<sup>ch</sup> if it were once totally cleared, and that you had a stock before hand in the country to be impressed on goods, without doubt it would prove an unspeakable advantage to you, accordingly enrich yo<sup>r</sup> trade by advanceing y<sup>e</sup> prices of Europe goods and abasing those of India, and consequently cause you more frequent and large dividends.

The advice you give us touching Cochineale (wherein you are pleased to promise that none shall come out for yo<sup>r</sup> owne acco<sup>t</sup> or for any particuler men) arrived to us very seasonably, for we were much disheartened with the quantity that lay upon o<sup>r</sup> hands and taken up resolutions to sell off some part of it at y<sup>e</sup> market price which was 12 Rupees per double seer, and y<sup>e</sup> rather in regard wee found it subject to damage; but upon rect<sup>t</sup> of yo<sup>r</sup> letters wee resolved to hold up y<sup>e</sup> price and not to sell it till it was raised to 20 R<sup>s</sup> the double seer, w<sup>ch</sup> is already come to 18, & wee doubt not but wee shall attaine o<sup>r</sup> designe therein. Had wee not soe great a quantity as wee have upon o<sup>r</sup> hands, wee would raise it to 30, & if it be possible for yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> to keepe y<sup>t</sup> commodity to yo<sup>r</sup> selves wee make noe doubt but to render it profitable unto you.

Small gunns from 12 <sup>lbs</sup> wate & under, doe usually sell for profit more or lesse according to y<sup>e</sup> quantity, & if you add a 5th part for 20<sup>lbs</sup> w<sup>te</sup> to 12 it will not doe amisse; but as for anchors we humbly conceive that seeing you are pleased to gratify y<sup>e</sup> commanders of ships with lycence to bring them out, it were better that you send none for yo<sup>r</sup> account, y<sup>e</sup> price thereof being thereby fallen and little profit to be expected by that commodity.

Your Agent and Councill at Bantam, doe declare that you may not expect advantage by y<sup>t</sup> trade soe long as y<sup>e</sup> King of Bantam & y<sup>e</sup> Merchants of Surat are engaged therein, w<sup>ch</sup> they seemed to prosecute; wee therefore humbly propose to yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> that if you shall thinke good not to be concerned yo<sup>r</sup> selves, you would please to grant a Gen<sup>ll</sup> liberty to y<sup>e</sup> English, and all other inhabitants of y<sup>e</sup> Island Bombay to trade not onely to Bantam, but to all ports in the South seas, provided they returne with their shippes and cargoes to Bombay, and there pay you custome for their whole cargoes. And afterwards what they cannot dispose of at Bombay, they may be free to transport where they please. Y<sup>s</sup> will be a means to encourage trade, advance yo<sup>r</sup> customes & supply the Island with copper for the mint, and in time also with other goods proper for England w<sup>ch</sup> wee referr to yo<sup>r</sup> consideration.

Wee shall observe yo<sup>r</sup> orders touching saltpeter and other kintledge goods nor deviate therefrom, entreating yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> to pardon w<sup>t</sup> is past, seeing it was dessigned wholly for your advantage.

Wee observe your directions touching the callecoes and find wee did not at first rightly understand your meaning, w<sup>ch</sup> wee now doe, & shall conforme accordingly to y<sup>e</sup> best of our power; wee note alsoe y<sup>e</sup> sev<sup>ll</sup> alterations w<sup>ch</sup> you are pleased to make in yo<sup>r</sup> investments for y<sup>e</sup> yeare, & have given o<sup>r</sup> directions to y<sup>e</sup> sev<sup>ll</sup> ffactoryes accordingly.

Your ships "Revenge" and "Hunter" are imployed in freight to Persia & Muscatt, yo<sup>r</sup> "Returne" is now bound with freight goods to Persia & Bussorah, & though y<sup>e</sup> freights are miserably low by reason of y<sup>e</sup> number of ships in Surat yet it will helpe to beare her charge; yr. ketch "Phenix" is sent downe y<sup>e</sup> Mallabar Coast, with additional stocks to those ffactories, and to bring up some goods remaining at Carwarr in regard it is not safe to let y<sup>m</sup> lye there by reason of y<sup>e</sup> dangerous times; yo<sup>r</sup> ship "Mayboome" was designed alsoe on ffreight, but notwithstanding some charges had been layed out upon her last yeare at Rajapore she proves in soe very bad condition that she must be totally broke up y<sup>s</sup> winter.

Your Deputy Gov<sup>r</sup> and Councill of Bombay in Ffebruary last, did make sale of y<sup>e</sup> Publike rents of yo<sup>r</sup> Island at y<sup>e</sup> following prices:—

	Last yeare
The Tobacco Licence ...	... 20300 sould y <sup>s</sup> yeare for	Zer <sup>s</sup> 20400
The Arrack Licence ...	... 5050 sould y <sup>s</sup> yeare for	„ 5340
Mahim Passage ...	... 850 sould y <sup>s</sup> yeare for	„ 690
Syon Passage ...	... 360 sould y <sup>s</sup> yeare for	„ 300
The Customes ...	... 31050 sould y <sup>s</sup> yeare for	„ 2700
Rende Verde, a new monoply, sould for	...	„ 1600

The new Rent called "Rende verde" consists of Oyle, Opium, Bange, and Mowra. Noe person except y<sup>e</sup> farmer being permitted to retaile under a maund, it will in time wee hope prove a good addition to y<sup>e</sup> Revenue, y<sup>e</sup> Merchants and all other being well satisfied therewith.

The last l<sup>r</sup>es wee rec<sup>d</sup> from Bombay advice of a bold bravado made by the Portuguez against us and a breach of peace like to fall out thereupon. The occasion was thus: A vessel belonging to y<sup>e</sup> Coast Mallabarr laden with coconutts & coire bound to Broach off Diu incountred a Portugall man of warr, with whome she fought foure days, and having a Passport from yo<sup>r</sup> Cheife and Ffactors at Callecutt she run into the Port of Bombay for protection, y<sup>e</sup> Portugall vessell still chasing of her into the very porte. The Deputie Governour having sent out boates to know what ships they were, and understanding the Mallabarr vessell had an English passe, and was a Merchant vessell and noe pirate, ordered her to come under the Ffort for the tide had had hauled her over towards Caranjee side. Y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Portuguez ffrigatt immediately posts to Basseen and acquaints Emanoell de Saldanha Captain of the North of what happened, who in a fury, without examining further, summons all the Ffidalgos and force under his Jurisdiction, and having sent about 1200 men by land and about 300 men by sea, comes in person to Bandora, publikely declaring his Resolution to take Mahim and burne and destroy y<sup>e</sup> rest of your Island Bombay, if the said Mallabarr vessell were not Immediately delivered up into his possession. It happened at his comming to Bandora 3 English being there by accident, not knowing what had passed, one was inhumanly murthered by them in cold blood; y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> after some letters sends over 3 Ffidalgos, who publikely made sev<sup>ll</sup> demands, whereof the 2 materiall were the surrender of ye said vessell and the surrender of Mahim up to y<sup>e</sup> Portuguez otherwise hee must expect what would follow. It happened that yo<sup>r</sup> Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Philip Gyffard was y<sup>n</sup> very ill, confined to his bed; but he immediately sent M<sup>r</sup> John Pettit with the rest of y<sup>e</sup> Councell, one of the Garrison Companyes, and all the Militia that could be raised to ye number of 5 or 600 men with 5 feild peeces and necessary ammunition who marched in good order to Mahim to oppose what violence y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> should attempt. Five days passed in hot expostulation on both sides, at length y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> Generall & y<sup>e</sup> Ffidalgos being convinced of y<sup>e</sup> Justice and Honor of o<sup>r</sup> proceedings and seeing o<sup>r</sup> resolution, they let fall their demand, with this salvo only, that the matters should be referred to the Vice Roy and the Pr<sup>ty</sup>; y<sup>t</sup> the Portugall Vessell might have lycence to anchor under the ffort of Bombay till ord<sup>r</sup> should come from the Vice Roy; whereupon both parties retired for y<sup>e</sup> present, but y<sup>e</sup> Portuguez Cap<sup>t</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> and y<sup>e</sup> Ffidalgos generally did give out such haughty and bloody speeches against us with such rancor & contempt of yo<sup>r</sup> Honor and the Nation that it seemes to us they have some very evill designe and want only an opportunity to doe us mischeife; but wee doe little feare them, & seeing they are apt to quarell without reason it seemes to us consistent with yo<sup>r</sup> great wisdom to provide for the worst. If the Islands of Salset & Caranja do belong to yo<sup>r</sup> Honor by vertue of his Ma<sup>tie</sup> title it would be noe difficult matter to possess yo<sup>r</sup> selves of them and they are worth the seeking, for the Revenue of those 2 Islands improved as now Bombay is, would by relation amo<sup>t</sup> to ten times the value that the Revenue of Bombay now amounts to and would alsoe cause very great advantages to yo<sup>r</sup> trade.

Wee know not yet how y<sup>s</sup> present dispute will end; what violent resolutions the Vice Roy of Goa may take through y<sup>e</sup> misinformation of those of Basseen, for he alsoe is a declared enemy to yo<sup>r</sup> Honors & Nations Interest in these parts. But as wee shall offer noe injury, soe wee shall take care to preserve yo<sup>r</sup> Honor and estate to y<sup>e</sup> utmost of our power from all violence, and attend yo<sup>r</sup> future orders for yo<sup>r</sup> Government. And that wee may not be wanting to o<sup>r</sup> duties, seeing the President cannot goe in person, wee have determined if need require to send downe M<sup>r</sup> Matthew Gray, who freely offers himselfe to y<sup>s</sup> service, together with all the Eng<sup>s</sup> wee can spare ; and y<sup>e</sup> "Returne" being engaged to y<sup>e</sup> merchants on ffreight wee shall hire the "Happy Rose" belonging to the President &<sup>ca</sup> to carry them downe, but wee trust there will be noe necessity for itt.

The report still continues of Sevajees death, but yet it is much doubted ; he was poysoned by his barber, and for a long time hath not appeared abroad, but his army hath lately robbed a considerable Mart towne in Decan called Kanttanee nere Raybag, where wee here some of yo<sup>r</sup> Estate is plundered but doe not yet know the certainty thereof. He holds a very faire understanding with yo<sup>r</sup> Island Bombay and all offices of ffreindship passe betweene them.

By letters lately rec<sup>d</sup>. from Ffort S<sup>t</sup>. George wee understand that your ships are all despatched from thence.

The "Ann" the 28th January.

The "Happy Successe" & "Samuell" & "Henry," the Seccond Ffebruary.

The "Loyall Subject" & "Unity" the 3rd ditto.

They write alsoe that the King of Golcandah and his Nobles was aboard yo<sup>r</sup> ships in Metchlepatam road highly sattisfied with his treatment, and that he was expected alsoe at Ffort S<sup>t</sup>. George.

By letters lately received from Goa wee are advised y<sup>t</sup> a ship from Maccoo lately imported there brings certaine intelligence that the long-haired Chineses under the command of Coxim are engaged in a sharpe warr against the Tartarrs & have recovered 5 Provinces in China. They advice alsoe that y<sup>e</sup> King of Candy hath raised a great army against the Dutch in Zelon, y<sup>t</sup> they have killed them a great many men, & taken from them some castles, the truth whereof wee shall know hereafter.

Having rec<sup>d</sup>. from Sevajee his cole or pass port, for security of y<sup>e</sup> ffactory of Dangom, wee have thought good to resettle the ffactory again, being very necessary of yo<sup>r</sup> investment ; whither wee have sent M<sup>r</sup>. Samuell Austen together with M<sup>r</sup>. Keek and M<sup>r</sup>. Snape, who we hope will doe you very good service there.

In the "Massingbirds" cargo we find an errour of one bale of Niccanees laden on her not marked, neither mentioned in her invoice or bill of lading, w<sup>ch</sup> wee entreate yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> to give us credit for, 1 Q<sup>t</sup> 6 Corge at 25 Rupees per Corge amounts to 150 Rup<sup>s</sup>.

Wee are now fully assured of Sevagees perfect Recovery and that he hath been abroad with his Armys & plundered Hanttannee (as Report speaks) 300000 Pag<sup>os</sup> where yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> have been some small sufferers viz<sup>t</sup> 16 P<sup>s</sup>. Broad Cloth, 19 P<sup>s</sup>. Perpetuanoes & 8 P<sup>s</sup>. Sorges. The ffactories of Carwarr and Rojapur by reason of these troubles are very insecure; we have thoughts if these warrs continue, to withdraw one or both of them, but wee hope for better times w<sup>ch</sup> God send.

And y<sup>s</sup> is what wee call to mind at present, except the Presentation of o<sup>r</sup> most humble services as being

Your Hono<sup>rs</sup> most humble Servants,

Swally Marine, y<sup>e</sup> 7th Aprill 1676.

GER. AUNGIER.

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBERLAN.

Wors<sup>ll</sup> &<sup>ca</sup>.

To Bombay.

Yours of the 25th March by the "Shibarrs" with watermellons wee have received, but whereas you write to have laden 400 there is come to o<sup>r</sup> hands not above 200, and the Tyndall declares there was not 300 laden at ffirst.

Upon the "Shibarrs" arrivall here the Tyndall gave out that the Portuguez were come downe to Bandora againe with 1000 men with ffresh resolutions to swarme Mahim. In regard that you had put an Embargo on the Portugall Ffrigat that rid in the roade this causes in us some trouble & doubts of yo<sup>r</sup> welfare, but you not writing any thing about it, wee would give but little credit thereto, and since wee have received yo<sup>r</sup> Postscript by the Carwarr expresses, yet not confirming his fabulous report, wee judge y<sup>e</sup> Island in peace and quietnesse and y<sup>e</sup> Portuguez ashamed of what they have already acted, and that they will hardly presume to disturbe you any more; wherefore wee desire you to examine him strictly, what grounds he had to build these reports upon, & if you find them raised through malice or evill intentions to punish him severely for his calumny.

Wee have already given you o<sup>r</sup> directions which wee againe confirme, that seeing the monsoone is soe far spent that wee cannot thinke of building any Ffort or Bulworkes at Mahim, yet if you are any wayes apprehensive of danger from the Portuguez or others, you may build a strong breast worke of toddy trees and durt, which will be of sufficient fforce to withstand all their attempts.

Wee note what you write concerning the "Mayboome" and desire to know what the Merchants bid for her & whether they would buy only her hull or her gunns, Anchorrs &<sup>ca</sup>, when wee shall give o<sup>r</sup> orders accordingly.

Wee are glad to heare the Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> is upon recovery and pray God to restore him to his former health; soe committing to the Almightyes protection, wee remaine

Swally Marine, y<sup>e</sup> 7th April 1676.

Yo<sup>r</sup> very Loving Friends,

GE<sup>R</sup> AUNGIER.

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Worsp<sup>ll</sup> &<sup>ca</sup>.

To Bombay.

O<sup>r</sup> last unto you was by the Carwarr Peons w<sup>ch</sup> were dispatcht away yesterday when wee received yo<sup>r</sup> of the 5th Aprill, to which wee give now y<sup>e</sup> speedy answee, being unwilling to keepe yo<sup>r</sup> Pattamarr longer by us.

Wee perceive the Portuguez bravado is passed over with an impertinent protest which wee presume was done only in point hono<sup>r</sup> to salve the Cap<sup>t</sup> Generalls credit, for had they any sufficient or just cause of complaint they would have delivered their protest in writing & not by word of mouth, but you have not done amiss to answer it as you did; we presume they will be wiser, and understand themselves better hereafter. In the meantime if you have raised any men (of which you give us noe acco<sup>t</sup> though wee heare you have) wee require you immediately to discharge them and not put the Company to any needless expence.

Wee are sorry the Siddyes ffeet is come againe to trouble yo<sup>r</sup> Porte; the Gov<sup>r</sup> of Surat hath not made applications to us in the least, concerning its wintering there; if he doth presse very earnestly and will not be denyed, wee must governe o<sup>r</sup> selves the best wee can for the Comp<sup>as</sup> Interest: in the meane time wee require you possitively and in plaine terms to declare to the Siddy that you will not permitt his wintering there; and if he talks of staying at Bombay or at Mazagon, you must tell him that it shall never be permitted, seeing he and his men have already been soc chargeable to the Island, nor is he a person to be trusted on shore; and therefore if he doth desire it you must not grant it, except you are sure he will goe on board againe in a day or two time, nor must you suffer his men to goe ashore armed, or too many at a time, for the preventing of any mischeife that may ensue. However, wee would have you be very civill in your discourses and arguments to the Siddy & all the officers, representing the unreasonableness of their requests, the trouble w<sup>ch</sup> wee have already sustained & the evill consequences that may follow, & fayle not to supply them with what they may want, wood, water, & provisions, and let them have noe just complaint against you in that manner, but suffer none of their vessells to hale on shore by any meanes if you can prevent it. This ord<sup>r</sup> wee would have you resolutely and strictly to observe till you heare further from us, for wee know not yet how things will goe being at Swally, but intend tomorrow for Surat, where wee shall understand more of the Gov<sup>rs</sup> mind, whome wee will dissuade by the best arguments wee can from desiring the Siddyes ffeet to winter there; but if he will not be otherwise sattisfyed we shall in few dayes send you such directions as shall be necessary for yo<sup>r</sup> future Government.

Wee gladly understand that the Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> is some what recovered of his late dangerous distemper & pray God restore him to his perfect health. Wee remaine

Your very Loving Freinds,

GER<sup>r</sup> AUNGIER.

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Swally Marine, ye 14th April 1676.

Wors<sup>ll</sup> &<sup>ca</sup>.

Or<sup>r</sup> Respected ffreinds,

Mr<sup>r</sup> John Fflatman now going for Bombay, wee write you these few lines to accompany him. He hath made earnest applications to us for the advancing of his salary to 3£ per month, and allowing of him his dyett and lodging out of the Fort, in regard his constant imployment with his patients will not admitt his taking of it there. But though wee have regard to his meritts, good service, and dilligence in his imployment, yet wee have not thought good to gratifie his request, partly because wee held it inconvenient to encourage any persons belonging to the Island to make their addresses hither, for thereby men are apt to forget their respect and dependance they ought to have on the Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> and Councell, w<sup>ch</sup> by noe meanes wee shall admitt off, and partly in regard or<sup>r</sup> affaires here will not give us leave to be troubled with such impertinencies, nor did wee care to innovate any thing as to wages or increase of charge, least it produce evill consequences. On these considerations wee have suspended Doctor Fflatmans request, and referr it wholly to you, w<sup>ch</sup> being modest you may grant, seeing you are sattisfyed with us that he well deserves or<sup>r</sup> favour; but we would have you give noe encouragement to persons to come hither hereafter; but if they have any reasonable request to make, let them first signifie them to you, and if you judge them worthy of or<sup>r</sup> knowledge you may communicate them to us.

To Bombay.

To this day the Gov<sup>r</sup> of Surat hath not applyed himselfe in the least to us touching the wintering of the Siddies ffeet, wherefore wee would have you continue to prosecute or<sup>r</sup> former directions, and not permitt them to winter there, and be carefull that you be not overcome with their subtilities, w<sup>ch</sup> is all at present from

Your very Loving ffreinds,

Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 21st Aprill 1676.

GER. AUNGIER.

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Inclosed is sent you o<sup>r</sup> Journall parcells as you stand charged in o<sup>r</sup> books for w<sup>t</sup> rec<sup>d</sup> out of the Europe ships.

Worshipp<sup>ll</sup> &<sup>ca</sup>

To Bombay.

Wee are in answer to yo<sup>rs</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> 21st June w<sup>ch</sup> brought us y<sup>e</sup> petition from y<sup>e</sup> widdow of Judge Wilcox dec<sup>d</sup>. We have taken her request into our consideration and bearing due regard to her husbands meritts and her sadd condition at present, wee have thought good to gratify her desires and would have you pay unto her y<sup>e</sup> ballance of y<sup>t</sup> acco<sup>tt</sup> being 838 Xs. 0 ta. 37 res. taking her rec<sup>t</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> same, and lett y<sup>e</sup> former debt of 744 Xs. 0 ta. 40 res. w<sup>ch</sup> he rec<sup>d</sup> on acc<sup>tt</sup> of salary be still continued in the books till y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> order be further knowne therein.

Wee observe w<sup>t</sup> past in yo<sup>r</sup> last sessions and are sorry y<sup>t</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> Garys sonn should be guilty of such a misdemeanour. We approve w<sup>t</sup> you have done therein.

Sevajees Army under y<sup>e</sup> Command of Mora Punditt having taken Pindolle from y<sup>e</sup> Rajah of Ramnagur (w<sup>ch</sup> is a considerable castle about 3 dayes Journey from Surat) y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> having left about 4000 men to defend itt, went back to Raire Sundergee Pervooe finds but a could reception here, w<sup>ch</sup> makes him threaten hard and foretell y<sup>e</sup> miseryes of plunder and desolation to y<sup>e</sup> citty. Wee desire you to have an eye to y<sup>e</sup> proceedings of Sevajees Army, soe soon as they come out of their quarters, and if you have y<sup>e</sup> least intelligence of their motion y<sup>e</sup> way, faile not speedily to advice us per expresse.

Wee take notice of y<sup>e</sup> two Englishmen taken prisoners at Burgurah, touching whose release wee shall write in o<sup>r</sup> next letters.

Wee have perused y<sup>e</sup> rolls you sent us of yo<sup>r</sup> Garrison Comp<sup>as</sup> Militia and Staffe officers; and wee have alsoe againe taken into consideration y<sup>e</sup> answeere to those seven proposalls formerly recommended unto you; and in y<sup>e</sup> maine wee find y<sup>t</sup> you have not observed those orders left with you by y<sup>e</sup> President at his departure for retrenching y<sup>e</sup> charges, but y<sup>t</sup> you sent y<sup>e</sup> Company to a farr greater expence y<sup>n</sup> need requires. Wee find in your letter to Company, y<sup>t</sup> you have neere 400 men officers included. Wee cannot conceive what necessity there is now (o<sup>r</sup> nation being in Peace with all y<sup>e</sup> world) of keeping soe many men in pay; wee are sure the Company will not admitt itt; but rather be much offended with us for o<sup>r</sup> improvident mannadgement of their affaires. In o<sup>r</sup> proposalls sent you in February last wee advised you that wee thought 16 files was enough for each Company, & though some reasons w<sup>ch</sup> you give in yo<sup>r</sup> answeere doe convince us y<sup>t</sup> that number is too little (as things stand now with you), yett surely wee must needs conclude y<sup>t</sup> 30 files for each Company are too many, wherefore for y<sup>e</sup> present wee doe enorder you y<sup>t</sup> fro' and after y<sup>e</sup> musters y<sup>t</sup> shall follow y<sup>e</sup> receiving y<sup>e</sup> o<sup>r</sup> letter you doe reduce yo<sup>r</sup> two Companys to 150 men each Company (w<sup>ch</sup> is y<sup>e</sup> number specified in yo<sup>r</sup> answer to o<sup>r</sup> proposalls). Wee say y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> said two Companys doe not exceed 300 men officers included, and wee heartily wish they might consist all of English, but seeing y<sup>t</sup> cannot be, wee would have you to supply y<sup>e</sup> rest with Topasses, for as to y<sup>e</sup> middle sort consisting of European strangers, wee are not well satisfied with y<sup>m</sup>, and here after would not have you entertaine any more under y<sup>t</sup> notion; and as to those w<sup>ch</sup> are at present in pay wee would have you disband y<sup>m</sup>, keeping only such of y<sup>m</sup> who have served y<sup>e</sup> Company 5 yeares and are married on the Island, whome wee would have you continue in their present pay, and the rest to be discharged, except they will serve as Topasses, and wee desire you to send us a list of such men who have served y<sup>e</sup> Company 5 yeares and upwards.

Wee shall now give you o<sup>r</sup> opinions touching those reasons you offer to us in answer to o<sup>r</sup> proposall for the keeping soe many men in pay. First, whereas you say there is a necessity for y<sup>e</sup> keeping 80 or 100 men in pay extraordinary, for y<sup>e</sup> manning y<sup>e</sup> Compa<sup>s</sup> vessells and shibarrs as alsoe Merchants vessells, wee answere y<sup>t</sup> wee know noe such necessity, nor shall by any meanes admitt itt. As to y<sup>e</sup> Companys vessells to witt y<sup>e</sup> "Revenge" and "Hunter" and Ketch & <sup>ca</sup>, what men are hereafter employed upon y<sup>m</sup> lett their pay be charged to acco<sup>tt</sup> of those voyages for w<sup>ch</sup> they are sent; and when they are empty in cruising out and defending y<sup>e</sup> Port against y<sup>e</sup> Mallabarrs, you may well draw of soe many men as shall be necessary for y<sup>t</sup> expedition, out of the two Companys, without increase of charges; and as to supplying merchants vessells with o<sup>r</sup> men, wee require you forbear any such practice hereafter, except they will make good their pay and provision for y<sup>e</sup> time they doe entertaine y<sup>m</sup>; and if the Merch<sup>ts</sup> doe complaine and cease from trade wee know noe remedy, for it is a thing never practiced in any nation or port whatsoever. And as to y<sup>e</sup> Mallabars disturbing yo<sup>r</sup> trade, you must take care to secure yo<sup>r</sup> owne ports from y<sup>m</sup>, and to send out y<sup>e</sup> "Revenge" and "Hunter" frequently to cruise out after y<sup>m</sup> and to goe in convoy with such vessels as shall desire itt, but to lett out o<sup>r</sup> owne men to man y<sup>e</sup> Merchants ships wee cann noe wayes answere itt except they beare the whole charge. Secondly, whereas you say that Sevajee and the Siddys men are often unwellcome guests to you, y<sup>t</sup> they are morose and surly, ready to act some mischeife, wee answere y<sup>t</sup> wee would not have you possesse yo<sup>r</sup> selves with any apprehension or feare from y<sup>m</sup>, for wee know they dare not attempt any publike breach of peace with us, and though disorder doe frequently happen from their unruly souldiers, yett wee ever found their officers civill and orderly, and ready to punish such disorders in their men, wherefore y<sup>t</sup> is noe argument to put the Company to more charge, but in such case w<sup>n</sup> ever any of Sevajeas or y<sup>e</sup> Siddys men are on the island, w<sup>ch</sup> is but seldom, yo<sup>r</sup> care y<sup>n</sup> must be to keepe a stricter watch y<sup>n</sup> ordinary, and not to suffer y<sup>m</sup> to ware their armes, but to secure all their armes in y<sup>e</sup> fort, and then you need little feare w<sup>t</sup> mischeif they are able to doe. Thirdly, whereas you alleige yo<sup>r</sup> feare of y<sup>e</sup> Portugue, though they barke frequently, yett wee know they dare not bite, wee little concerne o<sup>r</sup> selves for anything they dare doe, and wish they would beginn to quarrell. Fourthly, what you alleige as to y<sup>e</sup> building yo<sup>r</sup> Bastion is a just and sound argument, for till y<sup>t</sup> Bastion be finished and y<sup>e</sup> two home works alsoe raised to a convenient height, joyned by a line to y<sup>e</sup> fort, it cannott be soe secure as itt should bee, and therefore therewith a necessity of keeping 300 men in pay, and indeed y<sup>s</sup> is y<sup>e</sup> only argument w<sup>ch</sup> perswades us to maintain soe many men, wherefore wee desire you to imploy all diligence possible for y<sup>e</sup> finishing said worke especially y<sup>e</sup> Bastion and y<sup>e</sup> Parapett to the fausse braye, both w<sup>ch</sup> are absolutely necessary, and wee hope y<sup>t</sup> by yo<sup>r</sup> care they will be soon reduced to a very defencible posture. Fifthly, w<sup>t</sup> you say touching y<sup>e</sup> Portugall souldiers, who have land on y<sup>e</sup> Island, and are apt to sell it when disbanded, to Moores, Banians & <sup>ca</sup>, y<sup>t</sup> is noe argument in y<sup>e</sup> least to keepe more men in pay y<sup>n</sup> need requires; if they are not contented to stay, lett y<sup>m</sup> sell their land and goe where they will, but wee require you to take care that noe Moores be admitted to buy land according as y<sup>e</sup> President formerly hinted, but Christians,

Hindoos and Parsees are free, and you need not feare y<sup>t</sup> wee shall want men and good souldiers too whenever wee shall have occasion of them. Y<sup>r</sup> last argument touching the sickness of yo<sup>r</sup> men, is too apparent to o<sup>r</sup> great greife. But wee trust in God when quarters are built for y<sup>m</sup> in the two Home works, as wee designe, and an Hospitall is alsoe built for y<sup>e</sup> sick men, they will, by Gods blessing, be kept in better health, to which end wee desire you to take y<sup>e</sup> first opportunity y<sup>t</sup> presents for the raising an Hospitall and finishing y<sup>e</sup> said two Home works, y<sup>t</sup> wee may the sooner prevent those sicknesses y<sup>t</sup> o<sup>r</sup> people are soe much subject unto. There are se<sup>ve</sup>ll other things w<sup>ch</sup> wee judge are unnecessary charges in yo<sup>r</sup> rolle of staffe officers, and Militia, w<sup>ch</sup> wee reserve for another opportunity, in regard wee are unwilling to detaine y<sup>s</sup> cossett any longer; but commending you to y<sup>e</sup> Almightyes protection, wee remain

Your very loving Freinds,

Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 4th July 1676.

GER. AUNGIER.

MATT. GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

P.S.—The President having a desire to build a street of houses on Bombay reaching from Judge Niccolls house to y<sup>e</sup> water side, & having caused y<sup>e</sup> ground to be vallewed amounting to about 600 Seraphins doth desire you to buy the said ground of the owner on y<sup>e</sup> Companys acco<sup>tt</sup>, and to lett a lease of itt to him for 61 yeares according to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> order, and when you have delivered him y<sup>e</sup> said lease, he will then take immediate orders for building y<sup>e</sup> said street, but if you judge it any wayes inconvenient to y<sup>e</sup> Company to buy the said ground for their acco<sup>tt</sup>, then he desires you y<sup>t</sup> you would buy the said ground for his owne acco<sup>tt</sup>, causing y<sup>e</sup> writing to be firmly established by the law, y<sup>t</sup> he may have a suffitient title thereunto, desiring yo<sup>r</sup> answer by the next cossett.

Here are wanting in o<sup>r</sup> Register y<sup>e</sup> books of Acco<sup>tt</sup>s of the Island from y<sup>e</sup> 30th June 1671, w<sup>ch</sup> pray take care to send us, and alsoe y<sup>s</sup> yeares in double coppies, soe soon as you can finish y<sup>m</sup>, one paire whereof to be sent for England.

Worshipfull &c<sup>a</sup>.

To Bombay.

Wee reade yo<sup>r</sup> answer touching y<sup>e</sup> 5 vessels sent to Rajapore; but at present doe not reply till wee have also rec<sup>d</sup> w<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Child hath to say in y<sup>s</sup> dispute.

Wee like well of your proposition of making the present Court of Judicature an Hospitall, & y<sup>e</sup> Dept<sup>ie</sup> Gov<sup>rs</sup> and M<sup>r</sup> Pettits house for y<sup>e</sup> Court of Judicature, but would be further sattisfied how they mean by sparing their house to y<sup>e</sup> Company; whether they designe renting it annually to y<sup>m</sup>, or selling it out right, if y<sup>e</sup> first then w<sup>t</sup> rent they demand for wee would not put y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> to too great a charge, if y<sup>e</sup> latter, then how they will oblidge themselves to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> money they have rec<sup>d</sup> on account of their arrears of sallary (for at present wee looke upon the house as sufficient security, w<sup>ch</sup> is alsoe agreeable to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> order) ; but let y<sup>e</sup> house be valued by any indifferent persons and y<sup>e</sup> valuation thereof sent us and y<sup>n</sup> we shall be able to give a more definitive answer. In the interim we remain

Your very affectionate Freinds,

Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 19th July 1676.

GER. AUNGIER.

MATT. GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Worshipfull, & <sup>ca.</sup>

Good Freinds,

Wee are now with yo<sup>r</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> 30th July in answeare to ours of y<sup>e</sup> 4th, 6th and 11th of said To Bombay. month, and doe approve in y<sup>e</sup> maine of y<sup>e</sup> reasons you give us for y<sup>e</sup> number and increase of your Garrison souldiers, by yo<sup>r</sup> taking y<sup>e</sup> seamen into yo<sup>r</sup> Rolls, w<sup>ch</sup> otherwise would have layen all y<sup>e</sup> winter idle, & at a great charge, & yo<sup>r</sup> initiating y<sup>m</sup> into military descipline ashore, & introducing a familiarity betweene y<sup>m</sup> and y<sup>e</sup> souldiers w<sup>ch</sup> is prudently done.

As to what you desire to be directed as to y<sup>e</sup> increase of yo<sup>r</sup> souldiers, or w<sup>t</sup> Super-numeraries you shall keep in case of mortality to keep up yo<sup>r</sup> limited number of 300, wee answeare y<sup>t</sup> wee would have you keepe yo<sup>r</sup> full complement of 300 men, besides w<sup>t</sup> fresh souldiers y<sup>e</sup> ships may bring out, and for a supply in case of mortality, if you keepe 2 or 3 files extraordinary, wee shall admitt of itt, and in regard mortality reigns most amongst the new souldiers, the first 2 or 3 months of their arrivall on y<sup>e</sup> Island, occasioned cheifly by their immoderate drinking of punch and toddy, to prevent w<sup>ch</sup> wee would have you immediately upon their arrivall to send us up 5 or 6 files of y<sup>m</sup> with a Serjant, to defend y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>ys</sup> estate, for wee have great cause to expect great troubles and danger soe soon as y<sup>e</sup> raines are over, and y<sup>s</sup> will be a meanes to preserve y<sup>m</sup> and inure them to y<sup>e</sup> climate, and although they may not be disciplined souldiers, yet being Eng<sup>s</sup> men, they will serve us here.

Wee wonder you have not heard of late from Narran Sunay about his negotiation with Sevajee and his recovery of these debts. His last advices to y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> gave him hopes of a speedy conclusion with him, but there is a great distance between faire words & faire payments ; soe soon as the season will permitt, wee have thoughts of sending up a fitter person on that imploy, if before it be not ended.

Wee are sorry for y<sup>e</sup> death of Cap<sup>t</sup> Ustick, & shall take care to supply and settle y<sup>e</sup> Councell w<sup>n</sup> wee have perused y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>ys</sup> l<sup>res</sup> by their expected shipping ; in y<sup>e</sup> meane time wee shall not need to question yo<sup>r</sup> care of y<sup>e</sup> Island in all respects. Wee have long expected to heare from o<sup>r</sup> freinds at Ffort S<sup>t</sup> George of y<sup>e</sup> arrivall of their ffilet from England but hitherto noe news.

Praised be God, y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>rs</sup> is in a manner well recovered of his fflux, but weakness & great paine in his knees doth yet confine him to his bed. Y<sup>e</sup> juice of tobacco you are in want of is not here procurable at y<sup>s</sup> season of y<sup>e</sup> yeare, but wee have by y<sup>s</sup> bearer sent you 7 seers of China roots. As y<sup>s</sup> w<sup>t</sup> wee call to mind at present, soe remaine

Your very Loving Freinds,

Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 14th August 1676.

GER. AUNGIER.

MATT. GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Worshipfull, &c.

To Bombay

Yesterday in y<sup>e</sup> afternoone wee rec<sup>d</sup> yours of y<sup>e</sup> 14th August wth one of y<sup>e</sup> 9th Ditto not signed, w<sup>ch</sup> as it lyes first in o<sup>r</sup> way, wee give answer to.

Wee reade the ill success of Narran Sunays negotiation with Sevajee and that you have sent Lief<sup>t</sup> Richard Adames to make demand of his debt; wee wish him better successe, but should rather have approved of yo<sup>r</sup> sending Cap<sup>t</sup>. Adderton as a person more fitt for y<sup>t</sup> imployment.

Wee reade the valuation you have made of y<sup>e</sup> Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>rs</sup> house, w<sup>ch</sup> you have thought fitt for y<sup>e</sup> Court of Judicature, but wee doe not see there will be any occasion for y<sup>e</sup> garden and y<sup>e</sup> ground adjoyning, and therefore wee desire that y<sup>e</sup> house by itselfe may be valued, w<sup>ch</sup> is all y<sup>t</sup> wee have in answeare to y<sup>t</sup> letter.

Wee are now to give thanks to Almighty God for y<sup>e</sup> safe and seasonable arrivall of y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> 5 ships to their Island Bombay y<sup>e</sup> 13th curr<sup>t</sup>. Y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> letter, with an abstract of y<sup>e</sup> sev<sup>ll</sup> ships Cargoes, wee have rec<sup>d</sup>, & observe very well y<sup>t</sup> they had selected a great quantities of goods to be disposed off on their Island, w<sup>ch</sup> wee have had under consideration, & finding soe great a quantity of cloth come out y<sup>s</sup> yeare more y<sup>n</sup> wee can expect to vend here, wee have concluded y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> 198 bales consigned to y<sup>e</sup> Island in y<sup>e</sup> ships "Berkly Castle," "Society" and "Nathaniell" be taken on shore there, and y<sup>t</sup> all y<sup>e</sup> remainder of y<sup>e</sup> cloth as well y<sup>t</sup> designed for Persia as hither doe remaine on board shippes to be brought up unto us. Wee likewise order all the cloth, rashes & perpetuannaes be taken on shore and for any of y<sup>e</sup> other commodities, as corral, quicksilver, vermillion, lead, Ditto white or redd, copper, tynn, gunns, anchors, cordage or stores you find in Inv<sup>o</sup> you may take on shore what may be usefull to you, and y<sup>t</sup> you conclude may be disposed of on y<sup>e</sup> Island; the remainder to be sent up to us. As for mony you have not signified unto us your want; yet in regard to y<sup>e</sup> mint, wee would have you take out of y<sup>e</sup> ingotts of silver to y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>t</sup> of 30000 R<sup>s</sup>, or at most soe much as will pay yo<sup>r</sup> souldiers or discharge your debts if you owe any, for you cannot but be sensible of our great engagements at interest, & how long it will be before wee can dispose of such great quantities of goods as are now come out. Wee desire you out of y<sup>e</sup> large store of Mumm* y<sup>t</sup> is now come out by these shippes y<sup>t</sup> you send us 10 barells of y<sup>e</sup> best, therefore give ord<sup>rs</sup> that they be tasted, & none sent us but w<sup>t</sup> are good. Wee have now wrote to y<sup>e</sup> Admirall and Commanders, requiring y<sup>m</sup> that they weigh anchor and sayle to us, soone after they have seen y<sup>e</sup> new moone, if weather doe permitt; & therefore in y<sup>e</sup> meane time you must use your endeavours to take out of y<sup>e</sup> ships w<sup>t</sup> goods wee have enordered, for wee had rather they should come away and keepe them on board, in regard to y<sup>e</sup> despatch of y<sup>m</sup>, in season downe y<sup>e</sup> coast; since wee can furnish you with y<sup>m</sup> by other vessells afterward, & therefore give y<sup>m</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> dispatches accordingly.

The P<sup>r</sup> thanks be to God is recovered of that dangerous disease y<sup>e</sup> Fflux, but is yett weake in his joynts; though wee hope in a short time he will recover his strength & have y<sup>e</sup> use of his leggs. Wee dispatch y<sup>s</sup> unto you in hast, and therefore doe not discourse on further matters at present, but remaine

Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 21st August 1676.

Your very Loving freinds,
GER. AUNGIER.
MATT. GRAY.
CHARLES JAMES.
CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

* Mumm. A sort of strong beer originally introduced from Brunswick in Germany, and hence often called Brunswick Mum.

P.S.—The President having considerable summes of money due to him on ballance of accot<sup>ts</sup> with Girder & Cause Moody, doth desire y<sup>t</sup> you would receive y<sup>e</sup> said money into y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> Cash, and alsoe w<sup>t</sup> money he hath in M<sup>r</sup> Kings hands; for all which he desires y<sup>t</sup> you would draw your bills on y<sup>e</sup> President & Councell here for payment of y<sup>e</sup> same, whereby you will not have occasion to receive soe considerably out of y<sup>e</sup> ships, as wee have in a preceeding clause enordered.

Wee are glad to reade y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company have sent out soe able a Physitian as Doctor Willson is reported to be, who, wee hope, will prove a great benefitt and happiness to y<sup>e</sup> Island; & in regard that y<sup>e</sup> Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> is soe disperately ill, & hath o<sup>r</sup> lycence to come up by y<sup>e</sup> ships, wee doe alsoe give leave to s<sup>d</sup> Doctor Willson to accompany him (if his conveniency will permitt), whome wee hope through y<sup>e</sup> blessing of God will be very Instrumentall to y<sup>e</sup> restoring him to his former health, and y<sup>e</sup> Doctor shall be very wellcome to us here; and wee would have you alsoe send up Colo<sup>ll</sup> Bake to us by y<sup>e</sup> ships.

---

Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>.

The enclosed is copy of o<sup>r</sup> last sent you by Matteus y<sup>e</sup> Cooley, w<sup>ch</sup> wee now againe confirme; since wee have rec<sup>d</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> originall of y<sup>e</sup> 9th Curr<sup>t</sup>, together with y<sup>e</sup> certificate or valuation of y<sup>e</sup> Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>rs</sup> house, w<sup>ch</sup> at 2400 rupees wee thinke to be a deare penny worth, & touching w<sup>ch</sup> you shall receive o<sup>r</sup> positive answere in due time.

O<sup>r</sup> last yeares stores of arrack being almost spent wee desire you to furnish us by y<sup>e</sup> ships with 10 butts of very good arrack. W<sup>t</sup> you sent us last was very much champored and adulterated; wherefore let more care be taken in y<sup>e</sup> future. Y<sup>e</sup> being w<sup>t</sup> wee call to mind at present, wee remaine

Your very Loving Freinds,

Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 24th August 1676.

GER. AUNGIER.

MATT. GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Enclosed wee send you two packetts, y<sup>e</sup> one for Rojapore, w<sup>ch</sup> wee desire you to send forward by y<sup>e</sup> first oppertunity; y<sup>e</sup> other for Carwarr to be sent forward by y<sup>e</sup> shipp now bound from yo<sup>r</sup> Port thither; & wee desire you to enquire for M<sup>r</sup> Oxindens letters in y<sup>e</sup> Europe ships, & send y<sup>m</sup> by y<sup>e</sup> said ship.

---

Worsp<sup>ll</sup> &<sup>ca</sup>.

Yours of yesterdayes date, touching y<sup>e</sup> contract with Hemjee for y<sup>e</sup> Aurora coloured cloth wee rec<sup>d</sup> last night; but in regard to y<sup>e</sup> Presidents indisposition more desturbing him last night y<sup>n</sup> at any time of late, & y<sup>t</sup> he was y<sup>s</sup> morning le<sup>tt</sup> blood, wee therefore deferr o<sup>r</sup> answer untill tomorrow. Wee have alsoe rec<sup>d</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> answeerr and concurrence with us as to y<sup>e</sup> disposall of the 3 ships in their returne from the Mallabarr Coast, and shall now proceed with o<sup>r</sup> letters to y<sup>e</sup> sev<sup>ll</sup> ffactories & y<sup>e</sup> Commanders despatches accordingly.

Wee are now a bargaining with Runchore Parrack &<sup>ca</sup>, Sheroffs for sale of y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Companys gold at y<sup>e</sup> prizes following, wherein wee desire yo<sup>r</sup> opinion before wee conclude an absolute bargaine viz<sup>t</sup>.

12 Ingotts at 13 rup<sup>s</sup> per tola.

13 Do. at 12<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub> per tola.

To Swally.

The Sovereigns and Spanish Pistolls at Rs. 13 $\frac{5}{8}$  per tola, the Duccats at 13 $\frac{3}{4}$  rup<sup>e</sup>. per tola, but in reg<sup>d</sup> to the coarsness of y<sup>e</sup>. Holland ducatts if there be more y<sup>n</sup> 2 in 300 tolas weight off y<sup>m</sup>, then they desire some allowance to be made in y<sup>e</sup>. price, and 31 days time on y<sup>e</sup>. whole, provided you give yo<sup>r</sup>. assent with us to y<sup>e</sup>. approvall of y<sup>e</sup>. said bargaine.

The reason y<sup>t</sup>. wee are forced to sell it soe cheape is because y<sup>e</sup>. Sunnays are fallen  $\frac{1}{2}$  a Rup<sup>e</sup>. less y<sup>n</sup> they were last yeare, w<sup>ch</sup> makes all sorts of gold not soe much in esteeme as formerly, and wee alsoe find y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. Ingott doth not sell soe current as y<sup>e</sup>. coine.

Wee have rec<sup>d</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. particulars of y<sup>e</sup>. weight alloy and cost of y<sup>e</sup>. Gold & Silver, and have concluded the bargaine for y<sup>e</sup>. Silver, touching w<sup>ch</sup> wee were in agitation before M<sup>r</sup>. Gray went downe. Y<sup>s</sup>. at present is y<sup>e</sup>. needfull from

Your very Loving Freinds,

Surat, y<sup>e</sup>. 22<sup>d</sup>. September 1676.

GER. AUNGIER.

CHARLES JAMES.

May it please yo<sup>r</sup>. Hono<sup>rs</sup>,

To y<sup>e</sup>. Company.

Our last unto you was dated y<sup>e</sup>. 7th Aprill, recommended to yo<sup>r</sup>. Agent in Persia; since w<sup>ch</sup> wee have rec<sup>d</sup>. yo<sup>rs</sup> of y<sup>e</sup>. 16th September, w<sup>ch</sup> came to o<sup>r</sup>. hands y<sup>e</sup>. 29th Aprill by way of Persia; and on y<sup>e</sup>. 20th August to o<sup>r</sup>. great comfort wee rec<sup>d</sup>. yo<sup>rs</sup> of y<sup>e</sup>. ... and 11th March sent by y<sup>e</sup>. "Barkly Castle" & <sup>ca</sup> ships, who, blessed be God, arrived all in company together on y<sup>e</sup>. 13th Ditto at yo<sup>r</sup>. port of Bombay, where having delivered such goods as they were enordered, they sett sayle for Surat, & on y<sup>e</sup>. 15th September arrived safe in Swally hole. Wee are now very busy in unlading y<sup>m</sup> in order to their dispatch downe y<sup>e</sup>. Mallabarr Coast for y<sup>e</sup>. bringing up y<sup>e</sup>. pepper & <sup>ca</sup> goods there provided.

Wee shall not now undertake to answere any clause of yo<sup>r</sup>. letter referring yo<sup>r</sup>. hono<sup>rs</sup> to o<sup>r</sup>. gen<sup>ll</sup>. answere by yo<sup>r</sup>. shipping, w<sup>ch</sup> wee trust in God to dispeed in due time towards you; but having taken into o<sup>r</sup>. consideration y<sup>e</sup>. cargo now sent out p. these ships, together with y<sup>e</sup>. goods remaining on o<sup>r</sup>. hands, as well here as at Bombay, and y<sup>e</sup>. present marketts of goods in Surat, we humbly desire yo<sup>r</sup>. hono<sup>rs</sup> to forbear sending out y<sup>e</sup>. following goods, till you have further advice from us, in regard they are become in a manner totally unvendable & will be a great losse to you, viz<sup>t</sup>,

Tynn	Cordage
Corrall	Tarr
Red Lead	Pitch
Perpetuanaes	Iron Shott.
Guns & Anchors

Wee shall imploy o<sup>r</sup>. best indeavours in y<sup>e</sup>. disposall of y<sup>e</sup>. cargo now consigned unto us to yo<sup>r</sup>. utmost advantage; but y<sup>e</sup>. present marketts give us very slender encouragment for any Europe goods whatsoever as you will find by y<sup>e</sup>. list of goods enclosed; and y<sup>e</sup>. times are become soe ticklish and dangerous for trade, soe many eminent merchants brought to decay and poverty, y<sup>t</sup> wee shall find more difficult y<sup>n</sup> usually to meet wth able & secure merch<sup>ts</sup> to deale with in o<sup>r</sup>. contracts, for there is an extraordinary alteration in y<sup>e</sup>. trade of Surat to w<sup>t</sup> it was formerly; but wee govern o<sup>r</sup>. selves with advice, caution, and are as circumspect as wee can in all o<sup>r</sup>. dealing for y<sup>m</sup>. Y<sup>or</sup>. treasure soe soon as cleared from y<sup>e</sup>. custome house safe shall be sold and disposed to y<sup>or</sup>. best advantage.

The month of May last proved exceeding troublesome, for Sevajee with a considerable army having suddenly surprized a castle called Pindolle, about 3 dayes journey from Surat, belonging to y<sup>e</sup>. Rajah of Ramnagurr, sends his envoy to y<sup>e</sup>. Gov<sup>r</sup>. of y<sup>e</sup>. citty demanding

9 Lack of Rup<sup>as</sup> to be paid immediately for redemption of y<sup>e</sup> citty & y<sup>e</sup> quarter part of y<sup>e</sup> revenue of y<sup>e</sup> Country, otherwise he threatens to destroy all with fire & sword. This news put y<sup>e</sup> towne into a distracted condition, y<sup>e</sup> most eminent merchants and all y<sup>e</sup> people were ready to run away, but y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> shut up y<sup>e</sup> gates & made some show of defence. Wee prepared the best wee could for security of yo<sup>r</sup> house and estate, and having sent back y<sup>e</sup> souldiers w<sup>ch</sup> wee had from Bombay, were forced to supply their roome the best wee could. Y<sup>e</sup> alarm continued longer y<sup>n</sup> any wee have had hitherto, and y<sup>e</sup> danger more apparent in reg<sup>d</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> enemys soe neere approach. But it pleased God to divert y<sup>e</sup> storme, for y<sup>e</sup> Kanies drawing neere put a stop to Sevajees army from attempting the towne, but y<sup>e</sup> feare still continues; for now he hath possession of y<sup>e</sup> Castle aforementioned, he looks himself as M<sup>r</sup> of Surat and all y<sup>e</sup> country hereabouts, & except y<sup>e</sup> King takes some speedy care to protect y<sup>e</sup> towne and countrey it is likely to be reduced to a very ill condition in a short time.

Since o<sup>r</sup> last y<sup>e</sup> Portuguez have been quiet, & have not offered us any disturbance on Bombay, the Viceroy having disowned y<sup>e</sup> proceedings of y<sup>e</sup> Capt. Gen<sup>ll</sup>.

The last ships y<sup>t</sup> touched in Zeilon doe confirme y<sup>e</sup> news of y<sup>e</sup> warr raised ags<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Dutch by y<sup>e</sup> King of Candy; and y<sup>t</sup> most of y<sup>e</sup> Garrison y<sup>t</sup> was at Cochein was sent over for their assistance; but y<sup>e</sup> Dutch give out y<sup>t</sup> they were upon termes of accommodation.

The Ffrench have a small vessell arrived w<sup>ch</sup> adviseth of another great ship belonging to their Company laden with goods and some treasure w<sup>ch</sup> they left off y<sup>e</sup> Islands Mascarenus. Y<sup>e</sup> ship y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench expect every day. They say alsoe y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> said Island begins to be well planted by the Ffrench, & some considerable supplies are sent thither from France y<sup>e</sup> yeare, but wee have noe further assurance thereof but from y<sup>m</sup>selves.

Wee herewith send yo<sup>r</sup> hono<sup>rs</sup> a small pacquett from yo<sup>r</sup> Ffactors at Syam and 3 more from yo<sup>r</sup> Agent and Councill at Ffort S<sup>t</sup> George, where, blessed be God, all yo<sup>r</sup> ships were safely arrived.

Wee have not rec<sup>d</sup> any letters from Bantam a long time nor have wee any certainty of y<sup>e</sup> "Unicornes" arrivall there; but of Cap<sup>t</sup> Limberys death we have advice by way of Ffort S<sup>t</sup> George.

It hath pleased God to lett us see w<sup>t</sup> wee are by y<sup>e</sup> frequent mortallitys w<sup>ch</sup> have hap- pened amongst us. In May M<sup>r</sup> Lambert Daniel dec<sup>d</sup> in Callicutt, in June M<sup>r</sup> Thomas Keck at Dungom, y<sup>e</sup> 6th July M<sup>r</sup> Isaac Reynardson at Broach, y<sup>e</sup> loss of M<sup>r</sup> Reynardson (wee much lament) for he gave us great prooffe of his integrity and abillity, and Capt<sup>t</sup> Ustick dec<sup>d</sup> in August at Bombay, whose losse alsoe wee much lament. Yo<sup>r</sup> President hath been confined to his bed neere 3 months by a dangerous flux, but by Gods mercy is now in faire hopes of recovery. Yo<sup>r</sup> Deputie Gov<sup>r</sup> of Bombay is brought up to Swally in a very weake condition: he has desired o<sup>r</sup> leave to change y<sup>e</sup> aire for some time in hopes of his recovery; in whose absence M<sup>r</sup> John Pettit with y<sup>e</sup> rest of y<sup>e</sup> Councill surviving doe mannadge y<sup>e</sup> affaires of yo<sup>r</sup> Island, to whose assistance wee shall appoint some of yo<sup>r</sup> serv<sup>ts</sup> to supply y<sup>e</sup> vacant places in Councill soe soon as o<sup>r</sup> leizure will admitt.

The "Persia Merch<sup>t</sup>" & "Scipio African" wee keepe in Swally hole in hopes of ffreight goods for Persia, for w<sup>ch</sup> Port they are layed in; at present there are noe goods in towne nor doe wee expect any Caphilaes downe from Agra, Ahmadavad, Brampore, or Orangabad, till y<sup>e</sup> months of November and December, w<sup>n</sup> wee shall use o<sup>r</sup> utmost diligence to procure ffreights for y<sup>m</sup> though wee expect noe meane difficulty therein, for y<sup>e</sup> number of ships now belonging to y<sup>e</sup> Merch<sup>ts</sup> of y<sup>t</sup> port doe make goods on freight exceeding cheape & hard to be got; but yo<sup>r</sup> shiping will faire better y<sup>n</sup> any of these; nor shall o<sup>r</sup> best endeav<sup>rs</sup> be wanting to encourage you w<sup>t</sup> in us lyes to keepe shipping constantly in India. Times for good and profitable ffreights once were, but now the scene is quite altered of w<sup>t</sup> it was. Wee commend yo<sup>r</sup> honors to y<sup>e</sup> Almightyes protection, and remaine

Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 22<sup>d</sup> Sept<sup>r</sup> 1676.

Your Hon<sup>rs</sup> most humble Serv<sup>ts</sup>,

GER: AUNGIER.

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

The sev<sup>ll</sup> Commanders of yo<sup>r</sup> shipping have been desirous to send letters to their owners w<sup>ch</sup> wee could not reasonably deny y<sup>m</sup>; wherefore have enclosed y<sup>m</sup> in yo<sup>r</sup> hon<sup>rs</sup> paquet.

---

Prices of Europe Commodities, Surat, Anno 1676.

Scarletts and fine greenes at 10 rupees p. yard.

Broad Cloth Coarse at 2½ rups. p. yard.

Cloth Rashes at 2½ rups. p. yard.

Perpetuanaes at 20 rups. p. peece.

Quick Silver at 45 rups. p. md.

Vermillion at 10 rups. p. md.

Lead at 2½ rups. p. md.

Copper at 18 rups. p. md.

Allum at 3½ rups. p. md.

Iron at 2½ rups. p. md.

Tinn at 11 rups. p. md.

Red Lead at 2½ rups. p. md.

Gunns at 3 rups. p. md.

Anchores at 4 rups. p. md.

Cordage at 9 rups. p. cwt.

Tarr at 13 rups. p. barrell.

---

Mr. John Petit &<sup>ca</sup> Councill.

Our Loving ffreinds,

To Bombay.

Wee have now before us 3 of yo<sup>rs</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> 19th, 22nd & 26th September; y<sup>t</sup> of the 19th by reason the pattamarr fell sick by the way came not to o<sup>r</sup> hands untill the 7th curr<sup>t</sup>.

The Ffrench ship the "Pinke," as alsoe the King of Bantams ship "The Blessing," arrived here the 4th Instant; & y<sup>e</sup> paquet of letters was safely d<sup>d</sup> to Mouns<sup>r</sup> Baron.

Wee have made inquiry for a coyner & shall send you one soe soon as wee can procure him.

Wee cannot approve what you write, y<sup>t</sup> you will agree with the customers for the custome of y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench masts, soe well as you can; for there is nothing due thereon, in regard they were landed on y<sup>e</sup> Island, not as goods for sale, but as stores belonging to y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench King (out of y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench man of war); so y<sup>t</sup> wee judge the customers demands unreasonable & doe require y<sup>t</sup> noe allowance be made them on y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>tt</sup>.

The invoice of goods taken on shore at y<sup>e</sup> Island out of the Europe ships wee have rec<sup>d</sup>.

Wee like well y<sup>t</sup> you have secured the Ffrenchman who wounded the Lascarr belonging to "The Blessing;" if the s<sup>d</sup> Lascarr dye, wee thinke good that you proceed agst him according to o<sup>r</sup> lawes, suspending yo<sup>r</sup> execution till you have o<sup>r</sup> further orders; but if he recover, you may release the Ffrenchman, he first satisfying for his charges of the Court, the cure of the wound, and all other expences.

Wee well observe what you write of sending you downe an ample commission to act by in y<sup>a</sup> affaire. Wee thinke it will not be prudence to be over-hasty, in regard wee know not as yet how it may please God to dispose of the Dep<sup>tie</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> who still continues very weake, and in a desperate condition; however wee desire M<sup>r</sup> Petit to act cheerfully in all the Comp<sup>as</sup> concerns till o<sup>r</sup> further order, for wee have this affaire & the want of Councill in Bombay und<sup>r</sup> o<sup>r</sup> consideration, but o<sup>r</sup> present stress of business will not admit us finally to determine thereof. By the next conveyance you may expect to hear more largely from us.

The merch<sup>t</sup> here that hath hired the "Mallabarr Coaster" thinkes you have sett too high a rate on her ffreight, in regard she is bound from Carwarr with timber for y<sup>e</sup> Island, w<sup>ch</sup> will not beare soe great a charge. His whole desire is y<sup>t</sup> her ffreight may be made soe that the Hono<sup>ble</sup> Company may be gainers and himselfe noe looser; wherefore wee would have you send us up an acco<sup>tt</sup> what charges she is at in fitting out on y<sup>a</sup> voyage, and by that wee shall calculate her ffreight.

Our ffreinds at Carwarr doe very much complaine of you for detayning their pacquetts (wee sent you downe last raines) soe long on the Island, before you sent them forward to Rojapore, for w<sup>ch</sup> neglect wee cannot but blame you, since it might have proved greatly prejudiciall to y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>ys</sup> affaires; and wee hope you will be more mindfull in the future.

Wee have now rec<sup>d</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Child &<sup>ca</sup> their answere touching the miscarriage and loss the Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> have sustained by sending the boates up empty from Rojapore; & are sorry to see things goe soe crossly betweene them at Rojapore and you, to o<sup>r</sup> masters prejudice, who will not be well pleased to be put to unnecessary charge, and pay freight and demurrage on vessells upon w<sup>ch</sup> none of their goods have been laden. For o<sup>r</sup> parts wee cannot justifie either them at Rojapore or you in this proceeding, nor doe wee approve of w<sup>t</sup> is done, and though you doe both labour to vindicate yo<sup>r</sup> selves, yett wee doe find a fault in you both, & shall leave the finall discussion of y<sup>e</sup> affaire to o<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> masters. Coppy of M<sup>r</sup> Child &<sup>ca</sup> their letter, wee here enclosed send you; and y<sup>a</sup> is what wee call to mind at present, soe remaine

Your very Loving ffreinds,

GER. AUNGIER.

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Swally Marine, y<sup>e</sup> 10th October 1676.

Since writing the foregoing wee have further considered of yo<sup>r</sup> great want of persons to assist in Councill; and in regard that you are now but two who signe all letters, and act in all affaires relating to Comp<sup>as</sup> concerns, wee doe now appoint M<sup>r</sup> John Hornigold Sec<sup>ry</sup> to succeed as one of the Councill, till you can be further supplied, he being the next person in succession on the Island.

Wee desire you by the first opportunity to send us up 15 barreles of tarr and 10 cwt. of y<sup>or</sup> small ropes (of 1½ Inches) for the use of the Comp<sup>as</sup> ships and vessells here.

Wee take notice y<sup>t</sup> you have not heard from M<sup>r</sup> Mauleverer nor Narran Sunay since their departure. However the President hath rec<sup>d</sup> a letter from Narran Sunay, w<sup>ch</sup> advises that Sevajee is willing to sattisfie the Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> debt & w<sup>t</sup> due to other persons in Varatts* or batty; wherefore if you cannot bring him to any better termes, wee must be forced to be content with these; & in such case you must be very carefull y<sup>t</sup> his Soobedar doe not overrate the corne, but y<sup>t</sup> it be delivered you at such reasonable rates y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>ay</sup> may be noe sufferers; and in case the townes you are assigned to receive the said batty in be over runn by the Mogulls army, the Comp<sup>ay</sup> may not sustain any damage thereby, for y<sup>t</sup> the batty must not be esteemed as y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup> untill it be delivered their servants.

* Varatts,—sometimes spelt Brawts, is the corruption of Varāha, a gold coin of Southern India, identical with what the European nations incorrectly called pagoda. Its original value was 3½ Rupees. This coin was called Varāha from its bearing on one side the figure of the incarnation or avatār of Vishnu.

Wee have discoursed with y<sup>e</sup>. Dept<sup>ie</sup>. Gov<sup>r</sup>. touching y<sup>e</sup>. house proposed for a Court of Judicature, who hath given us a very satisfactory accot<sup>t</sup>; wherefore we have concluded to take it on y<sup>e</sup>. Honob<sup>le</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup> & shall make good the mony here to y<sup>e</sup>. p.sons concerned; and desire you to take possession thereof, and now without delay goe forward in fitting up the present Court of Judicature for an Hospitall, for the sooner that soe necessary a worke is finished the better.

---

Mr. John Petit &<sup>ca</sup> Councell.

Our Respected ffreinds,

To Bombay.

On the 12th Curr<sup>t</sup>. wee rec<sup>d</sup>. yours of the 2<sup>d</sup>. and on the 14th. your breife letter of the 7th. Wee take notice of Mr. Mauleverer and Narran Sunays proceedings with Sevajee; they did well not to receive the plate, in regard there would have been soe great a loss upon it. Wee approve better of the receiving of it in Varatts, and therefore desire y<sup>t</sup> you would give yo<sup>r</sup>. directions accordingly. Wee had once great hopes that Sevajeess country would have proved advantagious to y<sup>e</sup>. Honob<sup>le</sup>. Comp<sup>ys</sup> trade, and did believe he would have been soe wise and understand his owne interest soe farr as to have kept a faire and just correspondence with us; but wee now find that soe long as that pirate and universall robber lives, that hath noe regard to freind nor foe, God nor man, there can be noe security in any trade in his country; wherefore wee have determind to desolve y<sup>e</sup>. factory of Rojapore soe soone as wee can call in o<sup>r</sup>. debts; and have given order to Mr. John Child & Mr. Charles Ward to repair on ship "Nathaniell" to Bombay with what estate of the Comp<sup>as</sup> they can bring away, & leave only Mr. Robinson and Mr. Michell to recover in y<sup>e</sup>. remaining debts. Wee have not consigned them any goods y<sup>s</sup>. yeare, nor shall wee, till wee can bring Sevajee to a better understanding of us. The same intention, also, wee have for Carwarr, if it continues long under his jurisdiction, and wee would have you alsoe withdraw all trade and correspondence out of his country. As to matter of trusting him with any of the Comp<sup>as</sup> concerns or estate, declare that you have expressed orders from us soe not to doe; & in regard to the unworthinesse of his and his ministers dealings with us, were it not for o<sup>r</sup>. ffactors and y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup> estate yet remaining at Rojapore, wee would take a more smart course with him & doe o<sup>r</sup>. selves justice on the first vessells wee could meet with belonging to his ports, but for y<sup>s</sup>. wee must take some more convenient opportunity. In y<sup>e</sup>. meane time wee would have you give express orders to Narran Sunay, y<sup>t</sup> if he cannot procure speedy sattisfaction paid in ready mony or in kind, but finds y<sup>t</sup> they still continue to baffle him, y<sup>t</sup> he come away and treat noe longer with such false people.

Wee have secured Christopher Wrightsen and shall send him down by the next opportunity.

We observe what you write of the Portuguez erecting new Custome houses at Bandora and Trombay; and little wonder at it, for wee except noe better from y<sup>m</sup>. Wee wish you had not wrote to Emanuell Saldanha y<sup>e</sup>. Captain Gen<sup>ll</sup> about it; for you gave him thereby occasion to make reflections, and to glory in his little acts of mischeife; and w<sup>ch</sup> is worse, to discover the weakness and wants of the Island; and it would be impertinent and import little to protest against him, seeing he may lawfully execute his owne authority in his owne jurisdiction. Yo<sup>r</sup>. best remedy is to slight it, and take noe notice of such malicious practices, but overlooke them and laugh at y<sup>m</sup>. with a pleasant scorne. And to y<sup>e</sup>. end the Island may be always supplied with a sufficient quantity of corne and especially of batty, we hereby give you order y<sup>t</sup> you buy upon the Comp<sup>as</sup> account <sup>t</sup> 2000 moras of batty, "at y<sup>e</sup> cheapest rates, and at y<sup>e</sup> best time to keepe in store for supply of all emergencies; for the laying up and good keeping whereof you have a store house already built by the custome house, with which corne you may supply the marketts in time of necessity, taking care at y<sup>e</sup> next convenient season to lay up store in yo<sup>r</sup> granary againe, and keepe it always fully supply<sup>ed</sup>, and you must take care to commit the charge of the said granary to some carefull and honest man. O<sup>r</sup> grand designe in appointing this storehouse is for supply of the garrison in case of any sudden surprise of warr with Sevajee or the Portuguez or other Europe nations, and therefore faile not to goe speedily in hand with it; for wee know not how soone the face of things may alter, as well in Europe as India, and if you want any assistance from us in y<sup>s</sup> affaire, let us heare from you.

Wee approve w<sup>t</sup> you have done in ffreighting the "Hunter" for Scinda though the price be very cheape, but wee require you to shorten her charge in proportion to the lowness of her ffreight, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> may be noe looser thereby. Wee would also have you procure a ffreight for y<sup>e</sup> "Phenix," and you need no trouble yo<sup>r</sup> selves for a guardship, in regard wee are at present (blessed be God) in peace with all y<sup>e</sup> wourld, and soe long as o<sup>r</sup> ships are going and comming upon the coast there is no feare of danger.

Wee have perused the Vice Roys letter to you touching the Padrees run away from Goa; and for that wee have been sensible of some inconveniencys caused by such vagabond Padrees, who leave their cloysters on purpose to lead lycentious lives in Bombay, and besides are apt to encourage the people to all disorder and disaffection to the English Government, wee therefore thinke good, that if such Padrees are upon the Island, you give them convenient notice to repaire to Chaule or where else they please to dispose of themselves, for y<sup>t</sup> wee are not well sattisfied with their contynuanee there.

Mrs<sup>s</sup> Ustick had desired o<sup>r</sup> lycence to repaire to Surat, wth designe to continue here till y<sup>e</sup> departure of the next yeares shipping, and that in y<sup>e</sup> meane time she doth not designe to be burthensome to the Company here. Wee heartily wish she would continue on y<sup>e</sup> Island till y<sup>e</sup> time of y<sup>e</sup> said ships departure, in regard it is not y<sup>e</sup> Companys pleasure y<sup>t</sup> any women whatsoever should remaine in Surat, but such as are marryed; & therefore wee would have you perswade with her to continue some time longer there; but if you find her extraordinary importunate and resolute to goe home for England on y<sup>e</sup> next ships, upon rec<sup>t</sup> of yo<sup>r</sup> answere wee shall give such directions as shall be necessary.

Upon examination of y<sup>e</sup> invoyces from Europe wee find noe mention made of any iron laden on the "Society," but w<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> value is duely brought out in y<sup>e</sup> marquet; y<sup>et</sup> (as wee believe you meane) there is laden on the "Nathaniell" 43 bundles of rod iron w<sup>ch</sup> you must accordingly give in credit for. Y<sup>s</sup> being what wee call to mind at present, wee commend you to y<sup>e</sup> Almightyes protection, & remaine

Your very Loving ffreinds,

GER. AUNGIER.

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Swally Marine,
y<sup>e</sup> 17th October 1676. }

The Company have given us expresse order to send home Mr<sup>r</sup> West and Mr<sup>r</sup> Sclater by these ships; wherefore wee desire you to give you timely notice thereof, y<sup>t</sup> soe they may prepare themselves accordingly; and wee would have you have an especiall eye over y<sup>m</sup> y<sup>t</sup> they may not be missing when the ships returne for England.

Worship<sup>ll</sup> &<sup>ca</sup>

Our Loving ffreinds.

To Bombay.

In persuance of o<sup>r</sup> former intentions wee have considered y<sup>e</sup> necessity of resettling the Government of Bombay, and though our worthy ffreind Mr<sup>r</sup> Phillip Gysford be still in being, and y<sup>e</sup> respect w<sup>ch</sup> wee have to his merit & services hath caused us hitherto to suspend o<sup>r</sup> determinations hereof, yett seeing his condition is such y<sup>t</sup> promises little hopes of life, and for y<sup>t</sup> o<sup>r</sup> duty requires us to take due care of the publique concerns of y<sup>t</sup> Island, wee have thought good to appoint and elect Mr<sup>r</sup> John Pettit Dep<sup>ty</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> (only in respect to Mr<sup>r</sup> Gysford wee have y<sup>s</sup> reserve, that if it shall please God to restore him to his health and strength it shall be at his choice to returne to his charge againe if he thinks good, seeing he hath well deserved from the Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> & us during his mannadgement). Wee doe now therefore here enclosed send a Commission, wishing him all prosperous success in his employment; we hope he need not arguments either to encourage or instruct him in y<sup>e</sup> mannadgement of y<sup>s</sup> weighty charge; for o<sup>r</sup> experience of his abilities, and his experience of the gen<sup>ll</sup> affaires of the Island, will ease us of that trouble; and wee know he will now clothe himselfe with a publique spirit and apply himselfe seriously to contrive all just wayes for y<sup>e</sup> advance of the Comp<sup>as</sup> interest and y<sup>e</sup> gen<sup>ll</sup> good of the Island.

To w<sup>ch</sup> end wee thinke good to mind him and you all to hasten y<sup>e</sup> Bastion soe fast as possible you can, for wee are ashamed that worke should lye so long on hand; wherefore let it be finished with all speed, & excepting you may have some work to doe to y<sup>e</sup> Hospitall wee would have you lay aside all worke without y<sup>e</sup> ffort till y<sup>t</sup> be done.

Wee are very ill sattisfied in y<sup>e</sup> mannadgement of the acco<sup>ts</sup> of Bombay, for wee have not rec<sup>d</sup> nor adjusted any acco<sup>ts</sup> with you these 3 or 4 yeares; wherefore wee desire you seriously to attend that affaire, and if Girder or y<sup>e</sup> Moody be dilatory in their acco<sup>ts</sup>, you must proceed severely with y<sup>m</sup> to bring them to better order, & if you judge it necessary to appoint any particular Bannian Accompt<sup>t</sup> to keepe the Comp<sup>as</sup> gen<sup>ll</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup> to be as a checke upon Girder and y<sup>e</sup> Moody &<sup>ca</sup> wee would have you thinke thereof, and nominate some p<sup>son</sup> whome you shall thinke soe able, and upon rec<sup>t</sup> thereof wee shall give you our direction therein. Wee are sensible of y<sup>e</sup> obstructions which have offered in y<sup>e</sup> settlement of those acco<sup>ts</sup>, yett wee cannot but justly complaine of the neglect, lazyness and dilatory proceeding of some who have had charge thereof formerly, w<sup>ch</sup> wee desire you carefully to rectifie hereafter. Wee have now appointed Mr<sup>r</sup> John Child to be accomp<sup>t</sup>, whome wee suddenly expect from Rojapore, during whose absence wee would have you employ whatever persons you find capable to assist in y<sup>t</sup> office. To y<sup>e</sup> end the acco<sup>ts</sup> will be speedily finished and adjusted, wee have appointed Mr<sup>r</sup> Charles Ward to be Warehouse keeper, whome wee alsoe suddenly expect from Rojapore, soe y<sup>t</sup> when Mr<sup>r</sup> Child and Mr<sup>r</sup> Ward come to you, you will be supplied sufficiently with assistance. As for y<sup>e</sup> treasure, that charge belongs to y<sup>e</sup> Dep<sup>ty</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup>, who by the Comp<sup>as</sup> rules is to appoint such person whome he can confide in to keepe it. But as to y<sup>e</sup> Secretaries office, Mr<sup>r</sup> Hornigold having made his request to keepe it till he may have a further employ, wee have thought good to gratifie him therein.

Notwithstanding wee wrote you long since to send us an account what calicoes & other Europe goods wee might expect from you, yett hitherto you have omitted it; wee must needs complaine of much neglect in the Callico Investm<sup>t</sup>; for wee are assured if you and yo<sup>r</sup> Brokers there would be as industrious as you ought in y<sup>e</sup> inviting & encouraging weavers to settle with you, y<sup>t</sup> manufacture of Calicoes would be increased much more y<sup>n</sup> it is. Wee desire you therefore seriously and earnestly to take y<sup>s</sup> affaire into yo<sup>r</sup> consideration, and to use all just meanes possible to invite and encourage weavours of all sorts to inhabite on y<sup>e</sup> Island, & it is o<sup>r</sup> opinion that seeing the country of Sevajee and Decan is harrassed & much ruined by y<sup>e</sup> warrs, if you did employ some persons to invite the weavers of those parts to come over to you they would gladly accept it only for a secure livelyhood sake, wherefore use yo<sup>r</sup> endeavours herein; and wee give you notice, y<sup>t</sup> it is the Comp<sup>as</sup> particuler directions to us to procure as many Dungaree weavers to settle on y<sup>e</sup> Island as wee can in regard y<sup>t</sup> commodity is in request, to whome alsoe wee would have you procure as many Pautkae weavers as you can, for they alsoe will be necessary; and assure yo<sup>r</sup> selves what industrie and ingenuity you employ in y<sup>s</sup> affaire will be well esteemed by o<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> masters and by o<sup>r</sup> selves.

And for yo<sup>r</sup> better supply of cotton yarne for y<sup>e</sup> keeping the said weavers at worke wee shall send you downe by the "Hoigh" a considerable parcell of Rojapore yarne, which will be with you in a few dayes after rec<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>s</sup> letter, whereof w<sup>t</sup> is proper to be delivered out to y<sup>e</sup> weavers for y<sup>e</sup> making any sort of Calicoes fitt for Europe above mentioned, wee would have soe disposed off, and y<sup>e</sup> remainder sold to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>ys</sup> best advantage. In y<sup>e</sup> meane time faile not to get ready w<sup>t</sup> Baftas broad and narrow you have provided for England to be sent up by the "Hoigh," whome you must not faile to dispatch soe soon as you can conveniently, y<sup>t</sup> the goods may arrive timely with us, and y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> "Hoigh" may be serviceable in y<sup>e</sup> lading the ships, whereas otherwise the Comp<sup>y</sup> will be put to y<sup>e</sup> charge of hiring boates, and to y<sup>s</sup> end you must quicken yo<sup>r</sup> dull and dilatory broker Girder, who too much wants a spurr in all buisness that relates to y<sup>e</sup> Company.

Wee did formerly require you to recover of Mr<sup>r</sup> Rich<sup>d</sup> West the mony due to Mr<sup>r</sup> Bonithon dec<sup>d</sup>, but you have hitherto done nothing, therein faile not to receive the said mony into the Comp<sup>as</sup> Cash, and give us notice that wee may make it good to y<sup>e</sup> Persons concerned therein.

Wee have rec<sup>d</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> letter of the 26th October by Matteus and shall now answere what clauses are necessary therein. As to y<sup>e</sup> new house bought for y<sup>e</sup> Court of Judicature, you are to take notice y<sup>t</sup> the ground belonging thereto is bought together with y<sup>e</sup> house which you must take in for a back yard. As to y<sup>e</sup> customers reply and request touching the Ffrench Masts wee can by noe meanes admit thereof, for it is most unjust in them to take such meane advantages on y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> on all occasions, & it will be more unjust in us to permit it, & by the same pretence they may demand custome on all the goods landed out of the "S<sup>t</sup> Francisco," which would be most unreasonable to imagine, wherefore wee doe not only require you to charge nothing on y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> Acco<sup>tt</sup> on y<sup>t</sup> score, but to enter a provisionall clause in y<sup>e</sup> custome house articles to cleare the Company totally of all such impertinent and troublesome demands hereafter as well in respect of ships comming into port as goods landed there.

Wee approve well yo<sup>r</sup> sale of 50 P<sup>s</sup> Broad Cloth at 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  R<sup>s</sup> p. y<sup>d</sup> 8 mo<sup>s</sup> time, and would have you encourage what you can y<sup>e</sup> vent of all Eng<sup>s</sup> manufactures especially cloth.

What Iron you cannot sell there or dispose of in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> service wee would have you send up by the first opportunity y<sup>t</sup> it may not lye dead.

Wee observe what you write touching the Portuguez prohibiting all provisions to be brought from Salsett. Wee would not have you take it to heart or be any wayes discouraged at their malicious practices, but send what vessells you can downe to Mangalore and Bassalore to lade rice there for y<sup>e</sup> suply of y<sup>e</sup> Island, and soe you must doe yearely, that y<sup>e</sup> Portuguez may see wee have as little occasion to make use of y<sup>m</sup> as they of us. Wee call not else to mind at present, but commend you to y<sup>e</sup> Almightyes protection. Wee remaine

Your very Affectionate Fireinds,

Surat y<sup>e</sup> 4th Nov<sup>r</sup> 1676.

GER AUNGIER.

MATT. GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Worship<sup>ll</sup> &<sup>e</sup>

To Bombay.

Our last unto you was dated y<sup>e</sup>.....Curr<sup>t</sup>. Y<sup>s</sup> wee send you by y<sup>e</sup> "Ruparell", now returning to Bombay.

The Hono<sup>ble</sup> Company having given some particular direction touching the Island Bombay in their gen<sup>ll</sup> letter, wee now thinke good to send you transcript of their said orders for your better observance thereof though their contents have been already communicated unto you.

In particular you will find y<sup>t</sup> they have desired us to send y<sup>m</sup> our opinions touching y<sup>e</sup> overflowne lands, about w<sup>ch</sup> wee have had some discourse with Colo<sup>ll</sup> Bake, but for want of his papers & remembrances, he could not give us any positive answer, therein promising to send it up to us from Bombay. Wee therefore desire you to mind him thereof y<sup>t</sup> it be done with all speed, and wee would have you take due advice with those Cunbyes and persons of Sivajees country who did formerly undertake to enter on said worke and with what other persons you judge capable to give you councill therein, and when you have rec<sup>d</sup> Colonel Bakes opinion together with theirs, wee would have you upon y<sup>e</sup> whole give us your opinion w<sup>ch</sup> you like best, and which is most feizable, declaring your reasons for y<sup>e</sup> same; and when wee have rec<sup>d</sup> your opinion, wee shall be y<sup>e</sup> better prepared to give our judgements thereof, and y<sup>e</sup> sooner y<sup>s</sup> be effected y<sup>e</sup> better for time growes upon us.

You will see y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> have made a proposall touching y<sup>e</sup> lessning y<sup>e</sup> customes of goods imported y<sup>t</sup> are to be manufactures, wherein wee presume cotton yarne and raw silke is chiefly intended, in w<sup>ch</sup> affaire wee would have you consider whether y<sup>e</sup> lessning or taking y<sup>e</sup> customes wholy of those goods importation will contribute any thing to y<sup>e</sup> manufacture of calicoes or wrought silke on y<sup>e</sup> Island, for if soe it would be laudable & hopefull designe; wherefore lett us know yo<sup>r</sup> opinion therein. Lett it be one of your maine designes to encourage y<sup>e</sup> said two manufactures and especially y<sup>t</sup> of calicoes, and to invite as many weavers as possible you can, in order whereunto you must promise them such priviledges, immunities, and exemptions from publique duties as they shall reasonably desire from you, for nothing will fright y<sup>m</sup> more y<sup>n</sup> hard services in watching and attendance on y<sup>e</sup> Militia from w<sup>ch</sup> they are to be wholy exempted.

Touching y<sup>e</sup> granary for corne wee hould it soe necessary, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Island cannot be safe without it, wherefore wee confirme our former direction therein, but you need not be overhasty to buy it all at once, for y<sup>n</sup> y<sup>e</sup> price will rise exceedingly upon you, but you must procure

it at best cheapest time in y<sup>e</sup> yeare, for y<sup>n</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> will not loose thereby, and if you could serve yourselves any where else y<sup>n</sup> from y<sup>e</sup> Portugall country, wee should be much better pleased, for they will assuredly raise y<sup>e</sup> price upon you, and wee suppose you may be furnished cheaper from Bassalore by y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> vessells y<sup>n</sup> from any other place.

You will see y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> have desired to be sattisfied touching their houses in Bombay. We would therefore have you cause a list of all y<sup>e</sup> houses to be taken, specifying their dimensions, y<sup>e</sup> materiall of w<sup>t</sup> they are built, y<sup>e</sup> roomes w<sup>ch</sup> they containe, y<sup>e</sup> present uses they are put to, and their prime cost, which list send to us y<sup>t</sup> wee may advise y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> w<sup>t</sup> further necessary therein.

Wee would have you advice us how y<sup>e</sup> Souldiers sent out y<sup>s</sup> yeare doe comfort themselves & especially y<sup>e</sup> Germanes; & lett us know how many Eng<sup>s</sup> Roman Cattholicks there are in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> service, their employs, and how they doe behave themselves therein.

You will observe w<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> write about y<sup>e</sup> sale of their brass gunns, w<sup>ch</sup> wee would have you sell to any but Sevajee, for he is not to be trusted; wee wish they were disposed off, for y<sup>e</sup> mony would doe well in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> Cash.

Wee are commanded to treat Madam Shaxton, Madam Wilcox and their families with all faire respect, w<sup>ch</sup> wee recommend unto you, and when Madam Shaxton returnes from Rojapore wee would have you take care of some suitable accomodation for her. Touching other particulars wee referr you to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> owne directions.

On y<sup>s</sup> vessell their are some English men who have served in her two months and demanded their wages of us, declaring they were entertained as in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> service, but wee knowing they were imployed for y<sup>e</sup> defence of Girders vessells, have not concerned o<sup>r</sup>selves therein, but referred y<sup>m</sup> to you to see justice done y<sup>m</sup> there.

There are two Bocamortisses on board y<sup>s</sup> vessell w<sup>ch</sup> belong to y<sup>e</sup> ffactory of Rojapore. Wee would have you receive y<sup>m</sup> into y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> store house and give y<sup>e</sup> said ffactory credit for y<sup>m</sup>.

Wee expect y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> ship called y<sup>e</sup> "Formosa Merch<sup>t</sup>" in a short time from Tywan, laden with Copper and other goods. Wee presume she will first put into Bombay; if soe wee would have you take on shore all y<sup>e</sup> Copper for y<sup>e</sup> use of your mint and w<sup>t</sup> other goods you can dispose off on y<sup>e</sup> Island, and dispatch y<sup>e</sup> ship with the remaining Cargo towards us with all speed, not excepting further order.

By "John Emerson" wee send you a box with 3 locks wherein you are to keepe y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> seales according to y<sup>e</sup> clauses of their letter relating to y<sup>t</sup> affaire. Y<sup>s</sup> being w<sup>t</sup> wee have to add at present, wee remaine

Your very Loving Ffreinds,

Surat y<sup>e</sup> 21st Nov<sup>r</sup> 1676.

GER. AUNGIER.

MATT: GRAY.

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

---

Whereas Neema Parrack, an eminent Banian Merchant of y<sup>e</sup> City Diu, hath expressed his desire to settle wth his family and trade on y<sup>e</sup> Island Bombay, from y<sup>e</sup> ffame w<sup>ch</sup> he hath heard of y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> large commerce, upright dealing, justice, and moderation to all persons y<sup>t</sup> live under y<sup>e</sup> shaddow of their Governm<sup>t</sup>; and in order thereunto hath requested a pattend from us, under y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> seale containing certaine favours w<sup>ch</sup> he begs in relation to liberty, and security in y<sup>e</sup> exercise of religion, trade, property, and reputable residence on s<sup>d</sup> Island; wee y<sup>e</sup> President and Councill for y<sup>e</sup> said Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> have thought good, in regard to his eminent worth and good report, to grannt him y<sup>e</sup> following priviledges:

1. That y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> shall allot him soe much ground in or neere y<sup>e</sup> present ..... free of rent as shall be judged necessary to build a house or warehouse thereon.

2. That he wth y<sup>e</sup> Braminees or Ver of his cast shall enjoy y<sup>e</sup> free exercise of their religion wthin their owne houses wthout y<sup>e</sup> molestation of any person w<sup>t</sup>soever, that noe Eng<sup>s</sup>man, Portuguez or other Christian, nor Mahomitan, shall be permitted to live wthin their compound, or offer to kill any living creature there, or doe y<sup>e</sup> least injury or indignity to y<sup>m</sup>; and if any shall presume to offend y<sup>m</sup> wthin y<sup>e</sup> limits of their said compound upon their complaint to y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> or Dep<sup>ty</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> offenders shall be exemplary punished; y<sup>t</sup> they shall have liberty to burn their dead according to their custome and alsoe to use their ceremonies at their weddings, and y<sup>t</sup> none of their profession of w<sup>t</sup> age, sex, or condition w<sup>t</sup>ever they be, shall be forced to turne Christians, nor to carry burthens agst their wills.

3. That he and his ffamily shall be free from all duties of watch and ward, or any charge and duty depending thereon; that neither y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> nor y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup>, Dep<sup>ty</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> or Councill or any other person shall on any pretence w<sup>t</sup>soever force y<sup>m</sup> to lend money fcr publique or private accompt<sup>t</sup> or use any indirect violence or wayes to y<sup>t</sup> effect; but y<sup>t</sup> they shall wth all freedome enjoy their properties, estate & goods wthout any molestation.

4. That in case there falls out any difference or suite in law between him or his vakeell or attorneys or y<sup>e</sup> Banians of his cast, and any other persons remaining on the Island, y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> or Dep<sup>ty</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> shall not suffer him or y<sup>m</sup> to be publicly arrested, dishonoured or carryed to prison wthout first giving him due notice of y<sup>e</sup> cause depending, y<sup>t</sup> he or they may cause justice to be done in an honest and amicable way, and in case any difference happen between him, or his attorney, or any Banian of their owne cast, they may have liberty to decide it among themselves wthout being forced to goe to law.

5. That he shall have liberty of Trade in his owne ships and vessels to w<sup>t</sup> port he pleases, and com in and goe out when he thinks good wthout paying anchorage having first given y<sup>r</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> or Dep<sup>ty</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> or Customer notice and taken their consent thereunto.

6. That in case he brings any goods on shore more y<sup>n</sup> he can sell on y<sup>e</sup> Island wthin y<sup>e</sup> space of 12 months he shall have liberty to transport y<sup>m</sup> to w<sup>t</sup> port he pleases, wthout paying Custome for exportation.

7. That in case any person be indebted to him and also to other Banians, and be not able to pay all his debts, his right may be prefered before other Banians.

8. That in case of war, or any other danger w<sup>ch</sup> may succeed, he shall have a warehouse in y<sup>e</sup> Castle to secure his goods, treasure, and ffamily therein.

9. That he or any of his ffamily shall have liberty of egres and regres to & from y<sup>e</sup> ffort or residence of y<sup>e</sup> Governor and Dep<sup>ty</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup>; y<sup>t</sup> they shall be received wth civil respect and be permitted to sit downe according to their qualities; y<sup>t</sup> they shall freely use coaches, horses or pallanqueens and quitasals for their conveniency wthout any disturbance; y<sup>t</sup> their serv<sup>ts</sup> may weare swords and daggers, shall not be abused, beaten or imprisoned except they offend agst y<sup>e</sup> law, and y<sup>t</sup> in case any of his kindred or freinds shall come to visit him or them from any other parts, they shall be used with civility and respect.

10. That he and his assignes shall have liberty to sell and buy coconuts, beetlenuts, paunne, and any other comodity not rented out, wthout any molestations on y<sup>e</sup> Island.

Worshipfull &c.

Our respected ffreinds,

Since our last of y<sup>e</sup> 9th Instant wee have rec<sup>d</sup> two of yo<sup>rs</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> 3<sup>d</sup> & 10th Aprill. In y<sup>e</sup> first wee observe yo<sup>r</sup> answer touching y<sup>e</sup> articles proposed by Neena Parrack Banian, in order to his settlem<sup>t</sup> on Bombay. When wee come againe to treate with him thereon wee hope soe to moderate y<sup>e</sup> affaire y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Island shall not receive any y<sup>e</sup> least prejudice thereby, and wee doe not question but wholly to put him by his request of 10 m<sup>ds</sup> of Tobacco w<sup>ch</sup> he would annually receive or bring on the Island free of all duty<sup>s</sup>.

Wee take notice of y<sup>e</sup> 1407 ba<sup>s</sup> of rice the "Good Neighbour" hath brought you from Carwarr, y<sup>e</sup> ffreight of what rice she should bring thence wee long since concluded at 10 Rupees y<sup>e</sup> Surat Candy, soe y<sup>t</sup> wee would have you see how much y<sup>e</sup> bags containe. Make up y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>tt</sup> at y<sup>e</sup> aforesaid rate and draw a bill on us here for y<sup>e</sup> amo<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> money w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall make good to y<sup>e</sup> owners of y<sup>e</sup> ship.

Wee are well pleased to read y<sup>e</sup> successe your vessels have had over y<sup>e</sup> Mallabars in taking four of their prowes w<sup>ch</sup> is an acceptable piece of service.

Wee doe concur wth Madam Young y<sup>t</sup> all or y<sup>e</sup> greatest part of y<sup>e</sup> 73 Chests Shyraze wine might be sent to Surat on y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> acco<sup>t</sup>, but y<sup>t</sup> will not cleare her dec<sup>d</sup> husband Cap<sup>t</sup> Henry Young from y<sup>e</sup> demands of Sen<sup>r</sup> Leny; for what wine he sent to Surat he hath given himself credit for in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> Bookes, soe y<sup>t</sup> Lenys demands are still the same. If she hath nothing else to offer in her defence, wee see no just reason why y<sup>e</sup> debt may not be made good to him of which pray let her be acquainted.

Wee are very sorry to read of y<sup>e</sup> unhappy accident y<sup>t</sup> befell you in blowing up 35 barrells of powder; and give God thanks y<sup>t</sup> it hath done noe greater mischeife. We desire you to be more carefull hereafter, and when you dry your powder to give notice to y<sup>e</sup> Garrison Souldiers, and all others, y<sup>t</sup> they come not neare with fire or any combustible matter.

Wee are not well pleased wth y<sup>e</sup> Souldiers request you present to us, to consider of y<sup>e</sup> great loss they receive by having their wages paid them in Bujerooks* and Dugonyst† for wee have given noe orders for altering the valew of s<sup>d</sup> species and presume you have not raised them but y<sup>t</sup> they pass still curr<sup>t</sup> for w<sup>t</sup> they did upon the Island, and as to their passing abroad we are not to concerne ourselves, and if there be any abuse in y<sup>e</sup> shroffs by their raising y<sup>e</sup> Vatao‡ you must punish them, but wee had information by the late Dep<sup>ty</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> cheife officers doe much abuse y<sup>e</sup> souldiers, in keeping all the silver and gold to themselves of w<sup>ch</sup> they make an advantage to their prejudice; and wee suspect this petition and designe to be fomented by them, w<sup>ch</sup> wee would have strictly enquired into and informe us the truth of w<sup>h</sup> you find. It is a thing of bad consequence to alter y<sup>e</sup> settled pay of y<sup>e</sup> souldiers, who are a guarrilous ungrateful people and never satisfied. Wee are sure there is noe garrison in Asia, or Europe, better paid then y<sup>t</sup> of Bombay and yet they are alwayes craving. If provisions are deare, you must use all just meanes to procure y<sup>m</sup> plenty and cheape as you can, but for altering their pay, or valew of y<sup>e</sup> current coine wee doe not approve it.

* Budgrook.—A coin of low denomination and of varying value and metal (copper, tin, lead, tutenague) formerly current at Goa and elsewhere on the western coast, as well as at some other places on the Indian Seas. It was adopted from the Portuguese in the earliest English coinage at Bombay.—Colonel Yule's Hobson-Jobson.

† Dugony was a Bombay coin of the value of two pies.

‡ Vatao or Vataw means the rate of exchange.

Wee are as little satisfied with what you write about your troopers augmentation of their pay in regard to their wearing out more cloths then the ffoot, and making themselves short boots against y<sup>e</sup> rains. Those who were the first promoters of this design should have done well to have considered this before, and now it would not be discretion nor prudence in us to raise their pay so soone after they are established, nay hardly before they are warme in their imployes.

Wee have rec<sup>d</sup> your account of Customes bought by M<sup>r</sup> Joseph Burges and do very much strange at the great loss thereon. Doubtless the Comp<sup>a</sup> will not be thus satisfied, but will demand satisfaction for so notorious a loss from those who managed the Customes y<sup>t</sup> year, which do not turn to their honour. We now send downe said M<sup>r</sup> Burges, touching whome we shall write you more hereafter.

On y<sup>e</sup> ship "Return" w<sup>ch</sup> now goes down to winter with you, since we could not procure a ffreight for her there this monzoon, we have sent you 3 horses out of those we rec<sup>d</sup> from Persia for supply of your Troop, whose invoice goes inclosed, for which we desire you to give us credit.

Some time since by order of your Governor there was taken on shore from M<sup>r</sup> Alexander Oglevy 6 pieces of Broach Dimmitys for Table Linning for your use of y<sup>e</sup> ffort, w<sup>ch</sup> said six pieces belonged to M<sup>r</sup> Isaac Reynardson dec<sup>d</sup> for which he was never yet satisfied. Wherefore we desire you to give us credit for Rupees 84, your amount of the six peeces Dimmity; and we shall make it good to his account here. If you want any assistance in your offices in copying out letters or accounts or any other such like service, M<sup>r</sup> Joseph Burges hath promised to assist you so far as he is capable during y<sup>e</sup> time of y<sup>e</sup> raines. This being what we have to enlarge on at present, we commend you to y<sup>e</sup> protection of y<sup>e</sup> Almighty, and remaine Suratt, y<sup>e</sup> 26th Aprill 1677.

Your very loving ffreinds,
GERA<sup>a</sup> AUNGIER.
CHARLES JAMES.
CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Worsp<sup>ll</sup>,

Wee doe very much strange at y<sup>e</sup> extravagancies of Ensigne Thorpe in offering to make prize of any of our neighbours vessells y<sup>t</sup> are in amity wth us, and do very well approve of w<sup>t</sup> you have done in publique examination of him, and taking from him his Commission w<sup>ch</sup> may testify to y<sup>e</sup> world y<sup>t</sup> we disowne such irregularities and violent actions. Hitherto have we rec<sup>d</sup> no complaints from this Governor nor any person else; when we doe wee shall give them such answer as is necessary. This at present is the needfull from

Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 3<sup>d</sup> May 1677.

Your very Loving ffreinds,
GERA<sup>a</sup> AUNGIER.
CHARLES JAMES.
CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>

This Citty of Surat and the Countries adjacent have for these 4 years been under a continued feare of being surprized by Sevagees Army, for his souldiers are garrisoned and lodged securely in Nunsaree and Gundave, and y<sup>e</sup>. cheife officers taken up y<sup>e</sup>. Desys owne houses, who wth their ffamilys and the Cazzys and y<sup>e</sup>. cheife men are all fled to Surat, and Sevagees men doe not only force contribution from the Country, but come boldly into this towne wth 40 and 50 horse at a time and publiquely demand provision and contributions from the Gov<sup>r</sup>. and the Kings officers, and 'tis confidently affirmed y<sup>t</sup>. Sevagees Army increases dayly more and more, and y<sup>t</sup>. many of his souldiers are lodged privately in the very Towne of Surrat upon some designe w<sup>ch</sup> hath caused y<sup>e</sup>. Cap<sup>t</sup>. of y<sup>e</sup>. Castle to raise 500 souldiers more for his defence and to keep an extraordinary strickt watch day and night; and you may conceive y<sup>t</sup>. our Ffrench and Dutch neighbours as well as ourselves have y<sup>e</sup>. same apprehension for their Masters estates and our owne liberties. But should Sevagee surprise y<sup>e</sup>. Towne there is no possibility for us to oppose them but must keepe as faire tearmes wth him as wee can, and it is somewhat to our contentm<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>t</sup>. you maintaine wth them a faire understanding at Bombay, as alsoe our ffreinds at Rojapore, and they alsoe doe reciprocally toward you, soe y<sup>t</sup>. w<sup>t</sup>ever designs they may have against y<sup>s</sup>. towne yet wee are willing to believe that he hath noe ill intentions against us. However wee trust him not, and would willingly use all convenient meanes to satisfie ourselves whether he meanes well towards us, and have thought good therefore to write a civill letter to Morah Pundit, who is Gen<sup>l</sup>. of his army, desireing him that he would give his instructions and strict orders to Trumbuckgee and y<sup>e</sup>. rest of y<sup>e</sup>. officers y<sup>t</sup>. do now command the army, or whoever shall hereafter command in his absence, y<sup>t</sup>. w<sup>t</sup>ever attempt they make upon y<sup>e</sup>. towne, they doe not offer any violence to y<sup>e</sup>. English house or Nation or to any of their Broker or servants imediately depending upon them, and y<sup>t</sup>. they would send y<sup>e</sup>. s<sup>d</sup>. orders to us to show to y<sup>e</sup>. officers in case there be need. Wee send you herewth y<sup>e</sup>. coppie of our letter to him w<sup>ch</sup> wee desire you not to send by Narransinay, for his proceedings are very tedeous and slight, but wee would have you send Cap<sup>t</sup>. Keygwin together wth Cans Moody for his interpreter wth it who is to bring an answer together wth y<sup>e</sup>. said order. This wee effectually recommend to you, and if you conceive anything elce y<sup>t</sup>. may tend to our further satisfaction or security, wee would have you put it in execution and likewise advise us w<sup>t</sup>. you can learne concerning Sevagee and his army and your judgement thereon, w<sup>ch</sup> is y<sup>e</sup>. needfull touching this affaire.

Wee have since thought good to write one letter to Sevagee also of same tenor to y<sup>t</sup>. to Mora Pundit, and whereas wee have ordered Cap<sup>t</sup>. Keygwin to manage this designe, now wee conceive it may be done by less expence, by sending only a discreet Sergeant whome you may accommodate wth y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup>. horses, and things necessary for his charge, w<sup>ch</sup> wee desire may be as moderate as can be contrived; and wee give instructions to Cans Moody to enquire w<sup>t</sup>. newes he can, y<sup>t</sup>. wee may be instructed as fully as wee can expect in such a conjuncture. And faile not to write what newes you can, where Sevagees person is wth his army, and alsoe where the army under Mora Pundits command doth take up his winter quarters.

The Comp<sup>as</sup>. in their letters overland, doe advise y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. callicoes sent off late from Bombay are very deare, and unless they can be made better and cheaper procured, it will be to their loss to have any made there at w<sup>ch</sup> wee cannot but admire, and beleive it some abuse in y<sup>e</sup>. Broker, wherefore wee would have you look after him more dilligently in y<sup>e</sup>. ffuture; and it is the Comp<sup>as</sup>. desire y<sup>t</sup>. all their Baftas broad, narrow, and Sevaguzzes be made but 20½ covits long, the old dimentions, w<sup>ch</sup> order you must observe for what cloth yo<sup>u</sup>. make hereafter. Wee remaine

Your very Loving Ffreinds,

GERA<sup>A</sup>. AUNGIER,

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

Surat, y<sup>e</sup>. 26th May 1677.

Worshipfull &<sup>ca</sup>

To Bombay.

It hath pleased God to our great sorrow after a tedious sickness to take out of this life our worthy Presid<sup>t</sup> Gerald Aungier, who dec<sup>d</sup> this morning between four and five of y<sup>e</sup> clock, of w<sup>ch</sup> wee thought good to give you this timely notice, y<sup>t</sup> you might prevent all innovations or disturbances upon y<sup>e</sup> Island; and for y<sup>e</sup> better Governm<sup>t</sup> of affaires thereof, wee herewth send yo<sup>u</sup> copy of a clause of y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> letter bearing date y<sup>e</sup> 22<sup>d</sup> Feb<sup>ry</sup>, wherein you will find y<sup>t</sup> they have made provision in case of y<sup>e</sup> decease of y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Gerald Aungier, and M<sup>r</sup> Matthew Gray, y<sup>t</sup> they have given full power and authority to three of their Councill of Surat, or more, to act as Commissioners in y<sup>e</sup> manadgement of their affaires in these parts of India. Wherefore untill y<sup>e</sup> rest of y<sup>e</sup> Councill can be conveniently call'd up hither to consider and determine w<sup>t</sup> shall be necessary and consistent wth y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> interest for y<sup>e</sup> more ample establishment of their affaire, wee think good to confirm M<sup>r</sup> John Pettit our worthy freind in y<sup>e</sup> management of y<sup>e</sup> affaires on y<sup>e</sup> Island to act (wth advice of y<sup>e</sup> present Councill of Bombay) in as full power and authority as he could or might doe by virtue of y<sup>e</sup> commission given him by our late Hon<sup>ble</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> &<sup>ca</sup>, hereby requiring all persons inhabitants on y<sup>e</sup> Island of w<sup>t</sup> quality and degree soever to obey and observe his orders accordingly. And wee doe commend to your care the preservation and good Governm<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Island, y<sup>t</sup> all things may be continued in such forme and order as at present they are established, observing for y<sup>e</sup> ffuture such directions as yo<sup>u</sup> shall from time to time receive from us, and wee desire yo<sup>u</sup> to strengthen us wth your advice and councill in anything you shall find conducing to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> interest.

Our thoughts are now taken up in giving orders and directions for y<sup>e</sup> decent buriall of y<sup>e</sup> defunct, whom, God willing, wee intend to interr on Munday next, in such manner as y<sup>e</sup> time and place will admit, that at present wee enlarge not, but to remaine

Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 30th June 1677.

Your assured Loving Freinds,

CHARLES JAMES.

CASAR CHAMBRELAN.

---

SELECTIONS
FROM THE BOMBAY LETTERS,
1677-1742.

---

■

SELECTIONS
FROM
THE BOMBAY LETTERS,
(1677—1742).

---

Hono<sup>ble</sup> &<sup>ca</sup>

Though wee are sensible the Presid<sup>t</sup> and Councells elaborate pen will not passe over any materiall affaire relating to y<sup>e</sup> places concerne, yet wee cannot but suppose it a part of y<sup>t</sup> duty incumbent on us to render our sence of y<sup>e</sup> Island Estate, wth w<sup>t</sup>ever wee shall deem may meritt your Hon<sup>rs</sup> knowledge, w<sup>ch</sup> wee humbly offer to yo<sup>r</sup> favourable construction, and hope the Divine powers will so far enable us y<sup>t</sup> neither in the narrative or active part of our duties wee shall be omisive of the least perticular y<sup>t</sup> may give your Hon<sup>rs</sup> due satisfaction, begging a candid interpretation of o<sup>r</sup> weak though fervent endeavours, it being most certaine that a successfull event does not alwayes crown y<sup>e</sup> most prudent propositions, but among wise men ever applause or at least excuse, w<sup>ch</sup> alone consideration fills us wth alacrity and zeale.

Our Militia is now perfected, wee having increased y<sup>m</sup> to a compleat body of neare 600 men who are all possessours of land on the Island. Wee shall see y<sup>m</sup> well trained up and disciplined that they may be serviceable, and to be relied on upon y<sup>e</sup> most emergent occasions, and hope time will bring y<sup>m</sup> to so good a martiall order y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> security and defence of y<sup>e</sup> Island may much depend upon their strength. There is above 100 more owners of lands y<sup>t</sup> are Braminys and Bannians, who, being never accustomed to beare armes, are willing to contribute in money, w<sup>ch</sup> will help towards payment of y<sup>e</sup> Militia officers. Wee are not yet come to an agreement how much they shall pay, but in a month or 2 more shall conclude on it. The charge of the officers is as much abbreviated as possible, the whole body having but one Cap<sup>t</sup> who has but Lieut<sup>ts</sup> pay, and the Lieu<sup>t</sup> Ensignes pay, and y<sup>e</sup> Ensignes Sergeants pay, some of the Sergeants but Corporals pay, and Corporals but very few, some of w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall pick out of the Militia y<sup>t</sup> shall serve wthout pay.

The Presid<sup>t</sup> and Councell has ordered us to raise a small Troop of 40 horse, y<sup>n</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> nothing can be of greater safeguard to y<sup>e</sup> Island, for besides y<sup>e</sup> extraordinary fame of horse in these countreys, one horse being esteemed equivalent to 50 foot, they are such an ubiquitary force, y<sup>t</sup> in halfe an houres time by taking up 40 Souldiers behind y<sup>m</sup> wee can have 80 men in any part of the Island compleatly armed, ready to impeed an enimies landing, or to quiet any sudden insurrection. And the charge of all y<sup>e</sup> but very small: the Cap<sup>t</sup> only will receive pay; as for a Lieu<sup>t</sup> & Cornet wee shall oblige some of Hon<sup>rs</sup> own servants to officiate those places, Quarter Masters wee want none, & the 3 Corporalls will have but . . . X<sup>s</sup> p. month each more y<sup>n</sup> private centries. Troopers wee shall choose out of the Garrison souldiers, and though y<sup>e</sup> Garrison Comp<sup>as</sup> are y<sup>e</sup> weaker by it it matters not, instead of w<sup>ch</sup> there shall allwayes be a division of the horse keep a guard over against y<sup>e</sup> ffort gate. The most part of y<sup>e</sup> Horse shall be of the countrey breed, w<sup>ch</sup> will but cost 60, 80, or 100 Rup<sup>s</sup> p. horse, who will not need y<sup>t</sup> high feeding of jagree and butter commonly given to all horses in these parts; and whereas it is the custome for every horse to have a horsekeeper, wee will endeavour to make one horsekeeper serve two horses, & for grasse & hay wee will make y<sup>e</sup> Island supply us for nothing, as it has hitherto done for those horses wee now have, w<sup>ch</sup> are at present 31 in number, w<sup>ch</sup> were ever a great charge & yet of no defence for want of modelling into a Troop and disciplining; & wee think ourselves very happy in y<sup>e</sup> choice of so expert and discreet a Command<sup>r</sup> as is over y<sup>m</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & Councill haveing conferred y<sup>t</sup> employ<sup>mt</sup> upon Cap<sup>tn</sup> Rich<sup>d</sup> Keigwin.

■

Our souldiers, thanks be to God, continue very healthfull, for whereas last yeare from October to Feby<sup>r</sup> there died above 100 men, this yeare wee have not lost 15, most of w<sup>ch</sup> of imposition in y<sup>e</sup> liver, much of w<sup>ch</sup> benefit wee must attribute to o<sup>r</sup> new hospitall, wee having taken y<sup>e</sup> old Court of Judicature for y<sup>t</sup> use, it being a thing so highly necessary, for the souldiers doe not die by any such fatality concomitant to y<sup>e</sup> clime as some vainly imagine, but by there irregularitty & want of due attendance when sick. For to persons in a flux & . . . w<sup>ch</sup> is y<sup>e</sup> country diseases, strong drink & flesh is mortall, w<sup>ch</sup> to make an English souldier leave of is almost as difficult as to make him divest his nature, nay though present death be laid down before him as the reward of y<sup>e</sup> ill gratifying his palate. This is the true cause our Bombay bills of mortality have swelled so high, whereas in y<sup>e</sup> Hospitall nothing can come in or out wthout passing y<sup>e</sup> Doctours eyes, y<sup>t</sup> wee have great confidence this Hospitall will save yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> some hundred pounds yearely w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> transport of souldiers exacts.

The Court of Judicature wee have built in the Bazar, being a far more convenient place and of greater ease for all sorts of people to repaire thither, and more fitting for persons where prisoners may beg reliefe of passengers.

Our rents were not much increased last year, though something they were our chiefe rent. The Custome is farmed for 27000 Xs., but wee must speake it to our great grieve, that whilst wee are so incompassed wth y<sup>e</sup> Portugueze and Sevagy on all sides, wee cannot expect our trade greatly to increase; for y<sup>e</sup> reason of y<sup>e</sup> flourishing trade of Surat and other Sea Ports is this, that Merch<sup>ts</sup> who bring their goods from other countreys in shipping, land y<sup>m</sup> and transport them up y<sup>e</sup> countrey from thence for sale, or sell y<sup>m</sup> to other Merch<sup>ts</sup> who doe the same, & againe Merch<sup>ts</sup> buy in-land goods, bring them freely down to port without molestation, nay Customes or much charges, where is alwayes shipping ready, whereon they lade y<sup>m</sup> for all parts of India. Now the egresse and regres for Merch<sup>ts</sup> up y<sup>e</sup> countrey from hence is totally obstructed, the Portugueze having the Islands of Caranjah and Salset, w<sup>ch</sup> almost surrounds us, and they are ever exquisite seekers of all wayes imaginable to doe us mischief, envying as wee suppose the sudden prosperity this place is rose to. The chieftest, nearest, and best passe up y<sup>e</sup> countrey is by Tanna, where formerly they tooke of all goods w<sup>ch</sup> passed by 3 p. cent, but now for the sake of only Bombay they have raised it to 10 p. cent, w<sup>ch</sup> is equivalent to a totall forbidding all goods to passe. Likewise all timber for shipping & houses of durance, w<sup>ch</sup> wee may call y<sup>e</sup> oak of India, growes up at Cullean, Bimurly, & must necessarily passe by Tanna, where they take 33 p. cent. custome. They have y<sup>s</sup> yeare forbid all rice to be transported to Bombay, and doe often put excessive excises upon even hearbs, and fruit, and hens, w<sup>ch</sup> poor people bring over at Bandora, but in y<sup>s</sup> & most other things their malice shoots much short of their intention, for, thanks be to God, wee have alwayes provisions in abundance, our Island being commonly rather a granary of corne then otherwise, from whence it is transported to Rajpore, Goa, and other places, and it shall be o<sup>r</sup> care never to see y<sup>e</sup> Island unprovided of provisions. But wee could find other wayes to passe up y<sup>e</sup> countrey wth little trouble were there peace between y<sup>e</sup> Moguls and Sevagy, or that the Mogul would take all this countrey about us; for about 2 dayes journey up y<sup>e</sup> Hill between the Moguls & Sevagys dominions lies a perpetuall seat of war, so that no Merch<sup>ts</sup> can passe wthout apparent hazzard of being plundered, so y<sup>t</sup> wee cannot expect Merch<sup>ts</sup> should land their goods here wthout knowing where or how to dispose of them, that wee often wondred how so considerable a custome could be annually raised, and wee can attribute it to nothing but y<sup>e</sup> justice, freedome, & security people injoy here above other places, many families of Braminy<sup>s</sup> daily leaving y<sup>e</sup> Portuguezes territories & repaire hither frightened by y<sup>e</sup> Padrees, who upon y<sup>e</sup> death of any person forces all his children to be Christians; and even some of y<sup>e</sup> chieftest who still live at Bassin & others build y<sup>m</sup> houses here, therein placing their wives & children against a time of danger. Wee have hopes time will settle these parts in peace that Merch<sup>ts</sup> may be induced to bring down their rich goods from up the countrey, the custome of one of which ships would amo<sup>t</sup> to w<sup>t</sup> rece<sup>d</sup> here in halfe a year, y<sup>e</sup> Port having in respect of situation & convenience the advantage of Surat, Goa, & all y<sup>e</sup> Ports on y<sup>e</sup> whole Coast. Goa lying so far down below y<sup>e</sup> great places of Guzzarat, Ditty, Branpore, Ourungabaud, &c<sup>a</sup> where y<sup>e</sup> great glut of goods w<sup>ch</sup> supplies Europe & all India is made, India growing there narrow from one sea to y<sup>e</sup> other that it is very chargeable bringing down goods thither; y<sup>n</sup> Surat is one of the worst roads in India & extream dangerous in y<sup>e</sup> freshes, & the transport of goods up by y<sup>e</sup> distance very chargeable, whereas Bombay lies in an excellent latitude for y<sup>e</sup> whole trade of India, & is a most excellent harbour, winter & summer, w<sup>ch</sup> is a great inviter of Merch<sup>ts</sup>, & for a small charge wee will run up a stone causeway from y<sup>e</sup> Fort almost to y<sup>e</sup> Mint without, in w<sup>ch</sup> ships may at any time ly ashore, carine, & mend, or ly there y<sup>e</sup> whole yeare wth as much safety as in a Dock; & upon y<sup>e</sup> countreys being in peace, & our landing o<sup>r</sup> Europe goods here Merch<sup>ts</sup> would easier be perswaded to transport y<sup>m</sup> from hence then from Surat, and though y<sup>e</sup> same Custome was taken at landing y<sup>m</sup> on y<sup>e</sup> Maine as at Surat, yet all that was transported in shipping to forreign parts would be so much custome gained to your Honours &c<sup>a</sup>, but these are happineses in posse, & to be prayed for.

Wee have y<sup>e</sup> yeare sent up to Surat above 2000 p<sup>cs</sup> of Baftas, all made by y<sup>e</sup> weavours of y<sup>e</sup> Island y<sup>t</sup> have been induced to come and inhabit here, the Broker having formerly for his credits sake deceiv<sup>d</sup> us wth Cambaya cloth instead of Bombay, w<sup>ch</sup> does but hinder y<sup>e</sup> Sur<sup>t</sup> investm<sup>t</sup>, though wee believe it not very cheap, yet suppose it not extraordinary dear, the weavours charges of 5 p. cent enhancing y<sup>e</sup> price, w<sup>ch</sup> cannot yet be removed, they at first wanting encouragem<sup>t</sup> to their repair hither; but besides that, wee have hopes to make cloth cheaper then hitherto effected, there having not been any Factours who have had judgem<sup>t</sup> to oversee such a work, and dayly to superintend y<sup>e</sup> weavours, but have been forced to confide in y<sup>e</sup> Broker, who perhaps may be as honest as others, yet few or none of that profession, if business be wholly intrusted to them, but will pay y<sup>m</sup> selves extraordinaryly for their paines. Whereas wee doe now intend w<sup>n</sup> wee can procure fitting persons (y<sup>e</sup> Island being at present in great want of able Factours) to set them over the weavours who shall deliver out the cotton by weight, learning how many threads go into every peece, receiving it againe by weight and tale of threads, & allowing so much p. pe. for weaving according to its finesse, w<sup>ch</sup> is but a small matter & easily learnt, and there can be no deceit or over-reaching, and this wee esteem a very necessary work, for wee have great hopes to give yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> much satisfaction in y<sup>e</sup> increase of the cloth investmen<sup>t</sup> on y<sup>e</sup> Island, though we find it difficult to induce weavours to leave their annient habitations, it being inbred in all people to esteem no place like home. Yet if wee doe not fall out wth Sevagy wee dare promise 3 times the quantities as this yeare sent; wee are induced to say if no quarrell happen between us & Sevagy, because wee shall be forced to make y<sup>e</sup> greatest part on y<sup>e</sup> other side of the Bay, about 20 miles of up y<sup>e</sup> river of Salset, where wee have got together a good parcell of weavours whom wee cannot yet perswade to come over, though have hopes in time to effect it. However y<sup>e</sup> 5 p. cent. w<sup>ch</sup> wee now put upon y<sup>e</sup> cloth for weavours will be taken away, instead of w<sup>ch</sup> wee must pay 2 p. cen<sup>t</sup> to Sevagy, and perhaps 2 or 3 p. cen<sup>t</sup> more for charges, yet if wee p<sup>d</sup> 15 p. cen<sup>t</sup> it will bear lesse y<sup>n</sup> y<sup>e</sup> expences of any factory, but y<sup>n</sup> it will be objected y<sup>e</sup> cloth is bought by y<sup>t</sup> expence cheaper then the Island cloth, to w<sup>ch</sup> wee answer that wee have yet probable hopes to equallize the cheapnesse of other factorys cloth, for besides the reason above given wee have hopes to have o<sup>r</sup> cotton yarne come cheaper to us then yet hitherto it has done, so that at leastwise to make it stand in competition or surpass any of the Guzzarat cloth, if not come very neare y<sup>e</sup> prizes of Rajapore and Carwar.

Wee have lately disposed of pretty good quantities of Europe goods, 2000 m<sup>ds</sup> of Iron, 1000 m<sup>ds</sup> of Lead and 150 p<sup>cs</sup> of Broadcloth, 200 p<sup>cs</sup> of Boudy, & 50 p<sup>cs</sup> of red Perpetuanas, besides are daily selling of y<sup>e</sup> old remains of Perpetuanas, of w<sup>ch</sup> wee have almost 300 p<sup>cs</sup> by us, but most of them sadly damaged by wormes, and carelesnesse; if possible wee will put y<sup>m</sup> off though at low rates before y<sup>e</sup> next ships arrive. O<sup>r</sup> Norwich stuffs goe off pretty well, partly to y<sup>e</sup> Portu- gueze, but most upon the Island, the vent of w<sup>ch</sup> wee doe much incourage by wearing it for the most part o<sup>r</sup> selves. The greatest part will in a short time be disposed off, & doe believe may be able to sell 100 p<sup>cs</sup> yearly, y<sup>e</sup> being no commodity for the natives, nor coloured cloth, of w<sup>ch</sup> a small quantity will be sufficient. Wee will likewise induce all y<sup>e</sup> officers and souldiers to appeare every muster day in a red coat, & doe intend to make all people who receive pay of the Comp<sup>y</sup> take a coat or two yearly, w<sup>ch</sup> will incensibly carry off a good quantity. O<sup>r</sup> iron wee are forced to sell at neare prime cost, by w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall be able to dispose of great quantities, for then it will spoile y<sup>e</sup> vent of countrry iron becoming almost as cheap, & is far more beneficiall then for yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> to send over so much ready mony. O<sup>r</sup> lead wee sold at y<sup>e</sup> Sur<sup>t</sup> price, but y<sup>n</sup> wee save y<sup>e</sup> custome and charge, & bring trade & credit to y<sup>e</sup> port. Our cloth w<sup>ch</sup> was the coarsest bales at 3¼ p. y<sup>d</sup> time, Body at 2⅔ re<sup>d</sup> per y<sup>d</sup>, & red Perpetuanas at 1¼ n<sup>d</sup> same time to receive it by the tillet. Wee expecting the ship "Formosa" from China wth Japan copper, shall dispose of all o<sup>r</sup> plates w<sup>ch</sup> is 329, that copper which is in barg being only propper to make pice, being lesse losse & y<sup>e</sup> plates selling here for more.

We are getting up o<sup>r</sup> fourth and last Bastion, and indeed the best, but it is very difficult work, being so far in the sea y<sup>t</sup> wee can only work on y<sup>e</sup> foundation at new moon springs, and then but 2 or 3 houres in a day for 4 or 5 dayes. Wee have got both sides pretty well up to high water mark, & next spring hope to finish y<sup>e</sup> foundation of all, after w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall quickly run it up, & then wee want only finishing y<sup>e</sup> Ditch and a Ravelin wth the 2 horne works if they shall be found necessary, w<sup>ch</sup> will make y<sup>e</sup> Ffort one of y<sup>e</sup> strongest in India.

Wee have y<sup>s</sup> yeare rec<sup>d</sup> some large guns of 60 w<sup>t</sup> each but they are not so proper for our ffort, wanting length, for therein lies y<sup>e</sup> advantage a ffort has of shipping by being able to sinck a ship wth her long Guns ere she can approach to batter w<sup>ch</sup> no ships deck is able to receive, or endure, y<sup>e</sup> reverse whereof, wee suppose it very necessary for defence of the Island fort for yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> to send out 20 or 25 Guns of 18 & 22 foot long each w<sup>ch</sup> would likewise be a terrour to all people.

Herewth goes a Petition of the Widdow of yo<sup>r</sup> late Judge Mr<sup>r</sup> George Willcox, he having rec<sup>d</sup> no sallary here for the time that he was Judge here. She therefore begs yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> to consider her condition & order her y<sup>e</sup> paym<sup>t</sup> of w<sup>t</sup> convenient sallary yo<sup>r</sup> ho<sup>rs</sup> shall deem her husband may have merited.

Wee likewise herewith send our Consultation Book & Coppy Bookes of Lett<sup>rs</sup> wth a roll of all y<sup>e</sup> English on y<sup>e</sup> Island, & a list of all yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> houses wth their dimensions, & y<sup>e</sup> materialls they are made of wth y<sup>e</sup> prime cost of y<sup>e</sup> Court of Judicature, Hospitall, & Mint. Our Books of Acco<sup>ts</sup> are unfinished, and indeed there hath been no body here to doe them, yo<sup>r</sup> late Dep<sup>ty</sup> Govern<sup>r</sup> Mr<sup>r</sup> Gyffard dying of a lingring distemper w<sup>ch</sup> incapacitated him to all buisines for many monthes, so that John Petit, who was likewise under a violent distemper, was forced to dedicate y<sup>e</sup> most part of y<sup>t</sup> time sickness would permit him to use, to officiate in his stead, notwth standing w<sup>ch</sup> they should have been finished were y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup> but rightly stated & in good method, but the bookes are full of nothing but errours & false acco<sup>ts</sup>; there has been no acco<sup>ts</sup> given in of y<sup>e</sup> warehouse these 4 yeares; sev<sup>ll</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup> remayning upon ball<sup>ns</sup> time out of mind, & in y<sup>e</sup> whole a gen<sup>ll</sup> confusion, so that there will want a great deal of care, assiduity, & time to bring y<sup>e</sup> books into due order & method.

Wee have before took occasion to speak of y<sup>e</sup> bad neighbourhood wee enjoy from y<sup>e</sup> Portu- gueze. In y<sup>e</sup> month of Aprill last from a small begining there had like to have succeed- ed a quarrell between us and y<sup>m</sup> of no meane consequence. It happened that one of their frigats gave chace to a merch<sup>ts</sup> ship of Callecute, w<sup>o</sup> making his escape came for shelter under our fort. The Capt<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> frigat demanded y<sup>e</sup> delivery of y<sup>e</sup> ship up to him, who upon o<sup>r</sup> refusall makes his complaint to y<sup>e</sup> Capt<sup>n</sup> Gen<sup>l</sup> of Bassin, Manoel de Saldanha, who, being of a fiery nature, apprehended so great an affront in it, that he immediately came hurrying to Bandora wth about 1000 men; wee may say so many in number but for service just only fitting to run away upon looking an enemy in the face, being taken up from y<sup>e</sup> Plow & the Palmars; & so aggravated & resolved he seem<sup>d</sup> to be that he made publique protestations never to returne wth out surrendry of y<sup>e</sup> vessell or an equivalent satisfaction. There happened to be some Englishmen at Bandora who went over to buy some necessaries, whom one of his Capt<sup>ns</sup> fell foul of, beat y<sup>m</sup> cruelly & killed Serjeant Southerland. Y<sup>e</sup> Capt<sup>n</sup> Gen<sup>l</sup> indeed disowned y<sup>e</sup> action however, being performed by his ministers wee could doe no lesse y<sup>n</sup> demand satisfaction for y<sup>e</sup> murder & affront. The y<sup>n</sup> Dep<sup>ty</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> lay desperately sick of a flux & hestick feavour, so that John Petit went up to Mahim taking wth him a Division of the Garrison Comp<sup>as</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> Militia of Bombay wth a 100 Bandareens, and about 100 Moores of y<sup>e</sup> Island wth y<sup>e</sup> Militia of Mahim amounted to about 500 men. Y<sup>e</sup> Capt<sup>n</sup> Gen<sup>l</sup> finding o<sup>r</sup> readines to receive him, & y<sup>t</sup> his menaces had not operated to that height as he imagined, became something calmer. His demands were first for y<sup>e</sup> delivery of y<sup>e</sup> ship to him, pretending she was his lawfull prize, having almost taken her, & y<sup>t</sup> wee ought not to protect the enemies to y<sup>e</sup> Crown of Portugall. Wee in answer laid before him by many argum<sup>ts</sup> how contrary it was both to reason, justice & the custome of all Europe to deny protection to y<sup>e</sup> vessels or subjects of any Prince in amity wth o<sup>r</sup> King of the Zamorine y<sup>t</sup> was. He long persevered in his first demands, offering many weake reasons for his justification, but finding us resolute in o<sup>r</sup> first determination, and that small effects were to be expected either from his threats or force, descended to desire of us to keep y<sup>e</sup> ship in our custody till he could write to y<sup>e</sup> Viceroy, & wee likewise advise our Presid<sup>t</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> wee likewise told him wee could not consent to, for by w<sup>t</sup> pretence or reason could wee make prisoners of our Allies or how could wee justifie ourselves to y<sup>e</sup> Zamorine for such an action & that wee had alwayes y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>ts</sup> order to doe no injustice, so that it was desiring us to break one order to wait for another. Finding nothing would prevaile wth us he was at length contented as a poor salve to his credit to desire only of us y<sup>t</sup> wee would not send any Frigats out in her convoy, & y<sup>t</sup> he would send to the Viceroy for his order herein, & in the meane their Frigat should ride without to await her motion; but all y<sup>s</sup> could not hinder him from being derided of all strangers for his bravados & effectles threats, protestations, & even condemned of folly, rashness by y<sup>e</sup> Portugall Fidalgos, & all y<sup>e</sup> Padrees. In the meane time wee forgot not to demand satisfaction for the death of Serjeant Southerland & beating o<sup>r</sup> men, for y<sup>e</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> & for w<sup>t</sup> other dammages might accrue by these his unjust proceeding wee drew up a protest against him. For yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> more perticul<sup>r</sup> satisfaction wee herewth send copy of s<sup>d</sup> ptest wth all y<sup>e</sup> papers w<sup>ch</sup> past between us. According to order Mr<sup>r</sup> West & Mr<sup>r</sup> Selater are sent home, who goe on y<sup>e</sup> "Society."

Among y<sup>e</sup> severall stores sent out wee find not any for shipping, w<sup>ch</sup> are not only absolutely necessary but not here to be procured, as compasses, lantornes, pilots instruments, log lines, saile, needles, & y<sup>e</sup> like, y<sup>e</sup> overplus of w<sup>ch</sup> wee can at any time sell to advantage. There is more great cordage sent out yearly y<sup>n</sup> is serviceable to us, o<sup>r</sup> expence being for y<sup>e</sup> most part of y<sup>e</sup> small coir cables and hassers being as strong & as serviceable as English, but for small rigging it is very gouty & unhandy & requires more hands in a ship y<sup>n</sup> w<sup>n</sup> English rigg'd, and y<sup>e</sup> most necessary cordage is small lines  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch &  $\frac{3}{4}$  inch rope for ratlings & top gallant rigging for o<sup>r</sup> small vessells, & small cordage is likewise most proper for sale.

Mr<sup>r</sup> West goes home a prisoner for debt due to M<sup>r</sup> Bonithon deceased, who would not be induced to make any end thereof or leave any attorney to it. Mr<sup>r</sup> Gore in England is wee suppose the deceaseds overseer, whom his Assignes here have advised of it, & wee thought fitting to give yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> this notice thereof.

Herewith goes a Petition of y<sup>e</sup> widow of Capt<sup>n</sup> Shaxton deceased, he having farmed the 1 p. cent<sup>e</sup> custome for y<sup>r</sup> fortifications in which he pretended to have reced<sup>d</sup> a considerable loss, in the which she begs your Hono<sup>rs</sup> favourable charity & to weigh her present necessities and charge.

Wee find yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> to be at a very great and unnecessary charge yearly in unprofitable medicines sent out, many of w<sup>ch</sup> & those of great price lye here & rot, & many wee can here p. cure at a sixth part of the price. The Physition & Chyrurgeon have therefore herewith sent lists of wth simple medicines & plaisters cannot here be procured or made w<sup>ch</sup> will amo<sup>t</sup> to a very small matter, & yet be better furnished then ever wee were yet.

Wee call not to mind ought else but y<sup>e</sup> presentation of o<sup>r</sup> reall services, assuring yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> wee shall in all things endeavour to approve ourselves

It pleased God to take Colo<sup>ll</sup> Bake out of y<sup>a</sup> world y<sup>e</sup> 13th p. sent, dying of an acute feavour.

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sr<sup>ts</sup> & S<sup>rs</sup>,
Yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> most faithfull
& most obedient Servants,
JOHN PETIT.
CHARLES WARD.
FRANCIS DAY.
JOHN HORNIGOLD.

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup> 24th Jan<sup>y</sup> 1676.
7.

Hon<sup>ble</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>.

Wee have by us unanswered 4 of yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> of the 26th and 31st Ja<sup>n</sup>, 1st & 3<sup>d</sup> Febr<sup>y</sup>, to w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall now respond.

'Tis now effectles to tell yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> the great disappointm<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> whole Island lies under by y<sup>e</sup> Europe ships not touching here. Since w<sup>t</sup> is past cannot be recalled, & wee must be contented wth o<sup>r</sup> lot, please to order whether Mr<sup>r</sup> West & Mr<sup>r</sup> Selater shall be sent home in y<sup>e</sup> Bantam ship, and whether y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> slaves shall be sent for St<sup>t</sup> Hellena in her: there is 3 of them.

Wee doe prosecute the recovering of Sevagys debt w<sup>t</sup> lies in o<sup>r</sup> power. Narransunwy has p. cured 100 car betlenuts, about 200 Mora Batty, & is promised a good quantity of coconuts. Wee are sensible he does not manage y<sup>t</sup> affair to y<sup>e</sup> best advantage, but seeing he has recovered something, wee had best stay and try y<sup>e</sup> uttermost of w<sup>t</sup> he can recover, & y<sup>n</sup> let Mr<sup>r</sup> Child goe on to endeavour to get in the rest, w<sup>ch</sup> if he cannot effect wee shall then have recourse to your last order of seizing upon what vessells wee can meet with belonging to his countrey.

Mr<sup>r</sup> Oxinden arrived here y<sup>e</sup> 6th Febr<sup>y</sup> and departed y<sup>e</sup> next day. Y<sup>e</sup> "Phoenix" was ready before he came & had put a frieght of corne on her to Rajapore to help to bear her charges; she sailed the next day after. On her wee laded the 500 chickeens recd<sup>d</sup> of Mr<sup>r</sup> Oxinden, & consigned them to Mr<sup>r</sup> Bouchier & c<sup>a</sup> advising y<sup>m</sup> wth yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> ordered us concerning her dispatch. Mr<sup>r</sup> Child remaines still here, not being able to compleat his business in so short a time, but expects y<sup>e</sup> "Hoy" down here shortly, on whom he intends to take his passage for Rajapore.

Mr<sup>r</sup> Mansell Smith has taken upon him y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Island, Mr<sup>r</sup> Ward having formerly refused them.

Mora is a corruption of the Maráthi muda, which is a measure of grain, especially batty, one muda being equal to twenty-five Bombay maunds.

Wee have now sold all o<sup>r</sup> rents much better y<sup>n</sup> expected. The new rent of Oyle & c<sup>a</sup> wee were fearfull would not have sold for halfe y<sup>e</sup> price, but it went off for as much as last year wthin 60 X<sup>s</sup>. Y<sup>e</sup> Arrack rent is increased 60 X<sup>s</sup>. Y<sup>e</sup> Tobacco rent wee were sensible y<sup>e</sup> renters got nothing in y<sup>e</sup> last year, & y<sup>s</sup> year tobacco is near cent<sup>t</sup> p. cent<sup>t</sup> dearer, so y<sup>t</sup> it will cost y<sup>m</sup> 4 or 5000 X<sup>s</sup> more in tobacco y<sup>n</sup> y<sup>e</sup> last year, w<sup>ch</sup> must all come out of the rent, so y<sup>t</sup> wee were fearfull it would fall much. To save w<sup>ch</sup> in part, wee put it to sale for 2 yeares, for it would be a discredit to y<sup>e</sup> Island to have a rent fall, and discourage future bidders, who examine not so much for how many yeares, as for how much a year it is sold, but it went off for 20850 X<sup>s</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> is 450 X<sup>s</sup> more y<sup>n</sup> last year. Our Customes wee looked upon in a standing condition, for though y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> will not make 26000 X<sup>s</sup>: of y<sup>t</sup> year they took of from M<sup>r</sup> Burges, yet wee supposed the Customers might have got some small matter, though not enough, to incourage y<sup>m</sup> to a next yeares bidding; & if it remaines in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> hands it is not 2000 X<sup>s</sup> will pay expenses of y<sup>e</sup> factours besides their sallary, and y<sup>n</sup> they will be obliged to gratifie more people in giving away Customes y<sup>n</sup> w<sup>n</sup> it is rented, neither will any person take that care and diligence in anothers concerne as in his owne; & because of some alterations made in y<sup>e</sup> Customes this year wee put in the two passage boats of Mahim & Syon w<sup>ch</sup> will not amot<sup>t</sup> to 100 X<sup>s</sup> this year, and the same guards & Purvos y<sup>t</sup> look after y<sup>e</sup> Customes for the same charge can receive y<sup>e</sup> passage boats rent, & likewise put it up for 2 yeares (w<sup>ch</sup> wee are informed is y<sup>e</sup> only way to increase the rents), yet wee did not expect any great rising, but it was carried by Ranga Delvy for 30250 X<sup>s</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> is 3250 X<sup>s</sup> more then the last year.

Wee have y<sup>e</sup> promise of halfe a score silk Weavours to come and inhabite here, but wth this condition that y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> build y<sup>m</sup> houses and be obliged to take all their silks off for 3 yeares, but wee are thinking of a better medium if yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> so approve thereof. Their silks wee dare promise y<sup>m</sup> shall goe off without troubling y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> wee can ingage persons now to doe, but there will be no such occasion, there being more consumed & bought up here then they can make, & for their houses let there be halfe a X<sup>n</sup> custome put upon each peece, w<sup>ch</sup> in a short time will reimburse y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> for w<sup>t</sup> they shall lay out. Please to send yo<sup>r</sup> orders concerning y<sup>e</sup> particular.

It pleased God yesterday to bring in y<sup>e</sup> "Formosa" ffrigate from Eymoy in China, & supposing she may be long a turning up, wee have herewth sent copy of her Invoice & y<sup>e</sup> factours letter to yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup>. She has been 15 weeks on her passage, and touched at no place. She is not full laden, but undoubtedly her cargo will turn well to acco<sup>t</sup>. There will be 50 p. cent. got upon y<sup>e</sup> very Gold, w<sup>ch</sup> wee believe is as much as y<sup>e</sup> Dutch got from Japan, & they expect to get all goods as cheap there as if they were settled on Japan, the Countrey Merchants bringing y<sup>m</sup> cheaper y<sup>n</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Dutch can buy there. Wee shall only take out all her Copper, some Sugar, & Surgar-candy for o<sup>r</sup> winter stores. Wee have ingaged y<sup>e</sup> Cosset to make hast, supposing yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> may intend to send y<sup>e</sup> Sugar, Sugar-candy, and Tutonag for Persia on the "Scipio African." She wants water and provisions, but will saile on Monday.

The 18th y<sup>e</sup> "Returne" came to an anchor about noone in y<sup>e</sup> Port, but being in want of sev<sup>ll</sup> provisions will not saile till tomorrow.

M<sup>r</sup> Child has promised to pay in some mony on M<sup>r</sup> Grays accot<sup>t</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> w<sup>n</sup> rec<sup>d</sup> shall pay it into the Comp<sup>as</sup> Treasure, and pass a bill on yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> for it. M<sup>r</sup> France has rec<sup>d</sup> nothing of him. Wee have not to add but subscribe

Your<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> most faithfull Serv<sup>ts</sup>.

Bombay y<sup>e</sup> 17th Febr<sup>y</sup> 1876
7

Hon<sup>ble</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>

Wee just now rec<sup>d</sup> your Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> briefe letter by Matthias, which asks no other answer.

Mr Child yesterday came to us, and desired justice of us in a case of debt which he pretends y<sup>e</sup> Judge owes him, and refuses payment. The debt is said for mony rec<sup>d</sup> of Mr Rich<sup>d</sup> Francis deceased by Mr Ball deceased, which mony Mr Child being impowered by the administratours of the Mr Francis as their attorney, demands of y<sup>e</sup> Judge as Executour of Mr Balls Will by virtu of the marriage between y<sup>e</sup> Judge & Mr Balls widdow. Mr Child did wholly refer himselfe to us, but the Judge it seems mistrusting our integrity & justice, y<sup>t</sup> wee would either give a partiall sentence or else take upon us to decide controversies not under our authority to determine, under w<sup>ch</sup> notion he pretended his case was, did appeal to a higher power, though wee had thought our carriage hitherto, both to y<sup>e</sup> world & him, might have been a sufficient motive to have induced him to believe us not so injust as to take upon us to give sentance in matters above our power or given to partiality. However wee well knowing y<sup>e</sup> Judge to be but an officer under o<sup>r</sup> power, & subject to o<sup>r</sup> determinations, should have proceeded to have given verdict according to o<sup>r</sup> consiences, but considering Mr Child was one of yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> Grand Councill and not sent hither to reside & assist us here, who though subject to y<sup>e</sup> laws of England of whom wee are immediate Judges on y<sup>s</sup> Island, yet not subject to y<sup>e</sup> necessary processes of law of any inferiour Court to yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> Councill; and wthout due & legall proceeding w<sup>t</sup> desition can be made; y<sup>n</sup> consequently not in o<sup>r</sup> power to doe him justice in y<sup>s</sup> case, so have referred y<sup>m</sup> to yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> to make their severall applications as they shall think best.

John Petit is upon adjusting wth Mr Smith y<sup>e</sup> errours in y<sup>e</sup> Mallabars acco<sup>t</sup>, but they want the 3 first pair of Billiapatam books from November 1669 to Aprill 1672, w<sup>ch</sup> please to order to be coppied out, sent us so soon as may be.

Wee formerly advised of some persons having had intentions to venture of securing a considerable peece of the overflown lands, but they deny to pay any other rent to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> y<sup>n</sup> a bare acknowledgm<sup>t</sup> & to have y<sup>e</sup> peece simply for ever, they pretending y<sup>t</sup> though those y<sup>t</sup> have taken in litle patches pay a small rent fee, yet it benefits nothing to y<sup>e</sup> other overflown grownd, but they intend to take in a p<sup>ce</sup> from side to side w<sup>ch</sup> will stopp y<sup>e</sup> whole breach way, and consequently less charge to who ever undertakes y<sup>e</sup> rest, but a great charge to them who must secure their land from y<sup>e</sup> water on both sides. Please to order us how wee shall p<sup>ceed</sup> in it.

Wee have not to add but subscribe

Bombay y<sup>e</sup> 8th March 1676
r

Yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> most Faithfull Servants.

Hon<sup>ble</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>

The enclosed is w<sup>t</sup> was intended by y<sup>e</sup> Europe shipping, but it was thought that y<sup>e</sup> loss of their voyage might be hazarded by touching here, soe y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> whole Island was soly disappointed from sending any lett<sup>rs</sup> to Europe. However y<sup>e</sup> "Persia M<sup>r</sup>ch<sup>t</sup>," on whom these take their passage, touching here in her way to Bantam, wee hope will arrive safe to England before the ships are sett out for these ports.

It would be a very gratefull thing to the whole Cytty if your Hon<sup>rs</sup> would be pleased to send out a great Clock and a large bell w<sup>ch</sup> will not only be very sattisfactory, but also very usefull to all.

Yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> were pleased to send us out three butts, wee must needs say, very excellent wine, but wee find it will not p<sup>serve</sup> well in caske, but in 6 or 7 mo<sup>ts</sup> is apt all to spoyle, and before y<sup>e</sup> yeare is out, neare one h<sup>d</sup> leakage in three, w<sup>ch</sup> might all be prevented if yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> would be pleased to put it up in bottles wyered, w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> very leakage would more then pay for. Wee have been forced hitherto to o<sup>r</sup> sorrow to put yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> to some charge of wyered wine to entertayne strangers, o<sup>r</sup> owne being not drinkable; be pleased to add yearly 30 gall<sup>s</sup> of Renish & 30 of Clarett wine, one h<sup>hd</sup> of wine wineager and 20 gall<sup>s</sup> of very good sallet oyle, y<sup>e</sup> two last being p.tly for medicines and p.tly for other expenses. W<sup>n</sup>soever yo<sup>r</sup> ships come not out full laden wee think it would be very necessary to fill up remaynder wth sea coal, w<sup>ch</sup> will not only be necessary stores of firing in case of a seige or warrs wth o<sup>r</sup> neighbours, but be as usefull upon any other occasion as these country coals, being in a manner as cheap.

Wee can dispose of 40 or 50 small guns yearly to very good proffit, but lett not the biggest be above 8 or 9 weight of w<sup>ch</sup> lett 25 or 30 be from one to 3<sup>c</sup> weight each, and about 20 or 30 small anchors from 4 to 5<sup>c</sup> weight each. Wee have according to our usuall custome exposed to sale the annuall rents of yo<sup>r</sup> Island w<sup>ch</sup> were bought far better then o<sup>r</sup> expectation, for y<sup>e</sup> Tobacco rent, wth w<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> roagueing and cheating of y<sup>e</sup> Siddys ffeete, and the dearnes of Tobacco this yeare, being neare double the price of the last, w<sup>ch</sup> must all come out of y<sup>e</sup> rent, wee expected undoubtedly it would fall, but it advanced 450 X<sup>s</sup>, being sold y<sup>e</sup> yeare for 20600 X<sup>s</sup>, and the Custome advanced 3250 X<sup>s</sup>, being sold for 30250 X<sup>s</sup>. The Arrack rent & new rent of Oyle continues as last yeare. Wee shall likewise put the rest of all yo<sup>r</sup> lands to sale, w<sup>ch</sup> will be farr more profitable then to keep y<sup>m</sup> in yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> hands, for wee can oblige y<sup>e</sup> Tennants to deliver all or w<sup>t</sup> batty wee shall want for the use of o<sup>r</sup> Garrison Stores at a certayne rate, or at the markett price. Wee have some credable reports that there is Peace concluded between Savajee and the Mogull, though dare not absolutely affirme it, though some of our servants that are now come from up the hill say that there is free egress and regress out of Savagys into y<sup>e</sup> Mogulls dominions wthout the least manner of hostillity. If soe wee have hopes to open a trade directly up the country, w<sup>ch</sup> in time may much advance yo<sup>r</sup> customes and increase y<sup>e</sup> trade and splendor of your Island.

The "Formosa" Frigott touched here y<sup>e</sup> 17th Febr<sup>y</sup> in her way to Surratt, out of whom wee tooke all the copper being but 157 chests, w<sup>ch</sup> is very wellcome to us, wee haveing not a barr left to keep yo<sup>r</sup> mint employed. There will be gained 80 p. cent on y<sup>e</sup> bare copper & about 20 p. cent. more by melting it. Wee could dispose of about 2000 chests in a yeare besides supplying Surratt and yo<sup>r</sup> other Factoryes, soe (at y<sup>e</sup> same rate y<sup>e</sup> copper cost) 2000 chests will yeild about 70000 rup<sup>s</sup> proffitt. Wee tooke a shoare only 26 pecull of Allome for a tryall w<sup>ch</sup> have sould for 2<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> rup<sup>s</sup> p. Bombay m<sup>d</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> is 10 rup<sup>s</sup> p. pecall, w<sup>ch</sup> cost as p. Invoyce not 3<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub> rup<sup>s</sup>. Wee have not more to add worthy yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> notice, soe period with the presentation of our reall services, and in all o<sup>r</sup> actings shall endeavour to merit the esteeme of

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir and Sirs,

Your hono<sup>rs</sup> most Ffaithfull & obedient Servants.

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup> 19th March 1676
7.

Worshipfull,

Having received order from y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> and Councill in Surrat to send such slaves of y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Com<sup>s</sup> as wee have heare to their Island of S<sup>t</sup> Hellena, these are to advise you y<sup>t</sup> wee have put on board y<sup>e</sup> Shipp "Persia Merchant," four men slaves, & here inclosed send you y<sup>e</sup> Capt<sup>ns</sup> receipt of y<sup>m</sup>, y<sup>t</sup> there may be noe demurre w<sup>n</sup> you make demand of them, and y<sup>e</sup> wth o<sup>r</sup> kinde sallutes, is all that offers worthy yo<sup>r</sup> notice from

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup> 19th March 1676
7.

Yo<sup>r</sup> very affectionate Ffriend.

Hon<sup>ble</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>.

Wee have by us two of yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> unanswered, dat<sup>d</sup> y<sup>e</sup> 12th and 20th March, rec<sup>d</sup> by the "Persia Merchant" and "Hunter" Ffrigat, to w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall now respond.

All y<sup>e</sup> persons & things ordered by yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> were put aboard y<sup>e</sup> "Persia Merchant," & sufficient provisions laid in for y<sup>e</sup> slaves.

Mr Child will imbarque aboard y<sup>e</sup> "Hunter" so soon as ever she has got her provitions aboard, w<sup>ch</sup> will be tomorrow or next day. Wee have asked him concerning Mr Admans acco<sup>ts</sup>, who does aver y<sup>e</sup> charge upon Mr Adman to be just; & y<sup>t</sup> w<sup>n</sup> y<sup>e</sup> buisines was brought before yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> Councell it was made appear y<sup>t</sup> Mr Chowne had given Mr Adman credit for w<sup>t</sup> the Moody had laid out on ffortifications, as by comparing the perticulers of y<sup>e</sup> Moodys acco<sup>ts</sup> wth Mr Admans, w<sup>ch</sup> were the same, for Mr Adman alwayes took an acco<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Moody for w<sup>t</sup> he expended on ffortifications & kept a Book apart for it, w<sup>ch</sup> being then made so plain it was ordered in Councell to be entered, & if yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> so pleases it may stand in y<sup>e</sup> same manner, w<sup>ch</sup> wee imagine to be y<sup>e</sup> rightest.

Wee have taken Mr Henry Smith into y<sup>r</sup> office, and as wee find his ability shall make his salary accordingly.

Wee shall now make up y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>t</sup> of Mr Burgeses customes & advise yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> exactly how much it is indeed. Wee know no reason y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> should be such losers. What mony wee rec<sup>d</sup> is duly and truly entered, & more wee cannot make then w<sup>t</sup> wee receive.

Wee are not unmindfull of inviting cloth weavours so well as silk, but it is very difficult procuring y<sup>m</sup>. There is a parcell at Bimurly, who have promised to weave us a good p.cell of cloth y<sup>s</sup> yeare. Wee shall try if wee can win y<sup>m</sup> over by degrees.

Wee have d<sup>d</sup> Capt<sup>n</sup> Bowers a receipt for his passengers & to Mr Hornigold & Mr Thom<sup>s</sup> Peptit their Commissions, who received them with all thankfulness.

Wee shall give our acco<sup>t</sup> curr<sup>t</sup> credit for the two chests of fruit received out of the "Persia Merchant."

John Petit will now pay into y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> cash the 1500 rup<sup>s</sup> he took up towards house building, but he has not where with all in his hands to pay in Mr Gyffards 1500 rup<sup>s</sup>, therefore please to demand it in Surratt of his Executours.

Wee are not unmindful of Capt<sup>a</sup> Usticks acc<sup>ts</sup>, but they are so strangely confused and imperfect, that wee know not w<sup>n</sup> they will be finished. Wee shall doe our best endeavours to state them aright with what hast possible.

Wee were much concerned at y<sup>e</sup> disesteem y<sup>e</sup> Sur<sup>t</sup> Sheroffes put upon our rup<sup>s</sup>, having taken such great care both in their finenes & weight, wherefore wee did send for 50 Orungzebby rup<sup>s</sup>, & weighed y<sup>m</sup> wth Bombay rup<sup>s</sup>, both singly & altogether, & found o<sup>r</sup> rup<sup>s</sup> to weigh 2½ p. cent. more y<sup>n</sup> the Sur<sup>t</sup> rup<sup>s</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> is as much as ever wee intended y<sup>m</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> was a quarter of a mas. Wee did likewise touch y<sup>m</sup> & cannot find any palpable difference. If any be y<sup>e</sup> finest, it is the Bombay rupee, & therefore doe believe it is some roguery of those Sheroffs to abase y<sup>e</sup> value of our mony. Therefore let yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> be pleased to let a full experiment be made before your faces wth 100 or 50 of each sort.

Wee did not put Mr Valton by his imploy<sup>t</sup> w<sup>thout</sup> just cause, after w<sup>ch</sup> in consideration of his family did proffer him an imploy<sup>t</sup>, but it not squaring to his mind, he said he would goe up to Sur<sup>t</sup> & seek a better from yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>r</sup>, and his behaviour in time of his keeping at Coffy house was so offensive to his neighbours, & so scandalous to all, that wee were forced to forbid it.

Wee have herewith drawn a bill of exchange upon yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> for 1593 $\frac{3}{4}$  rup<sup>s</sup> payable to the overseers of M<sup>r</sup> Grays will, being for the like value wee have rec<sup>d</sup> from Jn<sup>o</sup> Petit w<sup>ch</sup> was paid into him by M<sup>r</sup> Child upon y<sup>e</sup> said M<sup>r</sup> Grays acco<sup>t</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> please to make paym<sup>t</sup> of as desired. Wee call not to mind ought else but respectfully remain

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup> 27th March 1677.

Your Hon<sup>s</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> most faithful Servants.

Hon<sup>ble</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>.

Your Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> 22<sup>d</sup> March wee rec<sup>d</sup> the 28th ditto. According to order wee have considered y<sup>e</sup> Articles of Neema Parrack Bannian, w<sup>ch</sup> if wee rightly understand doe not apprehend any prejudice in their concession, y<sup>e</sup> most of them being what the meanest enjoy.

The first is very easy, the Comp<sup>a</sup> having wast ground enough, & wee dayly doe y<sup>e</sup> same to Bannians & others who come to inhabite here. As to the second the free exercise of religion is permitted to all wth y<sup>e</sup> use of their ceremonies at weddings & feasts, y<sup>e</sup> Bannians &c<sup>a</sup> alwayes burning their dead w<sup>thout</sup> molestation, neither doe wee permit any person to kill any thing near the Bannians, who all live by y<sup>m</sup>selves, much les can any person presume to enter into any bodys house or compound w<sup>thout</sup> y<sup>e</sup> owners licence, & for forceing people to turn Christian against their wills, y<sup>e</sup> whole world will vindicate us, neither are any persons forced to carry burdens against their wills.

No Bannian, Braminy, Moor or such man is obliged to watch or ward or other duty, but if any p<sup>son</sup> buys an oart or warge, he is bound to send a musquiter every alaram, but if he possesses no land no duty is exacted, so y<sup>e</sup> article may be granted him, & w<sup>n</sup> he goes about to buy any land he may be acquainted wth y<sup>t</sup> small incumbrance thereon.

The 4th Article is indeed a priviledge, but no more y<sup>n</sup> Girder, y<sup>e</sup> Moody & some others have, w<sup>ch</sup> does not in y<sup>e</sup> least exempt y<sup>m</sup> from y<sup>e</sup> hands of y<sup>e</sup> law or justice, but does only ask y<sup>t</sup> justice be done respectfully, w<sup>ch</sup> he need not doubt of, & for matter of differences among y<sup>m</sup>selves there is already his Hon<sup>rs</sup> Patent authorizing y<sup>m</sup> to decide such things.

As to y<sup>e</sup> 5th y<sup>e</sup> great anchorage of a rupee p. tun is wholly taken off; there only remains a small one of a rupee for every 100 tun, w<sup>ch</sup> is so inconsiderable a matter y<sup>t</sup> wee doe not believe he will stick at it; if he does, it will amo<sup>t</sup> but to a small matter, being only for his own vessells, that y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> may easily allow it.

The 6th, if wee rightly apprehend it, is no more y<sup>n</sup> w<sup>t</sup> all people injoy, who are so far from paying custome at exportation of their own goods, y<sup>t</sup> they pay none for w<sup>t</sup> goods they buy; but if he intends his goods must pay no custome at landing nor none at exportation of w<sup>t</sup> he cannot sell, it will be so great a loss to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>, they having farmed out y<sup>e</sup> customs for 2 years, that the benefit of his setting here will wee believe not countervail it till it comes into y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>s hands again.

As to the 7th, our law is such y<sup>t</sup> if a person be indebted to severall men, whosoever gets a judgement first in Court will be paid his full debt, but no man can be agrieved at y<sup>t</sup>, nor can any creditour have any pretence to w<sup>t</sup> is once paid, & w<sup>n</sup> judgm<sup>t</sup> is given it is already paid in law, so y<sup>t</sup> he is no longer proprietour of it; but w<sup>n</sup> a person is indebted to two men and y<sup>e</sup> first sues him, and upon y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> second comes in & sues him to, wth w<sup>t</sup> justice can wee pay all y<sup>e</sup> Debt<sup>rs</sup> estate to y<sup>e</sup> second creditour. Only of this he may be assured, y<sup>t</sup> all justice shall be done him wth speed according to o<sup>r</sup> law & the party forced to pay y<sup>e</sup> full debt if able, & ly in prison for y<sup>e</sup> rest till hee pleases to release him, w<sup>ch</sup> wee suppose may well content him.

As to y<sup>e</sup> 8th, in case of war all persons of quality have liberty to repair to y<sup>e</sup> Castle, & secure their mony, & other things of value, not y<sup>t</sup> I suppose he intends to fill up y<sup>e</sup> Castle with gruf goods; but for mony, jewels, household stuf, cloth goods of value, y<sup>t</sup> take up small room, he may bring w<sup>t</sup> he pleases & may have a warehouse a part allotted for himselfe & family.

The 9th and 10th wee may join together, they being only to fill up the number. They are plain optiques to show y<sup>e</sup> nature of those they live under, w<sup>ch</sup> w<sup>n</sup> they have experimented o<sup>r</sup> Government y<sup>m</sup>selves will laugh at us, enjoying more freedom y<sup>n</sup> y<sup>e</sup> very articles demand, for y<sup>e</sup> meanest person is never denied egres & regres upon respectfull notice given, & for horses & coaches and y<sup>e</sup> like he may keep as many as he pleases & his serv<sup>ts</sup> be permitted to wear w<sup>t</sup> arms they please, a thing common to all, & nothing is more promoted by us then y<sup>e</sup> free liberty for buying and selling w<sup>ch</sup> is y<sup>e</sup> load stone of trade.

That last thing he asked of having 10 m<sup>ds</sup> of Tobacco free of all dutys is y<sup>e</sup> most difficult thing of all, for y<sup>e</sup> farmers will ask a vast deal to grant such a licence, it being a very great profit they make in y<sup>e</sup> sale of 10 m<sup>ds</sup>, so y<sup>t</sup> wee know not w<sup>ch</sup> way y<sup>e</sup> article can be condiscended to, but in y<sup>s</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> can judge better y<sup>n</sup> us.

Wee were always mindful of o<sup>r</sup> cloth investm<sup>t</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> wee look upon to be one of o<sup>r</sup> principall concerns. O<sup>r</sup> Broker has promised to get ready in y<sup>s</sup> place all made on y<sup>e</sup> Island. About 6000 peeces of broad & narrow Baftas wee formerly advised of the weavours of Bimurly, who though wee cannot prevaile with y<sup>m</sup> to come & dwell here, yet they have promised to supply us wth a good quantity. Wee intend to see a muster of halfe dozen peeces and accordingly proceed in it. How much wee shall get there wee are not able to advise, but shall forward y<sup>t</sup> investm<sup>t</sup> wth all our deligence.

Wee have given o<sup>r</sup> Acco<sup>t</sup> Curr<sup>t</sup> credit for Rup<sup>s</sup> 749: 46 R<sup>s</sup> paid Capt<sup>n</sup> Norgrave of whom wee shall demand an acco<sup>t</sup>.

There is nothing recovered of Sevagy for M<sup>r</sup> Austin as yet. Wee shall not forget to make demands of it, but believe it will be long ere received.

The "Good Neighbour" has brought us from Mangalor 1407 bales of rice w<sup>ch</sup> wee have taken a shoar, and given Carwar ffactory credit for it amounting to 435.....24, there is no frieght charged thereon, therefore leave it to yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> to make an agreem<sup>t</sup> wth y<sup>e</sup> owners of y<sup>e</sup> "Good Neighbour" how much to pay.

Wee sent o<sup>r</sup> Mallabar Frigat to seek for Mallabars, who has done good service, having taken 4, whereof 2 great Prows. One of y<sup>e</sup> great ones is left at Goa, one they were forced to turn a drift, one they burnt, & one they have brought up, a new clever handsome boat, w<sup>ch</sup> wee intend to send out the next yeare on the same acco<sup>t</sup>.

The Pyrates at Cota took an English man in a Daman vessell who demanded randson of M<sup>r</sup> Bowcher, who refusing to give it, they basely set him up against a tree, and lanced him to death.

Wee have communicated to y<sup>e</sup> Judge yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> order to have y<sup>t</sup> mony paid into y<sup>e</sup> Treasury, w<sup>ch</sup> is owing to M<sup>r</sup> Ffrances deceased, who has promised to comply therewth. M<sup>r</sup> Child is gone to Rajapore, whom wee shall advise as much.

Madam Isabella Young gives us this answer, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> 73 chests were sent to Sur<sup>t</sup> on y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> acco<sup>t</sup> and y<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Gray told her he had found most of them in y<sup>e</sup> books, but for want of her papers, w<sup>ch</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Rolt keeps, she is able to give no other answer. Y<sup>s</sup> wth o<sup>r</sup> respectfull salutes is w<sup>t</sup> p.sents from

Yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> most observant Servants.

Bombay y<sup>e</sup> 3<sup>d</sup> April 1677.

Hon<sup>ble</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>.

Wee have none by us unanswered of yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>. Wee had lately an unfortunate accident befallen us, & yet wee have reason to bles God for his deliverance of us from a greater mischief. It was thus: Y<sup>e</sup> Storekeeper as accustomed had sent up some powder to dry upon y<sup>e</sup> North East Bastian. It was about 2 o'clock in y<sup>e</sup> after noon w<sup>n</sup> one of our Corpor<sup>ls</sup> by name Stanton took an old bandalier and filled it wth wild fire, intending to ty it to a dogs tail then in the Guard, & coming to the gate, the dog being not in the way, he took y<sup>e</sup> bandalier, there being a string tied to it, & flung it towards the Judges old house, but y<sup>e</sup> wind being very strong it blew upon y<sup>e</sup> Bastian and fired all the powder, which was 35 barrells all English. There was 8 Coolys tending it, & one centry, who were all burnt to death, whereof 6 blown into y<sup>e</sup> ditch and the Parade, & some limbs blown over y<sup>e</sup> ffort. The blow was so great, much of y<sup>e</sup> powder, it being in a heap together, that it blew open all the doors of the magazines in y<sup>e</sup> ffort though well locked; nay, blew open y<sup>e</sup> doors of the rooms under the second lodgings, and made most part of the town shake. It sunck y<sup>e</sup> Tarras, a small matter of the bastian, but has done y<sup>e</sup> arch underneath no damage. Wee had this day a Councell of war upon the Corporall, and haveing examined all witnesses & circumstances, there severall that saw him make the fuse and fling it, wee could not find him guilty of any wilfull treacherous designe, but considering he was an officer into whose hands our lives are all sometimes intrusted to be so wretchedly careles, he being but a little before come of the bastian himselfe, wee cashiered him from ever more bearing arms, and to run the gantlet three times, for an example to all.

Our souldiers doe humbly beg your Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> to take into consideration the los they receive in the mony is paid them, w<sup>ch</sup> on Bujerooks is near 30 p. cent and on Dugonys 16 or 18 p. cent.

Our Troopers likewise beg some small augmentation to their pay, they wearing out more cloths then a foot souldier, and must provide y<sup>m</sup>selves with short boots against the rains. Wee have likewise gave them no answer.

Wee expect y<sup>e</sup> "Phoenix" dayly, but so far as wee can understand without any freight.

Herewith goes an acco<sup>t</sup> of Customes farmed by M<sup>r</sup> Burges, on w<sup>ch</sup> is far more losse then wee calculated, for deducting charges and loss there comes no more into y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> cash then X<sup>s</sup> 21479 c. 2 reis 14: but though M<sup>r</sup> Burges was cleared of the Customes, he was not cleared of the passage boat of Sion, w<sup>ch</sup> wee make him stand D<sup>r</sup> for, not finding he has p<sup>d</sup> any mony into the Treasury on y<sup>t</sup> acco<sup>t</sup>, yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> may please to demand it of him. Wee have not to add but y<sup>e</sup> subscription of

Yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> most faithfull Serv<sup>ts</sup>

Bombay y<sup>e</sup> 10th April 1677.

Hon<sup>ble</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>

Wee have by us unanswered yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> 19th and 26th May, of y<sup>e</sup> 4th, 7th & 13th June, to all w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall now respond.

Wee shall charge Thomas Admans debt as ordered & pay y<sup>e</sup> Moody y<sup>e</sup> full amount of his acco<sup>t</sup> to whom y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> have been greatly in debt a long time. Wee expect M<sup>r</sup> Child here dayly, whom wee shall p.swad to take some paines in y<sup>t</sup> business, & try whether he can clear y<sup>t</sup> acco<sup>t</sup>, for undoubtedly Thomas Adman had sufficient to pay all his debts, if his acco<sup>ts</sup> were duely adjusted.

The coppie of M<sup>r</sup> Grays last Will & Testament wee have caused to be registered in y<sup>e</sup> Court. Herewth send 3 coppies wth y<sup>r</sup> seale of the Court annexed to y<sup>m</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> charges of y<sup>e</sup> Court the Depty Gov<sup>r</sup> will satisfie.

The letters for Sevagy & Mora Pundit wee have not yet sent forward, y<sup>e</sup> new moone having brought soe violent a raine & wind y<sup>t</sup> there is noe travelling. Wee expect faire weather in 2 or 3 dayes, or at least something more moderate & y<sup>n</sup> shall send y<sup>m</sup>. M<sup>r</sup> Child writes y<sup>t</sup> Sevagy is in a Castle of King of Golcandah, where he intends to winter, & after y<sup>e</sup> raine 'tis thought intends against Carnatick. Sever<sup>ll</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Deccan Umbras are joined wth him, & tis believed Caun & he have agreed to share all between y<sup>m</sup>. All y<sup>e</sup> Deccan country is soe miserably harrassed, y<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Child does not expect to p<sup>vide</sup> a p<sup>s</sup> of goods y<sup>s</sup> year, & wee believe Carwarr to be in little better estate. Mora Pundit has been lately to visit y<sup>e</sup> northern garrisons of Saliere &c<sup>a</sup> & is now past by & gone to Rairy, where wee shall be sure to find him. Wee had thoughts of sending some discreet Serjeant thither, but wee could not pitch upon one of ability enough for such a employ<sup>t</sup>, besides upon second thoughts wee did find y<sup>t</sup> Capt<sup>n</sup> Keigwyns charges will not amount to a penny more y<sup>n</sup> if y<sup>e</sup> meanest officer were sent, soe y<sup>t</sup> wee are resolved to send him & Cox Cunney, who is a better & more creditable spokesman in y<sup>s</sup> country y<sup>n</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Moody. Wee shall order y<sup>m</sup> to make strict inquiry into y<sup>e</sup> whole estate of Sevagys country, & where his armys ly quartered.

Concerning y<sup>e</sup> dearnes of Bombay cloth wee can only say y<sup>s</sup> y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Broaker lays y<sup>e</sup> fault in y<sup>e</sup> dearnes of y<sup>e</sup> cotton yarne w<sup>ch</sup> was always y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> & invoiced at 2 Rup<sup>s</sup> or 1½ Rup<sup>s</sup> p<sup>.....</sup>th more y<sup>n</sup> it was worth, or more y<sup>n</sup> he could provide it for in Pattan or Rajapore. He likewise complaines much of y<sup>e</sup> dearnes of this Rajapore yarn now sent. Wee shall make w<sup>t</sup> p<sup>s</sup> are upon y<sup>e</sup> loom & already wove, & w<sup>t</sup> yarn is already made into lengths for y<sup>e</sup> waste of y<sup>e</sup> cloth cannot be remedied, but w<sup>t</sup> is made in y<sup>e</sup> ffuture shall be but 20½ covets long.

We shall not faile to be assistant to Mirza Massums Noquodah upon all faire occasions and have already much contributed to his wants.

Robert Tayler is returned wth 12 horses, but very dear considering their smalnes, standing in nearest 100 Rup<sup>s</sup> a horse. Y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> can buy horses cheaper in Persia, & if y<sup>e</sup> "Returne" goes for Persia, she can bring 6 or 10 horses for little or noe charge, w<sup>ch</sup> will be of service & credit, many of y<sup>e</sup> horses wee have being soe small, y<sup>t</sup> they will never be able to doe us any service.

The "Scipio" & all y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> ships shall be ready fitted in August for any voyage shall be appointed y<sup>m</sup>. Wee are of yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> opinion, y<sup>t</sup> it will be highly necessary both for the benifitt & hono<sup>r</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> y<sup>t</sup> Alle Rajah & y<sup>e</sup> pirates be made sensible of those affronts put upon us. Wee suppose y<sup>e</sup> charge will not be great. Here is y<sup>e</sup> "Revenge" & "Hunter" who will hardly get ffreights, & are at a standing charge to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> Comanders, all the officers, & some seamen being continually kept a board y<sup>m</sup>, y<sup>t</sup> wee believe they will not stand in above 100 or 150 Rup<sup>s</sup> p. month more being at sea y<sup>n</sup> now haled up, & suppose those 2 ships and y<sup>e</sup> 2 Mauchvas will be sufficient. Besides if y<sup>e</sup> designe be managed wth discretion, y<sup>e</sup> prizes they take may for y<sup>e</sup> greatest part defray the charges. 20 ffles of souldiers in all will be sufficient, or if wee cannot spare y<sup>m</sup>, 16 ffles will serve. For officers to comand y<sup>e</sup> souldiers wee have choice sufficient, but there will want an able prudent person to Comand in Chief, who has had experience of India, for y<sup>e</sup> business will not be to goe down, & make what havock, destruction, & slaughter can be effected, but as yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>r</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> rightly observes, there must be respect had to time to come, & y<sup>e</sup> carrying on a more free & hon<sup>ble</sup> trade in those part for y<sup>e</sup> future. In one hand y<sup>e</sup> sword & in y<sup>e</sup> other an olive branch. And if possible to obtaine y<sup>e</sup> excellent point of making love & feare together, w<sup>ch</sup> may be effected by avoiding generall cruelties, or y<sup>e</sup> totall ruine of any one place by making those y<sup>e</sup> mark of o<sup>r</sup> anger, who to y<sup>e</sup> knowledge of all people have plainly affronted us, by being extraordinary civill to all those who have still been o<sup>r</sup> ffriends & to manifest our intentions of imbracing all hon<sup>ble</sup> proffers of peace, whereby wee may hereafter live unmolested in o<sup>r</sup> trade. Yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c.<sup>a</sup> are better able to pitch upon a ffitting p<sup>son</sup> to manage y<sup>e</sup> designe y<sup>n</sup> wee. Y<sup>e</sup> "Scipio" may be very usefull though she stay not long there, but wee think it very necessary y<sup>e</sup> "Hunter" be sent downe in y<sup>e</sup> beginning of August, otherwise she will never meet wth Alle Rajahs ships from Mocha, & in y<sup>e</sup> mean time our recruits will come from England and wee can fit up y<sup>e</sup> rest.

Upon Ensigne Thorps petition to us, wherein he promises more circumspection and care in the future, and commisserating the great charge of his ffamily, wee have given him his Comission againe.

There was lately a Braminy & 2 or 3 more who came over from Batty proffering their service to y<sup>e</sup> Sidy, y<sup>t</sup> if he would employ y<sup>m</sup> they would bring him some prisoners of quality. He was willing to imbrace y<sup>e</sup> offer, but yet so cuning as not to appeare in y<sup>e</sup> action; soe y<sup>t</sup> he would not furnish y<sup>m</sup> wth any of his owne boates or men, soe they hired a Bombay ffisher boat & souldiers from y<sup>e</sup> Island & went over to Batty & brought thence 4 Braminys prison<sup>rs</sup>, being y<sup>e</sup> principle men of y<sup>e</sup> place & put y<sup>m</sup> a board y<sup>e</sup> Siddys ship. It was not long before wee had a message from y<sup>e</sup> Subedar of Chaul complaining of y<sup>e</sup> unneighbourly abuse wee had suffered to be done to him, even by y<sup>e</sup> inhabitants of Bombay demanding y<sup>e</sup> restitution of those prisoners, w<sup>ch</sup> if not p<sup>formed</sup> there should not a stick of wood or any thing else be suffered to be brought from y<sup>e</sup> Maine to Bombay & y<sup>t</sup> the ffriendship between us was broke. Wee immediately sent to y<sup>e</sup> Sidy taxing him severely wth y<sup>s</sup> unfriendly dealing, but he pleaded ignorance to all. However, wee got y<sup>e</sup> prisoners from him, whom wee freed; wee likewise got y<sup>e</sup> Cooly who was Muckadum of y<sup>e</sup> boat & 10 more of the rogues, dwellers on y<sup>e</sup> Island, who were all condemned to be hanged, but wee pardoned 8 & executed 3. Those 8 are y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> slaves, whom wee shall put a board the Europe ships, to be sent to S<sup>t</sup> Hellena, wth a Bandareene who was condemnd for ffellony, whose life wee p<sup>doned</sup> likewise.

On y<sup>e</sup> 24th instant Lieu<sup>t</sup> Richard Adames departed y<sup>s</sup> life, & was interred at Verolvee, according to his desire, on the 26th in the morning.

By y<sup>s</sup> Pattamarr wee retorne the three paire of Callecutt bookes, haveing taken transcripts of him.

Wee allso send you y<sup>e</sup> copies of y<sup>e</sup> transactions of the 3 last Sessions in o<sup>r</sup> Court of Judicature for yo<sup>r</sup> greater satisfaction in all publique affaires on y<sup>e</sup> Island. Wee tender ourselves wth respect subscribeing

Your Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c.<sup>a</sup> most obedient Servants.

Bombay y<sup>e</sup> 27th June 1677.

---

Honorable.

Wee cannot rightly expres y<sup>e</sup> reallity of our grief wee conceived at y<sup>e</sup> perusall of y<sup>e</sup> deplorable news of the death of our late noble Presid<sup>t</sup>. Multiplicity of words may multiply y<sup>e</sup> sence of our loss, but cannot depaint its greatness & y<sup>e</sup> knowledge wee have of y<sup>e</sup> true worth and integrity of his successour, & it shall be our continuall prayers for a blessing on your great affairs.

Both the Judge & all the Commission Officers of the Island had their Commissions signed only by the late Presid<sup>t</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> are now become invalid, concerning w<sup>ch</sup> wee wait yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c.<sup>a</sup> further orders. In the meantime wee have ordered that all the Souldiers pay the same obedience to their officers as formerly and that the Judge and Justices of Peace act in the same capacity and station as before till wee receive your Hon<sup>rs</sup> commands concerning them.

The late Presid<sup>t</sup> did formerly give Commissions to some of the Councill here to act as Commissioners for the Island w<sup>ch</sup> has been long discontinued. Please to order what shall be thought convenient in it.

The rains have been so violent that wee have not yet sent Capt<sup>n</sup> Keigwin to Rairy. Wee doe not now think it convenient to send those letters of y<sup>e</sup> late Presid<sup>t</sup> to Sevagy and Mora Pundit. Please to advise whether yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> will write fresh letters to them, and what shall be done further in y<sup>t</sup> business.

All things are at present here in a peaceable and quiet posture, and it shall be our main endeavours so to continue them. Wee call not to mind ought else at present but only to subscribe

Your Hon<sup>rs</sup> faithfull Servants.

Bombay y<sup>e</sup> 11th July 1677.

Honourable,

Our last was of y<sup>e</sup> 11th July, copy whereof goes here inclosed. There is a coiner in Surat by name Ruttangee, who did promise y<sup>e</sup> late Presid<sup>t</sup> to come to Bombay, & did engage to coin o<sup>r</sup> Dugonys for 6½ Larys p. md., whereas wee now pay Lar...w<sup>ch</sup> will amo<sup>t</sup> to considerable sum yearly if wee are but supplied wth good quantities of Copper; & though he came to no agreem<sup>t</sup> for coining of Rup<sup>s</sup> & Bujerooks, yet he promised to make y<sup>m</sup> 20 p. cent. cheaper y<sup>n</sup> at p<sup>sent</sup> they are made; besides wee are given to understand he is an able workman, which will be of great benefit in making all y<sup>e</sup> mony of a true and equall weight, w<sup>ch</sup> is very difficult to these Coiners not being bred up to the trade. Muddam Kissingees son by name Bagvandas can inform y<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> where he lives. Please to hasten him hither wth all speed possible, wee being in great want of him.

The approach of the Europe shipping draws nigh, therefore please to send yo<sup>r</sup> orders w<sup>t</sup> wee shall doe wth the Comp<sup>s</sup> packets, as likewise to y<sup>e</sup> taking ashore of w<sup>t</sup> goods wee suppose y<sup>e</sup> Island may vend y<sup>s</sup> year. As to y<sup>e</sup> Treasure, wee have been in consideration y<sup>t</sup> it may redound to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>s</sup> benefit to have all their silver coined on the Island, for wee hear y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> vattaw between B'bay and Sur<sup>t</sup> rup<sup>s</sup> is no more then halfe p. cent in Sur<sup>t</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> in y<sup>e</sup> sale of the silver the very brokerage & shroffage will pay for, so y<sup>t</sup> w<sup>t</sup> is got by minting it will be clear profit. Besides wee are given to understand y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Sur<sup>t</sup> rup<sup>s</sup> are now made of a courser alloy y<sup>n</sup> formerly, so y<sup>t</sup> wee believe o<sup>r</sup> rup<sup>s</sup> may shortly pas without any vattaw. For yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> more fully satisfaction wee have by y<sup>s</sup> Cosset sent an ingot of silver refined just to y<sup>e</sup> alloy of o<sup>r</sup> rup<sup>s</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> weighs 98 tolas Sur<sup>t</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> coined will give us 97¼ rup<sup>s</sup> clear, paying for minting and all charges; therefore please to try w<sup>t</sup> said ingot will yeild in Sur<sup>t</sup> to sell, deducting brokerage shroffage & other charges, & by that may be seen w<sup>t</sup> p<sup>ffit</sup> arises upon y<sup>e</sup> Mint. One thing wee are ignorant of, w<sup>ch</sup> is whether the Gov<sup>r</sup> will not oblige the Comp<sup>s</sup> to mint all o<sup>r</sup> rup<sup>s</sup> again into Sur<sup>t</sup> rup<sup>s</sup> as he does y<sup>e</sup> silver, but of y<sup>t</sup> your Hon<sup>rs</sup> can easily be informed there; yet should it be so, wee believe merchants may be had who would undertake to remit it thither for a small matter. Wee have not else to add only to subscribe

Your Hon<sup>rs</sup> Humble Servants.

Bombay y<sup>e</sup> 17th July 1677.

Honourable,

Wee have only by us unanswered yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> of the 31st July, rec<sup>d</sup> the 10th present, to which wee shall now respond.

Herewith goes a list of all the Officers who will want Commissions on the island, as likewise a copy of y<sup>e</sup> Judges Commission.

Sevajy is at present in the upper Carnatick, where he hath taken the strong Castles of Chengy, Chengavor, Pilcundath, and severall others, and shamefully routed the Moors & tis believed has robbed Seringpatam and carried away great riches from thence, and they say he designes upon his returne back to take Beidnoor and soe join Canara to his new conquest. When he comes back wee shall endeavour to procure his Cole upon his Generalle that may be sent to the northward ; in the mean time wee have sent to Mora Pundit & Anagy Pundit who govern in y<sup>e</sup> Rajahs absence to get their Cole for Surat and the adjacent places.

Wee shall be very carefull in following your orders concerning y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> packquet and taking ashore goods and treasure w<sup>ch</sup> shall be no more then what wee have absolute occasion for and what wee shall be able to vend in the insuing yeare. The "Scipio" and "Returne" shall accompany the Europe shipp, or if y<sup>r</sup> arrivall of the Europe ships hapen to be late, wee shall send them up before hand.

Dunge Gorahs betlenutt shall be sent up on the "Returne" soe soone as the weather will permitt her to voyage wth safety.

Wee have sent up one crew of Coolys overland to bring one of the Comp<sup>as</sup> Shibarrs from Surat ; the rest wee shall dispatch in 3 or 4 dayes in a Shibarr bound to Cambaya, who will touch at Swally. Wee have not a pound of corne on y<sup>e</sup> Island for the horses, w<sup>ch</sup> puts them very much out of ease, therefore please to send us in one of the Shibarrs 50 Candys, our want proceeding from y<sup>e</sup> Kings strict prohibition that noe corne should be carried out of his countrye.

The Commodore is much mistaken in his information, wee having not entertained 10 strangers all this yeare, and of those not above 3 Dutchmen, the rest either Sweeds or Germans or Walloons, w<sup>ch</sup> few wee were willing to entertain as looking upon them not to be subject to sickness and mortallity as y<sup>e</sup> English.

Wee have long forbore upon just sentiments to say any thing concerning the Judge, but wee doe now find that y<sup>e</sup> good of the Island, y<sup>e</sup> content of the inhabitants & discharge of y<sup>e</sup> trust reposed in us, does inforce us to seek a prevention of these bil consequences his carriage emminently does threaten, whereby your Hon<sup>rs</sup> will perceive how little he hast merited the honour of soe great a charge and how dissonant his carriage has been to those rules and principles which wee had thoughte the weight and gravity of his employ would have prompted him to. To mention, y<sup>e</sup> severall slightings and plaine abuses of most of the members of this Council, w<sup>ch</sup> perhaps their charity might have obliterated had not more publique affronts wakened y<sup>e</sup> remembrance of them, his contempt of the Government, his slighting and scandalizing our Councills and authority, the passion and prejudice which have been the masters and guide of his actions, and the generall dissatisfaction of all people wth him has been soe notorious, that wee cannot but imagine y<sup>e</sup> world has taken notice of it much to our prejudice. He did once say that nothing had been acted since y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> went off the Island ; and now lately in a case of Chancery decided by us, wherein the cause was not adjudged to his liking, he did not stick to say that he now plainly saw that any man might sweare himselfe out of a debt that would, and that a knave should never want a friend in Court, w<sup>ch</sup> wee leave to your Hon<sup>rs</sup> to interpret how little master of reason, conscience wee should be and how unfitt for that great trust reposed in us should so much injustice be y<sup>e</sup> effect of our Councills, and wee cannot but take notice y<sup>e</sup> bill exhibited to us in y<sup>e</sup> fforementioned cause, y<sup>e</sup> Judge himselfe did confesse to draw up, w<sup>ch</sup> is full of nothing but slanders, defamations, and privately taunting his superiors action, besides how unbecomeing y<sup>e</sup> gravity of such a place & indeed how contrary to equity for a Judge to act the part of an Attourney; in y<sup>e</sup> face of y<sup>e</sup> whole Court tould us though wee were affraid of Capt<sup>n</sup> Adderton, yet he was not. There was lately exhibited to us a bill in Chancery against him by 12 men who were of a Jury at Justice hall who having brought in a verdict according to equity and good conscience were never the less publicly checked and rated by y<sup>e</sup> Judge, telling them they were men of large consciences, desiring us to exempt them in the future from the like duties excep<sup>t</sup> they can be protected in y<sup>e</sup> free discharge of their consciences, w<sup>ch</sup> action may be of very prejudiciall consequence; for either Jurys will deny to be impannelled, and consequently a due & just tryall of all causes will be ommitted to be acted or else perhaps over, and to bring in y<sup>e</sup> verdicts. Illegall copy of both y<sup>e</sup> bills goe herè enclosed and a tryall wherein y<sup>e</sup> same Jury had brought in judgment for y<sup>e</sup> deffendant, the Judge yet ordered y<sup>e</sup> Clerk of the Papers to enter verdict for the plaintiff for y<sup>e</sup> cost and charges of the Court. To tell yo<sup>r</sup> Worp<sup>s</sup> how much he has suffered his officers and servants to grind and oppresse y<sup>e</sup> people may seem dubious. Whether our connivance merriits more blame y<sup>n</sup> his, it is not many months since wee did in a Gen<sup>l</sup> Letter hint our resentment of his oppinion of our partiallity, w<sup>ch</sup> made him appeale to a higher Court for justice in y<sup>e</sup> buisnesse between M<sup>r</sup> Child and him. All these considerations being duly weighed wee found ourselves obliged, for the discharge of that trust reposed in us, to suspend his Commission, and have ordered that he act noe longer as Judge till wee receive your further orders concerning him; yet if our humble advices might be credited in the perticular, that y<sup>e</sup> generall benefit and satisfaction of y<sup>e</sup> whole Island will be much advanced by the election of a new Judge, wee have for y<sup>e</sup> pressent order y<sup>e</sup> remaining Justices jointly to officiate till yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> shall please otherwise to dispose thereof.

There is one Monardass Gunnees, a Banian in Surat, who bought some scarlet perpetuance of us, whose time being out and he having not paid in the mony, please to demand it of him there. His acco<sup>tt</sup> goes here inclosed.

Capt<sup>n</sup> Adderton has preferred a petition to yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup>, which wee here inclose, his charge in forceing him to beg some increase of his pay.

Please to advise what mony Rob<sup>t</sup> Taylor sent from Orangabaud, and what mony your Hon<sup>rs</sup> remmitted him by Exchange, that wee may know what to charge him with.

Wee have thought convinient to elect Capt<sup>n</sup> Gary and Capt<sup>n</sup> Kegwin to be Justices of Peace for the Island, for it will be highly necessary that one Justice be assistant at Mahim and lesse then three will not be sufficient at Bombay, while there is noe Judge.....Of what wee have done wee leave to your more mature Judgements, and remaine

Your Hon<sup>rs</sup> Sincere Ffriends and humble Servants.

Bombay y<sup>e</sup> 20th, 28th August 1677.

Worshipfull,

Tis now severall years that the Siddys fleets have used this port as a place of refreshing and retreat on all occations, but with how much trouble to the Government and dissatisfaction to y<sup>e</sup> Inhabitants your Worp<sup>s</sup> have been but too well acquainted with. It is but a few months past that Siddy Sambole rec<sup>d</sup> orders to surrender up the ffleet to Siddy Cossam, but he for severall months made demurrs thereon, because his wife and his children and his family were detained in Danda Rojapore, w<sup>h</sup> he received 4 days past, upon w<sup>ch</sup> Siddy Sambole promised to deliver up the fleet excepting one of the great shippes, w<sup>ch</sup> he intended to keep to carry up himself and his souldiers to Surat, but Siddy Cossam being impatient of having part of his fleet detained from him and instigated by that unadvised Sabaun Cooly who came from Surat about 3 months past wth 150 men to assist him, did on Sunday last march up wth all his force to Massagon, where Siddy Sambole resided, ere wee were aware of it. Wee immediately sent Capt<sup>n</sup> Kegwin wth a guard of horse to keep the peace, but ere he could arrive they had begunne the skirmish and so obstinate they were, especially Siddy Cossam, that they were parted wth much difficulty, having shot 4 of the Comp<sup>as</sup> horses, whereof 1 is dead and another in great danger, though it pleased none of the Troopers were hurt, upon w<sup>ch</sup> wee immediately sent for Siddy Cossam to the ffort, and having expostulated wth him the affront he had put upon the Government and the bad retaliation he had made us for our extraordinary civillities to him, wee disarmed all his souldiers except himselfe & 2 or 3 more, and ordered him in 4 or 5 dayes time to send all his souldiers off the Island excepting some few servants for his attendance. The like wee did to Siddy excepting those guards w<sup>ch</sup> were for the defence of the ship. Wee suppose the accident will soe arm your Wor<sup>ps</sup> resolutions so as never to conceede y<sup>e</sup> wintering of the fleet here againe nor to suffer any great number of men to remaine on the Island armed.....It would be of great consequence that your Wor<sup>ps</sup> made timely complaint of these outrages, not only to y<sup>e</sup> Governour of Surat, but even to y<sup>e</sup> King himselfe, and demand large satisfaction for the death of our horses and y<sup>e</sup> disturbance of the peace of the Inhabitants and hindrance of our trade, merc<sup>ts</sup> being ffrighted from coming hither by such hostile acts. Wee sent y<sup>s</sup> Cosset on purpose to give your Wor<sup>ps</sup> kindly notice that they might not be before hand wth in a false representation of y<sup>e</sup> action, so shall not inlarge but to subscribe

Yo<sup>r</sup> Wor<sup>ps</sup> most humble Servants.

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup> 9th Octob<sup>r</sup> 1677.

Respected Ffriend Capt<sup>n</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Minchin,

Wee having intelligence of 6 Ffrench ships gone towards Surat and not knowing how affairs may stand in Europe, though wee have cause to suspect y<sup>e</sup> most, have thought convinient to send you downe the Coast to give notice thereof to our Europe shippes that they may be the better prepared against any accident. Wherefor wind and weather permitting, you are immediately to weigh anchour and direct your course for the Port of Goa, where you are to leave two letters directed to y<sup>e</sup> Commanders of the Europe ships, and one you may deliver to the Capt<sup>n</sup> of the Agoada, desiring him to send it off to the first ship shall come there, the other you may leave wth Sen<sup>r</sup> Antonio Martins, whome wee are confident will see it safely delivered. When this done, you are immediately to direct your course to y<sup>e</sup> Port of Carwar, where you are to deliver to M<sup>r</sup> Oxinden our letter heerewith delivered you. When you have soe done you have not other businesse but to steer your course for this Island againe, only in your way both downward and upward you are to examine all vessells and see whither they have our passes, w<sup>ch</sup> if you find, you are to treat y<sup>m</sup> civily, letting y<sup>m</sup> prosecute y<sup>r</sup> respective voyages without y<sup>e</sup> least impedim<sup>nt</sup>, molestation or dammage, but if they have not an Eng<sup>s</sup> passe.....to make seizure of vessell, goods and men, and bring them safely to Bombay, but be sure you make price of nothing nor suffer any embazelem<sup>t</sup> to be made of whatsoever is aboard till she be lawfully condemned here as a prize, and y<sup>n</sup> you shall be detained to receive what shall be adjudged your lawfull share. Though wee order you to examine all vessells, yet our principall intention is the chastising the Mallabarrs, whose insolencys of late have been extraordinary & w<sup>ch</sup> wee doe more especialy recommend to you. Wee do give you leave to spend so much time in cruising so as you may contrive to be back againe in 1½ months time, for wee know not what further occasion there may be of you. Wee would have you as the wind permitt keep pretty neare about y<sup>e</sup> shoare wth your Fflag aloft, that you may be known to be an Eng<sup>s</sup> ship by all people, So wishing you a prosperous voyage, wee remaine

Your assured Loving Ffriends.

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup> 21st Octob<sup>r</sup> 1677.

Wor<sup>ps</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>

Our last was of y<sup>e</sup>..... copy whereof goes here inclosed, since which wee have not rec<sup>d</sup> any from your Wor<sup>ps</sup>. Wee have at length induced the two Siddys to an agreement, so that one is contented to surrender up the others wife and children and the other is contented to surrender up the Armada, so that Siddy Sambole in 4 or 5 dayes more intends to imbarque on one of two great shippes and goe for Surat, and then the other Siddy will goe on board of the fleet. Wee were willing to be mediatour in this buisnesse that wee might be rid of them both, and if wee respect y<sup>e</sup> good and quiett of the Island, wee have reason to wish they may never come here againe except it be for a months time to refresh and then be gon againe. Siddy Sambole had an excellent horse killed in the broil, which he values at a great price, for w<sup>ch</sup> and all other damages he rec<sup>d</sup> he demands satisfaction of us, for he pretends his hands were bound up from taking his own satisfaction, and wee must needs say he was very obedient to our orders and has liv'd at Massagon all this raine very contentedly & quietly that wee have not been troubled with any complaints of him, so that when your Wor<sup>ps</sup> demands satisfaction of y<sup>e</sup> King for our horse and other damages, that Siddy Samboles damages may likewise be demanded or that they make him satisfaction there. Wee did formerly prefer a petition of all y<sup>e</sup> souldiers concerning y<sup>e</sup> shortnesse of y<sup>e</sup> pay, to w<sup>ch</sup> wee rec<sup>d</sup> an answer y<sup>t</sup> noe alteration could be made in it. Wee shall not presume to dive into y<sup>e</sup> causes of such a denyall, but wee find our selves obliged to give your Wor<sup>ps</sup> a daily acco<sup>tt</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> estate of affaires on y<sup>e</sup> Island and cannot but let you know all y<sup>e</sup> souldiers are extreemly discontented, they alledging they are not paid 3 parts of 21<sup>s</sup> p. month and y<sup>e</sup> present dearness and scarcity of all sorts of provisions does make y<sup>e</sup> greivance more felt. Wee have hitherto experienced too much fidellity from them to think they will be tempted to act any thing contrary to y<sup>r</sup> duties, yet wee must needs say should any evill consequence happen that this will be y<sup>e</sup> reall occasion thereof.

Wee find in an acco<sup>tt</sup> lately sent us down that Bombay Island is made Dr<sup>t</sup> to Rojapore ffactory, <sup>page</sup> 207—46<sup>3</sup>/<sub>4</sub>. As to the first thing, w<sup>ch</sup> is broadcloth said to be wanting, being a halfe pieces in 2 bales, wee can only say this, that Cap<sup>t</sup> Ustick were then warehouskeeper and that his warehouse had credit for whole bales and that if any p<sup>t</sup> were wanting he ought to make them good. Please to order how wee shall charge it. As to y<sup>e</sup> 14 bales of Cardimons wee rec<sup>d</sup> none of y<sup>m</sup>, nor were wee ever advised of any that came up in y<sup>e</sup> Mallabar Coaster, nor know wee of any landed here, or if they were wee sent y<sup>m</sup> immediately to Surat; if they are miscaried they ought not to ly at our door, for neither were they invoiced to us nor a line wrote to us about them. Wee cannot imagine upon what ground y<sup>e</sup> short weight of 200 chests Copper is charged to our debt, if the Chests were never opened here but sent from hence whole and well conditioned, may wee think they were never landed; if it be that Copper came out in y<sup>e</sup> "Golden Fleece" as wee suppose it is, if y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> pack up but halfe chests instead of whole chests, what does it concern y<sup>e</sup> Island. If it can be proved y<sup>e</sup> chests were either opened or embezeled here wee doe confesse y<sup>e</sup> justness of such a charge, but if otherwise, surly their acco<sup>tt</sup> curr<sup>tt</sup> or proffit and losse ought rather to be charged wth it then the Island. But lesse ground doe wee see why y<sup>e</sup> short measure of y<sup>e</sup> broadcloth is brought to our acco<sup>tt</sup>. Tis certain they cannot pretend y<sup>e</sup> bales wee so much as opened here, much lesse any of the cloth cut by us. Wee never heard of any cloth but what was allways either something over measure or something under, w<sup>ch</sup> wee allways apprehended ought to be carried off by proffitt & loss, or else if it were extraordinary by acco<sup>ts</sup> cur<sup>ts</sup>, but why Bombay Island should be charged wth a loss happened in Rojapore ffactory upon goods w<sup>ch</sup> were never so much as lookt upon here (as wee are informed) is what wee doe not clearly apprehend.

Capt<sup>n</sup> Usticks acco<sup>ts</sup> are at length finished, in w<sup>ch</sup> wee cannot but confesse y<sup>e</sup> great pains Cap<sup>t</sup> Gary hath taken, & must acknowledge ourselves thankfully indebted to him. His acco<sup>ts</sup> curant goes here enclosed. Please to order us when wee shall seek for effects to satisfie his debt and how wee shall proceed further in it. There is 28 pigs Lead wanting, w<sup>ch</sup> wee cannot by all circumstances find that ever he rec<sup>d</sup>. Having traced all circumstances, find that ever he rec<sup>d</sup> all y<sup>e</sup> books quite through all origine and doe think they were wanting when M<sup>r</sup> Chown d<sup>d</sup> up the warehouse. Please to order how they shall be clear'd off.

Two days past there went towards Sur<sup>t</sup> 6 Ffrench ships as wee are informed by a Shibarr who mett y<sup>m</sup> neare Bassein, and not knowing how affaires may stand in Europe, wee have y<sup>s</sup> day sent downe the "Revenge" to Goa and Carwar to give our Europe ships notice of it, that when they returne from y<sup>e</sup> Coast they may touch here to receive such further orders as y<sup>r</sup> Worp<sup>s</sup> shall send for them, and much about that time wee may expect news overland from Persia.

Wee have y<sup>s</sup> day sould 1000 maunds of Copper at 17½ Rup<sup>s</sup> p. m<sup>d</sup> at 4 m<sup>os</sup> time, wee having remaining by us a great quantity to koine.

The Comp<sup>a</sup> sent out a small p.cell Barbary Copper in cases for a tryall, w<sup>ch</sup> cost y<sup>m</sup> but 3/10 p. cent, whereas y<sup>e</sup> other cost y<sup>m</sup> 6/10 p. cent, w<sup>ch</sup> wee have sould for 12½ Rup<sup>s</sup> Surat ma<sup>ds</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> is 32 p. c<sup>t</sup> more in proportion y<sup>n</sup> the other is sould for, and wee could dispose of a good quantity yearly.

Wee are putting our ffort in y<sup>e</sup> best posture of defence possible in case of any accid<sup>t</sup>, fitting all our gunnes wth shot and cartridges ready, filling our granados, and making 2 or 300 powder shots and stink potts, and getting all other necessarys in a readinesse that wee may not be taken unprovided. . Wee have not to add, but that wee are

Your Wor<sup>ps</sup> Servants to be Commanded.

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup> 21st October 1677.

Respected Ffreind M<sup>r</sup> Walter Clavell,

The "Bombay Merch.," "George" & "Successe" arrived here from England y<sup>e</sup> 1st November, y<sup>e</sup> "Bombay Merch<sup>t</sup>" was dispatched for Bantam y<sup>e</sup> 18 present, y<sup>e</sup> other ships are gone downe y<sup>e</sup> Coast to fetch up pepper. Y<sup>e</sup> "Scipio Affricanes" who came out last yeare is now bound home. M<sup>r</sup> Rolt is confirmed President in y<sup>e</sup> roome of M<sup>r</sup> Aungier, who departed y<sup>s</sup> life y<sup>e</sup> last July past and y<sup>e</sup> "Returne" is going to Persia within these six or eight dayes to fetch him over. About 8 days past there went up to y<sup>e</sup> no'ward six saile of Ffrench men of warr, and they report they left twice as many at S. Laurence. I suppose they are the 20 saile w<sup>ch</sup> was reported to be gone to y<sup>e</sup> West Indies. They may do y<sup>e</sup> Dutch great damage Wee doe all expect a warr with y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench, y<sup>e</sup> King and Parliment having declared y<sup>e</sup> necessity thereof for y<sup>e</sup> conservation of y<sup>e</sup> Spanish Netherlands. I am putting our ffort into y<sup>e</sup> best capacity of deffence I can possible, a good preparation being one of y<sup>e</sup> strengths. I wish I might have y<sup>e</sup> honour of serving you in these parts, who should with no meane content embrace any opportunity of approving myselfe

Your humble Servant to be Commanded.

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup> 24th October 1677.

Worps<sup>h</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>

The 26th pressent came to our reception your Worships of y<sup>e</sup> 19th ditto, in answer to w<sup>ch</sup> please to accept of these following lines.

The Carmania goates are all dead; spotted deare wee shall send home, some by y<sup>e</sup> Europe ships if they touch here.

Wee doe not see y<sup>e</sup> absolute necessity of allowing 120 pounds to a Judge, not that wee would have y<sup>e</sup> Island destitute of a person invested wth authority to determine y<sup>e</sup> weightiest causes, but y<sup>e</sup> very name sounds too great for y<sup>e</sup> place. It looks like y<sup>e</sup> great Gate of little Pendus that make Diogenes affraid y<sup>e</sup> citty would runn out at them. Those who come to these parts are commonly mean persons or young men but very little skilld in our law, and y<sup>e</sup> name of a Judge does fill y<sup>m</sup> with such a pride that they loose y<sup>r</sup> reason in y<sup>e</sup> contemplation of their greatness and think no man y<sup>r</sup> superiour, scarcely y<sup>r</sup> equall; and if he, that is y<sup>e</sup> principle Justice, be invested by y<sup>e</sup> same power and act by a full Commission, why is it not y<sup>e</sup> same thing. It is not y<sup>e</sup> name that makes any diffrence. Y<sup>e</sup> governments of provinces are committed to persons who are sometimes stiled Lieutenants, sometimes Deputys, and sometimes Viceroy, though y<sup>r</sup> power is equall. Y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> formerly ordered that only some one of y<sup>r</sup> ffactours that was a sober and discreet person might officiate that place, who wee suppose would be well sattisfied to have only y<sup>e</sup> profit of y<sup>e</sup> Seals allowed him to his sallary w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> former Judge had. There is M<sup>r</sup> Gary or M<sup>r</sup> Robert Harbin, very fitting persons for such an employment, or whom else your Worps<sup>h</sup> shall please to appoint, w<sup>ch</sup> pleas to order so soone as may be, for none of the Justices by the Commissions can sit upon life and death, but only as assistants. Wee imagine a joint Commission for so many Justices of Quorum will doe better then singly invested in any one person. This is only but our oppinions, w<sup>ch</sup> your Worps<sup>h</sup> better judgment can correct,

We shall answer to what clauses of y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> letter wee find concernes us, as some things were acted by y<sup>e</sup> President w<sup>ch</sup> lie not within our spheare to take notice of, as the Presid<sup>t</sup> State horse, which is said to cost R<sup>s</sup> 1200, though Girder hath since brought to acco<sup>ts</sup> R<sup>s</sup> 1500 for him. M<sup>r</sup> Gyffords housekeeping & servants wages, y<sup>e</sup> Soape house and 3 months wages paid to y<sup>e</sup> last Seamen w<sup>ch</sup> came from Metchlapatan and y<sup>e</sup> like, wth M<sup>r</sup> Ffrances horskeeping, though wee think y<sup>e</sup> horse would be at y<sup>e</sup> same charge in y<sup>e</sup> stable as if he rode him and his servants wage w<sup>ch</sup> is but X<sup>s</sup> 5 p. m<sup>o</sup>; however wee shall act therein as y<sup>r</sup> Worps<sup>h</sup> shall order us,

M<sup>r</sup> Gary has procured for us copyys of his Majesties instructions to S<sup>r</sup> Abraham Shipman and S<sup>r</sup> Jarvase Lucas..... heerewith, but he never saw any plott of y<sup>e</sup> Island, neither does he know of any brought over, but thinks that in the agreement wth our King for the delivery, y<sup>e</sup> Islands of Salsett, Bombay and Carinjah were likewise intended, & Jn<sup>o</sup> Petit does remember that in y<sup>e</sup> year 1662 y<sup>e</sup> Earl of Marlborough did send Cap<sup>t</sup> Arnold Brown and some others round y<sup>e</sup> Island of Salsett by way of Bassien to sound all y<sup>e</sup> way and take full cognizance of all places. Cap<sup>t</sup> Brown will be y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> best informer in y<sup>e</sup> buisnesse.

Heerewith goes y<sup>e</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> warehouse all y<sup>e</sup> while it was under Cap<sup>t</sup> Ustick, adjusted by M<sup>r</sup> Gary. There was some difference in y<sup>e</sup> last Acco<sup>ts</sup> curr<sup>ts</sup> of Cap<sup>t</sup> Usticks sent up, w<sup>ch</sup> is now rectified, so that he will owe much more y<sup>n</sup> the last acco<sup>ts</sup> made out. Wee shall not inlarge at present but to subscribe

Your Worps<sup>h</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> humble Servant to be Commanded.

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup> 11th Novemb<sup>r</sup> 1677.

Worps<sup>h</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>.

Wee are now come to supply y<sup>e</sup> defects of y<sup>e</sup> last letters ..... by y<sup>e</sup> "Successe."

John Petit returns his humble thanks for your Licences conceeded him to repaire to Surat. M<sup>r</sup> Oxinden touching in here on y<sup>e</sup> "Successe" wee found very ready to comply with your Worps<sup>h</sup> orders in supplying his roome.

The Clause of the Presid<sup>ts</sup> letter of y<sup>e</sup> 26th Aprill concerning y<sup>e</sup> Souldiers pay wee did then thorroughly peruse, but it being an absolute order to us wee would not presume farther to discuss upon it. Our oppinions have been often plainly declared y<sup>t</sup> the Souldiers are cut of y<sup>e</sup> pay a considerable matter. It was ordered by y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> when here that 19 Phadeas should passe for a Zerapheen. Wee can indeed order that a penny shall pass for two pence, but it is not all y<sup>e</sup> proclamations and commands wee can issue out shall be of force to effect it. It is certaine the Kings and Potentates of Europe doe put what vallue they please on th<sup>e</sup> coines w<sup>ch</sup> passe current in th<sup>e</sup> own territories, but while Bombay is but 8 mile long wee doe not see any possibility of following y<sup>e</sup> rules. Here is nothing growing on y<sup>e</sup> Island but Coconutt, and all things wee want from abroad, and though y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> is pleased to say that wee ought not to be concerned how our mony passes abroad, yet how shall wee gett provisions & goods on y<sup>e</sup> Island except our mony goes of to fetch them, and what is intended by that Clause that wee should use all just means to procure y<sup>m</sup> plenty and cheap when y<sup>e</sup> very ffountain head is stopped, that is mony prohibited to be carried of. The Shroffs are marked out as y<sup>e</sup> cause of this distemper, but wee doe not see on what ground, for they doe not raise y<sup>e</sup> vattaw as is objected, but rather lower it, for y<sup>e</sup> Zerapheen instead of 19 Phadeas is worth 29. Suppose y<sup>e</sup> King of England should issue out a proclamation that 4 farthings should goe for a penny; if any person should give another 8 farthings for his penny wee cannot imagine this is punishable, and y<sup>s</sup> is just our case, and to order y<sup>e</sup> Sheroff to give people silver for y<sup>e</sup> bujerooks is a disowning our owne coine, for if they are currant, what occasion is there for Sheroffs to exchange y<sup>m</sup> into silver, & if they are not curr<sup>tt</sup> there is reason of a complaint people receiving but 19 Phadeas instead of 29. Our Dugonys indeed goe currant off y<sup>e</sup> Island, that is at 23 Phadeas p. c. or thereabouts & not at 19 as wee pay them, on to w<sup>ch</sup> is 20 p. c. losse, neither doe wee argue the necessity of allowing y<sup>e</sup> Souldiers y<sup>e</sup> utmost value of y<sup>e</sup> Bazar, which rises and ffalls every day. Wee believe two Phadeas in a X<sup>s</sup> advance would highly content them, and so low as that it never ffalls. This is only o<sup>r</sup> opinion with a submission to your Wor<sup>ss</sup> letter.

The difference of 100 y<sup>d</sup>s broad-cloth sent to Rojapore is as your Wor<sup>ss</sup> rightly imagine so much short added up in y<sup>e</sup> Invoice, w<sup>ch</sup> being rated at so much p. y<sup>d</sup> and not so much p. bale as it cost first penny, it is reason our Island should be recharged with it. Y<sup>e</sup> 14 bales of Cardimons we have at length found out, our Broker having disposed of y<sup>m</sup> wthout so much as ever bringing y<sup>m</sup> to acco<sup>tt</sup> to y<sup>s</sup> day, though he pretends he was at first ordered to give y<sup>e</sup> President C<sup>r</sup> for y<sup>m</sup>. We cannot yet make out all y<sup>e</sup> Saltpeeter, but are examining about it. Surely there must be a mistake in y<sup>e</sup> price of what came by y<sup>e</sup> "Mallabar Coaster," w<sup>ch</sup> being but 404 m<sup>d</sup> Rojapore in 636 page<sup>ths</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> is near 6½ rup<sup>s</sup> for that maund, whereas other Saltpeeter from them doth not cost halfe y<sup>e</sup> mony.

Whether y<sup>e</sup> Copper was weighed here or calculated by y<sup>e</sup> grosse wee cannot tell, but wee do not find any profit by remaining weight; however wee shall enter it as your Wor<sup>ss</sup> shall enorder.

M<sup>r</sup> King is mistaken in y<sup>e</sup> price of y<sup>e</sup> State horse, for Girder allowed y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> 1500 Rup<sup>s</sup> for him. Y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> bought him at first for himselfe, being a Colt, for 400 rup<sup>s</sup>, & after he had kept him 1½ years, ordered Girder to place him to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> acco<sup>tt</sup> putting downe 1200 Rup<sup>s</sup> for his prime cost & 300 Rup<sup>s</sup> for feeding him 1½ year, as M<sup>r</sup> King upon a second view will find that difference of 300 Rup<sup>s</sup> for keeping him all that time was y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>ts</sup> till he was sould to y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>.

Wee do not think there will be any great matter to be added or diminished from Capt<sup>n</sup> Usticks acco<sup>tt</sup> more y<sup>n</sup> what acco<sup>tt</sup> explains those sumes of treasury being since placed to acco<sup>tt</sup>, and those 2 p<sup>s</sup> of Broad-cloth found short at Rojapore shall likewise be placed to his acco<sup>tt</sup> wth

those other petty sums of y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>ts</sup> if M<sup>r</sup>. King sayes they are not allowed for. Yo<sup>r</sup>. Wor<sup>ps</sup> demands security from y<sup>e</sup> widdow in case she should marry, w<sup>ch</sup> wee suppose to be y<sup>e</sup> greatest difficulty of all. That man must be desperately in love that will take a widdow wth such an incumbrance, for who shall be able to find out which is her estate from her husbands when they are married, but wee doe not see y<sup>e</sup> necessity, for what hinders your Wor<sup>ps</sup> for coming to a conclusion, his debt being now known & the inventory of what he had here being registered in y<sup>e</sup> Court. His plate y<sup>e</sup> widdow pretends to have melted down for her maintenance, however y<sup>r</sup>. Wor<sup>ps</sup> may resolve on what course is fitting to be done, either to order her to pay back y<sup>e</sup> am<sup>ot</sup> of what she has rec<sup>d</sup> or part of it or give her a totall discharge as she is. Wee suppose it need not be deferred for a further examination of his acco<sup>ts</sup>, for there is more allready then wee beleive his estate will satisfie, and if any thing remains they will be but petty thing.

Wee have been in consideration for an employ<sup>mt</sup> for Cap<sup>t</sup>. Nicolls and could wish for y<sup>e</sup> sustentation of his family it were effected, but wee cannot pitch upon any, there being none vacant. A Justice of Peace does not receive a penny of sallary, and as to y<sup>e</sup> Register wee have no such office on y<sup>e</sup> Island, and should one be created it would not be worth to him a groat a day without a sallary. He that is Judge or Chief Justice (w<sup>ch</sup> is y<sup>e</sup> same thing) keeps y<sup>e</sup> register, and if another have sallary for that place it is giving two mens wages for the officiating y<sup>e</sup> same place, for wee suppose a Judge will be made, and a convinient sallary settled on him whose Commission hitherto has always been joined wth that of Register, the buisnesse of that place being so very small. What yo<sup>r</sup>. Wor<sup>ps</sup> shall order in y<sup>e</sup> particular wee shall readily perform.

As to those Clauses in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> letter they were things acted out of o<sup>r</sup>. time. When Jn<sup>o</sup>. Petit comes up he will give your Wor<sup>ps</sup> more particular satisfaction concerning them, which shall period these from

Bombay y<sup>e</sup> . . . . . December 1677.

Yo<sup>r</sup>. Wor<sup>ps</sup> Most Ffaithfull Serv<sup>t</sup>.

With humble submission to better judgements
J. Mansell Smith doe approve of what is heerein written except y<sup>t</sup> clause concerning Cap<sup>t</sup>.
Nicolls.

J. P.

M. S.

S. D.

J. H.

Bombay Gene<sup>ll</sup> to Suratt.

To His Ex<sup>cy</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Gene<sup>ll</sup> and Councill, Surat.

That wee deferred y<sup>e</sup> giving possession to S<sup>r</sup>. John Wyborne some few days was rather y<sup>e</sup> better to p<sup>r</sup>forme, then in opposition to yo<sup>r</sup>. orders, for wee rec<sup>d</sup> yo<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup>s & ca<sup>l</sup> letter y<sup>e</sup> 18th June (being Ffryday). Wee had not time to doe it wth y<sup>t</sup> decency sutable to one of his quality till y<sup>e</sup> ffollowing week, and soe soone y<sup>e</sup> R<sup>t</sup>. Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> estate could not be examined, wthout w<sup>ch</sup> he could not rec<sup>e</sup> y<sup>e</sup> charge nor give a discharge to y<sup>e</sup> late Dep<sup>t</sup>. Gov<sup>r</sup>; besides noe such oath to be found, and he is unwilling to take one of o<sup>r</sup>. fframing, for w<sup>ch</sup> reasons and y<sup>t</sup> all matters might be settled in a more ample mann<sup>r</sup>, it was unanimously agreed by y<sup>e</sup> approbation of S<sup>r</sup>. John Wyborne y<sup>t</sup> it would be more advantagious to putt it off till y<sup>e</sup> 30th June, not imagining wee had been stinted to soe short a time since o<sup>r</sup>. predecesso<sup>rs</sup> have taken much longer; and yo<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> & ca<sup>l</sup> may be senceable y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> late Deputy would not doe it for such a trifle, when he hath been att y<sup>t</sup> great charge, endangered his life, undergone soe much sickness and losses by y<sup>e</sup> sever<sup>ll</sup> expeditions, and as yett not been paid a penny of y<sup>e</sup> one nor considered for y<sup>e</sup> other, butt if itt be yo<sup>r</sup>. pleasures must submitt to it, hoping y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> expences about introducing S<sup>r</sup>. John Wyborne wth y<sup>t</sup> ceremony & respect according to yo<sup>r</sup>. orders may not be denied.

Wee know not wherein wee have submitted to y<sup>e</sup> Portugueez as yo<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> & ca<sup>l</sup> are pleased to mention, but continually have acted to y<sup>e</sup> utmost of o<sup>r</sup>. power for y<sup>e</sup> Hono<sup>r</sup> of o<sup>r</sup>. King and interest of o<sup>r</sup>. R<sup>t</sup>. Honob<sup>le</sup> Mast<sup>rs</sup>, for y<sup>e</sup>. Portugueeze or any other have gained nothing in o<sup>r</sup>. time, butt rather wee upon them. In May wee rec<sup>d</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. Vice Roys lettr<sup>e</sup>, when y<sup>e</sup>. shipp<sup>s</sup> & vessells were unriggered, and before they could be fitted y<sup>e</sup>. raines would have sett in, soe y<sup>t</sup>. wee could use noe fforce by water, nor they doe us any prejudice till y<sup>e</sup>. monsoons were over, therefore thought it prudence first to write to y<sup>e</sup>. Vice Roy, Cap<sup>t</sup>. Gene<sup>ll</sup> att Bocaim, wth y<sup>e</sup>. Padre Superior att Bandora, but haveing rec<sup>d</sup>. noe answer from y<sup>e</sup>. 2 former, wee gave you timely notice thereof to have directions about it.

Sunsonay Farr stands indebted 4500 R<sup>s</sup>. for debts in dispute w<sup>ch</sup> was referred in Presid<sup>t</sup>. Rolts time to y<sup>e</sup>. R<sup>t</sup>. Honob<sup>le</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>, as alsoe 650 X<sup>s</sup>. given to M<sup>r</sup>. Pettit when Dep<sup>t</sup>. Gov<sup>r</sup>. Wee desire to know whether they have write any thing about it y<sup>t</sup>. wee may be enabled to settle y<sup>t</sup>. acco<sup>tt</sup>.

Wee have adjusted Volup Venys acco<sup>tt</sup> excepting y<sup>e</sup>. Tobacco rent in 81 and 82. Enclosed wee send copy of an abstract of his losses for y<sup>e</sup>. said 2 years, w<sup>ch</sup> according to o<sup>r</sup>. information he was promised an abatement by yo<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>. when att Suratt, but can find nothing of it in y<sup>e</sup>. Regist<sup>r</sup>. of y<sup>e</sup>. same. Wee have inquired into y<sup>e</sup>. matter and find his demands are reall, and according to his contract he ought to have an equitable consideration.

Enclosed send yo<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>. an attestation made by M<sup>r</sup>. Hayes attorney for Cap<sup>t</sup>. Adderton deceased. It appearing y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. papers relateing to him and M<sup>rs</sup>. Bentam was seized by Keigwin & c<sup>a</sup>. w<sup>ch</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup>. Adderton in his life time declared never to have rec<sup>d</sup>. back againe, and there being none here y<sup>t</sup>. can give any further light into y<sup>e</sup>. matt<sup>r</sup>, therefore y<sup>e</sup>. Execut<sup>r</sup>. of y<sup>e</sup>. said Cap<sup>t</sup>. Adderton humbly desires y<sup>t</sup>. yo<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>. would be pleased to order her to make oath according to y<sup>e</sup>. decree here, upon w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup>. mony shall be paid, in regard there is other acco<sup>tt</sup>s depending betwixt them.

Since y<sup>e</sup>. delivery to Christoph<sup>r</sup>. de Soaza y<sup>e</sup>. lands y<sup>t</sup>. he laid claime to he desireth y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. produce of y<sup>e</sup>. said lands dureing y<sup>e</sup>. time of their being in o<sup>r</sup>. possession may be made good to him, but there being nothing mentioned thereof in yo<sup>r</sup>. orders, would not doe any thing untill wee had advised yo<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>.

The Arrab Merch<sup>tt</sup> who bought y<sup>e</sup>. "Prosperous" haveing made application to us for a bill of sale and y<sup>e</sup>. said shipp being first sold by D<sup>r</sup>. St<sup>t</sup>. John in y<sup>e</sup>. Court of Admiralty y<sup>e</sup>. proper right and title doth proceed from thence, for Mad<sup>a</sup>. Niccolls can give none, her husband never haveing rec<sup>d</sup>. possession; therefore wee desire y<sup>t</sup>. some Instrument may be sent to intitle him thereunto.

The Padre Superior of Bandora in y<sup>e</sup>. time of M<sup>r</sup>. Wards being Dep<sup>t</sup>. Gov<sup>r</sup>. did make a salt pond out of a ffishing ware called "Roule" between Sion and Martinga; and y<sup>e</sup>. Corumbeens and Mattreis of Sion, Mahim, Darave and Martinga, say belongs to y<sup>e</sup>. R<sup>t</sup>. Honob<sup>le</sup> Com<sup>a</sup>, and y<sup>e</sup>. ffish was sent to y<sup>e</sup>. Dep<sup>t</sup>. Gov<sup>r</sup>, and y<sup>t</sup>. it was accustomed for y<sup>e</sup>. Dep<sup>t</sup>. Gov<sup>r</sup>. to goe and ffish there 2 or 3 times a yeare, and Lewis Cuzado did pay a fellow to looke after it. Upon information whereof there was an action entered against y<sup>e</sup>. Padre, but he refuseth to appeare in Court, and can show noe ord<sup>r</sup>. from M<sup>r</sup>. Ward nor none else for said doing, and wee are informed it has yielded 20 Fissales of salt p. annum for these 2 years past.

Wee transmitt Sombajee Rajahs & c<sup>a</sup>. lettr<sup>e</sup>s translated in Portugueeze wth M<sup>r</sup>. Woolhouses papers and an answer to them, w<sup>ch</sup> concludes all from

Yo<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>,
Most humble & Ffaithfull Servants,
JOHN VAUXE.
RICH<sup>d</sup>. STANLEY.
CHARLES LINZAN.

Bombay, August y<sup>e</sup>. 13th, 1686.

Coppy. Bombay Gene<sup>ll</sup> to Suratt.

To His Ex<sup>cy</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Gene<sup>ll</sup> and Councill.

Wee rec<sup>d</sup> yo<sup>r</sup> Ex<sup>cs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> 31st July, w<sup>ch</sup> came to us y<sup>e</sup> 11th instant. W<sup>t</sup> you write about Cap<sup>t</sup> Tyrrell and Ensigne Barbar y<sup>e</sup> present Dep<sup>t</sup> Gov<sup>rs</sup> hath allready given an acco<sup>tt</sup> in sever<sup>ll</sup> particular lett<sup>rs</sup>.

The p<sup>r</sup>sent Dep<sup>t</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> sayth y<sup>t</sup> after he rec<sup>d</sup> his Commission from yo<sup>r</sup> R<sup>t</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> he tooke y<sup>e</sup> Sacram<sup>t</sup> Oaths of Alleig<sup>a</sup> and Supremisy and Test, and since he came here he hath taken y<sup>e</sup> Sacram<sup>t</sup> and is ready to take y<sup>e</sup> Oath as D.G., when the method of y<sup>t</sup> oath is known, there being none to be found here, p<sup>r</sup>sumeing it may be imbezled along w<sup>h</sup> sever<sup>ll</sup> other bookes and papers in y<sup>e</sup> time of y<sup>e</sup> Revolution.

Wee hope you will be sattisfied y<sup>t</sup> wee never heard any complaint about disposing y<sup>e</sup> rice. Wee have made strict inquiry and find y<sup>t</sup> it was false w<sup>t</sup> y<sup>t</sup> Merch<sup>t</sup> alledged, and w<sup>t</sup> his reason may be for it knowe not.

The sealing wax wee have rec<sup>d</sup> and shall credit you accordingly.

When wee rec<sup>d</sup> any Portueeze lett<sup>rs</sup> of importance, for y<sup>e</sup> future shall follow yo<sup>r</sup> direc<sup>tions</sup> in translateing y<sup>m</sup>, and when any thing of moment happens shall give you a peticular acco<sup>tt</sup> w<sup>thout</sup> delay

As to y<sup>e</sup> "Hunt<sup>r</sup>" wee have ordered her to be fitted wth all speed and will send to Mahim, a proper place for y<sup>e</sup> business yo<sup>r</sup> Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> design'd, and will place her charges as you directed us. Wee cannot lay her at Syon, there being not water enough for her to ride. Her Cap<sup>t</sup> shall have all due directions, y<sup>t</sup> there may be noe abuses rec<sup>d</sup> or offered on either side.

As to y<sup>e</sup> Padres of Bandora and others y<sup>t</sup> belong to y<sup>e</sup> Portugall nation, notice is given to y<sup>e</sup> Chiefe Justice, who will take care y<sup>t</sup> noe such estates be any ways alienated; but it will be off ill consequence, for if y<sup>e</sup> inhabitants of this Island be hindred from attaching one anothers estates, they will never pay their debts and one will starve y<sup>e</sup> other; therefore pray yo<sup>r</sup> further directions as to y<sup>e</sup> inhabitants of y<sup>e</sup> Island, who are most under y<sup>e</sup> nomination as Portueeze. As to y<sup>e</sup> damages sustained by y<sup>e</sup> Portueeze in o<sup>r</sup> time wee shall take care to give yo<sup>r</sup> Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> acco<sup>tt</sup>, but as for y<sup>e</sup> time past all y<sup>t</sup> wee can find are in y<sup>e</sup> Genell<sup>l</sup> Bookes w<sup>ch</sup> are att Suratt, and if after a further examination wee find anything material shall advise you thereof.

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup> 13th August 1686,

Yo<sup>r</sup> Ex<sup>cs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> Most humble Servants,

JOHN WYBORNE,

JOHN VAUXE,

RICH<sup>d</sup> STANLEY.

CHARLES LINZAN,

To His Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>

This comes to accompany y<sup>e</sup> inclosed Rowles, being y<sup>e</sup> names of all y<sup>t</sup> R<sup>t</sup> Honourable Comp<sup>s</sup> officers, Souldiers and Servants on and belonging to y<sup>e</sup> Island of Bombay, and serves to acquaint you<sup>r</sup> Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> arrivall of a French man of warr designed for Surratt by name y<sup>e</sup> "Loryflame" commanded by Munsur Du Chenay. He arrived here y<sup>e</sup> 28th instant and sayes he came out of Brest in West France on their Easter Day last past. Y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>ta</sup> sayes y<sup>t</sup> all things are in peace and quietness in Europe amongst y<sup>e</sup> Christians, and that our King is a fitting of-shippes of warr to sea, and y<sup>e</sup> French King is a doing y<sup>e</sup> like. He likewise says that he was in England not many dayes before he came on this voyage and at our Kings Court at Whitehall wher he observed these alterations. Lord Keeper North remov'd from y<sup>e</sup> seale and L<sup>d</sup> Chief Justice Jeffery made L<sup>d</sup> Chancellor of England, Lord Marquess Hallifax commanded to his countrey house and some others placed and displaced. Y<sup>e</sup> R<sup>t</sup> Honour<sup>ble</sup> our Masters of y<sup>e</sup> East India Company are sending out of severall shippes for India, but he does not know for what places. In our last we wrote you y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> "Faulcon," Cap<sup>ta</sup> Prestwick, would be fitted here for her homeward bound voyage, but since y<sup>t</sup> we finde a great many of her fullock timbers broke and shall be forced to patch her up and send her to Surratt to you to be putt into a Dock, for it is impossible for her to be fitted and repaired here wthout a Dock, w<sup>ch</sup> when you<sup>r</sup> Ex<sup>cy</sup> comes hope will be made. Wee hope y<sup>e</sup> "London" is well, since she sayled hence we have had bad weather. Y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>ta</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> French shipp has not been wth us, he being ill on board, so know not how long he resolves to stay here, many of his men sick of y<sup>e</sup> scurvey, w<sup>ch</sup> wth tender of due respects conclude

Bombay, Augst 30th, 1686.

Your Ex<sup>cy</sup>s & c<sup>a</sup>
Most humble & faithfull Servants,
JOHN WYBORNE.
JOHN VAUXE.
RICH<sup>d</sup> STANLEY.
CHARLES LINZAN.

To His Ex<sup>cy</sup> the Genr<sup>ll</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> Council.

This serves to accompany y<sup>e</sup> inclosed w<sup>ch</sup> is a copy of y<sup>e</sup> tryall of Robert Clark, a man y<sup>t</sup> kil'd y<sup>e</sup> Gunners mate of his Majesties shipp "Phoenix." Y<sup>e</sup> man who was kil'd had neither sword, knife, nor staff in his hand, but was drunk and abusive. Our Deputy Governour has not passed sentence of death on y<sup>e</sup> said Clarke, but stayes till he knows you<sup>r</sup> Ex<sup>cy</sup>s & c<sup>a</sup> pleasure whether you will have him acquitted or have him suffer. Our opinions you will see in y<sup>e</sup> inclosed.

We have kept Cap<sup>ta</sup> Swanly till after this new moon to assist Cap<sup>ta</sup> Prestwick of y<sup>e</sup> "Faulcon," w<sup>ch</sup> shipp is in an ill condition as we have informed you in our last. S<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Wyborne being a knowing man in y<sup>e</sup> affaires of shipping, finds it absolutely necessary & needfull to have all the help possible for y<sup>e</sup> securing of that shipp, but will dispatch y<sup>e</sup> "Success" w<sup>thin</sup> few dayes, and hope she may arrive before, or as soon as you may want her.

Wee wrote your Ex<sup>cy</sup> concerning his Maj<sup>ties</sup> shipp y<sup>e</sup> "Phoenix," who we hope will gett afloat this new moon, which if don she may be ready to sayle in a few dayes, but y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>ta</sup> expects orders from you. He must come to you for provisions and medicines as allso for his dispatches if you desire him for England. We wrote you concerning powder for said ship and hope wee shall have your answer as to y<sup>e</sup> quantity y<sup>t</sup> we may spare her, and allso to let us know how you would have us dispose of y<sup>e</sup> gunns and shott y<sup>t</sup> came on y<sup>e</sup> shipp "New London."

Since we rec<sup>d</sup> you<sup>r</sup> order to place y<sup>e</sup> "Hunter" Ffriggott before Mahim to constrain all vessells to pay custome there we have been round y<sup>e</sup> Islands Verrele & Mahim, and do finde an absolute necessity for y<sup>e</sup> building up of some fforts or watch-houses that are fallen down and are a falling. Y<sup>e</sup> Ffort at Mahim is not worth a doyt and y<sup>e</sup> house is a falling down. It is concluded on by all of us wth y<sup>e</sup> advice and assistance of M<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Buttler, that the house at Mahim is well situated and will be cheaper made into a ffort or garison y<sup>n</sup> it can be repayred as a house. We would have had M<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Coopers advice in it, but he is very ill and hath been so for some time. Wee have thoughts of going on wth said work and will finde out a way to defray y<sup>e</sup> charge of it, but we hope you<sup>r</sup> Ex<sup>cy</sup> will come and settle matters you<sup>r</sup> selfe, but till y<sup>n</sup> we will take all y<sup>e</sup> care wee cann to secure y<sup>e</sup> Island and will spend no more mony in doing off it y<sup>n</sup> needs must. Y<sup>e</sup> "Hunter" is gon to her birth before Mahim wth orders what to doe.

S<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Wyborne has sent Leutennant Jacob Barber to command at Mahim, judging it a command too big for a Serjant and a trust too great for any man under y<sup>e</sup> degree of a Commission Officer, & he to be a sober responsible man.

We shewed you<sup>r</sup> Ex<sup>cy</sup>s &c<sup>a</sup> orders to Cap<sup>ta</sup> Tyrrell about his flagg. He said he was ready to put you<sup>r</sup> orders in execution but that he had an order from your Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> and Councill of Surratt under all your hands for wearing said flagg, and when he has an order from under your hands he will take it in, not judging it safe for him to doe it wthout said order. We are of same opinion, w<sup>ch</sup> with due respects remayne

Your Ex<sup>cy</sup>s &c<sup>a</sup>

Most humble & faithfull Servants,

JOHN WYBORNE.

JOHN VAUXE.

RICH<sup>d</sup> STANLEY.

CHARLES LINZAN.

Bombay, September y<sup>e</sup> 6th, 1686.

---

Bombay Genr<sup>ll</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>ta</sup> Genr<sup>ll</sup> of the North.

Sir,

Understanding that you are come to Bandora wth some forces, I have thought fitt to vissitt you wth this letter, to acquaint you that I do not intend any wayes to molest or trouble your countrey or Governm<sup>t</sup>. Y<sup>e</sup> cause of y<sup>e</sup> ffriggotts comeing and lying at Mahim is onely to cause vessells to pay their antient dues and accustomed customs at Mahim, w<sup>ch</sup> is my Lord and M<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> King of Great Brittaines just due and right, and I designe no other wayes or matter by what I have don. S<sup>r</sup>, as I have given you an account of what I designed by sending y<sup>e</sup> ffriggott to lay at Mahim, so I desire you to let me know you<sup>r</sup> designe in coming down to Bandora wth you<sup>r</sup> fforces. Pray let me have you<sup>r</sup> speedy answer. I am resolved what in me lyes to maintaine a good and firme freindship and correspondancy between y<sup>e</sup> Crown of England and Portugall, but I will not part wth anything that is my masters due.

JOHN WYBORNE.

September 15th, 1686.

---

To His Ex<sup>cy</sup> & Councill,

This comes to accompany the R<sup>t</sup> Worp<sup>full</sup> Charles Linzan Esq<sup>r</sup>, Leuten<sup>t</sup> Genr<sup>ll</sup>, who come upon his Mag<sup>ties</sup> Ffriggot "Phoenix," who sayles this day. The pacquett y<sup>t</sup> came out of England in y<sup>e</sup> "Worcester" comes wth y<sup>e</sup> Leuten<sup>t</sup> Genr<sup>ll</sup> and hope he and it will arive you safe and in good time.

As to Anthony Depinta bussiness of y<sup>e</sup> Tobacco M<sup>r</sup> Linzan will informe you fully, but we have and will make a dilligent inquirey into and will give you the best accomp<sup>t</sup> of affaires. As to y<sup>e</sup> "Hunter" lying at y<sup>e</sup> river of Mahim she is in y<sup>t</sup> place you spoke off. As to y<sup>e</sup> try-ing of Robert Clarke by y<sup>e</sup> Court of Judicature y<sup>e</sup> Judges advice or opinion is of little value, the laws of warr say quite another thing, so y<sup>t</sup> if your Ex<sup>cy</sup> please to adheare to D<sup>r</sup> S<sup>t</sup> Johns advice as to governing of an island or garrison y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Governour never expects anything but confusion, for he dare sweare if we doe not punish souldiers by martiall law noe officer nor inhabitation can be safe in their lives or estates. Wee know y<sup>e</sup> common law will cleare Clarke for murder, and so it will any man for theft, great part of y<sup>e</sup> Jurymen not knowing how soon it may be their turnes to be brought to y<sup>e</sup> barr on the same scoare. Y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Governour is sure S<sup>r</sup> Josia Child is wholly for governing p. martiall law and has been at a great deal of trouble to obtaine it in times past, and now write to y<sup>t</sup> purpose; however will submitt to your directions, and Clarke shall be tryed accordingly that he may live and murder some other poore man. As to y<sup>e</sup> ship "Prosperous" we wholly referr y<sup>t</sup> matter to be dispted with M<sup>r</sup> Linzan, who will informe you y<sup>e</sup> whole matter. He was p.s<sup>ent</sup> at y<sup>e</sup> Consultations about y<sup>t</sup> affaire. As to y<sup>e</sup> men y<sup>t</sup> came in the Shabarr from Surratt we will take care and do as you have directed. We send here inclosed a paper or certificate of damages don by Cap<sup>ta</sup> Searles shipp y<sup>e</sup> "Wellfare" as you will see, w<sup>ch</sup> we pray your Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> to see y<sup>e</sup> money may be made good when y<sup>e</sup> shipp arives you, w<sup>ch</sup> wth tender of our due respects conclude

Your Ex<sup>cy</sup>s &c<sup>a</sup>

Most humble & ffaithfull Servants,

JOHN WYBORNE.

JOHN VAUXE.

RICH<sup>d</sup> STANLEY.

Bombay September 27th, 1686.

Bombay Gene<sup>ll</sup> to Surratt.

To His Excellency & Councell.

We send this to acquaint you y<sup>t</sup> we are credibally informed that y<sup>e</sup> Sedee after his haveing had such success at Danda Rojapore and other places is resolved to attack Candrey,* w<sup>ch</sup> if he doe will infallibly be resigned to him by treachery and may prove of ill consequence to this Island. This we think fitt to advise your Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> with, praying your directions about it, whether or no you think it fitt to send a man to y<sup>e</sup> Rajah to propose to him to give y<sup>e</sup> said Candrey into our hands till he becomes master of his countrey and y<sup>a</sup> to returne it to him againe, or any other proposall that you shall think fitt, w<sup>ch</sup> must be done speedily or not at all, for certainly y<sup>e</sup> Sedee will have it. Penn is certainly in danger of being lost. We are a finishing of y<sup>e</sup> accompt of his Mag<sup>tie</sup> Shipp "Phoenix," but by reason of some of her men lying in y<sup>e</sup> Hospitall, and wee know not how God will deale wth them, cannot close accompt to send up, w<sup>ch</sup> as soon as we cann shall be done.

We are a surveighing all y<sup>e</sup> stores in y<sup>e</sup> Garrison, some of y<sup>e</sup> Pouder y<sup>t</sup> came over in the three last shippes "London," "Success," and "Worcester" is damnyfyed. As soon as we know y<sup>e</sup> quantity of each shippes we will send you an account of it, w<sup>ch</sup> we would have done sooner onely for the indisposition of our officers, who have been sick. Inclosed is a bill sent of y<sup>e</sup> damnyfyed cloaths y<sup>t</sup> came out in y<sup>e</sup> "Worcester" attested by y<sup>e</sup> Stoarkeeper. Y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>tas</sup> of said shipp sayled from hence wthout giveing us a list of y<sup>e</sup> R<sup>t</sup> Honourable Compaynes Souldiers shipt on board of y<sup>e</sup> said shipp notwithstanding the Dep<sup>ty</sup> Govern<sup>r</sup> demanded it sever<sup>ll</sup> times both of him and his Purser. Wee should be very glad to hear from you and to have y<sup>e</sup> Manchua wth us, for we have abundance of men sick and many of y<sup>m</sup> dye. The Cap<sup>tas</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> "London," "Success," & "Worcester" refuse to pay y<sup>e</sup> Barr<sup>ll</sup> of Gunpowder and p<sup>a</sup> of which was demanded by M<sup>r</sup> Jesop, w<sup>ch</sup> is wth at present offers from

Your Excellency &c<sup>a</sup>

Most humble & ffaithfull Servants,

JOHN WYBORNE.

JOHN VAUXE.

RICH<sup>d</sup> STANLEY.

Bombay, October 18th, 1686.

* Khanderi or Kenery is a small island near the entrance of the Bombay harbour, eleven miles south of Bombay and six north-west of Alibá. The Kolaba light-house, which was built in 1867, stands on the highest part of the island.

John Wyat,

You are hereby required to repaire to Suery, takeing with you two Topasses, and take y<sup>e</sup> charge of y<sup>e</sup> New Guard House, suffering no souldiers or others that you suspect to be run away to goe off y<sup>e</sup> Island. You are likewise to take care that no cattell, corne or other provisions be carryed off y<sup>e</sup> Island, but may suffer any sort of provisions or cattell to be brought on y<sup>e</sup> Island, and if you finde any one carrying letters off y<sup>e</sup> Island, stop them and send them to me, and be sure you search all and suffer no poore people to come and inhabit on y<sup>e</sup> Island, and call y<sup>e</sup> Malitia to watch with you every night, spareing y<sup>e</sup> Padree of Parells servants. You are to apply yourselfe to y<sup>e</sup> Storekeeper for three spare Musquetts, Bandaleers, & Swords, together with what pouders, shott, match and ffints you shall have occasion of.

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup> 5th November 1686.

JOHN WYBORNE.

Coppy Bombay Gene<sup>ll</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> R<sup>t</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>.

May it please yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup>,

On y<sup>e</sup> 27th of January 1685 o<sup>r</sup> last addresses were to yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> by y<sup>e</sup> Shipp "Williamson" Cap<sup>t</sup> Warner, and hope long ere this is wth your Hono<sup>rs</sup>, unto w<sup>ch</sup> referr you, since none from yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> to this Island. His Ex<sup>cy</sup> o<sup>r</sup> Gene<sup>ll</sup> has not yett been amongst us, but wee are dayly in expectation of his approach, well knowing y<sup>e</sup> weighty affaires and great troubles y<sup>t</sup> has continually attended him in o<sup>r</sup> R<sup>t</sup> Hono<sup>ble</sup> Mast<sup>rs</sup> business has occasioned his long absence from us. Whenever it shall please God to afford us y<sup>t</sup> happy hour he will be a reall wellcome.

Since S<sup>r</sup> John Wybornes arrival to y<sup>e</sup> Govern<sup>t</sup> wee have wth great care and dilligence made sever<sup>ll</sup> surveighs about the Island, and find many things highly necessary to be done, and principally y<sup>e</sup> want of building some Fforts and out works y<sup>t</sup> must be effected before wee can give any repulse to an enemys landing upon us. The draining of Batty Ground &c<sup>a</sup> would be of advantage when effected, but y<sup>e</sup> charge of it will not in many yeares be defrayed, and y<sup>e</sup> maine thing to carry on w<sup>t</sup> wee here mention is Treasury, and at p<sup>r</sup> sent wee have litle more then will pay y<sup>e</sup> charge of y<sup>e</sup> Garrison charges, and to draw on Suratt Ffactory wee are highly sensible will not at p<sup>r</sup> sent accomodate us. Still the principall Bastian & Curtaine is unfinished, w<sup>ch</sup> is really a pitty. Y<sup>e</sup> reason yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> well know, w<sup>ch</sup> does not only hinder that good intent of building Barracks in y<sup>e</sup> Ffort, but y<sup>e</sup> effecting many other designes laid down by yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup>.

Enclosed is a list of y<sup>e</sup> English deceased since o<sup>r</sup> last to this instant wth those y<sup>t</sup> are liveing. Y<sup>e</sup> mortallity has this yeare been exceeding violent, and shall much want recruits by all oppertunitys; and cheifest reason y<sup>t</sup> can be given is y<sup>e</sup> absolute want of good Europe medicines y<sup>t</sup> should have been yearly sent out fresh. Here has been none from yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> since y<sup>e</sup> yeare 1682—3, w<sup>ch</sup> puts us to use y<sup>e</sup> country Physick, w<sup>ch</sup> serves only to augment y<sup>e</sup> charge of y<sup>e</sup> garrison and does men more hurt than good. For a supply of w<sup>t</sup> is necessary wee now send a list or Invoice here inclosed under y<sup>e</sup> hand of y<sup>e</sup> chiefe Chyrurgeon, and an acco<sup>tt</sup> of w<sup>t</sup> is wanting and necessary to y<sup>e</sup> releife yearly of y<sup>e</sup> Stores and Marine. Yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> shipp many of them takes in store of Ballast in their outward bound voyage; now in lieu of some of that, if you please to send out about ten or twenty Challdron of Sea Coales for y<sup>e</sup> use of y<sup>e</sup> Smiths Fforge, it may in a years time save a great part of w<sup>t</sup> is expended in charcole, w<sup>ch</sup> burnes away like durt, and does litle service for any great worke y<sup>t</sup> must be made for y<sup>e</sup> Garrisons use,

Wee likewise have had a view of o<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Mast<sup>rs</sup> houses in this Island, w<sup>ch</sup> are very much out of repaire, some of them dropt downe to y<sup>e</sup> ground, others y<sup>t</sup> will cost more to make them Tennantable y<sup>n</sup> the houses and ground rent is worth, but many of them y<sup>t</sup> are in towne when occasion shall serve will make good warehouses and godownes.

The Gene<sup>ll</sup> bookes of this place for y<sup>e</sup> year 1685 are gone to Suratt by y<sup>e</sup> Worsp<sup>ll</sup> Charles Linzan wth other y<sup>e</sup> Consultations &c<sup>a</sup>, but those for this p<sup>re</sup> sent are not finished, by reason wee want writers. Y<sup>e</sup> Accomptant and Secretary has none to assist them but such as wee are constrained to take from their dutys in y<sup>e</sup> Garrison, and those wee cannot hinder from y<sup>e</sup> knowledge of w<sup>t</sup> wee o<sup>r</sup>selves are under an oath to keep secrett. Now if yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> will please to send us a supply of honest, sober young men, wee shall goe on wth o<sup>r</sup> business much y<sup>e</sup> better.

A dry Dock for y<sup>e</sup> refitting of shippes will be of great use here and may be easily made. This y<sup>e</sup> Dep<sup>t</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Wyborne does believe may be of great use and profit to yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> and indeed soe it must for all shippes in these seas, when they know of a Dock where they may lye dry securely, will come to cleane and repair their shippes. The shipp "Ffaulcon" had not left her bones here, had there been a Dock. S<sup>r</sup> John Wyborne has wrott to y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> Gene<sup>ll</sup> about it, but wee doe not know w<sup>t</sup> the event of this matt<sup>r</sup> will be, and therefore can only say it will be a necessary profitable worke when downe.

The new Dep<sup>t</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> has made y<sup>e</sup> house in y<sup>e</sup> ffort much more commodious then ever it was, having fitted up a very convenient Chappell out of 2 roomes sittuated in y<sup>e</sup> midle of y<sup>e</sup> house, where there is room enough for four times y<sup>e</sup> number of people y<sup>t</sup> wee have on this Island.

All sorts of provisions is very deare occasioned by y<sup>e</sup> warr wth y<sup>e</sup> Mogull, Sombajee Rajah and y<sup>e</sup> Portugueeze, all their forces being quartered in o<sup>r</sup> neighbourhood, soe y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> poore sould<sup>rs</sup> can hardly live on their pay. If any alteration be made in y<sup>e</sup> coine to lessen it they will infallibly starve or cause some distraction, for noe liveing man will endure starveing when at libertie, soe hope yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> will be pleased to lett y<sup>e</sup> mony passe as it now does till provisions grow cheaper.

Yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> have writt to his Ex<sup>cy</sup> & Councill to permitt one M<sup>r</sup> John Broxolme to returne to his native country, having some estate fallen to him. Now during y<sup>e</sup> time of his being on this Island he has entered into y<sup>e</sup> marriage Covenants wth y<sup>e</sup> widdow of one Thomas Bygott, by w<sup>ch</sup> means he became lyable to pay y<sup>e</sup> Debts of the said Bygott, and wee finding him to stand indebted to yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> y<sup>e</sup> sume of X<sup>s</sup> 380 and in sterling mony at £28 10<sup>s</sup>, for which sume wee have here enclosed his bond made payable to yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> hope will be punctually complied with. Wee shall carry it from Bombay bookes to Suratt acco<sup>tt</sup> currant, and hope all may be to your Hono<sup>rs</sup> contents.

This Island did formerly vend a considerable quantity of Europe manufactures as broad cloath, perpetuanoes, lead &c<sup>a</sup>, and it would be convenient such things were in y<sup>e</sup> warehouses for sale, by w<sup>ch</sup> means it would draw trading to y<sup>e</sup> Island, and advance y<sup>e</sup> customes yearly. Here is of late many silk weavers and others come from Tannah, Choule, &c<sup>a</sup>, and if encouragm<sup>t</sup> given they will dayly come from other parts to us. Y<sup>e</sup> Portugueeze meerly tyrannize over those poor people and exact such great taxes and customes from them y<sup>t</sup> they fly y<sup>e</sup> citties and principall places of trade.

Wee desire y<sup>t</sup> more care may be taken when yo<sup>r</sup> Hono<sup>rs</sup> send out any men whither as souldiers or servants for y<sup>e</sup> poore men are gene<sup>ll</sup> starved or beaten and abused y<sup>t</sup> they fall into the scurvey and halfe of them dye y<sup>e</sup> way, or come on shoare sick and weak, altogether unfitt for service. Y<sup>e</sup> men that came out on y<sup>e</sup> "New London" were the healthiest, strongest men

y<sup>t</sup> ever came hither out of England, w<sup>ch</sup> wee suppose was occasioned by S<sup>r</sup>. John Wybornes care of and charity to them. Here was landed 62 men all fitt to beare armes y<sup>e</sup> first day. When yo<sup>r</sup>. Hon<sup>rs</sup> agree wth any Cap<sup>t</sup>. of yo<sup>r</sup>. shippes to bring yo<sup>r</sup>. servants out for India, pray be pleased to agree y<sup>t</sup> each man have soe many oz<sup>s</sup>. of bread p. day, for if y<sup>e</sup>. men be served a weeks bread att a time, it often happens y<sup>t</sup> one steale from another, and if a poore man looses a weeks bread before he comes to have any more, he is halfe starved, soe it is necessary to have them served dayly, besides y<sup>e</sup>. Cap<sup>ts</sup>. say they allow them soe many pound of bread a week, but they allow not above 10 oz<sup>s</sup>. to y<sup>e</sup>. pound, w<sup>ch</sup> starves y<sup>e</sup>. poore wretches, and all other provisions proportionable. Y<sup>e</sup>. men y<sup>t</sup> came on y<sup>e</sup>. "Worcester" ffriggott wee have reason to beleive were ill used. Here came but 19 poore souls on shoare, and but two of them able to stand, they all haveing y<sup>e</sup>. scurvey. Great part of them are since dead in yo<sup>r</sup>. Hospitall. We humbly beg on y<sup>e</sup>. poore mens behalves y<sup>t</sup> you may have occasion to send out hereafter, y<sup>t</sup> some other care may be taken for their safety and yo<sup>r</sup>. Hon<sup>rs</sup> service and this countrys security, for in y<sup>e</sup>. maine your Hon<sup>rs</sup> are y<sup>e</sup>. losers.

Wee add not more, but conclude wth y<sup>e</sup>. tend<sup>r</sup>. of o<sup>r</sup>. dutys, and remaine,

Yo<sup>r</sup>. Honours

Most humble & ffaithf<sup>ll</sup> Servants,

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup>. 29th December 1686.

JOHN WYBORNE.

JOHN VAUXE.

RICH<sup>d</sup>. STANLEY.

JOHN JESSOP.

P.S.—Since closure of y<sup>e</sup>. letter, arrived here yo<sup>r</sup>. Hono<sup>rs</sup> shipp "Charles y<sup>e</sup>. 2<sup>d</sup>, Cap<sup>t</sup>. Andrews, who informes us of more of yo<sup>r</sup>. Hono<sup>rs</sup> shippes y<sup>t</sup> are bound to us. God of his infinite mercy send them safe to arrive and y<sup>t</sup> yo<sup>r</sup>. Hono<sup>rs</sup> affaires may florish.

Coppy Bombay Gene<sup>ll</sup> to Callicutt.

To M<sup>r</sup>. Thomas Mitchell &<sup>ca</sup> Ffactors att Callicutt,

Yesterday wee rec<sup>d</sup>. a letter from Suratt w<sup>ch</sup> informs us of y<sup>e</sup>. "Wellfares" arrivall Swally Hole and how y<sup>t</sup> she mett with European Pyratt Shippes, one carried between 40 and 50 guns Hage boate, y<sup>e</sup>. other a square Harne shipp ab<sup>t</sup>. 30 guns. They sent y<sup>e</sup>. great shippes boate on board y<sup>e</sup>. shipp "Wellfare" manned wholly wth Dutch men save one Scott. They demanded who y<sup>e</sup>. shipp belonged to and a sight of her ord<sup>rs</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup>. Cap<sup>t</sup>. refused to shew them. Then y<sup>e</sup>. boat went on board y<sup>e</sup>. great shipp and returned wth y<sup>e</sup>. same message, but y<sup>e</sup>. Cap<sup>t</sup>. gave y<sup>m</sup>. the same answeare againe, when they tacked and stood to y<sup>e</sup>. southward. They both wore Dutch Cou<sup>l</sup><sup>rs</sup>, and gave out they were Dutch and belonged to Batavia, but God knows w<sup>t</sup> they be, and in such case wee cannot be too wary. Wee therefore desire you to acquaint all such shippes and vessells as fall in wth you to be very carefull; and as for y<sup>e</sup>. "Quedah Merch<sup>ts</sup>", "Cazar," "Fformosa", "Bombay Merch<sup>ts</sup>," and "Prudent Mary" w<sup>ch</sup> are bound for Suratt, it is y<sup>e</sup>. Gene<sup>ll</sup> and Councils ord<sup>r</sup>. y<sup>t</sup> they all call in here, where is ord<sup>r</sup>. left for each shippes respective Comand<sup>rs</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> wee strictly require you to acquaint them wth. Wee desire your advice if at any time you heare any news of them, w<sup>ch</sup> is w<sup>t</sup>. needfull at present from

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup>. 4th Jan<sup>y</sup> 1686

7

Yo<sup>r</sup>. very affectionate ffr<sup>ds</sup>,

JOHN WYBORNE.

JOHN VAUXE.

RICH<sup>d</sup>. STANLEY.

JOHN JESSOP.

Bombay Gener<sup>ll</sup> to Surratt.

May it please yo<sup>r</sup> Excell<sup>cy</sup> and Councill.

Our last was under y<sup>e</sup> 17th instant by y<sup>e</sup> "Hoy" dispatch, since w<sup>ch</sup> none from you<sup>r</sup> Excell<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>. This serves for cover to y<sup>e</sup> inclosed muster rolls of y<sup>e</sup> 13th past w<sup>ch</sup> your Excell<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> may please to take notice of, that the souldiers w<sup>ch</sup> came in y<sup>e</sup> "Charles y<sup>e</sup> Second" are in a roll by y<sup>m</sup> selves but are mustered and divided equally in y<sup>e</sup> 3 Comp<sup>as</sup>, because we at present know not y<sup>e</sup> contracts, neither have they had their pay, waiting to heare from your Excell<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> what to doe in such cases, whether they are upon y<sup>e</sup> same Covenants wth y<sup>e</sup> "Worcesters" men or not, as many of y<sup>m</sup> alleadg y<sup>t</sup> they made no such contract with our Honourable Masters.

It is now high time to consider about putting up y<sup>e</sup> rents for y<sup>e</sup> following yeare, therefore crave your Excell<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> assistance. We cannot tell how things be carried on, as to y<sup>e</sup> advancem<sup>t</sup> thereof wee hope the Tobacco rent may rise. If there be any hopes of procuring Tobacco from Surratt y<sup>e</sup> Customes will not advance, because they have had but a bad yeare to encourage biding. All y<sup>e</sup> other small rents hope will not fall, but when your Excell<sup>cy</sup> orders arive wth us shall use all dilligence to make the most for y<sup>e</sup> interest of our Right Honourable Masters.

Here is a prospect of some vessells going down y<sup>e</sup> Coast for rice and provisions for this place, and considering batty is allready risen to 40 and 80 Xeraphins y<sup>e</sup> mora, and likely to be suddainly dearer, we think it may not be amiss if y<sup>e</sup> "Ruby" Ffriggott be lett out or sent down to convoy some of y<sup>e</sup> vessells if yo<sup>r</sup> Excell<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> approves thereof, which may add something towards y<sup>e</sup> bearing her charge she lyes at and will greatly encourage y<sup>e</sup> bringing trade and provisions to y<sup>e</sup> Island. This we crave your Excellencies &c<sup>a</sup> speedy answeare, that no time may be lost on y<sup>e</sup> designe if concluded on. Y<sup>e</sup> Ffriggot is now on shoar in order to her fitting for y<sup>e</sup> sea and hope will be off in two or three tides. She shall lye ready on all occations that may offer. As yett none of y<sup>e</sup> Country or other of y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> shippes appeares, but when any, shall spedily advise your Excellency &c<sup>a</sup>.

Since writeing y<sup>e</sup> above is come into y<sup>e</sup> road y<sup>e</sup> "Betty" and Girderdass Rujeages shipp from Pershia y<sup>e</sup> "Success." She has letters from thence. We shall not send overland but rather take some more secure sea conveyance.

Just this instant y<sup>e</sup> "Modena" appeared off y<sup>e</sup> road and her boat is now on shoare wth y<sup>e</sup> letters, and what came by her for Surratt we shall immediately dispatch on board her againe wth those letters y<sup>t</sup> arrived wth us from Pershia, thinking it to be y<sup>e</sup> most safest conveyance. She shall not stay wth us longer y<sup>n</sup> to land her officers and souldiers, unless y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>ta</sup> has any business of his own to detain him, for as soon as y<sup>e</sup> souldiers are safely landed he shall have his sayling orders for Swally in order to kiss your Excell<sup>cy</sup> & hand, which is y<sup>e</sup> needfull at present from Bombay, January 19th, 1686.

7

Your Excellencies &c<sup>a</sup>
Most obedient Faithfull humble Servants,
JOHN WYBORNE.
JOHN VAUXE.
RICH<sup>d</sup> STANLEY.
JOHN JESSOP.

Bombay Generall to Surratt.

To His Excellency & Council.

Since our last of y<sup>e</sup>. 23rd instant by this same conveyance, w<sup>ch</sup> we did hope would have been wth you some dayes sooner y<sup>e</sup>. we now see it is possible for her to be, so send this to acquaint your Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. yesterday morning we were advised by some Moore men that were taken by 3 Arrabe shipp<sup>s</sup> y<sup>e</sup>. cruise off of S<sup>t</sup>. Johns and between y<sup>e</sup>. and Busseen, as we are tould pretending to look for y<sup>e</sup>. Danes men of warr, that they have taken out of a fleet or Caffelow* that were under Cap<sup>tn</sup>. Rathbands convoy, six Grabbs and four Shibars, some of which did really belong to this place and most of y<sup>e</sup>. rest had passes from this Island, but haveing Portugeuze passes as well as ours, the Arrabs would not believe that they did belong to Bombay, saying that if they could be well assured that they did belong to our nation, y<sup>e</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. he would not meddle wth y<sup>m</sup>. Y<sup>e</sup>. "Hunter" and "Hoy" as we are enformed was faire by y<sup>m</sup> but never spoke wth y<sup>m</sup>. Y<sup>e</sup>. Arrabs giving some of y<sup>e</sup>. men their liberty, they came to us and advised us what had happened. We sent out y<sup>e</sup>. R<sup>t</sup>. Honourable Companys Munchua to cruise after those shipp<sup>s</sup> wth letters from our Deputy Governour and from y<sup>e</sup>. Arrabe y<sup>e</sup>. is with us and two of his men, and hope they may gett y<sup>e</sup>. vessells and goods cleare. However this has made Volup Venny the Rendere of y<sup>e</sup>. Customs very uneasy, finding that no vessells can pass unplundered by one sort of nation or other. We do humbly pray yo<sup>r</sup>. Excell<sup>ys</sup> directions what to doe in this case. Y<sup>e</sup>. Customs of this Island will be infallibly ruined if those shipp<sup>s</sup> cruise long on this Coast. The stay of y<sup>e</sup>. "Modena" here has not been occationed by us, but only for water and to refresh their men, haveing had a sickly shipp. We do humbly hope y<sup>e</sup>. You<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>. will not impute her stay here to be any neglect, for wee have been very uneasy at it, but hope she will arrive you in safety. Y<sup>e</sup>. "Ruby" Ffrigott is graved and fitted to goe on any voyage you please to send her on, which wee hope will be to Mangalore or that way to gett rice, w<sup>ch</sup> is allready and will be much wanted, w<sup>ch</sup> wth presentation of our most humble service, we conclude

Your Excell<sup>ys</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>.
Most Ffaithfull humble Servants,

JOHN WYBORNE.
JOHN VAUXE.
RICH<sup>d</sup>. STANLEY.
JOHN JESSOP.

Post Scrip<sup>t</sup>.

The handoles w<sup>ch</sup> we borrowed here to go wth M<sup>r</sup>. Sharton are not returned and those that own y<sup>m</sup> sollicite us to desire your Ex<sup>cy</sup> will be pleased to order y<sup>m</sup> down or they to be paid for them.

Bombay, January 26th, 1686.

7

Bombay Gener<sup>ll</sup> to Suratt.

May it please your Excellencie & c<sup>a</sup>.

We have your Ex<sup>ys</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>. of y<sup>e</sup>. 19th January, which came to our hands 27th, unto which we give answer and take notice what is mentioned about y<sup>e</sup>. Siddy and other forces of y<sup>e</sup>. Mogulls. All caution, warriness and industry shall be used in y<sup>e</sup>. managem<sup>t</sup>. of w<sup>ht</sup> laid down by your Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>., and are very sensible y<sup>e</sup>. honnour and intrest of our King and Country lye at stake in these parts of y<sup>e</sup>. world, and what in us lyes to redeem it shall not be wanting. We likewise see your Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>. has, if occasion requires, ordered the "Success" to this place. Wee hope the "Hoy" may be with your Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>. long ere this, and satisfie all how things were when y<sup>e</sup>. ship "Phoenix" left y<sup>e</sup>. Deans ships. We see what is wrote in y<sup>e</sup>. letter from Patana and finde they have been sturring in some action. Wee wish all may turne to good effect.

* Caffelow, for Cafila. The word is here used for sea convoy. See Colonel Yule's Hobson-Jobson, p. 109.

Wee are at a stand for want of y<sup>e</sup>. Contracts wth y<sup>e</sup>. officers and souldiers imported here out y<sup>e</sup>. "Charles y<sup>e</sup>. Second" and "Modena," but hope they may be in some of y<sup>e</sup>. packetts by the last shipp wth in a faire way may be wth your Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>. ere this. The orders for y<sup>e</sup>. opening and perusall of all such packetts that for the future may come to our hands directed to your Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>. shall be observed.

We are very sensible y<sup>e</sup>. Honourable Company has ordered y<sup>e</sup>. Souldiers pay to be reduced to Xeraphins at 20<sup>d</sup>. and are in generall for putting y<sup>t</sup>. order in execution; but wee humbly begg leave to lay down some considerations before wee poynt blank runn upon it, viz<sup>t</sup>.,

The strictness of their order to imediately dismiss out of their service all such as shall refuse to receive their pay as they have established their quoin to go here.

The answer to y<sup>t</sup>.: If y<sup>e</sup>. Right Honourable Comp<sup>a</sup>. should but begin wth one private sentinell to casheir him on y<sup>t</sup>. account, they would possibly leave but few, but what has already repented of their coming out, and would be glad of such an occasion to quitt their service, for most part of what now come out are able seamen and will not be yoaked unless it be easier to y<sup>m</sup>. y<sup>a</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. sea; and considering y<sup>e</sup>. circumstances our nation lyes under here in India, not knowing how soon we may be in action for y<sup>e</sup>. honour and good of our nation, we humbly offer it as our opinions not at this juncture to effect that, but rather labour und<sup>r</sup>. an encouragem<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>a</sup>. a discouragem<sup>t</sup>. to men that must stand by us, and no doubt but will when their pay is encouraging and all they fight for. We leave this wholly to your<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup>s &c<sup>a</sup>. consideration, and if it cannot be avoided doing at this juncture, we beg your Ex<sup>cy</sup> will be pleased to put forth Proclamation y<sup>t</sup>. it may be openly published at y<sup>e</sup>. head of all y<sup>e</sup>. Companys what y<sup>e</sup>. will and pleasure of the Right Honourable Comp<sup>a</sup>. is relating to y<sup>e</sup>. alteration and settlem<sup>t</sup>. of all mony rates to be paid in this Island, w<sup>ch</sup> will not onely satisfie all that shall heare it, but be a standing rule for us to act by, and it shall no longer be delayed on our parts, but imediately put in execution, and hope what we have here layd down may not be taken amiss.

By this conveyance y<sup>e</sup>. complaints of sever<sup>ll</sup>. Banianns and Moores, inhabitants and merchants of this Island, that has sustained great losses by three Arrabe shipp belonging to Goung for takeing two Shibarrs and a Grabb laden from this port, they bring wth y<sup>m</sup>. severall attestations of y<sup>e</sup>. value of their cargo wth complaint to Governour of Surratt and to expect some satisfaction, heareing there is in Surratt river an Arrabe shipp, and considering they are our subjects and brings by their trade customes to y<sup>e</sup>. Island they rely on your<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>. to stand their friends. This we thought safe to advise your<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>. of.

Your Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>. are noe strangers to y<sup>e</sup>. Rendeiroes of y<sup>e</sup>. last years Tobacco stand. One Ramagee Commattee, in whose behalfe wee now write, has by his experience the last yeare some encouragem<sup>t</sup>. to advance mony for tobacco in order to take y<sup>e</sup>. same againe this year, and will bid as much as any and doubts not but to carry y<sup>e</sup>. day. He has hitherto been very punctuall in his paym<sup>ts</sup>. and believe him to be a monyed man, such as those must be the men that farme rents, that has a stock allway<sup>s</sup>. beforehand, in order to which has sent sever<sup>ll</sup>. to Surratt to purchase a large quantity of Tobacco, and makes it his request to your<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>. that what Tobacco he shall buy between this & y<sup>e</sup>. raines may be sent down in the Right Honourable Comp<sup>a</sup>. shipp or vessells for y<sup>e</sup>. more and better security, for which he wholly putts himselfe upon your<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>. and doubts not your assistance therein. It is in a faire way to rise this yeare, there being many ready to wait y<sup>e</sup>. motion of putting up. Wee have great want of rattans to make hoops for our powder Barrells. We cannott purchase any here and therefore do humbly pray your<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>. to give order for buying some att Surratt for us. Y<sup>e</sup>. men y<sup>t</sup>. came in y<sup>e</sup>. "Ruby" want their pay and pretend to make a new agreem<sup>t</sup>.; as we understand y<sup>e</sup>. Cap<sup>ta</sup>. of y<sup>e</sup>. shipp "Charles y<sup>e</sup>. 2<sup>d</sup>" is to pay y<sup>m</sup>. till their arrivall here. Wee pray you to inquire into y<sup>e</sup>. matter and to send us you<sup>r</sup>. directions therein as to their pay and agreem<sup>t</sup>. One Mr. Hilton is come over in y<sup>e</sup>. shipp "Modena" as Ensigne of a Comp<sup>y</sup>. and Agitant of y<sup>e</sup>. fforges on Bombay, who says he is to have allowance of pay for both places, but wee have not his agreem<sup>t</sup>. made in England, so pray you<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>. orders in y<sup>e</sup>. matter. Cap<sup>tn</sup>. Prestwicks shipp hull will be put up to saile. If your Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>. think fitt that wee or one of us bid for it on our R<sup>t</sup>. Honourable Masters acco<sup>tt</sup>. or otherwise, please to signify your pleasure, and we will carefully comply wth. what you or any of you shall direct, w<sup>ch</sup>. is what offers at present from

Your Excell<sup>cy</sup>s & c<sup>a</sup>.

Most obedient Ffaithfull humble Servants,

Bombay, February 5th, 1686
7.

JOHN WYBORNE.

JOHN VAUXE.

RICH<sup>d</sup>. STANLEY.

JOHN JESSOP.

To His Excell<sup>cy</sup> & Councill,

We rec<sup>d</sup>. your Ex<sup>cy</sup>s & c<sup>a</sup>. letter of y<sup>e</sup>. 28th February last past. It came to our hands y<sup>e</sup>. 9th instant, and had answered it sooner, only stayd for y<sup>e</sup>. settling of matters as ordered therein. Y<sup>e</sup>. Officers and Souldiers that came out in Shipp "Modena," "Charles y<sup>e</sup>. 2<sup>d</sup>," and "Tonqueen" are divided into 3 Companys, though much to y<sup>e</sup>. dissatisfaction of Lieutenant Finch and Ensigne Hilton, who are not mustered in any of the Rolls, but shall be paid distinctly by themselves till further orders from you<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>. The Deputy Governour does not permitt Lieut<sup>t</sup>. Finch to doe any duty, he haveing turned Roman Catholick since his arivall here, as we have formerly advised you. We have discharged the Topasses all but fifty in each Company and have paid y<sup>e</sup>. Garrison y<sup>e</sup>. last months pay att 20<sup>1</sup>/<sub>2</sub><sup>d</sup>. to y<sup>e</sup>. X<sup>m</sup>, to y<sup>e</sup>. dissatisfaction of most people as well Officers as Souldiers. Since that pay a great many of our Europe people, as Ffrench and Dutch, y<sup>t</sup> had 10<sup>Xs</sup> 2<sup>L</sup> 0<sup>R</sup>., have layd down their armes and are gon off from y<sup>e</sup>. Island. Y<sup>e</sup>. Topasses in generall say they shall be starved, provisions of all sorts being so very deare, but all y<sup>e</sup>. peoples hopes is that when you<sup>r</sup>. Ex<sup>cy</sup> comes you will take pittty on them and give them their former allowance. A copy of y<sup>e</sup>. agreem<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. men made in England who came out on y<sup>e</sup>. "Tonqueen" we herewith send you. If y<sup>e</sup>. Arrabs vessells should fall into our hands y<sup>t</sup>. have taken vessells that did belong to our Island, we will not only make y<sup>m</sup>. give satisfaction for y<sup>e</sup>. goods and vessells taken from us, but also demand satisfaction for y<sup>e</sup>. dammage that y<sup>e</sup>. R<sup>t</sup>. Honourable our Masters have sustained in y<sup>e</sup>. Custome of goods y<sup>t</sup>. would have been imported and exported had it not been for feare of them. Y<sup>e</sup>. Deputy Governour has often demanded an acco<sup>tt</sup>. of y<sup>e</sup>. Banians & Moremen of the damages that they have sustained, which you shall have as soon as we can. We sent y<sup>e</sup>. Madrass Cossetts forward to Carrwarr in y<sup>e</sup>. "Loyall Mercht." a Pinck * belonging to Volup Mettey of this place and shall not fayle to advise your Ex<sup>cy</sup> of any news that shall come to our knowledge. Since our last of y<sup>e</sup>. 8th instant we have disposed of the Rack rent to y<sup>e</sup>. Bandareens for eight thousand eight hundred Xeraphs. per annum to be paid monthly, y<sup>e</sup>. one being bound for the other, and Ramjee Commattee to appoint a Shroff to collect y<sup>e</sup>. money at y<sup>e</sup>. Bandareens charge. As to y<sup>e</sup>. sloops charge in refitting her we cannot as yett tell, she not being compleated, but will advise your Excell<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>. so soon as don. You were pleased to order y<sup>e</sup>. fitting of said sloop and letting her out in yours of the 6th November, in order thereunto it was left by us to y<sup>e</sup>. Dep<sup>ty</sup>. Governours care and order what he thought fitt to be done to said vessell, he being a man that has skill in those matters and indeed has taken abundance of payns in y<sup>e</sup>. rebuilding of said vessell. The work is done by the Mr. Carpenter of Cap<sup>tn</sup>. Prestwicks shipp, who is an ingenious man. Our Deputy Governour and Mr. Builder do agree that * Pink. A "Pink" was a long narrow sterned vessel with three masts carrying latteen sails. English vessels of this form are said to be "pinked sterned".

if she had been repaired and not have been altered, y<sup>e</sup> even then y<sup>e</sup> charge of doing that would have cost above two thirds of what she will now stand in, which would have been mony flung away. But now she will certainly be y<sup>e</sup> best vessell in India of her burthen, which will be neere fourscore Tunns. Y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Governour sayes that he is sure when your Excy & c<sup>a</sup> sees y<sup>e</sup> vessell you will be pleased with what is done to her, and we are all of his opinion. Y<sup>e</sup> Arabb Merch<sup>t</sup> has paid and given in security for y<sup>e</sup> 1200 and odd rup<sup>a</sup> that are in dispute, we haveing given him our joynt bond to refund the mony back to him or his order if when y<sup>e</sup> Bond of agreem<sup>t</sup> be produced it does not appeare to be y<sup>e</sup> Companys due. He has had y<sup>e</sup> shipp "Prosperous" for some time and may carry her away when he pleaseth. We heare he intends to saile hence in a few dayes directly for his own countrey. We have likewise sent your Excy. & c<sup>a</sup> six Muster Rolls and y<sup>e</sup> abstracts, as y<sup>e</sup> men were paid the last pay day which we could not well avoid, y<sup>e</sup> men comeing over in three severall shippes and landing at as many times and have been mustered as landed. But our next Rolls will be but three, all the men being divided as we have said before according to your orders. The charge of y<sup>e</sup> Custom House at Bombay is in the hands of M<sup>r</sup> Richard Stanley and that of Mahim is in the hands of M<sup>r</sup> John Jessop, who we think to be y<sup>e</sup> properest, both being of Councill. We delivered your Excelley letter to the Arrabb Merch<sup>t</sup> as directed. A Roll of the Staff Officers and a copy of the Contract of the "Modenas" men we likewise herewith send you, which is y<sup>e</sup> needfull at present from

Your Excellency's Most Humble Servants,

Bombay, y<sup>e</sup> 23<sup>d</sup> March 1686-87.

JOHN WYBORNE.

JOHN VAUX.

RICHARD STANLEY.

JOHN JESSOP.

May it please your Excelley & Councill,

Since our last here has happened a business of very ill consequence, y<sup>e</sup> Portugeze Padree of Bombay, by name Ffrea Jn<sup>o</sup> De Gloria, did in his own Parrish Church christen or receive into y<sup>e</sup> society of y<sup>e</sup> Romish religion one Nathanaell Thorpe, sone to Lieu<sup>t</sup> Thorpe deceased, and y<sup>e</sup> Padree of his own accord came to y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Governour to beg his pardon for makeing a Roman Catholick Christian, but with all confessed that y<sup>e</sup> said Thorpe did come to him to be made a Christian severall times before he did it, and upon heareing y<sup>e</sup> same y<sup>e</sup> said Thorpe was apprehended by y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Governour and brought to examination, confessed y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> said Padree did tell him it was much better for y<sup>e</sup> good of his soule to live in y<sup>e</sup> Roman Catholick religion y<sup>n</sup> to live in y<sup>e</sup> English Church, wth many other circumstances and arguments to draw him from his naturall obedience to his King and religion brought up in, which by severall statutes is made high treason, viz<sup>t</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> 23rd yeare of Elizth and y<sup>e</sup> first Chapter, y<sup>e</sup> 3<sup>d</sup> of James and Chapter y<sup>e</sup> 4th largely treats of y<sup>e</sup> same, and many more layes down y<sup>e</sup> hainousness of y<sup>e</sup> crime and by all judged high treason for any one to perswade or withdraw any subject from their obedience to y<sup>e</sup> King, or to reconcile them to y<sup>e</sup> Pope, or to draw them to y<sup>e</sup> Romish religion for y<sup>e</sup> intent, or move y<sup>m</sup> to promise obedience to any other State or procure Councill or aid them that doe is Treason. Now may it please your Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>, this being a weighty thing to be considered and much more to be suffered, have legally apprehended y<sup>e</sup> said Padree and is now in save custody untill your Ex<sup>cy</sup>s & c<sup>a</sup> further orders about him. We presume your Ex<sup>cy</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> will have y<sup>e</sup> matter stated according to y<sup>e</sup> Cannons of our Church by our Padrees here and remitt y<sup>e</sup> same by this conveniency. The Padree was committed prisoner to y<sup>e</sup> County Goale in y<sup>e</sup> Bazzar by Judg Vaulk on y<sup>e</sup> 11th instant and layd in y<sup>e</sup> room where Mr<sup>r</sup> Thormburne was, and yesterday by y<sup>e</sup> earnest intercession of y<sup>e</sup> Padree of Mahim and a strange Padree y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Governour Mr<sup>r</sup> Stanly & Mr<sup>r</sup> Jessop ordered him to be removed from y<sup>e</sup> Common Goale to his own Parrish Church of Bombay, where he is confined with a guard over him to see that he does not escape nor act in y<sup>e</sup> Church untill your Excellencies pleasure be known what shall be done in this matter; w<sup>ch</sup> with presentation of our most humble service we rest

Bombay, Aprill 13th, 1687.

Your Ex<sup>cy</sup>s Most Humble Servants,

JOHN WYBORNE.

JOHN VAUXE.

RICHARD STANLEY.

R<sup>t</sup> Worsp<sup>l</sup> Sam<sup>l</sup>. Annesly,

President & Councill.

Yours of the 30th past we rec<sup>d</sup> the 6th instant, which gives us an account of what you could learne of the Ffrench designes, who were not so quick as expected; but on the 6th instant they were seen about 2 leagues to the n<sup>o</sup>ward of Busseine at anchor. On the 9th from Worlee our people see 4 come to an anchor off Versiva, and yesterday evening three of them came about Mallabar Point, and at sunset anchored off the point of Old Womans Island where they yet remaine, and the other two we suppose are at Versiva. These three at anchor here we believe may be the Kings ships, who probable may lye and cruize some time before the port in hopes of plunder, if they are not frightened away by the Dutch and our ships, w<sup>ch</sup> probably will be very speedily. The news we hear be true, for the Cap<sup>t</sup> and Padree of Choul have both of them letters that advise of 12 saile of Dutch ships off Goa. The letters arrived about a week since, but how long they were on the way we doe not know, and on Sunday last we had advices from Choul that the Friday before the ships were seen of Dande Rojapore. We immediately dispatch a boat thither to informe us of the truth of this last report, and hope she may returne to day.

It is not our opinion that the Ffrench have any other designe than what above mentioned, but if they have, we hope to give them sufficient cause to repent thereof,

We doe not think that the "Moco" frigatt and the "Benjamin" can come with safety to this Island while the Ffrench lye between them and us, therefore would not have you order them from Swalley hole till you receive further advices from us.

Bombay Castle, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> y<sup>e</sup>. 11th. 1695
6

Your &<sup>a</sup>,
JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.
W<sup>m</sup> AISLABIE.
BENJA<sup>a</sup> STACEY.

---

R<sup>t</sup>. Worsp<sup>l</sup>. Sam<sup>l</sup>. Annesley,
President & Councill.

Yours of the 5th instant wee rec<sup>d</sup>. yesterday with all mentioned in the list, to which shall speedily retorne answer.

Yesterday about 11 clock the three Ffrench ships formerly advised you of that lay att anchor off Old Womans Island, weighed and betook themselves to a light pair of heels, haveing, as we are informed by our returned boat, sight of the ships that went in quest of them off Danda Rojapore, and we are inclined to believe the report true, for that by the manner of working they seemed to be in some consternation, steering sometimes allmost before the wind, then bearing away again, then staying one to speak with another, and at last stood off close upon a wind makeing all saile they could possibly make. The last news we had of the other two was that they cruised off Versiva, but now cannot hear where they are. By the aforementioned boat we rec<sup>d</sup>. a letter this day from Cap<sup>t</sup>. Pye and the Commander-in-cheif &c<sup>a</sup> of the Dutch shippis. Copy of the former is enclosed, of the other we cant send you one: the reason you know. But by what we understand, they are in want of wood and water, and designe to put in here to supply themselves. Their want of these we fear will prevent their following the Ffrench. Our boat left them allmost as high as Choul, and if they doe not p.sue the aforesaid we may expect to see them to night. Their force and number you will be informed of from the prementioned copy of Cap<sup>t</sup>. Pyes letter. The people belonging to the boat say there is four ships to the S<sup>o</sup>.ward of them about 4 or 5 leagues, which we suppose may be English belonging to p<sup>sons</sup> in the R. H. C<sup>s</sup>. service of this Coast, and the other enclosed we send you copy of ours to Cap<sup>t</sup>. Edgecombe and Cap<sup>t</sup>. Browne.

Bombay Castle, Ffebr<sup>y</sup>. 15th. 1695
6

Your &<sup>ca</sup>
JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.

On rec<sup>t</sup>. hereof acquaint the Dutch Director of the above news.

W<sup>m</sup> AISLABIE.
BENJA<sup>a</sup> STACEY.

---

R<sup>t</sup>. Worsp<sup>l</sup>. Sam<sup>l</sup>. Annesley,
President & Councill.

To yours of the 5th instant we answer we have not been wanting to the utmost of our power and present circumstances to put this Island in the best posture of defence we could, and had the Ffrench made any attempt against us, with Gods assistance do not question but that we should have given them cause enough to have repented thereof. We thank you for your designed care to assist us by writeing to Cap<sup>t</sup>. Edgecombe and M<sup>r</sup>. Browne to come down hither with ship "Moco" frigatt and "Benjamin" and we also give them thanks for their readiness to comply with your orders had the business been practicable, and for their generous offers of hazarding their lives for the R. H. C<sup>a</sup> interest.

The Generalls obligation to Cap<sup>t</sup>. Browne and Cap<sup>t</sup>. Edgecombe about their dem<sup>o</sup>. &<sup>ct</sup> was enclosed in our Generall to you of the 15th instant.

If the Governour will have the cloth rated as it is worth in town, and not as A. Peeree bought it, we cant help it, but Augan Peeree for that reason must not defer to receive the goods. If the Kings order should be to confiscate them, we think we have little reason to consider of sending ships convoys to his fleets; but should such a monstrous thing come on the stage, we will doe A. Peeree justice if anything shall appear to be due; therefore doe your utmost to get the goods to him, that our R. H. Masters may no longer lose their interest, nor be otherwise p.judiced. A. Peeree writes the Generall he would buy cotton, but that he fears it may be dislikt and left on his hands; therefore to remove the pretence, give him possitive orders what sort and what quantity to buy, with a possitive promise to receive it for account of our masters. The damage of lemmon coloured cloth must be adjusted when the rest is, and the cloth charged to their accompt when the other is, for you may p.ceive by the copy of the contract formerly sent you there is no distinction made, but all was to be immediately d<sup>d</sup> them; therefore if they make any demur to this you may tell them you will immediately land all and deliver it them, for it is to serve their interest that it is kept on board, as you will perceive by copy of a writing enclosed that we gave Callender after the signing and sealing the prementioned contract, the lead is also upon delivery to be charged to his account & all things else as the contract will informe you.

The Generall will write to him ab<sup>t</sup> impressing money and provideing goods.

Yesterday we rec<sup>d</sup> the enclosed by over land conveyance from Callicut, and this day we are credably informed by sundry p.sons belonging to boats come in here, that the "America" and "Emerald" with a countrey ship their company were off Dabull on Ffriday last. This we believe to be certainly true, for that they give us a p.ticular account of Mr. Burmston, Mr. Pattle, their wives and childern aboard them, besides other undeniable circumstances, but we wonder they should run so great a risque of the "Americas" cargoe. Wee were in great hopes, seeing the "Dutch" and the "Thomas" appeared not in sight till this day (haveing had news of the other yesterday by a Shybar) that they would have all come in together, but to our great trouble it is not so, for we can at this time see no more than the "Thomas," seven Dutch ships and one small vessell.

Bombay Castle, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 17th, 1695
6

Your &<sup>ct</sup>
J. G.
W. A.
B. S.

---

Ditto y<sup>e</sup> 18th. Last night here imported the "Thomas" and the above Dutch ships, who gave chase to the 3 Ffrench ships that lay at anchor off this Island. The Ffrench stood off to sea upon a wind seeing the Dutch &<sup>ct</sup> off Choul on Saturday last at 10 in the morning. The latter p.sued them till night, and then lay by. There was little difference in their sailing. Next morning the Ffrench were out of the others sight, and then the Dutch stood in again, but have not seen the enemy since. At 12 last night here arrived from the "America" a Munchua, who parted with her and the "Emerald" three leagues to the s<sup>w</sup> ward of Dande Rojapore on Sunday evening. Copy of the letter she brought is enclosed for your p.usall. This morning at break of day we dispatcht a Munchua with Cap<sup>t</sup> Stacey in her with the best directions we could possibly give for the secure navigateing the above ships hither, or in case of meeting the enemy, to order them into Dande Rojapore. We also wrote to the Dutch Commaudore &<sup>ca</sup> this morning to acquaint where these ships were, of the great worth of one of them, and desired them to conduct them hither, but they were all under sail ere our letters got on board, and how they will act when they receive it we doe not know. They designed for Goa, to keep the Ffrench from entering there and saltpetre from being imported from Bengall by the Portugueeze ships. The Generall told them that came on shore from the Commaudore that it was his opinion the Ffrench did not designe there, and that it was too early for any ship to arrive there from Bengall, but he did not prevaile with them to alter there designe. They have 1000 men on board and say Commaudore Hunton here stronger than they are. He urged to them that he being designed up the Coast there was no occasion for their goeing down, but this we suppose did not suit with their orders. By what we can understand they are resolved to keep them from Petre, and wee beleive if possible from returning to Ffrance; they have a ffeet att Bengall and another that cruises off the head of Acheen to prevent their goeing to Siammerjee or Pennassaree. Their goeing down the Coast we hope will secure our ships navigateing hither, whom we impatiently expect. The risque Mr. Burniston &<sup>ct</sup> has run in comeing up the Coast has been extraordinary great. Had they met with our advices which have gone by sundry conveyances they must have returned to have come up with Commaudore Hunton, but by their actions we suppose they have mist all. Wee designe to proceed to lade the "Thomas" with all expedition as soon as she gets into y<sup>e</sup> road, and shall not stay for any goods from y<sup>e</sup> except we receive advices from you that you can speedily send us some. Cap<sup>t</sup> Pye hath left provisions and stores at Swalley as p. enclosed list, which we would have you send hither in some boat or other as soon as possible. Use all possible dilligence to get the coffee garbled and the cloth washt. We hourly waite the arrivall of your good news from Court.

Yours,

J. G.

W. A.

B. S.

P. S.—By a letter from Mr. Traverse of the 3<sup>d</sup> January he advices that the "King William" is arrived Point de Galla. Send us with all possible speed an account of the "Thomas's" damage as we formerly ordered you to adjust it, and such an abstract of our Masters debts, cridits and goods as they wrote for in the 6th paragraph of their letter of y<sup>e</sup> 6th June 1694 and an account of the cargoes of these three last ships as said Masters have orderd in a post script of said letter.

Wee have detained Auga Peeree Callenders Cossets in hopes of sending y<sup>e</sup> good news by them, which now, God be thanked, we are enabled to doe, for last night here arrived in safety the "America" and "Emerald" to our great joy, which is much increased by the great risque they have run. We have not yet opened any letters, but shall dispatch other Cossetts speedily after these, by which shall send your letters &<sup>ct</sup>. Send the enclosed Dutch letter immediately to the Director.

Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 20th, 1695.
6

R<sup>t</sup> Worsp<sup>l</sup> Sam<sup>l</sup> Annesley,

President & Council.

Yesterday evening 5 saile of ships being seen in the offing at anchor, we sent off the "Emerald" to discover what they were, ordering her to anchor short of them in the night, and to weigh in the morning and stand as near them as possible with safety, which she did, and then stood in again making the signall that was orderd if they were Ffrench, and the smallest ship which seems to saile well stood in after her within 4 or 5 miles of the road, but fearing to stand any farther he tackt and stood off again. Those 5 ships are now at anchor off Old Womans Island, designing as we suppose to ply up towards Suratt. It is our opinion that three men of war that were formerly at anchor here have laine off out of sight, and that the time be expired for the other two cruising to the n<sup>o</sup>ward, they have according to order joyned. We dispatch these Cossetts express that you may be the better provided to give the necessary ord<sup>rs</sup> to our ships in Swalley Hole, from whence we doe not think it safe for them to remove as long as weather will p.mitt to lye there, but if they are att the rivers mouth ladeing for Moco ere this arrives, you must get security for them from the Government, or else order y<sup>m</sup> into Swalley again, except can they undertake to carry their ships about to Dieu, and so make their escape hither, or on their voyage to Moco, or up Surat river, which latter we think very hazardous; but if necessity requires, of all the evils you must choose the least. We mention all these for y<sup>t</sup> we know not how to give possitive orders, not knowing how your circumstances may be with the Government.

Wee can scarce believe that all 5 ships will goe up to Suratt rivers mouth at this time, but rather think that the three men of war will see the two merchant men as high as Saint Johns and then proceed to the S<sup>o</sup> wards, but (you) knowing what goods they have provided, will probably be able better to guess of their designs than we can. Two daies since we dispatcht a Munchua towards Suratt in quest of the Ffrench, being unwilling to dispatch the "Thomas" ere we knew where they were.

The Portugeeze are prepareing for some great designe as they give out against Muscat as you wrote us in your last, but whether any thing will be done more than last year we dont know. Muttabar Caun threatens them very hard with warr, which has caused a proclamation to be issued out at Buseine for all the out habitants to bring in their riches into the ffort, and one thousand Curumbees is fled from their countrey to Guilan. If any ship be goeing to Persia, faile not to advise our ffreinds there that the Ffrench are still on this Coast, and that we are not certaine w<sup>n</sup> they will goe off, for it is probable some of our Masters ships as well as the Ketch may be now there. Advise of the same news to Madrass and Bengall if any conveyance offers. We designe to dispatch a boat down the Coast with advices this morning for all Eng<sup>s</sup> and Dutch ships.

Bombay Castle, March 13th 1695-96.

Your &<sup>ca</sup>

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.

JN<sup>o</sup> BURNISTON.

THO<sup>s</sup> PATTLE.

WM AISLABIE.

BENJ<sup>a</sup> STACEY.

Wee have kept the Cossetts till this morning, that we might advice y<sup>o</sup> what more we could concerning the Ffrench, and now we have onely to add that all five are anchor in the Bay between Old Womans Island and Mallabar Hill. Our youngest coach ox is dead, send us another to match that which remains overland as soon as you can. Ditto 14th.

R<sup>t</sup> Worp<sup>l</sup> Sam<sup>l</sup> Annesley, President & Councill.

Our last to you was the 17th ins<sup>t</sup>. Yours of the 17th and 19th ins<sup>t</sup> we rec<sup>d</sup> this day with all papers enclosed, and are not a little surprized to hear that you should attempt by violence in the Kings port to hinder the Ffrench exporting their goods, when two of our Masters ships lye exposed at Swalley Hole to the revenge of their 5 ships, which certainly you could not but expect seeing their goods is come down in a readiness for them to lade. If this action doth not produce very ill effects, we must impute it to the Ffrenchs fear of the approaching Dutch, or some other extraordinary curb.

Wee are sorry to hear that the President has been under so great indisposition, and much concerned at the inhumanity of the Brokers and your Jayler. Time probably will discover which of them is most guilty.

Wee will write A. Peeree of his disrespect to you, and caution him for the future to give due observance to your orders as.....tenders the R. H. Companies favour to him and his countrey men.

Good news from Court will be very acceptable, especially now we have been so long under expectation thereof. That of the Pyrates doeing further mischief in Persia we are concerned at, but it is happened to him that most deserves punishment. Wee shall be glad to hear it confirmed that that Pyrate is destroyed, and wish all the rest of his cast may meet with no better success.

Yesterday here imported a small Dutch vessell named the "Matroos" in whome is Mynheer Ketting, Commissary and Directore for the Neitherlandish E<sup>t</sup> India Company at Surat. He left the 7 Dutch ships that sailed hence and Commaudore Hunton with 5 ships more at Goa; the latter they expect here speedily. In the skirmish with the Ffrench they say they had 4 men killed and 16 wounded, and that the Ffrench fled in y<sup>e</sup> night, no more than two of the 7 Dutch haveing engaged.

Wee suppose the "Benjamin" and "Moco" cannot come out with safety while the Ffrench remaine where you write they are; but as soon as they are gone, we would have y<sup>e</sup> order them to Suratt rivers mouth, and procure for them if you can freights to Persia and Bussora, provided they may be back again by the latter end of November. By reason of the Pyrates we hope the ffreights may be such as will in some measure be answerable to their charge.

Your &<sup>ct</sup>

Bombay Castle, March 26th, 1696.

Wee see no reasons why we should give passes to any, and have lately wrote you that we designed to give none while things remained as they were.

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.
JN<sup>o</sup> BURNISTON.
WM<sup>m</sup> AISLABIE,
THO<sup>s</sup> PATTLIE.
BENJ<sup>a</sup> STACEY.

---

May it please Your Excellency,

Wee have been favoured with Yo<sup>r</sup> Exc<sup>ya</sup> letter dated the 29th Oc<sup>t</sup> last, which confirm to us the sad news of our R. H. Masters misfortune in Suratt, which we heartily lament, wishing that a speedy issue may suddainly follow to your Exc<sup>ya</sup> content and satisfaction of us all, none being more sensible of the miseries and afflictions that attend p<sup>ersons</sup> under the Moores confinements then ourselves, to remove which and all other impediments and to bring things into right form again, the method your Exc<sup>y</sup> hath been pleased to think off in proposing a convoy for the secureing futuramente their Moco ships is beyound our capacities to express, and inevitable will clear all objections and pretences that are, or hereafter may be made on this unhappy accident. Wee cannot but return your Exc<sup>y</sup> our most hearty thanks for the care you have been pleased to take of us in giving us this timely notice in case the Kings order should reach this place to prevent surprize; tho' we hope and are of opinion there is no danger, the busyness being of an old date, suppose may blow over, and the disposition of this present Government so mild and quiet, that if any thing extraordinary should happen beyound our expectations the Kings interest would be considered by them, and have more influence (especially on the Duan) than any order that can arrive in such a manner as that is; however to be forewarned is to be forearmed. We shall not neglect our owne preservation, but prepare for the worst, and get in all the R. H. C<sup>s</sup> effects (of which the greatest part is already come in, and but little aboard), and as we see occasion send for our R. H. Masters serv<sup>ts</sup> from Pattana, the Mintle, Radnagur and Ballasore, haveing near finished our busyness for this year, so that there will be little or no occasion to keep any p<sup>sons</sup> at those places untill the R. H. C<sup>s</sup> shipping and a stock arrive to goe on with the ensueing years business. But to our great concern we have rec<sup>d</sup> no advices from our R. H. Masters, neither by sea nor land since those by the "Martha" and "Success" last year, which hath proved a great disappointment to us, in regard in the beginning of the year we had made provision for goods enough to have laden two ships at least home this season, whereas now a great p<sup>t</sup> of our R. H. Masters effects will lye in the countrey another year, haveing only ship "Martha" to dispatch, which we question not but to compleat in 15 days with her Charter p<sup>ty</sup> time and a rich ship.

Wee cannot but acquaint your Exc<sup>y</sup> that since the news of the troubles at Surat, and no ships arrived, the merchants have been very backward in bringing in goods, which we formerly used to buy for ready money; and are not less backward in lending us money for our necessary occasions, the want whereof hath occasioned us to write to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President &<sup>ca</sup> att Madrass for a supply. Wee are likewise at interest for near one hundred and fivety thousand rupees and shall want as much more to clear this years investm<sup>t</sup> if the merchants bring in their goods according to their contracts, but we hope in the meantime a ship will drop in from England, otherwise we shall be greatly streightened.

Wee returne your Exc<sup>y</sup> our most hearty thanks for the severall newspapers you have been pleased to remit us; we have had severall reports of Ffrench ships being set out for India, but no certainty of any that is arrived on this side of India.

Wee observe your Exc<sup>ys</sup> directions as to Mahmud Said and assisting the Nocquidah in those ships he hath here in Bengalla which we shall be ready to p<sup>forme</sup> on all occasions on their application to us, or otherwise, and shall order all Commanders and Masters of ships that saile und<sup>r</sup> the R. H. Companies protection to treat them with all civility wherever they meet them.

Wee have not more to add at pst, save to wish your Exc<sup>y</sup> all health, hapyness and success in all your undertakeings, which is the earnest desire of

Your &<sup>ca</sup>.

CHARLES EYRE.
JN<sup>o</sup> BEARD.
R. BORADDYLL.
EDW<sup>d</sup> CORMELL.

Wee have sent your Exc<sup>y</sup> enclosed Bombay and Suratt account curr<sup>t</sup> with us since our last comeing to Bengall.

Idem. C. E.
J. B.
R. B.
E. C.

Chutanuttee, Jan<sup>ry</sup> 3<sup>d</sup>, 1695-96.

Cap.<sup>t</sup> Edgecombe.Gombroon, Aug.<sup>t</sup> the 24.th, 1695.S.<sup>r</sup>,

The many abuses I have rec<sup>d</sup> from you, with your unjust, illegall and arbitrary proceedings against me by a pretended power as Cap.<sup>t</sup> of an East India ship, hath made me assume the liberty to informe you that your beating me wth your cutlass at Mohilla upon the 15.th March, with your beating & wounding me of 19.th June, as also beating my servant and barber the same day without any crime and your makeing me fast in order to duck me upon the 21.st June, which is the next punishment unto death and not to be inflicted without martiall law, after a suffic.<sup>t</sup> triall and proof of being guilty of some notorious crime; but your accusation proveing false both before your officers and men rendred the ducking odious to them, in so much that they would not obey you notwithstanding your cutlass and threatning, knowing innosence and your justice; your sendeing your Steward to your Cooke, with your order not to let the barber or my servant come into the cook roome, and if they come, to take notice that they should not throw any of my powders amongst your victualls; for you did believe your self poysoned or had gotten a dose already in your water gruell, because for the four days past you was not well nor could not eat; your detaining me as a prisoner on board without letting me know the cause; your keeping and detaining three pints of Cordiall waters on board belonging to me, w<sup>ch</sup> I had presented to M.<sup>r</sup> Popham in a small case of his: your hindreing me from sending some goods ashoar which I had the Companies liberty for; your denying severall other priviledges that are due to me as Chirurgeon; your threatening me with the law of Olerone, which I presume you have forgetting, or else would not have exceeded them so often as you have done this voyage, S.<sup>r</sup> you may impose upon some of your officers and sailors who doe not understand them laws; but know that I have read all the marine laws in practice, and p.ticularly those of Olerone Wisby and the Hans townes; with the statute laws appointed by King Charles the Second for the regulateing the Navy Royall, with Jure Maritime and Lex Mercatoria relateing to marine laws; and have read some of the common and statute laws of England; as also of the civill laws upon which both the other depends, and am sensible that your proceedings with me and some others on board are illegal and without a precedent, for no man by the law of Olerone is to be beaten for lyeing on shoar; but his wages are to be deducted for the time, and what damages are sustained by his absence, he is to make good; neither is any man obliged to receive from a Master of a merchant ship any more than one blow and retire, if the Master p.sue him he has liberty to defend himself; all Commission relateing to martiall or marine laws without instructions are void, and all Commissions relateing to marine affairs which are not from the Commissioners of the Admiralty are void by a grant from their Majesties to them, dureing his Majesties continueing them in their office. As for a pretended or assumed power as Cap.<sup>t</sup> of an East India man it is both illegall and arbitrary, and a master of a Collier of 50 tons to Newcastle may assume the same power as legally as an East India man. All this I have concealed hitherto (notwithstanding the just provocations I have had from you to doe otherwise and shall for some time still doe the same) both from your officers and sailors lest it should lessen your and your officers command over your sailors. S.<sup>r</sup>, I have served their Majesties in three severall of their capitall ships as Master Chirurgeon, I have served them also as principall Surgeon to their hospitall at Plymoth and Surrey or over all surgeons of the western ports of England, and likewise I have served as Chirurgeon General of their Majesties hospitalls in Flanders, and since as Chirurgeon to his Majesties household, where I was intrusted with his p.son dureing the time of the engagement against the Ffrench at Landew. I have had betwixt five and six thousand wounded men under my care for cure this war; and have been intrusted with about fourty thousand pounds of their Majesties moneys. which I did faithfully dispencc to the uses I had it for, for all the services I have ample

Certificates to show; yet am taxed by you as a rogue and cheat and imbeezler of the medicines belonging to the ship. Therefore to cure you of that jealousy I have here inclosed sent you the list of what medicines were at first in the Chest as also what medicines have been expended, which does not value of 5 pounds. Your Chest and medicines cost £55 and I doe affirme there is not a bad or spoiled medicine amongst them, which by my care I have preserved. S<sup>r</sup>, in consideration of the abuses I have received from you, the denying me the priviledges and liberty which all Chirurgeons enjoy, I doe desire you to let me know what my crimes are, being hitherto ignorant of them; and if I doe not acquit myself of my accusation and plainly make it appear that your informers are prating and malicious rogues, I will willingly suffer what punishment you will please to inflict upon me, and will publicly beg your pardon with all submission imaginable and true sorrow if guilty. S<sup>r</sup>, your complying with this just and modest desire of mine will make me forget all the injuries done to me and re-establish that love and respect which I bore to you before the Mohilla abuses. S<sup>r</sup>, I humbly beg you to take this into consideration, for if this is not complied within three days, I will deliver you your keys of your Chest and will act no longer as Chirurgeon of your ship, let the consequences of it be what it will. I therefore desire if you doe not come on board yourself, that you would let me come ashore, that I may prove myselfe either an honest man or a rogue, and I shall always acknowledge the obligation and ever after remaine

S<sup>r</sup>

Your most humble servant,
JOHN LECKIE.

M<sup>r</sup> Euclid Baker,

Haveing your men, provisions, & necessarys on board, these are to order you, wind and weather permitting, to weigh y<sup>e</sup> anchors, set sayle, and make the best of your way to Surat rivers mouth or SwalleyHole, where y<sup>e</sup> shall find our ships to ride. We farther require y<sup>e</sup> to keep a good watch, your men in due decorum, y<sup>e</sup> deck clear, and the vessell alwaies in a posture of defence, that y<sup>e</sup> may not be surprized by any Rovers or others that may offer to attack you. Take care of our packett to the General and Council w<sup>ch</sup> we herewith deliver you. So commit you to the Divine protection, and remaine

B<sup>bay</sup> Castle, Nov<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> 28th, 1700.

Your Loving Ffriends,
J<sup>o</sup> BURNISTON.
WILL. AISLABIE.
BENJ<sup>a</sup> STACEY.

Serj<sup>t</sup> Greenston,

On rec<sup>t</sup> hereof, wind and tyde permitting, weigh your anchor and make the best of your way (in company wth the R<sup>t</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> Bony boat) to Mahim, where being arrived y<sup>e</sup> are to take such men as Liu<sup>t</sup> Shaw shall put on board her, after w<sup>ch</sup> you are to cruize between Busseen and Mahim, and if you can, speak wth every boat y<sup>e</sup> meet, but give none chase. Be sure keep alwaies close to s<sup>d</sup> Bony, and upon no acc<sup>t</sup> w<sup>t</sup> ever loose her comp<sup>a</sup>. Offend none, but defend y<sup>r</sup>self ag<sup>t</sup> all that shall molest or attack y<sup>e</sup>. Should you happen to meet any merch<sup>ts</sup> boats bound hither, take them under y<sup>r</sup> convoy, or if any that belong to this place are taken by the Savajees, do your utmost endeavour to retake them. Every evening make the best of y<sup>r</sup> way to Mahim river, but should it so happen that y<sup>o</sup> cannot reach it, y<sup>o</sup> are to anchor in y<sup>e</sup> securest place under Mallabar hill, whereto y<sup>e</sup> Tindall will direct, but if possible we w<sup>d</sup> have y<sup>o</sup> gett into y<sup>e</sup> river by reason you will there meet wth our orders. Keep your men in due order and live peacably one wth another.

B<sup>ny</sup> Castle, Nov<sup>r</sup>. y<sup>e</sup> 29th, 1700.

Your Loving Ffriends,
JN<sup>o</sup> BURNISTON.
WILL<sup>m</sup> AISLABIE.
BENJ<sup>a</sup> STACEY.

Whereas wee have been credibly informed of your ability and putting and reposeing confidence in your integrity, wee doe hereby constitute and appoynt you, Christopher Boone, to be Coroner of this Island Bombay, requireing you att all times to be in a readiness to execute the office when you shall be thereunto called, hereby empowering you to sumon a Jury of y<sup>e</sup> next inhabitants to make inquest of y<sup>e</sup> death of any person or persons that shall come to their deaths by any unnaturall or extraordinary means whatsoever, and that you take no more for the execution of your office than 13<sup>s</sup> & 4<sup>d</sup> for seeing on y<sup>e</sup> corpes of any one person, and that y<sup>e</sup> same summe be levied of y<sup>e</sup> murderers estate if it may be found, but if not, that there then be an assessment made by the Chamber of y<sup>e</sup> cast that the defunct is of for the said summe of thirteen shillings and four pence and no more, and wee doe hereby further require you as you will answer the contrary att your perill, that you be not of councill wth any person whatsoever in hideing y<sup>e</sup> murther of any person, nor that you neither directly nor indirectly take any bribe of any person whatsoever to mittigate or lessen any offence, but that you proceed in your said office wth integrity and honesty, as in y<sup>e</sup> sight of God Almighty, who will certainly require innocent blood att your hands if you conceale the same. Given under our hands and sealed wth the R<sup>t</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> seale this 13th day of June, Anno Domini 1701.

JOHN BURNISTON.
W<sup>m</sup> AISLABIE.
BENJ<sup>a</sup> STACEY.

L<sup>tt</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Shaw,

Your letter to the Deputy Govern<sup>r</sup> dated yesterday he received last night, to which wee answer.

Wee are sorry to understand that there should be any person on this Island so disrespectfull to Government as to tear our Proclamation, but since there is and that so high a misdemeanour may (if possible) be duely rewarded, wee would have you give publick notice that any person that shall discover the said offender to you shall be liberally rewarded for his paines.

The Sec<sup>y</sup> sent you yesterday by our direction an order requireing you thereby not upon any account whatsoever, except in your owne defence, to discharge (wth ball & o<sup>r</sup>) any one or more of your great gunns att any boat that shall pass up or downe Mahim river, and did therein likewise advise you that to prevent any infringement of our privileges, defraudes in y<sup>e</sup> customes or disrespect being offered us, wee would very speedily send you one of our large Manchuas to lye and cruize in said river, the which order you are to observe, and when the Manchua is with you wee would have you by her without any blood being shed. Cause all boates that shall pass up or downe said river as aforesaid to pay us y<sup>e</sup> accustomed dutyes except the King of Portugalls owne boates, w<sup>ch</sup> you are to lett pass without interruption.

Lett your people begin to pull downe all the old Warehouses belonging to the R.<sup>t</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> att Mahim, except that which you spoke to Capt<sup>a</sup> Stacey off, w<sup>ch</sup> lett stand till wee order the contrary.

If y<sup>e</sup> Boney and long boat are not fitt for your turne, send them downe to us and hire two boats in their stead.

D<sup>r</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. 26th, 1701.

Y<sup>r</sup>. Loving Ffriends,

L. Corp<sup>ll</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Mitchell.

These are to inoder you to weigh your anchors and having rec<sup>d</sup> on board you Cap<sup>t</sup> Stacys son-in-law, make the best of your way to robin the Buchers Island, hearing the Portuguese have bin there and cutt down severall trees. Examine into that matter, y<sup>n</sup> return and bring acco<sup>tt</sup> thereof to

Y<sup>r</sup>. Loving Ffriends,

Bombay Oastle, November y<sup>e</sup>. 29th, 1701.

JN<sup>o</sup> BURNISTON.

WM AISLABIE.

BENJ. STACEY.

The Worsp<sup>ll</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Burniston, Depty Gov<sup>r</sup> of His Majestyes Fort and Island, Bombay, & Councill for Affa<sup>s</sup> of the R.<sup>t</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Govern<sup>r</sup> and Company of Merchants of London trading to the East Indies.

By virtue of a power given us from his Excy S<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Gayer Kn<sup>t</sup> General of India, whose authority is grant<sup>d</sup> him by a Commission from y<sup>e</sup> R.<sup>t</sup> H. Gov<sup>r</sup> & Comp<sup>a</sup> of Merchants of London tradeing to y<sup>e</sup> E<sup>t</sup> Indies, by virtue of his Majestys and his Royall predecessors Royall Charters and Letters Patents, as likewise by a late Act of Parliament granted said Comp<sup>a</sup>, wee do constitute and appoint y<sup>o</sup> Edw<sup>d</sup> Simond to be Provost Marshall of his Majestys Garrison and Island, B<sup>bay</sup>, hereby given y<sup>o</sup> full power and authority to execute y<sup>e</sup> ffree exercise of yo<sup>r</sup> said office, according to the tenour of your instructions herewth given y<sup>o</sup>, command<sup>g</sup> you to fulfill the same to all intents and purposes, willing and enjoyning all inferior officers and souldiers of the said Garrison to obey and assist y<sup>o</sup> in and about y<sup>e</sup> p<sup>r</sup>formance and execution of your said office, being thereunto required. Y<sup>o</sup> are likewise to observe and follow all such ord<sup>rs</sup> and directions as from time to time you shall receive from us, or in our absence from whomesoever shall be appointed. Sealed wth y<sup>e</sup> R.<sup>t</sup> H. C<sup>s</sup> Seale, and given under our hands in Bombay Castle the Eleventh day of Aprill one thousand seven hundred and one.

J<sup>o</sup> BURNISTON.

WM AISLABIE.

BENJ<sup>a</sup> STACEY.

Instructions for Edw<sup>d</sup> Simonds, Marshall.

Noe officer or souldier shall presume to hinder the Provost Marshall or Serv<sup>t</sup> in y<sup>e</sup> execution of their office upon paine of death, or such other punishm<sup>ts</sup> as a Court Marshall shall thinke fitt, and all Cap<sup>ll</sup> Officers, and Souldiers shall doe their utmost to apprehend and bring to punishment all offenders; and shall assist y<sup>e</sup> offic<sup>rs</sup> of his Majestys army or fforces therein especially if the Provost Marshall or his officer requiring the assist<sup>a</sup> of any officer or sould<sup>r</sup> in apprehend<sup>g</sup> p<sup>son</sup>, declaring to y<sup>m</sup> y<sup>t</sup> it is for a capitall crime, and if party escapes for want of aid and assist<sup>a</sup>, y<sup>e</sup> p<sup>r</sup>ty or p<sup>r</sup>tys refuseing to aid, and assist, shall suffer such punishment as a Court Marshall shall inflict.

2<sup>dly</sup> If any officer or sould<sup>r</sup> who shall presume to draw his sword in any place of judicature while y<sup>e</sup> Court is sitt<sup>g</sup> shall suffer such punishm<sup>t</sup> as shall be inflicted on him by a Court Marshall, and the Provost Marshall of his Majestys Army is hereby impowered and direct<sup>d</sup> by his owne authority to apprehend such offenders.

3<sup>dly</sup> If any souldiers being committed for any offence shall break prison, the said Provost Marshall shall by his owne authority apprehend him, and the offend<sup>r</sup> shall suffer death.

4<sup>thly</sup> No Provost Marshall shall refuse to receive or keep a prisoner committed to his charge, by authority or shall dismiss him wthout order upon paine of such punishm<sup>t</sup> as a Court Marshall shall thinke fitt; and if y<sup>e</sup> offence for which y<sup>e</sup> prisoner was apprehended deserved death, y<sup>e</sup> Provost Marshall failing to receive and keep him shall be liable to the same punishm<sup>t</sup>.

5<sup>thly</sup> If any person be committed by y<sup>e</sup> Provost Marshalls owne authority wthout other command, he shall acquaint y<sup>e</sup> cheif officer wth the cause wthin 24 hours, & y<sup>e</sup> Provost Marshall shall y<sup>e</sup>upon dismiss him unless he have orders to the contrary.

List of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Covenant Servants at Bombay and Factorys subordinate with the time of their arrival in India, at what Salaries, and likewise their present Salaries and Employments.

At what Place.	Persons Names and Employ <sup>ts</sup> .	Time of their arrival in India.	At what Salary.	Present Salary.	Titles.
Bombay	The Hon <sup>ble</sup> John Horne, Esq <sup>r</sup> . President and Governour ...	September 20 th , 1714.	15	300	Treasurer.
Bombay	The W <sup>o</sup> George Taylor, Esq <sup>r</sup> , Accom <sup>t</sup> & B <sup>bay</sup> Custom Master ...	November 18 th , 1709.	15	100	2 nd in Councill.
Tellicherry	M <sup>r</sup> George Percivall, Ware- housek <sup>r</sup> ...	December 17 th , 1712.	5	70	3 rd D <sup>o</sup>
Surat	M <sup>r</sup> Stephen Law, Chief ...	November 18 th , 1715.	5	40	4 th D <sup>o</sup>
Anjengo	M <sup>r</sup> Jn <sup>o</sup> Lambton, Chief ...	August 17 th , 1731 ...	40	100	5 th D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	M <sup>r</sup> W <sup>m</sup> Wake, Chief ...	September 11 th , 1732.	40	40	6 th D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	M <sup>r</sup> Charles Whitehill, Land Pay <sup>r</sup> ...	November 18 th , 1715.	5	50	7 th D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	M <sup>r</sup> Tho <sup>s</sup> Waters ...	August 19 th , 1733 ...	40	40	8 th D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	M <sup>r</sup> Tho <sup>s</sup> Stonestreet, Mar. Paym <sup>t</sup> ...	March 9 th , 1721-2 ...	5	40	9 th D <sup>o</sup>
Anjengo	Francis Strudwick ...	December 29 th , 1710.	15	40	Sen <sup>r</sup> Merch <sup>t</sup> .
Anjengo	James Salisbury, Warehouse- k <sup>r</sup> ...	November, 18 th , 1715.	5	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Gombroon	Jn <sup>o</sup> Geekie, Agent ...	June 1 st , 1721 ...	15	150	D <sup>o</sup>
Surat	James Hope, at present at B <sup>bay</sup> ...	Sept <sup>r</sup> 22 <sup>d</sup> , 1718 ...	5	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Tho <sup>s</sup> Pattle ...	May 18 th , 1719 ...	5	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Tellicherry	Hugh Howard, designed Home	January 18 th , 1721-2	15	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Surat	Tho <sup>s</sup> Bedshaw, Purser Ma- rine ...	March 8 th , 1720-1	5	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Tellicherry	W <sup>m</sup> Jeynson ...	Do. 9 th , 1721-2	5	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Nicholas Goodwin ...	.....	5	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Jn <sup>o</sup> Morley, Regist <sup>r</sup> , Mayors Court & Collector of the Rev <sup>s</sup> ...	September 25 th , 1725.	15	40	D <sup>o</sup>

At what place.	Persons Names and Employ <sup>ts</sup>	Time of their arrival in India.	At what Salary.	Present Salary.	Titles.
Bussorah	Nathaniel Whittwell, Resident	.....	5	40	Sen <sup>r</sup> Merch <sup>t</sup>
Bombay	W <sup>m</sup> Sedgewicke, Clerk of the Market and Mayor	.....	5	102	D <sup>o</sup>
Tellicherry	Geo. Dudley, Gen <sup>l</sup> Store-keep <sup>r</sup> ...	December 1 st , 1728	15	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	James Verels ...	January 7 th , 1726	5	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Tho <sup>s</sup> Marsh, Mahim Custom Master	.....	5	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Gombroon	Jn <sup>o</sup> Dacres, Secretary	.....	5	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	S <sup>t</sup> Geo. Pach, Warehousek <sup>r</sup> ...	April 14 th , 1727	5	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Hugh Bidwell Sen <sup>r</sup> ...	August 20 th , 1730	15	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Gombroon	James Stuart, Sheriff & Coroner	.....	15	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Walter Ray, Steward	.....	5	40	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Edward Owen, Mint M <sup>r</sup> and Assist <sup>t</sup> to the President	August 20 th , 1730	5	30	Jun <sup>r</sup> Merch <sup>t</sup>
Cambay	Robert Rawdon, Assist <sup>t</sup> to the Land Pay <sup>r</sup> ...	September 16 th , 1732	15	30	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Jn <sup>o</sup> Munro, Resid <sup>t</sup> ...	August 20 th , 1730	5	30	D <sup>o</sup>
Anjengo	Jn <sup>o</sup> Cleland, Portuguese Secretary, Overseer of the Oarts and Collector of the Pension.	October 1 st , 1729	5	30	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Richard Sanders, Secretary & Storek <sup>r</sup> ...	September 16 th , 1732	5	30	D <sup>o</sup>
Tellicherry	George Scott, Assist <sup>t</sup> to y <sup>e</sup> Marine Paym <sup>r</sup> ...	August 20 th , 1730	5	30	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	William West, ... Paym <sup>r</sup> ...	.....	5	30	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	John Sewell, Deputy Accomptant and Assistant in the Bank	.....	5	70	D <sup>o</sup>
Surat	Richard Lynch	.....	5	30	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	W <sup>m</sup> Lowther, designed to Bombay	July 19 th , 1731	5	15	Factor.
Surat	Samuel Price, Deputy Secretary	.....	5	30	D <sup>o</sup>
Gombroon	W <sup>m</sup> Johnson, .....Secretary	June 9 th , 1737	15	15	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Henry Savage	September 11 th , 1732	5	15	D <sup>o</sup>
Anjengo	Henry Bertie	D <sup>o</sup> 16 th d <sup>o</sup>	5	15	D <sup>o</sup>
Bussorah	Tho <sup>s</sup> Lane	D <sup>o</sup> 11 th d <sup>o</sup>	5	15	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Tho <sup>s</sup> Dorill, Assist <sup>t</sup> to Resident	.....	5	15	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Charles Crommelin, D <sup>o</sup> to the Storekeeper	.....	5	15	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	W <sup>m</sup> Davis, ... Assay Master	November 27 th , 1737	15	95	D <sup>o</sup>
Gombroon	James Henry Lamb, designed for Surat	September 5 th , 1738	15	15	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Jn <sup>o</sup> Person	D <sup>o</sup> 25 th , 1734	5	5	Writer.
Tellicherry	Geo Sadleir, Assist <sup>t</sup> to the Bombay Custom	December 26 th d <sup>o</sup>	5	5	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	John Goodere, D <sup>o</sup> in the office	.....	5	5	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	John Lemon Brandling, D <sup>o</sup> to the Accomptant	.....	5	5	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Jn <sup>o</sup> Barchall, D <sup>o</sup> to the Resident	.....	5	5	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	Hugh Symons, D <sup>o</sup> to Secretary	.....	5	5	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay	May Sclater, D <sup>o</sup> d <sup>o</sup>	August 17 th , 1736	5	15	D <sup>o</sup>
Bombay			5	5	D <sup>o</sup>

At what place.	Persons Names and Employments.	Time of their arrival in India.	At what Salary.	Present Salary.	Titles.
Tellicherry	Pugh Willis, D <sup>o</sup> in the office.	November 27 th , 1737.	5	15	Writer.
Bombay	Tho <sup>s</sup> . Byfeld, D <sup>o</sup> to the Accompt <sup>t</sup> ...	.....	5	15	D <sup>o</sup> .
	Hugh Bidwell, Jun <sup>r</sup> . D <sup>o</sup> to the Presid <sup>t</sup> ...	.....	5	5	D <sup>o</sup> .
	Tho <sup>s</sup> . Hodges, D <sup>o</sup> to the Secretary ...	June 9 th , 1737 ...	5	5	D <sup>o</sup> .
	Danvers Graves ...	.....	5	5	D <sup>o</sup> .
Gombroon	William Nicholls, Assis <sup>t</sup> to y <sup>e</sup> Accom <sup>t</sup> ...	.....	5	5	D <sup>o</sup> .
Bombay	Phesaunt Crisp, D <sup>o</sup> d <sup>o</sup> ...	.....	5	25	D <sup>o</sup> .
	Charles Maningham, D <sup>o</sup> to the Secretary ...	November 27 th , 1737.	5	5	D <sup>o</sup> .
	Alexander Douglass, D <sup>o</sup> to the Accom <sup>t</sup> ...	April 29 th , 1738 ...	5	5	D <sup>o</sup> .
	Jn <sup>o</sup> . Neilson ...	March 9 th , 1732-3 ...	36	36	Surgeon.
	Michael Weston ...	May 5 th , 1738 ...	36	36	D <sup>o</sup> .

List of Free Merchants, Seafaring men &c<sup>a</sup> constant and not constant at Bombay and Factories subordinate.

Persons Names.	Employments.	Const <sup>t</sup> Residence.	Residence when ashore.
Free Merch<sup>ts</sup>.
Jeremiah Bonnell ...	.....	Surat,
W <sup>m</sup> Upton...	.....	Bombay.
Rob <sup>t</sup> . Nesbitt ...	.....	D <sup>o</sup> .
Charles Douglas ...	.....	D <sup>o</sup> .
Seafaring Men.
Anthony Upton ...	Supra Cargoe of y <sup>e</sup> "Mary" for Mallacca ...	.....	Bombay.
Edw <sup>d</sup> Say ...	D <sup>o</sup> of the "Martha" Grabb ...	.....	D <sup>o</sup> .
Geo: Lambton ...	D <sup>o</sup> of the "Shawallum" for Bengall ...	.....	Surat.
Mordecai Walker ...	Gone to Bengall ...	.....	} Bombay.
Benj <sup>n</sup> Gerrish ...	In the "Mary"...	.....
James Stephenson...	In d <sup>o</sup> ...	.....
Rob <sup>t</sup> . Macneal ...	In no employ at present ...	.....
Jn <sup>o</sup> Thorp ...	Comm <sup>r</sup> of the "Fame" ...	.....
Ralph Kellett ...	D <sup>o</sup> of the "Mary" ...	.....
Jn <sup>o</sup> Ewins ...	D <sup>o</sup> of the "P. Frederick" ...	.....
Geo: Goring ...	Master of the "Success" ...	.....
Walter Grant ...	D <sup>o</sup> of the "Robert" ...	.....
Daniel Spierman ...	D <sup>o</sup> of the "Ann" ...	.....
Geo: England ...	D <sup>o</sup> of the "Adventure" ...	.....

Married Women.	Widows.	Unmarried Women.	Boys.	Girls.
Adriana Percival ...	Ann Price ...	Hannah Bidwell ...	Jn <sup>o</sup> Whitehill ...	Eliz' Tranter.
Martha Law ...	Mary Johnson ...	Eliz' Owen ...	Henry Moore ...	Winifred } Dacres.
Janes Lambton ...	Eliz' Scarlett ...	Kath Omeghan ...	Jn <sup>o</sup> Mackinley ...	Eliz' }
Elizabeth Wake ...	Oriana Clapham ...	.....	.....	Katherine Morley
Sarah Whitehill ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Susanna Morley ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Mary Dacres ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Ann Owen ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Lydia Lane ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Elizabeth Davis ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Charlotte Lucy Sadleir ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Mary Say ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Jane Lewis ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Mary Sandilands ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Ann Nunn ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Ann Moore ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Ann Douglas ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Elizabeth Tranter ...	.....	.....	.....	.....
Mary Mackinley ...	.....	.....	.....	.....

List of Dec<sup>d</sup> Persons at Bombay and Factories subordinate from 1st January 1737-38 to the 25th November 1738.

Place of their Decease.	Persons Names and Employments.	Times of their Decease.	Distempers.
Bombay ...	Jn <sup>o</sup> Morley, a child...	Janry 1 st ...	Convulsion Fits.
Tellicherry...	W <sup>m</sup> Forbes, Sen <sup>r</sup> Merch <sup>t</sup> ...	March 8 th ...	Nervous Fever.
Bombay ...	Sancta Morley, a child ...	May 8 th ...	Convulsion Fits.
Do. ...	M <sup>r</sup> Eliz Vachery, Widow ...	" 24 th ...	Fever,
Gombroon ...	Cap <sup>t</sup> Jn <sup>o</sup> Benoon, Comm <sup>t</sup> of the "Rose" Galley ...	June 11 th ...	Fever,
Bombay ...	Cap <sup>t</sup> Rob <sup>t</sup> Wynn, Comm <sup>t</sup> of the "Prince of Wales" ...	" 14 th ..	Flux.
In the Gulph of Persia ...	Cap <sup>t</sup> Jn <sup>o</sup> Martin, Comm <sup>r</sup> of the "Ann" Grabb ...	" 15 th ...	Fever.
Bombay ...	Edw <sup>d</sup> Jarvis, Lieut <sup>t</sup> of the "Caroline" Galley ...	July 10 th ...	Fever and Flux,
Do. ...	Moreton Peachy, Surgeon of ye ...	November 10 th ...	Consumption.

General instructions to the Commanders of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Vessells.

During any Cruise you shall be directed to make or any station you shall be appointed by the President or Superintendent, you are to follow all such orders as you shall receive signed by the Superintendent for your management or conduct, observing (when you shall not by such be otherwise directed) these for your generall instructions—

1st In the first place you are to take care to keep up the service of God on board the vessell you command according to the Liturgy of the Church of England, that the same be devoutly and decently performed every Lords Day & on all other appointed seasons as often as can be done with conveniency, & be very strict in observing a good decorum & discipline among your ships Company, severly punishing all prophaness or blasphemers of Gods holy name and on no account permitt gaming of any sort.

2nd Keep your vessell always in a posture of offending as well as defending, and speak with and examine all vessells you make that are not of superior force to you, taking out of such belonging to any Prince or State all British subjects you shall find on board them,

3rd You are to take, burn, sink or otherwise destroy all Savajes or other Pirates infesting this coast as Angria, Ramrous of Antigerate, commonly cruising to the Southward, as well as the Sangarians, Cooleys or other Rovers harbouring to the Northward and commonly cruising on that coast and sometimes as far as the Gulph of Mocho & Persia that you at any time meet with, bringing such people, vessells & goods that you take belonging to them in hither for their condemnation.

4th All ships and vessells of the Sedys Fleet or otherwise belonging to the Mogull Emperor, as also all such ships or vessells belonging to Bajero or Chimnaje Appa, you are civil to examine, so as not to give them disgust, and they proving such, give them no molestation but any aid or assistance they stand in need of.

5th Kempstaunt who has a port between Vingorly rocks & Goa is at pease with us & at warr with Angria. When you meet his fleet they will send a Gallivatt with green colours to speak with you, and you are to treat them as friends, and should they offer to join you & go against Angria, you are to permitt them, but allways under your command.

6th And you are hereby ordered to protect and defend and give convoy to all ships and vessells under English colours duly licens<sup>d</sup> to wear them, and to no others excepting such as who by accident shall fall into your company & be able to keep way with you, but not to lose time by shortning sail or seeing them into Ports or any duration whatsoever.

7th That at any time you meet with any vessell of war or merchandize under red collours thô they may pretend to belong to the Seddee or Bajero, if you have reason to suspect that they are not what they pretend, but enemys, you are to bring them in here. Your Serangs and Tindalls will be best able to inform you on this matter, as they know and can distinguish the Seddees subjects or vessells from all others that frequent these seas.

8th The Brittish soldiers & seamen who desert from this Island having usually taken service in the ships belonging to Bengall and Madrass, vainly flattering themselves that by taking such service they were screened from our authority and the punishments due to their crimes, to discountenance as much as in us lies a practice of such Evil Tendancy to the safety and welfare of this Government, we hereby authorize you to seize all such Deserters when and wheresoever you may meet them, taking care to secure them in a proper manner untill you have an opportunity to report them to us or the Superintendent, and for the better executing of these our orders and keeping up an exact register of all deserters, which you are to do on board your ship, you will have a list given you of their names and you are to do the like to the other Commanders for all those that may desert from your own ship, certifying when and where and how many go at a time & report the same

9th Likewise to the Superintendent. And whereas we are given to understand that an ill use is made of our Indulgence in permitting you to sell Arrack to your ships Company, in so much that the remainder of their wages is not sufficient to provide them common necessaries & from thence they become discontented & mutinous and are induced at last to desert, we hereby strictly enjoin you upon pain of dismission not to sell more then one bottle p. day to a mess of five men and in proportion to a mess of four or three, neither are you to demand or receive more than 1 Rupee and a Quarter p. gallon, on the like penalty.

10th You are not to discharge or exchange any of your seamen, nor to prefer them to posts of trust and better pay, nor to discharge any Warant Officer without leave first obtained from the President or Superintendent, and as in cases of Infidelity, Disobedience or Incapacity you have power of suspension, therefore you are not to proceed any further without leave first obtained as above.

11th You have our permission to list as many able men as you can, reporting them to the Superintendent, but beware of encouraging any of the seamen belonging to the Europe ships to desert on pain of our severest censure, and this you must likewise give in charge to all the officers belonging to your ship.

12th In case of a vacancy happening by the death or suspension of a Warant Officer, you may recommend those you think best qualified to fill up such vacancy, but they are not to receive any advance in their pay till they are conformed by the President or Superintendent.

13th Wee have thought fitt to appoint a person to be on board you as a Steward or Purser, who is to have the immediate charge of all the Companys provisions and is to be accountable to the Superintendent for the same, and we in an especial manner recommend to you that no waste or embezzlement be made of the ammunition & stores in general, & that all stores and provisions be carefully preserved on such penaltys & punishments on the offender as shall be judged reasonable & the crime may deserve. Wee are

Your Loving Ffriends,

Bombay Castle, y<sup>e</sup> 28th Augst 1739.

STEPHEN LAW.

CHARLES RIGBY.

JOHN GECKIE.

THO<sup>s</sup> STONESTREET.

JOHN MORLEY.

---

By the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Stephen Law, Esquire, President and Governor of his Majestys Castle and Island Bombay and all its Dependencies:—

PUBLICATION.

Whereas the said President and Governor by and with the advice and consent of his Council hath been pleased to establish Rules calculated to preserve order within the said Town as well as tending to the publick benefit and security of the Island in general, which that all persons may be apprized of and none plead ignorance hereafter, he hath caus'd these presents to be published by beat of drum and affixed at the usual places, hereby requiring and commanding all persons, whether foreigners or inhabitants of this Island, to take due notice and under obedience to the following orders:

Mess<sup>rs</sup> Rob<sup>t</sup> Rawdon and Thomas Stoneham being appointed to take a list of all house-keepers living within this Town, examining into their characters, casts, how long they have been inhabitants and what is their families, as also of all arms or ammunition that may be in their possession, so the said President and Governor doth require all persons to aid and assist them in their enquiry, giving them all possible information and rendring them just and true accounts with regard to the above particulars, and it is hereby further ordered and directed that from and after publication hereof no person inhabitant of this Island do presume to purchase any offensive weapons or munition of warr of whatsoever kind without leave first obtained from the President and Council.

That the gates of the Town will be shutt, namely the Apollo and Church at sunsett and the Buzar within half an hour after sunsett, and for the present to notify the time to all persons a drum will begin beating at each gate a quarter of an hour after sunsett and continue beating a quarter of an hour (tho hereafter the signal will be by a large Bell at the Buzar Gate which with those of the English Church and Fort will ring the like space beginning at the same time) when all inhabitants living within the town are to repair home and those living without are to go out before the drum has done beating or bell ringing as it shall happen to be, after which time no house-keeper on any pretence is to presume to entertain any strangers without the previous license of the Governor or in his absence the second for the time being, and as many boats are constantly lying at the Mandavie and Moodys Bay either on trade or other occasions, all persons belonging to them are to repair on board their respective vessels before the gates are shutt, nor must the Nocquedahs or others belonging to any foreign vessels remain on shore without the permission of the Governor or second in his absence. That in future no person erect any dwelling house within this Town without leave first had from the Governor and the Landpaymaster, & on that being obtained to cause the Engineer to line out such house in a regular manner for bringing the streets into order, and for which service the Engineer is to receive if a tiled house five rupees as a reward for his trouble from the person so intending to build, but if a cajan house belonging and desig<sup>d</sup> for any in the Companys service then nothing, th<sup>o</sup> of all others one rupee and no more.

The passages leading to the waterside between the Bunder and Marine Yard and the back gates of all private houses within that space must be shutt up, excepting that of the Marine House and old Bunder, which last is to be shutt precisely at ten at night unless orders are given to the contrary, and all that want to come and go from the waterside must pass and repass thr<sup>o</sup> the said old Bunder and by no other passage whatsoever after sunsett.

In order to have a certain account of all inhabitants of this Island the said President and Governor hath nominated M<sup>r</sup> William Davis and Edward Say with the assistance of the Vereadores and other proper persons to enquire into the several house-keepers characters, number of their familys, and what arms or ammunition in their several possessions within the Town and the District of Bombay lying without the Town, and M<sup>r</sup> Charles Crommelin and George Sadlier for that of Mahim, to whom all persons are to be assisting and give them all possible satisfaction in their enquiries.

Given in Bombay Castle this Second day of February in the Fifteenth Year of the reign of his most excellent Majesty George the Second of Great Britain, France and Ireland, King, Defender of the faith, &c<sup>a</sup> in the year of our Lord 1741-42.

By Order of the Honourable

STEPHEN LAW, Esq<sup>re</sup>,

President and Governor of Bombay &c<sup>a</sup> in Council.

By the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Stephen Law, Esq<sup>re</sup>, President and Governor of his Majestys Castle and Island Bombay and its Dependencies:—

PUBLICATION.

Whereas the said President and Governor doth hereby notifie to the several Inhabitants whose habitations are without the Town Wall within the line of 300 yards and consequently by the orders of him and his Council to be taken down, that such of them who are of substance and credit and willing to come and dwell within the Town, that they do within three days from the publication hereof signifie to M<sup>r</sup> John Morley, Landpaymaster, such their desire, acquainting him of their respective names and number of persons their familys consists of, when the proper orders will be given and convenient places allotted for their accommodation. Given in Bombay Castle this 11th day of February 1741-2.

By order of the Honourable

STEPHEN LAW, Esq<sup>re</sup>,

President and Governor of Bombay &c<sup>a</sup> in Council.

---

SELECTIONS
FROM
THE SURAT DIARIES,
1660-1781.

---

SELECTIONS
FROM
THE SURAT DIARIES,
(1660—1781).

---

Consultation on Swally Marine, 17th January 1660.

Whereas there are severall summes of moneys brought to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> accompt by M<sup>r</sup> Henry Revington, Esq<sup>r</sup>, in their Rajapore bookes w<sup>ch</sup> wee thinke unreasonable, as first his bringing 5 per cent. ffactoradge, viz. M<sup>as</sup> 6996 : 16 pice, on the goodes provided by him in Rajapore, before the visiting of this newe generall stocke, w<sup>ch</sup> goodes were turned over to the old stockes accompt; the said summe was denyed by President Wyche and Councell to be allowed, but that it should be referred to our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers, M<sup>r</sup> Revington being here at the same tyme, notwithstanding y<sup>e</sup> determination, the said Henry Revington hath brought y<sup>e</sup> summe forward to accompt, the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> as yet not giving their consent.

Secondly, as said M<sup>r</sup> Revingtons going away from hence he gave unto severall brokers servants unto the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company presents to the amount of M<sup>as</sup> 838.....and placed it to y<sup>e</sup> Unit<sup>d</sup> Joynt Stockes accompt.

Thirdly, uppon newes of the death of P<sup>r</sup> Wyche, the said M<sup>r</sup> Revington sent cossets from Rajapore to Persia overland to the exceeding charge of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> bringing to their accompt for the same Rup<sup>s</sup> 259 : 28 p.

These things being acted contrary to reason, and the consent of this Councell, wee do therefore conclude that y<sup>e</sup> said summes of money be placed to M<sup>r</sup> Revingtons proper accompt, untill such tyme as wee have notice of their allowance by our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers. Subscribed,

MATTHEWE ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

---

Commission given by us the President and Councell of India, Persia, &c., unto our loving ffriend, John Looker, Commander of shipp “Richard and Martha,” bound from the Port of Suratt to London in England, dated on Swally Marine, the 20th January 1660<sub>1</sub> :—

Capt<sup>a</sup> John Looker,

Your shipp “Richard and Martha” being now fully laden, according to your advice, and not capable of receiving any more of our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers goodes, notwithstanding 90 bales of their wooll lyeth ready for your reception, wee therefore in compliyanse with your Charterpartye, which wee desire you to observe, give you your dispatch. Requiring you on receipt hereof, winde and tyde permitting, to weigh anchour and sett sayle for the port of y<sup>e</sup> cittye of London, there to deliver unto our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers, the East India Comp<sup>a</sup>, all such merchandize &c. as wee have laden aboard yo<sup>r</sup> said shipp, sending our advices with all speed unto our said Employers, unto whome God conduct you in safetie, and wee remayne

Yo<sup>r</sup> very loving Ffriends,

MATTHEW ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

Commission given by us the President and Councill of India, Persia, &c., unto John Price, Command<sup>r</sup> of shipp "Blackamore," bound by Gods permission from the Port of Suratt in India to the Port of London in England, dated on Swally Marine, the 20th day of January in the yeare of o<sup>r</sup> Lord 1660
1:—

Loving ffriend Capt<sup>a</sup> John Price,

Your shipp "Blackamore" being now fully laden, according to your advice, and not capable of receiving more of our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers goodes, notwithstanding 30 bales of cinnamon lyeth ready for your reception, wee therefore in compliance with your Charterpartye (which) wee desire you to observe, give you your dispatch. Requiring you on receipt hereof, winde and tyde permitting, to weigh anchour and sett sayle for the port of the cittye of London, there to deliver unto our Employers the Hon<sup>ble</sup> East India Comp<sup>a</sup> such merchandizes &c. as wee have laden on board your said shipp, sending our advices with all speed unto our said Employers, unto whome God conduct you in safetye, and wee remaine

Your very loving ffriendes,
MATTHEW ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.

---

Commission and instructions given by us the P<sup>r</sup> and Councill of India, Persia, &c., unto M<sup>r</sup> Robert Tucker, Commander of the Swally Pinnace, to be observed by him in his voyadge from Swally Hole unto Bundar Larree, the Port of Scindye, and returne hither againe, dated on Swally Marine, January the 25th, Anno 1660
1:—

Wee having had experience of your abilitye, do now appoint and confirme you Master of the Swally Pinnace, and that on receipt of this, winde and tyde permitting, that you weigh anchour, sett sayle and direct your course for the speedy obtaining of the Port of Bundar Larree on the coast of Scindye, where, when it shall please God to arrive you safe into the roade, wee desire you to take the first opportunitye to goe over that Barre, and in consideration that the vessell drawes little water, wee make no doubt but it may be very facile, and that you anchour soe neare to the rivers mouth as you can conveniently, sending yo<sup>r</sup> Purser in yo<sup>r</sup> boate upp the river unto the towne with our letter, to be delivered as directed, desiring the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> ffactors there to hasten the unlading of the vessell, w<sup>ch</sup> wee hope may be done in 3 or 4 dayes. And that 3 or 4 other dayes may be spent in putting on board whatsoever they shall send unto us, which if it be cloth wee desire your speciall care that it be laid soe high from the bilge of the shipp that the bilge-water may not come neare to dammage it.

In 20 dayes wee make no doubt but our ffriends there will have dispatched you, according as wee have advised them, but more then 13 wee require you not to stay, but that you demand y<sup>e</sup> dispatches and hasten backe to Swally Hole.

In your way thither and backe you must have a greate care in keeping the vessell in a readinesse to defend yo<sup>r</sup>selves from both Vadellaes and Mallabars, w<sup>ch</sup> are very frequent in those partes. In case of mortalitye, which God forbid, wee enorder M<sup>r</sup> Domus Jeffry to succeed in command, and that y<sup>e</sup> shippes Company give observance accordingly, which with wishes for a speedy and safe voyadge periods our desires at this tyme, and subscribe

Your very loving ffriendes,
MATH: ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.

Commission and instructions given by us the President and Councill of India, Persia, &c., unto Capt.<sup>a</sup> Joseph Blackman, Command<sup>r</sup> of the "Vine," to be observed by him in his voyage from Swally Hole to the Port of Gombroone in Persia and returne to Swally Hole againe, dated on board the "Vine" the 21st January 1660 :—

Wee having appointed you Capt.<sup>a</sup> and Command<sup>r</sup> of the good shipp the "Vine," do now require you, winde and tyde permitting, uppon the receipt of this, to weigh anchour and sett sayle, directing your course for Gombroone in the Gulph of Persia, using the best of yo<sup>r</sup> endeav<sup>rs</sup> to attaine the Port so soone as possible, seeing it will be much to the advantadge of our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers, if by her sayling and your care shee can arrive before the Dutch shipp w<sup>ch</sup> departed this roade some fewe days since. In the way take care to keepe the shipp in as good a posture of defence as y<sup>e</sup> multiplicity of passengers and Lumber will give leave, the latter use civilly, that they may give you a good report, and encourage them rather to freight our shipping then any other.

At your arrivall in Gombroone Roade, send y<sup>e</sup> Purser ashore with our letter directed unto M<sup>r</sup> Fforster Esqr. ffactors there residing, desiring his quicke dispatch in sending boates to unlade you, which wee suppose may be done in three dayes, sending all yo<sup>r</sup> goodes unto the Customehouse, seeing that they are all uppon accompt<sup>t</sup> ffreight; the rest 7 dayes wayte for any freight they shall send from the shoare, that is in all 10 dayes, and not a day more, but make what hast you can from thence unto y<sup>e</sup> Port of Swally.

In case of mortalitye, w<sup>ch</sup> God forbid, wee appoint M<sup>r</sup> Collard your chief mate to succeed in Command, and require y<sup>r</sup> shippes Company to give observation unto him accordingly.

Much depends uppon yo<sup>r</sup> dilligence and care, therefore wee desire you to make use of both, and so wishing you a prosperous voyage, subscribe

Your assured loving Ffriendes,
MATH: ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.

Commission given by us the President and Councill of India, Persia, &c., unto our loving ffriend Simon Ffreeman, Command<sup>r</sup> of shipp "Hopewell," to be observed by him in his voyage unto Bantam, Macassar &c., and backe againe unto Swally Hole, which God prosper, dated the 29th January on Swally Marine, Anno 1660 :—

Having appointed you Command<sup>r</sup> of shipp "Hopewell," in confidence of yo<sup>r</sup> abilitye, both for navigation and care in government both of men, provisions, and whatsoever belonge unto her, for the better serving our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers, wee shall not give you furth<sup>r</sup> direction in those particulars that you are well versed in, but come unto what wee desire to be acted in this present voyage, which, with y<sup>e</sup> blessing of God uppon you, wee desire you to performe with the most of dilligence.

Uppon the receipt of these, winde and tyde permitting, wee require you to weigh anchour and sett sayle, directing your course for the Port of Bantam, on the island of Java Major, where when arrived, you are to observe the directions of y<sup>r</sup> merch<sup>tes</sup> that are on board you, viz<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Richard Bladwell and M<sup>r</sup> Thomas Coates, both in the unlading of the shipp, and taking in w<sup>t</sup> goodes of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> as they shall lade, withall to give respect unto the Commissioners or Ffacto<sup>rs</sup> of our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers as are residing in Bantam.

Three dayes wee limmitt for your stay in Bantam Rode, fearing that y<sup>e</sup> tyme of yeare you are dispeeded from hence is very short, making no doubt but that you will take care, before that be spent, you will have all necessaries supplied that y<sup>u</sup> may want, or spend betwixt this and that Port, but longer wee positively conclude (unlesse accidents happen) you shall not stay.

Ffrom thence, by the blessing of God uppon y<sup>r</sup> endeav<sup>rs</sup>, your next port wee enorder to be Macassar, but if winde and curr<sup>ts</sup> should be contrary, that it be not attainable, then in a consultation let it be concluded for the best, that is as wee conceive at this distance to be Camboja, and if you are putt backe to Bantam, to take the advice of the ffact<sup>rs</sup> there.

* * * * *

Ffrom thence, when you have received yo<sup>r</sup> dispatches, make what hast you can to Bantam, and there you are to attend y<sup>e</sup> dispeed of yo<sup>r</sup> merch<sup>tes</sup> on board, rec<sup>d</sup> which wee desire and enorder you to make the next Port Swally Hole, hoping that it will be in a fitt tyme of the yeare; but if it should soe happen that you come so tymely away from Bantam, as you fears cominge on uppon the coast, in such case we desire you to putt into Bombay, and from thence to advise us of yo<sup>r</sup> voyadge out and thither.

The merchantes that voyadge on the shipp wee allott the greate cabbin for their accomodation, and out of yo<sup>r</sup> command but that you observe theirs, as is directed you in the premention-ed lines, and affoord them all decent respect, and provisions of the shipp, as also your boates to sett them on shoare, or to bring them on board, uppon all occasions, as the Honble Comp<sup>as</sup> businesse shall require.

Two passingers you have also to be accomodated in the greate cabbin, M<sup>r</sup> South and Sn<sup>r</sup> Verstegen, whome wee recommend unto yo<sup>r</sup> courtesye, the former may returne uppon you, therefore desire you to give him accomodation if the merch<sup>tes</sup> should use the greate cabbin for themselves.

Some poore subjects of the King of Bantam take passadge on the shipp, unto whome affoord civill usage and water.

* * * * *

Mallabars going and comming upp the coast you may encounter and also wee enorder surprisall, provided they belong not to the Ports of Callicute nor Cannanore, or have our passes aboard. In case of mortalitye (which God forbid) wee appoint yo<sup>r</sup> Chiefe Mate, M<sup>r</sup> Browne, to succeed, and the shippes Companye accordingly to give obedience. Also in the government of yo<sup>r</sup> shipp that you encouradge all persons, and prefferre them according to their abilityes in case of mortalitye, the Purser keeping acco<sup>nt</sup> of wages, for as any proceed to office, or higher degree, the wages succeed.

Wee recommend the premises, and desire the best endeavo<sup>rs</sup> that you can use for the hastening of the gaining of y<sup>e</sup> porte of Macassar, unto which wee pray God send you a good voyadge, and a safe returne unto

Yo<sup>r</sup> very loving Ffriendes,
MATH: ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.

P.S.—A voyadge to Siam is to be consulted of, by the merch<sup>tes</sup> both on shoare and on board, and your opinion to be demanded concerning the voyadge from Macassar thither, w<sup>ch</sup> wee desire you to give, taking greate care that your and their conclusion may have reference unto your arrivall here in Octob<sup>r</sup> at the furthest. This wee have noted, that you may take care accordingly.

Idem.

M. A.
J. L.

Commission and instructions given by us the Presid<sup>t</sup> and Councill of India, Persia, &c., unto our lov<sup>g</sup> ffriendes M<sup>r</sup> Ric<sup>d</sup> Bladwell, and M<sup>r</sup> Thomas Coates, voyadging to Bant<sup>m</sup> and Macassar, and are to be observed by them, in the mannadging of the said voyadge, unto to the advantage of our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers, dated on Swally Marine y<sup>e</sup> 30th January 1660 :—

The last yeare the “Suratt” ffrigatt voyadging to Bantam and Macassar did at the latter Port leave her whole cargoe, w<sup>ch</sup> was very considerable, especially in y<sup>e</sup> tyme of famine of moneys, returning backe unto us with a very small parcell of goodes for our masters acc<sup>t</sup>. And since hearing of the Dutches violences used in that Porte have concluded to send the “Hopewell”, a newe shipp with a very small cargo, amounting no more then 2000 Ma<sup>s</sup> nearest, to the same porte againe, both to make sale of what now laded, and fetch off what then left.

Have therefore thought fitt to appoint you, M<sup>r</sup> Bladwell and M<sup>r</sup> Coates, to take your passadge on this shipp, and have consigned not only the goodes now laden uppon her, but those formerly left, that your experience both of that place and our necessitie here, may with an addition of dilligence procure if possible the disposeure of both, unto our masters most advantage, in the acting of which, and in the progresse of yo<sup>r</sup> voyadge wee enorder you to observe what followeth.

Ffrom hence sayling to Bantam, at yo<sup>r</sup> arrivall there, deliver a letter unto the chiefs &c. there resident for y<sup>e</sup> mannadgm<sup>t</sup> of our masters affaires desiring their advice in three thinges and that to be given you in consultation and in writinge. Ffirst concerning the confirming or deserting the ffactory at Macassar, because the Dutch may probably have drove all merchantes from the Port. 2<sup>ly</sup> concerning the disposeure of the small cargo now aboard the shipp, whither all or part will vend to most advantage in Bantam or Macassar, and if it be allowed and approoved to land any in Bantam for those marketes, that it be resolved and ascertained the proceed of what sould to be invested and returned uppon the same shipp, in such thinges as is desired in our advices unto them. 3<sup>dly</sup> require their advice concerning a voiadge to Siam, if it should soe happen that the last yeares cargo is not sould, nor cannot on your arrivall be disposed of, these with demanding an acco<sup>t</sup> of butter and wheate left last yeares is all that is to be acted in Bantam, w<sup>ch</sup> wee positively enorder to be done in 3 dayes, no more, that soe you may loose no tyme for y<sup>e</sup> bett<sup>r</sup> prosecuting and attaining yo<sup>r</sup> voyadge and Port of Macassar, which wee hope will be accomplished. But if it should soe happen after you have left Bantam that it cannot be done, afterall yo<sup>r</sup> endeavours used, then call a consultation, and therein admitt the Commd<sup>r</sup>, Mates and Purser, taking advice w<sup>ch</sup> Port is best both to dispose of the cargo and to secure safe. But at Bantam or any other Port wee forbydd y<sup>e</sup> taking out of any person or persons on what pretence soevre, either Chyrurgion, or any other, wee here hav<sup>g</sup> more need and occasion for men then they there.

Att your arrivall at Macassar (which God grante) deliver our letters unto M<sup>r</sup> Turner &c. enquiring after the disposeure of last yeares cargo, as also demanding an acco<sup>t</sup> to be rendered unto y<sup>u</sup>, M<sup>r</sup> Bladwell and M<sup>r</sup> Coates, if it be disposed of, requiring M<sup>r</sup> Coates to keepe a paire of bookes of the sales and bargaines y<sup>t</sup> may happen in the voyadge, as also of the expenses, that soe wee may be satisfied of the losse or gaine that may accrewe.

But if it shall so happen that by reason of y<sup>e</sup> Dutch seizing on a fforce uppon the river and commanding the Port, y<sup>t</sup> all intercourse and commerce of merch<sup>tes</sup> hath beene left off, and consequently the goodes unsold, then wee desire you with M<sup>r</sup> Turner &c. ffactors, to consult and advise for the better disposeure, as quicke dispatch of it, either by way of truck, if attainable there, for any comodities proper for this markett, w<sup>ch</sup> you are knowing in, or sale for moneys; but if neither is attainable, then that you seriously take into your consideration the deserting or maintaining the ffactorye, what probably may be the advantage or losse of our masters in soe doing, and also what Porte will at present vend the comodityes remaining, and now sent; whither Siam is a Porte fitt for that purpose, whither it can be attain tymely enough to dispatch the sale of goodes, and returne to Bantam, and arrive here in October; if not neither at Bantam, Macassar nor Siam, the goodes cannot be vended, trucked, or disposed off to our masters advantage, and the returne made answeareable to the vallew, by the month of October next ensuing; you are then to bring the goodes away in specie, for wee will not leave them to be rotted there, but wee hope Macassar may affoord goodes to truck for them, as.....copper, turtle shell, &c., or if the voyadge to Siam may be made tymely enough, and it be so concluded on in consultation that Siam is a Porte that may vend the goodes, and the returnes be as rehearsed.

Wee require yo<sup>r</sup> care in the manadging of that affaيرة, that you venture not any man, boates crue or your selves, without suretye, nor any goodes before the vallue secured, copper being the comoditye the countrey affords. Wee hope that quickly and to good advantage the goodes may be disposed of for it.

If that you finde encouradgment and faire honest and secure dealing, you may then conclude of articles for a ffactorye, to be settled next yeare, but give no confidence to their promises or invitations this yeare. And these considerations weigh seriously before you depart from Macassar. Much depends uppon good advice and discretion; therefore we desire you to be carefull, dilligent, and watchfull in this affaيرة, the wellfare of the voyadge, as y<sup>r</sup> owne reputation depending uppon it.

Copie of the Commanders Commission is delivered you, that you may the better knowe how to behave yo<sup>r</sup> selves on board, and nothing to goe in nor out of the shipp without yo<sup>r</sup> note, therefore we require you to give us acco<sup>t</sup> at returne of all private trade, that the Comp<sup>y</sup> may have their owne.

October is the month wee shall expect you backe, therefore endeavo<sup>r</sup> so to mannadge all affaires that you may not faile by the blessing of God to answeare expectations.

Bring no brimstone nor pepp<sup>r</sup> backe, and little sugar; other comodityes which you knowe here turne best to accompt, procure as much as the proceed will give you the opportunitye.

M<sup>r</sup>. South and Sn<sup>r</sup>. Verstegen wee recommend unto your courtesye, and have enordered their accomodation in the greate cabbin; the former wee have lycensed to voyadge to Macassar, the latter to Bantam, where when you returne, if he is desirous to returne take him in, but avoyd all other, as also the trouble of ffuckeers or dervisses that may be putt uppon you by the Kings of Bantam or Macassar.

The adventurers of the "Assada Merch<sup>t</sup>" have some.....at Bantam, if our ffriendes there will lade anything on their arrivall and there be roome, take it in.

Wee have not more to add, then prayers for yo<sup>r</sup> health and prosperity, and safe arrivall unto

Your assured loving Ffriendes,
MATHEWE ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.

Consultation held in Suratt the 9th February 1660.

The President and Councill taking into serious consideration the greate affront and abuse offered by Mattheue Gray unto the power derived to them from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> East India Comp<sup>as</sup> and that none may committ the like hereafter, have concluded, that whereas the s<sup>d</sup> Mattheue Gray did on the second day of this present month willfully absent himself from the Comp<sup>as</sup> service by departing from Swally Marine to Suratt, on a suspition to be sent second of the ffactorye of Persia, and hath ever since behaved himself proudly and scornefully towards us the said Presid<sup>t</sup> and Councill, wee therefore for the reasons afords<sup>d</sup> have discarded him from the place of Secretary, and if he continue refractorye, wee shall also the Comp<sup>as</sup> service.

MATH: ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

Consultation held in Suratt, the 11th day of February, Anno 1660 7.

The President and Councill having on the 9th day of y<sup>e</sup> prenamed month taken into serious consideration the affront putt upon them, especially the Presid<sup>t</sup>, by Matthew Gray Secretary, by his leaving the Marine without knowledg of y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> the second day of this present month in the morning, when he knewe that letters and dispatches were to be written and given to the "America," then fully laden for Persia, by absenting himself from the said place and comming upp to Suratt, three dayes after sending a proud lett<sup>r</sup> declaring in it his retirement was for no other end but that he would not voyage to Persia, because he suspected himself concluded to be sent, to act as second there, where one was very much wanting, asserting his owne abilityes, to be more and bett<sup>r</sup> then any in the ffactorye to serve as Secretary here, and for no other reason he would not goe. This his reason he having made publike to all the house, and sett a faire copie of disobedience for them to write after (though at that tyme the Presid<sup>t</sup> and Councill did not intend him thither), thought at this tyme very convenient to convene y<sup>e</sup> whole familye, those that were employed as ffactors and merch<sup>tes</sup> in the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> service, where having declared to them y<sup>e</sup> cause and withall how wee had wayted so long, as from y<sup>e</sup> 2d of this present month till this day for his submission, and not observing the Presid<sup>te</sup> ord<sup>r</sup> from the Marine, that he should leave his Chamber, w<sup>ch</sup> was not done, but that he did behave himself as proudly and confidently as if he had not abused either y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> and Councill, or denyed the Comp<sup>as</sup> commands, did therefore call M<sup>r</sup> Gray before them, and aske him whither he did acknowledg himself the Comp<sup>as</sup> serv<sup>t</sup>, and to be disposed of by them in their service, whose answeare was he was; then upp on consideration that none in the ffactorye was soe fitt to be second of Persia as himselfe, or to succeed in the Agencye: the second question was putt whith<sup>r</sup> he would serve the Comp<sup>as</sup> in Persia or noe, he knowing the necessitye, his answeare was (I will not goe); therefore wee knowing y<sup>e</sup> example is more apt to encouradge the same practice in others, did conclude and acquaint him that if he would not goe to Persia, where hee knewe his aid and assistance was required, he must not only leave the Comp<sup>as</sup> service, but their house, that he might not give encouragment to others soe to act, and consequently every person that was not well pleased with his employment, or that his employment did not correspond with his designes, to answeare I will not accept of it, this being the opinion of y<sup>e</sup> P<sup>r</sup> and Councill and of the whole familye, that for his disobedience he was to be sent home, and soe this meeting was dissolved.

MATTH: ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

Commission and instructions given by us the P<sup>r</sup> and Councell of India, Persia, &c., unto M<sup>r</sup> Edward Collard, Command<sup>r</sup> of the "Suratt" ffrigott to be observed by him in his voyadge from Swally Hole unto Mocha in y<sup>e</sup> Redd Sea, untill his returne hither againe, dated on Swally Marine the 22<sup>d</sup> March, Anno 1660:—

I

The Devine Providence having beene pleased to take out of this world Henry Cyrrill, late Command<sup>r</sup> of the "Suratt" ffrigott, wee having had experience of your abilityes, have thought good to conferre the command of the said vessell uppon you, not doubting of your care and dilligence, both in the well keeping of her, as endeavouring to answeare expectation in those employmentes you shall be enordered unto, in confidence of which wee shall not much enlarge to circumstantially, but come to acquaint you with our directions. Requiring you uppon receipt of these, winde and tyde permitting, that you weigh anchour and sett sayle, directing yo<sup>r</sup> course for the speedy attaining of the Port of Mocha in the Redd Sea, where when it shall please God safe to arrive y<sup>e</sup>, sett on shoare M<sup>r</sup> Ralph Lambton and M<sup>r</sup> Valentine Nurse decently, unto whome wee have delivered our lett<sup>r</sup> unto M<sup>r</sup> Anthony Smith, Chiefe, unto whome, with the prementioned, wee have consigned you that is to lade and unlade the shipp as they shall appoint, and to have the use of yo<sup>r</sup> boates at all tymes in the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> service sufficiently manned and such respect to be given unto them as ffact<sup>rs</sup> in the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> service, by whose dilligence wee hope that all our desires may be accomplished, and they ready to leave the shoare the last of July, or the first of August, two or three dayes more or lesse, whome when you have on board and have received their order, sett sayle out of the Port of Mocha, having passed the Babbes, birth yourself soe conveniently that what Mallabar vessell that shall come after you may not escape you. Wee suppose their usuall way of comming out, or going in, is y<sup>e</sup> greate Babbes, but wee earnestly desire you to keepe y<sup>r</sup> particular very private, that by no unseasonable enquirye or discourse the designe may be frustrated, but that by Gods blessing uppon your endeavours it may be fully accomplished and you possessed of all, or the most part, of the Mallabar vessells that may be trading this yeare in the port of Mocha. Unto M<sup>r</sup> Smith wee have given further directions, unto whome wee referre you, requiring yo<sup>r</sup> observance of them, that is for the dispose of men and vessells, and in M<sup>r</sup> Smiths absence M<sup>r</sup> Ralph Lambton &c. are to be taken notice of in the qualitie of M<sup>r</sup> Smith. Ffor the encouradging yo<sup>r</sup> men to doe their duties more cheerfully, as also yo<sup>r</sup> self, wee here assure you that what soever you soe take, one 6th part shall be justly distributed among yo<sup>r</sup> shippes Comp<sup>as</sup>, desiring yo<sup>r</sup> care that nothing be imbeezled, but that a strict acc<sup>o</sup> of all may be taken.

In yo<sup>r</sup> voyadge out wee also require you not to lett slipp any opportunitye, but in case you should meete or overtake any Mallabars vessells that belonge not to Callicutt, and hath not our passe, that you endeavour the taking of them, and when possest to take out what goodes you can receive in, setting fire of the rest, both shipp and goodes; the men putt on the next shoare unto you, but take care they belong not to Callicutt, because of our ffactorye there.

In case of mortallitye (w<sup>ch</sup> God forbidd) M<sup>r</sup>.....your Mate is to succeed in command, and the shippes Comp<sup>as</sup> observance is required accordingly. Wee have allotted the greate cabbins wholly for the use of the merch<sup>tes</sup> and that you affoord them the accomodation of the shippes provision, giving them all due respect, which wee doubt not of, but subscribe

Your very loving Ffriends,

MATTHEW ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

Swally Marine, 1st Aprill 1661.

Protest made by the P<sup>r</sup> and Councell of India, Persia, &c against Thomas Richman, Command<sup>r</sup> of Shipp "Eagle."

That whereas it pleased the Almighty God to arrive the shipp "Eagle" in Swally Roade the 19th day of Ffebruary last past, hav<sup>g</sup> lost her Commander Richard Langford, and divers others of their Mariners, and the most part of the rest of their shippes comp<sup>as</sup> being sicke, in the terme of their voyadge, w<sup>ch</sup> occasion<sup>d</sup> their soe late arrivall, w<sup>ch</sup> the present Command<sup>r</sup> Thomas Richman &c officers affirmed, for w<sup>ch</sup> reason wee forbare then to protest, leaving the dispute to be decided by o<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Imploy<sup>rs</sup> at their arrivall in England, making no doubt but the fault will be justly attributed to them that deserve it. In consideration whereof, a freight presenting for Persia (though a very poore one) that shee might not lye idle, wee thought good to make use of it, and being late in the yeare, and the windes hanging crosse, wee enordered y<sup>e</sup> present Command<sup>r</sup> to embrace the first opportunitye to gett over the Barre, that he might be in a readinesse to sayle, when he should receive our dispatches, which he did not make use of, though two opportunityes presented to advantadge, viz. the 24th March, and the 29th in the interim of these dayes named, it blewe fiercely contrarye, and on the 1st Aprill present it came faire againe, w<sup>ch</sup> did and doth constrain us to protest against the said Thomas Richman, the present Command<sup>r</sup> &c Officers, and the whole shippes comp<sup>a</sup> for not making use of the opportunityes as enordered, and that all the dammage or dammages that may happen in his say<sup>d</sup> voyadge to Persia, wee doe hereby declare the said Command<sup>r</sup> &c to be the only cause, in delaying the tyme to prosecute his say<sup>d</sup> voyadge, and likewise that if any danger shall befall the shipp in his returne to the coast of India, wee in the behalves of the owners of the s<sup>d</sup> shipp do protest against him the said Command<sup>r</sup> &c. for not making use of the said opportunityes in goinge over the Barre, when he might have had our dispatches sooner, had he obeyed order in going ov<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Barre.

MATH: ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

P.S.—The aforegoinge, not being as yet delivered, because of y<sup>e</sup> shippes then going over the Barre, and no boate attainable to deliver it forbore untill this day, and now againe protest against the said Command<sup>r</sup> Thomas Richman, for that he hath not accord<sup>g</sup> to ord<sup>r</sup> and commission, as also promiss, filled the passingers jarres, that causeth a just complaint and consequently as the dishonour of our nation, soe the losse in the future to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> by begetting a hatred; as not freighting the Comp<sup>as</sup> shipping; hereafter next that his commission being delivered him at 4 of the clocke, or thereabouts in the afternoone, of the second day of Aprill, he the said Command<sup>r</sup> did not sett sayle at the deliverye of this protest; against him the prementioned for the perticulars rehearsed, and for his disobedience wee say wee solemnlye protest against him, and once more mention is, that all dammage that may light on shipp or goodes in this present voyadge, and returne to the coast of India, by his delayes, he is y<sup>e</sup> only cause. Wittnesse our handes the 3rd Aprill 1661 at 11 clocke.

MATH: ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

Commission and instructions given by us the President and Councill of India, Persia, &c., unto our lovinge friend Capt.<sup>a</sup> Thomas Crowther, Command<sup>r</sup> of the ffreigott "America," now by Gods permission bound from Swally Hole unto the Porte of Gombroone, and from thence to y<sup>e</sup> porte of Bussorah, within the river Euphrates, to be observed by him untill his returne to Swally Hole againe, dated on Swally Marine the 13th day of Aprill Anno 1661.

You being now laden with most part of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> goodes, and compleated with freight, wee desire you on sight hereof, winde and tyde permitting, to weigh anchor and sett sayle, directing your course for Gombroone, there to deliver our letters to our friendes there resident, which wee hope may bee done in one or two dayes at the most; which done make w<sup>t</sup> hast possible to obtain the Port of Bussorah, where, when arrived, you are to sett on shoare M<sup>r</sup> George Cranmore and M<sup>r</sup> Robert Sainthill, decently affording them uppon all occasions that y<sup>e</sup> Honble Comp<sup>as</sup> businesse requires it the use of yo<sup>r</sup> boates well manned, and to observe their order in the unlading of your vessayle, and lading any freight goodes &c. from thence uppon her, as also in their passadge thither the use of the greate Cabbin wholly, and to receive yo<sup>r</sup> dispatches from them, which wee enorder to be by the 20th of September without faile, M<sup>r</sup> Sainthill returning with you on the vessell. In your way touch at Gombroone, there to take in 30 or 40 Tonns of redd earth for yo<sup>r</sup> homeward bound voyadge, as also what freight money presents, staying the acting of this as little tyme as possible it may be dispatched in, the sooner that you returne, y<sup>e</sup> tymelyer will be your dispeed hence for England.

In your way both out, and hither, what Junkes or shippes you meete, examine the passes of the former, and take cognizance of the Commissions of y<sup>e</sup> latter; if you finde any English in y<sup>e</sup> former not lycensed by us, for reasons rendered the Comp<sup>as</sup>, take them out, and deliver them, their goodes and vessell to the next port you come att, but if they be Junkes of this place, and you finde them putting out of goodes contrary to their Passe in any port that you encounter them, wee enorder you to followe our order mentioned in y<sup>e</sup> Passe.

The Mallabars that you may encounter wee desire y<sup>m</sup> if possible not to lett escape, but to seize on the vessells, emptye the goodes, and then fire them, setting the men on shoare the next island you can conveniently come att; for yo<sup>r</sup> soe doing  $\frac{1}{6}$  part is yours and the shippes Comp<sup>as</sup> share.

Wee have not more to add then wished for yo<sup>r</sup> health, and that out of Gombroone roade you would make what hast possible to Swally Hole unto

Your assured friendes,
MATH: ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.

Protest made by us the President and Councill of India, Persia, Arabia, &c., in behalf of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> English East India Comp<sup>a</sup> against Leonard Winning Command<sup>r</sup> or Director, &c., Councill for the affaires of the Nederlandish East India Comp<sup>a</sup> residing in Suratt, dated the 19th Aprill 1661.

The 3rd day of Aprill, in the yeare of our Lord, 1661, ffour Englishmen, viz. Joseph Goodson, John Jones, Robert Hatch, and Edmund Greenleafe, meeting with 5 Dutchmen first at Swally, and some small tyme after at Morah, villages in the countrey of Industan, the dominions of Cromshawe, did there assault the said Dutchmen, only with stickes, as by their owne confession, but the Dutch on the contrary opposed them with swordes drawne, in soe much that basely, maliciously, cowardly and unworthily they murdered 2 of the aforesaid 4 Englishmen. That very houre in which the murder was committed, notice was given to y<sup>e</sup> Dutch ffactor on Swally Marine, answeare was returned that he would acquaint the Commandore with it, whose answeare wee wayted for some dayes before any thing concerning it would be returned, and then wee were visited by severall Dutch merch<sup>tes</sup> who only discoursed of this unworthy action, not any wise satisfactory, eith<sup>r</sup> to justice, the reputation of their owne nation, or in order to y<sup>e</sup> preservation of a good correspondence betwixt both nations, but endeavoured w<sup>t</sup> they could to justify the murderers, when as their guiltinesse appeared sufficiently by the examinations of the 2 surviving Englishmen, delivered them both in English, and in Dutch, they returning us divers attestations of frivilous circumstances only in Dutch, on purpose to baffle us as appeared by the sequell.

Wee still wayting for justice, or some substantiall reasons why it might not be executed, on the 16th of the pres<sup>t</sup> month received a letter from the Commandore Leonard Winning, in answ<sup>re</sup> to a letter the fourth passed day sent by the Presid<sup>t</sup> to hasten the dispatch of justice, that an acc<sup>t</sup> might be given to o<sup>r</sup> Honble Employ<sup>rs</sup> and by their Hon<sup>rs</sup> to our Royall Sovereigne Charles y<sup>e</sup> Second, of the deathes of his Ma<sup>tie</sup> prementioned 2 subjectes, but instead of answering our expectations uncivilly taxed us wth hastinesse in our demands, when as the shortnesse of the shippes departure being y<sup>e</sup> end of the monsoone urged it, and withall that he himself in 2 dayes after would come downe.

The 19th of this month the Commandore visiting us, wee delivering him another examination of a Persee, who kept a Punch house, where the murder was committed, contrary to their affirmations ; but that (replied his second Sign<sup>re</sup> Adriaken) was the affirmation of a heathen and seconded by the Command<sup>rs</sup> owne letter received this day and with many wordes pretending to justice, but intending none, spent some tyme, and soe departed, promising to returne a finall answeare the next day by sound of the clocks. About one of the clocks this day Sign<sup>re</sup> Adriaken and Sign<sup>re</sup> Hartman, persons of the best qualitys under the Command<sup>rs</sup>, brought a lett<sup>r</sup> from him, directed to the Presid<sup>t</sup>, and nonsensicall questions, made and putt by themselves, the answeare being accordingly grounded uppon the examinations given in and taken from the prementioned two Englishmen surviving, but nothing of anythinge putt by them as Administr<sup>rs</sup> of Justice, but defenders of the murderers, putting answeare of wordes into their mouthes by their manner of questioning.

Therefore wee the Presid<sup>t</sup> and Councell for y<sup>e</sup> affaires of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> English East India Comp<sup>a</sup>, trading into India Persia, y<sup>e</sup> South Seas, &c., in the name of our Royall Sovereigne and our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers doe protest against you Leonard Winning, Commandore or Directore, &c., Councell for the affaires of y<sup>e</sup> Nederland<sup>sh</sup> East India Comp<sup>a</sup>, for, and because of your finall answeare, positively denying us justice, where the murder was committed, willyfying our nation, in preferring the word of a Persee and heathen, before that of two Christians, by sacrificing to justice a Dutchman y<sup>t</sup> murdered a heathen, and denyeing it us, for the blood of two Englishmen, viz. Joseph Goodson and John Jones, baffling us in the tearmes expressed in your prementioned lett<sup>r</sup> by the word satisfaction of both nations (an untruth), and sending the murderers for Batavia, and wee (w<sup>ch</sup> you knowe to be impossible) thither for justice.

Therefore wee conclude this our protest wth y<sup>e</sup> clearing ourselves from the blood of any Dutchman whatsoever that may happen to be spilt, and y<sup>t</sup> w<sup>t</sup> soever dammage or dammages, abuses or affronts, arise, or proceed for and by reason of y<sup>e</sup> prementioned.....cause given, wee declare in the presence of God and y<sup>e</sup> whole world that neither ourselves or any of our nation be guilty thereof, wee having done our dutyes to demand and to give reasons why justice ought to be executed, you the Commandore and Councell being wholly and solely guilty of all the prementioned dammadges &c. y<sup>t</sup> may happen, and consequently of the persons murdered, breach of correspondence between both nations and ourselves for the reasons rehearsed, clear as wee make no doubt but will appeare to all y<sup>e</sup> world.

MATHW ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.

This protest was delivered by us as above dat<sup>d</sup>.

THOMAS ROLT.

FFRAN. ANDERSON, Secret<sup>ry</sup>.

An attestation, given on oath by Robert Hatch concern<sup>g</sup> the death of Joseph Goodson and John Jones, who were murdered by the Dutch at Morah the 3<sup>d</sup> day Aprill 1661 :—

Being at Jempsydes house in Swally, who sells Punch, on the day and yeare above mentioned, came into our comp<sup>a</sup> 5 Dutch persons, among whome was the Dutch Chyrurgion of the shipp “Hendricke Loyis,” a leane man, and bald pated, who had a plyster on one of his handes, and another called Sign<sup>r</sup> Abraham, who was Assistant to Sign<sup>r</sup> Roreman on Swally Marine, and 3 persons more whose names I know not. Uppon their comming Joseph Goodson say<sup>d</sup>, here comes the Dutch Chyrurgion that affronted mee last night at Morah, taking my victuals virtually by force from mee, and if it were not for disturbing the other civill persons that accompanyes him, I would now demand satisfaction of him, and the s<sup>d</sup> Chyrurgion replyed he would meete him on Swally Sandes the next day to combate with him. There pass<sup>d</sup> fewe more words at Swally, and the afores<sup>d</sup> Dutchmen departed unknowne unto us to Morah, and the say<sup>d</sup> Joseph Goodson desired mee the said Robert Hatch, and John Jones, to accompanye Edmund Greenleafe on his way to Suratt, as farre as Morah, where arriving and going into Peeter Mollacker house to drinke a bowle of punch, Joseph Goodson being on the foremost coach, Edmund Greenleafe on y<sup>e</sup> second, and Robert Hatch and John Jones on a third, and before the s<sup>d</sup> Robert Hatch and John Jones, being as neare as the coaches could drive, could gett into the yard the afores<sup>d</sup> Chyrurgion and say<sup>d</sup> Sign<sup>r</sup> Abraham, with rapiers drawne, fell uppon the s<sup>d</sup> Joseph Goodson, and soe mortally wounded him that in fewe houres after he dyed, and further the s<sup>d</sup> Chyrurgion and Sign<sup>r</sup> Abraham did not cease their furye there, but made severall thrusts with their rapieres at y<sup>e</sup> afores<sup>d</sup> Edmund Greenleafe, Robert Hatch, and John Jones, they only seeking to rescue the say<sup>d</sup> Joseph Goodson, and wounded the say<sup>d</sup> John Jones, whereof he dyed in fewe houres after.

Subscribed,

ROB<sup>t</sup> HATCH.

That the afores<sup>d</sup> Robert Hatch doth attest the truth of y<sup>e</sup> afores<sup>d</sup> premises and every part thereof, on his corporall oath, is witnessed by us whose names are subscribed,

WM JESSON.

ROGER MIDDLETON.

ROBERT SAINTHILL.

FFRAN: ANDERSON, Secretary.

Swally Marine, 9th Aprill 1661.

Edmund Greenleaves attestation concerning the deathes of Joseph Goodson and John Jones, who were murdered by the Dutch at Morah the 3rd day of Aprill 1661 :—

On the second day of Aprill in the evening, I Edmund Greenleafe, and Joseph Goodson deceased, were at Morah, there came into the house, where we were, Sign<sup>r</sup>.....Chyrurgion of y<sup>e</sup> Dutch shipp called the “Honrick Luoyis” and the skipper of y<sup>e</sup> s<sup>d</sup> shipp. The say<sup>d</sup> Chyrurgion offered to take away virtually by force that was prepared for us, and would have drawne his sword against the s<sup>d</sup> Joseph Goodson deceased, had he not beene hindered by the s<sup>d</sup> skipper. On the 3<sup>d</sup> day of Aprill afores<sup>d</sup>, Chyrurgion afores<sup>d</sup> mett the s<sup>d</sup> Joseph Goodson deceased againe at Swally, and there the s<sup>d</sup> Chyrurgion challenged the s<sup>d</sup> Joseph Goodson to fight with him the next day on Swally Sandes, and soe the s<sup>d</sup> Chyrurgion and 4

Dutch more in his company, departed from Swally (unknowne to us) to Morah, where wee noe sooner arrived, being 4 English in company, to witt, Joseph Goodson, John Jones, Robert Hatch, and I Edmund Greenleafe, but the s<sup>d</sup> Chyrurgion, and Sign<sup>r</sup> Abraham, Assistant unto the Dutch Purser on the Marine, stood upp, and the s<sup>d</sup> deceased Joseph Goodson going into the yard, being uppon the first coach, the s<sup>d</sup> Chyrurgion and s<sup>d</sup> Sn<sup>r</sup> Abraham fell uppon him with drawne swordes, and I attest that I sawe the forementioned Chyrurgion thrust him into the belly with his rapier, whereof in short tyme after he dyed.

Subscribed,

EDMUND GREENLEAFE.

That Edmund Greenleafe doth attest the afores<sup>d</sup> premises, and every part thereof on his oath, is witnessed by us, whose names are subscribed.

W<sup>m</sup> JESSON.

ROGER MIDDLETON.

ROBERT SAINTHILL.

FFRAN: ANDERSON, Secretary.

Dated on Swally Marine the 9th Aprill 1661.

---

An attestation of Muckadam Moncka Persee that keepest a Punch house at Morah, where Joseph Goodson and John Jones were murdered by the Dutch, given on Swally Marine the 17th Aprill 1661 :—

Into my house at Morah there came in first some Dutchmen, and about one quarter of an houre after, there came in also some English. The English with stickes stroke the Dutch, but the Dutch did not give backe, and after three or foure blowes there lying a sworde on the cotte, whereon the Dutch satt, they drewe them, and killed 2 Englishmen, and then fled.

Subscribed,

MONKA.

That Muckadam Monka doth attest the premises above written, is witnessed by us,

DROLDAS.

CULLIAN.

NANNOBY.

JEMPSIEX.

---

A declaration of the Commander & Officers concerning the losse of the shipp "Wellcome."

These are to declare unto the concerned our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employ<sup>rs</sup> that the "Wellcome" frigott, Capt<sup>a</sup> William Hargrave Commander, being safe arrived (but very leakye) of a voyadge from Acheene, in Swally Hole, was there unladen, and being insufficient, through her many knowne and more unknowne defects, to proceed on any voyadge, without a very greate repaire, the under written Command<sup>r</sup>, after a serious debate, was enordered by the wory<sup>es</sup> Mathewe Andrewes, P<sup>r</sup> &<sup>o</sup> Councell, to sett sayle for the rivers mouth, and thence, when the Pilots were on board, to proceed for Ombra, which accordingly he did, with all expedition convenient, the 17th January, and in 5 dayes arrived there, where her docks being made, the day following was hawled in, and found to be trunnell, iron and okum sicke, but most defective in her sterne, w<sup>ch</sup> was fallen 4 inches from the post, the Marine transame being not only weakned, but utterly rotten, whereuppon carpenters, calkers and such as were necessarye were employed about repairing her, for the effecting of w<sup>ch</sup> there was a strake of clamped putt on fore, and aft, well bolted, 2 transams, one uppon the Gunndecke, and 2 in hole, both firmly kneed, and bolted, likewise her sterne made newe from aloft, 10 foote belowe the Gunnroome Porte and uppon that navell hooded downewards 5 strakes, moreover her old keele being eaten away a newe one was putt on, and after shee was calked fore and aft, newe sheathed, and three standards placed in y<sup>e</sup> forecastle, newe Gunnwailed, 5 timbers shott downe afore and abaft, every gutt-head newe bolted and severall planks putt in the cookroome, likewise severall other defects supplied as 14 newe ports, 1 newe maine, and topsaile yard, 1 newe pompe, and after w<sup>ch</sup> supposing nothing to be wanting, y<sup>e</sup> 5th instant, went out of y<sup>e</sup> Docke, being one day before y<sup>e</sup> fall, and at y<sup>e</sup> Pilots desire, fearing that y<sup>e</sup> spring might be lost, warped downe against winde and tyde, and y<sup>e</sup> 8th at 5 of the clock groundd, as before 3 tymes a little above Roane, shee continuing cracking att the ebb, and when y<sup>e</sup> flood came the water had as free passadge into her as without, y<sup>e</sup> following ebb shee gave way at y<sup>e</sup> wrong heade to windward about 55 foote, and her bilge wholly broke in, whereuppon advice being given to y<sup>e</sup> worp<sup>ll</sup> Math<sup>w</sup> Andrewes & C<sup>o</sup> Councell, and it was thought convenient by them to come on board, with y<sup>e</sup> English Commanders, belonging to the shippes in Swally Hole, and 2 carpenters, who seeing her past recovery, gave order for her to be broken upp, which was accordingly done.

That this is a true relation of the above mentioned sadd accident, wee Command<sup>r</sup> and officers belonging to y<sup>e</sup> said shipp do an oath and attest, in witnesse whereof wee have subscribed the same.

EDWARD MASON.
GEORGE HEBDIN.
JOHN HUTCHINSON.
THOMAS KINGE.
GABRIEL KIRBYE.

THOMAS FFISH.
GEORGE EVANS.
W<sup>m</sup> TRIMNELL.
W<sup>m</sup> LINSEY.
HUMP: NEATE.

Dated at Roane in Suratt River the 11th Aprill 1661.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 23rd July 1661.

Whereas wee are deeply sensible of the intollerable injuries sustained by us from time to time from the Governours of this towne, to the exceeding prejudice of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> affaires and dishonour of our nation, contrary to our Articles of Agreem<sup>t</sup> & custome of Nations, w<sup>ch</sup> abuses wee were sensible of in the Government of Mirza Arab the late Govern<sup>r</sup> who upon our just denyall of his unjust demanndg back of moneys from our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers (w<sup>ch</sup> indeed was no other then moneys rec<sup>d</sup> by particular persons in time of open trade for goods duely bought by the Governour of this towne) did lay his commannd on our peons that none should weare their accustomed weapons of defence.

Did violently assault us in the open street, to the endangering of our lives, without any cause given in our peaceable passage to our garden.

Did forceably halt on shoare the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> boats & vessailes, when their occations required them.

Did prohibit the P<sup>r</sup> to pass to the Marine when the Comp<sup>a</sup> occations especially required his presence there.

Did detainne our horses denying us the use of them.

Did disgracefully & unjustly detainne in Custome Howse severall goods belonging to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> contrary to our Articles of Agreem<sup>t</sup> & equited amongst merchants.

All w<sup>ch</sup> indignities (after wee had delivered the said Mirza Arab our protest) wee were forced to put up quietly, that there might be no further impediment to our Masters affaires.

But wee too experimentally find that our patient suffering such injuries hereditary wth succeeding Governours: This present Govern<sup>r</sup> Mustapha Ckaun, abusing us more violently upon no other acco<sup>t</sup> than maintaining the priviledges of our Honble Employers, by denying paym<sup>t</sup> of moneys unjustly demannded, as pretended by the aforesaid Governour Mirza Arab, and refusing to submitt to new Articles, infinitely disadvantageous to the Honble Comp<sup>as</sup> hee demannding all goods & merchandizes wee bring to this Port on our shipping to be imediately brought to this Custome Howse.

- 1st For w<sup>ch</sup> cause the Honble Comp<sup>as</sup> goods were 3 monthes detained in the Custome Howse in the tyme of the monsoon: & the P<sup>r</sup> detain'd 5 dayes here at such time when the monsoon earnestly required the dispatch of the Honble Comp<sup>as</sup> shipping, &
- 2<sup>ly</sup> A Mallabarr vessaile which was our lawfull prize, was forced from us by this Governour, &
- 3<sup>ly</sup> Did on the 17th of this month forbid the building of a vessayl wee had begunn for the Company, being encouraged thereunto by the many necessities saved out of the lost "Welcome" ffrigat, &
- 4<sup>ly</sup> Lastly. On the 17th curr<sup>t</sup> did inhumanly, contrary to the law of Nations, confine us to our howse, block upp our gates, surrounded our howses wth armed men, both day & night, and hath to this day detained 42 persons of us, without any manner of sustenance.

By which unsufferable injuries, our Nation & Employ<sup>r</sup> are dishonoured & damaged, our priviledges & persons indangered, the Honble Comp<sup>as</sup> affaires wholly impeded. In so much, that being deeply sensible of our present sufferings, and not able to guess at y<sup>e</sup> future, wee are forced for prevention of further violence, at the Command of the said Governour, to call back our boats w<sup>ch</sup> wee had sent downe the river to secure them from haling on shore.

For the clearing therfore of our innocencies, wee the P<sup>r</sup> & Councell of India, Persia etc<sup>a</sup> doe declare that wee have not given the least occation for the aforesaid abuses, having neither acted directly nor indirectly in opposition to a civill deportment in our Masters affaires or repute of our Nation, but have patiently borne the afores<sup>d</sup> Affronts so long as wee were able to subsist, rather then submitt to the forceable & unjust demannds of these Governo<sup>rs</sup> and loss of the Honble Comp<sup>as</sup> priviledges contrary to all Articles made wth these Governours, as those made with Assaph Ckaun now in force, copie whereof wee sent this Governour, that hee might therby see his owne vile actions.

MATTHEW ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

---

Consulation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 24th July 1661.

Whereas there is a dispute between Nabob Mustapha Ckaun Governour of this towne, & us the P<sup>r</sup> & Councell for affaires of the Honble Comp<sup>a</sup> of Merchants trading to India, Persia, Arabia, etc<sup>a</sup> concerning an accomp<sup>t</sup> depending between the Govern<sup>r</sup> of this towne and M<sup>r</sup> Henry Revington about a parcell of gunns sold by said Henry Revington unto Mirza Meena a former Governour of this place, on w<sup>ch</sup> account the said Henry Revington did receive 5000 rup<sup>a</sup> ready money, and the remainder was to be allowed out of the acc<sup>o</sup> of Customes, most of w<sup>ch</sup> was defalkt out of said Customes, w<sup>ch</sup> by the Nabob is demannded back, & the gunns some to be retourned. But because it concerned us not, but M<sup>r</sup>. Revington, wee refused repayment of said money. Therefore have been by the said Nabob Mustapha Ckaun confined to our howse, & restrain'd from all manner of sustenance these 5 dayes past, and are now at length forced to conditions wth the said Governour, that wee shall have libertie to write to M<sup>r</sup>. Revington w<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> said Nabobs demaunds are, and if the said Henry Revington shall not make satisfaction for the same in foure monthes, then doe wee oblige ourselves to endeavour the content of the s<sup>d</sup> Nabob Mustapha Ckaun Governour. Witness our hands the day & yeare above written.

MATTHEW ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 27th July 1661.

According to the tenour of our declaration of the 23rd and Consultation of the 24th curr<sup>t</sup>, the insufferable abus<sup>g</sup> wee have both the last yeare and this present rec<sup>d</sup> are enlarged, and our present difference with this Gov<sup>r</sup>. Mustapha Ckaun related. The said Consultation wee presented to the Nabob the 26th curr<sup>t</sup> (being forced thereunto by y<sup>e</sup> stop of our Masters affaires in every respect and our owne sufferring condition) not doubting but it would have been to his present satisfaction. But it was disdainfully rejected by him, and our Articles of Agreement made with Asaph Ckaun taxed by him as invalide, so y<sup>t</sup> fearing a further intrenchment on the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> priviledges should wee withstand his unjust demaunds, and that there might be no further impediment to their affaires, the libertie of sending to, or receiving advices from any ffactory being denyed us, & provissions for our howse, wherin wee have been confind by guards since the 17th curr<sup>t</sup>.

Wee the P<sup>r</sup> and Councell for carrying on of our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers affaires, having maturely deliberated and discussed the premises, for prevention of further inconveniences to our said Employers, & y<sup>t</sup> this Gov<sup>r</sup>. might have no pretence to deprive us longer of our liberty or obstruct our passage to Swally when our shipping shall arrive, doe conclude, & have accordingly enordered the present satisfaction of his forceable & unjust demaunds.

MATTHEW ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

Consultation in Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 29th July 1661.

Having in our passed Consultation of the 27th currant yielded to the unjust demaunds of this Governour by payment of the money in hopes of libertie & quiet proceedings in our Masters affaires, his promise being, the money paid hee would rest satisfied, wee were this day notwithstanding presented with new demaunds extremely prejudiciall & wholly inconsistent with the well being of our trade.

First. That wee shall bring all goods that come upon our shipping to this Port, & land them first at this Custome Howse, & when Custome paid then to export them, &

2ly. That the President shall at no time, either sayl on the river, or goe out of the towne, without license first rec<sup>d</sup> from the Governour.

The first of these is to deprive the Company of their greatest priviledge, for most of the goods wee bring to this Port are tran'ship't to other ports, whereas should wee submitt to bring all goods to Surat, wee should be forced to pay Custome for those goods which are not intended for sale here, hereby should wee be deprived of the benefit of our Marine, and the dispatch of our shipping by want of that means much impeded, and many other waies disadvantageous in respect to ffreights wee shall make.

The other more neerly concern's the person of the Presid<sup>t</sup> (yet therein the honour of our Nation) w<sup>ch</sup> may in respect to a present remedie be submitted unto, provided it might produce a faire conclusion.

But the P<sup>r</sup> foreseeing that every day produces new demaunds should hee submitt to these, is not therby assured of his libertie, chooseth rather to endure y<sup>e</sup> insolencies of these people, & a longer restraint, then submitt to the prejudice of the Company: and in order to our releasement, as y<sup>e</sup> best and safest meanes, hee prescribed to M<sup>r</sup> Lambton this remedy, that they should write to the Commander & Purser of the "Eagle," now supposed in Bombay, to repaire to this rivers mouth so soone as possible, & there to stopp all Jounks coming from Mocho etc.<sup>a</sup> but to take nothing out of them, but their powder & sailes, untill further order.

M<sup>r</sup> Lambton would by no meanes consent to such an action desiring forbearance, untill arrivall of the shipp from England, when hee thought a President would come out. The P<sup>r</sup> tould him, that would bee too late, the Mocha Jounks would be come in. Hee replied, then wee might take the Bussorah Jounks. But the Bussorah Jounks (said the P<sup>r</sup>) are not the Kings, & the injury is rec<sup>d</sup> from his Governour. Besides hee was this day informed that the merchants of the towne were sending a vessail out to meet their Bussorah Jounks wth order to leave their estates in Gombroone.

These & many other reasons alledged being no way prevalent wth M<sup>r</sup> Lambton, the P<sup>r</sup> prosecuted his intentions by writing a letter, the tenour as afores<sup>d</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> was presented M<sup>r</sup> Lambton for his firme, & rec<sup>d</sup> a denyall.

Wherefore I Matth: Andrewes, P<sup>r</sup> for affaires of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> East India Comp<sup>y</sup>, doe protest against John Lambton for not using mean's for recovery of the money forc<sup>d</sup> away: for non-compliance with mee in such affaires as concerned the benefitt of our Employers & honour of our Nation. And for all damages shall befall our said Employers by loss of priviledges, Breach of Articles, or other abuses occationed through your dissent from mee in securing the Jounks nowe coming from Mocho.

MATTHEW ANDREWES.

---

Whereas wee the President & Councell of India, Persia etc.<sup>a</sup> have received Commission from our Employers the Hon<sup>ble</sup> East India Company, bearing date the 27th of March 1661, to send some of their ffactors on board each shipp that shall come out of England to take notice & make seizure of all prohibited commodities, to the use of the said Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, wee the said P<sup>r</sup> & Councell by virtue of their said Commission doe require & empower you Edward Oldfeild to repaire on board the ship "Constantinople Merch<sup>t</sup>" now riding in Swally Hole, to performe the order of our said Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers, giving us a daylie acco<sup>t</sup> of your proceedings therein, & taking yo<sup>r</sup> lodging in the said ship until our further order. Dat. in Surat this 6th day of Sep<sup>r</sup> 1661.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 3rd Oct<sup>r</sup> 1661.

The murmerring & uncoward behaviour of some discontented spirritts, occationed by their hopes of a new President coming out, was some monthes past too obvious not to be taken notice of, the President therefore desirous to remove all doubts, that wee might live lovingly, & heartily act our Masters business, assembled all the Comp<sup>as</sup> servants in this Presidency, & did read unto them the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> confirmation of him in their most eminent employm<sup>t</sup> of President, requiring all subordinate ffactors to be conformable to such orders as shall from time to time be commaunded them by their said President and Councill,..... Having fully imparted the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> commaund, wee demaunded of each man particularly, if hee was willing to submitt to the commaunds of the P<sup>r</sup> etc.<sup>a</sup> Councill as the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> had required. Their answere was generall & to content. The P<sup>r</sup> then proposed to them y<sup>t</sup> if any man could object against him, why his commaunds as P<sup>r</sup> should not be observed & obeyed, that hee should declare his mind. There was no objection made. Wee then exhorting them to love & amity dismissed them: & wth M<sup>r</sup> Lambton proceeded to Councill, where two things were concluded on.

M<sup>r</sup> Rich<sup>d</sup> Cradock was some tyme since wrote for downe from Ahmadavad, a supply for Persia (by the decease of M<sup>r</sup> Matth: Fforster) being wanting; but being destitute at present of shipping for his passage, a lett<sup>r</sup> was dispeeded toward him the 19th of Sept<sup>r</sup> to demurr his journey untill further order, w<sup>ch</sup> lett<sup>r</sup> came not to his reception untill hee had proceeded some way on his journey: being now here, & shipping not yet arrived nor designed for Persia some considerable tyme, his assistance at Ahmadavad will be more then ordinary usefull to the Comp<sup>a</sup> at this season, & the expence for his journey being small, wee have thought necessary to retourne him to his former employm<sup>t</sup> untill our further order for his coming downe.

The next thing considered was the complaint of M<sup>r</sup> Johnson (addressed hither in his lett<sup>r</sup> of the 20th August) for want of assistance in Metchlepatam. To supply which ffactory wee have appointed Edward Oldfeild & Kendrick Edisbury to journey overland with the first conveniency of Caphila or other company on the way, that they may come the more tymely to his assistance, & this was the conclusion of this Consultation: wth subscription of

MATH: ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 25th October 1661.

The season of the years now approaching wherein the Persian affaire was further to be considered, & as promised proceeded on, the President conven'd his Councill, & thereunto called M<sup>r</sup> Henry Revington, who latelie arrived here out of Persia, did read unto him the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> Commission concerning the Persian affaire, with severall letters from the P<sup>r</sup> etc.<sup>a</sup> Councill in answeare to the said Commission: & then they jointly proceeded & fully debated the said affaire, from whence arose the following considerations:

- 1st. That whereas our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employ<sup>as</sup> were pleased (in their last yeares lett<sup>r</sup>) to promise a supply of three shippes this yeare for the prosecution of the aforesaid affaire and on further consideration have sent fourth only one, our want of shipping is first & principally to be considered. No less then eight being requisite for so great an undertaking, of w<sup>ch</sup> number wee have at present but two, viz<sup>t</sup> the "Constantinople Merch<sup>t</sup>" & "Surat" ffrigat: the "American" being required home, and the "Eagle" not capable of staying another yeare in the country through her defects & discontent of her marriners: the "Vine" on a winter voyadge in the South Seas not expected untill May, the "Hopewell" not yet arrived from Maccassar, & the "Wellcome" lost in this river.

- 2<sup>ly</sup>. The want of necessaries for the shipping. No supplye of salt meat for the men, or accoutrement for the shipp being here procureable, nor any Port to friend (when our shipping shall lie in the Gulph) where fresh water may be obtained.
- 3<sup>ly</sup>. The want of men for the shipping, first of Mariners, many being deceased, particularly of the "Eagles" Company & of those sent out by our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers for the better accomplishing this affaire. 2<sup>ly</sup> of Ffactors, of w<sup>ch</sup> here are but few, & fewer of eminency, & such this affaire doth require, at least two on each shipp.
- 4<sup>ly</sup>. The small burthen of our shipping, w<sup>ch</sup> cannot containe  $\frac{1}{4}$  part of the goodes those Jounks carry, w<sup>ch</sup> must be taken out to find the goodes of the subject of the King of Persia.
- 5<sup>ly</sup>. The power of the Dutch is too great to be overruled by our small force, the number of their shipping in Persia the two passed yeares assures us they are acquainted wth our designe & await an opportunity to affront us.
- 6<sup>ly</sup>. The danger of our Employers Estate remayning in Persia undisposed off, to the amo<sup>t</sup> of.....ster. as wee were lately advised by the Agent at the Fort, w<sup>ch</sup> upon approach of our shipping will certainly be seized on.
- 7<sup>ly</sup>. The danger of those persons shall remaine here while the designers acting. For wee cannot block up the Persian Gulph, but this King will be sensible of the injury done to his Port; & if wee have lately rec<sup>d</sup> so great injuries from these people without offence given, what may wee expect when they have a pretended cause.
- Lastly. The want of a place or harbour for security of our shipping to winter in at our retourne from Persia, w<sup>ch</sup> at soonest will be the latter end of May & then this coast will be too dangerous to adventure on.

From all w<sup>ch</sup> considerations there was this conclusion gathered (each person first declaring his readiness to undertake the designe had they but so many shipp as were nominated in the Commission, viz<sup>t</sup> six) that a force being wanting to goe through the works wth honour & repute to their Nation, provission of goods should be ordered for the lading home the Charter-parties shipp, & this Persian affaire referred to our Masters furth<sup>r</sup> consideration for a larger supply of shipping & men.

The former business being determind the Presid<sup>t</sup> propounded the Comp<sup>as</sup> Commission for the taking of Danda Rajapore Castle, but there was the same want of men & shipping objected. The P<sup>r</sup> also having a Commission directed to P<sup>r</sup> Wyche, w<sup>ch</sup> was not to be opened untill the Persian action was finished (& yet remains sealed) supposing the same may give further instructions concerning Danda Rajapore, that affaire lies dormant untill a greater force awake it.

MATTHEW ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> . . . . November 1661.

A vessayl of Chouts employed downe this coast on a perticuler accompt but intentionally on the Compaynes did in her retourne hither surprize a Mallabarr vessayl laden wth dates etc.<sup>a</sup> belonging to Bassalore, upon which occation the P<sup>r</sup> asked the advice of his Councell, whether the prize being taken by a Bannian vessayl that was empowered by a perticuler Commission and had been serviceable to the Company in bringing off their ffactors from Callicut, and their Arrack from Goa, might not be appropriated to the benefit of the said Bannian. Their answer was in the negative. That the prize ought to be the Companyes, they having been sufferers by the Mallabarrs, for which reason Commissions were issued out for their surprisall. To which the P<sup>r</sup> assented. But in consideration y<sup>t</sup> the said vessayl had done the Company service, it was concluded that a reasonable allowance should be given to the owner of the vessayl, which should be further considered of by the subscribers.

MATTH: ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

Consultation on Swally Marine y<sup>e</sup> 27th February 1661
2.

Severall Articles being exhibited by John Widdrington, Benjamin Clopton & John Atkins against M<sup>r</sup> Henry Gary their Chief in Acheen, wherby s<sup>d</sup> Henry Gary appeared so criminall y<sup>t</sup> wee thought him uncapable to be further employed in the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companyes service, unless hee could vindicate himself. Wee therefore (s<sup>d</sup> H. Gary being here arriv'd) required our Secretary to p<sup>ro</sup>use s<sup>d</sup> Widdrington etc<sup>a</sup> Payees, and draw out y<sup>e</sup> heads of his charge, & yesterday sent them to M<sup>r</sup> Gary, requiring his answer thereunto, w<sup>ch</sup> hee this day presented unto us in writing: w<sup>ch</sup> yet not being fully satisfactory, wee summon'd his appearance before us, & examined him on each Article of his said charge, who gave us ample & satisfactory replies, making his innocency appeared the more plaine unto us by severall bookes of accompts, attestations and other papers w<sup>ch</sup> he brought from Acheen.

But in regard that y<sup>e</sup> said John Widdrington etc<sup>a</sup> have so publikely charged him wth crimes of so high a nature, wee have thought that when they shall here arrive they may bring further proofes of their charge, for it cannot enter into us that their mallice or impudence should swell to the accumulating so many aspersions, even to the ruine of a person of his quality; wee doe therefore leave the conclusion of this business untill their arrivall, in the meane tyme appointing M<sup>r</sup> Gary to the management of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> affaires in degree to his quality.

MATTHEW ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

Commission and instructions given by us the President & Councell of India, Persia, etc. unto our loving friende M<sup>r</sup> Richard Cradock proceeding as Agent in the negotiating of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> Affaires in Persia, & are to be observed by him there. Dated on Swally Marine y<sup>e</sup> 3<sup>d</sup> day of March Anno Domini 1661.

2

Wee being sufficiently experienced of yo<sup>r</sup> abilities in y<sup>e</sup> dispatch of our Masters affaires in those employ<sup>ts</sup> you have been put upon, have now concluded & appointed you Agent in Persia, death having deprived us of those friends wee sent thither y<sup>e</sup> last yeare; wee also ordered M<sup>r</sup> George Cranmer your second & to keepe the accom<sup>ts</sup>, yourself having constant inspection into them, that there may be no mistake nor delayes as the former yeares have produced, nothing but promises no performances, y<sup>t</sup> wee are ignorant of those passages most necessary to be knowne, w<sup>ch</sup> irregular course wee desire for the future you will prevent to be practiced. This wee here hinted first because of so much concern<sup>t</sup>, it being 3 yeares almost since wee rec<sup>d</sup> any accompt, though M<sup>r</sup> Fflower, who is at this tyme (wee know nothing to the contrary) there resident & hath but little of our Masters business to hinder y<sup>e</sup> accomplishing of the rehersed, w<sup>ch</sup> is so material; and though M<sup>r</sup>. Fflower may expect y<sup>e</sup> quality of sec<sup>d</sup>, yet for this maine reason, & some other, wee conferr it on M<sup>r</sup>. George Cranmer, hee to succeed as third, or leave Persia for Surat.

Wee shall now come to acquaint you wth what needfull in order to y<sup>e</sup> answering of our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers desires and our expectation. The "Hopewell" wee having full laden wth freight goods, the great Cabin is reserved for your accommodation, therefore desire your repaire on board upon receipt of these, hoping in a months tyme it will please God to arrive you safe to the port of Gombroon, upon w<sup>ch</sup> give notice unto M<sup>r</sup>. Fflower, requiring his repaire a board unto you, informing you how affaires stand, & that hee retourne to informe the Governour, Shawbunder etc<sup>a</sup> officers of the towne of your arrivall, and in w<sup>t</sup> quality, that as accustomary they may give you a respective reception, w<sup>ch</sup> done their vissitt will follow, their custome being to be punctuall in ceremonies, w<sup>ch</sup> by you must be retourne, and will be soone passed over. In y<sup>e</sup> meane tyme you may be unlading the shipp of her freight goods & if a considerable freight for Bengala & Metchlepatam is procurable, to cleane her at Ormuz & send her thither. Wee say a considerable freight, y<sup>t</sup> is more y<sup>n</sup> can be probably procured for Surat, w<sup>ch</sup> wee would not have less valued y<sup>n</sup> 300 Tomaunds, if shee proceeds to those parts, but if shee retourne hither you need not make her cleane, but dispeed her wth what ffreight procurable so soone as possible, hope in 10 dayes shee may be dispatched, you must not forget a large proportion of wine & some fruit.

On her wee shall expect a portion of Customes, so much as you can perswade the Shawbunder to part with, the practise of the Persian for these many yeares hath been still to cut off as much of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companyes due as they could perswade our friends there to rest silent with, for w<sup>ch</sup> reason and many other not here mentioned, the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company resolved of another course to be taken wth them, besides faire words, w<sup>ch</sup> yet hath not been put in practice, yet they feare w<sup>t</sup> they deserve, & hope it being civilly urged & the advantage made use of may cause them to comply & beget a more open hand then formerly, so y<sup>t</sup> wee shall not expect less then 1000 Tomaunds, though get what you can, 400 or more on this shipp wee desire you to retourne.

Robert Manly wee have now entertayned into wages in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> service at 6 Tomaunds salary yearly. Hee hath been a const<sup>t</sup> servant in the howse, & now wee send him to wait on you, hee being not only furnished wth language enough y<sup>t</sup> qualifies him for an employment as Interpreter, but experience in treating wth the Ckaun, Shawbunder & officers of the towne, enables him to tell you what hath been the practice of your predecessors, besides M<sup>r</sup>. Fflowers yeares Residence there, will render him to be Master of y<sup>e</sup> custome of the place, of both w<sup>ch</sup> you may make use, as you shall see occation, desiring you to be as frugall both in presents & howse expences as possible.

So much hath been the villanies & baseness of Tockersee y<sup>t</sup> long since wee toured him out of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> Employm<sup>t</sup> and then sent for him to repaire hether y<sup>t</sup> hee might have justice done him, as on y<sup>e</sup> side also of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company; but those wee employed failed us, & M<sup>r</sup>. Buckerridg promised to bring him but sickness prevented. Wee sent therfore Cap<sup>t</sup>. Middleton to force him hether, but if our expectation be not answered & y<sup>t</sup> you cannot procure his mission so much desired, wee doe by these presents discard him the Companyes service, & forbid him coming into their howse, or any employm<sup>t</sup> in reference to their affaires, having for the dispatch of w<sup>t</sup> affaires of theirs of y<sup>t</sup> nature as shall present, sent another along with you named Suntockee Vetcher<sup>r</sup>, having had experience of his abilityes, both here & there also, as good security for his truth, therefore shall recommend him unto you for his encouragement.

Death hath been so familiar in those parts caused by ill aire staying so long in it in Gombroon, y<sup>t</sup> to remedy it wee cannot deny you lycense of absenting your self out of it, either to Shiraz or Espahaun, & though in either there will be but little of our Masters affaires to be acted, yet your presence will cause respect unto the Nation, & in the spending of some few monthes in absence from Gombroon, recovery of yo<sup>r</sup> health, w<sup>ch</sup> cannot be obtained in y<sup>t</sup> place, but as before wee earnestly desire your frugality, y<sup>t</sup> the Honble Comp<sup>a</sup> may not complayne of a costly factory.

Much wee must leave unto yo<sup>r</sup> discretion, & therefore desire your frequent advices, y<sup>t</sup> in w<sup>t</sup> you may be wanting of information may be retourned & supplied from us, wth what our experience can furnish you. Our Masters advices are daylie expected, w<sup>ch</sup> wee give you libertie to open, & take copies of, keeping the contents very private, because wee suppose affaires of great consequence will be treated of in them, not fit for the view of all. What is here wanting, wee hope your dilligent endeavours after our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers benefitt will prompt you to supply, therefore wishing you health & a blessing on your endeav<sup>rs</sup>, subscribe

Your assured loving Ffriends,

MATTHEW ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

---

Consultation on Swally Marine y<sup>e</sup> 20th March 1661.

$\frac{2}{2}$

Wee having for divers reasons expressed in a former Consultation of the 21st Ffebruary, laden on board shipp "Truro," such remaynes of goods as were lying by us since y<sup>e</sup> last shipp dispeeded for England, did on the 11th currant by Sircinsham Master etc<sup>a</sup> send on board our advices directed to our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers, the said person by our order acquainting the Commannder that hee should set sayl, wee having no other dispatch to deliver him: His reply to Charles James was, that without our dispeed the ship should not stirr, shee should ride there untill shee rotted first, & in the same obstinacy doth hee still contynnue wth disrespect to our persons, who are here representatives of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, notwithstanding the President told him at his first arrivall, & often since, that hee would give him no dispatch, saying hee had received them from the Agent from the Ffort (from whence his Charterpartie intended his dispeed & not from us), but hee was constantly silent untill hee had received his lading, & now both his obstancy, disrespect & dispising our orders hath brought us together to redress the abuses hee dayly offers us, & prevent (the best wee can) further damage to our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employ<sup>rs</sup>.

The Charterpartie being seriously perused by us, wee note more especially that clause which oblidges our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers, in case the ship shall happen to miscarry after her arrivall and discharge at Coromandell, to pay all such demorage as shall be due for the s<sup>d</sup> shipp. From whence wee first observe that should wee give her dispatches from hence & shee miscarry in her voyadge home, the owners would require demorage from the tyme of her dispeed hence: Secondly, that although it be expressed, the shipp shall enter into demorage of 7: 10 p. diem for so long tyme as shee shall be detayned (in India) in y<sup>t</sup> service & employ<sup>mt</sup> of the Company. Wee observe the scope of India there expressed to have no farther limitts then Coast Coromandell and the South Seas, & consequently none due since her dispatch from the Ffort S<sup>t</sup> George, the full purport & intent of Charterpartie, never intending her coming hither; wherefore wee doe unanimously conclude that no dispatches shall be given the Commaunder by us,

The slighting & dispising of the P<sup>rs</sup> orders, & abuse in dishonouring a person of his quality, in wearing his fflag in disrespect to the Company, when they have two shippes of their owne in the road, refusing to strike it although so commanded by the President, & when the P<sup>r</sup> was on board the Comp<sup>as</sup> shipp his not lowering his fflag, nor saluting him with a gunn, & putting out a peice of a torne ancient, are things not unregarded even by the natives here, and verry much conducing to the disrepute of the Company, whome hee represents.

Ffor w<sup>ch</sup> his perversness, & the rumour y<sup>t</sup> is spread of the shippes insufficiency, w<sup>ch</sup> was not observable by the surveighs formerly taken, wee doe conclude, if shee depart not this road by the 27th curr<sup>t</sup>, to send him an order to unlade the shipp. In the meane time will take care to see her further surveighed.

MATTHEW ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.

M<sup>r</sup> Robert Tucker,—God Almighty hath so permitted that the towne of Cranganore is taken from our ffrriends & allyes the Portugalls by the Dutch, & 200 in 300 prisoners being brought hither & landed by them. Wee both in honour as Christians, to prevent y<sup>e</sup> calumny of these people, both Moores & Heathens, & oblidged as ffrriends by the marriage of their Princess with our Imperiall King, know it our duty to give them safe conduct to the first port w<sup>ch</sup> they may arrive to in safetie. Wherefore wee require yo<sup>u</sup>, wind & tide permitting, to set sayl & set on shoare the persons now on board you at Daman, w<sup>ch</sup> having done you are immediately to repaire unto us.

Swally Marine, 27th of March 1662.

Your loving Ffrriends,
MATTHEW ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.
HENRY GARY.

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 20th May 1662.

Wee have to this time attended the arrivall of John Widdrington etc<sup>a</sup> from Acheen, upon supposition y<sup>t</sup> they had a further charge against M<sup>r</sup> Henry Gary, or at least would bring proofes for the evidence of their former, but notwithstanding they have been summoned by us to appeare, and two or three conveighances hath happen'd as the "Nugdy" & "Hopewell" from that port, yet they have declynd y<sup>e</sup> opportunityes, & the season of the yeare being now past, wee see no reason M<sup>r</sup> Garyes innocense appearing by his vindication (& much more by their refusall to come hither) why hee should longer lie under a suspition, but rather be preferred according to his abilityes, w<sup>ch</sup> at this meeting wee have regard unto by conferring on him the place & dignity of one of the Councill of India, &c.

The evill carriage of affaires by Robert Master at Carwarr, first by retourning the "Sea Flower" without a corne of Pepper, when hee did affirme to the P<sup>r</sup> that there was enough there to lade her, & that put him upon the designe. But it appeares a truth, and that affirmed by M<sup>r</sup> Lloyd, that hee had no other designe then to get himself Chief of the ffactory, telling said Lloyd, when hee asked him whie hee told the P<sup>r</sup> there was pepper, when hee knew 'twas all sent up the country, what did hee care, so hee could but get thither, whether there was pepper or no.

Kept his remisness in advices, to w<sup>ch</sup> hee is so punctually enjoyn'd by his Commission, that wee might know how hee proceeds in y<sup>e</sup> investment, but one letter is all wee have rec<sup>d</sup> from him these 4 monthes, & that of no concernm<sup>t</sup>. Wee know not at this tyme of the yeare how to remedy these evils, but at y<sup>e</sup> shipp's arrivall shall take care to supply that ffactory wth a better head.

Joseph Himmers having been employed in our Masters affaires on a voyadg to Jehore, gave bond for his faithfull performance against w<sup>ch</sup> wee having nothing to except, upon his request have retourn'd his bond. And there being none of the Comp<sup>as</sup> servants to assist the Accountant, wee have made choyce of him as a person well quallified for that employ<sup>mt</sup> & shall consider of a recompence for his paines.

Our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers have by their advices, dat<sup>d</sup> y<sup>e</sup> 2nd Sep<sup>t</sup> last, enordered a great quantity of goodes to be provided against the shipp's arrivall, some whereof, viz<sup>t</sup> Deriabands & Mercoles, have not been procurable here these 2 yeares past, nor can they be bought according to their true dimentions here, and a stock to send up the country where they are made hath still been wanting to us, as our present necessity manifests, in such manner y<sup>t</sup> wee cannot proceed wth the provission of goods according our Masters & our owne desires, our Brokers never assisting us with it, as in former times they constantly furnished the Companyes occations, Chout never procuring since the beginning of this stock, more money then did discharge the debt to Mirza Arab the Govern<sup>r</sup>, in so much that the President hath constantly accommodated the Companyes occations wth his owne stock; & now for conclusion, both his & our endeavours shall be to procure what money possible in town for the carrying on of our Masters affaires, their Broker Chout pretending hee can get none.

MATTHEW ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 4th of June 1662.

In our last Consultation or conclusion was y<sup>t</sup> for want of money wee could not comply wth our Masters desires in the provission of goods for the shipp's coming out, and that wee would both severally & joyntly press our Broker Chout to its procury: w<sup>ch</sup> wee have done with all y<sup>e</sup> demonstrations y<sup>t</sup> the urgentie of our Masters affaires require, yet cannot prevaile, & now by loss of severall Jounks going to Bussorah from this port, and retourne of others that have lost their voyage, the towne is in that condition y<sup>t</sup> no money can be now expected, & the P<sup>r</sup> hath already furnished them wth what estate hee hath in India, so y<sup>t</sup> wee cannot in probability see how goods can be provided for the lading home of the shipp's.

The desired quantities of Deriabands & Mercoles both this & the last yeare are not attainable in this towne, and for want of the settlem<sup>t</sup> of a ffactory at Agra or Lucknow they cann never be provided according to the dementions & goodness required for the Europe market. In this affaire wee have been more then ordinary serious, ffirst by appointing a Broker to goe up to Agra & settle himself for the provission of those goods against y<sup>e</sup> time of the shipp's arrivall, at which tyme wee promised to remitt moneys to him, but y<sup>e</sup> long journey of two months, & want of money when there, gives us little hopes to expect any thence for this yeares shipping, this being the only tyme of the yeare for their procury, & discourages him from going up.

Having waved y<sup>e</sup> first, wee next consulted wth severall Shereffs for the provission of said goods on Bemah or Ensurance, a way though it be dishonourable to our Employers, & something unprofitable, yet certaine, and the only means left, to be possessed with y<sup>e</sup> said goods, for the timely impleating the shipp's. They promise to invest 100000 Rup<sup>s</sup> in Agra, if wee will pay them now ready money in Surat 20000 Rup<sup>s</sup>, a thing impossible for us to doe at this tyme, as before rehersed, so y<sup>t</sup> both these wayes failing us for want of money, wee cannot hope that any will be found in this towne before the shippes departure. And although our Masters expectation of such sorts of goods are not answered, yet by this & the former Consultation they will perceive wee have used our best endeavours as their faithfull servants.

MATTHEW ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.
HENRY GARY.

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 21st July 1662.

Attending y<sup>e</sup> retourne of an express from Goa y<sup>t</sup> might give us advice of the arrivall of y<sup>e</sup> two shippes, "Royall Welcome" & "Hopewell" from Persia, they being ordered to winter at Goa or some ports thereabouts, & upon notice given us of their arrivall, were to receive further Commission from us for their future employm<sup>t</sup>. Our express not yet retourned, and tyme of yeare neer approaching for their employm<sup>t</sup>, wee considered the captive condition of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> servants, & loss of our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers & their owne estates in Decan, for whome, though wee have used means for their liberty by writing both to Savage & the King of Deccan, yet have they now been restrayned 17 monthes, & have no hopes of redemption without payment of a great ransome. Wee as members of the same body, being very sensible of their affliction, & injury done to our Employers, doe in justice think it first required from us, to recover their libertie, & our Masters & their estates by force, since all faire means hath already been administered, & prevayl not.

To w<sup>ch</sup> end wee at this tyme met, & after some consultation concluded the seizure of their vessayles at their retourne from Mocha to be y<sup>e</sup> most effectuall means for their libertie, & feazable, because we expect the two shippes afores<sup>d</sup> to be on this coast. To the performance thereof wee have now sent two expresses, with Commissions to the Command<sup>r</sup> of both shippes, to put out of harbour upon receipt of the same (or so soone as the weather will permitt) the "Hopewell" to ply it off Rojapore & Carrapatam; & the "Royall Welcome" to lie before Vingurla, Dabull, & ports adjacent, for surprizall of the "Queen of Deccan" at her retourne from Mocha, being expected to land at the former port, limitting them to the 20th of September for this employment (w<sup>ch</sup> will be no hinderance to their further prosecution of the Companyes affaires) and then they are to retourne to Carwarr, to.....off w<sup>t</sup> pepper & other commodities shall be there provided for accompt of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company.

MATTHEW ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.
HENRY GARY.

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 31st of July 1662.

It hath been y<sup>e</sup> constant practice of the Govern<sup>r</sup> of this towne to abuse our Nation, whereof wee have been sensible in a higher degree then any of our predecesso<sup>r</sup>. Our last yeares imprisonment & restraynt from food, the attempt of our deathes with many other sordid abuses, cryes vengance on these infidells. And because our complaynts at home for justice cannot be heard therefore are wee y<sup>e</sup> scorne of those people, and o<sup>r</sup> priviledges and honour trampled under by force in y<sup>e</sup> absence of o<sup>r</sup> shipping. The business hath been dilated in severall consultations y<sup>e</sup> passed yeare, viz<sup>t</sup> A percell of gunns, sold in open trade by M<sup>r</sup> Henry Revington, to Mirza Amena the Governo<sup>r</sup> of this towne, 5000 rupees paid him ready money, and y<sup>e</sup> remaynder was to be paid him out of the Kings Customes, part thereof hath been so defaultt. A succeeding Governo<sup>r</sup> demaunds back the money so paid on acco<sup>t</sup> of the gunns (9 whereof were carried up to Ahmadavad & the other 15 remayning on the Marine), and instead of discharging the remaynder of the debt, would retourne all the gunns on our hands, forcing us the Companies servants to repay y<sup>e</sup> money y<sup>t</sup> was rec<sup>d</sup> by perticular person, for refusall whereof (adjudging it wholly inconsistent wth equity) wee suffered many dayes imprisonment, & other dangers y<sup>e</sup> last yeare, and for want of sustenance were forced to order our Broker Chout to give a writing for conclusion of y<sup>e</sup> business, necessity forcing us in this unhandsome manner to submit, and seeking no remedy when it is in our power, prompts them to contynue their affronts and abuses one upon the neck of another, no sooner is one acted but another hath overtaken it, so y<sup>t</sup> of our abuses there is no end. The King hearing of o<sup>r</sup> abuse, & y<sup>e</sup> reason, did a few monthes after send downe his Phirmaund to the Governo<sup>r</sup> in our behalf, that hee should finish y<sup>e</sup> business wth us according to equity. Whereupon the Governo<sup>r</sup> gave us notice hee would take the gunns, hee accordingly had them tryed, & carried them away from y<sup>e</sup> Marine, unjustly abating 5 Rup<sup>s</sup> on every maund of y<sup>e</sup> price they were first sold for, to w<sup>ch</sup> wee must submitt; but now wee came to adjust accompts wth him, hee refuseth to pay for those 9 gunns y<sup>t</sup> are at Ahmadavad, and demaunds back moneys y<sup>t</sup> have been rec<sup>d</sup> on y<sup>e</sup> accompt, threatening us this day wth violence, if wee refuse to pay back y<sup>e</sup> money. The President hereupon conveened his Councell, laid open unto them y<sup>e</sup> promises, desired their advice how they should proceed in prevention of loss to the Company, damage to themselves, abuses to our Nation. The result was, that had they means there was no order from the Company to use force, more especially since y<sup>e</sup> business was perticularly reflecting only on the Company as a bad preceedent to their future proceedings, they thought rather to winn tyme by faire proceeding wth the Governo<sup>r</sup> y<sup>t</sup> they might live peaceably untill the shippes arrivall. It was therefore concluded y<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Lambton & M<sup>r</sup> Gary should vissit the Governo<sup>r</sup>, & desire him to give a reason why, contrary to his promise & the Kings commaund, hee refused payment for y<sup>e</sup> gunns at Ahmadavad, & then if they found him to persist in his willfullness for y<sup>e</sup> repayment of the money, they were to desire him to defer the conclusion of the business untill such tyme as they had wrote unto the King & received his answer. To the first, hee replyed that hee had lately received the Kings Phirmaund to the contrary. To the next, hee would by no means consent, but would have the money paid back presently. Since nothing y<sup>t</sup> was just would prevayl wth him, the P<sup>r</sup> retourned M<sup>r</sup> Gary to desire him (since wee could neither receive money for y<sup>e</sup> gunns, nor have wee the gunns in our possession) that hee would give us a certificate that the gunns were not paid for. Neither would hee submitt to this equity. In so much y<sup>t</sup> finding wee could bring him to no reason wee subscribed the promises.

MATTHEW ANDREWES.
JOHN LAMBTON.
HENRY GARY.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 6th August 1662.

At the humble request of poore Tulcidas, a ffaithfull and industrious servant of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companies, the President conveened his Councell, presented them wth his (indeed) deplorable condition. That having lived many yeares in great repute, abounding wth riches, much respected for his ffaithfull dealing, hee is reduced now (by reason of the great debts oweing unto him by some of our Nation) to so great povertie, his condition so meane, y<sup>t</sup> the small profit hee reaped by his employm<sup>t</sup> in the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companies service (w<sup>ch</sup> is his whole dependance) is not sufficient for the subsistance of his ffamily.

Wee being verrey sensible of the truth hereof, called to memory y<sup>t</sup> many years since, when hee was in a flourishing condicion, hee had an annuity of 500 Mamodoes allowed him by the Company, w<sup>ch</sup> wee doe now againe revive, not doubting our Masters approbation thereof, since 'tis great charity, and no less then his contynnuall attendance on the Companyes affaires merritts.

Our Broker Chout Pocquer also made it his request, that whereas it hath been a constant custome for the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company to allow his horse meat, w<sup>ch</sup> hath for some yeares been omitted, y<sup>t</sup> wee would againe allow y<sup>e</sup> same, w<sup>ch</sup> wee finding to be a former custome, approved of.

MATTHEW ANDREWES.

JOHN LAMBTON.

HENRY GARY.

May it please your most Royall Majestie,

Wee the President & Councell, residing in your port of Surat, servants unto the Governour & Company of Merchants of England, trading unto these your Majesties dominions, tender unto yo<sup>r</sup> most Royall Maj<sup>tie</sup> all due respects & honour, humbly desiring that your Maje<sup>ties</sup> will be pleased to take into your Princely cogitations, that wee having many years resided in these your Maj<sup>ties</sup> dominions to y<sup>e</sup> great encrease of traffique & benefit of this yo<sup>r</sup> Maj<sup>ties</sup> port, living peaceably & trading according to such articles as have been concluded between yo<sup>r</sup> Maj<sup>ties</sup> renowned predecesso<sup>rs</sup> and our Nation, may by yo<sup>r</sup> most excellent Maj<sup>ties</sup> especiall commaund enjoy the priviledges of our Commerce, as wee have formerly done, & as wee are given to understand yo<sup>r</sup> Maj<sup>tie</sup> hath by express commaund to your Governour of this port enordered.

Now may it please yo<sup>r</sup> Maj<sup>tie</sup> to take knowledge, that some yeares past some of our Nation sold some gunns to a former Govern<sup>r</sup> of this Port, some whereof were carryed up to yo<sup>r</sup> Maj<sup>ties</sup> citty of Ahmadavad, and so much money as was rec<sup>d</sup> by our people, on accompt of the said gunns, was commaunded by yo<sup>r</sup> Maj<sup>ties</sup> Govern<sup>r</sup> of this towne, Mustapha Ckaun, to be repaid by us, and the gunns to be retourned us, so many years after sale, to the great loss & prejudice of the Proprietors contrary to equitie & the comerce of merch<sup>ts</sup>; and by reason of our refusall of a thing so unjust (and wee are assured contrary to your Maj<sup>ties</sup> Royall will) wee suffered many dayes imprisonm<sup>t</sup>, with hinderance of food coming into our howse for our sustenance.

Now, wee having been given to understand that your Maj<sup>tie</sup> hearing of the abuses given us by your Governour Mustapha Ckaun (to the great dishonour of our Nation and abuse of our persons) did send your Royall Phirmaund to your said Governour that hee should hon<sup>ably</sup> conclude this business of the gunns wth us, giving us our just due according to equitie.

But wee have hitherto found no redress answerable to your Maj<sup>ties</sup> most Royall will, and at this day are wee threatened with violence by yo<sup>r</sup> Maj<sup>ties</sup> Governour if wee pay not back moneys for those gunns y<sup>t</sup> are carried up to Ahmadavad, hee also absolutely denying to give us satisfaction for them, all which proceede from mallice & and envie because wee would not submitt to him.

Wee doe most willingly believe that this hath been acted, not only without your Maj<sup>ties</sup> knowledge, but also contrary to yo<sup>r</sup> Royall will & pleasure, and therefore earnestly entreat that your Maj<sup>tie</sup> will be pleased to impose such strict Commaunds upon yo<sup>r</sup> Governour & Ministers here that wee may receive full satisfaction, both for the gunns here and those at Ahmadavad, that wee may trade freely, & that our persons may not be endangered, as they are, at the will of your Govern<sup>r</sup>, and that a more due and just observance may be had to y<sup>e</sup> performance of your Maj<sup>ties</sup> Royall Phirmaunds in reference to this business, w<sup>ch</sup> will be acknowledged for a speciall act of yo<sup>r</sup> justice, and eternize your name in the world amoungst the most glorious Princes. So desiring the Almighty to encrease yo<sup>r</sup> Maj<sup>ties</sup> honour, content & happiness, wee remaine

Dated in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 2<sup>d</sup> August 1662.

Yo<sup>r</sup> Maj<sup>ties</sup> &c.
MATTHEW ANDREWES.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 18th August 1662.

The President being this day informed by Chout Locquer, made knowne to his Council that our present difference wth this Governour was not occasioned by any demaunds on acco<sup>nt</sup> of the gunns, but for moneys due for Custome of goods appertaining to perticular men, & entered by Deoldas in the Companyes name. This Councell taking into consideration so great an abuse offered to the Company, and y<sup>e</sup> effects thereof dayly appearing in the affronts they receive from this Governour, thought fitt to appeare before the Gov<sup>r</sup> to adjust the accompt of Customes, & make knowne the proceedings of the Broker. In performance whereof it was manifest also y<sup>t</sup> the said Deoldas, without our privitie or order, had received from the Governour 2500 rupees on a percell of lead sold by us, giving us no knowledg thereof, ffor w<sup>ch</sup> his unwarrantable actions wee delivered him to the justice of the Govern<sup>r</sup> to cleare accompts with him, and at present his further censure was suspended by this Councell.

---

Our Respected ffriend Cap<sup>t</sup> Thomas Harman,

Wee have after a tedious attendance upon our enemies, got an opportunitie to lade you for England, not without some hazzard both of the shipp & goods, the necessitie of the tyme forcing it upon us, though by Gods Providence & your extraordinary care all hath been preserved. And it shall be our prayers y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> like good success may accompany you to your designed Port in health & safetie. When wee shall desire you wth our service to present to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company the Pacquet herewith delivered you together with the box of bookes & writings, of w<sup>ch</sup> wee desire there may be a perticular care taken to preserve them from wett. Wee are cautioned by our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters to advise you to be carefull y<sup>t</sup> in y<sup>e</sup> terme of your voyage you take heed and avoid the company of all Ffrench shippes as well as Dutch, not knowing but they may be our enemies also: therefore it will concerne you to be exceeding watchfull, & to stand upon your guard. M<sup>r</sup> Nurse hath been a servant to the Company for these 8 yeares and hath now leave to retourne home to his relations. Wee commend him to your civill reception, and y<sup>t</sup> you afford him accommodation in the great Cabin, according as in Charterpartie it is indented for y<sup>e</sup> Companies ffactors. So committing you to the protection of the Almighty, beseeching him to grant you a happie voyage, wee rest

Your very loving Ffriends,
GEO: OXINDEN.
JOHN GOODIER.
GERALD AUNGIER.
RAND<sup>o</sup> TAYLOR.

Dummas at Surat rivers mouth, Sept<sup>r</sup> 10th, 1666.

Respected Ffreind Cap<sup>t</sup> Robert Lord,

Your late coming over from Diô hath much perplext us to thinke on the great hazzard you were in of being surprised whilst you were lading and otherwise busied in your dispatch. But blessed be God the time is now come that all things are happily finished and you in a readiness to saile. Wherefore wee herewith deliver you our pacquet to our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters, together with the tender of our service, desiring you, the winde & tide permitting, to waigh anchor & set saile, shaping your course directly to the port of London, where you are to deliver our aforesaid pacquet and cargo of goods to the Right Wor<sup>ll</sup> the Governour, the Wor<sup>ll</sup> the Dep<sup>tie</sup>, & the rest of the Committee for affaires of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> East India Company. Wee have one thing to advise you as a caution received from our Masters in Commaund. That wee require all Commaunders of their shippes that they touch not at S<sup>t</sup> Hellena these perrillous times, except by some unusuall accident they shall be forced in through great necessitie, & also that they doe not strive to speake with any shipe at Sea, but endeavour to avoid them, and that by no means you trust the Ffrench, who it is certainly believed will be as open an enemy before you come home, as the Hollander is at present, but more mischeivous: all w<sup>ch</sup> having for'warnd you of in obedience to order, wee have not further to add, but that the great & good God, who alone is able to preserve, keepe you in safetie out of y<sup>e</sup> hands of your enemies, and be your conduct to your desired port in health and safetie peace, are the heartie prayers of

Your very loving Ffreinds,
GEO: OXINDEN.
JOHN GOODIER.
GERALD AUNGIER.
RAND: TAYLOR.

Dummas at Surat rivers mouth y<sup>e</sup> 25th Sept<sup>r</sup> 1666.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 30th of Sept<sup>r</sup> 1666.

Having by Gods good Providence dispatched for England full laden the shippes "Affrican" the 10th, and the "Saint George" the 25th of this month, the enemie not appearing upon the coast, wee hope by the Almightyes conduct they will arrive in safetie to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company. This great care being over, wee tooke a calculation of what goods wee have provided for the shipp promised to be sent us out from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, & daylie expected by us; and finding wee have remayning a compleat cargo for her to y<sup>e</sup> amount of as much Tunnage as our Masters promise to send us; for y<sup>e</sup> procury whereof we have runn them in debt for moneys taken up at interest. Wee tooke it into consideration, and concluded for the aforesaid reasons to put a stopp to our investments in all places untill wee shall receive orders from the Company to make a further provission of goods: except some druggs, which are here at this time to be procured & not at any other season of the yeare.

GEO: OXINDEN.
JOHN GOODIER.
GERALD AUNGIER.
RAND<sup>o</sup> TAYLOR.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 15th of October 1666.

The ill disposition of the Companyes affaires in their ffactories of Callicut & Carwarr occationed in the one by our enemies the Dutch, in y<sup>e</sup> other by the intestine broils & commotions of the Deccannees, arriving our knowledg the 13th instant by advices from Callicut dated the 23<sup>d</sup> of June, & from Hubely dated y<sup>e</sup> 5th of y<sup>e</sup> passed [month, wee met together to consult and advise for y<sup>e</sup> safetie & securitie of our masters Estates and their servants in those ffactoryes. And for as much as wee have had divers complaints from Carwarr that Rustum Jemah the Chief Lord of that Port, a most perfidious person, or his sonns & servants Governours of the towne by him substituted, have frequently been at them for loans of money, & in such a commaunding stile, that they feared upon deniall the Companyes estate would be forced from them: for the securitie of w<sup>ch</sup> they left the port & retired into the country to Hubely, a towne out of said Rustum Jemahs jurisdiction; where also they remaine not secure by reason of the troubles in those parts. And now Sevage is got lose againe & abroad wth an army of 5000 horse, there are greater dangers to be expected. Wherefore considering how great a stock they have, all in reddie moneys that hath layen dead these two yeares, neer 5000 Rupees, when wee are necessitated to take up moneys at interest, the great danger it is in, the inconsiderable benefitt the Company have reaped from the ffactory, w<sup>ch</sup> in some yeares doth vend but a small quantitie of our Europe commodities and at prices very little exceeding w<sup>t</sup> wee could sell them for here; on the other side what commodities have been bought there for our Europe marketts by much dearer then they have elsewhere been procured, these considerations are motives sufficient for the drawing thence the Comp<sup>as</sup> estate and ffactors for the present, and the neerest and securest place for them to retire to is Goa, w<sup>ch</sup> to effect, in regard they upon the place will be best able to contrive for the securitie of the Comp<sup>as</sup> estate, wee have left it to them, either to remitt it by Exc<sup>a</sup> to Sign<sup>r</sup> Joan de Prado in Goa, if bills are to be procured, or to accompany it themselves thither, or otherwise as shall seeme in their judgments best, being very cautious y<sup>t</sup> the people have no knowledge of their designe and intentions to desert y<sup>e</sup> place.

As nerely doth it concerne us to provide for the ffactory at Callicut, where our enemies the Hollanders their nere neighbours have been so prevalent upon the Samorin, that fearing the force of their armes, hee did solemnely oblige himselfe to send our ffactors out of his country upon the Eng<sup>sh</sup> ship that they expected there this month, the Governour of the place assuring them y<sup>t</sup> if the time prefixt was not complied with by the Samorin, it would occasion a generall breach, w<sup>ch</sup> might prove the ruine of their country, w<sup>ch</sup> they would not hazzard on so slender an account as y<sup>e</sup> preservation of two persons (not regarding the Comp<sup>as</sup> estate there). The Moores also in y<sup>e</sup> towne incense the Governour against them, for y<sup>t</sup> the Dutch will give no passes to their vessails so long as our ffactors abide among them. Now if the Samorin (who is lately dead), upon whose invitation and promise not to admitt of the Dutch wee settled there, a Prince reputed potent, was wrought upon to condescend to such dishonourable termes, worse may be expected from his successo<sup>r</sup>, that now is, a man both deafe and dumb, swayed wholly by his Ministers, whome a little money will corrupt to betray even the publike interest of their country; that wee have cause to feare the loss of the Companyes estate, with the liberties of their servants. Wherefore wee have in this extremitie cast about projecting all wayes and means possible to bring thence the Comp<sup>as</sup> estate, and cannot apprehend any y<sup>t</sup> may be undertooke with securitie, for our enemies border so nere upon them on both hands at Cananore and Cochin, that they have alwaies vessails either great or small riding in y<sup>e</sup> very road of Callicut, to see that no pepper or Cashia Lignum be transported thence, nor opium or cotton brought in, w<sup>ch</sup> being the only commodities and merchandizes of that coast, the Dutch have appropriated to themselves, denying all others to meddle therewith, even the Natives whose blind ignorance cannot foresee into what thraldome they are runing by touning us out of their country and admitting our enemies. Nor can wee perswade the owners of any Jounks belonging to this port, y<sup>t</sup> voyage downe, to receive our ..... on freight, if any opportunitie should present to lade them; they are so fearefull of the Dutch, who engage them by their passes as strictly as they doe the Mallabarrs that they shall bring no pepper &c<sup>a</sup> upon forfeiture of shipp and goods. So y<sup>t</sup> finding ourselves at a stand, wee can thinke of no other then dispatching away our advices to the ffactors there to secure the goods the best they can, and to retire up into the country, if they apprehend any danger from the Dutch. Nay further, doe require upon an occation so urgent and of such concerne as is this (the loss of the Comp<sup>as</sup> estate, of their owne liberties, and the trade of that port which is y<sup>e</sup> only place wee have to trust to for pepper), that they goe up to the King and present him with the Rajahs about him, not being over-sparing as the case now stands: acquainting them wee were invited to a trade there by the late Samorin, who declared hee would not permitt the Dutch to settle, and now to tourne us out and admitt them our enemies was an action not suitable with so great a Prince. But if nothing will prevaile, but according to the promise the late Samorin made to y<sup>e</sup> Dutch they would force them to leave the country, then to sollicite for protection of themselves and the Comp<sup>as</sup> estate, untill such time as wee could send our shipp to fetch them off: and moreover, that the estate wth their persons may be secured untill such time, and the Samorin made to know with what friends hee parts and what ill neighbours hee is entertaining, together with his predecesso<sup>r</sup> often solicitations to the President to send those Factors thither. The President will write to him and other eminent persons about him w<sup>ch</sup> is all y<sup>t</sup> can be thought upon concerning this business and concluded at the jouncture of time.

The sending of some diligent and industrious person to Persia was also propounded, to take the charge of the Companyes business there, more especially to secure us these times of warr the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> land advices, w<sup>ch</sup> by the neglect of Mr. Fflower et<sup>a</sup> there resident, have frequently been detained from us so long, that wee have for want thereof been a stand with the Companyes business, to the great impediment of their affaires. But by reason that those of the Comp<sup>as</sup> servants, who are capable of such an employment are so few, that they cannot well be spared hence, and the danger they must runn of their persons by reason of our enemies sufficient to deterr any from undertaking it, it was resolved to propound the business to Mr. George Davis, an ingenious man, who came out in y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> service as Purser of the "Vine," and being now out of employment, its thought upon conditions of a reasonable sallary hee may accept of it; which ended this Consultation subscribed by

GEORGE OXINDEN.

JOHN GOODIER.

GERA<sup>a</sup> AUNGIER.

RAND<sup>o</sup> TAYLOR.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 20th of October 1666.

The happie newes of the arrivall of the Companyes shipp retourne at Goa on the 24th of the passed month being made knowne to us by a letter rec<sup>d</sup> yesterday from Cap<sup>t</sup> Thomas Stanton her Commander, intimating that it was the Comp<sup>as</sup> order in case hee could not reach this port by the 1st of September, hee should put for Goa and expect our orders. Also y<sup>t</sup> the Company did expect the ship should be dispatched from these ports sometime in November or y<sup>e</sup> beginning of October. But failing to send us the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> letters of advice, whereby wee might regulate ourselves, and send him such orders as wee should derive from their directions, it was speedily requisite that in this straight wee should consult, determine and send such orders as wee finde best suting with this affaire in the securitie of the shipp and stocke from the enemy: and after due debate, finding too great difficulty, hazzard and adventure, and no possibilitie either in bringing her carg<sup>a</sup> from Goa or sending goods thither to relade for her England, by which obstruction should the shipp remaine there the whole yeare, shee would become unserviceable by the loss of her men, that would be inveigled away by the Portugalls or destroyed by that pestilentious aire. Wherefore being truly informed y<sup>t</sup> not any of the enemies shippes have hitherto appeared upon this coast, having in our warehouses a sufficient carg<sup>a</sup> for her lading, wee conclude to send our orders to the Cap<sup>t</sup> to bring his shipp to this rivers mouth, in case hee shall upon strict inquisition be assured y<sup>t</sup> there are no shippes of y<sup>e</sup> enemie in Vingurla. And when here arrived wee hope by Gods blessing in a few dayes to dispatch her. And that the Cap<sup>t</sup> may have the most speedie advice of this our result, wee shall dispatch away our sloop tomorrow with our orders recommended to the care of M<sup>r</sup> Jer. Griffin, late Commander of the "Royall Welcome," whose readiness to serve the Company in so hazzardous a voyage wee must ever remember.

GEO. OXINDEN.
JOHN GOODIER.
GERALD AUNGIER.
RAND<sup>o</sup> TAYLOR.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 3<sup>d</sup> of December 1666.

S<sup>r</sup> Gervase Lucas, Knight and Baronet, Governo<sup>r</sup> of the Island of Bombaim and Commander in Chiefe of all His Majesties Fforces in India, having brought out a letter of credit from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> East India Company our masters for y<sup>e</sup> payment of 1500£ to him for His Majesties occations, w<sup>ch</sup> letter being accompanied with one from S<sup>r</sup> Gervase of date y<sup>e</sup> 9th of the passed month, brought us by M<sup>r</sup> Ball who was empowered to receive y<sup>e</sup> valew of said summ in Dollors, which money hee expects should be accompanied to Bombaim by some trustie persons appointed by us, declaring the risque to be ours untill y<sup>e</sup> money be safely delivered him. To which wee demured for y<sup>e</sup> following reasons. Ffirst, by reason of an error in y<sup>e</sup> calculation of the Dollors, w<sup>ch</sup> hee computeth thus, the Seville to bee worth 215 rupees p. 100, the Mexico 213; when by the standard of this place the Seville be of valew but 214 and the Mexico 211 rupees per 100 Dollors. Secondly, our inabilityie to procure so many dollors in specie, none being permitted to pass y<sup>e</sup> Mint without coinage into the currant money of the country rupees. Lastly, our running the adventure of the money to Bombaim, for w<sup>ch</sup> wee have no order from the Company, and in case of miscarriage the loss may fall upon our owne heads. Wherefore wee made our addresses by letter of y<sup>e</sup> 16th of said month, desiring S<sup>r</sup> Gervase to take the aforesaid reasons under consideration, and in respect to the want of dollors to accept of rupees or chequeens, and in case hee shall still impose the adventure on us, y<sup>t</sup> the moneys may be drawne from us at severall times, y<sup>t</sup> if a loss happen it may be the less considerable. To w<sup>ch</sup> wee having now by this letter of the 24th of the past month received his possitive answere to furnish him with the afores<sup>d</sup> summ upon our adventure without further dispute by changing y<sup>e</sup> specie, or by exchanges as wee should best contrive, wee conclude it requisite to prevent misunderstandings between us, and such ill consequences as may from thence arrise of prejudice to the Companyes affaires, to ensure said money unto him on the Comp<sup>as</sup> accompt, and to procure what exchanges wee can to Bassein at y<sup>e</sup> easiest loss, w<sup>ch</sup> was the present import of this Consultation.

GEO. OXINDEN.
JOHN GOODIER.
GER. AUNGIER.
RAND<sup>o</sup> TAYLOR.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 5th of September 1667.

The Councell being conven'd, the President made knowne that M<sup>r</sup>. Henry Gary, the present Governour of Bombaim, had by his letter of the 4th of July passed, directed to M<sup>r</sup>. Gerald Aungier, appointed and ordered him to acquaint the President that hee expected the President should forbear giving any more passes to these people for the secure navigating their Jounks, but should send all such persons as required them of him downe to y<sup>e</sup> said Governour to receive them from him.

Which commaund proceeding from one who had been many yeares a servant to the Company, and knowes full well the prejudice would befall them in the transaction of their affaires here, should wee be deprived of that libertie and freedome, it would seeme the more strange to us did wee not know him a person ill affected to the Companyes interest, and an instigator of S<sup>r</sup>. Gervase Lucas, to make y<sup>e</sup> like demaund by a second hand.

To be deprived of a practice so ancient, as from the first settlement of a trade here, were a great debasement to our repute and creditte, nor without it may wee expect to keepe these people in a good decorum, for y<sup>t</sup> hath ever been an awe upon them, engaging them to a civill abearance towards us, and much conduced to the Companyes benefit in y<sup>e</sup> recovering and getting in of debts, w<sup>ch</sup> would have otherwise proved desperate, and w<sup>ch</sup> is not of the least consequence, but to be feared. That should wee now be deprived of this priviledg, the loss of our reputations here may cause this King to nipp in the budd those great immunities and priviledges lately granted us so much to the Companyes benefitt.

These considerations (with many other dependent) brought us to this conclusion. That as the said Governour had laid his commaunds upon us by a second hand, viz<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup>. Gerald Aungier, hee should also receive our answere from him. That wee could by no meanes lay downe so ancient a practise, so much consistent with the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> interrest, which his sacred Majestie was graciously pleased to owne when the shipp "Retourne" came out, when the Company addressing themselves upon advice from us that M<sup>r</sup>. Humphry Cooke in the time of his Government did impose upon us to the obstructing their affaires, hee was graciously pleased to retourne them answere by the Right Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Lord Arlington, Principal Secretary of Estate, that effectuall directions should be given to the respective Governour or Governo<sup>rs</sup> of Bombaym that they act nothing to the Comp<sup>as</sup> prejudice, or contrary to their Charter.

That living under the Government of these people wee could not refuse to give passes to such as demanded them; and therefore, except it appeare to be our Kings Majesties immediate command, or the Company give us their order to y<sup>e</sup> contrary (either of w<sup>ch</sup> as in duty bound wee shall readily obey and conforme ourselves to), wee cannot lay downe this so ancient a custome and priviledg. And therefore wee doe entreat the Governour to forbear urging us further in this business untill wee shall receive commands from Europe concerning it, promising in y<sup>e</sup> interim not to constraine these people to take our passes, nor be profuse in giving them untill wee are urgently moved to it, which wee hope hee will finde so reasonable that wee shall have his assent for the present.

GEO. OXINDEN.
JOHN GOODIER.
GER. AUNGIER.
RAND<sup>o</sup> TAYLOR.

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 17th of January 1667.

Our care hath not been wanting in contriving means to draw off the Companys estate from Callicut, where it lies in so great danger, to be devoured by the Samorin, and so much y<sup>e</sup> more by the absence of M<sup>r</sup>. Smeaton and M<sup>r</sup>. Barbor from the ffactory, whome wee can by no means perswade to retourne thither for its securitie, and by that also was our contrivance in Aprill last for y<sup>e</sup> bringing it hither upon Mallabar vessails overthrowne, while they remaine at a distance and write us tis possible to be done; when they never so much as used their endeavours to effect it. A merchant of Callicut this day presenting himselfe to the President, proffered to bring off the said goods in vessails that hee would procure there, upon reasonable termes of frieght in August next, and hee proposed without difficultie, provided the ffactors would deliver him the goods out of the Warehouses:

Which proposition the President discussing with his Councell, was well approved, and it was concluded the safest meanes wee had to secure the Comp<sup>a</sup>s estate from falling into y<sup>e</sup> hands of the Samorin, or Dutch, and timely possessing us with it here. Wherefore they generally accepted his proffer, and engaged him to put it in execution, sending along wth him a Bannian to assist in y<sup>e</sup> business and negotiate betweene him and our ffactors; to whome wee have wrote possitively to retourne to Callicut, and deliver the goods out of the Warehouses, lading them on board such vessails as y<sup>e</sup> said merchant shall produce:

Declaring that if nothing that wee have wrote will prevaile with them to retourne thither, yet if they will send a servant or other person whome they can trust, to deliver the goods out of the warehouses, wee will indemnifie them from any further loss shall happen to y<sup>e</sup> goods: but if they shall still contynnue obstinate, and not put in execution these our orders, if any loss befall the said estate, either by seizure of the Samorin or otherwise, wee protest they are the cause thereof, by flying from their ffactory and disobeying our orders.

GEO: OXINDEN.

JOHN GOODIER.

GER: AUNGIER.

RAND: TAYLOR.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 14th May 1668.

The happie arrivall of the "Bantam" Pink from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup> at this rivers mouth the 7th instant, as it is a season unusuall and altogether unexpected, so gave us great cause of joy, bringing us the glad tydings of peace, and our Masters advices of the 26th August and 4th October 1667, after wee had sat downe some time in a deepe mellancholly for want of their Commands by way of Aleppo, all shiping being returned from Persia this monzone. That had not this vessaile arrived thus seasonably wth their orders, wee should have been sadly perplexed, and could not have complied with them in y<sup>e</sup> provission of severall goods by these their advices required for the lading home those shippes they promise to send us to be here in August or Septemb<sup>r</sup>. And although wee have kept a contynnued investment on foot in most places (that wee might as well keepe the weavers to us, as support the credit of the Company in these late times of warr, when wee have the Ffrench settled here, and competitors with us in our trade as well as the Dutch) yet wee finde it fall short of the tunnage the Company designe us, w<sup>ch</sup> consideration occasioned this Consultation, where it was concluded that if wee doe not now commence our investments for the shipping that shall be sent us in the yeare 1669 wee shall not be capable of furnishing the Company with such sortments of clothing as they usually require, nor compleet the tunnage wee may expect from them ; seing the Ffrench have great investmente on foote, and are a great obstruction to us, they buying the same sorts of goods as wee doe. Wherefore wee resolve to enter speedily thereon and give our immediate orders for the provission of Chints and Quilts in Ahmadavad for the following yeare (wee having our complement ready for the expected shippes) this being the season y<sup>e</sup> the cloth is prepared to receive the tincture.

GEORGE OXINDEN.

JOHN GOODIER.

GERALD AUNGIER.

RAND<sup>o</sup> TAYLOR.

The Phirmaan granted by Shaw Orung Zeeb to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, Anno 1667, translated out of Persian :—

Bee it knowne to the Governo<sup>r</sup>, Prefects and Officers of affaires of the Port of Surat, present, and to come, confiding in our Royall favour. That at this present tyme joyned to happiness, certaine notice is come to our eares, that whereas formerly the rate for Customes of goods belonging to the merchants of the Dutch Nation was on everie hundred rupees three and a halfe rupees, and afterwards having an eye to the profitable condition of y<sup>e</sup> said people two rupees was only ordered. And whereas the merchants of the English Nation have made their request that y<sup>e</sup> rates for the Customes of their goods may be confirmed according to the Dutch constitution and that a Phirmaan may pass from our excellent and noble Court that the goods and merchandizes w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> said merchants having brought in Bengala, and in the Royal seat of our kingdome Eberaband, and other countryes and great cittyes, doe transport by the way of Berhanpore and Ahmadavad, to sell them in y<sup>e</sup> Bunder of Surat, may not be stopped by any person in their passage on pretence of taking Rhadaryes, or other dutyes, or on any prohibition whatsoever. And in case any of the goods belonging to the aforesaid persons be robb'd in y<sup>e</sup> way, that the officers and guards of the said place, doe in the recovery of said goods make all diligent search. And whereas a petition was directed to our exalted throne, upon the sight of a letter w<sup>ch</sup> Ghyas Aldien Khaan, Govern<sup>r</sup> of Surat, hath written unto the trusty protectour of our riches ; the repose and glorie of our Kingdome ; the pillar of our Councello<sup>rs</sup> ; emblems of honour ; the flower of our Princes high in dignity ; the Provident disposer of our kingdomes and estates ; the open way to riches and plentie ; worthy of all grace ; a rewarder of all degrees of men ; a Lord of pitty ; the marke of felicity ; Chancellour of our Kingdomes and sole manager of our affaires Jafer Khaan ; to this effect, that in case any favour be shewed to the English Nation (who are well wishers to the riches of our Court, by their services w<sup>ch</sup> they have performed to our benefitt, have so approved themselves formerly and hitherto in an oblidging manner) it will be well deserved by them. And whereas the instant desire of our minds knowne in truth, and the perfection of our heart, established in justice, is expended on the quiet state and universall benefitt of all people, at the agreeable petition of the merchants or the English Nation, having forgiven them one rupee of the summ of three rupees (the accustomed dutyes of their goods), I have now ordered them to pay but two rupees. Therefore from this tyme forward on everie hundred rupees valew of goods belonging to the English Nation two rupees must be taken in the aforesaid Bunder. And the Governours, Captains of guards, Leiftenants of countryes, Guards of Passes, and the Highwayes of the Provinces and Great Cittyes aforesaid, shall not give any molestation or opposition to the afores<sup>d</sup> merchants on pretence of Rhadaryes, or other demands whatsoever, w<sup>ch</sup> are prohibited in our Court and high Pallace. And in case, in any place, the least part of their goods and merchandize be stolen, that in y<sup>e</sup> recovery of them all strict search and enquiry be made, and the theives together wth the goods stolen being apprehended, the goods may be delivered to the owners and the thieves to punishm<sup>t</sup>. In this affaire let them observe all extraordinary diligence towards our Court, and be very circumspect and cautious to abstaine from the breach hereof. Written the 11th day of Maharum in the tenth yeare of our high Raigne, which is our 26th June 1667.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 14th July 1668.

This Councell being mett, in order to a preparation and settlement of the Companyes affaires, against the arrivall of their expected shipping, now (by Gods blessing) nere approaching, the President in the first place insisted on y<sup>e</sup> bringing up the pepper from Callicut, as a thing to be performed by the first opportunitie possible, it tending so much to the dispatch of the shippes for England. To w<sup>ch</sup> purpose the shipp "Little Charles," now at Goa, is appointed to y<sup>t</sup> service, but for as much as the ffactors M<sup>r</sup> Smeaton and M<sup>r</sup> Barbor have deserted the ffactory of Callicut, leaving the Companyes estate there as a prey, so y<sup>t</sup> wee know not (after our many and strict injunctions for their returne thither) whether the shipp may finde them resident there to lade y<sup>e</sup> pepper on board: and their misbehaviour to the Natives have rendered them so odious y<sup>t</sup> wee have been often desired to place others in their home, y<sup>t</sup> so the Comp<sup>as</sup> business might not be prejudiced, w<sup>ch</sup> wee should have long since performed had not y<sup>e</sup> warrs hindered, being sufficiently induc'd thereto from the affrontes and indignities passed upon us the President and Councell, in contemning our orders, and writing to us in a stile so scurrilous and provoking. That as well in this respect as in y<sup>e</sup> disposure of the "Charles" her stocke, and the tymely settling of some ffacto<sup>rs</sup> downe the coast, in such convenient places as shall be thought advantageous to make an early provission of pepper et<sup>a</sup> before the Ffrench settle, who wee are assured, when their shippes expected in Sept<sup>r</sup> arrive, they will settle in places all where that commoditie is procurable, as wee already finde they have their investments of cloth et<sup>a</sup> in all and singular the ffactoryes and townes where wee are providing to the very great prejudice of our masters, by the high prizing, scarcity, and untrue dimentions of the severall sorts of clothing, in comparison to what conditions wee had brought the weavers before their settlement here. These considerations and the urgency of this business press us to an extraordinary dispatch, and doth require a person of trust and experience in the management of it, and wee have made choice of M<sup>r</sup> Rand<sup>o</sup> Taylor, one of our Councell, whose experience by severall voyages downe the coast, and settlement there, renders him most able for this employment, to dispose of the "Charles" her stocke, and settle ffactoryes downe the coast, as hee shall finde it convenient; and principally bring off the pepper from Callicut, and settle that ffactory, and what else shall be found necessary in our instructions. And for y<sup>e</sup> tymely dispatch of the business wee have prevailed with him (who was alwaies prompt to adventure his person whenever the Companyes occations required) to take his passage on our hoigh for Goa, about y<sup>e</sup> new moone in August, and there to shipp himselfe upon the "Charles" and prosecute such orders as hee shall receive from us, and to his assistance and for y<sup>e</sup> settlement of ffactoryes wee shall send some ffactors to accompany him. These were concluded in this Consultation and subscribed by

GEO. OXINDEN.

JOHN GOODIER.

GERALD AUNGIER.

---

Consultation in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 31st July 1668.

The President having rec<sup>d</sup> severall letters from Governo<sup>r</sup> Gary, more particularly 2 of them of date y<sup>e</sup> 3<sup>d</sup> and 11th July, concerning the Companies Generall Affaires, hee conveyed his Councell, and caused the said letter to be read. The first, treating wholly about our sending downe the first shipp wee shall dispeed for England, to touch at y<sup>e</sup> Port of Bombaym, where hee promised shee shall remayne not longer then 12 houres, to receive those advises indispensably necessary to be sent His Majestie by the first conveyance, whereby wee shall doe such an eminent peece of service, y<sup>t</sup> all our form<sup>r</sup> cannot parrallel, and will make amends for y<sup>t</sup> sudden and hastie departure of the "Returne" from India without S<sup>r</sup> Jervases advices. These wth many other rhetoricall expressions accumulated and pressed home upon the President, wee having well considered, wee conclude the shipp in her passage home shall wait upon him, if wee have not possitive orders from the Company to y<sup>e</sup> contrary, or something more then wee can imagine at this distance interveen.

In his next hee makes demand of the 1000<sup>l</sup>. hee hath advise by the "Charles" that wee are to furnish his Majestie with, out of the Comp<sup>as</sup> cash, for y<sup>e</sup>. supply of his Garrison of Bombaym. To y<sup>e</sup>. w<sup>ch</sup> it was concluded answere should be given that wee are readie to pay the money to his orders, in so many Dollors (of  $\frac{1}{2}$  Seville &  $\frac{1}{2}$  Mexico) as at 5<sup>s</sup>. 6<sup>d</sup>. p. Dollor shall amount to 1000£ ster<sup>g</sup>., w<sup>ch</sup> is according to the Comp<sup>as</sup> order, or if hee please in so many rupees as y<sup>e</sup>. said Dollors are here worth.

The receipt of some letters by the "Charles" directed to S<sup>r</sup>. Gervase Lucas and others to himselfe, from the Court, hath so elevated him. Now (hee says) hee sees His Majesties interesse is like to take roote and flourish, that hee cannot be defective in a point so much tending to His Maj<sup>ties</sup> hon<sup>r</sup>. as not to have his authoritie acknowledged to reside at Bombaym, w<sup>ch</sup> must no longer be disputed, and hopes it will not be ill resented that hee renewes his demands concerning the passes, w<sup>ch</sup> though it hath layen dormant a while, is not deceased: and doubts not but our zeale to His Maj<sup>ties</sup> grandeur will encline us to acquiesce therein. Our passes were indeed sommond by him the last yeare, when wee let him know (what before hee well understood) how prejudiciall it would be to the Comp<sup>as</sup> affaires here, yet wee would be so observant as not to contradict His Majesties orders, and declared then to relinquish our right to them if hee had His Majesties Commission for it, but untill hee had such, wee entreated him to forbear troubleing us. But hee to shew his owne grandeur, and to lessen our esteeme with these people, not only renewes his demands of the passes from us, but (unknowne to us) hath wrote letters in Persian to the Governour, Shawbund., and all the merchants in the towne who are owners of Jounks, commanding them to fetch their passes from him, in whome the supreme power resides; that His Maj<sup>ties</sup> intended to make the Port of Bombaym the flourishingst port in India, and that hee is setting out an Armada to scour the coasts from pirats. These his letters have put the towne in an uproare, and raised such jealousies in the Kings Ministers, that wee have been often sent for by y<sup>e</sup>. Governo<sup>r</sup>. and upbraided, that wee who had received such signall favours and immunities from the King, and enjoyed a peaceable and flourishing trade in this his port and other his dominions so many yeares, were now destroying this port to set up one of our owne. Telling us how ill the King would resent this business, wondering very much y<sup>t</sup> hee should set out an Armada to scour the seas, who never desired any such kindness from him. Nor would the Governour believe, but hee was revolted and set up for himselfe; and those his Armada were pirats intended to robb the Jounks of the Kings port. But the President did assure him hee had no such intentions, nor could such a thing be. To w<sup>ch</sup> the Governour hastily retorted what (saith hee) cannot bee? Did you never heare of a sonne who put his ffather in prizon? Hee was very inquisitive after the situation of the island, its bigness; what townes and howses; how inhabited, but more especially after the fortifications: being tould by the man who brought the letters that they had built a castle, w<sup>ch</sup> wee would not understand, but palliated the business what might be. And after y<sup>t</sup> the President had urgently prest him to let the merchants fetch their passes from thence, telling him that hee being the Kings Minister, it would be rather safer for them then if they rec<sup>d</sup> them of us. Hee dismiss us for y<sup>t</sup> time, telling us the business was of no small consequence, and would highly incense the King. And not being satisfied with our evading his discourse about their building fortifications, hee sent the Pattamarr that brought his letters wth his Broker home to our howse to justifie it.

This past hee summons all the Kings Officers and the merchants of the towne to the Kings Durbarr, where when they had consulted about y<sup>e</sup> business, wee were sent for againe. The Govern<sup>r</sup> then asking the Presid<sup>t</sup> who M<sup>r</sup> Gary was? hee told him hee was a person of honour, and the Kings Governo<sup>r</sup> of the island. Then hee askt whether hee were greater y<sup>a</sup> wee? the President answered, yea, as himselfe and the Kings Ministers were superiour to the merchants of the towne. Yet some of the merchants knowing him, ceased not set him at naught with much earnestness, declaring they would receive none of his passes, although wee often prest them to it, as a thing that might conduce more to their peaceable navigation, then if they rec<sup>d</sup> ours. But nothing that wee could plead for it would prevaile with them, they telling us that wee in our articles had oblided to give them passes here, and as wee had contynnued so to doe even to this day, so would they still expect them from us while wee remayne in their port. To w<sup>ch</sup> the President answered that when those articles were made there was no other interress in these parts but the Comp<sup>as</sup>; but now there is another of the Kings, w<sup>ch</sup> ought to have y<sup>e</sup> greater respect, and to w<sup>ch</sup> wee must submitt. But this swayd not any thing wth them, but to those articles they would still bind us while wee reside and trade in their country they would goe no further for their passes. The Governo<sup>r</sup> telling us should they submitt to it, tomorrow the Dutch would send them to Batavia, and the Ffrench to Madagascar for their passes. And if you shall object (said they) that wee send to Goa for the Portugall passes, 'tis because they have none of their people reside in our country for trade, if they did wee would make them give us passes here. To conclude, the Governour first, in behalfe of the King and port, and the Shawbunder for the merchants, gave us this possitive answere. That as they had ever rec<sup>d</sup> their passes from us in this port, so would they still demand them, and if wee refused to give them, they would send their vessells to sea without them; where if in their navigating any Jounk or y<sup>e</sup> least boat did receive any disturbance from any of our nation, they bid us looke to it, for they would have full satisfaction from us. And then the Kings intelligencer required our possitive answere y<sup>t</sup> hee might write our resolutions up to the King. But foreseeing the danger of the Kings displeasure, and the hazzard of the Comp<sup>as</sup> estate thereby the Presid<sup>t</sup> desired the Govern<sup>r</sup>, the intelligencer et<sup>a</sup> to suspend their resolution of advising the King of this business untill hee had wrote to the Governour of Bombaym, and used his endeavours wth him, declaring this was newly happened, and without his knowledg, w<sup>ch</sup> being granted wee tooke our leave. Since they have been enquiring very narrowly after the condition of the island, and the Kings intelligencer sent the President word y<sup>t</sup> hee must advise the King of their ffortifying, least hee suffer under the Kings displeasure as his predecessour had done for neglecting it.

By all that wee have here collected, 'tis perspicuous that this King and his Ministers have a jealous eye upon His Majesties island and port of Bombaym, and will have farr greater (wee pray God it extend not to y<sup>e</sup> loss of it, and our trade in his dominions) when he shall come to read those immature unseasonable letters of Governo<sup>r</sup> Garys sent to His Ministers here, in a tyme when the place is not in a condition to be defended against the armes of so powerful a King, bordering upon them, from whose country they are stored with all manner of provisions. Nor can wee imagine w<sup>t</sup> future troubles this may bring upon us in our persons, wee must certainly expect great in the Comp<sup>as</sup> affaires. So that having fully debated this business, wee conclude to send Governo<sup>r</sup>. Gary a narrative of these proceedings that hee may see into w<sup>t</sup> a labyrinth of troubles hee hath involv'd us; endangering the Comp<sup>as</sup> estate and priviledges, and (wee fear) His Maj<sup>ties</sup> island; and to entreat him once more not to mollest us and obstruct the course of our trade; but to deferr his pretences to the passes to a more convenient opportunitie, unless hee have His Maj<sup>ties</sup> possitive order to Command us to lay them downe, to w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall most humbly submitt, being readie to sufferr all manner of wayes rather then disobey His Majestie. Desiring him to send us that clause w<sup>ch</sup> warrants him to his demands for our securitie, telling him y<sup>t</sup> unless it be expresly commanded from the Court, wee cannot answeare it, not having yet received anything to warr<sup>t</sup> us to take our orders from him, but the Company grounded upon their Charter.

That w<sup>ch</sup> caused our further debate was Governo<sup>r</sup>. Garys recommending Mr. Hinmers and Mr. Evance to us for their passage home upon their first shipp. The two merchants were employed by Mr. Andrewes on the shipp "Love," in a designe so destructive to the Companies interrest that wee wonder how in modestie they can expect it upon the Companies ships. To this it was concluded answeare should be given that wee dare not permitt it without incurring the Companies displeasure, nor will there be accommodation for them in y<sup>e</sup> first shipp, by reason that some of the Companies Ffactors will take their passage on her for England. Yet not to give them a possitive denyall, but referr to our advices expected by the ships, when if wee be not enjoynd the contrary wee shall further advise them.

GEO. OXINDEN.

JOHN GOODIER.

GERALD AUNGIER.

RAND<sup>o</sup>. TAYLOR.

---

Commission & Instructions given by us the President and Councell of India, Persia and Arabia, etc<sup>a</sup> unto our loving friend Mr. Randolph Taylor, to bee observed in this his present voyadge down this coast upon the Companies Hoigh to Goa. There to embarke on the "Little Charles" and prosecute his voyadge down the coast of Mallabar. Dated in Surratt the 14th of August 1668:—

Our much esteemed and respective good ffriend Mr. Rand<sup>o</sup>. Taylor,

You have with that discretion and prudence manadged the severall affaires upon the coast soe much to our satisfaction in the emprovements you have made our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Employers, that it would bee lost tyme to straine for expressions answerable to your merritt; the present occasion will testify the assurance wee have of yo<sup>r</sup> abilities in this streight the Comp<sup>a</sup> have plunged us in by their Commands in their new letters received by the "Bantam" Pinke for the settling the respective ffactoryes on the Coast of Mallabarr etc. now that the breach is made upp twixt our nation and the Hollanders; for the reviving of trade againe, that they may bee furnished with pepper and other goods; yet have they not sent us any meanes of shipping, or assistance for the effecting thereof: that had it not pleased God in his good Providence to cast the "Little Charles" at last upon Goa, after a most tedious and dangerous voyadge, wee should not have knowne what to have done, for it would not have been possible for us to have complied with their orders with any content to our selves; in that it would bring neither honour nor profit to the Company; w<sup>ch</sup> now will bee somewhat solved by this small vessell being designed to it, for wee may not stay to waite the Europe shipping, and if wee should it would not doe the busynesse wee have in hand, in regard such shippes cannot attend settlements w<sup>ch</sup> will be the worke of time, and the shippes are required to bee returned seasonably, or else they will certainly endanger their voyadge home, which as it will bring an extraordinary hazard it will otherwise damnify the Comp<sup>a</sup>. a dead losse of demurrage, if they should be detained beyond the time contracted in Charterparty.

To prevent which and doe the best wee can for our masters in these streights this designe is laid that wee may take tyme by the foretopp; by yo<sup>r</sup>. knowne skill and experience to effect all our desires with the "Charles," before you returne to us againe, and soe wee shall proceed to acquaint and discusse to you in the following sections our whole affaires upon the Coast.

In the first place wee shall passe by Rojapore and touch there as wee come backe, in our discourse, and accompany you to Goa, sayling directly to Marmagon where the "Charles" rideth, and deliver our letter to the Commander M<sup>r</sup>. Samuel Smith, wherein we have required him to give you that respect due to your worth and quality; as alsoe from the time forward to receive his orders from you for his sayling and anchoring to & at such places as you shall appoint him to; and that hee (deliver) upp the Comp<sup>as</sup> cargo of all whatsoever is laden on bord him of goods & moneys; and bee further serviceable to you either in his owne person, boate and men; and thus having settled you as to this affaire, in the next place after you are decently landed and made your respective visits to the Grandees of the towne let your buisynesse bee to enquire and take an accompt of what hath bin transacted in our masters buisynesse, either by M<sup>r</sup>. Clavell or the Captain: and if you cann sell off any of the cloth or other goods for competent profit, such as wee usually make of them here, you are acquainted with the prices and therefore we shall not limitt you; but above all wee desire the broad cloth may be disposed of somewhere upon the coast that none of it bee brought to in the marketts. Our reasons you are well acquainted wth of our expectations of large quantites these September shippes, and therefore if it will not goe off readily there, wee shall propound something else to you before wee close these. For other goods contained in the invoyces which wee herewth deliver you, there is nothing that will speedily sell, neither is it of bulke, and therefore you may take it wth you; tis likely the shipp may require it for ballast, the two chests of treasure whereof 2 laden by the Company and one at Plimouth by M<sup>r</sup>. Tillard, as p. y<sup>e</sup>. bills of lading given you; which you may cancell as you take out the goods or give receipts for what you receive. This latter chest M<sup>r</sup>. Clavell and the Cap<sup>t</sup>. have our ord<sup>r</sup>. to open, and take out soe much as will defray the ones journey to Metchlepatam, and the others disbursements of fresh provisions &c<sup>a</sup>. shipp charges; of which you are to take an accompt of y<sup>e</sup>. Cap<sup>t</sup>. in case M<sup>r</sup>. Clavell bee upon the way: w<sup>ch</sup> done you will know what quantity of treasure you will have left, to which add whatever moneys you shall make of the broad cloath or what elce you shall sell, if any; and then enquire of those merch<sup>ts</sup> and traders downe the coast what sort of coines will sell best at Mangalore, Callicutt, and the trading ports thereabouts, and convert all your cash into them; or such part as you in your discretion shall thinke good according to the advice you shall receive, for wee are informed they doe not well understand Ryalls and that they are at a low rate, and not much cared for among them people, and soe having settled your buisynesse at Goa, which wee intreate you to effect wth all celerity, send backe the Hoigh to us againe with advices of your proceedings, & what is further necessary our knowledge, that wee may reply to it by the shipp wee intend to you his boate dispeeded, hast to shipp yo<sup>r</sup> selfe and what you have provided for the coast of Mallabar. We would that you touched at Carwarr, Onore, Batticolla and Mangalore, or at soe many of them as you shall find it necessary, or that may have probability of advantadge, or advancing the designe you have in hand of settling one or more ffactoryes for the encrease of trade, and to secure lardge quantities of pepper, Dungaees &<sup>ca</sup>, Indian clothing and druggs; and in this case the broad cloth, lead, sword blade &<sup>c</sup> will be needfull for commodities with those whom you thinke fitt to settle in the respective ports, which wee intend shall voyadge with you, nominating them particularly in an after clause, when wee shall say something more of their employments. At these prementioned places wee would not have you to make any long stay, except you find it to bee absolutely necessary; but deferre what you cann to bee negotiated (if you approve thereof) to such persons as you may leave there till your returne; for wee would faine have you at Callicutte soe soone as may bee, for that ffactory lyes gasping as wee conceive by the imprudent manadging thereof by our owne people that have deserted the place, the Companyes goods and ffactory; enough to have hazarded our masters whole estate, trade, and all, which much troubles us when we spend some thoughts what ill consequences may follow if this breach bee not timely made upp; for tis the onely place left us on this coast whereof wee can have any assurance to bee furnished hereafter, and therefore is one maine cause of your soe early being employed in this voyadge that your prudence may moderate and settle that buisynesse and thereby remove our feares. M<sup>r</sup>. Smeaton and M<sup>r</sup>. Barbor are both at Tannore, a place some tenn leagues distant from Callicut, from whence you very well know wee cann by noe perswasions prevayle with them to remove, and whether they will come neere you is questionable; therefore at yo<sup>r</sup> arrivall to Callicutt, advise them of your being there, and loose noe time but visit the Governo<sup>r</sup> of the towne, whom wee desire you to treat with all respect, and gett yourselves lodged in the Companyes house, from whence you may send him the present intended him, or carry it with you upon your first goeing ashore, as you shall bee advised. Wee have not sett any thing apart, but referred all to you, that you may enlardge or streighten your hand as occation shall offer, for now you must bee more then ordinary liberall to take off the disgust conceived against us. Wee have furnished you with all things that wee can learne is proper or acceptable there with them, besides wee believe you will find some considerable remaynes, if not embezeld, for wee are told M<sup>r</sup>. Smeaton was soe sullen that hee would give nothing, noe not a half penny to save a sheepe; for had they bin civill they had saved themselves in the prevention of what befell them. There is one Seria Tharra, Banian Broker in the towne, that hath corresponded with us and done the Company some services, if you shall bee confirmed soe much there and that hee is able to bee further usefull, give him the Pamerin that is put among the other presents. Hee is in esteeme with those people. You having thus obliged the severall persons accustomed to bee presented, which wee entreate you to despatch soe soone as convenient, repaire to the Warehouses, where our masters Pepper and Cashia Lignum is lodged, and give order for the clearing it in Customehouse according to the usuall manner, and shipping it aboard, wherein lett all diligence bee used. We have wrote to Errinam Acha the Governour, who is of all that write acknowledged to bee our nations greate friend & upon all occations hath stood for us, and pleaded our cause, yet M<sup>r</sup>. Smeaton hath found cavells to breake with him to. Our letter is very civill, wherein wee have mentioned your quality and esteeme with us and that all things are referred to you to confirme or displace at your discretion; the like wee have writt to Seria Tharra, mentioning wee have sent them presents but not what: whilst you are thus in motion pray omitt not to enquire what pepper &<sup>c</sup> goods proper for Europe is to bee had in towne & purchase all you can lay your hands on at the best rates you can, in which you must have a care whom you trust, for you very well know they are a beggerly base perfidious people. Our hopes are you will find M<sup>r</sup>. Grigby there, who must needs bee well experienced amongst those people in the time of his residing at Porqua, that hee will bee usefull to you. The Presid<sup>t</sup> hath prepared him in letters sent by severall conveyances to get himselfe thither. Him wee have thought of to bee the most able and fittest for that employment, wherefore wee would have you give him reasonable respect that may begett him esteeme amongst them; & if Mr. Barbor will stay wee appoint him second; else you must place some other of the young men that accompany you. As for Mr. Smeaton wee account him altogether unfit, & therefore order his bringing away with you in case hee come to Callicutt; but if hee continue humurous, as hitherto hee hath bin, the shipp must not goe to fetch him, but you must leave him to find the way upp soe well as hee cann. When you are some few dayes settled and shipped aboard a good part of yo<sup>r</sup>. pepper so that you have removed all obstructions enquire (wee pray you) strictly in the cause & occasion of that affront done our people, & if you find it lie on the natives part, show such resentm<sup>t</sup>. as the nature of the fact will allow, & that in the future wee shall beare such indignities offered our fellow servants, alsoe expresse our dislike of the injury put upon us in forcing the 5000 Ffanams from the Ffactors, and labour to have it deducted out of the Customes of this pepper you are to receive, & presse home that they doe soe no more; for it is dishonourable for them to exact on merchants that are free in themselves & liable to noe such abuses, especially our nation. Wee compute you will have 18000 Rupees and upwards in cash to pay your Customes; buy what is to bee had & leave a sufficient stocke with those you shall settle there; onely make some inspection what more may bee purchased, or whether it will bee needful to remitt them more money this yeare; and give us the timeliest advice you cann. Further, wee are to acquaint you that the President hath wrote effectually to Mr. Grigbie that hee make strict enquiry and inquisition into the affaires and condition of Porcatt, as well what is owing to the Company there by those inhabitants, the probability to recover it, and whether the people bee free to trade with us againe, or soe enslaved by the Dutch that they dare not admitt us, which is what wee feare; likewise what encouragement by the quantities of pepper &c. that is procureable there yearly, for wee know it to bee a verry bad port, steepe into the shoare, with a barr some small distance off open to the sea that the waves come in much like that reported on the coast of Cormandell. However, wee say if Mr. Grigbie shall give you any good hopes of recovering the debt, and a future trade to bee peaceably enjoyed, wee would have you sail thither, taking Mr. Grigbie with you in regard of his experience and acquaintance with the inhabitants, and settle that place alsoe, making them a promise to send ffactors thither this yeare, if it can bee done conveniently, for at present you know wee are soe bare that wee have not wherewithall to supply our occasions, but waite recruite from England. See if it be feizeable & you invite us to it it shall be done; therefore give them noe firme promise this yeare, but assure them wee will not faile them the next; and soe parting friendly with them returne to Callicutt, and enquire if any thing hath bin acted in your absence of what you may have enordered. Soe leaving Mr. Grigbie to governe in Chiefe, to whom &c. leave such instructions as may oblige them to all civill and corteous abearance, seeking all faire meanes to oblige the Rajahs and other their officers, and indeed wee would have it extended to all among whom they live, observing their Christian duties morning and evening, that God may give a blessing to their endeavours; for if they seeke and implore a blessing from him, hee can and will make the very heathen to bee at peace with them, & prosper them in all their honest labours; and thus wee thinke wee have left nothing unsaid that may settle those two ffactoryes of Callicutt and Porcat in the best manner wee can with those weake instruments and materialls wee have to worke with, of either shippes to attend it, or ffactors to supply each place, yett wee have discharged our duty in compliance with the Companyes orders lately rec<sup>d</sup>. the best wee may.

Wee omitted in due place to advise you that wee have in a former letter to the Command<sup>r</sup>. of the "Charles" recommended to him the providing twelve tuns of Arracke, which is to bee filled into his English caske, butts, or hdds., it is indifferent to us; and lett him take noe care to bee refurnished with cash for his homeward bound voyage, we will see him impleated againe out of the Europe shippes. This Arrack wee believe you will find in a readinesse at your arriveall to Goa, and if not, pray hasten it to bee laden into the Hoigh and sent us, for the shipp to bee dispeeded by the first will greatly want it.

And soe wee shall goe on where wee left off, and conclude you returned to those parts formerly mentioned of Carwarr, Onore, &c. or such of them as you best approve of, where you are to settle Mr. Gifford and Mr. Chambrelan and leave with them such of the broad cloth and moneys, lead and sword blades, as you shall deeme they can employ the yeare throughout, and this wee would have you compute sparingly, untill wee see what reception they will have in the country, and what they will bee able to purchase of those commodities proper for the English marketts; and the yeare following wee will upon their advice furnish them accordingly with a more liberall hand. Wee would they had a third person joyned with them, but you know how bare wee are, yet if the Company shall send out sufficient for our other occations, wee will send them an assistant. What cloth cash you may make, wee have computed, which wee judge you may have cause to leave all at Callicut for defraying the customes of what you may purchase or contract for during the time of your being there, and for stocke to leave with them: that you will have noe moneys left to pay for what you may meete with all other places, of pepper dungarees &c., and to leave in stocke with the ffactors there over and above the goods formerly mentioned, wherefore you may expect from us in specie and goods 70000 Rupees or thereabouts by one of the shippes expected. Those places and lower downe have formerly yeilded good quantity of Cardamons and Cowries, the former growing not farr from them and the latter they have in trade from the Maldivas, whether their vessels were wont to trade yearely, if you could meete with one hundred bales to 200 of Cardamons new, full, & white, at a reasonable rate, buy them; and 1000 to 2000 maunds this place of Cowries, you may give for these to 4 Rupees the maund, and that is the outside, but if to bee had at  $3\frac{1}{2}$  Rup<sup>as</sup> or under buy as many as you can gett.

Dungarees the Company have bin very earnest for, & wee could not for some yeares procure them any, in regard they are onely made in Deccan, & the transport of that country is onely upon oxen, the bulke of the commoditie will not answer the carriage & way duties; that is the reason none are brought here, & we remember you gott us a good parcell from Batticolla anno 1664. Pray try what you can doe for us now and purchase all you can to 1000 Corge, at the cheapest price; and now that we are speaking of this one sortment of cloth it hath brought into our minds what wee have learned from such as are acquainted in those places, that neere about Carwarr and Hubely the severall sortments of cloth may bee had, if the people bee encouraged thereunto, as Baftaes, broad and narrow Savaguzzes, and all kind of Necanees and Corutts, double Dungarees with redd heads which the Company hath bin very earnest for, alsoe Tapseels broad and narrow; of all which we herewith give you samples, with ticketts upon every particular of their lengths & breaths with their nett prices as they cost first penny in the Bazar by the peece, which we would have you leave with Mr. Giffard, whom wee appoint to bee cheife of the ffactory at Carwarr (and Casar Chambrelan his second), or where else there about you shall thinke it most convenient and neere for procuring the severall sorts of clothing. Commend very much to Mr. Giffard esq<sup>r</sup> in those instructions you shall deliver him on your leaving the place, that hee use all his industry to encouradge the weavers to make those sortments, or as many of them as hee can possible get them to undertake. Wee have chose to give you our best samples, that soe the workmen may make it there first practise to imitate the best; they will bee apt enough of themselves to debase it, if they bee not looked to. Wee alsoe expect they will pay somewhat more for them then the prices they have hitherto bought them at, & indeed soe doe wee; besides the cloth is abased of its former goodnesse, which there is noe remedy for in this greate competition with the Ffrench and Dutch, besides the severall marketts at home and abroad that must bee supplied. Above all give M<sup>r</sup>. Giffard Esq<sup>r</sup>. especial order that hee have a greate care of all their dimentions, for that is exceedingly taken notice of by the Drapers in Europe, and much under valewed if they find them want never soe little of their lengths and bredths; likewise to presse the weavers now upon the first entry that they make all their cloth and stufte very thicke, and for their encouradgement to give those that doe something the more. Wee expect too that the making of new loomes will bee chargeable, which the poore workemen cannot beare, but that the Company must undergoe the greatest share, if not all, and wee know not well how to direct them, whether to agree with the weavers to pay them soe much more upon a peece (for that will bee long before it can bee gott off) or that the Company bee at the charge; they must doe therein, what shall appeare to bee most to the Comp<sup>a</sup>. advantadge. One thing more which had allmost slipt our memory, that in case the Comp<sup>a</sup>. pay for the looms, either in the price of the cloth, or otherwise, the weavers bee all oblidged under a writing drawne for that purpose that they sell not a peece of cloth to any others, what nation soever, which wee are jealous will come upon them, when it shall bee knowne what quantity of cloth is to bee procured; wherefore let the writing bee made firme under all their hands with whom you deale, and witnessed by able men officers and others.

Wee are now entring into trade and settling ffactoryes on the coast of Mallabar and therefore wee must be cautious how wee assault or damadge them, lest the Comp<sup>a</sup>. servants and their estates bee forced to make satisfaction, yet to let them know the necessity they have to keepe league and amity wth us & to awe them to a faire compliyanse and abearance towards our ffactors, wee would have you endeavour the surprizeall of all Mallabarr vessells as may conveniently fall in your way provided they have not our passe; but suffer not anything they have to bee embezzeld, in regard they may belong to some townes or places immediately in the Samorins Government; however secure them, that a true examination may bee made, and if you M<sup>r</sup>. Taylor together with them you shall call to Councill bee satisfiied that they belong to such places as are in amity with us to dismissee them, letting them know that if they have received any damadge, the blame lyes upon them in putting to sea without our pass, and that if any shall doe soe for the future they shall bee made lawfull prize; and this brings into our minds a Mallabarr that went from hence the last yeare, unto whom wee particularly recommended our buisynesse; if you find at your arrivall to Callicut that hee hath bin serviceable doe him kindnesse, according to his meritt, in giving him a writing to secure him from any ship or vessell of ours hee shall meete with, or suffer any vessell of his to come upp in Company with you, provided hee bee no hinderance.

You have participated with us of the late troubles Governo<sup>r</sup>. Gary hath brought upon us by his unadvised vaine glorious boastings in his severall letters to the Governour, Shawbunder & merchants of this towne, seeking to magnify himselfe by debasing of us (soe much as in him lay) requiring all persons owners of Junks and smaller vessells to receive their passes from him and that hee intends to set out an Armada to scour the seas betwixt Chaule and Surrat, which wee have greate cause to feare may not onely be destructive, but totally ruine the Comp<sup>a</sup>. trade with the Mallabars, in case any of their trading vessells bee taken; and therefore wee thinke it but reason tending to selfe preservation that you make knowne to the people thereabouts the preparations in hand and alsoe caution them how they adventure to passe that port in sight of the place. There is our old perfidious enemy that notorious rebell Savage hath hitherto escaped unpunished for all the villanyes and robberyes done us, which wee had hoped to bee quitt with before this, but the warres with the Dutch prevented us untill now, and therefore if you shall bee soe happy as to meete with any vessells belonging to his ports (which are many lying upon the coast) or that have sailed thence, use your best endeavours to seize or destroy them, by which means wee may not onely hope to indemneify ourselves for the losses already sustained, but alsoe bring him to tearmes for the future of more honest & ffaithfull abearance, and force him to give us some good security for free trade in the country and kingdome of Deccan, which can never bee safe untill something of this nature bee effectually done in making them sensible of the necessity of our ffriendshipp, that they may see how unsafe they are without it; therefore this wee account the nearest way to bring him to a treaty, soe that wee earnestly entreate you endeavour the surprizeall of all you can meete with, and bring them to us, taking care and giving your strict orders that nothing bee purloynd, but that a true and just accompt bee taken of whatever shall bee found in the vessells. There are many that will bee much about this time returning from their severall voyadges of Mocha, Aden, Muscat, Persia, and Bussorah, that our hopes are strong you will encounter with some of them.

There are two vessels put into Goa which are come from Siam who wee are informed have the Dutch and other passes, but slighted ours, notwithstanding there were English then in the country; wherefore Mr. Nelthorpe advises it would bee of some credit to them that wee expresse our dislike, & alsoe if it could bee done conveniently to frighten (but not hurt) them into a better esteeme of our people; therefore if a faire opportunity offer, cast out some threatning words, and wee will backe them when they come hither.

Ffor your assistance, and to settle in the severall ffactoryes accompany you Phillipp Giffard, Casar Chambrelan, John Petitt, and Henry Oxinden, which sweeps away all the helpe wee have, else wee know it but necessary you had double the number. What wee shall doe to keep our registers upp and doe other writing worke wee know not, all our dependance rests upon what shall come forth by the expected shippes; out of which if wee can spare two, there shal bee one sent to each ffactory hereafter.

There will bee sufficient to lade the "Charles" of Pepper and Cashia Lignum, wherefore it wil be needlesse to keepe her there when shee is full, but send her to us, staying yourselve ashore untill the Europe shipp shall come to you; and enorder Cap<sup>t</sup>. Smith that hee saile into Rojapore Road, and there ride a day and a night, not suffering his boate to goe on shore, or from the shipp side, nor any to come on bord him, and surprize any vessell that shal bee there or chance to come in during the appointed time of her stay, which being expired, to weigh and saile to us with what expedition hee can. The like you may appoint the "Hoigh," as shee comes upp, to ride some houres with her collo<sup>ss</sup>. abroad.

Wee hope this your going downe wil bee greatly to the Comp<sup>as</sup>. advantadge in effecting all the buisynesse herein recommended to your care and manadgement; soe that make a more speedy returne then you were wont upon these voyadges, that the shipp may have an early dispatch hence for England. Wee shall on our partes bee ready to lade soe soone as shee shall arrive, but in case your accustomed stay bee necessary, shee must submitt, for wee have noe shipping of the Comp<sup>as</sup>. in the country, but then pray doe not keepe her longer upon any consideration. There is an old accompt standing out with Sig<sup>r</sup>. Joan di Prado, of a parcell of Trash that was taken a shoare out of the "Little American," which hee advises is at last sould, pray take his accompt and demand their proceed.

Wee promised you see something more of Rajapore, which is that you reserve a day or two to spend in that road, and put Velge ashore, giving him his lesson how to carry himselfe in his discourse, soe as that it may not bee suspected that wee seeke them but that hee pretend some buisynesse of his owne, and that by his importunity you may permitte him to land, but carry him noe higher then Jettapore, and thence lett him gett upp the best hee can, and search into the inclinations of those people to peace, and if soe what present satisfaction they will give us for past losses and security of better abearance for the future, and if you find the proffer anything reasonable, enter into a treaty with them and perswade them to send some person of quality to us to confirme a league, to which give them encouragment as you shall see cause.

Since its concluded that you send away the "Charles" soe soone as you shall have laden her and that you waite the coming of the Europe shippes, wee suppose you will have a spare time that you may visit the Samorin and the rest of the Grandees, especially the Samorins mother who hath a superlative power and command over all the country : and present them with such things as wee have laid in for that purpose, and what elce of joyes you shall meete that may please them ; for wee are very desirous to bee in their favour in regard our greatest dependance for pepper upon all the coast alone lyes in that place. The Rajah of Janore wee heare hath received our people and bin civill to them ; if you have an opportunity acknowledge it, and present him with some small matter : a little goes a greate way amongst them.

Charles Bendish through his desire is alsoe added to you ; hee is industrious, pray place him in some one of the ffactoryes where you thinke hee may doe the Company best service. Wee doe not call to mind any thing wee have omitted in these our instructions necessary to this your employment : wherefore wee conclude with our very hearty prayers for your health and safetie, desiring God to give a blessing to your endeavours in the management of these affaires, and in due season a happy returne unto

Your affectionate loving fireinds,

GEO : OXINDEN.

JOHN GOODIER.

GER : AUNGIER.

At a Generall Consultation held in Surat the 3<sup>d</sup> of Sept<sup>r</sup> 1668, whereat were present the Right Worth Sr<sup>t</sup> George Oxinden Knight President, Mr<sup>r</sup> John Goodyer, Mr<sup>r</sup> Gerald Aungier, Cap<sup>t</sup> Henry Yong, Mr<sup>r</sup> Streinsham Master and Mathew Gray Sec<sup>y</sup> : it was determined as followeth :—

The Shipp "Constantinople Merch<sup>t</sup>." by Gods blessing arriving two dayes since at the Barr of Swally, the Commander Cap<sup>t</sup> Ward and Cap<sup>t</sup> Henry Young came upp in their boate the last evening presenting the President with the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> advices, among the rest with his Ma<sup>ties</sup> Royall Charter under the broad seale of England for the taking possession of the Island of Bombay with all and singular the appurtenances and revenues thereunto appertaining ; His Majesty having bin gratioously pleased freely to bestow it on the Hon<sup>ble</sup> East India Comp<sup>a</sup> our Masters, who by an instrument under their common seale, have deputed their President and Councill, and some other persons therein nominated, or any two or more of them, to receive and possesse the said island &<sup>cs</sup> for their use. And for as much as of the severall persons nominated, there were noe more at present in Surat, then those conveend at this Councill and the urgency of the affaire not admitting any delay, untill the other shippes arrive, least those upon the island hearing of the alteration may embezzle the stores or otherwise injure the Comp<sup>a</sup> in their accompts, the President propounded the choice of some persons out of this Councill that should immediately prepare themselves for this urgent affaire, declaring how necessary it was, and with what willingnesse hee would goe himselfe in person. But the Comp<sup>as</sup> affaires here are at present soe pressing upon him having lardge advices from the Comp<sup>a</sup> and many things to speake to, and a shipp speedily to bee laden for England, that it was not possible for him now to leave Suratt; wherefore hee propounded Mr. John Goodyer, being next in Commission and quality, who by his intimacy with the Dep<sup>y</sup> Govern<sup>r</sup>. Gary, and the influence hee hath upon the affections of the other officers, gained in a visitation of that island, will very much conduce to their peaceable surrender and our quiett possession of the place. Hee readily accepted thereof, declaring his willingnesse to serve the Comp<sup>as</sup> upon all occasions. Mr. Aungier by reason of his employment in the Warehouses, many of which being full of goods, housed by him, which are to bee laden on the first shipp, and now by the absence of Mr. Goodier receiving into his charge the accompts, hee cannot possibly bee spared nor Mr. Gray, the President having noe other assistance for dispatch of advices to the Comp<sup>as</sup>, Capt. Young and Mr. Streat<sup>s</sup>. Masters being all that remaine of the persons nominated in Commission were joyned with Mr. Goodier. And Mr. Tho: Cates having accepted the Comp<sup>as</sup> service and well acquainted with all the officers and souldiers upon the island, and with the customes of the people and priviledges of the place, having inhabited there severall times, him wee have added to the other three and all foure to make a Councell. Mr. Goodier to reside cheife, and conveene them upon all occations that shall require Consultation.

It was further determined, for more expedition in the unlading the shipp that shee might bee prepared to receive on bord the aforesaid deputed persons and voyadge with them to Bombay, that the "Constantinople Merch<sup>t</sup>," should remove from her anchoring at the rivers mouth and proceed into Swally Hole to unlade.

GEO: OXINDEN.

JOHN GOODIER.

GER: AUNGIER.

HENRY YOUNG.

---

Consultation in Surat, the 7th Sept<sup>r</sup> 1668.

It being the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> desire in a clause of their L're of the 27th March last now received by the "Constantinople Merch<sup>t</sup>", that wee contrive the best way for the making Bombay a Port for the exportation and importation of goods and persons to and from Persia, Mocha &c<sup>a</sup>, and for the effecting of this that wee employ at present the "Chesnutt" Pinke, and gett some other vessell to bee there, that merchants may bee encouraged to come thither; and further that wee advise them what shipping will bee fitting for the encouraging this affaire, and they will send them us. Wee deliberately considering thereon, doe find many reasons inducing us to build them shipping in this country, where tymber, iron worke, carpenters and many other materials are very cheape, the building farre more substantiall then in England, and more propper for these partes, in regard they will require noe sheething, nor caulking more then the deckes, & by the industry of these people from what they have learned from our nation, as handsomely built as our English vessells, and yet further for the drawing merchants to the Port, who may bee encouradged when they see us building shipping there, and for the encouradgement of the natives in setting them on worke, soe that the money expended will remayne in the island, and the people the better enabled to pay those dutyes and rents annually received from them, and the best timber being procureable neere hand very cheape. These reasons wee doubt not but wil bee satisfactory to the Comp<sup>as</sup>, it tending wholly to the benefitt and encrease of trade in that Port & island; wherefore wee conclude to sett two shippes upon the stocks at their island of Bombay, one about 200 the other 300 tunns, and to write home to bee sent us by the first shipping standing maste yards, gunns, pitch, tarr, cordage, all other things procureable here.

GEO: OXINDEN.

JOHN GOODIER.

GER: AUNGIER.

HENRY YOUNG.

(Para. 15.)—The 26th (January) His Excell<sup>cy</sup>: the Ambassador wth 4 Field Pieces, 60 old Europeans, India horses, Camells, 2 Coaches, Oxen hackerys, Carts &c., begunn his journey wth two Gusbardarrs or Eddys from the Emp<sup>r</sup>: the Consull waiting upon him near 4 miles from his garden, and wee your Councell wth Cap<sup>t</sup>: Douglass and Cap<sup>t</sup>: Coulier and others the first dayes journey, and Jeremiah Bonnell y<sup>e</sup> 2<sup>d</sup> day, when left him and retinue chearfull and well, marching in such good order y<sup>t</sup>: need not fear being assaulted by any enemys that may bee purchased to doe him mischeif. A plaine discovery of w<sup>ch</sup> His Excell<sup>cy</sup>: writes S<sup>r</sup>: Nich<sup>o</sup>: Waite from Kokely the 8th inst<sup>t</sup>: 66 cosses from hence, that 4 horsemen sent from hence gott into his camp and though turned away by the Eddys, yett crept againe into their company and upon enquiry were found sent to Orengeabad to engage some persons to attack His Excell<sup>cy</sup>, and att least intercept and cutt off the harcarra. And att Kokely from whence His Excell<sup>cy</sup> wrote the Consull the Eddys delivered another person bound to y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup>: of that Towne taken two dayes before in y<sup>e</sup> Camp, who confessed that hee was imployed as a spy by the old Comp<sup>a</sup>: and that severall of the Indians in his Lordships service were bribed to fire the powder, or doe any other mischeif they could, w<sup>ch</sup> can't doubt but it will evince His Maj<sup>tie</sup> and yor<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup>: that our information has not bin wrong of a gen<sup>ral</sup> combination, induced to beleive projected in Europe, tho: the instruments have impolitely managed and executed their instructions to their open shame and prejudice and near Rs. 400000 expence to their masters besides what to be paid for clearing y<sup>m</sup>: ..... from their heat and willfull blind zeale has raised more probably for loss than restoration to their first state of w<sup>ch</sup> in it due place.

(Para 16.)—The charge and defeat of His Excell<sup>ys</sup> reaching the Mogull on the other side, the great age and infirmity of the Emp<sup>r</sup>: and unaccountable permission for Davenants coming out Ambassador as styled in y<sup>e</sup> publick prints the latter end of Aprill att London and upon the "Tavistocks" arrivall notified to this Gov<sup>r</sup>: by S<sup>r</sup>: John Gayer as wrote yor<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup>: per French ship required expedition for His Excell<sup>ys</sup> being att Court, w<sup>ch</sup> in conjunction wth him and his Councell consulted upon y<sup>e</sup> safest and properest methods, and after y<sup>e</sup> most collected advices from all intelligent persons for attaining soe desirable an end and were all fully satisfiied, agreed and resolved that His Excell<sup>ys</sup> retinue should bee strengthened wth 20 Europeans or more if procurable, four Field pieces, ammunition small armed &c., and inabled for disposing and giving away of a summe or summs not exceeding Rup<sup>s</sup>: 200000 to the Emp<sup>r</sup>: or other Ministers, besides what presents brought wth him from Europe and delivered out of your warehouses here than by a greater expence wasted in a tedious and lingering treaty amongst these corrupt people att this juncture when y<sup>e</sup> old Comp<sup>a</sup>: have sent a new procurator wth Rup<sup>s</sup>: 200000 Cr. for impeading or embarrassing all your Phyrmaunds and the whole negotiation of the embassy and could not bee avoided being soe inabled pursuant to your directions per the "Martha" wth out y<sup>e</sup> infalible loss of all your 3 settlements when His Excell<sup>cy</sup> was limited not to exceed R<sup>s</sup>: 20000, tho: a totall exemption in all India from custome, and in the whole progress of this and other your affaires wee have faithfully and seriously studied your interest with conscience wee hope voyd of offence towards God and you our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters, w<sup>ch</sup> encourages us to believe y<sup>t</sup> you will stand by and approve what wee have done not derogatory from His Maj<sup>ties</sup> Commission to your directions upon your reading of our advices to His Excell<sup>y</sup> N<sup>o</sup> 69 wth what else hath occurred relating to the Embassy is not proper and over bulkey for a letter under w<sup>ch</sup> humbly referr you.

(Para. 21.)—Now wee are come to inform yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> of two orders on Hassbull Huckums signed by Duke Yaralee Beck and Abdull Ramon y<sup>e</sup> Great Musty and third from y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Vizier and two others from the Emp<sup>r</sup> himself came to y<sup>e</sup> Governour y<sup>s</sup> 5th instant w<sup>ch</sup> hee kept private untill hee had seized S<sup>r</sup> John Gayer the old Companys Gen<sup>l</sup> then att Swalley, from whom having received such large summs for supporting their interest and preventing your severall Phyrmaunds wth assurance to receive their Ambassador as they called him and bring S<sup>r</sup> John wth him when arrived to Suratt was not suspected to have any designe in breach of this purchased friendship, agreed wth his sonn who the 8th inst<sup>a</sup> abt midnight went out of y<sup>e</sup> gates wth upward of one hundred men not so secretly but the old Factory had notice from y<sup>e</sup> Sec<sup>y</sup> their friend and Presid<sup>t</sup> Colt advised S<sup>r</sup> John Gayer thereof and reacht his hand att Swalley before morning where the Meer appeared early in his usuall hunting tent and sending notice thereof to S<sup>r</sup> John Gayer then in bed immediately arose and invited the Meer wth in the impaileur of y<sup>e</sup> lodge, w<sup>ch</sup> excusing, S<sup>r</sup> John went out towards him, whose men being directed their business, secured S<sup>r</sup> John and his Granaders and then entered y<sup>e</sup> lodge obliged the Lady Gayer out of the bed, carryed her, M<sup>r</sup> Somaster and others to accompany y<sup>e</sup> Generall to Suratt before y<sup>e</sup> "Tavistocks" people had notice or could come ashore to their rescue, and being brought over the river in an open boat y<sup>e</sup> Lady was putt into a hackery covered wth a cloath and carryed to the Govern<sup>rs</sup>, where wth S<sup>r</sup> John and others were confined to one roome and some hours after the Governour sent for Presid<sup>t</sup> Colt, who goeing wth two of his Councill accompanied S<sup>r</sup> John in said prizon, w<sup>ch</sup> tryumphant act as its esteemed of the Meer was wrote that night to the Emp<sup>r</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> noe small dishonour of y<sup>e</sup> old Comp<sup>as</sup> Generall of India y<sup>e</sup> need not have bin surprized if had thought of y<sup>t</sup> trust reposed in him and will not now easily bee permitted goeing out of Suratt before y<sup>e</sup> whole demands of y<sup>t</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> is adjusted.

---

A faithful & impartial account of what relates to this Presidency and on the arrival of H. E. upon the "Somers."

Surat, March the 8th, 1700.

Hon<sup>d</sup> S<sup>rs</sup>

Offering this opportunity by an Arabian to Mecca that promises will deliver it to some Pilgrims there for Aleppo, flatter ourselves may bee safer than to Persia for acquainting briefly yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> that y<sup>e</sup> "Canterbury" was dispatcht hence the 2<sup>d</sup> December wth a cargoe of R<sup>s</sup> 415149-10 and by French convey<sup>a</sup> to Paris wee answered your severall letters and gave you a faithfull and impartiall acco<sup>tt</sup> of what related to this Presidency and y<sup>e</sup> arrivall of his Excell<sup>y</sup> upon the "Somers" and his landing, and by the "Mountague" y<sup>t</sup> sayles within two dayes richly laden you'l then bee more surprized than by the other if your Presid<sup>t</sup> and Councill may have liberty to desire your perusall of what His Excell<sup>y</sup> and wee have wrote and transmitted for informing your Hon<sup>rs</sup> of that generall combination noe doubt directed out of Europe to all their serv<sup>ts</sup> in India for extirpating your Hon<sup>rs</sup> out of this Emp<sup>r</sup> dominions as will appeare by cotypes of sev<sup>ll</sup> original letters in the "Mountagues" pacquett obtained by some untoward fellows drawing away one Lane, S<sup>r</sup> John Gayers Secretary, now in service of the Ambassador, who was detarded beginning his journey untill the 26th Jan<sup>y</sup>, S<sup>r</sup> John Gayer &c. ridiculing, disowning and publickly offering y<sup>e</sup> highest indignity their capacities were capable upon his charecter, pursuing him with that insatiated unchristian heat by ruffins taken in y<sup>e</sup> Camp confest upon examination to bee hyred with others in His Excell<sup>y</sup>s service to blow up his powder and destroy his person as the Ambassador writes Sr<sup>r</sup> Nicho: Waite the 14th Feby<sup>r</sup> from Kokely, and if that failed are truly informed a Procurat<sup>r</sup> followed largely impowered with Cr<sup>as</sup> for embarrassing and delaying if possible his reception as the Ambassador of our Great King and not till the Champion Davenant arrives, who they have here notified equally authorized and soe not one to bee heard before the other, w<sup>ch</sup> foreseeing when they were not apprized of the Embassadors coming to Suratt, such precautions were taken that you may please to depend he'll bee hon<sup>bly</sup> rec<sup>d</sup> and expeditiously obtaine what was intrusted under his conduct and have leizure enough to observe the motions of that gentleman they value themselves upon if comes not impowered by the King of England.

Sr<sup>r</sup> John Gayer, h<sup>is</sup> Lady, Guards and others was ignomously seized by this Gov<sup>rs</sup> sonn att Swalley and the "Tavistock" there to the unexcusable reproach of that Comp<sup>as</sup> Generall y<sup>t</sup> was shamefully brought to Suratt and still uuder confinement untill the eight millions of Rupees dem<sup>d</sup> upon y<sup>m</sup> bee accommodated or y<sup>e</sup> Emp<sup>rs</sup> order for their release tho: they have payed and secured to bee payed to this Gov<sup>r</sup> &c. wth in this four months upward of 5 Lack rupees and all these impolite actions has embroyled more themselves than your affaires w<sup>ch</sup> are clear and free for us to manage as shall seem best for your interest and to palliate their imprudence charge y<sup>e</sup> Consull as y<sup>e</sup> author thereof who has not concerned himself wth this Government otherwise as wee know of than wth us your Councell for securing of your virtuous settlement they boasting of such prevalent interest in England as will remove Sr<sup>r</sup> Nicho: Waite in disgrace that has not derogated from His Maje<sup>ties</sup> Commission and your instructions w<sup>ch</sup> recommend to your August Court.

And that Sr<sup>r</sup> John Gayers hoisting the Union Flagg on board y<sup>e</sup> "Tavistock" and afterward on the "Loyall Merchant" in contempt of His Ex<sup>cy</sup> then in the "Somers" and Cap<sup>t</sup> Lowths stopping the ships of this Port for not taking passes from the old Comp<sup>as</sup> &c. amuses these people to believe confusion in our Governm<sup>t</sup>, for avoiding of w<sup>ch</sup> Bumbay being in their hands if the King granted y<sup>e</sup> Vice Admiralty of India would effectually evince these people of order amongst us.

The Ambassador has left directions for the Com<sup>dr</sup> of the "Harwick" when arrives from China to attend y<sup>e</sup> next season for support of the Kings authority, and the "Rooke" when she comes intend home a rich ship and may bee dispatch<sup>t</sup> in Aprill wth all or part of your Indigo expected wth in 20 dayes from Agra and the "Somers" goes to Bengall in few dayes wth Cotton yarne upon freight being wee could not for want of stock to discharge the sev<sup>ll</sup> cargoes and w<sup>t</sup> the Embassy has drawn from us returne her to y<sup>e</sup> Coast as they desired and you will bee better apprized when y<sup>e</sup> "Mountague" arrives in England, w<sup>ch</sup> is what att prest<sup>t</sup> believe proper for this conveyance. Comitt your great and noble undertakings to y<sup>e</sup> guidance and protection of the Almighty take leave.

Postsc<sup>t</sup>.—Translate of our Kings letter relative to the agreement made with the English Ambassador:—

Since the close of our letter have rec<sup>d</sup> an acco<sup>tt</sup> from Brampore wrote by Rustumjee 11 dayes past that the great Gen<sup>ll</sup> after 3 dayes solicitation for His Excel<sup>lys</sup> stay sending the chiefest of his officers to acquaint him the dishonour he had done leaving the Court wthout the Emp<sup>r</sup> knowledge that sent such great Umbrahs 3 dayes journey to desire his returne and hee would grant what hee asked and being now there he had y<sup>e</sup> same ord<sup>rs</sup> for his goeing back or stay at Brampore and the Phyrmaunds should bee delivered him in 15 dayes and expected a vissitt hee being the Great Gen<sup>ll</sup> of the Emp<sup>r</sup> y<sup>t</sup> allowed him the pay of 40000 horse and 20000 horse besides foot wth him. But His Excel<sup>cy</sup> refused to goe, sending M<sup>r</sup> Harlewyn Mills and others wth 100 Gold Moars, some small armes, &c., w<sup>ch</sup> hee accepted and gave vestm<sup>t</sup> unto all those Gentlemen, unto whom hee shewed a translate of our Kings letter w<sup>ch</sup> the Emp<sup>r</sup> sent, saying that whatever agreement hee made wth the English Ambassador hee would wthout examination seale it wth his own hand, intreating the Ambassador to stay, telling y<sup>m</sup> the Emp<sup>r</sup> had sent some rich jewells and elephant for our King and girdle and dagger &<sup>ca</sup> sett wth diamonds &<sup>ca</sup> and one elephant for himself, and tho: hee would not vissitt him y<sup>t</sup> was greater than y<sup>e</sup> Emp<sup>r</sup>s sonns, whom hee had not shewed that honour, hee had given him. The Emp<sup>r</sup>s daughter was in Brampore where His Maj<sup>tie</sup> had a throne, if the Ambassador would goe thyther and receive y<sup>e</sup> presents should wave other punctilios and give him liberty to proceed for Suratt, promising to send the Phyrmaunds after him, ordering fourty gold and silver dishes of meat to His Excell<sup>cy</sup>, who returned M<sup>r</sup> Mills to acquaint y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> hee would neither vissitt him, receive y<sup>e</sup> present or stay, resolving to march immediately, soe exasperated the Gen<sup>ll</sup>, that first sent for Rustumjee, whom hee confined, then commanded upward of 5000 horse and foot with 8 field pieces overtaking His Excell<sup>cy</sup> ab<sup>t</sup> 3 leagues on this side Brampore, the Commander in Cheif still desiring his returne, but being peremptorily denyed, seized upon His Excell<sup>cy</sup>s 4 guns and carryed y<sup>m</sup> away. Severall shott and lances passing between wth great shouting allarmed the Gen<sup>ll</sup>s brother, then in the mountaines, coming downe encouraged y<sup>e</sup> first Commander and his party that took His Excell<sup>cy</sup>s and retinue prisson<sup>rs</sup>, carrying y<sup>m</sup> to Brampore, where the Gen<sup>ll</sup> directed their own tents to bee sett up with a good guard ov<sup>r</sup> y<sup>m</sup>, ordering M<sup>r</sup> Mills to tell the Ambassador y<sup>t</sup> all this might have bin prevented had hee not spoyled his own business and that 'twas never knowne any Ambassador departed a Kings Court without leave. M<sup>r</sup> Mills replying that the Ambassador desired to goe for Suratt in 3 or 4 dayes, w<sup>ch</sup> so surprized the Gen<sup>ll</sup>, whose answe<sup>r</sup> and w<sup>t</sup> past in this unaccountable rash action will bee overbulkey for this conveyance, designing all the whole affaire, God willing, by the "Rooke," the Gen<sup>ll</sup> having promised a favorable report to y<sup>e</sup> Emp<sup>r</sup> y<sup>t</sup> was marching to besiege Kilnash, from whom might expect an answe<sup>r</sup> in 40 dayes, and if hee found other measures taken by the Ambassador the Phyrmaunds hee desired should bee delivered.

Wee intend not to write His Eccell<sup>cy</sup> y<sup>a</sup> 3 or 4 dayes or till heare from him an acco<sup>tt</sup> of this action and then shall intreat him to discharge Mills, whom we believe in our judgments and consciences has bin y<sup>e</sup> tool for betraying the Embassy and an instrument of this unpresideded rashness y<sup>t</sup> has cost near 80000£, soe much to y<sup>e</sup> dishonour of our Great and Magnificent King and against the interest of your Honours and English nation in gen<sup>ll</sup>, and our integrity. Having already created soe many enemies shall only now presume in this great affaire to say His Excell<sup>cy</sup> and M<sup>r</sup> Secretary was overgreat for their stations and above all inferior advice, humbly intreating you'l pardon our referring your August Court to what has bin wrote from His Excellency and by us to him and y<sup>e</sup> Diary of this unintelligible tragedy for leaving the Court when all was offered him y<sup>t</sup> hee required, comforting ourselves with hearty wishes for y<sup>e</sup> safe arrivall of your ships for bringing your instructions for our future Government y<sup>t</sup> wee may not bee found remiss imploying our tallent for the honour and service of your August Society, whose councells and negotiations humbly committ to the guidance and protection of the Almighty, intreat you to believe y<sup>t</sup> wee are December 8th, 1701.

N. WAITE.
B. MEWSE.
J. BONNELL.
C. CARY.

---

Suratt, Dec<sup>r</sup> 31st, 1701.

A para. regarding the threat to Sir John Gayer in default of a ffaithful acco<sup>tt</sup> of the surplus in and out at the Custom house:—

Since our last the Governour has forc't payment of w<sup>t</sup> there advised from the Dutch and old Factory; the first still confined and the latter shutt upp. The Gov<sup>r</sup> few dayes past sending for Sr. John Gayer, pretending out of kindness to see him, when in truth it was to deliver him and the Councell into y<sup>e</sup> hand and charge of the Cattwall, y<sup>t</sup> gave a receipt for their persons, and in whose custody their chief Broaker continues prisoner, the Governour threatening him if hee delivers not a ffaithful acco<sup>tt</sup> in three dayes of the surplus w<sup>ch</sup> appears by their entrys in and out att the Custom house to remaine in y<sup>e</sup> Countrey, will force him to turn Moor, the Emp<sup>r</sup> having sent down w<sup>thin</sup> this nine dayes 'tis said an irrevokable order signed by the Prime Vizier publish't the 29th inst<sup>a</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> old Factory satisfying all demands upon y<sup>m</sup>, and if sufficient assets are not found, to bee ignomously expelled the country, the Emp<sup>r</sup> directing the Sydee or Admiral to seize Bombay, y<sup>t</sup> hear is soe slenderly garrizond, will if attack't bee easily carryed, all w<sup>ch</sup> might have prevented had that Factory imployed their tallent for the true interest of their Masters that has suffered more by their impolite and untoward heat breaking thro: sacred promises and trusting to their unlymited power for corrupting all that gold will allure in y<sup>e</sup> whole managery of their affaires, when they might have compounded and thereby establish't a friendship wth these inhabitants for less than has bin given to the Governour &<sup>ca</sup> for not executing y<sup>e</sup> severall orders for payment upon y<sup>m</sup> and defeating the Embassy vainly projected for expelling y<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> out of Indostan, in w<sup>ch</sup> last God be praised they and their adhearance being infallibly disappointed, will in favour to themselves assuredly charge all that can bee invented for destroying ... most valuable to man. And in these discouraging circumstances are wee in for preserving y<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> for being obliged joyning with their misterious and incumbered stock having not yett found any reason to suspect these proceedings can imbroyle your affaires when your Phyrmaunds are delivered, though most Europeans, Jews, and Gentiles are against y<sup>t</sup>.....governing all our actions with those principles of virtue y<sup>t</sup> our word is..... wth whom..... credit beyond what wee dare make use of as affaires stand in Europe.

---

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 5th and 6th Jan<sup>ry</sup> 1701-2.

This evening y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> sent for Phillip Blower & told him y<sup>t</sup> he would have him tell y<sup>e</sup> General that the y<sup>e</sup> Kings orders abo<sup>t</sup> Hosson Ammadans losses were very severe, and desired y<sup>t</sup> wee would sattisfie him, otherwise he must obay y<sup>e</sup> King and put us to all y<sup>e</sup> trouble & extreimity possible, our lives only excepted; but as wee were strangers he had in a great measure forbore puting those severe orders in execution, in hopes of our compliance; but if wee did not do it speedily he must proceed to y<sup>e</sup> utmost.

6th.—The merchants having met this morning at Marza Zuids, wee sent Sam: Richardson & Phillip Blower to know their thoughts of w<sup>t</sup> the Gov<sup>r</sup> intended by proceeding against us after this manner. He sent us word they had not come to any resolution, but he wo<sup>d</sup> advise y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> if y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> sho<sup>d</sup> send to him again, to put him off till after y<sup>e</sup> next Edaulet day, in w<sup>ch</sup> time y<sup>e</sup> merchants wo<sup>d</sup> begin to stir. In y<sup>e</sup> evening y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> sent again for Phillip Blower to come to him, and wee ordered him whatever y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> said to him to give him no other answer then that wee would send him an answer to what he demanded by Merza Zaid tomorrow morning. S<sup>d</sup> Blower returned and reported to y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> that y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> was very pressing to have Hosson Ammadan sattisfied, & very severe in his expressions if wee did not comply.

JNO GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.
B. WYCHE.

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 7th Jan<sup>y</sup> 1701-2.

This being Edaulet day y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> sent to advise us y<sup>t</sup> he would stay no longer then this morning for our answer, & wo<sup>d</sup> have it bro<sup>t</sup> by an Englishman, & Venwallidass Bimjee finding him so very angerey & pressing for said answer, wee tho<sup>t</sup> it not possible to put him off any longer, but must be forced to send it him, lett y<sup>e</sup> event prove how it would; so after due consideration wee resolved to send Phillip Blower along wth Venwallidass wth y<sup>e</sup> following answer, first to the Voccaunvees & then to y<sup>e</sup> Governour, viz<sup>t</sup>: that the Dutch and wee sent convoys to Moco wth y<sup>e</sup> Kings and merch<sup>ts</sup> ships y<sup>t</sup> year; that Hosson Ammadans ship was taken by y<sup>e</sup> pyrates, & s<sup>d</sup> Hosson Ammadan was warned by our people of y<sup>e</sup> danger of not keeping comp<sup>a</sup> before they sailed out of Moco & after; but he obstinately left their company without any stress of weather, and our ships could not leave y<sup>e</sup> Kings to look after him. Wee robbed him of nothing, but by his means wee were robbed att Judda of three hundred & ten thousand rup<sup>s</sup>, therefore wee could not pay him anything.

At w<sup>ch</sup> answer y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> was in a great passion, & said he would force us to comply by putting the Kings orders in execution to y<sup>e</sup> utmost severity.

9th —This day y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> doubled his guards about y<sup>e</sup> ffactory & debarred us from all manner of correspondence wth Europeans or Natives, and from all necessarys & conveniences of life, because we would not consent to pay Hosson Ammadan three hundred thousand rupees, for w<sup>ch</sup> sume he is willing to quit his unjust claim for w<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> pyrates robbed him & his ffreighters of in y<sup>e</sup> year 1698.

12th —Cap<sup>t</sup> Robert Hudson, Com<sup>a</sup> of the "Loyall Bliss," took Shamjee, a Banian, who was come on board his ship, & rowed to all y<sup>e</sup> ships in y<sup>e</sup> road belonging to this place; & commanded them not to stir their anchors upon their perill, till y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> had sett us att liberty and permitted provisions to come off to their ships.

Resolved to strike y<sup>e</sup> fflagg & fflagg staff to amuse y<sup>e</sup> Governour & merchants.

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.
B. WYCHE.

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 13th Jan<sup>y</sup> 1701-2.

Wee sent Phillip Blower (whom the Gov<sup>r</sup> permitted to come out of, & into y<sup>e</sup> ffactory) with the following Roca to him:—

To y<sup>e</sup> Noble Dianaut Caun, Gov<sup>r</sup> of Suratt.

May it please y<sup>e</sup> Lordship,

You have been pleased to seize of my masters goods to y<sup>e</sup> amount of about two hundred and thirty-five thousand rup<sup>s</sup> & have delivered them to Abdull Guffore to sattisfie him for his pretended loss of one hundred & eighty-two thousand rup<sup>s</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> he saith he was robbed of by a pyrate in y<sup>e</sup> Streights of Mallacca. This you have done as I presume by virtue of your Kings order, occasioned by a security paper y<sup>t</sup> was extorted from my people by Emmanaut Caun at y<sup>e</sup> perill of their lives: and now you further demand of me three hundred thousand rup<sup>s</sup> to sattisfie Hosson Ammadan for w<sup>t</sup> he saith he was robbed of by another pyrate, though no man in y<sup>e</sup> world can prove y<sup>t</sup> either I or my people ever robbed any one of a rupee. Moreover, I did y<sup>t</sup> year Hosson Ammadans ship was robbed send two ships in comp<sup>a</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Kings and merchants ships & Dutch convoys to helpe to convoy all safe out & home; but Hosson Ammadan being proud, he would not keep company wth my ships, but wilfully left them, though my people told him of y<sup>e</sup> hazard he would expose himselfe to, & y<sup>t</sup> they could not leave the Kings ships in hazard to go after his : but they convoyed y<sup>e</sup> Kings and other merch<sup>ts</sup> ships y<sup>t</sup> kept them company safe back to these port, though I am not paid y<sup>e</sup> charges of that expedition to this day. Now wth what reason or justice can Hosson Ammadan then em and one rupee of me, on w<sup>ch</sup> acc<sup>t</sup> I neither can, nor ever will pay him anything, and by w<sup>t</sup> justice can I and my people be here imprisoned, & wee & my people in three ships at this Barr (who have bro<sup>t</sup> considerable cargo's to y<sup>e</sup> Kings Port) be so long debarred of provisions, water, wood & every thing else for y<sup>e</sup> support of life. Was it ever known y<sup>t</sup> merch<sup>ts</sup> were so treated in any parts of y<sup>e</sup> world before; besides Hosson Ammadans brother by his insinuation to y<sup>e</sup> Shreif of Judda on acco<sup>t</sup> of his loss by y<sup>e</sup> pyrates, hath occasioned my people there to be robbed of three hundred & ten thousand rupees, besides other great proffits y<sup>t</sup> would have accrued by y<sup>e</sup> ships safe returne to her port, & hath likewise procured y<sup>e</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup> & merchant to be basely imprisoned. All this being duely weighed by your Lordship, I hope you will do me justice, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Kings port may flourish.

The above Roca being handed to y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup>, he ordered it to be translated into Pertian & bro<sup>t</sup> to him tomorrow, & then told our messenger y<sup>t</sup> he was y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup>s friend, & had done him a great many kindnesses, & wo<sup>d</sup> do more if he wo<sup>d</sup> comply & put an end to Hosson Ammadans business. Philip Blower told him y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> was well sattisfied in his friendship, & y<sup>e</sup> way for him to confirme it wo<sup>d</sup> be to let him see y<sup>e</sup> Kings orders abo<sup>t</sup> Hosson Ammadans demands, w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> was very desirous of. So he carryed him into another room & read y<sup>e</sup> orders to him, w<sup>ch</sup> was y<sup>t</sup> he sh<sup>d</sup> seiz upon our persons & effects in case wee refuse to pay Hosson Ammadans losses.

14th.—Wee sent y<sup>e</sup> translation of y<sup>e</sup> above Roca to y<sup>e</sup> Edaulet, y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> read it, & then threw it downe in a great passion, and askt y<sup>e</sup> messenger whether wee knew no better then to send him such a writing w<sup>ch</sup> signified nothing.

16th.—Wee sent to y<sup>e</sup> principal merchants in towne to acquaint them how much wee had suffered by y<sup>e</sup> unjust demands of Hosson Ammadan, & y<sup>t</sup> it behoved them as Merch<sup>ts</sup> (if for no other reason then that they would be sufferers by y<sup>e</sup> stop of trade) to use their utmost endeavours to bring these present differences to a speedy conclusion; & not flatter themselves wth hopes of trading when our trade was stopped; for if wee did not trade they could not, & such like arguments wee used to induce them to interpose between us & y<sup>e</sup> Govern<sup>t</sup>. Their answers were various, and gave us but little hopes of having any assistance from them; but they all advised to bring in the Dutch for halfe if wee must pay y<sup>e</sup> money, they being convoys wth us at y<sup>e</sup> same time.

27th.—This day the General sent the following Roca to y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> :—

To y<sup>e</sup> Noble Dianut Caun, Gov<sup>r</sup> of Suratt.

May it please y<sup>r</sup> Lordship,

I and my people having been long oppressed by reason of y<sup>e</sup> unjust demands of Hosson Ammadan, I have many times petitioned y<sup>r</sup> Lordship for relief, but have not been so happy as to obtain any, w<sup>ch</sup> obliges me once more to represent our oppressed condition to you. Tis now more then twelve months since, when at my arrival at Swalley bunder you were pleased to give me y<sup>e</sup> utmost assureance of y<sup>r</sup> favour & kind usage if I would come on shore: on y<sup>e</sup> faith of w<sup>ch</sup> I landed at my Choultry & was negotiating my masters business, without offering any violence or injury to any person, when on a sudden you were pleased to send y<sup>r</sup> armies to attack me in a hostile manner, to bring me, my wife & people to your house in an unparraleld dishonourable manner, where you kept us, Presid<sup>t</sup> Colt & others of my masters servants, prisoners fourteen days. Afterwards y<sup>e</sup> were pleased to permit us to come to our house but ordered guards round abo<sup>t</sup> it, by w<sup>ch</sup> means I, the Presid<sup>t</sup>, & my wife have been prisoners almost twelve months: forty days of w<sup>ch</sup> time wee have all been deprived of whatsoever necessary for y<sup>e</sup> support of life, w<sup>ch</sup> is beyond w<sup>t</sup> hath ever been done to the worst of criminals, though wee are innocent merchants, who have bro<sup>u</sup>t an immense treasure to y<sup>e</sup> Kings dominions, & have never been guilty of y<sup>e</sup> least crime agst him or his subjects, but have many times been serviceable to both; notwithstanding you have late also seized of my masters goods to y<sup>e</sup> amount of about two hundred & thirty-five thousand rupees to pay Abdull Guffore, for w<sup>t</sup> he pretends his ships were robbed of by y<sup>e</sup> pyrates, & now you further demand of me three hundred thousand rup<sup>s</sup> to satsisfie Hosson Ammadan for w<sup>t</sup> he saith he was robbed of by the forementioned Villains (who are rebels of all Nations subject to no Governm<sup>t</sup>), notwithstanding y<sup>t</sup> by his means wee have been robbed of abo<sup>u</sup>t three hundred & ten thousand rupees at Judda, besides y<sup>e</sup> proffits of y<sup>e</sup> voyage back. This being y<sup>e</sup> true state of the case, & I and my people having never robbed any one of a pice, I cannot pay him one Almond.* One of my ships hath layen at this Barr fifty-five days, two others seaven & thirty days, and one twelve days without allowance of provisions or water, & now they have all lost these monsoon for England; these & former grievances y<sup>t</sup> wee have suffered render it impossible for me to trade to this port any longer; therefore I request y<sup>t</sup> I and my people may have liberty to go on board our ships, wth our effects to returne to our native country. If this my reasonable request be denyed, I know not w<sup>t</sup> the severity they suffer on boardship & on land may prompt them to, rather then starve to death. This I desire y<sup>e</sup> will take into your serious consideration, for y<sup>t</sup> it is not in my power to keep y<sup>m</sup> any longer under y<sup>e</sup> circumstances they now are, from w<sup>ch</sup> if y<sup>r</sup> Lordship doth not deliver them, I shall be innocent, whatsoever they do. God preserve you. Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 27th Jan<sup>y</sup> 1701-2.

The Gov<sup>r</sup> sent us word y<sup>t</sup> he must obay y<sup>e</sup> Kings orders: w<sup>t</sup> did wee designe to do? Did wee designe to starve ourselves? why did wee not deposite goods & he would write to y<sup>e</sup> King, & wee might do y<sup>e</sup> same & y<sup>e</sup> goods should ley till y<sup>e</sup> Kings orders came abo<sup>u</sup>t them. Wee returned answer, wee robbed not Hosson Ammadan nor nobody & would not pay or deposite anything; if y<sup>e</sup> Kings orders are to kill us, let him come & do it quickly, wee w<sup>d</sup> sell our lives as dear as wee could. Our people on board y<sup>e</sup> ships at y<sup>e</sup> rivers mouth and likewise those in y<sup>e</sup> ffactory wee could not longer restrain from attempting something extraordinary for y<sup>e</sup> support of life, therefore he would do well to consider where it would end.

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.
B. WYCHE.

February y<sup>e</sup> 6th 1701-2.—The Gov<sup>r</sup> relaxed his severity & allowed us a certain quantity of provisions & water &c<sup>s</sup> as he did after our first enlargem<sup>t</sup> & appointed persons to treat wth us, sometimes in a threatening manner & sometimes flattering, to cause us to pay Hosson Ammadan, but their mediation proveing ineffectual, he made choice of three others amongst which Mons<sup>r</sup> Pillavoine y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench Directour was over persuaded to list himselve.

While wee were thus in treaty wee got Cap<sup>t</sup> Raynes his Doc<sup>r</sup> & third Mate out of y<sup>e</sup> ffactory, who got safe on board ship.

9th—By help of a litle money amongst our guards, wee got Cap<sup>t</sup> Raynes out of y<sup>e</sup> ffactory in an ordinary sailers habit.

---

*The Gold Moor or Gold Roupie is valued generally at 14 of silver; and the silver Roupie at two shillings three pence. Besides these they land Foreign Coyns but not in that plenty; and pice, which are made of copper, sixty of which, sometimes two or three more or less, are valued at a Roupie. Lower than these, bitter almonds here pass for money, about sixty of which make a Pice.—“A Voyage to Surat,” by J. Ovington, page 219.

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 12th Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 1701-2.

The persons appointed by y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> to treat wth us came to y<sup>e</sup> ffactory viz<sup>t</sup> Mons<sup>r</sup> Pillavoine accompanied by Mons<sup>r</sup> Pisserant & Parthon, Merza Ebraim and Bhidass y<sup>e</sup> cheif Diwan and used sundry argum<sup>ts</sup> to persuade us to a compliance, as y<sup>e</sup> positiveness of y<sup>e</sup> Kings orders, & y<sup>e</sup> further severity y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> would inflict on us if wee did not comply wth them, to w<sup>ch</sup> Mons<sup>r</sup> Pillavoine added, y<sup>t</sup> though wee were forced to pay so great a sune unjustly now, wee might take an oppertunity to cause y<sup>e</sup> Moors to refund it, but neither his nor his partners argum<sup>ts</sup> were of force to gain upon us: well knowing y<sup>t</sup> if wee p<sup>d</sup> anything to Hosson Ammadan, wee sh<sup>d</sup> open a gap for y<sup>e</sup> remainder of y<sup>e</sup> eighty lack of rup<sup>s</sup> to break in uppon us. However, they would not take our answer now, but made us promise to take two days more to consider of it, and they wo<sup>d</sup> come for our answer about it.

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.

STEPHEN COLT.

E. BENDALL.

B. WYCHE.

March 13th, 1701-2.—This day arrived y<sup>e</sup> Kings Phirmaund to remove our late Gov<sup>r</sup> from his Government of this place & to constitute in his room Mahmud Anvees y<sup>e</sup> Siddees Vuckeel under y<sup>e</sup> title of Ettabar Caun, who accordingly this day took upon him y<sup>e</sup> administration of affaires. Tis agreed by all y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> reason of Dianut Cauns disgrace is y<sup>e</sup> undue measures he has taken in y<sup>e</sup> affaires of y<sup>e</sup> port, w<sup>ch</sup> the new Gov<sup>r</sup> is peticularly recommended to open; in order thereto he has made us very large promises of his favour, desiring that wee would forthwith take off all restraints and give passes to y<sup>e</sup> merchants.

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 14th March 1701-2.

Wee agreed upon y<sup>e</sup> following Articles to be sent to y<sup>e</sup> new Gov<sup>r</sup> Ettabar Caun, viz<sup>t</sup>.—

The request of S<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Gayer, Gen<sup>ll</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> affaires of y<sup>e</sup> old Company, unto Ettabar Caun, Gov<sup>r</sup> of Suratt:—

1st. That all y<sup>e</sup> guards round my ffactory or anywhere else belonging to me be removed, & I, all my English men, & all else belonging to me be set att liberty.

2. That my Companys goods & effects be freely exported & imported, & y<sup>t</sup> I may buy & sell goods at my pleasure, & y<sup>t</sup> custome be taken from me as usuall, & y<sup>t</sup> herein no one cause me any hinderance.

3. That I, my Englishmen & my servants be permitted freely to go out of y<sup>e</sup> towne to gardens for recreation, & may go to & from Swalley, Bombay, England & other places abo<sup>t</sup> merchandize, y<sup>t</sup> herein no one cause any interuption.

4. That your Lordship would write to Court & to Shaw Azzum to release y<sup>e</sup> goods y<sup>t</sup> are detained at Ahmadavad, Neriad, Dolka, Duboy, Brodera, Cambay, & other places.

5. Dianut Caun forceibly took from me sundry of my Companys goods & gave them to Abdull Guffore, these I desire may be restored.

The Gov<sup>r</sup> Ettabar Caun returned y<sup>e</sup> following answer to y<sup>e</sup> foregoing articles, to w<sup>ch</sup> he set his hand & seal viz<sup>t</sup>.—

To the 1st. The supernumerary men shall be removed, but some must continue till it please God you land y<sup>e</sup> Europe ships cargo's y<sup>t</sup> are lately arrived & then all shall be removed.

To the 2<sup>d</sup>. That when y<sup>e</sup> present stop to y<sup>e</sup> port is removed you may carry on your trade as formerly & no one will hinder it.

To the 3rd. Except y<sup>e</sup> Chiefs, y<sup>t</sup> is y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> of Bombay and President, may go & come as formerly & no one shall hinder them; but if y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>l</sup> or Presid<sup>t</sup> want to go to take their pleasure in y<sup>e</sup> gardens, let y<sup>m</sup> take leave & go.

To y<sup>e</sup> 8th. What Dianut Caun did was according to yo<sup>r</sup> security paper, but if you can prove he took more then was lost, I will write to the King y<sup>t</sup> it may be returned.

Dated y<sup>e</sup> 25th Shuvical in y<sup>e</sup> 46th year of y<sup>e</sup> Moguls Reigne.

This day it was debated, y<sup>t</sup> seeing y<sup>e</sup> Agra & Serung goods of last year was under y<sup>e</sup> late Gov<sup>r</sup>s Seal, being seized by him for to make satisfaction for what M<sup>r</sup> Hosson Ammadan was robbed of by y<sup>e</sup> pyrates, and seeing y<sup>t</sup> after several applications to y<sup>e</sup> new Gov<sup>r</sup> wee could not obtain liberty to lade said goods on the "Martha" & "Hearn" (to w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Brokers were wee believe more averse then y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> tho: they laid all y<sup>e</sup> blame upon him), & seeing wee had no other goods but nine bales of Baftas & thirty-five bales of cotton yarne to lade on said ships here, whether wee sh<sup>d</sup> land w<sup>t</sup> part of y<sup>e</sup> cargoes of y<sup>e</sup> "Loyall Bliss," "Nathaniel" & "Hearn" w<sup>ch</sup> are designed for this part? and at last for y<sup>e</sup> following reasons, was resolved to land all their silver, but five chests, w<sup>ch</sup> wee reserved to pay for pepper contracted for at Carwar, & to supply y<sup>e</sup> necessitys of Anjengo, w<sup>ch</sup> Garrison was in a great streight for want of money. Att Callicutt they had taken three chests of Doll<sup>rs</sup> out of y<sup>e</sup> "Hearn"; w<sup>ch</sup> is sufficient to pay for w<sup>t</sup> pepper they had bo<sup>t</sup> & to defray y<sup>e</sup> charges of y<sup>t</sup> ffactory & Tellecherry, & wee apprend y<sup>t</sup> there is no need of sending more money there to buy more pepper, for y<sup>t</sup> wee sh<sup>d</sup> have remaining in warehouses at y<sup>e</sup> several ffactorys (after y<sup>e</sup> "Martha" & "Hearn" was laden) about sixteen hundred candy.

Wee also resolved to land one hundred & three bales of broad cloth & nine of stuffs, w<sup>ch</sup> was all y<sup>t</sup> was proper for this markett, wth all y<sup>e</sup> white & red lead, pigg lead, anchors, iron & one chest of telliscopes: all y<sup>e</sup> rest of y<sup>e</sup> goods wee resolved should be continued on y<sup>e</sup> ships for Persia, they being designed for that markett, except y<sup>e</sup> guns w<sup>ch</sup> wee designed to sell att Bombay at y<sup>e</sup> ships returne, where they would yield much more then here. Now reasons y<sup>t</sup> induced us thus to do are viz<sup>t</sup>:—

1st. Our debts here are very great & our Creditors very clamorous for money.

2<sup>d</sup>. Shuld wee send y<sup>e</sup> money to Bombay it would there ley dead, & should wee send y<sup>e</sup> goods proper for this place thither they would ley dead also, for y<sup>t</sup> litle if any would sell there, & y<sup>e</sup> cloth & stuffs w<sup>ch</sup> are much damaged w<sup>d</sup> be eaten up by y<sup>e</sup> wormes, & to send it to Persia would be as bad, for y<sup>t</sup> there is already a great deal more designed for y<sup>t</sup> place then wee can imagine will sell in a long time especially of stuffs.

3<sup>dly</sup>. Should wee not land said money & goods, none would ffreight on y<sup>e</sup> ships to Persia, thinking wee intended a warr.

4<sup>ly</sup>. This wo<sup>d</sup> undo all y<sup>t</sup> wee had done wth y<sup>e</sup> new Gov<sup>r</sup>, cause him to treat us severely & to write hard things against us to Court, w<sup>ch</sup> might greatly influence y<sup>e</sup> King, not only against us but against Madrass, Ffort S<sup>t</sup> Davids, & Calcutta, where wee hear his orders are already forwarded to seize the persons of all y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>s</sup> servants & all their effects; besides wee might all perish here, for y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Brokers will not supply us wth pice for our subsistance, & if our ships sho<sup>d</sup> not go on ffreight to Persia, great troubles according to w<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Agent & Council have wrote us may ensue there; besides all this 'tis probable y<sup>t</sup> our ships will bring from thence in money & good on ffreight to a greater amount then wee shall land, w<sup>ch</sup> may be secured on their arrival, if in y<sup>e</sup> interim y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>s</sup> shall think fitt to break wth y<sup>e</sup> Moors.

Ordered y<sup>e</sup> Brokers to pay seaventy two rupees to Gangardass Verdamon for provisions y<sup>e</sup> Governour of Daman sent on board y<sup>e</sup> "Martha," "Nathaniel" and "Loyall Bliss" at y<sup>e</sup> rivers mouth.

March 17th.—The Generals writing given to Ettabar Caun at his request upon y<sup>e</sup> removal of our guards:—

I, S<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Gayer, Gen<sup>ll</sup> for affaires of y<sup>e</sup> Old Comp<sup>a</sup> in Surat, write to y<sup>e</sup> King, y<sup>t</sup> from y<sup>e</sup> encouragem<sup>t</sup>. Ettabar Caun has given I am rejoyced. I desire him to write to y<sup>e</sup> King y<sup>e</sup> trouble I have unjustly received from former officers unto this time, & y<sup>e</sup> losses y<sup>t</sup> I have sustained by their false slanders. By y<sup>e</sup> Kings commands I have acquired this agreem<sup>t</sup> wth y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> y<sup>t</sup> in y<sup>e</sup> same manner owners of ships and merch<sup>a</sup> formerly sent their ships whither they pleased, so they shall do now: & my ships y<sup>t</sup> are at y<sup>e</sup> rivers m<sup>o</sup> &.....y<sup>e</sup> ships importing & going out shall now desist, & any ships going upon a voyage shall have my pass.

The Gov<sup>r</sup> having given us assureance of his favour by taking of all our guards but five, and having given us larger promises under his seal mentioned y<sup>e</sup> 14th ins<sup>t</sup> following, upon his request y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & Council went to give him a vissit, at w<sup>ch</sup> meeting he was pleased to give us assureances of his favour; desireing y<sup>t</sup> wee would forget y<sup>e</sup> injuries y<sup>t</sup> had been done us by his predecessers by means of our long & severe imprisonment, & y<sup>t</sup> wee would open the Port, w<sup>ch</sup> wee promised to doe. Att our coming away he gave y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> a horse & severall peices of silk, and to y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & Council y<sup>t</sup> was wth him several peices of silk likewise.

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.
B. WYCHE.

---

Surat, May 6th 1702.

Hon<sup>d</sup> S<sup>rs</sup>,

(Para. 34.) The Lord Ambassador has already informed your Honour being determined to leave Suratt this season and no other ship of . . . that wee could possibly putt into a sayling posture, His Excellency agreed with Cap<sup>t</sup>. Geo: Luke Burrish and M<sup>r</sup>. Walter Combs supercargoe of the "Scipio," a permissive ship on the separte stock, burthen three hundred Tunn, that wee should pay R<sup>s</sup>. 10000, viz. R<sup>s</sup>. 2000 M<sup>r</sup>. Combs himself and R<sup>s</sup>. 8000 to said Cap<sup>t</sup>. Burrish for accommodation of His Excellency and thirteen of his retinue whose names wth the other 13 persons in the "China Merchant" goes inclosed, w<sup>ch</sup> wee have been obliged to pay and grant lycense pursuant to His Excellencys agreement for said Cap<sup>t</sup>. Burrish and M<sup>r</sup>. Combs, investing said ten Thousand Rupees in such goods as they please for Europe likewise inclosed, and had any particulars bin given in what elsee went on board s<sup>d</sup> ship "Scipio" it is our duty to have transmitted y<sup>m</sup> to yo<sup>r</sup>. Hon<sup>rs</sup>.

The Ambassador delivered over within 5 dayes after his coming to Suratt 10 Camell, 117 Oxen, 18 Carts, 19 Hackerys, two Coaches more broaken: sold wth the concurrant approbation of His Excellency for R<sup>s</sup>. 1559-12. Of the largest and best oxen His Excellency reserved for the export in both said ships to Mauritius.

The 25th instant His Excellency determined and appointed some dayes precedent for embarking, and accordingly directed both your sloops downe to lye before the garden in w<sup>ch</sup> hee lay. The Governour being acquainted thereof by your Broakers for preventing any dispute or other inconveniency going on board, and respectfully clearing their baggage, declared y<sup>t</sup> Dianatt Cawne, late Governour, delivered him y<sup>e</sup> Emperors order that came some months past, notified to us for not permitting his goeing off, w<sup>ch</sup> was wrote His Excellency the 7th of Jan<sup>y</sup>, and the Governour knew well the Embassador had received y<sup>e</sup> Emperors letter and present from the Great Generall for the King of England att Brampore. Would not hearken to any arguments having pay'd 250000 rupees for this Government and daily fleesing the inhabitants, and the old Companys emissarys telling him hee might now gett money, initiated vexatious troubles, was att last forced to promise him a present, w<sup>ch</sup> lay incumbant upon us, as told your Hon<sup>rs</sup> by your "Rooke" to every new Governour and Minister when first entered your employment had there not bin this occasion to demand it, and His Excellency writing us the 24th instant hee was resolved to embarke the next day with his baggage, as appeares by said letter on consultation and reply, agreed to give y<sup>e</sup> Governour R<sup>s</sup> 3000, the Vocanivis R<sup>s</sup> 1000, the Harcarra 1000 in Europe produce att y<sup>e</sup> curr<sup>t</sup> valuation, and the 300 rupees in money to the Meer or Chief Customer for clearing all his baggage, performed with respect, not opening any of His Excellencys or other baggage. Your Chief Councell and all that could bee spared out of your Factory waited upon His Excellency the said 25th instant att the garden where hee lay, His Excellency presenting S<sup>r</sup> Nicholas Waite with his travelling tent, his chaire and stool of state, an elephant 8 foot 3 inches high, and a horse, which last hee had from y<sup>e</sup> Mogull after his audience.

M<sup>r</sup> Thomas Harlewyn delivered M<sup>r</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Proby eight thousand rupees sealed up in bags, found afterwards to be old Bengall rupees 1½ per cent. worse than made in Suratt, out of w<sup>ch</sup> sume M<sup>r</sup> Sandiford was to receive what he should have occasion for discharging some debts of the Embassy, who accordingly had pay'd him R<sup>s</sup> 3785 as per his receipt given in your generall receipt book. What further may be pay'd are not yet informed.

The rec<sup>t</sup> of said R<sup>s</sup> 8000 and 1559 for oxen &c and y<sup>e</sup> aforementioned payments are since the acco<sup>ts</sup> curr<sup>t</sup> stated out of your books.....for what this Presidency had furnisht the Embassy amounting to Rupees 369345-3¼, examined, allowed and approved under the hand of His Excell<sup>y</sup> the 23<sup>d</sup> inst<sup>a</sup> besides interest cast upp to the 31st ultimo amounting to R<sup>s</sup> 31568-51 charged to the Embassy, being it is pay'd out of yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> estate, copy of w<sup>ch</sup> said acco<sup>ts</sup> goes now inclosed. Probably may want some small sumes to bee added as well as paid not possibly being incerted till 18 horses left with the Steward and two ordinary travelling Pallenqueens are sold, which shall bee with w<sup>t</sup> expedition wee can. Y<sup>e</sup> remaining tents delivered as worth nothing are all that att present wee know has come into the Factory; and your Honours having bin att the expence of almost all y<sup>e</sup> now presented S<sup>r</sup> Nicholas Waite hee humbly resignes the chaire and stool of state for y<sup>e</sup> use of your Chapel, the tents of little value, to bee disposed of as your Chief and Councell shall see most for your interest as likewise y<sup>e</sup> elephant, said to bee old, vallued by those y<sup>e</sup> understand said creatures att Rupees about 2000, hee believing it not your interest introducing such a state for your Presidents, said beast costing near Rupees 100 per mensem, believe must present her y<sup>e</sup> Governour to bee rid of the charge.

His Excellency has not been pleased to deliver us any copy of his Diary, not proper to bee seen hee says in India.

Copies of the first years acco<sup>ts</sup> till His Excellency arrived at Suratt was transmitted by your servants out of the originall books His Excellency left the President and since delivered by M<sup>r</sup> Timothy Allestree with y<sup>e</sup> copyes to bee signed, which are not returned, probably by some mistake, goeing hastily off the 25th and not reaching the severall ships till the 29th.

N. WAITE.
W<sup>m</sup> PROBY.
B. MEWSE.
J. DUK.

Para. 13.—The 4th instant att night received a letter from your President and Councell of the Coast, dated att Madopallain y<sup>e</sup> 10th October, inclosing us copy of 21 articles said to bee unanimously agreed in both Generall Courts for a union of both Companys, with a letter directed from yo<sup>r</sup> Hon<sup>rs</sup> to y<sup>m</sup> by y<sup>e</sup> ..... upon said subject dated the 10th January 1701 w<sup>ch</sup> wee most heartily congratulate, and shall in every matter performe all that in our power answering y<sup>e</sup> end of such a happy conclusion making the first step. Upon opening next morning the 5th inst<sup>a</sup> your Presidents pacquett directing in Councell in said articles and your letter to be transcribed and sent inclosed that morning, S<sup>r</sup> Nicholas Waite was desired to write S<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Gayer, delivered by our Secretary. Copy thereof go's in this pacquett with S<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Gayers answer dated the 7th instant inclosing copy of a letter from the Governour and Councell dated y<sup>e</sup> 12th January 1701 verbatim. Y<sup>e</sup> same with the other transmitted us by your President &<sup>ca</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Gayer tells us came by your ship "Tankerville" sent by President Beard and received here y<sup>e</sup> beginning of last month, and was communicated to the Gov<sup>r</sup> and other Merchants and not to us, reporting a new Generall Councell was coming out upon y<sup>e</sup> next ship, S<sup>r</sup> Nicholas Waite sent for home in disgrace, all wrote upp to Court, and the same or next day S<sup>r</sup> John received the articles and letter from us hee declared y<sup>e</sup> publick union &<sup>ca</sup> att the publick table and att night to the Governour and others, telling y<sup>m</sup> it was confirmed by us, renewing their former information that a new Generall and Councell was coming out upon y<sup>e</sup> next ships and yo<sup>r</sup> President sent for home in disgrace. Desired y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>rs</sup> leave shipping off their goods for lading y<sup>e</sup> "Loyall Bliss" and "Nathaniel" daily expected from Persia, and upon y<sup>m</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> and M<sup>r</sup> Colt goeing downe to Bombay for seeing the Castle and other great damages they sustained in y<sup>e</sup> late violent s<sup>t</sup>orme repaired, and would returne wth the new Generall. How these proceedings may answer y<sup>e</sup> end of either Company or y<sup>e</sup> united stock every month forward will wee are confident evince you, our Honorable Masters, and y<sup>e</sup> whole world that what has been wrote you of occurances and y<sup>e</sup> state of affaires att Suratt was not unfaithfull or erroneously digested.

These reports goeing upp to y<sup>e</sup> Emp<sup>r</sup> and that mercenary Court encamp't in their winter quarters att Pergam, eight dayes by cossett from Surrat, but the 12th ultimo marching in few dayes from thence to besiege Puna Chaela, a strong fortress in y<sup>e</sup> mountaines, where it is said y<sup>e</sup> Savajees women and children are lodged, Rustumjee informed us by letter dated y<sup>e</sup> 25th ultimo has now stopped our Phyrmaunds granted by y<sup>e</sup> request and by y<sup>e</sup> interest of Gazdee Cawne, y<sup>e</sup> great Generall, till y<sup>e</sup> arrivall of our Europe ships, and then taking their measures accordingly.

---

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 13th May 1702.

Wee met to consider of y<sup>e</sup> several messages y<sup>t</sup> wee had rec<sup>d</sup> from y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup>; how y<sup>t</sup> he being but newly come to y<sup>e</sup> place, he could not carry on our business so currantly at Court without meeting wth disappointments, unless y<sup>e</sup> Voccaunvees was joyned wth him; w<sup>ch</sup> he did not doubt of, if wee applyed ourselves to him, but if he sh<sup>d</sup> seem indifferent, he advised us to make him a promise of some reward, & then he doubted not but our business wo<sup>d</sup> go on according to our desires. After thorough consideration of y<sup>e</sup> matter amongst ourselves wee concluded y<sup>t</sup> unless wee could secure him firmly on our side y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>rs</sup> interest at Court wo<sup>d</sup> be but small; but his avaritious temper put us upon considering of y<sup>e</sup> great sumes y<sup>t</sup> was continually going out, & our business going but very slowly on. Therefore wee ordered Venwally to go to him, & try how inclining he was to espouse our cause, & to use w<sup>t</sup> arguments he could to gain him to our interest, & if he found by discoursing him y<sup>t</sup> wee must give him money, to bring him to as low termes as possibly he could; then make him a promise, that after our guards were all taken of, & our trade went on without interruption as it used to do in former times, wee w<sup>d</sup> pay him y<sup>e</sup> money. Venwallidass came & told us y<sup>t</sup> he had been wth the Voccaunvees & discoursed him; but found him very greedy of money, & without it he was not to be prevailed upon, neither was he contented to stay till our business was compleated, but wo<sup>d</sup> have something in hand, & y<sup>t</sup> he found, after y<sup>e</sup> utmost endeavours, nothing less wo<sup>d</sup> sattisfie him then five thousand rup<sup>s</sup>. On w<sup>ch</sup> wee resolved, since there was no avoiding of it, our business being so far advanced & in all probabillity was likely to succeed well to give him two thousand rup<sup>s</sup> now & a promise of three thousand rup<sup>s</sup> more when all y<sup>e</sup> forementioned business was fully compleated.

14th.—M<sup>r</sup> Sam: Richardson Sec<sup>ry</sup> deyed intestate: upon w<sup>ch</sup> wee ordered W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay & Tho<sup>s</sup> Wilshere ffactors to seal up y<sup>e</sup> office till such time as wee should appoint one to succeed him; & that they take an exact inventory of all his things & lock them up till wee had time to sell them at publick outcry.

The Gov<sup>r</sup> sent to demand rent for y<sup>t</sup> part of y<sup>e</sup> ffactory w<sup>ch</sup> belongs to y<sup>e</sup> Mogull, and being unwilling to disoblige him in any respect, wee ordered him five hundred rup<sup>s</sup> towards y<sup>e</sup> rent of said part of y<sup>e</sup> house ..... 500

16th.—Ordered y<sup>e</sup> paym<sup>t</sup> of fifty-four thousand sixty-two rup<sup>s</sup> & thirty-six pice to Soordass Venwallidass for fifty thousand borrowed of him y<sup>e</sup> 25th June last ..... 54062:36

19th.—Ordered y<sup>e</sup> paym<sup>t</sup> of six hundred rup<sup>s</sup> to W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay Stew<sup>d</sup> to defray y<sup>e</sup> expences of y<sup>e</sup> house & to pay y<sup>e</sup> peons wages ... 600

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.
B. WYCHE.

---

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 20th May 1702.

The Warehouse-keeper & Sec<sup>ry</sup> places being vacant by y<sup>e</sup> death of Mess<sup>rs</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Robinson & Sam: Richardson, wee met to consider of y<sup>e</sup> most fiting persons wee have in y<sup>e</sup> ffactory at this time to succeed them, that y<sup>e</sup> business of y<sup>e</sup> office & Warehouse might not stand still; & wee resolved upon W<sup>m</sup> Brooke to take charge of the Warehouse, but not to be of Council, W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay of the Sec<sup>ry</sup> employ, & Jn<sup>o</sup> Brangwin to succeed him in the Stewards business, & gave each of them y<sup>e</sup> following orders:—

M<sup>r</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay,

Wee doe by these presents appoint & constitute you Secretary of this ffactory & do hereby require you to take charge of all y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>s</sup> Registrey belonging to said station & y<sup>t</sup> you keep y<sup>e</sup> same in y<sup>e</sup> best order possible, causing w<sup>t</sup> is at present fowle entered to be copyed over fair: also y<sup>t</sup> you do in y<sup>e</sup> future enter into books as accustomary whatever is by us transacted in Council, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> same may by us be signed next Council day; and wee do also require y<sup>t</sup> you keep an exact Register of all passes & orders given by us & y<sup>t</sup> wee shall receive from y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>s</sup>; & y<sup>t</sup> all general letters in & out, & all other papers of moment be duly copyed into books; & that you keep a diary of all materiall passages y<sup>t</sup> shall occur wth respect to y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>s</sup> affaires, y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> or other Europeans affaires, inhabitants of this city y<sup>t</sup> shall come to y<sup>r</sup> knowledge & be given you in charge to be recorded by us: & y<sup>t</sup> this business may be y<sup>e</sup> better effected and all things kept in good order wee do

appoint Mess<sup>rs</sup> Tho<sup>s</sup> Wilshere, Jn<sup>o</sup> Thorburn, Jn<sup>o</sup> Hill & Tho<sup>s</sup> Sutton to be y<sup>r</sup> assistants. Given under our hands this 20th May 1702.

M<sup>r</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay,

These are to enorder y<sup>o</sup> to make up y<sup>e</sup> acc<sup>ts</sup> of y<sup>r</sup> Stewardship to y<sup>e</sup> last day of this month & to deliver all y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>s</sup> plate, & whatsoever else y<sup>o</sup> have of theirs in your charge to M<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Brangwin, whose receipt y<sup>o</sup> are to take for all y<sup>t</sup> you deliver him & to keep y<sup>e</sup> same in y<sup>e</sup> Registry you are now intrusted wth. May 20th, 1702.

M<sup>r</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Brooke,

These are to enorder y<sup>o</sup> to take y<sup>e</sup> charge of all y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>s</sup> Warehouses in and belonging to this ffactory as their Warehouse-keeper for said ffactory, in the discharge of w<sup>ch</sup> trust wee require y<sup>o</sup> to take an exact inventory of all their goods & necessarys in each Wareh<sup>o</sup> & y<sup>t</sup> you compare y<sup>e</sup> same wth M<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Robinsons acc<sup>ts</sup> of remains. If you find any difference between his acc<sup>ts</sup> & yours, you are to give us an exact acc<sup>t</sup> thereof, that you may not be charged wth more then you receive; & to prevent all unnecessary disputes hereafter, wee require you to have M<sup>r</sup> Rich<sup>d</sup> Johnson & M<sup>r</sup> Phillip Blower present wth y<sup>o</sup> as witnesses to all y<sup>e</sup> acc<sup>ts</sup> you take of w<sup>t</sup> is in each Wareh<sup>o</sup>. This being done you are to debt yourself for w<sup>t</sup> you receive & keep an exact pare of booke, wherein you must enter all y<sup>t</sup> you receive and deliver in y<sup>e</sup> future w<sup>ch</sup> will be for y<sup>r</sup> credit if duely formed. Given under our hands in Suratt ffactory this 20th May.

M<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Brangwin,

These are to enorder you to receive into your charge all y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>s</sup> plate & whatsoever else of theirs is at this present in y<sup>e</sup> custody of M<sup>r</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay, for y<sup>t</sup> wee doe hereby appoint and constitute you Steward in his roome, for all w<sup>ch</sup> you are to give him a receipt & debt yourselve in a booke; & wee likewise require that you keep an exact acc<sup>t</sup> daily of all your disbursments, & y<sup>t</sup> you enter them into said booke, as is accustomed, & y<sup>t</sup> said acc<sup>ts</sup> be produced to us monthly for our perusall.

Ordered y<sup>e</sup> payment of two thousand one hundred thirty-seaven rup<sup>s</sup> seaven-teen pice to y<sup>e</sup> bearer (wee mention no name because y<sup>e</sup> Brokers sh<sup>d</sup> not know to whom it was paid), y<sup>e</sup> money being for two thousand eighty-eight rup<sup>s</sup> & forty-eight pice borrowed of Cuppoor y<sup>e</sup> 16th Ffebruary last to pay y<sup>e</sup> Moody & peons wages, when our Brokers would not supply us wth money, wee being in trouble wth y<sup>e</sup> Government.....

2137 : 17

21st..... Ordered y<sup>e</sup> payment of forty-six rup<sup>s</sup> thirty-six pice to James Greeves for his & Lascars wages belonging to y<sup>e</sup> Sloop and Country boat .....

46 : 36

27th Gave y<sup>e</sup> Honble Step: Colt, Presid<sup>t</sup>, a receipt for three hundred eighty-four rup<sup>s</sup> he p<sup>d</sup> into y<sup>e</sup> R.H.C<sup>s</sup> cash for M<sup>r</sup> Tho<sup>s</sup> Somaster, his wife & two slaves, their permission to go home upon y<sup>e</sup> "Martha" as accustomed .....

384

Ordered y<sup>e</sup> paym<sup>t</sup> of two hundred fifty-five rup<sup>s</sup> sixty-two pice to y<sup>e</sup> bearer for two hundred forty-nine rup<sup>s</sup> fifty-seaven pice borrowed of Cuppoor y<sup>e</sup> 21st Ffebr<sup>y</sup> last to pay y<sup>e</sup> Sloop & Country boats and Lascars wages.

28th.—Agreed y<sup>t</sup> seeing M<sup>r</sup> Sam : Richardson deceased had made good but five thousand two hundred sixty-nine rup<sup>s</sup> fifty-eight pice of y<sup>e</sup> six thousand y<sup>t</sup> he subscribed to y<sup>e</sup> Prosperous Stock; & finding his estate not answerable to his debts, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> should take off from his subscription y<sup>e</sup> remaining seaven hundred & thirty rup<sup>s</sup> fourteen pice, w<sup>ch</sup> sume he making good is added to his own subscription, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> stock might continue intire as it was first raised.

31st, 1702.—Our Cossets often miscarrying between Madras & this place, wee sent a third copy of our last letters to y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> by an Armenian conveyance.

WM MILD MAY,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

JNO GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.
B. WYCHE.

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 12th June 1702.

Abo<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> begining of last rains y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> of this place having given us some cause to suspect y<sup>t</sup> he had a designe to invade Bombay, wee ordered y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Gov<sup>r</sup> & Council to consult wth y<sup>e</sup> Ingeneir and Commission Officers about adding some strength to y<sup>e</sup> litle ffort at Mayhim wth all possible speed, allowing them to spend three thousand X<sup>s</sup> thereon if need required it. Now after they had made some progress herein they wrote us y<sup>t</sup> it wo<sup>d</sup> cost more then wee had allowed them to bestow on it: in answer to w<sup>ch</sup> wee wrote th<sup>o</sup> it did, they sh<sup>d</sup> use all possible dilligence to finish it, & w<sup>n</sup> wee tho<sup>t</sup> it had been near done, they sent us a modell of w<sup>t</sup> they designed to erect, noting how far y<sup>e</sup> worke was carryed on & how much it had & wo<sup>d</sup> cost, y<sup>e</sup> sume expended was X<sup>s</sup> 3397 : 0 : 0 y<sup>e</sup> sume to finish it.....at all w<sup>ch</sup> wee were extreemly surprized, but they laid the blame on M<sup>r</sup> Van Duuren, who made such an erronious computation. Now wee were not only surprized at y<sup>e</sup> extreordinary charge y<sup>t</sup> it wo<sup>d</sup> amount to, but that y<sup>e</sup> worke was not above one-sixth part done, w<sup>ch</sup> wee designed for an immediate strength to y<sup>e</sup> island, in case it sh<sup>d</sup> be invaded by y<sup>e</sup> Moores or Portigues, wth whom wee had reason to expect a breach & y<sup>t</sup> speedily. Another thing y<sup>t</sup> troubled us much was our fear y<sup>t</sup> in time y<sup>e</sup> sea might wash p<sup>t</sup> of it away, and then so much money would be ill bestowed. However, seeing they had gon on so far & y<sup>t</sup> it wo<sup>d</sup> add great strength to y<sup>e</sup> island w<sup>n</sup> finished & greatly augment y<sup>e</sup> Custome of Mayhim, wee ordered y<sup>t</sup> if they could be assured y<sup>t</sup> it wo<sup>d</sup> be in no danger from y<sup>e</sup> sea, y<sup>t</sup> they sho<sup>d</sup> use all possible dilligence to get it finished.

The Gov<sup>r</sup> being forced to set out wth all his force to convoy y<sup>e</sup> Kings treasure to y<sup>e</sup> borders of his Governm<sup>t</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> is reported to amount to twenty-five lack of rup<sup>s</sup>, he sent a compliment to y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup>, y<sup>t</sup> at his returne w<sup>ch</sup> wo<sup>d</sup> be in seaven or eight days, y<sup>e</sup> guard abo<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> ffactory sho<sup>d</sup> be all taken off.

WM MILD MAY,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

JNO GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.
B. WYCHE.

July 16th, 1702.—The Gov<sup>r</sup> sent a Chubdar to remove all our guards, & Sallamond Chellaby a Turke who had been several times employed by y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> to us, came likewise from him to acquaint us y<sup>t</sup> he desired us to come to his house y<sup>t</sup> he might in our presence make it publick to all y<sup>e</sup> officers y<sup>t</sup> our guards were removed, & y<sup>t</sup> it was done by y<sup>e</sup> consent of all. Accordingly, y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> & Council went, where they were honourably rec<sup>d</sup> by y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> and towne officers, & although y<sup>e</sup> guards were before removed, yet he again gave orders for y<sup>e</sup> doing of it in y<sup>e</sup> presence of y<sup>e</sup> Voccaunuvees & Horcorra wth their joynt consent, so after y<sup>e</sup> usuall ceremony of rose water &<sup>ca</sup> of giving y<sup>m</sup> some ps's of silk, he dismissed y<sup>m</sup> wth protestations of his fav<sup>r</sup>, desiring y<sup>t</sup> they wo<sup>d</sup> pray & act for y<sup>e</sup> good of y<sup>e</sup> port.

WM MILDMAI,
Secy.

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.
B. WYCHE.

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 2<sup>d</sup> Sep<sup>r</sup> 1702.

Having been ever since y<sup>e</sup> 24th of y<sup>e</sup> past month debating wth y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> & his Deputy abo<sup>t</sup> w<sup>t</sup> to give him, Venwallidass this day bro<sup>t</sup> us word y<sup>t</sup> he could not bring him to accept of less then thirty-five thousand rupees, though wee had yet offered him but twenty thousand. Wee told him of y<sup>e</sup> vast sums y<sup>t</sup> had been forced from us in this nature, therefore bid him tell y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> y<sup>t</sup> wee would not consent to give him one pice more then w<sup>t</sup> wee had agreed upon; & y<sup>t</sup> wee expected he sho<sup>d</sup> immediately put his promises in execution; w<sup>ch</sup> was to get an order from y<sup>e</sup> King to clear all our goods w<sup>ch</sup> are sto<sup>p</sup>t in all places of his dominions as well Bengall, Madrass &<sup>ca</sup> as in this Presidency; y<sup>t</sup> he sh<sup>d</sup> clear M<sup>r</sup> Annesleys business; give us .....Tanksall &<sup>ca</sup> as more largely appears, fol: 43.

After y<sup>e</sup> death of M<sup>r</sup> Sam: Richardson, W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay being appointed Secy & ordered to examine y<sup>e</sup> Registry of y<sup>t</sup> office & to use all possible dilligence to bring up w<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> Richardson might have omitted, by reason of our long troubles and his late sickness, he bro<sup>t</sup> us in an acc<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> .....June (w<sup>ch</sup> is entered in y<sup>e</sup> Consultation y<sup>t</sup> day, fol: 30) wherein it appeared y<sup>t</sup> he had been extreemly negligent of y<sup>e</sup> trust reposed in him, att w<sup>ch</sup> wee were much surprised, & for w<sup>ch</sup> he was cheifly obliged to his uncle Annesley, who so plyed him wth his perticular business, as not only diverted him from y<sup>e</sup> business of his station, but almost incapacitated him for y<sup>e</sup> performance thereof, as wee perceived a litle before his death. Finding matters wth respect to said office in such a condition, wee ordered W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay all the assistance wee could afford him for y<sup>e</sup> copying of letters, and ordered him to pick out of his papers all such memorandums as he could find of w<sup>t</sup> had been concerted in Council, y<sup>t</sup> all might be formed into books for that purpose, w<sup>ch</sup> by help of w<sup>t</sup> wee retained in our memorys is bro<sup>t</sup> up into y<sup>t</sup> forme it now is in said books; but it's probable y<sup>t</sup> several things may have slipped M<sup>r</sup> Richardsons pen as well as our memorys, therefore wee do unanimously assert y<sup>t</sup> nothing was transacted in y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>s</sup> affaires of y<sup>e</sup> least moment in y<sup>t</sup> time y<sup>e</sup> Registry was so neglected, but w<sup>t</sup> was done by joynt consent of y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & Council, though M<sup>r</sup> Robinson dying, M<sup>r</sup> Somaster being gone for England & M<sup>r</sup> Garnet for China ere this business could be effected, they could not signe w<sup>t</sup> is now entered. Witness our hands.

WM MILDMAI,
Secy.

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.
B. WYCHE.

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 21st Sep<sup>r</sup> 1702.

There being a years sallery become due to y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>s</sup> servants, M<sup>r</sup> Bernard Wyche desired to know if he sho<sup>d</sup> make up y<sup>e</sup> sallery bill? on w<sup>ch</sup> he was ordered to do it, & y<sup>t</sup> though M<sup>r</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Brooke, who was on y<sup>e</sup> 20th May appointed to take charge of y<sup>e</sup> Wareh<sup>o</sup> was not admitted to be of C<sup>o</sup>uncil, yet seeing y<sup>t</sup> he had hitherto discharged his trust to our satisfaction, wee tho<sup>t</sup> good for his encouragem<sup>t</sup> y<sup>t</sup> he might persevere in y<sup>e</sup> like faithfull discharge of said trust to appoint him y<sup>e</sup> sallery of y<sup>e</sup> Warehouse-keeper; halfe to be paid here & halfe in England: but wee doe not intend hereby (at least will at present) to entitle him to y<sup>t</sup> station of y<sup>e</sup> forth person in Councill or to any superiority above such as are his seniors in standing.

This morning y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> sent Sellemon Chelleby to y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> and desired y<sup>t</sup> he would come to his house for he had something to discourse him about. The Gen<sup>ll</sup> returned answer, y<sup>t</sup> he was very much out of order, & had been so for some time, therefore desired to be excused coming himselfe, but y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & the rest of his Council sho<sup>d</sup> wait on him; at w<sup>ch</sup> answer y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> was not satisfi<sup>y</sup>d, but sent word he would stay for y<sup>e</sup> Generals coming till tomorrow.

In y<sup>e</sup> afternoon he sent Siadealle Nazier & Sellemon Chelleby to y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> to acquaint him of w<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> King had wrote him abo<sup>t</sup> clearing the goods, w<sup>ch</sup> was to this effect; that y<sup>e</sup> Voccaunvees & Horcorra had wrote him y<sup>t</sup> it was necessary for y<sup>e</sup> good of y<sup>e</sup> Port y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Dutch goods were cleared, otherwise y<sup>e</sup> Custome wo<sup>d</sup> be much deminished. In answer to w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> King wrote lett Ettabar Caunsatisfy himselfe well abo<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Europeans & write me his opinion abo<sup>t</sup> them, & then I will give the necessary orders: after w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Siade desired y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> y<sup>t</sup> he wo<sup>d</sup> in no wise impede or hinder y<sup>e</sup> trade of y<sup>e</sup> place, the Gen<sup>ll</sup> told him y<sup>t</sup> if no one molested us in our affaires, wee would not molest them; wee had as great a desire to carry on our business in quietness as they. After much discourse of y<sup>e</sup> like nature, wth abundance of fair promises of friendship on their side, with intreatys y<sup>t</sup> wee wo<sup>d</sup> do y<sup>e</sup> like on ours, y<sup>e</sup> Siade desired y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> to give him his hand y<sup>t</sup> he wo<sup>d</sup> not molest or be any ways detrimental to y<sup>e</sup> good of y<sup>e</sup> Port, on w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Gen<sup>ll</sup> gave him his hand, but answered as before. Y<sup>e</sup> Siade wth y<sup>e</sup> same assurance engaged y<sup>t</sup> whatsoever wee desired of y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> relating to our affaires sho<sup>d</sup> be granted, and so wee took leave.

There arrived att this rivers mouth the "Arabia Merch<sup>tt</sup>," Cap<sup>t</sup> Jackson Com<sup>dr</sup>, belonging to y<sup>e</sup> private subscription, abo<sup>t</sup> 150 ton, bound from England to Moco & Muscatt, laden wth guns, anchors, amm<sup>unition</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>, but loosing her passage to Moco came to this port.

On y<sup>e</sup> 16th of this month.....y<sup>e</sup> Droger of y<sup>e</sup> Tanksall to bring him an acc<sup>t</sup> of the ground belonging thereto: upon perusal of w<sup>ch</sup> he appointed us a p<sup>a</sup> out of it, 13 Cov<sup>ts</sup> long 9<sup>1</sup>/<sub>4</sub> broad, & liberty to dig 6 Cov<sup>ts</sup> deep: upon w<sup>ch</sup> wee immediately set Mess: & Bricklayers to worke to inclose said spot of ground, & to build convenient places for to coin & keep our silver in. But y<sup>e</sup> Tanksall Shroffs being alarmed hereat, met together and consulted of w<sup>t</sup> measures to take to prevent our effecting w<sup>t</sup> wee designed & agreed to bribe y<sup>e</sup> officers; & meeting in great numbers, made great clamours, & hindred our people from working, upon w<sup>ch</sup> wee complained to y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup>, who sent the Ammeen & a Chubdar to forbid any to interrupt our building. Then y<sup>e</sup> Shroffs applyed themselves to y<sup>e</sup> Castle Gov<sup>r</sup>, who again interrupted our business out of pretence it was too near y<sup>e</sup> Castle; y<sup>t</sup> he did not know but wee might undermine it; so our worke stood still some days till y<sup>e</sup> two Gov<sup>rs</sup> had agreed upon matters between them. At last when wee had almost made an end of diging, wee accidentally hit upon a hollow place in y<sup>e</sup> ground, w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Shroffs &c<sup>a</sup> laid hold of & said it went so far as y<sup>e</sup> Castle, upon w<sup>ch</sup> all was stoped again, and y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> forced to order y<sup>e</sup> ground to be filled up again, & promised us a p<sup>a</sup> in another place.

WM MILDMAÿ,
Secy.

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.
B. WYCHE.

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 29th Octo<sup>r</sup> 1702.

Having rec<sup>d</sup> amongst other letters from Madrass a copy of y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>s</sup> letter to y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & Council there, dated y<sup>e</sup> 13th March 1701, w<sup>ch</sup> adviseth of y<sup>e</sup> death of our Sovereign Lord King William of blessed memory & ordereth y<sup>e</sup> proclaiming of our Sovereign Lady Queen Ann wth all solemnity; it was debated whether wee sho<sup>d</sup> hoist our flag, in order to y<sup>e</sup> more publick solemnizing y<sup>e</sup> same, by firing of guns; on w<sup>ch</sup> it was agreed, y<sup>t</sup> seeing wee had refused to hoist it att the Gov<sup>rs</sup> request, who sent to us on y<sup>t</sup> acc<sup>t</sup> severall times, y<sup>t</sup> he might thereby give y<sup>e</sup> merch<sup>ts</sup> to understand y<sup>t</sup> wee were sattisfyed: though wee struck it in resentm<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> severe imprisonment y<sup>t</sup> wee suffered last year, & of y<sup>e</sup> robbery committed on y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>s</sup> goods by y<sup>e</sup> late Gov<sup>r</sup> & of their goods being seized in all p<sup>ts</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> Kings dominions, y<sup>t</sup> wee had better keep it downe and omitt y<sup>e</sup> ceremony of firing of gunns, w<sup>ch</sup> wo<sup>d</sup> have been preposterous without hoisting y<sup>e</sup> fflagg; & this wee rather consented to, for y<sup>t</sup> our orders were dispatched to Bombay for her Majesty to be proclaimed there wth y<sup>e</sup> utmost solemnity. However wee agreed to proclaim her Majesty y<sup>e</sup> Sunday following in our Chapple wth all possible solemnity, except y<sup>e</sup> hoisting of our fflagg; w<sup>ch</sup> had wee hoisted y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> wo<sup>d</sup> have required us to have kept it up.

The following declaration was publickly read by y<sup>e</sup> Sec<sup>ry</sup> in y<sup>e</sup> Chapple after y<sup>e</sup> Minister had concluded his Sermon:—

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God to call to his mercy our late Sovereign Lord King William y<sup>e</sup> third of blessed memory, by whose decease y<sup>e</sup> Imperial Crowns of England, Scotland, Ffrance & Ireland are solely & rightfully come to y<sup>e</sup> High & Mighty Princess Ann of Denmark, wee the General Presid<sup>t</sup> & Council for affaires of y<sup>e</sup> R<sup>t</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Gov<sup>r</sup> and Comp<sup>a</sup> of Merch<sup>ts</sup> of London trading into y<sup>e</sup> East Indies (as y<sup>e</sup> Lords spirituall & temporall of our Realm, being assisted wth those of his late Majestys Privy Council &c., numbers of other principal gentlemen of quallity wth y<sup>e</sup> Lord Mayor, Aldermen and Citizans of London, have done), do therefore now wth one full voice & consent of tongue & heart, publick & proclaim, y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> High & Mighty Princess Ann is now, by y<sup>e</sup> death of our late Sovereign of happy memory, become our only lawfull and rightfull Liege Lady Ann, by y<sup>e</sup> Grace of God Queen of England, Scot<sup>l</sup>, Ffrance & Ireland, defender of y<sup>e</sup> ffaith &c<sup>a</sup>, to whom wee do acknowledge all ffaith & constant obedience; wth all hearty & humble affections, beseeching God, by whom Kings and Queens do reign, to bless y<sup>e</sup> Royall Queen Ann wth long and happy years to reign over us.

WM MILD MAY,

Sec<sup>ry</sup>.

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.

STEPHEN COLT.

E. BENDALL.

B. WYCHE.

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 23<sup>d</sup> Dec<sup>r</sup> 1702.

This morning Chellabey came to us from y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> & used abundance of arguments to persuade us to hoist our flagg; to w<sup>ch</sup> wee answered y<sup>t</sup> wee struck it to manifest our resentments to y<sup>e</sup> whole towne of y<sup>e</sup> manifold injureys wee had suffered by y<sup>e</sup> mall administration of y<sup>e</sup> late Gov<sup>r</sup>; & seeing our goods seized by him was still in Abdull Guffores house & not like to be restored to us, & y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> present Gov<sup>r</sup> had not complied wth his contract in giving us a place to coin our silver in y<sup>e</sup> Tanksall, nor did not permitt our people to go on boardship & to Swalley without leave as formerley, wee could not hoist it without being laughed at by y<sup>e</sup> whole towne. Afterwards he used abundance of other arguments to persuade us to compliance, urging y<sup>t</sup> the present Gov<sup>r</sup> wo<sup>d</sup>, as soon as he could, comply wth all that he had promised us, though he was forced a while to forbear, for y<sup>t</sup> he was traduced att Court for shewing us so much kindness: he also added y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> injuries y<sup>t</sup> had been done us was by y<sup>e</sup> former Gov<sup>r</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> this could not helpe; notwithstanding wee did not consent to hoist the fflagg, but told him when our ships arrived from England wee sho<sup>d</sup> then see w<sup>t</sup> orders wee had from y<sup>e</sup> R. H. C<sup>o</sup>, wth w<sup>ch</sup> he was dismissed.

WM MILD MAY,
Sec<sup>ry</sup>.

JNO GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.
B. WYCHE.

---

Att a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 28th Dec<sup>r</sup> 1702.

Mr Rob<sup>t</sup> Bartlett who came out of England Doctor of y<sup>e</sup> "Prosperous," w<sup>ch</sup> ship was run away wth by pyrates att Madigascar, coming privately by way of Swalley from on board y<sup>e</sup> sloop w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Gov: seized (whereby he escaped y<sup>e</sup> misfortune w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> rest of his companions fell into of being imprisoned) offered his service to us. And for as much as y<sup>e</sup> island of Bombay is destitute of a Physitian by y<sup>e</sup> death of Doc<sup>r</sup> Skinner, & y<sup>e</sup> island very sickley, & a great many poor people & souldiers leying in danger of perishing for want of y<sup>e</sup> helpe & advice of a Doctor, wee resolved to entertain him in said station, allowing him four pound per month to be paid in X<sup>s</sup> att 20<sup>d</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> X<sup>s</sup> according to y<sup>e</sup> custome of y<sup>e</sup> island; & y<sup>e</sup> same allowance for his diet as Doc<sup>r</sup> Skinner was allowed, wth y<sup>e</sup> usuall assistance belonging to y<sup>e</sup> Hospitall, leaving it to his own choice whether his time sho<sup>d</sup> commence here or att his arrivall att Bombay, wth this proviso, y<sup>t</sup> if it commences here, then he is to bare his own charges downe, but if not till he is arrived upon y<sup>e</sup> island, then his charges sho<sup>d</sup> be borne by y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>; but he being destitute of money and ffriends, wee agreed to lend him eighty rup<sup>a</sup> to supply himsef wth necessarys, w<sup>ch</sup> money wee order y<sup>e</sup> Deputy Gov<sup>r</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> to deduct out of his wages; & y<sup>e</sup> island being in great necessity wee gave him orders to prepare himsef to go over land wth all speed.

There being a great mortallity upon y<sup>e</sup> island amongst y<sup>e</sup> English as well as the Natives, wee were willing to incourage all people y<sup>t</sup> offered their service to us; & entertained Henry Chritchlow as Boatswaine of y<sup>e</sup> Bunder att Bombay att y<sup>e</sup> usuall pay y<sup>t</sup> others have had before.

Mahmud Ffassell requested of us y<sup>e</sup> liberty of building a Groab at our Bunder, promising to give us an obligation to make good y<sup>e</sup> ground w<sup>ch</sup> sho<sup>d</sup> be dug away in y<sup>e</sup> building of said Groab, whose request was granted.

WM MILD MAY,
Sec<sup>ry</sup>.

JNO GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.
B. WYCHE.

---

Suratt, Dec<sup>r</sup> 31st 1702.

Present the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sr Nicholas Waite, Kn<sup>t</sup>, Publick Minister and Consull Gen<sup>l</sup>, Will<sup>m</sup> Proby, & Jeremy Bonnell Jun<sup>r</sup>.

The President acquainted y<sup>e</sup>. Councill he had rec<sup>d</sup>. a paper from Cap<sup>t</sup>. Abram Jackson, giving an acc<sup>tt</sup>. of such druggs he desires may be bought for his cargoe, wth y<sup>e</sup>. prizes in England, & what is demanded here in manner following:—

		Price here.	Prime cost and all charges to England.				Price in England.
			Rups	£.	s.	d.	s.	d.
Bdellium	...	...	4	8	1	0	5 to 16	per lb.
Nux Vomica	...	...	3	3	4	9	5 to 4	per lb.
Senna	...	...	5	5	17	4	11-4 to 6-16	per lb.
Gum dragon	...	...	4	3	7	6	5-10 to 6	per lb.
S. armoniack	...	...	10	7	9	6	8 to 16	„
Jallop	...	...	10	9	18	0	18 to 22	„
Colloquintida	...	...	11	9	0	0	22 to 25	„
Amoniacum	...	...	12	7	15	4	12 to 20	„
Camells Hay	...	...	17	14	2	0	25
Sareocola	...	...	10	7	14	0	11-5
Sweet Fennell seeds	...	...	2½	2	14	0	4

And y<sup>e</sup>. Deal Boards brought in y<sup>e</sup>. “Arabia Merchant” ordered y<sup>e</sup>. 26th inst<sup>t</sup>. to be made into chests, for y<sup>e</sup>. Olibanum, & other druggs, that should be bought towards ladeing said ship, upon examination since they came ashore find a greater loss to y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>a</sup>. cutting said boards then buying chests in y<sup>e</sup>. country.

Then a lett<sup>r</sup>. was read dated y<sup>e</sup>. 16th inst<sup>t</sup>. signed Robert Rigby, saying he wrote y<sup>e</sup>. President & Councill y<sup>e</sup>. 2<sup>d</sup> inst<sup>t</sup>. desireing liberty & a supply of money to provide necessarys’ he should want to proceed by y<sup>e</sup>. first oportunity to his native country, writeing therein y<sup>e</sup>. Presid<sup>t</sup>. & Councill was not pleased to grant or allow they had anything to doe wth him but left him to himself, therefore must make y<sup>e</sup>. best provission he could by endeavouring to gett subsistance elsewhere, desireing Cap<sup>t</sup>. Abram Jackson, Commander of y<sup>e</sup>. “Arabia Merchant” supposeing would be y<sup>e</sup>. first shipp dispatcht thence for England, might have an order receiveing him on board as a passenger.

Resolved & unanimously agreed that there be purchas’t upon y<sup>e</sup>. advice & request of Cap<sup>t</sup>. Abram Jackson, what quantity procurable of the sev<sup>ll</sup>. druggs under mentioned if not to be had cheaper then at the prizes following:—

					M <sup>ds</sup> .	Rup <sup>s</sup> .
Nux Vomica	...	...	...	...	3	...
Gum Dragon	...	...	...	...	...	3½
Senna	...	...	...	...	10	3¼
Sal Armoniack	...	...	...	...	50	9¾
Jallop	...	...	...	...	3	7
Amoniacum	...	...	...	...	2	...
Camells Hay	...	...	...	...	½	15
Gum Ellimee	...	...	...	...	10	10
Galbanum	...	...	...	...	3	14
Assefetida	...	...	...	...	200	7
Tincall	...	...	...	...	125	...
Sareocola	...	...	...	...	10	9
Sweet Fennell seeds	...	...	...	...	60	2½

Cap<sup>t</sup>. Abram Jackson being present, & agreeing each sortm<sup>t</sup>. of said drug’s may sell to a considerable advance in England, y<sup>e</sup>. Warehousekeep<sup>r</sup> is directed when receive every parcell of said druggs to desire y<sup>e</sup>. comp<sup>a</sup>. of said Cap<sup>t</sup>. Abram Jackson, weighing off only such as in his opinion & judgem<sup>t</sup> shall be good in their kind, having no other regard to y<sup>e</sup> sev<sup>ll</sup> musters in small p<sup>s</sup> & parcells now before us then Cap<sup>t</sup> Jackson well skill'd in said comodity's shall advise him to receive, to be garbled and pack't as said Cap<sup>t</sup> Jackson shall desire, omitting no time expediteing y<sup>e</sup> same for their being chop't & sent on board y<sup>e</sup> "Arabia Merch<sup>t</sup>."

And that 200 deale boards be sold Abdull Goffore at 30 rup<sup>s</sup> ... 100, y<sup>e</sup> utmost price procurable, & y<sup>e</sup> only person in Suratt that will purchase them, being cheaper selling them & buying chests in y<sup>e</sup> country for packing drugg's & <sup>ca</sup>, reserveing all that shall be delivered by Cap<sup>t</sup> Jackson above 200 sold as aforesaid, for packing the assefetida that requires thicker boards then other drugs for preventing y<sup>e</sup> scent penetrateing through y<sup>e</sup> Powder roome where he's promis't to stow it from y<sup>e</sup> Hold.

And that M<sup>r</sup> Rob<sup>t</sup> Rigby, Purser of y<sup>e</sup> "Bengall Merchant," left here by Cap<sup>t</sup> Cockburn Comand<sup>r</sup> of said ship, for seeing delivered y<sup>e</sup> sev<sup>ll</sup> goods laded upon said ship in Bengall, for w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Comand<sup>r</sup> & said Rigby gave rec<sup>ts</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> merch<sup>ts</sup> freighters, upon his desire in writeing & verbally now in Councill, Cap<sup>t</sup> Abram Jackson present, has liberty granted taking his passage upon said ship "Arabia Merch<sup>ts</sup>," by signing an order to said Comand<sup>r</sup> accordingly, declared now by said Rigby to bee y<sup>e</sup> first time hee made any such request to y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & Councill, from whom he was acquainted y<sup>e</sup> 2<sup>d</sup> inst<sup>t</sup> sitting then in Councill that they had no authority or power from y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> English Company lending out any sume or sumes of money, but what was immediately for provideing goods, or perticularly directed by them.

NIC WAITE.

W<sup>m</sup> PROBY.

JEREMIAH BONNELL, Jun<sup>r</sup>.

EDMD<sup>d</sup> CROWE,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

January 1703.

A list of the R<sup>t</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Servants in Suratt:—

S<sup>r</sup> John Gayer, Kn<sup>t</sup>, Generall.

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Stephen Colt, President.

Worsp<sup>ll</sup> Ephraim Bendall.

M<sup>r</sup> Bernard Wyche, Accompt<sup>t</sup> & Purser Marine.

M<sup>r</sup> Epiphanius Holland, Chaplain.

Will<sup>m</sup> Mildmay, Sec<sup>y</sup>

M<sup>r</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Brooke, Warehousekeeper.

M<sup>r</sup> Richard Johnson, Under Warehousekeeper.

M<sup>r</sup> John Brangwin, Steward.

M<sup>essrs</sup> Phillip Blower.

„ Rob<sup>t</sup> Swynfen.

„ Tho<sup>s</sup> Wilshere.

„ John Thorburn.

„ Tho<sup>s</sup> Barnardiston.

M<sup>essrs</sup> Charles Peachey.

„ W<sup>m</sup> Phipps.

„ Joseph Jackson.

„ Tho<sup>s</sup> Wright.

„ Tho<sup>s</sup> Sutton.

„ John Hill.

M<sup>r</sup> Dan<sup>l</sup> Waldo, Doctor.

} Sen<sup>r</sup> Factors.

} Jun<sup>r</sup> Factors.

} Writers.

At a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 29th January 1702-3.

Wee consented y<sup>t</sup> M<sup>r</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Moore sho<sup>d</sup> be made Lieu<sup>t</sup> of the third Company of Guards upon Bombay, & y<sup>e</sup> Generall sent him y<sup>e</sup> following Commission:—

S<sup>r</sup> John Gayer, Kn<sup>t</sup>, Gen<sup>l</sup> of India &c<sup>a</sup> for affaires of the R<sup>t</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> & Company of Merch<sup>ts</sup> of London trading into y<sup>e</sup> East Indies, Gov<sup>r</sup> of her Maj<sup>ty</sup>s Castle and Island of Bombay.

By virtue of y<sup>e</sup> authority given unto mee by y<sup>e</sup> Commission I weare from y<sup>e</sup> R<sup>t</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> and Com<sup>a</sup> of Merch<sup>ts</sup> of London trading into y<sup>e</sup> East Indies, in conformity to y<sup>e</sup> Charters & Lett<sup>rs</sup> Pattens of y<sup>r</sup> late Maj<sup>ty</sup>s King William & Queen Mary of blessed memory & y<sup>r</sup> Royall predecess<sup>rs</sup>, I do (wth consent & advice of my Councill) constitute & appoint y<sup>o</sup> W<sup>m</sup> Moore Gen<sup>t</sup> to be Lieu<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> third Comp<sup>a</sup> of sould<sup>rs</sup> in y<sup>e</sup> Castle & Garrison of Bombay, giving you full power to traine, exercise, & conduct, lead & bring y<sup>m</sup> together according to Martiall Decipline, as Lieu<sup>t</sup> of said Comp<sup>a</sup>, willing, & requiring all inferior officers in said Comp<sup>a</sup> to obey y<sup>o</sup> as o<sup>r</sup> Lieu<sup>t</sup>. You are likewise to observe and follow such ord<sup>rs</sup> & commands as y<sup>o</sup> shall from time to time receive from myself or from my respective Deputy Gov<sup>r</sup> at pres<sup>t</sup> constituted, or after to be constituted. Given under my hand, & sealed wth y<sup>e</sup> R. H. Comp<sup>a</sup> seal in Surat, y<sup>e</sup> 29th day of January in y<sup>e</sup> first year of her Maj<sup>ty</sup>s reigne of England, Scotland, Ffrance, & Ireland, Queen, Defender of y<sup>e</sup> ffaith &c<sup>a</sup> Anno Dom. One thousand seaven hundred two & three.

There being a universall report spred, & wrote from all parts y<sup>t</sup> a strong army of y<sup>e</sup> Marattas consisting of thirty thousand horse besides ffoot are resolved to assault & plund<sup>r</sup> y<sup>a</sup> citty, wee agreed wth all possible speed to get into y<sup>e</sup> ffactory y<sup>e</sup> ffollowing quantity of provisions, powd<sup>r</sup>, lead, & ball, and w<sup>t</sup> elce necessary for y<sup>e</sup> defence of y<sup>e</sup> ffactory, & to entertain M<sup>r</sup> Henry Chritchlow as Serj<sup>t</sup> & tenn Europeans more as sould<sup>rs</sup>.

160 Mds: of Rice & graine.

7 „ Bisket,

20 „ Oyle.

13 „ Ghee.

9 „ Sugar.

1 „ Candles.

2 Mds: small shott.

90 Iron shott.

26 Hand Granadoes.

10 Mds: Powder.

The King having conferred an additionall hono<sup>r</sup> upon y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> & his son by advancing y<sup>e</sup> pay, wee sent a complement to y<sup>m</sup> by Venwallidass, & presented y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> wth one of those China women y<sup>t</sup> was bo<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> 20th Sep<sup>t</sup> 1701 in part of a present designed to be made y<sup>e</sup> Prince at Ahmadavad, w<sup>ch</sup> cost sixty rup<sup>s</sup>.

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.

STEPHEN COLT.

E. BENDALL.

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 5th, 1702
3

This day was confirmed y<sup>e</sup> Savagees Army consisting of 20000 men was come wthin four course of Suratt, made y<sup>e</sup> inhabitants of y<sup>e</sup> citty as well as y<sup>e</sup> European ffactory's upon their guard, the Consull directing 16 men well armed from on board the "Albemarle," entertaining what English & other's lived in y<sup>e</sup> citty, wth y<sup>e</sup> "Prosperous" men releast this day out of prison

& the gentl<sup>n</sup> of the ffactory appearing all in arms, putts us in a good posture of defence against any attempt y<sup>e</sup> Sevagees may cassually make upon possessing themselves of y<sup>e</sup> citty.

EDMD<sup>d</sup> CROWE,

Sec<sup>ry</sup>.

---

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 7th, 1702
3

This morning the President & Councill dispatch't Cap<sup>t</sup>. Jackson, directing Mr. Jo<sup>s</sup> Goodshaw accompanying him on board for delivering his dispatches, wth the Comp<sup>as</sup> packett, bagg of private letters &<sup>ca</sup>

And this day y<sup>e</sup> Sevagees began plundering & burning part of the suburbs.

EDMD<sup>d</sup> CROWE,

Sec<sup>ry</sup>.

---

At a Consultation held in Surat y<sup>e</sup> 7th Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 1702-3.

The Sevagees having sett all y<sup>e</sup> villages on fire y<sup>t</sup> were to y<sup>e</sup> eastward of y<sup>e</sup> citty, every one was apprehensive y<sup>e</sup> citty wo<sup>d</sup> be in great danger of being destroyed. Wee put y<sup>e</sup> ffactory into the best posture of defence possibly wee could, but fearing wee sho<sup>d</sup> not be able to wthstand y<sup>e</sup> assaults of soe numerous an enemie wth y<sup>e</sup> small numb<sup>r</sup> of Europeans y<sup>t</sup> wee had in y<sup>e</sup> ffactory, & hearing y<sup>t</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Nicho<sup>s</sup> Waite had a very large supply of men from y<sup>e</sup> .....besides y<sup>e</sup> twenty odd men y<sup>t</sup> had been kept prisoner<sup>s</sup> by y<sup>e</sup> Governm<sup>t</sup> & now released & sent to him, wee agreed to send M<sup>r</sup>. Mildmay to him to desire y<sup>t</sup> he would spare us tenn Englishmen for to assist us. He returned us answer by M<sup>r</sup>. Crow y<sup>t</sup> he could not let us have any men, but if y<sup>e</sup> ffactory sho<sup>d</sup> be in danger, upon y<sup>e</sup> least signall given, he wo<sup>d</sup> send a p<sup>ty</sup> of his men to our assist<sup>a</sup>, and if at last wee should be forced to quit our ffactory, his & w<sup>t</sup> vessells he had sho<sup>d</sup> be ready to receive & protect us, for w<sup>ch</sup> complem<sup>t</sup> wee returned him thanks; & then resolved (seeing wee had neither ship or other vessell to assist us on any occasion) to hire thirty of y<sup>e</sup> best peons y<sup>t</sup> wee could get to assist us in defence of y<sup>e</sup> ffactory.

JN<sup>o</sup>. GAYER.

STEPHEN COLT.

E. BENDALL.

---

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 9th, 1702
3

3 o'clock
Post Meridiem.

Present the Hon<sup>ble</sup> S<sup>r</sup>. Nicholas Waite, Kn<sup>t</sup>., Publick Minister & Cons<sup>ll</sup>. Gen<sup>ll</sup>. Will<sup>m</sup> Proby & Jeremy Bonnell.

The President informed the Councill that y<sup>e</sup> 3rd inst<sup>t</sup>. Cap<sup>t</sup>. Will<sup>m</sup> Beawes upon the various assertions that y<sup>e</sup> Savag<sup>e</sup> was drawing near, offered to send for what men he pleased a shore for defending the ffactory, but noe army appearing, & one of y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> sloop's being ordered downe y<sup>e</sup> 6th to carry Cap<sup>t</sup>. Jackson on board his ship the "Arabia Merchant" lyeing in Swalley, wth orders for his immediate sayleing for England, desired Cap<sup>t</sup>. Beawes would send an order downe to his Cheife Mate, or officer then on board his ship, & y<sup>e</sup> master of the sloop should deliver itt, for sending up some men for y<sup>e</sup> service of y<sup>e</sup> ffactory, for preventing any assault that might be made by the Savagees, or whatever army should possess themselves of the citty, came yesterday 16 men in their barge, or Pinnace armed, the same evening called over by name & listed, & this day Capt<sup>t</sup>. Beawes having occasion for said men commanded them out of the ffactory wthout knowledge of the President that would not have denyed their going upon y<sup>e</sup>. service of the ship, and their being as yet no order signed for commanding said men ashore pursuant to Charterparty, that there be now an order signed for said men comeing ashore, and being continued for y<sup>e</sup>. security & defence of the ffactory, allowing of them what victualls & drink is necessary wth such a gratuity as their service & behaviour may intyle them to.

Resolved & unanimously agreed that there be an order now signed to Cap<sup>t</sup>. Will<sup>m</sup>. Beawes, Commander of Ship "Albemarle," to send ashore immediately sixteen men, that are at all times to be ready as occasion shall require wth y<sup>e</sup>. sciff & boates of y<sup>e</sup>. said ship, or otherwise to serve the Hon<sup>ble</sup>. English Company, their ffactor's or assignees to, from, & upon land, to continue so long as the imergency of affaires may require their service, allowing them necessary drink & provisions, wth such a gratuity as their service and behaviour may intyle them to.

And that there be allowed a quart of Arack to every merchant & ffactor in the ffactory & a pint to every writer each 24 hours wth sugar & lime juce proportionable, in leiu of wyne.

And that y<sup>e</sup>. yatch's receive what sayles, cask &<sup>ca</sup> Cap<sup>t</sup>. Beawes shall putt on board them from Vinbra.

EDM<sup>d</sup>. CROWE,
Secy<sup>y</sup>.

N. WAITE.
W<sup>m</sup>. PROBY.
JEREMIAH BONNELL, Jun<sup>r</sup>.

---

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 9th, 1702
3

Cap<sup>t</sup>. Will<sup>m</sup>. Beawes.

You having by direction of y<sup>e</sup>. President sent for sixteen men part of y<sup>e</sup>. ships Company ashore, for y<sup>e</sup>. defence and security of our ffactory, pursuant to yo<sup>r</sup>. Charterparty wth y<sup>e</sup>. Hon<sup>ble</sup>. Engl<sup>sh</sup>. Comp<sup>a</sup>. directing at all times to be ready as occasion shall require, wth yo<sup>r</sup>. sciff and boates to serve y<sup>e</sup>. said Comp<sup>a</sup>. their ffactor's or assignees upon land, said sixteen men wth their armes are now to continue soe long in our ffactory as the imergency of affaires may require for their service, & this shall be yo<sup>r</sup>. warrant from

Yo<sup>r</sup>. lovg<sup>fr</sup> fri<sup>d</sup>
N. WAITE.
W<sup>m</sup>. PROBY.
JEREMY BONNELL, Jun<sup>r</sup>.

---

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 10th, 1702
3

Present the Hon<sup>ble</sup>. Sr<sup>t</sup>. Nicholas Waite, Kn<sup>t</sup>., Publick Minister & Consull Gen<sup>ll</sup>., Will<sup>m</sup>. Proby, & Jeremy Bonnell.

The citty having bin for some day's alarmed by the Savagees approach near y<sup>e</sup>. suburbs, for this 2 or 3 nights sett on fire by them & y<sup>e</sup>. Gov<sup>r</sup>. induced all y<sup>e</sup>. ffactory's keeping a strick't watch wth such European's & others as they could procure for secureing themselves either against the Savages, if enter y<sup>e</sup>. citty, or the Muscatt Arab's if secure a gate in the towne, y<sup>e</sup>. President deviding all the Comp<sup>as</sup> serv<sup>ts</sup> with the "Prosperous" men, and others into two Company's, upon this occasion appointing

Will<sup>m</sup> Proby, first Cap<sup>t</sup>.

Will<sup>m</sup> Beawes being ashore for the better encourageing both of his & other seafareing men in y<sup>e</sup>. ffactory, second Cap<sup>t</sup>.

Jeremy Bonnell, Cap <sup>t</sup>	Lieu <sup>t</sup>	...	...	...	} Ensignes.
John Lock, Lieu <sup>t</sup>	...	...	...	...
Callow Cary	...	...	...	...
Will <sup>m</sup> Martin	...	...	...	...

was delivered a paper into y<sup>e</sup>. President signed by all y<sup>e</sup>. writers, except Tho<sup>s</sup>. Patten & Edward Morris, declareing their resolutions not to stand sentinells or doe further duty then y<sup>e</sup>. merch<sup>ts</sup> and ffactors, when in every ffactory at this juncture no difference can possibly be made, wthout omitting keeping those necessary watches as y<sup>e</sup>. security of our ffactory requires, and all the Sen<sup>r</sup> as well merch<sup>ts</sup> as ffactors willingly performing what is injoynd them for y<sup>e</sup>. preservation of it, all y<sup>e</sup>. young men signing y<sup>e</sup>. aforesaid paper was sent for by the President, & examined one by one, who persisting in their frail resolution, occasioned y<sup>e</sup>. seafareing men shewing an unwillingness to have all y<sup>e</sup>. burden of standing sentinells upon them, Henry Coster, John Frost, Will<sup>m</sup> Nowell, James Love, Joseph Oakley, & Thomas Moore, that appeared by their talking to be y<sup>e</sup>. principall actors & stirrers up of this discord that might occasion a mutiny to y<sup>e</sup>. indangering y<sup>e</sup>. loss of the ffactory, was committed to y<sup>e</sup>. Court of Guard all night, & Joseph Oakley bound for behaveing himself more untowardly then the others.

Resolved & unanimously agreed that Hen<sup>r</sup>y Coster, John Frost, Will<sup>m</sup> Nowell, James Love, Joseph Oakley, & Tho<sup>s</sup>. Moore be now sent for before the Presid<sup>t</sup> & Councill, y<sup>e</sup>. Presid<sup>t</sup> acquainting them of their duty, & that there was no more required of them then what had daily bin performed by all the Sen<sup>rs</sup> & others in every ffactory in Suratt, the stress of watching principally lying upon y<sup>e</sup>. Councill, merchants & ffactors, comeing not to their turn standing sentinell above 2 hours in 24; Henry Coster, John Frost, Will<sup>m</sup> Nowell, & Tho<sup>s</sup>. Moore submitting & declareing they was willing to doe anything for y<sup>e</sup>. security of the ffactory as they should be commanded by such as was appointed over them was dismiss, & Joseph Oakley & James Love continuing their former determination, are hereby discharged the Comp<sup>as</sup> service, and immediately expell'd the ffactory, w<sup>ch</sup> example induced y<sup>e</sup>. rest of y<sup>e</sup>. writers begging pardon, offering a punctuall compliance wth such orders as shall from time to time be given them for y<sup>e</sup>. defence & security of the ffactory.

And it being represented y<sup>e</sup>. watching all night in the great dew's that fell, & all y<sup>e</sup>. officers not having cloth coates, there be given to

Cap<sup>t</sup> Will<sup>m</sup> Proby
 Cap<sup>t</sup> Will<sup>m</sup> Beawes
 Cap<sup>t</sup> - Lieu<sup>t</sup> Bonnell Leiut<sup>t</sup> Locke each 3 $\frac{1}{4}$  yrds of scarlett, or crimson cloth for making them coates, the Warehousekeeper to cutt p<sup>s</sup>. N<sup>o</sup>. A, & deliver them for their greater encouragement.

EDM<sup>d</sup> CROWE,
 Sec<sup>y</sup>.

N. WAITE,
 WILL<sup>m</sup> PROBY,
 JEREMIAH BONNELL, Jun<sup>r</sup>.

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 12th, 1702
3

This morning M<sup>r</sup>. Goodshaw advised, Cap<sup>t</sup>. Jackson sayled from the rivers mouth yesterday in y<sup>e</sup>. evening, making no exceptions in Bill of Ladeing for any parcell short rocd<sup>d</sup>. saying, had pursuant to his orders from y<sup>e</sup>. Presid<sup>t</sup>. & Councill, transmitted said Bill of Ladeing to y<sup>e</sup>. Court of Directors.

Since y<sup>e</sup>. 7th inst<sup>t</sup>. in y<sup>e</sup>. morning y<sup>e</sup>. Savagees has bin plundering and burning y<sup>e</sup>. suburbs, amongst w<sup>ch</sup> was Rustumjees our Cheif Brokers house burnt to y<sup>e</sup>. ground.

EDM<sup>d</sup>. CROWE,

Sec<sup>ry</sup>

At a Consultation held in Surat y<sup>e</sup>. 14th Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 1702-3.

The Sevajee being disappointed of his hopes of plundering, & destroying y<sup>e</sup>. citty by y<sup>e</sup>. continuall ffring of y<sup>e</sup>. great guns from y<sup>e</sup>. walls night. & day, & some of his principall officers being killed, and severall of his spys taken, began to wthdraw his army, plundering, burning and destroying all townes and villages round y<sup>e</sup>. same. His army being spred so farr about, wee have not had any certain information of w<sup>t</sup>. numb<sup>r</sup>. it consisted, but its reported of seaven thousand horse & three thousand ffoot, & being informed y<sup>t</sup>. he designes to take his way towards Ahmadabad & destroy all places as he goes along, wee sent y<sup>e</sup>. ffollowing order to M<sup>r</sup>. Brooke :--

Wee presume you have long ere y<sup>e</sup>. been advised of y<sup>e</sup>. Sevajeess approach towards y<sup>e</sup>. citty, against w<sup>ch</sup> he having not effected anything, hath caused him to plunder & burne almost all y<sup>e</sup>. villages round ab<sup>t</sup>. it, and now wee hear he designes for Broach & c<sup>a</sup>. places in his way to Ahmadavad w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup>. might reasonably expect, y<sup>r</sup>efore wee hope you have taken y<sup>e</sup>. utmost care to secure y<sup>e</sup>. R. H. Comp<sup>s</sup>. goods at all places of investment, & y<sup>t</sup>. you have not put out any to washing, but if y<sup>e</sup>. have & y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>s</sup>. reacheth you time enough, get all in again, & order w<sup>t</sup>. you thinke necessary for y<sup>e</sup>. security of all, & send on none out again till you hear further from us.

19th.—Ordered y<sup>e</sup>. paym<sup>t</sup>. of sixty-two rup<sup>s</sup>. thirty-six pice for one months wages to y<sup>e</sup>. Tindall & Lascars belonging to y<sup>e</sup>. country-boate.....62-36.

21st.—M<sup>r</sup>. W<sup>m</sup>. Brooke having mett wth our ord<sup>r</sup>s. dispatched to him y<sup>e</sup>. 14th inst<sup>t</sup>. in his returne home, & sent it forward to y<sup>e</sup>. severall places where he had put cloth out to washing, wee ordered Venwallidass to write to all y<sup>e</sup>. Broakers to put all y<sup>e</sup>. cloth out again, and to make all y<sup>e</sup>. dispatch they could in geting it whitened & sent downe to us, being informed y<sup>t</sup>. Sevajee army is gone another way; ordered likewise y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. Cummervalees & c<sup>a</sup>. cloth y<sup>e</sup>. washer-men brought wett into y<sup>e</sup>. ffactory at y<sup>e</sup>. beginning of these troubles be all put out again to washing.

25th.—Wee mett to consid<sup>r</sup>. what had best to be done in relation to y<sup>e</sup>. Commision sent us out by y<sup>e</sup>. High Court of Admiralty, & being sencible of y<sup>e</sup>. great prejudice it might doe y<sup>e</sup>. nation by executing of it in this place, where wee have for so many years layne under y<sup>e</sup>. scandall of pyrac<sup>y</sup>, and now at last in a manner to prove ourselves to be soe, made us very cautious how wee went about it; but upon thorough examination of y<sup>e</sup>. Commision, wee found wee could no ways avoid it, let w<sup>t</sup>. would be y<sup>e</sup>. consequence, so wee resolved to give y<sup>e</sup>. Armenians notice y<sup>t</sup>. y<sup>e</sup>. next day wee would meet and put y<sup>e</sup>. same in execution.

JN<sup>o</sup>. GAYER.

STEPHEN COLT.

E. BENDALL.

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 17th, 1702
3

Present the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sr<sup>t</sup>. Nicholas Waite, Kn<sup>t</sup>., Public Minister & Consull Gen<sup>ll</sup>, Will<sup>m</sup> Proby, & Jeremy Bonnell.

The President says he was informed by y<sup>e</sup>. Brokers that there was 75 large bales of p<sup>e</sup>. goods from the sev<sup>ll</sup> townes of manufacture, wth 70 odd bales of Lacks come to Broach, other might daily be expected there, not possible to be brought by land, now y<sup>e</sup>. Savagees lyes betwixt said place by sea, y<sup>e</sup>. Dutch having lately ordered two of their sloops going thither for 300 & odd bales belonging to their Company.

Resolved & unanimously agreed that y<sup>e</sup>. "Sam<sup>ll</sup> & Mary" Yatch, having her complem<sup>t</sup> of Englishmen on board, wth four Porteguisse, four Lasscarrs, & a Tindall, sayle immediately away for Broach, taking a country boat along wth her for receiveing all such bale goods as shall there be loaden upon them, for acct<sup>ts</sup> of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, returning wth y<sup>e</sup>. utmost expedition, keeping said country boat alwayes under her command for secureing such part of the Comp<sup>as</sup> estate as shall be on board her, y<sup>e</sup>. Brokers standing oblidged that if there should not be sufficient bale goods for loading said Boat, y<sup>e</sup>. Company pay but half freight, directing y<sup>e</sup>. Master of y<sup>e</sup>. "Sam<sup>ll</sup> & Mary" when arrive at Broach flinging out his ballast, or anything that may impead his bringing what bale goods possible, & if said goods are not ready as asserted by y<sup>e</sup>. Brokers, that he stay not for his being loaded above 24 hours, & y<sup>e</sup>. charges putt to their acct<sup>ts</sup>.

And that Mr<sup>r</sup>. James Love & Joseph Oakley dismist the Comp<sup>as</sup> service the 10th inst<sup>t</sup>. for reasons in said Consultation (upon their submission & acknowledgem<sup>t</sup>. of their error in writeing, promiseing amendm<sup>t</sup>. & not to be guilty of y<sup>e</sup>. like folly for y<sup>e</sup>. future) be now called into y<sup>e</sup>. ffactory, & entertained in their former stations in y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup> business.

EDMP<sup>d</sup> CROWE,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

NIC: WAITE.
WILL<sup>m</sup> PROBY.
JEREMIAH BONNEL, Jun<sup>r</sup>.

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 18th 1702
3

This morning had information of y<sup>e</sup>. Savagees army being removed 20 Course from the citty after burning y<sup>e</sup>. suburbs, & getting what plunder they found wthin a course or two of Suratt.

EDMP<sup>d</sup> CROWE,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 20th 1702
3

This evening was informed Nasarula Cawn wth 5000 horse, sent by the Emp<sup>r</sup>. to relieive Suratt upon advice of y<sup>e</sup>. Savagees beseigeing said place, was come wth in 2 Course, where he lyes encampt waiteing the Mogulls orders.

And the Savagees still wthdrawing further from y<sup>e</sup>. citty induces y<sup>e</sup>. Banians & others going to their sev<sup>ll</sup> homes, & removeing what goods &<sup>ca</sup> they had lodged in y<sup>e</sup>. sev<sup>ll</sup> European ffactorys.

EDMP<sup>d</sup> CROWE,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 22<sup>d</sup>, 1702
3

This evening Mr. Samu<sup>l</sup> Dudley Steward of y<sup>e</sup>. Ffactory, dyed of the small-pox, after being afflicted wth said distemper six days, y<sup>e</sup>. Presid<sup>t</sup> immediately directing Mess<sup>rs</sup> Jeremy Bonnell, Joseph Goodshaw, Edm<sup>d</sup> Crowe & Timothy Allestree sealeing up his papers, & what else was in his roome till after his funerall, then taking an exact & perticular acc<sup>ts</sup> of all his Liquor's, apparell & ca<sup>a</sup> belonging to him, for being disposed off in 3 or 4 days for his acc<sup>ts</sup> at Publick outcry, deferring a further inspection of his papers and acc<sup>ts</sup> till after y<sup>e</sup>. departure of y<sup>e</sup>. "Albemarle," when shall be more at leisure.

EDM<sup>d</sup> CROWE,
Sec<sup>y</sup>

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 24th, 1702
3

Present the Hon<sup>ble</sup> S<sup>r</sup>. Nicholas Waite, Kn<sup>t</sup>., Public Minister & Consull Gen<sup>l</sup>., Will<sup>m</sup> Proby, & Jeremy Bonnell.

The President delivered in the following paper :

Gentl<sup>rs</sup>.

The Savagees people having ravish't y<sup>e</sup>. country, and bin encampt plundering & burning about this citty upward of fifteen days impeaded all manner of business, not any measures or Lasscarrs to be hyr'd for garbleing or imbailing goods, no dispatch at y<sup>e</sup>. Custome house has detarded our ladeing y<sup>e</sup>. "Albemarle" so soon as wee determined, & have wrote the Comp<sup>a</sup>. & the enemy being gone, y<sup>e</sup>. Englishmen belonging to Cap<sup>t</sup>. Beawes as well as those hyred for secureing y<sup>e</sup>. ffactory, was wth yo<sup>r</sup>. concurrence discharged the 19th inst<sup>t</sup>., paying each alike as at first you desired me to promise them for preventing disturbance. There remaines Mr. Bassett that has upon all occassions bin servicable, & perticularly in this troublesome juncture will I beleive justly require a suitable gratuity, indeed y<sup>e</sup>. Sen<sup>s</sup>. of the ffactory, y<sup>e</sup>. ffactors & other y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup> serv<sup>ts</sup> performed their part, taking their turns watching night & day to y<sup>e</sup>. impairing many of their healths, amongst w<sup>ch</sup> Mr. Samu<sup>l</sup> Dudley ffactor & steward was seized wth a ffeaver the 16th inst<sup>t</sup>. turned to y<sup>e</sup>. small-pox, of w<sup>ch</sup> he dyed y<sup>e</sup>. 23<sup>d</sup> inst<sup>t</sup>. intestate.

And my great indisposition that you know has bin some days upon me prevented that evening Dudley dyed a regular Consultation for ordering his matters, you verbally then agreeing wth me that you M<sup>r</sup>. Bonnell wth y<sup>e</sup>. Sec<sup>y</sup>, M<sup>r</sup>. Goodshaw, and M<sup>r</sup>. Allestree should that night after the corps was removed into another roome, seal up y<sup>e</sup>. doors of the Chamber where Dudley departed, and bury him the next day, inviteing the cheifest and most intimate of his acquaintance, giveing them scarfes as customary, w<sup>ch</sup> I am informed has bin managed with y<sup>e</sup>. utmost frugality.

It will be necessary that those Gentl<sup>rs</sup> aforesaid immediately take a perticular acc<sup>ts</sup> of all goods, wyne, arack they can find in or out of the ffactory belonging to y<sup>e</sup>. deceased, wth what may be in his chamber, scheduleing y<sup>e</sup>. same for being speedily disposed and sold by publick outcry, Mess<sup>rs</sup> Goodshaw, Crow, and Allestree inspecting all his acc<sup>ts</sup> and papers for their better settleing his concerns wth such persons he had dealings wth, delivering their report into Council, where all demands upon him ought to be registered, or allowed for satisfaction of his fri<sup>ds</sup> and y<sup>e</sup>. nett estate paid into y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>as</sup> cash.

And having considered of a proper person to officiate as Steward till y<sup>e</sup> next years shipping when all matters will be under direction of the United stocks, is a place of trust that requires diligence, and such factors whose behaviour ought to have said employm<sup>t</sup> being rather inclined improving themselves in acct<sup>ts</sup> for being profitients serving the Company as merchants, must recomend M<sup>r</sup> Edward Jarry Surgeon, you all know a sober diligent man, if he'l accept it, & may not interfere for not performing y<sup>e</sup> care and duty of his employm<sup>t</sup>, in w<sup>ch</sup> should he be found remiss, then to appoint some other person.

Was then read a letter dated y<sup>e</sup> 23<sup>d</sup> inst<sup>t</sup>, signed Callow Cary, wherein he declares that he had formerly desired leave to goe home y<sup>e</sup> country not agreeing wth his constitution, & by y<sup>e</sup> death of his ffather his concerns left him may suffer for want of his being there, desires liberty taking his passage upon the "Albemarle."

And the Brokers making their report now in Councill that they could not procure y<sup>e</sup> pepper sold by y<sup>e</sup> Dutch under 6 rup<sup>s</sup> per maund, their Brokers wth other merchants having engrost it all, one of w<sup>ch</sup> merchants being called in, after some debate at last bro<sup>tt</sup> them to 5 Rup<sup>s</sup> 15 ann. wth y<sup>e</sup> usuall allowance for 6000 maunds free from damage, all w<sup>ch</sup> being maturely considered,

Resolved & unanimously agreed that after y<sup>e</sup> rate of sixteen rup<sup>s</sup> per month besides dyett was promist by us the President & Councill as well to Cap<sup>t</sup> Beawes men as others hyred for y<sup>e</sup> service of y<sup>e</sup> ffactory, directed to be allowed, & paid them y<sup>e</sup> 20th inst<sup>t</sup>, then dismist.

And that there be paid to Ensigne Jn<sup>o</sup> Bassett for his trouble & service upon sev<sup>ll</sup> occasions before as well as in this exegency tenn pounds, or eighty rupees, being a sober stout man, & for encouraging his readiness upon any of the like occassions in service to y<sup>e</sup> ffactory.

And that M<sup>r</sup> Jeremy Bonnell assisted by Mess<sup>rs</sup> Jos Goodshaw, Edmond Crow, & Timothy Allestree, take an acct<sup>ts</sup> this day of all goods, wyne, arack, they can find in or out of y<sup>e</sup> ffactory belonging to y<sup>e</sup> deceased, wth what may be in his chamber, scheduleing y<sup>e</sup> same to be sold by Publick outcry on Saturday the 27th inst<sup>t</sup> after dinner, sealing up all his books & papers wth their sev<sup>ll</sup> Seales to remaine in charge of y<sup>e</sup> Sec<sup>ry</sup> till y<sup>e</sup> "Albemarles" dispatch't, when Mess<sup>rs</sup> Goodshaw, Crow, and Allestree are to inspect all his books and papers, wth what demands may be upon him, reporting the same in Councill, what has bin expended upon his funerall be perticularly stated, & y<sup>e</sup> nett produce of his estate paid into y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> cash.

And that M<sup>r</sup> Edward Jarry be appointed Steward taking charge of all the Comp<sup>as</sup> plate, ffaitfully performing all other matters incumbent upon said employment, till y<sup>e</sup> "Albemarle" be dispatch't, and then come to such a resolution as may be agreeable wth the Comp<sup>as</sup> interest.

And that M<sup>r</sup> Callow Carys request for going home by ship "Albemarle" be granted, y<sup>e</sup> Accomptant directing his acct<sup>ts</sup> of sallary to be made up to y<sup>e</sup> last of this month, from w<sup>ch</sup> time is discharged y<sup>e</sup> Comp<sup>as</sup> service.

And that six thousand maund of Pepper be now bought, paying five rupees ffifteen annas each maund wth y<sup>e</sup> customary allowance, free from any damage, w<sup>ch</sup> the Warehouse keeper is to take care seeing weighed, sending for Cap<sup>t</sup> Beawes purser, or who else he'l appoint attending, to see said pepper weighed, y<sup>e</sup>. Commander being alwayes oblidge signing to y<sup>e</sup> weight.

EDM<sup>d</sup>. CROWE,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

NIC. WAITE.
W<sup>m</sup> PROBY.
JEREMIAH BONNEL, Jun<sup>r</sup>.

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 24th, 1702.
3

Yesterday in the evening was intered y<sup>e</sup>. corps of M<sup>r</sup>. Sam<sup>l</sup>. Dudley, y<sup>e</sup>. Gentl<sup>n</sup> of the ffactory and others his acquaintance that was invited having scarfes, as usuall in those parts upon y<sup>e</sup> like occassions.

EDM<sup>d</sup>. CROWE,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

Suratt, Ffebr<sup>y</sup> 27th, 1702.
3

Present the Hon<sup>ble</sup> S<sup>r</sup>. Nicholas Waite, Kn<sup>t</sup>., Publick Minister & Consull Gen<sup>l</sup>., Will<sup>m</sup> Proby, and Jeremy Bonnell.

The President informed that this day after dinner was appointed for y<sup>e</sup>. sale of M<sup>r</sup>. Dudleys goods, liquor's &c., by publick outcry and y<sup>e</sup>. Comp<sup>a</sup>. having no arack in their ffactory, & none in towne, or expected this year from Goa, and little wyne in the seller, besides y<sup>e</sup>. remaines of tenn chests of Syrash, bought of M<sup>r</sup>. Will<sup>m</sup>. Mildmay and Sam<sup>l</sup>. Dudley at 34 rup<sup>s</sup> a chest, and none expected from Persia unless please God y<sup>e</sup>. "Susanna" arrive, will be necessary buying half a score chests of English Syrash & a lott or two of y<sup>e</sup>. Goa arack for y<sup>e</sup>. use of y<sup>e</sup>. ffactory.

Resolved & unanimously agreed that there be bou<sup>t</sup>. for the use of y<sup>e</sup>. ffactory tenn chests, or one lott of English Syrash, six Butt's, & one lott of Goa arack, for w<sup>ch</sup> M<sup>r</sup>. Dudley to have credit in his acc<sup>t</sup>. in y<sup>e</sup>. Gen<sup>l</sup>. Books.

EDM<sup>d</sup>. CROWE,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

NIC. WAITE.
W<sup>m</sup> PROBY.
JEREMIAH BONNEL, Jun<sup>r</sup>.

Suratt, March 4th, 1702.
3

Present the Hon<sup>ble</sup> S<sup>r</sup>. Nicholas Waite, Kn<sup>t</sup>., Publick Minister & Consull Gen<sup>l</sup>., Will<sup>m</sup> Proby, and Jeremy Bonnell.

The Brokers made a report that a merchant comeing downe wth forces from Amadavad for assisting this Government against the Savage, offered to buy y<sup>e</sup>. eliphant, but would not give for her above 1400 rupees, & having not yet bin offered anything for her, and y<sup>e</sup> charge upward of 100 rupees a month.

Resolved & unanimously agreed that y<sup>e</sup> merch<sup>t</sup> by name Mahmud Hossom Mogull have y<sup>e</sup> eliphant delivered him, he paying into y<sup>e</sup> Brokers fourteen hundred rupees allowing 4 mo<sup>s</sup> rebate according to custome, and Rustumjee debitted for the same, thereby putting an end to that extravagant charge.

NI. WAITE.

WM PROBY.

JEREMIAH BONNEL, Jun<sup>r</sup>.

EDMP<sup>d</sup> CROWE,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

Suratt, March 22<sup>d</sup>, 1702
3

Present the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sr<sup>t</sup> Nicholas Waite, Kn<sup>t</sup>, Publick Minister & Consull Gen<sup>l</sup>, Will<sup>m</sup> Proby, & Jeremy Bonnell.

The Brokers pursuant to a resolution of Councill y<sup>e</sup> 11 inst<sup>t</sup> delivered in the particulars of the sev<sup>l</sup> druggs procurable in towne, wth the lowest prizes, such as appeared indifferent good in their kind, agreeable wth the Comp<sup>as</sup> orders, proper for Europe viz<sup>t</sup>:—

				Mds.	Rs.	a.	p.
Myrrh Fine	...	...	...	18	at	28	0 0
D <sup>o</sup> Ord <sup>y</sup>	...	...	...	375	„	14	0 0
Olibanum Decan	...	...	...	500	„	2	0 0
Tincall	...	...	...	75	„	14	0 0
Stick lack	...	...	...	350	„	6	4 0
Turmerick Culgon	...	...	...	1200	„	2	10 0
Sal Armoniack	...	...	...	400	„	10	8 0
Cambodgia	...	...	...	60	„	15	0 0
Lapis Tutice	...	...	...	150	„	11	0 0
Spikenard	...	...	...	100	„	14	0 0

and there being no larger quantity or sortm<sup>ts</sup> are informed in towne, after a long debate, compareing the goodness of the sev<sup>l</sup> comoditys, and calculateing y<sup>e</sup> prizes now in time of warr, may be upon said druggs, & y<sup>e</sup> “Susanna” and “Canterbury” daily expected—

Resolved & unanimously agreed that there be bought and paid for the sev<sup>l</sup> druggs hereafter mentioned wth y<sup>e</sup> usuall allowance & rebate

				Mds.	Rs.	a.	p.
Myrrh Fine	...	...	...	18	at	26	0 0
D <sup>o</sup> Ord <sup>y</sup>	...	...	...	375	„	13	6 0
Olibanum Decan	...	...	...	500	„	1	13 0
Tincall	...	...	...	75	„	13	2 0
Stick lack	...	...	...	350	„	6	0 0
Turmerick Culgon	...	...	...	1200	„	2	8 0
Sal Armoniack	...	...	...	400	„	10	1 0
Cambodgia	...	...	...	60	„	12	12 0
Lapis Tutice	...	...	...	150	„	9	12 0

The Warehousekeep<sup>r</sup>. taking care receiveing the sev<sup>ll</sup> sorts, according to muster now delivered him, good in their kind, having them all garbled, imbailed, & chested, except the Turmeric, ready for loading upon y<sup>e</sup> "Susanna," and "Canterbury" daily expected, the Accomptant giveing Rustumjee credit for the quantity rec<sup>d</sup>. by the Warehousekeeper.

And that there be an order signed for Cap<sup>t</sup>. W<sup>m</sup>. Beawes receiveing on board two boxes of Diamond Boort, ship't by the Hon<sup>ble</sup> S<sup>r</sup>. Nicholas Waite mark't No. I S. 1. consigned M<sup>r</sup>. John Shipman, and N<sup>o</sup>. S. L. 1. consigned M<sup>r</sup>. Samuell Lock Senior of London.

NIC. WAITE.

W<sup>m</sup> PROBY.

JEREMIAH BONNELL, Jun<sup>r</sup>.

EDM<sup>d</sup> CROWE,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

Suratt, March 25th, 1703.

And that a Bond be signed and sealed wth the small seale of this Presidency to S<sup>r</sup>. Nicholas Waite, for twenty-thousand, seaventy seaven rupees, fffty pice, advanc't and lent y<sup>e</sup>. Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>a</sup>. towards paying for pepper, coffee, and other druggs, not to be purchas't wthout ready money payable on arrivall of the first ships, or stock, or on demand, at three quarters per cent per mensam y<sup>e</sup>. accustomed interest for the sums delivered out in manner following—

					Rs.	p.
Jan <sup>y</sup> 27, 1702-3	...	...	...	...	1,422	14
Feb <sup>y</sup> 22	...	...	...	...	18,655	36
						Rup. p.
						20,077 50

Said bond to be entered next this Consultation.

NIC. WAITE.

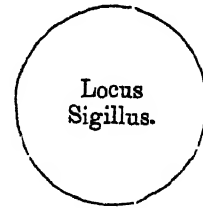

W<sup>m</sup> PROBY.

JEREMIAH BONNELL, Jun<sup>r</sup>.

EDM<sup>d</sup> CROWE,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

Wee the President & Councill for affaires of y<sup>e</sup>. Hon<sup>ble</sup> English Comp<sup>a</sup>. tradeing to y<sup>e</sup>. East Indies, doe hereby acknowledge to have borrowed & rec<sup>d</sup>. of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> S<sup>r</sup>. Nich. Waite into y<sup>e</sup>. cash of said Company, twenty thousand, seaventy-seaven rupees, fffty pice, paid in manner following, rec<sup>d</sup>. the twenty seaventh of Jan<sup>y</sup> last one thousand four hundred, twenty-two rup<sup>a</sup>. fourteen pice, & y<sup>e</sup>. twenty second of Ffeb<sup>y</sup> Eighteen thousand, six hundred, fffty-five rup<sup>a</sup>. thirty-six pice, for w<sup>ch</sup> wee promise on y<sup>e</sup>. behalf of said Comp<sup>a</sup>. whom wee hereby oblige, both their & our successors, to pay on y<sup>e</sup>. arrivall of the first ships or stock, or on demand, wth interest at y<sup>e</sup> rate of three quarters per cent per month, from the date of both said paym<sup>ts</sup> unto the aforesaid S<sup>r</sup> Nich. Waite or his assignees. Wittness our hands & y<sup>e</sup> small seale of this Presidency, in Suratt this twenty-fifth day of March, one thousand, seaven hundred, and three.

NIC. WAITE.

WILL<sup>m</sup> PROBY.

JEREMY BONNELL, Jun<sup>r</sup>.

By order of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> and Councill,
EDM<sup>d</sup> CROWE,
Sec<sup>ry</sup>.

At a Consultation held in Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 11th June 1703.

This after-noon wee rece<sup>d</sup> y<sup>e</sup> R. H. Comp<sup>s</sup> pacq<sup>t</sup> from England by y<sup>e</sup> "Regard," by overland conveyance from Bombay; upon receipt of w<sup>ch</sup> finding a pacq<sup>t</sup> inclosed directed to y<sup>e</sup> Presid<sup>ts</sup> and Councils of both Comp<sup>s</sup> wee sent W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay to acquaint S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite of it, and to desire him to send his Sec<sup>ry</sup> to see said pacq<sup>t</sup> and to hear y<sup>e</sup> letter read, on w<sup>ch</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite immediately sent M<sup>r</sup> Crow, in whose presence said pacq<sup>t</sup> was opened (though through mistake wee had broke y<sup>e</sup> seal before, but had not looked in y<sup>e</sup> pacq<sup>t</sup>) & the lett<sup>r</sup> from y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Mannag<sup>rs</sup> read; & y<sup>n</sup> delivered to said M<sup>r</sup> Crow to carry to said S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite and Councill, desireing him to acquaint S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> & c<sup>a</sup>, y<sup>t</sup> so soon as wee had read over y<sup>e</sup> Indenture Tripartite between y<sup>e</sup> Queen & y<sup>e</sup> two Comp<sup>s</sup> & Quinque Partite Indenture of conveyance of y<sup>e</sup> Dead-stock y<sup>t</sup> were inclosed in said pacq<sup>t</sup> wee wo<sup>d</sup> send y<sup>m</sup> to him and Councill for y<sup>r</sup> perusall.

There being one small pacq<sup>t</sup> for y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench, & two or three for y<sup>e</sup> Dutch, wee sent y<sup>m</sup> by our cheif peon, as directed.

12th.—Wee sent W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay to S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite wth y<sup>e</sup> Quinque Partite Indenture of Conveyance of y<sup>e</sup> Dead-stock; who told us at his return, y<sup>t</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite rece<sup>d</sup> it very slightly, & told him y<sup>t</sup> it was of no signification to him; but if any of his people had a minde to read it out of curocity, they might, and soe gave it into y<sup>e</sup> hand of M<sup>r</sup> Proby, who wth Mess<sup>rs</sup> Lock and Goodshaw was by & seemingly desired to see it. Y<sup>n</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite said they had rece<sup>d</sup> no letters or orders from y<sup>r</sup> Mast<sup>rs</sup> & y<sup>t</sup> letter w<sup>ch</sup> was sent him yesterday came und<sup>r</sup> our cover and by our ship, & he did suppose y<sup>rs</sup> wo<sup>d</sup> be y<sup>e</sup> same in their ships (all leaving England togeath<sup>r</sup>) und<sup>r</sup> y<sup>r</sup> cover, and y<sup>e</sup> directions accordingly; & till he had rece<sup>d</sup> those, wth orders from his Mast<sup>rs</sup>, he could take no notice of y<sup>t</sup> sent him by S<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Gayer and Councill. W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay seeing him soe indifferent to what he had brought, asked him if he sho<sup>d</sup> bring his Hono<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Indenture Tripartite between y<sup>e</sup> Queen and y<sup>e</sup> two Comp<sup>s</sup> w<sup>n</sup> the Gen<sup>l</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> had done reading of it. Hee said he might. If he wo<sup>d</sup> perhaps some gentlemen in y<sup>e</sup> ffactory might have y<sup>e</sup> curocity to read it; & wondered y<sup>t</sup> he sho<sup>d</sup> have no letters by this ship, seemingly suspecting y<sup>t</sup> wee interrupted y<sup>m</sup>; but desired y<sup>t</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Gayer would write two or three words for him to Bombay, & he w<sup>d</sup> send away Pattam<sup>rs</sup> on purpose to inquire for letters y<sup>t</sup> he might let his mast<sup>rs</sup> see y<sup>re</sup> was nothing of dilligence wanting on his side: wth such indifferency dismiss him.

In compliance to S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waites request in y<sup>e</sup> morning, wee sent him y<sup>e</sup> following lett<sup>r</sup>:—

To the R<sup>t</sup> Worsp<sup>l</sup> Jn<sup>o</sup> Burniston, Esq<sup>re</sup>,

Dep<sup>ty</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> and y<sup>e</sup> Councill of Her Maj<sup>ty</sup>s Castle & Island of Bombay.

Gent<sup>n</sup>,

The Hon<sup>ble</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite having made application to us for our lett<sup>r</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> & Cap<sup>t</sup> Warner to impow<sup>r</sup> y<sup>e</sup> to deliver to y<sup>e</sup> bearer such lett<sup>rs</sup> as have been brought out on ship "Regard" for himself or Councill & any oth<sup>r</sup> of y<sup>e</sup> R<sup>t</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> English Comp<sup>s</sup> ffactors, wee desire y<sup>t</sup> on rec<sup>t</sup> of y<sup>s</sup> y<sup>e</sup> will forthwth deliv<sup>r</sup> all such lett<sup>rs</sup> y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> shall have in yo<sup>r</sup> custody to said bearer, & y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> will send for Cap<sup>t</sup> Warner & ord<sup>r</sup> him to deliv<sup>r</sup> all such lett<sup>rs</sup> as he or any of his ships comp<sup>s</sup> may have on boardship to y<sup>e</sup> foresaid bearer, inclosing all und<sup>r</sup> a cover to y<sup>e</sup> aforesaid Hon<sup>ble</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite, wth a list signifying to w<sup>m</sup> they are directed.

Your loving ffriends,

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.

STEPHEN COLT.

E. BENDALL.

Sep<sup>r</sup> 8th, 1703.—Our guards continuing their severity towards us in so barbarous a manner that wee could in no wise persuade y<sup>m</sup> to lett us have y<sup>e</sup> least mouthfull of refreshm<sup>t</sup>, our provisions being almost spent & our men begining to fall sick & not able to eat w<sup>t</sup> wee had, by reason wee were forced to make use of Salt Petre to preserve y<sup>e</sup> ..... instead of salt, it was resolved to fling over y<sup>e</sup> following letter to y<sup>e</sup> chief of y<sup>e</sup> guard for him to carry it to y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup>:—

To y<sup>e</sup> Noble Ettabar Caun.

S<sup>r</sup>,

You cannot but be senceible that y<sup>e</sup> Old Comp<sup>s</sup> settled their ffactory in this city by virtue of y<sup>e</sup> Emp<sup>rs</sup> Phym<sup>d</sup>, w<sup>ch</sup> granted that their serv<sup>ts</sup> sho<sup>d</sup> carry on their trade without being molested, notwithstanding w<sup>ch</sup> though wee have done no manner of wrong or injury to any of y<sup>e</sup> subjects of y<sup>e</sup> Emp<sup>r</sup> or any other person w<sup>t</sup>soever, your guards have surrounded our ffactory to prevent us being supplied wth w<sup>t</sup>soever is necessary for y<sup>e</sup> support of life, so y<sup>t</sup> wee, our women and children must inevitably perish except you are pleased to relax your orders.

Therefore wee desire that you will take y<sup>e</sup> premises into your consideration & order y<sup>t</sup> wee may be allowed victuals, y<sup>e</sup> use of our serv<sup>ts</sup>, & such other necessarys as wee want for our support; for y<sup>t</sup> wee have no designe to injure any one or to desert y<sup>e</sup> ffactory, as it may be falsely suggested to you, as it is that Abdull Goffores ship is taken by one y<sup>t</sup> came out from Bombay, w<sup>ch</sup> falsehood may soon be proved if letters were wrote to any Moormen inhabiting there, or to y<sup>e</sup> Portuguess near that place.

Wee hope & humbly desire you will grant this our reasonable request in consideration of our innocency, for w<sup>ch</sup> wee shall remain, S<sup>r</sup>, yo<sup>r</sup> very humble Serv<sup>ts</sup>,

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.

STEP. COLT.

Wee likewise resolved to send y<sup>e</sup> following letter to S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite and Council by a private convey<sup>ce</sup> out of y<sup>e</sup> ffactory, by way of y<sup>e</sup> Ffrench Padrees. After y<sup>e</sup> usuall title.

Gent<sup>n</sup>,

You cannot but be senceible of y<sup>e</sup> great oppression wee & our Brokers undergo from this Govern<sup>t</sup> though wholly innocent of w<sup>t</sup> they charge us wth & w<sup>ch</sup> they pretend to oppress us for, is, as they say, that Abdull Goffores ship is taken by y<sup>e</sup> "Regard," w<sup>ch</sup> is notoriously untrue as might soon be proved if y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> would permitt of letters being sent to Bombay and other places near it & that answer might be returned.

Now considering you esteem us bretheren and y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> Directors of y<sup>e</sup> Hon<sup>ble</sup> English Comp<sup>a</sup> have wrote you to be assisting to us if at any time oppressed by y<sup>e</sup> Govern<sup>t</sup>, wee desire y<sup>t</sup> you will use your interest wth said Govern<sup>t</sup> to relax or remove their inhumane severity wth w<sup>ch</sup> wee are so unjustly afflicted.

Gent<sup>t</sup> : Your very loving ffr<sup>ds</sup> and humble Serv<sup>ts</sup>,

Signed by all y<sup>e</sup> Council.

9th.—S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite and Council sent y<sup>e</sup> following answe<sup>r</sup> after y<sup>e</sup> usuall title was wrote :

Gent<sup>n</sup>,

Wee having most sincerely engaged our tho<sup>ts</sup> from the first day of your affliction appearing for you, had not our Broker been for several days imprisoned wth yours and others ; not materiall telling you y<sup>e</sup> ways and means taken for his release, since w<sup>ch</sup> could not have evinced y<sup>e</sup> world our being heartily y<sup>r</sup> bretheren had S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite awaited y<sup>e</sup> rec<sup>t</sup> of any desire from you that came just now to our hands of yesterdays date, Rustumjee waiting.....day morning on y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> & had his answer that night he wo<sup>d</sup> permitt provisions going into your ffactory, yesterday morning detarded wee are told (by y<sup>e</sup> unhappy news of Cossonbys ship taken near Verseve on this side Bombay) till this morning for having y<sup>e</sup> advice of y<sup>e</sup> Kings Ministers and Merch<sup>ts</sup>, unto whom wee neither have or shall omitt y<sup>e</sup> minutest part of true friends y<sup>t</sup> heartily commits you, your Ladys and all wth you to Divine protection.

Wee are, Gent<sup>n</sup>, yo<sup>r</sup> very loving ffr<sup>ds</sup> and humble Serv<sup>ts</sup>,

N. WAITE.

WM PROBY.

JER. BONNEL, Jun<sup>r</sup>

Sep<sup>r</sup> 12th.—The Gov<sup>r</sup> after he had rece<sup>d</sup> our letter ordered y<sup>t</sup> wee should have four days provisions allowed us, and wee hear he gave y<sup>e</sup> Dutch y<sup>e</sup> same liberty.

16th.—The four days being expired wee applyed ourselves again to the Gov<sup>r</sup> for more provisions, who granted us daily a small quantity just to keep us alive.

17th.—S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite hoisted his flagg upon his house, notwithstanding y<sup>e</sup> miserable circumstances y<sup>e</sup> Dutch and wee ley under, w<sup>ch</sup> was an addition to our misery to see y<sup>e</sup> Union flagg fley so near us without any hopes of assistance from those that presume to wear it.

19th.—Wee heard that y<sup>e</sup> Gov<sup>r</sup> had committed Kisso and Vittal Parack, Venwally and y<sup>e</sup> two Dutch Brokers to y<sup>e</sup> Cattwals common prison after he had extorted seaven lack of rup<sup>a</sup> from them, because they refused to give security for their appearance in case he should have any further demands upon them.

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.

STEPHEN COLT.

E. BENDALL.

Suratt, Nov<sup>r</sup>. 22<sup>d</sup>, 1703.

This morning was informed the "Aurungzeb" in service of y<sup>e</sup> old Comp<sup>a</sup>. sayled y<sup>e</sup> 20th inst<sup>t</sup> for Bombay, and thence designed to England.

And about noone was brought to the ffactory from on board the "Howland", whatt letters said ship bro<sup>t</sup> for S<sup>r</sup>. John Gayer &c<sup>a</sup>., w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Consull immediately conveyed as S<sup>r</sup>. Jn<sup>a</sup>. desired by way of a Ffrench Padree.

And att the same time was informed that two of the Dutch Ships cruizeing bro<sup>t</sup> in an Arab, being told they have determined stopping all vessells coming into this port.

Suratt, Nov<sup>r</sup>. 25th, 1703.

Since the 22<sup>d</sup> inst<sup>t</sup> arrived another Arab ship, w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> Dutch likewise detained comeing into this port, impeading their unloading any part of their Cargos, except horses, one bringing 90, y<sup>e</sup> other 40.

And yesterday y<sup>e</sup> Dutch permitted y<sup>e</sup> Siddees ffilet of boates going to Dundarajopore wth provision &c<sup>a</sup> to y<sup>e</sup> Mogulls Armada at said place.

To the Noble Etburt Cawn Gov<sup>r</sup> of Suratt,

The Hon<sup>ble</sup> S<sup>r</sup>. Nicholas Waite, Kn<sup>t</sup>., Publick Minister, & Consull Gen<sup>l</sup>. to the most illustrious great Queen Ann of England, Scottland, Ffrance & Ireland, &c<sup>a</sup>., in whose name have often desired, w<sup>ch</sup> doe now renew, that you'l permitt Pylotts carrying safely downe this river over the Barr, y<sup>e</sup> ships "Susanna" Cap<sup>t</sup>. Will<sup>m</sup>. Ingledew, and the "Buckhurst," Cap<sup>t</sup>. Edward Say, subjects to her said Maj<sup>tie</sup>, for better inableing each of them prosecuting their severall voyages. In Suratt y<sup>e</sup> 1st December 1703.

Locus
Sigillus.

Suratt, Dec<sup>r</sup>. 8th, 1703.

This day Rustumjee assured the Presid<sup>t</sup> that letters from Court advised the present Gov<sup>r</sup>. was turned out and one related to the Emp<sup>r</sup>. plac<sup>t</sup> in his roome, & a Serpaw or vestm<sup>t</sup> accordingly ordered him, being y<sup>e</sup> usuall confirmation of any perform<sup>t</sup> in this country.

Suratt, Dec<sup>r</sup>. 9th, 1703.

Notwthstanding the Princes order to his fforges lyeing near this citty immediately removeing to Amadavad, was last night countermanded & further directed tarrying about this place, in case the Savage should vissitt itt.

Suratt, Dec<sup>r</sup>. 10th, 1703.

This day letters from Court confirm's the new's of this Gov<sup>r</sup>. being displac<sup>t</sup> & Nizbett Cawne related to the Emp<sup>r</sup>. appointed to succeed him.

Suratt, Dec<sup>r</sup>. 12th, 1703.

The Gov<sup>r</sup>. having certaine information of his being turned out, took the Dutch Brokers yesterday into custody, by virtue of an order from Court for recovering four lack of rupees (over & above the six lack formerly extorted) for Cossumbys ship, endeavouring thereby imbroyling matters as much as he can, to foile if possible the new Gov<sup>r</sup>. when he arrives, being expected in 12 or 15 days.

Suratt, Decemb<sup>r</sup>. 13th, 1703.

Rustumjee and others assured the Consull the present Gov<sup>r</sup>. was upon the severall notorious complaints made to the Emp<sup>r</sup>. against him reduc't to seaven Sydee or 700 horse, the tytle of Cawne taken from him, and to be called (as if had not bin advanc't) by his former name Momee Avees, and immmediately goe up to Court.

Suratt, Dec<sup>r</sup>. 19th, 1703.

This morning Nazarula Cawne, Generall of the Princes forces lyeing wthout the citty, comeing into towne in his Pallinquine, mett a party of Arabs, who affronting him as he went along immediately ordered his men cutting them downe for their insolencies. Eight was slaine upon the spott, & the others fled, upon w<sup>ch</sup> said Gen<sup>l</sup> went to the Cozzes, where sending for the Vocanovees & Harcarra, discourst the matter, & the ill consequence permitting the Arabs being so unaccountably bold & troublesome to the inhabitants of this place, taking what they want by fferee out of their shops and stables, abuseing their weomen as they pass along the streets, accuseing them burning the town 12 or 14 days past, whereby gott a considerable plunder, robbing the poor people then in a consternation & confussion, daily pillageing and affronting the Banians &c<sup>a</sup> wth severall other bold and audacious proceedings, w<sup>ch</sup> they presently resolved laying before the Emp<sup>r</sup>, & accordingly wrote this day a joynt letter signed by said Ministers, fully representing the aforesaid greivances to him, informing it cheifly proceeded from the lenity of the late Gov<sup>r</sup>. to said people for some private end, to the great discouragem<sup>t</sup> of his Maj<sup>ties</sup> port & tradeing inhabitants of this citty, w<sup>ch</sup> they now laid before him, in order to have it redrest for the future, by signifieing his pleasure therein, preventing y<sup>e</sup> ill consequences it may otherwise have if their baseness is not timely curbed.

In order to w<sup>ch</sup> Nazarula Cawne drew his fforges together abt<sup>t</sup> 1500 horse and ffoot, sending immediately for the like number that lay 20 course off to joyne him, in case the Arabs should make any attempt revenging the loss of their slaine people, y<sup>e</sup> Eunuch or Commander-in-Cheife of said ships for y<sup>e</sup> King of Muscate comeing wth a body of 5 or 600 men 'tis said wth an intention assaulting said Generall, of w<sup>ch</sup> a little time will better inform us.

Suratt, Dec<sup>r</sup>. 20th, 1703.

This morning the Eunuch Cheife of the Arabs gathered together a body of 5 or 600 men, in a garden wthout the citty for taking satisfaction on Nazarula Cawne killing 8 of his people the day before, upon w<sup>ch</sup> this Gov<sup>r</sup>. sent 7 or 8 merch<sup>ts</sup> to said Eunuch, representing the ill consequence resenting the matter in such a hostile manner in another Kings dominions, advised his returning to Roan where some of their ships lyes, & probably it might be better accomodated when y<sup>e</sup> new Gov<sup>r</sup>. comes into the citty 2 or 3 dayes hence, said Eunuch accordingly retireing to Roan.

At a Consultation held in Suratt the 20th December 1703.

Wee having certaine intelligence y<sup>t</sup> y<sup>e</sup> King had displaced this Govern<sup>r</sup> for his mismanagem<sup>t</sup> and spoiling the trade of the Port, and that there was a new Govern<sup>r</sup> upon the road coming to succeed him, wee sent Moandass Durbarr to meet him with a complimentary letter, and as he found opertunity to make known our greivance to him.

JN<sup>o</sup> GAYER.

STEPHEN COLT.

E. BENDALL.

Suratt, Dec<sup>r</sup>. 24th, 1703.

This morning early Mess<sup>rs</sup> Will<sup>m</sup> Proby & Jeremy Bonnell went in the Companys Coach 8 miles out of towne to meet the new Gov<sup>r</sup>. that rec<sup>d</sup> them very kindly, wth promises when he came into the citty should endeavour making all matters easy, as well to the Europeans as inhabitants that in generall left the towne this day, declareing the great oppressions and hardships the late Gov<sup>r</sup>. had inflicted on them, w<sup>ch</sup> he promis't should be redrest when he came into the citty.

---

Suratt, Dec<sup>r</sup>. 25th, 1703.

This day the Gov<sup>r</sup>. came into the citty, attended by the Vocanovees, Codgee, Harcarra, and other officers of the towne, merchants, &c<sup>a</sup>.

---

Surat, Dec<sup>r</sup>. 26th, 1703.

Being idollett* or publick Councill day, the new Gov<sup>r</sup>. appeared wth the rest of the Kings Ministers to receive what complaints y<sup>e</sup> Banians & other inhabitants brought against the late Gov<sup>r</sup>. who exhibitted y<sup>e</sup> following greivance of their haveing paid him rupees 65000 extorted from them upon a pretended charge in time of Savagee, the Emp<sup>r</sup>. had directed his returning to the inhabitants, w<sup>ch</sup> he had not as yett done; as well as a considerable sum paid by the Banians in 1½ rupees each in their Poll Tax, then ordered by the Mogull, w<sup>ch</sup> they desired might be reimburst them by the late Gov<sup>r</sup>. in whose hands 'twas lodged; and accordingly the Gov<sup>r</sup>. appointed severall merch<sup>ts</sup> accomodateing the matter between them.

This day the guards were removed from the Dutch and old factory.

---

Suratt, Dec<sup>r</sup>. 27th, 1703.

This day upon complaint of severall Banians inhabitants against Chelliby the late Governours favourite that he had extorted from them to the amo<sup>t</sup> of rupees 85000, was confined att the Katwalls till he had refunded what appeared he had forceably taken from the severall inhabitants then complanants.

This day the Ffrench Director paid a vissitt to the new Gov<sup>r</sup>. wth whom he tarried a quarter of an hour, only presenting him wth beetle and rose water.

---

Suratt, Dec<sup>r</sup>. 28th, 1703.

The matter of the Banians being not yet accomodated they still continue Castle Green, pressing the Gov<sup>r</sup>. doing them justice, or else they would be oblidged leaveing the citty & seek for redress from those able to protect them, the old Gov<sup>r</sup>. only offering half their afore-said demand, w<sup>ch</sup> as yet they refuse receiving.

---

Adawlut. Ar. H. adalāt 'a Court of Justice' from adl doing justice. Under the Mahommedan Government there were three such Courts, viz., Nizāmat Adālat, Diwāni Adālat and Faujdāri Adālat, so called from their respective titles. The first was the Chief Criminal Court, the second a Civil Court, the third a kind of Police Court. Colonel Yule's Hobson-Jobson

Suratt, December 29th, 1703.

This day the Governour sent and desired our best State horse, w<sup>ch</sup> y<sup>e</sup> President att first refused, being dead stock could neither sell or present him, upon w<sup>ch</sup> the broker declared if he should be denied such a favour at this criticall juncture might cassually occasion such a resentment, now matters seems to be at a crisis accomodateing these late troubles wth the inhabitants as well as Europeans, as might bee very prejudiciall to the Company affaires, w<sup>ch</sup> the President in conjunction wth the Councill takeing seriously into consideration, was accordingly sent this evening.

---

Suratt, Janry 2<sup>d</sup>, 1703
4.

After severall meetings and debates, the business of the Banians was at last ajusted this day wth the late Gov<sup>r</sup>, receiveing for their late demand but rupees 37000, w<sup>ch</sup> they was oblidged accepting in full thereof, the new Governour now promiseing takeing the matter of the Dutch &c.<sup>s</sup> into consideration, for accomodateing their late troubles, and opening the port.

---

Suratt, Janry 3<sup>d</sup>, 1703
4.

The late Govern<sup>r</sup> now denying paym<sup>t</sup> of the 37000 rupees, determined he should pay the Banians, in satisfaction of their demand; oblidged the present Govern<sup>r</sup> placeing guards upon him, in order to his compliance therewth.

And Chelliby his quondam favourite refuseing to refund what part he then extorted from them, induc't the Govern<sup>rs</sup> putting him in irons, till he's given the complanants full satisfaction.

---

Suratt, Janry 4th, 1703
4.

Present the Hon<sup>ble</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Nicholas Waite, Kn<sup>t</sup>, Publick Minister & Consull Gen<sup>l</sup>, Will<sup>m</sup> Proby, & Jeremy Bonnell.

The Presid<sup>t</sup> told the Councill they knew he had bin severall dayes greatly indisposed of a feavour, and not yett well, occasioned his not meeting them in Councill; they makeing report the 24th ult.<sup>o</sup> their waiteing upon the new Gov<sup>r</sup> pursuant to a resolution of Councill the 21st ditto kindly receiveing them, takeing but one gold moore of y<sup>e</sup> 5, and 5 silver rupees they as customary presented him, said should be glad to see the Consull when he came into the city; where he entered the 25th about noone, all the Banians and inhabitants the day before shutting up their shoppes, makeing great complaints against the old Govern<sup>r</sup>, and Chelliby his ffavourite for his barborous usage, and extorting great sum's of money w<sup>ch</sup> they demanded back; and being heard the 26th and 29th in the publick idollett, Chelliby was taken into custody, and the severall demands upon him wrote downe; and the 2<sup>d</sup> ins<sup>t</sup> the Banians upon the desire of the new Govern<sup>r</sup> accepted rup<sup>s</sup> 37000 for seaventy odd thousand unduely taken from them in overrateing their money, and toward defraying the charge pretended for defending the citty against the Savagee, that destroyed almost all the buildings wthout the walls, w<sup>ch</sup> sum not being immediately paid, and Chelliby asserting that w<sup>t</sup> sumes he had received was for the use, and benefitt, paid by him to the old Govern<sup>r</sup>. wth many other demands, for great sum's extorted from y<sup>e</sup>. inhabitants, the new Govern<sup>r</sup>. directed guards upon his house till he adjusts & satisfies the people, or the Kings pleasure be known thereupon.

The new Govern<sup>r</sup>. directed all the Hopshees or Coffree guards to bee removed from the Dutch and old ffactory, to be only attended by a certaine number of the Katwall or Kings soldiers, leaveing each of said factorys att liberty having all necessary provissions, and the Jun<sup>r</sup>. to goe out and into the citty in the day time, but not out of the walls wthout an especiall order.

The President then said that upon their advice & opinion the Govern<sup>r</sup>. desireing the first & best State horse, formerly presented S<sup>r</sup>. Nicholas Waite by Dianat Cawne, and by him given the Comp<sup>y</sup>. not to deny said request, but rather oblige his friendship delivering said horse, hee paying rupees six hundred ninety three to be charged to Rustumjee cheif Brok<sup>rs</sup> acct<sup>ts</sup>.

And that for the first State horse delivered the new Govern<sup>r</sup>. upon his request, Rustumjee bee debitted in the Generall Books six hundred ninety three rupees.

And S<sup>r</sup>. Nicholas Waite is desired writeing half a dozen lynes to the Agent and Councill of Persia, for cover to a packett transmitted by the Court of United Managers, wth copy of their letter dated y<sup>e</sup>. 24th Sept<sup>r</sup>. to goe by the "Howland," and if anything materiall offers before her sayleing from hence, or Bombay, worthy adviseing the Company, that the President be pleased to write itt, under a copy of what wrote them by the "Aurangzeb."

NI. WAITE.

W<sup>m</sup> PROBY.

JEREMIAH BONNELL, Jun<sup>r</sup>.

EDM<sup>d</sup>. CROWE,
Secy<sup>y</sup>.

---

Suratt, Janry 25th, 1708
4.

This day had an acc<sup>t</sup> of the ingagement between y<sup>e</sup>. Porteguize & Arabs in the following manner. Y<sup>e</sup>. 22<sup>d</sup> in the evening y<sup>e</sup>. Porteguize, being seaven capitall ships, weighed in y<sup>e</sup>. Road, birthing themselves oposite to y<sup>e</sup>. same number of Arabs, & about 4 o'clock y<sup>e</sup>. Porteguize began to assault y<sup>e</sup>. Arabs very briskly, where they fought an hour at anchor, and night comeing on, y<sup>e</sup>. two greatest of the Arabs cutt, being persu'd by all y<sup>e</sup>. Porteguize, and making y<sup>e</sup>. best of their way out to Sea, y<sup>e</sup>. rest of y<sup>e</sup>. Arabs endeavoured coming over the Barr into y<sup>e</sup>. river, while y<sup>e</sup>. seaven Porteguize chased y<sup>e</sup>. two largest of their ships that they pretend slip't them in the night, & went their way downe the coast, though y<sup>e</sup>. "Catherin" relates y<sup>e</sup>. largest of them at one time was batter'd by 5 Porteguize that gott nothing but shame & dishon<sup>r</sup> by the bargaine, making no better use of such a favourable opertunity destroying them, three of y<sup>e</sup>. Arabs capitall ships being then in y<sup>e</sup>. river, w<sup>h</sup> is all the acc<sup>t</sup>. wee yet have of this encounter.

May y<sup>e</sup> 25th, 1704.—This morning Venwallydass came and acquainted us that the new Companys Broker Rustom had been wth the Govern<sup>r</sup> & told him y<sup>t</sup> all the old Comp<sup>a</sup>s servants were turned out; y<sup>t</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Nicho<sup>s</sup> Waite was made Cheif; that the ship arrived at Bombay was consigned to him, and that y<sup>e</sup> old Company had given the Queen of England one or two lack of rup<sup>s</sup> to make their peace. Then the Govern<sup>r</sup> asked him whether he might deliver y<sup>e</sup> money wth safety y<sup>t</sup> wee had seized on off Abdul Gophores. Rustom said, yess, deliver, for S<sup>r</sup> John Gayer is nothing now, he can't stop the port or doe it any mischeif, for all the power now is in my masters hand, and that said Rustom told y<sup>e</sup> Gover<sup>r</sup> he must secure S<sup>r</sup> John Gayer and the old Companys servants to be answerable for the security paper and the many lacks of rup<sup>s</sup> the towne merchants had been robbed off by the pyratts, and all demands or debts y<sup>t</sup> any people may make upon the old Companys ffactory, he must make y<sup>m</sup> give satisfac<sup>n</sup>, for his master would not be answerable for any thing.

JNO GAYER.
STEPHEN COLT.
E. BENDALL.

---

At a Consultation held in Suratt the 26th May 1704.

At night when they returned they gave y<sup>e</sup> following depositions :—

This day about 12 a clock wee were ordered by the Generall Presid<sup>t</sup> and Councill to go to the Governours house and answer to such questions as should there be put to us relating to the settlement of the United Trade according to the instructions given W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay and y<sup>e</sup> Broker by them.

Accordingly wee went and was seated in a publick place with the Dewan (the Governour being in his private apartment), who at first coming asked severall indifferent questions and dispatched several persons to call the new Companys people. After some time M<sup>r</sup> Jeremia Bonnell and M<sup>r</sup> Edward Crowe came just as the Governour was coming out of his apartm<sup>t</sup> to go to prayers, who in the yard asked which was the new Comp<sup>a</sup>s people and which was the old, then bid the Dewan sitt downe and examine into y<sup>e</sup> papers and buisniess wee came about. W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay bid Venwally ask the Dewan what the Governour sent for us for : who answered, to ask who that ship belong<sup>d</sup> to that was lately arrived at Bombay? W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay said it belonged to the United Trade of both Companys. Then who was Cheif & Generall? I was answ<sup>d</sup> John Gayer. Then who was Presid<sup>t</sup> of Suratt. I was answ<sup>d</sup> S<sup>r</sup> Nicho<sup>s</sup> Waite. Then the Dewan turned to M<sup>r</sup> Bonnell and Rustom their Broker and asked them what they had to say. M<sup>r</sup> Bonnell said he was come there to talk with the Governour, not to the Dewan. Then the Dewan asked us if wee had brought y<sup>e</sup> papers from the Company to prove S<sup>r</sup> John Gayer was General &c<sup>a</sup>. W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay said wee had brought no papers, neither would wee ever shew our masters orders to them, and since M<sup>r</sup> Bonnell &c<sup>a</sup> wo<sup>d</sup> not answer to his questions wee would not answer to any more neither, and desired liberty to goe home, which after some time was granted upon promise that wee would come again at 5 a clock if sent for.

In the evening wee were sent for againe by the Governour, where wee found Mess<sup>rs</sup> Bonnell and Crowe discoursing with the Dewan. So soon as wee came the Dewan asked us again who that ship belonged to that was arrived Bombay. Wee answered wee had told him before to the United Trade of both Companys. Then who was Generall and Cheif, Answered S<sup>r</sup> John Gayer was Generall and ordered to reside at Bombay. Who was Presid<sup>t</sup> of Suratt then? Answered S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite. M<sup>r</sup> Bonnell in Portuegueze bid Rustom tell the Dewan S<sup>r</sup> John Gayer was Generall, but it was but for 3 months, and if he did not cleare all the demands that was upon the old Company in that time S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite was Generall, and must go downe to Bombay. W<sup>m</sup>

Mildmay was asked if that was true. He answered that if it pleased God S<sup>r</sup> John should dye or any unforeseen accident should happen to him in that time so that he could not go to Bombay, then S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> Waite was Gen<sup>l</sup>; but as to clearing all the old Comp<sup>a</sup> acco<sup>ts</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> before he went there was no occasion, for there would be those of the old Companys servants left that would take care to pay what any one co<sup>d</sup> justly demand of them. Then the Dewan asked if neither of y<sup>m</sup> could goe, who was Generall then. Wee said his Worship Burniston, the press<sup>t</sup> Deputy Governour. Wee desired to know upon what occasion all these questions was asked us, to w<sup>ch</sup> no answer was given, but M<sup>r</sup> Bonnell pul'd out of his pocket the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Eng<sup>s</sup> Companys seal, and laid it before all the company and asked if W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay could deny that to be the Companys seal, and whether y<sup>e</sup> letters y<sup>t</sup> now came was not sealed with it. William Mildmay said he could not denie but that it was, and the letters were sealed with it, as by agreem<sup>t</sup> between the two Comp<sup>as</sup> in England when they united. Then M<sup>r</sup> Bonnell opened the Indenture of Union in a page turned downe, clapt his hand upon it, and asked if wee could deny the old Comp<sup>a</sup> being turned out and the trade brought under the management of the new, w<sup>ch</sup> that and the seal testified. W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay said he did not deny any thing contained in those writings, neither had he any orders to answer to such questions, and asked the gentlemen the reason of their bringing these things upon the stage. At this time wee had been sufficiently deprest all ready, had they a mind to bury us quite underground. M<sup>r</sup> Bonnell said he followed his orders, wee might follow ours, and M<sup>r</sup> Crowe made answer, You may thank yourselves for it. All this comes upon you through the message that was sent by S<sup>r</sup> John to S<sup>r</sup> Nich<sup>s</sup> that he designed to acquaint y<sup>e</sup> Governour of y<sup>e</sup> settlement. Venwally told W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay the Dewan asked if S<sup>r</sup> John went away, who was there left so great as to give answ<sup>r</sup> for what demands might come upon the old Company. W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay said he knew well enough there was sufficient to sattisfy all just debts that any one had upon us, therefore what matter who was left, he might give the Dewan what answer he pleased, those there would be left that would take care that none should be sufferers on the old Companys accou<sup>t</sup>.

Then wee were all carryed before y<sup>e</sup> Govern<sup>r</sup>, before whome wee were asked who was Generall & who Presid<sup>t</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>, to which wee answered as before. The seal was again shewn to the Governour and what elce passed there was in Moores, which W<sup>m</sup> Mildmay did not understand, therefore John Brangwin gives a deposition apart, but Ussher Beag was ordered to put a guard upon the Generall (Venwallidass refusing to be his security) and came home wth us in y<sup>e</sup> coach to see it done, and ordered fifty men to follow him to the ffactory. To this wee can make oath.

W<sup>m</sup> MILD MAY, Secr<sup>ry</sup>.

JOHN BRANGWIN, Sen<sup>r</sup> Ffactor.

The late Aurengzebs two eldest sonns, Shaalym and his 4 sons, & Ossumshaw and his 3 sonns, fought the desiding battell for the Crowne, the 4th last June, on this side Agra on w<sup>ch</sup> day Ossumshaw and his sonns was slaine, and 'tis s<sup>d</sup> near 30000 men on both sides. The most authentick p.ticulars from the Court goes inclosed for your diversion, since w<sup>ch</sup> has occurred other disturbances omitted, being variously reported & uncertain, detards all security for inland trade, till the Governm<sup>t</sup> is settled. Humbly committ yo<sup>r</sup> affaires to devine protection, and you may please to believe that I am Bombay Castle, y<sup>e</sup> 28th Septembr 1707.

NICH<sup>o</sup> WAITE.

Surat, August Anno 1740.

Diary of James Hope Esq<sup>r</sup>, Chief for affairs of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies &c<sup>a</sup>. Council, residing in their factory of Surat & subordinate to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Stephen Law Esq<sup>r</sup> President of the Coast of India, Persia, & Arabia, Governour and Commander in Chief of his Majestys Castle & Island of Bombay &c<sup>a</sup>. Council.

---

Surat, Sunday, 31st August 1740.

At a Consultation, Present :

James Hope, Esq<sup>r</sup>, Chief.

Will<sup>m</sup> Lowther.

John Burchall.

James Henry Lambe.

W<sup>m</sup> Johnson indisposed.

The Chief acquaints the Board he called this meeting purposely to inform us of his having rec<sup>d</sup> advices from Ahmud Chellaby—that Mess<sup>rs</sup> Waters & Cromelin had laden on board his ship eight hundred bales of coffee on our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters account, which ship is now attacked in sight of the road by two Portugeuze Grabs, who in all probability have secured her as a prize, and to desire wee would think of some method either to secure, or in case said ship is taken, to recover what coffee may be on board belonging to our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters. Taking the same into consideration.—It is agreed to order Cap<sup>t</sup> Freeman to repair immediately on board his ship & follow all such orders as he may receive from M<sup>r</sup> William Lowther, who together with the Vackeel are likewise ordered to proceed with him.

Ordered the Secretary to draw out Cap<sup>t</sup> Freemans and M<sup>r</sup> Lowthers instructions.

JOHN BURCHALL,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

JAMES HOPE.
WILL<sup>m</sup> LOWTHER.
W. JOHNSON.
JAMES HENRY LAMBE.
JOHN BURCHALL.

---

Surat, Sunday, 28th June 1741.

Being in want of Smiths to carry on the necessary services of the Island, they direct us to endeavour to procure twenty five, to whom we may promise four rupees for every hundred-weight of iron they work up & their provisions. As they have no intention of employing the sloop but to bring the investment from the N<sup>o</sup>ward, they think the present allowance of thirty two rupees a month to the Master is sufficient. Mettah Nanan having alledged that eight hundred & seven rupees had been made good in part of his debt to the Company, they direct us to enquire into the same as he has not credit for so large a sum.

Account Salary due to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Covenant Servants from 1st Jan<sup>y</sup> 1740-41 to July 1st 1741.

Persons Names.	Stations.	Time servd.	Yearly Salary.	Salary due.
		Mo days.	£ s.	£ s. d. s. d.
James Hope Esq <sup>r</sup> ...	Chief ...	6 0	100 0	50 0 0 @ 2 6	400 0
Willi <sup>m</sup> Lowther ...	C. Mer <sup>t</sup> ...	6 0	30 0	15 0 0 „ 120 0	...
Do. for reading Devine	Serv <sup>es</sup> ...	6 0	12 10	6 5 0 „ 50 0	r. pice.
					170 0
W <sup>m</sup> Johnson ...	Fact <sup>r</sup> ...	6 0	15 0	7 10 0 „ ...	60 0
Ja <sup>s</sup> Henry Lambe ...	Do. ...	6 0	15 0	7 10 0 „ ...	60 0
John Burchall ...	Do. ...	6 0	15 0	7 10 0 „ ...	20 0
John Hope ...	Writer ...	6 0	5 0	2 10 0 „ ...	60 0
Joseph Grey ...	Surgeon ...	6 0	54 0	27 0 0 „ ...	216 0
				£ 123 5 0 rup <sup>a</sup>	986 0

Surat, July 1st, 1741.

Errors Excepted,
WILLIAM LOWTHER.

Surat, Saturday, 18th July 1741.

This morning the Governour went to view the city wall & bastions, which he ordered to be kept in a posture of defence, as also several of the gates to bee shut up, & has taken into pay about two thousand five hundred Sepoys on account of its being expected that Nasserjung will bend his march this way.

Sunday, 19th.—In the evening the Vackeel came to the ffactory and acquainted the Chief that the Governour had sent for him to his garden, when he told him he had advice of Nasserjungs intending to come this way & that he had appointed several guards to take care of the citty wall, & as our new Bunder joined to one end of it desired we would send a Company of Sepoys to guard it, to which Manackjee replied that at this juncture he believed we should not think it proper, & desired he would excuse it, which he readily complied with, but at the same time ordered a party of his own people thither, directing him to acquaint the Chief therewith.

to which end it was necessary to finde some ways & means to raise a sune sufficient to discharge that expence, when at last an addition of one quarter per cent on the imports & exports was proposed by Suffdar Mahmud Caun as a competent sum, and it was accordingly agreed to by the merchants without any great opposition, and before they left the Durbarr they signed a writing as a signification of their assent.

---

Surat, Monday, 23<sup>d</sup> August 1742.

To

Captain Benjamin Fisher, of the Ship "Porto Bello."

Sir,

We are this moment apprized that there are Cooley rovers now cruzing on the Barr, where they have committed some depredations, and as they may in all probabillity continue there these springs with a view to ketch more prey out of the boats sent downe to unlade our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters ship the "Porto Bello," as was the case three years ago when the "Hastingfeild" was at this port, and as wee are entirely destitute either of a Sloop or Gallivatts to escort our boats betwixt the ships & the Barr, though wee have put a suitable number of Factory sepoys in each boat, but as no dependance can be made on those wretches where a good resistance is necessary, we for these reasons have thought proper to direct that you order your Long Boat to be well manned and armed in order to convoy the boats to & from the Soddy Bank, and likewise to lend us some men to equipp our Bunder Pinnace, which we shall employ on the same occasion, these being the only secure methods wee can take to prevent any disaster or our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters sustaining any losses by those troublesome Peccaroons.

We are,

Sir,

Your very humble Servants,

JAMES HOPE.

WILLIAM LOWTHER.

WILLIAM JOHNSON.

JAMES HENRY LAMBE.

JOHN BURCHALL.

EDWARD HOPE.

---

Suratt, Monday, 10th October 1743.

Rece<sup>d</sup> a letter from the H<sup>c</sup> President & Council of Bombay, dated the 1st instant. They advise us that the Gov<sup>r</sup> had read to them a letter from Captain Ralph Kellet, wherein he desires leave to go to England over land, at w<sup>ch</sup> they are surprized, as applications of that nature from private persons living here ought to have been first made to us, and we to make them known to them. They say that if Cap<sup>t</sup> Kellet pays his money into the Companys Cash, and in all other respects complys with the Companys orders relating to persons carrying their effects out of India, wee may dispence with his going over land. They add that such proceedings are not altogether consistent with the Companys orders, and that Captains Nash & Gordon were permitted in consideration of their service, and having paid into the Companys cash the amo<sup>t</sup> of their estates, and that others who have not such a recommendation ought not to expect the same favour. That should we permit Cap<sup>t</sup>. Kellet to repair over land, what money he pays can only remain deposited in our cash, nor can he have Bills of Exchange for it, untill an opportunity offers of one of the Companys ships directly to Great Brittain, and then only at the exchange of 2<sup>s</sup> 3<sup>d</sup> for a rupee. They advise us of the arrival of our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters ship the "Princess of Wales" the 1st instant in the morning, and direct us to make a provision of six hundred (600) bales of cotton, besides what is already ordered, as the Company write them they may expect another ship at Christmas, which is to be loaded, but that they wont mention where she is to proceed afterwards.

---

Surat, Wednesday, 7th December 1743.

This day the Scidy, all the principal merchants of the citty, with the Vackeels & the Brokers of the several nations trading here, were called to the Durbar, when the Gov<sup>r</sup>. Tegkhan told them hee had received from Court Husbul Hokums under the Vizirs seal directed to the Scidy, to the English, to the Dutch & French, & to the city merchants in general, confirming him in his Government & directing them to aid & assist him in case of necessity against Abdul Azeez Khan (alias Muckboulalum) who had published a fictitious Husbul Hokum in his own favour for the province of Guzerat & this citty. He then ordered the several Husbul Hokums to be read & delivered to those they were directed to, or to their Representatives then present. M<sup>r</sup>. Fraser being called thither, wee sent him, & hee received that directed to the Chief, which translated as follows :—

A translation of the Husbul Hokum.

Distinguished among your equals and neighbours M<sup>r</sup>. Hope, Chief of the Factory at the fortunate Port of Suratt.

Know that at this time it has been represented at Court that Abdul Azeez Khan has published a copy of a Husbul Hokum in his own name for the offices of Soubahdar of the Soubah of Ahmedabad, & Muttesiddy of the fortunate port of Surat, & having gathered together an army is prepared & intends to raise troubles & disturbances, as his pretence is meer fiction & falsehood, & as the office of Muttesidy of the fortunate port of Surat is by his Royal Majesty fixed & settled (in the same manner as formerly) upon the resolute and excellent Teg Beg Khan—Therefore the high Husbul Hokum is issued, that you (in conjunction with, & obedience to the said Khan in the Kings bussiness) make appear your good services, & rest in hopes of a good recompense. In this affair be punctual. Written the 21st Shaban in the 26th year of the fortunate reign.

The seal contained the following words :—

"The Vizir of the empire, Kummiro'din Khan Bahadur, victorious in war, in whom the King puts his confidence. Faithful serv<sup>t</sup> of Mah<sup>d</sup> Shah the Valiant Emperor."

This order we have great reason to believe is forged here, it being very apparent both by the seal & the stile. The Governour & his brother Suffdir Khan told the Scidy & merchants in gen<sup>l</sup> that as such orders had come from Court, if any person was discovered to correspond with or aid or assist directly or indirectly the said Abdul Azeez Khan or any of his dependants, they should forfeit their lives & effects. At last he told them he would send them a paper to be signed, which if they refused to do it was plain they acted contrary to the Court orders & were friends to the enemy. He said he did not desire them to assist him with money or goods, he only wanted their inclinations, & such of them as had power and forces in constant pay, it would be no additional charge to them to aid him. By this he hinted at the Scidy, who at last by means of threats & promises, declared he would join him in case of necessity with what forces he had. When Mr. Fraser was coming away, Teg Beg Khan called him near, & desired as he had heard the whole conference, & understood what was contained in the Husbul Hokum, he would represent it particularly to the Chief & Council.

Received a letter from Mess<sup>rs</sup> Cole & Pattie at Patna, dated the 30th October, enclosing us a packet for the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & Council of Bombay, to be forwarded by the first conveyance.

Thursday, 8th.—Wrote express to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay acquainting them with the substance of what passed yesterday at the Durbar, & inclosing them copy and translation of the Husbul Hokum, at the same time we forwarded the packet rec<sup>d</sup> last night from Patna.

---

Surat, Thursday, 15th December 1743.

At a Consultation, Present:

James Hope Esq<sup>r</sup> Chief.

George Hamilton.

James Henry Lambe.

Will<sup>m</sup> Johnson.

James Fraser.

This meeting is called to take into consideration the present state of affairs in this city, Muckboul Alums army having come within two days march, & Comalo'din Khan his Naib for the province of Ahmedabad having come to Brodera with 8000 men to join him. This Gov<sup>r</sup> has made all possible preparations to oppose him, by pulling down several houses & demolishing some gardens w<sup>ch</sup> lay near the walls, & gives out that the other has not the Kings authority to come hither.

As it may be presumed we shall in a very few days have great troubles here, it is resolved to take into the Factory as many out of the detachments belonging to the London Sloop & Galivats, as shall be judged necessary for our own defence & securing the H<sup>co</sup> Companys effects from any mobb, for which purpose Cap<sup>t</sup> Roul & the other Masters are to have proper orders. It is also agreed that we now write by express Patamar to the President & Council of Bombay for suitable presents to be made Muckboul Alum in case he should take possession of this place.

Wrote by an express Patamar to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council, acknowledging the receipt of their Commands of the 3rd ins<sup>t</sup>, & acquainting them with the state of affairs in this city, as per this days Consultation, we desire they would send us as soon as possible such presents as may be necessary, in case Muckboul Alum should possess himself of this place, which must be the more considerable, as he is to command the whole Province to which this city is subordinate, as was the case when Heyder Cooly Khan passed by this place in his way to Ahmedabad. We advise them of our having with great difficulty contracted this morning with Oudeesunkar for 200 candys of cotton at 112 R<sup>s</sup> per candy clear of all charges, the cotton to be brought loose to town, & we to examine it & see it weighed & packed. And that the reason the merchants are so extremely averse to contracting for loose cotton to be packed at their charge after it has been viewed by us, is, that by this method the frauds usually practised by them are entirely prevented: it being very common when packed bales are contracted for, not only to put up the cotton wet and short of weight, but likewise to fill it with rubbish besides the charges of bringing it in loose package being much greater. We also inclosed our monthly acco<sup>ts</sup> for November.

Rec<sup>d</sup> a letter from Humfries Cole Esq<sup>r</sup> & M<sup>r</sup> Fullerton at Patna, dated the 5th November, inclosing a letter for the Presid<sup>t</sup> and Council of Bombay, which they desire may be forwarded with the utmost expedition.

Friday, 16th.—Wrote to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Presid<sup>t</sup> & Council purposely to forward the letter rec<sup>d</sup> last night from Patna.

Ordered the Sloop and Galivats which were at Domus to come up to our Bunder.

This afternoon the acting Gov<sup>r</sup> Suffdir Khan sent for M<sup>r</sup> Fraser, & desired he would acquaint the Chief, that as at low water people might pass twixt our new Bunder & the river, it would be proper some persons were appointed to guard it. He also requested we would send a party of men to keep guard at our tombs, & that we would either sell or lend to him a Cohorne Mortar. M<sup>r</sup> Fraser ret<sup>d</sup> for answer that he would acquaint the Chief therewith, upon which he told him he would send Manackchund Mettah (late Duan) tomorrow morning to the Factory to request the same.

Saturday, 17th.—This morning Manickchund came from Suffdir Khan to request the above particulars. After due consideration we agreed that as our vessels were then at the Bunder, we should land half our detachment & promised to send thirty or forty seepoys (if to be hired) to guard our tombs, but told him we had no Cohorne Mortar.

Monday, 19th.—This morning the Gov<sup>r</sup> went round to view the condition of the Town Walls & at last came to our Bunder, from whence he sent a Chowbdar to call M<sup>r</sup> Fraser, whom he desired to acquaint the Chief, that as that place was of great importance he intended to place five hundred of his own people there, having lately heard that Muckboul Alum was determined to come by way of Nunsary & attack the city on that quarter, while the Gov<sup>r</sup> staid there he ordered all the trees &c. about the French garden that could in the least obstruct their view to be cut down & levelled.

Tuesday, 20th.—As the Gov<sup>r</sup> had taken possession of our Bunder, & placed a body of his own men there, we ordered the Sloop & Galivats up to the new Factory Stairs, as they can be of more service to us there, in case of any troubles.

Wednesday, 21st.—This afternoon the Duan, the Court Vackeel Harcumdass, & the Scidys Vackeel came to the Factory. They told us that the Gov<sup>r</sup> was informed the English at Bombay intended to assist Abdul Azeez Khan (alias Muckboul Alum) against him, & that we had some secret intelligence with him, to which we answered that these reports were entirely groundless, that they might rest perfectly assured the English would always remain neuter in regard to both partys in disputes of that nature, & would never act for or against any of them, excepting in defence of their own rights and privileges. And we solemnly declared to them we had no manner of intelligence or correspondence with the other party, with which answer they seemed perfectly well satisfied.

Friday, 23<sup>d</sup>.—Muckboul Alums army were within sight of the outter walls the greatest part of this day.

Saturday, 24th.—This day the above s<sup>d</sup> army filed off towards Broach not finding themselves, as we suppose, in a condition to attack this place, there being as we hear a great scarcity of corn in their camp. They consist of 6000 horse & 3000 foot, & the Ganeems with a superior force keep hovering about them, & harrass them so much, that it's with great difficulty they get a sufficiency of water.

Thursday, 2<sup>d</sup> April 1747.—Wrote to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Council of Bombay to acquaint them with the purport of the foregoing message, & to inclose an acco<sup>t</sup> of goods in Warehouse the 31st ult<sup>o</sup>.

Sunday, 5th.—This afternoon a pair of express Patt<sup>rs</sup> dispatched from Pondicherry to the French Chief with a letter sealed with the French Companys seal, came by mistake with it to M<sup>r</sup> Fraser, who having brought it before us—it is unanimously agreed, that as it may contain advices, the knowing of which may be of the utmost importance to our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters, to open it and forward a littoral translation thereof (as entered hereafter) to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay, which was accordingly done by a pair of Patt<sup>rs</sup> express:—

To

Mons<sup>r</sup> Le Venior, Chief at Surat.

Sir,

Pondicherry, 18th March 1747.

This accompany's duplicate of our last of the 11th February enclosing the Passes which you ought to receive at the same time.

By the Regulations we have made it has been resolved that the Squadron commanded by Mons<sup>r</sup> Dardalin to the number of 4 vessels which are now actually at Mihie shall winter at Goa, in the Port of Marmagon, where they are to pass all the bad season. As it may happen that the Viceroy cannot or perhaps will not furnish them with the quantity of Prov<sup>o</sup> & Refreshments which they may have occasion for during so long a stay, we forewarn you by the present to use all diligence & take all the just measures you can to get convey<sup>d</sup> to them at Goa as much wheat as possible; although we cannot think that the Viceroy of Goa can reasonably deny our vessels wintering, yet as such a thing may happen, we have provided against it by ordering them in such case to go to Injadivee, which is an Island near Carwar, where it will be requisit (in case our vessels cannot obtain leave from the Viceroy to winter in the Port of Marmagon) that you send them as much flower & Bisket as can be made. We therefore beg that on reception of this you set to work immediately in order to execute our intentions.

We still persist to desire you will endeavour to freight a Moor or Portuguese vessel to be sent with wheat to Myhie, where we have given orders to compleat her loading.

The English squadron has appeared before Gondaler the 13th of this month to the number of eight vessels.

We request you will transmit to Diu the most certain intelligence you can procure of what English vessels are gone to Moucha, Juddah & Bussorah to the French Captain who will be there & who is to stay untill the end of July or beginning of August at farthest. If the Captain or no French vessels is at Diu, you must inform yourself where he is, that you may give him intelligence in all places.

DUPLEX &<sup>ca</sup>.

To

Mons<sup>r</sup> Le Venior at Surat.

Sir,

Pondicherry, 11th February 1747.

The 8th of this month we received the letter you wrote us dated the 9th February.

The gentlemen at Mihie have forwarded us a parcell of wheat of 89 baggs by the ship "Cintaur." The wheat having been laden at Mihie & those gentlemen having not given us any acco<sup>t</sup> of this consignment, we are at a loss to guess from whence it arises. They also advise us that they have yet a certain quantity which they would send us if they could find an opportunity, but do not explain themselves fully on this article no more than on the other.

We cannot too much press you to use your utmost endeavours to procure us all the wheat possible. We hope by your care you will remove all difficulties that you may meet with on this head from the Gov<sup>r</sup>. This is to us at this time of the utmost consequence by reason of the difficulties we meet with in procuring provisions from Bengall.

We flatter ourselves that you have not failed, in consequence of our L<sup>re</sup> of the 22<sup>d</sup> Sept<sup>r</sup> to remit to the order of the Council of Chandernagor Bills of Exchange for the greatest part of the produce of 27500 Doll<sup>rs</sup> w<sup>ch</sup> were remitted you by M<sup>r</sup>. Gervais. We learn from that Council that they are in great want of it.

Inclosed are duplicates of our last of the 2<sup>d</sup> and 21st Jan<sup>ry</sup>, to which we refer you, as to what relates to the Moor or Portuguese ship of 500 tons, which we wrote you for, as also for the precautions which it is necessary to take to conceal these advices. We will send you immediately the 10 Passports which you write for.

Suratt, Saturday, 5th November 1748.

At a Consultation, Present:

Thomas Dorrill, Esq <sup>re</sup> , Chief.
William Johnson.	George Sadlier.
James Henry Lambe.	William And <sup>w</sup> . Price.

Read the Ho<sup>ble</sup> President & Councils commands by the "Restoration," acknowledging the receipt of our letter of the 24th ult<sup>o</sup> by the Grabs, & the stores sent on them. They are pleased to say that by our publick advices, as well as by a letter the President had received from the Chief, that we had great reason to apprehend very ill consequences from Suffdir Khan being espoused by the Dutch, for the motives of his having granted them liberty to build a Fort at their Garden & being Custom free. In consequence of which they had now sent Cap<sup>t</sup>. John Govin with fifty Military, as many Seepoys, & a Detachment of the Train, with a Mortar & Hobitt, Shells, stores &c<sup>a</sup> for our defence to be employed in Atchunds cause, who with reason is so well liked in Surat. They leave to our discretion the place & manner of using the above Forces as we may judge most serviceable. That they will speedily dispatch the other Grab or the Commodore to countenance our affairs.

In pursuance of our Orders rece<sup>d</sup> this day to consult with the principal persons of this City for proper measures to secure tranquility to it, & the frequent requests of Meah Atchund for a publick meeting at the Durbar, which being also agreeable to the discourse the Chief has often had with Sciddee Mossoot, Mulna & Sawlie Chellaboy—Agreed, that M<sup>r</sup>. Price wait upon Atchund to acquaint him what force we had at the Bank, to enquire what measures he would propose for the establishing peace in the city. That the Chief would visit him at the Durbar any time most agreeable to him, but that he thought it better for the Chiefs of the other European Nations to be acquainted of such meeting, & all other foreigners, as well as the principal inhabitants of the City, that a Resolution might at once be taken in what manner to proceed, that no one might plead ignorance of such a thing being in agitation. Further, to warn Atchand that in case Suffdir Caun should be assisted by any European Nation it would be out of our power to interpose. It is further agreed that two others of the Council be sent to the Dutch Factory to acquaint the Director that Meah Atchund had desired a publick meeting tomorrow morning at the Durbar to consult methods for the preservation of . . . . . & to know whether he would choose to be present. Mess<sup>rs</sup>. Sadlier & Lambe are appointed to wait the Directors accordingly.

T. DORRILL.
G. SADLIER.
JAMES HENRY LAMBE.

Mr Price returns from the Durbar & acquaints the Chief of Atchunds compliments to him that he should be glad to see him tomorrow morning at the Durbar & the proper persons should be summoned as he desired. That he only suspected one Nation to assist Suffdir Caun & that tho' the past circumstances of affairs had prevented his resentment for many affronts, yet in such case he would exert himself and show them he did not want spirit to manage all his injuries.

Mess<sup>rs</sup> Sadlier and Lambe on their return from the Dutch Factory inform the Chief of Directors answer,—That as he had no orders from Batavia to enter on such an affair he could not meddle in it nor could he see any reason why Suffdir Caun should be molested in recovering his Government (treacherously seized) when he was absolutely the Kings officer, & had his commission for the same. Notwithstanding which he should be glad of a conference with our Chief, begged he would defer his visit to Atchund for some days and appoint a proper place for that purpose and that he would send two of his Council the next morning for an answer.

Tuesday, 15th.—Agreable to the publick resolution taken at the Durbar on the 6th instant Captains Govin & England march down the Military & Marines to their appointed quarters, being Manilla Cauns house near Nunsaree Gate, with a Train of artillery consisting of two twelve Pounders, four nine Pounders, eight two Pounders, a Mortar, Hobit, & two Cohorns, with ammunition, stores &c. The Chief went in the evening in order to reside there whilst the troubles subsisted.

---

Surat, Thursday, 17th November 1748.

At a Consultation, Present :

Thomas Dorrill, Esq <sup>re</sup> , Chief.
William Johnson.	George Sadlier.
James Henry Lambe.	Will <sup>m</sup> And <sup>w</sup> Price.

Read the letter the Chief yesterday received from the Dutch Factory entered after this Consultation, and agreed that an answer to it be drawn out immediately and sent.

T. DORRILL.
G. SADLIER.
JAMES HENRY LAMBE.

---

To

The Worshipful Thomas Dorrill, Esq<sup>re</sup>, & Council.

Sir & Gentlemen,

This afternoon an European Soldier of ours was publicly beheaded on the Meydan, after he had been in irons in the Castle. We are told that he was seized near your Battery, and sent to the Castle by order of some of your servants, but not being well able to believe this & being at present obliged to defray enquiry whether the Gov<sup>t</sup> of himself by the desire of . . . . . else had acted this horrible part, so is it our friendly desire that your Worship & a in consideration of the friendship that has always subsisted between our two Nations & which hardly 8 days ago was in effect again renewed, will lend us an helping hand to procure us sufficient satisfaction for this, in such manner as yourselves shall judge expedient.

We shall not here set forth the shame & affront that by this is put, not upon us in particular, but upon all Europeans in general. You yourselves know very well that the blood of the meanest European, we wont say Christian and fellow beleiver, is much too noble to be thus innocently spilt, & that it is besides against the laws of all reasonable people to put a man to death without any reason; & therefore assuring ourselves that you will with us consider this affair in such a manner as in effect it must be considered, we remain with the greatest esteem,

Surat, November 27th, 1748.

Sir & Gentlemen,

Your most h<sup>ble</sup> & obd<sup>t</sup> Servants,

JOHN SCHIENDER.

I. PEACOCK.

A. CORN<sup>s</sup> D'DA HAYE.

I. SANDEMS.

C. L. SENFF.

P.S.—That this is not delivered as usual by one or two of us your Worship &<sup>ca</sup> will please to excuse upon account of the uncertainty of the present time.

To

The Worshipful John Schiender, Esq<sup>re</sup>, & Council for all affairs of the Dutch East India Company in Surat.

W. Sir & Sirs,

Your letter of yesterdays date I received last night, but not having any body then present to translate it, I was obliged to defer replying then to till now.

I am heartily sorry for the occasion of your letter to me, & think myself in a manner called upon to relate what has come to my knowledge of that affair. Yesterday about noon I had a report that a Dutchman had been examining some mortars &<sup>o</sup> belonging to us, but that the Guard in obedience to the strict orders I had given not to molest or have any dispute with an European of any Nation, had left his imprudence pass unnoticed, whereas you, Gentlemen, must be sensible what the duty of a Centinal would have been on the like occasion in Europe. I sent to have seized him with an intent to have him carried to the W<sup>o</sup> the Directore, not doubting that he would have ordered him to have been punished for his rashness, but answer was brought me that he went from our Mortars & surveyed the Governments Cannon & Batteries, taking more notice of them than a man without design could be supposed to do, & that presently after he went from thence, he was seized by some peons coming that way. I made no other reflection thereon than that they were the Directors Peons who, apprehending the man, might have an intention to enter either into the Governments or our service were sent to seize him. Some small time before I received your letter I was informed that the Gov<sup>r</sup> of the place had killed an European. I had our people called over and none being missing, I concluded it must be the Dutchman that had been on the works, but was not confirmed in that till I had your favour translated.

I assure you, Gentlemen, that if I can find out any body in my service that carried or even went with the man to the Castle, I will do you all the justice in my power. I hope I have not any body so imprudent about me, and should be glad that you, Gentlemen, would inquire of the person or persons who gave you such information, what grounds they had for it. If they are just, they will not be afraid to impeach those that have been in general accused; but if it is done out of an ill design of breeding contention and animosities between us, there are too many of that disposition in the place, and should those who have now aspersed me through my servants be of that kind, I doubt not the Directore will do me justice. Had I heard such busy bodys on my arrival, I should never have made the first approaches towards an harmony that I should be always glad might subsist between the subjects of two Nations so nearly allied, and I am really sorry that our different opinions relating to the present calamities of this City should occasion our being engaged in arms on opposite sides; and I must remark, Gentlemen, that the Dutch Gunners in Suffdir Khans Camp are very remarkable in endeavouring to kill any of our people that appear on the walls. I would not willingly impute it to any orders from their superiors.

You must be sensible, Gentlemen, that we have force enough already joined with the principal inhabitants of the place, besides a number of his Majestys ships hourly expected at Bombay to settle the quiet of this place, & therefore it can't be imagined that the offers I now make are out of any desire of an additional strength to carry on the affairs in hand, but I should be very sorry to see an European Nation be alone in not benefitting by the publick tranquility. Therefore I must repeat my offers before the affair is too late, of inviting you to the Party that in all human probability will soon prevail. I am ready to hearken to any propositions you, Gentlemen, may make for the publick good, & to go hand in hand with you in settling any differences that may subsist between Meah Atchund & you, but it would be rashness in me to interpose relating to his taking all precautions towards preventing his City being betrayed to the Enemy, & had Englishmen acted openly as Gunners against him, I really could not have blamed him if he had made examples of them, tho' if I had got notice of the Dutchmans being in his power, I should instantly have sent to the Directore to have advised him of it, & with his consent have made use of any interest I may have with Meah Atchund to have prevented it.

As things now seem to draw towards a crisis, I should be glad to receive a speedy answer to that part of this letter that relates to an agreement of jointly acting in what I look upon to be for the publick good. I am very respectfully,

Surat, the 17th Nov<sup>r</sup>. 1748,

Worshipful Sir & Sirs,
Your very Obedient & most humble Servant,
THOMAS DORRILL.

The Chief receives the following letter from the Dutch Directore, dated this day, as follows:—

To

The W<sup>o</sup>. Thomas Dorrill, Esq<sup>re</sup>.

Sir & much esteemed Friend,

I just now had the honour to receive your much esteemed favour of this day, but I am extreamly sorry that I cannot understand it, neither have I any body that can translate or even read it intelligibly & well, & therefore I am obliged to have recourse to your goodness, & to desire you in the humblest manner to let me have a translation of it either in French, Latin, Dutch, or High Dutch, or please to send me a trusty man who can explain the contents though only in Portugeze. . . . . That I did not send a French translation, as was always usual with mine of yesterday, only happened for want of an able person, and therefore assuring myself that you will not let that serve for an example, I remain with offers of my sincere inclinations for the maintenance of an unfeigned friendship with the greatest esteem,

Sir & much esteemed Friend,

Surat, the 28th November 1748, N.S.

Your most humble & obed<sup>t</sup>. Servant,
JOHN SCHIENDER.

In pursuance of the above Mr. Price was sent to the Dutch Directore to explain the Chiefs letter.

We have been credibly informed this day that the Dutch man who was executed the 16th by the Government had spike nails found in his pocket and confessed that he had left some of his companions in the enemys Camp & who were paid as Gunners.

Friday, 18th November 1748.

---

Letter from the Dutch Directore, dated and received this day :—

To

The W<sup>o</sup>. Thomas Dorrill, Esq<sup>re</sup>

Sir and much esteemed Friend,

I intend to send you two of my Council, & therefore desire you will in all civility to send me an answer to this by word of mouth, whether and when you will please to receive & hear them in the Factory, and in case your Worship pleases appoint any certain time for this, then I must desire a certain assurance that those who come from me shall not be molested in their way to & from the Factory by Meah Atchund or any of his servants. I remain with the greatest esteem,

Sir & much esteemed Friend,

Surat, 29th November 1718.

Your most humble obed<sup>t</sup>. Servant,

JOHN SCHIENDER.

---

Sunday, 20th November.—Wrote to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay acknowledging the receipt of their Commands of the 30th ult<sup>o</sup>. per “Restoration,” of the Secy<sup>rs</sup> Letter of the 6th per Bombay, & those of the 13th per Pattamar, advising them of Cap<sup>t</sup>. Govins arrival with the Military & Detachment of the Train, with a Mortar, Hobit, Shells, Stores &<sup>ca</sup>, but that the Seepoys said to accompany them were not on board. That as Suffdir Khans cruel disposition in case he entered the City was so justly dreaded by all sorts of people, we found it absolutely necessary for the security of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys affairs to support Atchund, & that we acquainted them all the principal inhabitants joined with us (except the Dutch), who declare themselves neuter, tho we have reason to believe they have assisted the enemy with money, ammunition &<sup>ca</sup> which has been the main reason of the war’s being of so long a continuance & that we hoped the allied Forces would soon put an end to the present troubles. That we should detain the Grabs here as we had weakened them by taking out so many of their people, besides the dispatching them at this juncture might damp the spirits of our allies. That we had assembled the Merchants & . . . . . sale of Goods at Bombay on the 25th Ins<sup>t</sup>. but they requested . . . . . might be deferred till the present troubles were over. That we had also acquainted the Merchants of the “Durringtons” intended voyage to Mocha & offered her to freight, but that they answered by her touching at Tellicherry the Premium & Insurance would so considerably rise, they could lade no goods on board her, but had she proceeded directly to the Port of Mocha they would have filled her. That by the long indisposition of most of the servants here (occasioned by the epidimical fever which has raged many months in this city) our business had been retarded, but that the Cambay Annual Acco<sup>ts</sup> & such of our Factory as could possibly be got ready should be forwarded in a day or two.

---

Sunday, 4th December 1748.—This morning about 8 o'clock two hundred Europeans & Topasses with an hundred Bombay Seepoys under the command of Ensign Funge and Cap<sup>t</sup> Watson sallied out upon the Enemy, and made their way good to their great Battery nearest the Town Wall & two others near it. They drove them from them and took eight of their Cannon. A party of the Sciddees people accompanied them out, but when the action grew warm they deserted, & the afternoon coming on our party was obliged to retreat not having time to raise proper breast-works & trenches to defend themselves from any attack the enemy might make on them in the night, without which they judged they could not defend the ground they had taken. About 1 o'clock the retreat was beat & about 2 they arrived at the quarters. They left two Europeans & one Bombay Seepoy dead in the field, and both the Commanding Officers with about four or five Cannon men were wounded with arrows. What number of the enemy they killed is uncertain, but 'tis reported many. One European they saw lying dead in the field with Patan colours by him, & know him to be Claude Johnson, formerly belonging to the "Restoration" Grab. He deserted from us to the Dutch, tho' they are pleased to deny he ever was in their service, notwithstanding at the time of his death he was cloathed in the Dutch Regimentals, & it was well known he was in their service at the commencement of these troubles. There was this day four of the Dutch Factory Soldiers killed in Suffdir Khans service & four other returned to their Factory; there are yet numbers with him, and many of them in the Dutch Directors Regimentals.

---

Monday, 5th.—A body of Seepoys consisting of about 300 men came to one of the City Gates, & pretending to be discharged Suffdir Khans service, requested Atchund to enter them in his, but he being suspicious they might have some treacherous intentions he would not admit them.

---

Tuesday, 6th.—At Drum Beat this morning the Chief ordered the Beating to Arms and presently after Meah Mahm<sup>d</sup> Allee and the Sciddee came with their forces to our quarters about six o'clock. Our Military & Marines with our Bombay Peons went out at the Sallie Port under the command of Cap<sup>t</sup> John Govin and Cap<sup>t</sup> George England, who drew them up on a plain ground under the Town Wall with about 100 of the Government Peons. They waited till near midday under arms for a reinforcement of 100 people more, which Sciddee Mossoot had promised should join them, & likewise for Multans troops to attack the enemys batteries on the other side near Seiad Poorah Gate. The enemy observing our motions brought one gun to bear upon our troops, which unfortunately took off the heads of two Europeans belonging to the "Restoration," upon report of which to the Chief, he ordered them to begin their attack directly, but to be sure to make the country forces keep up, that they might not abscond in time of action. They had not marched above one hundred yards when the Sciddees & Government Forces disputed who should be in the rear when they attacked. The former insisted upon it as their right, as they were only auxiliaries; the latter could urge nothing but that they were afraid to attack so desperate an enemy, upon hearing of which the Chief advising with Captains Crabb & Leeke, sent orders for all our forces to return immediately to their quarters, which they accordingly did. Captain Leeke and Ensign Forster being indisposed, desire permission to retire to the Factory, which was readily granted.

Wednesday, 7th.—This evening the Chief ordered the mortar into the Factory, as the next day was determined for a general engagement, and no more forces to be kept within the gates than a sufficient number to guard the Sallie Ports from not being shut against our people in case of a forced retreat, & as also against any misfortune in the field. There was the greatest reason to apprehend the Sciddees would have rose in town in favour of the enemy, he then having 400 men with Suffdir Khan, who did not shew any want of courage in engaging against our troops, tho those of his forces that went out with them could never be prevailed on to draw a sword in Atchunds cause. Therefore Cap<sup>t</sup> Richard Crabb with all the Officers & Seamen landed from the "Durrington" were appointed to guard Nunsaree Gate with the Sallie Ports on each side thereof. Captains Govin, England, & Dick were appointed to head all the Military & Marine belonging to Bombay and Surat, excepting 20 which were to remain within the walls under the command of Cap<sup>t</sup> Crabb.

---

Thursday, 8th.—Agreeable to the Resolution taken last night, our forces designed to march out were this morning by daybreak drawn out, but waited two hours till the Governor of the place came to the Chiefs quarters, and after that an hour longer for Sciddee Mossoot, who plainly shewed his disinclination to let his people go out as did Atchunds their want of resolution. When Atchund was given to understand that the necessity there was for the dispatch of our Grabs & Europe ship to Bombay, as likewise our small craft to the Northward, and our people falling down sick daily would not admit of any more mock parade, for which reason we had sent a great part of our artillery to the Factory in order to enable us in case of not coming to an engagement that day to retire from our quarters & leave them to fight their own battles, Atchund weighing the consequence of our retreat, by force of argum<sup>t</sup> and the distribution of money amongst his own troops, prevailed with them to consent to take the field, and the Sciddee being acquainted that in case of any farther trifling excuses on his part he would be deemed as a common enemy, at last he consented to his peoples taking the field also. And at 9 o'clock in the forenoon they began to march, our Military & Bombay Seepoys under the command of Cap<sup>t</sup> John Govin, the whole of the Marines under the command of Cap<sup>t</sup> George England with orders not to separate on any account for fear of treachery from the Sciddee. When the whole force were without the gate, there appeared a jealousy between Atchunds & the Sciddees people, & a dispute arose which of them should march in front, neither of them caring to mix together, which occasioned an halt & a message from our Commanding Officer (who had particular orders from the Chief to guard against treachery in the Sciddees forces) acquainting him that both the Government & the Sciddees people out of fear of each other had seated themselves on the ground & would march no further. As no delays could be thought of, or was there any appearance thereby of bringing the country people to resolution enough to engage the enemy, & the ill consequences of a retreat duly considered, orders were sent to our Officers to march on with our forces, but in case of any ill success from the disadvantage of ground as well as difference in numbers (our whole force not amounting to 700 people, & the enemy being about eight times as many) to take care to retreat in a regular manner. On receipt of these orders our people marched on to a rising ground on the right hand of a Tank where there was a very large burying ground fenced round with a stone wall, above man high, with loop holes for their small arms and cannon placed at the avenues. This place was filled with the enemys people, who from their advantageous situation gauled our people greatly as they ascended the hill, but from their resolute march and constant fire they had no sooner gained the ascent thereof, than the enemy in confusion got some over the walls, others got at the openings and marched to another very strong battery near, when our troops became masters of this place and the enemys cannon, which they spiked up, & then followed the enemy to the next battery, situated on a hill of so steep an ascent that it was with some difficulty they clambered up with their arms, the whole ground being covered with tombs. The two most noted officers with all their best troops being in this place gave them a very rough reception and there commenced a very warm dispute for the ground. About 2 o'clock in the afternoon Coja Abdull Summaids head was brought to the Nabob (who was then in consultation with the Chief at his quarters), the sight of which put the Nabob and his people about him in great spirrits, as they knew him to be the principal officer belonging to Suffdir Khan. After the loss of this man our people drove the enemy from the ground, but as they were sensible the whole depended on this days battle, rallied thrice within twenty yards of our forces headed by Sciad Hossein and the most faithful of Suffdir Khans slaves, intending if possible to have broke in upon our people sword in hand, by which we must have been greatly overpowered by numbers, especially after the hard labour of that day without the common refreshments, as Atchund had not command enough in town to oblige his subjects at the repeated intercession of the Chief to carry water &c to the place of battle owing to the panic they were under. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon Sciad Hossein was shot, after which very little resistance was made, when our officers considering how much fatigue the people had suffered in this engagement, the impossibility of getting the necessary assistance from town for keeping the field, & being likewise entirely unacquainted with the country, judged the enemy might effect that by craft in the night which they could not by force in the day . . . . . They by mutual consent sent & advised the Chief of their situation, who paid Atchund the compliment to desire they might retreat, which he readily consented to, & both he and the Sciddee ordered their forces in likewise, tho neither of which had gone from the mouth of the Sallie Ports, but stood there in readiness to retreat in, in case of our peoples being defeated, notwithstanding which Atchund distributed large sums of money very liberally amongst his own troops which made our common people somewhat dissatisfied, and in case of another engagement might have occasioned their not going to it with so good a will, as there was not a man among them wanting in duty as a brave Soldier or Seaman. To appease their too just complaints the Chief promised them Five hundred Rupees to be distributed amongst them, when they declared they were ready to engage any enemy under such officers as had headed them, Captains Govin, England, and Dick; Ensigns Pillans & Tunge; Lieutenants of the Marine, Johnson, Keble, & Sach; Masters of Gallivats, Templeman, Grefsett, & Garbett; Volunteers Watson & Batty, having all behaved in the most gallant manner possible. Capt. Watson was wounded in the cheek by a musquet ball & received two or three more wounds by arrows, as was likewise Engineer Rowland by a ball, and several of our private people were dangerously wounded.

Received a letter from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay acknowledging the receipt of our advices of the 20th ult<sup>o</sup>. They approve our having employed the Forces in support of Atchund in concurrence with the Principal Merchants, as also of our detaining the Grabs at the Bar. That on account of the cessation of arms with France they judge the Merchants here will choose the "Durrington" for freight to Mocha, but in case no appearance of any, they positively order that we return her to them by the 20th inst., that she may be dispatched so as to have time enough on the Mallabar Coast.

Monday, 12th December.—Suffdir Khan this day made offers of accommodation and desires to reside at our Gardens with an attendance of only 15 men under a guard of ours, Atchunds & the Sciddees people. Several of our Soldiers & Seamen deserted this day to the Dutch. The Chief this day received a letter from Mr. Charles Crommelin at Cambay, enclosing extract of a letter from Nassir Alli Khan at Dilly to Nabob Alli Gov<sup>r</sup> of Cambay, mentioning that the Court are entirely dissatisfied that Suffdir Khan should have any share in this Government, and that a Synud will be sent from Court for Atchund to govern the Castle but that they intend to send some other person to preside in the Durbar.

Tuesday, 13th.—The Durbar has this day consented to a peace with Suffdir Khan on the following conditions. Atchund is to pay him ten thousand Rupees to pay off the arrears due to his soldiers, on receipt of which all the Batterys are to be demolished & the Cannon brought into Town, those belonging to the Crown to be returned to the places taken from, & those Suffdir Khans own property Meah Atchund to pay him for & take them into the Castle the 10000 Rupees advanced to be accounted for in this article. His small arms, ammunition, elephants &<sup>ca</sup> Atchund is to pay him for, or they are to be put up to public sale, which hereafter may be agreed on, and Suffdir Khan is this day to go & reside at Osman Chellaboys Garden, under a guard of the Governments, ours & the Sciddees people for the space of 12 days, & then to embark for any ..... that assisted against him to guarantie his life, but in case of Suffdir Khans non-compliance with these conditions another engagement was agreed on tomorrow. This evening several cannon which the Dutch had lent Suffdir Khan were returned to their Bunder, as likewise one mortar, which could be only for show as they had no shells. Their Military in his service likewise returned.

Wednesday, 14th.—This day Suffdir Khan began to demolish his Batteries and disband his forces, so that to all appearance he will be obliged to a peace, but begs a few days more to move himself.

Thursday, 15th.—Dispatched the "Restoration" Grab to Bombay with all our sick & wounded Military & Marine capable of embarking. Wrote the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council acknowledging the receipt of their commands of the 16th ult<sup>o</sup> with those of the 24th & 8th instant, the former per Ship "Durrington" & the latter per Express Boat. We acknowledge ourselves highly obliged to them for their approval of our employing the forces in support of Meah Atchund as also of our detaining the Grabs, & we have now the satisfaction to acquaint them of the success we have met with. That on the 4th inst<sup>o</sup> our forces engaged the enemy; took three of their Batteries & nailed up seven of their Cannon, when we made a regular retreat. This was performed with the loss of only two Europeans & one Seepoy. That it was judged the enemy had 400 men killed & as many wounded. We were very desirous of pursuing this advantage but it was not until the 7th that we could come to another engagement, during which interval the enemy had repaired the above batteries & placed other cannon there, that the former we took, brought off three of the cannon & spiked the rest, killed Coja Abdull Somite the head officer & Prime Counsellor as also Mirza Hossein a principal officer, & a number of private men. We had one European & one Topass killed. That Suffdir Khan having suffered so considerably in these two engagements & his people beginning to desert him, on the 10th he sent an officer into Town with proposals for an accommodation, and terms being agreed on, he has sent his elephants, cannon, powder, balls &<sup>ca</sup>, & people are employed in destroying the batteries. He is permitted to reside at Ismaun Chellaboys Garden adjoining to ours for twenty days, after which he is to take passage on one of the Sciddees vessels for Jafferabad. That as we now look upon the troubles in some measures concluded, we therefore dispatch the "Restoration" Grab to your Hon<sup>rs</sup> &<sup>ca</sup> in order to give convoy to the "Boneta" and such other vessels as may be ready to embrace it, and so soon as Suffdir Khan removes to the Garden we shall send away the Bombay Grab as also the "Durrington" by the limited time, but it will be necessary to detain the "Drake" with ..... Detachment and a Company of ..... until he embarks, which we hope their ..... will approve of. That the ensuing ..... shall dispatch the sloop & ..... ward, when Mr. Price will proceed for Cambay and Mess<sup>rs</sup>. Crommelin and Scott shall have orders to come hither. That Manackjees agent has not yet applied to us for the Broad Cloth. When he does it shall be delivered to him, of which we shall advise their Hon<sup>rs</sup>. &<sup>ca</sup> and debit the Presidency accordingly. That the Coral, Emeralds &<sup>ca</sup> have been delivered to the respective proprietors agreeable to the manifest. That publick Notice has been given that the sale of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys goods being put off till the 23<sup>d</sup> inst<sup>t</sup>. That we again assembled the Merchants and endeavoured to prevail on them to freight on our Hon. Masters Ship "Durrington" to Mocha, but found it impracticable for the reasons we wrote their Hon<sup>rs</sup>. &<sup>ca</sup> in our letter of the 20th ult<sup>o</sup>. Inclos'd a manifest of Diamonds laden on the "Restoration" Grab (as entered hereafter) and an Indent of Medicines wanted for the use of this Factory, which we hope their Hon<sup>rs</sup>. &<sup>ca</sup> will comply with.

Manifest of Diamonds laden on board the "Restoration" Grab, Capt<sup>n</sup>. Tho<sup>s</sup>. Luke, and consigned to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> William Wake, Esq<sup>re</sup>.

Laden by Mr. Solomon Franco one Bulee said to contain Diamonds value Rupees 23958-50, marked and numbered as per margin, to be delivered to Mess<sup>rs</sup>. Abraham & Jacob Franco in London, and is in full of the returns of Coral, Pearl, Silver & Bonds received per "Durrington" &<sup>ca</sup>.

Friday, 16th.—This day the Chief with all the Officers and Forces broke up their quarters and returned to the Factory.

Saturday, 17th.—This day the Chief, with all the Officers & Forces broke up their quarters and returned to the Factory.

This day Suffdir Khan sent to the Chief to desire the liberty of the Hon. Companys Garden (as it immediately joined to Osman Chellaboys) till the time of his embarking, which was readily granted. And in the evening he went thither, great part of his cannon &<sup>ca</sup> being brought in the city and the rest bringing in by Atehunds people.

Sunday, 18th.—Wrote a letter to Mr. Charles Crommelin at Cambay, advising him that the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay had wrote us of his being a Member of their Board & directed us to send Mr. William Andrew Price up thither to take charge of the Residency recalling Mr. Scott hither in his stead, but as Mr. Price cannot be ready to proceed these Springs (when our Sloop & Gallivats will sail to the N. ward), we therefore dispatch this to advise him thereof & to direct that he order Mr. Scott hither with all convenient expedition, & likewise that he ship on board any boats lying at Cambay such part of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys investment as may be ready for which purpose the Contractors have given orders to their Agent.

---

Surat, Tuesday, 20th December 1748.

Dispatched the "Durrington" to Bombay, and by her addressed the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Council as follows :—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

We addressed your Hon<sup>rs</sup>. &<sup>ca</sup> on the 15th inst<sup>t</sup> by the "Restoration," & this you will receive by our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters Ship the "Durrington," whom we now dispatch, as we have not been able to procure any freight for her here.

Since our last Suffdir Khan has removed from his Garden to ours, which we permitted him to reside at, as Osman Chellaboys was not commodious enough for him. Yesterday morning Sciddee Mossoot came to the Factory & acquainted us that as Suffdir Khan had now removed & was making up his affairs, he was very desirous of a speedy departure, provided he was allowed a passage on one of our Grabs to Scindy, which he earnestly requested we would gratify him in, as he rather chose proceed on our vessels than any others, which being agreeable to Meah Atchund, & all the Merchants and inhabitants of the place joining in Suffdir Khans request, we have consented to send the Bombay Grab, provided he embarks by the 25th, which we hope will meet with your Hon<sup>r</sup>. &<sup>ca</sup> approval, especially as it will prevent any further troubles in the City, which we have too much reason to apprehend the Dutch on the arrival of their ships would spirit Suffdir Khan up to commence again. He declares he is indebted to them upwards of Rs. 32000 for what supplied him during the late troubles, which they absolutely deny to save their credit, but we learn Munchur Adano is security for the payment. Was Suffdir Khan to take his passage on one of the Sciddees vessels as at first proposed, his departure might be protracted to a great length of time & during his continuance in the city the inhabitants could not be entirely free from some apprehensions. Therefore on the whole as the late troubles have cost us so much time & labour, we hope your Hon<sup>r</sup>. &<sup>ca</sup> will approve of our finishing them by affording Suffdir Khan a passage on the Bombay Grab, which we can assure you nothing but the necessity there is for it could oblige us to consent to.

Inclosed is a Manifest of Diamonds laden on board the "Durrington" & our Cash acco<sup>t</sup>. for last months. We are very respectfully, Surat, 20th Dec<sup>r</sup>. 1748.

Honorable Sir & Sirs,

Your most obed<sup>t</sup>. h<sup>ble</sup> Serv<sup>ts</sup>

THOMAS DORRILL.

WILLIAM JOHNSON.

GEORGE SADLIER.

JAS<sup>s</sup>. HENRY LAMBE.

WM<sup>m</sup> AND W<sup>w</sup> PRICE.

Sunday, 25th December 1748.—This night near 12 o'clock Suffdir Khan embarked on board the Hon. Companys Bunder Pinnacle to proceed to the Bar accompanied by M<sup>r</sup>. Jam<sup>s</sup>. Hen<sup>y</sup>. Lambe & Capt<sup>s</sup>. Govin & England.

Monday, 26th.—This day M<sup>r</sup>. James Henry Lambe returned from the Bar, with advice that Suffdir Khan got on board the Bombay Grab early this morning, and that when he came away the vessel was under sail for Scindy.

Rec<sup>ed</sup> a letter from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay acknowledging receipt of ours of the 15th per "Restoration" Grab. That it is satisfactory to find that tranquility is restored to this city by Suffdir Khans delivering up his guns, ammunition &<sup>ca</sup> to the Gov<sup>r</sup>. Meah Atchund by which the Hon. Companys affairs seem to be freed of the danger that before threatened them; but as his stay at Chellabhoys Garden, which is so near the Dutch, may prompt them to put him on such destructive measures as he has lately pursued, they approve of our detaining the "Drake" as likewise the Detachment of Military & Seepoys untill Suffdir Khans entire removal from their neighbourhood, and notwithstanding our assisting Meah Atchund was for our own defence, yet we are to demand the expences we have been at on the occasion. That they will send us a copy of the List of Investment received per Ships "Durrington" & "Sheathan" as soon as we judge it may be safe to advance money to the Merchants, of which we are to advise them accordingly.

Friday, 30th.—Dispatched the "Drake" to Bombay & by her wrote the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council acknowledging receipt of their commands of the 14th & 21st inst<sup>t</sup>. That we have with much difficulty been able to invest the sum of Rs. 17795-0-72 in German Crowns which are ship'd on board the "Drake" as per Invoice enclosed which occasioned the detention of this vessel, otherwise she would have been dispatched to their Hon<sup>rs</sup> &<sup>ca</sup> immediately on Suffdir Khans departure, who embark'd the 26th inst<sup>t</sup>, & as the Ghenims still continue to stop the roads & distress the city on account of the promises made them during the late troubles, we have kept an Ensigns Detachment & a Company of Seepoys till we see how matters are likely to terminate. That we shall use our endeavours that the expences during the troubles are paid us by the Gov<sup>r</sup> & for what stores &<sup>ca</sup> supplied us by their Hon<sup>rs</sup> &<sup>ca</sup> we shall be obliged by their furnishing us with the amo<sup>t</sup> which we hope to recover likewise. Inclos'd a list of stores returned on the "Drake" & a list of what sums the Military who were up here are indebted to the officers, which at their request we have advanced Ensign Funge, & hope their Hon<sup>rs</sup> &<sup>ca</sup> will stop it out of the peoples wages at Bombay. That Meer Macnodeen Khan had sent 5000 Rs. as a gratuity to our men for their gallant behavior & now desires the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President will be accountable for these two sums. That a list of such as are remaining here and were at the Camp we shall forward in a few days. The last days engagement the Chief, in order to encourage the people, gave them a promise of Rs. 500, which we shall add to the charges of the war. That as the troubles in this City are now over & trade we hope will soon flourish, we shall be obliged to their Hon<sup>rs</sup> &<sup>ca</sup> for a list of their investment that we may give notice to the merchants for their delivering in proposals. That there are seven chests of German Crowns shipped on board the "Drake" the Invoice of which cannot now be got ready, but will be sent by Pattamar.

Tuesday, 11th December 1750.—Received from Captain John Sanders the following report of his transactions during his being to the Northward :—

W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Agreeable to your orders I proceeded down the River to go in search of the Piratical Gallivats belonging to Billimore. December 4th—At  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 2 P.M. came over the Barr two Gallivats belonging to our Fleet, at which time weighed and stood to the Westw<sup>d</sup> in company the "Content" Sloop, "Tyger" Schooner, "Lapwing" and "Swift" Gallivats, likewise two other Boats and a Pattamar Boat. At  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 3 P.M. saw the Dutch fleet coming over the Barr and standing towards us. At  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 4 P.M. anchored, the Northermost Land in sight N.N.E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E., and the ships in Surat Road E.N.E. off shore about 3 or 4 Leagues in about eleven & a half fathom water. At  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 3 A.M. the Dutch fleet joined us, consisting of 2 sloops and 3 boats. At midnight weighed and stood to the N.W. At 6 A.M. anchored Bugwa Trees E. by N. and the northermost land in sight. N. N. E. off shore about 2 Leagues. Looking into Bugwa & finding none of the Billimore Gallivats, consulted with M<sup>r</sup> Zercies the Dutch Commander-in-Chief and agreed to make an attempt on the Cooleys at Suttanpore. At Noon weighed & stood to the N. W. These 24 hours the winds from N. to N. E. & N. December the 5th—At sunsett Puram N. E. 6 N. the southermost land on western shore in sight. S. W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W. off shore about 3 or 4 miles. At 6 P.M. anchored in 9 $\frac{1}{2}$  fathom water. At daylight Suttanpore hill N.therly & the extreams of the Land from N.N.E. to S.S.W. West off shore about 3 or 4 miles. At  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 6 P.M. weighed & at  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 7 anchored of Suttanpore River. Suttanpore Hill N. W. 6 W. West & the extreams of the Land from S. N. W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  W. to N. E. 6 N. off shore about 3 or 4 miles in three fathom water. At  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 11 A.M. grounded, these 24 hours the wind from N. E. 6 N. to N.

December 6th.—At 1 P.M. floated. At 3 P.M. the Sloop and Schooner & all our small Boats weighed and stood for the River, likewise the Dutch fleet saw 6 Gallivats to the Southward standing to the N. W. At  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 4 the abovementioned fleet entered the mouth of the River. D<sup>o</sup> we weighed & stood further out and anchored in 4 $\frac{1}{2}$  fathom water.

N.B. —In this place of Suttanpore we left behind 40 sail of Gallivats which we could not come at for want of small Boats, besides what we burnt, which was the number of 12, besides

2 Dingiys & one Boat we sunk, & burnt best part of their Town, which was little to our advantage by reason the Enemy entrenching themselves behind the Old Walls & in their houses and behind bushes. As fast as we beat them out of an Entrenchment they flew to others which was a great disadvantage to our Forces. Agreed to . . . . back in this Skermish. The English and Dutch stood well as did most of the Seepoys & we lost one Englishman. One had his right Eye shot out and 5 or 6 wounded, & the Dutch came off with much about the same loss. I can't see any great advantage in landing Forces in this place but to cover our Men in burning the Vessels by reason of their Old Houses, Walls, Forces, Hedges, and their close Entrenchments. But I am really of opinion that a number of small Boats will do but to destroy all the private Boats, as their Forces can never do us any damage by land, & we can with ease burn them all with small Boats properly manned & provided with combustibles.

December 7th.—At  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 7 P.M. came out of the River the "Swift" and two more Gallivats belonging to our Fleet & thereof the Dutch Boats & anchored by us. At 5 A.M. anchored by us the "Content" Sloop, "Tyger" Schooner, "Lapwing" Gallivat, & a Pattamar Boat, likewise the Dutch Sloops. These 24 hours the wind from N. to S. W. 6 W.

Dec<sup>r</sup>. 8th.—At 2 P.M. weighed and stood to the eastward. At sunsett Suttanpore hill W. S. therey & the extrems of the land from S. W. 6 S. to N. 6 E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E. off shore about 6 or 7 miles. Saw two Gallivats to the S. W. at 7 P.M., anchored in 15 fathom water at 2 A.M., weighed and stood to the eastward. At sunrise Broach Point N. N. E. & Bogwa Trees E. S. E. off shore about 6 or 7 miles. Saw two Gallivats standing into Broach River. At 7 D<sup>o</sup>. anchored and at  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 7 weighed and stood to the southward. At noon Sually Point S. E. 6 E. and the Ships in the road S.S.E. off shore about 5 or 6 miles. These 24 hours the winds from N. to N. E. 6 N. & N.

December the 9th.—At 2 P.M. anchored in the Road. Domus Trees N. E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  N., and Domud Tomb N. 6 W. Joined riding in the Road the Sweedes Ship & three Moor Ships . . . . . P.M. the Dutch Sloops and the fleet weighed and stood into Domus. These 24 hours the winds from N. 6 W. to N. E. 6 E.

I am,
W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,
Your most Obed<sup>t</sup>. Humble Serv<sup>t</sup>.
JOHN SANDERS.

---

Surat, Friday, 12th April 1751.

At a Consultation, Present:

James Henry Lambe, Esq <sup>re</sup> , Chief.
Francis Pym	William De La Garde
Robert Hunt	Titus Scott.

This Meeting is called to take into consideration Meah Atchunds request of sending two of our Board to the Castle to confer with him, which being thought reasonable, Mess<sup>rs</sup>. De La Garde and Hunt waited on him. The purport of what passed is entered at full after this Consultation.

Agreed to dispatch a Pattamar with copy of the Conference to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Council, and also to advise them of Mahomed Bocar Cauns having, in behalf of his father Suffdir Caun, given leave for the Dutch to continue their works.

W. DE LA GARDE.
.
.
.
.
.
TITUS SCOTT.

Friday, 12th April 1751.—Report of Mess<sup>rs</sup> De La Garde and Hunt their conference with Meah Atchund :—

After being received in a very friendly manner Meah Atchund represented to us the distressed condition the Town was reduced to, through the Sciddies acting in open opposition to him, putting Ally Novas Caun in possession of the Durbar, and declaring Suffdar Caun Gov<sup>r</sup>, & that he had no hopes of reducing his enemies & settling the Town in tranquility again without the assistance of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, by whose means he had been placed in the Govern<sup>t</sup>, & that as he had not either before or since acted contrary to their interest, he hoped the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company would still protect him. He likewise represented that the Sciddees attempting to bring in Suffdar Caun, in open defiance of the English, after having been so lately turned out by the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys forces for his oppress<sup>n</sup> of the Merchants of the Town & misbehaviour towards them, was not only an instance of his presumption, but that if he succeeded must prove fatal to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys affairs at this place as the Dutch had joined his party on promise of being permitted to build a fortress & enjoy particular privileges.

In answer to all which he was assured that altho the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company continued the same friendship for him as formerly, the lateness of the season and present occasion for their forces in other parts rendered it impossible for them (we feared) to afford him their assistance at this juncture otherwise than by their good offices as mediators. That therefore if he could think of any proposals for a Treaty towards settling the Town in tranquility and putting an end to the great calamities which the people laboured under, that in such case we should be earnest in endeavouring to a speedy and happy conclusion.

In reply to which he told us that he had no terms to propose that were likely to effect a peace with the Scidde, for that he was determined to defend himself in the Castle, and to the utmost of his power would endeavour to recover the Durbar, & still hoped the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company would afford him their assistance, as the most effectual means of finishing the troubles, without which he intended that his extremities might be a means of the Castle falling into the hands of his enemies, rather than which he offered to deliver the Castle into the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys possession with all its revenues provided they would agree to put him in possession of the Durbar. This we told him was a proposal we could not listen to, but he strenuously insisted that we should recommend it to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Councils consideration, and get a speedy answer, & then dispatched us with the strongest injunctions to secrecy & insisted on having Mr Lambes & the rest of the Gentlemens answers sent him the next day.

Surat, 12th April 1751.

W. DE LA GARDE.
R. HUNT.

Saturday, 13th April.—Upon our Moodys being sent this day to give the answer which Atchund made Mess<sup>rs</sup> De La Garde and Hunt promise yesterday, & to desire to know whether he had any terms of peace to propose, he again begged we would write the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Council of the proposal he made yesterday that he was desirous to give up the Castle with all its revenues, provided only they would only engage to fix him in the Durbar.

Addressed the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay as follows:—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Our last respects to your Hon<sup>r</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> bore date the 9th instant.

It is now publickly reported in Town that the Dutch have agreed to introduce Suffdir Caun into the Government of the Town on condition that he shall give them a . . . . the same as the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, to pay only 10000 Rupees annually in lieu of customes, & that they have permission granted them to build on their Wharf such works as they shall think proper and land all their goods there, and it's said the Scidee and Suffdir Cauns slaves have given them a written Grant for these three articles on his behalf, on which they publickly assisted his party with Powder and Shott, & the day they were engaged Muncher and several Dutch servants were publickly seen delivering them out Ammunition, Water & Provisions.

Both the Scidees and Muncher Curset the Dutch Broker give out they are informed from Bombay by Coja Vertancis of the purport of all orders, and that our . . . . are tied. They have since the troubles despatched three Pattamars to Vertancis, which is well known to the whole Town. Did not such reports as these prevail, we imagine by our mediation a speedy accommodation might be brought about between the two parties. The Scidees party are daily attempting to raise Batteries against the Castle, but hitherto Meah Atchund has prevented them by the fire of his great Guns from thence, by which many of their men are daily killed.

Yesterday at Atchunds earnest request Mess<sup>rs</sup> De La Garde & Hunt waited on him in the Castle. The purport of what passed goes enclosed in a Paper apart. This day on the Moodys being sent to him, he repeated the proposal in the said Paper.

The Scidees aim, it is said, is to fix himself in the Castle and shake off his allegiance to Rajapore, & by means of his fleet and Castle to keep the Gov<sup>t</sup> of the Town continually in awe.

Yesterday morning Mahomed Bocar Caun, on behalf of his father Suffdar Caun, gave leave and orders to the Bricklayers to work on the Dutch Wall, & they have this day actually began to sift and mix up the chunam.

We are with great respect,

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Y<sup>r</sup> Most Obd<sup>t</sup> Humble Servants,

T. H. LAMBE.

T. PYM.

W. DE LA GARDE.

B. HUNT.

T. SCOTT.

---

Thursday, 18th April 1751.—Received the following letter from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President & Council of Bombay:—

Sirs,

Just as we had closed our letter of yesterdays date by the Bombay Grab (Duplicate whereof is enclosed) we received yours of the 5th instant per Pattamar Express, by which we observe Atchund and the Scidee are at last come to an open rupture, in which situation of affairs as you say that you have forces sufficient to defend yourselves & the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Factory we would have you observe a strict neutrality, & on no account engage yourselves as principals.

on either side, as we cannot at present spare any more forces to support you nor have we conveyances to send them could they be spared.

We are Sirs,

Bombay Castle, 10th April 1751.

Your loving Friends,

R. BOURCHIER.

G. SCOTT.

W. MACKENZIE.

T. LANE.

C. CROMMELIN.

D. GRAVES.

Thursday, 25th April 1751.—Received the following letter from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay:—

Sirs,

We wrote you under the 9th and 10th instant, the former of which went by the Bombay Grab, & the latter per Pattamar, & on the 12th received yours of the 6th as we did that of the 9th on the 16th.

From what you write us of the situation of affairs, there is but too much reason to believe that the Scidee will carry his point in replacing Suffdir Caun in the Government of Surat, nor is it in our power at this time to act openly in the obstruction of it, having no forces to spare, and if we had it would be impossible to send them from the lateness of the season. We can therefore only repeat what we wrote you in our . . . . ., that as you judge you have sufficient forces to defend yourselves, you are to observe a strict neutrality, & by no means engage as parties on either side.

We have met with a ship lately imported here, which will serve for Persia, so that you need not look for any other.

We are, Sirs,

Bombay Castle, 18th April 1751.

Your Loving Friends,

R. BOUCHIER.

G. SCOTT.

W. MACKENZIE.

W. SEDGWICKE.

T. LAMB.

C. CROMMELIN.

H. SYMMONS.

D. GRAVES.

Sailed from the barr the ship "Juddah Merchant," Captain John Vinson, for Bombay.

Sunday, 28th.—Addressed the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay as follows:—
Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

We addressed your Honor &c<sup>a</sup> yesterday per Ship "Juddah Merchant," & this is purposely to advise you that in the evening the Chief rec<sup>d</sup> a message from Meah Atchund acquainting him that upon his having intelligence that three of his officers who had the charge of the Castle Gate had a design to deliver it up to the Scidee, that he had thereupon confined them and the same evening intercepted letters from the Scidee to the said officers, which confirmed it, & found that the Scidees attacking the Castle the 26th in the morning so briskly was owing to the promise he had been made by the said officers of delivering to him the Gate without opposition, which he fortunately prevented by his intelligence of this design, & killed about forty of the Scidees men in the attack.

P. S.—M<sup>r</sup> Price arrived here yesterday from Cambay & now goes down the river in hopes of getting a passage to the Presidency on the Bombay Grab.

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,
Y<sup>r</sup> Most Obd<sup>t</sup> Humble Serv<sup>ts</sup>,
T. H. LAMBE.
T. PYM.
W. DE LA GARDE.
R. HUNT.
T. SCOTT.

Received the following letters from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay :—

Sirs,

We wrote you by Pattamar under the 18th ins<sup>t</sup> & the same night yours of the 13th came to hand.

We are greatly surprised to find Coja Vertanus accused of carrying on a private correspondence with the Scidee and Muncher to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys prejudice, but should be much more so did you give us any reason to believe it to be true, which if it were, they who reaped the sole advantage of that correspondence could never be so indiscreet as to publish the authors themselves, which must put an entire stop to it, & indeed seems a clear evidence of the mans innocence and the malice of his enemies. However, as you say such a report has been spread, we would have you use all means in your power to detect him if possible.

You tell us was it not for such reports as this, you make no doubt but you should be able by your mediation to accommodate matters between both parties. This we remark as you never yet acquainted us of your having made any overtures to the Scedee and his party for an accommodation.

Meachunds proposal of putting us in possession of the Castle & its revenues, on condition we settle him in the Durbar must unavoidably engage us as a party in a warr which at this time of the year we are by no means able to support, having no vessels to transport any forces were we able . . . . . to send them, neither do you acquaint us what those revenues are or whether they would answer the undertaking. Things of such consequence require your being much fuller.

We cannot doubt but you will use all means in your power to prevent the Dutch carrying neither fortifications, or getting any grants which may be of any validity, which we cant think any obtained from this rabble can be.

Bombay Castle, 20th April 1751.

We are,
Y<sup>r</sup> loving Friends,
R. BOUCHIER.
G. SCOTT.
W. SEDGWICKE.
T. LANE.
C. CROMMELIN.
H. SYMMONS.
D. GRAVES.
A. DOUGLAS.

Wednesday, 1st May 1751.—Addressed the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay as follows:—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

We addressed your Hon<sup>r</sup> &<sup>ca</sup> last the 28th instant, & the same day came to hand your commands of the 20th.

What we wrote of Coja Vertanus, we did not design as an accusation of him; but as those reports prevailed, we thought it our duty to mention them to your Hon<sup>r</sup> &<sup>ca</sup> as the purport of any correspondence between private persons, and the keeling party here may be easier found out at Bombay than at this place.

Before Mess<sup>rs</sup> De la Garde and Hunt went to the Castle we informed the Scidee of their going thither and desired to know if he had any proposals of peace to make to Atchund. He answered no: that he wanted first to be informed what Atchund had to propose.

If his proposals are accepted Meah Atchund will give the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company the Revenues of the Castle which were formerly 100000 Rupees per annum arising from the rents of four villages, but since the . . . . . are grown so powerful in these parts, those rents are reduced to 22000, & 10000 Rupees more is now paid by the Gov<sup>t</sup> of the Town, and the Scidees Tanka which is a certain fixed proportion of the Customs & other Revenues, was formerly 300000 Rupees per annum, but is now reduced to from 165000 to 175000 Rupees per annum, through the decay of Trade. And for both these and the Government of the Castle the Moguls Phirmaund we judge may be easily procured. The possession of the Castle would put the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys affairs and the English trade in this City on a very firm footing.

We shall carefully watch every opportunity that offers to prevent the Dutch carrying on their works, but unless the Gov<sup>r</sup> of the Town is a friend to the English it will be entirely out of our power to prevent it.

Yesterday the Scidee desired that the principal Merchants might come to the factory in order to confer about settling the Town, and accordingly they came, but instead of making any proposals they only asked us why we put the Factory in a posture of defence. We answered that circumstances of affairs required it, & assured them of our earnest desire to enable Peace, desiring them to go back to the Scidie, & consider with him of some method of settling the Town & return to us with his proposals. This day they went to him, when the Sidee desired them to meet at Seiad Zeens to consult about it, but first insisted that the first proposal they shou'd make shou'd be his being put in possession of the Castle. Upon which the merchants declared to him that it seemed to them that the English had intentions to make Peace, of which this his proposal had not the appearance, & immediately took their leave and went home.

We are with great respect,

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Y<sup>r</sup> most obd<sup>t</sup> humble Serv<sup>ts</sup>,

T. H. LAMBE.

T. PYM.

W. DE LA GARDE.

R. HUNT.

T. SCOTT.

Surat, Friday, 3<sup>d</sup> May 1751.

At a Consultation, Present:

James Henry Lambe, Esq<sup>r</sup>, Chief.

Francis Pym.

William De La Garde.

Robert Hunt.

Titus Scott.

This meeting is called to consider whether it wou'd not be eligible to open a letter that came the 19th ult<sup>o</sup> with an anonymous direction under Coja Vartanus's seal but said by the Pattamar to be for Nasserwanjees house (which had been detained ever since on suspicion) for that Nasserwanjees Agent had several times been enquiring after it with some earnestness. Taking therefore into consideration the pernicious consequences of such a correspondence as we had heard of was carrying on from Vertanus to the Scidee and Muncher the Dutch Broker, both known enemies to the English, the former not only acted tracheriously by the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company in the late troubles, but is now by force introducing Suffdar Caun again into this Governm<sup>t</sup>, and the latter ever since he was turned out of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys protection has endeav<sup>d</sup> by the vilist arts to disturb their trade at Surat, and for his indefatigableness herein was made by the late Dutch Directore (just before he went away) their Companys Broker. This being duly weighed, we unanimously agreed to open the letter. And calling in the Moody to translate it, & asking him if he knew the hand writing, he said there were two separate letters which having read, the first he knew to be the hand writing of Sorabjee (Nasserwanjees writer) & the other Nasserwanjees own writing. These letters to be entered after this Consultation with Notes to explain what appears to us to be meant in the feigned characters used in them. As Muncher is known to have assisted Vertanus with letters of credit to Broach, it plainly appears he is the person to whom the letters are adressed. Therefore to prevent any further ill consequences from such a tracherious correspondence, it is resolved to dispatch immediately advice hereof to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Council of Bombay.

Having great reason to believe there are ill designs against the Factory, & the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council having wrote us that they cannot send any Force from Bombay at this season, it is agreed to enlist a number of Seepoys.

.....
FRANCIS PYM.

W. DE LA GARDE.

.....
T. SCOTT.

---

Wednesday, 29th May 1751.—Received the following letter from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Council of Bombay:—

Sir,

This we despatch by Pattamar to advise you that the Chiefs letter to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President relating to our taking possession of the Castle provided Atchund can no longer maintain it, has been laid before the Board, & which having been duly weighed & considered, we are of opinion that such a step requires the greatest caution & conduct, & ought not on any consideration be entered into by us so long as it can possibly be avoided, but if Atchund shou'd be so hard pressed as not to be able to hold out any longer against the enemy, we permit you to take possession of the Castle in the Moguls name & then only at Atchunds particular request, and upon his entering into a written obligation to defray all expenses. You must also have the concurrence of the whole body of Merchants by attestation under their seals. Although we have given you the above latitude, you are not to be too sanguine or hasty in putting it into execution, but wait untill matters are carried to the very last extremity, when it becoming unavoidable for us to remain Neuter. We judge it more for the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys interest & honour for you to take possession of it untill we hear from Court, than to let it fall into the hands of Scidde Mossoot, from whose behaviour since the commencement of the War, we have great reason to apprehend that should he get into quiet possession of the Government, we shall not be able to carry on our Trade in that free and reputable manner as is consistent with the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys honour and their . . . . . above all things is absolutely necessary & which we recommend to you, for shou'd it come to the knowledge of the Scidee, the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys efforts and your own levis may be endangered, and as you are on the spot we leave it to you to act as may be most conducive to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys interest & as circumstances may require; but as above, strictly enjoin you not to engage in the troubles untill matters are carried to the very last extremity and Atchund can hold out no longer. We would not have you enter into any engagement for fixing him in the Durbar, as we judge the Force you have with you not sufficient to effect it, for by deviding them into small parties they run a risque of being cut off. You must also be careful of Scidee Mossoot, as the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President has lately intercepted a letter from his Agent here, wherein he advises the Scidee to cut off the detachment lately sent to Surat in their passage up the river.

We are Y<sup>r</sup>. Loving Friends,

Bombay Castle, 23<sup>d</sup> May 1751,

R. BOURCHIER.

G. SCOTT.

T. LANE.

C. CROMMELIN.

H. SIMMONS.

A. DOUGLAS.

Thursday, 6th June 1751.—Received the following letter from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Council of Bombay:—

Sir,

In regard to the present unhappy situation of affairs at Surat, we have already given you our sentiments so fully under the 24th instant, that we shall not at present enlarge thereon, although we cannot help saying that your entering so large a number of the Country Soldiers is very extraordinary, and we think unnecessary, as it is putting the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company to a large expence for people whose fidelity in case of your being attacked cannot be depended upon, as in all probability they would be influenced or intimidated by the opposite parties seizing their families.

As Coja Vertanus is the Contractor for the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys investment, we do not chuse to make public inquiry concerning the letters you sent us, as it might hurt his credit at this juncture, but we have severely reprimanded him. We approve of your seizing those letters, and whenever you may have cause to suspect any thing of the like nature we would have you act conformably.

Bombay Castle, 29th May 1751.

We are Sirs,
Y<sup>r</sup> Loving Friends,
T. LANE.
C. CROMMELIN.
R. BOURCHIER.
G. SCOTT.

Thursday, 6th June 1751.—This night a Treaty was concluded between us and Begler Caun otherwise Bocar Caun, and Hoffice Mossoot Caun, as follows:—

Translate of a Writing given this day to Begler Caun, otherwise Bocar Caun, and Hoffice Mossoot Caun, its counterpart being by them signed & given to us, witnessed by the French and Dutch Chiefs:—

Begler Caun & Hoffice Mossoot Caun on the Kings side having had a . . . . . with M<sup>r</sup> Lambe, M<sup>r</sup> Boucar used his good offices as Mediator between them, and it is hereby agreed that M<sup>r</sup> Lambe shall not in any manner assist Manodeen Caun or send people to the Castle.

M<sup>r</sup> Lambe is in possession of the key of Mulnas Gate, which we have demanded of him, when it was agreed that four of our people shou'd sit down at the Gate, and one belong<sup>g</sup> to M<sup>r</sup> Boucard, & that the Governour of Bombay shall be wrote to for his order if the key must be given up. If an answer thereto does not come soon, all who sign here to oblige themselves to send a Pattamer & write a second time. To this the Dutch and French Chiefs sign as witnesses.

Copy of a Paper given to Begler Caun and Scidee Mossoot Caun:—

M<sup>r</sup> Lambe, Chief & Council for the English Company, having lately had an engagement with Begler Caun & Hoffice Mossoot Caun, declare hereby that neither the Company or their Dependants goods have been lost therein, no more than those of the other party, & therefore this writing is to signifie that neither party have been sufferers thereby.

T. H. LAMBE.
T. PYM.
W. DE LA GARDE.
R. HUNT.
T. SCOTT.

Tuesday, 11th June 1751.—This day the Scidee caused a Drum to be beat about Town publickly forbidding Peons or servants of any kind to enter our service, and at the same time put the Butchers & <sup>ca</sup> under obligations in writting not to supply us with Meat or Provisions of any sort.

Friday, 14th.—The Scidee sent to the Chief by the hands of Mons<sup>r</sup>. Boucard the abovementioned writings for the Butchers &<sup>ca</sup> denying their having been given by his order, but said it was done by Wotalahs (one of his Dependants) without his knowledge, as he himself had only forbid Peons entering into our service.

Saturday, 15th.—Addressed the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay as follows :—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Our address of the 11th was closed and just upon dispatch when the Scidee ordered a Batna to be beat through the town forbidding every body to serve us in any capacity whatever & forbidding the supplying us with necessaries of any kind. This we desired M<sup>r</sup>. Boucard to represent to the Scidee was very extraordinary & inconsistent with the terms of Peace we had mutually entered into, who upon his return acquainted us that the Scidee declared he had given orders only for no sepoys to enlist in our service, & M<sup>r</sup>. Boucard acquainting us likewise that the Scidee had hinted to him that one of the Gentlemen being sent to him would be very agreeable and remove all suspicion, we accordingly determined to send M<sup>r</sup>. De La Garde to him yesterday, who was received in a very courteous manner by the Scidee and Scidee Mufta. They both expressed themselves concerned at the late Skermish, & declared they were sincerely desirous of continuing in friendship with the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, particularly the Scidee, who mentioned the obligations his master was under for the assistance which the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup> had afforded him on many occasions. M<sup>r</sup>. De La Garde took leave with assuring him that we intended to observe the engagement we had entered into, & that we expected he would do the same, and that we should readily use our good offices to accommodate matters between him and Meah Atchund.

We are with the greatest Respect,

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Y<sup>r</sup>. Most obd<sup>t</sup>. & H<sup>ble</sup> Servants,

T. H. LAMBE.

T. PYM.

W. D<sup>e</sup> LA GARDE.

R. HUNT.

T. SCOTT.

Tuesday, 2<sup>d</sup> July 1751.—Translates of two letters to the Chief received this day from Dilly :—

His Majesty having been pleased to appoint Abdul Baky Caun to the Government of Surat, he will set out from hence for that place in a few days. I have been greatly assisting to procure a Synod for Manodeen Caun, but cannot succeed, which I have wrote both to him and his Duan. So long I have kept the Castle Government in the name of Manodeen Cauns son Meer Hoffice Uldeen Ahmed Caun. I now hear that war is begun at Surat, & that many guns are fired, & that the inhabitants greatly suffer, & fearing the end that the Kings city will be plundered, I therefore desire that you will perswade Manodeen Caun to desist from firing, and sit down quietly in the Castle, giving up all thoughts of the Government of the Town, to take which Baky Caun is coming from Dilly; therefore let them cease fighting, which will be better for the City and the Gate of Mecca. It's not a proper time for fighting. The Nabob Mudget Dolla sent for me and ordered me to write this letter, therefore I desire you will pay due regard to it.

My son Mosun is in the Castle. He has not seen the world nor been in any warrs. I am therefore night and day uneasy on his account. As I have only this son, I am afraid he will fall sick. I therefore desire you will look on him as your son & send for him from the Castle & keep him with you.

I enclose you copy of a Purwana for the Government with the Viziers seal, in which it's ordered by his Majesty that till the arrival of Baky Caun, some good man who is agreeable to the inhabitants (if you please Sorab Cauns son, or any other you like with the advice of Hoffice Mossoot Caun, Pharris Caun, and other the Kings officers) be appointed to act as Governour & take care of the Town.

Letter from Abdul Baky Caun received with the above :—

His Majesty being informed that a warr is commenced in Surat and that damages daily happen to the city by the firing of Cannon and burning of houses, the Nabobs Amer ul Amia Badour Sum Samuel Dola Badour & Mudget Udola Badour being friends of Sorab Caun my father-in-law, have through their intercession procured me an order for the Government of Surat. You have now sent you a letter with the Viziers seal. The Vizier has ordered Calsa Duan to send for Hady Caun, Atchunds Vakeel, and Scidee Mossoots Vakeel, & ordered them to write to Atchund & the Scidee that they must give up the Government of the Town to me. Copy of the Viziers order with the Cozees seal accompanys this. My friends hurry me much to get away, so shall set out in two or three days. I am desirous of doing good both to the Town and its inhabitants & have therefore wrote to Hoffice Mossoot Caun to deliver over the Government of the Town to Sorab Cauns son till my arrival or such man as he and the inhabitants may . . . upon with your advice. Any good man from among the Kings officers will do. Please God, I shall be with you in a few days and do what is best for the Town and its Inhabitants.

I desire you, Hoffice Mossoot Caun & Pharris Caun, will meet and put a good man in the Government of this place, & I will do more for you than any of my predecessors, and do nothing without your advice, of which I desire you will rest assured.

Copy of a Purwana the original of which is said to be under the Viziers Seal; this has the Cozees Seal to it :—

Vazier Abdul Munsoor Caun to Mr. Lambe, English Chief at Surat, Greeting.

Manodeen Caun is dismissed from the Government of Surat, and it is given to Sum Sam Uldola, who has appointed for his Naib Abdul Baky Caun, who will soon set out from hence. Till he comes it is ordered that Sorab Cauns son or any good man from the Kings officers who is agreeable to the inhabitants be placed in the Government, and you are desired with Hoffice Mossoot Caun, Pharris Caun, and the Merchants to perform this, and put an end to the firing guns between the two present contending parties, now the order for the Government of the Castle is in the name of Meer Hoffice Uldeen Ahmud Caun, whom you are desired to assist and countenance.

Dilly the 14th day of Rejub in the 4th year of His Majest<sup>y</sup> Reign.

Friday, 5th July 1751.—Addressed the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Council of Bombay as follows :—

We addressed your Hon<sup>rs</sup> &<sup>ca</sup> last under the 26th ult<sup>o</sup>, since which 4 English men that were in the service of the French arrived here from Aurangabad, who give an account that on the 15th June 300 French and 100 Caffries arrived there with Nasserjungs Brother as . . . . .

 . . . . . in his service. Each private French man is allowed a rupee a day, besides his provisions & the officers proportionably, and at the entering every Town great Largesses are given them over and above their Pay. They have with them six field pieces, about 3 Pounders & an 8-inch mortar. These men that are come hither say that Nusserjungs Brother with his army has to remain 4 months at Aurangabad, & then to go upon some expedition about which there were various reports, but that there was a talk among the French of coming this way. We have entertained the four men abovementioned and one, which arrived last night, as Seamen on board the "Content" sloop, having much want of them on board her at this time.

The 2<sup>d</sup> instant the Chief received a packet of letters from Dilly, in which were two for himself, translates of which now go enclosed, also copy of the Veziers order under the Cazees seal, appointing Baky Caun Gov<sup>r</sup> of the Town & 2 for Sciad Manodeen Caun & two for the Scidee, sent by Coja Aremand Lalldass Vanarsidass, two of the principal Merchants, who upon their return acquainted us that the Scidee said these letters cou'd not be authentic as he had very lately received a Commission for Suffdir Caun, which he said shou'd be made publik very shortly. He likewise pretended to them to be very desirous of continuing in friendship with the English, and observed to them that he himself had taken much pains to restrain his people from commencing the late skermish, but that he cou'd not stop them. He complained to them much of his Agents being turned off by the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President in so disgraceful a manner, as he said only for writing him that he might safely proceed in his designs, for that there cou'd not be spared a force sufficient from Bombay to obstruct them, & added that the long friendship between the Hon<sup>le</sup> Company & Rajapore was now broke. He declared to them that he was in hearty expectation of becoming master of the Castle, & told them that he had therefore lately withdrawn all the people belonging to Ally Navas Caun, & the rest of Suffdar Cauns party from the Batteries round the Castle, and placed those that are immediately in his service in their room, which has occasioned that party to be very much dissatisfied. These as well as many other circumstances makes it generally believed that he not only designs to make himself Governor of the Castle but of the Town also.

We impatiently wait your Hon<sup>r</sup> & <sup>ca</sup> positive orders how we are to act, as we have not received a line since your commands of the 29th May, and suppose therefore letters must have been entercepted by the Scidee and . . . . . people, whom we have been long advised are placed all along the common roads. We therefore request your Hon<sup>r</sup> & <sup>ca</sup> will despatch a Pattamar Boat (as that may be very conveniently done) to us with your commands as soon as possible.

We are with great respect,
 Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,
 Y<sup>r</sup> Most obed<sup>t</sup> humble serv<sup>t</sup>,
 T. H. LAMBE.
 T. PYM.
 W. DE LA GARDE.
 R. HUNT.

Sunday, 7th July 1751.—Received the following letter from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Council of Bombay:—

Sirs,

The 21st instant we received your letter of the 11th with copies of those to Captain Sterling, Lieu.<sup>t</sup> Levich, and Ensign Tunge, & their answers to you.

The amount of the cable supplied the “Drake” shall be paid to Captain Hough, as we have not any one by us of Laccadiva coir.

It is surprising that as you know yourselves to be in an error in marcking the Investment wrong pro Anno 1749, you shou’d be guilty of the . . . . . in that for the year 1750 which has occasioned our Invoicing them wrong to England, therefore send us as soon as possible state of those Investments and account current with the contractors.

For want of your sending us a duplicate of your advices of the 6th instant and copy of the Treaty with Scidee Mossoot (which was a great neglect) we cannot form any suitable judgement of the situation of affairs at Surat. But we advise you at all events not to deliver up the key of the Water Gate, as it will entirely cut off all communications with your vessels & likewise as it concurs in opinion with your Officers, who we are concerned to observe you shou’d have any difference, more especially at this critical juncture when unanimity is so highly necessary and incumbment for your mutual safety. With regard to sending you any recruits or stores as you desire, you well know it is impracticable for us to effect it at this season of the year, and indeed we think the force you have fully sufficient to defend the Factory, therefore cannot approve of your enlisting any more Seepoys. As you do not acknowledge the receipt of our letter of the 23<sup>d</sup> ult<sup>o</sup> we now enclosed duplicate thereof.

Being in want of Venetians for the Coast we direct you to purchase 10000 if to be bought at or under 4.5 ans., sending them hither by the first safe conveyance. We are,

Sirs,

Your Loving Friends,

R. BOURCHIER.

G. SCOTT.

W. SEDGWICKE.

C. CROMMELIN.

H. SYMMONS.

Bombay Castle, 26th June 1751.

Saturday 20th—Received the following letter from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Council of Bombay:—

Sirs,

We wrote you last the 26th ult<sup>o</sup>, duplicate of which we dispatched the 28th. On 1st instant came to hand your letters of the 11th and 15th June with the several papers enclosed.

We approve of the writing you have given Begler Caun and Scidee Mossoot not to assist Manedeen Caun, it being conformable to our repeated orders to you to observe a strickt neutrality and not make yourselves a party unnecessarily; indeed we sincerely wish you cou’d by any means contribute towards the settling of the tranquility of the Town by using your good offices between the contending parties. We do not apprehend any great inconvenience can arise from Scidee Mossoots having four people at the Water Gate, if he does not insist on more, but agreeable to what we have already wrote you, you are not to deliver up the key, concerning which the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President now writes him. We hope you have taken counterpart of the writing you have given Begler Caun & Scidee Mossoot, that neither you nor they have suffered by the late engagement, which if not done, you must insist upon having it from them. We cannot help observing to you that the late skermish has happened entirely by your permitting your people to straggle about the streets, which is highly improper in these confused times.

Bombay Castle, 3<sup>d</sup> July 1751.

We are your Loving Friends,

R. BOURCHIER.

W. MACKENZIE.

T. LANE.

Tuesday, 23<sup>d</sup> July 1751.—Addressed the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President & Council of Bombay as follows:

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

We are sorry for our omission in not sending duplicates of our letters of the 6th and 11th ult<sup>o</sup>. The former was of little consequence, & the latter with the agreement the Scidee sent, & therefore we judged he wou'd take care to send it by a safe hand, & that it shou'd arrive in a short time.

As your Hon<sup>r</sup> & <sup>ca</sup> are pleased to direct, we shall keep possession of the Water Gate as long as it is in our power.

Venetians are now at 4:6 ans. & not likely to fall, very few being expected from the Red Sea.

This being the proper season of the year, we have endeavoured to make sale of the Coatrombo consigned us on the "True Briton," but it's with concern we are to acquaint your Hon<sup>r</sup> & <sup>ca</sup> that we can get no more offered for it than R<sup>s</sup> 3 per M<sup>d</sup> though it's invoiced at 18 Rupees. We shall therefore wait your direct<sup>s</sup> concerning it.

There seems to be no probability of Atchund and the Scidees comming to an accomodation, as the Scidee insists on the Castle being delivered up to him, & yesterday a conspiracy was brought to light in that place, three Hopsey officers in Atchunds service having agreed to deliver up the largest Battery (called the Kings Battery) to the Scidees people and to assassinate Atchund. In attempting the latter, one of them was killed, & the other two made prisoners.

Our soldier who was wounded by the Scidees people was coming from church. None of them are suffered to go out but upon such occasions, & to purchase necessaries, tho' their close confinement makes them fall down, there being now 42 soldiers & 43 sepoy in the Hospital.

The Presidents letter to the Scidee was sent him soon after his arrival.

The 20th came to hand your Commands of the 3<sup>d</sup>. We have got a counterpart of the writing given the Scidee & Begler Caun under the Cazees seal.

Bombay Castle, 1751.

We are with great respect,

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Y<sup>r</sup> Most obed<sup>t</sup> Humble Servants,

T. H. LAMBE.

T. PYM.

R. HUNT.

T. SCOTT.

Surat, Thursday, 30th April 1752.

Dispatched p<sup>r</sup> Pattamar Boat a letter to the President and Council at Bombay as agreed on in yesterdays Consultation extracted as follows:—

That we had receiv'd from the Government fourteen thousand (14000) rupees in part of the two lacks stipulated in the late Treaty for reimbursing the expenses incurr'd by the H<sup>c</sup> Company in the troubles.

Sciddee Hoffis Mossoot Caun, Gov<sup>r</sup> of the Castle, and Suffdir Caun, Gov<sup>r</sup> of the Town, having for several days sent messages to the Chief, desiring he would meet some of the principal merchants of the town to consider with them how to raise the two and a quarter lacks of rupees they had been obliged to promise the Marattas, in such a manner as might be most easy and agreeable to the inhabitants, and expeditious in the collecting, as twenty days had elapsed and the money is to be paid in forty more; the merchants likewise sent word to the Chief that they had allways esteemed the English as their head and best friends, we having on all occasions assisted them in their distresses, and now desired the Chief would permit them to come to the Factory and consult how to satisfie the pressing demands the Government made on the city; the Chief finding them so pressing and judging a refusal might not only disgust, but drive them to make the same application to the Dutch, he complied with their request, and for the two preceeding days they came, when was present Sallee Chellaby, Mulna Amodeen, Mirza Abdull Cream, Mirza Askany, Coja Stephen, Coja Azum, Saibru Teekchund Cuttaree, Coja Abdull Wal, Venarsy Teddas head Shroff, Kessoor Vellul Shroff, Cullamull Cuttaree, Coja Akbur, and Usman Chellaby. They at first represented that the Sciddee was inclined to lay a Gen<sup>l</sup> Tax on the inhabitants, which would be extreemly oppressive, for through the rapaciousness of the Collectors and the avarice of the Government, the people would pay from five to six lacks instead of two and a quarter, and it was in order to prevent this evil, they had desired to consult with the Chief, and hoped they should find some method of getting this money in a more gentle manner. After long considering, they at last pitched upon two ways which would bring in about one and a quarter lack of rupees in a years time: one was to collect dutys on all goods brought from other parts of the Mogulls Dominions, which otherwise would be Custom free, having a Doeela (or Certificate) to excuse them, and this they judged would produce about fifty thousand; the other way was to raise the Maccat (a duty on all provisions and goods sold and expended within the town) half as much more as it is at present, which they reckon'd would bring in about seventy five thousand more, and for the remainder they would afterwards think of some other means; but they judged it proper the Sciddee should first be acquainted with what they had already done, and accordingly he came this morning to the Factory attended with the Merchants before mentioned, when being informed of all that had passed, he run on a long time with the necessity he lay under to discharge the two and a quarter lacks of rupees he had been forced to promise the Marattas, and how much he was inclined to ease the inhabitants by collecting it in the most gentle manner. But as to the Maccat he could not agree to raise it, as he fully resolved on the new moon to take off that duty entirely, and he thought the best way would be to lay a tax on every house in Town which would bring in the money and hardly be felt. The Chief then represented to him, that as he intended to take off the Maccat, the continuing it one year longer and appropriating the whole to the present occasion would be no loss to him, and the inhabitants would more chearfully submit to it than the tax, which was extreemly odious, and would greatly affect the poor, but he would not hearken to it, and observg the merchants were all silent, he desired them to consider again upon it, and then took his leave. Some of the Merchants staying behind, the Chief told them that the trouble he had taken in this affair was solely at the Governments and their requests, but he should now decline any further meetings, as he found the Sciddee would not agree to any proposals they made, but seemed rather bent on collecting the tax, the bad consequences of which they well knew, and therefore left them to settle the matter amongst themselves in the best manner they could.

---

Surat, Monday, 18th May 1752.

P<sup>r</sup> Pattmar wrote to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Council at Bombay as follows :—

H<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

A valuation has been made of the horses presented the Committee by the Sciddee and Suffdir Caun, and are esteemed altogether to be worth no more than three hundred and fifty rupees, every one of them being very faulty. They were valued singly, that received from Suffdir Caun at one hundred rupees, one of those from Sciddee Mossoot at a hundred rupees, and the other at one hundred and fifty. For their amount the Presidency shall be credited.

We are with great respect,

H<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,
Your most obed<sup>t</sup> & hu<sup>ble</sup> Servants,
CHARLES CROMMELIN.
PETER ELWIN WRENCH.
SAMUEL COURT.

---

Surat, Thursday, 30th July 1752.

Yesterday in the evening Suffdir Caun invited the principal Moor Merchants to sup with him, but when they were met, he acquainted them that as the Gen<sup>l</sup> Tax (by which the money indebted to the Marattas was to have been raised) being remitted, to prevent delays in consulting some other method to raise the sum, he had called them now together, and that till they had fixed upon the means, and signed a writing as concurring to the said being put in execution, he would detain them all as prisoners. They were therefore obliged immediately to send for the head Banians, who attending them, it was advised and agreed to as the most plausible manner of collecting the money, that the usual Customs should be raised half p<sup>r</sup> cent. That goods brought from other parts of the Mogulls Dominions, which usually pay no Customs here, having a Certificate to excuse them not to pay one and a half p<sup>r</sup> cent, and to increase the Maccout (or tax on all provisions & <sup>a</sup> brought into town) which are to be continued till the sum wanted by these means is collected, a writing being jointly signed by the Merchants as submitting thereto, and given the Gov<sup>r</sup>.

---

Surat, Saturday, 7th April 1753.

W<sup>o</sup> Sir and Sirs,

The above is duplicate of my address under yesterdays date by the Convey, and this is purposely dispatch'd to advise you that Camauldeen Khan, the Nabob of Ahmadavad, has agreed to deliver up that place to the Marattas on their paying him R.<sup>s</sup> 105000 and permitting him to leave the place with his family and effects and the Marattas will enter the place tomorrow.

Cambay, 4th April 1753.

I am with respect,

W<sup>o</sup> Sir and Sirs,
Your most Humble Servant,
ROBERT ERSKINE.

Surat, Thursday, 12th April 1753.

At a Consultation, Present:

Charles Crommelin, Esq<sup>r</sup>, Chief.

Robert Halford.

|

Samuel Court, indisposed.

The Chief reads to the Board a private letter from M<sup>r</sup> Erskine, advising that the Nabob and all the principal Merchants of Cambay are preparing to go up with presents to the Marattas at Ahmadavad, to compliment them on their taking that place, and intimates that the same may be expected from him. We consider how prevalant compliments of this kind are with these country people, that it is probable should we be singular on this occasion, the Marattas may be disgusted thereat, thinking we slight them, and be a reason for them to give us trouble in transporting down the goods of the investment manufactured of Ahmadavad and the places adjacent; therefore agree to order M<sup>r</sup> Erskine to dispatch the Broker to them with a complimental letter and suitable present. The Secretary is directed accordingly to prepare a letter to him.

ROBERT LAMBERT,
Secretary.

CHA. CROMMELIN.
ROBERT HALFORD.
SAMUEL COURT.

Saturday, 26th May 1753.—Addressed the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Council at Bombay as follows:—

H<sup>o</sup> Sir and Sirs,

Soon after the Marattas took Ahmadavad M<sup>r</sup> Erskine advised us that the Nabob and principal inhabitants of Cambay intended to go up with presents to compliment the Marattas thereon, and as he judged the same might be expected from him, we accordingly gave him a discretional liberty to dispatch the Broker with a Letter and Present suitable to the occasion, which he did, and the Broker is returned from that service, having met with a handsome reception from Ragonaut Row, the Commanding Officer, who has given us a Perwannah for the security of the Companys goods coming from Dolca and Nerriad, and an order to Damajee forbidding him to take or plunder any of our vessells, but the latter we judge to be of no signification.

We are with great respect,
H<sup>o</sup> Sir and Sirs,
Your most ob<sup>t</sup> hum<sup>l</sup> Servants,
CHARLES CROMMELIN.
ROBERT HALFORD.
SAMUEL COURT.

Sunday, 18th November 1753.—Wrote the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Council at Bombay as follows:—

H<sup>o</sup> Sir and Sirs,

The Marattas continue about the walls of the city, which prevents our compleating your Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>as</sup> Indent for Beef, nor have we a prospect of procuring any untill they remove out of this neighbourhood.

The Commander of their fleet at the Bar applied to us a few days since to supply them in their present distress with six anchors, a grapnail, and twenty water buckets. The anchors we had not, but we sent him the other articles with the knowledge and consent of the Gov<sup>t</sup>.

We are &c<sup>a</sup>

Monday, 22<sup>d</sup> April 1754.—Wrote the H<sup>o</sup> the Presid<sup>t</sup> and Council by a Patt<sup>r</sup> as follows :—

H<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Our last address bore date the 10th instant, since when we have not received any commands from your Hon<sup>r</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>

We find ourselves obliged to complain to your Hon<sup>r</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> of the ill treatment we have lately received from Nanoo Pundit, Nannas Agent in this place, who has for some days past stopt our goods coming in from the out parts, and seized the persons of Mahmudbhoy Jafferbhoy (one of the contractors for last years investm<sup>t</sup>) and a relation of his, as they were coming in to Town from Nowsaree. The reason Nanoo Pundit gives for this proceeding is, that he wants one-third part of the Pishcash* and has demanded of us the immedate paym<sup>t</sup> of it, or that we will give a writing for the amo<sup>t</sup> being 4000 Rup<sup>a</sup>. It has been represented to him that he ought to settle this point with the Gov<sup>t</sup>, and that we cannot pay it without an order from the Nabob, who always receives it in the month of September, and not before. Application has been made to the two Gov<sup>s</sup> on this occasion but without any effect, the Nabob declaring that he has no power, and the Sciddee puts us off with trifling answers, though we are convinced he may satisfie the Marattas if he pleases. The Marattas pretend to stop all communication of the Town, but grain and necessaries come in as usual, and it is our people and goods only that they keep in custody.

Some time ago the slaves joining in a confederacy with the Sciddee obliged the Nabob to put away his second, Farroos Khan, whose posts they divided amongst themselves and have since behaved to us in a very insolent manner by taking up several people under our protection ; and not being able to get any redress either from the Sciddee or Nabob, we beg leave to represent the same to your Hon<sup>r</sup> &c<sup>a</sup>, with this observation, that the Nabob has lost all his power, and cannot give us satisfaction, and the Sciddee who has these slaves at his command seems to give them encouragment, so that we have reason to apprehend these insults may be carried still further ; and the old Sciddee having of late been very infirm should he not recover, his death we judge will occasion great revolutions in this Gov<sup>t</sup>. We therefore beg leave to submit to your Hon<sup>r</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> considerations what measures are proper to secure the H<sup>o</sup> Comp<sup>y</sup>s property and privileges against any ill consequences that are likely to ensue from the present situation of affairs.

We are, &c<sup>a</sup>

Surat, Thursday, 12th November 1754.

We had a message to-day from the Sciddee requiring that the Town Marfutteas (who are still in the Factory on acco<sup>t</sup> the exceedings in the "Sandwichs" freights) might be set at liberty as we have no authority to detain the Kings subjects and their confinement put a stop to the business of the whole Town. To this we answered that these people had defrauded the H<sup>o</sup> Company to a large amount, and as we have the Kings Phirmaund for proceeding in this manner for the recovery of our debts, we could not release them untill they had accommodated this affair, which we expected would be done this evening, when they would be permitted to leave the factory. On this the Sciddee went to the Darbar, and soon after the Nabob sent us word that unless we immediately set these people at liberty, he could not continue in friendship with us. As this priviledge of confining our debtors is one of the fundamental supports of our trade, for without this we can have no security in our dealings, and imagining the Gov<sup>t</sup> would not presume on so frivolous a pretence as this to offer us so flagrant a violation of our Phirmaund rights as they threatened, we therefore sent to him the same reply we gave the Sciddee; but we find a guard of two hundred men is already set at the Water Gate, and a stop put to our business, and not any person belonging to us permitted to pass in or out. However, the Marfutteas acco<sup>ts</sup> being now settled, and they hav<sup>g</sup> given us a writing to pay in a months time their share of what we have adjusted, which they have declared in the presence of two of the Sciddees officers they allow to be just, and are satisfied, we have sent to advise the Sciddee thereof and that we are ready to release them, if the guard at the Water Gate is removed.

* Pishcash, from Persian Pesh kash, meaning a fine on appointment, renewal, or investiture. Sometimes it means a present to a great man.

Wednesday, 18th.—Early this morning Sciddee Sabaun (an officer of Sciddee Mosssoots) came to us, and promised that if possible our desire for the removal of the guards should be complied with. We therefore presented each of the Marfutteahs with a shawl agreeable to the country custom, and sent them with the officer to the Sciddee. But this did not satisfy the Gov<sup>t</sup>, for they then demanded of us to give up the Marfutteahs note before they would remove the guards, as satisfaction for the affront in presuming to take any obligation from their subjects. On this we sent repeatedly to desire that M<sup>r</sup> Halford might wait on the Sciddee; but this he absolutely refused, and as we found our business entirely stopt, no prospect of removing the guards but by complying with the Gov<sup>ts</sup> demands, and considering if these impediments remain, the investm<sup>t</sup> cannot be shipped off, which will retard the dispatch of the ships to Europe, we agreed to give up the note to the Sciddee, and accordingly delivered it to Sciddee Sabaun. Just at that juncture all the streets about the Factory were filled with the Gov<sup>ts</sup> guards, and no person whatever sufferr'd to come into or go from the Factory, and at the same time one of the Sciddees officers with a party of men were lodged in the Sorroy* close to us; in this situation they continued from two till six o'clock in the evening, when the Sciddee being in possession of the Marfutteahs note, the guards were taken away.

---

Thursday, 28th November 1754.—Came to hand the following letter from the Resident at Cambay:—

W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

The Maratta Gov<sup>r</sup> of this place (whom I have never yet paid a visit to) arrived here a few days ago from Poonah. As he often hints to our Broker that he expects I will come and see him, I can't well deferr it longer, as these people are grown more powerfull here than the Mogulls, and as I can't avoid making him a present to the value of 50 or 60 Rupees on such an occasion, I chuse to advise of it, and shall deferr waiting on him till I have your answer.

Cambay, 25th November 1754.

I am, &c<sup>a</sup>.

---

* Sorroy, corruption of Serai, a building for the accommodation of travellers.

Saturday, 28th December 1754.—Arrived a Patt<sup>r</sup> from Cambay, who brought us the following letter from M<sup>r</sup> Lambert:—

W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

This place at present is in great confusion. The Nabob has this morning surprized and brought prisoners into the Durbar the Maratta Governor, Second, and all his officers, and has plunder'd and burnt his house to the ground, which was occasioned by the Nabobs intercepting some letters to the Maratta from a slave that was formerly Cotwall at Ahmavad, who has been strolling about the country some time with an army of 4 or 5000 men. These letters have discover'd to the Nabob some treachery these two were devising against the Town (of Cambay). The Merchants who left the town some months ago on some disgust from the Gov<sup>r</sup> and have hitherto been articulating with the Nabob about their return, without being able to come to any agreement, as they trusted strongly on the Marattas' protection, having now heard of this accident, they have agreed to accept of the Nabobs own conditions, and are accordingly expected in Town this afternoon. The Nabob has acquainted Eddull that he purposes giving me a Bill in two or three days time for 2000 Rupees either on Surat or Bombay, from which place he can be supplied with Powder and Lead to that amount, as he says he doubts not we shall be very ready to oblige him in this his present distress. As I cannot accept of this Bill without your positive orders, and am convinced that any evasive answer from one to his request would at this time greatly affront him, I beg your speedy directions for my guidance herein.

I omitted in my address of the 5th instant to advise that the Flagstaff sent up last convoy for the use of this Factory was lost in a boat we were obliged to put the mast into, which was taken by the Coolies, ours not being capable of taking it in without being greatly incommoded. I am therefore to request you will send up another as soon as possible, as this place is greatly in want of a new Flagstaff.

Cambay, 23<sup>d</sup> December 1754.

I am &c<sup>a</sup>.

In the evening sailed the Bombay Grab, "Phoenix" sloop, and "Tyger" schooner for the Presidency.

Sunday, 29th.—Dispatched a Pattamar to Cambay with the following letter to M<sup>r</sup> Lambert:—

Sir,

Your letter of the 23<sup>d</sup> came not to hand till yesterday. We cannot consent to your accepting of any Bill from the Nabob to be sent hither to purchase Powder and Lead for him, as this would be espousing his quarrell against the Marattas, which is contrary to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys orders, and may be attended with ill consequences to their affairs. You are therefore not to interfere in it in any manner whatever, but take the best care you can of the Factory, should any further disturbances happen.

Our Sloop and Gallivatts will sail to-day from the Bar for the N<sup>o</sup>ward, and have orders to see any trade bound to Cambay safe into the Bunder, returning immediately.

We are &c<sup>a</sup>.

Saturday, 1st November 1755.—Received the following letter from M<sup>r</sup>. Erskine at Cambay, viz. :—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

My last respects were dated the 14th, a few days after which the Maratta Governor of this place, whom the Nabob plundered and imprisoned last December and released again in March, having gathered between two and three thousand men, entered the country belonging to Cambay and took and burnt one of the villages, killing some of the Nabobs people who were there as a guard, upon which he ordered the Maratta officer who remained in Town to receive their half of the customs and revenues to leave the place, which he accordingly did. On the 26th there happened a small skirmish between a few horsemen on each side, without any material loss, but yesterday about one thousand of the Marattas fell upon two hundred of the Nabobs people a mile or two of Town, killed and wounded between thirty and forty, and took some Drums and Colours and put the rest to flight, which I imagine will prevent their venturing again without the walls. As I happened to be by him when his people returned, he desired that as they were daunted, I would at present send a few people to that Bastion, which has long been usual for us to send Sepoys to defend, which although I would willingly have avoided, I could not well do in such a publick place without greatly disgusting him (the Nabob) after it's being a custom for so many years. Besides as the convoy will be up next springs and we shall want the investment shipped, I was afraid a refusal might induce him to put some impediment upon that, which I thought was principally to be avoided. I therefore sent thither five extraordinary Peons not belonging to the Factory, who, as soon as I can get a proper opportunity to speak to the Nabob, I shall desire his permission to withdraw, being ordered to stand perfectly neuter on all occasions, which I hope will be approved of. I hear the Marattas intend to encamp on that side of the Town towards the Bunder; therefore two Gallivats will be necessary for protecting the investment and other boats, and it would be well if they were all directed to come up directly opposite to the Town as possible without coming to an anchor up the river, as it's ten to one if they are far distant from each other, but some freebooters of the Maratta army may attempt to plunder them.

Cambay, the 28th October 1755.

I am with respect, &c.<sup>a</sup>.

Account Salary due to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Covenanted servants at Surat ending 1st January 1756 inclusive viz<sup>t</sup>.:—

Names.	Due.		Salary per annum.			Salary due.
	Mths.	ds.	£.	s.	d.	£.	s.	d.	s. d.	Rs.
Brabazon Ellis, Esquire, Chief ... ..	6	0	100	0	0	50	0	0	at 2 6 per	400
Robert Halford, Senior Merchant ... ..	6	0	40	0	0	20	0	0	" " "	100
Samuel Court d <sup>o</sup> ... ..	6	0	40	0	0	20	0	0	" " "	160
Robert Lambert, Factor ... ..	6	0	15	0	0	7	10	0	" " "	60
Nathanial Stackhouse, Writer ... ..	6	0	5	0	0	2	10	0	} " " "	70
D <sup>o</sup> as Leader of Devine Service ... ..	6	0	12	10	0	6	5	0
Robert Heriot, Surgeon ... ..	6	0	54	0	0	27	0	0	" " "	216
	.....		.....			133	5	0		1066

Surat, 2<sup>d</sup> January 1756.

Friday, 19th April 1756.—Received the following letter from M<sup>r</sup>. Erskine at Cambay :—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

Your commands of the 6th I received the 9th and those of the 10th the 13th, which I would have replied to immediately, but waited till I could write your W<sup>o</sup>. &c.<sup>a</sup> a satisfactory answer regarding our goods. As I doubt not but the Chief has informed you of the occasion of my stay at Jamboseer I shall not now trouble you with a repetition.

I arrived here the 8th and immediately waited on the Nabob, who was encamped with his army about a mile from the town which he had left that day. I had some conversation with him about our goods, but as it was late he desired I would come next day. I waited on him accordingly, and remonstrated with him in as friendly a manner as possible how unjust it would be to detain our goods, and also represented to his Duan and Custom Master very strongly the ill consequences that would inevitably attend it. It would be needless to repeat our whole conversation, but after reflecting & advising that night with the above mentioned persons, and some others in whom he confides most, the next day he gave me a very complaisant answer, importing that he never would have touched a pice of our property had he known it to be such, (which indeed I'm almost persuaded of) and that every thing he had taken of ours should be returned us without any consideration altho' he had been at a good deal of expence and trouble in bringing the goods from Jamboseer. However, that as he had ever been & now was so ready to serve us in whatever we desired, he hoped the Gov<sup>r</sup>. & Council would also assist him in his necessities. I acquainted him that that was entirely in their own breasts, and that it was not in my power to promise him anything; that however the Gov<sup>r</sup>. and Council would certainly not be ungratefull, but readily serve him to the utmost of their power, so far as was reasonable & tended not to their own hurt. He marched in the evening of the 10th & told me he had given directions to Mirza Mamud Zumma, a very good sort of man, who he has left Gov<sup>r</sup>. here (Cambay) to satisfie me in whatever I should desire. Accordingly on comparing the list of goods we have lost with those the Nabob brought from Jumbosseer, it appeared that there were a few articles, altho' not very considerable, which never came into his hands, and other articles of which he has only got a part of what we have lost, which may very well be, as his Seepoys plundered a good deal, for I'm pretty well convinced he will not conceal any thing. There are also some of our goods which he had sold before I came from Jamboseer, about which Mamud Zumma told me he had no directions from the Nabob, and would therefore write him for an answer, which he received the 14th, directing him to deliver back whatever goods of ours he really had in his possession; that such as were sold must either be taken back from the purchasers and delivered us, or if that could not be, the amount they were sold for; but as for any other goods it was not in his power to return them, they never having come into his possession. When I have received the goods, and can ascertain what are wanting, I shall inform your W<sup>o</sup>. &c.<sup>a</sup>.

I am, &c.<sup>a</sup>.

Cambay, the 15th April 1756.

Friday, 12th August 1757.—Came to hand the following Commands from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Council of Bombay :—

Sirs,

Your letters of the 21st May & 20th June are come.

Having learnt that there is a ship now in Surat river, which was lately called the "Betsy," and we hear left Bengall with an English Pass and Colours, and we have likewise good reason to believe was then English property, from there being at this time some bonds in the place for Respondentia lent on her by certain gentlemen in Bengall, and that notwithstanding her being bound to Bussora and back to the Bay, Captain John Demar, who then commanded her, put into Muscat on his return, where he and the Purser remained, but sent the ship on a voyage from thence to Cochin, in charge of one Fitzgerald, as it is said, under pretence of getting her repaired, as well as towards defraying her charges, and that she returned back to Muscat under Dutch Colours, in which interval M<sup>r</sup>. Demar died at that place, and that the ship was brought from thence, about the beginning of June, by a person named Wintle, who instead of coming hither, to a port of safety, in such a dangerous part of the monsoon, proceeded to, and arrived at Surat Bar on the 17th of that month; and as we hear M<sup>r</sup>. Wintle has never been to the Chief to give an account of the ships voyage, though there is so much reason to conclude she belongs to the English, and as we think it a duty incumbent on us to have a proper enquiry made into the affair, both that justice may be obtained for the concerned, and the Customs in such case made good to our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters, we direct that you represent all the abovementioned circumstances of her voyage, by our order, to the Dutch Directore and Council at your place, and desire they will acquaint you if she is really Dutch property, and how she became so; but if she proves to belong to the English, you are to insist on the Dutch not affording the Master or any other person belonging to her their protection, and oblige him to give you whatever information may be conducive to his owners interest.

Finding it necessary lately to confirm and enforce the necessary rules of the service regarding the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Military Forces, we enclose you copy of our order to Sir James Foulis for that purpose, that you may issue the like to the officer of your Detachment, and it is likewise proper to acquaint you that we have given one of the same tenour to the Superintendent of the Marine.

You are also to order the Military Officer at your Factory always in future to make the Major a monthly return of his Detachment as conveyances offer.

The President and Council at Fort William having acquainted us that they shall not admit of any plea which may be urged by any person for having paid our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters export duties on goods designed for Bengall at any place under the jurisdiction of this Presidency, unless they can produce a Bill or Certificate for the same agreeable to the paragraphs of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Court of Directors commands transmitted you in September last, you are punctually to comply therewith.

We are,

Your Loving Friends.

Bombay Castle, 4th August 1757.

Surat, Friday, 12th August 1757.

At a Consultation, Present :

Brabazon Ellis, Esq<sup>r</sup>., Chief.

Robert Halford.		.....
Robert Erskine.		.....

M<sup>r</sup>. Court at Bombay.

Read & approved our last Consultation.

Read also the letter received this day from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Council of Bombay.

Resolved that Mess<sup>rs</sup>. Halford & Erskine wait upon the Dutch to-morrow morning to represent to them the purport of the Governor & Councils commands.

Directed the Secretary to issue an order to the Officer of the Factory for making a monthly return in future of the state of the detachment at this place to the Commandant of the Military at Bombay, as also for shewing a due observance of the order of the Governor & Council of Bombay (as entered hereafter) which they inclosed us a copy of.

The Chief informing the Board that a private letter from the President requires his best endeavours to be exerted in the provision of a number of black cattle for the service of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Marine, and as few are to be procured here from the impediments which the Marattas occasion, and those which happen sometimes to be got are for the most part very poor in flesh and dear, agreed that M<sup>r</sup>. Lambert be directed to try if he cannot purchase a quantity to be delivered at Gogo or Cambay, from whence the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President observes, in the prementioned letter to the Chief, that they can easily be sent for, if to be obtained.

Examined & passed the annual accounts of Cambay Residency, and ordered that the balance of Rup<sup>s</sup>. 903-47 due to M<sup>r</sup>. Lambert from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company be paid to M<sup>r</sup>. Erskine agreeable to his desire.

NATH. STACKHOUSE,
Sec<sup>y</sup>.

BRABAZON ELLIS.
ROBERT HALFORD.
ROB<sup>t</sup>. ERSKINE.

---

Saturday, 13th August 1757.—Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Director and Council:—

Gentlemen,

The Remonstrance we have the honour to make you on the present occasion is in consequence of an order from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Council of Bombay, who direct us to acquaint you they have been informed that the ship now in Surat River, which arrived here under Dutch colours on the 17th June, is English property, belonging to English merchants of Bengall. That she left Calcutta with English pass and colours, commanded by Captain John Demare, was bound to the Mallabar Coast and Bussora, and back to Madrass and Bengall. That in her return from Bussora she put into Muscat, and was thence sent by the said Demare on a voyage to Cochin in charge of one Fitzgerald, as it is said, under pretence of getting her repaired, as well as towards defraying her charges. That she returned back to Muscat under Dutch colours, in the interval of which voyage the said Demare died. That the ship was afterwards brought from thence by a person named Wintle, who, instead of going to Bombay, a port of safety, came to this Bar, at such a dangerous time of the monsoon as the middle of June, and since his arrival has put himself wholly under your protection. They direct us therefore to apply to you for particular information in this affair, as well in consideration of that justice which is due to the concerned, as that attention which we owe to the interest of our Masters the Hon<sup>ble</sup> English East India Company, in the regular collection of those duties, which on the merchandize of all English subjects are due to them. If therefore she be actually Dutch property, we are to request you will oblige us with the knowledge of the circumstances by which she became so. On the other hand, if she be not so (which a variety of concurring circumstances induce both our Superiors & selves to believe, more especially as no authority is known to have been vested in the said Wintle, or any other person on board her, for alienating the property of said ship), we think it needless to point out to you, Gentlemen, the fatal consequences to the trade of both Nations, which might be feared to ensue from the precedent of your affording protection to a man acting in open violation of all Laws, or one whose conduct has the appearance of so much fraud and intentional injury, as that of M<sup>r</sup>. Wintle towards his employers, nor can we doubt your readiness in such case to withdraw the same, which we thus request, and have the honour to be, with perfect esteem,

Surat, 13th August 1757.

Gentlemen,
Your most hum<sup>m</sup> & most obed<sup>t</sup> Servants.

Sunday, 14th.—Came to hand the following Commands from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Council of Bombay :—

Sirs,

Immediately after closing our last, under the 4th instant, we received your letter, with the accompanying accounts for the month of June

Judging it necessary to reinforce our Garrison, that we may be the better enabled to defeat any attempt the French may make against this Island, we have resolved to withdraw your officer and Detachment of Military by the first conveyance. You are therefore to hold them in readiness for that purpose, and you are likewise hereby directed to enlist what able military people you can procure in Surat and the adjacent country, with expedition, not exceeding the number of two thousand (2000), to be sent hither, as opportunities offer. We would have you give the preference to Turks, Arabs, and Rajahpoots, to those of any other nation, as well as the entertaining a proportionable number of each, rather than the whole should consist of any particular country, and we must leave it to your discretion whether it will best answer your settling the pay with each individual, or to agree with every Subedar for raising his Company, at certain rates, with this observation that the pay allowed such forces enlisted at your place, in the year 1746, with provisions and charges, turned out thirteen (13) Rupees per month for the Turks and Arabs, and eight (8) rupees per month for the Seepoys, one with another, officers included, to which you are to conform, unless you can agree with them on more reasonable terms, not doubting your best endeavours will be used for that purpose, as also for getting such people as have been most used to arms, and should you be under a necessity of engaging with them for a certain time, we recommend it's not exceeding the ensuing fair season.

We are,

Bombay Castle, 6th August 1757.

Your Loving Friends.

Monday, 15th.—Addressed the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Council of Bombay as follows :—

Ho<sup>n</sup> Sir and Sirs,

On the 12th we received your commands of the 4th instant and yesterday those of the 6th came to hand.

Mess<sup>rs</sup> Halford and Erskine made a visit to the Dutch on the 13th to represent the purport of your orders concerning the Ship "Betsy," and person in charge of her, but the Directore desiring to have it in writing, we wrote them accordingly the same day, as per copy of our letter inclosed, their answer to which has not yet been received.

The Officer and Detachment of Military here are ordered to keep in readiness to return to the Presidency p. first opportunity, as your Honour &c<sup>y</sup> direct. Sixty Seepoys we judge will be the fewest that must necessarily be hired on this occasion in their stead for the requisite duty of the Factory, as Seepoys here every other night go home, whence only half their number is on duty at one time.

The encouragement given by the Nabob of Cambay, the Marattas, and this Government to all sorts of people who are in the least degree acquainted with the use of arms, has not only very considerably enhanced their price, but left few or none at this time to be got, yet hope when the Mocha Ships arrive that a Company or two of Arabs may be picked up, and in the mean while if any others can be enlisted here, or in the adjacent country, on reasonable terms, we will not fail to embrace the occasion.

We shall be duly observant to furnish ships bound from this place to Bengall with the requisite certificates, that the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys dutys on their Export Cargoes have been regularly paid, and remain, with respect,

Hon<sup>d</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Surat, 15th August 1757.

Your most obed<sup>t</sup> hum<sup>m</sup> Servants.

Received a letter from the Dutch Directore and Council, in answer to ours of the 13th instant, translate of which is as follows:—

Gentlemen,

We had the honour the day before yesterday, at nine o'clock in the evening, to receive your favour, but Sunday intervening, we have not been able sooner to send you an answer; besides, so few of us understanding the English language in perfection, it has cost us some trouble to get a translation, as none, according to former usage, was annexed.

At the arrival of the ship "Tharsis" (the principal point in your letter) the first of the under written (M<sup>r</sup> Taillfert) demanded instantly from Captain Thomas Wintle his pass port, and finding it signed by the E. A. M<sup>r</sup> Caspar de Jong, present Commander of Cochin and his Council, and that the ship is therein mentioned as belonging to a Jewish merchant, Ezekeel, Rabbi, inhabitant of Cochin, and consequently a subject of the United Provinces, which was all we wanted to be informed in, we thought this sufficient for us to consider and treat the ship, cargo, and people, as belonging to our Nation, as we of course have done and in future shall do. It does not belong to us to enquire how the beforementioned Ezekeel, Rabbi, has got the property of this vessel. His absence and the death of the Captain and part owner, John de Mar (who is said privately to have received orders from the rest of his owners to sell, freight out, or do anything therewith which he should judge most proper for their common interest) makes it very difficult to decide here and may be yet more difficult to prove. But in case the trouble you have given yourselves about this affair (as far as we know without any knowledge or orders from the first owners) should not proceed, according to some broadspread rumour, from a personal dislike against the prementioned Captain Thomas Wintle, whom it is not well so to chagrin, under the specious pretext of taking care of the right of the interested, &c<sup>a</sup>; but in fact should mean to have any such lawfull claim upon the ship, cargo, or his person and goods as can pass a justiciary enquiry, and consequently tend to call the said Wintle (who is, as doubtless you are very well informed, under the special protection of our Company) before his regular and competent Judges, the Council of Justice of this Factory, you may be perswaded that far from acting the least to prejudice the concerned, we are ready, on the contrary, exemplarily to punish such as are found guilty of fraudulent proceedings, and will take care that you, or those who may be qualified for such prosecution, shall have an expedient and suitable justice, which is all we can find with reason can be demanded of us.

For the rest, we have the confidence in your discretion and discernment that you will not further insist on our retracting the given protection, which demand we have so much the less expected, as it is out of our power to grant, after you have given us so many examples and reasons to extend and maintain our protection as far as ever the right of Nations and the general received custom amongst Europeans in these parts will permit. So that we think it unnecessary to repeat anything on the subject, since we necessarily must look on your Factory and colours as a certain assylum for the faithless and forsworn servants of our Company, and in a word for all our subjects guilty of any crime whatsoever, whereof after so many the most reasonable but fruitless representations, as well as on the fatal consequences this might bring on the trade of both Nations, we have resolved never more to importune you without a special order from our Superiors.

Surat, 15th August 1757.

We are with a perfect esteem,

Gentlemen,

Your most hum<sup>ble</sup> and obedient Servants,

LOUIS TAILLFERT.

J.<sup>n</sup> DRABBE.

I. SWEERS DE LANDAS.

D. KELLY.

I. FALCK.

RUPERTI.

R. EBBENHORST.

PHILIP WARAGSEN.

---

Thursday, 8th September 1757.—Came to hand the following Commands from the Ho<sup>n</sup> the President and Council of Bombay :—

Sirs,

We have duly received your advices of the 15th, 17th and 22nd ult<sup>o</sup> with the papers said to accompany them.

We would have you entertain such a number of Seepoys for your Factory guard as has been usual when there has been no military on duty there, and dont see occasion for any more.

With respect to the answer the Dutch Directore and Council have given you regarding the Ship "Betsy," we must remark that as honest men they ought to enquire how she may have become Ezekeel Rabbis property, and we think they should produce to you a copy of the orders they mention Captain Demare received from his owners. However, we inclose you two original depositions, taken by the Superintendant, from Captains David Rannie and Thomas Warner, by which it appears obvious that she still belongs to English gentlemen at Calcutta, as the former declared that not only M<sup>r</sup> Wintle the present Commander, but one Abraham a Jew, who was nominally so, told him that their only reason for their getting a Dutch Pass and wearing Dutch Colours was for their greater security, on account of our Nation being at war with France, and M<sup>r</sup> Demare the former Captain, for the same reason, previously sent the ship to Cochin with the King of Muscats Pass and Colours. M<sup>r</sup> Wintle likewise promised to follow Captain Rannies advice for prosecuting his voyage from Muscat to Bengall, and you will remark from Captain Warners deposition, that Demare assured him at Calcutta that he was concerned with M<sup>r</sup> Pearkes in the ship and cargo on a voyage to the Gulph of Persia and back to Bengall, from all which proofs of her having been English property, and the great reason there is to conclude that she still continues so, we have resolved that you shall insist (if the Dutch any longer dispute it) on their detaining her and cargo till it can be determined who she now belongs to, and in case of their refusal, that you protest against them for all damages which may ensue to our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters, her owners, & all others concerned, & we leave it to you to make such further remarks on the Directore and Councils answer to your letter as you may judge proper.

We are,

Your Loving Friends.

Bombay Castle, 1st September 1757.

Friday, 9th September.—Arrived the Ships “Gunjavir” and “Faree Salam” from Mocha.

Saturday, 10th September.—Wrote a letter to the Dutch Directore and Council here, as follows:—

Gentlemen,

As we addressed you last by the particular direction of our Superiors concerning the Ship “Betsy,” which we perceive passes under a different name with you, it was incumbent on us to submit the contents of your reply dated the 15th ultimo to their consideration, and it is in obedience to their orders that we now write you again on the same subject.

The important motives which our request to you was founded upon, the regard due to your own characters, and the little difficulty which could have attended your compliance, assured us that from gentlemen who presided over a European Factory it could have met with no objection; and sorry, extremely sorry, we are to find ourselves disappointed in so reasonable an expectation; as the tenour of your whole letter speaks, it is calculated rather to perplex and obstruct our attainment of a due knowledge of the truth, than intended to afford us the smallest satisfaction; for if the late Captain John Demare had discretional powers for selling the said ship and actually made use of them, those, with all other papers relative to her sale, must now be in M<sup>r</sup>. Wintles possession, a sight of which, without the least prejudice to the concerned, whoever they be, would at once have given us the information we desired. But to trouble neither you nor ourselves further on the subject of this pretended sale than our duty indispen- sibly requires, we are at present to acquaint you that the Hon<sup>ble</sup> President and Council of Bombay, in conviction that the said ship is still English property, as appears by two original depositions taken upon oath, one of which given by Captain David Rannie, Commander of the “Success” Galley of Bengall, and now at Bombay, asserts her to have been declared such both by M<sup>r</sup>. Wintles own mouth at Muscat and by one Abraham a Jew, who at Cochin was nominal master of her, each of whom told him that their only reason for getting a Dutch Pass and Dutch Colours was for the vessels greater security on account of the war subsisting between England and France, for which reason M<sup>r</sup>. Demare had previously sent her to Cochin under the colours of the Imaum of Muscat; and further, that M<sup>r</sup>. Wintle consulted the said deponents advice on the most proper track for prosecuting his voyage home from Muscat to Bengall; for this therefore, and other reasons, they positively direct us to insist that as you longer dispute the national property of said ship, that you detain both vessel and cargo in your hands till satisfied to whom she belongs from the real owners themselves, and that the . . . . . can be received in regard to her. We know not of, nor can we go to any other Judges whatever than to you, gentlemen, a collective body, as Directore and Council for all affairs of the Dutch Nation in this place, nor is it material to us in what form you pursue such inquiries as may be thought necessary by you towards giving us that satisfaction we demand.

We acknowledge the singularness of your supposition, that those very weighty reasons assigned for the trouble given you in our last were no other than specious pretexts to cover some personal disgusts to a man whom we have no knowledge of, and whose origin we can trace no higher than that he was a private soldier in the Ho<sup>n</sup>. Companys Troop on the Coast of Cor- mandell, till discharged from thence at the request of M<sup>r</sup>. Demare. Let it suffice to say, that in our service it is a practice equally unnecessary and unknown to gloss over our actions with pretexts of any kind, and however trivial the principles which we act upon may appear to you, we shall always persist in showing that regard for the public weal and for the interest of our employers which we profess.

Respecting the personal protection granted to deserters from your Factory, and which never will be refused by us again, without a special order from our Superiors to that effect, did you not make it a point of justice to ourselves, it would be disagreeable to us to remind you that it was no less than a violation of promise in your late Directore M<sup>r</sup>. De'Roth, to receive deserters back with impunity, contrary to whose given word two were shamefully sent and punished aboard a ship in the road, which has rendered it inconsistent with the honour of the Flag we hoist to return you any more. If any persons amongst those we have received have been guilty of other crimes than that of simple desertion, it is more than we know, nor has application in any such case ever been made to us for redress; and conscious you are of our being so scrupulously nice in matters of property, that no deserter has ever brought a single musquet or bayonet to our Factory which has not been constantly restored.

Were we sufficient masters of your language, punctilio would not restrain us from addressing you therein, and a translate to our last was only omitted, in belief that we could use no other, which is better understood by some of you than our own. To this you have a translate in Portugueze annexed, and we remain

Gentlemen,

Surat, 10th September 1757.

Your most humble and obed<sup>t</sup>. Servants.

Wednesday, 14th September.—Received a letter from the Dutch Directore and Council dated yesterday in answer to ours of the 10th ins<sup>t</sup>, translate of which follows:—

Gentlemen,

Having in our letter of the 15th ult.<sup>o</sup> offered you every thing which could be reasonably exacted from an independent nation, in a case like that which makes the present debate, we have been surprized to see that in yours of the 10th ins<sup>t</sup> you form to yourselves a quite different idea, which you are pleased to nourish with so much tenderness, that far from rectifying gently the members of this cherished child, it seems impossible for you to see the deformity thereof. There is no blindness so incurable as that of those who will not see, which makes us fear that all the pains we may take for inspiring you with a different mode of thinking and expression, whether by writing or by word of mouth, will be fruitless and lost. We should notwithstanding think ourselves wanting to the laws of civility and to ourselves were we to be silent, and out of complaisance to others to swallow those sweet potions which you have bestowed with so liberal a hand, without making a wry face or signifying the disgust they excite in us.

We confess freely that we should have reason to condemn ourselves if what you advance, namely, that the important motives whereon you founded your demand on the Ship "Tharsis," (which name you very well know has not been changed by us here, but in Cochin), the regard we owe to our own character, and the little difficulty which in your opinions could attend our compliance, have perswaded you that therefore it could meet with no objection on our parts, and this would be sufficient to put us wholly in the wrong; but if you will please to have the goodness and discretion to let us enjoy the liberty which we have by our birth, and which we believe ourselves not yet to have lost, in consequence whereof we are permitted to think differently about things and events, and to regulate our actions, not upon your opinions, but those that justice, equity, and reason dictate, we cannot dispense with perswading ourselves that the judgement you please to put thereon by no means diminishes their intrinsick value, and that those names wherewith you qualify our proceedings, decide even as little therein as those simple propositions which a contrary party might bring before a Court of Justice without proofs.

Perhaps you may object that these are not the only things you have advanced, but that with one and the same breath you have given us to understand, that you are dissatisfied very much to see yourselves frustrated in so reasonable an expectation, as the whole tenor of our letter seems rather calculated to embarrass you and elude your concerned hopes of receiving information about the truth of matters than to give you the least satisfaction. We agree willingly with you herein, Gentlemen, that it is beneath us to have recourse to such low and vile means, as for example to be silent about things that will not serve our purpose; to answer to things which have not been said, or at least in such a sense as one would make the publick believe; to give to anothers words and expressions a more absolute and positive meaning than that wherein they have been used; to ground things on principles not proved, nor to be proved, and other such articles calculated to dazzle the eyes of those who only look on the exterior part of things, and think superficially; but, Gentlemen, we are obliged to alledge that not only our former remarks agree perfectly well with the subject, but also that every man used to pass through such cobwebs, and to feel with his own fingers, for what is pretended to be thrust into his hands will easily, on looking over our letters on both sides, distinguish what is to be found therein, and will just find the contrary of what you advance. For if in Europe a case should exist, such as you partly wrongly support, viz.<sup>t</sup> that a ship having belonged to English subjects, but sailing with Dutch colours and passport, and agreeable to such passport belonging to Dutch subjects, should be commanded by an English Captain, who, obliged thro' bad weather should anchor in a Dutch port, whereunto he is not bound, notwithstanding that he might easily have gained an English Harbour, and that the Magistrate of a neighbouring English place insisting or taking for pretext, that by this a prejudice was offered to the rights of their town, and showing some doubt, if the Commander might not intend to appropriate to himself the owners property; if, say we, not only the same Magistrate, without any request or order from the owners, and perhaps even against their intention and hopes (who might be well satisfied to let the ship and lading pass to everybody, as Dutch property) and even without the least knowledge of the powers and orders that might be given; but even the owners themselves, for the same reason, although they should not be possessed of any proof to justify their fear, should think proper to address themselves for justice to the Magistrate in the place where the ship was (and where the Captain for to shelter himself against those prosecutions which might be raised against him should have demanded and obtained the Right of Naturalization), then neither the English Magistrate nor the owners could think themselves prejudiced in the least, in case the Dutch Magistrate, unacquainted with the true state of the question, should refer them to the ordinary, natural, and competent Judge of the place, where actually the ship and cargo was to be found, solumnly promising to see that a good and ready justice should be administered in the affair, and that there was no design to incur the least damage to the English, who were concerned, but on the contrary make an example of those that might have rendered themselves culpable of fraudulent proceedings. We leave it to unprejudiced people to judge whether this would tend rather to embarrass the demanders and to hinder them from attaining a perfect knowledge of the principall circumstance (viz.<sup>t</sup> whether ship and cargo actually have been sold to Dutch subjects, though without the demanders knowledge) by deceased Captain Demare and his partners, thro' the virtue of a special power, and whether in consequence thereof these are not lawfull proprietors than to give them the least satisfaction.

You say further, that if the deceased Captain Demare was authorized to dispose of the said ship agreeable to his pleasure, and in fact made use of such power, then the same and all other papers concerning the sale must be in the hands of M<sup>r</sup>. Wintle. This argument does not appear to us to be so conclusive, as it is confidently given by you, since it is not the first time that papers of this nature, whose preservation is of less importance to the seller than to the buyer, have been dispersed after the death of the former. But we will not stand hereupon, as we never yet have pleaded in favour of this sale, notwithstanding that the original Commission has been laid before us, whereof we have taken an authentick copy. We have only said that ship and cargo according to the passport appeared to belong to a subject of the United Provinces, which was sufficient to make us look on both as belonging to our Nation, and to act accordingly, which we have done and shall continue to do, that is to say, so far as concerns the protection and the collection of the Customs which belong to . . . . . on all those who use their . . . . . colours &c<sup>a</sup> whether the ship belongs to a Dutch subject or not, but no further, reserving always the right of a third person, whom we don't intend to touch. So that, Gentlemen, with whatever every one might be inclined to envenom our expressions, for to confirm your Superiors in these sinister ideas, which seems to have been inspired them about this affair, you will find it difficult to demonstrate to impartial persons that by us ever was supposed that this sale, by you called pretended, has ever taken place, being quite different from our proposition, which only implies that in consequence of the power given the Captain as part owner, this sale might have been made, but that in this place it would be difficult to make an exact inquiry into it.

But were we well perswaded of the truth or reality of this sale in question, we must as friends acknowledge truly to you, that declarations under oath made only from hearsay would not be capable to make us change our system; and we cannot comprehend how, when really convinced, that the only reasons for demanding Dutch passport and colours at Cochin was so much the better to provide for the security of the ship on occasion of the war between England and France, and that on our part there could be no other motive for granting one or other than to oblige your Nation, by contributing more than is strictly permitted us to put ship and cargo in security, that you could prevail with yourselves to make the affair publick and consequently to contribute, as much as lay in your power, to frustrate the end proposed, and it is not probable that the owners will be obliged to you for it, or that your superiors on better consideration of the matter will be satisfied therewith. Besides, such a proceeding will never encourage the Ministers, who are at the head of affairs in our Settlements, for the future to show the like proofs and goodwill to any of your Nation, more especially as your Company, supposing them to have any lawfull claim on account of customs, may always maintain their right and from the owners find sufficient means to satisfy themselves.

Concerning your reply to our refering you to justice, viz<sup>t</sup> that you know of no other Judges, nor can address yourselves elsewhere than to our collective body of Directore and Council for all affairs relating . . . . . nation in this place, we are obliged, as you please to affect to show yourselves unacquainted herein, to let you know that we on no account or at least very improperly can appropriate this title to ourselves, since everything relative to justice, which certainly comprehends all disputes concerning property, whether moveables or immoveables, have long since been expressly excepted by our Superiors, and consequently whether you do us the honour or not to qualify us and consider us upon this footing, or exact of us a thing contrary to our received orders, that cannot authorize nor oblige us to meddle with things which do not belong to us, and for passing the bounds prescribed to us, we should badly apologize to our Superiors in offering it as an excuse that you were of a contrary opinion. Nevertheless, it contributes not a little to put our spirits at ease, that you give us to understand it is a matter of indifference to you in what manner we act, so that we do but . . . to those laws which you are pleased to prescribe to us, and we cannot but heartily thank you for this your favourable declaration.

Notwithstanding all this, and to show that out of pure politeness and complaisance we are disposed to do more than what with justice can be exacted from us, and tho' in fact we cannot find any danger in the delay, we have, at M<sup>r</sup> Wintles offer, named two members of our Assembly, Mess<sup>rs</sup> Sweers and Kelly, to attend to the interest of the owners of the ship in question, using all possible and practicable means to that end, and to have charge of the cargo and its produce till such time as the owner have disposed thereof.

If to be truly polite, it is required not to mention the true motives that agreeable to public report have prevailed on somebody to give us and himself a deal of unnecessary trouble about nothing, when even it is necessary so to do, to give those a clearer idea of this affair into whose hands our letters may fall, we allow freely to have trespassed and to have deserved that sprightly criticism which the author of your letter has thought fit to decorate it with, and we will without appealing to our letter to show that it was no supposition made by us, but only a common report which was told us, ask your pardon, sincerely protesting that we had no intentions therein to offend you, nor to show any diffidence about your zeal and attention to the interest of your Masters; but in case the contrary is to take place, as we are more inclined to believe, we hope you wont take it amiss, if willingly or unwillingly we must say that the pretended glosses should be an unknown thing in your service, this could not so much hinder us from using any, as that powerfull argument of your having no further acquaintance of M<sup>r</sup> Wintles origin than his being a simple soldier, which serves as a demonstration that you have not, nor can have any personal animosity or dissatisfaction with him. For what would it avail us to go so far as to say that in case we should have occasion for lessons of politeness, it never would come in our heads to address ourselves to a Gentleman, who, notwithstanding his penetration and solidity of judgement, united with a profounde knowledge in the theory of politeness (which we in no shape intend to dispute with him) makes no difficulty when it comes into his head, in a Commission to another Chief to send a common servant, instead of a Secretary or a Commissioned Officer, agreeable to customs of all times, and which has hindered us to imitate herein; who, instead of Chupadars or other more proper domesticks, used to send Harkaras to be informed of another Chiefs health, till not being inclined so publickly to be affronted he has been paid in the same coin; and who is wanting to such a degree in the practice of a becoming civility, that tho' we in a body assisted at the funeral of his deceased Lady, has never deigned to make another a small compliment upon his marriage. We are sorry, Gentlemen, yes very much so, that we are obliged to come to particulars of this nature as we rather should chuse to cover with the veil of charity such proofs of politeness and humility; but we are forced in our own defence to avail ourselves of the same sort of weapons wherewith we are attacked, that in the eyes of the spectators we may not seem to be overcome, and to escape the reproach of pussillanimity; tho' for the rest we shall not envy him who will feel himself picqued to the heart what consolation he can find in exclaiming out his very soul.

We hope in the mean time you will not take it amiss if we take the liberty to add that what you write about the deserters is as well founded as the rest of your letter, for it is easy to charge an absent man who is not in a condition to defend himself with whatever one pleases. At the same time your propositions are not strengthened with the least proof, and we never heard that you could bring forth any. For to send sailors who once have deserted on board ship in such manner that they cannot attempt it a second time, can never be called a shamefull punishment, besides, with our knowledge, nobody ever engaged to pardon a deserter any thing besides the act of desertion, and by no means theft or other crimes whereof they might be guilty, and the writings of two wretches that they had been punished for desertion, which you formerly have alledged, will with great difficulty pass for proof with impartial and reasonable people, notwithstanding that you with greediness have embraced them as such, no more than the sayings of a single man contradicted by another of as much credit. Besides, we can add that the mentioned contract had a long while before been broken by your present Chief, Mr. Ellis, who hardly put his foot ashore here before he sent one of our sailors to Bombay, under pretence that he did not know the man to be actually in our Company's service, and when he was reclaimed, promised to get him returned back, of which promise he never has acquitted himself, as is noted down in our Resolution of the 25th of January 1755.

We love truth too much to disavow that more than once muskets and bayonets of our deserters have been returned, and we should be ready to condemn ourselves if we should have thought or advanced the least to the contrary, notwithstanding it is not long since one of our Trumpeters dressed in a quite new and palpably known livery of the first under written, did run away and was received with the same dress in your Factory, which proves sufficiently that every one who presents himself is received even without distinguishing the domesticks of the Director.

We send with this a French translation, which we hope will be more intelligible to you than your Portuguese one has been to us, as we are all unacquainted with that language. We make you an offer for the future to send an English or French translation of our letters, so long as we have persons amongst us who understand either; but on condition that you formally promise in writing it never shall be construed as an obligation from us, but an act of politeness and complaisance on our parts to you, and no duty which might be of future prejudice to us.

Surat, 13th September 1757.

We are &c.

Monday, 19th September—Addressed the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Council of Bombay:—

Hon. Sir and Sirs,

By the convoy which arrived yesterday at the Bar, we were honoured with your command of the 12th instant, and shall dispatch the vessels back, which are ordered to be returned as soon as a few Arabs, whom we are enlisting, are ready to go on board.

The Expedition, which we judged the service required in the dispatch of five Companies of Seepoys that we hired here, induced us to send them down on board the "Monmouth" Ketch and three Country Boats hired for that purpose, as we knew of no other opportunity which was likely to offer, and those vessels left the Bar on the 15th instant.

Inclosed is translate of a letter received from the Dutch, in answer to ours of the 10th instant, with which we join the original, lest the translate should not be so perfect as we wish. As they have thought proper, at M<sup>r</sup>. Wintles offer, to comply with the point we were directed to insist upon, the most proper treatment of that vanity & scurrility which their letter contains we think will be to give it no reply, but submit that to your Honour &c<sup>ca</sup> determination.

Our monthly accounts for August are inclosed with an Invoice of the spare muskets and bayonets sent down with the detachment, and we remain,

Surat, 19th September 1757.

Hon. Sir and Sirs,

Your most obedient hum. Servants.

Friday, 23<sup>d</sup>.—Received duplicates of the two following letters from M<sup>r</sup>. Lambert at Cambay, originals of which are not yet come to hand:—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir and Sirs,

The bearer hereof is a Jemmedar (named Kaalee Khan), to whom I have given a Commission to enlist at Broach and the adjacent villages, where he is acquainted, a Company of Seepoys, and for this purpose have, on proper security, advanced him two hundred (200) Rupees. His agreement is, that on his arrival with you, such of the people as he brings with him whom you like not, may be rejected, and the remainder you may entertain. Their pay is to commence, at the rates mentioned in the inclosed paper, from the time you enroll them.

Cambay, 14th September 1757.

I am, W<sup>o</sup>. Sir and Sirs,
Your most obed<sup>t</sup>. h<sup>ble</sup> Servants.

				R <sup>a</sup> .
Jemmedar per month	...	...	...	50
Daffedars (or inferior officers,) one to every 20 private men	...	...	...	8 per month.
Colour-bearer	...	...	...	10
Vackul	...	...	...	15
Private men	...	...	...	4½

And moreover to be allowed provisions, each man daily such a quantity as is the custom at the Presidency.

Wednesday, 5th December 1759.—Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Directore and Council:—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir and Sirs,

We duly rec<sup>d</sup>. your favour of the 14th ultimo, and in consequence an Engineer waited on you at your Bunder, and on his report orders have been issued to the proper officers to permit of the buildings reported by him necessary and no ways prejudicial to our works, the particulars of which he will report to you, and you, Gentlemen, will take what time is most agreeable to yourselves to put them in execution.

We must beg leave to differ from you in point of apprehending deserters on either side, were they to appear in a colony of your own; where your own Gov<sup>t</sup>. prevailed, doubtless you would have a right to seize them, but in a free, neutral and independant Government, we do not conceive you can; nor can we admit that either we or you have any right to use coercive power after they have once engaged on either side, and as this is a practise we have and do observe, we make no doubt of your conformity to the same to prevent the evils that may otherwise ensue to the interruption of the harmony that we with pleasure see subsists between our two factories.

As to the unlawful weapons meant in the orders, we understand by it clubs and arms of any kind worn by the common people of both sides, unless on actual duty, and the experience of near six months shews the expediency of those orders, no dispute having happened amongst our people worth noticing since that time.

We think it necessary to apprise you, Gentlemen, in this publick manner that our Superiours at Bombay have been pleased to erect this establishment into a Government and Council by the stile of Chief for Affairs of the British Nation and Governor of the Mogulls Castle and fleet at Surat and Council, and a Commission for this purpose has very lately been duly published by us.

The first subscriber being on his departure, takes this oppertunity of preferring his regard for and taking his leave of you with the sincerest wishes that the harmony at present subsisting between the Factorys may be continued, not only in the Government of M<sup>r</sup>. Price his immediate successor, now on the spot, but to future times. At the same time we also assure you, Gentlemen, that we in general remain, wth esteem,

Surat, 4th December 1759.

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir and Sirs,
Your most obed<sup>t</sup>. Humble Servants.

Monday, 10th December 1759.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Director and Council:—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir and Sirs,

Being informed by your favour of the 4th instant that your Superiors at Bombay have been pleased to erect your establishment at Surat into a Government and Council by the stile observed at the head of this, as far as after our comprehension the nature of the matter can permit, we cannot fail to congratulate you heartily with it, and we, for our part, will never neglect to shew in publick, and in particular to the Chiefs of the European Nations that are established here with us, and principally to those of the British Nation, to which we have more relation than to any other, such honour as they reasonably can expect from us, confiding that also you, Gentlemen, on your side will not be negligent about it, of which we can hardly doubt, when we remember the politeness that Mr. Spencer offered to us in the while he was managing the affairs here, for which we are very much obliged, and that furnish us great reason to regret his departure. Though the arrival of Mr. Price and his taking up the direction of affairs has not been given notice of to us till now in the usual manner, to wit by sending Deputys, we can't fail on this occasion to bid him welcome, hoping the beforesaid delay will not be an effect of disregard, and to wish him a praiseworthy Government, likewise to Mr. Spencer a prosperous passage, and offering our thankfulness for the proofs he gives us, and those of our's of his good intention.

The same necessity you found, Gentlemen, to give us notice in a publick manner of the present quality of the Gentleman that is Chief of your nation at this place, obliges us to acquaint you in the same manner that three years ago our superiours in Europe were pleased to promote our present Director to the dignity of Councillor Extraordinary for the Dutch Possessions in India, being a character which but few of our Governors are gratified with, and is a degree of advancement for them as well as for the Directors and others that can obtain it, because the jurisdiction of the Supreme Council at Batavia is extending herself over all our Governments and Factories, which consequently gives him a fundamental reason to expect from the civility of the English Companys servants not only here, but elsewhere, that they will give him a title which the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Gov<sup>r</sup> and Council at Calcutta give him always, when he was no more than Director of Bengall.

We are obliged to you, Gentlemen, for the assent you gave to the erection of the necessary buildings at our Bunder. And likewise, it is more just to proceed on both sides in an equal manner about national affairs, we are very willing to comply with your opinion and example about the deserters, and therefore to take not up for the future any of them, which we know to have equally got service with you, unless the law of retaliation would oblige us to return to the first custom, w<sup>ch</sup> we only alledg'd in order to justify our behaviour on that subject, and which (give us leave to say it) we continue still to think, gave us a right so to do as we acted.

In the meantime we must complain eagerly of the taking up in the town and putting into the Castle of two qualified servants of our Company, whereof the Moores themselves when they were in possession of that Fort as far as we know, gave never any example, at least not about persons of the rank of a Ships Captain, and a Commander of our Garrison; and that Mr. D'Gloss Commander of the Castle, instead of reprimanding in a significant manner the non-commission'd officer that did it contrary to the plain orders which Mr. Spencer gave, and, whereof we had communication, about taking up common Europeans that made noise or quarrel in the town, not contending that people belonging to our Nation should be put into the Castle, but conducted to their Director (he being the only lawful Judge that they have in this case at Surat), as well as the officer that gave order for it and to do them, understand that this order could not self be extended to Gentlemen of such a character, as on the contrary could take upon him to set his seal to that action, and to offer to the beforementioned stopped Gentlemen to go out, provided that they would give their word of honour to appear before his Chief when it would be required. Of all which the first subscriber acquainted Mr. Price in substance by Deputies, only desiring that he would be pleased to give us the small satisfaction to order the two abovementioned Gentlemen that were unlawfully stop'd to be reconducted by an officer of the Castle in an English coach.

We must confess that those Gentlemen, by the manner in which they went out and the place where they appeared, gave occasion to pretend ignorance who they were, and this is the reason that the Director offered to be satisfied with such a small reparation, and that he could not approve their imprudent behaviour. But, Gentlemen, how can this pretended ignorance be pleaded for Soldiers that deserted from our own Garrison, such there was amongst the men that stopp'd our Gentlemen principally with relation to the Lieutenant & Command of our soldiers? And of what prejudice would it have been to the English Nation and your Company to give us such a small satisfaction in so publick an occurrence. Is it not always usual, according to the custom of this country, to send honourably away any fellow that has been unjustly stopped? The Regents that act in this manner, do they think it will in any degree tend to their dishonour? or looks the publick upon it in that manner? Is it just to deny an European Nation that is so near allied to the British as we are, any thing that is granted without hesitation to every honest Native? Can we, without wilfully imposing upon ourselves, guess by that refusal that there is a true inclination to contribute all that conveniently can be done towards the maintaining of the good harmony between the two Factories, whilst heretofore a private man when he was returned came always accompanied with a Non-commissioned Officer and some soldiers in order to preserve him from any harm or offence by the way? 'Tis a grief unto us that there is so much reason to doubt it, the more because on our side we are with true esteem, Surat, the 10th. December 1759.

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir and Sirs,
Your most obedient Servants.

---

Sent an answer to the foregoing by the hands of Mess<sup>rs</sup>. Bowyer & Stackhouse, who were directed to acquaint the Dutch Directore that the Chiefs Commission would be read tomorrow in a Tent pitched before the Castle:—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir and Sirs,

By the hands of your Sec<sup>ry</sup> we were favoured this morning with yours of this date.

The polite manner in which you congratulate Mr. Price on his accession to the Gov<sup>t</sup>. here and the other subscribers hereof on being appointed an established Council, claims a retaliation on our part. Permit us therefore to return you our sincere thanks on this occasion, and we do it with the greater pleasure as it furnishes us with an opportunity of returning the compliments to Mr. Taillefert on that mark of distinction which you here acquaint us he has been honoured with. It is our earnest desire to live in strict harmony and friendship with your Nation in general, particularly in this City, and although Providence has put many advantages in our hands, be assured they will never be exerted to your prejudice, but that we shall be ready to aid and support you in every instance where you are right, as far as our interest or influence can extend.

We continue in the same sentiments with respect to Deserters as we wrote you under the 4th ins<sup>t</sup>, and from which we shall not deviate; consequently your seizing & forcibly carrying away a man who had voluntarily engaged was a breach of that good freindship we had reason to expect from you. We are willing to impute it to your not knowing the persons being regularly enlisted. The same motive should have influenced you with respect to the Commander of your ship & Lieutenant of Military being carried to the Castle. We wish you had not lain us under a necessity of relating the cause, a Bawdy House quarrell between your officers and our soldiers. It ended in a scuffle in the street in open day close under our Guns in the Castle, which made it the indispensible duty of the Commanding Officer of the Castle to seize all violaters of the publick peace, in which we were sorry to find your officers concerned. You must be sensible, Gentlemen, that on notice being brought thereof to Mr Price he gave immediate orders for their enlargement before our man had been return'd or even demanded. As you justly observe, it would have been no prejudice to us to have returned your officer in a Coach as your Directore requested, but a tender regard for your credit in the City occasioned our declining it; for in the eyes of the country people it would have been considered in this light. That your officers were rescued by us from a very ignominious situation, and sent under our protection, to prevent any insult or indignity being offered to them by wretches with whom it pained us to see they had any acquaintance or connection. These were our sentiments, and as no slight was intended, we hope you will believe us to be what we are with esteem,

Sir & Sirs,

Surat, 10th December 1759.

Your most obed<sup>t</sup> Servants.

Wednesday, 12th—Received a letter from the Dutch Directore & Council as follows:—

W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

In answer to your favour of yesterday with which we were favour'd by the hands of Mess<sup>rs</sup> Bowyer & Stackhouse, we must in the first place return our thanks for your freindly congratulation on the promotion of the first subscriber to the rank of Councillour Extraordinary for the Dutch Possessions in India, of which we gave you notice by our letters of the 12th March past & 10th instant.

Since you do us the justice to believe that it is impossible for us to know if our Deserters are actually enlisted with you when they are permitted to go out in their waistcoats or with our own Regimentals we cannot conceive how you can term their being taken up a breach of our good freindship, without having an intention to give the worst interpretation to our actions.

It came never into our minds to impute to you the affront put upon us in seizing & carrying into the Castle a Captain of one of our Ships, & the Lieutenant Commander of our Garrison, since we are convinced that it was not done in consequence of the orders that were given. You please to say that this occurrence was occasioned by a quarrell between our officers & your soldiers in a Bawdy House. We disown this in no manner, but we acquainted you already by our precedent letter that we selves blamed their imprudent behaviour whereby they were opposed to such insults & we cannot see, Gentlemen, why you wished we had not lain you under a necessity of relating it. 'Tis not the place that puts any infamy upon a man that is found there, but the bad actions that he commits or the shamefull intention wherewith he comes there, may it be in a Palace or a Church as well as in a Bawdy House, yet 'tis known and in case of necessity it would be lawfully proved, that the beforementioned officers were not gone to that infamous house out of incon-tinence, or debauchery, nor with any bad intention, but in order to do their duty after the notion their plainness furnished them with; and we solicit willingly every body that knows personally the two officers in question, which are both elderly men, to witness if they have any acquaintance or connection with wretches like you seem to suppose; or if they are capable to seek scuffles in such a house with soldiers or other common people. But it is not to be doubted nor to be wondered at that they fell there in quarrelling, for 'tis a hard thing for a Sea Captain as well as for a Military Officer, that deserters which were formerly under their command dare publicly offer them verbal great injuries, and their honour was engaged to repell force by force. If such as act in this manner can be consider'd as violaters of the publik peace and consequently seized and carried into the Castle, the streets are not safe for any of ourselves that has not with him a numerous attendance, in order to make resistance; for none of us, one by one, should, ever can, or will bear it for the honour of our nation. We know very well that like it ordinarily happens that the matter has been lain before you in a very different manner than what was reported on our side, but we resign very willingly to you our judgments, if the deposition of deserters and other common people can counterballance the testimony of honest men whose behaviour is known to be irreprehensible.

Our Deputys having only reported that Mr Price was of opinion to be not obliged to give any further satisfaction than the immediate orders he gave for the enlargement of the seized officers, it was not possible for us to attribute his declining of returning them in an honourable manner in an English coach, to such cause as you have the complaisance to alledge for the motives of it, whose value or invalidity we will not examine, in order to put a stop to this odious matter, but restrain ourselves only to say that we will be very glad to experience that your dealing with us may agree to your obliging protestations, like we readily confide, and we think to have well merited by our deportment in the time of your last expedition & otherwise.

Surat, 11th Decem<sup>r</sup>. 1759.

We are with Esteem,
Sir & Sirs,
Your most obedient Servants.

---

Tuesday, 18th December 1759.—Signed & sent a Warrant to Cap<sup>t</sup> Luis D'Gloss, Commanding Officer in the Castle for the execution of Augustine Bulley, private soldier, agreeable to the sentence passed on him by a Court Martial:—

To Captain Louis D'Gloss,

Commanding Officer of the Forces of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the United English East India Company in the City of Surat.

Sir,

By virtue of a power given us by the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Rich<sup>d</sup> Bouchier, Esq<sup>r</sup>, President and Gov<sup>r</sup> & C<sup>a</sup> Council on Bombay for putting in execution the sentence of a Gen<sup>l</sup> Court Martial upon Augustine Bulley, who having been tried at Bombay agreeable to the Articles of War was found guilty of desertion & sentenced to be shot to death by a Platoon of soldiers. This is therefore to will and impower you to put the said sentence in execution in the most publick manner on Fryday next, the twenty-first instant, between the hours of nine in the forenoon and three in the afternoon of that day, for which this shall be to you and all others whom it may concern a sufficient warrant. Given under our hands & seals in Surat this eighteenth day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred & fifty-nine and in the thirty-third year of his Majestys reign.

Wednesday, 19th—Sailed a Dutch ship for Batavia.

Thursday, 20th—Advice was this day received that the Great Mogul had been strangled by the Vizier, and that Shau Jehan, aged twenty-five years, was placed on the Throne.

Dispatch'd an express to the Select Committee to advise them thereof :—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

I dispatch this express to your Hon<sup>rs</sup> &c<sup>a</sup> to acquaint you that letters are just now received from Dilhi, advising that on the 30th of last month the Mogul was killed by his Vizier Gazeordy Khan, who invited him to an hunting, and drawing him aside caused him to be strangled interring the body in a garden adjacent to the city called Ayhoo Bag. Shau Jehan, aged about twenty-five years, is exalted to the Throne. This important Revolution its feared will occasion great troubles in the Empire as it's said that Coemur Ally Khan with a numerous body of Horse & some Marattas & Pattans were advancing from Lucknore towards the capital, but I shall use all suitable means to prevent the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys revenues or interest in this city being prejudiced from any changes that may happen.

I am,

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Your most obed<sup>t</sup> hble serv<sup>t</sup>,

W<sup>m</sup> AND W<sup>m</sup> PRICE.

Surat, 20th December 1759.

Tuesday, 5th February 1760.—Imported our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters ship the "Harcourt," Captain W<sup>m</sup> Webber, from Bombay. By her rece<sup>d</sup> the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Pres<sup>t</sup> and Councils commands of the 29th ultimo.

Gentlemen,

We have received your letters of the 15th & 17th instant, which we shall now reply to, as well as to those we acknowledged under the 11th ins<sup>t</sup>.

We observe that on more mature consideration you are of opinion it will be better to defer sending a congratulatory letter and a small present to the new Mogull, in which we concur, but we cannot consent by any means to your requesting our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters Rights of Priveledges in Surat and their Phirmaunds & Hookums may be renewed or confirmed, as we deem them valid & because such a step would of course be a good plea for rendering them invalid on the demise of every King and every change of Government.

Our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters ship "Harcourt," Captain W<sup>m</sup> Webber, now proceeds to the Bar for receiving her freight for Mocha. Cap<sup>t</sup> Webber has been appointed by the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Court of Directors Chief Agent for said Ship at Mocha & we have in consequence of their Commands nominated M<sup>r</sup> Samuel Court second Agent & M<sup>r</sup> George Norton third, agreeable to which M<sup>r</sup> Court must embark on her dispatch for Mocha to assist in carrying out instructions into executions relative to their transactions at Mocha. We hope the "Harcourts" freight having been so long agreed for & her early appearance at the Bar will occasion her being soon fill'd, when you are to deliver the Commander his Dispatches for Mocha & the Agents a manifest of the Frieght, giving them the necessary information in regard to the money lent the Proprietors at Responrentia & putting the Commander under the Agents orders in his future proceedings.

By the "Harcourt" we consign you some Purchasers Goods, & comply with your Indent of Broad Cloth & Perpets, as far as we are able, Invoice & Bill of Lading for which are herewith transmitted amounting to Rupees 9158-3-72.

Having thought proper to enforce the order the late Chief gave Captain De Glosse on no time to deliver up the Castle without our orders, notwithstanding you may happen to be under the necessity of requiring him to do it by your persons being under restraint, we enclose said orders for your delivering it to him, wherein you will observe we have inserted a clause that he is nevertheless in every other instance to continue to obey your or the Chiefs orders, that he may not imagine we mean to have him at all less dependent on your authority in other matters.

In the packett is likewise copy of a letter from the accompaniment representing a short credit of six hundred (600) rupees in the Chiefs accounts while he resided at Fort Victoria, together with copies of his letters, Bill of Exchange of Cash Accounts, in order for his rectifying the error to our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters satisfaction.

You are in future to send us an account of the cost & cha.<sup>s</sup> of any cattle at the time you supply us therewith.

Judging it necessary to have a Chaplain at your place & the Reverend M<sup>r</sup> Edward Millner having been recommended to us by Vice Admiral Pocock, he now proceeds, to whom you are to pay a salary of 50£ per annum & 50£ more as found deserving, with an allowance of 50 R<sup>s</sup> per month for diet & 17 R<sup>s</sup> per month for servants wages, all to commence from the twenty-second instant.

Having reflected also on the impropriety of the Roman Catholicks belonging to your Garrison attending the French Chaplain, & learning that the Carmelite Padre named Jacinto is well affected to our interest & acknowledges no subjection to the French, we would have you permit of their attending him, only at Divine Service, in some place near the Castle.

Mess<sup>rs</sup> George Chalmers & Rich<sup>d</sup> Walsh having been promoted to the rank of Lieutenants of Infantry, their Commissions are now forwarded & Ensign Nugent proceeds to relieve the latter, who is to repair hither. M<sup>r</sup> Nugent has received his pay & allowance to the 29th of Feb<sup>y</sup> with the usual passage money.

Bombay Castle, 29th Janua<sup>y</sup> 1760.

We are,
Your Loving Friends.

Surat, Wednesday, 12th March 1760.

A narrative of the Battle fought between the armies commanded by Lieut<sup>t</sup> Colonel Coote of his Majestys 84th Regiment, and Commander in Chief of the English Forces on the Coast of Choromandel & Lieutenant General Lally, Commander in Chief of the French Force in India upon the plains of Wandivash the 22<sup>d</sup> January 1760.

A body of about 2000 Marattas commanded by Innis Caun, the chief officer of Mororow, having joined the enemy at Arcot on the 9th Jan<sup>y</sup>, their whole army marched the next day, and on the 15th invested Wandivash. Our army marched to the relief of the place the 21st and arrived that evening at Isembore, a village about eight miles to the north-east of it. The next morning at daybreak the whole army moved from Isembore towards Wandivash. Between 7 & 8 o'clock the enemys Cavalry appeared, whereupon our Horse and some Companys of Seepoys with two p<sup>s</sup> of Cannon were ordered to advance upon them, which did some execution. Our Army then inclined to the right for about two miles still continuing skirmishing with the enemy. At ten o'clock the two Armys cannonaded each other very briskly for about an hour. The enemys Line of Infantry then marching up, our army advanced to attack them; and Colonel Coote perceiving a tumbril of Ammunition to blow up on their left, Major Brereton with Co<sup>l</sup>. Drapers Regiment was ordered to wheel & flank them, upon which occasion they behaved with remarkable gallantry. The two armies continuing to advance upon each other the whole time, made the action general, which lasted till two o'clock, when the enemy were put to the rout, & fled under cover of their Cavalry, in which they had a great superiority, and left us masters of the Field of Battle. Brigadier General Bussy, Colonel Murphy, the Chevalir De Godeville, Quarter-Master General, and fourteen inferior officers are taken prisoners. The enemy had 600 men killed & wounded of which 20 were killed on the spot. We are masters of their whole Camp, Baggage and Artillery, consisting of twenty-one p<sup>s</sup> of Cannon of which 6 are twenty-four and eighteen Pounders. Our loss in the action is as follows:—Ensigns Stuart, Collins & Evans killed and ten Officers wounded, Major Brereton amongst the latter, & it is feared dangerously, & one hundred & ninety non-Commissioned & private killed & wounded. Mr Lally with the remains of the French Army retired to their Garrisons of Chelleput & Gingey.

---

An account of the Proceedings of the Dutch in Bengal toward the close of the year 1759.

An armament from Batavia consisting of six ships with 500 European troops on board and 600 Burgesses or Malays commanded by Colonel Roussel, having touch'd at Negapatam, proceeded from thence to Bengal, where they arrived the beginning of October.

Notwithstanding the Subah of Bengals express commands to the Directore & Council at Hugly to prevent this armament proceeding up the river, they nevertheless advanced very near Tannah Fort, where they thought proper to land their men rather than attempt to force their passage by the Batteries we had erected on the banks of the river. On the first intelligence of their being on shore, Colonel Forde with all the Military in Calcutta was ordered to proceed to the French Gardens and prevent the Dutch party from getting into Chinsura, in consequence of which Colonel Forde thinking it necessary to advance to the N<sup>w</sup>ard of Chandernagore, entered that town on the 24th of November, where his advanced guard was fired upon by a detachment of Dutch who had marched out of Chinsura with intent to join & strenghten the party expected from their ships. Upon this an action ensued, wherein about 40 Dutch were killed and taken with all their Cannon consisting of 5 p<sup>s</sup>. Colonel Forde that evening having intelligence that the party from their ships was advancing to Chinsura, march'd early the next morning in order to intercept them and was so fortunate as to meet them on a plain at some distance from Chinsura. On our troops appearing the enemy (consisting of near 700 Europeans & 600 Burgesses) advanced with great resolution, but received so smart a fire from our Artillery & Battalion, that they in a short time gave way and were totally routed. The success of this action, considering the very small number of Europeans we had in the field, greatly exceeded our expectation, for very few of the enemy escaped being killed or taken prisoners. Matters being carried thus far, we quickly rece<sup>d</sup> proposals of accomodation from the Directore & Council of Chinsura, and in consequence thereof a Treaty has been concluded betwixt them and the Nabob & between them and us. Of prisoners taken on this occasion upwards of 330 have voluntarily entered into our service, the remainder are embarked on board their ships which were about to leave the river the 3<sup>d</sup> instant.

The Dutch Commodore having stop't & searched several of our vessels, the Commanders of the "Calcutta," "Duke of Dorset," and "Harwicke," were directed to make reprisals, and accordingly the ship on which the Commodore was aboard with four others were taken after an action of two hours. They have since been delivered up, agreeably to the articles agreed on by both partys & restitution is to be made us for the damages & losses we have sustained on the occasion.

Wednesday, 4th June 1760.—The Chief received the following letter from the French Resident complaining of his having been insulted in the streets by some Seepoys belonging to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company :—

Sir,

It is not said in the priveledges which the French Nation enjoys at Surat, that it is patiently to put up with affronts whether from European Nations or the Government of the city. That which I just now received is of such a nature as requires ample and speedy satisfaction. An hour ago I was returning from the French Gardens, I was insulted in the city which belongs to the Mogull, in consequence thereof I immediately sent a Protest to the Nabob in order that he might make me reparation; and they were your people, Sir, who, not contented with refusing to let me pass, carried their insolence so far as to draw the sword upon my Peons and Servants and put their musquets upon my Coach when I and my Brother were in it. Therefore as Chief of the French Nation at Surat, I likewise protest against you in the name of the King, my master, and demand immediate satisfaction proportionable to the publick insult I have received. I wait, Sir, for your answer and that of the Nabobs, that I may advise my superiours accordingly. You have herwith enclosed the letter that I wrote to the Nabob upon this subject; and tomorrow I shall dispatch with the greatest speed to Pondicherry to make a report of this affair, the sequel of which may be of the greatest consequence. I request you will consider thereof and in the meantime remedy it.

I have the honour to be very truly,
Your most humble and obedient Servant,

French Factory, the 4th June 1760.

ANQUETIL DE BREANCOURT.

Orders were hereupon immediately issued to the Commander of the Forces to make the necessary enquirys thereinto. The following is his report there :—

Sir,

By order of Cap<sup>t</sup> DeGloss I now send you the defence of Shaik Mahmud Jimledar in Govindjees Company who is charged with insulting the French Resident this morning in the street leading to the Mecca Gate.

Shaik Mahmud Jimledar says that coming to a narrow place in the street at the head of his Guard he saw a Coach with a Gentleman in it driving up towards him, upon which he ordered his people to incline to one side to let the Coach pass, but while he was speaking to his people to that purpose a Persee servant came to him and gave him a shove to one side. The Jimledar upon that asked him if he had not eyes in his head, or if he did not see him, or if he wanted to quarrell with him, to which the servants replyd (who had got several Seepoys about him by this time, belonging to his master), Why dont you make way for the French Chief? The Jimledar answered, You see I am making way for him as much as possible, and during their discourse the coach being now come up to them stop'd a little time till the Guard made way for its passing, but no more words pass'd, the Gentleman in the coach only pointing his finger & shaking his head at him.

The above is confirmed by Browsing, Duffedar in Prang Sings Company, & Cannojee Sindy Naik in Balkers C<sup>o</sup>.

The bearer hereof is the Jimledar in question and the Duffedar and Naik are along with him.

I am with the utmost respect,

S<sup>r</sup>

Your most obed<sup>t</sup> & humble Servant,

GEO. CHALMERS,

Adj<sup>t</sup>.

Surat Castle, 4th June 1760.

Signed by the Interpreter and a Witness.

Thursday, 5th.—The people abovementioned were again examined by the Chief and confirmed their declaration before set forth. He wrote the following letter to the French Resident :—

Sir,

I was yesterday favoured with a letter from you complaining of your having been affronted by some people belonging to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, which very much surprized me, as all their Dependants have positive orders to behave in a respectfull manner towards every body, more especially those of an European nation. I issued immediate orders to the Commander of our Forces to make the proper enquiry into this affair, the result of which convinces me that your people were the aggressors by one of your servants actually striking an officer of ours marching down at the head of his Guard, who out of decency to you did not resent it in the manner it deserved, for which I shall not fail to chastize him. This being the case, I must in my turn demand that you give that servant a proper punishment, and protest against you for the ill consequences that may attend your not complying therewith.

I must observe to you that the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company Seepoy Officers always march with drawn Sabres at the head of their men, which I presume you construed into an insult upon you.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obed<sup>t</sup> and most h<sup>ble</sup> Servant.

5th June 1760.

Saturday, 7th.—Received a Letter from the French Resident, of which the following is translate :—

Gentlemen,

It is needless to impart to you the affront that I received four days ago. The publick rumour will no doubt have made you acquainted therewith, besides the letter which I wrote to M<sup>r</sup> Price on this subject and of which you have a copy herewith enclosed can inform you.

particularly regarding the insult for which I demand satisfaction. Be so good as to read the same, and you will afterwards easily perceive that the reparation that I require cannot be refused without injustice. A Chief accompanied by all those who form the body of his nation affronted in a free city in the middle of the streets by a Guard of Black Soldiers, ought to demand reparation, not pass over in silence this insult of the highest nature.

You know too well, Gentlemen, the respective rights of nations not to punish a procedure of this kind. I expected this Justice from M<sup>r</sup>. Price, but I perceive by his answer, which I desire you likewise to read, that he has been very badly informed concerning this affair by the Commandant of the Troops, without which the Justice natural to all men, and which ought to characterize all persons in station, would have procured me from him not a Letter which makes the insult that I received still greater, but full and entire satisfaction. M<sup>r</sup>. Price by his answer puts me on a footing with a Black Fellow in regard to an affair for the truth of which in the station I am I ought to be beleived on my word; nevertheless, the contrary happens to be the case upon an information well or badly made by the Commandant of the Troops. Credit is given to what a Jummedar says, who, as he is in fault, will naturally excuse himself, and no regard is paid to the letter of a Chief of a nation who complains & demands satisfaction for an insult he has received in his own person. I leave to your reflection the decency of the parallel.

Is this, Gentlemen, the good policy which the four first lines of M<sup>r</sup>. Prices letter make mention of? The insult that I have received is rather the consequence of the letter and of this letter. To what extremity should I not see myself actually reduced to had I the imprudence to go about. The Jummedar blaimed for not having done his duty, that is to say, apparently for not having cut my people in peices, will not fail the first opportunity in order not to mind a reprimand, entirely to discharge the duty of his trust. He will fire upon me if I do not give him the way in the middle of a street which belongs to the Mogull. To avoid the carnage that might ensue, being determined not to give up the rights of my nation, I find myself obliged therefore to stay at home.

If this Jummedar did his duty in disputing me the Passage and by committing violence to my people, which appears, Gentlemen, by the letter of your Chief, be so good, if you please, to tell me, because I know nobody but the Nabob in the city. Your Guards have no right over me, and so long as you are yourselves only masters of the Castle, I ought not to give up any thing, and indeed I will not, except to him who commands in the city and who represents the Mogull. If as Arbiters of Surat you pretend to have all authority in the place, and that even to the Chiefs of Nations, every one here ought to be subordinate to you, I request of you therefore to advise me thereof. I will in such case inform my superiours, who will not fail to order me instantly to leave Surat. If on the contrary things are upon the same footing in which M<sup>r</sup>. Spencer left them and the neutrality really exists in it, the national prerogatives are the same, the subordination in the city ought to be kept only towards the Nabob, the Chief of Nations should be respected therein, as they have always been, and the affronts offered to them or to their dependants, far from being sustained or palliated, should be punished with the utmost rigour.

These are I think the intentions of Bombay, from which the reparation I demand naturally follows, and which I cannot desist from asking, otherwise I should be wanting in duty to my King who has received a signal affront in my person, and I should infringe the priveledges which the French Nation enjoys at Surat and which I am answerable for in quality of Chief.

Having maturely examined the contents of this letter, you cannot, Gentlemen, dispence with ordering me the satisfaction which the insult committed by your people requires. If you have reasons for refusing me, I expect that you will communicate them, that my superiors and yours may be made acquainted therewith, & I beg of you to consider that the measures which Pondichery will assuredly take on this occasion may be of fatal consequence to Surat.

I have the honour to be very truly,
Gentlemen,
Your most obedient & humble Servant,

French Factory, 7th June 1760.

ANQUETIL DE BRIANCOURT.

Sunday, 8th.—The above letter being taken into consideration the people noticed in the Adjutants report again examined and confirming their former declaration: also Shaik Jummal, an inhabitant of the street where the affair happened affirming the same, wrote the following letter to the French Resident :—

S<sup>r</sup>,

We have received your letter with copy of that wrote to the Chief and his reply, and whereupon summoned such people before us as could give us any knowledge or insight in the dispute which has lately happened and in which you seem to think yourself insulted, and from copies of their depositions herewith inclosed it is evident your people were the aggressors; consequently, we cannot recede from the Cheifs declaration in regard to your Persee servant. As you are of opinion our superiours in Bombay will be of your sentiments on this subject, we shall transmit all the papers relative thereto for their cognizance and direction, and in the meantime we assure you that you and your dependance may safely go abroad and transact their business without fear of affront or insult from any people belonging to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> English Company, provided those of your Factory are not the aggressors.

Surat, 8th June 1760.

We are Sir,
Your most obed<sup>t</sup> h<sup>ble</sup> Servants.

Thursday, 3rd July 1760.—Received the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Councils Commands as follows :—

Gentlemen,

The accompanying is duplicate of our last, since when we have received your letters of the 9th & 13th instant.

We shall defer ordering you to strike of the Prov<sup>s</sup> allowed your Garrison till you have settled a cartell with the Dutch for the mutual return of deserters.

With respect to the complaint made by Mons<sup>r</sup> Briancourt, we think the Chief would have acted more prudently if he had sent one of your Board to have waited on him in order that you might by that means have known what he had to urge in support of his complaint, and as by his letter to us he highly resents your conduct on this occassion, we would have you make a full and impartial examination into the affair and give Mons<sup>r</sup> Briancourt timely notice of it, at the same time desiring him to send to you whatever evidences he may have, when we recommend to you to settle it in an easy and amicable manner. In the Packett is our reply to him & copy thereof for your observation.

We agree to your repairing the vessells on your establishment, agreeable to copy of the report survey transmitted us on the 13th instant.

Not having received a State of the investment & account current with the contractors for a considerable time, you are to forward the same by the first opportunity, & as you have not yet drawn out the abstract we ordered in our letter of the 15th November last, we enclose a Form for your better complying therewith as soon as you are able.

Having referred to the Superintendent what you represented regarding the "Tanka" Grab, as also the Commanders account of his proceedings, we in consequence thereof direct that you suspend him from our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters service, and direct him to repair hither after the rains, that you sell the Hull of that vessel at public outcry for the most it will fetch, and transmit us an inventory of the stores belonging to her, specifying their condition, that we may give you orders concerning them.

Let Cap<sup>t</sup> Lieut<sup>t</sup> Degur be required to hold himself in readiness for returning hither by the first proper conveyance at the opening of the season.

We are,

Your loving Freinds.

Bombay Castle, 25th June 1760.

---

Copy of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Pres<sup>t</sup> & Council their letter to Mons<sup>r</sup> Briancourt.

Sir,—We have received your favour of the 13th instant with the accompanying papers, in which we are sorry to observe that you have had occasion to address us on such an affair and the more so that M<sup>r</sup> Price did not prefer sending a member of his Council to wait on you when first apprised of it to have enquired into particulars, that he might by that means have known what you had to urge in support of the complaint and in order to afford you such reparation as the case requires. We now direct M<sup>r</sup> Price and Council to make a full and impartial scrutiny into the affair & give you, Sir, timely notice that you may produce whatever evidences you may have to adjust this unlucky difference, and when we hope it may be terminated to your satisfaction, as we shall be always ready (as far as we consistently can) to promote it, for it is our desire & intention that the Rights of European Nations in Surat be preserved, that tho we are at variance in other parts, in that city a strict neutrality be observed in all shapes.

We are,

Sir,

Your most obed<sup>t</sup> and humble Servants.

Bombay Castle, 25th June 1760.

---

Surat, Saturday, 5th July 1760.

At a Consultation, Present :

William Andrew Price, Esq<sup>r</sup>, Chief.

Cecil Bowyer. | Tho<sup>s</sup> Mostyn.

Nath : Stackhouse. | John Halsey.

Read & approved our last Consultation of the 30th ultimo.

Read the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Pres<sup>t</sup> & Councils Commands of the 3rd ins<sup>t</sup>.

Resolved that Wednesday the 9th instant be appointed for re-examining into M<sup>r</sup> Briancourts complaint & M<sup>r</sup> Nathaniel Stackhouse be deputed to wait upon him to desire he will send any evidences he may have in order that this affair may be easily & amicably adjusted. Proper orders to be issued for taking an inventory & condition of the "Tankas" stores to be forwarded to the Presidency.

Wheat still continuing very low & hearing that it bears an advantageous price at Bombay, Resolved that we address our Superiors for permission to send what old wheat is remaining in the Castle thither.

Read a letter from the Paymaster, representing to the Board that he believes he shall be able to purchase the stones wanted for the Castle at about five annas each, but as we are not at present in want of them—Ordered the purchase be deferred.

Adjourned.

W. A. PRICE.
CECIL BOWYER.
THO<sup>s</sup>. MOSTYN.
NATH. STACKHOUSE.
J. HALSEY.

Account salary the 9th paid the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys covenanted servants their salary from 2<sup>d</sup> January to the 1st ins<sup>t</sup> inclusive:—

	Mo.	£	per Annum.
William Andrew Price, Esquire, Chief ...	... 6	£100	400
M <sup>r</sup> . Cecil Bowyer, Junior Merchant ...	... 6	30	120
„ Thomas Mostyn, Factor ...	... 6	15	60
„ Reader of Divine Service ...	... 15	12—10	9-2-86
„ Nathaniel Stackhouse, Factor ...	... 6	15	60
„ John Halsey, Factor ...	... 6	15	60
The Rev <sup>d</sup> M <sup>r</sup> . Milner, Chaplain ...	... 5 11	150	178-3-60
D <sup>o</sup> as found deserving	... 5 11	50	178-3-60
M <sup>r</sup> . Ritch <sup>d</sup> . Mainwaring, Surgeon ...	... 3	36	72
			1139 2 6
Ballance ...	...	...	95438 3 3
			Rupees 134064 2 4

Sunday, 29th March 1761.—Copy of M<sup>r</sup>. Spencers Letter to y<sup>e</sup>. Governor & Council of Bombay:—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

As you have been pleased to require my opinion in respect to y<sup>e</sup>. Chief and Council residing in the Castle of Surat, and the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys continuing to hold the old factory or not in the City, I shall beg leave to trouble you with the following remarks w<sup>ch</sup> may be necessary for your coming to some Resolution on this occasion.

A residence in y<sup>e</sup>. Castle for y<sup>e</sup>. chief and factors wou<sup>d</sup> seem to any one not acquainted with the present circumstances of Surat the most eligible measure, and to be what wou<sup>d</sup> give great security to our possession of it, yet there are some other circumstances that may perhaps make it appear not so proper a step to our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters when they were apprized of them, and they are these.

Our requisition of the Castle and “Tanka” and the share we possess in consequence thereof in y<sup>e</sup>. revenues, and in fact of the Government of the place, renders it absolutely necessary for the Chief to have frequent meetings with those in power, especially the Naib

Nabobs family, & sometimes the Nabob himself, besides being always easy of access to y<sup>e</sup> principal people of the place out of Government that have complaints of oppression to make, or sometimes useful advice or information to give. The custom of the country, especially among the Moguls, is a great parade of armed attendants, more or less, according to station of Ranks, sometimes to the number of several hundreds. This their mutual jealousy of each other, exclusive of its being a customary Indian parade, renders it with them a thing indispensable. To admit this number, or even such a number as they should think necessary, into y<sup>e</sup> Castle would be unsafe, and liable to many accidents from the irregularity of their people & our own. To refuse them wou'd create jealousies and suspicions, & wou'd by them be interpreted as offending & lessening their dignity, and betraying a want of confidence in them, and cause a suspicion & disgust, and in the end be productive of confusion of disputes, as, from a mutual distrust, they wou'd decline taking over affairs in person, as now practised, and the whole would be left to under servants of both sides, who might have an interest in fomenting jealousies to make themselves masters. It is true they have a confidence in us and in our words, but it will & must be a work of time to make them shake off entirely their own customs & prejudices, & accommodate themselves to our customs, reasonable as they are, and till they do I should think a constant residence of the Chief in the Castle should be dispensed with, or at least if he does reside there some place without should be appointed to receive the daily visits of the country people, and the public visits of the Dutch and other European Nations at Surat.

Our old Factory is certainly most vilely situated, being in place surrounded by buildings that command it, and which wou'd render it but too easy a thing to shut up the Chief & Factors therein could the disaffected hope to derive any advantage from it, or induce the Chief & c<sup>o</sup> to consent to part with y<sup>e</sup> Castle to extricate themselves from trouble, as was once the case. Being aware of this, I gave the officer commanding in y<sup>e</sup> Castle the standing order that has since been approved of, & enforced by this Board, that in case by any such attempt our persons were restrained, the officer for the time being in the Castle was not to regard any orders of the Factory that extended in any shape to the delivery of the Castle, or to hazard our possession of it, and besides this precaution such posts were established between the Factory & the Castle by the land, that together with the Latty Water Gate being in our possession, we could not easily be prevented in retiring to the Castle on occasion, and while the caution is observed & proper intelligence kept up in the city, nothing of this nature can well happen.

Notwithstanding the above, the old Factory is certainly a most improper residence from its bad situation, and it should be judged that for merchantile concerns we should remain within y<sup>e</sup> walls of the inner city, the new Factory & Latty would be a more proper place than the old, but then it wou'd require a considerable expence to make proper accomodations for the Chief and Factors, and some additional warehouses; and even this spot is lessened in its value in point of situation to what it was formerly, for from the sands that have been thrown up in the River opposite to our Water Gate & Latty, it's only at particular times of tide that business can be done there, for at some time of tide there is not water enough for a Pinnace, and makes business with the large Surat Boats at all times go on but slowly; yet with all these disadvantages it is to be preferred to y<sup>e</sup> old Factory for a residence, which but for the posts occupied by us, as abovementioned (which we cannot positively pronounce that accident may not deprive us off) has no communication with y<sup>e</sup> River; but though the Latty warehouses are large & commodious, others wou'd still be wanting, & it wou'd require besides a very considerable expence to make it even tollerably commodious for the whole Factory.

The bad situation of the old Factory, & the new Factory being rendered so little convenient for Trade by the sands thrown up in the River, often led me when at Surat to look upon the Bunder we have acquired lately, called the Seydee Tengue Bunder, as the most proper spot for our establishment, & which from its situation wou'd add strength even to our possession of the Castle itself. There is a place between it & our gardens belonging to the Chillabies, which they might be induced to part with, & then the spot wou'd be compleat, & a number of weavers & other usefull people would draw near you if it should be necessary to give your protection to such, and besides it's a fine situation, close to the Rivers side & the entrance of the town that way, & wou'd not only from it's situation prevent your being at any time surprized, but always keep open your communication with the Castle, let what would happen, & is in some degree protected by it. Besides, it's a place where your vessels are stationed during the rains, & wou'd afford a mutual protection to one another; & that place is so proper for business, that at all times of tide the largest boats can come close to it. Another consideration that has more weight with me than all is this, that you have the Dutch Bunder then between the Castle and your Principal Establishment, in such a manner that they could not, so situated, attempt any thing to our prejudice, were they so inclined; but their situation is changed so much for the real benefit of their Company, that I should rather think nothing of this sort will be attempted by them, while our affairs are prudently conducted, but should designs contrary to expectation be harboured by them, I know no greater check that wou'd be to them than the Castle & such a situation.

Some warehouses and additional buildings for better accomodating of the Chief &c wou'd be in such case requisite, the nature of them & number on actual survey on the spot wou'd determine. However, I now deliver to your Honor &c a survey of that quarter of the Town, including the O'tway Gate possessed by us, & a perspective view towards the River. In case our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters should determine on this place, the new Factory & what belongs to the Company of the old might be disposed off very well, especially the new Factory & Latty, & it wou'd ease them not only of a considerable annual expence of & repairs on some of the Buildings of the old Factory that are not their own property but only rented, but would entirely free us from the inconveniences our present situation submits us to, & the Trade we carry on might be done full as well in respect to the city, at the Bunder, as at the old or new Factory.

The whole is submitted to your Honor &c<sup>ca</sup> consideration, & if thought proper what is here set forth, might be sent to Surat for the sentiments of the Gentlemen there, as, since my having y<sup>e</sup> place some circumstances may have made, what I here advance, more or less convenient than when I was there.

The Hon<sup>ble</sup> President has himself resided at Surat, & knows the situation, & two of the members of this Board were there during the time of my residence, & I think are as much convinced as I can be of the inconveniences of our factories & y<sup>e</sup> utility the spot recommended wou'd be off. On the whole, therefore, I cannot but give it as my opinion that your Honor &c will do the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company essential service in removing their Factory to the place I have pointed out.

Bombay, the 23<sup>d</sup> Mar. 1761.

I am, with respect,
Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,
Your most obed<sup>t</sup> humble Servant,
JOHN SPENCER.

(True Copy.)

DAN<sup>L</sup> DRAPER,
Secretary.

Surat, Tuesday, 4th August 1761.

At a Consultation, Present :

William Andrew Price, Esq <sup>r</sup> , Chief;
Cecil Bowyer.	Thomas Mostyn.
Nathaniel Stackhouse.

Jno. Stephenson, indisposed.

Read and approved our last Consultation of the 25th ultimo.

Likewise our Superiors commands just now received, and taking into consideration that part regarding the proclaiming his present Majesty George the Third, we are of opinion that a tent pitched before the Castle is the most proper for this purpose. That the day after tomorrow be appointed for this solemnity, a Royal Salute with three vollies of small arms being fired from the Castle, together with a salute from the Fleet, and all people under the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys protection required to attend, and to prevent any jealousy on the part of the Nabob, that a Deputation of two of the Council be sent to him to acquaint him with our intention, and that it relates solely to our Garrison and the people under the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys protection.

CECIL ROWYER.

THOMAS MOSTYN.

Approved,

JN<sup>o</sup> STEPHENSON.

Thursday, 6th.—The Chief and Council, the Officers Military and Marine, and people trading under the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys protection together with the Nabobs son, the Naib and principal officers of the Government attending at the Tent, his most Gracious Majesty George the Third was proclaimed under a discharge of the cannon and small arms of the Castle and the cannon of the fleet.

Whereas it has pleased Almighty God to call to his Devine mercy our late most Gracious Sovereign Lord George the Second of ever blessed memory, by whose decease the Imperial Crowns of Great Britain, France and Irland, as also the Supream Dominion and Sovereign Right of the Castle and Island Bombay, and all other his lot of Majestys Dominions on the coast of India, Persia and Arabia are solely and rightfully come to the High and Mighty Prince George of Wales, we therefore the Chief and Council for all forces and affairs of the United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies, at their settlement of Surat, subordinate to and dependant upon the aforesaid Island of Bombay, the officers of the Companys Troops, the Commander of the Companys Marine and all others trading under the Noble Companys protection at Surat, do now hereby with one full voice and consent of Tongue and Heart, publish and proclaim that the High and mighty Prince George, Prince of Wales, is now, by the death of our late Sovereign of happy memory, become our only lawful and rightful Liege Lord George the Third, by the Grace of God, King of Great Britain, France and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, Supream Lord of the Castle and Island Bombay, and all other his late Majestys Territories and Dominions, on the Coast of India, Persia and Arabia, to whom we do acknowledge all faithfull and constant obedience, with all hearty and humble affection, beseeching God, by whom Kings and Queens do reign, to bless the Royal King George the Third with long and happy years to reign over us. Given at Surat this Sixth Day of August in the year of our Lord one thousand seven hundred and sixty-one.

God save the King.

JOHN SCOTT.

WILLIAM LANE.

W. A. PRICE.

EDWARD NUGENT.

LUIS DEHOSS.

CECIL BOWYER.

JOHN MASTERSON.

GEO. WHITE.

THOMAS MOSTYN.

GEORGE GOODCHILD.

GEO. CHALMERS.

NATH. STACKHOUSE.

JOHN CHAMBERS.

JOHN HOULLERITZ.

Sunday, 6th September 1761.—Copy of the Committee of Accounts their Remarks under the 20th August on the accounts received from Surat:—

In the Military Pay Masters disbursements for March there appears an extraordinary charge exhibiting Fireworks on the reduction of Ponticherry rupees 412-2-25 and again appears in the Land Pay Masters disbursements for April a charge of the same time	...	...	...	...	...	...	294	1	85

									<hr/> 707 0 10

The suffering a charge of this nature to appear in different Pay Masters accounts looks as if meant to hide the largeness of it, as it certainly is an exorbitant sum, the particulars of which should be sent to the Presidency.

CHARLES CROMMELIN.
THOMAS BYFELD.
WILLIAM HORNBY.
ROBERT HALFORD.
BENJAMIN JERVIS.

Surat, Tuesday, 19th January 1762.

Gentlemen,

Without doubt you cannot be ignorant of the violence that was offered me some days ago by the Nabob Meamud by putting an affront of the grossest kind on the French Nation. The Flag of his most Christian Majesty has it any how angered the Moors, to whom our ships shew so much favor in granting them the liberty of Trade, whenever they are met furnished with a French Pass. Permit me, Gentlemen, to ask you what right the Nabob of Surat has to infringe upon the privileges granted to the French Nation by the Great Mogul Aurangzebe his master and break the neutrality which is the life of his city? Is it permitted him because I am alone here to send into my house, where I am my own master, from seven to eight hundred men armed with lances, hatches, bows, arrow & musquets. Will you pass over in silence such audacity? Is it not violating the right of the people and even that of hospitality to give orders to his Seepoys to surround the French Garden, to invest my house, take possession of all the rooms therein, to go even into the apartments of my wife, and in my presence to do such improper things as breathed nothing but indecency and pillage? Whilst I was engaged with this mutinous mob who surrounded me even to my office, without waiting for my answer to know the reason of their coming, the Jumidar gave an order to his people to take possession of my two Cannon, which were an umbrage to them, and to cut the mast of the Flag.

These two things done in my sight, Gentlemen, provoked me in such a manner that I was not myself. I threw myself amongst them, and obliged those who were near me to put these two Cannon in their places again, which they did. This vivacity had very near cost me dear. The matches of their pieces were already lighted. They waited only for the signal to fire upon me and my family. But the sight of my wife big with child and near her some & all in tears making me apprehend some fatal accident, calmed my fire, and saved us all from massacre and pillage. The Nabob, not satisfied with having struck the Flag of the King my master, who has always shewn him favour by protecting his ships, caused immediately the mast to be dug up, erected near one hundred years ago.

Will he say, Gentlemen, that that which he has caused to be dug up was erected about a month since? To this I answer that the old mast having been burnt three years ago by accident, is yet looked upon as now subsisting. As to what regards the Flag, let him shew me his authority for striking it, as well as to you, Gentlemen, whom this affront ought to affect in the most lively manner. Will he object by saying that I have not asked his permission? A privilege once obtained of the thing, is it customary to solicit the Minister for the enjoyment thereof? Let him peruse the Perwannah granted to the French by Aurangzebe, a copy of which is no doubt in the Durbar, he will see how much he has violated all decency. He will add perhaps that for these forty years the French Flag has not been hoisted in Surat. Is that a reason, Gentlemen, that it may not now be? The Flag was flying forty years ago in open day. The negligence of the French must certainly have given room for this, and not the debts of the old Company, which the new never took upon themselves. It has not been judged proper to replace it since, and the 2<sup>d</sup> of this month I caused it to be hoisted without any ceremony or form. Wherein am I blameable, Gentlemen?

A silence for fifteen days on the part of the Nabob upon this subject makes me believe that he has looked over his Registers for something that may authorize his unprecedented proceeding. But it appears he has found nothing, as he cannot produce to me any order from the Mogull for these forty years past to strike it. I have therefore a right to hoist it when I please, as I am provided with a Perwannah that Aurangzeb granted the French in his time which is of the same tenour as that of your Royal Nation. Why, Gentlemen, should I ask the Nabobs leave for a thing which I have a right to and which has always existed? This permission, shou'd I ask it, wou'd make it look like a new thing. The French Flag in Surat is not new, but you know as well as myself that from the moment of the existence of our privileges it was flying, and that since there never has been an order from the Mogull to strike it.

But it is not necessary, Gentlemen, to say any thing more on this subject. You are so well acquainted with the rights of European Nations established in Surat, and furnished with Perwannahs from the Mogull, that I need not make a detail thereof in this letter. I request of you therefore in the name of the friendship which subsists at Surat between your nation and ours—I am not afraid to make use of the expression—the neutrality, which altho' enemies elsewhere, makes us all friends in this city authorize me thereto—I request of you therefore to help me in replacing the French Flag which the Nabob has caused to be struck against all justice the 17th of this month. Permit me also to claim your witness in regard to the affront incurred on this occasion, and to protest to you against the violence which the Moors have lately committed in the French Garden.

If you do not assist me in this affair, being the only French man here with my family, destitute of all succour, I am exposed every moment to pillage and perhaps to something worse. In pleading my cause to you it is yours that I plead. What happens to me today, may happen to you tomorrow, and there is nothing but the good harmony which reigns here among the European Nations that can keep these barbarians in awe, to whom the least indulgence given may lead them to extremities. If on the contrary you take my letter into consideration, the acknowledgment the French Nation will make you sooner or later will be so much the greater as the service you will render them therein is eminent.

I have the honor to be, with respect, Gentlemen,
Your most obedient and most humble Servant,
ANQUETIL DEBRIANCOURT.

French Garden at Surat, 22<sup>d</sup> December 1761.

Surat, Monday, the 26th July 1762.

This day the Nabob blocked up the Dutch in their Factory and Bunder, having for some time past received several insults from them, particularly in two instances within these few days, viz. their beating and otherwise maltreating some workmen and Seepoys employed by his orders in stopping a window (by building a wall up close to it) they had lately knocked out and which proves a nuisance to Sewram Bushie Desay of Sundivie, concerning which Mynheer Kelly had applied to the Chief some days before, who sent to the Desay and endeavoured all in his power to settle the dispute amicably, but the Desay returned for answer that he was determined never to return to his house again till that window was stopped up; also their forcing from his Seepoys a Gentoo woman whom he had ordered to be apprehended for causing her mothers body to be burnt, notwithstanding she had professed herself a Mahometan for nigh seven years and keeping both her and the Seepoys in their Factory.

Surat, Wednesday 28th July 1762.

At a Consultation, Present:

The W <sup>o</sup> . Thomas Hodges, Esq <sup>r</sup> ., Chief.
Cecil Bowyer.	Charles Whitehill.
Thomas Mostyn.	Nathaniel Stackhouse.
Robert Gambier.	John Stephenson.

Read and approved our last Consultation of the 16th instant.

The Nabob having of late received several insults from the Dutch as mentioned under the 26th instant, and we judging this no bad opportunity and for the interest of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company as well as future tranquility of the place to have mortars and heavy Cannon above six Pounds with their shot and shells taken from them, have this day caused the same to be privately hinted to the Nabob, in order that they may be sent on their own ships to Batavia; but as it is possible the Dutch may, if drove to extremities, make use of what force they have, which from the best accounts we can get consists of about 150 military and marine, against the Nabob, who in such case will most likely apply to us for assistance in behalf of the Mogull, agreed to dispatch a Pattamar "Express" to the Governor in Council at Bombay to desire they will give us their immediate and explicit orders how we must act in such case and to acquaint them all that we have hitherto done openly in this affair in reinforcing the Mecca Gate and ordering that no armed men should pass.

THO<sup>s</sup> HODGES.
 CECIL BOWYER.
 CHA. WHITEHILL.
 THO<sup>s</sup> MOSTYN.
 R<sup>t</sup> GAMBIER.
 JN<sup>o</sup> STEPHENSON.

---

Saturday, the 31st July 1762.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Chief & C<sup>o</sup>:—

W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

The situation in which we have been in respect to the City Governor, Meer Moynodin Caun, since the 26th of this month cannot be unknown to you, as there is no one in Surat ignorant thereof. Our Factory in the City and our gardens at Nugee Bunder have been very strictly surrounded since that day by the Troops and Cannon of the Nabob without our Company having given the least occasion for it. The reasons which they alledge for acting in this manner to us, altho' very slight, are notwithstanding too long to be related here, as every day they found out some fresh pretensions, and the danger we are in is too greatly pressing to stop here, so that we must send the recital thereof by another opportunity. This is therefore only to betake ourselves to you for refuge as subjects of a Crown that is strictly allied to our Republick by treaties and alliances as well as by the ties of religion, and to request you will grant us your powerful mediation in this affair in the most friendly manner, and as we cannot depute any of our Council to go to you, to send as soon as possible only one of your Council to our said gardens, to whom we will give a full account of the whole, likewise to get leave from the Nabob that during the negotiation, in order to bring about an amicable accommodation immediately, we be not put under any further restraint nor attacked in the interim. From the friendship and good harmony which subsists between us we expect from you the same good offices that we afforded you in 1752 on a like occasion, and we have the honor to be, with true esteem,

Gentlemen,

Surat, 31st July 1762.

Your most obed<sup>t</sup> & most humble Servants.

---

Sunday the 1st August 1762.—Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Chief & Council:—
 W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Last night we had the honour to receive your favour of yesterdays date, agreeable to which we now send this by Mess<sup>rs</sup> Stackhouse & Gambier, who will assure you of our readiness to oblige you in accepting the office of mediators between you & the Nabob of this city, so far as may be consistent with our trusts, which you are well acquainted with.

Surat, 1st August 1762.

We have the honour to be,
 W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,
 Your most humble Servants.

Thursday, the 5th August 1762.—Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Chief & Council :—

W<sup>c</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Your favour of yesterdays date we received last night. Be assured, Gentlemen, we are not unmindful of your unhappy situation or of our engagement in your behalf, but the Moor holidays, together with the difficulty we are under in getting papers translated, or properly explained from the Persian language, have caused your not hearing from us before. We, however, immediately procured a promise from the Nabob not to put you under further restraint as you requested. And as to the other two preliminary points, viz. your desire to have a free communication with your gentlemen in the Factory & a safe conveyance for letters to & from us, the Nabob consents, that as often as two of your Factory gentlemen are required to be present at your Bunder, they may go, on a message being first sent him by you through his officer stationed at your Bunder; and as to letters, the same officer has his orders to forward to us by some of his own people whatever letters you may at any time have occasion to write us & to let our peons pass with our letters to you.

We have the honour to be, with perfect esteem,

Surat, 5th August 1762.

W<sup>c</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Your most Obedient H<sup>ble</sup> Servants.

Friday, 6th August 1762.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Chief & Council :—
Gentlemen,

Reposing ourselves upon what you was so good as to notice to us in the letter which you honoured us with the 5th instant, namely, that the Nabob had agreed “that whenever two of our Council at the Factory should be summoned to the Garden, they should have permission to come there after having advised thereof by the officer who commands the blockade,” we sent this morning to the Buxey to acquaint him herewith & to ask his permission to send a letter to our Factory, whereby two of the said Council were required to come to us, after they had got leave for it. The person who was employed for this message was detained till past 5 o'clock in the after noon, when he was sent back to us with an answer that the Nabob, on the contrary of what you had acquainted us with in this respect, as aforementioned, had not only absolutely refused the letting any person whatever go out of the Factory to come to us, but also the passing of any letter for those at the Factory.

In consequence whereof we find ourselves under the necessity, Gentlemen, to make a complaint thereof to you, as, in quality of mediators, it is to you that the Nabob promised this permission & it is by you that we have been acquainted therewith, & to express our apprehensions that they may not be more exact in observing their word given in other respects, as well as in regard to this article, as likewise to request you would immediately use your authority to prevent their further retracting from what has once been agreed to.

And as we most earnestly desire to see an end to these disagreeable circumstances, we cannot help redoubling our entreaties that you will be pleased to communicate to us as soon as possible how the principal affair goes on, & what you have been so good as to do in our favour.

As a good deed quickly performed without delay requires a more than ordinary acknowledgement, we shall esteem ourselves doubly obliged, Gentlemen, for the diligence that you may use to assist us in this affair, & it is in this agreeable expectation that we have the honour to be, with all possible esteem,

Gentlemen,

Surat, 7th August 1762.

Your most humble & obedient Servants.

Thursday, 12th August 1762.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Chief and Council :—

Gentlemen,

On the 1st instant we had the honour to receive from you, in writing, an assurance that you were willing to accept of the mediation in regard to our differences with the Nabob, & amongst other things we made known to your Deputies that we were seriously inclined to put an end to this disagreeable affair, as we have in like manner testified by the letters that we have since had the honour to write you, & when we renewed our entreaties regarding the same in the 7th of this month, you were in your answer so good as to promise that you would shortly send us an account of the Nabobs demands. We willingly believe that it takes time to translate papers from the Persian language, but, Gentlemen, it is now thirteen days since we addressed you & we are not the least wiser in regard to the principal affair than we were the first day, and since the 8th we have waited with the utmost impatience, altho' in vain, for the performance of the promise that you made us in your letter of that date, namely, "that you would shortly send us a list of the Nabobs demand," without which it is impossible to finish the dispute, but the time flies away apace & we do not remember any instances of the like blockade at Surat & one that has lasted so long. What is worse, we are daily more & more restrained, which is attended with a great expence without our being to blame. This is directly contrary, not only to the first article which you mentioned in your letter of the 5th of this month, as being a settled preliminary by the Nabob, but even contrary to all laws & customs, as during a negotiation things should remain in statu quo on both sides.

And as your own honour, Gentlemen, is concerned in speedily terminating the principal affair upon equitable conditions, & that what has been promised be punctually observed on both sides, we take the liberty to renew our entreaties in the most amicable & strongest manner, that, in quality of mediators, you would after so much delay enable us by concurrence & cooperation to bring matters to a speedy conclusion, & as friends & allies to our Republick & our brethren in regard to religion, use not only your powerful good offices that nothing be exacted from us but what is equitable, but also the authority that you have in your hands that no injustice be done us, as well with respect to the preliminary agreed to as the demands that may be made upon us.

We expect the same not only from a principle of the said friendship, alliance & fraternity with respect to religion, as well as from the mediation, but even by virtue of the engagements you have made with the Moorish Regency of this City, which very far from tending to the prejudice of a third person, agreeable to what M<sup>r</sup>. Spencer declared to us when he was here, are on the one hand to maintain the rights & authority of the Regents of the City, according to reason & equity, & on the other not to suffer the said Regents to wrong, or injure, any inhabitant, much less the European Nations which are established here. We have the honour to be, with perfect esteem,

Gentlemen,

Jingy Bunder, 12th August 1762.

Your most humble & obedient Servants.

Surat, Thursday, 12th August 1762.

At a Consultation, Present :

Thomas Hodges, Esq <sup>r</sup> , Chief.
Cecil Bowyer.	Charles Whitehill.
Thomas Mostyn.	Nath <sup>l</sup> . Stackhouse.
Robert Gambier.	John Stephenson.

Read & approved our last Consultation of the 10th instant.

Read the letter from the Dutch Chief & Council, as entered above, which earnestly entreating us to send them the Nabobs demands as soon as possible, in order that they may be able to bring matters to a speedy conclusion. Agreed (notwithstanding our Resolution of the 10th to wait for directions from the Presidency) that two of the Board be sent with them tomorrow with a suitable letter.

THOS<sup>s</sup> HODGES.
 OECIL BOWYER.
 THOS<sup>s</sup> MOSTYN.
 R<sup>t</sup> GAMBIER.
 JN<sup>o</sup> STEPHENSON.

Friday, 13th August.—Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Chief & Council :—

W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

We are to acknowledge receipt of your favour of yesterdays date & to acquaint you that you will now receive by the hands of Mess<sup>rs</sup> Stackhouse & Gambier a list of the Nabobs demands. Your resolutions on each you will please to let us know as soon as convenient. They are as few in number as we have been able to reduce them. And you will please to observe that large demand, something of which you mentioned to those Gentlemen, the Nabob had made on you for the charges of his war with Subdar Caun, is not there inserted, nor many lesser ones he was inclined to urge; and if they are still more disagreeable than we could wish, we need not tell you that when ruptures proceed from religious provocations, they generally prove more difficult to accommodate, as their object not only aims at most ample satisfaction for the past, but the strongest security against the future.

You complain of being put under more & more restraint. The only difference that we know of is that the Nabob three or four days ago issued a Proclamation forbidding any under his Government to enlist in your service, which you yourselves obliged him to do (as he urges) from the information he received, & we fear not without foundation, of your having actually raised about fifty Seepoys at Otway, notwithstanding the reciprocal agreement prior that every thing should remain in statu quo during the negotiation.

We are with perfect esteem,

W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Your most H<sup>ble</sup> Servants.

Surat, 13th August 1762.

Wednesday, 18th August 1762.—Received the following letter from the Presidency :—

Gentlemen,

With respect to the disputes subsisting between the Nabob & the Dutch, we would have you offer your good offices to both parties for accommodating matters, acquainting them at the same time that we cannot admit of the tranquility of the place being disturbed, & which you are accordingly to preserve to the utmost of your power, taking every suitable measure for that purpose, consistent with the Moguls authority & the Phirmaunds we are possessed of, to which you are to have a due regard. We approve the hint you gave the Nabob about the Dutch withdrawing their heavy Cannon & Mortars, but we never before knew of their having any of the latter at Surat, & would therefore be glad to know what number they have there & their size, & as we do not think they have occasion for either heavy Cannon or Mortars, we wish the hint you have given may have the desired effect on the Nabob.

We are,
Your Loving Friends.

Bombay Castle, 12th August 1762.

Thursday, 19th August.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Directore & Council :—

Gentlemen,

It is with much concern that we find ourselves obliged to make our complaints to you again upon a new infraction of the promises that have been made us. When we complained the 8th of this month that the Nabob refused to give permission to two of our Council at the Factory to come to us, or rather to go & come, which we thought had been agreed to, in order thereby to bring matters to a conclusion, because, being separated, we cannot come to any resolution that is valid in affairs of this nature without communication & mutual consent, which you, Gentlemen, who are in the service of a Company, the same as we are, cannot be ignorant of, you signified to us in your answer of the same date that you were extremely surprized, noticing to us that you yourself had understood the thing the same as we had, but that in regard to this affair the Nabob appears inflexible & had only permitted you to assure us that he would not prevent the passing of letters to & from our Factory & that permission would be given for those among us to go & return in safety.

We will not stop here to examine how with respect to so reasonable a thing the Nabob could be made inflexible in regard to you, Gentlemen, who on the one hand are engaged to support him in his rights & authority, as far as regards reason & equity, but who are obliged on the other not to suffer any injury or wrong to be done to the inhabitants & much less to an European Nation established here & who have power sufficient in your hands to overcome the inflexibility of the Moorish Regents & to make them lend an ear to what is just & reasonable, especially when it regards an European Nation established here & privileged by a number of Phirmaunds, which have been irrevocably granted it by the Kings; but we will leave the whole impartial world to judge thereof, & content ourselves in letting you know that relying upon your said assurance, and endeavouring to put an end to the dispute, but not daring to leave the first subscriber without running the risque of a severe censure for it, we thought it proper to communicate to our Council in the factory the list of the Nabobs demands as soon as they were translated & to send them by a sworn messenger, namely, the first Clerk to our Secretary, requiring their sentiments in writing, as well as an explanation of the different accusations which three of them were charged with. But when by means of the Buxey we sent to the Durbar for permission, as well as the necessary security for the going & returning of our said messenger, the whole day from the morning until the evening passed before we could obtain it, & at last they signified to us that this permission was only agreed to for the day-time, so that we could not send our messenger till the next morning. They acquainted us at the same time that he might go & come as often as was necessary, even to three or four times a day. You will easily judge, Gentlemen, that time is required for maturely weighing a paper, the composing of which took up near fifteen days & which contains such important articles as the demands of the Nabob are, and which cannot be answered without some time, as likewise that considering the separation of the Council, it is absolutely necessary to send many messages backwards & forwards. Notwithstanding the first clerk went to Town but three days successively, & that only once a day, it was yesterday signified to him that he would not be permitted to go and come any more, & that it was high time to terminate the affair, so that we have been again disturbed contrary to all reason & equity in the midst of our business for disposing matters, in order to answer the said articles & have thus been prevented from continuing our deliberations.

We are not afraid to let any person whatever be a Judge, to whom the fault is to be attributed of all these delays, being well assured that no one can tax us herewith. And as even from the beginning, before you accepted of the mediation, we plainly perceived by the demands successively made upon us, some of which afterwards were given up and others made again, that they were endeavouring to prolong matters, & it evidently appeared to us by the measures they were pursuing that it was the Nabob's intention to oblige us to come to dishonourable terms, thro' want of provisions, we thought ourselves authorised by the laws of nature to provide in time against it as much as possible. We have continued this precaution, & when in the night between the 16th & 17th instant a boat loaded with provisions came to us, the armed boats of the Nabob pursued her almost under our wall, whereby the said intention of the Nabob is plainly verified; further more, the said armed boats since that time have come within musquet shot of our wharf & have thereby greatly violated the statu quo that you, Gentlemen, acknowledged ought to subsist, so that we expect with reason that you will redress matters properly in this respect, in order to prevent the dangerous consequences which may result therefrom even against our inclination.

It is incontestable that the Nabob has a right to keep off, or take, all boats loaded with troops, or ammunition that we might endeavour to bring to us whilst a negotiation is on foot; but, Gentlemen, as to the simple article of provisions, permit us to think in the same manner, as did heretofore Cap<sup>t</sup> W<sup>o</sup> Lane, who in 1751 commanded your Troops in the Castle, when in a letter to the late Directore M<sup>r</sup> Pecock, of the 15th October of the same year, he writes thus—"The Sciddee, yesterday, took a boat which upon the faith of the suspension of arms was bringing us some provisions. This corresponds very badly with the proceedings of a man who desires peace." We cannot help therefore making our complaints to you also in this respect, the more so, as since that time they have visibly doubted their endeavours to prevent our getting any provisions at all & even the forage for our cattle, which last article was never before denied us for the horses & oxen of particulars in the Factory. And they did not even refuse provisions to the Swedes Supracargoes in 1761, at which time they had differences with the Nabob & their house was surrounded by his troops. And as to our predecessors, as soon as they took upon them the charge of the mediation in the war of 1751, they procured abundance of provisions & refreshments for those of your Nation, who were then here, particularly for those who were in your factory & who suffered much for want of provisions. Altho' the circumstances of that time were much more critical than those in which we are in, we are to request of you, Gentlemen, in quality of mediators, to be so good as to render us the like service & to supply us, as well as our people at the Factory, with the necessary provisions for our proper account, in which case the Nabob will have no more to fear, that under the pretext of getting provisions we have other views or are endeavouring to bring other things. If ever an acknowledgement should find place in the world, we flatter ourselves that it ought in the present case & we have too good an opinion of your sentiments, Gentlemen, with respect to what one man owes to another & particularly in regard to the obligations which Christianity & the Protestant cause enjoin, to doubt a moment that you will not acknowledge the justice of our complaints regarding the said points & the necessity that the Nabob that in order to bring matters to a conclusion the communication with our Factory ought not to be interrupted, as without mutual consent we cannot come to a resolution. That for deliberations of this kind, & when those who are to concur thereto are separated, the one from the other, it naturally requires a more than ordinary time, and that there is nothing more just nor more reasonable than to let provisions pass freely during the negotiation, and lastly that it is not the way to terminate matters speedily by giving us continual causes for complaint (whether by making alterations in the statu quo or otherwise), which only retard the settling of the principal affairs.

In expectation of your answer, we have the honour to be, with all sorts of esteem,

Gentlemen,

Jingee Bunder, 18th August 1762.

Your most obedient Servants.

Sunday, 22<sup>d</sup> August 1762.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Directore & Council:—

Gentlemen,

On the 19th instant we forwarded a letter to the Buxie dated the preceeding day, in order to be sent you. Up to this time we have received no answer & have observed no alteration with respect to the grievances we had the honour to set forth to you therein, excepting that the said Buxie sent to enquire of us the day before yesterday why for some days past we did not send any body to the Factory? Whereupon having given him for answer that the person who always accompanied our messenger, in going & coming, had signified to him that it would be no longer permitted of, & the Buxie having expressed his surprize thereat, saying that he knew nothing of it & that he never forbad any such thing, in consequence whereof we yesterday sent again into the city. We cannot help thinking that the said letter has been detained & never delivered to you as we persuade ourselves the points therein contained could not appear to you of so little importance, as not to think that we expected your answer with the utmost impatience. Wherefore we take the liberty, Gentlemen, hereby to acquaint you of our apprehensions in this respect, that you may remedy it in the manner you judge proper, whether by shewing us a surer way or otherwise, & we enclose a duplicate of the said letter, in hopes that in case the original, as we fear, has not come to hand, they will not dare again to practice the like towards a Council which represents the Governor of the Castle, & which of course has a great share in the government of the city, & which furthermore has the power to make them sensible thereof.

We have the honour to be, with true esteem,

Jingee Bunder, 22<sup>d</sup> August 1762.

Gentlemen,

Your most obedient Servants.

Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Directore & Council:—

W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

On the 19th instant we received your favour dated the 18th, in which we expected you would have acknowledged the receipt of our letter under the 13th enclosing a list of the Nabobs demands which was delivered you by Mess<sup>rs</sup> Stackhouse & Gambier. We shall however reply to your letter now before us.

The Nabobs Buxey sent you a message that none of your Gentlemen from the Bunder were to go any more to your Factory surprized us greatly, as it was so contrary to the Nabobs solemn promise to us. We therefore sent immediately to know the reason of it. The Nabob assured us he had given no such order & that the Buxey denied his ever having sent you such a message; but that you might no longer make that a pretext for not bringing matters to a speedy conclusion, the Buxey by the Nabobs order did instantly repeat the same by a messenger sent you on purpose. With regard to those in your Factory going to your Bunder the Nabob still remains inflexible; nor can we cause him to alter his resolution unless we were to throw off the character of mediators & take upon us that of parties against him, which we presume, Gentlemen, you do not expect of us, at least not until you had convinced us by your answers to his demands, not yet attempted, that he was the aggressor in the points most material.

You complain of the Nabobs armed boats pursuing the boat of yours loaded with provisions. You admit at the same time his right to keep off or take all boats loaded with troops or ammunition. The Nabob esteems provisions not less contraband, nor does this differ from the terms upon which you desired us to become mediators, viz., that you should not be put under further restraint during the negotiation as mentioned in your letter of the 31st ultimo, the principal restraint you were before under being that of provisions, according to what we were then told & believed. But for once, Gentlemen, to follow your train of reasoning, how was the Nabobs armed boats to be satisfied the one you mention had neither troops nor ammunition, unless they not only pursued but stopt & searched for?

None of us were here in the year 1751, and we should think that none of you, Gentlemen, were here either, or in policy you would have avoided the mention of that year, if report does not do you injustice. Not that we mean to recriminate. We have undertaken the part of mediators so far as may be consistent with our trusts, & it is our meaning & intention to act strictly & impartially as such.

Upon the whole then if, as mediators, we have not been so fortunate to prevail on the Nabob to let the Gentlemen of your Council, who are in your Factory, go at pleasure to your Bunder, it cannot be denied that we obtained a free communication by letter between you both & that any of your Council at the Bunder might & may still repair thither at pleasure & return again in safety. And if it be not consistent with the rules of your service to dispense with forms when the nature of the case evidently requires it, we assure you, Gentlemen, ours most happily differ therefrom. Moreover, to evince still further our readiness to oblige you, we have, this with the greatest difficulty, prevailed on the Nabob to allow us to supply you with one weeks provisions, within which time we hope matters will be brought to some conclusion, as we have no reason to believe he will by any means consent to our doing you this good office again; but that we may know the quantities and sorts wanted, you will be pleased to favour us with a true and faithful account of the number of persons in your Bunder & Factory respectively, with your daily allowance to each, when it shall be sent you without loss of time. We entreat you, Gentlemen, to be as expeditious as possible in your parts to put an end to this disagreeable dispute, as the only sure means to avoid such consequences as it may not be in our power to prevent. As to the cattle you mentioned, the Nabob gives leave for them to be sent & placed under the care of your own Moody, or ours, as you may like best.

Thus far was wrote when we received your favour of this 'date, which requiring no other answer than that your last being very long took more time in translating, we have the honour of subscribing ourselves with perfect esteem,

W<sup>c</sup> Sir & Sirs,
Your most Humble Servants.

Surat, 22<sup>d</sup> August 1762.

Tuesday, 24th August 1762.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Directore & Council:—

Gentlemen,

Yesterday evening we received by a Chupdar your letter of the same date, in answer to what we had the honour to write you under the 18th & 22<sup>d</sup> instant, the first of which was not sent you till the 19th. It is true, Gentlemen, that we did not in express terms acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 13th which accompanied the list of Nabobs demands, as we thought that the paragraph where it is mentioned that the list of Nabobs demands had been sent by the first clerk to our Secretary to the Factory as soon as a translation has been made thereof, made it unnecessary, because thereby you might know that we have received that list as well as the letter which accompanied it.

Time & opportunity do not permit of our fully answering your said letter, wherefore we will content ourselves by referring you to the tenour of our last under the 18th of this month in regard to the delays that are imputed to us, & only say that since receipt of the Nabobs demands we have been constantly employed in making our answer thereto & that we hope to finish this answer in a few days, after which no time shall be lost in sending it to you. Indeed, Gentlemen, when matters of so old date are brought up, such as are some of the said demands, it is impossible to answer them immediately, & to have foundation for what we say, it is necessary to look over a great many old papers.

We hereby express our obligations for the permission that you have obtained to supply us with the necessary provisions for a week, altho we did expect you would have done us this good office until the end of the negotiation, or till such time as we could come to an amicable accommodation founded upon reason & equity. If these should take place we shall have occasion for very little more than what you have been so good as to promise & which we expect as soon as possible. We enclose for this purpose an exact list of the provisions which we are in want of for 7 days, as well for ourselves as our people, whether European or Natives, of which that side marked letter A is for our Wharf & the other marked letter B for our Factory. In firm assurance you will not refuse anything of what is mentioned therein,

We have the honour to be, with all sort of esteem,

Jingee Bunder, 24th August 1762.

Gentlemen,

Your most humble Servants.

Wednesday, 25th August.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Directore & Council :—

Gentlemen,

Thro' the hurry we were in, in order to send you immediately the list of provisions that you required, we forgot to desire that you would likewise supply us with what is necessary to feed the cattle, goats, fowls & ducks which are mentioned in the List, as we cannot kill them all at one time. If contrary to our expectations they make a difficulty to grant in grain for this purpose, the two former may in the meantime live upon hay, provided there is a sufficient quantity, but as to the poultry it is absolutely necessary to have some grain to keep them alive, even were it of the most common sort.

We take the liberty to represent to you, Gentlemen, upon this occasion, that we cannot part with our horses or our oxen at the Bunder to deliver them agreeable to the proposal you made the 22<sup>d</sup> of this month to the care of your or our Moody. We want to keep the horses in case it should be necessary to send more than one person to our Factory, & we cannot part with our oxen, because they are employed to draw water out of the wells. We flatter ourselves, Gentlemen, that these reasons will induce you to make a new trial to obtain for these cattle some provisions, were it nothing else, but which we hereby request.

We have the honour to be, with much esteem,

Jingee Bunder, 25th August 1762.

Gentlemen,

Your most humble Servants.

Sailed the convoy to the Northward.

Thursday, 26th August.—Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Directore & Council:—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

The 24th at night we received your favour of that date, enclosing the List of provisions wanting at your Bunder & Factory for one week, which by the account accompanying you will please to observe is complied with in every article procurable, & where any one was not to be had, it has been made up in something similar, & we hope will prove satisfactory. The amount is Rupees 920-2-28, which you will please to send us by the bearer or pass a receipt as may be most convenient.

Yesterday your last favour of that date was received, agreeable to which provisions for the above live stock is now sent with them. As to the points, viz. your horses & draft oxen, when we know the Nabobs resolution, you shall be acquainted with it.

We are with perfect esteem,
Your most humble Servants.

Surat, 26th August 1762.

Surat, Friday, 27th August 1762.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Directore and Council:—

Gentlemen,

Yesterday evening by a Chupdar we had the honour to receive your letter of the same date with the Boat of provisions for a week you were so good as to send us. We cannot help expressing how much we are obliged to you for the same, as also for your exactness therein, as every thing turned out agreeable to the inclosed account. We yesterday evening sent to the servant of your Moody the Rup<sup>a</sup> 920-2-28 mentioned in your letter, which you disbursed on this account herein. We hope we have acted agreeable to your intentions. We flatter ourselves at the same time that you will not only procure permission from the Nabob in regard to provisions for our horses & oxen, but that you will also take care that it be sent as soon as possible. In the meantime we are, with much esteem,

Gentlemen,
Your most humble Servants.

Jingee Bunder, 27th August 1762.

Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Directore & Council:—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

Agreeable to what we wrote you yesterday, the Nabob was applied to concerning the provisions you require for the maintenance of your horses & draft oxen now in your Bunder. He last night absolutely refused any being supplied you, but being sent to again this morning he at length consented to our furnishing you one weeks provisions for two horses, two coach oxen & two well oxen, but no more, & which you will now receive amounting to Rupees 17-0-36 as p. account inclosed. The remainder of your cattle you may send out to the care of your own, or our Moody, or where else you think more proper.

We are with perfect esteem,
W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,
Your most humble Servants.

Surat, 27th August 1762.

Friday, 3rd September 1762.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Directore and Council with their answer to the Nabobs demands:—

Gentlemen,

After formally returning you our thanks for having procured & sent us the necessary forage for one week for two of our horses & four oxen, which we received the 27th ultimo with a letter of the same date that you honoured us with, the amount of which we paid next day, we have the honour to send you herewith the answer to the Nabob's demands with a French translation & three pieces annexed in both languages, letter'd A, B, & C. The referring to old Records has cost us much trouble, in order that we might write so exactly, as you will find we have done. And as the whole has been so clearly & so plainly set forth (that no one can withhold himself from conviction, unless he shuts his eyes on purpose) and particularly that it is not us who are the aggressors & that we have not interfered in matters of religion, but that the Nabob having broke thro' all bounds, which are prescribed by the Kings Phirmaunds, by constant custom & even all decency, both treated our Company & their servants with great indignity, & of course it is him who is the aggressor. We hope, Gentlemen, from your love of peace & justice that the said answer will furnish you with means to convince him of the injustice of the proceedings, & let him know at the same time that he has not only suffered himself to be imposed on by false reports, but has given the Company just cause of complaint against him, and we request, Gentlemen, that in quality of mediators you would forward the whole by your good offices, but in case the Nabob should still remain inflexible, as we with grief have found him in many respects, & should refuse to listen to any reason, altho' ever so convincing, we then lay hold of the promise indirectly made us at the end of the second paragraph of your letter of the 22<sup>d</sup> August.

But as we plainly foresee that the provision & forage you sent us, notwithstanding all our management, will be expended before matters can be expended, we take the liberty, Gentlemen, to desire you will immediately procure us a further supply of one & other, equal at least to the former, to give us thereby time to wait until you have made the necessary remonstrances to the Nabob & prevailed on him to take a just & reasonable resolution.

We have the honour to be, with perfect esteem,

Jingee Bunder, 3<sup>d</sup> September 1762.

Gentlemen,

Your most humble Servants.

P.S.—As probably, Gentlemen, you cannot supply us with Batavia Arrack for our Europeans, & as we have yet a small quantity at Ottova, we request of you to get permission for its being brought hither. We will engage our word of honour that upon this occasion no provisions of any sort whatever or anything else shall be brought in.

---

Monday, 6th September 1762.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Directore & Council:—

Gentlemen,

On the 26th ultimo we received the provisions for a week that you were so good as to send us, & the day after a weeks forage for our horses and oxen at the Wharf. As since that time many sick useless people have left our Wharf, & having managed as well as possible what we received, this supply, with what little we had before, has lasted us to this day. But as the provisions & forage are very near expended, & we are of opinion that by waiting for a reasonable & equitable resolution from the Nabob upon our answer to his demands, which we had the honor to send you the 3<sup>d</sup> instant, we shall be reduced to extremities, we requested by our letter of the same date that you would in quality of mediators send us a further supply as well for the Wharf as the Factory on our paying for it, as we did by the first. But as we have hitherto received no answer, we cannot help renewing our entreaties & we trust the more in your powerful assistance on this occasion, as we have advanced nothing but what we have a solid foundation for, and which proves that the Nabob is the aggressor & that we are in all respects the suffering party. We have the honour to be, with perfect esteem,

Gentlemen,

Jingee Bunder, 6th September 1762.

Your most Humble Servants.

P.S.—We request, Gentlemen, that you would also procure permission for carrying from our Wharf to our Factory a single canister of Powder Sugar.

Arrived the Convoy from the Northward.

*Tuesday, 7th—*Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Directore & Council:—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs;

On the 3<sup>d</sup> instant at night we were favoured with your letter of that date, enclosing your answer to the Nabobs demands, which being very voluminous, will require some days yet to translate into English. After which it must be put into Persian for him to understand, in both which we shall be as expeditious as possible; but we wish, Gentlemen, that the passage in our letter of the 22<sup>d</sup> August representing the difficulty we then had to obtain you one weeks provisions had induced you to shorten, if possible, the term of twenty-two days taken for its composition, as we have now the misfortune to advise, the Nabob is not to be prevailed on either for our letting you have more provisions & forage or for the Arrack at Otway being transported to your Bunder. No, notwithstanding one of our Board has been purposely sent to him, it being his fixed opinion that the delay of bringing matters to a conclusion is wilful and unreasonable on your parts, and how can we convince him to the contrary as we are ignorant, as yet, of the arguments and proofs your answer may possibly furnish us with for the end, and be positive on his part that you are aggressors. However, that as little time as possible may be lost in bringing this unhappy affair to a speedy conclusion, we shall treat with him point by point, as we can get them translated.

Your favour of yesterdays date has been received, which requiring no other answer, we subscribe ourselves with perfect esteem,

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

Surat, 7th September 1767.

Your most humble Servants.

*Sunday, 12th—*Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Directore and Council:—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

On the 9th instant late in the evening we received your favour of that date, which being long, its translate was not finished until last night. If we understand it right, you treat us not less uncandid than unjust in concluding that we support the Nabob, only because we have not been able by persuasive arguments to induce him to let you have a second supply of provisions. Surely, Gentlemen, you forget that the part of mediator is to use friendly and not compulsive methods for bringing about a reconciliation if possible between disputing parties, and if we have made no greater progress in this, is it not evidently owing to our being unacquainted with your respective allegations, and does not our last letter of the 7th shew that we were then so far from being fully informed of both, that even your first answer to the Nabobs demands was not then translated into English, nor is it yet finished on account its extraordinary prolixity and the interruption your letter now before us unavoidably causes to the Gentleman who has it in hand. Besides, Gentlemen, the terms on which you yourselves engaged us to become mediators, as is fully noticed in the third paragraph of our address of the 22nd ultimo, have been strictly adhered to on our parts, save only that deviation in your favour, which was our being so fortunate as to prevail on the Nabob to let you have the weeks provisions we sent you.

More we might add, but as it takes us off from the main point and we have other business also in hand, we shall only add that the Nabob will not consent to your being further supplied by us with provisions, he being, if possible, more positive that you are the aggressors than you are that he is.

Be again assured, Gentlemen, that we shall lose no time in doing what we consistently can towards finishing this troublesome affair, as we are with perfect esteem,

Surat, 12th September 1762.

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,
Your most humble Servants.

Tuesday, 14th—Received the following letter from the Dutch Directore and Council :—
W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

In answer to your favour of the 12th instant which we received yesterday about noon by a Chupdar, we have only to say that we are reduced to the greatest extremities at our Bunder, having no more than one days provisions left. We have twice applied to you, Gentlemen, to procure us some more provisions and we hereby renew our request, and beg you will acquaint us whether the Nabob intends to reduce us by famine or treats with us in a reasonable manner. It is unnecessary to represent to you, Gentlemen, how reasonable a thing the first would be, which speaks of itself; therefore we shall only declare to you again that we most earnestly desire to see a speedy end to this affair, which at present depends on you.

In the meanwhile we are with perfect esteem,

Jingee Bunder, 14th September 1762.

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,
Your most humble Servants.

Surat, Wednesday, 15th September 1762.

At a Consultation, Present :

Thomas Hodges, Esq <sup>r</sup> ., Chief.
Cecil Bowyer,	Nath <sup>l</sup> . Stackhouse.
Thomas Mostyn.	John Stephenson.
Charles Whitehill.

Mr. Robert Gambier, indisposed.

Read the letter received from the Dutch last night on which the Chief acquaints the Board that Mynheer Winkin (their Deputy Secretary who brought it) told him apart that they absolutely had but one days provisions at the Bunder, and if the Nabob would not allow them more provisions that they must comply with any demands he made to save their lives. Taking them into consideration, we are of opinion that if matters are finished in this manner, the Dutch will hereafter have a pretext to disturb the quiet of the place, as their answer to the Nabobs demands will remain unrefuted; therefore to manifest further our moderation as mediators and to render invalid their twelve articles retorted on him in their said answer, it is agreed that we make a point with the Nabob to let them have one-third part of their last Bunder Indent, as by the time that is expended the letter preparing will be finished.

THO<sup>s</sup>. HODGES.
THO<sup>s</sup>. MOSTYN.
J. STEPHENSON.

Wednesday 15th—Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Directore & Council :—
W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

Last night we received your favour of yesterdays date representing that you had only one days provisions left at your Bunder and repeating your request for our enterceding with the Nabob to let you have a further supply. Great were the objections started on his side, but as we represented in the most cogent terms the propriety of supplying you at least until we had dispatched a letter we had in hand in consequence of the mediation we had undertaken and which was about half finished, he at last consented to our sending you one-third of your last Bunder Indent, provided and not else that we solicited him no more on this disagreeable subject. You will therefore now receive the same, amounting as per account enclosed to Rupees 214-2-46, which you will please to pay as before.

We remain with perfect esteem,

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

Your most humble Servants.

Surat, 15th September 1762.

---

Surat, 19th September 1762.

At a Consultation, Present :

Thomas Hodges, Esq<sup>r</sup>., Chief.

Cecil Bowyer.

Thomas Mostyn.

.....

Charles Whitehill.

Nathaniel Stackhouse.

John Stephenson.

Robert Gambier, indisposed.

Read and approved our last Consultation of the 15th instant.

Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Directore & Council, conformable to the Resolution in the preceding Consultation :—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

Agreeable to what we wrote you under the 7th instant, two of our Board have waited on the Nabob and explained to him your answers to his demands. To have staid for his replication in writing & then to have had that translated from the Persian would have required more time than your unhappy situation, especially in respect of provisions, would admit. For conciseness, as well as expedition, sake therefore, we shall now acquaint you the purport of his said replication to each article of your answer with our opinion as mediators thereon in the hope of its proving to your satisfaction, viz.

To the 1st—"The Nabob denies not his having given you leave to bring from Broach the guns of the ship "New Walcheren," but his permission for landing them here was only till you had an opportunity of sending them to Batavia & not to keep them as you have done. What passed between Suffder Caun & you concerning Ship "Bloemandoll's" guns he was not acquainted with, but now he does not chuse you should keep either, as you have evidently exceeded his leave regarding the first, & as merchants can have no good intent in keeping here any heavy cannon."

It is evident from your answer, Gentlemen, that your view in keeping the guns in dispute was to supply your large ships in case by distress they had been obliged in their passage from Batavia to throw theirs over board & for the fitting out small vessels for the protection of your trade against piratical vessels. To answer these ends with safety to yourselves, as well as to remove the Nabobs suspicions, we apprehend, Gentlemen, you can have no good objection to remove all your heavy cannon, that is to say, all above four Pounders from your Bunder to Castle Green under the cannon of the Castle, to be thence shipt off by you at pleasure, and if you require a receipt for them there, we ourselves, or the Officer Commanding the Castle, will pass you one to that purport. And as to the four Pounders & those of a smaller caliber we agree with you they would be more handy for service or salutes to be continued at your Bunder, provided always that you render the Nabob a true and faithful account upon your Parole of Honour of the whole. This we the rather mention, as he has been informed and believes that some of your cannon are concealed under ground or in other places out of sight.

To the 2<sup>d</sup>.—"The Nabob remarks that the grant you have referred to <sup>1<sup>re</sup></sup> A. said to be signed by Suffder Caun relates to part of a high road that was formerly nigh the river side, the other part of which was carried away by freshes as you have described, but the high road he complains you have stopped without legal authority is another, & which is considerably inland of the former one & where you have erected two gates with a brick wall on each side of them. These gates with those walls he requires to be taken away, that the Kings high road may be open, as heretofore."

If this be the case, Gentlemen, as from other information there is some room to apprehend, it appears to us but right that the said high road should be restored, unless you can prove your right to the contrary by some authentick voucher.

To the 3<sup>d</sup>.—"The Nabob insists on the Chowkey being replaced within your Bunder to prevent further abuses in his Custom revenue."

As it seems to be the general belief that great abuses have been committed for want of the said Chowkey, the replacing it must give great satisfaction to all interested in that revenue.

To the 4th.—"The Nabob affirms that Ragoonathdass, his then Duan, with Manohur one of your Brokers, were the persons who settled the sum of Rupees 80000 to be paid him by way of present for the work executed at your Bunder by virtue of his permission, letter C, which you have produced."

It appears by said papers, <sup>1<sup>re</sup></sup> C, that the point asked of him was "to build a stone wall along side the river in the same manner as that at our garden." And that he granted it, "provided the wall was not raised above the ground." That such a work has been executed is evident to every one who ever saw your Bunder, & if the said Ragoonathdass is to be credited, it was himself with your Broker Manohur that settled that sum to be paid the Nabob, when the work should be compleated, conformable to his, the Nabobs, Dusat as above noticed & not before. But the dispute, which ended very shortly after in your placing Suffder Caun in the Durbar to the ruin of this present Nabob, falling out just at the time your said Wharf wall was finished, the promised gratuity was never made good. To the truth of this Ragoonathdass offers to make oath.

To the 5th.—"The Nabob most solemnly avers, that for these three years past he has not received his Dustoor & <sup>ca</sup> annual fees from your Company, & that Manohur, one of your Brokers, no longer ago than last year returned him an insolent answer to his asking for it, saying that he had broke that custom ever since Ally Noras Cauns time.

About this we dare say there will no difficulty arise on your side, since if the Brokers have not faithfully discharged their duty to your Company, there can be no reason the Nabob should lose his right thereby.

To the 6th.—"The Nabob supports this charge by the written testimony of Calliandass Pursotumdass & Tricumdass Pragdass, two Brokers of known credit & wealth, who severally declare that they have bought Dutch goods from your two Brokers Pandole & Manohur at advance prices in consideration of their giving them a Burtea for exporting said goods free of Customs, on which otherwise they must have paid the Government five p. cent. & on their arbitrary valuation, & if more proofs be required the Nabob adds they can be produced.

It appears from hence that the Government has been great sufferers by this unjust proceeding, and that in equity reparation ought to be made, but as it will require much time and at most endless trouble to have such an account properly adjusted, the Nabob and all others interested in this revenue must depend on your honour, Gentlemen, to prevent your Brokers doing the like in future.

To the 7th.—"The Nabob absolutely denies his having ever summoned Mynheer Sanderus to attend the Durbar to answer to the complaint of the wood merchant, but only to send his Vackeel for that purpose, and that instead of receiving a message first from the Directore about this affair, the Nabob first sent his Master of Requests, Ashrofbeg, to complain of the behaviour of Mynheer Sanderus, when the Directore acknowledged that Mynheer Sanderus had behaved very unbecomingly, but as he had talked to him, he hoped the Nabob would overlook it. He further adds that the dispute was never finished by the Government and still remains undecided."

If your Phirmaunds expressly forbid the Moor Regents meddling in any affairs which concern the servants of your Company, the Nabob should undoubtedly have complained first to the Directore, as that must be founded on a supposition he would cause justice to be done his subjects, and it is to be wished that Mynheer Sanderus had civilly given such an answer to the Nabobs man, as it would have prevented the servants of either aggravating matters, which has been the case. It is certain that when Mynheer Sanderus told the Chief that this affair had been decided in Mr. Prices time, he made him the answer Mr. Sanderus has inserted, but that being afterwards contradicted by the other party, the Chief did not interfere further, nor did he hear more of it until it appeared in the Nabobs demands. This affair therefore the Directore will be pleased to cause to be settled in an amicable and just manner.

To the 8th.—"The Nabob allows that it was the Codjee who sent the message to Mr. Kelly, but as the Codjee is an officer acting under him, and the man sent by him was in his, the Nabobs, immediate pay, he deemed it no impropriety to call him his servant, more especially as he went with his previous knowledge. The Codjee however most solemnly confirms the truth of this article in every other particular, with these additional circumstances. That before the wall was run up in the Desseys compound he advised Mr. Kelly by his own servant Mahomet Tar Vackeel in a friendly manner either to stop the window himself or satisfy the Dessey, otherwise it would be done against his inclination, as the Desseys house had really been rendered uninhabitable by it for near a year. To which Mr. Kelly by the same man returned the menacing answer set forth in this article to the Nabobs eldest son. We sent some Sepoys to protect the workmen in running up the said wall, when Mr. Kelly directed some of his people armed with musquets & lances to throw down the scaffolding for that work, which was done. That Manohur and Govinram Pandole were also present, the former of whom talked very insolently to the Nabobs people."

What passed between Mr. Kelly & Mr. Price concerning the window in question we know not, but so far we may venture to believe that if Mr. Price had apprehended the said window would have proved such a nuisance to the Desseys house, as even by Mr. Kellys defence it appears to have been, he knew the custom of this place better than to have given his consent to it. With regard to what passed between Mr. Kelly & the Chief on or about the 23<sup>d</sup> July on this subject, it may not be amiss to be a little more circumstantial than Mr. Kelly has related it. Mess<sup>rs</sup> Bowyer, Mostyn & Nilsong were present, & the matter of fact is as follows. It was in the forenoon when Mr. Kelly came to the Chief loudly complaining of the wall that was running up in the Desseys compound against a window he had knocked out to give air as well by the permission of Jaffir Yat Caun as the owner of their Factory, Mr. Price, assuring the Chief it was no nuisance to the Desseys house & desiring he would interfere to get the wall impeded. The Chief answered that he had received repeated complaints from the Desseys Vackeel concerning that window, as it had prevented his Master living in his house for some time, but being himself unaquainted with the situation of the window, he proposed Cap<sup>t</sup>. Nilsong with Mulna Abrahams attending Mr. Kelly to their Factory, & if it should be found as he asserted, he promised to intercede with the Nabob to let the window remain, but if otherwise, he thought it might still be remedied by affixing without a wooden blind made sloping so as to draw the air & admit some light to Mr. Kelleys apartment & at the same time prevent the Desseys compound being overlooked. Cap<sup>t</sup>. Nilsong soon after returned & reported the window to be about four feet square & the lower frame of it about six feet & a half from the floor, but that it entirely overlooked the Desseys house. Jaffir Yat Caun being then sent to by the Chief, declared that his permission was only for a sky light of one guz square, nevertheless, to oblige Mr. Kelly, the Chief proposed to the Nabob stopping the window by the wooden frame above described, but the Nabob declining to interfere, as the point had been legally settled by the Codjee & Mufftis, & the Desseys Vackeel not consenting to it, the Chief the same evening told Mr. Kellys man that there was no remedy & that the wall must be built. Now, if after this message Mynheer Kelly continued to interrupt the workmen, as the Codjee & others testify he did, what more favourable appellation can be given to it than a manifest insult on the Nabobs authority?

To the 9th.—The Nabob having received such recent insults on his Government in the cases of Mess<sup>rs</sup> Kelly & Sanderus & getting no satisfactory answer before from the Director himself with regard to the high road, judged it high time to vindicate his authority when his religion became thus openly to be attacked, for whatever glosses may be put on this affair, he insists that your forcing the criminal woman from the custody of his peon & detaining her in the manner even yourselves have acknowledged, evidently make you accomplices in her guilt.

As to the irregularity noticed in acquainting you of the Nabobs demands, he says he cannot account for answers his people may or may not have given, but as soon as you desired them in form, he delivered them to us, for had his design against you been premeditated, they would have been ready before. The Nabob denies having authorized any one to compromise this affair for money; nor could such a composition have been effected with safety to himself as the Mahometan Law would still have remained unsatisfied. That the woman cried out when near your Factory, Mynheer Blaankamer called out from above to let her go, which the Nabobs peon not minding, he sent a Parsee servant with one of their peons, running himself down to the Factory Gate, when the Dutch peon seizing the Nabobs peon, the Parsee carried the woman into your Factory. To the truth of which the Nabobs peon offers to make oath & to prove that her mother died, not at Surat but at Domus, & that her body was burnt there & not at Poolparah. The Nabob produced the written information of Golol Banian taken on the 24th July, in consequence of which he sent to apprehend the daughter now in your Factory.

We must suppose that Mynheer Blaankamer was not apprized of the nature of this offence, or he would not have acted as he did, & it is to be wished that the woman had in the beginning been sent to the Nabob with the peon under whose custody she was, instead of being detained as you acknowledge, as it would have given the most unanswerable proof of your disapproval of the transaction. The thought of this poor womans being delivered up now is not less disagreeable to us than it must be to you, Gentlemen, but what else can be done in a Mahometan Government to appease their offended, though false, religion? Death must unavoidably be her fate, were we not so fortunate as to have interceded with the Nabob that her punishment should be more favourable, & as to Mynheer Blaakamer, we believe the Nabob will accept a suitable apology from him, expressing his being unaquainted with the nature of her crime. Be assured, Gentlemen, that whatever you may affect to say of the Mahometan Law or Nabobs authority not being violated by this act, we have too good foundation to believe that had not our influence happily preserved you, there would have been few, if any, left to relate the story; & if to this we add the Nabobs repeated wish during this negotiation that we would withdraw ourselves interfering in your behalf, we assert no more than is strictly true.

To the 10th.—The Nabob concluding that he has materially refuted your answer to his several demands & proved most amply & clearly that he had no premeditated design to molest you until you became the aggressors in such sensible points as his religion and Government concludes his right to the batta demanded to be so just as will not admit a demur. He therefore insists it agreeable to the tenour of this article.

From this we shall only say he will not recede, it being, as he asserts, agreeable to the custom of the country.

You acknowledge, Gentlemen, to have offered him the sum mentioned in this article on an apprehension those three Gentlemen might have proved blameable. It is as true he refused it; but is it less so that those Gentlemen have not been so fortunate thoroughly to clear themselves. The conclusion we leave you to draw; tho we must at the same time observe that, in point of right, the Nabob cannot expect anything.

As to the twelve articles you have framed in retort to the Nabobs demands they are grounded, he observes, on a supposition that your answer refuted his said demands, but as he is fully convinced it has by no means answered that end, they of course fall to nothing, to which he thinks it necessary only further to add that your Broker Munohur was never refused going to the Durbar. He required indeed a security from the Nabob, which was refused.

It appears by the tenour of those articles, that the Nabobs people may have been guilty of some excesses towards some persons living under your protection; but is it to be wondered that the cause of such a rupture should produce that effect.

The other four articles require no other reply on the part of the Nabob than that the boat mentioned in the third will be given up with her aparell. And as you require in the 4th that the Nabob should pass you a writing renouncing all old claims which he has not been able to prove, he requires that you pass him another in return renouncing on your parts all pretensions to be troublesome to him at any time hereafter on account the twelve articles aforementioned or other pretext antecedent the day proposed acquittances are interchanged.

Having thus acquitted ourselves of the part you did us the honour to engage us in and on the terms we accepted it, we cannot avoid expressing our concern at its not terminating more in your favour, but as you will know, Gentlemen, the trouble we must have had herein, so we flatter ourselves you will be candid enough to believe our impartiality has not been less, and as they are the most favourable terms the Nabob can be brought to, we wish they may prove acceptable, otherwise, as mediators, we beg to be excused interfering further, and hope not to be called upon by either in any other capacity. The reason must be obvious.

Surat, 19th Sep<sup>r</sup>. 1762.

We are, with perfect Esteem,

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

Your most humble servants.

Sailed the "Ganges," Cap<sup>t</sup>. Cudbert Thornhill and "Antelope" Gallivat for Bombay. Sailed in "Janny" Ketch, Cap<sup>t</sup>. Burnet, for Bengal.

Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Directore & Council:—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

It escaped us in our address of yesterdays date to mention that in case you accepted the terms of accommodation with the Nabob therein proposed & chose for the better preventing further disputes or misunderstandings about any point that we, as mediators, should assist therein, we will with pleasure appoint two of our Board to be present at the place that may be appointed for the Congress.

We remain with perfect Esteem,

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

Your most humble servants.

Thursday, 23rd September 1762.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Directore & Council:—

Gentlemen,

Being obliged by the situation in which we find ourselves, particularly with regard to the want of provisions, to accommodate matters with the Nabob upon the conditions which you are acquainted with & which were mentioned in your letter of the 19th instant, excepting that our cannon of 6<sup>lb</sup> & upwards, as likewise the mortar, are not to be put upon the Glacis of the Castle but kept in the Companys Latty situated under your cannon, & that the property of the two gates of our Wharf & the remains of the road, that formerly was a publick one, be demonstrated upon the spot & proved by authentick papers, we have the honour to inform you of the same, & to request that in consequence of your last letter of the 20th of this month, you would let two of your Council be present tomorrow morning, being the 24th September, for the settling of this agreement, for which purpose we have by virtue of your permission fixed upon the gardens of your Company, & that you would in quality of mediators advise the Nabob that he may also send some persons in his behalf to sign the act of accommodation with our Committee. And for security of the execution thereof on both sides we request, Gentlemen, that you would take upon you the charge of guarantee to this treaty, which we hope you will as readily accept as you did that of mediators.

For the rest, we here add the list of all the large cannon that we have, namely, all above four pounders. They consist of 10 p<sup>s</sup>. of 12 lb<sup>s</sup>., 8 p<sup>s</sup>. of 80 lb<sup>s</sup>., and 8 p<sup>s</sup>. of 60 lb<sup>s</sup>., making in all twenty-six pieces of cannon with one mortar of seven inches diameter; declaring at the same time & giving our word of honour that these twenty-six pieces are the whole of what we have, or the better to explain ourselves to the entire satisfaction of the Nabob, what we have here, or elsewhere, above or under ground, & that the mortar is the only one that we have.

We have the honour to be, with perfect esteem,
Gentlemen,

Surat, 23rd Sept<sup>r</sup>. 1762.

Your most Humble Servants.

---

Friday, 24th Sept<sup>r</sup>. 1762.—Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Directore & Council:—
W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

Last night we received your favour of yesterdays date, agreeable to which we have appointed Mess<sup>rs</sup>. Bowyer & Stackhouse to assist on our parts in seeing the act of accommodation executed agreeable to what we had the honour to write you under the 19th instant, save only that the Nabob consents to your heavy cannon, i.e. all above four pounders, being removed by yourselves to your Latty nigh the Castle with the mortar, there to remain dismounted, under a Chowkey of his people, until transported on board your ships for Batavia in manner proposed under the first article of our letter above mentioned. On these conditions we accept also the honour you now do us in desiring us to be guarantees of this treaty.

Surat, 24th Sept<sup>r</sup>. 1762.

We are with perfect esteem,
W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,
Your most Obedient Servants.

---

Sunday, 26th Sept<sup>r</sup>. 1762.—Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Directore & Council:—
W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

Last night we received a letter from you of the same date, which we shall hereafter reply to, the occasion of this being on a subject which nearly concerns ourselves in particular.

You must know, Gentlemen, that when your deputies Mess<sup>rs</sup>. Ruperti & Van Jegar were in conference yesterday morning with the Chief & Mess<sup>rs</sup>. Bowyer & Stackhouse, the former dropt an expression which seemed to convey a reflexion on our conduct as mediators, upon which the Chief immediately took him up & insisted on an explanation, declaring that if that was the light you all looked on the trouble we had taken in this affair, you had better settle matters yourselves with the Nabob. M<sup>r</sup>. Ruperti apologized for the expression, & was at length brought to declare in the name of your whole Board that you were well convinced of the great trouble we had taken & believed we had done the best we could with the Nabob in your behalf; but as this did not perfectly heal the wound, he was given to understand we expected a confirmation of it under your own hands with suitable acknowledgements, to which he assented, but observing in your letter above mentioned you only mention the trouble we have had without anything more, we cannot avoid desiring a full eclaircissement of this affair before we proceed further.

Surat, 26th Sept<sup>r</sup>. 1762.

We are with perfect esteem,
W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,
Your most Humble Servants.

Sunday, 26th.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Directore & Council:—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

When we in our letter of yesterday mentioned the trouble you had taken about the mediation till this time, it was without prejudice to the acknowledgement we intend making you for the same when the whole is finished, agreeable to what Mr. Hodges himself told our deputies, & because we do not look on the mediation as over, there still remaining one article to be adjusted, about which we want your assistance as well as in regard to the others. Therefore, Gentlemen, let not the bad speech of a man who talks English with great difficulty, prevent you from further using your good offices & accept the apology he immediately made for it. We expect the same from your indulgence, & that you will assist us in settling the point that still remains in dispute, & be assured that afterwards we will not fail to comply with what you ask from us & without which we should have done it.

Surat, 26th Sept<sup>r</sup>. 1762.

We are with perfect esteem,

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

Your most Humble Servants.

Thursday, 30th Sept<sup>r</sup>. 1762.—Received the following letter from the Dutch Directore & Council:—

Gentlemen,

The differences between the Nabob and the Noble Dutch Company being thro' your mediation and guarantee so far settled that there remains nothing but the execution, & as that cannot take place till after the Nabobs Troops are withdrawn from the Companys Factory & Wharf & in general from all the places, which upon this occasion have been surrounded or blocked up by the Moors, that we may be thereby set at liberty, and the Nabob making difficulties in regard thereto, we find ourselves again obliged, Gentlemen, to ask your intercession that the Troops may be withdrawn as above, the sooner the better, that thereby we may be able to execute what we have promised. We shall, agreeable to what was agreed to, only take three days, reckoning from the time that the Nabob withdraws his forces and his cannon from all the places which they took possession of. If the Nabob had ordered his Troops to withdraw after yesterdays conference, as we expected with reason he would have done, we might in the afternoon have hired coolies and got the necessary people for transporting the heavy cannon, & of course the exchange of papers might have passed on Saturday evening; but as the Nabobs distrust with respect to an affair, of which you are the guarantees, made us lose that day, & as the greatest part of this forenoon is elapsed & almost half the day will be gone before the withdrawing of the troops can be effected from all the places, this exchange of papers cannot take place till Sunday the 3<sup>d</sup> of October; & as you have for this purpose fixed on the Companys Wharf, we shall that day expect to see your Deputies as likewise those in behalf of the Nabob at five o'clock in the afternoon in order to put the finishing stroke to this work & thus terminate this disagreeable affair; and as during the course of the negotiation you have had a great deal of trouble, Gentlemen, & have used your good offices to accommodate matters, we cannot help returning you our thanks for the same altho' we are sorry that you did not succeed better.

For the rest we have received your letter of the 28th of this month & in expectation of your answer,

We have the honour to be, with perfect esteem,

Surat, 30th September 1762.

Gentlemen,

Your most Humble Servants.

Wrote the following letter to the Dutch Directore & Council:—

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

This serves to acknowledge receipt of your favour of this date, agreeable to which the Nabob about noon withdrew his forces from your Bunder, Factory, &<sup>ca</sup> places; and we have only further to add that provided every thing on your parts cannot be finished by Saturday evening, we desire the proposed meeting at your Bunder for the exchange of papers may be deferred until Monday the 4th at ten in the forenoon, Sunday being in every respect an improper day.

We are with perfect esteem,

Surat, 30th September 1762.

W<sup>o</sup>. Sir & Sirs,

Your most Humble Servants.

Translation of the Dutch Directore & Council their acquittance of the Nabob:—

The differences that happened in the month of July last between the Nabob & the Noble Dutch Company having been at last terminated thro' the mediation & guaranty of the English Chief & Council upon the conditions set forth in their letter of the 19th September, excepting the first & second Articles, which have been since settled as appears by the letter of the 21st & 28th last month, we the underwritten declare by this present that for this reason we renounce the Articles & demands that we formed against the Nabob in our answer, & since the Nabob declares he has reputed the said Articles, we will not in future frame any demands on this account nor for any former ones.

Done at Surat in the Companys Garden at Jingee Bunder the 4th October 1762.

JOHN DRABBE & COUNCIL.

(On one side was fixed the Companys seal in red wax).

Signed, Sealed & Delivered in presence of us,

CECIL BOWYER.

NATHANIEL STACKHOUSE.

Report of Dutch Ordnance passed thro' the Decca Gate into the Dutch Latty :—

Nature,	18 Prs,	16 Prs,	12 Prs,	9 Prs,	8 Prs,	6 Prs,	Total
Total	8	1	10	3	2	2	26

Two of the above 18 prs. were brass & all the rest iron: one 8 inch Mortar also passed through the Gate.

Surat, 6th October 1762.

LOR<sup>d</sup> NILSON,
Cap<sup>t</sup>. Lt. of Arty.

Wrote the following letter to Bombay :—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

We addressed your Honour &<sup>ca</sup> fully under the 30th ultimo p. ship "Royal Admiral," on which & the "Drake" were laden two hundred bales cotton, & as the Grab has taken in only bales 120 more, there will still remain two hundred & eight for the "Wenchelseas" cargo.

Enclosed are copies of the translates of acquittance the Dutch & Nabob passed to each other on the accommodation of their late differences, also copy of the Commanding Officer of our Artillery his Report of the weight of their Cannons & Mortars transported from their Bunder to their Latty. By which you will observe they differ widely from the declaration under the 23<sup>d</sup> ultimo, for instead of ten 12 prs, eight 8 prs, and eight 6 prs, with a seven inch mortar, they turn out eight 18 prs, one 16 prs, ten 12 prs, three 9 prs, two 8 prs, & two 6 prs, with an eight inch mortar. Two of the 18 prs are brass, rest all iron.

Yesterday came to hand your commands of the 2<sup>d</sup> instant, & last night & this morning two letters under the 4th from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President to the Chief advising of the French ships that had been seen on the Mallabar Coast, agreeable to which the Commanders of the "Boscawen" & Bombay Grab are ordered to proceed directly to your Port & the remainder of the "Winchelseas" cotton with Cap<sup>t</sup>. Howes own will be sent down in boats under convoy of some of our small craft, as directed, when it comes in from the N<sup>o</sup>.ard.

As the gold consigned us from Judda on account the "Boscawens" freight bears a much lower price here than it is invoiced at, we request to be favoured with your directions regarding the same. We are, with respect, Surat, 8th Octobr. 1762.

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,
Your most obedient h<sup>ble</sup> Servants.

---

Sunday, 2<sup>d</sup> January 1763.

The Chief received the following letter from Mon<sup>s</sup> Briancourt, the French Chief :—
Sir,

How unhappy it is for me that the first time I have the honour to address you it should be on a subject of complaint. I cannot imagine that you have given orders to your people at Domus to insult me in any respect. You have too much politeness for that, Sir. The day before yesterday my Pinnace was called to by one of your one Mast Gallivats; my Tindal was insulted by your people, who would have seized the Pinnace had it not been for some Portuguese, whom she was carrying on board the "Frigata." The Captain or Master of the Gallivat not being able to make himself master of the Pinnace, vented his indignation on the Pendant she had at the Mast Head, which by force he caused to be pulled down, a thing unheard of to this day in the river of Surat. The people of my Boat were threatened in your name.

The bearer of this, Sir, is my Tindal. If he has committed any crime in having a Pendant on the Pinnacle, which he was conducting, I give him up to you; punish him; but if, as is the custom, my Pinnacle, as well as those of other nations might carry a Pendant, I hope you will restrain the insolence of your Gallivats people & oblige them to make me proper satisfaction. Not at all in this manner did I treat them when during the winter or rains, I allowed them full liberty in my garden, indeed too much, for many of them abused it. At that time I shut my eyes to avoid troubling you with impertinent complaints, but now, on this last abuse, I can no longer keep silence. You are just, Sir. The misery to which I am reduced does not at all take away from my rank or station. Your people have offended me. Persuaded of your justice & convinced of the good correspondence which the neutrality at Surat should keep up between your Royal Nation & ours, I dare flatter myself that you will do justice to my complaint.

Permit me, Sir, to use this opportunity, even unfortunate as it is for me, to wish you a happy New Year, perfect health & the blessing of the Lord on all your undertakings. My wishes are the more sincere as they flow from a heart affected with the most respectful sentiments of you, & with such I have the honour to be, very profoundly,

Sir,

Surat, 2<sup>d</sup> Jan<sup>y</sup> 1763.

Your most h<sup>ble</sup> & most obed<sup>t</sup> Servant,

ANQUETIL DE BRIANCOURT.

Thursday, 14th April 1763.

This forenoon the Chief, accompanied by the Gentlemen of Council, Pharus Caun the late Nabobs Naib or Second, Jaffier Yab Caun, Collector General, the principal officers of the Government, & all the English Gentlemen in the place proceeded in the following order to the Durbar :—

An advanced Guard of Grenadier Seepoys.

A Detachment of the Kings & Companys Troops consisting of 100 Europeans under the command of Cap<sup>t</sup> Norman.

Lamont of his Majestys 89th Regiment.

A Rear Guard of Grenadier Seepoys.

Pharus Caun in a Pallanqueen with about 250 Seepoys; Jaffir Yab Caun also in a Pallanqueen with about 100 Seepoys.

Two State horses with velvet coverings embroidered with the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Arms in their proper colours.

Two led horses with the Chiefs own furniture. Three Companies of Seepoys.

The Chief in a Pallanqueen with some Grenadier Seepoys on each side.

A Company of Bombay Seepoys.

The Gentlemen of Council & some others in coaches two & two.

On the Chiefs arrival at the Durbar he was received by Meer Nooradeen the Nabobs brother & Meer Amroodeen his cousin & Buxey (or Captain General), & by them introduced to Meer Cutbodeen, who, meeting him at the door of the inner Court, conducted him to the Namud Conna (or Dining Room), where after the usual compliments had passed, they proceeded across a Court Yard where Cap<sup>t</sup>. Lamonts Detachment was drawn up, to the Duan Conna (or great audience room) where Meer Cutbodeen being invested by the Chief as Governour of the Moguls Castle assisted by Pharus Caun, with the Culgee (or feather of the bird of Paradise) set in a Golden Locket, with a sprig set with Diamonds Rubies & Emeralds in the shape of a feather, with a large emerald pendant & Surpayich (or an ornament in the shape of a common sized Rose with a smaller one on each side, set with diamonds, emeralds & rubies with a large emerald in the shape of a Pear pendant) the ensigns of office, the first fixed towards the back & the other in the front of his turband, was led by the Chief to the seat of state called Nabobs Tackea, having a large pillow as a support behind & two smaller on each side, immediately after which the Codjee* repeated some Prayers & then the Arrasbeggy, or Master of Requests, called out, Long live the Nabob Meer Hoffis Deen Amut Caun Bahadur; upon which the Chief as Governour of the Moguls Castle, ordered the Nobut (or great Drum) to be beat & by a signal caused nine Guns to be fired from the Castle, the number heretofore given on such occasions, & which, as Chief for the British Nation, he ordered to be taken up with twenty-one Guns from the Saluting Battery near our garden & then all the guns round the town were fired. The Chief & Pharus Caun with the Council & the rest of the English Gentlemen & the officers of Government then seated themselves on carpets, the Chief on the Nabobs right hand, Pharus Caun next to him, & then the Council & other Gentlemen, the Nabobs brother & Buxey &<sup>ca</sup> Officers being all seated on his left hand. After they had sat some time just for him to receive the compliments of his officers & the principal merchants, they returned to the Namud Conna (the Detachment commanded by Cap<sup>t</sup>. Lamont beating a March & saluting each time), which room in compliment to us was furnished with chairs agreeable to the English taste, where the Nabob being seated in a large chair of state & the Chief & Council with the other Gentlemen that accompanied him in the same order as before, the Arrasbeggy came & repeated several complimentary verses in honour of the Nabob, after which Pharus Caun, Jaffir Yab Caun, & some other of the principal officers of the Government were presented with Sirpaws (viz. a Coat, Turband, & Cumberband), & each made his Tuslem (or homage) three times to the ground, whilst the Arrasbeggy & Chopdars cried out, Negaw Roash-shun Nabob Nomshar Salamut, (or May it please the Nabob of great renown & protected by the Most High to favour him with the light of his eyes). The Nabob then presented the Chief with two Arab horses & Pharus Caun, Jaffir Yab Caun, & Vully Ullah each with one, & made sundry other genteel presents to the several Gentlemen civil & military, as is usually practised on such occasions. The Chief was then accompanied to the outer gate of the Durbar by the same persons that received him there, & the whole returned in the same order to the garden, except that the Detachment under the command of Cap<sup>t</sup>. Lamont marched off to the Castle on account of the excessive heat of the weather.

---

Surat, Tuesday, 6th September 1763.

Received the following letter from Captains Scott, Boye, & Elphinstone :—

W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Agreeable to your orders to us the 2<sup>d</sup> instant, we with a great deal of difficulty got over the Bar with the fleet, the 4th, but it blowing so excessive hard on the latter part of the ebb, obliged

---

* Codjee, for Caze, Arab. kāfī, a judge. "A COGEE *** who is a Persian skilled in their law." Ovington, 206.

the Fishing boats, not being able to ride, to run in over the Bar ; & one of the Luggage boats in which was a field Piece, Mortar and Artillery stores springing a leak, was obliged to run on shore near Domus. The weather has continued to blow and rain very hard ever since, that not one of our fishing boats would come out. Notwithstanding the number of fresh men we have been supplied with, the people still continue to fall sick, occasioned by the constant rain and their being so long in the open boats without any shelter from the weather, as it now rains and blows very hard, and in all probability will continue so till the springs are over. Think it impracticable to proceed on the expedition till the season is settled.

We shall wait your further orders, and are with respect,

W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Your most obed<sup>t</sup> humble Servants,

JAMES SCOTT.

"Antelope" in Surat Road, 6th Sept<sup>r</sup>. 1763.

CHAS<sup>s</sup> WM<sup>m</sup> BOYE.

CHAS<sup>s</sup> ELPHINSTONE.

Surat, Wednesday, 7th September 1763.

Wrote the following letter to Captain James Scott at the Bar :—

Sir,

We are now to acknowledge receipt of a letter of yesterdays date signed by yourself, Captains Boye & Elphinstone, which came to hand in the evening, by which we are greatly sorry to observe the apprehensions you are under that the continuance of the wet weather would render it impracticable for you to proceed on the expedition until the season is settled. But as there is a great appearance of the weather clearing up, and there are still remaining five days of these springs, we flatter ourselves you will yet be able to proceed on this service, as it is so strongly recommended from the Presidency, and the Honorable Company have been put to so much charge, which otherwise will be to no purpose, as during the whole of the fair season there will scarcely offer so fine a prospect of destroying so many more of their vessels as now. As to the Boats you mention, another large one was sent down the night before last by return of Lieu<sup>t</sup> Bembow, in the room of that which ran ashore near Domus, & other Fishing Boats were yesterday dispatched away to supply the place of two disabled ones, for if the weather clears sufficiently for you to proceed, the Fishing Boats will soon run over the Bar after you, and as to furnishing you with fresh men in the room of the sick, if that has not been constantly kept up, it must be Captain Boyes fault for not advising their number and quality, as the Chief wrote you under the 4th instant that boats were kept ready at the Castle for that purpose. By all this you will see how much we have at heart the carrying into execution the orders of our superiors for most effectually destroying the Coolies. But if the difficulties to your proceeding are really insuperable, of which you are the best judges, we must acquiesce to your returning. We are,

Sir,

Your Loving Friends.

Surat, 7th Sep<sup>r</sup> 1763.

Surat, Friday, 9th September 1763.

Received the following letter from Captains Scott & Elphinstone :—

W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Yours of this date came to hand at 9 P.M. regarding our proceeding to Mowa & Naugnagar, but as it appeared to us a little ambiguous whether we should abide by the advice of the Pilots now or on our arrival there, are willing to think you intend the latter, and should we not be able to get there in the time you think probable as the immediate knowledge of those Bars may be of future service, shall weigh immediately and proceed, and hope it will meet your approbation.

We are with Respect,

"Antelope," Sept<sup>r</sup> 8, 1763,  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 9 P.M.

W<sup>o</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Your most Obedient Servants,

JAMES SCOTT.

CHARLES ELPHINSTONE.

Surat, Tuesday, 13th September 1763.

Report proceedings of the Honourable Companys Cruizers on an Expedition to Naugnagar & Mowa on the Cooley Coast, September 1763 :—

Friday 2<sup>d</sup>.—At 8 A.M. received orders to proceed to Naugnagar & Mowa.

Saturday 3rd.—At noon got on board the "Antelope" at Domus, where employed completing the Fleet with water. Hard squalls from S. W. with constant rain the major part of these twenty-four hours.

Sunday 4th.—Heavy squalls with rain till the noon. When the weather cleared up made the signal for sailing. At 2 P.M. weighed wth the fleet and worked over the Bars and at four anchored in 7 fathom, but blowing very fresh on the latter part of the ebb, all the Malasseries & one of the Luggage boats in which was a field Piece on shore, & their stores not being able to ride, run into Domus.

Monday 5th.—The first & middle parts more moderate with same rain, the latter fresh gales with a very hard swell. At day light seeing the "Ruparell" Provision boat on the edge of the Bar & eleven of the Malasseries wthin, it sent the "Fly" to hurry them out. At 8 A.M. received intelligence that the Luggage Boat attempting to come out had run on shore near Domus, and sprung a leak, immediately upon this dispatched Lieu<sup>t</sup> Bembow to town for another boat to tranship what was in her with the Seapoys.

Tuesday 6th.—Fresh gales with rain & heavy weather & a large swell from the westward, At 1 P.M. blowing very hard & the Luggage Boats driving weighed with the fleet and run into Domus as the weather seemed to be set in for blowing, where found Lieu<sup>t</sup> Bembow had returned from town, at 8 A.M. & had transhipped the stores & people from the above boat into one he had brought with him for that purpose. At 6 P. M. dispatched Lieu<sup>t</sup> Gage to Toddy Bank to bring the Malasseries over, where on his arrival found they were gone to Town.

Wednesday 7th.—More moderate and cloudy weather with flying showers at day light. Hove up the best bower anchor, & found the stock broke. Immediately employed a Carpenter making another. At 4 P. M. received a letter from the Chief and Council, in answer to one wrote them that they acquiesced in disembarking the troops until the weather was settled but recommended strongly to us to proceed if we thought it practicable & the weather appeared to be breaking up, on which sent for Monackjee and the Cooley Pilots to advise with in regard to our getting into the rivers of Naugnagur and Mowa these springs, who declared unless we arrived there so as to get in on the change day, they would not undertake to carry any of the vessels in, and as the moon changes this evening, it will be impossible to arrive in time. Immediately wrote the Chief & Council the substance of this and waited their further orders.

Thursday 8th.—Variable and cloudy wth squalls of winds and rain in the forenoon, the latter part more settled. At 8 A.M. came down ten Malasaries from Surat for the Fleet. At 3 P.M. finished stocking our best bower anchor. At 4 P.M. made the signal, weighed with the Fleet, and dropt to the outer Hole, where anchored. At 9 P.M. received a letter from the Chief and Council, wherein they positively order, wind & weather permitting, to proceed to Mowa unless the Pilots should again refuse to carry us into that river, where the Chief and Council are informed that on the 4th day of the springs is not less than two fathom water.

Friday 9th.—The first and middle parts moderate and cloudy weather, the latter fresh gales and large swell from the S. W. At  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 4 A.M. made the signal, weighed with the fleet and worked over the Bar in company the "Badger Hawke," "Otter," "Fly" & "Livelys" Prize Gallivats, two Pattermars, nine Malassaries, six Luggage and one Provision Boat. At  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 7 anchored in 5 fathom. At  $\frac{1}{2}$  past 11 weighed with the Fleet and stood to the Northward. At sunset saw the land to the Northward of Sultanpore bearing N. W. about six leagues. At 9 P.M. anchored in 9 fathom sandy ground.

Saturday 10th.—The first & middle parts moderate, the latter strong gales & squally wth a large swell from the S. W. At 5 A.M. the flood being done, made the signal and weighed. At sunrise Tullajee Hill over Sultanpore W. by N.  $\frac{1}{2}$  N., Gopnot Point being the extreme to the Southward W. S. W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S. off shore about 4 leagues, all the Fleet in sight. At 9 A.M. was a head of a land called Cony on within  $\frac{1}{2}$  mile then in ten fathom water. This land is dry at low water and lies from N. E. to S. W. in length about 5 or 6 miles. It bears from Gopnot Pagoda E. S. E. about  $3\frac{1}{2}$  leagues, Tullajee Hill then bearing from us N. W. On this land about four years ago a ship belonging to the Bownagur Rajah was lost. At noon the ebb being done made the signal and anchored in 10 fathom in the soft mud, Gopnot bore N. E. South point of Nangangur River W. 72 E. off shore 5 miles. At P.M. weighed with the Fleet and worked to the Southward, but many of the Malasseries having drove with the flood almost out of sight, was obliged to anchor at 9 to let them rejoin the Fleet. Also despatched the "Fly" to bring up the sternmost boat.

Sunday 11th.—The first part fresh gales and hazy weather with a continuance of the S. W. swell, the latter part moderate and fair. At sunrise many of the Fleet a considerable way astern occasioned by a heavy swell and strong tide of flood. Naugnagur Creek bearing W. by A. N<sup>or</sup>erly the extreames of the land from W.  $\frac{1}{2}$  S. to N. E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  N. off shore 5 leagues. At 6 A.M. weighed with the Fleet and stood to Naugnagur, off which place anchored in  $7\frac{1}{2}$  fathom, the entrance of the Creek bearing N. B. E.  $\frac{1}{2}$  E., a Faquirs house on the S<sup>o</sup> side of the rivers entrance of N. by W., the extreames of the land from S. W. by W. to E. N. E. off the entrance of the Creek about two miles. Finding it impracticable to land at this place from the numbers of Rocks & Breakers and observing a Bay about 3 miles to the S<sup>o</sup>ward, sent in the "Fly" to sound and examine it, where finding it practicable to land the Troops, weighed with the fleet and stood in, where anchored in two fathom at noon. Dispatched Lieu<sup>t</sup> Bembow with all the Gallivats boats to assist in landing the Troops and burning the Boats. At 1 P.M. the Troops being all landed marched up to Naugnagur Creek about  $4\frac{1}{2}$  miles inland, where finding seventeen boats with their stores all fitted for sea, burnt them with their Custom House. At 5 P.M. the Troops returned and not being able to come off from the great surf took possession of the Hills near the shore. Having received intelligence from a boat belonging to Sciddee Hillol that the village about two miles S<sub>o</sub>ard of us was Cottapoor of the Bunder of Mowa advised Captain Boye of this.

Monday 12th.—At day light the Troops marched from the hills towards Mowa, at same time the fleet dropping abreast of it, where anchored in 1½ fathom sand, sent all the Malassaries close inshore. At 7 set fire to the Town, and one boat which was on float, likewise destroyed 5 others that were skuttled with their tanks, stores &c<sup>a</sup>. At 10 A. M. embarked the Troops, during which time was obliged to keep a constant fire from the Vessells & Pattermars at the Coolys, who came down on the beach in great numbers. B. this is a very small Creek guarded by a long flat sand, the channel into which is along the southern shore of the Bay and on the height of the springs cannot be more than 7 feet water, as when we were there on the first hours ebb the bar was then dry though between 4 and 5 feet water on the Creek, which is not above fifteen or sixteen feet broad, the entrance of Nangnagur Creek is quite dry at low water with many rocks at the entrance but is somewhat broader than the other upon within the bar, though it appears impossible for any vessel to go in except being warpt or having a leading wind. At ½ past 10 weighed with the fleet and stood for Surat, at 3 P.M. was abreast of Sultanpore, at sunset Tullajee Hill W. by S. Peeram N. extreames to the S<sub>o</sub> and W. by S. off shore 4 or 5 leagues in 13 fathom. At 9 P.M. anchored with the fleet in 10 fathom sand.

Tuesday, 13th.—Moderate and fair weather. At 8 A. M. weighed with the fleet and stood to the Southward with a light breeze from the South-west. At noon was abreast Codjaree. At 3 P.M. the flood being made was obliged to anchor with the fleet off Swallow Point in 8 fathom.

JAMES SCOTT.

Monday, 19th.—The Chief accompanied by the Gentlemen of Council, all the European Inhabitants and the several merchants under our protection, proceeded to Castle Green, where the Troops being drawn up, His Majestys Proclamation of Peace was read by the Secretary mounted on horse-back, after which three vollies were fired by the Troops and twenty-one guns from the artillery.

Tuesday, 20th.—Sailed a Dutch Snow to the Southward & the "Lively" Ketch, Captain Brad, to Bombay.

Surat, 20th September 1763.

At a Consultation, Present:

Thomas Hodges, Esq<sup>r</sup>, Chief.

Oecil Bowyer.

Charles Whitehill.

Thomas Mostyn.

. . . . .

John Stephenson.

Robert Gambier absent by leave.

Read & approved our last Consultation of the 8th instant.

The Chief acquaints the Board that the Nabob has frequently during the rain expressed an inclination to visit him and which he has as often waved on account of not having anything suitable to present him with and in the hope that something might be procurable at the opening of the season. On such an occasion as his first visit after the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Council their choice of him, and to give that the more weight and consequence in the eyes of Marattas and all settled in this place, the Board are of opinion the amount of the present should not be less than ten thousand Rupees for himself and his officers, and as some Superfine Scarlet Cloth and Europe Velvet among other things will be very acceptable, agreed that we request our Superiours to send us twelve pieces of the former and two of the latter, viz. one crimson and one green.

THO<sup>s</sup>. HODGES.
J. STEPHENSON.

---

Surat, Sunday, 11th December 1763.

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

The gold received per Ship "Latham" has been disposed off at the rate of Rs. 12-2 per tola one month & halfs time, & the forty-one Arcot Rupees for twelve Rupees and a quarter each. The musters of Venetian gold have been showed to the Merchants, who say if there is not a great quantity of it, it will fetch fifteen Rupees per Tola, but no one chuses to contract for any till they know the whole quantity. On weighing the above gold it turned out Surat tolas 2716 vols 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ .

Surat, 11th December 1763.

We are,
Humble Sir & Sirs,
Your most obed<sup>t</sup> humble Servant.

---

Surat, Thursday, 9th February 1764.

Sailed the "Viper" Ketch and two Gallivatts on a cruize.

The Chief having been informed that on the evening when he went to visit the Dutch Chief he was saluted only with fifteen guns, though it has been hitherto always customary to salute the Chiefs of all European Nations in Surat with twenty-one, he sent Captain Gleety to the Dutch Chief this morning to acquaint him in a friendly manner of the mistake, and to propose a remedy for it, viz. that the Chief would take an opportunity of going to the Companys gardens, and as he went past the Dutch Bunder that they should salute him with twenty-one guns and send two members of their Board to him at our Garden to appologize for the mistake of 15 guns, when he would order it to be returned, gun for gun; also, that they should salute him with the same number on his return to the Factory, which would be assured in the same manner; but which he not thinking proper to comply with, the Chief directed Mess<sup>rs</sup> Stephenson & Bouchier to wait on him in the afternoon to demand that satisfaction which they would have done had he not in answer to their message acquainting him of their intentions desired they would defer it till tomorrow.

---

Surat, Friday, 10th February 1764.

Mess<sup>rs</sup> Stevenson & Bouchier waited on the Dutch Chief to demand the satisfaction noticed yesterday for the public affront offered to our nation in this city in not saluting the Chief with twenty-one guns as usual, & at the same time endeavoured to convince him of the propriety of his complying with the proposal made to him by the Chief yesterday morning by Captain Gleetly if no affront was designed, which the Chief was willing yet to believe, to which he replied that he meant no affront, and that he would send two gentlemen of his Council to assure the Chief that he had no such intentions, that his only reason for it was his having no more than fifteen guns mounted and that he had no proper artillery people. He was afraid of letting them be loaded twice for fear of accidents as there was at present a pensioner belonging to their Company who had lost an arm by his unskillfulness.

Surat, Friday, 24th February 1764.

Mynheer Blaakamer waited on the Chief this morning from Mynheer Synff, the Dutch Director, to know his ultimate resolution wth regard to the satisfaction required for the mistake in the salute. He was answered no other could be accepted than that demanded under the 9th instant. Mynheer Blaakamer then asked if that part which required two of their Councils waiting on him at the garden to tell him the salute was made for him could not be dispensed with. The Chief replied by no means, as without hearing that from their own mouths the salute could not be returned, as it might else have possibly been made upon drinking some health or other, to which Mynheer Blaakamer acquiescing, promised in his Directores name that this afternoon if the Chief chose it this matter would be accordingly settled to his satisfaction.

Manifest of Bales said to contain Diamonds value R.<sup>s</sup> 15570, being marked and numbered as & per margin, laden by Moses Tobias on "The Royal," Honorable Captain Lesly Baillie, consigned to the Honourable Charles Crommelin Esq<sup>r</sup>. at Bombay, and to be sent to Europe on the ship "Speaker," Captain James Dewart, and there to be delivered to Mess<sup>rs</sup> Levi Ruben Solomen, merchants in London.

This evening the Chief, accompanied by the Gentlemen of Council and some others, went to the Honourable Companys garden in order to receive the satisfaction agreed on this morning, and as he passed the Dutch Bunder was saluted with twenty-one guns, after which a deputation from the Dutch, viz. Mynheers De[Tonge & Blaakamer, came to him at the Gardens and appologized in a suitable manner for the mistake of his being saluted with fifteen guns when he visited their Chief, acquainting him at the same time that the salute of twenty-one guns made by them as he passed their Bunder was intended by way of satisfaction to him for it, upon which the Chief instantly ordered their salute to be returned, gun for gun, and when he passed their Bunder in return to the Factory, he was again saluted with twenty-one guns, which was immediately answered with the same number from our Battery.

Surat, 27th June 1764.

Translate of a letter from Padree Wendell to Padree Medard :—

Reverend Father,

I sent an express the 21st March with letters to the R. F. John Baptist, M<sup>r</sup>. Hodges and M<sup>r</sup>. Briancourt, and I wrote you again the 2<sup>d</sup>, the 3<sup>d</sup>, 12th, and lastly the 28th April. I hope that all those letters have arrived safe. In each of them I observed to you what then had passed here.

It is now four days that a report has prevailed here of a misfortune happening to the English near Patnah. On the 22<sup>d</sup> April the Viziers advanced guard consisting of 5 or 6000 Mogul and Persian Horse gained some small advantage over a piquet guard of the English and a convoy of a Chief called Hander Kaun.

Fifteen days after the whole army (the Kings) crossed the river near Daugnagur, 30 corse from Patnah and marched within 5 corse of Patnah, imagining that the English had abandoned their stations, returned to Patnah, and here united all their different detachments, that they (the Moguls) thought they had nothing to do but to approach, and that on their first appearance the English would march off and leave them the field. Such was the arrogance and presumption the retreat of the English had filled them with. On the 5th April they encamped near Polhvaria, and at last out of patience, on the 2<sup>d</sup> of the month, or rather the first of the Moon, according to the calculation of the Moors, about 11 in the afternoon they attacked, on all sides, the English trenches, and imagined that they had only to do with soldiers of Indostan. The English let them come very near, in order not to loose one shot, and when they had them once within proper distance gave them such a salute that these blind Cavaliers forgot to fight and to conquer. The cannonading lasted on both sides till three o'clock in the afternoon in which they (the Moguls) lost above 2000 dead on the spot, besides the wounded, and among the dead many officers of note. They retreated above three corse. Upon that two Batalions of English Seapoys advanced with two field pieces to endeavour to carry off the Viziers artillery which consisted of 5 pieces of cannon, which kept up a very good fire, being well served by the enemies' Europeans. The Moguls fell once more upon those Seapoys, but immediately as the English Seapoys saluted them with their field pieces, they abandoned the attack. During these intervals the Viziers cannon were drawn off to the general camp, which was already retreated 5 corse off. Such is the success of this enterprise as has been wrote to me third of this month from the Viziers camp. Four days before there was a confused rumour of this, but nothing certain could be collected. Patnah is 10 good days journey from this place, and supposing therefore that in 5 days they should have had news of this unlucky event for the Moors, but no one would say how, where, or in what manner it happened. Now these proud Musslemen are little humbled and have begun to think that the Europeans know how to fight as well as themselves. Before those events their insolence was insupportable. The retreat of the English towards Patnah had changed them into lyons & tygers: they became too proud to know themselves and insulted everybody.

In their camp now flour is at 4 lbs. for a Rupee. No hay, no grass or water to be got in the neighbourhood, and the Viziers own province already seems to be alarmed. One such stroke of experience more will satisfy them, and if the English soon receive reinforcements they have won, and certainly did well to retreat under Patnah, where everything is at hand which never could have been the case if they had been situated near here, for they would have run a risk of being surrounded as the force of the enemy amounts to 100000 men, but the country is so ravaged that there is no longer any villages standing. The English have in their quarters abundance of provisions and amunition and cannot well want. Any further particulars I will write you hereafter, for I now wrote in haste that you might receive the good news soon. Make my compliments to M<sup>r</sup>. Hodges, in particular to M<sup>r</sup>. Briancourt & F. John Baptist. By a better opportunity I will write you all the circumstances of this engagement. 'Tis said that the English have in Patnah 16 batalions of Seapoys, 2000 Europeans and 10000 Cavalry besides two batalions in Mungneer. I hope yet that they will handle these proud imperious infidels still more roughly. God keep them in his holy protection and give them fresh force, and do you, my good Father, by your holy prayers preserve and defend me amongst these beasts; conqueror or conquered, they still are unhuman.

I am, &c.,
P. X. WENDELL.

Surat, Saturday, 7th July 1764.

Account Salary due to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company's Covenanted Servants at Surat commencing the 2<sup>d</sup> January and ending 31st July, 1764, viz<sup>t</sup>

	Time commenced.	Time ending.		Salary per annum.	Salary due.	Exchange.
			Mo. Days.	£. s. d.	£. s. d.		Rs. qrs. rs.
Thomas Hodges, Esq <sup>r</sup> , Chief ...	2 <sup>d</sup> January ...	1 st July ...	6 0	100 0 0	50 0 0	8	400 0 0
Mr. Robert Gambier, Gen. Merch.	Ditto ...	Ditto ...	6 0	30 0 0	15 0 0	.....	120 0 0
Mr. John Stephenson ditto ...	Ditto ...	Ditto ...	6 0	30 0 0	15 0 0	.....	120 0 0
Mr. Willm Stratton ditto ...	Ditto ...	Ditto ...	6 0	30 0 0	15 0 0	.....	120 0 0
Mr. Charles Bouchier, Factor ...	Ditto ..	Ditto ...	6 0	15 0 0	7 10 0	.....	60 0 0
Mr. George Perrott ...	Ditto ...	Ditto ..	6 0	5 0 0	2 10 0	.....	20 0 0
Do as Reader of Devine Service ...	Ditto ...	Ditto ...	6 0	50 0 0	25 0 0	.. ...	200 0 0
Mr. John Page, Surgeon ...	Ditto ...	1 st April ...	12 29	54 0 0	13 7 0½	.....	106 3 26
Mr. William Sennent, ditto ...	1 st April ...	1 st July ...	3 61	54 0 0	13 12 11½	.....	109 0 74
				£ ...	157 0 0	or Rs. ...	1,256 0 0

Surat, Monday, 16th July 1764.

Translate of a letter received from Padree Wendell at Lucknore without date and addressed to the Chief of Surat:—

Sir,

Above two months past I took the liberty of addressing you a second letter by means of Padree Medard. The Pattermar which I sent express with it is not yet returned. The news I had then to give perhaps surprised you, as they were not the most agreeable. Since then you must doubtless have received further information of whatever has happened to this time through other channels. By the advices which have reached you from all sides, you must have learnt that your nation having hardly freed herself from one very formidable war in Bengal, was threatened to be overwhelmed by a new one still more dangerous, which the enemy escaped from the pursuit of your triumphant arms endeavoured to draw on her from all quarters. The money he (Cossim Ally Caun) carried away with him, prevailed even over those who a very little while before had offered you their friendship and assistance against this wicked fellow. But what could you expect from the friendship of those infidels. The event has manifested that all their proceedings were meant only to amuse you till such time as their hands were released from other engagements and free to make the stroke against you with greater certainty of success.

The enemys army combined against your nation, being encouraged by the unexpected retreat of your Peons, advanced even to Patnah, and believed that they had nothing to do but to advance on to make your troops quit their ground before them, and they should pro-need triumphantly into Calcutta to carry from thence men, women and riches &c<sup>ca</sup> which they had already shared amongst themselves as they pleased. I dont know what reasons your Commanders can have for quitting then the country and abandoning it to the pleasure of an Army accustomed to pillage and ravages. I am even certain that the Moors would never have dared to pass the Ganges and proceed on so far if they had met with any opposition on your side, since it was easy for your Peons to have impeded their passage at very little cost as soon as the enemys army put themselves in motion which could not but be known to your people, and even had your Piquets stood their ground the Moors dared not have passed the river; but it was judged proper to garrison Patnah, and assemble under the cannon all your Army. Then the country left at the mercy of the enemy has been so ravaged and destroyed that it cannot recover itself for many years.

The 3<sup>d</sup> of this month the Moors experienced to their loss that they had made great account of their bravery, or more properly speaking their numbers. They attacked with an astonishing fury the trenches before Patnah and were determined, cost what it would, to carry them by storm, sword in hand; nor did they retire till after six hours battle and having their bravest troops extended dead on the field to the number of two thousand besides as many more wounded. Of this glorious day for your nation I have already 15 days ago given advice in a letter to Padree Medard, and I now remark to them, by a kind of journal, all that has come to my knowledge of what has happened since that day, desiring them to communicate to you, to save me trouble of writing and multiplying letters, for in the very hot weather I can do nothing without great fatigues.

This letter is only intended to congratulate you on this signal victory. If I am the first to advice you of this success, the Moors are become more humble, and nothing now is talked of but peace, which cannot be made but at the pleasure of the conquerors. Would to God that an opportune reinforcement was sent, to encourage your troops to check those infidels in the field, and strike the finishing stroke with the barbarians, whose impudence, insolence and pride are to me altogether insupportable. This is my wish, and this is my constant prayer. May Providence that for so many years past has governed your arms direct them once more on the present occasion, and this enemy once vanquished (which I hope will soon be the case) you may carry the terror of your arms wherever it shall please you. The Reverend Father Medard will inform you of the rest, and I have the honor to be, Sir, with much respect, your most humble and obedient servant,

P. X. WENDELL.

---

Lucknore, the 18th May 1764.

Extract from a relation or journal from the Viziers Camp near Daurmagur, the other side the river 25 Corse from Patnah and commencing from the 24th April from a German in the said Camp to Padree Wendell:—

The 22<sup>d</sup> instant our Moguls to the number of 5 or 6000 horsemen, met with a piquet and convoy of the English and attacked them not far from Patnah. 5 to 7 Europeans were killed and many Moguls. The Chief of the convoy, who is a relation of the famous Cauder Pahan, was made prisoner, and two elephants and a number of horses and oxen were taken. The convoy deserted, and our troops carried off the booty. The Vizier to encourage these Moguls has promised them for every head of a European 5 Gold Rupees and every head of a native soldier 2 Gold Rupees. Our advanced guard under three Commanders in Chief consist of 25000 horse without reckoning the foot seapoys. It is situated about 4 Corse from thence. Provisions are now at 6<sup>lb</sup> for the Rupee, that is to say.....seer of Rice for a Rupee. Tomorrow or the day after tomorrow shall begin our march.

April 30th.—We are now near Palvariah, 5 Corse from Patnah. The English have abandoned this post and intrenched themselves about 3 Corse from hence under a small mountain; there they have a communication with the Ganges. 'Tis said that we shall attack them in a short time. Our camp is badly situated; no forage for the horses, or water near at hand, and the country is sandy. We have now no more than 4½ lb. Provisions for a rupee.

May 4th.—Yesterday we ventured for the first time to attack the English. Yesterday morning the Nabob Vizier gave orders to all his troops, both horse and foot, to attack the English trenches with the greatest impetuous, and cost what it would to render themselves masters of them. After all the necessary arrangements we marched about ten o'clock towards the trenches, the troops of Cossim Ally Caun on one side with the Heavy Artillery of the Viziers and our own, where the Europeans were placed with 5 pieces of field Artillery, Cossim Ally Caun with the guns, the Camels their musquets and little guns on their saddles, the Potans with their guns, which they call here Ban, and the rest of the foot with their musquets. During this time the most daring of the Cavalry approached towards the English sword in hand, reckoning to make themselves master of their cannon, but they reckoned wthout their host. The English received their first salute with a profound silence, and let our people come very near in order not to lose their shots in the air. Then on the very first fire of the English those brave fellows were all of them thrown to the earth, but still their fury was so great that they did not retire but persisted during three hours in their intention of forcing the trenches. The fire of the English was continued and kept up so well that it was impossible to approach them. Our Artillery too kept up so good a fire that the artillery of the English scarce prevailed against our 5 pieces. In the end when it was perceived that the ground was covered with the carcasses of men and horses and that we had kept our ground all that time to no purpose, all the army retreated to their camp and abandoned us with our five Cannon. Immediately two Battalions of Seapoys from the English camp with two pieces of Cannon approached us to endeavour to take our guns, but as they came on to attack us on the left, some of the Viziers and Moguls that yet remained imagined that the English were retreating, and immediately attacked them sword in hand with great fury. The Commander of the English detachment let them come close, and then fired upon them with grape and musquetry in such a manner that all except those that ran away fell. During this interval we retreated a little away with our guns and fired on the English. As long as we had any ammunition the Seapoys still advanced right upon us, and as we had no ammunition left we were obliged to retire with precipitation, but with the help of God brought our five pieces to the Camp, which we considered as lost, and in such case we should have been condemned. Notwithstanding we had no more ammunition left, we lost one man who was an Englishman, a Dutchman mortally wounded who came to us with the French, two bullocks killed and the keeper of the bullocks wounded, and we have lost also a chest of cartridges and ball. We have left of the Nabob Viziers army above two thousand dead on the spot (without reckoning the troops of Cossim Alli Caun) and much greater number wounded, which will doubtless increase the number of dead, but at present we cannot reckon with any certainty. Two Commanders-in-Chief amongst the slain and others wounded, some mortally. The whole army is full of terror and lamentation. According to all appearance the English have not lost 30 men.

N. B.—Here at Lucknore they make the number of dead amount to 5000, and these the best troops, as many wounded, and some chief officers whom they will not name. The French that came to us at Caramnassa are in a very bad condition. Of 150, scarce 50 now remain, they kill themselves with guns and swords, and in the last affaire dishonor to Europeans, some returned and took refuge with the English. It would have been better for our service, which is now lost, that those had never joined us, all the Germans and other Europeans will certainly take the opportunity of the next attack to steal away, if any one remains till that time. If we do attack them another time, which tis said we shall, who is it that will serve those barbarians without powder and amunition and let himself be killed for nothing.

May 8th.—We have abandoned Palvariah with a design of approaching nearer to the trenches. The Vizier is marched to the right of Patnah and Fatnah. The army is divided and placed all round Patnah to prevent all access. Six thousand horse are to pass the river and encamp near Hassipor to ravage the country all round, in order to force the English to come out and hazard a battle with us, on which we hope to overpower them by number, but I am of oppinion that we shall just get as much as we did the first time. We ourselves are dying of hunger, and who knows whether the English will not seek us for their own accord, for they well know our bravery and courage. God orders all things for the best. All the Army wishes Cossim Ally Caun with his money at the Divil and the Vizier never imagined the English would stand before him. Now he has experienced and wont triumph so soon as he expected, nor as it seems return into his country as he came.

May 20th.—From the Camp . . . To prevent a rebellion in the country no one is suffered here to write his mind freely. It is certain that they are so badly accomodated every way that they study by every means to palliate their grief and concern, and to the Courts all the Rajahs they write false consolatory letters to the families of the dead and wounded.

Extract of a letter from Padree Wendell to Padree Medard.

Reverend Father,

Agra, 15th June 1764.

Since I left Lucknore I have learnt nothing certain to this time from the King and Viziers camp nor have I received any new letters which I can depend on here. At Agra there is a fresh report of a peace being concluded on these conditions, that the jurisdiction of Patnah shall be yielded to the Viziers only son, all the rest of Bengall to Jaffir Ally Khan, and a large sum of money is to be given to the King or the Vizier. Tis said a Crore, and that this sum is to be paid by Cossim Ally Khan out of the treasure which he carried from Bengall. Thus this man with all the money and expense has lost all hopes of being restored in Bengall, which is what I have long foreseen. The English will never admit of such a peace as this without they are conquered or near being so. In time we shall know the truth of this report.

Extract of another letter from the same Padree, dated at Lucknore the 24th of May.

Since the third of this month nothing has happened. Great heat rages in the Moors Camp, but their ardor for fighting the English is frozen. Peace is much talked of. I have given in my journal an account of all transactions up to the 10th. Since the 12th they wrote that the Moors are incamped 3 corse from Patnah and are raising Batteries to reduce the English as soon as possible. They say too that they are sending out various detachments to ravage the country and at the same time they talk of peace, but that will be as the English pleases. There is a general mourning in this town on account of the great number of dead, yet notwithstanding their pride is not quelled every day new coffins are brought in, which increased the lamentations. They are so much enraged at this first salute of the Europeans, that if it was in their power they would tear them to pieces with their teeth. One dare not open ones mouth for fear of being devoured by those wolves. They remark too from the Camp that again a great dispute has broke out between the King and the Vizier. That the King had never any inclination to march against the English is well known, and I have often observed it to you; nevertheless he was obliged to do it for his authority. If a shadow, the Kings uncle has to this time held a secret correspondence with the English, and it is said that his letters have lately fallen into the Viziers hands. The Kings spies are kept confined day and night and his uncle arrested and kept prisoner by the King with the Viziers troops. I wish only that the English could get a reinforcement. In my oppinion they seem to act with too much caution and appear too timid. If the English had stood their ground near Caramnassa they could have most easily prevented the enemy from passing the Ganges. The Marattas already assemble and begin to usurp the country; the Kings Army wants to return and the friendship between the Vizier and Cossim Ally Caun cannot hold long, for the Vizier wants to fortify himself in this country, which he at present possesses, which is what I have foreseen; that is to say, the Vizier would render himself master of Patnah with the money and at the expenses of Cassim Ally Khan. They say that the Europeans are magicians, for otherwise they never could fire and reload their Cannon so fast.

P.S.—The English do not move at all. Most likely they think that in short time the rains will fight their battle. This coolness makes the Moors vomit out expressions unworthy the name and glory of the English.

P.S.—From the Viziers Camp near Patnah the 14th May.—All the Army is at present situated between Patnah and Fatnah near the Ganges. On the side of Jaffir Khans gardens we keep Patnah as strictly blockaded as tis possible. The English seem little bold. Since the affair of the 3<sup>d</sup> May to this day they kept themselves in the fortress and trenches and never fire a shot but when our people draw too near. Tis said that if the Vizier who is sick could mount on an elephant or on horse-back we should once more attack their trenches. We are working to make batteries and approaches, but I am affraid that the rain which advances will extinguish all the fire. There is very different discourse about an accommodation, but all is yet uncertain. According to all appearance Cossim Ally will pay the whole cost and go about his business without either Patnah or Kassarrah.

P.S.—Of the 25th of the same month. If one was to believe the Moors letters the English are much streightened and beg for peace. My letters say nothing of this except that Jaffir Ally Khan has sent a man to tauk about a peace. The Moors desire more a peace in order that their disgrace may be somewhat covered.

P.S.—Lucknore the 27th May. Peace is talked of. It is said that the English are blockaded on every side. Tomorrow I go to Agra, from whence I shall write more.

Extract of a letter from Padree Tiefenthaler, a Jesuit, to Padree Medard, dated at Marwar the 31st of May.

Since the English (against the oppinion of all the world) withdrew from Caramnassa and took refuge under the cannon of Patnah, the King, Vizier and Cossim Ally Khan have taken heat and approached to Patnah, which place they now actually beseige. There is much firing on both sides. It is suspected that the Moors have more Europeans than the English. From their retreat the Moors have got courage and it is said that the English wait for succours from Europe. If the Moors had really courage, they might destroy Bengal. The Moors reckoned to have at least 60000 horse besides their foot and Europeans. Their Camp is seven corse in length. Most of the inhabitants of Patnah have come out on account of the scarcity of provisions. This news is certain, and you make the English Chief of Surat acquainted with it. Padree Wendel speaks much in commendation of the English Government of Calcutta and we have therefore obligations to the whole nation.

---

Tuesday, 17th.—Wrote the following letter to Bombay by Pattermar:—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir and Sirs,

Since writing the above Aga Haddy Caun has sent the Chief a letter which he had received from the Kings Camp before Patnah, dated the 10th June, mentioning that the Kings Vizier had taken possession of all Cossim Ally Cauns jewels, treasure, elephants and horses for the payment of the Army, which we hope to hear confirmed.

We are with Respect,

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir and Sirs,

Your most Obedient Humble Servants.

---

17th July 1764.

To Padree Medard.

Reverend Sir,

This 15 days past I did myself the honor to write to you by a Pattermar of the Shroffs which left this place for Surat. I there gave you an account of all that had come to my notice since the departure of my two Pattermars, despatched from hence the 5th November last. I wait with impatience the return of my Pattermar of the 6th October, as I recommended to you not to detain him at Surat, and behold it is almost two months he has been out. I cannot imagine what can be the reason of this delay. 'Tis this that discourages me from sending you Pattermars, as neither by them or any other way can I obtain any answer to an infinite number of letters I am constantly writing to you.

I shall now give you an account of the battle which happened between the English and the Army of the Nabob Souja Doula and in which the first mentioned were victorious, as I have already had the pleasure to acquaint you by two Pattermars despatched purposely express, and thus as before have I learnt the first advices they have here from the Army. I shall acquaint you with the success of constant fortune which has taken pleasure to accompany the British arms in this country, for to speak the truth, 'tis to her that they ought for the most part to attribute the advantage and the signal victory which they have gained of the Moors, till now victorious on this occasion. Behold the affair of it happened.

“Camp of the Nabob Souja Daula, near Ellahabad, 22<sup>d</sup> November.

“The 22<sup>d</sup> of October last the English being advanced very near our Camp towards night, early the next morning the 23<sup>d</sup> our Nabob made a defile of the Army with the Artillery. They begun to fire the cannon about nine in the morning, which was continued briskly on both sides till three in the afternoon, when the English Seapoys begun to give way and retired to a burnt village. At the same time the Moguls, sword in hand, entered the English camp and began to pillage in such a manner that nothing belonging to the English escaped, not a tent. Somers at the same time kept a continued fire at the English platoon, which advanced towards him, but gave way by degrees and begun to retire, that is to say swiftly. Isaluli Chaun also unfortunately fell, one of the Nabobs freed men and commander of a thousand horse, but only followed by about dozen, and this began to throw the Moors into a panick. The English rallied and detached 2 battalions of Seapoys to fire on the place of the people belonging to Rajah Benem Bahader, and he having fallen from his wounded elephant mounted a horse to seek for his master and to acquaint him of the danger, and behold the whole army in disorder, and every one running away at full speed. The Vizier and the Rajah were the first to show the way to the others. The Moguls who remained in the field at the same time fell on the Vizier, pillaged the Shroffs, their tents and even the treasure and the tents of their master the Nabob. It was in this tragical confusion that so many people were killed. The English had nothing to do but to pursue the fugitives, being stripped of all they had, and not able to carry anything off. All the artillery, great and small baggage, tents &c.<sup>a</sup> were the prize and recompense to the English, become conquerors in an instant. Behold the whole affair which has lost the English much blood. They had above 300 whites killed, above 200 wounded, above 3000 Seapoys killed and wounded. They would have been beat if the Moors horse had supported the Europeans in the Nabobs service, who had behaved well. On the side of the conquered with a few officers we had not above 4 or 500 killed and about as many wounded, the most part suffocated or drowned in their flight in passing a small river or Nala near Bagsar not far from the field of the battle. The Vizier did not take breadth till at Ramgar, and from thence to Genagur two forts near Benarees, and not molest the King nor his people, and he is now with them at Benarees &c.<sup>a</sup>."

You see, my Reverend P., what they have wrote me touching this action, and it is as particular as you could wish. You can impart it to the English if they are curious, if they have not received accounts of it. Amongst the Europeans in the service of Souja Doula, there are two killed, some with their limbs broke, and some dangerously wounded. Most of the artillery is sent to Patnah and the remainder to other places. They mounted 300 pieces counting the pierries or reolés, as the Indostans call them. This is all regarding this affair. The English then took possession of Gazipore, and leaving a garrison there are come near to Benares by land and by the river Ganges. The 13th November their head officers came into this rich city to visit the King, who has quitted Souja Doula and is now with them. Raja Benim Bahader is also come to see if there is any hope of a peace for the defeated Nabob. They have given 5 days to give a categorical answer, but the proposals are of such a nature as rather to make him risk all than to comply with them. They have got no answer as yet. They demand nothing less than Gazipore, Benares, Ninargar, & Ellihabad, and all the country depending on them. They have laid a contribution on Benares of 18 lacks in the Kings name and have already received eight, and they are diligently endeavoring to raise the remainder. This alarms all the Shroffs of Indostan who have much to loose in this city. The King has quitted the late Vizier. This poor Nabob has been so miserably handled of late that he hopes to get more in Indostan with the assistance of the English than by any other way. Let us see the sequel of this tragic comedy which for so many years to this day has continued on this unhappy theatre and without abating and every season has furnished new revolutions. Souja Doula having rested at Ellahabad, taken some money also the Artillery from this place & Genargur, has again assembled an army of near 30000 Horse and is this day encamped near the Ganges, about this place, with an intention to pass the river and attack the English, who are assembled together at Benares in all 12 or 13000. Time will show if he comes off with more success than hitherto.

His mother the grand Begame is gone for Lucknoor to assert their right in that city and the country in revolt. They have ordered boats to be brought from all parts for their assistance and the army to pass and begin again hostilities. This is the news of this country.

As for me I would give them advice more proper for the situation of the Nabob & tell him he ought to be wiser by the two lessons they have just given him. These people are always the same; tis therefore in vain to teach them, they are always actuated like beasts on the same occasion. Can they expect better success in future than they have hitherto had. At the same time will good fortune always follow the English? Wont she leave them? Perhaps when they don't think of it, and make the formidable conquering triumphant English, even as the Indostan, that is as the Sovereign Lord of Arms and Countries may determine.

Here the last month there was a bloody affair between the Jauts and the Rohelas near Dilli. They both remain a little bold after this first rencounter. Dilli is surrounded by the Marattas and the Jauts and Rohelas within are hard pressed by them. Famine is to the last degree in the city, and in a few days there will be an affair which will not give less reason for taulk to the public than that of the Nabob Soujah Dowla below. May the Lord bless us is all that I have to say amongst so many troubles this unhappy country is devoured with & yet threatened with more.

This is sufficient, R. P., that I have the honor to acquaint you with this time. I think it is enough. Excuse my French as you will have me write in it, except the quantity & if it loaths you reject the quality. It is always to prove to you that I am &c<sup>a</sup>.

---

Agra, December 1764.

My most humble respects to the gentlemen and the Governor. I believe we shall have the English much nearer Agra than Patnah, at which time we shall not want subject for our correspondence.

Is there any news from Europe? Here they acquaint me that Louis XV is dead, and the Dauphin on the throne, and that many have been beheaded on this occasion.

All the riches confiscated by Cossim Ally Khan, left at Benares, are fallen again into the hands of the English &c<sup>a</sup>. Nothing saved but what the Begam carried with her to Ellihabad a few days before.

The Frenchmen in the service of the Nabob behaved extremely well on this occasion and kept up a brisk fire on the English, which they will never forget. But this to ourselves. Somers shined and is Chief of the Artillery, and I hear he is day and night very busy in fitting up the Nabobs artillery in proper order which are taken from the fortifications.

---

Surat, 28th January 1765.

Extract from a paper of Intelligence received from the Padree at Lucknore without a date, except the postscript, which is dated the 14th December 1764.

All the news contained in the Padrees Papers is as follows: that the Vizier has collected a new Army to the amount of near 40000 men & marched towards Benares, but halted, and remained by their last advices at a place about 7 corse from Allahabad. That he had taken out and sent away from that place every thing that was valuable, with the grand Begam, Cassim Ally Khan and a few servants to Lucknore. That most of the French which came last year to Soujah Dowla were deserted with their leaders for fear of being delivered up or falling into the hands of the English. That Somers was all in all with Soujah Dowla & almost Commander-in-Chief of the Army. That he had collected with great difficulty a very few pieces of Artillery fit for the field service from the place yet subject to Soujah Dowlah, which were put under his charge to mount and fit for service, together with 4 small pieces which were saved from the three hundred which they before had. That Somers was also busy in recruiting the Seapoys and supplying them with arms, for which purpose he had bought up six or eight hundred stand of arms quite new taken in the English Camp the day of action. That of eighteen lacks which he had demanded of the merchants of Benares under the Kings name, we had only recovered five. That Soujah Dowlah in his flight had left a prey to the conquerors twenty two lacks of his treasure. That the English in conjunction with the King were engaged in the siege of Outhenargur, a fort situated on an high rock about 7 corse from Benares on the other side of the Ganges, and that half of the English force was encamped further on above the place. That it was not known what agreement we had made with the Kings Kaunsamma or Lord Chamberlain of the Household that was elected Vizier in the room of Soujah Dowlah. In a postscript dated the 14th December there follows that the English were retired on that side of the river and were attacking Outhenargur, & Soujah Dowlah was encamped near Jenpore about 18 corse from Benares upon the Gamdi; that Outhenargur was situated about 7 corse from Patnah and two from Ramgar and was situated upon a high rock which commanded part of the Ganges.

---

Extract of a letter from Padree Wendell at Agra, 2<sup>d</sup>. Jan<sup>y</sup>. 1765.

As to the news of the country below, for this long time we have heard very little. It is certain that this primitive eagerness is grown cold and that the English have not known how or would not profit by their fortune. They have disappeared at Thenargur, and as it is firmly reported have fared very ill and have been driven back with a loss of their people, which has at the same time made them give over any further thoughts of returning to the enterprise. 'Tis said they are incamped four corse below Benares. The battle near Bagsar and this resent loss have very much deminished their forces and they have nothing to do at present but to oppose Soujah Dowlah and not let him pass the river. They are yet masters of Benares and defend this city by the Artillery placed on the border of the Ganges opposite to the old fort & a little higher. This is all we know of the war below. As for Soujah Dowlah they are making great preparations to attack the English at all events and carry the war into the neighboured of Patnah.

---

Surat, Thursday, 10th October 1765.

Wrote the following Letter to Bombay and dispatched it by Pattamar express:—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

We addressed your Hon<sup>r</sup> & c<sup>a</sup> last the 2<sup>d</sup> instant & on the 7th received your commands of the 1st p. ship "Royal Admiral," which vessel we propose returning in two or three days, this being dispatched express to give cover to translate of an extract of a letter from Padree Wendell to Padree Medard, dated at Ellihabad the 21st August, as delivered by him to the Chief, containing the purport, if not a copy, of the articles of peace concluded between Lord Clive and Soujah Dowla.

Surat, 10th October 1765.

We are with respect,

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Your most obe<sup>dt</sup> & humble Serv<sup>ts</sup>

---

Extract dated from Ellihabad, 21st August 1765.

Yesterday I had both the honor and pleasure of being present at the solemnity performed at the conclusion of the treaty of peace & alliance which is just concluded with the Nabob Sujah Doulah. It has been on foot ever since the arrival of my Lord Clive, that is to say for twelve days. Yesterday morning it was sworn to, signed, and exchanged in due form. The conditions are contained in a few words, viz :

That the Nabob shall pay fifty Lacks for the expences of the War brought upon the English &<sup>ca</sup>, whereof he has paid 17 Lacks in ready money and 8 in Jewels, which are to be returned him upon his paying to that amount in ready money; the remainder, to complete the sum of fifty Lacks, is to be paid within the term of seventeen months. The Nabob obliges himself neither to give protection or suffer any of his Dominions to receive Cassum Aly Khan or Sommer, that murderer of so many Patriots. That the Nabob shall let those who, before or during the War, favoured the English, enjoy a perfect tranquillity and all the advantages of this peace and alliance. That the Subship of Ellabad with its Dependencies shall remain as an appendage for the King Alam Shah. That the provinces of Benares & Gazipore shall be kept in deposit till the above conditions are performed, when the Rajah Balvansing shall be put in possession of them, but holding of the Nabob Sujah Doulah as before. That for the same purpose the fortress of Chenegar shall remain in the hands of the English. That the country shall be evacuated in three months, reckoning from this day, except by those who are to remain for the safety of his Indostan Majestys person, & that no other troops shall enter the said country without it be for that purpose. That between the Nabob Vizier, Soujah Doulah and the Nabob Najum Dolla son of Jaffer Aly Khan, now Nabob of Bengall, there shall be reciprocal friendship & alliance as well as with the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, so that the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company is engaged to assist with what force they can said Nabob Vizier and he shall bear the expence, & in case of need the said Nabob shall assist the English. That Sujah Doulah shall not keep in his service any English deserter nor afford them asylum, but he shall restore them. That the Nabob shall grant the Company free commerce in his Dominions. That there shall be between this Nabob, the Nabob of Bengall & the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company a sincere and perfect alliance, friendship and good correspondence. Done at Ellabad the 16th August, sworn and signed the 20th August 1765, and sealed with the Royal seal.

SUJAH DOULAH.

CLIVE.

J. CARNAC.

GEORGE VANSITTART.

CHELAL RAJ.

MEER CASSUM &<sup>ca</sup>

ARCH : SWINTON.

Three copies in English and Persian.

After this ceremony, which was performed about nine o'clock, presents were made to the Nabob Vizier, viz <sup>t</sup> a pair of choice Pistols, two repeating Watches one gold the other silver, a rich piece of Gold Cloth, one of Velvet, several pieces of English Cloth of different colours, several pieces of Dacca Cloth, and lastly a pretty paroquet from Brazil, & my Lord Clive after this put a Diamond worth as it is said 16000 Rupees upon the breast of the Nabob. The Nabob soon after went away, and at his going on board was saluted with 19 Guns. He passed the Ganges & sett off immediately for Arat. My Lord Clive will go for Calcutta tomorrow that he may arrive there as soon as possible to dispatch a vessel to Europe. The other officers will set out after him.

The King does not seem over & above satisfied with this sudden change. He thought himself already on the Throne of Dilhi, and he is yet a great way from it, and as he fears almost abandoned in the middle of the way. However, by the Guard which is given him, it seems as if they would render him respectable. A Colonel is expected here to command the troops which are left with him here, & which are to be left at Chenargur to quiet his Majestys apprehension.

P. X. WENDELL, S. J.

Surat, Thursday, 20th February 1766.

At a Consultation, Present :

Thomas Hodges, Esq <sup>re</sup> , Chief.
Robert Gambier.	John Stephenson.
William Stratton.	Charles Bouchier.
George Perrott.

The Chief acquaints the Board that as this is the Hooley, a great feast among the Gentoos, it may be reasonably expected that most of the Cooley vessels will be in their different ports, and that he finds from Captain Carruthers that the "Viper" with four Gallivats, two armed boats and four fishing boats, for the conveniency of landing the people, are in his opinion fully sufficient to attempt the destroying them, if about fifty Scepoyes more be added to the detachment that was put on board them in December last, which being taken into consideration, it is unanimously agreed to send them and that the Military force be put under the command of Lieutenant Westphall. Directed therefore that the Secretary immediately issue the necessary orders.

THOMAS HODGES.
ROBERT GAMBIER.
JOHN STEPHENSON.
WILLIAM STRATTON.
CHARLES BOURCHIER.
GEORGE PERROTT.

---

Surat, Monday, 17th March 1766.

Monday, 17th.—The Diary of William Andrew Price, Esquire, Chief, for all affairs of the British Nation and Governor of the Moguls Castle and Fleet &c<sup>a</sup> Council, residing at Surat in the factory of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> United Company of Merchants of England trading to the East Indies and subordinate to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Charles Crommelin, Esquire, President of the Coast of India, Persia & Arabia, Governor and Commander-in-Chief of his Majestys Castle and Island of Bombay &c<sup>a</sup> Council.

This morning William Andrew Price, Esquire, came on shore at the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Garden, accompanied by two members of the Board, the Nabobs brother, the Boxey Pharus Caun, and the Codjee, where he was received by all the other members of Council, the rest of the English Gentlemen and the principal Merchants of the City.

---

Surat, Thursday, 10th April 1766.

At a Consultation, Present :

Thomas Hodges, Esq <sup>r</sup> , Chief.
Robert Gambier.	John Stephenson.
William Stratton.	Charles Bouchier.
George Perrott.

Read and approved our last Consultation of the 4th instant.

The Chief acquaints the Board that he has received information that the Dutch Chief and Council here are fitting out a force with an intention of seizing Gogo, and as their being in possession of that place might be attended with bad consequences to the revenues of this city, as it would most probably induce them in a great measure to quit their factory here, and for other reasons, the Board are of opinion that in order to prevent their getting possession thereof, it would be proper to offer the Rajah of Bhownagar, to whose jurisdiction it belongs, our assistance. It is therefore agreed that a pattamar boat with a Detachment of Military consisting of one Officer, one Sergeant, one Corporal and twelve Privates be immediately dispatched with a letter to Captain Robert Carruthers now there, directing him to deliver a letter which the Chief will write to the Rajah, acquainting him of our reasons for suspecting the Dutch of having intentions to attack Gogo, and that therefore out of regard to him we had sent an officer with a Detachment to hoist English Colours there, which would effectually prevent their carrying their intentions into execution, and that both Captain Carruthers and the officer to be appointed to the Command of the said Detachment should have orders in case of the Rajah accepting our offer to proceed to Gogo, and if they should both be of opinion that the fort is tenable, that Captain Carruthers be ordered in such case to land the detachment on board his vessel and return agreeable to our orders of the 8th, leaving the officer in command of the fort, and observing on no account to annoy or molest the Dutch except in the immediate defence thereof. But as it is probable that the fort cannot be defended by so small a number, the Board are of opinion that it will be necessary to draw out a protest to be delivered the officer commanding the Dutch forces on his appearing off Gogo, by the officer of our Detachment, to which if he should pay no regard, but commence hostilities, our troops should be directed to retreat to Bhownagar. Directed therefore that the necessary orders and the protest be immediately drawn up.

Read a Report Survey of the provisions in the Castle as entered hereafter, by which it appearing that they are unfit to be issued to the Marine, directed that the whole be sold at publick outcry by Mess<sup>rs</sup> Stratton and Perrott for the most they will fetch, and that the Military Paymaster lay in the same quantity of each.

W. A. PRICE.
R. GAMBIER.
J. STEPHENSON.
WILLIAM STRATTON.
CHARLES BOURCHIER.
G. PERROTT.

---

Friday, 11th April 1766.

The Chief having received intelligence, since the Board met yesterday, that the Marattas have two hundred men in Gogo, as well as the Rajah of Bhawnagar, directed the Secretary to acquaint the Council that he did not think there was any probability of our people being admitted, and that therefore he proposed only writing to the Rajah to be upon his guard and intended mentioning the affair to the Maratta Agent here, which he hoped would frustrate the intentions of the Dutch against Gogo, if any such they had, as it was said a settlement was offered them at Bassein.

---

Surat, Wednesday, 14th May 1766.

At a Consultation, Present:

William Andrew Price, Esq <sup>r</sup> , Chief.
.....	John Halsey.
John Stephenson.	William Stratton.
Charles Bouchier.	George Perrott.

Mr. Robert Gambier, indisposed.

Read and approved our last Consultation of the 3<sup>d</sup> instant.

The Board being now met and such of the Military Officers as can be spared from the Castle having attended, they were called in, when each person executed the Covenants relative to not receiving of presents from any of the Country powers above a certain sum, agreeable to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Councils orders. Directed that they be forwarded to Bombay by the return of the "Drake."

(Approved.)

ROBERT GAMBIER.
JOHN HALSEY.
J. STEPHENSON.
WILLIAM STRATTON.
CHARLES BOURCHIER.
GEORGE PERROTT.

---

Surat, Friday, 10th January 1772.

Per Express Pattamars forwarded the following letter to our Superiors :—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir and Sirs,

By the resolution your Honor &c<sup>a</sup> were advised of the Marattas having blocked up the town, which they still continue to do, by preventing all kinds of merchandize and the necessaries of life from coming into it as far as they are able, but the river being open such quantities or provisions have been received that way, that almost every article is cheaper now than before they invested the place. At first it was concluded their appearance was to compell the Nabob to make good the arrears due to them on account their share of the revenues, but on the 24th ultimo they sent their demands to the Durbar, which being almost wholly new, and if admitted would have put them on a footing with the Nabob, and in the end prove of dangerous consequences to the safety of the city, as amongst other extraordinary articles they wanted their people at all the gates, not only those in the hands of the Nabob, but such as are in our sole possession. They were peremptorily told their demands could on no account be consented to, and as the Chief on his taking charge had offered his mediation to get their disputes with the Nabob adjusted in an amicable manner, a negotiation in consequence took place. Their Agents came into town and had a meeting with the Nabob, who offered to satisfy them for what might be justly their due, and that he would give prompt and effectual orders that their share of the revenues should in future be regularly paid them, and they have no room for complaint. But as they still insisted on their people sitting at the gates on the Phoorzer Coosky &c<sup>a</sup>, nothing was concluded on and they returned to Camp; and the Commanding Officer having requested that a person of credit on the part of the English might accompany them, a proper one was accordingly sent with them by the Chief, with orders to assure him of his readiness and desire to get matters accommodated between him and the Nabob; and as he will know he was diffident of the Nabobs word, he himself would stand engaged that their arrears should be made good to them, their stated revenues punctually paid them in future, and the business go on in the usual manner ever since our taking possession of the Castle; but with respect to their other demands, as they were not only new, but unreasonable, they could not be admitted. Their Agents, with the person the Chief sent to them, are again returned into town, in order to have some further conference with the Nabob; and although they have informed the Chief they are willing to drop some of the articles, yet as they insist on the most essential ones, namely, their having their people at the gates Phoorzer Coosky &c<sup>a</sup>, which must on no account be admitted, we apprehend they will, in order to bring the Nabob to a compliance, distress the town to the utmost of their power, prevent the investment, the freight for the Mocha ship, and every other species of goods from coming into it by land. We therefore dispatch this express to advise your Honor &c<sup>a</sup> how matters are situated and which would have been done before could anything conclusive been wrote on or had not the Chief hoped that matters might by this have been settled, judging as above that they in fact only wanted their arrears made good to them and their stated revenues secured in future. But as from the tenor of their language they seem at present to have other views, we are apprehensive it may in the end be the cause of rupture between the Nabob and them, in which the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company must of course be interested.

A deputation is ordered to wait on the Nabob to inforce a compliance of his promise to the Chief for satisfying the Marattas for the amount of the arrears justly due to them. Their Agents will be desired to attend, that the Nabob may, in the presence of our Deputies, give them satisfaction on this head, who are to assure them that we shall take care their stated revenues be regularly made good in future and their privileges continued unfringed in the manner usual ever since our taking possession of the Castle, but that no innovations or fresh indulgencies whatever will be admitted of. This resolution is to be carried to their Commanding Officer by Sedee Jaffier on the part of the Nabob and Dunjee Shaw on that of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, which we hope may have the desired effect of bringing about an accommodation.

Your commands of the 27th ult<sup>o</sup> have been received and shall be punctually complied with.

Surat, 10th January 1772.

We are &c<sup>a</sup>.

---

Surat, 15th January 1772.

Gentlemen,

In consequence of your order we this morning waited on the Nabob, and told him that the Chief had laid before you an account of all the steps that had been taken to accommodate matters between him and the Marattas: and on deliberation thereon, you had been pleased to send us to desire his immediate compliance with his engagement with the Chief, to satisfy the Marattas for the arrears justly due to them, in future carefully and punctually to make good to them their just share of the revenues, and to admit of their business going on in the usual manner, but without granting them any new indulgencies or suffering any innovation whatever. And that you proposed Seedee Jaffier on his part, and Dunjee Shaw on ours, should be sent to the Maratta Camp to explain these things more fully to the Commanding Officer, and stay a convenient time to settle with him on these terms, if satisfactory to him, or otherwise to acquaint him that no further negotiation would be attempted. We desired the Nabob would be pleased to bring the Maratta Agents before him, and in our presence engage for the performance of these conditions, when we would promise them, on the part of the Chief and Council, that he should immediately satisfy them for the arrears that were justly due to them, and that the Chief and Council would use their influence with him fully to reform the rest; and further, that we should tell him that Seedee Jaffier on his part and Dhunjee Shaw on ours must be sent to their Commanding Officer to explain these terms more fully. The Nabob declared his readiness to comply with the above in every particular, but did not entirely approve of sending Seedee Jaffier and Dhunjee Shaw immediately, as not conformable to the usual way observed in this sort of negotiation. However, on our representing that it was absolutely necessary, for many obvious reasons, to come to a speedy conclusion with the Marattas, he agreed also to this. The Maratta Agents being afterwards called in, the Nabob assured them of all the particulars we had desired, but that no innovation whatever would be allowed of, and we in our turn did the same agreeable to your commands. The Maratta Agents had received an answer to the same purpose twice before, and did not seem at all satisfied with it now: they observed however that their master ought to be informed of what was passed, and an answer obtained from him, before Seedee Jaffier and Dhunjee Shaw were sent, or they would themselves go to him, to which we answered that as to writing or going themselves we had nothing to do with either, the Nabob and the Chief and Council having taken their final resolution. Before these Agents had been introduced we desired the Nabob would inform us what prospect he had of being able to distress the Marattas if we took care of the town in the mean time, as he had proposed to the Chief. He said he proposed to effect it by sending out small bodies of men to plunder and burn the Marattas villages, and in case of a rupture with the Marattas he might be in want of powder and shott, and should they receive any strong reinforcement he should also want money to enlist more troops. Having thus delivered all we had in charge, we took our leave, and are

Surat, 12th Jan<sup>y</sup> 1772.

Very respectfully,
JOHN HALSEY,
WILLIAM STRATTON.

---

Surat, 27th February 1772.

At a Consultation, Present :

William Andrew Price, Esq<sup>r</sup>, Chief.

Robert Gambier.
William Stratton.
Charles Bouchier.
William James.
John Halsey.

Thomas Day.
George Perrott.
Daniel Seton.
Frederick Dorrien.

The Chief acquaints the Board that affairs are now finally adjusted between the Nabob and Marattas, the Nabob having engaged to pay them the balance, being 70000 rupees, in two equal payments, the first in eight days after their army decamps from before Surat, and the second in two months more, and he the Chief was obliged to become security for the payment, without which the Marattas would not be satisfied. That they have accordingly withdrawn their Chokies from the town gates and free communication is open with the country. Tho' matters are now concluded with the Marattas, yet as the town may again be exposed to insults from them by which the trade of the place and revenues will be much prejudiced, it is agreed to propose to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Council to settle with Maderow that the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company should become security to the Marattas for their stated share of such part of the revenues as has been usual for them to receive since our taking possession of the Castle, and in such case Maderow give express orders to his officers not to give the least hindrance to the business of the city & free communication with the countries around us. This when accomplished will we hope effectually secure the end proposed and prevent these disagreeable visits in future.

FRED<sup>d</sup> DORRIEN,
Secy<sup>y</sup>

R. GAMBIER.
WILLIAM STRATTON.
THOMAS DAY.
CH. BOURCHIER.
D. SETON.
W. JAMES.
FRED. DORRIEN.

Surat, 8th May 1772.

Some particulars relative to the Government of Broach from the time of Mirza Abdulla Begs accession thereto, who was the first person appointed to govern that place of the present Nabobs family.

Broach and a small extent of country annexed to its Government were under the jurisdiction of the Subah of Amidavad till the decline of the Mogul power in this quarter, from the encroachments made by the Marattas, which commenced about the beginning of this century, when the latter entering this Subahship with a very numerous army, defeated the forces sent against them from Delhi and in a few years entirely subdued some parts thereof and laid a tribute on the rest, whence arises the Marattas present claim to a share of the Broach revenues, which they have ever since rec<sup>d</sup>.

In 1726 one Mirza Abdulla Beg, who was in the service of a considerable Omrah at Amidavad, being much in favour with his master, obtained by his influence with the Subah the appointment of Governor of Broach for his son named Mahomed Beg, but he dying immediately after, the father solicited it for himself, and was sent thither accordingly the same year. He brought with him his grandson, Neck Nam Caun (decended from Mahomed Beg) and two brothers named Neck Allum Caun and Kher Tullub Caun.

Mirza Abdulla Beg (who henceforward took the name of Caun Muhoom) governed this place without any material occurrence arising till his death, which happen'd in 1739, and was succeeded by his brother Neck Allum Caun, of whom also there is nothing more worth observation than that he continued in the Government till 1753 and dying, then his successor was Kher Tullub Caun, who having only governed seven months, died in 1754. At this period it happened that one Biccandass, who was a Dessoy and favorite of the Governor, infused a jealousy into his master of the designs of Neck Nam Caun, who he represented to him was using his interest at the Court of Delhi to displace Kher Tullub Caun and be appointed Governor in his stead, in consequence of which Neck Nam Caun was ordered to remove from Broach and retire to Surat, where he was soon made Subdar of Randerd.

Hossein Ally Caun, son to the last mentioned Governor, succeeded him at the age of 18 months, and because of his minority, his mother Biby Bawlon undertook the management of his affairs. One Bhoidass Mozumdar, a man of great wealth, now residing at Broach, being much disaffected with the Government in which the influence of Biccandass chiefly prevailed, with whom he was at great enmity and moreover desirous of ruining the latter, by effecting a revolution in favour of Neck Nam Caun, who also entertained a bitter resentment against him for the disgrace he had suffered in being driven from Broach thro' his instigation; he (Bhoidass) prevailed on some of the heads of the soldiers by promises of great rewards to enter into a conspiracy against Hossein Ally Caun and bring in Neck Nam Caun to govern in his stead. A change in the Government accordingly ensued about nineteen months after Hossein Ally Cauns accession thereto.

Neck Nam Caun having thus become Governor by the assistance of Bhoidass, to gratify the resentment of his benefactor and revenge the insults he had himself rec'd, readily agreed to use every means in his power for the destruction of Biccandass. With this view it was determined, as Biccandass had fled to Brodera in the late troubles, that Neck Nam Caun should feign a desire to be reconciled to him and have the benefit of his future services, in order to induce him to return to Broach. The scheme succeeded, and Biccandass thus deceived into hopes of regaining his former credit and influence at this place, having quitted his retreat, and put himself into the hands of his enemies, was cut in pieces the moment he appeared in the presence of Neck Nam Caun. Hitherto all those who had ruled in Broach were persons of inconsiderable rank, bearing no other title than that of Governor, but the one now in that station, finding himself in circumstances of great wealth, which had been amassed by his predecessors, made use of this means to raise himself to the dignity of Nabob, for which purpose a Phirmaund was procured by a large present to the Mogul. He lived till the year 1769, and was succeeded by his son.

Mahazuz Caun Emptyazul Dowla Bahadur Dilare Jung, the present Nabob, has ever distinguished himself by an insatiable thirst for money and a total disregard to good faith. In the management of his affairs he is greatly influenced by the counsels of Lullooboy, who there is reason to believe is much averse to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys having a settlement in the Nabobs territories, from an opinion it would lessen his consequence, as at present every one there is in a great measure dependant on him, which could not be the case with those under the English protection, and therefore is labouring to prevent it, particularly by his representations to the Nabob that it would be dangerous to allow so formidable a nation any footing within his Government lest it should prove a temptation to attempt his destruction and be a means of their more easily accomplishing it. This Nabob has seven sons (of whom the eldest is now in about his fifteenth year), as many daughters, and an uncle named Izent Ullah Caunchee. The unfortunate Hossein Ally Caun, who was displaced from his Government in his infancy, is also yet alive, together with his mother, and they receive a small allowance from the Nabob (one of whose daughters is married to the former) for their maintenance.

I beg leave to observe here that a son of Bicaridass above mentioned (whose name is Jum Etroy) being now alive at Brodra, and in high favour with Damajees sons, he would probably be glad to act a part favourable to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company and be an usefull instrument should they hereafter have any point to carry at that Durbar to the prejudice of the Broach Nabob, from a motive of revenging his fathers death by injuring both him and Lulloobhoy, grandson of Bhoidass, the latter of whom would at least be mortified by the loss of the extensive power and influence he now enjoys, should this plan fall into our hands.

JAMES MORLEY.

The 6th May 1772.

Surat, Tuesday, 1st September 1772.

At a Consultation, Present:

William Andrew, Price Esq<sup>r</sup>., Chief.

Robert Gambier.

John Halsey.

Charles Bouchier.

Thomas Day.

Frederick Dorrien.

William James.

M<sup>r</sup> Stratton indisposed, and Mess<sup>rs</sup> Perrott & Seton at Bombay.

Read & approved our last Consultation of the 12th instant.

As the coaches and oxen at present kept by the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company for the use of the Factory are very expensive and by no means answer the end proposed, it is agreed to propose to the President & Council the laying them down. But as the Companys servants for want of a regular factory are scattered over the town and many of them liv'd at a great distance from the Chief, and the places where their offices are held, hopes that the President & Council will be pleased in lieu thereof to allow each member of the Board a Palanqueen, and likewise represent that we cannot but consider it as a hardship, the J<sup>r</sup> servants being allowed only twenty rupees p. month for house rent when they cannot be furnished with apartments from the Company and are obliged to hire houses for three or four times as much as they are allowed, and that we hope they will in this article put us on the same footing as our fellow servants at Bombay. It is likewise to be remarked that during the time of the late President, the Board in consequence of directions forwarded an account of oil allowed to the Covenant Servants here and which was then agreeable to their orders discontinued till we should get their further Commands; but as we have never been favoured with any—Agreed, that we mention our hopes they will resume the consideration and permit of the same allowances being made for this article as were established ever since we had a Factory here.

FRED<sup>d</sup> DORRIEN,
Secy

R. GAMBLER.
WILLIAM STRATTON.
THOMAS DAY.
CS<sup>s</sup> BOURCHIER.
W. JAMES.
FRED. DORRIEN.

Surat, Tuesday, 18th February 1777.

At a Consultation, Present :

	Thomas Day.
Charles Bouchier.	Daniel Seton.
William James.	Frederick Dorrien.
James Morley.

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esquire, Chief, at Broach.

Daniel Crockatt absent on leave.

Read & approved our last Consultation of the 13th instant.

M<sup>r</sup>. Day lays before the Board translate of a letter he received yesterday from the French Consul as entered hereafter, and informs us that the day before Ally Novas Caun sent to acquaint him that the French had brought two boats from the ship at the Bar opposite to their Garden laden with cannon & a large number of shott, and that the French had obtained a Roca from the Nabob for landing the former but not the latter. That he, M<sup>r</sup>. Day, had in consequence put an immediate stop to the landing of them and sent to the Nabob on the subject, who in reply acquainted him that M<sup>r</sup>. Briancourt, at the time that he requested his permission to land these articles, declared that M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam had given him permission which induced him to grant his for their being landed at the usual place for importing their other goods. M<sup>r</sup>. Day further acquaints us that he has since learnt they consist of ordnance of 6<sup>lbs</sup> brass field pieces with models for carriages and a large quantity of balls of that size. The Board entirely approve of M<sup>r</sup>. Days conduct in respect to this affair.

M<sup>r</sup>. Day further informs us that he has wrote to M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam fully respecting this matter; and as he should be desirous of obtaining the fullest information before a reply is sent to the French Consul,—Resolved to defer sending any till an answer is received to M<sup>r</sup>. Days advices, particularly as the disembarkation of the ordnance or from the Boats is stopt.

JA<sup>s</sup> MORLEY.
D. SETON.

Translate letter from the French Consul to M<sup>r</sup>. Day :—

Sir,

Surat, 17th February 1777.

Have asked permission to land at the French Gardens 24 pieces of cannon and three or four thousand balls, have leave for the same of the Nabob, and now only yours is wanting, which I beg you will grant me, as I ask nothing but what is customary. When the "George" (French ship) was lost in the river all her Artillery (which was very considerable) was lodged in our Garden. The Swedes in 1758 or 1760 sold upwards of eighty pieces of Cannon to M<sup>r</sup>. Bocand, which were lodged there likewise. The only reason of my begging this permission is to save the immense charges the transporting them to our factory in Town would cause. They are guns belonging to the cargo of the ship "Swere", for which I should have no ground enough in town to put them. I am obliged to sell them off as soon as possible to ballance accounts with the owners. If the security of my word and honor (which I pass on in these presents, and whereby I assure you that I have no other intentions than to have them quickly sold to settle the severall accounts) you should chuse another paper signed by me in whatever form you shall think proper I am ready to comply with it.

If the fever had not prevented my going abroad I should have been with you myself to ask you verbally what I now write, therefore I beg of you to grant me the requested permission.

I have the honour to be with the utmost sincerity,

Sir.

Yours, &c.<sup>a</sup>.

---

Surat, the 20th February 1777.

At a Consultation, Present :

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esquire, Chief, at Broach.

Thomas Day.

James Morley.

Charles Bouchier.

Daniel Seton.

William James.

Frederick Dorrien.

Daniel Crokatt absent with leave.

Read and approved our last Consultation of the 18th instant.

M<sup>r</sup>. Day lays before us extract letter from M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam in reply to that he wrote him respecting the ordnance the French want to land here, as entered hereafter, which being taken into consideration, the Board entirely coincide in opinion with the Chief, that the French should not on any consideration be permitted to land any warlike stores whatever. and that the Nabobs conduct in granting permission, without having previously obtained the concurrence of the Chief or Senior Servant, is highly improper. Resolved therefore that a deputation wait on the Nabob and inform him that it is with surprize and concern that we find he has issued his Roca for permitting the French to land some ordnance at the usual place of importation without having first obtained leave from the Chief or Senior Servant, as it is so expressly contrary to the form that has been observed since the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company have been in possession of the Castle and to their priveledges in that capacity. And as it appears to us equally wrong that any Foreign Nation should be allowed to import warlike stores, the Deputies are at the same time fully to represent it to the Nabob, and desire he will take the necessary steps to prevent it in future. The Board being further of opinion that the French being permitted to land or send off any goods from their Garden may under the denomination of necessaries afford them an opportunity of passing many articles of value greatly to the prejudice of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company and the Government in their customs, agreed that the Nabob be desired to take particular care that no articles of trade or stores be landed or sent off from thence, and that for all necessaries the express permission of the Chief or Senior Servant be obtained.

The Phoorze Master then reporting that he is credibly informed that with the above mentioned stores there are 39 chests of small arms, the deputation are to desire that the Nabob will observe the same conduct with respect to them as the other warlike stores.

In consequence of the foregoing resolutions M<sup>r</sup>. Day is desired to inform Mons. Briancourt in reply, that as these stores have been stopt by the officers belonging to the Nabobs Government, who he supposes have very cogent & proper reasons for it, he must beg to be excused interfering in the business.

Four proposals being opened for contracting for the cotton ordered by the Governor and Council—Agreed to accept those of Nanaboy Bawa at rupees 872 per Candy, as they are the lowest of others. And the Assistant to the Treasure is ordered to pay the necessary advance from the treasury.

C<sup>s</sup> BOURCHIER.
J<sup>s</sup> MORLEY.
D. SETON.

Surat, the 29th March 1777.

At a Consultation, Present:

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esq <sup>re</sup> , Chief, at Broach.
Thomas Day.	William James.
Charles Bouchier.	Daniel Seton.
James Morley.	Frederick Dorrien.

Daniel Crockatt absent with leave.

Read and approved our last Consultation of the 20th instant.

M<sup>r</sup> Day also further informs us that Ally Novas Caun has frequently complained to him that the French from a flight of steps at their Gardens leading to the river side might undetected land or ship off large quantities of goods, as their boats are constantly going and coming from and to them; and that on this account and their situation, which is facing down the river, so that they cannot be seen from the town, he cannot be answerable for the execution of the duties of his station—which being duly considered, the Board observe that they are entirely ignorant that any permission was ever granted to Monsieur Briancourt for making these steps, and as they may afford many opportunities to the French to run quantities of goods to the prejudice of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company and Government in their customs, and Monsieur Briancourt had no right to erect them without leave,—Resolved that a deputation do wait on the Nabob, and after informing him of the President and Councils approbation of his conduct relative to the military stores the French wanted to land here, desire he will take proper measures for the stair case being pulled down and that space filled up.

C<sup>s</sup> BOURCHIER.
J<sup>s</sup> MORLEY.
D. SETON.

Surat, Friday, 4th April 1777.

At a Consultation, Present:

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esquire, at Broach.
Thomas Day.	William James.
Charles Bouchier.	Frederick Dorrien.
James Morley.

Daniel Crockatt absent with leave. Daniel Seton, indisposed.

Read and approved our last Consultation of the 29th ultimo.

Read translate of a letter from the French Consul as entered hereafter, which being considered, agreed in reply that a letter be wrote him to the following purport. That we should be happy on all occasions to render him every service in our power with the Nabob, where it can with propriety be done, but that on the present occasion we must beg to be excused, as the proceeding of the Nabob is not an infringement of any privileges that he can claim belonging to his Royal Nation and which he has ever enjoyed. That we are entirely ignorant that the Nabob ever gave him any permission to build the stair case in question, but we understand frequent complaints have been made to the Government that this stair case has been made use of in a manner hurtful to the Nabobs revenues, who therefore undoubtedly has a right to make any regulations he may think necessary which do not infringe the right he is entitled to by his Phirmaund privileges. That we are very sorry to observe that the declaration of our Collector and the people in his department does not in the least correspond with his representation further than the leave of erecting the stables, and that we have great reason to think that had Mr. Boddam given him that permission, he would not have neglected the established custom of the service of acquainting his Council with it.

Opened four proposals for farming out the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Customs at Bownagar, when those of Nasservanji Bomanji being the highest, R<sup>s</sup> 10125, they are accepted, and those of Bocundass Mahondass for Mowah being R<sup>s</sup> 1126, the former being R<sup>s</sup> 6600 and latter 626 more than last years.

Nanabhoy Bisa, the Contractor for the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys cotton, having failed in his contract, is called before us and asked the reason of his noncompliance, who informing us that he cannot possibly deliver it before the next springs, owing he says to the late troubles in that country, and those now subsisting between Futtu Sing and Govin Rao, offers, on account of the risque of sending it to Bombay being greater at the time it will be in his power, to deliver it to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company at Bombay free of all extraordinary charges, which being considered, the Warehouse-keeper is ordered to enquire whether any is to be purchased, and in such case he is to buy it for the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, charging Nanabhoy with the amount. But should his enquiries prove ineffectual, agreed to accept the contractors proposals.

CS<sup>s</sup> BOURCHIER.

JA<sup>s</sup> MORLEY.

D. SETON.

---

Letter from the French Consul:—

Gentlemen,

The Nabob has sent his Chopdar to me to desire that I would take away the wooden stairs that serve as a descent to the river at the French Gardens, where all the foundation is washed away. This said stair case, which is not supported by any masonry, is a very weak descent, incapable of supporting bales, either embarking or disembarking, so that it is not intended for these purposes, but solely for our convenience, and to be able to enjoy the neighbourhood of the water, without being exposed to falls that the continual washing away of the foundation causes us to dread. This is, Gentlemen, the ladder or stair case that all people of good sense would be ashamed to desire us to throw down, if they had nothing in view but the convenience of their neighbours or friends and which the Nabob chuses to destroy to day; but tho' he should even forget that the convenience of life should permit people to be reasonable, yet he is bound by the permission he has given me himself publicly.

In September last the Nabob sent to seize in my Garden all the carpenters that worked there, to stop a work I intended to build. I instantly went to Mr. Boddam and complained of this violence, explaining to his satisfaction that what I was building could give no umbrage, since one of the two works was a stable for horses, and the other a weak wooden stair case for my own convenience and that of my family. On my representations Mr. Boddam obliged the Nabob to send me back all my workmen, and for the violences the Nabob made in my Garden, sent me excuses. The Nabob, Gentlemen, jointly with Mr. Boddam, sent experienced men to examine the work I had begun, even Mr. Bouchiers people came there. All being examined by Mr. Boddams, Mr. Bouchiers, and the Nabobs people, permission was given me in an authentic manner to finish those two works, with an express prohibition not to undertake any other, and in consequence the Nabob sent all the carpenters to finish my two works. You see now, Gentlemen, that it is full six months since these two works were finished. There has been no other attempted in my Garden. I beseech you then to grant me your mediation in this affair, and to make the Nabob desist from this affronting injury he is willing to do me; both of which are contrary to the right of Nations. Your workmen, or at least M<sup>r</sup>. Boddams workmen, having accompanied those of the Nabob, and the work being finished after their report in consequence of your and the Nabobs permission, I now demand the fulfilling of your word, or if you chuse a second review, and you will see I have not surpassed my permission. I have rather reason to believe that you will yourselves send to the Nabob to desire he will desist from this violence, and that every thing in this affair is according to my right, and the good intelligence that subsists between your Royal Nation and ours makes me hope your assistance in my present dispute with the Nabob.

I have the honor to be with the greatest attention, &c. &c.,

Surat, 3<sup>d</sup> April 1777.

ANQUETIL.

---

Wrote the French Consul as follows :—

Sir,

We beg leave to assure you, in reply to your letter of the 3<sup>d</sup>, that we should be happy on all occasions to render you every service in our power with the Nabob when we can apply to him with propriety. In the present case we must request you will excuse us, as the Nabobs conduct is not an infringement of any privileges you can claim belonging to your Royal Nation, or which you have ever enjoyed. We are entirely ignorant that the Nabob ever gave you any permission to build the stair case in question, but we understand frequent complaints have been made to the Government that this stair case has been made use of in a manner hurtful to the Nabobs revenues, who therefore certainly has an undoubted right to make any regulations he may think necessary which do not infringe the rights you are entitled to by your Phirmaund privileges.

It gives us concern that we are under the necessity of observing to you that the declaration of our Collector and his people in that Department does not correspond with your representation further than the leave of erecting the stables, and we have great reason to think that had M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam given you that permission, he could not have neglected the established custom of informing us of it.

We have the honor, &c.<sup>ca</sup>

---

M<sup>r</sup>. William Bolts landed at the French Gardens this evening and from thence addressed the following letter to the Chief :—

Sir,

I have the honor to inform you of the safe arrival in this road of the Imperial Austrian ship "Guisepe and Teresa", under my command as Lieut<sup>tt</sup> Colonel in the service of Her Imperial Majesty the Empress Queen of Hungary &c.<sup>ca</sup> &c.<sup>ca</sup>. I am much in want of refreshments and assistance, as well on account of an accident which happened to us at Delagoa, as on account of several of my officers and crew, who are dangerously ill; and being acquainted with the nature of the connection subsisting between the English and the Mogul Government at this Port and city of Surat, I claim your assistance in those matters which the laws of hospitality and of nations dictate and which the friendly connections subsisting between the Court of Vienna and of Great Britain give me a right to expect, until I can have the honor of paying my respects to you personally, and be allowed a house in town. I am at Mons<sup>nr</sup> de Briancourts, who has very hospitably given me a lodging on seeing my distress.

I have the honor to be, with the greatest respect and consideration,

Your &<sup>ca</sup> &<sup>ca</sup>,

At the French Gardens near Surat, 6th September 1777.

WILLIAM BOLTS,

Lieu<sup>tt</sup> Col<sup>l</sup> in the service of Her Imperial Majesty.

Surat, Sunday, 7th September 1777.

At a Consultation, Present:

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esquire, Chief.

Thomas Day.

Daniel Crockatt.

James Morley.

William James.

Frederick Dorrien.

M<sup>r</sup>. Charles Bouchier, indisposed.

M<sup>r</sup>. Daniel Seton, absent with leave.

Read and approved our last Consultation of yesterdays date.

The Chief then informs us that he summoned this meeting to lay before us a letter he received last night from Lieu<sup>tt</sup> Colonel William Bolts, Commander of the Austrian ship that anchored at this Bar the 5th in the evening from Delagoa, proposing in obedience to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys commands received a few days ago, to acquaint him in reply that as this is the Moguls City, and under the government of a Nabob, that he must entirely refer to him for any assistance he may be in want of, which the Board agree to.

The Commands of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Court of Directors on this subject being then referred to, and seriously considered, we observe that they recommend to us to do all in our power to prevent these adventurers from meeting with any success in their enterprise should they come to, or near any of their settlements, and to use at the same time every influence we have with the Country Government for this effect. It is therefore agreed to send to the Nabob to desire he will take effectual measures to prevent his subjects from having any commercial or other intercourse with him; and that we make not the least doubt but that he will chearfully comply with this request, considering the very essential favors he has always received from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, and particularly the recent mark they have shewn him of their desire to oblige him; and the Chief is desired to take the proper means to prevent any such intercourse from those under the English protection.

In the 35th paragraph of their said orders upon this subject the Court of Directors are pleased to direct that should any of the people on board be English subjects, that they be arrested and sent to England, which being considered, we are of opinion that this being a Moguls City and neutral Port it would not be justifiable. But resolved, that we request our superiors sentiments thereon, and their full orders how to act in respect to the claims M<sup>r</sup>. Bolts makes to the Chief in his letter.

R. H. BODDAM.

C<sup>s</sup>. BOURCHIER.

JAS<sup>s</sup> MORLEY.

DANIEL CROKATT.

Surat, 19th October 1777.

Copy translate of a letter from M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Governor and Council :—
Gentlemen,

The public faith violated with impunity is the source of the greatest disorders in the most civilized nations.

When an operation of any kind whatsoever is done with an unanimous consent, and that one of the parties afterwards behave arbitrarily contrary to their promise, what dependance can be placed on their consent the most cemented, the weak in spite of his innocence becomes the victim of the strong. This, Gentlemen, is just the case in which I find myself. I make you the Judges. This is the fact.

In September last I constructed a stair case of wood to give us a commodious descent to the river side from the bank of the French Gardens. The bank was broke all the way and the earth continually giving way under the feet. I thought I could procure to my wife and family and all honest people this convenience to descend to the river side, without the danger of falling with the earth and wounding themselves. It did not appear to me necessary to ask permission for the same, having determined to construct it of wood only and not of masonry.

I had the work then set about and at the same time erected entirely of wood and simple bamboos a stable and a coach house in a retired part of the French Gardens. The two works half finished, the Nabob sent one morning at nine o'clock to take all my carpenters, half of whom worked on the stair case and the others on the stable and coach-house. This violence of the Nabob appeared to me the more improper, as it was not at all his jurisdiction to permit it and much less to hinder any construction in the French Garden which he found was situated on the river side, this right appertaining only to the Governor of the Castle as Admiral of the Moguls Fleet.

I immediately went to M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam & bitterly complained to him of the Nabobs violence, & desired him to use his authority to get me my carpenters again, which he had the goodness to do that instant, and at the same time asked me what it was I had begun to build. I explained it to him very clearly. He told me he would send his people to inspect the whole and that afterwards according to their report I might continue the work. In effect M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam after dinner sent expert workmen of M<sup>r</sup>. Bouchiers and the Nabobs people, who attentively examined the two works commenced, the stair case and the coach house. Having well verified the whole and considered that these weak constructions were nothing but wood and of no consequence to the Castle, they each of them made their report to their masters; and the next morning the orders of the English Chief with those of the Nabob for the whole that had been begun, the stair case and stables, was given me, but with prohibition not to make any new works without express permission. I engaged to this subject my word of honor, and I had the works continued. The utensils of my carpenters having been seized and deposited with the Nabob, M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam on my reclamation had them presently restored to me, and his Chopdar and that of the Nabob put my workmen again to their business.

Was there ever a more authentic permission given, Gentlemen? If that which I caused to be built after so juridical an examination and so many people employed to do it, had been able to give the least umbrage, must not a direct hindrance to continue the work have followed either one or the other of these two constructions? But no. These two works did not occasion the least reflection, the whole from their nature was entirely indifferent to the Moguls Admiral, who alone has a right to hinder the continuation. As all liberty had been given me for to go on again with them, it follows that I acted under the public faith. I am not then the least to blame. Observe now, Gentlemen, if those who have violated this public faith, in causing my stair case to be broken down, constructed according to the rights of people, are in the state of being able to defend solidly their unjust proceedings on my account.

Before I describe to you, Gentlemen, the unworthy manner with which M<sup>r</sup>. Day conducted himself towards me, Chief for the time in absence of M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam then at Broach, it is necessary to inform you how I have acted during 18 years that I am here, relative to great repairs and buildings made in the French Gardens.

The bank being situated close to the river, the Castle has the right of inspection over all the buildings that are made there. They cannot then erect any of consequence without permission from the Governor of the Castle, who only enjoys this privilege as Admiral of the Moguls Fleet. The Nabob of the City ought not to have any pretensions to visit there. In 1754 Mons<sup>r</sup>. Leverner my predecessor, for to remedy the damage the freshes every year made to the French Gardens, drove strong pieces of wood in form of a wall to stop the continual washing away of the earth. As this work of wood was considerable, we asked permission for it, not of the Nabob, but of the Governor of the Castle, who was Siad Amelkhan, and he made no difficulty to grant it. In 1760 the great House constructed at the Garden of wood had been very much damaged when you possessed yourselves of Surat Castle. The French Gardens were at that time the theatre of the war. I was obliged to make it up and repair it again. This repair wanted a work of masonry even with the ground and some pillars also. Permission to carry on this work was necessary. I did not ask it of the Nabob, but the Governor of the Castle. Accordingly, I spoke of it to M<sup>r</sup>. Price, English Chief. He came himself and examined it on the spot, and seeing my demand was just and the repair necessary, he willingly gave me leave to make it. In 1774 I caused to be built with wood a Belvidere on the bank of the French Gardens, the place that projects most in the river, as well for to enjoy the fine prospect of that situation, as for the refreshing air it afforded. It being nothing but a slight construction of wood, I had not asked permission for it, but M<sup>r</sup>. Gambier sent to me, not by the Nabobs people, but by his own servant, to ask what I was going to build, and desired me at the same time to stop this work till we had conversed on the subject. I went to see him the next day, and made it appear that the little shed Bungalo I was erecting could not be of any consequence. M<sup>r</sup>. Gambier knowing how to attend with ease to what is natural and reasonable for him to grant made no difficulty in permitting me to continue the work. In 1775 my health obliged me to continue in the Garden, when my business did not oblige me to be in the City. The old house repaired in 1760 threatened ruin. I found myself obliged to have some new buildings. I asked them by letter, not to the Nabob, but the English Council, to build a Hall, a Cabinet, a Dispense, & a Cook-room. As my intention at this time was to have strong buildings, it appeared to me necessary to construct them of brick and chinam. I in that manner asked permission by a letter to the English, and also in order not to give any umbrage, promised to make the walls of no more thickness than 5 inches. My request was well received and granted me according to the proportions I had designed. M<sup>r</sup>. Gambier was still Chief, who knew how to join the duties of his station with his desire of living in good harmony with all strangers; not being a man ready to take alarm at a Bagatelle, it gave him pleasure to procure me that satisfaction.

This digression, Gentlemen, rather long on the French buildings, is not at all improper here; it serves to prove to you that the Nabob has not any right of inspection on the works at the French Garden, and this M<sup>r</sup>. Day should have known if he had been acquainted with the decorum due to his station & the rights of his nation: it is what no man in place should be ignorant of. He should not have employed a strong force to break into a thousand pieces that which for six months before in the eyes of honest people appeared nothing but a simple convenience for the Gentlemen and Ladies who wanted to go from the bank of the French Gardens (which is all the way steep) to the river side. M<sup>r</sup>. Day becoming Chief by M<sup>r</sup>. Boddams absence, this stair case all of a sudden changed its nation. It is a Redoubt in his eyes or at least a place of cosenage which he must misuse.

How is it, Gentlemen, that to destroy my stair case he addressed himself to the Nabob for this famous execution? I was not a little surprized to receive at 8 o'clock in the morning of the . . . instant a message from the Nabob telling me to pull down my stair case. The servant who brought me this message was the same who six months past came to me with the Nabobs permission to finish this stair case. I enquired of him what reason his master had thus to return from his own orders and those of M<sup>r</sup>. Boddams. He replied he knew not, that it was very true that he himself about six months before brought me permission from the Nabob to finish them, but that his master this morning gave him orders to have them broke down if I would not cause it to be done by my people. That he had in consequence brought with him every thing for this business, but that nevertheless he would delay it for ten hours if I would write to the Nabob, above all to M<sup>r</sup>. Day, who was continually sending to his master for the execution of the business. I found the servant more human than his master. His innocence afforded me time to look out for a remedy to the evil. I immediately sent an Arzy to the Nabob, recapitulating to him in brief that I had every necessary permission for erecting the stair case—his own. That every thing being proper on my side, I was very much surprized at his conduct towards me. At last I requested of him to wait the arrival of M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam, who could not be eight days longer before he returned from Broach, and in consequence to recall his people.

The Nabob, sensible of the ignominious part they obliged him to act, would have been very willing to revoke his order for destruction, but he could not do it of himself. He waited to see the effect of my letter to M<sup>r</sup>. Day, to whom and the Council I wrote at the same time as to the Nabob. I send you a copy of it, Gentlemen. The original could not bend the hard and imperious character of M<sup>r</sup>. Day. He delayed giving any answer till after dinner next day.

My servant had properly represented to him that the Nabobs people waited only his favourable answer to leave the Garden—that otherwise the stair case was to be pulled down from which, exclusive of the affront, a considerable loss would result to the nation, the stair case being so placed as to serve for a support to the Bungalo built by M<sup>r</sup>. Gambiers permission. That the holes which must be made to take up the timbers which supported the steps of the stair case would endanger that part of the French Garden, that the Bungalo not having any longer that support would fall off itself in the river the first rainy season, that a small order from him to the Nabob would suffice to hinder this destruction. That besides I had addressed him and the Council to desire them to be mediators in this affair. That a new examination made of the whole they would be always able properly to destroy this stair case, for the erecting of which I had the permission of M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam, Moguls Admiral, as also that of the Nabob, if the mediators found out the mistake of the first examination. M<sup>r</sup>. Day, deaf to reason, inflexible to the representations of my servant, knew so little of the law of nations which I claimed, that to give the prerogatives which he had abandoned to the Nabob, replied at last rudely that they would reply immediately to my letter; that with respect to the stair case the Nabob was master of that, he would not interfere at all in his business.

Can there, Gentlemen, be a greater forgetfulness of himself or rather of the hon<sup>ble</sup> place he held per interim? for was I in the wrong or right, M<sup>r</sup>. Day should have offered me his mediation the moment I asked it of him. I do not pretend to attack him on the shamefull manner that he abandoned to the Nabob the privileges of the Admiral of the Mogul, which post was entrusted to him. This regards you, Gentlemen, but I claim rights to the mediation which I demanded of him for to put an immediate stop to the unjust vexation of the Nabob, and he owed me this mediation.

In 1760, M<sup>r</sup>. Spencer, then English Chief of this City, having made the conquest of Surat Castle, by letter engaged to all the European nations at Surat to maintain their privileges from the oppression of the Nabob and to act as mediators in all their differences with him. Such were the intentions of the English nation in taking from the Siddee the Castle, as well as that of putting all matters in proper order. I had the honor, Gentlemen, at that time to be Chief of the French Nation at this place. I sincerely thanked Mr. Spencer for his good disposition, which equally affected our nation with the others. From that, Gentlemen, I had a right then to beg the mediation of the English Council to stop the Nabob's violence. Mr. Day refused it to me at the time he ought to have offered it to me, as the workmen had already their axes lifted to destroy my stair case. Is this ignorance? Is this malice? The one is as prejudicial to me as the other, since I have received on the part of the Nabob the affront and damage which the destruction of the stair case brings with it, and from which his mediation should have preserved me.

The Nabob, finding with regret that my letter and representation had not produced any good effect, and receiving from Mr. Day reproaches for his negligence in executing his orders, sent word to his people to fulfill the orders he had given them without further delay. These carpenters who had been in the French Gardens from nine o'clock, at one after noon began their work, and in two days the stair case was in a thousand pieces, but the earth was a little spared.

At the end of three days Mr. Day thought proper to come to the back of the French Gardens with all the people of his gang to enjoy the agreeable sight of the blow he had so well struck. He found that the Nabob had not destroyed it so fully as he had ordered. Indeed, there remained about three or four large pieces of wood which served for a security to the stair case, and which from their having been drove a great depth they could not take out. Without doubt in acknowledgement for the politeness I have ever shown him (it was only eight days before that he had supped with me), on the instant he sent to the Nabob, threatening him with his anger if in 24 hours there remained the least vestige of the stair case at the French Gardens, and told him he ought to punish the workmen for only having half done their business. The next day he had to praise the obedience of the Nabob, and it is certain, Gentlemen, that the bank is so much overthrown, that the Bungalo built on it will, with the first heavy rains, share the fate of the stair case, if you do not shortly give orders for the rebuilding of it.

The day after this brilliant expedition, I received from your Council at Surat a letter in answer to mine of the preceding day. They had either received their lesson from or had adopted the spirit of Mr. Day, who without doubt dictated it, for it is vague in all its points and founded on reasons entirely false, which it is very easy to prove.

If it was true, as these Gentlemen declare in the beginning of their letter, "that they should be very happy to render me service with the Nabob," they would previously have granted me their mediation. It is proved that they ought to have granted it to me. They did not do it at all. They wrongfully then glory in being willing to render me service with the Nabob which was not their design. These Gentlemen "beg me to excuse them if they cannot do it on this occasion," because (add they) "the conduct of the Nabob is not an infringement of privileges that I could claim." How do these Gentlemen know it? They have not heard the party suffering: have they been able to decide the question without attending to the reasons of each party? The Nabob then can misuse an innocent, and his conduct founded on frivolous reasons will become just the moment he shall have condemned him; but if those whose duty it is to protect this innocent attend to his reasons, he shall not then be sacrificed at all, and this would have been the case had these Gentlemen of Council hearkened to both parties.

As mediators they should have done so, and I should then have proved to them that there never was a greater violation of the rights of people. In effect I had obtained permission to cause to be rebuilt a staircase that I had caused to be constructed. According to this very permission I caused this work to be finished. It was thus under the public faith I made these expenses. And at the end of six months this very staircase which had been erected with the approbation necessary, caprice, to say nothing more, caused it to be pulled down under the pretence of reasons fallacious and without foundation. And these Gentlemen pretend to say that I have not, in this unjust work, to claim the rights of people, which is the noblest privilege of governed nations. According to them "the staircase is a privilege I never possessed." They had it in their power to say as much of some new walks I had laid out in the French Gardens. Permit me, Gentlemen, to stop short of this review of my privileges. Pity the assertion. But your Council go on, "We are ignorant that the Nabob ever gave you permission to build the staircase." Is it my fault that these gentlemen are ignorant of it? It is not the less true, tho' they would have known it if they had enquired. And if they had, as I desired them, acted as mediators, this information would not have been wanting here. Is it for me to pay for the ignorance of the English Council in this matter? The least enquiry on their part would have instructed them of that which they ought to have known. It is in effect to have condemned me and not to have restrained in the least the violence of the Nabob, at the time I claimed their mediation, when the desire, as they pompously say at the beginning of their letter, to render me a service, made it their duty to grant it me. I am sorry to see, Gentlemen, that your Council at Surat can be so inconsiderate in their juridical proceedings. "They are ignorant that the Nabob had given permission for the staircase." Whether they were or not, what reason could they have without any other information to reject the affirmative which is in my favor, and adopt the negative that is against me? "But we have heard," continues the letter, "that there has very often been complaints caused to the Government that the staircase had been prejudicial to the revenues of the Nabob." These Gentlemen have heard it said. I have also heard say that the Nabob having never had any complaints against me, could not give ear to this calumny for want of proof. Always very exact on my side on this article I have made no account of these idle words. But your Council of Surat find in these hearsays a sufficient reason to approve the destruction of the staircase. This method of judging, however different from that hereafter mentioned, is as erroneous as them. These Gentlemen here adopt the affirmation that is against me, and reject the negative, which is for me, altho' they have not any reason to accept the one sooner than the other. After all they were ignorant that the Nabob had given me his permission. If ignorant, it was out of their power to decide either one way or the other. The examination which they should scrupulously have made would have dissipated their ignorance, and then their decision for or against my cause would have been founded on truth. They had heard say that the stair case had occasioned a fraud of the customs. If they only heard so, they should not then have decided against me as if well assured of the prevarication, nor should they, without having first strictly examined whether this hearsay was well founded on truth or not, have approved of the vexation of the Nabob.

If the good will which they so willingly express at the beginning of their letter to render me every service with the Nabob had been real, they should then have become mediators of this difference; but really how could they be so in this business, since it is fully proved that the Nabob had not any right to interfere in it, and that he would not have broken down my staircase but by the repeated and express orders he had from Mr. Day, whose conduct shews he had sworn the destruction of it.

These Gentlemen in their letter proceed to say, "they are sorry to acquaint me their Collector & the people in his department were informed only of the erecting of the horse stables, and not that of the staircase." I also am sorry on my part, Gentlemen, to observe to you that either Mr. Bouchier the Collector has forgot that permission was granted me for the staircase, or that his people have not been faithful in their report, or that he has not properly attended to them. It was in my presence that this permission was granted me. The people of the Nabob and those of Mr. Bouchier the Collector, spoke to me myself, and apprehensive that it should appear to the workmen that they were set about this work by me, these people belonging to the Government, as well as those belonging to the Castle and the Nabob, assured them in my presence, that they might without any fear work as well on the stair case as stables that were to be erected, but that they must not in future undertake any new work without the express permission of their master. If the English Council had been the mediators they ought, they would have suspended the execution made by the Nabob until a further examination made by Mr. Bouchier the Collector had cleared it up, and the staircase then would not have been destroyed.

These Gentlemen finish their letter in pretending that Mr. Boddam, from whom I alleged permission was obtained jointly with that of the Nabob, "would not have failed to have acquainted them with it according to the established custom, if he had given it." It is very true that if Mr. Boddam had seen in this staircase an affair of state, he would either have refused his permission, or registered it, if he had given it; but a man of sense like him, could he ever imagine that a simple staircase constructed of wood, made only for the convenience of a family, could during his absence be a toothpick for a whole Council whom he ought not to suppose pusillanimous but clear, just, and prudent.

Since these Gentlemen avow that Mr. Boddam had never spoke to them, and since I had wrote them that I had his permission at the same time as the Nabob, had they no method by which they could inform themselves whether it was so or not? Mr. Boddam was only at Broach. Why then did they not write to him to have more certain information of the matter? Supposing they had received an answer from Mr. Boddam agreeable to their wishes, it would have retarded for twenty-four hours only the pleasure they promised themselves from the sudden execution of the Nabob. Since these Gentlemen chose not to become mediators between me and the Nabob, nor to write to Mr. Boddam to give them information of the affair, it is as clear as the day that they were determined to destroy my staircase. For what reason? I am ignorant of it, but it is certain they chose to put this affront upon the nation & occasioned all the damage already done, what may follow, and the chagrin I have suffered. Their hurry to push on the Nabob, tho' Mr. Boddam was every day expected, alone suffices to demonstrate their bad intentions, and the part they took to carry it into execution.

If they had been mediators, if they had ordered an examination, if they had wrote to Mr. Boddam of their injurious conduct to me, if they had waited about this staircase erected in his time and with his permission, how could Mr. Day then have seized the opportunity to illustrate his short and hard reign by this famous coup-de-grace, which, however pitiful in the eyes of honest people, imposed greatly on the populace of Surat.

As soon as the Committee arrived from Broach, I waited on Messrs. Carnac and Ramsay. I gave them a circumstantial detail of all this matter. These Gentlemen having had the complaisance to come to the French Gardens, went to see the whole themselves, and seeing that the bank of the French Gardens was liable to a continual fall of the earth, they agreed with me that a staircase was necessary, and that it was very wrong to break down that which they then saw in a thousand pieces that had been constructed with permission.

It will be too long, Gentlemen, to relate to you every thing that has been said in regard to this staircase by the honest people of Surat. My letter is, to say truth, an analysis of their discourse. I have only to answer to two objections. These I have amply discussed with Mr. Carnac, and found his sentiments entirely consonant to mine throughout.

The first objection is, for what reason the descent of the stair case is in the same direction as the current of the river. This position conceals it from a view of the town. Would it not have been possible, or even better, to have turned it the contrary way? Whatever passed would then have been seen from the town. Would the staircase have suffered by it? and would it not have been the same thing for those who go up and down it?

The second objection regards the customs. Is it not easy by this staircase to defraud the Custom House? In taking it entirely away, is it not a sure method to hinder this prevarication?

This, Gentlemen, is the answer to the first objection. There were two reasons which obliged me to construct the stair case in such a manner that the descent followed the same direction as the current of the river. The first is that in this position the staircase serves as a support to the small building named Belvidere, erected on the top of the ground, in which the place for the said staircase is cut. As the ground is very high, and forms an advanced post in the river, the waves beat against and ruin this part more than any other. The Belvidere, constructed on the bank, is only in security so long as the staircase serves it as a safe guard. But, say they, how would it have subsisted if the staircase had not been placed there at all? It was supported before by earth which has been removed on account of the excavation, which it was necessary to make to place the staircase. Could not this excavation, they object, have been made the contrary way? The staircase would have been of the same service as a support to the Belvidere? The thing was not possible, and this is the second reason which determined that position of the staircase preferably to every other.

If the stair case had been placed the contrary way, besides the quantity of earth which it would have been necessary to cut and consequently to lose, it would not have remained above a twelve month, and have been a great expense. This position would have been continually exposed to the current of the river. The situation of the ground is such, that in the time of high water the force of the current attacks with violence the whole face of this side of the French Gardens. The freshes are very frequent, and the current then, which is very impetuous, takes in flank all that part of the ground, and passes the Garden in its return in an acute angle to the middle of the river, and then takes its ordinary course. The strongest carpenter's work in this last demanded position never would have been able to resist its impetuosity. The first freshes would have carried my staircase to the sea. The simple inspection of the French Garden proves the solidity of my observations. This is it what I have remarked to Mr. Carnac. To demonstrate by an example which cannot be rejected, and which proves that I could not have placed my staircase better, is, that yours, Gentlemen, which is next to mine in the English Garden, tho' of masonry, is placed the same way as that which I have made of timber. It is clear then that no other position could have been given it. This last even puts it so much in security that it was found on the going off of the waters not to have suffered any damage, tho' built simply of wood. Thus it is not indifferent as the objection supposes, whether the staircase is turned one way or the other, because in that which I had given it, there has resulted an assured safety both to the stair case and the Belvidere which it supports, and that in every other position, even that of the contrary way, it would have been broken down on the first fresh. As to what is said that on the stair case being turned the other way, they would have been able to see from the town whatever passed on it, the answer to the second objection shews how frivolous this last observation is.

Fraud, a term which ought never through recrimination be used without proof is, Gentlemen, that which gives room to the second objection, which follows. By this staircase, is it not easy to defraud the Nabob of his right? In taking it away shall we not suppress in part the means of defrauding? No assuredly; whether this staircase subsists or not, it is entirely a stranger to fraud.

I have been in Surat 18 years, and never has there been any complaint made to me of fraud committed in the French Garden, and particularly in the last six months, when there was no less than four French vessels at Surat, altho' the staircase was then hid from the view of the town. I have always been too exact in the duties of my place to permit any prevarication of that kind. My residence even in the French Garden is a double surety for the retribution of the Nabobs duties. There has never arrived any French ship, neither have I ever dispatched any that I have not anticipated the Nabob; he has then sent his people to examine the chests and goods. As to the boats of merchandize none has ever touched, that there has not been one of the Governments people aboard, and when it happens that the biscuit baked in the French Garden, and the cattle for provisions are ready for the road, I have always had the precaution to demand of the Nabob his people to assist at the embarkation, and to be witnesses of what is sent on board, being unwilling to have anything to reproach myself with on this head. The Nabob and Ali Novas Caun, Second of the town, can depose in favor of this truth that I advance.

It was then pure prejudice only, Gentlemen, that has made Mr. Day, during the absence of Mr. Boddam, cause to be examined at the gate of the town even carts of dung that were coming to my Garden. Many of them have been rummaged from top to bottom. This singular search could not be very agreeable to the people employed in it; but Mr. Day has need of proofs of trespass to strike the blow he meditated. Where could he go to seek them? It is very disagreeable for him, and very consoling for me, that my being so rigid on this article has rendered all his researches of no effect.

But tho' I am rigid in respect to the duties of the Custom House, I have been many times troubled in my service in this regard by some of your Gentlemen themselves, the French knowing my exactness, & fearing it, have found, more than one time, occasion to deceive it; several of them having contrived in concert with some of your nation to send English boats loaded with merchandize, and made them clandestinely enter the town. The Nabob has often made his complaints to me. If the French only had been in fault, he should have had prompt satisfaction; but having to do with a much stronger party, neither he nor I have been able to find a remedy for this abuse. What makes me easy on this head is that under the equitable administration of Mr. Boddam this malversation never had place. I have then, Gentlemen, matter for recrimination, if I was willing to name the persons concerned, but that is not in my character. My letter, or to speak more properly, my memorial is only to prove to you that I had a right to construct a staircase, and that in pulling it down they have done me a signal affront and considerable damage of which I demand reparation. But to return.

In taking the staircase entirely away, is it not the means to prevent fraud? This is the second part of the second objection. A person need not be a great connoisseur to say boldly whether the staircase exists or does not exist have not the defrauders a thousand ways of coming to their end? If it does exist, would they seek the place the most public, and where the search is almost continual, either on the part of the Nabob or on mine. In place of an illicit gain which they seek to procure themselves, would it not be in gaiety of heart to expose all their merchandize to seizure? Qui male agit odit lucem: (He who does evil hates the light.) If the staircase does not exist, it is for them the same thing; have they not the whole length of the river, particularly from Omrah, where they may land in the night and after having taken their measures properly, enter the town without being perceived? It is then absurd to endeavour to make people believe that the staircase was favorable to fraud, and to say that there had been complaint made by the Nabob that the said staircase was prejudicial to his customs. This last never complained to me. Such an accusation ought not to be produced if it cannot be supported by authentic proofs.

How badly advised are they when they say that the staircase made fraud easy, because I secretly encouraged that malversation. I do myself the justice to believe, Gentlemen, that such a thought of me never yet entered into any reasonable head. The place of French Chief which I have filled here during 12 years in the name of the India Company, the Post Consul of France at Surat with which it has pleased his most Christian Majesty to honour me 4 years ago: my irreproachable conduct in this city, which I can prove such by different letters which I have of the several Nabobs of Surat, of the strange nations established there, particularly yours, Gentlemen, are vouchers for me for not being even suspected of this contravention. I know they have held some discourse, both here and at Bombay, on this affair entirely destitute of good sense, but as it came from people of too little consequence to be taken notice of, I have despised, and still do despise these calumniators, being well persuaded that my reputation does not suffer the least hurt with men of honour, who are those alone whose esteem and approbation I am ambitious of. It is not the same with the destruction of the staircase. I have made it at the expence of the King. Having constructed it with all the permissions requisite, it was putting a signal affront on the nation to make it be pulled down contrary to the rights of mankind, and occasioning a great prejudice to it, if it is not speedily re-established.

You will find, Gentlemen, this letter very long, but look upon it as a memorial or factum, and pay attention to the nature of the cause. It regards an affront put on the French nation and a considerable damage which will have consequences, if you are not well enough informed by me of the facts, so as to give me satisfaction. It is necessary for me then to enter into the most minute detail, without which I should have always to reproach myself with having left you ignorant of something to the advantage of my cause; consider, besides, against whom I have to plead; against persons who by their high degree and their office appear incapable of committing faults in their service—it is your Council of this city; it is the Nabob. I have then against me in this affair the whole Government of Surat. I ought not then to forget any circumstance to prove to you my irreproachable conduct in the construction of this staircase, the iniquitous proceedings of your Council and of the Nabob with regard to me in its destruction, the affront and the detriment which results from it to the French nation, and in fine my right to the reparation which ought to be as authentic as the act of destruction was public.

Furthermore, Mr. Day is at Bombay. He is the author of all this disorder. He will not fail to report to you a thousand untruths; untruths appear as facts when one is not well informed. To make the most of the distrust he has on my account, and his own capacity, he will, without doubt, inform you of guns, which I had the permission of the Nabob to land, and which he made him revoke and obliged the said Nabob to send me a contrary order. This is his first valorous exploit against me during his short administration. Not being able to obtain from him the permission I demanded by my letter, a copy of which accompanies this, I sent back the said guns to Mahé; but this affair, which is also a trespass against our privileges, is of a nature to be palliated, arms being always in places, even the most pacific, a subject of differences and quarrel, I have made at the time my report of it to the Minister, and I do not speak of it now, Gentlemen, but to inform you plainly of this transaction, which Mr. Day will deliver to you with emphasis. It is reported here that I had the secret permission of Mr. Boddam to land these guns. I never spoke to him about them, as when these arms entered the river, Mr. Boddam was at Broach. If I had had his permission, why should I have asked it of Mr. Day? As to the rest, had Mr. Boddam granted it, he would have done nothing then, but allowed the French nation at Surat to have enjoyed all their privileges. I have never demanded of him this permission, nor have I even ever spoke of these guns to him, and he on his side has never opened his mouth to me about them. Now, Gentlemen, as all facts are disguised by people who have an interest to conceal the truth, it is for you to discover your way through all, as I have let no circumstance escape relative to the destruction of my staircase, in order that you may be the better able to judge of my right, and to order the reparation which is due to me.

I have amply demonstrated in my memorial, Gentlemen, that the public faith has been violated by the destruction of this staircase, because all permissions for completing it had been authentically given; that the rights of mankind had been sacrificed to the caprice of Mr. Day; that the Nabob had no right to do me this violence, the construction of French buildings not being under his jurisdiction, but alone under the Governor of the Castle, as Admiral of the Mogul, a prerogative which Mr. Day, ignorant of his duty in this point, has abandoned to the Nabob to act against me with rigour; that the English Council ought to have put a stop to the Nabob's oppression as mediator, as I prayed them to do; that the letter of the said English Council which supports the iniquitous procedure of the Nabob, with respect to me, is deceitful and illusory in all its points; that the situation of the French Garden, and the frequent freshes in the river demanded the staircase to be constructed in the place where I had put it; that every other position was very expensive and even impracticable; that the objections drawn from the defrauding the customs were founded on reasons futile and frivolous; and that, in fine, my being so rigid to fulfill my duty, and an experience at Surat of 18 years in the service rendered all prevarication of that kind impossible under my management. You have seen also the strong reasons which have obliged me to be prolix, much against my inclination, the nature of my cause requiring all the details which this letter or rather this memorial contains.

Because it is more than proved that I am not in fault in constructing this staircase, which has not been finished but on the public faith, and which has been destroyed and broke in a thousand pieces, contrary to the rights of mankind; nothing remains for me then, Gentlemen, than to pray you to do me justice in ordering this staircase to be immediately reconstructed by those who have so unworthily broke it down, and at their expence. To judge of its form you will find all the dimensions annexed to this letter. I demand of you this justice in the name of the French Nation, affronted by this act of destruction. Your knowledge and your equity, Gentlemen, are sure warrants to me for obtaining it of you; and I wait the effect in order to make my report to the Minister. The good harmony which subsists for so long a time betwixt your royal nation and ours is still another reason which persuades me that your answer will be very favorable to my just pretensions.

I have the honor to be with respect,

Gentlemen,

Your very humble and very obedient Servant,

ANQUETIL DE BRIANCOURT.

Dimensions of the Staircase:—

					Feet.	Inches.
Height of the ground from the level of the river	...	...	...	...	56	0
45 steps, breadth of each	...	...	...	...	1	1
Length of ditto	...	...	...	...	6	6
Height of ditto	...	...	...	...	0	6
3 Landing Places, the first breadth	...	...	...	...	1	1
the second	...	...	...	...	4	4
the third	...	...	...	...	6	6

Copy Translate of a letter from M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Governor and Council:—

Gentlemen,

Surat, the 16th August 1777.

The complaints of innocence oppressed, as also those of public faith violated, must be heard in a civilized nation, as the rights of the strongest are not always in reason, as here is a convincing proof.

The ground of the French Garden at Surat being exposed to the violence of the rapid current of the river, is always falling down; that I should not be exposed with my family (in case we wanted to take a walk along the river side) to tumble down with the earth, I ordered, Gentlemen, in September last a wooden staircase to be erected. Immediately an obstacle was formed; but the said stairs being acknowledged necessary and judged by a jury of able artists not to cause the least offence nor umbrage, M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam (English Chief of this residence) as likewise the Nabob gave me authentically all permissions requisite to go on with the work, tho' those of the Nabob were superfluous, as all buildings erected in the French Garden depend on no other than the English Government, as being possessors of the Castle and in quality of Admiral of the Moguls fleet.

These stairs which during six months were by the public looked upon as no other than an easy descent for my family and such honest people as came that way, appeared (as soon as M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam was gone to Broach) a stone of scandal in the eyes of M<sup>r</sup>. Day (who was then Chief ad interim). It was in his opinion a dangerous redoubt which must be pulled down. He consequently sent his orders to the Nabob for that purpose. This last sent his people to break it down. I protested, I wrote, claimed my right, but all to no purpose; the pusillanimous heart of M<sup>r</sup>. Day could not be at ease before it was destroyed.

The Nabob (altho' ashamed of the part he was made to act because he remembered the very authentic permission he himself had given) is at last obliged, on the repeated menaces of M<sup>r</sup>. Day, to order it to be broke down, and in consequence of which these stairs which during six months subsisted without giving the least umbrage, and were erected on public faith, are broke into a thousand pieces.

The day after this glorious expedition of M<sup>r</sup>. Day I received a letter of the Council in answer to that I sent, which this Chief ad interim has certainly dictated himself, because it is illusory and captious in all its points. Those Gentlemen, well disposed as they say to render me all the service in their power with the Nabob, decide at last that I am in the wrong of things they themselves are ignorant of. "We don't know," say they, "you ever had permission for those stairs". If they would have discharged their duty properly, and as mediators as I desired them, and which they ought to grant me, they should have made a strict enquiry and decided in consequence as they found it to be. That beautiful proverb which is written in letters of gold in all English tribunals Alteram partem audi is then sacrificed by these gentlemen for a display of caprice and slander.

In the meantime returns to Surat the Committee of Broach (M<sup>r</sup>. Carnac, M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam, and M<sup>r</sup>. Ramsay). I made them my complaints of the evil and unjust proceedings of M<sup>r</sup>. Day. These gentlemen transported themselves to the French Garden (the place of the scene), looked at the place which presented no more than an overthrow of earth and full of holes which threatens every moment a little Belvidere built on its brink to be buried in its turn and to which the said stairs served as a support. The reiterated orders of M<sup>r</sup>. Day were so well executed by the Nabob, that the least of the wooden work was not to be seen. These gentlemen at the sight of this depredation shook their heads, condemned M<sup>r</sup>. Day, and owned my complaints just, and added they saw very well a staircase was very necessary for the ease of myself and family.

The Gentlemen of the Committee did not resent this violation of my lawful right on the Nabob, neither will any body, however it may be at Surat, ever say it was by his doings. Every body lays the fault, ignominy, and blackness of the fact on M<sup>r</sup>. Day, who, wanting to signalize himself during the short space of his reign in affronting me by this shameful act of his authority, endeavouring to save his honor and hiding his malice from the public, he reports before and after this destruction that the stairs in question served only to defraud the custom house, and that (in secret) I lent my hands for that misdemeanor. This slander founded on supposition found however no belief with people of repute. He wanted proof but could find none, altho' he sought it at all events, and even in the worst manner. This needless and disgustful search did not discourage him, but what was above all of consequence to him, was to find out proper reasons to justify his black proceedings. It was sufficient for him to pulliate it in the eyes of the besotted populace. Right or wrong he strikes his blow, the claim of my right is not heard, and the stairs are broken down. A triumphant act indeed, but enough for him.

This staircase however owned necessary for the ease of my family has been well examined and cannot produce the least prejudice to the Custom house, nor give the least umbrage. It has been constructed with all requisite permission and on the public faith. The situation of the ground shows plainly it could not be made in another place nor in another manner. This M<sup>r</sup>. Day with the whole world ought to have seen if he had known the decorum which subsists always amongst Europeans with one another, and if it had been his case in the affair of the stairs to act against me, he ought not to bring the Nabob in play. All buildings, whatsoever they are, in the French Gardens are constructed with the consent of the Governor of the Castle but not that of the town; but as it is a violence committed by the Nabob (altho' prompted by M<sup>r</sup>. Day) I hope, Gentlemen, you'll please to order the said staircase to be rebuilt where it formerly stood, and at the same time to be so obliging to procure me authentic reparation from him (the Nabob) for the affront done to the French Nation, as he has infringed on the public rights. This, Gentlemen, is the substance of my remarks I have sent dated 24th April last and to which I refer myself in regard to the pulling down my landing stairs and prices thereto annexed. I am very sorry your occupations have deprived me of your answer on my complaints and request of reparation till now. I however beg you'll grant me justice on receiving and reading the present, which I expect (as not doubting your equity), being obliged to give account of my conduct to the French Ministry. I beg likewise you will enable me to prove to them (in making my general report of my conduct) the goodwill and intentions you bear me, and the good harmony which has always subsisted at Surat between your royal nation and ours.

I have the honor to be with the most profound respect and highest consideration.

Gentlemen, Yours, &<sup>ca</sup>,
ANQUETIL.

Surat, 30th November 1777.

Addressed our Superiors p<sup>r</sup> "Revenge" :—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

A translate of Mons<sup>r</sup> Briancourts letter of the 20th April last having been laid before us with that of the 16th August, we shall now enter into the following retrospect of our conduct, & our motives that induced thereto in respect to the staircase he mentions; the Chief and M<sup>r</sup> Crockatt being absent, and M<sup>r</sup> Gambier not appointed one of our members when that matter came under our consideration, those gentlemen consequently had no concern in the resolutions it produced at our Board.

Our attention was first engaged on this object by M<sup>r</sup> Day (then the Senior Servant at this settlement) reporting to us in Council that Ally Novas Caun had repeatedly represented to him he could not be responsible for the execution of the duties of his office as Phoorza Daroga from the French having it in their power to defraud the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company and the Government in the Articles of Customs, by means of a staircase the French Consul had constructed at his Gardens close by the river side, which was so contrived that nothing transacted there could be perceived from the town. And that Ally Novas Caun had further intimated a strong suspicion that they were not only intended but actually had been made use of for that purpose, by observing to M<sup>r</sup> Day that boats had been constantly passing of late to and from this spot both day and night, adding besides that he (M<sup>r</sup> Day) had privately received certain information not long before the present Chiefs arrival here of Mons<sup>r</sup> Anquetil having been detected in the fact of attempting to convey some piece goods out of town clandestinely in his coach, in order to evade the payment of Customs thereon, and that the Nabob intended to have fined him severely for this offence, but was at length prevailed upon to overlook it. All which being maturely considered by the Board, together with the frequent injunctions of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Court of Directors to discourage the trade of foreign European nations to this Port as far as possible without infringement of their Phirmaunds, priveleges which they have enjoyed in theirutmost extent ever since our acquisition of the Castle, thô they were but merely nominal prior to that event, as well as the orders we had received a few days before from your Honor &<sup>ca</sup>, dated the 18th March, wherein you remark a gradual decrease for some years past in the Castle and Tanka revenues, the latter of which chiefly arises from our Customs on the shipping trade, and earnestly require us to pay the strictest attention to the collection and improvement of our revenues, adverting also to the established usage of this place, founded on the authority that the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company are invested with in quality of Governors of the Moguls Castle, which allows none of those nations to erect or construct any buildings, whether of masonry or timber, without previously obtaining permission from our Board, whose Records evince that Mons<sup>r</sup> Briancourt had never even applied for such permission the instance he refers to. And reflecting further that the Town Government had an undoubted right with our acquiescence to make such regulations as might be judged necessary for securing the Customs due to the Phoorza, and that its powers were actually exerted in somewhat a similar case under sanction of the orders that came from the Presidency relative to the demolition of the Flag Staff which the French had erected at their Garden in the year 1761, we unanimously resolved to make a suitable representation to the Nabob in order that by his interference the French might be deprived of so great a facility to carry on the business of smuggling, which we were apprehensive might otherwise not be confined to this property alone, but extend also to that of other foreign Europeans residing here, and particularly to those valuable articles belonging to the Factory Merchants, which taking up but a small compass might be readily conveyed to the French Garden in secret; nor can we doubt but it will appear to you that we acted thus from the clearest dictates of our duty, but that instead of having any reason to complain of incivility on our part, Mon<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil offered the highest insult to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys prerogative, as Governors of Moguls Castle in presuming to set on foot the staircase in question without our express approbation, especially as it was by no means so slight a piece of work as he has been pleased to represent it, but of a strong and durable nature, with a solid foundation of masonry, which remained of the walls of an house which formerly stood in the situation it occupied, and perfectly well calculated for landing and shipping off the heaviest sorts and largest packages of merchandize. And we must further beg leave humbly to submit to your judgement whether it would not be extremely impolitic, as well as contrary to the mode of proceeding that has hitherto been constantly observed to avow to Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil (which it seems to us he anxiously wishes for as a pretext to vilify the English influence in his advices to Europe) that we had in any shape endeavoured to bias the Nabobs conduct regarding it, because of the restraint it would lay us under from using this only method that would effectually serve to counteract any measures that may hereafter be taken here by the foreign European nations of an hurtful or dangerous tendency to the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys interest, without involving the latter in disputes with them as principals. And likewise whether the vast uneasiness Mon<sup>s</sup>. Anquetil has shown at the loss of the staircase, the eagerness with which he solicits you to have it replaced, and the vile scurrility of his language on this occasion ; whether, we say, these singular & illiberal effects of impatience & resentment do not powerfully argue that he has been disappointed in some point of a very interesting nature, rather than those he artfully presents of having a support for the little shed he calls Belvidere (which notwithstanding his assertion safely withstood the fresh & uncommonly heavy rains of the late, and the severest part, of the former monsoon without such assistance) and a commodious descent for his family to walk into a boat, even admitting that they delighted in parties on the river, which however we have no reason to believe, having never heard of their going upon the water during the several months the fabrick was in being, except once when they went to the Bar, tho' we have known it commonly made use of by the Captains and officers of foreign ships in general, and particularly the Portugueze, with whose Resident here it was currently reported Mon<sup>s</sup>. Anquetil was a partner in trade.

Having confined ourselves entirely thus far to what immediately relates to the measure which Mon<sup>s</sup>. Anquetil has complained of to you, we cannot now but take notice of his malicious attempt to stigmatise the Gentlemen of this Board, by alledging that he would name some of them who acted in concert with some of his own nation in bringing goods clandestinely into Town. And on this head each of us most solemnly declares for himself upon his honor, that he has never been concerned, either directly or indirectly, in any such unjustifiable transaction, and is totally ignorant of any of the English having purchased merchandise here from a French ship, but some Marine Stores which the Board allowed the Marine Paymaster to provide and land at the Bunder free of Customs to the Phoorza. on his representing that they were wanted for the use of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys vessels. And as Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil has advanced several particulars in order that he might infer the Chief had authorized him to continue building this staircase while it was yet in a very imperfect state, we must beg leave to refer you to the Chiefs & Collectors Minutes of the 27th instant, by the former of which it appears that from its private situation, and having been built during the rainy season when it was least liable to detection from the river, being very little frequented, the Chief never knew there was any staircase at the French Garden near the river side till nothing more was wanting to complete it than two doors, & a railing which were put up with his permission. And in the latter of those Minutes the Collector again assures the Board that he also had no knowledge of it till some time after it was finished.

We beg leave also to enclose you a copy of a Minute delivered in by M<sup>r</sup> Day on this subject.

A Bill of Exchange having been offered us at Par in your favour for Rupees 40000, we have accepted, and now enclose it to you.

In the packet are the following papers & accounts, viz. :—General Certificate for September, Warehouse accounts for October.

Surat, 30th Nov<sup>r</sup> 1777.

We are, &c<sup>a</sup>.

---

Surat, 8th October 1778.

At a Consultation, Present :

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esq<sup>r</sup> Chief.

Charles Bouchier.

Daniel Seton.

James Morley.

Frederick Dorrien.

Daniel Crockatt.

Samuel Gambier.

M<sup>r</sup> Thomas Day absent with leave.

Read and approved our last Consultation of the 30th ultimo.

Read translate of a letter from M<sup>r</sup> Anquetil, the French Consul, and the protest accompanying, as entered hereafter. Agreed that we write him an answer to the following purport, that as he has declined enlarging on the subject until he knows what success he may have in his representations to the Nabob, we likewise forbear for the present entering into any particulars of the affair.

R. H. BODDAM.

---

Surat, 8th October 1778.

M<sup>r</sup> Boddam, Chief for affairs of the British Nation, Admiral of the Fleet and Governor of the Fortress of the Mogul, and his Council.

Gentlemen,

The public will have already instructed you of the affront offered to the French nation, of the outrages committed against my person, as likewise against those of my wife & children, and of the violences executed upon all the Frenchmen then with me, and in general upon all my servants, by the people of the Nabob, when he sent them the 20th of last month to my house at the French Garden, to the number of four hundred men, to place a guard there. I shall not in this letter enlarge upon this unheard of oppression committed upon ground which, belonging to the King of France, ought to be respected as a sacred asylum. My enclosed Protest informs you of all the aggravating circumstances; the violences which have been done me have been of such a degree, as there exists no example of since Europeans have been at Surat. As I have all the right possible to prosecute the reparation of them, I address myself to you, Gentlemen, to obtain it, in case that the Nabob should not give it me so complete as I may require, and of which you will be convinced yourselves in reading the atrocious facts expressed in my Protest. A malifactor, a robber, even an assassin wou'd have been treated with more moderation and less violence. I suppress here all my afflicting reflections, fixing myself solely on the power which your quality of Moguls Admiral & Governor of the Fortress gives you over the Nabob in order to repress acts of violence, and as it is a Consul of France (whose person you know, Gentlemen, is sacred as representing that of the King his master) who has received these enormous insults, the reparation ought to be in proportion to the excesses of the violences committed, and against which in this quality of Consul I likewise protest to you.

Surat, 6th Oct<sup>r</sup> 1778.

I have the honor to be, &<sup>ca</sup>,
ANQUETIL DE BRIANCOURT,
Consul.

Surat 8th October 1778.

Verbal Process concerning the horrors and most unheard of excesses committed against the person of Monsieur Anquetil de Briancourt, Consul of his most Christian Majesty, and other Frenchmen, then in the Garden of the King at Surat, & Protest of the said Consul :—

The twentieth September one thousand seven hundred and seventy-eight, at nine o'clock at night, in the most profound obscurity, and at a time when everything was quiet and in security in the French Garden, a troop of Sepoys and Soldiers of the Nabob, or rather of highwaymen, to the number of four hundred men, forced and broke open one of the gates of the said Garden, fell with fury upon the porter and his family, whom they plundered, beat, and drove out of his house. After this first violation of the laws of nations, these Sepoys without officer at their head, traversing the French Garden, laying waste all of it, and putting all the Europeans they met with to the sword, as likewise all the servants of the Consul (M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil), whom they knocked down with blows, ran every where like furies and arrived in confusion at the Consular House. They fell upon it, the sabre drawn and the bayonet fixed. They seize upon the doors which they bar with their arms, break the windows by which they enter into all the rooms like assassins. They there commit all sorts of disorders and robberies, as much in plundering on all sides as in exercising their brutality upon the slave girls, whom they drag out of the house for to take from them their silver bracelets. These violences were not enough. These barbarians threw themselves upon the beds where timid innocence thought she had a right to repose with tranquility. They were the children of the Consul, who, the one aged three years, and the other one year, were peaceably sleeping there. The clashing of the sabres and bayonets of furies awaken these tender victims of brutality. They shriek out at the sight of these furies, who lifted their sabres upon these little innocents. These monsters of Nature threaten to make the beds serve as tombs for these poor infants, if any body approaches them to give them the succours which their cries, and their arms extended towards their father, mother, and elder sister, demanded, but in vain. Whilst these tender offsprings of the Consul were kept in close custody, with the sword ready to fall upon them, himself, his wife (Madame Anquetil) and his eldest daughter sustained an assault difficult to describe. At the door of the hall again a troop of these furies, there reigned on one side a mixture of violence, of brutality and of impudence, and on the other of firmness, of pathetic expressions capable of moving the hardest entrails, of entreaties, of tears. All this formed a contrast in which humanity (abused on one part, and moved to pity on the other, and frightened by the noise of sabres, firelocks, bayonets, which intermixed) could not reclaim her rights. The darkness of the night still increased the horror and the distress of this picture. This insolent troop had just forced away M<sup>r</sup>. Trublet, officer of the "Curieux," who at that time was endeavouring to put the wife of the Consul in a place of security. He is dragged away with violence out of doors, and is bruized with blows. The Consul without arms or stick, assuming all his strength, cannot parry the blows, but by opposing to these furies an armchair, which served him for a buckler, against more than twenty bayonets which were presented naked against his stomach, which their points almost touched, and in the moment that he was upon the point of his being dragged away by this vile soldiery, nature and compassion redoubling the courage and the strength of his wife and of his eldest daughter, they, both the one and the other perform (more than the weakness of their sex permitted) a thousand efforts to disengage him. It was at this crisis that the shirt and the waistcoat of the Consul were torn upon his bodie by this troop of assassins, who said loudly that they were come to carry him off. The tears and the prayers of the Consul's daughter, the entreaties of his wife, who in order to move to pity these hearts of rock presented them her two children which she had just snatched from the hands of the executioners: nothing was capable of satisfying the rage of these unruly people. They had violated the law of nations with respect to the Consul, they trampled under foot those of decency and modesty with respect to his wife and daughter, by teasing them, taking hold of their arms, and talking to them in the most licentious language, outrages done to the sex which they ought to respect—what the representations, the entreaties, the prayers, the tears cou'd not effect (for they carried away the Consul, whom his wife and daughter did not quit) the simple presence of the officers performed. These last, who ought to march at the head, did not come long after their troop, probably that they might without restraint commit all these excesses, and exercise the plunder. They dispersed the crowd without putting a stop to the continued alarms with which the family of Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil was every moment threatened. They post double guards everywhere. The Consul, uneasy for the lot of the Frenchmen who were spread in different parts of the Garden, demanded that they might all be presented to him. M<sup>r</sup>. Trublet, quite bruized with blows, was given up to him; M<sup>r</sup>. Charleval, whom a fever had confined for eight days to his bed, was brought to him, as likewise his two writers and four seaman of the “Curieux.” As the Frenchmen had met with no fatal accident, except blows, they returned each to his apartment, where the champions, formadable solely by their number, guarded them very closely. M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil did not yet know what had drawn upon him this nocturnal visit, which he took for the effect of a robbery of the Nabobs troops, greedy of plunder. At eleven o'clock the Nabobs servant entered, and told him the reason in these few words—Some Merchants have complained to the Nabob that you are in their debt, and he sends the Guard to you that you may pay them. Is it with such ferocity, replies the Consul, that money is demanded? I do not refuse to pay. If I owe, others owe me; and I am ready to furnish my accounts; but I am neither a robber nor a malefactor. What reason is there then to violate the laws of nations and that of humanity in committing so many atrocities towards me, my wife, my children, all the Frenchmen who are here, and in short of all my servants? In quality of Consul they ought to respect in my person that of the King of France; but no as if I had been a rogue they have torn my cloths upon my back, and treated my wife and children with the greatest brutality and indecency. I regard this act of violence and robbery as an outrage done to the King of France in my person, and as an assassinate committed against me, against my wife and children, and your people have not chosen the night, but that they might with greater security & impunity exercise all the horrors, of which I demand satisfaction of the Nabob, very fully persuaded that he will grant it me as entire as I have a right to require. The servant of the Nabob felt himself the justice of all these recriminations, and he made no answer. The servants of the Consul then came to complain of thefts made during the tumult,—as silver spoons, silver forks, silver goglets, napkins, table cloths, many gowns of M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil's wife and children, a great quantity of handkerchiefs, and the taylor's chest broken open and half plundered. These robbers had already divided amongst them the spoil, so that the enquiries of the jemidars, officers, could only get back a very small part of this plunder. The servant of the Nabob returned to give an account to his master of the success of his Expedition. As the Coffree Jemidar had apparently his orders to outrage the family of the Consul with the least respect, even to decency, he did not let slip the occasion, when, at two o'clock in the morning M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil was obliged to ask his permission to send for the Surgeon whose immediate assistance was necessary, for Madame, the widow Dugras, who had been sick four months, and the sight of these Sepoys who went to forage even in her chamber had made her faint away several times. Who could have thought that this permission to send for the Surgeon would be refused? The barbarians themselves would not believe it, & if after many entreaties it was granted, it is because this insolvent Coffree had the impudence to feel himself the head and the pulse of the sick lady, an action repugnant to decency, and which is even contrary, according to the law of the Moors, to the customs practised with regard to women even of the lowest class, but what does not effrontery permit emboldened by impunity and supported by despotism? M<sup>r</sup> Blacman, English Surgeon, came at three o'clock in the morning to the French Garden. This worthy man can give an account to the public of the spectacle, frightful on one part and distressful on the other, that struck on his arrival his eyes wet with tears, which commiseration & pity made him shed in spite of himself. On finishing his visit, his pockets on his return were searched as if the decency and the gravity of his character ought not to answer for his probity. All those who had business with the Consul, during the whole time of his detention, & who were returning home, were treated as unworthily; but the barbarity exercised towards the Consul and all his family was not yet at its height. The whole night from nine o'clock in the evening was spent in the midst of continual fears and alarms. Ten o'clock in the morning struck and no person of this deplorable family, father, wife, children, not even the servants, could get any food. The children of the Consul, innocent victims of the hunger which they were made to suffer, demanded victuals with redoubled cries. These people of the Nabob had seized upon the kitchen, and nobody was permitted to approach it. Fifty Rupees given this same day to these monsters, and as much the next day, satisfied their cupidity, and procured for the family of the Consul drinking and eating but still under much restraint. The laws of the country which order the guard forbid all violence of action, prevent the troops entering the house of him who is arrested, and only permit the surrounding of it without; but all law of nations, of hospitality, of humanity, of decency, of propriety, of freedom, in short, all sacred laws have been violated with respect to M<sup>r</sup> Anquetil, Consul of France at Surat, and to all his family. The sketch of these horrors is traced in this verbal process, which is a faithful picture of it, and the most authentick reparation will never efface the cruel remembrance of all these infamies which lasted forty-eight hours. The Consul, who was every moment afraid for the life of his wife and of his children exposed in the middle of so much disorder, confusion, and acts of violence, had no other means of preventing every accident but to restrain his goods himself, and to make a general surrender of all that he possessed, as well as his wife and children. And this sacrifice required by force, disallowed by justice, and in which Madame and Mademoiselle Anquetil shewed as much greatness of soul as generosity,—the stripping themselves of their jewels humanised these barbarians. The twenty-third September, at eleven o'clock at night, the troops of the Nabob, who came to demand of the Consul his purse, or his life, evacuated the French Garden as soon as he had given as security, without either form or justice, a pledge for which there was delivered to him a receipt. In consequence we, Anquetil de Briancourt in quality of Consul representing his most Christian Majesty in this city, protest against all these acts of the violence continued in the present verbal process, and all the bad consequences which may result from them, for the credit of the French nation at Surat, reserving to ourselves to make our most heavy complaint to the Minister of France, to have full and entire satisfaction from them. In faith of which we have signed the present verbal process & protest in presence of the Frenchmen and others who were then with us in the French Garden, who have also signed as witnesses. Done at Surat this twenty-third September at eleven o'clock at night.

(Signed) Anquetil de Briancourt, Consul; Trublet, de Charleville Lemoin, Bernard.

Copy conformable to the original,

DE MONCRIF DE LA GRANGE,

Chancellor.

We, Stephen Anquetil de Briancourt, Consul of France at Surat, certify that the signature de Moncrif de la Grange hereabove set is that of the Senior de Moncrif de la Grange, Chancellor of the French Consulship of Surat; that faith ought to be put therein, as much in judgement as out of it, to the deeds which he signs in this quality. We further certify that stamped paper and the comptrol are not established in the said place, in faith of which we have signed these presents, and have thereunto set the seal of our arms. Given in our Consular House at Surat this sixth October one thousand seven hundred seventy-eight.

ANQUETIL DE BRIANCOURT,
Consul.

L. S.

Sealed the said day and year.

Surat, 13th October 1778.

At a Consultation, Present :

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esq<sup>re</sup>, Chief.

Charles Bouchier.

James Morley.

Daniel Crokatt.

Daniel Seton,

Samuel Gambier.

M<sup>r</sup>. Day absent with leave.

M<sup>r</sup>. Dorrien indisposed.

Read & approved our last Consultation of yesterdays date.

On reperusal of M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetils letter of the 6th instant the Board think it necessary to make a few remarks on the following extraordinary privileges he lays claim to. First, that the French Garden being ground belonging to the King of France ought to be respected as a sacred asylum—and secondly, that the person of a Consul of France is sacred, as representing that of the King his master. In respect to the first, his residence at the French Garden is a mere matter of indulgence from Government, & not that of right (it being a place designed only for recreation situated on the Esplanade immediately under the guns of the Town), as their Factory in town is the only proper place of his abode, and even that cannot be made use of as an asylum. With respect to the second, we do not consider his person in the least more sacred than those of the Chiefs of the other foreign nations settled at Surat, and there have been many instances of their having guards placed upon them.

On reperusing the protest the Board are of opinion that in order to give it weight, it ought to be true in general, and in every particular, whereas it is false in both those respects, and therefore no credit can be given to it. In general the circumstances are greatly exaggerated, and in particular many of the facts are falsified. Our remarks on a few instances will put the whole in a very clear light; for if M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil has the confidence to deviate from the truth in such material points, what faith can be put in his veracity on any occasion? In the first place he alledges that the guard was placed upon him on the 20th, whereas it did not go till the 21st in the evening. Secondly, that the guard consisted of four hundred men, whereas we have certain knowledge that there were only two hundred. Thirdly, that the whole guard stay'd there till the 23rd, whereas half of it was withdrawn on the 22nd through the interposition of the Chief. Fourthly, that they entirely laid waste his garden, whereas the garden did not suffer any damage whatever. Fifthly, that all the Frenchmen as well as servants were put to the sword, &c., whereas, so far from it, there was not a person wounded.

R. H. BODDAM.

Surat, Thursday, 22<sup>d</sup> October 1778.

Received the following letter from the Governor and Council :—

Gentlemen,

We have received your letter of the 9th instant by the "Panther."

The very small increase in the inhabitants of Salsette, since it has been in our possession, and the uncultivated state in which a considerable part of that Island consequently still remains demanding our most active efforts to find some method of adding to its population, and as we are of opinion that with proper encouragement the Parsees and many others might be induced to come and settle thereon, we direct that you cause it to be made known at Surat, & also at Nunsaree, Versaul, & Gundavie, but in such a manner as not to give disgust to the Governments at the three latter places, that we will give the most ample encouragement to all new settlers on that Island, & allot them lands to cultivate on the most advantageous terms.

Enclosed is a packet for the Chief and Factors at Broach, which you will forward immediately.

Bombay, 16th Oct<sup>r</sup> 1778.

We are, &c<sup>a</sup>

Surat, 2<sup>d</sup> November 1787.

Sailed the "Panther" & Convoy for Bombay. Arrived the "Betsey" & Convoy from Bombay, and by her received the following letter from the Select Committee :—

Gentlemen,

Judging it highly improper in the present state of open hostility with France that the Factory of that nation should be permitted to continue at Surat, we direct that you take proper measures, with the necessary secrecy, to arrest the persons of the French Consul and all other Frenchmen in that city and send them down to Bombay, where we shall allot a proper place for their residence. The French Consul must have liberty to act as he pleases with respect to his wife and family, and to bring them to Bombay or not as he may think proper.

It is not our intention that M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetils private property should be touched, but correct inventories must be taken and transmitted to us of all goods, effects, and stores found in the French Factory and Garden house.

Bombay Castle, 27th October 1778.

We are,
Your loving Friends,
WM<sup>m</sup> HORNBY.
JON<sup>n</sup> CARNAC.
CH<sup>s</sup> EGERTON.
D. DRAPER.

Surat, Tuesday, 3<sup>d</sup> November 1778.

At a Consultation, Present :

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esq<sup>r</sup> Chief.

James Morley.

Charles Bouchier.

Daniel Crockatt.

Samuel Gambier.

M<sup>r</sup>. Day absent with leave.

M<sup>r</sup>. Seton indisposed.

Read & approved our last Consultation of yesterdays date.

Read a letter from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Select Committee dated 27th ultimo, received last night.

Mess<sup>rs</sup> Bouchier, Morley, & Crockatt are appointed a Committee to carry into execution the orders of our Superiors regarding the arrest of the French Consul, & all the Frenchmen in this city and securing the stores, goods, &c., that may be found in the French Factory & Garden House &c.

Being sensible of the largeness of the family of the French Consul, and the number of Gentlemen who compose the Consulate, the Board think it necessary to make them an allowance of twenty Rupees per day for their subsistence during their confinement at the French Garden, and the Land Paymaster is ordered to pay the same, also to allow one Rupee per day to each of the other Frenchmen who reside in this city, likewise to afford provender to their cattle.

The Chief acquainting the Board that there are sundry purchasers of goods on board the "Betsey," the Warehousekeeper is ordered to land them.

R. H. BODDAM.

Arrested the persons of the French Consul and the other Frenchmen in this city.

Received the following letter from M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil:—

R. Boddam, Esq<sup>re</sup>, Governor of Surat Castle for the Mogul, English Chief and his Council, at Surat.

Gentlemen,

I was not a little surprised this morning to see at the French Garden three of your Gentlemen who have made me, M<sup>r</sup>. de Moncrif Chancellor, and every other Frenchman at Surat prisoners of war. In consequence of which they have put under seal all the papers to take an inventory of them tomorrow. I in vain represented to them that it was against the rights of the neutrality established and observed at all times at Surat. These Gentlemen neither regarding my representation nor the letter of the Minister which I presented to them, in which I am expressly ordered, under date the 18th May last, to observe the most perfect neutrality at Surat; and since every thing appears to be done against the usages hitherto practised, I protest by this letter against this act of hostility, which ought never to have taken place, and throw upon whomsoever it shall belong all the grievous consequences which may result therefrom.

I have the honour to be, with the highest consideration,

Surat, 3<sup>d</sup> November 1778.

Gentlemen,

Your most humble and obedient Servant,

ANQUETIL DE BRIANCOURT.

Thursday, 5th.—Received the following letter from M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil:—

R. Boddam Esq<sup>r</sup>, Governor of the Castle for the Mogul, English Chief and his Council, at Surat.

Gentlemen,

I did myself the honor of writing you the day before yesterday protesting against the act of hostility you have committed in making me, M<sup>r</sup>. de Moncrif Chancellor, and every Frenchman at Surat prisoners of war, an act of hostility which is utterly contrary to the neutrality established and observed in this city of which the Nabob is Governor. You kept it strictly during the last war while I resided here all the time which it lasted, without ever thinking of breaking it towards me. I was at that time Chief of the Factory for the India Company, and my quality of Consul of his most Christian Majesty, with which I am now honor'd, has not in the least changed the ancient and established regulation. But since it has pleased you, Gentlemen, to act differently towards me at this time, I the day before yesterday protested against this act of hostility; & I again protest against the seizure of all the effects of the King at Surat.

I have besides to represent to you, Gentlemen, in respect to the verbal orders which has been given me, to hold myself in readiness to go to Bombay in four days, with M<sup>r</sup>. de Moncrif and all the Frenchmen who are with me, that it is utterly impossible for me to be ready in so short a space of time. My wife and children are sick and will never part from me. The kindness and nobleness of your sentiments, even humanity will induce you to deem my representation just. Therefore have the goodness to allow me a proper time, in order that I may arrange my affairs accordingly and get ready all my furniture and effects, which I intend carrying with me to the place of imprisonment which you have destined for me.

But, Gentlemen, why this removal, which will occasion me considerable trouble? You have made me a prisoner of war; you have seized all the effects of the King; you are possessed of my person, of M<sup>r</sup>. de Moncrifs, and the other Frenchmen, over whom you keep your guard. What advantage will you reap from doing any thing further? Since we are your prisoners, cannot you allow us the French Garden for a prison? I and M<sup>r</sup>. de Moncrif will execute all the formalities required by your nation to secure to you our persons. In granting my request you will render me a very great service, since my wife and family, who are almost all sick, will not be obliged to make a voyage, of which I dread the troubles and consequences.

I will repeat then my entreaties to have this favor granted to me, and to those who are with me, from whom I should be extremely concerned to be separated. In case the permission for our remaining at the Garden cannot be granted us, if you rather chuse it, we may retire with the same precautions taken on your part to the French Factory in town.

Whatever may be your determination with respect to the above representations, is it not in your power, Gentlemen, to order the examination of the papers which are under your seal, to be made here rather than at Bombay, where you have said it should be done? This favor would put us in possession of private papers which are necessary to us.

I ought further to represent to you, Gentlemen, that le Pere Gilbert, Curate of the French Mission, cannot be sent to Bombay without putting a stop to Divine Service, which ought not to suffer any interruption. Therefore, I beg you so to order it, that he may continue in the Missionary House, and that he may have the liberty to perform the functions of his office.

An inventory was given yesterday of the furniture and moveable effects belonging to the King at Surat. There remains yet to furnish you with that of the immoveables, records and papers which you have also seized, but I think that it is but conformable to justice that you give me a receipt for them.

I look for a speedy and satisfactory answer from you on the foregoing subjects, since the case requires despatch.

I have the honor to be, with the highest consideration,

Gentlemen,

Your most humble & obedient Servant,

ANQUETIL DE BRIANCOURT.

Surat, Friday, 6th November 1778.

At a Consultation, Present:

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esq<sup>r</sup>., Chief.

Daniel Crockatt.

James Morley.

Daniel Seton.

Charles Bouchier.

Samuel Gambier.

M<sup>r</sup>. Thomas Day absent with leave.

Read & approved our last Consultation of the 2<sup>d</sup> instant.

The Chief acquaints the Board that he has received a letter from le Pere Gilbert setting forth his surprize at being made a prisoner of war, as it is contrary to the manner in which the French Priests were treated in America last war, & requesting that he might be allowed to perform his functions as the French Missionaries are permitted at Madras, or that he may be allowed his freedom on his Parole of Honor, under the security of the Portugeze Resident, but if neither of these requests can be complied with, he desires that a Portugeze Padree by name Antonio, who has frequently officiated in that capacity at this place, may be permitted to perform Divine Service in the French chapel in his stead. The Chief not judging it proper to grant either of the two first requests, has only complied with the last.

Read two letters from the late French Consul, dated the 3<sup>d</sup> & 5th instant, copies of which are to be forwarded to the Select Committee.

Having considered of M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetils several requests, it is out of our power to comply with any of them except that of his being allowed a further time to prepare for his removal, which on the several accounts he has set forth the Board agree that he may be permitted to remain here fourteen days longer.

With regard to the other prisoners, as there is no reason for allowing them the same indulgence, agreed that they be sent to the Presidency by the first opportunity.

Read the report of the Committee appointed to carry into execution the orders of our Superiors of the 27th ult<sup>o</sup> regarding the arrest of the French Consul &<sup>ca</sup>, as entered hereafter. Ordered, that copy thereof be transmitted to the Select Committee.

R. H. BODDAM.

Gentlemen,

In consequence of your appointing us a Committee to carry into execution the orders of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the President and Select Committee of the 27th of last month, we proceeded immediately to the French Garden, with the guard ordered to attend us, and acquainted the French Consul with the purport of these orders in the following terms. That on account of the present state of open hostility between Great Britain & France, we were come to arrest his person as well as those of all other Frenchmen, who were to be sent down to Bombay, where a proper place will be allotted for their residence; that he was to have liberty to act as he pleases with respect to his wife & family and to carry them to Bombay or not as he may think proper; that his private property should not be touched, but that we must take correct inventories of all goods, effects & stores found in the French Factory & Garden House. The French Consul then desired he might be permitted to take down in writing what we had communicated to him, which request we complied with. We sealed up all books and papers, and took correct inventories of all goods, effects and stores found in the French Factory & Godown House, which we now enclose together with separate inventories delivered to us by each of the French gentlemen signed by themselves, and we left guards in charge of the French Factory & Garden House, and delivered them a list of the French prisoners, a copy of which is now enclosed.

We are with respect &<sup>ca</sup>.

CH<sup>s</sup> BOURCHIER.
JAS. MORLEY.
DANIEL CROKATT.

Surat, 5th November 1778.

Surat, Saturday, 7th November 1778.

Received the following letter from M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil :—

R. Boddam, Esq<sup>re</sup>, Chief, President, &<sup>ca</sup>, and his Council at Surat.

Gentlemen,

Mess<sup>rs</sup>. Morley and Crokatt have been here to take from among the papers which are under your seal, a letter wrote me by the Minister, the 10th May last, by which you no doubt mean to inform yourselves of the orders given me by him on this actual occurrence. Thus, Gentlemen, you will perceive that in case of a war it was ordered me to assert the neutrality that has always been respected and observed at Surat, and you must be sensible of the harm you have done in breaking it in regard to this Consulate. But where was the occasion for taking the papers belonging to M<sup>r</sup>. Charleval? what have they to do with the affairs of the King? M<sup>r</sup>. Charleval is not here in his service. He is a French gentleman who practises in Engineering and travels for his own private instruction. He is with me as a passenger, and intended to return to France, where his family recall him, therefore his writings & papers have nothing at all to do with this Consulate. Besides, is it regular thus to carry away papers "in toto" without giving the particulars of them, without inspecting them before us, and being even acknowledged in our presence and that of your Gentlemen by the owner? Therefore allow, Gentlemen, that I protest against the illegal manner of carrying off the papers.

I sent the Senior Smith, one of our writers to Damaun, on my own private affair & to collect some sums of money due to me there. For these two days, Gentlemen, you have detained him prisoner, without permitting him to come and give an account of what I had commissioned him to do. As the Senior Smith is a Dutchman & not a Frenchman, and as he only serves me in my own private affairs, I protest against his detention, which causes me a great damage, and which prejudicial consequences to my private concerns I shall lay to your account, unless you are so good as to send him back to me immediately upon my thus demanding him.

I have also to observe to you that there are in the family of my wife two widows, her aunts M<sup>rs</sup>. Mouchel and M<sup>rs</sup>. Dugras. Since I have been at Surat I have always provided for their necessities. They are now of an age not to be deserted. As my detention in quality of a prisoner of war deprives me of the means of continuing to them my assistance, no doubt, Gentlemen, your humanity will make up for it. I ask for each of them 30 Rupees subsistence per month.

With respect to the Senior Dugras the son, as he is in the employ of M<sup>r</sup>. Bolts, and receives from him allowances, he cannot be supposed to be concerned in the French affairs.

I hope, Gentlemen, you will grant my request in allowing the two ladies Mouchel & Dugras in quality of the widows of Frenchmen, and in consideration of their age and infirmities, the 30 Rupees necessary for their subsistence.

This is the third letter I have had the honor to address you. I expect an answer to all the subjects that these three letters contain.

I have the honor to be with great respect,
Gentlemen,

Your most humble and very obedient Servant,
ANQUETIL DE BRIANCOURT.

Sailed the Northern Convoy, & to the Southward a Grab under English colors.

Addressed the Select Committee as follows :—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Your command of the 27th ult<sup>o</sup> relative to the arrest of the persons of the French Consul, and all the other Frenchmen in this city, and securing the goods, stores &<sup>ca</sup> found in the French

Factory & Garden-house reached us the 2<sup>d</sup> instant, in consequence of which we appointed Mess<sup>rs</sup> Bouchier, Morley, and Crockatt a Committee to carry the same into execution. Copy of report of their Proceedings upon this occasion accompanies this address.

As the Committee proceeded with great dispatch and secrecy and the measure was totally unsuspected on the part of the French, we doubt not that we are in possession of every paper of any consequence.

M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetils family being very large, and the gentlemen who compose the Consulate numerous, we have thought proper to make M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil an allowance of 20 Rupees per day for the subsistence of himself, family, and those who are with him, exclusive of provender for their cattle, during their confinement at this place, and to each of the other Frenchmen who are confined in town we have allowed one Rupee per day, which, though they are dissatisfied with it, we cannot but think is a very ample provision.

Since the arrest of M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil we have received two letters from that gentleman, copies of which are enclosed. In compassion to the distresses of his family, and as your Honor &<sup>ca</sup> have not limited us with respect to the duration of his residence here after his being made prisoner, we have granted his request for his being allowed a further time to prepare for his removal than was at first given him, and have therefore deferred his departure till the 20th instant. Not being authorized to comply with his other requests, we beg leave to refer them to your Honor &<sup>ca</sup>.

As there is no reason for granting the same indulgence to the other prisoners, we shall take the opportunity of the "Betsey" to send the greatest part of them to your Honor, &<sup>ca</sup>. List of the names of those who will proceed upon that vessel is enclosed.

The Chief has received a letter from Father Gilbert, the French missionary, setting forth his surprise at being made a prisoner of war, as it is contrary to the manner in which the French Priests were treated in America last war, and requesting that he may either be allowed to perform his functions here in the same manner as the French missionaries are at Madras, or that he may be granted his liberty on his Parole of Honor under the security of the Portuguese Resident; but if neither of these requests can be complied with, he desires that a Portuguese Padree by name Antonio, who has frequently officiated in that capacity, may be permitted to perform Divine Service in the French chapel in his stead. The Chief not judging it proper to grant either of the two former requests, has only complied with the latter, and he is therefore to be sent down by the "Betsey."

Enclosed is a General Return of the Troops in this Garrison; likewise a list of the French prisoners at this place.

Surat, 7th Nov<sup>r</sup>. 1778.

We are, &<sup>ca</sup>.

P. S.—The Inventories being very long, cannot possibly be got ready to send by this opportunity.

Wednesday, 11th.—Received the following letter from M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil:—

M<sup>r</sup>. Boddam, Chief, and his Council at Surat.

Gentlemen,

After the favour you have done me in allowing me to remain at the French Garden until the 20th, the day fixed for my departure, give me leave to ask one more, which is that M<sup>r</sup>. Le Roy may not be separated from me. He is an old man who has kept me company these 5 years past, and whom we love and esteem much. The deferring his departure must be a matter of indifference to you, and if you have not the kindness to consent to it, he will lament it greatly, & it will be with the greatest concern that I shall see him go away tomorrow with the other Frenchmen. It is lamentable enough at his age, after having suffered all sorts of misfortunes, to be moreover reduced to live in misery, far off from his wife and children. Will you refuse him, and me who requests it for him, the only consideration which he requires at present? If you have the smallest distrust of him, gentlemen, I hesitate not to be surety for his person; my wife joins her entreaties to mine.

I have the honor to be, with great respect,

Gentlemen,

Your most humble & obd<sup>t</sup>. Serv<sup>t</sup>.,

ANQUETIL.

Thursday, 12th.—Returned the Northern convoy.

Surat, Friday, 13th November 1778.

At a Consultation, Present:

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esq<sup>r</sup>., Chief.

Charles Bouchier.

James Morley.

Daniel Crokatt.

Daniel Seton.

Samuel Gambier.

M<sup>r</sup>. Day absent with leave.

Read & approved our last Consultation of the 6th instant.

Read two letters from M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil, dated the 7th and 11th instant, copies of which are to be forwarded to the Select Committee. With respect to his request to have M<sup>r</sup>. Le Roy continue with him, the Board cannot by any means comply therewith, as it is notorious that M<sup>r</sup>. Le Roy is here in the capacity of a Spy, who M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil sends to different parts of the country, to Poonah, Demaun, & even Pondicherry, and further (as the Chief acquaints the Board) that from M<sup>r</sup>. Charlevals papers it appears that he had been very lately dispatched to Choul with a packet to the Count D'Estaing or Commander-in-Chief of the French Squadron in case of its coming to that Port, as also with one to the Chevalier de S<sup>t</sup>. Lubin.

The Chief lays before the Board a letter he has received from M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil, copy of which is ordered to be sent to the Select Committee. The Board observe that M<sup>r</sup>. Le Roy, who in M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetils list is ranked as a Captain, has only been employed in that capacity by M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil himself in a small vessel out of this Port, & that the last voyage he made as a seaman in 1774, he was Mate of a small vessel belonging to Dunjeeshaw, commanded by M<sup>r</sup>. Guillant, on a voyage from this port to the Gulph of Mocha.

As to M<sup>r</sup>. Charleval, so far from his being a gentleman travelling solely for his own amusement & improvement, it appears from his papers that he is an Engineer, and that M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil has taken advantage of his professional knowledge to employ him as a spy, as amongst his papers was found a sketch of a plan of Surat Castle. The Board therefore think it proper that he should, as well as M<sup>r</sup>. Le Roy, be immediately sent to Bombay, and they are accordingly with Father Gilbert, M<sup>r</sup>. Smith, & M<sup>r</sup>. Quibbit to be sent on board the "Betsey" tomorrow, in order for their proceeding to the Presidency.

Surat, 12th November 1778.

We are with respect, &c<sup>as</sup>.,

JAS<sup>s</sup> MORLEY, Storekeeper.

ROBT<sup>t</sup> JACKSON, Cap<sup>t</sup>. Comm<sup>t</sup>..

JOHN HOLBROOK, Cap<sup>t</sup>. Ar<sup>s</sup> T.

Saturday, 14th.—Addressed the Select Committee as follows:—

Hon<sup>ble</sup> Sir & Sirs,

Since our last address of the 7th instant we have received two more letters from M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil, copies of which are enclosed.

The indulgence we have been induced to shew him on account of his representation of the distress of his family has only served to incite him to make further requests which reason cannot warrant.

With respect to that, to have M<sup>r</sup>. Le Roy remain with him until his departure, we cou'd not on any account comply with it, as it is notorious that M<sup>r</sup>. Le Roy is here as a Spy, whom M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil sends to different parts of the country, to Demaun, Poonah, and even Pondicherry when occasion requires it, and further as it appears from M<sup>r</sup>. Charlevals papers that he, M<sup>r</sup>. Le Roy, has been very lately dispatched to Choul with a packet to the Count D'Estaing or Commander-in-Chief of any French Squadron which should come to that place, as also with one to the Chevalier de S<sup>t</sup>. Lubin.

As to M<sup>r</sup>. Charleval, so far from his being a gentleman unengaged in the French affairs and travelling for the sole purpose of his improvement & amusement, it appears from his papers that he is really an Engineer, and that M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil has taken advantage of his knowledge in that art to employ him as a Spy, as among his papers has been found the sketch of a plan of Surat Castle. We therefore think it necessary that he as well as M<sup>r</sup>. Le Roy should be sent to the Presidency immediately, and they accordingly now both proceed upon the "Betsey," as likewise as M<sup>r</sup>. Quibbit, M<sup>r</sup>. Smith, & Father Gilbert.

With respect to M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetils request for the allowances to the two widows, we do not think ourselves authorized to comply with it.

Surat, 14th. November 1778.

We are &c.<sup>a</sup>

Transmitting you a copy of it, and must observe with respect to the rank of Captain which in his list he has given M<sup>r</sup>. Le Roy, that that gentleman has only been employed in that capacity by M<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil himself in a small vessel out of this port, & that in 1774 the last voyage he made as a seaman he was Mate in a small vessel out of this Port, belonging to Dunjeeshaw, commanded by M<sup>r</sup>. Guillant, on a voyage to Mocha.

Surat, 14th. November 1778.

We are, &c.<sup>a</sup>

Surat, Thursday, 4th. February 1779.

At a Consultation, Present:

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esq<sup>r</sup>., Chief.

Thomas Day.	Charles Bouchier.
James Morley.	Daniel Crockatt
Daniel Seton.	Samuel Gambier.

Read & approved our last Consultation of the 2<sup>d</sup> instant.

Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil & his family being now embarked on board the "Betsey," the Board think it necessary to dispatch that vessel immediately with a letter to the Select Committee, setting forth our reasons for having sent them to the Presidency, which are to follow, and which were not minuted last Council, as the necessity of putting the Resolution of the Board into immediate execution did not afford us time to enter them.

Tho' the Board cannot at present pretend to judge of the truth of the information, yet from the possibility and practicability of effecting such a scheme, in case any of the Nabobs officers in command of any of the gates should prove traitors, we thought it absolutely necessary for the general safety & security of the city, that Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil and his family should be immediately removed and sent to Bombay. Tho' Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil has not been allowed to carry on any correspondence in writing since his confinement, yet there is but too much reason to believe that by means of his wife & servants he has carried on a verbal correspondence with the Dutch, and many of the country people, as she has been continually with the Dutch, and frequently visiting some of the principal Mogul women, on which account the Board intended, previous to our receiving this information, to desire permission to send Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil to the Presidency, as we thought it very improper that he should be allowed to remain in a city like this, where he had so many opportunities of corresponding with the Country Powers by means of his wife, who is perfectly acquainted with the country language & customs, and has always appeared to be very zealous in carrying on her husbands intrigues, and serving him as his interpreter upon all occasions. Tho' no direct evidence has yet been given us in support of the information of Pere Gilbert & Mons<sup>r</sup>. Charleval & <sup>c</sup>, we cannot believe that so cruel & inhuman a plot could be conceived in its whole extent by any European, yet it is impossible for us to suppose that the information given to the Hon. the President can be entirely without foundation, and we think it not improbable that Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil & Mons<sup>r</sup>. De S<sup>t</sup>. Lubin may have had some idea of plundering the City and surprising the Castle.

R. H. BODDAM.

Tuesday, 9th.—Arrived the Northern Convoy. A Deputation waited on the Dutch Directors with the following letter:—

Gentlemen,

On account of the friendly intercourse which has so long subsisted between our two Factories, we think it proper, in an affair where your safety and the interest of the Noble Netherland East India Company are so deeply concerned, to communicate to you the information we have lately received of a horrid conspiracy entered into between Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil, late French Consul at this place, the Chevalier De S<sup>t</sup>. Lubin, late French Resident at Poonah, now at Damaun, some of the Maratta Generals, and several of the Nabobs Jemidars, the latter of whom not yet discovered, for introducing at night by treachery a large body of Maratta troops into this city, to set fire to various parts of it, to murder the English, some of you, Gentlemen, and the Nabob, to make a general massacre of the natives, and afterwards plunder the city, as well as, if possible, surprise the Castle.

Altho' we cannot believe that so cruel & inhuman a plot could be conceived in his whole extent by any European, yet it is impossible for us, for several reasons, to suppose that the information we have received can be entirely without foundation. Being extremely desirous of getting at the truth of the affair, we request that you, Gentlemen, will be pleased to communicate to us every information regarding this plot, which you may be able to procure.

We are, &<sup>ca</sup>.

Surat, 9th February 1779.

Surat, 11th February 1779.

At a Consultation, Present:

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esq<sup>r</sup>., Chief.

Thomas Day.

Charles Bouchier.

James Morley.

Daniel Crockatt.

Daniel Sexton.

Samuel Gambier.

Read and approved our last Consultation of the 8th instant.

The Committee appointed last Council to communicate to the Nabob the intelligence we received of the conspiracy, now report to the Board that having complied with their directions on that head, the Nabob desired the deputation to make his acknowledgement for the same, which he considered as a very obliging instance of their attention to his welfare, and acquaint them that he should use every endeavour to discover the persons concerned therein, with every other material circumstance regarding it, and advise the Chief how far his enquiries may be successful or otherwise.

R. H. BODDAM.

Surat, 27th February 1779.

Extract of a letter from Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil de Briancourt, French Consul at Surat, to Mons<sup>r</sup>. de Sartine, French Secretary of State for the Naval Department at Paris, dated Surat, 12th April 1777—Translation :

I entreat you, my Lord, to engage Mr. Moncrif, who went from hence on the "Duras" in December last, to return to Surat with his quality of Chancellor, and in case of his refusal he will tell you the person who is suitable for this station. Every one is not proper for the Consulate of Surat, which demands a showy appearance in order to support the glory of the Nation, much firmness & insinuation to improve the privileges, and great political abilities in order to live with the foreigners, and especially to discover secretly the intrigues & negotiations of the English. Although these three objects regard solely the Consul, a good Chancellor will assist him greatly in this thorny business.

Extract of a sketch concerning the city of Surat, written by Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil de Briancourt, late French Consul, and found among his papers in his own hand writing—Translation :

This Consulate may become as useful to our nation in time of war, as lucrative to it in time of peace, when the Consul is intelligent & politician enough to take every advantage which the neutrality of the place procures him, and the Ministry of France may draw great benefit therefrom. The representative of the nation can from hence examine every thing that passes at Bombay, which is the only port the English have in India. He is in a situation of being informed, with the utmost precision, of the armaments which they make there, and of the military expeditions which they prepare. In short, he may be acquainted, at the time, with all the manœuvres of the English. His letters sent opportunely by land to the Government of Pondicherry can then be of the greatest consequence. The situation of the city of Surat is happy for every sort of correspondence. The continual concourse of foreigners who come here forms a centre of reunion, where every one finds his particular security. One learns here what passes in almost all the countries of Asia & Africa by means of the ships & foreigners which come here from every part. One likewise receives here the freshest news from Europe, by Bussorah, and especially . . . . . whither the English make voyages since 4 or 5 years.

Surat, 28th February 1779.

Wrote the Dutch as follows:—

Gentlemen,

We have been honoured with your letter of the 22<sup>d</sup> instant, and are sorry to find you have so much mistaken the meaning of ours dated the 12th instant. If you will please to refer to that letter, you will observe that we expressly requested we might see your original Phirmaunds and take copies of them ourselves, which you would afterwards be pleased to attest. But instead of complying with our request, you have only sent us attested copies.

As the privileges you lay claim to are of a very extensive nature, and we cannot possibly form a judgment of your Phirmaund privileges without seeing all your Phirmaunds, we again desire that you will be pleased to produce the originals in order for us to take copies of them.

We shall take into our consideration your request for repairing the pile work at your Bunder, and shall do ourselves the honour to acquaint you with the result as soon as possible.

We are extremely sorry to be under the necessity of refusing our consent to a request you made to our Committee in regard to your substituting partition walls of brick & chunam and a terrace roof to the inner room of your Magazine, in lieu of the bamboos & cow dung of which they are at present composed.

We very readily consent to your repairing your Powder Magazine with the same materials of which it is at present constructed, and to your putting it in the same situation it was in before. The work & the tanks and the repairs to the other parts of your Bunder, which our Committee consented should be executed, will be superintended by our Engineer.

With respect to your request for erecting a new flag-staff, we most cheerfully comply with it.

We are, &c<sup>ca</sup>.

Surat, 28th February 1779.

---

Surat, 10th March 1779.

Extract of a letter from Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil de Briancourt, late French Consul at Surat, to Mons<sup>r</sup>. de Montigny, found amongst Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetils papers in his own handwriting, without date, but acknowledging the receipt of a letter from Mons<sup>r</sup>. de Montigny, dated Agra, 13th August 1778 :—

The fear of a war, of which you know the hostilities commenced at Chandernagore and at Pondicherry, has made me bury all your papers and mine.

I have taken out in the presence of Mons<sup>r</sup>. Le Roy & Mons<sup>r</sup>. Trublet your portfolio & other papers from your chest and have put them in security with mine.

Extract of a note from Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil de Briancourt, late French Consul at Surat, to Mons<sup>r</sup>. le Chevalier de S. Lubin, late French Resident at Poonah, dated Surat, 3th Sept<sup>r</sup>. 1778, and found among Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetils papers in his own handwriting :—

Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil presents his compliments to Mons<sup>r</sup>. le Chevalier de S. Lubin, and begs he will give from him the following information to Nana Furnese & Succaram Bapoo. The intention of the English is to fall upon Bassein if the French Squadron does not appear in a month or two &c<sup>ca</sup>. To prevent this stroke it is necessary that Nana Furnese and Succaram Bapoo throw more forces into that place, the attack of which is resolved on at Bombay, and which the English will certainly take, if the Ministry of Poonah does not make use of the present information.

Extract of a letter from Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetil de Briancourt, late French Consul of Surat, to Mons<sup>r</sup>. le Chevalier de St<sup>t</sup>. Lubin, late French Resident at Poonah, dated Surat, 20th October 1778, and found among Mons<sup>r</sup>. Anquetils papers in his own handwriting :—

Could not you likewise treat with Nana Furnese, the Ministry at Poonah, to whom this sum of ten or twelve thousand Rupees would be a trifle. If you undertake this negotiation you cannot but succeed. Perhaps the Marattas will be charmed to have the opportunity of obliging the French nation, and especially a person always ready to operate here against the English for their interests. This sole motive, of which they will feel all the consequences, may determine them to make me this advance.

---

Surat, 8th April 1779.

Observations on N<sup>o</sup>. 1.

There were two prepared when the English came to make me prisoner. Charleval had only time to burn his. As for mine, tho' it is not in good order, I fortunately preserved it, by pulling it in pieces & hiding it in my long drawers, for I was in Robe de Chamber when the English came to make the conquest of the French Garden at Surat. I am much pleased at having saved this N<sup>o</sup>. 1 and with having negotiated with the English, so as to prevent my being sent to Bombay, otherwise I should not have been able to send it you. It is true that I cannot go out and that they have made my house a perfect dungeon, but no matter, since I am in a condition to give the English this blow, which may be extremely fatal to them. In sending you this N<sup>o</sup>. 1, is it not a great consolation to me to be still able to serve my nation, tho' shut up as I am, by the means & through the aid of so good a friend & so zealous a Patriot as Mons<sup>r</sup>. le Chevalier de St<sup>t</sup>. Lubin. Endeavour to make an advantage of this N<sup>o</sup>. 1. It is very exact and it is a little mutilated, as well as I remember it is only in a part of no consequence, of which the English Engineer has not even made any detail, on the inside the essential part is perfectly finished, excepting the references, which however you will find done on small papers, and written in English. This work has cost me much money & great anxiety, nor shall I be easy in mind until I know it is in your hands, who are the only person that I know in India who is able to take advantage of it for the nation, so, my dear Sir, do not mention the receiving of it to my wife.

---

Letter from M. Anquetil to M. de St. Lubin relative to a plan of the City and Castle of Surat :—

This plan of the city of Surat is very exact, as well as the part of the fortress, since it is made from that of the English. The part of the city concerning the suburbs is not filled up, the original plan is the same, and the work was not necessary, since the operations should only be carried on towards the river & the adjacent streets. This work is very exact. The precipitation with which it was taken has prevented the joining to it the table of references. The figures only are marked on it and the explanation of the figures is upon small loose papers separate, & written in English. Neither is the scale upon the plan. Inadvertance, or want of time, is the cause of it. But you will find it herewith, as it was saved from the English search by the greatest chance in the world, and not without great risque, the day, the 3<sup>d</sup>. November 1778, that the English made the French prisoners in the French Garden. It is for that reason this plan is rumpled, but that is no matter to a connoisseur who will be able to put the pieces in order.

---

Jumabundy of Chickley Purgunnah for the year 1778-79 :—

Names of the Villages.

Gunduvah	...	...	...	...	1377	2	0
Thallah	...	...	...	...	369	0	0
Wand	...	...	...	...	1441	0	0
Wandanah	...	...	...	...	2918	3	0
Jogwand	...	...	...	...	697	2	0
Chettaby	..	...	...	...	597	2	0
Mutwand	...	...	...	...	925	0	0
Randurg Cullan	...	...	...	...	842	0	0
Mulwadah	...	...	..	...	75	0	0
Doldurah	...	...	...	...	75	0	0
Gundeivah	..	...	...	...	689	0	0
Thallah	...	...	...	...	184	2	0
Sarnuvan	...	...	...	...	601	0	0
Gage	...	...	...	...	1501	0	0

Furlovi	...	...	...	...	497	0	0
Cangway	...	...	...	...	1270	1	0
Mulwads	...	...	...	...	37	2	0
Doldurrah	...	...	...	...	36	2	0
Gunduvah	...	...	...	...	689	0	0
Thallah	...	...	...	...	184	2	0
Sadurwan	...	...	...	...	775	0	0
Gase	...	...	...	...	1501	0	0
Tuslove	...	...	...	...	497	0	0
Badshung	...	...	...	...	1155	0	0
Mulwad	...	...	...	...	37	2	0
Doldurrah	...	...	...	...	36	2	0
Andul	...	...	...	...	1106	0	0
Mase Gaun	...	...	...	...	662	2	0
Bhoondwan	...	...	...	...	651	0	0
Secqadah	...	...	...	...	476	0	0
Danjee	...	...	...	...	1446	0	0
Phallya	...	...	...	...	528	0	0
Nagdurah	...	...	...	...	1225	0	0
Plonuj	...	...	...	...	125	0	0
Soontwand	...	...	...	...	202	2	0
Andor	...	...	...	...	2725	0	0
Soldms	...	...	...	...	1575	0	0
Ruswads	...	...	...	...	276	0	0
Eran Gaun	...	...	...	...	1575	0	0
Culwari	...	...	...	...	1825	0	0
Putah	...	...	...	...	1512	2	0
Sureah	...	...	...	...	298	2	0
Wandy	...	...	...	...	212	2	0
Bhoonwaddy	...	...	...	...	51	0	0
Saduckpoon	...	...	...	...	2751	0	0
Wahwa	...	...	...	...	401	0	0
Charry	...	...	...	...	801	0	0
Cookrey	...	...	...	...	2109	0	0
Soorkay	...	...	...	...	1275	0	0
Sariah	...	...	...	...	173	1	0
Pandy	...	...	...	...	195	0	0
Caparia	...	...	...	...	551	0	0
Pempuldurrah	...	...	...	...	1256	0	0
Tankal	...	...	...	...	1885	0	0
Muleadrah	...	...	...	...	791	0	0
Cunbhoy	...	...	...	...	854	2	0
Oudwill	...	...	...	...	325	1	0
Mulwadah	...	...	...	...	152	2	0
Doldurah	...	...	...	...	51	0	0
Nagaun	...	...	...	...	2255	0	0
Vagisand	...	...	...	...	117	2	0
Bamonwand	...	...	...	...	535	0	0
Cambadah	...	...	...	...	551	0	0
Agasey	...	...	...	...	421	0	0
Barback	...	...	...	...	275	0	0
Soontaiwand	...	...	...	...	151	2	0
Masigaum	...	...	...	...	668	2	0
Ruwanrycurd...	...	...	...	...	1295	0	0

Mincutah	...	...	...	...	...	425	0	0
Suriah	...	...	...	...	...	651	0	0
Boond	...	...	...	...	...	851	2	0
Carrially	...	...	...	...	...	875	0	0
Ranensa	...	...	...	...	...	1196	0	0
Mahoody	...	...	...	...	...	399	0	0
Mulvada	...	...	...	...	...	79	0	0
Doldurrah	...	...	...	...	...	128	0	0
Thugame	...	...	...	...	...	1697	2	0
Camadah	...	...	...	...	...	383	2	0
Sumrolly	...	...	...	...	...	1099	0	0
Mulvado	...	...	...	...	...	44	1	0
Doldurrah	...	...	...	...	...	128	1	0
Edul	...	...	...	...	...	831	0	0
Culvadah	...	...	...	...	...	1565	0	0
Bamonvar	...	...	...	...	...	1692	2	0
Pardy	...	...	...	...	...	125	0	0
Soontwand	...	...	...	...	...	327	2	0
Amdurrah	...	...	...	...	...	1777	2	0
Curolly	...	...	...	...	...	861	0	0
Rintvamia	...	...	...	...	...	475	0	0
Mulvads	...	...	...	...	...	34	2	0
Talloochora	...	...	...	...	...	2151	0	0
Succall	...	...	...	...	...	935	0	0
Gagty	...	...	...	...	...	451	0	0
Digame	...	...	...	...	...	3161	0	0
Allypon	...	...	...	...	...	2176	0	0
Pepildumaau	...	...	...	...	...	1351	0	0
Manockpon	...	...	...	...	...	451	0	0
Cusbah	...	...	...	...	...	432	0	0

Rupees ...82001 0 0

Account Salary due to the Honourable Companys Covenant Servants from the 2<sup>d</sup> January to the 1st July 1779 :—

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esq <sup>r</sup> ,	Chief, 6 months on £ 100	per annum is £ 50 or...	400	0	0
M <sup>r</sup> . Thomas Day,	Merchant 6 d <sup>o</sup> on £ 40	d <sup>o</sup> 20 or...	160	0	0
„ Charles Bouchier	d <sup>o</sup> 6 d <sup>o</sup> ...	...	160	0	0
„ James Morley	d <sup>o</sup> 6 d <sup>o</sup> ...	...	160	0	0
„ Daniell Crockatt	d <sup>o</sup> 6 d <sup>o</sup> ...	...	160	0	0
„ Daniel Seton	d <sup>o</sup> 6 d <sup>o</sup> ...	...	160	0	0
„ Samuel Gambier, Junior	d <sup>o</sup> 6 d <sup>o</sup> on £ 30	d <sup>o</sup> is £ 15 or...	120	0	0
„ D <sup>o</sup> Reader of divine service	6 d <sup>o</sup> on £ 50	d <sup>o</sup> is £ 25 or...	200	0	0
„ John Blakeman, Surgeon	6 d <sup>o</sup> on £ 54	d <sup>o</sup> is £ 27 or...	216	0	0

Rupees... 1736 0 0

Abstract of the Military Paymasters disbursements for April 1779 :—

Garrison Charges	...	...	...	9747	3	28
Charges Extraordinary	...	...	...	127	1	51
Account Current, Broach...	...	...	...	1350	8	84
Account Current, Bombay	...	...	...	728	1	25
Hospital Charges	...	...	...	1169	2	37

Rupees... 13124 0 25

The Land Paymasters prices of the following articles for the year 1780, with the advance.

Prime Cost of 25 per cent.

Bamboos...	...	...	3	2	0	4	1	50	Per hundred.
Baskets ...	...	...	2	0	0	2	2	0	Do
Bees Wax ..	...	...	22	0	0	27	2	0	Surat Ma
Black Dammer	...	...	2	2	0	3	50	0	Do
Black Pepper	...	...	20	0	0	25	0	0	Do
Brass ...	...	...	20	0	0	25	0	0	Do
Brass Trumpet	...	...	16	0	0	20	0	0	Each.
Bricks, large	...	...	4	1	0	5	1	25	Per Mill.
Bricks, small	...	...	2	50	0	2	262	0	Do
Broad Dungaree	...	...	60	0	0	75	0	0	Per Corge.
Buffalo Hides	...	...	60	0	0	75	0	0	Do
Buffalo Puckauls	...	...	7	2	0	9	1	50	Each.
Buffalo Hides	...	...	9	0	0	11	1	0	Do
Bunting, Blue, Broad	...	...	35	0	0	43	3	0	Per Corge.
Bunting, Blue, Narrow	...	...	25	0	0	31	1	0	Do
Bunting, Red, Broad	...	...	42	0	0	52	2	0	Do
Bunting, White, Broad	...	...	30	0	0	37	2	0	Do
Bunting, White, Narrow	...	...	22	2	0	28	50	0	Do
Chalk ...	...	...	5	0	0	6	1	0	Per S. Ma
Charcoal...	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	Per Co
Chunam, Coarse	...	...	1	2	0	1	3	50	Per Morah.
Chunam, Fine	...	...	1	1	0	1	2	25	Per S. Ma
Coconut Shells	...	...	0	2	0	0	2	50	Do
Coir, loose, first sort	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	Do
Coir, loose, second sort	...	...	4	1	0	5	1	25	Do
Coir Rope, Laccadiva, first sort	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	Do
Coir Rope, second sort	...	...	5	0	0	6	1	0	Do
Copra Oil	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	Do
Cotton Lace, White	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	Do
Cotton Line, Blue	...	...	19	0	0	23	3	0	Do
Cotton Rope, White	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	Do
Country Lime	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	Do
Country Tar	...	...	4	0	0	5	0	0	Do
Country Twine	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	Do
Cow Hides	...	...	43	0	0	53	3	0	Per Corge.
Emery, Fine	...	...	9	2	0	11	3	50	Per S. Ma
Europe Canvas	...	...	32	0	0	40	0	0	Per Bolt.
Europe Junk	...	...	3	0	0	3	3	3	Per S. Ma
Europe Rope	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	Do
Europe Tar	...	...	5	0	0	6	1	0	Do
Ghee ...	...	...	9	0	0	11	1	0	Do
Glue ...	...	...	40	0	0	50	0	0	Do
Goat Skins	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	Per Corge.
Gogul ...	...	...	2	2	0	3	0	0	Per S. Ma
Gum ...	...	...	4	0	0	5	0	0	Do
Gunny pants Varyara, 1 st sort	...	...	15	0	0	18	3	0	Per Corge.
Gunny pants do. 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup>	...	...	10	0	0	12	2	0	Do
Harty, fine	...	...	14	0	0	17	2	0	Per S. Ma
Hartal, 2 <sup>d</sup> sort	...	...	9	0	0	11	1	0	Do
Hemp Rope	...	...	2	1	0	2	3	25	Do
Jagree ...	...	...	3	1	0	4	0	25	Do
Jenjily Oil	...	...	4	2	0	5	2	50	Do
Indigo ...	...	...	35	0	0	43	3	0	Do
Iron Work of sorts	...	...	8	0	0	10	0	0	Do
Lamp Oil	...	...	4	1	0	5	1	25	Do
Large Mats	...	...	3	2	0	4	1	50	Do
Linseed Oil, Country	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	Do
Linseed Oil, Europe	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	Do
Log Line, Europe	...	...	1	0	0	1	1	0	Per Skin.
Oyster Shells	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	Per Mill.

Patingas, 1 st sort	...	...	22	2	0	28	0	50	Per Corge.
Patingas, 2 <sup>d</sup> do.	...	...	16	0	0	20	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Patingas, 3 <sup>d</sup> do.	...	...	10	0	0	12	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Pamp Leather	...	...	4	0	0	5	0	0	Per Piece.
Rafters, Baria, 1 st sort	...	...	15	0	0	18	3	0	Per Corge.
Rafters, Baria, 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	8	0	0	10	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rafters, Baria, 3 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	5	0	0	6	1	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rafters, Daska	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rafters, Comodia	...	...	2	0	0	2	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rafters, Solia, 1 st sort	...	...	40	0	0	50	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rafters, Solia, 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	30	0	0	37	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Raw Dammer	...	...	3	2	0	4	1	50	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Red Byram	...	...	50	0	0	62	2	0	Per Corge.
Red Earth	...	...	0	3	0	0	3	75	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Red Lead	...	...	10	0	0	12	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rogan, fine	...	...	20	0	0	25	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rogan, second sort	...	...	04	0	0	17	0	2	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rogan, third sort	...	...	10	0	0	12	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rose Water	...	...	2	0	0	2	2	0	Per Flask.
Sale Dungaree	...	...	42	0	0	52	2	0	Per Corge.
Sewing Thread, 1 st sort	...	...	1	0	0	1	1	0	Per Seer.
Sewing Thread, 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	0	2	50	0	3	12	D <sup>o</sup> .
Small Mats	...	...	2	0	0	2	2	0	Per 100 Covits
Sulpher...	...	...	2	0	0	2	2	0	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Tiles, large	...	...	1	0	0	1	1	0	Per 100.
Tiles, small	...	...	0	3	0	2	0	75	Per 1000.
Verdigrease	...	...	42	0	0	52	0	0	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Vermilion	...	...	60	0	0	75	0	0	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Wax Cloth	...	...	6	1	50	8	0	0	Per Piece.
White Lead	...	...	9	0	0	11	1	0	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Wood Oil	...	...	13	0	0	11	1	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Water Mussack	...	...	1	2	0	1	3	50	Each.
Yellow Oaker	...	...	1	1	0	1	2	50	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Fire Wood	...	...	3	2	0	.....	.....	.....	Per S <sup>t</sup> . Candy
Sotta Timber	...	...	12	2	0	.....	.....	.....	Per Gun.
Timber...	...	as per Contract ...	7	3	50	.....	.....	.....	D <sup>o</sup> .
Timber for Piles	...	...	12	0	0	.....	.....	.....	D <sup>o</sup> .

The Military Pay Masters prices of the following articles for the year 1780, with the adv<sup>ce</sup>.:— Prime Cost of 25 per cent.

Beef	...	...	3	0	0	3	3	0	Per S <sup>t</sup> . M <sup>d</sup> .
Bread	...	...	2	2	0	3	0	50	D <sup>o</sup> .
Coconut Oil	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Dungaree	...	...	60	0	0	75	0	0	Per Corge.
Gheo	...	...	9	0	0	11	1	0	Per S <sup>t</sup> . M <sup>d</sup> .
Jinjely Oil	...	...	4	2	0	5	2	50	D <sup>o</sup> .
Lamp Oil	...	...	4	1	0	5	1	25	D <sup>o</sup> .
Sail Dungaree	...	...	42	0	0	52	2	0	Per Corge.

The Marine Paymasters prices of the following articles for the year 1780, with the adv<sup>ce</sup>.:— Prime Cost of 25 per cent.

Anchors	...	...	8	0	0	10	0	0	Per S <sup>t</sup> . M <sup>d</sup> .
Axle Trees and Trucks	...	...	28	0	0	35	0	0	Per Corge.
Bamboos	...	...	3	2	0	4	1	50	Per 100.
Beef	...	...	3	0	0	3	3	0	Per M <sup>d</sup> .
Blocks, Europe	...	...	0	0	80	0	1	0	Per Inch.
Bunting, Red, Country	...	...	42	0	0	52	2	0	Per Corge.
Bunting, Blue do.	...	...	25	0	0	31	1	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Bunting, White do.	...	...	22	2	0	28	0	50	D <sup>o</sup> .
Bread	...	...	2	2	0	3	0	50	D <sup>o</sup> .
Cables, Europe	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	Per M <sup>d</sup> .
Cables, Coir, Laccadiva	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	D <sup>o</sup> .

Cables, Coir, second sort	...	...	5	0	0	6	1	0	Per M <sup>d</sup>
Cotton Match	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Canvas	...	...	32	0	0	40	0	0	Per Bolt.
Chunam	...	...	1	1	0	1	2	25	Per M <sup>d</sup>
Coir, loose, 1 st sort	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Coir, loose, 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup>	...	...	4	1	0	5	1	25	D <sup>o</sup>
Compasses, Brass Box	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	Each.
Compass, Wooden Box	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Coconut Oil	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	Per M <sup>d</sup>
Dammer, Raw	...	...	3	2	0	4	1	50	D <sup>o</sup>
Dammer, Black	...	...	2	2	0	3	0	50	D <sup>o</sup>
Dungaree, broad	...	...	60	0	0	75	0	0	Per Corge.
Dungaree, narrow	...	...	42	0	0	52	2	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Ghee	...	...	9	0	0	11	1	0	Per M <sup>d</sup>
Grapnails	...	...	9	0	0	11	1	0	Per M <sup>d</sup>
Hartal, fine	...	...	14	0	0	17	2	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Hartal, coarse	...	...	9	0	0	11	1	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Hides, tanned	...	...	43	0	0	53	3	0	Per Corge.
Junk Coir	...	...	2	2	0	3	0	50	Per M <sup>d</sup>
Junk, Europe	...	...	3	3	0	3	3	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Indigo	...	...	35	0	0	43	3	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Iron Work of sorts	...	...	8	0	0	10	0	0	D <sup>o</sup>
...	...	...	90	0	0	112	2	0	Per Corge.
Lanthorns, Horn	...	...	2	2	0	3	0	50	Each.
Other Pump, Country	...	...	4	0	0	5	0	0	Per Hide.
Lead, White	...	...	9	0	0	11	1	0	Per M <sup>d</sup>
Lead Red	...	...	10	0	0	12	2	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Linseed Oil, Europe	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Linseed Oil, Country	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Lines, Country	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Lines, Deep Sea, Europe	...	...	5	2	0	6	3	50	Each.
Lines, Hand, Europe	...	...	3	0	0	3	3	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Lines, Log, Europe	...	...	1	0	0	1	1	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Lines, Seizing, Europe	...	...	1	3	0	2	0	75	D <sup>o</sup>
Nails, A sort	...	...	2	0	0	10	0	0	Per M <sup>d</sup>
Ooker, Yellow	...	...	1	1	0	1	2	25	D <sup>o</sup>
Oil, Jingly	...	...	4	2	0	5	2	50	D <sup>o</sup>
Rafters, large	...	...	15	0	0	18	3	0	Per Corge.
Rafters, small	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Rafters, Salliah	...	...	40	0	4	50	0	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Red Earth	...	...	0	3	0	0	3	50	Per M <sup>d</sup>
Rape, Europe	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Rogan, 1 st sort	...	...	20	0	0	25	0	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Rogan, 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup>	...	...	14	0	0	17	2	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Rope, Coir, 2 <sup>d</sup> sort	...	...	5	0	0	6	1	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Rope, Coir, Laccadiva	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Tar, Europe	...	...	5	0	0	6	1	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Twine, Country	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Twine, Cotton	...	...	16	0	0	20	0	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Twine, Europe	...	...	24	0	0	30	0	0	Per M <sup>d</sup>
Verdigrease	...	...	40	0	0	50	0	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Vermilion	...	...	1	2	0	1	3	50	Per Seer.

The General Storekeepers prices of the following articles for the year 1780, with the adv<sup>ce</sup> :- Prime Cost of 25 per cent.

Bamboos	...	...	3	2	0	4	1	50	Per 100.
Bayonet Scabbards	...	...	0	1	0	0	1	25	Each.
Bees Wax	...	...	22	0	0	27	2	0	Per S. M <sup>d</sup>
Bondge Barrels	...	...	2	2	0	3	0	50	Each.
Brass	...	...	20	0	0	25	0	0	Per S. M <sup>d</sup>
Brass Trumpets	...	...	16	0	0	20	0	0	Each.
Broad Dungaree	...	...	60	0	0	75	0	0	Per Corge.
Buffalo Hides	...	...	60	0	0	75	0	0	D <sup>o</sup>
Buffalo Puckauls	...	...	7	2	0	9	1	50	Each.

Bugle Horns	...	...	10	2	0	13	0	50	Each.
Buglar Hides	...	...	9	0	0	11	1	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Bunting, Blue, Broad	...	...	35	0	0	43	3	0	Per Corge.
Bunting, Red d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	42	0	0	52	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Bunting, White d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	30	0	0	37	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Bunting, Blue, Narrow	...	...	25	0	0	31	1	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Bunting, White d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	22	2	0	28	0	50	D <sup>o</sup> .
Camp Kettles and Covers	...	...	0	3	75	1	0	69	Per Seer.
Chalk	...	...	5	0	0	6	1	0	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Charcoal...	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	Per Corge.
Coir, loose, 1 st sort	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Coir loose, 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	4	1	0	5	1	25	D <sup>o</sup> .
Coir Rope, Laccadive, 1 st sort	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Coir Rope, 2 <sup>d</sup> sort	...	...	5	0	0	6	1	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Copra Oil	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Cotton Lace, Blue	...	...	19	0	0	23	3	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Cotton Lace, White	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Cotton Matih	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Cotton Rope, Blue	...	...	19	0	0	23	3	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Cotton Rope, White	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Country Line	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Country Twine	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Cow Hides	...	...	43	0	0	53	3	0	Per Corge.
Drum Carts	...	...	0	3	50	1	0	37	Each.
Drum Head	...	...	0	2	0	0	2	50	D <sup>o</sup> .
Drum Hoops	...	...	0	1	50	0	1	87	D <sup>o</sup> .
Drum Shears	...	...	0	1	50	0	1	87	Per Sett.
Emery, fine	...	...	9	2	0	11	3	50	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Europe Canvas	...	...	32	0	0	40	0	0	Per Bolt.
Europe Junk	...	...	3	0	0	3	3	0	Per S. M.
Europe Rope	...	...	7	0	0	8	3	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Europe Tar	...	...	5	0	0	6	1	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Europe Twine	...	...	24	0	0	30	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Fife	...	...	2	3	0	3	1	75	Each.
Glue	...	...	20	0	0	25	0	0	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Goat Skins	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	Per Corge.
Gunny Pants, Vanjaroo, 1 st sort...	...	...	15	0	0	18	3	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Gunny Pants, Vanjaroo, 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	10	0	0	12	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Hartal, 1 st sort	...	...	14	0	0	17	2	0	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Hartal, 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	9	0	0	11	1	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Hemp Rope	...	...	2	1	0	2	3	25	D <sup>o</sup> .
Jinjily Oil	...	...	4	2	0	5	2	50	D <sup>o</sup> .
Indigo	...	...	35	0	0	43	3	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Linseed Oil, Europe	...	...	12	0	0	15	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Linseed Oil, Country	...	...	7	0	0	3	3	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Lamp Oil	...	...	4	1	0	5	1	25	D <sup>o</sup> .
Pouches	...	...	2	0	20	2	2	25	Each.
Pump Leather	...	...	4	0	0	5	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Patingas, 1 st sort	...	...	22	2	0	28	0	50	Per Corge
Patingas, 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	16	0	0	20	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Patingas, 3 rd d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	10	0	0	12	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rafters, Baria, 1 st Sort	...	...	15	0	0	18	3	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rafters, Baria, 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	8	0	0	10	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rafters, Baria, 3 rd d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	5	0	0	6	1	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rafters, Comadia	...	...	2	0	0	2	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rafters, Daska	...	...	6	0	0	7	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Raw Dammer	...	...	3	2	0	4	1	50	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Red Byram	...	...	50	0	0	62	2	0	Per Corge.
Red Byram	...	...	0	3	0	0	3	75	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Red Lead	...	...	10	0	0	12	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rogan, 1 st sort	...	...	20	0	0	25	0	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Rogan, 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	14	0	0	17	2	0	D <sup>o</sup> .
Sail, Dungaree	...	...	42	0	0	52	2	0	Per Corge.
Sewing Thread, 1 st sort	...	...	1	0	0	1	1	0	Per Seer.
Sewing Thread, 2 <sup>d</sup> d <sup>o</sup> .	...	...	0	2	50	0	3	12	D <sup>o</sup> .

Sulpher ...	...	...	2	0	0	2	2	0	Per S. M <sup>d</sup> .
Sword Scabbards ...	...	...	0	1	60	0	2	0	Each.
White Lead ...	...	...	9	0	0	11	1	0	Per St. M <sup>d</sup> .
Water Massacks ...	...	...	1	2	0	1	3	50	Each.
Wooden Drums ...	...	...	7	0	0	0	8	3	D <sup>o</sup> .

Abstracts of the Military Paymasters Disbursements for October 1779:—

Garrison Charges	...	...	...	9213	2	39
Chickley Purgunnah	...	...	...	10	1	50
Stationery Ware	...	...	...	50	0	55
Account Current, Bombay	...	...	...	710	2	96
Hospital Charges	...	...	...	545	2	89

Rupees ... 10530 2 29

Surat, 19th May 1781.

An account of the produce, manufactures, trade and cultivation of the several purgunnahs dependent on Surat:—

ORPAD PURGUNNAH.

The produce of this purgunnah is batty, juary, wheat, badjaree, cotton, tobacco, errandy, &c. It is well cultivated, the villages are numerous and well inhabited. There are no manufactures of any kind: there is a little trade in cotton, grain, and salt. Revenue for this year R<sup>s</sup> 229,187-2-34, which is more than what the Marrattas collected for some years. Adjacent to this purgunnah is the Town of Randier under the government of the Nabob of Surat which contains many manufactures of coarse goods for the Europe and Gulph markets.

TASSARAVEE PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty and juary. It affords some wheat, tobacco, nagly, errandy, &c. Has many villages which are uncultivated and destroyed from having been for some years the seat of war. The few villages that it contains are almost deserted. There is no trade nor manufactures in this Purgunnah. The revenue of this year is R<sup>s</sup> 33,917-2-33, but it may be increased whenever peace is established in the country.

CHOWRIASSEE PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is juary, badjaree, vall, errandy, tobacco &c. It is very well cultivated. There is a great many villages, but most of the houses being destroyed by the late wars which have occasioned many of the former inhabitants to reside in Surat who cultivated this Purgunnah. The revenue for this year is R<sup>s</sup> 12,500-3-67, which is more than was usually collected by the Marrattas.

PARCHOLE PURGUNNAH.

The chief produce of this purgunnah is batty and juary; it likewise affords some errandy, vall &c. It is in general well cultivated. It has many villages and is well peopled. There is a few weavers of coarse cloth. The revenue of this purgunnah is Rupees 115500-3-67, which is as much as the Marrattas generally collected.

NOWSAREE CUSBAH.

The produce of this cusbah is batty, juary, sugarcane, plantane, mango, pineapples &c. It is well cultivated and many inhabitants in it, which are chiefly the cast of Parsees. There are manufacturers and dyers of coarse and fine cloth in this Cusbah. Some part of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys investment is made here, chiefly dooties for chintz. A considerable trade is carried on here at a Bunder in timber, grain, jagaree, cloth, fruits, &<sup>ca</sup>, but most of the principal houses being burnt in the late wars which have occasioned the inhabitants to leave this place, tho' it is still tolerably well peopled. The revenue of this Cusbah is Rupees 13200-3-66 exclusive of the Customs, which is as much as the Marrattas collected.

BOHAREE PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty; it likewise affords some juary, codra, errandy, &<sup>ca</sup>. It is well cultivated, and the few villages it contains are well peopled. There is no trade or manufactures in this purgunnah. The revenue is Rupees 5042-2-33, which is more than what the Marrattas have usually collected.

TIMBA PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty and juary; it likewise affords some tobacco, errandy, vall, nagly, &<sup>ca</sup>. Great part of it is at present uncultivated, having been for some years the seat of war. Many of the villages, which are numerous, are now destroyed and deserted. There are neither manufactures or trade in this purgunnah. The revenue for this year is Rupees 16666-2-66, but it is susceptible of great improvement when the country is quietly settled.

GULLAH PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is juary. It also affords batty, tobacco, codra, badjaree, mutt, nagly, errandy, vall, limes, yams, turmeric, ginger, sugarcane, &<sup>ca</sup>. It is but thinly inhabited in consequence of the late troubles. Many of the villages have been destroyed and deserted. There are few manufactures and dyers in this purgunnah and a little trade is carried on in cotton, cupass, & doody. The revenue for this year is Rupees 27500, which, tho' much more than collected by the Marratta Government for some years past, is not equal to what may be expected from it when the times are more favorable.

CAMLEGE PURGUNNAH.

Juary is the principal produce of this purgunnah; it likewise affords some batty, codra, nagly, errandy, vall, tobacco, badjaree, mut, toower, mug, &<sup>ca</sup>. It is chiefly uncultivated, having been for some years the seat of war. Many of the villages are destroyed and deserted, and the remainder are but thinly peopled. There are no manufactures and very little trade in this purgunnah. The revenue for this year is Rupees 37500 exclusive of Chippah Gaut, but it is capable of great improvement when peace is established, and the present collection much exceeds what the Marrattas have usually recovered for some years.

SUTTERGAM PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is juary; it likewise affords some batty, errandy, vall, tobacco, wheat, soorungey, limes, sugarcane, &<sup>ca</sup>. It is fully cultivated and well peopled. There is no trade and few manufactures in this purgunnah. The revenue for this year is Rupees 72500, which is more than the Marattas have usually collected.

MOWTAH CUSBA.

Batty and juary are the principal produce of this Cusba. It also affords some wheat, tobacco, gram, errandy, vall, codra, chulay, toover, mug, &<sup>ca</sup>. In consequence of the late troubles, it is but thinly inhabited, and of course very indifferently cultivated. There are neither manufactures or trade in this Cusba. The revenue for this year is Rupees 3057-2-0, but when we have peaceable possession of the country much more may be expected from it.

MOWAH PURGANNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty and juary; it likewise affords some tobacco, nagly, codra, errandy, vall, sugarcane, &... There are some weavers and dyers of coarse cloth in this purgunnah. A little trade is carried on in grain and suronjee. The revenue for this year is Rupees 33333-1-34. It is tolerably well peopled, and it is capable of some increase when the country is settled.

VULWADAH PURGUNNAH.

Batty is the chief produce of this purgunnah; it likewise affords some juary, nagly, codra, errandy, vall, sugarcane, tobacco, &c<sup>ca</sup>. There are neither manufactures or trade, and it is but thinly inhabited. The revenue for this year is Rupees 6334-0-66, but it is susceptible of some increase whenever peace is established.

BULLESEER PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is juary; it likewise affords some batty, nagly, codra, errandy, vall, tobacco, gram, cheebdy, &c<sup>ca</sup>. It is indifferently cultivated, and the villages tho' numerous are but thinly peopled. Most of the best houses have been destroyed in the late troubles. There are some manufactures and dyers. A little trade is carried on in gram, cotton, &c<sup>ca</sup>. The revenue for this year is Rupees 75000, which much exceeds the amount collected by the Marrattas for some time past.

BARDOLLY CUSBA.

The principal produce of this Cusba is batty and juary; it likewise affords some badjaree, tobacco, errandy, vall, codra, toover, mug, &c<sup>ca</sup>. A great part of it is uncultivated in consequence of the late troubles. Most of the best houses have been destroyed by the Marratta troops which encamped in Cusba. There are some manufactures and dyers of coarse cloth, and a little trade is carried on in cotton, cloth, grain, &c<sup>ca</sup> in this Cusba. The revenue for this year is Rupees 4250, but it is capable of very great improvement, whenever peace is established.

ANTAPORE PURGUNNAH.

The chief produce of this purgunnah is batty; it likewise affords some juary, tobacco, errandy, vall, codra, nagly, sugarcane, &c<sup>ca</sup>. It is mostly uncultivated, having been for some years the seat of war. Many of the villages, which are numerous, have been destroyed by the Bhils. There are neither manufactures or trade in this purgunnah. The revenue for this year is Rupees 14583-1-34, but much more may be expected from it when we have peaceable possession of the country.

NASSANPORE PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty; it also affords some tobacco, errandy, vall, codra, nagly, gram, &c<sup>ca</sup>. It is but thinly inhabited, and has neither manufactures or trade. The revenue for this year is Rupees 6166-2-66, but when in full cultivation a much more favourable collection may be expected.

SURBONE PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty and juary; it likewise affords some tobacco, errandy, vall, nagly, &c<sup>ca</sup>. It is in general well cultivated. The villages are numerous, but most of the best houses have been destroyed in the late wars, which have occasioned many of the former inhabitants to leave this purgunnah. However, it is still tolerably well peopled. There are but trifling manufactures and little trade in this purgunnah. The revenue of this year is Rupees 49500, which must needs exceed what has lately been collected by the Marrattas.

SOOPAH PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty and juary; it likewise affords some tobacco, sugarcane, plantane, turmeric, ginger, yams, errandy, vall, nagley, &c<sup>ca</sup>. It is indifferently cultivated and tho' the villages are numerous, they are but thinly peopled on account of the late wars. There are no manufactures and a little trade in this purgunnah. The revenue of this year is Rupees 46081. But it may be greatly increased when we have peaceable possession of the country.

VALODE PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty and juary; it likewise affords some tobacco, errandy, vall, nagly, &c. It is chiefly uncultivated, having been for some years the seat of war, so that most of the villages which formerly were very numerous are now destroyed and deserted. There are neither manufactures nor trade in this purgunnah. The revenue of this year is Rupees 88000. But it is susceptible of great increase when peace is established.

TILLADEY PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty and juary; it likewise affords some tobacco, errandy, vall, nagly, &c. It is in general well cultivated. The villages are numerous and well peopled. But many of the best houses have been destroyed in the late wars. There are some weavers and dyers of coarse cloth in this purgunnah, and little other trade. The revenue of this year is Rupees 85353-3-0, but it is capable of improvement in time of peace.

GUNDAVEY PURGUNNAH.

The produce of this purgunnah is batty, juary, sugarcane, plantane, mangoes, ananas, and other fruits, ginger, turmeric, yams, &c. It is well cultivated. The villages are numerous and well peopled. There are some weavers and dyers of coarse cloth in this purgunnah, and a pretty considerable trade is carried on at the bunder Billemorah in timber, jagree, and grain. The revenues of this year is Rupees 78325-3-50 exclusive of the customs at Billemorah, which is as much as the Marrattas have in general collected.

MAROLEY PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty and juary; it likewise affords some tobacco, errandy, vall, nagly, &c. It is in general well cultivated and the villages are numerous. But most of the best houses have been destroyed in the last wars, which have occasioned many of the former inhabitants to leave this purgunnah. However, it is still tolerably well peopled. There are a few weavers and dyers of coarse cloth, and some salt-pans in this purgunnah, and a little trade is carried on in salt and grain. The revenue of this year is Rupees 56714-1-50, which is more than has been usually collected by the Marrattas.

CURRODE PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty and juary; it likewise affords some tobacco, errandy, vall, nagly, &c. It is chiefly uncultivated, having been for some years the seat of war, so that many of the villages, which were numerous, are now destroyed and deserted. There are neither manufactures nor trade in this purgunnah. The revenue for this year is Rupees 12833-1-34, but it is susceptible of very great increase, whenever peace is established.

COSS PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty; it likewise affords some juary, codra, errandy, vall, nagly, &c. It is well cultivated, and the few villages it contains are well peopled. There is no trade nor manufactures in this purgunnah. The revenue of this year is Rupees 6968-2-0, which is more than the Marrattas have usually collected.

ANNAVUL PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty; it likewise affords some juary, codra, errandy, vall, nagly, &c. It is well cultivated, and the few villages it contains are well peopled. There is no trade nor manufacture in this purgunnah. The revenue of this year is Rupees 6231-0-2, which is more than the Marrattas usually collected.

TURKASEER PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty and juary; it likewise affords some tobacco, codra, errandy, vall, nagly, &<sup>ca</sup>. It is chiefly uncultivated, having been the seat of war for some years, so that the few villages it contains are mostly destroyed and deserted. There is no trade nor manufactures in this purgunnah. The revenue of this year is Rupees 1559-1-0, but it may be greatly increased whenever peace is established.

BULSAUR PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty, sugarcane, and date trees. It likewise affords some juary, tobacco, vall, nagley, errandy, ginger, gram, ured, &<sup>ca</sup>, and is in general well cultivated. The villages are fifty one in number and populous, as is also the town, which is large. A considerable trade here is carried on in wheat and timber, rafters and bamboos, brought from the inland parts, and the manufactures consist chiefly of coarse dutties, baftahs, and gingham. The revenue of this year is Rupees 67761-2-67, inclusive of the customs, and may be increased provided the country remains unmolested.

PARNERRA PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty; and likewise affords sugarcane, gram, tobacco, vall, errandy, nagly, ured, &<sup>ca</sup>, and is tolerably well cultivated. It contains twenty-four villages, but most of them are thinly peopled, nor are there any manufactures or trade in this purgunnah. The revenue this year is Rupees 22916-2-67, which is nearly the same as in the time of the Marrattas, but it may be increased in time of peace.

BOTESEER PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty; it also affords sugarcane, gram, vall, nagly, ured, brab trees, &<sup>ca</sup>. It is but poorly cultivated. The villages are twelve in number, but most of them are very thinly peopled, nor are there any manufactures or trade in this purgunnah. The revenue of this year is Rupees 8250, and nearly the same as in the time of the Marrattas, but it may be increased in time of peace.

NAGURHAVELY AND NEIRAH PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of these purgunnahs is batty and nagly, and they likewise afford ured, gram dall, mug, bamboos, &<sup>ca</sup>. They contain eighty villages. Most of them are deserted from the frequent descents of the Marrattas from the Ghauts. There are no manufactures or trade in these purgunnahs. The revenue of this year is Rupees 14788-2-59 including the customs, and may be increased in time of peace.

ARZEENGUR PURGUNNAH.

The principal produce of this purgunnah is batty and nagly; it likewise affords sugarcane, ured, vall, gram dall, date trees, &<sup>ca</sup>, and is well cultivated. The villages are seventy-seven in number and well peopled. The town is small and walled in but thinly peopled. Trade is here carried on in wheat, timber, rafters, and bamboos, brought from the inland parts, and the manufactures consist of coarse dutties, baftahs, &<sup>ca</sup>. The revenue this year including the customs is Rupees 56977-1-87 and nearly the same as in the time of the Marrattas, but may be considerably increased when peace is established.

---

Abstract of the Jemmabundy of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Revenues under Surat and ending April 1781.

Purgunnahs Names.	Gross Jemmabundy.	Balance left to be recovered by the Bassein Committee.	Advance for Damage.	Fund to defray the charges.	Net Revenue.
Peshwa Purgunnahs.
Soopah ... ..	46081 0 0	.....	2972 0 0	3919 0 0	39190 0 0
Valode ... ..	8800 0 0	.....	.....	800 0 0	8000 0 0
Surbon ... ..	49500 0 0	.....	.....	4500 0 0	45000 0 0
Oulpar ... ..	229167 2 34	.....	.....	20833 1 66	208334 0 68
Parchole ... ..	115500 3 67	.....	.....	10500 0 33	105000 3 34
Bohary ... ..	5042 2 33	.....	.....	458 1 67	4584 0 66
Bardolly ... ..	4675 0 0	.....	.....	425 0 0	4250 0 0
Bulsaur ... ..	73791 2 67	.....	.....	6708 1 33	67083 1 34
Parneira ... ..	22916 2 67	.....	.....	2083 1 33	20833 1 34
Bhootseer ... ..	8250 0 0	.....	.....	750 0 0	7500 0 0
Arzun Ghur ... ..	56977 1 87	.....	.....	5197 3 08	51797 2 79
Nagur Havelly ... ..	5415 3 59	.....	.....	492 1 41	4923 2 18
Neira ... ..	9372 3 0	.....	652 2 0	792 3 0	7927 2 0
Omergaun ... ..	20926 3 42	5982 0 0	2047 2 0	1173 1 58	11733 3 84
Rupees ...	*656428 2 56	5982 0 0	5672 0 0	58615 3 39	586158 2 17
Gwicawar Purgunnahs.
Gundave and Bellemorah	78325 3 50	.....	4910 2 0	6674 0 50	66741 1 0
Carode ... ..	12833 1 34	.....	.....	1166 2 67	11666 2 67
Tarkeseer ... ..	1559 1 0	.....	.....	141 3 0	1417 2 0
Anaval ... ..	6231 2 0	.....	.....	566 2 0	5665 0 0
Cass ... ..	6968 2 0	.....	.....	633 2 0	6335 0 0
Tellady ... ..	85353 3 0	.....	1245 0 0	7646 1 0	76462 2 0
Marolly ... ..	56714 1 50	.....	4072 2 0	4785 2 50	47856 1 0
Chowreasey ... ..	82500 3 67	.....	.....	7500 0 33	75000 3 34
Newsary ... ..	13450 3 67	.....	3000 0 0	950 0 33	9500 3 34
Visravey ... ..	33917 2 33	.....	.....	3083 1 67	30834 0 66
Cambrage ... ..	41250 0 0	.....	.....	3750 0 0	37500 0 0
Ditto for Chippah Ghaut ... ..	1650 0 0	.....	.....	150 0 0	1500 0 0
Balliseer ... ..	82500 0 0	.....	.....	7500 0 0	75000 0 0
Sattergam ... ..	79750 0 0	.....	.....	7250 0 0	72500 0 0
Mowah ... ..	36666 0 0	.....	.....	3333 1 33	33333 1 34
Gullov ... ..	30250 0 0	.....	.....	2750 0 0	27500 0 0
Tembah ... ..	18333 1 33	.....	.....	1666 2 67	16666 2 66
Antapore ... ..	16041 2 67	.....	.....	1458 1 33	14583 1 34
Uutwadah ... ..	6967 2 33	.....	.....	633 1 67	6334 0 66
Wassanpore ... ..	6783 1 33	.....	.....	616 2 67	6166 2 66
Moutah Cusbah ... ..	3363 1 0	.....	.....	305 3 0	3057 2 0
Rupees ...	701411 3 34	.....	13228 0 0	62562 0 67	625621 2 67
Ceeded Purgunnahs.
Chickly ... ..	96250 3 67	.....	.....	8750 0 33	87500 3 34
Bhattah Gaun ... ..	22000 3 67	.....	.....	2000 0 33	20000 3 34
Virriow Cusbah ... ..	14924 1 0	.....	.....	1356 3 0	13567 2 0
Rupees ...	1,33,176 0 34	.....	.....	12006 3 66	121069 0 68

* Some of the totals given here are incorrect. But they are given exactly as they are entered in the Diaries.

Abstract of the Jemmabundy of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys Revenues—continued.

Purgunnahs Names.	Gross Jemmabundy.	Balance left to be recovered by the Bassein Committee.	Advance for Damage.	Fund to defray the charges.	Net Revenue.
Peshwas Purgunnahs
Net Revenue... ..	.....	.....	.....	.....	586158 2 17
Guicawar d <sup>o</sup> d <sup>o</sup> ...	.....	.....	.....	.....	625621 2 67
Ceeded d <sup>o</sup> d <sup>o</sup> ...	.....	.....	.....	.....	121069 1 52
				Rupees ...	1332849 1 52
To which is to be added, Peshwas Purgunnahs their fund to defray the charges ... ..	.....	.....	.....	58615 3 39	.....
Guicawars d <sup>o</sup> d <sup>o</sup> ...	.....	.....	.....	62562 0 67	.....
Ceeded d <sup>o</sup> d <sup>o</sup> ...	.....	.....	.....	12106 3 66	.....
Amount transferred to the Bassein Committee Acc <sup>t</sup> , Omergaum ...	.....	.....	.....	5982 0 0	139266 3 72
The amount to be re- ceived by the Hon <sup>ble</sup> Company ... ..	.....	.....	.....	Rupees ..	1472116 1 24

N.B.—The allowance for damage is made on account of army's march from Surat to Bassein for the damages sustained by their different encampments, the crops being at that period on the ground and the loss unavoidable.

Surat, the 30th April 1781.

Estimate of the Persons to be employed and of the Charges probably to be incurred in the undermentioned Purgunnah for the Year 1781-82.

For the months of May, June, July, and August, viz<sup>t</sup>.

	Auhmel-dars.	Mettahs.	Jemi-dars.	Seapoys.	Trumpeters	Mushal-men.	Number of Persons.	Amount of the charges including Paper, Ink, and Lamp Oil.
Soopah ... ..	1	1	3	20	1	1	27	190 2 0
Valode ... ..	1	1	2	10	1	1	16	89 2 0
Surbon ... ..	1	1	3	20	1	1	27	188 0 0
Oulpar ... ..	1	1	6	100	1	1	110	473 0 0
Parchole ... ..	1	1	3	40	1	1	47	273 0 0
Boary ... ..	1	1	1	10	1	...	14	85 0 0
Barcholly Cusbah ... ..	1	1	1	10	1	...	14	86 2 0
Bulsaur ... ..	1	2	4	45	1	1	54	241 0 0
Parneira ... ..	1	1	2	12	1	1	18	83 0 0
Bhootseir ... ..	1	1	1	8	1	...	12	61 0 0
Arzun Ghur ... ..	1	2	4	40	1	1	49	217 0 0
Nagur, Havelley, & Neirah	1	1	1	15	1	1	20	93 2 0
Gundavie ... ..	1	2	3	30	2	1	39	266 2 0
Carode ... ..	1	1	2	15	1	1	21	112 0 0
Tarkeseer ... ..	1	1	1	4	1	...	8	55 1 0
Anaval ... ..	1	1	1	10	1	...	14	75 0 0
Coss ... ..	1	1	1	10	1	...	14	75 0 0
Tellady ... ..	1	1	2	25	1	1	31	222 2 0
Marolly ... ..	1	1	2	25	1	1	31	196 2 0
Chowrasey ... ..	1	1	3	30	1	1	37	243 0 0
Nowsary ... ..	1	1	2	10	1	1	16	98 0 0
Visravy ... ..	1	1	8	125	1	1	137	503 0 0

Estimate of the Persons to be employed &c.—continued.

	Auhmel- dars.	Mettahs.	Jemi- dars.	Sepoys.	Trumpeters	Mushal- men.	Number of Persons.	Amount of the charges including Paper, Ink, and Lamp Oil.
Cambrage & Chippah Ghaut ...	1	1	2	22	1	1	28	158 2 0
Bullester ...	1	1	5	50	1	1	59	320 2 0
Sattargaum ...	1	1	3	22	1	1	29	216 2 0
Mowah ...	1	1	2	25	1	1	31	167 2 0
Gullah ...	1	1	1	17	1	...	21	140 2 0
Timbah ...	1	1	2	27	1	1	33	149 0 0
Antapore ...	1	1	5	60	1	1	69	264 2 0
Ulwarah ...	1	1	1	7	1	...	11	72 0 0
Vassenpore ...	1	1	1	10	...	...	13	79 0 0
Monta Cusba ...	1	1	1	4	1	...	8	58 0 0
	32	35	79	858	32	22	1,058	5548 3 0

For the months of Septem<sup>r</sup>, Octob<sup>r</sup>, Nov<sup>r</sup>, Dec<sup>r</sup>, Janr<sup>y</sup>, Febr<sup>y</sup>, March & April, viz<sup>t</sup>.

Soopah ...	1	1	3	37	1	1	44	241 2 0
Valode ...	1	1	2	20	1	1	26	120 0 0
Surbon ...	1	1	3	37	1	1	44	241 2 0
Oulpar ...	1	1	8	175	1	1	187	708 0 0
Parchole ...	1	1	4	60	1	1	68	338 0 0
Boary ...	1	1	1	10	1	...	14	85 0 0
Barcholly Cusbah ...	1	1	1	10	1	...	14	86 2 0
Bulsaur ...	1	2	6	90	1	1	101	392 0 0
Parneira ...	1	1	3	20	1	1	27	115 0 0
Bhootseir ...	1	1	2	19	1	...	17	80 0 0
Arzun Ghur ...	1	2	6	65	1	1	76	307 2 0
Nagur, Havelley, & Neirah ...	1	1	2	24	1	1	30	132 0 0
Gundavie ...	1	2	3	52	2	...	61	327 2 0
Carode ...	1	1	2	25	1	1	31	142 0 0
Tarkeseer ...	1	1	1	4	1	...	8	60 0 0
Anaval ...	1	1	1	10	1	...	14	80 0 0
Coss... ...	1	1	1	10	1	...	14	80 0 0
Tellady ...	1	1	3	47	1	1	54	293 0 0
Marolly ...	1	1	3	42	1	1	49	252 2 0
Chowrasey ...	1	1	3	45	1	1	52	288 0 0
Nowgary ...	1	1	2	10	1	1	16	93 0 0
Visravy ...	1	1	8	150	1	1	162	578 0 0
Cambrage & Chippah Ghaut ...	1	1	2	30	1	1	36	182 2 0
Bullester ...	1	1	5	80	1	1	89	410 2 0
Settargaum ...	1	1	3	25	1	1	32	225 2 0
Mowah ...	1	1	3	35	1	1	42	203 2 0
Gullah ...	1	1	1	25	1	...	29	164 2 0
Timbah ...	1	1	2	35	1	1	41	173 0 0
Antapore ...	1	1	5	90	1	1	99	354 2 0
Ulwarah ...	1	1	1	7	1	...	11	72 0 0
Vassenpore...	1	1	1	10	...	...	13	79 0 0
Monta Cusba ...	1	1	1	4	1	...	8	58 0 0
	32	35	92	1296	32	22	1509	6964 0 0

Abstract of the above charges for the month of May, June,
July and August, for 4 months, at Rupees 5548-3-0 per M<sup>o</sup> are..... Rupees 22195

For the months of Sept<sup>r</sup>, Octob<sup>r</sup>, Nov<sup>r</sup>, December, January, Febr<sup>y</sup>, March & Ap<sup>r</sup>, for 8 months, at R<sup>s</sup> 6694 per M<sup>o</sup> are..... „ 55712

Total Rupees 77907 0 0

Surat, 30th April 1781.

June 1781.

Monday, 4th.—This being the anniversary of His Majestys Birthday, is celebrated in the usual manner.

Wednesday, 13th.—Received the following letter from the Select Committee:—

Gentlemen,

A war having taken place between Great Britain and Holland, and the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Company having sent out orders to their several Presidencies to act offensively against the Dutch settlements in India, we hereby direct that you forthwith take the necessary measures for dispossessing the Dutch of their Factory in the city of Surat, and that you take possession thereof for the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, making prisoners of war of all Dutch servants, Civil and Military, belonging thereto.

All property belonging to the Dutch Company must be taken possession of for the benefit of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, and must be ascertained and distinguished from private property with proper care and caution. An account thereof must be taken and transmitted to us, and also an account of the private property, the disposal of which must be reserved for our orders.

You will allow some proper place for the residence of the Dutch prisoners during the rains, with due attention to their security, and the prevention of all improper communication.

We desire you will avoid expence as much as possible in the maintenance of the Dutch prisoners, and which appears the less necessary, as we apprehend most of the Senior Servants are in good circumstances.

We are,
Your loving Friends,
WILLIAM HORNBY & Co.,
Members of the Select Committee.

P. S.—Enclosed is a packet for Broach, which must be forwarded with care.

---

Surat, Thursday, 14th June 1781.

At a Consultation, Present:

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esq <sup>r</sup> ., Chief.
Charles Bouchier.	Daniel Seton.
George Green.	Samuel Gambier.
Daniel Crockatt.

M<sup>r</sup>. James indisposed and M<sup>r</sup>. Spencer on service.

Read and approved our last Consultation of the 28th ultimo.

Read a letter from the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Select Committee, dated the 10th instant.

In consequence of the foregoing letter the Chief and Council direct the Commodant to take the necessary measures for dispossessing the Dutch of their Factory in this city for the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys use, making prisoners of war of all Dutch servants, Civil and Military, belonging thereto. He is likewise to report to the Chief when the above directions have been executed.

Mess<sup>rs</sup>. Green, Seton, and Gambier are appointed a Committee to take possession of all property belonging to the Dutch Company for the benefit of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company, which must be ascertained and distinguished from private property, with proper care and caution, and they must deliver into the Board an account thereof and also of the private property. The Committee must likewise take a written Parole from each of the Dutch gentlemen, signifying that they will not write to, or receive any letters or notes from any person whatever without immediately communicating the same to the Chief or the officer on guard at the Dutch Bunder, and that they give true and faithful inventories of their private property, the use of which they are to be allowed on condition of their promising not to dispose of any part of it without permission of the English Chief.

The Board having every reason to believe from the great quantities of Spices, Sugars, and Japan Copper that have been carried out of the Dutch Bunder within these few days past that the greatest part of the Dutch Companys merchandize is disposed with the country merchants of this city in a collusive manner, which will be of very material prejudice to our Hon<sup>ble</sup> Masters interests, the Committee are therefore directed to examine carefully into the accounts of issues of the warehouse books in order to discover the merchants to whom these goods have been delivered.

The Committee are likewise directed to seal up all books and papers and to make particular enquiry for the original Phirmauns from the Mogul and deliver the same to the Chief.

The Board deeming the Dutch Bunder the most proper place in or about Surat for the residence of the Dutch prisoners in the station of gentlemen, agreed that they may be ordered to continue there till further orders.

As not any of the gentlemen of the Surat Board understand any thing of the Dutch language, Lieutenant Goverts is appointed Linguist to the Committee.

Adjourned.

ROBERTS,

Secr<sup>y</sup>.

C. BOURCHIER.

GEO. GREEN.

SAMUEL GAMBIER.

Saturday, 16th—Received the following Report from the Committee appointed to take possession of the property belonging to the Dutch:—

Gentlemen,

In consequence of your orders, we proceeded to the Dutch Bunder, and after calling all the Dutch subjects before us, they executed the enclosed parole. We disbanded all their armed Seepoys; and such private men, Europeans, as were found were sent prisoners to the Castle. A list of the prisoners taken is enclosed. We took charge of their Treasury and Warehouses and sealed the same up. We ordered all the warlike stores to the Castle and placed the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys people in charge of their vessels. We discovered among the papers thirty-five wooden cases which contain the Phirmaunds. These we have delivered to the Chief; and sealed up the other books and papers of the Dutch Company. We are carrying into execution all other parts of your instructions, and as soon as we possibly can obtain the inventories and have examined the warehouses, we will have the honour to lay before you our proceedings at large.

We are with Respect,

Gentlemen,

Your most Humble Servants,

GEORGE GREEN.

DANIEL SETON.

SAMUEL GAMBIER.

Surat, 16th June 1781.

A Translate protest done by us Subscribers to R. H., Boddam, Esq<sup>r</sup>, Chief for the Noble English Company and Governor for the Mogul Castle and Fleet &<sup>c</sup> Council at Surat, in respect of what happened the 14th instant at the Noble Netherland Companys Bunder and to their remaining property in Surat :—

W. T. Van de Graaff, Member Extraordinary of the Supreme Council and Director for the Noble Netherland Company in respect of her Trade and Concerns at Surat ; N. T. Sluyskeen, Senior Merchant, Chief Administrator and Second in Direction ; T. Van der Slyden, Merchant and Fiscal ; C. Van Citters, Merchant and Warehousekeeper ; C. Heydeman, Merchant and Cashier ; E. N. Wiardi, Junior Merchant and Secretary.

The City Surat is a place of the Mogul, where the Noble Netherland Company are established among other European nations, and have settled their trade, and where they equally send their servants to, in order to administrate the same, depending absolutely upon the Kings Phirmans given them as a pledge of a complete safety and the necessary defence both in respect of their own and their said servants.

A rupture of peace between the Sovereigns of any European nations here settled, concerns by no means therefore Surat, looked upon to be a neutral place ; and gives to none of, or amongst them, whatsoever right of coming up to each other in this city with military forces, without infringing by those means upon the Mogul Government rights, under which protection they all are equally settled here.

In respect yet of what concerns the Noble English Company, they have among all other European nations in town been established of former times upon an equal footing, above all for what concerns now the matter in question. They since in possession of the Mogul Castle, did never declare themselves wishing to be considered in a different light in respect of their condition as Governor of that Castle, and in consideration of this charge it plainly appears consequently and it results thereof that the English Government can as little as any other European nation in this city with respect to justice use any power or violence by the way of arms against any other European nation.

It is also to be asserted that the late French Chief did remain in consequence of this argument only quite quiet and unmolested in Surat during the last war betwixt Great Britain and France from 1755 till 1762.

It has constantly been a duty competent to the Mogul Castle and Fleet Governors, agreeable to their constitution and office, to protect against every injustice and violence every inhabitant, most especially their city dealers ; and the Noble English Company have also reserved to themselves this part, at the time they took charge of the Castle Governors office. They have in this condition most positively and significantly warranted the Noble Netherland Company chiefly every prerogative and immunity they and their subjects in Surat were especially entitled to ; comprehending mainly and in the first place an unmolested and peaceable abode for their own and for their servants. There is besides that a certain unquestionable proof, that this Mogul Government is actually to be considered subsisting still in this city in its full extent. The Mogul colours the Noble English Company hoists since they took possession of the Mogul Castle till this very day in that Castle. Whatever interpretations this may be given to would in our consideration be unworthy such a respectable body as we look upon the Noble English Company to be. Notwithstanding the trust this cou'd suggest to every European Nation here fixed also to every inhabitant of this place, we happened to be irrupted the 14th instant most unexpectedly by a large body of English Troops and by violence of arms. We and the remainder of the Noble Netherland Companys servants were declared prisoners of war. Those troops took at the same time possession of the Noble Netherland Companys Bunder and of their effects. We were instantly desired to deliver up the keys of all Magazines, and all our men, the Serjeants not excluded, were carried prisoners to the Castle. A Committee of 3 members of your Board, Mess<sup>rs</sup> Green, Seton, and Gambier, dispatched to us since, declared to us by your orders they came in order to communicate to us also a rupture of peace between the United Netherland Provinces and his Majesty the King of Great Britain, that we therefore were prisoners of war and they were commanded to take the Noble Netherland Companys Bunder in possession.

We did assure those gentlemen of our reasons for being mightily surprized in respect of such a conduct to the Noble Netherland Company and their servants, that we intended dispatching a letter to you concerning this, in order to represent against it as we might think convenient. Notwithstanding they did read before us a Parole, and we were also desired to subscribe to it, and it has been subscribed to in their form by all the remaining servants of the Company at the time still in the Bunder. We did submit to this under a Protestation, only in order to anticipate violent means, and considering that no representations could oppose, we were necessitated and have engaged ourselves not to receive or write any note or letters except under such conditions as stipulated, also to give man for man our word we should deliver up an inventory of our private propertys. All the Companys paper, both secret and common, also all their Warehouses were not only immediately sealed up, but we were at the same time desired to deliver immediately, as we did, all our Phirmans and the registers of our several papers. The Phirmans were packed and sealed up in a chest, considering time was short for their proper investigation, and when we desired your Committee to give us a receipt for the same we were answered in the negative. The first subscriber also desired the delivery of an inventory of all the Companys property. Part of this is in the meanwhile and since carried off the Bunder without notice being given. In short, we were treated in a manner we could neither refuse nor agree to anything. We were obliged to suffer everything, also to grant every demand to superiority, agreeable to which we did. Whereas we have then heretofore and with foundation demonstrated that the Noble English Company can in no respect with justice use any violence of arms against the Noble Netherland Company or their servants at Surat, we equally think ourselves intitled, gentlemen, to protest most explicitly against the violence committed both in respect of our Superiors and ourselves. We now and by these presents do protest against it in the name and in behalf of their high mightinesses the States General of the United Provinces, our high and competent Sovereigns, also in the name and in behalf of the Noble Netherland East India Company—reserveing to them a full power and authority in respect of a demand of such a satisfaction about all what is mentioned heretofore as they may demand or pretend in time.

Done at the Dutch Bunder in Surat this 16th day of June in the year 1781.

W. J. VAN DE GRAAFF.

A. J. SLUYSKEEN.

VAN DER SLEYDEN.

C. VAN CITTERS.

C. HEYDEMEN.

E. N. WIARDI.

Surat, Saturday, 23<sup>d</sup> June 1781.

At a Consultation, Present :

Rawson Hart Boddam, Esquire, Chief.

George Green.

Samuel Gambier.

Daniel Crockatt.

Mess<sup>rs</sup> Bouchier, Seton, and James, indisposed, and Mr. Spencer on service.

Read and approved our last Consultation of the 22<sup>d</sup> instant.

Reperused the Dutch Protest dated the 16th instant.

As the Dutch Factory at Surat is now abolished, and as the Gentlemen who compose their Council are no longer to be considered as a collective body, we do not think it proper to make any answer to their protest, but as some parts of it are too extraordinary to pass unnoticed, we judge it necessary to make a few remarks thereon for the observation of our Superiors. Their stiling Surat a neutral city is evidently a pretension which they have formed to answer their present purpose, for if they had entertained any idea of this kind before, the proper time of declairing it to us would have been when we took possession of the French Factory in the year 1778, as it would certainly have been their duty to do everything in their power to preserve the neutrality from violation, and therefore their neglecting to protest on that occasion was a tacit acknowledgment that Surat was not a neutral city, and we may justly conclude therefrom that they wished either to consider the neutrality as expired, or at least to let it remain in an equivocal state, in order that they might avail themselves thereof, in case of a favourable opportunity of acting hostilely against Surat, as they attempted to do against Bengal in the year 1759. Two strong circumstances in support of this opinion are, first, that the Dutch are too attentive to form to have omitted this precaution if they had not had some particular advantage in view by the non-observance of it; secondly, that they have artfully avoided to make any mention in the whole of their Protest of our taking possession of the French Factory, as they cou'd not have mentioned it now without acknowledging that they then acquiesced and consequently gave up every right to be claimed from a neutral city.

With regard to our desiring them to give their parole to the purport of a form produced to them by the Committee, we meant it as a favor and indulgence, and it was certainly optional with them to execute it or not. We offered this expedient that we might not be under the necessity of making them close prisoners but allow them the full use of the Bunder, as well as the the use of their private effects, such as apparel, furniture, &c<sup>a</sup>. We therefore cannot but express surprise that they should represent this proceeding as an act of violence, and as it appears doubtfull whether they do not mean to invalidate their parole by their protest, agreed that the Committee acquaint them with our sentiments on this part of their protest, and ask them if they choose to give separte paroles for the purposes mentioned in their joint parole agreeable to the form first shewn them.

In answer to their complaint that they were treated in a manner that they could neither refuse nor agree to anything, the Committee solemnly declare that they have behaved towards them with every civility and attention consistant with the tenor of their instructions; and that the Dutch gentlemen have since individually declared the highest approbation of the behavior of the Committee towards them.

The Chief acquaints the Board that he has seen the merchants to whom the warehouses in which the Dutch Companys merchandize is deposited belong, but who decline giving security, and they have delivered to him the keys of the respective warehouses. The Committee in consequence are directed to make the necessary enquiries into the title of those merchants to the goods and acquaint the Board with the result.

The Chief likewise acquaints the Board that he has called upon Byramjee and Ruttonjee the Contractors for the Dutch investment, who acquainted him that they had then in hand a contract to the amount of R<sup>s</sup>. 182000, for which they had been advanced to the amount of R<sup>s</sup>. 95000, that there were in two Dutch warehouses within the town goods to the amount of R<sup>s</sup>. 56000, part on account of the former years contract and part on the present, that these goods had not been delivered in charge of the Dutch Warehousekeeper or any of the Dutch gentlemen, that they had by order of the Dutch Chief delivered the four keys belonging to these warehouses to Nanabhoy Boysaw ; but that they had not delivered over to him the said goods, or passed to him any written paper concerning them ; that they also had been ordered by the Dutch Chief to deliver such goods as they might in future receive from the weavers to Nanabhoy Boysaw in part of the contract and promised to deliver to the Chief in a very few days the statement of both investments now outstanding.

The Chief has thought necessary to order such goods as they may in future receive from the weavers to be delivered into the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company's warehouse on their account.

We think it is absolutely necessary to embrace the present favorable opportunity to take copies and translations of the Firmauns to the Dutch, now in our possession, more particularly as our proposal for that purpose was so highly approved by our Superiors in Europe as appears by their late commands.

As the wall that constitutes the Dutch Wharf was during the time of its construction an object of particular jealousy to the English, agreed that we request our Superiors orders concerning it.

Agreed that we represent to our Superiors that most of the gentlemen in the Dutch Factory have a great many cattle and conveyances which are now entirely useless to them and incur a heavy expence, and request to know whether they may not be allowed to dispose of them as opportunities may offer on condition of their giving security for the amount of the sale.

As our Superiors may expect our sentiments with respect to the monthly allowances to the Dutch gentlemen, agreed that we propose the following, observing at the same time it is not in our power to form any judgement of what their circumstances may be, but they are in general married with families :—

M <sup>r</sup> Van de Graaff, Directore	...	...	...	1000	0	0
„ Sluyskeken, Second	...	...	...	500	0	0
Four Council, 300 R <sup>s</sup> each	...	...	...	1200	0	0
Captain Van der Knyf	...	...	...	200	0	0
M <sup>r</sup> Monte Dispencier	...	...	...	200	0	0
„ Peperhoven the Doctor	...	...	...	150	0	0
„ Roeff, Factor	...	...	...	100	0	0
Five Factors at 50 R <sup>s</sup> each	...	...	...	250	0	0
Four Writers at 40 R <sup>s</sup> each	...	...	...	160	0	0
One Lieutenant	...	...	...	40	0	0
Deputy Master Attendant	...	...	...	40	0	0

Total... Rs. 3840 0 0

C<sup>s</sup> BOURCHIER.
G<sup>o</sup> GREEN.
S<sup>l</sup> GAMBIER.

Surat, 14th May 1800.

The following is the copy of the Proclamation above referred to:—

A Proclamation by the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Governor of the Presidency of Bombay.

Whereas by a treaty concluded between the Hon<sup>ble</sup> English Company and the Nawaub Meer Naseer-uddeen Khan, under date the 13th of May 1800, or the 19th of Zilhige 1214 of the Hijree, the said Nawaub has agreed that the management and collection of the revenues of the City of Surat, and of the territories, places, and other dependencies thereof, the administration of civil and criminal justice, and generally the entire government of the said city and its dependencies, shall be vested forever wholly and exclusively in the Hon<sup>ble</sup> English Company.

This is therefore to give notice to all the inhabitants of the town of Surat and its dependencies that the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Companys exclusive Government commences from this day, being Thursday the 15th of May 1800, or the 21st of Zilhige 1214 of the Hijree. All persons now in civil offices are to continue to act under the administration of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> Company until further orders, and their future permanency will of course in a great measure depend under the good pleasure of Government upon their diligence in their several trusts and their fidelity to the English Sircar.

Edward Galley, Esquire, has been appointed Collector of the Mokauts and Moghullay of the Purgunnahs, and Alexander Ramsay, Esquire, Judge and Magistrate of the City. The Natives in trust in these Departments are therefore respectively to continue to act in subordination to those superior officers, and such further appointments or regulations as may take place will be announced in a few days, it being sufficient for the present to intimate to all the Companys new subjects of Surat that the motives and object of the British Government in taking on themselves the full and entire government of Surat have been and are to procure thereby a just, wise, and efficient administration for the security of the lives and properties and the promotion of the happiness of all its inhabitants, of which with Gods blessing the good effects may soon be rendered manifest.

Dated the 15th May 1800.

---

Surat, 17th May 1800.

Wrote the following further letter to the Judge and Magistrate:—

To

Alexander Ramsay, Esquire,

Judge and Magistrate of the City of Surat.

Sir,

I am directed by the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Governor to enclose, for your information and guidance, the accompanying copy of a General Order issued under this date.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient Servant,

JAMES A. GRANT,

Private Secy. to the Gov<sup>r</sup>.

The following is the General Order abovementioned :

General Orders by the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Governor.

Surat, 17th May 1800.

The utmost attention to be paid by all officers to conciliate the goodwill and confidence of the Natives on the present occasion of the commencement of the Honorable Companys government of the City of Surat, with a view to realize to their satisfaction the object held forth in the Governors Proclamation of the 15th instant, by convincing them that their general good and advantage are and will continue to be the primary view of the British Government in India in the present full extension of its protection towards them. For this purpose particular attention is to be paid not to shock the religious prepossessions of either the Mahometans, Hindoos, or Parsees, more especially by entering or occupying any of their Temples or sacred places under any pretext whatsoever.

By order of the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the Governor.

L. MACQUAIRE,
Military Secretary.

---

Letter from the President and Governor to the Chief & Council at Surat:—

To

Daniel Seton, Esquire,
Chief and Council of Surat.

Gentlemen,

1. I have the pleasure to enclose the copy of a treaty concluded on the 13th of May with the Nabob of Surat, whereby the administration of the said city and its dependancies has been vested for ever in the Hon<sup>ble</sup> the English East India Company.

2. The Civil and Military Government having accordingly been entirely assumed by us since the 15th of May (the Nabob having been seated the day before on the musnud), it has in consequence become necessary to new model the whole of the Civil Establishment, on principles directed by the Supreme Government, to correspond, as nearly as circumstances may admit, with the powers of the officers exercising similar functions in Bengal.

3. It has accordingly been determined to commit the charge of the administration of justice, inclusive of the superintendence of the Police, the collection of the revenue, and the provision of the Companys investment to distinct persons.

4. The principal Civil Servant will be vested with a separate commission as Lieutenant Governor of the Castle for the performance of all duties of a political or other nature which shall not immediately belong to the establishments for the administration of justice, the collection of the revenue, or the provision of the investment.

5. The troops doing duty at Surat are to be relieved as often as may be practicable, and the officer in command of them, being prohibited from all interference or exercise of authority in the administration of the government of the city, is to consider himself under the orders of the Chief Civil Servant. The force necessary for the execution of military services and the manner of performing those services, being questions of a professional nature must of course be left to the judgement of the Commanding Officer.

6. For the discharge of the duties adverted to in the two preceding Articles, Daniel Seton Esq<sup>r</sup> has been appointed Lieutenant Governor of the Castle and the Chiefship is to be abolished on the receipt hereof, as is also the Council.

7. The Records of the Chief and Council are to remain in charge of the Senior Civil Servant for the time being, but with perfect freedom of access to all public officers for their information on points relating to the performance of their public functions.

8. In farther execution of the preceding system M<sup>r</sup> A. Ramsay has been appointed Judge and Magistrate, M<sup>r</sup> Edward Galley Collector of the Revenue, and M<sup>r</sup> Soper Collector of the Customs, in which capacities they are to act severally under the oaths administered to and regulations prescribed for their guidance under direct responsibility to the Government of Bombay.

9. M<sup>r</sup> Church has been appointed Mint Master and Post Master and Military and Marine Pay Master and Muster Master of Civil Pensioners.

10. The Commercial Board remains unaffected in its constitution by the present change in the Government of Surat, and may, I trust, experience increased convenience, security, and facility to its operations by the change.

11. The offices of Secretary to the Chief and Council, of Civil Pay Master and Persian Translator, are abolished, as is also the Accomptantship, those offices being unnecessary under the new system.

12. The Treasury is in like manner, as at Subordinates under the Bengal Presidency, to be under the immediate charge of the Collector of the Revenue, who will also in future have the negotiation and drawing of all Bills of Exchange, and the charge of all money transactions, paying the amount of the Military and Marine Pay Masters drafts, and of all establishments on the presentations of the Bills of the Heads of offices, who are monthly to forward their own accounts to the Presidency, as he will also his, consisting merely of a cash account and general annual statement under appropriate heads for the information of the Accountant General and according to such forms as he may be furnished with for that purpose and accompanied with express vouchers for each entry, as the only authority on which any item can be passed on examination by the Civil Auditor.

13. Such farther detailed instructions as may be necessary will be separately sent to the several Heads of Departments.

Surat Castle, 2nd July 1800.

I am, Sir,
Your most obedient Servant,
JONATHAN DUNCAN.

---

INDEX.

	PAGE		PAGE
A.
ABDUL BAKY KHAN, his appointment to the Government of Surat (1751), 298; letter to the Chief at Surat from Delhi regarding the aforesaid appointment...	298	BARDOLLY, Cusbah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ...	436
ABSTRACT of the Jemmabundy of the Hon'ble Company's Revenues in Surat (1781)...	439—440	BARTLETT, Robert, his appointment as Company's physician for the island of Bombay.	245
ACHEENE, the Queen of; her kindness towards the Company's servants that voyage there, 27; her differences with the Dutch, ibid ; further letter from the Queen confirming her former promises in granting the Hon'ble Company the whole trade of Acheene and other ports ...	41	BASSEIN, the Captain General of, he demands the surrender of a Malabar vessel, 85; otherwise threatens to invade Bombay, ibid ; his threat is treated with contempt .	85
AHMEDABAD, capture of, by the Maráthás (1753) ...	305	BEZAR, explanatory note on ...	42
AHMEDABAD SALTPETRE, its abundance and cheapness ...	3	BIRMURLY (Bhivandi), the weavers of ...	128
ANDREWES, Mathew ...	179—189, 193—206	BLADWELL, Richard, commission and instructions given to him by the President and Council of India, Persia, &c. ...	183
ANN, Queen, news of her accession to the throne, 244; declaration read in the chappel of Surat regarding her accession ...	244	BODEAM, Rawson Hart, Chief for the affairs of the Hon'ble English East India Company ...	415, 416, 417, 422, 424
ANNAVUL, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ...	437	BOHAREE, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ...	435
ANTARPORE, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ...	436	BOMBAY, proposals touching the island of, 51; Moors forbidden to buy any land in Bombay, 98; weavers to be encouraged to settle on the island, 109; reductions in the Customs duties on calicoes and certain other goods imported into Bombay, 110; the weavers coming to settle in Bombay to be exempted from the duty of taking watches and attendance in the militia, 110; Neema Parrack, a merchant of Diu, desires to settle on the island, 111; special inducements and privileges granted him for doing so, 112; raising of cavalry on the island, 119; nature and prices of the horses procurable in Bombay for the cavalry, 120; Captain Richard Keigwin appointed first Commander of the Bombay Cavalry, ibid ; building for the Court of Judicature, ibid ; its situation, ibid ; reasons why the trade of Bombay was not as flourishing as that of Surat (1677), 121; its situation in an excellent latitude, ibid ; excellence of Bombay harbour, ibid ; proclamation for shutting the town-gates at sunset, 174; instructions from the Hon'ble Company to the President and Council at Surat to take measures to make Bombay an important port for the exportation and importation of goods, 225; probability of the French attacking it, 313; measures taken to defend Bombay against the French ...	313
ARZEENUGUR, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture trade and cultivation of ...	438	BOONE, Christopher, his appointment as Coroner of Bombay ...	167
ATCHUND, dispute between him and Suffdir Khán regarding the Governorship of Surat, 281; the English propose to assist him, ibid ; measures taken to render him assistance, 282; account of an engagement fought between his forces and those of his rival, 283-284; he defeats Suffdir Khán, 284; the terms of peace proposed by him to Suffdir Khán; dispute between him and the Scidee ...	290	BOTSEER, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ...	438
AUNGIER, Gerald, letters from ...	44—47
AURUNGZEB, his Phirman to the Hon'ble English East India Company ...	213
B.
BAFCAS, a kind of cloth, where produced ...	22
BANDORA, the Portuguese erect a new Custom House there ...	107
BANIANs, their treatment by the Arab soldiers at Surat ...	263
BANTAM, letter from the Agent and Council at, 91; prospects of trade there ...	91

	PAGE
BOURCHIER, Governor of Bombay, 292, 293, 296, 301, and	302
BROACH, particulars regarding the Government of	389
BULLESEER, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of	436
BULSAR, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of	438
C.
CALICUTT, condition of the English Factory there, 208; Dutch intrigues against the English Factory, 208—209; opposition of the Zamorin of that place	209—212
CAMAULDEEN KHÁN, Nabob of Ahmedabad, his negotiation with the Maráthás to deliver them the city of Ahmedabad on payment of a certain sum of money	304
CAMBAY, disagreement between the Maráthás and the Nabob of Cambay, 308; the Marátha plot against the town discovered, ibid ; the Marátha Governor there seized and plundered	308—309
CAMLEGE, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of	435
CANDRY, the Siddy's design to attack it	147
CARWAR, condition of the Company's factory there	18
CAVALRY, raising of Cavalry on the island of Bombay, 119; nature and prices of the horses procurable in Bombay for the purpose, 120; Captain Richard Keigwin appointed first Commander of the Bombay Cavalry	120
CHICKLEY, Jamabandi of, in 1778	427
CHOWELASSEER, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of	434
CLOTHS, (Surat cloths), Chints, Quilts, Tapsells, Neccanees, Baftas, Salees, Brawles and Guinea stuffes	37
COINS, Bombay, their weight and marks	84
COSS, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of	437
COTA, the Pirates at, 130; their base conduct towards an Englishman	130
CORRODE, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of	437
CORONER, first appointment of	167
COVENANTED SERVANTS, list of the Hon'ble Company's Covenanted Servants at Bombay and Factories Subordinate, with the time of their arrival in India, the salaries and designation	169
CUSTOMS, remission of customs to all merchants in Surat, 42; lessening of the Customs duties on calicoes and other goods imported into Bombay, 110; farming of the Customs Duties of Bombay	120

D.

	PAGE
DELHI, order from Emperor of Delhi to the Governor of Surat granting remission of customs for all merchants for one year, 42; the King of Delhi's orders to seize the persons of the Hon'ble Company's servants at Surat, Madras, Fort St. David, and Calcutta	235
DIANUT CAUN, Governor of Surat	231—232
DIERIABANDS, a kind of Surat cloth	22
DORRIL, Thomas, Chief for the Hon'ble English East India Company's affairs at Surat, 277, 278, 280 and	287
DRUGS, their prices in England and India (1702)	246
DUNGAREES, a kind of Deccan cloth, demand for it in England	221
DUPLEX, his letter to Le Venior, French Chief at Surat	276
DUTCH, disagreement between the Dutch and the King of Kandy, 103; protests by the President and Council of India, Persia, and Arabia to the Dutch Director and Council at Surat for the murder of two Englishmen, 188—189; Dutch brokers imprisoned by the Governor of Surat, 262; beheading of a Dutch soldier at Surat, 278; letter from the Dutch Directore at Surat to Thomas Dorril, Chief for the affairs of the Hon'ble English East India Company on the above subject, 278; reply to the above letter, 279—280; letter from the Dutch Director and Council to the Chief and Factors at Surat regarding Dutch deserters, 314; reply to the same, 316—317; further letter from the Dutch Directore on the same subject, 317—320; reply to the same, 322; an account of the proceedings of the Dutch in Bengal towards the close of the year 1759, 329; differences between the Nabob of Surat and the Dutch, 342; correspondence between the Dutch Directore and the English Chief on the above subject, 342—364; the English Chief saluted with fifteen instead of twenty-one guns by the Dutch, 371; explanation asked for the above affront, 371—372; the Dutch Directore apologizes for the aforesaid mistake, 372; news of war having begun between the Dutch and the English in Europe, 442; instructions to seize the Dutch Factory at Surat, ibid ; all Dutch servants at Surat, Civil and Military, made prisoners of war, 443; translation of a protest from the Dutch Directore and Council, 444; abolition of the Dutch Factory	446

E.

ECHBARREES, a kind of Surat cloth	22
EDGECOMBE, Captain, his conduct towards Surgeon Leekie	165—166

PAGE	PAGE
ELEPHANT TEETH, their selling price at Surat (1664) ... .. 24
ETTABAR CAUN, Governor of Surat (1701-2), petition sent to him by Sir John Gayer on behalf of himself and other factors asking for relief against the harsh measures adopted against the Company's servants by the late Governor, 234; his reply to the aforesaid petition, 235; letter to him from Sir John Gayer complaining of the hardships suffered by himself and other servants of the Hon'ble Company at the hands of his guards, 260; he is dismissed by the Mogul and Nezbett Caun appointed in his place as Governor of Surat ... .. 262
F.
FACTORS, list of Factors in Surat (1664) ... 33
FAMINE, its prevalence at Surat (1630), 12; its evil effects ... .. 12
FISH-MANURE, permission required for its use in Bombay, 66; its effect on the health of the citizens, ibid ; Fryer's opinion on the same... .. 66
FRAMBIN, letter from the Chief and Factors at Surat to Mr. Frambin at Agrainquiring after the price of indigo and other articles there ... .. 3—5
FREEMAN, Simon, commission given to him by the President and Council of India, Persia &c. ... .. 181
FRENCH, a skirmish between the French and Dutch ships, 162; an account of the battle fought between the French and English, 328; letter from the French Resident to the English Chief at Surat complaining of his having been insulted by some sepoys belonging to the Hon'ble Company, 330; further letter from the French Resident on the above subject, 331; letter from the French Consul regarding the stairs in the French gardens at Surat, 394; reply to the above, 395; further correspondence between the French Consul and the English Chief on the same subject, 397—412; protest of M. Anquetil De Briancourt against the insults offered to him by the Nabob's people, 412—415; commencement of hostilities between France and England in Europe, 416; instructions from the Governor of Bombay to the Chief at Surat to confiscate the French Factory there, 416—417; French Consul and other French factors at Surat taken prisoners, 417; letter from the French Consul to the English Chief at Surat protesting against their being taken prisoners, 417—418; the French Consul requests the granting of certain indulgences to him; ibid ; his requests not complied with, 419; French designs against the city and castle of Surat ... .. 427 a 1255—114
	G.
	GARY, Henry, Governor of Bombay, letter from him to the Chief and Factor at Surat regarding the granting of Company's passes to country vessels ... .. 211
	GAYER, Sir John, his treatment by the Governor of Surat, 228—230; his letters to Dianut Caun, the Governor of Surat, 231—232; his petition to Ettabar Caun, the Governor of Surat, asking for relief against the harsh measures adopted by Dianut Caun, former Governor of Surat, 234; Ettabar Caun's reply to his petition ... 235
	GLORIA, Frea John De, a Portuguese Padree, his treasonable conduct, 157; his commitment and trial ... .. 158
	GULLAH, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ... .. 435
	GUNDAVEY, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ... .. 436
	GUNPOWDER, sudden explosion of gunpowder in the Fort of Bombay (1677) ... .. 131
	GYFFARD, Deputy Governor of Bombay, his death ... .. 122
	H.
	HENRY-KENBY, (the modern Underi and Kaneri), Shivaji's intention of building a castle there... .. 62
	HODGES, Thomas, Chief for the affairs of the Hon'ble English East India Company at Surat ... .. 384
	HOPE, James, Chief for the affairs of the Hon'ble English Company at Surat, his Diary ... .. 269—276
	HOSPITAL, proposals for erecting one in Bombay, 74; usefulness of the new hospital, 120; reduction in the number of mortalities ... 120
	I.
	INDIGO, Agra indigo esteemed the best of all ... .. 5
	INSTRUCTIONS, instructions to the Provost Marshal of Bombay, 168; to the Commanders of the Hon'ble Company's vessels ... 172
	IRON, measures taken to spoil the vent of country iron ... .. 122
	J.
	JOHANNA, the island of, its size and situation ... .. 3
	JUNK, its origin and definition ... .. 6
	JUSTICES OF THE PEACE, Captains Gary and Keigwin appointed Justices of the Peace for the Island of Bombay ... .. 136

	PAGE		PAGE
K.
KANDY, the King of, his raising a war against the Dutch ... ..	103	MINCHIN, Captain, account of a dispute between him and Mr. Hornigold, 78; Captain Minchin and Mr. Hornigold suspended for misbehaviour, and fined, 79; the fine to go to the Hospital Fund ... ..	79
KARANJA, the Island of ... ..	48	MOCHA, advices from, stating that the Turks have received a fatal overthrow (1630)... ..	9
KEMPSAUNT, his relations with the English .	173	MOORE, William, made Lieutenant of the third Company of guards at Bombay, 248; copy of the commission given to him ... ..	248
L.
LAMEE, F. H., Chief for the affairs of the Hon'ble English East India Company, 291, 294, 297, 298, 300 and ... ..	302	MORO PUNDIT, Commander of Shivaji's forces, report of his having taken Joar from the Cooleys, 67; he takes Pindole from the Raja of Ramnugur, 96; letter to him from the Chief of Surat requesting him to instruct Trimbakji and other officers not to use violence to the English house at Surat ... ..	115
LAW, Stephens, Governor of Bombay, 173—176; his instructions to the Commanders of the Hon'ble Company's vessels, 172—174; his proclamation for closing the town gates at sunset, 174—175; his publication to the inhabitants regarding sites for building houses... ..	175	MOWAH, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ... ..	435
LECKIE, John, Surgeon, his complaints against Captain Edgcombe ... ..	165—166	MOWTAH, Cusbah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ... ..	435
LISTS, list of the Hon'ble Company's Covenanted servants at Bombay and Factories subordinate, with the time of their arrival in India, their salaries and designations, 169; list of free merchants, 171; list of deceased persons at Bombay and Factories subordinate to Bombay, 172; list of the Hon'ble Company's servants in Surat ... ..	247	N.
LUCAS, Sir Gervase, Governor of Bombay (1666), instructions regarding him, 210, payment of £1,500 to him in dollars, ibid ; consultation on the above subject ... ..	210	NAGURHAVELY, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ... ..	438
M.
MADAGASCAR, its ancient name ... ..	3	NABRAN SUNAY, letter from him stating that Shivaji is willing to satisfy the Hon'ble Company's debt ... ..	105
MAHIM, Bombay, condition of the Fort there, 241; instructions for its repair, ibid ; charges for its repair ... ..	241	NASSANPORE, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ... ..	436
MARÁTHÁS, their negotiations with the Nabob of Ahmedabad, 304; they take possession of Ahmedabad, 305; the necessity of complimenting them on their success on behalf of the Hon'ble Company, ibid ; their designs against Cambay, 308; the Maratha Governor at Cambay seized and plundered, 308, 309; disagreement between the Marathas and the Nabob of Surat, 386; the English Chief acts as a mediator between them, 387; final adjustment of the affairs between the Marathas and the Nabob ... ..	388	NEEMA PARRACK, a merchant, special privileges granted him for settling on the island of Bombay ... ..	112
MAROLEY, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ... ..	437	NORWICH STUFFS, demand for them ... ..	122
MERCHANTS, list of free ... ..	171	NOWSAREE, Cusbah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ... ..	434
MERCOLESE, a kind of Surat cloth ... ..	22	O.
MILITIA, Bombay, its total strength, 119; Brahmans and Banians exempted from serving in the Militia on payment of money, ibid ; how the Militia officers were to be paid, ibid ; the rates of their pay... ..	119	ORMUZ, the red earth from ... ..	7
		ORPAD, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ... ..	434
		OXINDEN, Chief of Surat, letter from him to the Hon'ble Company giving an account of the state of affairs there, 14; letter from George Oxinden to the gentlemen at Fort St. George describing the plundering of Surat by Shivaji ... ..	33—35
		P.
		PADREE MEDARD, letter to him ... ..	372
		PARCHOLE, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ... ..	434

	PAGE
PARNERRA, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ... ..	438
PERSIA, expectations of the Hon'ble Company's affairs being better dealt with in Persia ... ..	14
PETIT, John, Deputy Governor of Bombay .	122—124
PHIRMAN, granted by Aurangzeb to the Hon'ble Company ... ..	213
PIRATES, measures adopted for the protection of Bombay against... ..	52
PORQUATT, condition of the Company's factory there ... ..	19
PORTUGUESE, their evil designs against the Hon'ble Company's vessels (1630), 9; their plan for the destruction of the Hon'ble Company's fleet in India, 12; conclusion of peace with them, 13; news from Aleppo of the Portuguese obtaining a great victory over the Spaniards; an engagement between a Portuguese and a Malabar vessel, 84; the Portuguese pursue the Malabar vessel, 85; it takes refuge in Bombay harbour, 85; the Captain General of Bassein demands surrender of the vessel, ibid ; otherwise he threatens to invade Bombay, ibid ; their jealousy of the prosperous state of the trade of Bombay, 120; they raise the duties on goods imported into Bombay from Thána and other ports, 120; they forbid all rice being transported to Bombay, ibid ; Portuguese Padres, 120; their persecutions, ibid ; effects of their persecutions, ibid ; account of an engagement between the Portuguese and the Arabs (1704) ... ..	266
PORTUGUESE language, measures for the discontinuance of the proceedings in Portuguese in all Courts of Judicature in the Island of Bombay ... ..	55
PRICES, selling prices of different articles like tin, amber, quicksilver, lead, copper, vermilion, coral, &c., at Surat (1664), 23—24; prices of Europe commodities at Surat (1676), 104; prices of articles at Surat in 1780 ... ..	430—434
PRICE, William Andrew, Chief for the affairs of the Hon'ble English East India Company at Surat, 385, 388 ... ..	390
PROTESTS, protest by the President and Council of India, Persia &c., against Thomas Richman, 187; protest by the President and Council of India and Persia &c. against the Director and Council of the Netherland East India Company... ..	188

R.

RAJAPORE, proposal for the abolition of the Company's factory there, 107; reasons for doing so ... ..	107
---	-----

RAMAGEE COMMITTEE ... ..	155
RED-LEAD, necessity of bringing men from England to manufacture it in Bombay ... ..	55
RENDE-VERDE, what it is ... ..	92
RICHMAN, Thomas, protests against him by the President and Council of India, Persia &c. ... ..	187

S.

SALARIES, list of the Hon'ble Company's Covenanted servants in Bombay and their salaries (1737) ... ..	169—170
SAMORIN, vide Zamorin.
SHA-ALYM, son of Aurungzebe, an engagement between him and Ossumshaw for the throne of Delhi, 268; he defeats Ossumshaw... ..	268
SHIVAJI, plunder of Surat by (1663—1664), 14; alarm of his coming to Surat, 24; effect of the alarm, ibid ; the Governor and the King's ministers take refuge in the Castle, ibid ; Anthony Smith is taken prisoner and carried before him, ibid ; Shivaji releases him after receiving a ransom, ibid ; he plunders the town and retires, 25; second alarm of Shivaji's return to Surat, 34; report of his arrival near Gundavee, 34; he burns the English factory at Dugon and takes Mr. Austin prisoner, 81; the Company demand satisfaction for the loss, ibid ; Shivaji declines to give complete satisfaction, ibid ; he censures his General for using violence towards the English, 81; gives the Company his Coles or passports, ibid ; report of his being poisoned by his barber, 93; his friendly understanding with the English at Bombay ibid ; news of his recovery, ibid ; his army plunders Hanttanee, ibid ; letter from Gerald Aungier to Shivaji, requesting him to issue instructions to his army not to molest the English at Surat, 115; news of a peace being concluded between Shivaji and the Mogul ... ..	127
SIDDI OF JANJIRA, his request for wintering at Bombay, 95; reasons for not complying with his request ... ..	95
SIMONDS, Edward, his appointment as Provost Marshal of the garrison and island of Bombay, 168; instructions to him by the Deputy Governor ... ..	168
SOOPA, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of ... ..	436
SOUTHERLAND, Serjeant, his murder by the Portuguese, 85; the Superior of the College of Bandora required to give satisfaction to the Company ... ..	86
SOVAGUZZES, a kind of Surat cloth ... ..	37
SAFFDIE KHAN, dispute between him and Atchund regarding the Governorship of Surat, 281; the English propose to assist his rival, ibid ; measures taken by the

PAGE	PAGE
English to oppose him, 282; account of an engagement fought between his forces and those of Atchund assisted by the English, 283—284; he is defeated, 284; he applies for peace, ibid; terms of the treaty proposed to and accepted by him, 285; he disbands his forces, ibid; his departure for Scinde . . . 287 SUJA DOULAH, Nabob of Bengal, account of an engagement fought between him and the English, 379—381; peace concluded between Suja Doulah and the English, 382—383; conditions of the peace . . . 383 SURAT, Governor of (1672), 60; his misconduct towards the Company's servants, ibid; he objects to the President's departure to Bombay, ibid; the President's remonstrance with him, 60—64; the Governor sends a body of troops to take possession of the Company's factory, 61; his demand for money, 61; his behaviour towards the French and Dutch, 61; prices of Europe commodities at Surat, 104; news of the arrival of twenty thousand Marathas in the vicinity of the city, 248; English preparations to defend their factory, ibid; the Marathas plunder and burn part of the suburbs, 249; fears entertained of the city being destroyed, ibid; Company's servants required to keep a watch over the factory there, 251; Joseph Oakely and James Love dismissed from the Company's service at Surat for disobeying the above requisition, ibid; dispute between Atchund and Suffdar Caun for the Governorship of Surat, 281; the English propose to assist Atchund against his rival, ibid; measures taken by the English to assist Atchund, 282; account of an engagement fought between the forces of Suffdar Khan and Atchund assisted by the English, 283—284; defeat of Suffdar Khan, 284; Suffdar Khan treats for peace, 285; terms of the treaty proposed to him, ibid; Suffdar Khan disbands his forces, ibid; his departure for Scinde . . . 287 SURBONE, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of . . . . . 436 SUTTERGAM, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of . . . . . 435 SWALLY, its situation . . . . . 3	T. TASSARAVEE, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of . . . . . 434 THORPE, Nathaniell, his conversion to the Roman Catholic faith, 157; he is apprehended, ibid; his confession . . . . . 157 TILLADEY, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of . . . . . 437 TIMBA, Cusbah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of . . . 435 TRADE, measures adopted for the encouragement of trade in Bombay (1671) . . . 52 TURINE, news of his death . . . . . 76 TURKASEER, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of . . . . . 438 TURKES, wars between the Turkes and the Persians (1630) . . . . . 9 V. VALODE, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of . . . . . 437 VARATT, its description . . . . . 105 VULWADAH, Purgunnah, an account of the produce, manufacture, trade and cultivation of . . . . . 436 W. WEAVERS, encouragement to be given to them to settle on the island . . . . . 55 WEIGHTS AND MEASURES, English weights and measures only to be used on the island of Bombay (1671) . . . . . 55 WILLIAM III, King of England, news of his death . . . . . 244 Z. ZAMORIN of Calicut, his friendly relations with the Dutch, 208; the Dutch prevail upon him to drive the English out of his territories . . . . . 208—209

PRESIDENT'S SECRETARIAT

LIBRARY